Lockneyites Using 600,000-700,000 Gallons Of Water Per Day

Lockney water customers use an average of 600,000 to 700,000 gallons per day during the summer, according to W.L. Carthel, superintendent of public works.

Quite a bit of water, but it falls short of setting any water-use records, Carthel says. "We haven't used a million gallons a day yet."

Unlike some previous years, when the city has had to request water customers to voluntarily cut back on water use, there has been no real problem in meeting demand so far this summer, and none is expected—"unless something goes wrong..."

The City has a new well which is pumping 200 gallons a minute, but the biggest help, according to Carthel, has been the repair of the main well, located near City Hall. Since a recent overhaul, it pumps more water than the other two put together.

Weather... Hot Checks

The weather doesn't attract the hot check problem in Floyd County at this time, according to W.L. Carthel, superintendent of public works.

Carthel said that it is very important that the clerk get the merchant's name, address, date of birth, and driver's license number.

Never Asks A Hand To Do Anything He Wouldn't Do

By Felicia Applewhite
R.V. Webster's youth was during the depression of the 1930s. His father had bought a farm southwest of Lockney. Times were hard then.

It was a period of extreme decline in national economy with dwindling business activity, falling prices and unemployment. "Mother did private nursing. She would be gone two and three weeks at a time. She nursed at Quitaque, Matador, Turkey, Roaring Springs and Flomot. She earned $7 a day. God rest her soul. I have heard her say that she didn't sleep at all some nights. She was supposed to have four hours sleep each night. I can't see how she did it. I am sure she would go three and four days without sleep." While she was nursing R.V. and his father batched. Those batching days come to R.V.'s mind readily.

"My dad was not a good cook. Once, he decided to make pies. They were terrible. Dad said, 'They probably are not good for a kid to eat, but Mother is coming in soon. We'll save them for her to eat."

Once when R.V. decided to make pies by a recipe, he found himself face to face with a brand new term—"corn starch". He had never heard of that. Since he found no such item on the cabinet shelves, he measured out starch used in starching clothes. Nobody could eat the pies.

During those times, nobody went anywhere. There was no gasoline to run a car on. People went to town about once a week, usually on Saturday. On those Saturdays, the streets had little groups of people stopping to visit.

Cotton and everything was pulled to town by horses. The cotton was picked by hand and sometimes it was after Christmas and on into a spring he remembers.

R.V. had his mind on a little cafe operated by Betie and Hugh Counts when he and his father would be on their way in to town.

"Dad would give me a nickel and I'd buy a hamburger at the Count's cafe. I guess I was about six or seven. I had my choice in spending the nickel. I could buy the hamburger or I could buy a big ice cream cone for 5 cents."

This was when R.V.'s father and his help were working with an old combine that was always "breaking apart." They finally located a used one that was for sale, but found the owner wanted more for it than a new one cost. His argument concerning the high price he was asking was "This one has been tried."

Grandmother Webster believed in teaching children to work. She would urge them on by saying, "Come on, children. See how high the sun is."

"When I was that age there was one food that I liked a lot. That was turnips. One time when Mother was nursing, I got fondered on them. I remember, I was sick." And that is one food that R.V. can't stand today.

R.V. became a business man early. His first business was because of Tab Meriwether.

"I remember Tab liked squab. I just went into the squab business. I raised the squab pigeons and brought them for the Count's cafe to cook for Tab's breakfast. The squab brought around 25 cents a pair. I was in the money! I could buy a hamburger, a double-dip ice cream cone and a 10 cent show ticket for the price I received for one pair of squab," he says.

Before R.V.'s mother and father were married, his father was in the trenches fighting in Europe. While he was there, his mother and father moved southeast of Lockney to farm in 1917.

"My grandmother was always afraid that Daddy would get into trouble while he was in the service in Germany. A few years after my father died, we found a bunch of letters he had written back from Germany to Grandmother."

It seemed that he was answering letters he had from her where she had constantly cautioned him to stay out of this and that. One of his letters to her was comical. Dad had written back, "Mother, I am not going to be playing cards or getting into any kind of bad trouble."

R.V.'s grandmother Lee's family history shows the Lees to have come originally from Tennessee and Virginia.

Grandmother Webster was a Lee. A part of her history includes Robert E. Lee of Virginia, commander-in-chief of the Confederate Armies in the Civil War. Also, "Light Horse Harry" Lee or Henry Lee, an American statesman and Revolutionary War Commander, belongs in the Webster family history. He was the father of Robert E.

"My great-grandmother Lee was a sister to Ray Aston's grandmother. Grandmother Lee and Grandmother Aston made a pact that if one died before the other that the one left would raise the children of the one who had died. It so happened that Grandmother Aston re-married, so Grandmother Webster raised Ray's aunts."

Of course, all of this happened before Kelly Webster's father moved his family to Floyd County in 1917.

Before coming to Floyd County, Dad had graduated from Ann High School in Cook County. He then went on to banking school in Oklahoma until the war broke out and he volunteered in the Infantry.

"When he came back from the war, he met my mother, who was studying to be a nurse in Plainview. They were married then."

After R.V.'s father and mother married, his father continued an interest in lodge that had begun while in Germany.

"He came back here and went through the chairs, took chapter and Council. He couldn't do any more because money was so scarce. Later, he took Knights Templar and Scottish Right. He also received his Knight's

MR. AND MRS. KELLY WEBSTER and their son R.V.

Commander Court of Honor degree because he had done so much extra work.

All the while R.V. was in school in Lockney.

"In high school four or five of us went into the chicken business. We sold them in Plainview to cafes."

Once when shoe sizes were being taken at school, R.V. gave his two sizes too large to save money, he thought.

"I wanted to save all the money I could. I was so money conscious. When I tried to run in those shoes with my toes curled up to keep them on, I saw my mistake. I couldn't run."

