Doyle Warren To Receive Award

COLLEGE STATION, July-(Sp)... Doyle G. Warren of Floydada, who has served as Floyd County Extension agent for the past eight years, has been named to receive the Distinguished Service Award, the highest recognition given by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents.

Warren holds a B.S. and M.S. degrees in agricultural education from Texas Tech University and has done graduate work at Texas A&M University.

According to Calhoun County Extension Agent Gilbert Heideman, president of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association, the award is presented annually to county agents throughout the nation who have made outstanding contributions to agriculture and rural living for ten years or more.

He and his wife Judy have four children-Michelle, Chad, Brad and Ric. Warren is active in the First Baptist Church, Floydada Chamber of Commerce and Floyd County Development Board.

Warren is one of eight county agents with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to receive the award. Others (and their counties) are Roger Corbin, Ellis; Angus Dickson, Jr., El Paso; Robert Hoermann, Hill; Tom Sistrunk, Brazos; Bill Thane, Washington; Joe Dohy, Galveston; and Norman Vestal, Nueces.

United Methodists of Lockney will hold formal dedication services to their church fellowship hall this Sunday.

The Texas award winners will be recognized at the state association's annual meeting Aug 6-9 in Lufkin. Actual presentation of awards will be at the national association meeting Aug. 13-18 in Boise, Idaho.

Bishop Alsie H. Carleton of Albuquerque, New Mexico, will preach at the 11 o'clock service and will preside at the dedication ceremony at the end of that service.

Warren's Extension Service career began in Dawson County in 1965. He also served in Lubbock County for three years before assuming his position in Floyd County in 1970.

He will be joined in conducting the service by Rev. Hugh B. Daniel of Quannah, the present pastor Rev. Dewitt Seago, and possibly other former pastors.

Since moving to Floyd County, the county agent has given major emphasis to educational programs designed to increase the net profit of agricultural producers. Marketing and management have been key points that have been combined with programs in crop production and soil fertility.

Rev. Daniel was pastor of First United Methodist Church of Lockney when the fellowship hall was built and when payment was completed. His father, the late Rev. Newton Daniel, was pastor when the sanctuary was built.

Examples of Warren's effective programs have been a quadrupling of the corn acreage in the county over the past five years and a sharp increase in soil sampling to better manage soil fertility.

The local church has been using the new fellowship hall facilities, which also includes a kitchen and a bride's room, since December of 1976. United Methodist congregations do not dedicate buildings until all debt is removed.

Warren has tailored special educational efforts in financial management for young farming families to help them increase their stability in the farming business.

The local congregation paid the remainder of the building costs earlier this year, but Bishop Carleton could not be present until this date.

The county agent has also been a driving force in building a strong 4-H program in Floyd County which has led to a doubling of 4-H membership during the past seven years. The 4-H budget in the county is now six times greater than in 1970 due to expanded programming.

Rev. Daniel said the dedication service will be followed by a luncheon in the fellowship hall.

Kitchen-Lingerie Shower In Lubbock Honors Miss King

The home of Mrs. Kathy Loskill of 4813 58th Street, Lubbock, was the setting for a kitchen and lingerie shower honoring Miss Joan King bride-elect of Nick Davidson of Lubbock. Associate employees of Terseo called from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday, June 29th. Hostesses with Mrs. Loskill were Shirley Smith and Teresa Burrow.

The serving table was covered with an ecru cloth and centered with an ivy plant entwined as a basket handle to a brown wood chip planter which was later presented to the bride-elect. Blue snack trays were used to serve the punch and assortment of sausage rolls, cheese balls, blue berry muffins, chips and dips.

Miss King was presented a corsage of white carnations and brown sprigs tied with blue ribbon, carrying on her chosen colors of blue and brown.

The hostess gift was an electric fry pan.

Special guests were the honorees mother, Mrs. Herman King of Lockney and groom elect's mother, Mrs. Carl Sayles and his sister, Mrs. Wayne Rhodes and daughter Siane, all of Lubbock.

Wedding promises were exchanged in a double ring ceremony by Miss Robin Gay Roberts and Russell Lane Pratt Saturday evening, July 8, in a 7 o'clock ceremony.

Rev. Jim Smith, pastor of First United Methodist Church, and Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor of First Baptist Church, performed the ceremony in the sanctuary of First United Methodist Church, performed the ceremony in the sanctuary of First United Methodist Church, Floydada.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Roberts of Tulla, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Pratt of Floydada.

