American Agriculture To Contact Floyd Farmers

About ten percent of Floyd County's 786 farmers met at the Massie Center in Floydada Tuesday night to discuss past, present and future plans for the American Agriculture Strike.

Farmer Vernie Moore led the discussion which centered around how much set aside land Floyd farmers could commit. Moore said he would like to see Floyd farmers lay out at least 30 percent of their row crop land.

"Of course our philosophy is that our farmers will look at their individual situations.....some have to go along with their land lords.....some can afford to layout more land than others.....anything laid out hopefully will help receive the U. S. farm surpluses," Moore said.

Farmers at the meeting will be contacting farmers not there this week and next week asking that they consider anything from 0-50 percent set inside acres.

Moore emphasized the flexibility of commitments, should some farm legislation change the row crop program picture between now and planting time.

Mickey Dot Hammonds also spoke on the agriculture strike situation and several farmers voiced their personal opinions about what they would like to see happen in the strike movement..... and most wanted to see more active participation of Floyd farmers.

$30,000 TRACTOR

American Agriculture farmers here and all over the nation are selling tickets ($5.00 each). The winning ticket will receive a $30,000 tractor of his or her choice. $1.00 of the $5.00 stays in Floyd County, the other $4.00 goes to the national headquarters.

Three File For School Board

Wednesday morning, three candidates had filed for places on the ballot for the Lockney Independent School District trustee election April 1. Incumbents Kenneth Broese and Kelton Shaw have filed for re-election to the board, and Paul Koonsman is also seeking a school board seat.

As of Wednesday morning there were only three candidates for three places on the Lockney city Council. Paul Reecer and incumbents J. D. Copeland and Jerry Perry are the candidates in the city election, also scheduled April 1.

Another April 1 election is to choose successors to Helmuth Quebe and Leslie Ferguson on the Lockney General Hospital District board of directors. Quebe and Ferguson have filed petitions to have their names placed on the ballot for re-election.

Filing deadline in all three elections was midnight yesterday, March 1.

STATE OF TEXAS:

COUNTY OF FLOYD:

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS:

HEREAS; It has come to the attention of the undersigned that one Cap Carthel, being a resident of the City of Floyd and having reached his third childhood and appearing to feel chipper enough to go skiing,

HEREAS; He did leave home on the largest snow so far this year to drive over 300 miles on ice covered roads to participate in the aforesaid skiing, when in truth and in fact, there was sufficient snow and ice available at the time to enable him to break a leg or some other part of his anatomy,

HEREAS; We the undersigned do hereby become somewhat concerned as to the wisdom of said 300 mile trip; and, the undersigned; do therefore petition the honorable county court to consider the advisability of committing said Cap Carthel for medical examination to determine whether or not said Cap Carthel has proper control of his marbles.

Owen Thornton's Floyd County Heritage Began In 1890

By Felicia Applewhite

Owen Thornton has double claim to Floyd County pioneer ancestry. Both his grandparents came here in 1890.

For a part of the year 1890, his grandfather, T.J. Thornton made his home on the north side of the Tule Canyon north west of Silverton. The first twins born in Briscoe County were Owen's father and his father's twin sister.

T.J. Thornton and his boys cut posts on the ground where McKenzie Lake is now. These posts were in demand because the country was beginning to be fenced. The extra money from the post sales boosted the Thornton family income.

But in the same year--1890--the Thorntons moved from north of the Tule to locate east of Lockney.

"Lockney then was a mile east of where it is now. It became known as 'Old Lockney' after the present Lockney began to grow. The first store in Old Lockney was in a half dugout. By the time my grandmother arrived, Granddad was building a building near the dugout," Owen says.

T.J. Thornton farmed in this locality with horses and mules.

Three Thornton sisters married three Cope brothers and one Thornton boy married a Cope daughter. The son's wife in now 99 years of age and lives in Lubbock. Until just a few years ago, she made hooked rugs. Her oldest son is 80.

Like so many pioneers, T.J. Thornton was a freighter. He had freighted in Palo Pinto County before coming West. He freighted while he lived on the Tule and he freighted after coming to Lockney. He retired in 1920 and died when Owen was "just a kid."

Owen's other grandfather, R.C. Bennett, moved into a half dugout south east of Lockney when he came here in 1890. The half dugout is still used for a storm cellar.

"Grandmother told me that before sundown on the day that Granddad bought that place, he had plowed some sod and made a garden. They moved in the day they bought it. They just paid so much an acre and took over from the man they bought it from. Granddad was 30 years old and Grandmother was 19. Their first four children were born in the dugout.

"At first, one of the family stayed in the dugout all the time to keep the claim jumpers from taking it. They mailed the papers back to Austin. When the papers came back, they found that they owed just one dollar an acre instead of two. They bought just one section to begin with," he says.

When R.C. Bennett died at 97, he still owned land in Kentucky that he had owned before coming West. During the war, he had mined some on it.

"All that Grandmother and Granddad Bennett ever did was just work. His main thing was cattle. He also freighted some back and forth from Canyon. He was caught on one of those freighting trips in the 1918 blizzard. That was the year that so many people died of flu and pneumonia.

Il Penseroso Has Cake Decorating Program

Susan Flippin was in charge of the program Thursday night when Il Penseroso Junior Study Club members met at the Flippin home in the Providence community. Brenda Elam was co-hostess.