In his last year in high school, there was war again. The men teachers were called from public school for military service.

"We were left without a coach, so we coached ourselves. We had a four-team round robin. Once, when we went to Olton for a practice game, I was so enthusiastic about going that I forgot and left all my equipment at home in Lockney." He graduated in 1944.

During this time, R.V.'s mother was working for Dr. Greer and his father was with Dwight Jackson.

"Dad and Al Dutton bought Dwight out. Later, they moved to where we are on Main Street. We are still in the same building they moved to. Henry Hodel bought the wholesale part of the operation. Hamilton Gammage has that now."

"Our business had a sudden boost in the late 40's and early 50's when cotton pickers from the Valley swarmed into town."

The price of cotton went to 40 cents. During that time, R.V. and his dad stayed at the station until 11 or 12 at night and all day Sundays.

Then gasoline was 23 1/2 cents a gallon.

"Those people would come in and fill up 5-gallon cans of coaloil. We would sell 250 to 300 gallons on a Saturday. That doesn't sound like much, but when you think of cranking it by hand, it is a different story. On Saturdays, we sold over 2800 gallons of gas at about a dollar at a time—four gallons at a time."

This was during the time when so much practical joking was going on around Lockney. It was particularly noticeable around business establishments where men congregated to while

Advertising Signs To Help Pay For Teen Baseball Program

Sponsors of the Lockney teenage baseball program are selling advertising signs at the teenage ballpark. About 24 signs were sold and paid for this year, and several businesses are waiting until the first of the year to buy advertising space at the ballpark.

A four by eight-foot ad goes for $40 a year, and a four by sixteen costs $75 a year, so if you need some good advertising and you want to help the teenage baseball program in Lockney, contact Earl Hill or Rodger Stapp to arrange for your sign.

Hill said it takes from $1200 to $1400 each year to run the teenage ball program. Income from the advertising signs has helped get the program back on its feet this year. For several years sponsors had tried to operate the baseball program solely on donations, but lately donations had amounted to only about $300 a year, not nearly enough to cover costs. The Lockney teenage teams used borrowed equipment this year, Hill reported, but there may be enough money now to buy bats, catching equipment, maybe even uniforms. It is also hoped that the scoreboard can be repaired before next season.

First Baptist Church

Modeling To Begin Soon

Work on the First Baptist Church is scheduled to begin this week. The church is being completely remodeled.

with carpet throughout, paneling, central air conditioning and heating. The education building, which received heaviest damage in the fire, will have a new roof.

Contractors have set a 90-day completion date, but church members are hoping the remodeling will be completed sooner. Meanwhile, regular services are being held at the church, with two and three Sunday School classes meeting together. Sessom said it is hoped that the auditorium will be repainted in a week.

Japanese Youth To Live With Floyd 4-Hers

Japan and South Plains of Texas may have little in common, in many ways, but this summer they will share 13 citizens.

As part of the 4H LABO International Exchange, 12 Japanese youth will come, for a month, the sons, daughters, brothers and sisters of 12 area families. The young people, between the ages of 12-18, will arrive Tuesday, July 25. They will be accompanied by two Japanese tutor-chaperones.

Two of the Japanese youngsters will stay with families in Floyd County. Birch Lobban, Assistant County Extension Agent said.

The guests and their hosts families in Floyd County are:

Yoshiyuki Ishii staying with the Harold (Buck) Ford family and Masahiko Nakamura staying with the Jerry Williams family.

The visitors are among 68 Japanese youths coming to Texas under auspices of the LABO Foundation, said Dr. John Pelham, state 4-H and youth leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Over the past several years, the foundation has sent several thousand Japanese youths to the United States, primarily the western states.

This is the first year Texas has been included in the program, Pelham said.

It is one of 18 states which will be hosts to 1,700 Japanese youth this summer.

"The LABO Foundation program is to help young people to learn another language and to become familiar with another culture firsthand," Pelham said.

Families in five of the 14 Extension districts in Texas will be hosts to the visitors this year. In District 2, host counties are Bailey, Castro, Floyd, Gaines, Hale and Lamb.

"We hope to host more youths next summer and be able to include additional districts," Pelham said. "Also, next summer we hope to join the reciprocal program and send Texas 4-Hers to Japan for a month's stay with Japanese host families."

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or origin.

Farm Export Business Brings Rail Car Shortage

WASHINGTON, July 17—America's farmers and their agribusiness colleagues are shattering export records this year, but the greatest difficulty they've ever had in obtaining railcars makes it difficult to meet export schedules. The delays in getting railcars could dampen rises in farm prices that have been prompted, at least partially, by the strong foreign demand.

Consider:—U. S. agricultural exports are headed toward a $25.26 billion total this fiscal year, the highest in U.S. history. This compares with last year's record $24 billion. —Owners of some country grain elevators, who buy from farmers and sell to larger buyers, say they are already losing 10 cents per bushel because of the railcar shortage and may soon have to pass that loss on to farmers, according to Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland, who is keeping a close watch on the situation.

Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) officials say the daily average car shortage is the worst since they've been keeping records.

Exports, of course, aren't the only factors contributing to the car shortage. Agriculture must compete with the rest of the U. S. economy for railcars and the country has a shortage of locomotives to pull the available cars, whether the commodity is for export or domestic use, according to the ICC.

However, with its success in grain, oilseed and cotton exports, which are only a few of the farm products as well abroad, the U. S.'s big difficulty right now is getting the commodities to port cities so they can be shipped overseas. This is primarily the problem of individual traders, but becomes a national problem as well, since agricultural exports are so important to the country's economy. Secretary Bergland thinks we'll move the exports out on schedule.

THE BACKGROUND

U. S. agricultural exports have been climbing year by year. They've doubled in volume and tripled in value in the past 10 years. Today, agricultural exports are one of the brightest spots in this country's economy. America's farmers get about 25 percent of their home income from exports. Grains are chief among them.