Miss Christy Stringer, soloist, presented wedding selections including "The Twelfth of Never," "I Love How You Love Me," "Always and Forever," "The Lords Prayer," and "The Wedding Song." Miss Penny Muncy accompanied her at the piano. Also presenting wedding selections was Mrs. Bill Hardin at the organ.

Large palms formed a backdrop for the altar, centered with a fifteen branch arch candelabra decorated with yellow glads and yellow pom pom mums backed with emerald and salal foliage with matching seven branch candelabra on either side.

The unity candle, circled with yellow pom pom mums, was placed to the left of the altar and a replica was placed in front of each set of parents.

Johnny Roberts escorted his daughter down the aisle and presented her for marriage. Her dress was a family heirloom hoop skirted four tiered chantilly lace dress, hand made by the bride's late great-aunt. The dress, which took over a year to create, had a pointed, fitted bodice, scalloped neckline, long cuffed puffed sleeves, and rows of hand sewn sequins complementing each scallop on the skirt.

The hat was a large brimmed picture hat covered with matching chantilly lace and complemented with a satin ribbon and a bow in the back, mid-length veil and blusher.

The bridal bouquet was of white butterfly rosebuds with stephanotis, baby's breath, and long-strands of satin ribbon cascading from the open pages of a white Bible edged in gold. This Bible had been carried by other members of the bride's family at their weddings, this carrying out a family tradition.

Following tradition, for "something old" Robin wore a string of pearls which was the first gift ever given to her grandmother by her grandfather 53 years ago. "Something new" was the hat which was specially created to match the dress. "Something borrowed" was the heirloom dress which had been worn by five previous brides. "Something blue" was a lace handkerchief which was carried in the weddings of both the groom's grandmother and his mother.

Miss Genell Matthews of Lubbock, college roommate and served as maid of honor. Other bridal attendants were bridesmaids Miss Tracey Puckett, Miss Nesa Jackson, and sister of the bride Debi Gobin of Colorado.

The attendants' dresses were long A-line dresses made of soft Qiana. The dresses were "seafoam" in color and had sleeves made of loosely crocheted knit. Their flowers were silk completing the color scheme of ice green, yellow, and apricot and were assembled by the bride and mother's of the bride and groom.

Rex Bell served as best man. Groomsmen were Van Miller, Greg Bishop, and Kerry Pratt, brother of the groom. Ushers were Don Warren, and brothers of the bride, Macyl Roberts and Kenny Erickson. Pale green tuxedos with accents of darker green were worn by the groomsmen and the ushers. The groom wore an all white tuxedo.

Flower girl was the groom's cousin, Miss Donna Kay Crawford. Her dress was pale yellow with a short circular skirt of scalloped ruffles with lace insets. She carried a white lace basket filled with rose petals.

Ring bearer was the bride's nephew, Travis Erin Erickson. He wore a yellow tuxedo and carried a white lace heart-shaped pillow.

As wedding guests entered the church foyer, their names were secured in the bridal book by Mitzi Hale and Lori Gilly. They also handed out scrolls with a "thank you" poem from the bride and groom.

Reception

The reception was held in the church fellowship hall. Attendants at the bride's table were Nancy Roberts and Charlene Erickson, both sisters-in-law of the bride.

A three tiered wedding cake of light green with apricot rosebuds and yellow daisies was centered on a large table with a crystal punch bowl with banana punch, light green chocolate mints on a cut crystal plate and a large brass candelabra which held 17 apricot candles and was surrounded by the bridesmaids' bouquets.

Boston fern in a copper brass pot centered on a mint green cloth decorated the groom's table. Serving from the copper and brass coffee service were Julie Womack and Rosemary Hardin. Chocolate pound cake and melon balls were served by Shannon Bell.

The bride chose for her "going-away" attire an eggshell, embroidered blouse with large sleeves and button front with an ankle-length skirt of pink and lavender floral print with a large round of lace at the hem.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the couple will make their home in Lubbock at 4702 4th St. The groom is a junior mechanical engineering major at Texas Tech and was graduated from Floydada High School. The former Miss Frizzell wore a two-tiered, waltz-length veil made from imported silk illusion. It was completely edged in tiny seed pearls on both tiers, and alencon motifs accented the top tier. It was attached to a Camelot caplet covered in reemboirdered alencon lace and sprinkled with seed pearls.

Planes To Go, Things To Do

Feeling sluggish? Does it seem like you just don't have the energy you once had? Well, pack up the car and come see Mrs. Emma Wuensche at the Texas Folklife Festival, August 3-6, in San Antonio.

