

Would You Believe?....Bank Deposits Up Over $3 Million

The cotton money is coming to a and according to the state bank of December 31, 1977 Floyd County's two First National Banks continue to gain in deposits. Both banks were up almost two million dollars over this time last year. The bankers felt that the record setting cotton crop was the big reason for the increase and expressed the opinion that possibly half of the cotton was yet to be sold or placed in the government loan. The First National in Lockney was up in deposits from last year's $14,369,691.92 to $14,644,999.81 while loans increased only slightly from $5,498,870.40 to $5,613,832.46. The First National in Floydada was up in deposits from last year's $23,551,201.53 to $25,123,816.93 while loans were up from $8,116,986.92 to $10,808,487.23.

Floydada banker Kinder Farris said bank deposits hit $27,941,343.14 on January 5. Lockney banker Gene Collins reported $15,832,000 on January 6.

'Horns, Mean Green To Vie In 4-AA Opener

Lockney cagers open the district basketball season Friday night, contesting with teams from Floydada in the 4-AA bid-offer.

The Longhorns and Whirlwinds sport similar season records (7-14 for Lockney and 3-16 for Floydada), but both teams are probably better than those records indicate.

Lockney Coach Mike Bellar said Wednesday: "I think the district basketball race is going to be a lot closer than some people thought. Floydada is getting better every week. Idalou has a good team. And the Longhorns have come a long way." Witness the 'Horns 74-55 Tuesday night victory over Silverton, a team that whipped them 67-47 early in the season.

The Floydada girls have won nine games and lost 11, while Coach Marsha Sharp's Lady Horns stand 17-5 for the season and are favored in the Friday-evening contest.

But Coach Sharp would sure like to see a lot of Lockney rooters there to counteract the effects of those bleacher stomping Floydada fans.

All Time Record Floyd Cotton Crop In 1977

After a gin-by-gin count Tuesday by Bob Hambright of the Texas Employment Commission Floyd farmers produced the biggest cotton crop ever in 1977...a whopping 163,913 bales.

According to the records at the ASCS office, this probably won't be a record per acre yield as there were some 173,791 acres planted...not quite a bale to the acre.

This compares with some 85,000 bales in 1976. Of course the price was about 20 cents higher for that crop.

SELL OR GOVT. LOAN

What are the farmers doing with their cotton crop? To date 31,351 bales have been put in the Government loan. This means some of the cotton sold on contracts, some has sold on the open market, and many farmers are still studying what to do with it.

The price has gone up some the last day or two, and if it should go high enough, there will be a lot of Floyd county cotton sold on the market.

School Board Extends Contracts

Lockney Independent School District trustees met Monday night and extended the contracts of Superintendent W.H. Hallmark and Tax Assessor Collector Jack Samford, raised school cafeteria workers' salaries, okayed parts of the 1978-79 school athletic budget as proposed by Athletic Director Jim Warren, approved building of playground equipment for hand-eye coordination at elementary school, and gave approval for the sale of two school buses.

The contract extensions are given the superintendent and tax assessor routinely each year. Salary increases for the "lunchroom ladies" were necessary to comply with new minimum-wage laws.

Warren presented a "preliminary discussion" on the proposed athletic budget for next year but requested approval of the football, equipment repair, and first aid and training supplies portions of the budget now so the athletic department can order items in order to receive them in time for the 1978-79 programs.

The playground equipment approved for elementary school includes an obstacle-course area and other "hand-eye coordination" equipment.

More details on the school buses to be offered for sale will be published here later.

There was a discussion of maintenance and clean-up of several different school-owned properties, including the "old elementary school," the school track, bus lot, and the new tennis courts (which the school district doesn't own but has agreed to maintain).

The first several items on the school board agenda were routine—approving the previous meeting's minutes, "paying the bills," and approving the monthly tax report—and all were okayed by the board.

In an executive session, not open to the public, the trustees discussed personnel for the 1978-79 school year.

Present at the Monday night meeting were trustees Tom Duvall, Austin Beedy, Jerry Williams, Eugene Tannahill, Kelton Shaw, Eddie Foster and Kenneth Brose; Hallmark, Samford, Warren, and elementary-school principal Weldon Dodson.

'Frightening Guidelines' Being Re-Examined

Thanks To Letter-Writing Campaign

BEACON LIGHTS

By Jim Huggins

IN CASE YOU want to write the powers that be, this edition has a listing of your state and elected officials. Write them a letter and tell them about the farm situation...or anything you think needs correction.

