City Council Approves Application For EDA Grant

Application To Be This Week

Lockney City Council, meeting Thursday morning, approved the recommendation of The Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority to endorse an application for a grant from the Economic Development Administration for 75 percent of the cost of a filtration plant and an application to the Farmers Home Administration for a loan of 50 percent of the cost of water transmission lines.

In recent meetings representatives from Floydada, Lockney, Silverton and Tulia met with the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority and discussed the possibility of securing matching funds for building a water treatment plant, raw water lines, pump station and storage, and transmission lines to serve the municipal water needs of the four towns.

Total cost of the filtration plant, treatment, pumping station and lines to the four towns is estimated at $11,152,000. Cost of the water treatment plant and associated costs which would be the responsibility of the water authority would be an estimated $1,792,000 of the total figure. Pump stations are estimated to cost $1,022,000 and pipe lines $8,267,000.

Mackenzie Lake manager Neil Taylor of the Water Authority met with the council Thursday morning to make the presentation. The vote to proceed on the grant application with the other three towns was unanimous. All councilmen -- J.D. Copeland, Jerry Perry, Bobby McCormick, Thurman Davis and Paul Reece--were present.

Hail Damages Area Crops

North of Lone Star the Bill Sher-mans got .5 inch, with no rain falling in Lone Star.

James Landtroop and Edwin Barker, northwest of Providence, recorded over 2 inches in the Wednesday afternoon showers.

There were reports of hail damage Monday afternoon in the Aiken area.

Quarterback Club Drawing

Quarterback Club members are selling $1 tickets on a graphite fishing roll and 5500C Garcia reel.

Drawing will not be held until late September or October.

Tickets may be purchased from club members, at Consumer's, Bill Evans Gin or from Audrey McCormick, Omar Burleson, Bill McCarter and Jerry Ford.

Officers this year are Audrey and Barbara McCormick, president; Omar and Rita Burleson, vice president; Bill and Mary Louise McCarter, secretary-treasurer.

To Be Adopted

Meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the room at the school.

Band Clinic

Lockney High School twirlers will have a two-day twirling clinic in the gymnasium.

Each band student is to provide one craft item and one baked item for the bazaar and bake sale. The students and/or their parents are urged to use their leisure time to create their craft item.

Bazaar Set In November

Lockney Band Boosters' presidents, Jerry and Dovie Davis, ask that band students be reminded of the bazaar in November.

Officers this year are Audrey and Barbara McCormick, president; Omar and Rita Burleson, vice president; Bill and Mary Louise McCarter, secretary-treasurer.

Party Ending Program

Wednesday morning will be the last "reading hour" for small children at the Lockney branch of Floyd County Library.

Children ages four and five are to come from 9 to 10 o'clock, and the six, seven and eight-year-olds are to come from 10 to 11.

Athena and II Penseroso Junior Study Clubs are providing the reading hours.

A party honoring the children who have read twelve or more books in the summer reading program will be from 4 to 5 o'clock Friday evening at the library. Certificates will be presented.

The children who have been attending the "reading hours" are also invited to attend the party.

Young Doctors Return

Lockney natives Dr. Steve Belt and Dr. Gary Mangold are working this summer at Lockney General Hospital in the rural preceptorship portion of their family practice training.

Dr. Gary Mangold arrived July 1 for a six-week stint at the hospital. He received his medical school training at Texas Tech.

Both he and Dr. Belt are beginning their third and final year in a family practice residency.

Dr. Mangold is a resident at John Peter Smith Hospital in Fort Worth, and Dr. Belt is a resident at Baylor Hospital in Houston.

Dr. Belt received medical degrees at both the Autonoma in Guadalajara, Mexico, and at Rutgers College School of Medicine in New Jersey. He will be at the clinic until the end of August.

Parents of the two young doctors are Dr. and Mrs. W.J. Mangold and Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Belt.

Fair To Begin In A Month

Persons wishing to enter canned foods in the Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair in September should remember now to prepare that "special" jar.

The fair is scheduled Sept. 14-16. Special events will include the queen's contest on Thursday night, gospel singing on Friday night, and an arts and crafts sale and exhibition and old fiddlers contest on Saturday. Also on Saturday will be the children's pet show.

Catalogues should be ready soon for distribution.