Mrs. Wuensche will be demonstrating the Wendish Life Awakener, a spring loaded device with several sharp needles at one end. When the spring is triggered, the needles are thrust into the patient's body and a salve of goose grease and skunk oil is applied to the punctured skin.

To compete the revitalization cure, the patient must refrain from bathing for at least three days.

The Life Awakener was brought to Texas by the Wends, an ancient Slavic people who trace their roots to Japhet, son of Noah. They left their native Germany in the 9th century to escape economic and religious oppression by the Prussian rulers.

Five hundred Wends established a colony at Serbin, seven miles southwest of Giddings in Lee County, in 1854.

More information on the Festival can be obtained from The Institute of Texan Cultures, a part of The University of Texas at Austin, P.O. Box 1226, San Antonio, Tx. 78294.

Tickets may be ordered from the same address. They are $3.00 for adults and $1.00 for children under 13. Group tickets must be purchased in advance. A pass for four people-or a four day pass for one person is $10.00 for adults, $3.00 for children.

The Festival opens Thursday, August 3, at 5 p.m. For the first time, the Festival will open at noon on Friday as well as Saturday and Sunday. Festival grounds close at 11 p.m. each night. Free shuttle buses from downtown parking lots will run approximately every 20 minutes.

Windbreak Trees To Be Available

In West Texas damage can be done by high winds every year. One of the methods of protection are farmstead and field windbreaks.

In previous years, people in this area had to either purchase trees from a local nursery or order the trees from the Texas Forest Service at Alto. If the trees were ordered from the Forest Service, they were usually shipped all the way across Texas with bare roots exposed. The survival rate of those trees was not very good at all, they were real small.

The Texas Forest Service has opened new facilities for seeding production at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station north of Lubbock. The facilities will service 35 counties in the Amarillo-Lubbock areas.

AT THE PRESENT time, the Forest Service has approximately 23,000 Austrian and Ponderosa pine tree seedlings in production, which will be ready for marketing this Fall. They plan to double this number next year. These seedlings are grown in greenhouses with automated environment controls that allow the trees to grow the equivalent of two years in one season. This will enable the buyers to purchase 10 to 12 inch trees for transplanting this fall. The trees will come with roots contained in a peat moss-vermiculite mixture, which will make easy transplanting procedures and much better survival rates, the minimum amount will be 30 trees.

If you're planting these species of pine trees for farmstead windbreaks, they should be transplanted in single rows with 8 to 12 ft. spacing between plants, or multiple rows with 10 to 16 ft. spacing between plants. For field windbreaks, the trees should be transplanted in multiple rows with 12 ft. spacing between plants and 12 to 20 ft. spacing between rows.

Headache Remedy

You can save yourself a lot of headaches by using Deutz air-cooled diesel engines. First of all, a major source of breakdowns is entirely eliminated. No liquid cooling system. No radiator. No water pump. No hoses. No cavitation. No freeze ups.

And they're quieter—about 10 decibels below most engines, without sound shielding. OSHA likes that. So do operators.

And you'll get instant relief from constantly increasing fuel costs. Diesel fuel versus gasoline—Deutz air-cooled diesel engines versus water-cooled diesel engines. And you'll save a lot of money on maintenance costs, too.

Buy or specify Deutz—manufactured by the world's oldest and largest manufacturer of air-cooled diesel engines. 10 to 500 bph.

currently being treated on the post hospital care outpatient program following an episode of VA authorized hospitalization. All improvements or structural alterations must be medically necessary.

The Maximum cost ceiling for a service-connected disability is $2,500 and $600 for a non-service-connected disability. This is a one-time benefit which terminates when the cost limitation is met. As a point of clarification, if a service-connected veteran's first claim costs $1,800 he may subsequently request further home improvements; however, the VA would only defray costs not to exceed $700. The VA will not reimburse or be responsible for payments of home health services unless prior authorization has been obtained from the Veterans Administration.

Veterans who feel they may be eligible for home improvements or structural alterations should apply while they are patients in a VA hospital, as all such services must be justified medically.

MEDICAL BENEFITS FOR SOME VETERANS

Veterans who are rated 50% or more by the Veterans Administration for service-connected disabilities have special medical benefits of which they need to be aware. These veterans may ask their VA hospitals to issue to them VA Form 10-1174, which is a little paper card with valuable VA outpatient medical treatment information on it. The card is valid until cancelled by the Veterans Administration. The card authorizes ed the veteran to utilize the outpatient services of a private physician on a "fee basis," i.e., at Veterans Administration expense.