I'M SORRY...I'M SORRY...I'M SORRY...If you were expecting something to be in last Sunday's paper and didn't see it...well, we sorta left out a page and...well...it's a long story, but...it's in this one, I hope. Apologies to everybody affected by the mistake. But (the cry of the editorial department) THE BACK SHOP DID IT!!!!

Lockney General Hospital Administrator Gayle Fortenberry is one of the Texas hospital administrators who received a letter recently from O. Ray Hurst, president of the Texas Hospital Association. The letter says: (in part)

"Due to the efforts of many of you and your community leaders, the frightening proposed "National Guidelines for Health Planning" are being re-examined by appropriate personnel with DHEW. It appears that these proposals will be changed considerably before another attempt is made to finalize them.

"Texas hospitals can be exceedingly proud of the unity shown in voicing their concerns over these undesirable guidelines..."

"...The 22,632 comments officially recorded by HEW from Texas represents 41.7% of the total from the entire nation..."

"The more than 22,000 letters to HEW represents a small percentage of the total correspondence on this subject as you also deluged the Congressional offices with your comments."

A chart of the number of responses shows that 22,632 of the 55,064 received by HEW came from Texas. Next largest number of responses came from Iowa (11,058). Residents of Montana (9,923), Oklahoma (2,589), and Minnesota (2,456) also responded in great numbers to the HEW's request for comments on the proposed health-care guidelines.

Mrs. Fortenberry, on behalf of the Lockney General Hospital board of directors and the hospital employees, expressed thanks to the Lockney-area people who wrote HEW and/or their Congressmen about the "undesirable guidelines."

Outstanding Citizens Nominations Sought

The meeting to determine Lockney's outstanding man and woman of the Year will be held Monday, January 30 in the First National Bank, according to Boyce Mosley, chairman of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce outstanding citizen selection committee. The outstanding citizens will be revealed February 9 at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Local clubs, organizations and churches are to receive letters from Mosley, asking for their nominations for the outstanding citizen awards, and representatives of those groups will be invited to the selection meeting. Individuals are also encouraged to submit nominations. Nominations letters from individuals received by January 30 will be read at the January 30 meeting, Mosley said.

'Horns Down Silverton

The Lockney Longhorns avenged a November 15 basketball loss to Silverton with a 74-55 victory here Tuesday night. The Silverton team won by 20 points, 67-47, in the earlier encounter.

The 'Horns posted a 17-10 first quarter lead and the outcome was never in doubt—they led 39-24 at halftime and 56-39 at the end of three quarters.

Silverton's six-foot, seven-inch Vaughan led all scorers with 30 points, but three Longhorns made the double-figure plateau. Danny Clark scored 21, Danny Riddle 19, and Joe Rodriguez 18. Ray McMahan added eight points, Howard Moore six, and Jim Burt two to Lockney's total.

Lockney coach Mike Bellar said it was a super defensive effort by the Longhorns. "Everybody hustled," he said. "We made some changes in our lineup which helped defensively. We changed the way we ran our zone press to try to be more effective." It worked—Lockney got the ball 2 times of the press.

Bellar called attention to Clark's defensive work, on "the big kid" (Vaughan), Riddle's ball handling, and the excellent defensive games by Moore and Rodriguez.

SILVERTON WINS GIRLS' GAME

Silverton won 44-31 in the girls' contest. Coach Marsha Sharp said "I thought we played a pretty good basketball game, but we missed 14 free throws, nine of those on the front end

Nan McCulley, bride elect of Jack Shirley, was honored with a bridesmaid luncheon on January 6, given by Mrs. Michael Burk and Mrs. George Miller in the home of Mrs. Burk in Lubbock.

The table was laid with a handmade floral tablecloth with self-ruffle and matching napkins. White dinnerware was set on tangerine place-mats. The floral centerpiece of white and tangerine baby

Family Decision Making Does Not Have To Be

COLLEGE STATION—Family decision making does not have to be a war, says Jenny Reinhardt, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

A decision-making process that deals with facts and not emotions can be calm and mutually supportive to all family members, and it allows the family to deal effectively with many situations, the specialist continues.

There are various approaches to resolving a situation, but a democratic approach allows each family member to grow, she says.

Decision making that involves brainstorming, data collecting, sharing and support of each individual's ideas even can be a comfortable growth experience for everyone involved, the specialist adds.