The United States now supplies about 40 percent of the world's wheat exports, nearly 60 percent of the world's feed grain exports, and half the world's soybean exports. U. S. exports of grains and soybeans increased 83 percent between 1971 and 1977. U. S. agricultural exports have risen sharply since 1971 from $8.24 billion dollars to the projected 1978 record of $25.5 billion.

Accordingly, the agricultural trade surplus has risen from $2.3 billion to about $12 billion during the same period.

However, increased U. S. exports do not mean foreign countries are cutting back on their production and are buying from the U. S. to make up the difference. On the contrary, production is increasing.

The United States dominates the world agricultural export market. But its continued dominance isn't a certainty. U. S. export customers who need grain get it from the United States—or they go elsewhere.

REASONS FOR EXPORT GROWTH

What are the reasons for the tremendous growth of U. S. exports?

—People in developing countries are getting wealthier, demanding better nutrition. They can afford to eat more wheat products. (Eighty percent of the grain going to these countries is used for human consumption.)

—Middle income countries are using more U. S. feed grains to produce livestock and other animals for their consumption. U. S. feed grain exports increased 145 percent since 1971.

—Increased demand for U. S. grains in the USSR and Eastern Europe is based on their political decisions to upgrade the diets of their people, especially by providing more meat.

—The declining value of the U. S. dollar makes many U. S. farm products more competitive in world markets. In 1971, we began selling each year to Russia. The People's Republic of China (PRC) is beginning to buy more grain from us, also.

—Oil rich countries are buying more grain to convert to meat.

—Export market development by U. S. firms and government departments, such as the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) and Commerce, stimulate sales of products.

—The U. S. is a dependable source, with a steady supply of grains at competitive prices.

ing facilities, located at the Great Lakes on the east coast, for storage.

It starts in the harvests of wheat when farmers' production of the grain is tiny kernels of the grain is stored in trucks for months.

From combine harvesters, the grain is stored in trucks for months. The USDA's grain program is to build storage for their farms and a better price for grain for months.

The collection of each point. All its movement of truck, or at least drawn wagons, the products of the farms are gathered into large stacks of thousands of bushels.

els-for sale and overseas or to a domestic use.

A GLOBAL FOOD SYSTEM

The U. S. is part of a global food system. When any part of the system is hit, as with drought in one country, the impact is felt throughout the world. Many countries around the world come to the United States to buy enough grain to fill out their needs, when their own production is down. This year the U. S. is holding approximately 44 percent of world grain stocks.

The U. S. is one of the few countries presently able to sell wheat for delivery between now and the end of the calendar year.

The PRC, which had a 1977 wheat crop damaged by drought, needs to purchase about nine million tons of grain—an unprecedented amount—and is buying more and more than a million tons of it from the United States.

Russia is buying more because its grain crops were down about 25 million tons last year. Brazil is buying corn because drought ruined much of its own production, which also sends many of Brazil's customers to the United States. Brazil's soybean production is down also for the first time in a decade. Brazil normally provides 15-20 percent of world soybean production and 25-30 percent of world trade.

Two other major suppliers, Australia and Argentina, have had poor crops. Australia even negotiated with the PRC to delay wheat shipments already contracted for with China.

Although the grain may have been purchased months before, American exporters face their peak export movement in late winter and early spring. The Russians, for instance, like to receive their wheat early in the year, before they begin their own harvests.

THE FLOW OF GRAIN

As grain moves from one country to another around the world, so it flows from American farm fields to storage and to port load-

The nation entered the year approximately 150 hoppers. Grain which started about 10 years ago another 73,100. 232,800 is about 10 times that existed in the January.

King Family Reunion Held Saturday

Descendants of Reverend and Mrs. Robert A. King and their families and friends gathered at Massie Activity Center Saturday, July 15 for the annual King

Family Reunion. The business meeting was called to order by President Randell King. Don Marble was elected as president for 1979 and Nancy Marble was named as secretary-treasurer. The date for next year's reunion was set for July 14. Raymond King called on a member of each family group to introduce their family members. Photos were made of each group by Bob King of Fort Worth.

A memorial service was held for family members who have passed away since the last reunion. Those named were Pierre Marion, Lillian Marble, Russell King and Irene King.

Following the business meeting Raymond King showed slides from Hawaii. The group toured the museum where they saw a special display of family items. Several of the group went to the cemetery where Rev. and Mrs. Robert King and many of their descendants are buried.

Those who registered at the reunion were: Mrs. Rubie Burgett, Weatherford; Quentin and Louise Burgett, Clarence and Anna Fae Laws, Coleman; Tom and Elaine Ballard, Cuba, Kansas; Vernon and La Juana Henning, Seagraves; Mrs. Anna Byars and Charles Byars, Weatherford; Mrs. Ora King, Randell King, Jakey and Leora Younger and Mysti, Leif and Tian of Floydada; Don and Nancy Marble and Donette and Brett, Fred and Carolyn Marble and Kelly and Cindy, Keith and Neta Marble and Dwayne and D'Lee, Mike and Tonya Marble and Justin of South Plains.

WHAT ONE PERSON CAN DO SUSAN B. ANTHONY, LEADER IN WOMEN'S RIGHTS

A young woman school teacher stunned a New York State education convention in 1953 when she asked to be heard.

Susan B. Anthony, who had been teaching for 15 years, was then headmistress at Canajoharie Academy. She went to every session of the convention. After listening for hours to a discussion of why the teaching profession was not as highly regarded as others, she arose.

"Mr. President," said Miss Anthony. The assemblage froze. Finally, President Davis of West Point Military Academy asked in a mocking tone, "What will the lady have?" The reply was firm. "I wish, sir, to speak to the question under discussion." After a half hour of pro and con debate she was allowed to speak.