Susan discussed cake decorating and showed various equipment and pictures of decorated cakes. Cathy Barnett completed the decorating of a birthday cake while those present watched. Each lady also helped ice the cake and then enscrined her initial on an iced cupcake. The prize of basic decorating equipment items was given to Cheryl Bradley—not for the best job of decorating, but because her cupcake paper liner was of a different color than the others.

Mrs. Flippin also shared the recipe for decorator's icing: 2 lb. bag of powdered sugar, 1 cup Crisco, 1 tsp. vanilla and 1/2 cup evaporated milk. Use mixer (not hand mixer) to whip for about 5 minutes. This makes a double batch, which stores well in the refrigerator for a long period of time. If icing is to be white, a prettier is to be achieved by using white vanilla, and substituting water for the evaporated milk. Use slightly less than 1/2 cup water.

Guests for the program were Cathy Barnett, Robin Stoerner, Ginger Mathis and Cynthia Bybee. They joined the club members in answering roll call of "the best birthday party I've ever had."

A sandwich loaf decorated with creamed cheese to resemble a basket, chips, cake, soft drinks and coffee were served to Sheryl Bybee, Cheryl Bradley, Anita Big-ham, Gayle Jackson, Barbara Coffman, Kay Martin, Janette Workman, Judy Jackson, Betonia Bell, the hostesses and the guests.

Differences in outdoor and indoor temperatures can cause infiltration. When it's hot outside and cool inside, hot air leaks in. This requires air conditioners to operate more often.

Hot air in summer also brings in moisture, which causes the air conditioner to run more frequently, trying to wring out the moisture. Heat gain in summer and loss in winter can be reduced by caulking, weatherstripping and landscaping and by having a light colored roof and exterior.

Dr. Bill Stewart, Agricultural Engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be providing two hours of additional valuable information to you about heat loss and gain, ventilation, moisture control, heating/air conditioning, solarizing your home, and fireplaces on Tuesday March 7 at the Massie Activity Center in Floydada. His programs will be presented from 2:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

In thinking about window shading, the coolest and most effective begins OUTSIDE—but inside shading is effective, too. Protecting the inside of a house from solar heat gain can cut the summer cooling load—and shading is most effective if it is outside the windows.

Examples of external shading devices include canvas awnings, louvered type shutters, commercial "solar screens," and trees. Roof overhangs or trellises also give shading.

Inside a window, draperies, blinds, and shades can reflect most of the sunlight back outside the house rather than allowing it to heat the inside of a room.

Some examples of shading devices—and the percentage they reduce solar heat gain—are:

white opaque roller shade—50 percent white lined drapery—33 percent venetian blind (slats at 45-degree angle)—18 percent

Closed venetian blind—29 percent white translucent roller shade—44 percent

Dr. Everett Janne, Landscape Horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be discussing landscaping ideas specifically for our West Texas Plains area including plant and tree selection, placement and care. Outside energy conservation treatments will become more important to us in the near future. And remember—it does require a few years to grow a tree or shrub. So "plan to plant now" and reap the benefits in a year or two.

Dr. Janne's presentations will be given from 1:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. and from 7:45 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Other topics to be included in the Energy Seminar include insulating glass areas inside and outside the home from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Interior decor treatment energy conservation ideas will be presented from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

In addition, a special insulation program for existing and new homes will be presented during the evening sessions from 7:00 p.m. to 7:45 p.m.

A registration fee of $1.00 per person for the day session and $1.00 per person for the night session will be charged at the door.

Each year for the past three years the Floyd County Family Living Committee has presented a special educational program for Floyd and surrounding counties families that is designed to meet the families needs. A day and time of year when most adults can attend is selected by the Committee. This year the educational program is the SAVE HOME ENERGY SEMINAR.

We hope you have made your plans already to join us for this highlight program of the year.

Educational programs sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are open to all persons, regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin. Notification in advance has hereby been provided of a registration fee for both the day program and the night program.

ROSE PRUNING TIME—For top quality blooms, now is the time to prune hybrid tea roses, says a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Mid-February is rose pruning time in Central Texas while pruning in North Texas should be done in late February or early March. Cut back top growth to 12 to 15 inches above ground. Keep four to six healthy canes. Remove all dead, diseased and injured twigs and branches as well as any spindly growth at the base of the plant.

Business Histories To Be In Special Historical Book Section

A special section of the Floyd County Historical Book will be devoted to histories of past and present businesses in the county.

Since the businesses played a vital part in the building of the county, the project committee feels that it is very important that every story be told in this book.

Oldtime businesses should tell when the business was established, why it was established in Floyd County, some of the changes that have been made through the years, and possibly how the business contributed to the growth and development of the county.

An oldtime business may have extended credit to early settlers to help them get on their feet. If that is true, those times would be interesting in a story. Early day and present day photos would add interest to the story.

New businesses should tell why they have been located in Floyd County, and what influences might have contributed to the success of the business.

Members of the book committee are available to help in organizing or writing a business history. For more information, contact Nancy Marble at 983-2937.

INFILTRATION & WINDOW SHADING

During recent weeks Floyd County Family Committee and I have been busy putting the finishing touches on the "SAVE HOME ENERGY" seminar to be conducted in Floydada on March 7 for all County residents.

Building contractors and dealers have extensive rating tables which show the amount of heat gained and lost by transmission for various kinds of building materials.

Heat gain and loss by air infiltration is caused by air leakage through cracks and crevices. Infiltration causes from one quarter to one third of the total heat loss in a typical home.