Entrants are still being accepted for the queen pageant. Girls must be of high school age and be sponsored by a department store.

All entrants will model sportswear (to be furnished by their sponsor), will model a formal gown, and will be interviewed by the judges.

A coke party and rehearsal will be held Sept. 9.

Further information may be obtained from Lisa Mosley in Lockney at 652-2569 or DeAun Wilson in Floydada at 983-5242.

Stores which have indicated they will sponsor a queen contestant are Hale's and Anderson's in Floydada, Jones' in Silverton, and in Plainview, Kristi's, Gabriels', Place Around the Corner, Jacque's and Skibells.

Fords Say Boy "Fits Right In"

Yoshiyuki Ishii has increased his use of the English usage to the point that he and his "family" for four weeks, the Buck Fords, are communicating pretty good now. And he has picked up the Texan "Yeah" as an addition to his English vocabulary.

The 14-year-old young man arrived July 25 and will leave Aug. 22. He came from his home in Niigata, Japan, by airplane but has traveled quite a lot in the car since coming to the Fords.

"We made four trips to Lubbock the first week he was here", Glenda Ford laughs. They've taken him since then to the museum in Lubbock where he was impressed with the pre-historic animal display.

He accompanied Buck to San Angelo to sell wool and several lambs and he noticed the very fast talk of the auctioneer. The family took Yoshiyuki to see "Texas" at Palo Duro Canyon, and will go to Seminole this Saturday for the "jamboree" of all the Japanese students visiting in this area in the LABO program.

Clad in the cotton pull-over shirt and jeans that he wears also in Japan, Yoshiyuki has participated in games with the neighborhood children. He and Karen and her cousins, Steve and Melissa Johnson, play table games, and Steve is his opponent for ping pong games.

Glenda says that "He really fits in...you'd think he had been one of our children all his life."

He is a shadow to 16-year-old Mike and likes to ride the tractor with Mike.

Late one afternoon when Mike was about ready to take the tractor in, he stayed later to oblige his Japanese friend's request of "one more time"--for several "one more times".

He admires sports cars and showed his appreciation when Glenda Cooper's little car drove up to the Fords house.

Yoshiyuki has eaten the American foods and prefers the meat Glenda prepares. They eat mostly beef, with some fish for variety. His favorite seems to be roast. He does like ice cream, and seemed to appreciate chocolate cookies and cantaloupe. But the only fresh vegetable he liked was corn.

The young man was surprised to hear the Ford children tell of light homework in their studies. He goes to school 5 1/2 days a week, and studies three to four hours each night on home tasks as he calls them.

Cheerleaders To Teach

Children four years old through junior high school age are eligible to attend the cheerleading camp next week sponsored by Lockney High School cheerleaders.

Registration will be at 8:30 a.m. Monday in front of the high school. Cost is $10.

LAKE 29% CAPACITY

Mr. Taylor said the lake is only 29% of capacity at the present time, but this amount would supply the four cities with water based on their peak needs over five years. He pointed out that Silverton is nearly out of underground water, that Tulia's wells were not producing as much as hoped for, and that the underground water level in Floyd county is dropping three feet per year.

THREE YEARS TO PRODUCE

Mr. Taylor also said if the grant were approved on this application and contracts were let for piping, filtration plant, pump stations, it would take three years for completion and water arriving at each town.

He asked for townspeople to write letters stating the community's need for water. Letters from organizations would also be helpful. The letters should be sent to Neil Taylor, manager Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority, Rt. 1, Box 14, Silverton, Texas 79257. The letters will be submitted with the grant request.

The council took little time deciding to approve Taylor's request to endorse the application. The men were in agreement that action on building the treatment plant was overdue.

Factors in their decision included these:

1. The entire cost of the project could have been bought for $8 million dollars seven years ago when the issue was voted down. Now it will cost over $11 million, plus the $3 million dam that has been built...a savings of $6 million if decision had been made seven years ago. (However, no grants available at that time).

2. With a ten percent construction cost increase per year, the cost of the project will increase $1 million per year...costing the authority a million dollars per year to put it off longer.

New Ambulance

Also meeting with the council Thursday morning were Charlie Carthel and Kenneth Murdock of the Volunteer Fire Department. They asked the council to consider the purchase of a new ambulance. Aldermen voted to advertise for bids.