In a democratic approach, families describe or "set the scene," discuss their options and work out a give-and-take method to find a mutually satisfying solution. Each family member has equal input.

"This method of making decisions is worth, openness and closeness," Miss Reinhardt says.

"On the other hand, families use a 'bait and switch' approach whenever the difference of opinion is for a decision. Baiting produces decisions of one-sidedness.

"Still other families solve the situation by themselves with an authoritarian approach, which allows family member to make the decision.

"Family interaction, autocratic-one person charge-fails to foster development of the abilities to work with in solving problems," specialist says.

The Lockney girls "...played well in the first quarter," according to Coach Marsha Sharp (they hit 10 of 14 field-goal tries, probably their best quarter this season), but in the final period "...we made some pretty bad mistakes advancing the ball and missed five crucial free throws which would have put us 'way ahead.'"

Lockney Junior High's eighth-grade girls took consolation honors in a basketball tournament last week end at Levelland. After being beaten by Slaton in the opening round, they came back to defeat Levelland, then beat Seminole in the consolation finals. In the 35-17 loss to Slaton, these Lady Horns made the scoring column: Lisa Dipprey (eight points), Deana Casey (four), Tammy Williams (two), Virginia Wilson (two), Esmeralda Vasquez (one).

Dipprey, with 12 points, led Lockney again Friday in the 23-18 victory over the host girls. Wilson added five, Lori Bayley four, and Williams two in that contest.

In the consolation finals game, the Lady Horns won 16-13. Williams was top point-maker for Lockney in that game, netting seven points. Dipprey chipped in three; Missy Burchfield,

TULIA WINS

Tulia notched a 37-14 win Monday night in girls' eighth-grade basketball, with Lockney the victim. Scoring for the Lady Horns were Melody Burchfield, four points; Patricia Torres, four; Virginia Wilson, three; Lori Bayley, two; Lisa Dipprey, one.

Seventh 'Horns Defeat Tulia

Lockney's seventh-grade boys' basketballers defeated Tulia 22-16 Monday, but Tulia won the eighth-grade game by a score of 29-25.

It was one of the Lockney seventh-grade team's better games of the year, coach Lyndall Favor said. These Shorthorns scored: Tony Rodriguez, eight points; Russell Warren, four; Kyle Brock and Stephen Johnson, three each; Mario Arellano and Joey Davis, two each.

"We played three poor quarters," eighth-grade coach Steve Culwell said, "but we played closer to the way we can play in the fourth quarter."

Arellano, two points apiece, and Warren, one.

Against Tulia, Rodriguez managed six points, Warren four, and Arellano, McCarty, Johnson and Davis two each.

It's Only a Game

Some people think it's a must to win. The Challenge is there when you first begin When you lose the game the team feels shame But then again it's only a game.

You play and play with all your might You fight so hard each Friday night We tried so hard to reach our aim But then again it's only a game.

The team works hard to build their pride But people don't know how hard they've tried They lose and lose and get the blame, But then again it's only a game.

The other teams kept winning and winning The whole thing ended just like the beginning We have tried so hard to reach for fame But then again it's only a game.

FARM & RANCH NEWS

The Board of Directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. will hold its first 1978 meeting January 18 at 3:00 p.m. in Lubbock's Hilton Inn.

On the agenda will be a discussion of the current cotton supply-demand and marketing situation and possible ways to improve 1977 and 1978 crop income; a proposed new federal crop insurance program; upcoming PCG county meetings, and provisions of the 1978 cotton program.

PCG has two directors elected by and from each county, one a producer director and the other a cotton-related businessman. They are elected for two-year terms on alternate years, and 1978 is the year for the election or reelection of businessman directors. Election meetings in each county are scheduled by that county's directors at a time and place of their choice.

The first two of these election meetings are scheduled in conjunction with county Soil Fertility Days in Hale and Swisher Counties on January 24 and 25, respectively.

Regarding 1977 and 1978 crop prices, PCG officials report they are working to secure increased credit for potential foreign customers and exploring the possibility of substantial improvements in the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program. Progress toward both these objectives will be detailed by PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson.

Among recently announced 1978 cotton program decisions to receive Board attention are the 44-cent loan level, 52 cents per pound target price, and the absence of a set-aside requirement for cotton in 1978.

The need for a greatly improved federal crop insurance program is intensified by the fact that provisions for disaster payments in the current law are slated to expire at the end of 1979.