South Plains, February 27. Rev. Fred Blake went to Tulia this Monday where he attended an all-day State Vacation Bible School Clinic. The South Plains Baptist Church will have Vacation Bible School from May 29-June 2.

The South Plains Baptist Church has set the spring revival date for April 2-9, with the Reverend Bob Griffin from Seth Ward Baptist Church in Plainview as evangelist. The church voted to have morning services at twelve o'clock noon, with luncheon served at the church each day.

Stanley Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sanders, is an alternate in the County Spelling Bee which will be held in Lockney in March. Stanley attends Andrews Ward Elementary School.

Kenneth Bean's little house on the farm here at South Plains burned to the ground last Tuesday night, despite the efforts of the Floydada Fire Department, which came as soon as possible. The fire presumably was caused by the explosion of a small stove inside the building.

Quannah, Acme and Pacific Railway Company hereby gives notice that on or about March 10, 1978, it intends to file with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C. 20423, an application for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity, permitting the abandonment of a line of railroad extending from Railroad Mile Post G-728, plus 10 poles plus 700 feet, near Acme, Texas, to Railroad Mile Post G-833.2 near Floydada, Texas, a distance of approximately 104 miles, in Hardeman, Cottle, Motley, and Floyd Counties, Texas. The line for which the abandonment application will be filed includes the stations of Paducah, Texas at Mile Post G-766.1 and Floydada, Texas at Mile Post G-833.2.

The reasons for the proposed abandonment are the public convenience and necessity no longer require the continued operation of the line and the continued operation of the line would be a burden upon applicant.

The line of railroad has appeared on the System Diagram Map in Category 1 (§ 1121.20) (b) (1) since November 3, 1977.

The interests of railroad employees will be protected by appropriate conditions as set forth in Chicago, B. & Q. R. Co., Abandonment, 257 I.C.C. 700 and the applicable provisions of the Rail Passenger Service Act.

Any interested person, in response to this notice, is entitled to take either of the following actions:

- (c) specific statement of position and summary of evidence with regard to any or all of the following:

 - (2) environmental impact;
 - (3) impact on rural and community development;
 - (4) suitability of the properties for other public purposes; and
 - (5) recommended provisions for protection of the interests of employees.

Written comments will be considered by the Commission in all proceedings in developing conditions and in determining whether to conduct an investigation on its own motion. In the event an investigation is conducted, then the commenting party may participate in the proceeding as its interests may appear.

2. File with the Interstate Commerce Commission a petition requesting that the application and proposed abandonment be investigated.

The petition to investigate shall be in the form of a verified statement, and at minimum, contain:

- (a) identification of petitioner including its name, address and business;
- (b) statement of petitioner's interest in the abandonment or discontinuance proceeding, whether petitioner uses the involved service; and if it does not, information with respect to the group or public interest it represents;
- (c) specific reason(s) for requesting the institution of an investigation, including information with respect to petitioner's reliance on the involved service, with allegations of fact supported by an affidavit of personal knowledge of the facts;
- (d) any rebuttal of information or material submitted by applicant; and
- (e) request for oral hearing and reasons therefor if desired.

Upon receipt of a petition to investigate, the Commission shall determine the extent of the investigation to be instituted. Those parties filing petitions to investigate should be prepared to participate actively in either oral hearings or via the submission of additional material in the form of verified statements. Parties seeking information concerning the filing of petitions should refer to 49 CFR 1121.36.

Petitions to investigate and written comments should indicate the proceeding designation No. AB-109 (Sub-No. 1F) and should be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C. 20423 no later than April 14, 1978. Interested persons may file either a written comment or a petition to investigate with the Commission to become a party to this abandonment proceeding. A copy of each petition to investigate or written comment shall be served upon the representative of the applicant, D. E. Engle, Vice-President-General Counsel, St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company, 906 Olive Street - Suite 1023, St. Louis, Missouri 63101. Replies to comments or petitions, the latter shall be in the form of a verified statement, shall be filed with the Commission no later than April 24, 1978 and shall be served on all commenting parties and petitioners. The original and two copies of all petitions, comments and replies shall be filed with the Commission together with a certificate of service.

In the event a petition to investigate prepared in accordance with the above instructions is filed, then the Commission will conduct an investigation of the abandonment. Written comments filed with the Commission will be considered by the Commission in all proceedings in developing conditions and in determining whether the Commission should conduct an investigation on its own motion in the event no petition to investigate is filed. Additionally, if an investigation is conducted then parties filing comments may participate in the investigation as their interests may appear.

Persons desiring further information concerning abandonment procedures may contact the Interstate Commerce Commission's Section of Finance, Office of Proceedings or refer to the full abandonment and discontinuance regulations at 49 CFR Part 1121. Persons desiring information concerning financial assistance for the continued operation or acquisition of the involved line should contact the Commission's Rail Services Planning Office. The carrier's representative to whom inquiries may be made is D. E. Engle, Vice-President-General Counsel, St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company, 906 Olive Street - Suite 1023, St. Louis, Missouri 63101. Cotton ginners and allied industry people by the hundreds and guests by the thousands will converge on Lubbock's Memorial Civic Center March 10 and 11 for the 65th Annual Meeting of the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association (TCGA).

This is the convention's first appearance in Lubbock and TCGA Executive Vice President Tony Price of Dallas expects attendance of 4,000 or more, some 800 greater than the previous record.

Ninety-three exhibitors will use over 28,000 square feet of floor space to show machinery, supplies and services related to cotton ginning, production and marketing.