Police chief Donnie Ballew appeared to have the council decide if police reports should continue to be made available to the local newspaper. Aldermen discussed the matter and decided that the reports did help to make the community aware of crime problems, which should help in crime prevention.

The council also gave permission for Chief Ballew to have 'load levelers' installed on the patrol car.

Also present for the two-hour session were Mayor Claude Brown, city lawyer Paul Lyle of Plainview and city secretary Erma Lee Duckworth.

Book Sales

Drive Planned

A concentrated book sales drive with personal contact will begin next week by members of the Floyd County historical book committee.

Books are selling for $24.50 each plus tax for a limited time. The next phase of the book project will require that the book price is much higher.

Books may be ordered from Mrs. Joe (Virginia) Taylor in Lockney (652-2131) or from the Floyd County Historical Museum in Floydada. Virginia urges individuals to tell all members of their families about the "last chance" book sales.

Mrs. Taylor and others of her committee met Tuesday morning in Floydada with the book publisher representative. They reluctantly decided that only one picture could be used with each family history due to the large number (over 1100) of histories that were submitted.

Families who would be willing to pay a fee to have other pictures printed with the story should contact the museum for fee price and other details.

Business, tribute and memorial pages can still be purchased. For more information, contact Mrs. Don Marble.

Where Does A Person Go To Get Born Around Here???

By Duffy Ratheal

A Peanut's cartoon once showed Linus complaining about the impact of environmental factors upon him in that many things were decided for him without his consent "even before he had a chance to fill out an application form to be born." Currently, though, his problem might be more apt to read, "Where do you go to fill out an application for a place to be born."

Figured on minimal federal standards—one doctor for every 1500 people—we are now suffering a nationwide doctor deficit of 50,000. After World War II advances in technology and knowledge led to an increased emphasis on scientific method and research. This in turn has led in recent years to a trend of specialization and centralization of medical care.

In 1923 only 11 percent of all physicians were engaged in specialized, limited practice, but by 1967, 71 percent of all practicing physicians were involved in some type of specialty—either to particular organs, specific illnesses or using special procedures. In 1973, of 295,300 physicians involved in patient care, 20 percent were in general medicine and 80 percent represented some 61 specialties.

The move toward specialization and its emphasis on large medical centers has occurred side by side with the shortage of medical personnel, a shortage which is also felt in our area. Lubbock educational sources recently reported that while there is an overabundance of college trained persons in the field of education, there is a need for trained medical personnel.

As specialization increased, the number of local general practitioners has decreased and many small hospitals have given over various services to the larger specialized centers. Prenatal, delivery and postnatal care is one example.

Caprock Hospital in Floydada has not provided maternity care since Dr. Terry James moved to Dallas in June, 1977. Dr. Jack Jordan is not presently accepting obstetric (OB) cases. Other area hospitals which do not have delivery services include Spur, Matador and Crosbyton. Women from Spur usually go to Lubbock, Post, Stamford or Rotan; from Matador, to Plainview and Lockney.

In Lockney, Dr. W.J. Mangold continues to accept obstetric patients. Women from Lockney who do not use these services, usually travel to Hale Center, Amarillo, Lubbock or Plainview. In Plainview, three doctors who provide OB care in connection with Central Plains Hospital are: Dr. John W. Dorman, although he is not accepting new OB patients; Dr. Larry Karrh, who currently is not accepting new OB clinic patients; and Dr. James Robins, who does accept new OB patients.

Swisher Memorial Hospital in Tulia also continues to offer maternity care.

In Lubbock, it has been estimated that complete costs involved in delivery and hospitalization range from $800 to $1200. By comparison, Floydada's Dr. A.E. Guthrie said, "Many years ago I would drive to a home in the country and deliver a baby for $35.00". In Lockney costs are about $550 which compares to average Floydada costs in the past.

The trend toward specialization, and in some instances impersonalization of services, has caused a counter-trend which emphasizes community and family-centered concepts of medical care. Some hospitals are using trained midwives to deliver babies and calling for the doctor only when complications arise. RN's cannot deliver babies unless they have the necessary educational training in obstetrics to become midwives.