Authority for disaster payments was written into the farm act of 1973 as a result of PCG efforts, but Congress declines to extend that authority beyond the first two years of the current law.

"The disaster program has given producers a measure of insurance against drought, hail and other weather hazard since 1973," says Johnson, "and it should continue to do so through 1979."

But after 1979, he continues, "we are going to need, and we are already working to get, more adequate coverage under a new federal crop insurance program."

Mahon National Cotton Council Speaker

MEMPHIS (Special)—Rep. George H. Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, will be a featured speaker at the National Cotton Council's annual meeting Feb. 6-7 in Houston.

He is scheduled to address the cotton industrywide convention at 11:30 a.m. Monday.

A veteran legislator, the Texas Democrat has served in Congress since creation of the 19th Congressional District in 1934. He became a member of the appropriations committee in 1939 and has been chairman since 1964.

Born in Louisiana, Mahon moved with his family to a cotton farm in West Texas as a young child and has been engaged in farming all his life. He graduated from Simmons College in Abilene (now Hardin-Simmons University) and received his law degree from the University of Texas. He has been awarded honorary doctorates from five colleges.

Mahon began his law practice in Colorado City, Tex., in 1925 and was elected county attorney the following year. Appointed district attorney in 1927, he was elected to three successive terms before running for TRACTORS WITH FLASHING LIGHTS were parked in front of the Massie Activity Center Floydada Friday night during the American Agriculture rally.

In addition to Chairman Mahon, other speakers at the meeting will include Interior Secretary Cecil D. Andrus and Council President Jack G. Stone, Stratford, Calif., producer.

Some 1,500 cotton industry leaders from 18 states are expected to attend the Council's 40th annual meeting at Houston's Hyatt Regency. Program committees will meet at headquarters hotel Feb. 3-4 to review Council programs and map plans for 1978.

Lubbock Mayor To Speak

Mayor Roy Fass of Lubbock will be the speaker at the luncheon during the annual meeting of the Texas Soybean Association to be held in Plainview, Texas, January 27 and 28, according to Mr. Bill SoRelle, Chairman of the Arrangements Committee.

"We feel we are fortunate to have Mayor Fass appear on our program, since he fully understands the importance of agriculture in our economy and is articulate in relating this to the urban or consumer view," Mr. SoRelle said. Mayor Fass will appear at the luncheon sponsored by the Plainview Clearing House on Saturday, January 28, at the Hale County Agriculture Center.

SoRelle also pointed out that the program would start at 1:00 p.m. on Friday, January 27, with registration starting at 10:30 a.m. in the Ag. Center. There will be specialists from the extension service and the experiment stations bringing information that will be of vital interest to soybean producers in the state. The exhibit area will be used to show new equipment, chemicals, and marketing techniques.

Of special interest on the 27th will be the Princess Soya Pageant at 7:00 p.m. at the Country Club. Mr. William R. Rice, owner and manager of Plainview Broadcasting Company will serve as Master of Ceremonies. The Texas Princess Soya will be selected to represent the state at the American Soybean Association Convention in Chicago in August.

Saturday, January 28th will be highlighted by the announcement of the yield contest winners as well as a report by Mr. Jeff Gain, Director of Legislative and Field Services for the American Soybean Association and Mr. Robert Horn of None, the A.S.A. Director from Texas. SoRelle urges everyone interested in soybeans to put the January 27 and 28 dates on their calendars so they will not miss this important meeting.

Federal Regulations On Export Elevators To Interfere With Farm Prices

2200 Federal Grain Elevators have been trained in a crash program to meet the staffing requirements of the newly Congressionally established

Federal Grain Inspection Service. These individuals, many of them hard-core unemployed, were given 60 to 90 day crash programs to teach them to grade grain - usually a life time apprentice occupation skill. None of their curriculum involved grain elevator safety techniques or their evaluation. Yet, this week after a series of spectacular and costly, in terms of life and property, grain elevator explosions at Gulf export points, these newly trained Federal Grain Elevator Inspectors were ordered not to enter any facility "they considered unsafe", according to Winston Wilson, President of the Texas Wheat Producers Association. While we mourn the loss of life and are appalled at the vast property loss, since Texas depends on exports for 90 percent of its wheat income, we can in no way condone handing this long established, efficient cooperative and independent grain marketing industry over to these FGIS "90 day wonders" to shut on and off - along with our wheat markets and wheat prices when owners and managers of such facilities are more capable of such decisions.

order of "No Dust Emmission", which in effect has forced installation of expensive dust collection systems to recycle the grain particle dust back through the elevator increasing the level of dust concentration during loading operations. Accordingly, Wilson said the Texas Wheat Producers Association is requesting an immediate study of these regulations to determine if they may in any way be responsible. He further said that after the true cause of elevator explosions are determined that an in-depth education program be initiated among grain personnel, FGIS employees, labor gangs assigned to load grain and others involved.

