one has very much of an idea as to what it would finally mean.
IF THERE IS PARALLEL WITH THE PRESENT to Baccolini's dilemma, it is not limited to the energy legislation; it can be applied to many other actions of the Federal Government. If there are comparisons it would seem to be a fairly consistent rule that events deal harshly with a Republic that cannot make up its mind.
THE INDEPENDENT PETROLEUM PEOPLE have denounced the bill as absolutely unworkable. The formula for the decontrol of natural gas prices establishes 17 different price categories as an interim step towards final decontrol. Of course, the Department of Energy would have to apply rules and regulation and no

September 25: At long last, we have all had rain. It began raining Wednesday of last week and has rained some every day or night since. Seems to be a general rain all over the South Plains. Our area has received 3 and 4 inches and more in some places. As always a fall rain usually comes at a time it is wonderful for fall wheat sowing, but not too good for the grain crops that were being harvested. It has been dry for so long, that it is nice to see the moisture to put a good season in the ground. Mrs. Betty Jo Horton of Alvin visited last week in this area and Friday afternoon she and Mrs. Gordon Mayfield visited Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Wise. Mr. and Mrs. L.H. Blum went to Lubbock Wednesday where he had a checkup; he got a real good report. Mrs. Blum reports it rained on them all day in Lubbock so they spent the night with her sister Mrs. H.D. Reid and came home Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Randy Green of Waco and Maurice Burton of Lubbock and Mrs. Steve Reeves of Floydada spent the day Friday with Lee Burton and Carolyn. Sunday afternoon Lee Burton went to Lubbock and visited in the home of his sister Maurice Burton and another sister Viola Green and husband Randy who were there from Waco. Kara Cozy spent Saturday night with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Cozy. The Cozy's daughter Carol Wilmet of Lubbock was also there.

Burl Huckabee visited Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Graham last week. Charles Beedy from the Beedy ranch near Claude spent the weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy. Mrs. Kate Crabtree visited Mr. and Mrs. Kay Crabtree and family Sunday and had dinner with them. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy and Charles Beedy visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tye Sunday and had dinner with them.

Sam Crabtree ate lunch with his grandmother Mrs. Kate Crabtree Friday and spent the night. Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wilson visited Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Mize and had supper with them. Harvey Allen will return home tonight (Monday) from San Antonio where he spent the weekend attending a school board convention.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson visited Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wilson. Mrs. Sherman Stewart of Sweetwater visited in Plainview the first part of the week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stewart. Mrs. Jewell Cheeves was also a guest in the Jim Stewart home. Both women returned to Floydada Wednesday night to the home of Mrs. Cheeves.

Baum Endorses Stenholm

Charles Stenholm, Democratic candidate for Congressman of the sprawling 17th District, was endorsed Monday, Sept. 18 in Big Spring by Jim Baum, who opposed him in the bid for the democratic nomination in the Primary. Baum, who carried 75 per cent of Howard County in the Democratic Primary in a field of seven candidates, said here today, "I strongly endorse and will vote for Charles Stenholm for congress." Baum gave as his reasons, "He is a hard worker, which I can well attest to since I ran into him so often during the primaries. He has addressed well the issues in the campaign during the 14 months he has been campaigning." "But more than that, I find him a good man, and a shy-but forceful man who would make us a good representative in Congress. I predict that he will have a long and fruitful career that he will be a leader in Congress and not just a voice and a vote-and that he

'Futballe' Getting On In Years

In a few years organized football will be as old as Methuselah — and perhaps as interesting as Noah's grandfather who lived to be 969.

For one thing, football thrives on tradition. But it depends on the circumstances. In 1823, in fine disregard of the rules, William Webb Ellis of England's Rugby School tired of a scoreless kicking game and picked up the ball and ran with it.

That wasn't the case in Atlanta in 1916, the year Coach John Heisman's Georgia Tech team wrecked little Cumberland, 222 to 0. Tech's defense was as ferocious as its offense, and, late in the game, the quarterback for the visiting Tennessee school fumbled the ball.

"Pick it up!" he yelled to his teammates. "Pick it up!" A quick-thinking halfback hollered back: "You pick it up. You dropped it." And so it goes with football, one of civilization's most durable sports. Humans barely got into the Garden of Eden, of course, until they started kicking things — and each other — around.

But ancient chronicles indicate football as a scheduled event is enjoying its 929th season in 1978. It all started in 1050 A.D. when the best-known ruffians from two English villages lined up halfway between the towns and started shoving and kicking. The objective was to kick the ball to the opposing team's village green.

Documentary evidence suggests that football has been above kings ever since. Look at what happened to poor King Henry I. The youngest son of William the Conqueror tried to put a stop to the game shortly after he was crowned in 1100 A.D. It was hurting archery.

A football historian went to the trouble to study King Henry's edicts and discovered one condemning "futballe" and telling villagers "to cease play." It was a case of famous last words. The stubborn English told Henry what he could do with his bloody order and kept on playing.