Where no disability is claimed but only exposure to herbicide is alleged, the claim will be administratively disallowed and the veteran advised that mere exposure itself is not a disease or disability. The claimant will be advised that specific disabilities must be claimed. This should be accompanied by evidence by evidence of the earliest manifestation of symptoms together with the evidence of continuity. A veteran's claim alleging herbicide related genetic damage based upon damage or defect in the veteran's child will be administratively disallowed since Title 38 U.S.C. makes no provision for such a claim.

GED RECORDS AND TRANSCRIPTS
Veterans who completed GED (General Electric Development) programs while on active duty frequently request assistance in obtaining records and transcripts of their progress in these programs. Information regarding GED programs completed prior to June 1, 1975, are maintained by DANTE (Defense Agency for Non-Traditional Education). Inquiries may be sent to DANTE, Contractor Representative (Transcripts), 2318 South Park St., Madison, Wisconsin 53713.

Information about GED programs after June 1, 1975, may be obtained by writing to Central Texas College, P.O. Box 1, Highway 190, Killeen, Texas 76541.

Information from these sources can be released only upon written request from the individual regarding his or her own records. Requests should include the former service member's name, date of birth, Social Security number, approximate date of the GED program, where the program was taken, and where the records and transcripts are to be sent.

settled for operation of the 1978 farm are already in motion toward the program in 1979. The announcement of the 1979 cotton loan level for the year and the National Program Acreage by December 15. Target price, set-aside, Commodity Credit Corporation payment yields are being set. The cotton met in College Station during this state's program needs. The Goad of Rosebud, Texas, on July 11 the Washington where he and cotton task other states will confer with top USDA preliminary USDA decisions will be Federal Register by August 1, after which period for public comment. Lubbock, representing producers in 25 High Plains counties, made its wishes known to Goad July 7 in hopes of having a measure of influence on 1979 program details prior to the initial announcements. According to PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, High Plains producers are most keenly interested in the 1979 loan level and regulations governing operation of the disaster program. The Secretary of Agriculture now has authority to base the 1979 loan solely on average U. S. spot market prices, in agreement with PCG legislative policy, Johnson says, "and we are urging that he use that authority to set the 1979 loan at the legal maximum." Disaster program regulations being recommended by PCG include changes in the method of determining prevented planting payment eligibility and the way payments on hail and wind damaged crops are calculated. In 1978 producers unable to plant cotton before the June 1 required planting date were denied a prevented planting payment if they received moisture for planting some other crop at a later date. But when crops were destroyed after planting and after June 1, producers could qualify for a "failed acreage" payment whether or not they chose to plant some other crop on the acreage. "There is no good reason for determining prevented planting payment eligibility on a basis different from that used to decide failed acreage payment eligibility," Johnson contends, "and we hope to see this inconsistency in program administration corrected for 1979."

Crops damaged by hail and wind this year are being "appraised" as a certain percentage destroyed and the pounds on which payments are being made are reduced by the number of pounds USDA says the remaining stalks would produce if carried to harvest. "This is being done even when crops are damaged to such an extent as to make continued efforts to achieve production totally impractical," Johnson points out. "This has been USDA's policy since the inception of the disaster program in 1974, but it is still wrong and we are continuing our efforts to get it changed."

selling. Even if he could afford to keep the house, don't forget that real estate taxes are based on the value of houses and that could produce a situation in which a person couldn't afford to continue owning a house.

Those who have studied inflation contend that the disease eventually consumes itself, leading to deflation, among other things, and even to various immoralities, including tax cheating.

The chances of a 7.2 percent rate continuing indefinitely are therefore moderated by the probability that a collapse might occur, letting out all the aid that went into puffing up the balloon.

Inflation - Fighting IDEAS

With home prices soaring through the roof, it's hard to buy a roof over your head without spending over your head.

In deciding whether you can afford a particular home, be sure to figure in your property tax and home insurance along with the monthly mortgage payment. Remember also that the house price tag is actually almost doubled by interest charges on the mortgage.

You'll Become a Millionaire - - But, It Cost You Millions

double a figure can be obtained by dividing its rate of growth into 72. By chance, the projected 7.2 percent inflation rate divides 10 times into 72, which means a doubling of prices every 10 years.

Consider the price of your home. If it now has a market value of $50,000, it will be double that after 10 years. After 20 years it will have a pricetag of $200,000, and after 30 years, $800,000.