In American culture, childbirth procedures seem to have come full circle—from midwife home delivery to hospital delivery by a family doctor to delivery by a medical specialist and finally again including the concept of trained midwives and family style confinement. In coming full circle, the medical profession would seem to be following the pattern becoming widespread in other disciplines—that is, utilizing an eclectic approach, selecting the best of various methods and combining these to better general methods and to meet particular needs. And in this particular instance, hopefully providing improved methods for assisting entrances into this world.

Lockney Girl Marries In Oklahoma

Danna Gayle Spence and Rickie Miller of Cordell, Oklahoma, were married Saturday, August 12, in Cordell.

The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Robert L. Spence, and the groom by his father, Mr. Rodney Miller of Cordell.

holding white tapers with greenery and pastel daisies entwined. In flanking positions were two brass spiral candelabras. A portrait prayer bench completed the setting. Candles were lighted by the groom's cousins, Barry Bartel of Cordell and Tammie Bartel of Hesston, Kansas.

The pews were marked with hurricane candles and flowers.

At the guest book were Mrs. Craig Cummins of Altus, Oklahoma, and Lisa Nightengale of Cordell.

Ushers were Danny Lambert of Lockney and Rodney Miller of Cordell, cousin of the groom.

Organist Mrs. A.B.P. Schmidt of Cordell presented the pre-nuptial program of music and the marches. Pianist was Terri Bartel of Houston, cousin of the groom.

Songs included "The Wedding Song" and "You Light Up My Life" by soloist Joyce Ann Robertson of Cordell, and duets on "The Wedding Prayer" and "Make Us One" by Jim Evetts of Cordell and Jim Bartel, uncle of the groom, from Hesston, Kansas.

Sisters of the bride and of the groom were attendants. Miss Kem Spencer was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Connie Miller of Cordell and Sharon Spencer. Flower girl was the groom's cousin, Michelle Kiehn of Altus, Oklahoma.

The maid of honor was gowned in a pink organdy dress designed with a three-tiered skirt with white lace trim and scoop neckline with ruffle and lace trim. Her bouquet was of colonial style created of pastel daisies with pink streamers.

The bridesmaids' dresses were of organdy in rainbow colors and were designed like that of the maid of honor. Their bouquets also matched the maid's of honor.

Best man was Dale Parrish of Cordell, and groomsmen were Brad Lenaburg of Cordell and Montell Vogt, cousin of the groom, of Oklahoma City. Male attendants and the bride's father wore white tuxedos with black trim. Ring bearer was Michael Kiehn, cousin of the groom, of Altus.

Given in marriage by her father, Robert L. Spence, the bride chose a gown of white organza. The bodice was covered in French chantilly lace and sprinkled with pearls. Her full bishop sleeves were capped in lace and ended over the wrists in tight lace cuffs that were dotted with pearls. The A-line skirt was edged with wide French chantilly lace flounce ruffle extending into a chapel length train.

Her veil was of bridal illusion edged in lace and attached to a lace caplet. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of pink sweetheart roses, baby's breath and pastel shades of silk blossoms.

Following tradition, her "something old" was a necklace; "something new" was her wedding attire; "something borrowed" was a handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother; "something blue" was a garter. In her shoe she wore pennies minted in the birth years of the bride and groom.

Reception

Miss Kathy McCarter and Mrs. Rick (Melanie) Bixler, both of Lockney, and Mrs. Lindan (D'Lyn) Morris of Floydada were assistants at the reception held in the church fellowship hall.

The table was draped in white and garlanded with milax greenery and pink

Rice bags were distributed by the groom's cousins, Brent Bartel and Tony Bartel.

After a wedding trip to Dallas, Gaiveston and Houston, the couple will be home in Weatherford, Oklahoma, where they are students at Southwestern Oklahoma

State University. Mrs. Miller was a graduate of Lockney High School and is an elementary major at SOSU. Her husband is a graduate of Cordell High School and is a senior at SOSU, majoring in accounting.

The bride is employed at Rena-Kay's in Weatherford, and the groom farms with his father.

The rehearsal party was held at the church on Friday night prior to the wedding on Saturday night.

House passes tax cut package

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House on Thursday passed a $16.3 billion tax cut bill after rejecting a version backed by President Carter and one on which the Republicans have made a campaign issue.