Keynote speaker for the business session at 9:15 a.m. on Friday, March 10, in the Memorial Civic Center Theater will be Democratic Congressman David Bowen of Mississippi, Chairman of the Cotton Subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture. Charles Russell, National Cotton Council economist, will also speak at the session, directing his remarks at cotton export prospects and opportunities for 1978.

Presiding at the business session will be TCGA President Morris Jones of San Juan, Texas, and Vice President Gayle Craft of Plains.

A highlight for the ladies at 10:00 a.m. Saturday, March 11, in the Convention Center Banquet Hall will be a "Harvestaire" featuring presentations by five food consultants on microwave and crepe cooking. Two microwave ovens will be given as door prizes.

For entertainment TCGA is bringing in "Grand Ol Opry" stars Jeannie Pruitt, Ronnie Profit and other musical groups to close out the meeting on Saturday night. Tickets to the performance will be free at exhibitor booths throughout both days of the convention.

Another special event is the "Last International Ginners Pinto Bean and Cornbread Cookoff" featuring cooks from all over Texas and a few out-of-state chefs.

Price has issued a special invitation to all members of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, saying "Every one will have a badge waiting, with only the name to be filled in at registration."

This is the first time in TCGA's 65-year history that its directors have chosen to hold the annual meeting outside Dallas, the headquarters city. The meeting was moved to San Antonio once in the 1930's and to Fort Worth once in the 40's, but both times it was because space was not available in Dallas.

The government price freeze on live cattle by President Truman created the worst price disaster in the early '50's this country had seen at the time. Then the Nixon freeze on beef prizes in 1973 triggered more bankruptcies in the cattle business than this nation had known to that time.

Whaley cited the fact Secretary Butz had encouraged fence row to fence row planting—then Nixon placed an export embargo and sent grain prices into a tailspin.

All of this was an effort to appease consumers.

Whaley pointed out the grain reserve Government program to place five hundred million bushels in storage will pretty well assure the fact that wheat prices will go no higher than $3.83 per bushel as long as the loan rate is only $2.25. This is slightly over 70 percent of parity. Whaley said, "If our wheat and other grains were sold in the World Market at parity, farmers of this nation would stand to earn five billion dollars more for their grain products. Farmers could stand to earn as much as $3.00 more per bushel for wheat."

He cited government figures that showed the U.S. sold over sixty-three percent of all the feed grains and 41 percent of all food grains in the last marketing year. He stated the fact that the U.S. had the power to set world prices.

Bad trade agreements with the European Common Market permits Volkswagens to be shipped into this country at only three percent of their wholesale price as import duty. But the import duty on our wheat being shipped to Europe is now $3.45 per bushel.

The U.S. is the only exporting nation that does not have a government or grain marketing board to set the outgoing price.

The Japanese government buys our wheat direct and resells it to their millers for $2.00 per bushel profit.

Whaley said a grain exporting board run by farmers should be the one spokesman to achieve fair prices.

Wally Fowler Coming To Turkey Baptist Church

"Nashville's Music Man" Wally Fowler will be at the Valley School Saturday at 7:30 p.m. for a benefit show. Admission will be free and a love offering will be taken for the benefit of Rev. and Mrs. Elroy Wesian. The Wesians were seriously burned in a stove explosion his first Sunday to pastor the Turkey Methodist church.

The show will not only feature Wally, but the Fowler Family and Band from Florida, The Spears Family, and Sharon Henson Jenkins. The show is sponsored by the Turkey Baptist Church and everyone is invited to come and enjoy the outstanding musical show, while helping the burn victims.

In the language of flowers a rose of any color means "love."

CAPROCK LODGE CIRCLE TO MEET

Caprock Circle of Odd Fellows will have a supper meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in the I.O.O.F. lodge hall in Abernathy. Odd Fellows lodges in Lockney, Floydada, Plainview and Abernathy make up the Caprock Circle.

him during the blizzard didn't have enough clothes to keep him warm. Grandad wrapped him in tow sacks and made him walk by the wagon to keep warm," his grandmother told him.

On arriving home, Bennett found that his 300 mother cows had drifted 25 miles south with the blizzard.

"We used to drive cattle up north for summer pasture. A wagon went along, so the drag man could pick up calves that couldn't keep up with the herd," he remembers.

Owen says he stopped riding horses when three different ones fell with him. When Lockney first ginned cotton, it was brought by wagon. If a man brought a load to be ginned, he stayed with his team to pull the load under the gin even if he had to wait until night. It wasn't like it is now where the gin pulls it under for you.

Once there was a gin "right where the hospital is now." Town boys used to go there to play in the bins.

Where the bank is now, there was a lumber yard. Just west of the lumber yard was a wagon yard that had a little room "up in the corner with a pot-bellied stove. Uncle Ross operated the wagon yard."

"Dad had an elevator here in the south part of town. People from Silvertown, Quitaque, Turkey and all that area, brought loads of wheat to town. They always brought a bed roll and stayed in the wagon yard while they were here. He told me that one time a man came here with a load of cane seed when cane seed was short. He gave the man $900 for the load."

Owen worked around the elevator when he was 15 or 16 years old.

Once "a kid turned the air valve and dumped a horse where they usually dumped grain." Wagons backed up a mile while they were getting the horse out of the pit.

"There were no grates across the pits—just had an open hole. A man had to be careful or he would fall in with a load of grain. I was dumped in once with a load. The way things are now, a man would smother. The machinery moves much faster to elevate grain. It would suck a man down."

