New Garbage Pit Biggest Issue

Commissioners Hold Short Meeting Monday

The Floyd County commissioners met Monday in their shortest business session in recent months

Steve Herber and Sharon Hillis, Floyd County extension agents, met with the court to ask for new shelving for the storage room in the agricultural building. The agents asked for 12 cabinets at a cost of $80 each.

The court decided to let the extension agents check with the Texas Surplus Outlet in Lubbock to try and find cabinets at a lower cost. Herber will report back at the next commissioners

Bill Feuerbacher, Floydada city manager, requested that the county dig a new garbage pit at the Floydada dump

The court agreed and authorized precinct three commissioner Grigsby Milton to supervise the work.

Commissioner Milton proposed that the court transfer $30,000 from the Special Road Fund to the precincts.

Each precincty will receive $7,500. The commissioners also accepted

Sharon Hillis' resignation from her post as county home demonstration agent, effective Monday.

In other business, the court agreed to consider purchasing cars for the Sheriff's Department but made no committment until they could investigate the cost and the possibility of buying state

Interception Ruins Bobcat Upset Hopes

The Longhorns escaped from Mitch ell-Zimmerman Field with a 26-18 victory over Dimmitt Friday night, but the Bobcats weren't as easy as their 1-3 record going into the game indicated. Somebody forgot to tell the Bobcats that this was supposed to be an easy victory for Lockney.

The visitors led 12-7 at halftime. The Horns came out after intermission with fire in their eyes and scored a couple of quick TDs, but Dimmit refused to roll over and play dead, coming back with another touchdown early in the fourth period and pulling within a single point of the 'Horns. The Longhorn victory wasn't secure until Junior McDonald picked off a Bobcat pass and ran it back for a score with 34 seconds to play.

Roel Rodriguez scored first for the Longhorns, going in standing up from five yards away with 9:59 remaining in the second period. Rodriguez's scoring run capped a 52-yard drive on the Longhorns' second possession of the evening. Big plays in the drive were a five-yard run by Rodriguez on fourthand-one, a six-yard effort by Curtis Ford which gave the 'Horns a first at the Dimmitt 24, and a 19-yard Steve Warren-to-Kevin Evans pass which put the ball on the five. Rodriguez scored on

The Bobcats recovered a Longhorn fumble at the Lockney 43-yard line and, first rattle out of the box, Bobcat quarterback Robin Rvan found end Steve Stone open. The pass play was good for six points. Kicker Gary Naylor missed the extra point, however, leaving the Longhorns ahead by one with 6:34 left in the second period.

The 'Horns ran three plays and punted, and the Bobcats took over on their 25. It took them 12 plays to cover the 75 yards. Speedy Jimmy Stewart picked up yardage on the ground, and Ryan connected with Stone, Randy Washington and Naylor for aerial yardage. The Bobcat quarterback sneaked a yard for the touchdown, which came with but 22 seconds left on the second-quarter clock. Stewart's run for two extras was stopped short of the mark, and the score was Dimmitt 12, Lockney 7 at halftime.

SECOND HALF

Kicking with a stiff breeze at his back, Naylor pegged the kickoff into the end zone. Apparently fired up after intermission, the Longhorns went right to work. That 80-yard scoring drive took 'em three plays and 56 seconds, friends. Rodriguez reeled off 21 yards on the ground, then four more, and then Curtis Ford broke one for 55 yards and the Longhorns' go-ahead touchdown. Warren's conversion kick missed the mark, and the 'Horns had a one-point edge, 13-12, with 11:04 showing on the third-quarter clock.

The locals were never behind again after that, but it was close for a while. On their next possesssion, the Longnorns scored again, making it 19-12 midway through the third quarter. The Lockney Independent School District trustees will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, October 15, in the board room at the school administrative office. Usually held the second Monday of each month, the school board meeting was moved to the third Monday this

The short agenda includes the following items: open bids on roofing; call for bids on school owned lot; discuss update of school policies; discuss assistant for girls' athletics; discuss final payment of field house before the next board meeting; superintendent's

County Tax Appraisal Board Holds Organizational Meeting

The Floyd County tax appraisal board held its first organizational meeting Thursday in the county courthouse to elect officers. The members named Travis Jones, president of the Floydada Independent School District, the chairman of the board by acclamation. Tom Duvall, the president of the Lockney Independent School District, also received his post as board secretary by acclamation of the members. There were no other candidates.