The bill was sent by a 382-49 vote to the Senate, where prospects are that the tax reduction will be enlarged.

As approved by the House, it would reduce the taxes of an average single taxpayer with $10,000 income next year by $15, one earning $15,000 by $71 and one earning $20,000 by $105.

For a family of four in the same income brackets, the savings would be $62, $77 and $146.

The measure also contains a once-in-a-lifetime capital gains tax break by allowing up to a $100,000 exemption for those who make a profit when they sell their primary home.

The House moved swiftly to pass the measure after rejecting by a vote of 240-177 a last-minute Republican drive to substitute their own plan.

Earlier, the House rejected by a 225-193 vote President Carter's preferred version of a tax cut. After the succession of votes, the surviving bill was one recommended to the House by its Ways and Means Committee.

The White House had only a one sentence comment, indicating displeasure about the House vote. "If you make $50,000 or more the House vote is great," said White House press secretary Jody Powell.

The GOP measure has been pushed by Rep. Jack F. Kemp, R-N.Y., and Sen. William V. Roth Jr., R-Del.

Opponents, headed by Democratic Leader James Wright of Texas, termed the Republican measure irresponsible, citing estimates that when fully effective it would add $100 billion to the deficit.

Congressional specialists calculated that the Kemp-Roth measure would reduce taxes by $31.9 billion in 1979, $69.8 billion in 1980 and $120.7 billion in 1981. Kemp and other supporters, however, said the stimulus to investment and employment would make up the lost revenue.

In an earlier vote, the House approved by a 249-187 margin a provision that would greatly reduce taxes on capital gains beginning in 1980. The tax cut would be based on a formula that takes into account the rate of inflation.

While none of the tax-cut bills that remained before the House came close to Carter's original recommendations, the administration was supporting one that would make an $18.1 billion reduction.

The House, however, refused to substitute the Carter plan for the $16.3 billion version developed by the House Ways and Means Committee. Carter has criticized the committee's bill as too generous to the wealthy and those enjoying capital gains.

Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, despite recent instances of coolness with the administration, took the floor to make the final plea for the Carter-favored measure.

He called it a more equitable bill and said Carter would sign it. At the same time, however, he criticized the administration for slowness in coming to Congress with proposals.

At the outset, the House rejected an effort by many members who wanted to add to the bill a special provision to offset in part the Social Security payroll tax increases beginning next year. The House turned this down by a 284-130 margin.

In so doing, the House sustained the Rules Committee's recommendation that no vote be allowed on an amendment that would, in effect, reduce income taxes by 5 percent of the money deducted for Social Security. Proponents were promised a full review of Social Security funding next year.

Rep. Bill Archer, R-Texas, author of the capital gains provision, said it would simply provide for taxation of real capital gains, but not false values created by inflation. Opponents said it would eventually cut capital gains taxation in half, reducing the revenue yield from this source by $4 billion in 1983. Archer contended that economic stimulus would offset the tax reduction.

Carter opposes sharp reductions in the capital gains tax which he said would give too much of a tax break to people with high incomes. A capital gain is the profit earned from the sale of stocks, real estate or other assets held at least a year.

Carter had asked Congress in January to enact an overall $25 billion tax cut as part of a package containing several administration-sought "tax reforms," including a limitation on the businesses' deductions, such as for the so-called "three-martini lunch."

In the seven months that have elapsed since then, the administration toned down its hoped-for income tax cut for individuals and businesses, settling on a $20 billion proposal.

The options the House considered on Thursday bore little resemblance to Carter's original proposal.

There was little so-called tax reform in the bill sent to the House by the Ways and Means Committee, or in two alternative proposals.

The alternative, backed by the administration, would have provided an $18.1 billion general tax cut, directing more reduction to incomes under $15,000 and less to those over $50,000, as compared with the approved bill.

ECONOMICS

COTTON

Bollworms and tobacco budworms are expected to be a major concern in the Crosby - Floyd County area before long. The majority of bollworms being found last week consisted of large worms from a previous egg lay. Little can be done at this time except to be on the lookout for the next egg laying period which is expected to start this week!

Last week few eggs were being found with numbers ranging from 0-1 per 100 plants. From 0-2 worms per 100 plant terminals were found and green square damage ranged from 0-9%.