"In 1931, Ed Whitfill was hauling wheat for Tom Rankin to Sterley. When he started back to the field after lunch, Ben McGehee, Shorty and I went along just to be having something to do. We were standing in the back of the truck. Ed was driving about 40 or 45 miles an hour when he drove under a telephone wire that cleared Ben and Shorty but caught me on the chin.

"Ed and Clyde brought me to town. There was no hospital, so they just took me home and put me to bed. I was unconscious until midnight," he recalls.

The result of the truck trip was a broken collar bone and a head with the "hide skinned all off." He was skinned all over his body. He had landed on his shoulders, so his neck was so swollen that he looked as though he had the mumps.

"I remember when there wasn't a gas, sewer, or water line in Lockney. Everybody had a windmill and had an old outhouse out on the alley. They had old coal stoves to burn. Dad sold a lot of coal.

There were no homes then west of the old Tab Merriwether place and the Gentry house. Uncle Pete McDonald farmed all this end of town.

There were no homes then west of the old Tab Merriwether place and the Gentry house. Uncle Pete McDonald farmed all this end of town which was now covered with possession vine.

"I was standing by the wagon that was being used for a speaker's platform when Hub Mason made the speech at ground breaking for the oil mill. It's the Floyd County Fair property now made into fair grounds.

"When the oil mill began operation, I worked for them at night. They loaded the vacant stores in Lockney full of cotton seed," he says.

"During that time, Mother was so much. Once she had four kids to be dressed for Thanksgiving Christmas. She gave Shorty the job of picking them. Shorty and I were around. The first turkey we picked we let get too cold so we couldn't get the pin feathers out over the coal. The next two were pretty quick."

Owen Thornton did all his schooling in Lockney. Most of his years were in the two-story building that was located on the corner where the barracks recently located. That building burned.

His last year was in the present school building when it was built. "Our football team was made up of volunteer car owners. We rode a grain truck to Pampa to play."

"We played such towns as Pampa, Roaring Springs, Matador, Krumpholtz, Floydada. Some of them we won twice a year," he says.

There were no night games in bleachers. Everybody stood up on the side lines.

"In our senior year, we had to come out for football. There were 11 men, the extra 4 didn't play. Floydada had full teams. They beat us 13 to 0. We weighed 165 pounds and played like," he remembers.

In 1935, Owen was in college in Canyon. These were the dust days of the Depression. There were days that it was impossible to see the Administration building from the street.

"When we dated at W.T., we had a standing date at 7:00.

This made it right for Catherine and me to be married at 7:00 on Christmas Day, 1938, forty years ago.

Owen Thornton's varied experience stems from a well-rooted pioneer heritage. He tells his story with a pride.

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — ON A SATURDAY AT HIGH NOON in late February of 1838, the last legal duel was fought in Maryland, just over the city limits of Washington, D.C. The place is referred to in a book by John Proctor about the early days of Washington as "the dark and bloody grounds."

AS A MATTER OF FACT, THE AREA IS VERY PRETTY, with ankle-deep grass and tall trees lining a glade. Despite the hum and roar of traffic, it is a quiet and pleasant place where history hovers. A historical marker tells us that more than fifty duels were fought there in the first half of the 19th century. The marker notes that "here gentlemen of Washington settled their political and personal differences." Stephen Decatur was one of the best known duelers on these grounds.

ON THIS FEBRUARY DAY IN 1838, two Members of Congress met to settle insults occurring on the floor of the House of Representatives. Jonathan Cilley had been in Congress less than three months when he made uncomplimentary remarks about Congressman William J. Graves from Kentucky. Graves made the challenge but Cilley at first declined to receive it. Graves considered the refusal as a further affront and required of Mr. Cilley "that satisfaction which is recognized among gentlemen."

THE DUEL WAS ARRANGED WITH RIFLES AT EIGHTY YARDS. The dress was to be "ordinary winter clothing." Mr. Graves acquired the use of a 44-caliber rifle which Davy Crockett had used for target practice and "its accuracy vouched for." Mr. Cilley chose a 32-caliber weapon.

THE ACCOUNT OF THE DUEL SAYS THAT BOTH

MEN MISSED on the first exchange. Friends of both men attempted a settlement but failed.

BOTH MEN FIRED A SECOND TIME and both again missed and, again, reconciliation was attempted. On the third exchange, Jonathan Cilley went down with a bullet through his body and died in minutes.

WITHIN THE YEAR, CONGRESS OUTLAWED DUELING in the United States but, up until the Civil War, a number of aggrieved gentlemen availed themselves of this method of settling challenges to what was considered their personal honor.

OF COURSE, NO ONE WOULD SUGGEST THAT WE RETURN to the practice of dueling to settle personal disputes but at least it was one man against another, it being arranged to the rules that each had an equal chance in every respect. It was not organized crime for material gain nor was it a gang action perpetrated against the unsuspecting. Certainly, it could not come under the heading "good clean fun" because its deadly nature but it is in the open and according to the gentleman's understanding.

UNLIKE THE GRAY-CILLEY DUEL, history indicates that a number of challenges were resolved. The failure of one dueler on the first shot dropped on the first shot organized crime or actions, there is no tradition but only mob rule uncontrolled.

IN ORGANIZED CRIME THE UNDERLINGS do what the boss tells and, in some instances group action the fellow can talk the loudest throw the straightest attempts to become the leader.