The board also informally discussed several professional property evaluation services. The board will hire a service soon to begin the property reevalua-

The duties of the board under Senate Bill 621, which set up the appraisal board, do not officially begin until Jan. 1, 1980. But there are only about 10 evaluation services in the state, according to Travis Jones, and 254 counties trying to hire them. So the board must decide which one to hire soon.

Secretary Of State Would Appoint Notaries Statewide

(Editor's Note: Texas voters will go to the polls Nov. 6 to consider three proposed amendments to the state constitution. The following is an analysis of the three items, based on a report submitted by the Texas Legislative Council.)

Amendment No. 1 would authorize the legislature to provide terms of office for notaries public from two to four years. The amendment would also allow the secretary of state to appoint a convenient number of notaries for the state instead of the present system of appointing notaries for each county.

Current law gives a notary authority to act in an official capacity anywhere in the state with the provision that he or she maintain a residence or principal place of business in the county for which he or she was appointed. The proposed amendment would eliminate this requirement

The notaries would apply directly to the secretary of state for appointment rather than apply to the county clerk and have the application sent to the secretary of state for confirmation.

The new law, if approved by the voters would take effect Jan. 1, 1980.

Supporters of the amendment say that extending the term of office for notaries from two to four years and appointing them for the state instead of for each county would reduce government personnel, as well as reducing the cost to government and the notaries by decreasing the number of renewals and reappointments.

Another argument for the amendmen is that processing the applications is time-consuming and costly for county clerks, who might better spend their time providing other services. Opponents argue that the personal contact to found in county clerks' offices would be lost fi they were eliminated from the process.

This amendment, they say, would increase the state's control over a function that has been handled successfully at a local level. It would add to a growing state bureaucracy and increase the centralization of state government. (Next issue: Amendment No. 2 -Legislative Review)

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Most consumer's only contact with the energy industry occurs when they fill up their gas tanks from time to time or pay the monthly utility bill. Few people are familiar with the industry's overall contribution to our economic well being. Here are a few facts on how you benefit from oil and gas production in West Texas.

The sale of crude oil and natural gas in the 17th Congressional District in 1978 was valued at $1.9 billion.

An approximate 162.3-million barrels of crude oil, valued at $1.5 billion, and 347 billion cubic feet of natural gas, valued at $400 million, were produced in the district in 1978.

Owners of royalty in the district received $232.4 million as their share of Producers and royalty owners in the district supported state government through production tax payments estimated at $95.7 million. Taxes levied on the gross value of crude oil from the district amounted to $69.4 million, with an additional $26.3 million in revenue coming from natural gas.

School districts and other governmental jurisdictions also benefit from property taxes paid on oil and gas operations. (Statewide, the petroleum industry last year provided $992.5 million in production tax revenues for the operation of state-funded governmental and educational enterprises.)

The Texas Employment Commission reported that 15,371 persons worked in the petroleum industry in the 17th District during 1978, earning wages totaling $210.2 million.

According to Petroleum Information's 1978 Resume, there were 4,494 wells drilled in the district last year. Of this number, some 574 were classified as wildcats. The Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association estimates that approximately $410 million was expended in drilling 1,999 oil wells and 855 gas wells. Approximately $116.8 million was lost by operators in drilling 1,640 dry holes.

Stenholm

The operation of various processing plants also contributed to the economy of the district in 1978. The facilities included three refineries, with a total capacity of 82,300 barrels per day; three petrochemical plants; and 53 natural gas processing plants, with a total capacity of 827.2 million cubic feet of natural gas per day.