Wiser kings would come along. The game had a defender in King James I, the only son of Mary Queen of Scots who also gave his name to a version of the Bible and to a settlement in Virginia. In his day the best village football team won wide acclaim, paving the way for future South Bends.

Football players did not escape the observant eye of Shakespeare. There's this telling line in King Lear: "You base football player." The first American settlers from England brought knowledge of the game to Jamestown but didn't play much. There were too many Indians to kick around.

Three hundred years later Indians, led by Jim Thorpe and Redwater, would pull a few football tricks of their own at Carlisle and Haskell Institute. Once they sewed patches of leather resembling a football on the front of each player's jersey, causing more confusion than the Little Big Horn. Every American schoolboy knows the first intercollegiate game in the United States took place on Nov. 6, 1869, in Brunswick, N.J., when Rutgers and Princeton met. Rutgers won't win a Princeton game until 1929.

Practice of course, makes football a spectacular sweep and line of football. Training sessions through the changed since this newspaper was born Oct. 26, 1901, about "Autumn in Sport."

"Behold the time in the football man picked up the ball and doth great matters by they that are on the ground may marvel at him."

"He coareth his hair that is eth long and uncut with the lessness of the clergyman combateth he his locks."

"He goeth out at the dew of day and indueth a horse to him, that his skin may be ended."

"He butteth his head upon fences and the houses that shake even unto the ground." "And his head becometh like unto a cannon-ball, neck growth thick and upon unto the chock steak of the er."

"Truly 10 men fall upon and revile him that he is not enough for the 11th to play him. And the doctors, druggists, and the undertakers are in the audience and smile."

Storytellers have done well by — and Methuselah.

Shorthorns Improve

The Shorthorn eight-grade football team fought to a 0-0 tie with Olton last Thursday in a game played in Lockney under scrimmage conditions.

Coach Lyndall Favor said the seventh-grade team showed much improvement since the previous week's game with Post.

The eight-graders also had a better game, Favor said. The Shorthorn defense just about completely shut down Olton, he said, but the offense couldn't consistently move the ball.

Lockney Care Center Family News

The rain has temporarily stopped our work outside. In spite of this, we have been able to continue with several of the activities. Instead of playing our usual bingo game Thursday afternoon, some of us, including Lula Mae Cottrell and Lewis Roberts, cleaned and straightened our cluttered storage closet.

One of our planned activities was postponed until next Tuesday due to the rain. We are looking forward to the "special Enchilada Supper" planned for by the Eastern Star and their husbands, to be held at the lodge house.

With cold weather fast approaching, we would appreciate anyone who could help us locate and get some firewood for our living room. We really enjoyed the fireplace last year.

NEWS Of The Bible

World's Largest Scripture Library

Scriptures in over 1,500 languages and dialects, two fragments of the Dead Sea Scrolls, and an exhibit on the history of the English Bible can be seen without charge at the world's largest Scripture library.

One of the library's annual chores is the preparation of an annual Scripture language count. The latest count reveals that at least one book of the Bible has been translated into 1,631 languages or dialects, representing the spoken tongues of 98 percent of the world's people.

Among the treasures in the Scripture library are 423 Bibles produced prior to the year 1600... a Latin Bible printed in Switzerland in 1474... a Wycliffe New Testament manuscript from about 1440... and a 13th century Latin Vulgate manuscript Bible.

Many Bibles closely related to the history of the United States are in the library, including a copy of the very first Bible published in America: a 1663 edition in the Massachusetts dialect of the Algonquian Indians.

The library has a copy of the first English Bible printed in America, and an even earlier German-language Scripture printed by a German-born physician, Christopher Saur, to provide the Word to the Pennsylvania German community ("the Pennsylvania Dutch") in colonial days.

Here one may view such rarities as the Kai-Feng-Fu Pentateuch Scroll, once used by a Jewish community in 15th century China. An illuminated Amharic manuscript was presented to the library in 1959 by the then Emperor of Ethiopia, Haile Selassie.

The "Hefty Hawaiian" is a pair of Testaments which belonged to David Livingstone the great 19th century Scottish missionary, in the Tlapi Setswana language of South Africa.

The Library is open to visitors Monday through Friday from 9:30 to 4:30. It is located at 1865 Broadway, at the corner of 61st Street, in New York City. Admission is free.

NEWS OF HEALTH

There's good news for the people interested in efforts to combat cancer. For the first time in four years, many experts in the disease and in the methods and technology of curing and controlling it are meeting officially to pool their ideas and innovations.

SCIENTISTS ARE SEEKING NEW WAYS to deal with cancer at a South American symposium.

The meeting, held in Buenos Aires, Argentina, on October 5th through 11th, 1978, could lead to new breakthroughs in defeating the disease. Many people feel Buenos Aires is the ideal place for such a symposium because of its safe streets, temperate climate, and enthusiastic reports from the 15,000 tourists from all over the world who recently attended the World Soccer Cup games in Buenos Aires.