The U.S. and France are the world's largest producers of apples.

Residue Important

Residue management offers numerous advantages in protecting your soil from erosion, improving soil fertility, and conserving water. Crop residue management is the practice of leaving crop stubble and grain sorghum on the soil during critical erosion periods.

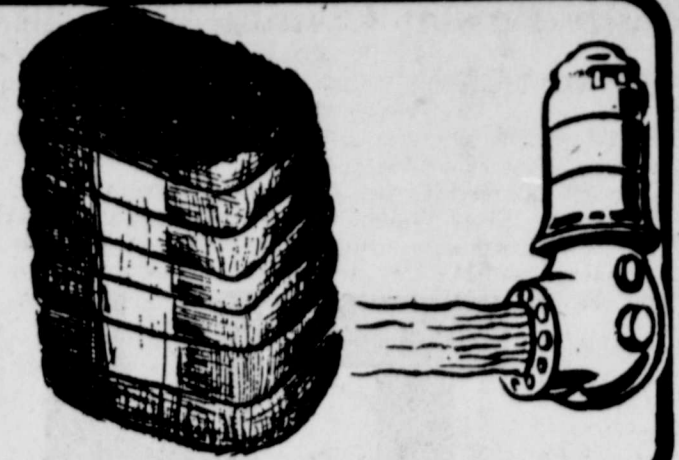

America

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Agriculture, which has been heavily on the political agenda, is showing signs of developing political momentum. It is a traditional kind of momentum, but it is being driven by a new leadership, some of whom are privately admitting that they are "catching on" to the idea of group members who remain in Washington. The Agriculture Department and the Administration react to the idea.

Some of the farmers admit the incident involving the Secretary Bob Bergland was in Amarillo.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five major agricultural organizations Monday again endorsed the mechanisms in last year's overhaul of federal farm policy and called on the Carter administration to use them to raise crop prices. As Senate Agriculture Committee hearings on the farm economy continued, the major farm groups did not endorse the main goal of the American Agriculture protest movement: new legislation forbidding the sale of farm products at less than 100 percent of parity. But all endorsed parity as their goal — either through collective bargaining contracts between farmers and processors, the aim of the National Farmers Organization, or through greater manipulation of market forces by government, including higher grain support prices. UNDER THE LAW, parity is a formula comparing farmers' prices and production costs. The formula uses the favorable cost-price ratio that existed between 1910-1914 period as a base, or 100 percent. The ratio now is about 65 percent, on the average, for 114 commodities on which the Agriculture Department calculates parity prices.

The five farm groups were the NFO, the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Farmers Union, the National Grange and the Midcontinent Farmers Association. They emphasized administrative actions by Secretary Bob Bergland to raise farm prices now under the authority of the 1977 farm act.

centives for farmers to participate in the three-year reserves program and acreage cutbacks Bergland has emphasized as the solution to the two-year price slump. The supports operate through a program of government loans repaid the following year if market prices stay above the support rate, which generally sets the minimum price.

"THE CASH flow and income problems of American farmers cannot wait for the legislative mills to grind out a substantial change in farm-policy legislation. Farmers need help now," testified John W. Scott, master of the Grange. Scott called for higher price supports for grains and soybeans and more in-

L.C. CARPENTER, vice president of Midcontinent Farmers, said that both mandatory production controls and adequate acreage reductions to turn prices around appear politically unacceptable to farmers unless support prices are high enough to encourage them to go along.

American Agriculture 'wise up' to Washington ways

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Agriculture, which has been hurt by the political front, is showing signs of developing political leadership, some in admit privately that "catching on" to how are done in Congress. It involves a relative of group members who remained in Washington Congress, the Agricultural Department and the Administration react to its... of the farmers admit the incident involving a their fellows throwing eggs and eggs at Agricultural Secretary Bob Bergland he was in Amarillo, Texas, earlier this week has hurt their public image. But as one farmer said Thursday, the group generally has refrained from physical violence in making itself felt in Washington. At House and Senate committee hearings on farm issues, farmers often are vocal, but they have not resorted to eggs or snowballs to make their points. Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., and Rep. Jack E. Hightower, D-Texas, have introduced bills which would create a "flexible parity" plan to give farmers higher prices when they voluntarily reduce crop production. Under this concept, for example, if farmer opted to set aside 50 percent of his wheat land from production, he could get full parity — about $5 a bushel — for wheat that he did produce. The federal guarantee would be scaled down for farmers who set aside less of their acreage. At a meeting here late Wednesday, the Washington crew of American Agriculture adopted a resolution giving support to "the concept of 100 percent parity for those producers reducing production in order to reach a fair price for their products." But an American Agriculture spokesman, who asked not to be identified, said the group stopped short of endorsing either Dole's or Hightower's bill. One reason, he said, is that the group felt that a newly introduced bill is a long way from being law and there are many legislative hazards along the way.

"We haven't seen them out of committees and we don't know for sure that they won't be butchered up in committees," he said. Further evidence that some in American Agriculture are doing their homework involves what the farmer described as the political realities of getting legislation through a Democratic-controlled Congress and accepted by a Democratic president. "If Mr. Dole puts his name on a bill, he's on the minority side," the farmer said. "We'd probably prefer — and we hate to get into politics, but I guess we're going to have to get anything done — a Democrat to introduce something we really want."