That's not a million, but neither is a $50,000 home the upper end of the scale today. It is, instead, close to the median, which means that one-half the homes are valued higher and one-half lower than it. The $75,000 home, doubling in price every 10 years, would have a market value of $600,000 after 30 years of 7.2 percent inflation. Still not a million say. True, but after 40 years it would be.

Yes, and after 40 years a $5,000-a-year college education would get for $80,000, a $7,000 automobile for $112,000, and 80-cent package of cigarettes for $12.80 and a $12 steak dinner for $192, before tip.

Well, you say, it all evens out. But it doesn't. Unless it contains an inflation escalator clause, the payout of your insurance policy will be in old dollars. And your bank account will have diminished.

Your paycheck might also fail to keep abreast, especially after a certain age, that age depending upon the business you're in and the company you work for. And there are other problems, many of them.

Consider the problem of capital gains. With houses having appreciated so greatly, income taxes due on such how could a retiree, for profits? example, afford to pay the He might have to forego

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

Before shopping for a new refrigerator, do some planning. Start planning now—sales during the next several weeks may offer the lowest prices during the year. First, look to the future. A typical family will keep the refrigerator 15 years—so determine what the family's future needs will be. Consider the number of young children and teenagers or whether no children will be in the home during the next 15 years. Also, consider food storage needs—frequent shopping means less capacity is needed. In addition, a large freezer compartment is less important if the family has a separate freezer. Next, decide on what features are needed. Remember, more gadgets add to the initial cost and to potential repair problems.

SIZE, TYPE
Size and type are the first features to decide on. *Conventional refrigerators are available in nine to 14 foot capacities. These single-door units have a small section for freezing ice cubes and short term storage of frozen foods. The freezer will require defrosting every two to three weeks or before frost deposits are one-fourth inch.

*Two-door refrigerators with a top or bottom freezer compartment are available in 12 to 22 cubic foot capacities. They come with semi-automatic defrost or automatic defrost freezer compartments.

Most two-door semi-automatic defrost units are no larger than 13 to 15 cubic feet and will require defrosting before the frost is one-fourth inch deep.

Side-by-side models offer two doors the full length of the appliance and come in 17 to 25 cubic foot capacities. The newest side-by-side models feature two freezer doors opposite the refrigerator door.

These refrigerators usually offer more freezer space and are only available with no-frost freezers.

ENERGY USE

Single-door refrigerators cost the least to operate when defrosted regularly, however they are smaller capacity and have only short term frozen food storage.

Among the two door makes, the manual defrost costs only slightly less to operate—with an estimated difference in monthly costs between a 14 cubic foot manual defrost and a 14 cubic foot no-frost of 15 cents.

Some manufacturers are producing "energy-saving" models.

Some of these models have extra insulation, others have a switcheable heater which saves energy when turned off.

The switcheable heater, used when condensation forms around the door, is most efficient in dry climates where condensation will form less readily and the heater will need to be turned in frequently.

OTHER FEATURES

Other features that are available includes:
-automatic ice-maker,
-ice and cold water dispenser on the door,
-adjustable shelves and half shelves.

-dual temperature controls,
-wheels, and
-storage bins of various types and sizes.

COMPARISON SHOP

Wide price variations for the same models make comparison shopping pay off with big savings. Look at discount stores and clearance sales for low prices.

However, don't sacrifice reliable servicing and repair for a low price. Compare warranties for each model and ask what is covered by each warranty.

GUARD AGAINST HEAT EXHAUSTION, SUN-STROKE, HEATSTROKE

Guard against heat exhaustion, heatstroke during the hot Texas summer.

The combined effects of sun, exercise, heat and excessive perspiration which result in loss of fluids and salts can produce a serious condition, SHE WARNS.

HEAT EXHAUSTION

The body's normal reaction to high temperatures is to pool blood near the surface of the skin so that sweat is formed and then evaporated into the air releasing heat.

This can cause a lack of sufficient blood in the vessels deep in the body if a person is exposed to high temperatures—especially combined with a high humidity—for a long period of time.

Some symptoms of heat exhaustion include muscle cramps and weakness, and although the victim's temperature may be near normal, the pulse is often very weak. The skin is usually cool but very pale and moist.

Treatment consists of getting the person out of the sun immediately. Slowly sipping cool—not cold—water will help to cool down the body.

SUNSTROKE, HEAT-STROKE

Heatstroke, or sunstroke, is more serious than heat exhaustion. It's often a medical emergency.