So far, almost every government action with regard to oil production has been counter-productive. High taxes, price controls, and environmental regulations have hindered our ability to produce. Domestic oil output peaked at 10 million barrels a day in 1971, and has since been declining at a rate of half a million barrels a year.

Without realizing it, we are dependent on oil and gas production not only for the energy to power our cars or heat our homes, but also we must rely on oil revenues to pay state and local taxes, to provide jobs for our citizens, and to promote capital investment.

Certainly we must develop a more realistic attitude towards those sectors of the economy that produce goods and services. Everyone's well being is dependent on our ability to be productive. If we continue to hamper industrial development, then we will one day find ourselves relegated to the position of a

Senate Approves Amendments

The U.S. Senate has approved and sent to the House of Representatives a bill which amends and supplements the acreage limitation and residency provisions of the Reclamation Law of 1902.

Provisions of Senate Bill 14, which passed the Senate on a 47 - 23 vote. would raise the current acreage limitation from 160 acres to 1,280 acres operated by an individual farmer.

Although the 160-acre limitation has been in effect since the 1902 law was passed, it has not been enforced. As a result, numerous farm operations throughout the West use Bureau of Reclamation water on more than 160 acres, a limit not attuned with comtemporary farming methods, according to the board of directors of Water Inc.

The bill now goes to the House, where it will battle the clock for consideration this session. Rep. Al Ulman is reportedly ready to introduce a Reclamation bill of his own and this may slow the process.

German Visitor Finds Americans 'Down To Earth'

VISITOR - Dr. Brigitte Fleishmann Ellie Anderson take time to inspect and her Floydadan cousin and hostess some relics of American history.

A German visitor to the J.C. Anderson family recently departed for her home, taking memories and souveniers of what she called "the real America." Dr. Brigitte Fleischmann came to the U.S. two months ago to study the Creole and Acadian cultures in Louisiana but made a two-week side trip to visit her cousin, Mrs. Anderson, in Floydada. "At first, I was afraid of the heat," Dr. Fleischmann said, "because in Germany I get tired in summer. But here, I got so vital - it must be the vibrant Texas climate." After spending time in New Orleans, which Dr. Fleischmann described as a cultural shock, she felt more at ease with the South Plains because it was more what she had expected of Ameri-"New Orleans is an international city, not American at all," she said. "I'm really seeing the American way of life for the first time here." The Andersons escorted her to local points of interest and to New Mexico. where she hoped to see some American Indians, one of her academic areas of

'I finally got to actually see an Indian in New Mexico," she said. "But we couldn't get into the pueblo when we were there because they were having some kind of closed ceremony and no whites were allowed." Dr. Fleischmann has studied the Navajo, Apache and Pueblo Indians, using other researchers' observations, while she was in

Like American tourists, Dr. Fleischmann came back loaded down with Indian bracelets, Mexican paintings and books and literature about the areas she

"I never thought I'd do that," she commented about buying the souveniers. She also took back to Germany a Texas straw cowboy hat.

Dr. Fleischmann tried to see every thing she could while here. She visited schools, social clubs, historic sites and museums, including participating in a square dance.

'The schools are very different here," she noted. In Germany, we have classes in the morning but not in the afternoon. We believe that children study better then. Of course, some classes are held on Saturdays.' Discipline in German schools, she said, was strictly enforced, unlike their American counterparts. Americans are friendlier and more helpful to strangers than people in Europe generally are, she said. The Germans especially are reserved. "At first, I felt shy and wouldn't ask for information even about how to board a streetcar in New Orleans," she said. But now I felt comfortable. That's why I plan to return. "The shopping is so much fun and so much cheaper here. I can buy a dress for one-fifth what it would cost in Germany," she said. "And I love Texan food, like steak and tacos." She did discover that food is sweeter here, because sugar comes from cane in the U.S., while in Europe it is refined from sugar beets.

Dr. Fleischmann found the pace of life in Floydada pleasing and it reminded her of her childhood home.