Ignoring the hostility around her, she spoke. Her voice was clear. "It seems to me, gentlemen, that none of you quite comprehends the cause of the disrespect of which you complain. Do you not see that so long as society says a woman is incompetent to be a lawyer, minister, or doctor, but has ample ability to be a teacher, that every man of you who chooses this profession tacitly acknowledges that he has no more brains than a woman?... Would you exalt your profession, exalt those who labor with you." She took her seat amid profound silence.

Miss Anthony went on to become the chairman of a committee at the 1856 convention. This time, after she gave her report, the president of the convention congratulated her. In the same decade, she joined the women's suffrage movement and supplied the dynamic force that paved the way for passage in 1920 - 14 years after her death - of the 19th constitutional amendment, which gave the vote to women.

system, which is to say free enterprise. IN A RECENTLY PUBLISHED STUDY BY THE EDUCATION AND RESEARCH INSTITUTE, it says in its forward, "Public perception of corporate profits have become less and less accurate over the years. The estimate of profits in 1970 was 7 times the actual figure." The closest guess was in 1945 when profits were estimated at 3 1/2 times

A total of $243,750 was earmarked for development, research and other services to producers during 1978-79.

That's the budget adopted by the Board of Plains counties, for the fiscal year beginning in 1978. In other action the Board elected three members to its Executive Committee. The board discussed a Federal Crop Protection Act proposed by the Administration to replace the current disaster program. The new budget exceeds by over $35,000 the support of "supplemental field personnel" by PCG members with the organization and its members. Major PCG expenditures in 1978-79, as anticipated under such headings as Agricultural Research and Services, Legislative Activities, Advertising, and Domestic and Export Marketing. PCG has one elected member on its Executive Board, each of six districts. Re-elected to represent District 1 (Deaf Smith, Farmer, Castro, Swisher and Martin, Howard and Midland) was W. L. Edelman of Friona.

Lloyd Miller of Morton was re-elected from Cochran and Hockley, and Frank Jones of Lamb County to the committee from District 6 (Gaines, Martin, Howard and Midland). New members were chosen from the other districts. Kenneth Wofford of Lockney was elected from Hale, Floyd and Motley, replacing Paul Bennett who is no longer on the Board. Representing Crosby and Dickens will be Tommy Finkbeiner, member in 1978, of Lorenzo. He replaces another member, Jimmie Holder of Lubbock. New member Gerard Caswell of Meadow was elected to represent District 5 (Yoakum, Terry and Counties), taking the place of Truett Jones of Yoakum County, who farms in Yoakum County, will continue as the County director of the PCG Board.

Cline and PCG Board Chairman W. B. Cline attended a meeting in Dallas July 10 and 11 and explained and discussed. Their report to the Administration envisions crop coverage based on USDA-determined cost of production figures, not pound on cotton, and on a 10-year average of individual farms. Producers, the Administration choose to cover 50 percent, 70 percent of production costs at progressively higher percentages.

The Board took no official action, pending details, but the consensus was that the program would be grossly inadequate.

PCG has a position, adopted in 1977 and still its intention to work for an extension of the program an acceptable alternative is not in operation by the real level. The recent study completed in 1975 turned up an average opinion that profits amounted to 34 cents on each sales dollar. Economic analysis find this to be about 7 1/2 times the actual figure. THE WIDE-SPREAD BELIEF THAT CORPORATE PROFITS ARE EXORBITANT spawns resentment towards the business community, leading many to accept legislative proposals to impose more controls. The polls indicate that almost one-third of our population believe that Government should step in to control profit margins. In questions to high school students, 53% are reported to say that Government ownership of business would be advisable. AN EFFORT HAS BEEN UNDERTAKEN BY THE LAW AND ECONOMICS CENTER at the University of Miami to more accurately define and identify corporate operations. It has produced a "Corporate Book" containing more than 100 economic and book related concepts and definitions. The question of profit inclusion is a known issue. It has been going on for years. It is the percentage of profits for management. It is the years or so back about 4 to 5%. This is the rate of profit in the peak of World War II. AFTER THE WAR THE CORPORATION roughly had between 10 and 15% between dividends and investments. pay taxes - the holders of the stock and the business.

Facts from a pro on driving to survive.

Q. I've always wondered what safety measures I could take if my brakes ever failed. — N. M., Diboll

A. If you have an automatic transmission, shift to a lower range and apply the emergency (parking) brake. With a standard transmission, shift to a lower gear and apply the emergency brake. Pump the brake pedal. This may build up pressure in the brake lines and get the brakes to work. If necessary, find something to sidewise and use your horn or lights to warn others that you are out of control.

Q. I'm confused about how to make a right turn on red. I've seen some drivers treat the red light as they would a stop sign; others treat it as a yield sign. — D.H., Uvalde

A. Right turns on red are now legal throughout the state of Texas. This means that a driver may turn right at a red light after stopping and yielding the right-of-way to traffic at or near the intersection. Some intersections prohibit right turns on red, so first check to see that there is no sign present saying NO RIGHT TURN ON RED.

The same law holds true for making left turns from a one-way street into another one-way street. First stop at the red light, yield, then turn. Make sure you have signalled your intention at least 100 feet before the turn. And remember, never make a turn on red if a sign at the intersection prohibits it.

Q. Are the speed limit signs in construction areas in effect on weekends when the workmen aren't there? — R. C., Knox City

A. Yes. Those are black and white signs, and according to law they must be observed. Sometimes the black and white signs are removed when work is not underway; and sometimes orange and black signs are used, which warn of obstructions and debris from ongoing construction or repair.

If you have a question on driving, send it to: Texas Office of Traffic Safety, P.O. Box 1165, Austin, Texas 78767

The extent of greenbug damage in grain sorghum is dependent upon greenbug numbers, plant size, vigor and stage of growth, moisture conditions and presence or absence of parasites and predators which effectively destroy greenbugs. All he has to do is stay on for eight seconds. But that can be the longest eight seconds of the day when the rodeo performer gets a particularly spirited bronco.