Some 5,500 participants signed up for this Twelfth International Cancer Congress, representing over 70 countries, including the United States, the USSR, France, Canada, Great Britain and Sweden.

Among the subjects of most interest at the conference there figure the possibilities of tumors being caused by viruses; cancer immunity; hormones and cancer; progress in cancer diagnoses; genetic and environmental factors in cancer.

Getting the right researchers and doctors together in the right setting could someday lead to improved health for people all over the world.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS INC.

Officials scheduled the first spraying of insecticide in the 15th year of the High Plains boll weevil control program for September 25.

Weather permitting, aerial applicators using 12 planes within a few days will have sprayed ultra-low volume Malathion on 190,000 to 200,000 acres of weevil-infested cotton along the eastern edge of the High Plains.

The program, a producer service of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, has succeeded each year since 1964 in preventing the spread of boll weevils across the concentrated cotton acreage west of the Caprock. Its cost is born jointly by Plains cotton producers, the U.S. and Texas Departments of Agriculture. USDA matches funds contributed by producers and the TDA.

The acreage of infested cotton mapped for spraying in the first application this year is well above the 142,000 first sprayed in 1977. Officials explained, however, that spraying last year began almost three weeks earlier on September 6.

This year weevil populations have been much smaller than normal as a result of an excellent kill on weevils in the 1977 program, plus a cold, dry 1977-78 winter and continued drought in the spring and summer. According to PCG Field Service Director Ed Dean, this fact made it possible to delay early spraying without endangering overall program effectiveness. "In addition," he continues, "in this way we were able to avoid aggravating this year's exceptional bollworm threat and at the same time reduce program costs."

Ultimately it is expected that an aggregate of between 850,000 and one million acres will be treated this year. Spraying will be on a 12-day schedule, anticipating that three applications will be completed by the end of October. Soon after that time either harvesting or cold weather will destroy the weevils' food supply. Objective of the program is to kill a high percentage of weevils in the fall before they leave the fields and enter hibernation sites, thus greatly reducing the numbers available to infest young cotton each spring.

USDA in late August, following bid invitations to aerial applicators all over the nation, awarded contracts to the two lowest bidders. One will operate in Unit I, flying from a base in Matador. The other, in Unit II, will be based at Spur.

Successful bidders this year were Pedigo Flying Service of Silverton, Texas, and Kimmel Flying Service of Houston, Miss. The two contracts were let for an average of $2.26 per gallon of insecticide, which Dean calculates will result in a per-acre cost of just over 21 cents, slightly below the 1977 cost.

two with her aunt Mrs. Dee Sims, dined one day with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bradford and spent Saturday afternoon in her old home with Mrs. Dale Miller. She and Mrs. Mayfield visited Friday afternoon with Mrs. J. E. Green and the Floyd Fuqua's, and made many pop calls. It was good to see this daughter of our good neighbors, the Walter Sim's. We all lived for over thirty years in the Center Community. Mrs. Sim's has good and not so good days in a rest home near the Horton home.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Montgomery of Plainview visited Friday evening with his sister, Mrs. Frank Dunn. Mrs. Dunn visited in the Floydada Nursing home Sunday afternoon. There she saw anxious old friends seeing loved ones. With Mrs. Anderson were Mr. and Mrs. Ausie Watson of Abilene and most of her local children, also children of Mrs. Carrie Cumbe who is not so well. All former Centerites.

Mrs. Ruby Leonard has been transferred from the nursing home to the hospital. We hope she will be better soon.

Mrs. Elmer Warren spent Tuesday night near Lubbock with her son Johnny and family, and returned home Wednesday in the rain. Sunday dinner guests at Mrs. Oia Warren's were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Warren and Mrs. Fred Batley. Edwin Warren stopped by Monday.

Willie B. Aiken visited one afternoon with Mr. Charley Spence and brought some watermelons.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Anderson and Wiley Rogers were among the group on the chartered bus who were in Dallas Saturday for a football game—the Cowboys and Cardinals.

Wet weather or not the cannery goes on this last week canning loads of sweet

FRUIT GROWERS CONFERENCE—Everyone interested or involved in fruit production is invited to attend the 1978 Texas Fruit Conference and Short Course at Texas A&M University, Oct. 3-4. A wide range of topics dealing with results of research and Extension programs will be presented, notes a horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Special emphasis will be given to peach, apple, plum and blueberry production.

Three months till Christmas! How time flies! And the weather has changed since last Monday. We are no longer dry. We had rain—slow, long, misty, rainy hours. Night and day. Grass is already getting green again, especially the weeds. It is wonderful stay at home weather! So news is about the same from all.

Mrs. Clay Muney and Mrs. Fred Batley visited Miss Vera Meredith Saturday afternoon; and Mrs. Louise Hamilton came Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Smith of Tulia, and a brother-in-law, Hugh Starnes, also of Tulia, and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Carpenter visited Mr. and Mrs. Claud Carpenter Sunday.