"I was born in a little town in Lower Bavaria," she said, "and I prefer the small towns. I'm forced to live in Munich because of my profession but I'm still interested in folk cultures." She is not altogether unfamiliar to American culture, because of her Indian studies and the presence of large numbers of American students in Munich Dr. Fleischmann attributed that influx of young Americans to a possible attraction to the German way of thought brought on by the logic of their earlier educations. "But on the other hand," she mused,

"it could be a form of escapism from American practicality. For Americans in general, Dr.

Fleischmann found them pleasant and likeable, so much so that she hopes for a return soon.
"Americans for the most part are down-to-earth," she commented in parting. "That allows them to appreciate others and to be kind." We can only hope that more of our European cousins will learn to be so generous as Dr. Fleischmann.

the Texas Voluntary Cost Containment meeting on October 5 in Austin. "The goal was to achieve at least a 2.6 percentage point reduction (over the 1977 level) in the rate of increase in hospital per admission costs. This goal was established even though during the previous two years, 3.5 percent had already been stripped from the rate of increase. Not only did Texas hospitals meet their goal, they reduced the rate of increase in hospital per admission costs by 4.02 percent.

"This is a savings of $47.11 for each and every admission treated in Texas hospitals in 1978. This most recent success brings the three year savings total to almost $300 million. Additionally, the average cost per admission in Texas hospitals now stands $389 below the national average. That means that the citizens of Texas pay 30 percent less than the national average cost per stay in Texas," said Hurst.

"We're proud that the Texas Voluntary Effort has come to be recognized as a leader in improving hospital productivity and containing the rate of increase in hospital costs. These successes are readily documentable and serve as proof that hospitals can and do save more than lives," said Richard L. Epperson, Co-chairman, Texas Voluntary Cost Containment Committee.

Immediate Past President of Texas Medical Association Mylie E. Durham, Jr., M.D., said, "The results of the first year of the Texas and the national Voluntary Efforts substantiate the health care industry's position against the imposition of arbitrarily defined revenue limitations on hospitals. President Carter's mandatory "cap" cost control legislation (H.R. 2626), if enacted by Congress would mandate a marked decrease in both the quality and quantity of health care services provided. Due to our historical record of productivity improvement and cost containment, resulting in lower per admission costs and lengthys-of-stay, Texas patients and others who receive medical treatment within the hospitals of our state would suffer more under arbitrary revenue limitations '

The Lockney Shorthorns and the Floydada Breezers split a pair of football games Thursday at Floydada. Floydada won the seventh-grade game 14-0, and the Shorthorns were the victors, by a score of 12-8, in the eighth-grade contest.

SEVENTH GRADE The seventh-grade Breezers took advantage of four turnovers to post their 14-0 win. The Shorthorns started the game with a couple of good drives,

Robert Rendon scored both Lockney touchdowns in the eighth-grade 'Horns' 12-8 victory over the Breezers. Rendon tallied from about 10 yards out and from three yards away. Both TDs came in the second half.

The Shorthorns put together some very good sustaining drives, Fuiten said, and kept the ball away from Floydada throughout most of the second half.

Quarterback Jackie Cunyus completed passes to Richard Luna (10 yards) and Cookie Vasquez (15 yards), and Rendon rushed for over 100 yards in the game. Richard Luna intercepted a Floydada pass.

Ninth, JV Lose To Whirlwinds

Floydada won the freshman game 20-6 and the junior varsity game 22-16 Thursday night, but Lockney coaches said both Longhorn teams played their best football games of the year thus far.

NINTH GRADE

Robert Hernandez scored Lockney's touchdown in the ninth-grade contest. The Whirlwinds overcame an early Lockney lead, scoring a pair of TDs in the final period, to take the win.

Receiving coaches' mention for outstanding play in the game were Longhorns Joey Davis, Mario Arellano, Kyle Brock, Aurelio Salas, Greg Gonzales,

"We played better than we have all year." Coach Steve Culwell said. "We just had some letdowns."

