THE FLOYD COUNTY PIONEER REUNION is Saturday, May 27 in Floydada. There was a page-one story in the Beacon last Thursday which told all about it except for one thing-it didn't say what day it was going to be. We apologize for the omission.

I RECEIVED A LETTER informing me of the error. The letter was unsigned, so we won't publish it, but if the writer would like for it to be published, we will come in and sign his/her name. We'll print it. (If I'd written it, I wouldn't have signed it either.)

Old Settlers Reunion Saturday

Starting with the 9 a.m. registration and ending sometime late that night, Saturday's Floyd County Pioneer Reunion will have something for everyone as the day's activities are reeled off.

The 2:30 p.m. parade is always the big feature of the day, but other equally interesting attractions will include an exhibition of square dancing, a shoot-out western performance, dancing on the slab, a flower show, and additional activities.

A business meeting is set for 10 a.m., followed by a memorial service at 10:30 to be conducted by Mrs. M.J. McNeill.

At 11 a.m. Dr. Jack Henry, former Floydada resident and now an orthopedic surgeon in San Antonio, will be the guest speaker. He will also recognize the old settler coming the longest distance to attend, and the oldest man or woman from Floyd County to attend the reunion.

After Dr. Henry's talk there will be group singing of pioneer and traditional songs led by J.D. Copeland.

A barbecue luncheon for some 300 people will be catered on the court-house lawn. Those pioneers registering who have lived in Floyd County 50 or more years will be honored.

He Makes $75,000

By Going Fishing

Anybody who makes $75,000 by going fishin' must be doing something right. Rick Clunn has—and obviously is.

He's not your happy-go-lucky weekend angler. He's the World Champion at finding and catching bass and he has just written a book about how he does it.

Titled "World Championship Bass Fishing," the Clunn book has been published by Fisherman Books ($5.95, Cordovan Press, Houston). It explains many of the reasons why Clunn won the 1976 and 1977 B.A.S.S. Masters Classic (fishing) championships.

For instance, Clunn does a lot of fishing homework before he ever sees the water. He studies the weather to establish a probable pattern. He checks the water temperature, clarity and the lake level. Detailed records of his fishing experiences help him calculate seasonal patterns. He records weather, water and bottom conditions, lure used. Referring to these notes, Clunn can estimate the bass action under similar conditions. He spends hours studying topographic maps, learning the depths and bottom contours of a lake. He can eliminate much of the fishless water this way, without wasting any time on the lake.

Observation, concentration and confidence play a big part in Clunn's championship style. He remembers how he retrieved his lure, especially if he's trying something different. Small bass are often "stragglers," and a school may not be far away. Heron and egret concentrated in an area may mean baitfish, and that may mean bass. Off-beat tactics with plastic worms can sometimes fool the bass; retrieving quickly, or using it as a topwater lure. Clunn thinks positive and pays attention to detail—it pays off.

Rick Clunn left the security of a 9-to-5 job to become a "pro" in competitive tournament fishing. He tells how to do it and what it's like. Championship angling is serious business. Clunn tells how he's made it pay off. Clunn's book may be purchased from major Texas book stores or it can be ordered direct from Fisherman Books, 5314 Bingle Road, Houston, Texas 77092, at $5.95.

Endorses Attack On Rising Health Care Costs

The Texas Nursing Home Association of Austin has endorsed the national attack on rising costs of health care.

Sidney D. Rich, president of that association said: "We applaud all efforts to curtail rising costs of health care. Our members have long been front-line fighters against inflation."

"But," he added, "The problem of cost containment must also be tackled at primary sources. This means that producers, growers, suppliers and every type of provider upon which we depend must hold down their prices for this effort to be effective. We cannot and will not sacrifice the quality of care that we deliver."

Rich heads a group of some 650 licensed nursing homes with beds for over 65,000 residents. They have pledged cooperation in the Texas Voluntary Effort of all health care facilities to work for cost containment.

Many experts believe coffee finally priced itself out of the market, for a percentage of Americans, and that it will never regain its former popularity. ### Dusty Rhodes On Farm Problem

Democratic congressional candidate A.L. (Dusty) Rhodes spoke to more than a hundred persons this past weekend concerning his stand on the problems facing the nation's farmers. Rhodes made his statement at a bar-b-que held in his honor at a ranch just outside Fluvanna Saturday evening.