Recent showers and milder temperatures will tend to aggravate the bollworm situation. Rains increase plant attractiveness for bollworm egg laying activity.

Fields should be checked at least twice a week to enable you to catch egg laying in time. At least 100 1/3 grown or larger green squares (not yellowed or flared) should be checked in each field. Since egg lays can be spotty at least 4 sites, representative of the field, should be checked. While examining squares for damage, egg and worm counts should be made. Count separately the number of white and brown eggs per 100 plant terminals also. Eggs that are brown are probably within 24 hours of hatching. By counting eggs you can determine what level of worm infestation you can expect in the next day or so, and just how much control is coming from beneficials. If you find 20 or more eggs per 100 plants and beneficial activity is low, excessive square damage could result following egg hatch.

Newly hatched bollworms are difficult to detect. Small worms (1/4 inch or less) are most easily controlled. Worms up to 1/2 inch can be controlled to some extent. Large worms are usually inside the bolls and not exposed to insecticide treatment. Prior to first treatment 10 or more small bollworms per 100 plant terminals could cause excessive fruit loss.

In addition to the insecticides mentioned with the attached information are several biological insecticides that will kill worms without harming beneficials. These materials are Dipel (R), Bactur (R), Thuricide (R), and Elcar (R). These have a bacteria, Bacillus thuringiensis as the active ingredient Elcar (R) contains a virus. Effectiveness can be enhanced if these suggestions are followed: (1) apply against small worms only, (2) use 3-5 gallons of water per acre if by air or 15-20 gallons with a ground rig, (3) use a spreader-sticker such as Bivert (R), (4) apply late in the day or after dark if possible when temperature is below 95 F, and (5) most effective when beneficials are present in high numbers.

With these microbial worms stop feeding soon after ingesting the material but do not die for 1-4 days. Check your fields for results about 72 hours after treatment.

GRAIN SORGHUM

Greenbugs are reaching the economic threshold in fields that have not yet been treated. Excellent control has been seen in those fields treated with recommended insecticides. In some fields receiving early treatments greenbugs may have a chance to build to economic levels before the end of the season. Parasitic wasp activity continues to be spotty but a slow increase in these beneficials has been noted.

If I can be of any assistance please feel free to call me at these numbers. Office 675-2426, Mobile 253-2990, Home 675-2416.

Working Wife Costs In Long Run

COLLEGE STATION — To make working-wife employment rewarding, think through all reasons for and against working, and consider costs of earning a second income.

Working-wife families are likely to save less and consume more than families with non-working wives, says Linda McCormack, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Families often think the wife's earnings lessen their need to guard against the husband's job loss, the specialist explains.

Primarily, wives join the labor force to raise the family income in order to buy more goods and service, rather than to save for future expenses, indicates a recent study.

The study also shows that working-wife families spend more than non-working-wife families on work related expenditures such as transportation, child care, and lunches at restaurants.

In addition, expenses directly related to the working wife's job — clothing, taxes, transportation to and from work, personal care, paid-for help, convenience foods and appliances — account for forty percent of her gross earnings when the family consists of adults and older children, the specialist points out.

In homes with preschool children, the addition of child care expenses increases the work expenses to about 50 percent of the gross income, she adds.

Before deciding upon a second job, consider filling in a worksheet to determine the exact costs of employment, Mrs. McCormack suggests.

If two-wage-earner families are trying to save money, they should make definite plans to do so. Some suggestions include:

Start by reworking the spending plan. Think of savings as a fixed expense in the budget. Make saving automatic through payroll and bank account deduction plans. Also, remember the other household jobs that will still need care. These include cleaning, cooking, ironing, dishwashing, laundry and marketing, the specialist says.