JUNIOR VARSITY

Lockney led most of the way in the junior varsity game Thursday night, but Floydada was ahead at the final buzzer. The Whirlwinds scored the go-ahead touchdown with about a minute and a

Prime Time For Women

Workshop Slated

West Texas women are invited on Nov. a7 to "Prime Time for Women," a day of workshops focused on particular problems and satisfactions with which they are well acquainted - those derived from being a woman.

The keynote address will be presented in the Texas Tech University Center by Sarah Weddington, attorney and former state legislator from Texas and now Special Assistant to President Jimmy Carter. She chairs Carter's Interdepartmental Tasks Force on Women.

Woman's many faces, including those she wears in her professional, practical and personal lives, are workshop topics. The program is divided into three major, consecutive sections, each consisting of several concurrent workshops. Participats will have a choice of one workshop in each section.

The first, "The Profession-Prime Time Woman,' 10:15-11:45 a.m., deals with subjects ranging from earn-

Weather Complicates Use Of Cotton

Harvest-Aid Chemical

The cotton farmer's annual problem three-fourths of a field has 80 percent or of deciding whether to apply harvest-aid chemicals to his crop is being complicated on the High Plains this year by the weather, reports the area cotton agrono-mist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Harvest-aid chemicals prepare the cotton for harvesting by reducing foliage and plant moisture that would otherwise interfere with harvesting operations. In areas such as this where cotton is harvested by mechanical strippers, desiccants are needed. These are chemicals which kill the plant tissue and cause a rapid loss of water from the Major factors in getting good results from desiccants are plant and weather conditions during and following application, said Dr. James R. Supak, the Extension cotton agronomist here.

"The percentage of open bolls is still the best guide in determining when to apply harvest-aid chemicals," Supak said. Normally, application of desicants should be delayed until 80 to 85 percent of the bolls are open, he said. The remaining bolls on the plant should be hard to dent by pressure exerted between thumb and forefinger and too tough to cut easily with a sharp knife. he

"Due to weather conditions, some cotton is opening prematurely and without uniformity," Supak said. He said this is most common in portions of fields that appear heavily drouth-

The wilted plants in these areas contain some open bolls and some that obviously aren't mature but are already drying and cracking. In other areas of the same field, plants show less stress and there is less open cotton.

"Previous experience tells us that prematurely opened bolls tend to be less stormproof," the Extension agronomist noted. "Consequently if at least

VEGETABLE GROWERS AND ENER-GY CONSERVATION - Vegetable growers will take a hard look at energy conservation measures at the annual meeting of the Texas Vegetable Association, Oct. 17-18, in Houston. Discussions related to energy conservations will include gasohol production from agricultural products, pumping plant efficiency and its effects on irrigation costs, drip irrigation, vegetable transportation and use of fungicides through irrigation systems. Texas Commissioner of Agriculture Reagan Brown will speak at a noon luncheon on Oct. 18.

more open cotton, it might be wise for the grower to apply a desiccant to allow earlier harvest.

If the "green" fourth of the field is positioned so he can work around it, the grower should delay treatment on that part of the field, Supak recommended. If it can't be worked around, treat the whole field, he said.

"Waiting for the green cotton to open could result in costly losses due to field weathering," he cautioned.

In stripper harvesting areas such as this, arsenic acid and Paraquat are the chemicals used as desiccants. "On the Plains," Supak said, "many farmers prefer Paraquat over arsenic acid ecause it tends to cause leaves to shed rather than stick on the plant.'

The addition of Accelerate, an enhancer, to Paraquat or arsenic acid improves their effectiveness, reported Dr. Charles Miller, plant physiologist at Texas A&M University in College Station. Miller also found that under ideal conditions, in which 90 percent or more of the cotton is open and the plants are mature but not stressed, addition of Accelerate to sodium chlorate provides sufficient defoliation for stripper harvesting.

Supak recommended the following chemicals and rates for desiccation: 1 to 1/2 quarts of arsenic acid per acre: 1 to 2 pints of Paraquat per acre; 1 to 2 pints Paraquat plue 1 to 2 pints of Accelerate per are; or 11/2 gallons of sodium chlorate plue 1 to 2 pints of Accelerate per acre.