Rhodes first lashed out at the double standard flourishing in the beef industry, stating "It is unbelievable to think we would undercut our own domestic beef market with inferior imported beef. If we import beef at all, we must demand that it be inspected and labeled as such so the housewife will know what she is buying." Rhodes also attacked the farmer's market platform, stating "The farmer's market is a last of a kind of government support program to farmers of professional profit."

Rhodes leaves to join the Democratic must first imports, but the must be the increase must be the farmer's market's policies who profit.

Rhodes was the first for Texas election of the Stenholm because he is a 1964 graduate of Floydada High School and a 1969 graduate of Texas Tech University where he majored in mechanical engineering.

Bradford is assigned to Luke Air Force Base, Arizona, as an instructor pilot in the new F-15 Eagle. His wife is the former Kaye Hammonds of Floydada. They have two children, Paige and Scotty.

Family News of the Lockney Care Center

By Yvonne Steele

After the highly successful sale of our silk rose corsages and roses we have been taking a much needed rest. However, we are now ready to begin working on some more silk roses for those interested.

While resting we enjoyed a variety of activities and programs. On Thursday afternoon we had a "Special Bingo." Special gifts donated by local merchants were given rather than the usual prizes. Thursday night, everyone enjoyed "Hee Haw." Mabry Greenhaw brought several members of the original large cast from Silverton to present a lively program of music and comedy. Friday, Chuck Wilson presented some slides of Azalia, beautiful homes, and other scenic views around Tyler, Texas. On Saturday, Dowell Brewer, Lewis Stapp, and J.V. Martin entertained us with Gospel Singing, fiddle and guitar playing. The Lutheran Church of Providence presented a devotional service Sunday. We appreciate these individuals donating their time and talents.

We would also like to thank Brown's Department Store, Boothill Western Wear, Byrd Pharmacy, Mize Pharmacy, and Rowell Variety for donating the gifts for "Special Bingo." We also appreciate the girls of the Home Economics Department for baking cookies for the Open House Sunday afternoon. We are sorry that school is almost out, for we will not be able to enjoy the wonderful singing provided by Mrs. Bain's choir. We will look forward to these groups coming back.

We regret the death of our administrator's father-in-law and send Mary Ann Resch and family our condolences.

Tanker Spills Pose Threat To World's Ecology Scene

By Douglas M. Costle Administrator Environmental Protection Agency

[Mr. Costle was attending a meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, when the Amoco Cadiz went aground in March off the coast of France resulting in the worst ecological disaster in history involving an oil spill. He called in U.S. experts and visited the site of the disaster. The following is an account of his visit and the conclusions he reached.]

The beaches were black with oil. For more than 70 miles along the French coast in the middle of March, thousands of tons of mixture of Arabian and Iranian crude oil from the supertanker spill covered the beaches, waterfowl, harbors and shipyards.

Not since the Torrey Canyon tanker discharged 117,000 tons of oil off the coast of England in 1967 has the world's attention focused so meaningfully on the oil spill problem. As the last holding tanks in the Amoco Cadiz broke up, nearly a week after the ship first ran aground, the seeming helplessness of all parties involved to mitigate the disaster became clear. The final barrels of a total 230,000 tons of oil washed into the sea during the week of March 19. Attempts at destruction and cleanup of the oil failed.

I saw the wreck and the miles and miles of oil slick around it. I hope I never see another one. It turned out to be the worst spill in history, befouling miles of French beaches and large areas of fishing grounds.

Reports were that all fishing in the area stopped, and all the prime oyster crop and France's production of seaweed for the chemical industry were damaged or threatened.

Over 400 families in the area of Roscoff, France depend on seaweed for a livelihood. Large numbers of birds were killed. The tourist business this spring has been wrecked. There was so much oil—300 square miles of it and possibly more—that clean up operations could take many months. The worst of it is that because the food chain in the region has been damaged much of the destruction will be long lasting.

The lesson from Amoco Candiz is clear. Such accidents must be prevented. Nearly 715 supertankers, of over 200,000 dead-weight tons, sail the oceans today, and by one estimate, now carry one-half of the oil shipped by ocean. Every day of the year at least one of these off-loads oil near the U. S. coastline, usually into smaller ships about 50 to 75 miles from shore. And even these smaller vessels, which are more manageable in negotiating our harbors and ports, pose a significant risk. In 1976 and 1977, 20 tankers of this variety were totally lost each year.