Coaching Staff

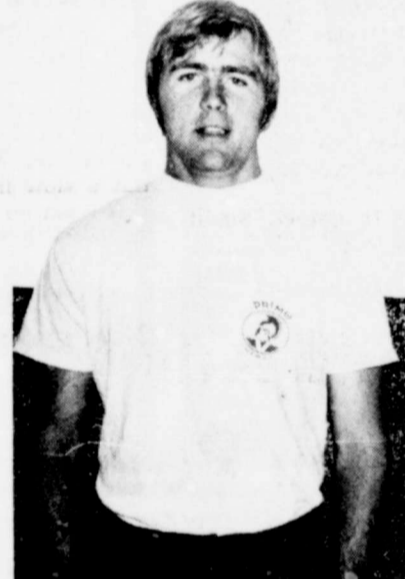

ROLAND MURRAY has been assigned as defensive coordinator for the varsity football team, freshman basketball and head track coach. Roland and Jane Murray moved here from Brownfield. She will be teaching kindergarten. Their children are Tracy, 11 years old; Holly, 5, and Mychal, 4 months. Murray was educated at Abernathy High School and at North Texas State University.

GENE GRIFFIN, who will coach the offensive line and also be junior varsity coach is a graduate of West Rusk High School and of Texas Tech. After college graduation he entered the U.S. Marine Corps. This is his first high school coaching job. Mrs. Griffin (Bernadine) will be teaching high school English.

LYNDALL FAVOR is beginning his second year at Lockney. He assists with the varsity team, scouts other teams and works with junior high athletics. Lyndall and wife Ann have a three-month-old son, Cody. Lyndall was graduated from Texas Tech.

ED KOESTER is the new LHS head basketball coach. His job with the varsity team is to coach the offensive and defensive ends. Ed was graduated from Mark Keppel High School in Los Angeles, and from Texas Tech. He comes to Lockney from Cooper High School near Lubbock. Ed and Diane Koster have a daughter, Amy, 1 1/2 years old. They are expecting another baby in September.

JIM WARREN, a graduate of Plains High School and of McMurry College, is head football coach and athletic director for his fifth year. Mrs. Warren (Lela) is eighth grade language arts teacher. Their three sons are Steve, 17 years old; Russell, 13, and Doug, 10.

Workouts Begin

Varsity workouts begin Monday at 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. and continue for two weeks, culminating in a scrimmage Aug. 25 at Lubbock Cooper. Another scrimmage will be Sept. 1 at Muleshoe.

Annual Event Set Aug. 19

The annual Old-Fashioned Saturday Night celebration has been set for Aug. 19.

The free watermelon feast will begin at 6 p.m. on Main Street in the downtown business area. The Chamber of Commerce provides the watermelons.

New Students Should Pre-Register

Students entering Lockney schools for the first time who have not already registered should do so next week.

Principals of the elementary, junior high and senior high schools will be at their offices beginning Aug. 14 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. except for the noon hour.

All new kindergarten students will need a copy of their birth certificates. All new students need a copy of their shot records. All students at the school is required to have taken the series of diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus shots, and the measles and polio vaccines.

Students who have enrolled in the high school HECE and cooperative ag work-study programs need to contact their advisors next week to be sure that jobs have been assigned to every student. Lisa Lloyd, new HECE advisor, will be at the school. Elvin Lyon, co-op ag advisor, can be contacted at the school or at home.

High school principal James Poole reminds seniors that they should call Chuck Wilson for an appointment to have their senior picture made before school begins.

Teachers report Aug. 29 for in-service programs, but will have Sept. 14 off for holiday. Students report Sept. 5.

BILL AND MARTY RUTH FEWELL took these pictures of the area near the Village Inn in Breckenridge on Hubbard Creek Lake Friday morning. The boathouse ramp usually leads about 12-15 feet DOWN to the boathouse. Water later came even higher nearly into the Village Inn Cafe and covered up the road that is seen in this picture. Many Lockney families regularly stay at the Inn.

Red Cross Helping Texans

WASHINGTON D. C. AUGUST 7, 78—Over 100 red cross disaster specialists from outside affected area are still assisting local chapters in caring for victims of

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M.C. 17th District, Texas WASHINGTON, D.C. — According to economic advisors to the president, Americans can be encouraged that double-digit inflation will not occur in the second half of this year. They do warn, however, that prices will continue to rise for several months but the increase will not be as great as the current annual pace of 10%. There are warnings from other economists that the economy is slowing down and that a mismanagement of policy could lead into a new recession. There appear to be indications that our economy, although slackening, will stabilize. Some of these indicators are based on the fact that our trade deficit is narrowing as our exports increase and oil imports, particularly, are considerably down from what they were at this time last year. It is believed that oil imports will shrink by a million barrels a day by the end of the year.