He knows that when he gives the final nod of his head and that big gate is swung open, some horses turn into twisting, turning beasts who seem to breathe fire and stomp lightning.

Yet every performer hopes he will get that very kind of mount. Unless the horse puts on a wild display during the ride, the judges will score the rider low and he will miss the prize.

Anything that brings a special reward usually requires a person to go beyond his normal performance.

Shouldn't we all then be ready to give an extra share of our talents and abilities if we want eternal life—the greatest reward ever promised to man?

This Sunday come to church and find how it's done.

Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week

AUSTIN — Governor Duff Briscoe has proclaimed July 23-31, Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week centered around the proposition that "good farm and ranch management prevents farm and ranch accidents." Briscoe is to call attention to the needless accidents which result in over 100 occupational related deaths and 10,000 occupational disabling injuries occurring annually to Texas farmers and ranchers.

Governor Briscoe pointed out that today's farmers and ranchers understand the importance of management as it relates to efficiency, productivity and profits. In the face of potential tragedy and loss resulting from accidents, "accident prevention must be a farm and ranch management goal," observed the Governor.

Today, more than ever before, farmers and ranchers must get the most out of their capital and labor, and deal successfully with the ups and downs of the marketplace. An accident resulting in personal injury or equipment damage can often make the difference between a profit and a loss. Safety management is as important to every farm and ranch operation as is other aspects of production management.

Farmers, Ranchers: Follow Safety Management

AUSTIN—Farmers and ranchers, like many industrial organizations, can implement profit-saving cost-effective accident prevention programs, says the managing head of the Texas Safety Association.

George R. Gustafson, General Manager, pointed out that many commercial firms have implemented outstanding accident prevention programs that have paid off in fewer injuries and property damage accidents. These programs have brought about a savings far exceeding the investment.

Farmers and ranchers should also consider implementing specific accident prevention activities on the farm, suggested Gustafson. "This means a program designed to minimize equipment and environmental hazards as well as human errors in his operation. In this day of big investment, but often low-margin farm profits, he simply cannot afford to take unnecessary risks."

"Today's farmer wears many hats, including protective safety hats where needed," Gustafson observed.

"But unless he is a good manager, he may be less than successful in many of these risks, particularly those related to running a profitable agricultural enterprise."

He pointed out that successful management of thousands of dollars worth of land, machinery, buildings and animals requires broad knowledge, skill resources and hard work. Even then, the farmer often must cope with bad weather, lack of competent help, disease and a cost-rise squeeze.

"Perhaps the farmer can't do much about the weather, but he certainly can do a lot to prevent accidents," he said.

Accident prevention, he continued, must be a farm management goal, preferably expressed in a plan tailor-made to the operation. "Farmers and ranchers must keep informed about safety and know the applicable safe practices as well as the requirements of laws concerning safety and health of all employees," he said.

"They should routinely inspect all equipment and facilities for hazards and faults, then make needed corrections without delay. They should also make sure that all employees are trained to perform their assigned tasks competently and safely."

"They should see that everyone working on the place takes needed precautions before starting their work. For example, they should make sure that equipment is in good working order, that safety shields are in place and that needed personal protective equipment is worn."

"Quality products with built-in safety and reliability should be purchased," Gustafson said, "and it should be made sure that all who use this equipment are properly trained in its safe operation."

Richie Lynn Sudduth And Kelton

Gowens Trade Vows

Miss Richie Lynn Sudduth chose a formal length gown of white quiana fashioned with a high Victorian neckline edged in Venice lace for her Saturday evening marriage to Kelton D. Gowens. The empire bodice of the bridal gown had a see-through yolk of English net and lace cap sleeves. The a-line skirt was encircled at the waist with Venice lace.

The chapel length train was edged in lace and the veil was a fingertip mantilla edged in matching lace with lace motifs scattered upon it. The bridal nosegay was of white butterfly roses, blue daisies, and cushioned mums with grape ivy accents and blue satin streamers. The former Miss Sudduth of Route One, McAdoo, and Kelton D. Gowens of 509 W. Aspen in Crosbyton exchanged marriage vows at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in First Baptist Church chapel here. The Rev. Preston Beeks, pastor of Pansy Baptist Church, read the double ring ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Richard and Sarah Sudduth of Route One, McAdoo, Donnell and Wilma Gowens of Floydada, former Crosbyton residents, are parents of the bridegroom.

ATTENDANTS
Diane Higginbotham attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Sally Gowens, the bridegroom's sister-in-law.

They wore dresses of blue eyelet, featuring peasant necklines and fitted waists. The gathered skirts were accented by a large ruffle and a bow in the back. The attendants carried bouquets of white daisies and spring rill fern.

Serving his brother as best man was Arvin Gowens of Fresno, Calif. Groomsman was Don Higginbotham, brother-in-law of the bride.

Richard Sudduth presented his daughter in marriage.

Late Adoption

COLLEGE STATION — Quality care and love can come from outside the natural family and adoptive parents can rear emotionally healthy children even when adoption occurs after two years of age, says a family life education specialist.

The focus of a recent study was to determine the effects of late adoption by examining adopted children and those who had been restored to their natural parents, Debby Johnson with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, continues.

Within the limitations of the study, the findings indicate:

(1) Adopted children scored higher on IQ tests than restored children.

(2) Adopted children had fewer behavior problems, were very obedient, slept and ate well, and had fewer temper tantrums than restored children.

(3) At age four, the adopted children were better adjusted and faring much better than children who were restored to their natural parents.

The fact that couples who wish to adopt are carefully examined, whereas natural parents are not, may in part explain these findings, the specialist says.

Also, the intense desire of couples to adopt is probably the greatest contributing factor to the differences between the children studied.