So far the supertankers have had no major accident or oil spill in U.S. waters. But these mammoth ships are of fairly recent construction. Tankers tend to be involved in more accidents as their hulls and equipment age with the years. One could break up off our coast, although it is not an inevitable event. Most tanker accidents are man-made. It is entirely possible to prevent a marine disaster such as the grounding and foundering of the supertanker Amoco Cadiz in the middle of March off the Brittany coast of France.

There are two principal factors involved in preventing future tragedies of this kind: (1) the construction of the ship itself, and (2) the navigation of the ship and operation of its equipment by the officers and crew.

Fortunately, the United States and the other tanker fleet nations have begun to take action on these matters. President Carter, just a year ago, proposed a number of tanker safety initiatives. In February most of his initiatives regarding ship design were adopted in a new agreement by the International Conference on Tanker Safety and Pollution Prevention in London.

Under the agreement, large new tankers would be required, among other things, to use segregated tanks for ballast, to be filled only with seawater for the added stability the ship needs. The segregated tanks would provide protection from accidental spills by being built along the sides or bottom so that they, not the oil tanks, would be punctured in an accident. Existing tankers would be required to reduce operational discharges into international waters.

South Plains News

By Mrs. Murray Julian

South Plains, May 22

South Plains had a most wonderful rain, which came Friday evening, leaving us about an inch everywhere, and then Saturday and Sunday night we had another three fourths inch. News from Perryton is that they had a good rain, and from Roscoe and Sweetwater, amounts fell there to 3 inches. In most places they received 2 or more inches, so the fall was general. No bad weather came with the rain only strong winds, which blew in the storm. This will keep farmers out of the fields for a few days, but now they have hopes of a crop. Dry land farmers could not plant before the rain.

All the children are smiles, since it is graduation time. South Plains and Floydada Schools are out Wednesday, May 24th, baccalaureate services at Floydada were held Sunday night, May 21, and Sunday night services at the Baptist Church here were cancelled because of the services so everyone might attend.

Kelly Lyons, Ronette Kit-chens, Teresa Stewart, Yolanda Trevino, and Atha Blake, are the seniors from South Plains who are in the 1978 graduating class.

Big plans are going on for the Vacation Bible School at the South Plains Baptist Church which will begin May 29, and go through June 2. Each day at the church classes start at 8:30 a.m. and go through 11:30 a.m. There will be Bible stories, songs to learn, games to play, and a wealth of information for each and everyone including boys and girls, ages 3 to 13. Don't let anything keep you from bringing your child or children to the Vacation Bible School. Ministers, soul-winners, and missionaries are the products of the Bible School. Mrs. Raymond Upton is in charge of refreshments for the Vacation Bible School so please help by giving her your name, and bring cookies, drinks or other refreshments to help in the school.

Visitors at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning were Billy Staples with the Scaffs, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Monk, Leslie and Cody of Farwell, New Mexico were with Mr. and Mrs. Royce Bethel and girls, and it was good to have Donette Marble here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Marble. She is home for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dillard of Lockney were dinner guests Sunday, as was Mrs. Teddy Horne and Melissa from Plainview, here with Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Kinnibrough. Their grandson, Latham Dickens from Plainview was with them also, while his mother was in Dallas with friends for the weekend.

We extend congratulations and best wishes to Drill Sergeant and Mrs. Kenneth Powell on the birth of their first child, a girl, born in Lawton, Oklahoma Saturday, May 20th weighing 7 1/2 pounds. The baby has been named Jennifer Melissa. The Powells are stationed at the army base, at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. They have about another year there. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Powell, South Plains, and Mrs. Paul Barkley the maternal grandmother in Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Monk, and girls, Leslie and Cody from Farwell, New Mexico, arrived Saturday to spend the week end here with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Bethel, Shelli and Jamie.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Kinnibrough attended the funeral for Childress McClure of Lockney, Monday at 2:00 p.m. in the Main Street Church of Christ, with interment in the Floydada Cemetery. McClure died Friday after a long illness. He was in the Central Plains Hospital, then in the Heritage Home in Plainview. Sylvan was a pallbearer at the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Sanders, Shawnda, Brian and Crystal were in Plainview Saturday night where they attended a Barn Yard Academy of "Show-Off Shindig", held at the Agriculture Center. All kinds of entertainments, including gymnastics, modeling, twirling, ballet, etc. went on for three hours of entertainment. Shawnda was in the baton twirling class with a solo twirling. She has received 5 medals and 4 trophies in her twirling, and she will go to Lake Brownwood the latter part of June to be in a twirling camp. She will spend one week with Betty and Bill Brown, who formerly lived at Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Teeple were honored at a 50th Wedding Anniversary celebration in Plainview Sunday afternoon, May 21 at 2:00 p.m. in the home of their granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John McGavock of 1011 Raleigh. So far, they are getting along fine at the home place. Mrs. Paul Cypert and girls spent Saturday night with them, but they are getting along this Monday by themselves. We hope they continue to do well.