In line with these economic projections is a $16 billion tax cut approved by the Ways and Means Committee and a reduction in the Second Budget Resolution setting spending ceilings for 1979.

The Second Budget Resolution voted out by the budget committee last week set the ceiling some $10 billion lower than that requested by the President in January and the deficit estimate reduced by $17 billion as compared to the figure in the earlier part of the year.

The resolution, to be debated in the House of Representatives on next Tuesday, August 15, will set a binding ceiling on spending and a floor on revenues for the fiscal year beginning on October 1. The estimates are designed to reduce both the inflation rate and unemployment during 1979. The figures in the Resolution — spending, estimated revenues and deficits — cannot absolutely be guaranteed. But, if the Congress is ready to moderately bite the bullet, we do have the machinery to reduce spending widespread flooding that ravaged many communities in central and west Texas beginning August 2.

Latest reports show 26 confirmed dead, 127 injured, total of 887 families suffered losses in Bandera, Kerr, Kendall, Uvalde, Shackelford, Comal, Gillespie, Haskell and Throckmorton counties. Eight red cross shelters housed 1500 persons at peak of emergency. Red cross teams provided mass care to 3000 victims and emergency workers, including meals from fixed and mobile feeding stations. ARC assistance centers now open in Randeria, Kerr, and lower the deficit with a moderate tax cut as reflected in the tax bill which will also be up for debate in the next few days.

This, all taken together, does at least give encouragement that handles can be placed on our economic situation working towards stabilization. As has been said here a number of times, the key issue in all efforts to correct the ills besetting our economy is reduced spending. Burdensome taxes need lowering but unless spending is commensurately cut, inflation will continue to rage and deficits climb. As this occurs, we pay more hidden taxes with absolutely no benefit.

The theory that if the Federal Government has its revenues reduced, spending will also be reduced, is fictitious. If costs are not cut, along with less income, the Government simply ups the supply of paper money. When this happens each dollar is worth less and the merry-go-round turns faster. To a degree there may be some merit in the argument that the inflationary condition we are experiencing is not of the classic type, but basically and fundamentally, inflation is caused by too many dollars chasing too few goods. Needed is tax reduction to leave more money where earned — to produce more goods and the means to pay for them at reasonable prices.

The Veterans Administration today reminded handicapped and elderly veterans about a guidebook, published by the Federal Kendall, Uvalde and Shackelford counties providing aid to victims on individual family basis. Total cost of red cross relief operation is estimated to exceed $300,000. Fund appeals are underway in affected area and ARC chapters are accepting contributions to aid Texas flood victims.

Additional serious flooding was reported over the weekend along Brazos River in Young County (N. Central Texas). Many were evacuated from towns of Ft. Asch, South Bend, and Graham.

ARC personnel are on the scene providing emergency services and gathering damage survey information.

Aviation, making air travel easier and more convenient.

Titled "Access Travel: Airports," the publication lists design features, facilities and services that meet the travel needs of the wheelchairbound, the blind, the deaf and the aged at 220 airport terminals in 27 countries.

The 20-page guide identifies 69 items important to aged and handicapped veterans and others. The list includes reserved parking, ramps, accessible rest rooms, elevator controls and raised lettering, telephones with amplifiers, and special transportation.

Single, free copies of the guide are available from the Consumer Information Center, Department 619F, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Organizations requesting more than single copies should write, citing quantity, use and justification to: Office of Public Affairs, APA-400, Federal Aviation Administration 800 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D. C. 20591.

The heat pump

"THE ELECTRIC SAVINGS MACHINE"

BUYING, BUILDING, REMODELING?

It's time to consider the heat pump. Southwestern Public Service Company can suggest the system that will give you the most for your energy dollar, and come up with some accurate information on installation and operating costs.

The heat pump is the electric savings machine. And usually a machine of such sensitive operation calls for a lot of space and some pretty technical installation procedures. NOT SO WITH THE HEAT PUMP! "Split systems" — most adaptable to homes — consist of an outdoor and indoor section, easily tucked away in a closet, garage, basement or attic. The single package unit looks very similar to a central air-conditioning unit that's placed outdoors. Both systems can be installed in most every home or office that has central air ducts. If you're buying, building or remodeling, it's time you said...

"Yes, the heat pump!"