Often the natural parents whose children were either removed from the home or voluntarily given up, did not want children, did not love them after they arrived, or knew very little about the day-to-day of a child. In addition, while money is not the most important factor, adoptive parents must meet the prescribed income standards.

Farming Third Most Dangerous Occupation

LUBBOCK—Farming is the third most dangerous occupation in the nation, surpassed only by the mining-extraction and construction industries.

Many farm accidents can be prevented, though, simply through self-education, according to Dr. Willie L. Ulich, professor of agricultural engineering at Texas Tech University.

Several safety tips to follow, Ulich said, include knowing how to use equipment correctly, making sure people are clear of machinery, avoiding the use of equipment when overtired and knowing how to handle common potentially hazardous situations when they arise.

Ulich said there are a number of reasons for the inherent occupational hazards in farming.

Farmers generally work long hours, longer than people in most other occupations. Accidents happen most frequently when people do not react fast enough, Ulich said. This occurs when they become too tired.

Nearly 50 percent of all farm accidents involve farm machinery, including trucks and automobiles, he said.

Farming also involved many different jobs, from mechanics to chemical application to planting to engineering. A farmer doesn't always have the opportunity for safety training for each job he handles. Lacking knowledge on safe equipment operation or chemical application can lead to many accidents, Ulich said.

A farmer also doesn't have a safety engineer with him as someone in a manufacturing plant might have, Ulich said. There is no one there to warn the farmer when he is not handling the equipment safely or even to tell him how to handle it safely.

There are usually three answers to the question "What happened?" he said. The most frequent answer is "I didn't know," followed by "I didn't see it" and "I wasn't mentally alert."

"By educating themselves on the dangers of everyday chores, farmers can reduce the 'I didn't know' and help avoid the 'I didn't see' by knowing what to look for," Ulich said.

Mental alertness can also come from education, by knowing when to stop, he said.

Misuse of chemicals and equipment is frequent cause of farm accidents. One of the most common abuses on the farm is the misuse of gasoline.

"The explosive power of one gallon of gasoline is equal to about 44 sticks of dynamite," Ulich said, "and yet many farmers use gasoline to clean equipment parts rather than using commercial cleaners."

Commercial cleaners will not burn below 132 degrees Fahrenheit, Ulich said, but gasoline is combustible at minus 42 degrees F. Using commercial cleaners rather than gasoline can help eliminate gasoline-related accidents, he said.

As in medicine, prevention may be the best cure for farming accidents, Ulich said. Knowledge and responsible handling of equipment and materials are a farmer's best insurance against accidents.

How much are you worth?

How much do you think you're worth? And how much are you and bones actually worth on the market?

You could put a classified ad in this newspaper stating: "Calcium, magnesium, iron, and other chemicals from the human body. Price: $5.60."

Ads presenting the sale of body chemicals aren't common, but inflation has made the body worth more.

According to a story seen recently, quoting Dr. Harry Markham, professor of anatomy at Illinois College of Medicine, he thinks the value of the human body will keep going up, just like it's doing with cadavers and skeletons.

He said in Chicago that chemicals in the body that were worth a dollar in the early part of the 1970's are now worth $1.50.

In a 160-pound person, there are about five pounds of calcium, nine ounces of phosphorus, nine ounces of potassium, six ounces of sodium, an ounce of magnesium, and an ounce each of iron, copper, and iodine, he claims.

"When people were told they were worth only 98 cents, they were shocked," Dr. Mosen said. "They feel better knowing they are worth $5.60."

He went on to say that cadavers used by medical schools are now more expensive than ever. In April, the price went from $1.45 for each body to $165 and the price is expected to increase to about $200 a cadaver. So, should we assume our bodies are worth more after we die?

Bill Fisher, candidate for Congress in the 17th District left last week for Washington, D.C., to meet with several Congressional leaders. He was asked by the Republican National Committee to go to Washington to discuss with John Rhodes, House Minority Leader, the possibilities of committee assignments, once he is elected to Congress.

Fisher, the Republican nominee to succeed retiring Omar Bursleson, will also talk with others in Congress on tax legislation, specifically the Kemp-Roth Tax Relief Bill. Presently, the Steiger Amendment is being discussed in the House Ways and Means Committee. "On Friday, this committee will be talking up the Steiger Amendment," Fisher said, "and I'll be talking with John Rhodes and Jack Kemp, discussing the Kemp-Roth Tax Relief Bill and also the Steiger Amendment with some of the leaders of Congress, Republican and Democrat."

Fisher had stated earlier that he would do some lobbying when the tax legislation came back up for consideration. "That is another one of the purposes for my going to Washington, to lobby for the Kemp-Roth Bill and Steiger Amendment," Fisher said. "I'm not going to wait until after I'm elected to get some things done," Fisher emphasized, "I'm going to start work today for some of the things that are important to the people of the 17th District."

NOTICE OF INTENT TO ABANDON

AB-109 (Sub-No. 1F)

Quannah, Acme and Pacific Railway Company hereby gives notice that on or about August 2, 1978, it intends to file with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C. 20423, an application for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity, permitting the abandonment of a line of railroad extending from Railroad Mile Post G-728, plus 10 poles plus 700 feet, near Acme, Texas, to Railroad Mile Post G-833.2 near Floydada, Texas, a distance of approximately 104 miles, in Hardeman, Cottle, Motley, and Floyd Counties, Texas. The line for which the abandonment application will be filed includes the stations of Paducah, Texas at Mile Post G-766.1 and Floydada, Texas at Mile Post G-833.2.

The reasons for the proposed abandonment are the public convenience and necessity no longer require the continued operation of the line and the continued operation of the line would be a burden upon applicant.

The line of railroad has appeared on the System Diagram Map in Category 1 (§ 1121.20) (b) (1) since February 28, 1978.