Wilson said that Texas and U.S. Producers have increased wheat exports by 60 percent during the past six years - a feat when coupled with realistic administration of adequate set-aside programs to reduce production - may be the fastest way for producers to realize and experience parity of income from the fruits of their production. Keeping export facilities open is an integral part of the success of such strategy. At a time when we have more wheat on hand than any other time in history, Wilson said, it is discouraging to realize that our Gulf ports reduced by about 60 million bushels per month from these lost facilities, that we could not today deliver a sale the size of the one five years ago in the record time achieved at that time.

Channel Catfish Key Topic

COLLEGE STATION- Opportunities in the production and marketing of channel catfish will be a key topic at the annual Fish Farming Conference at Texas A&M University Jan. 26-27.

in supplying fish for the restaurant trade. The Catfish Farmers of Texas will meet in conjunction with the annual conference.

The production of fingerlings offers potential profits that are luring many fish farmers to switching to the sale of fingerlings as a cash crop, points out Dr. James T. Davis, fisheries specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Labor requirements are intensive and high, but the demand for fingerlings still exceeds supply.

Restaurants and caterers will buy large quantities of farm-raised catfish if they are properly prepared, says Davis. Just how to top this market will be discussed from the standpoint of health regulations and consumer preferences. Three experienced fish farmers will share their experiences

Accordingly the Texas Wheat Producers Association is requesting the Federal Grain Inspection Service (an independent agency) to rescind its directive allowing individual inspectors to shut down an export facility just because they don't want to enter it and are further requesting the U.S. Department of Agriculture to initiate an independent study of causes of elevator explosions and conditions related thereto by a non-partisan grain production and marketing industry group including professional and academic persons qualified to be of expert advise to the study. The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) and the Environmental Protection Agency both heavily regulate conditions and operations of both inland and export grain elevators. All three of the export terminals on the Gulf have exploded since an EPA

Floyd County Farm Bureau
101 Wall Street Phone 983-3777
FLOYDADA, TEXAS 79235
January 11, 1978

TO: Allan Grant
From: Floyd County Farm Bureau Board of Directors

We, the Floyd County Farm Bureau Board of Directors would like to express our displeasure with your opening address at the Farm Bureau Federation National Convention.

The Board feels that Farm Bureau policy concerning the American Agriculture Movement was all that you had the authority to express in your capacity as president of American Farm Bureau, and that most remarks made concerning American Agriculture were your personal opinion. We feel perhaps you should have been more in line with Texas Farm Bureau President Carol Chaloupka when he explained that voting delegates in Houston turned down a resolution asking the organization to support the strike movement. He further explained that legal counsel had since advised that any action by the Farm Bureau in connection with a strike, with the plan in mind to withhold agricultural production in order to increase prices, would be in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

Chaloupka said Farm Bureau sympathizes with the plight of farmers ("I am one of you"), and he listed a number of actions that Farm Bureau has undertaken to improve farm income. He said then he had a tentative appointment with Secretary of Agriculture Bergland to discuss what might be done.

Our county organization feels that you did not act in the best interests of the members.

Sincerely,
Floyd County Farm Bureau Board of Directors

The final round of competition came after nearly two months of competition which started on the Wayland campus. Recently, the Spirit of America Singers won at Texas A&M University.

"THIS SIMPLY proves what a small denominational college can do," replied Wayland public relations director Al Morgan who handles all of the group's promotion. "This is quality education and performance at its best. Once again these students are proving that Wayland is a leader in higher education. They're great and are to be commended for finishing the task."

The live performance was held on the Central Missouri State University campus in Warrensburg, which is a suburb of Kansas City. It was a climax to the many months of rehearsals and performances and a hard day of competition, added Bicknell.

Bicknell explained that the group has been invited to Los Angeles where they will tape a nation-wide television program with Bob Hope. "This will be some time within the next 60 days. It has to be worked out with Bob Hope's schedule."

ON HAND FOR the last judging was pop singer Maureen McGovern; Robert Bell, lead vocalist of Kool and the Gang; Dr. John Anello, director of entertainment at Disneyland, and Mark Anthony, business manager for Bob Hope.