Mrs. O. C. Vinson is back home at the Mennifee Apartments after several days in a Plainview hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas, were in Plainview Sunday afternoon attending the 50th wedding anniversary of old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Forman of Wichita Falls arrived Sunday morning at the home of his sister, at the Henry Brewers. In the afternoon they visited a brother, Buren Forman who has been moved from the hospital to a Lubbock Nursing Home. The couple returned to the Brewer home and spent Sunday night.

Mrs. Green visited Miss Esther Peck briefly on the way home from church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Watson visited briefly Saturday afternoon with her parents, the Henry Brewers, then their sons, the Dean Watsons, and took home with them the grandchildren to spend the night. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Watson attended a funeral in Lockney Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ashton attended the birthday dinner Friday for her brother, Floyd Furgus. Another local sister and husband present were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn, and son sister and husband came from Amarillo. Neighbors dropped in in the afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Horton of Alvin and son Bruce of Houston arrived Tuesday for a week of business and pleasure. In spite of the damp weather they saw relatives and friends. Betty Jo was house guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Mayfield and Bruce of the Jack Fuqua's. Betty Jo spent a night or

Cedar Hill News

By Grace Lemons

About four and one half inches of rain fell in some parts of Cedar Hill this week and it still looks rainy. Jim Conner reports four inches. Funeral services for Fred Miller, 82 were held Friday at 11:00 a.m. in the Justin Mason Funeral Home Chapel in Post. Graveside services followed at East Mond Cemetery at Matador. Rev. Conrad Ryan, pastor of United Methodist Church officiated for both services. Miller died Tuesday night.

Sales Tax Office Opens In Plainview

AUSTIN -- State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday announced the opening of a new field office in Plainview to serve taxpayers in Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Motley, Hale and Floyd counties.

The new office is located at 3109-B Oton Road, Winchester Square, in Plainview and will be open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The telephone number is 293-5288.

Gene Cannon is in charge of the new office.

Bullock invited businessmen and women from the counties to be served by the new office to drop by and get acquainted with Mr. Cannon and the other tax experts who will be serving them.

"It's a heck of a lot easier -- and more pleasant -- to deal face-to-face with someone you know and trust than trying to communicate with a computer in Austin," Bullock said.

"It saves everyone involved time and money to have our people nearby to provide help when it's needed, and that is exactly what field offices such as this in Plainview allows us to do."

Quick Takes

Situation comedies are the most popular of TV programs reports the A.C. Nielsen rating company. Adventure shows are second.

One out of every 2 or 3 executives asked to move by their companies this year will refuse -- largely because of their wives. According to one firm specializing in moving executives, a wife's desire not to relocate is the chief reason for the turn-downs. The company says that 10 years ago only 1 out of 10 executives declined to move.

The crime rate has been rising faster among women than among men in the last few years a study prepared for the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration reports. But the report finds that women are more likely to commit embezzlement, fraud or forgery than crimes of violence. What's behind the trend? One of the researchers says, "With the women's movement, a much greater proportion of women are working outside the home, which provides more women with opportunities to embezzle and commit fraud."

Workers would experience less stress with 2 vacations a year than with a shorter workweek a study by the Union of German Doctors indicates. The study says that a second vacation is preferable because during the shorter workweek, the worker is expected to accomplish the same amount of work in less time -- resulting in increased stress.

Safety air bags are inflationary in more ways than one. Experts say that the air bags will add an extra $200-$300 to the price of a new car when they become mandatory in 1981. And, ironically, although the bags are supposed to be increasing passenger safety, it's expected that auto insurance rates will rise because once an air bag inflates, the cost of replacement is about $700.

Arizona Bronco Busters

Ruddy-faced cowboys wipe sweat from their faces and gaze into the steaming sun. Horses, equally hot, whinnying, offer resistance to the commands of their riders, bucking furiously. But the cowboys' persistence wins out -- they break the horses, racing them across dust covered hillsides, in the vast, deathly still mountains of Arizona.

Later in the day, a glorious pink, purple and gold sunset frames a small corral and barn where the cowboys unsaddle the horses they broke hours before. As the sun drops beneath the horizon, the cowboys water their horses at a picturesque mountain pool while they refresh themselves, relax and enjoy a cold Miller High Life.

When these scenes sweep across the country this year via television airwaves, another television commercial will have portrayed the Miller Time theme for American viewers.

That is the intent of the Miller Brewing Company, which recently completed work on a Miller High Life commercial, entitled "Bronco Busters," shot entirely on location in Arizona. This past spring Miller representatives, as well as executives from McCann-Erickson, Miller's advertising agency, and from Bob Gaffney Productions, filmmakers, gathered in Arizona to shoot the commercial.

Three days shooting, 12,000 feet of film, dozens of takes and retakes were blended, skillfully, into 30 and 60 second television spots.