The interests of railroad employees will be protected by appropriate conditions as set forth in Chicago, B. & O. R. Co., Abandonment, 257 I.C.C. 700 and the applicable provisions of the Rail Passenger Service Act.

  - (3) impact on rural and community development;
  - (4) suitability of the properties for other public purposes; and
  - (5) recommended provisions for protection of the interests of employees.

Written comments will be considered by the Commission in all proceedings in developing conditions and in determining whether to conduct an investigation on its own motion. In the event an investigation is conducted, then the commenting party may participate in the proceeding as its interests may appear.

2. File with the Interstate Commerce Commission a petition requesting that the application and proposed abandonment be investigated.

The petition to investigate shall be in the form of a verified statement, and at minimum, contain:

- (a) identification of petitioner including its name, address and business;

Upon receipt of a petition to investigate, the Commission shall determine the extent of the investigation to be instituted. Those parties filing petitions to investigate should be prepared to participate actively in either oral hearings or via the submission of additional material in the form of verified statements. Parties seeking information concerning the filing of petitions should refer to 49 CFR 1121.36.

Petitions to investigate and written comments should indicate the proceeding designation No. AB-109 (Sub-No. 1F) and should be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C. 20423 no later than Sept. 6, 1978. Interested persons may file either a written comment or a petition to investigate with the Commission to become a party to this abandonment proceeding. A copy of each petition to investigate or written comment shall be served upon the representative of the applicant, D. E. The original and two copies of all petitions, comments and replies shall be filed with the Commission together with a certificate of service.

In the event a petition to investigate prepared in accordance with the above instructions is filed, then the Commission will conduct an investigation of the abandonment. Written comments filed with the Commission will be considered by the Commission in all proceedings in developing conditions and in determining whether the Commission should conduct an investigation on its own motion in the event no petition to investigate is filed. Additionally, if an investigation is conducted then parties filing comments may participate in the investigation as their interests may appear.

Persons desiring further information concerning abandonment procedures may contact the Interstate Commerce Commission's Section of Finance, Office of Proceedings or refer to the full abandonment and discontinuance regulations at 49 CFR Part 1121. Persons desiring information concerning financial assistance for the continued operation or acquisition of the involved line should contact the Commission's Rail Services Planning Office. # Cost of U.S. farms double despite 'cooling' period

WASHINGTON — The cost of an average-size farm has more than doubled since 1972 and is headed for another increase despite a substantial cooling of land prices in the last year, according to the Agriculture Department.

For the real estate marketing year that will end Feb. 1, 1979, the department says farmland prices probably will go up 6 to 10 percent.

Texas solons focus views on tax bill

AUSTIN, Texas — The special summer session for legislators dwindled to 16 unbaked days today to consider a pile of complex tax relief proposals submitted by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Near the halfway point of the 30-day special session, House and Senate committees are focusing on Rep. Wayne Peveto's proposal to make property tax appraisals uniform.

Briscoe added more work to the legislative agenda during the past week by including the Peveto measure and other bills.

A proposal specifying that state payments of individual Social Security taxes should not be treated as taxable income of state employees was before a Senate committee.

PEVETO'S BILL — possibly the key to approval of constitutional amendments proposed by Briscoe — would consolidate property tax appraisals in a single office in each county. A new state agency would set standards for appraisal and make "ratio studies" to determine whether real estate was being appraised accurately in each county.

It also includes a 5 percent annual limit on property tax increases and would require a two-thirds vote of a local governing body to exceed the limit on increases.

Peveto, a Democrat from Orange, Texas, has agreed, however, to drop those provisions to win approval of the House Ways and Means Committee. The same bill will be heard by the Senate Finance Committee.

Larry A. Walker, an analyst with the department's Economics, Statistics and Cooperatives Service, told a reporter that previously a land price increase of 6 to 8 percent was indicated.

Walker said that he could not pin the expected land price increase any closer than the 6 to 10 percent range now indicated. One reason for raising the upper end of the estimate is the improved outlook for farm income from what appeared on the horizon earlier this year.

DURING THE year that ended last Feb. 1, farmland prices rose an average of 9 percent, the smallest increase since 1972 when they went up 8 percent. After that, farmland prices soared at double-digit rates for five years: 12 percent in 1973, 23 percent in 1974, 13 percent in 1975, 13 percent in 1976 and 16 percent for the year that ended Feb. 1, 1977.

The new estimate for land prices this year was included last week in a summary of a real estate report scheduled to be released later this month. Walker said that the price figures for individual states in the last year were issued on April 5 and are to be carried over in the new report.

Prices of farmland vary widely among the states and also within states and counties. Thus, USDA figures deal in averages and are not necessarily typical of what land actually sells for.

But the figures do provide examples of how farmland prices have changed from year to year.

FOR EXAMPLE, in 1972 an average size farm of 382 acres cost an average of $83,600. By last year the average size increased to 397 acres and its cost to $178,400. This Feb. 1, the size was 400 acres and its average cost was $195,800.

Hearst: I just try not to be bitter

CHICAGO — "I just try not to be bitter," the young inmate said. "I try to look at the good side of this."

"... A lot of things have happened to me that I don't suppose will ever happen to anyone else. And because of that, I've grown. I'm in prison now, but I'm still learning and I'm still growing and I just try not to let it get me down."

The words were spoken by Patricia Hearst, who entered Federal Correctional Institution last May to complete a seven-year bank robbery term.

To the American public, she says, "Patty" is the heiress who joined up with her Symbionese Liberation Army kidnapers, robbed a California bank and tried to get off the hook by hiring hotshot lawyers.

But to prison authorities and to herself, Patty is "just one of the people in prison," she says.

HER REMARKS were published in the Chicago Tribune's Sunday editions in a copyrighted article by columnist Bob Greene.

"When it was all happening to me, it was hard for me to accept that there were so many people who didn't care. And yet if I take myself back to when I was 19, maybe I wouldn't have been much different from them."