The recognition by some in American Agriculture that political realities are involved is a step which Bergland urged the group from its beginning last fall to comprehend and use to its advantage. There is no evidence, however, that American Agriculture will soon evolve into a slick lobbying institution. The DEPRECIATION LOWERS INCOME TAXES—Depreciation can help farmers and ranchers recover their investment in capital assets during the years of useful life of these assets. Depreciation as a farm business expense can help producers reduce their 1977 income taxes, notes an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Depreciation must be taken the year it is eligible so good records are a must. There are two types of depreciation—regular depreciation and additional first-year depreciation.

group today still relies on visibility to attract attention by its tractor parades, solidarity at congressional hearings and—in the case of a minority faction—hoots, jeers, eggs and snowballs. Further, the group has had success in calling public attention to the financial plight of many farmers. No one can overlook the upwards of 200 bills that have been introduced in Congress since American Agriculture came on the scene last fall, all of which—in one way or another—represent some tinkering with federal programs to help farmers.

United States consumption of tea—the world's most popular beverage, next to water—is second only to Great Britain, says Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"SINGLE TREE TYPE" PITFALL-Tree planting programs are under way in many Texas communities now, and community leaders should give careful attention to the selection of tree species, points out a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This means avoiding the use of a single tree type. Should a problem arise, such as a disease or insect epidemic, all trees could be wiped out if they are all of one species.

Burglaries Plague Southern Floyd

Sheriff Fred Cardinal this week reported three area burglaries and three persons arrested at one of the burglary locations.

Thursday night Brown Gin plant manager Robert Lee Jones discovered a break-in at the gin office and called for police help on his CB radio. City policeman Jim Gollihar and county deputy David Hart answered the call and arrested Carl Wayne Mitchell, Bobby Eugene Mitchell and Maynard Gaylon Applegate Jr., all of Cone.

The arrested men were charged with "burglary of buildings" and put in the county jail. Wednesday Applegate was out on bond. The report from the gin office indicated a candy machine had been broken into, money taken from a desk and some tools were in the process of being stolen. Entry was gained through a broken window on the east side of the office.

DOUGHERTY BURGLARIES
Monday night burglars hit Dougherty where they took $20.00 and two basketballs from the school, $8.00 from the Darty Gin, $8.00 from D & P Grain. Producers Cooperative Elevator office was also broken into, but reports indicate no money taken. Sheriff Cardinal said that the Sandhill Elevator office was also broken into last week with around $3,000 taken.

Dallas Cowboys Coming To Plainview

PLAINVIEW—A benefit for the Llano Estacado Museum will bring a little "Cowboymania" to Plainview Saturday, March 4 when Dallas standouts D.D. Lewis and Golden Richards will be the featured attraction for the event at Hutchinson Physical Education Center.

Museum officials are hoping for a full house of some 3,500 persons including those who attend the dinner which starts at 6:30 p.m. Cost for the dinner and program is $8.50 for Museum Association members and $10 for non-members.

Those not attending the dinner will be admitted at 7:30 p.m. for the program. Tickets will be $5 for adults and $3 for children under 12. Also, the two players will be available to have their pictures made with any fan at a cost of $5 for a 5 by 7 color photo.

All area high school athletes have been invited to attend with letters about the benefit sent to the head football coach at each school. Poster contests among younger students has spurred ed further interest in the program which will benefit one of the states finest museums, located on the campus of Wayland Baptist College.

Though only 6-1, 215, Lewis is one of the toughest linebackers in the game. The 33-year-old graduate of Mississippi State has completed nine years with the Cowboys and has played in three Super Bowls. He recovered a fumble in Dallas' 27-10 world championship victory over Denver in New Orleans. He's a key leader in the Cowboys' Doomsday 11 defense. Richards caught a 27-yard touchdown pass from Robert Newhouse for the final Dallas TD. He's a 27-year-old native of Salt Lake City who played for the University of Hawaii and has completed five years with Dallas. In regular season, he caught 17 passes for 225 yards and three touchdowns. Tickets may be purchased in advance by writing to the Llano Estacado Museum at Wayland Baptist College and they also will be available at the door the night of the benefit.

FARMER OWNED

FARMERS COST-PRICE SQUEEZE TIGHTENS—Although Texas farmers and ranchers enjoyed a small increase in cash receipts from their products during 1977, they suffered a drop in net income, according to preliminary estimates compiled by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Cash receipts should reach $6.7 billion, up from $6.3 billion in 1976. But net income should be down from $931 million in 1976. Inflation, a drop in crop prices, and the fact that the outlay for production items is increasing annually by more than 11 percent are the main reasons for the financial plight of agricultural producers, says an Extension marketing economist.

ACCIDENT CONTROL—To prevent falls from farm machinery, use handholds and keep platforms and foot plates clear of mud, tools and debris, advises the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Any fish stupid enough to fall for that silly thing deserves to be caught!"

Wally Fowler Coming To Turkey Baptist Church

"Nashville's Music Man" Wally Fowler will be at the Valley School Saturday at 7:30 p.m. for a benefit show. Admission will be free and a love offering will be taken for the benefit of Rev. and Mrs. Elroy Wesian.

The Wesians were seriously burned in a stove explosion his first Sunday to pastor the Turkey Methodist church. The show will not only feature Wally, but the Fowler Family and Band from Florida, The Spears Family, and Sharon Henson Jenkins.

The show is sponsored by the Turkey Baptist Church and everyone is invited to come and enjoy the outstanding musical show, while helping the burn victims.

Retreat At Plains Baptist Encampment

Plains Assembly Baptist Encampment near Floydada will be the location of a training retreat March 3-4 for people who serve in the River Ministry of Texas Baptists.