Commercial filming is the same thing as regular movie making, but is done in much less time, according to Bob Gaffney, president of Bob Gaffney Productions and the man whose eye has overseen every operation connected with filming this commercial. "Commercial filming is more intense, with far greater time disciplines than regular films," said Gaffney, a three-time short subject Academy Award nominee.

Gaffney spoke about the rigors of commercial filming during a break on the last of three filming days. It was easy to understand what he meant. Two nights in a row, he and the crew waited patiently for the sun to hit a certain angle in the sky, in order to capture the kind of sunset that has become the hallmark of "Miller Time," the end of a long, hard day.

One evening, he circled the action in a helicopter, legs and camera dangling from a side opening, attempting to film a hillside racing scene from a greater, more panoramic angle. While the cowboys watered their horses in the mountain pool at sundown, Gaffney caught part of the action while floating on a rubber raft, outfitted with one of the cameras.

CLOSING SCENE -- The conclusion of the Miller High Life "Bronco Busters" commercial was filmed near a pool set between two mountains. Filming was delayed until the evening so the sun would hit a precise angle in the sky.

Miller High Life brand manager, and others in Miller's Brand Management department and consider the commercial idea.

When the idea is accepted, the agency will contact commercial filmmakers who will come up with "bids," or samples of total production costs. Company and client will decide on the most acceptable bid and move into production.

Involve in this point is threefold -- with the Miller Brewing Company, McCann-Erickson and the filmmaker.

The three organizations work together selecting locations, casting and organizing production. Input from Miller's Marketing Department, Palmer said, is essential, because the "final commercial represents a job well done. Miller's key advertising communication. The Most Common Grammar "Mistakes"

Confused about whether to use "shall" or "will," "can" or "may"? If so, you have more company than you may think says Dr. Theodore Kiffer, an associate professor at Penn State. Kiffer believes that if you drew up a list of the 10 most-common grammar mistakes in America today and the 10 most-common errors of 400 years ago, you'd be surprised at the similarities. The

Thousands of hospitalized pregnant women may be subjecting their unborn children to drugs and procedures that could be dangerous -- because they don't know they're pregnant. Two N.J. gynecologists screened women between ages 12 and 50 who entered a hospital over a 4-year period and discovered that 56% who were pregnant unfortunately didn't know it. To reduce the risk, women of child-bearing age should be routinely given a pregnancy test when admitted.

WHAT ONE PERSON CAN DO Elizeard Bouffier, Planter of Trees

In the early part of this century, a young man came upon a desolate upland region in the French Alps where nothing grew but wild lavender. There were no trees, water was scarce, villages were long deserted and the few inhabitants were primitive and hostile.

Yet the traveler met a shepherd who invited him to stay the night in a sturdy house that had been rebuilt from a ruin. The shepherd, who lived alone, puzzled his guest by taking out a sack of acorns that evening, selecting good ones in groups of ten and discarding those which were cracked or too small. He counted 100, then went to bed.

Next day, the traveler accompanied his host on a strange journey. The shepherd, with his sack of acorns, and an inch-thick iron rod about eighteen inches long, climbed up to a wind-swept ridge. Again and again he plunged his rod into the desolate earth and planted an acorn in each hole. He was planting oak trees, and he had been doing so for three years--about 100,000 in all, of which he expected one-tenth to survive.

The shepherd, whose name was Elizeard Bouffier, related that he had once owned a farm in the lowlands, had retired here at the age of 50 after the death of his wife and son. He was convinced this land was dying for want of trees and vowed, if God gave him life, he would plant many more.

Twenty-five years later, the traveler returned to the region. It had come to life. Water had reappeared, and willows, rushes, meadows, gardens and flowers. The forest, now five miles long and nearly two wide, had brought resurrection. Young farming couples now live there. Elizeard Bouffier lived on till 1947, a man whose hope gave birth to life.

It is believed the tuxedo is so called from being first worn at the Tuxedo Club in Tuxedo, New York.

Arabs used to decorate their camels with blue glass beads to ward off evil spirits.

PLANET. North of the Black Sea, for example, is an enormous military complex to supply Arab terrorists and revolutionaries in the Middle East and it takes little imagination to figure out why Russia moves in that area. Should the Soviets ultimately take over Arab oil it could and would mean blackmail to all of Europe, Japan and the United States. The oil boycott just a couple of years ago certainly should have taught us that Nations can be brought to their knees for the lack of it without a shot being fired.

WHAT TO DO? Of course, for the immediate is to increase the development of our own source of energy in order to be less dependent on foreign oil imports. The second is to rebuild and increase our military capabilities which have been steadily declining. These are subjects discussed here before and well known from many sources. There is, however, an interesting study by Dr. Edward Glick, professor of political science at Temple University, a recognized authority on Middle Eastern affairs, which goes somewhat beyond the more immediate concerns.