I'm in prison now, but I'm still growing...

"... I guess maybe I'm trying to figure out a way to see why people didn't care about me..."

"Part of it had to do with my grandfather (publisher William Randolph Hearst). A lot of people just hated the man, and because of that, the hatred carried on to me."

"PART OF IT" came from people thinking I'd get off too easily. First it was, "Oh, she'll get away with this, she'll never go to trial." Then it was,

STATE SIXTH IN POULTRY SALES—Texas remains the sixth-ranked state in poultry and egg cash receipts, despite a slight drop in 1977. ## Proper Nutrition For Athletes

COLLEGE STATION - Well-balanced diets-not fad foods-insure athletes of the proper nutrition they need, says Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Athletes may find food fads attractive because of the pressure on them for physical fitness.

Because of this pressure, they often accept any formula which promises quick results. They believe in any food or vitamin supplements they feel will improve their performance, she points out.

However, no dietary special foods or vitamin pills give the athlete competitive

The WDCC Is Out Blood.... Yours

In cooperation with the Central Plains Hospital Auxiliary, the women are sponsoring the South Plains Blood Service bloodmobile on Tuesday, August 8, at Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, from 5 until 8 p.m.

Approximately 150 pints of blood are used by Caprock Hospital. The demand for blood is rapidly increasing as its tremendous therapeutic value is realized. Medical advancements and modern surgical techniques - such as the ability to transplant healthy human organs and perform open-heart surgeries - have created this vital, unreplaceable need for human blood throughout the country.

Safe blood of all types must be available around-the-clock to insure the good health of our community.

We will get this blood from qualified donors who care enough to help in need. All donors give on a completely volunteer basis, and the possibility of any commercialism is eliminated in the acquisition of human blood. Therefore, the charge to a patient who receives blood reflects only the blood's actual cost for drawing, processing and distributing the blood. This service is generally covered by the patient's personal insurance. The patient is charged for the blood itself since it is given freely by concerned volunteer donors.

In addition to helping fulfill a community need, each blood donor receives a thorough pre-donation physical. A careful medical history is taken and temperature, pulse, blood pressure and hemoglobin are checked. After the blood is drawn, it is carefully typed and tested for diseases which could be transmitted to the recipient. Should any of these tests indicate the need for medical attention, the donor is immediately referred to a physician. It's the "mini-physical" which benefits both donor and the patient.

Members of both sponsoring organizations will be recruiting other donors and service organizations in Floyd County to contact their members about this special opportunity offered by the bloodmobile.

By Mrs. J.E. Green

July 24
Were we grateful for a cooler weekend! But this afternoon was hot again and no rain.

Friday afternoon visitors in the Claud Carpenter home were Mrs. Grady Hall and son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. T.G. Hall of Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Carpenter, City.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Green, Kenneth, Mark and Annie spent Tuesday night in the parental home on their way back to Peralta, New Mexico, after visiting relatives in the Dallas area, plus a few hours in Waco.

A phone call to the Don Clark Greens by his mother, Sunday revealed they are home again after a 10 day trip and visit to California. They found hot weather everywhere and enjoy being back home in Big Spring.

Miss Vera Meredith in Lockney Hospital since last Friday, seems to be improving. Relatives, over the weekend, have visited here from Dallas, Austin and Amarillo. Mrs. Maudell Meredith is a house guest of Mrs. C.M. Meredith.

Bro. Hollis Payne entered Caprock Hospital last Friday and is feeling better. In his absence the Calvary Baptist pulpit was filled Sunday by Bro. Loyd Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mensch and son, David, of Lubbock spent over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas.

Weekend guests of Mrs. Ava Jackson were sons and wives, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jackson of Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. J.Q. Jackson of Ivanah accompanied by a son in law and children of the J.I. Jacksons.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Huckaby of Stevesville visited over the weekend with her mother, Mrs. O.C. Vinson. All were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Vinson. Also present were the Vinson's daughter and husband.

Mrs. Elmer Warren was on the sick list over the weekend.

Mrs. Green visited Miss Esther Peek Sunday evening after church.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mayfield and children of Little Rock, Arkansas visited several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O.G. Mayfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Cumbie and grandsons were Sunday supper guests of the Mayfields.

L.D. Goughly is reported ill in a Dallas Hospital.

Mrs. Roe Jones reached home this Monday after visiting over the weekend with her daughters, Christine and Helen, and families in Petersburg and Ruidoso.

Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Fred Battey were Mrs. Ola Warren and the Thomas Warrens and all their children which included Mrs. Joyce Owen and son Jason, Edwin and Don of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stout and girls of Muleshoe. It was a birthday dinner honoring the two Mrs. Warrens.

Our sympathy is with the loved ones of Mr. R.H. Ashton who passed on early Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Forman of Wichita Falls arrived Saturday at the home of his sister, the Henry Brewers. Sunday afternoon the Brewers and Formans were in Lubbock with other relatives and seeing their brother Buren Forman of Anton, who was seriously injured in a car wreck weeks ago. Buren is in University Hospital.

Check with a physician or pharmacist for information on drug/sun interactions.

Certain drugs—for example, sulphas, and certain tranquilizers and antibiotics—can make the skin extra sensitive to sunlight, warns Carla Shearer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Window sills 30 to 32 inches high are desirable for elderly bending to open windows is reduced, falls against glass are minimized and they serve as an easy escape in case of fire, says Sue Young, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Mackenzie Lake boat ramp shut

SILVERTON — The boat ramp at Mackenzie Lake will be closed for repairs from Monday, July 31, to Thursday, Aug. 3, or not later than Friday, Aug. 4, according to Lake Manager Neil Taylor.

The present boat ramp is to be extended 100 feet and work also is to be done on the turn-around and the road above the ramp. The road is to be hauled down to the beach so that boats can be launched there. Additional work is planned to make the beach area a little better area for the public, said Taylor.