We extend sincere sympathy to members of the family of Mrs. Alice Brown Ormond, who passed away at the Lockney General Hospital Tuesday. Her services were held at the First Baptist Church in Lockney, Wednesday afternoon. Interment was in the Lockney Cemetery. Mrs. Ormond was 92, and everyone who knew her loved her.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smitherman will be flying to Denver, Colorado June 10th to attend the 60th Wedding Anniversary of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. Fred Cox. They received the trip as a gift from their children, Philip and Larry and families.

Little Richard Powell, son of Mrs. Kathryn Powell, was burned last Thursday, when he accidentally knocked a coffee pot from a small table, and the contents splashed on him. He was in the Caprock Hospital in Floydada until this Monday morning. He is doing fine, we are glad to relate.

Miss Rhonda Teeple arrived home last Wednesday from Austin, where she has been attending University of Texas where she is a senior. She is here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Teeple.

Sunday afternoon at the Bible Baptist Church, Floydada, four Girl Scouts received First Class Rank. They are Margie Cuevas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bonifacio Cuevas; Vicki Keener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Keener; Debra Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Allen; and Pam Lipham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lipham.

An organ prelude was played by Tammy Payne. The processional was played by Mrs. Hollis Payne at the piano and Tammy Payne at the organ.

Members of Senior Troop #97 led in the flag ceremony. The pastor of the Bible Baptist Church, Rev. Dale Keener, led the invocation. Tammy Payne sang "I Did It My Way".

Every Mountain", after which Mrs. Fred Lipham presented the candidates and asked their parents to join them at the front of the sanctuary for the pinning ceremony.

Mrs. Lipham had the girls to repeat the Girl Scout Promise, then she presented each girl with a bust of Juliette Low, Founder of Girl Scouts. Joy Allen, an assistance leader, was also presented a Scout plaque by Mrs. Lipham for her assistance with the girls these past years. The Girl Scouts then presented Mrs. Lipham with a silver cup in appreciation for the years she has served as their troop leader.

The Recessional was played by Mrs. Hollis Payne and Tammy Payne. A reception in the church fellowship followed, where on display were photo albums, scrap books, souvenirs, past awards, camp shirts, and even a dress display from Brownies through Senior years. These were impressive records of the effort and dedication required for the attainment of First Class Rank, the highest achievement in Girl Scouting.

This has been an enjoyable week, packed with fun and laughter for everyone. Monday night the residents enjoyed a "Yesterday and today fashion show". Many thanks to Anderson Dept. Store for coming to our rescue on such short notice with today's fashions. Yesterday's fashions were furnished by the Floyd County Museum. Models were Ludusta and Martha Leatherman, Glenna Orman, Valdonna and Shayla Barbee, Tefany Bennett, Nancy and Brady Anderson, Dartha Westbrook, Brenda Wheeler and Marylon Elis.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Payne, Tammie and Joey sang several beautiful hymns for the residents.

Wednesday night the residents enjoyed a sing along with several members of the Assembly of God Church. Thursday was our regular monthly birthday party. We only had two honorees, Willie Stambough and Mary Plumlee. Cake and punch were served to all residents by the City Park Church women. That same afternoon everyone enjoyed hamburgers and home made ice cream on the east patio.

No better way to end the week of activities than to go see a movie and that is what we did Friday night. The residents enjoyed popcorn and lemon-aid while watching the movie "White Maine".

I can not express my true feelings to all the generous people who helped to make this an enjoyable week for our residents. Thanks to everyone.

I would like to thank Cindy Moore for the hair dryer. It will be used by the residents a lot.

We have a new resident, Emmet Lawrence of Matarador, Room 2 in the north wing. Stop by for a visit and make him happy.