DR. GLICK SEEKS TO LINK THE TRIPLE SECURITY NEEDS of the United States, Israel and the Arab Nations to a U.S. military presence in a neutral area in the Middle East. He suggests, in essence, the establishment of U.S. military air, naval and electronic facilities in a base in Israel as a deterrent to Soviet expansion, and as a preventive to Arab and Israeli conflict. The idea would carry with it a declaration that we would be in an independent position for our operation but drawing a line, as was done in Berlin, and that we will stop anyone who crosses it.

THE PRESENCE OF AN AMERICAN BASE ON ISRAELI SOIL, Dr. Glick maintains, would make the Arabs, Israelis and Russians think seriously before they would fire on each other. He suggests that we have a lease-free access to an absolute neutral enclave, with defined purpose of only maintaining peace and no influence or authority otherwise.

IT IS AN INTERESTING CONCEPT and one deserving study for the longer-range implications, regardless of more immediate solutions for peace in the volatile Middle East.

Facts from a pro on driving to survive.

Q. Why are some yield signs red and others yellow? Should they be treated the same way? —L. G., Seminole

A. Both signs require you to yield to traffic at an intersecting street; however, the yellow is gradually being replaced by the red. Texas and other states are participating in a new system of traffic signs in which visual cues substitute for word messages. The new red color distinguishes the yield sign from the yellow cautionary signs and as with the red stop sign, indicates that there is a specific procedure you must observe.

Q. Our children enjoy riding in our house trailer on long vacation trips. Although they keep themselves amused this way and can't bother my husband when he drives, I wonder if it is safe. —P. J., Cuero

A. No. In fact, it is against the law. Any abrupt movement of the trailer could toss them against a dangerous object or cause something to fall on them and injure them. Instead, keep your children buckled up and occupied in the back seat of your car with games, books and puzzles.

Q. Living on the Gulf Coast, I'm no stranger to rain. I know hydroplaning tires are dangerous. At what speed does hydroplaning begin, and what can I do to avoid it? —B. N., Friendswood

A. Hydroplaning—losing traction on a wet road surface—can begin at speeds as low as 30 mph. At 55 mph or more, the tire can lose complete contact with the pavement, causing you to lose control of your steering and braking. Extra-wide tires and tires with thin threads will hydroplane at lower speeds. During a storm or when there is standing water on the road, slow down. And avoid driving with badly worn tires.

Mexican Produce Market In Texas Is Not Large

AUSTIN—Most of the produce available in Texas markets is grown right here in the state, according to research done by the Texas Department of Agriculture, Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

"Several farm groups have indicated their concern over the amount of fresh produce imported from Mexico, but this report shows that only 18 per cent was brought into Texas during the fiscal year ending September 1977," Brown said. "Of the total weight imported, one third was made up of commodities not produced in Texas on a commercial basis."

Texas packers import asparagus, bananas, coconuts, mangos, nectarines, papayas, garlic, and pineapples, none of which are grown in the state for market.

Judge Roy Bean, a saloon-keeper and justice of the peace on the West Texas frontier, once fined a corpse $40 for carrying concealed weapons.

YOUR GARDEN

Improving The Soil To make the best use of the soil in your garden, you should know its properties: Before you can improve it, you must know its difficulties. You can have your soil tested professionally at agricultural stations and universities, or do it yourself with soil-test kits.

IS YOUR SOIL all it should be?

Slightly acid soil is best for most plants. A soil's pH balance is a measure of its acidity or alkalinity. Few plants will survive in soil more acid than pH 4 or more alkaline than pH 9, pH 7 is neutral. Most garden soil is somewhat acid and tends to become more so as fertilizers and humus are worked in and various chemicals are leached out.

To increase alkalinity, use finely ground limestone. To increase acidity, use flowers of sulfur. Both cures are available at most garden supply centers, as is peat moss, which is mildly acidic. A new book for gardeners, the Reader's Digest Illustrated Guide to Gardening, points out that of the 16 elements known to be necessary to plant growth, three—carbon, hydrogen and oxygen—come from the air and water. The rest are from the soil. Nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium are needed in the largest amounts, are used up the fastest and are therefore the chief ingredients of most fertilizers.

THEN and NOW

THEN: The 19th century was one of seemingly impossible breakthroughs: The pony express established communications across the 3,000 mile wide continent in 1860 by making the final connection between St. Joseph, Missouri and San Francisco in a mere 240 hours; then the east and west coasts were linked by a transcontinental telegraph line in 1861, making it possible to relay a telegram across the country in only two hours.

LATER: The early part of the 20th century saw another breakthrough. The relics from the crypt of Egyptian Pharaoh Tutankhamun were seen for the first time in over 3,000 years—relics that make up the award-winning "King Tut" art exhibit currently touring the United States.