THE 13-MEMBER ensemble has been a successful group since its inception nearly four years ago. They have been showcased at Disneyland and have toured the Greek Islands. With the Wayland Concert Choir, they have toured Europe and the Southwest United States in concert.

Although the members of the group change as some graduate, they continue to stay on top of things. Their musical ability ranges from religious to Top 40.

Christy Stringer, Floydada is one of the members of the group.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Dartha Westbrook

This will be my last week to write the Happenings at the Nursing Home. Dorothy Neff will be writing this article, and doing the work of Activity Director after this week. I have certainly enjoyed my job, working with the residents, and will be helping Dorothy when she needs it in the future. I hope she will get the cooperation from the residents, and their families and friends that I have received. I know makes the job easier. I sure Dorothy will enjoy her new job, and will do well. She has been working as an aide for several months, and knows all the residents and a lot of the families.

We have had so many activities going on around the holidays, and this is the first week in three that we will have the regular work-week, due to the holidays. I think things are about to settle down to normal.

We enjoyed the exercise classes each day, and the devotions too. Our bingo winners last week were Agnes Anderson with three games, Hope Hammonds, Clara Williamson, and Pearl Carrick, and Ray Reed with two games, and Willie Stambaugh with one game. Thanks to all the visitors last week.

The Floyd Philosopher Amazed To Learn There's An Outfit Now That'll Tell Him How To Loaf

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm seems shocked at a new business that has sprung up.

Dear editor:

All the hassle about trying to pick the Number One college football team in the nation reminds me of the old story about the folks who held a Fourth of July contest to pick the prettiest girl in town and had to call it off because they couldn't find one. Since every team in the country got beat at least once, some of the leaders by each other, the thing to do should have been to call the voting off, fire all the coaches, and wait till next year.

That's enough of football. I'm more worried about the country. According to an article I read in a newspaper somebody had used as stuffing to protect a gift-wrapped plate that arrived broken - you'd think The Avalanche Journal could put out a paper that'd cushion better than that - an outfit in California is now in business advising clients how to spend their leisure time. For a fee of $45 they'll analyze your loafing time and tell you how to keep from getting bored with it.

If this thing spreads, I see little hope for this nation. Anybody who has a coach, somebody to tell him how to loaf, I possess the stuff a great country needs.

I suppose this started with baseball for little kids who now are playing a game unless there's a coach. Some kids may not be able to play unless there's a coach on hand. Some may not be able even to play a game of marbles without a coach there to show the proper stance. It used to be that had to do to get kids to play was to get the school house door and stand back. I don't know which is sadder, the gloves, bats and ball standing in the wishing they had a coach so they could play, or grown-ups paying some grandchild to tell them how to loaf.

When in the course of human events becomes necessary for one man to teach him how to enjoy life, the Army Engineers can stop building roads.

Spending Decisions

COLLEGE STATION—Wise spending decisions in families depend on both husband and wife, says Claudia Kerbel, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Since both partners make a significant number of decisions together, it is important for both to practice effective decision-making skills, she adds.

Decision-making involves value clarification, goal setting, examining alternative uses of resources, choosing wisely and evaluating the outcome of a decision, the specialist continues.

Below are the findings of a recent study to determine who—husbands or wives—had major responsibility for decisions about housing, transportation and food.

Findings showed that transportation decisions related to age and length of marriage. In younger couples and those who had been married a short time, both spouses made the major transportation decisions. Among older couples and those married longer, husbands made more decisions.

Decision making for food choices were related to the wife's contribution to the income. The greater her financial contribution, the fewer food-buying decisions she made.

In 75 percent of the families, major housing decisions were made by both husband and wife, Ms. Kerbel says.

Antiques Enjoyment, Investment

COLLEGE STATION—Antiques can provide enjoyment today and outstanding investment tomorrow, says Sue Young, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The value of antiques keeps on climbing while new furniture depreciates from the moment it leaves the store, she says.

For an "eclectic" look that emphasizes a variety of styles and periods, combine antiques with other pieces. They are equally at home in a contemporary or traditional setting.

In shopping for antiques, rely on a reputable antique dealer, who is the consumer's best asset, Mrs. Young says.

In comparing items, look for those that are in good condition, while avoiding excessively refinished pieces.

Also, remember that an antique is anything that was in existence one hundred years before the date of purchase.