A breakdown of the cooling system of the body which causes the body temperature to rise uncontrollably causes heatstroke.

Because the sweating mechanism is not working, there is very little perspiration.

One symptom of heatstroke is dry, red, hot skin and a fast strong pulse. The victim may also be nauseated and have a headache. There is also a possibility of the person collapsing.

As in the case of heat exhaustion, the important thing is to get the victim out of the sun and to lower the temperature.

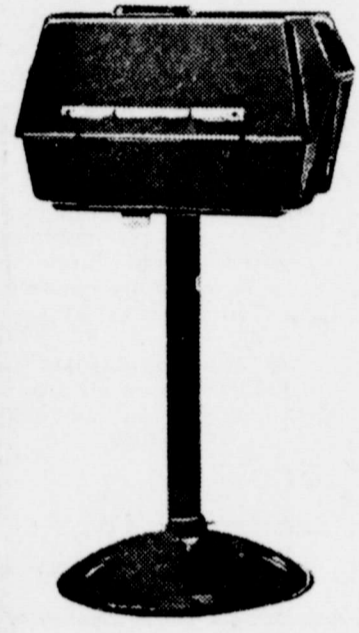

Sponge the person with water, especially around the head. Avoid giving the victim stimulants such as tea or coffee because of the possibility of complications such as increased blood pressure.

If the person is unconscious, give no fluids at all. To prevent sunstroke or heatstroke, avoid being in the sun and heat for a long period of time, drink a sufficient amount of liquids and wear loose-fitting clothing such as cotton T-shirts which help to retain perspiration and keep the body cool.

'CASEY'S SHADOW' WAS A FAMILY AFFAIR

During a recent running of the All American Futurity at the Ruidoso Downs racetrack in New Mexico's pine forest, the onlookers included screenwriter Carol Sobieski. Her mission: to soak up the color and excitement of the world's richest horse race and write it as an adventure "renewal."

The result is "Casey's Shadow," which opens Friday at the Capada Theatre. The Columbia Pictures release stars Walter Matthau as colorful Cajun horse trainer Lloyd Bourdelle, who tries to overcome a lifetime of hard luck by winning the Futurity and its million-dollar purse.

Bourdelle's dream—and the family that helps him chase it—may have a familiar ring to some Cajun families. A member of the annual regulars along the Ruidoso Downs backstretch track, screenwriter Sobieski explains why.

"The families are almost like circus families—everybody, including the children, works in a different capacity. The members of the family are very proud of each other and very closely knit during the running of the race."

"What was fascinating was American Futurity in professional capacities. At

Indemnity Rate Hike Proposed

AUSTIN--Separate brucellosis indemnity rates for female calves and non-registered dairy cattle have been proposed, as well as increases in the indemnity rate for registered cattle, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has noted.

The new rates now under consideration by the U.S. Department of Agriculture are: $250 for registered cattle, $150 for non-registered dairy cattle and $25 for female calves destroyed because of brucellosis infection or exposure. The $50 rate for other non-registered cattle would remain unchanged, Brown added.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Faye Walters
 Dorothy Neff has been on vacation this week and I have been filling in for her. I know everyone here has really missed her and will be happy to see her come back. I have enjoyed being of service to these dear people. We sure become attached to them in a hurry.

It is a pleasure to be able to do something for them that will make their day a little brighter.
 Monday, Mary Jordan, Ray Reed, Tina Thompson and myself enjoyed playing dominoes.

Tuesday was the 4th and Tina brought all the residents a pretty card. She is a volunteer worker and spends lots of hours doing little things for the residents.

I know they all appreciate her and her work.

Wednesday we had a nice bus ride. We went to Lockney, then out by Sandhill. The crops were so pretty.

Green Bostick, Henry Love, Bill Mooney, Effie Smith, Robbie Bratton, Anis Franks and myself made this trip. Mr. Freeman drove the bus.

Friday we played bingo. Ray Reed was the top winner with three games. Clara Williamson, Agnes Anderson and Anis Franks all won two games. Mary Jordan and Mamie Gray won one game each but they did not play long.

We have had such good devotions and beautiful singing this week. We thank all who helped with this and we know God will bless them.

We appreciate all our visitors which included:

Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Neff, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert E. Davis, Mrs. Floyd Webb, Mrs. Clarence A. Guffee, Parnell Powell, Lois Jones, Mrs. H.F. Pratt, Mrs. Jim Owens, Mr. and Mrs. J.C.