NOW: Not only kings can cross the country with ease. Telephones do it today in seconds, and satellites beam live television pictures across oceans. Merit cigarette's new book, Breakthrough!, is getting around quickly, too. This hardcover book features reproductions of the original headline stories of great human achievements from 1851 to 1976. It's available free during the month of August in special store displays with the purchase of a carton of Merit, known for its breakthrough in cigarette taste technology.

The Floyd Philosopher A Look At Over-Ordering Of Government's Filing Cabinets

Dear editor:

Although it's getting a little monotonous, another government scandal has hit the headlines, this time involving what's known as the General Services Administration, which, as I understand it, is the Federal government's purchasing agent. It places orders in the millions of dollars for what the various bureaus need, such as filing cabinets, desks, wall paint, thicker rugs, pencils, paper, red tape or whatever.

Investigators claim the outfit has been careless, like ordering say 10,000 new filing cabinets, I guess to tide them over till next week, then paying for 10,000 but getting only 5,000. Then it's a year and two investigations later before the other 5,000 are missed. Apparently weren't needed anyway.

This has outraged the investigators. If you order 10,000 and pay for 10,000 you ought to get 10,000, they say, and then ask where the money for the un-delivered 5,000 filing cabinets went.

There's an angle to this I believe the investigators are missing. From the tax payers' standpoint, the cost is the same, the national debt is increased by that much, whether the government got 10,000 or 5,000 filing cabinets. There's little satisfaction in getting the full 10,000 when only 5,000 apparently were needed in the first place. Try as hard as I can, I don't find my happiness increased one bit by knowing the government has 5,000 extra filing cabinets it doesn't need. Somebody ought to be concentrating on the guys who ordered the surplus.

However, on second thought, all may not be lost. If investigators and newspapers keep investigating all phases of government, those 5,000 filing cabinets may come in handy to hold what they uncover.

I assume the cabinets are rust-proof, because the custom is to file all investigation reports away for 15 or 20 years, not to be opened till it's too late anyway.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

What One Person Can Do

Lois Harrell, Inventor for the Blind.

What prevents most blind children in the elementary grades from attending classes with sighted pupils? For one thing, there's a textbook problem. Now, Lois Harrell of Placerville, California, is making books that both can read.

About eight years ago, Ms. Harrell, the 31-year-old mother of three sighted children, was asked to design a teaching aid for a blind child in the class of a first-grade teacher she was assisting. With her training as a child-development specialist, she wondered why more couldn't be done to build on the similarities, rather than the differences, between blind and sighted children.

So Lois Harrell learned braille and made a workshop out of the family garage. She acquired an old printing press, a thermofom braille printer, a braille typewriter and other necessities.

Painstakingly, sometimes using stories she herself has written, Ms. Harrell puts together a page that contains print, braille and textured illustrations. Blind children and their parents have been enthusiastic. But a way has not been found to mass-produce the dual-purpose books. She has not yet been able to get government support for her project or to interest a suitable publisher.

Is Lois Harrell discouraged? "I know I'm onto something good," she smiles. She remains convinced that a method like hers could revolutionize the teaching to blind children. And she enjoys the challenge. "I guess you can't be a martyr about it," she says, "because martyrs have no fun."

NEW PARK TREES TUSCOLA

Last spring, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission authorized establishment of a new day use fee, raised under user fees for cabins, lodges, campsites and increased the annual park entrance permits effective Sept. 1, 1978.

Facts from a pro on driving to

Q. What is the proper way to park on a sloping driveway?—K.B., Sweetwater

A. When parking downhill, your front wheels should be turned to the curb. On an upgrade, the front wheels should be turned away from the curb. If there is a curb, your wheels should be turned toward the curb. Make sure your parking brake is pulled tight. If you have car with standard transmission, put it in gearshift in Reverse when parking downhill. When parking uphill, on automatic transmission, place the lever in the Park position.

Q. What does a solid white line between parking lot or must you wait until you cross a broken line?—M. S., Austin

A. White lines separate lanes of traffic traveling the same direction. A solid white line channels the traffic into left or right and straight-ahead lanes. Normally, drivers should not cross a solid white line until you can go around the block, then to the proper lane and make your desired turn.

Q. A friend who took a motorcycle accident test twice told me that the first time was asked to ride in the center of the lane next, he was told to ride in the left half of the lane. Which part of the lane is the safest for motorcyclists?—J. S., Houston

A. The safest section of the road is the left half of the lane. The center collects grease and oil from other vehicles and can be slippery.

Halloween Hints

For Fun 'n' Safety
 Ghosts, goblins, ghouls and gnomes may come out on Halloween, but nothing scares parents as much as waiting for their kids to come home from trick-or-treat night. Here are tips for a scare-free holiday.