The River Ministry is a program through which Baptists minister to people in the Rio Grande Valley. The Christian outreach offers Bible study, agricultural training, a crafts organization and medical assistance to Mexican American people.

The retreat originally was scheduled Feb. 10-11 was postponed because of snow to this weekend.

The annual training retreats prepare church groups, families and individuals to work in the River Ministry. Elmin Howell, River Ministry coordinator, said that the 1978 retreats are designed to involve more Mexican American Baptists as leaders of ministries.

"That All May Know Him" is the theme of the Christian training retreat at Plains Assembly camp. The River Ministry is part of the State Missions Commission of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. Additional information on the River Ministry and the retreat is available from River Ministry office, 101 Baptist Building, Dallas 75201.

Several bilingual seminars at the retreat will especially equip Mexican Spanish-speaking persons to work in the River Ministry. Seminars will include Vacation Bible Schools, evangelism, medical ministries, literacy training, puppetry communication, and music.

Postal Service Combats Vanity Fraud

"Preying on human vanity, some unscrupulous mail-order promoters use the mail to get money through misleading or fraudulent claims," Postmaster Ed Wester said.

To increase public awareness of Postal Service activities aimed at combating the problem, the second annual national Postal Consumer Protection Week is being held. Focus of the week, February 21-26, will center on the reliability of the vast majority of mail-order firms and on the Postal Service activities designed to thwart those who operate in violation of the mail fraud and false representation statutes.

According to George Davis, Assistant General Counsel in charge of the Postal Service's Consumer Protection Office, "the vast majority of mail-order advertisers are honest and forthright in their promotional material, but there are some who, intentionally or unintentionally, muddy the marketplace with less-than-accurate claims."

In the past year, the Postal Inspection Service investigated schemes advertising cosmetics, weight reduction products and sexual aids that cost the public millions of dollars in losses annually.

A recent case of false representation involved the sale of the "E-Pill." Company promotions advertised that this pill would "...perk up sexual interest..." and claimed that "...potency quickly improves..." For $9.95 a purchaser received a bottle of pills labeled "High Potency Vitamin E Tablets, 500 IU, 15 count." Upon completion of its investigation, the Postal Service Consumer Protection Lawyers then filed a formal complaint.

Postmaster Wester cited another false advertising case involving a firm which claimed that its "Kelp Diet Tablets" contained ingredients to dissolve body fats. Ads touted that most users would experience a 30 per cent decrease in cholesterol and the loss of one pound per day.

Another product, Glamourlift, assured purchasers that its plan would add inches to the female bustline in just 14 days.

Postmaster Wester stressed, "Any advertisement offering medically related items which promise to work miracles—particularly when the advertiser's reputation is unknown—should cause the prospective buyer to beware and seek the opinion of a physician before purchasing such products."

According to Chief Inspector C. Benson, persons purchasing advertised vanity products in such cases are hesitant to report incidents and, consequently, making it easier for the schemer to continue false promotion. To help nip such schemes in the bud, the public is urged to report any suspected schemes to Postmaster Wester or a postal inspector immediately.

Hawks Likely Target

LUBBOCK—Of all the daceous birds, the hawk family is the most persecuted and least understood even though they are the most useful.

Many winter hunters of country roads and these hawks from the electric line poles as the birds wait for a rat or mouse to show its face along a roadway or weed patch.

The term "chicken hawk" has been applied to all hawks, but the farmer's opinion of the hawk family is changing as the birds are observed eating rodents not the barnyard hens' dinner.

Hawks diets consist of field mice, small mammals, fish, crayfish, snakes, lizards and snails throughout the year and some of the birds migrate through the Panhandle-South Plains each spring and fall. The sightings by the general public might lead the observer to believe that Texas is over-populated with hawks which is true.

The landowner is not enough to have hawks quiet his property with a few rodents and continued slaughter hawks will certainly remove one of the most effective natural checks on rodents and insects enjoyed by the

The Floyd Philosopher

He's In Favor Of Having Congress Fill Pot Holes And Dig Post Holes

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses a couple of topics this week.

Dear Editor:

Some theoretical scientists says it's now possible to build a subway that'll enable a person to travel 14,000 miles an hour, going from New York say to Los Angeles in 21 seconds.

I don't understand how the thing would work. The scientist said the car you'd ride in would glide somewhat like a man on a surf board rides a wave. Most of the air in the subway tunnel would be pumped out to cut down on friction but that wouldn't matter because nearly anybody can hold his breath for 21 seconds. It would cost 500 billion dollars, attained easily by getting Congress to raise the debt ceiling.

I'm not enthusiastic about the idea. I can understand wanting to get out of New York that fast, but not getting to Los Angeles that soon.

Another news item that attracted my attention was a resolution introduced at a meeting of the American Bar Association denouncing Chief Justice Warren Burger for telling them that half the trial lawyers in this country aren't competent to try cases in court.

The resolution was defeated, and while I don't want to get involved in how many lawyers are incompetent—after all when you belittle the lawyers you're belittling half the members of Congress and half the members of every State Legislature in the country—what interested me was a statement by a lawyer opposing the resolution. He accused its sponsors of lacking a sense of humor.

This needs explaining. Was he saying the Chief Justice was joking, or that if you're being tried in court you need a humorist to defend you?

Judging by the number of criminals who're beating the rap these days, what we may need is not fewer incompetent lawyers but more.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.