How aerosols can add to fun and safety.
 • See that young children are accompanied by adults or older friends.
 • Map out a safe route around the neighborhood, and set a time for the kids to return home.
 • Costumes should show up at night. Take a minute to spray-paint day-glo designs on their outfits. Or apply glitter or sequins to make clothes sparkle in the dark. Use spray glue; it's quick and neat. For safe use of aerosols, always follow label directions.
 • Make sure youngsters use flashlights to light their way. Avoid using candles.
 • Paint funny faces with make-up on your kids. Then they won't have to wear uncomfortable masks which sometimes block vision.
 • Cornstalk Halloween decorations won't shed if you apply hair spray.
 • Warn kids never to accept candy from strangers. Instead, make a little party for your trick-or-treaters. Serve your trick-or-treaters apple wedges garnished with tasty spray-cheese, and with tasty spray-cheese, and some of the candy they've collected. Show them how to decorate cupcakes and add zip to chocolate drinks with aerosol whipped cream.

Proposed Amendments Subject Of Seminar

On November 7th, Texas voters will decide if the State Constitution will be changed by a Property Tax Amendment proposed by the State Legislature during the Special Session which ended last month. A series of special one-day workshops in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and Lubbock September 26th through 29th will focus on fiscal impacts to local governments—cities, counties, school districts and special purpose districts—should the Amendment pass. The workshops have been planned to help the local government officials prepare for the financial and administrative changes anticipated as a result of the Property Tax Amendment.

A full day of dialogue with a panel of experts will be capped off by a special two-hour discussion of issues pro and con by State Representative Tim Von Dohlen of Goliad, Chairman of the House Constitutional Amendments Committee and Representative John Bryant of Dallas, chief opposition leader on the Amendment. The workshop series is sponsored by the Comprehensive Planning Institute (CPI), an educational and research organization based in Dallas.

The Special Session of the State Legislature and its major outcome, the proposed Property Tax Amendment, came as a response to several dynamic forces such as the passage of Proposition 13 in California, recent litigation on constitutionality and equity of current practice in property tax administration in Texas and the ever-growing mood of the general public for tax relief in general and the Property Tax Amendment in particular.

To date, not much is known about the Tax Amendment by the general public or by the local government officials who will certainly feel some very real impacts from the Amendment itself and the related statutory actions that are sure to follow when the Legislature returns to its regular session in January 1979.

In order that the effects of the Amendment and future actions can be better known and understood by these local government leaders, this series of four workshops has been organized in various parts of the state.

Texas Research League Executive Director James McGrew will serve as Moderator of the Dallas and Houston programs, and Jay Stanford, Executive Director of the Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations will moderate the San Antonio and Lubbock sessions. Other impact analysts to serve on the panel include Dr. Richard Hooker of the University of Houston who served as a Special Advisor to the Legislature and Governor's Office during the last legislative Session; Walt Parker, Executive Director of the School Tax Assessment Practices Board; Warren Newberry of the Texas Farm Bureau; Dan Brody, Staff Member of the House Study Group; Craig Foster, Director of the Property Tax Project for the Intercultural Development Research Association; and Steve Fanning, Managing Director of the Comprehensive Planning Institute.

The proposed Amendment is one package comprised of six major elements. These include 1) a change in the basic requirement to tax intangible property and personal property, 2) a change to permit taxation of agricultural land and timber land based on productive capacity rather than market value, 3) changes to homestead exemptions for all property owners, and particularly the disabled and elderly home owners, 4) "Truth-In-Taxation" requirements for notice and public hearings on tax changes, 5) establishment of limitations on State appropriations so that disbursements cannot exceed revenues, 6) provision for equitable and uniform property appraisal and tax administration standards.

Although the Amendment deals with taxation issues, beneath the obvious economic concerns are much deeper institutional impacts that will most assuredly occur if the voters approve the Amendment November 7th. For example, the Amendment will give the State Legislature far more power than it currently has, to decide how the local governments in various parts of the State will handle their fiscal affairs against a rising demand of people for more and better services at less cost. The objective of the proposed one-day workshop is to promote better understanding of what exactly the various provisions of the proposed Amendment are, how these provisions will collectively impact the lives of Texas residents through changes in the services they now receive from local and state governmental agencies. Persons wanting further information or are interested in attending these workshops should call the Comprehensive Planning Institute in Dallas at (214) 328-3224.

WHAT ONE PERSON CAN DO

Jesse de la Cruz remembers working in vineyards and melon patches in the 1930's; traveling from one end of California to the other, living on river banks, broiling in 110-degree summers, freezing in the winter, earning ten cents an hour.

Today, with her husband Arnold and three other farmworkers families, Mrs. de la Cruz grows cherry tomatoes, beans, cucumbers and other vegetables on a 40-acre farm they bought cheap from a nearly bankrupt farmer. With help from their six children and a timely crop loan from a rural anti-poverty agency called the West Side Planning Group, the four families turned a profit in their first year as farmers. Despite two years of severe drought, their farms have survived. And their success has given heart to scores of other farmworkers who long for the chance to till their own soil.

Mrs. de la Cruz was one of the first women to take an active part in the United Farm Workers Union, led by Cesar Chavez. She has testified at Congressional hearings on the minimum wage