Pennwalt, one of the companies that manufactures arsenic acid, also has a state label which allows tank mixing 11/2 pints per acre of arsenic acid with 11/2 pints per acre of accelerate.

"Some farmers already have called in to report that Paraquat at a rate of one-third to one pint per cre alone or with Accelerate generally failed to provide acceptable results in stressed cotton," Supak said. "This indicates that arsenic acid or the high rates of Paraquat will be necessary to desiccate this toughened cotton.'

Supak also noted that a few farmers who plan to use Paraquat, but who failed to obtain a private applicator's license, are finding they cannot buy the chemical because it is a restricted-use pesticide. They may be able to obtain a special "single product, single pur-chase, single use" certification in emergency situations, he advised. This can be obtained through an approved dealer; the Texas Department of Agriculture, or county Extension agents who are certified and licensed as non-commercial applicators, he said.

Arsenic acid is not a restricted-use pesticide and can be bought even if the purchaser doesn't have a private applicator's license, Supak said

Officials have announced that ultralow volume Malathion will be applied in the sixteenth year of the High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program at a contract cost of $3.59 per gallon.

The price was revealed by Ed Dean, Field Service Director of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, following competitive bid openings at the PCG offices October 3. Ten bids were received, ranging in price from the $3.59 low to a high of $8.10 per gallon, with the contract awarded to low bidder Scam Flying Service of Panhandle, Texas.

In 1978 two contractors were used in the program, one at $2.24 and the other at $2.28 per gallon.

Three things account for the higher price this year, Dean says. "The price of aviation gasoline has almost doubled, indications are that the number of acres to be sprayed this year will be considerably less than last, and the fields to be sprayed by a single contractor are scattered from Briscoe County on the north to Dawson County on the south.'

The first application this year will involve four applicator planes, to take the air October 8. Subsequent sprayings, weather permitting, will cover all weevil-infested cotton every seven days until the weevils' food supply is destroyed by frost, Dean said.

Scouting teams have been surveying the control zone for the past six weeks and have targeted about 20,000 acres for spraying in the initial application. The first spraying in 1978, beginning on September 27, was aimed at almost 200,000 acres.

Aggregate acreage sprayed last year came to about 600,000. "But with the smaller weevil numbers this year and the later start," Dean states, "it's a sprayed this year will fall far below that figure." virtual certainty that the total acres

Weather-induced late plantings in the control zone along the eastern edge of the High Plains and the Low Plains just below the Caprock was one of the big factors keeping weevil populations below normal this spring, entomologists say. Weevils emerging from hibernation in the early spring, they explain, soon starved to death because there was no cotton on which to feed.

The Boll Weevil Control Program was organized by PCG in 1963 to stop the spread of boll weevils from below the Caprock across the vast acreage of cotton on the Plains to the west. It is jointly financed by High Plains cotton producers in PCG's 25 counties and the U.S. and Texas Departments of Agricul-

Virus Enemies Of Insects

Important Aid In Management

By Robert L. Haney

TAES Science Writer

Viruses that kill particular insects, and only those insects, are a powerful ally that scientists at Texas A&M University seek to add to their coordinated pest control strategies.

Viral pesticides have a number of tremendously attractive characteristics; they're not toxic but are highly virulent and specific for target pest species. They're also naturally occurring, not able to induce resistance in insect populations, and they are safe as judged by Environmental Protection Agency

The potential and promise for the use of viral agents as pesticides is a subject of comprehensive studies by the U.S. National Academy of Sciences, the World Health Organization, the Food and Agriculture Organization, and the Environmental Protection Agency. Well-organized and well-funded efforts to use insect pathogenic viruses are underway in the United Kingdom. Europe and other countries of the Scientists involved in this research for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station call their insect control systems that make use of all compatible methods "integrated pest management strate-

Station research is aimed at developing better techniques for virus identification as one means for conducting more complete studies on basic biology and epidemiology.

In order to find ways of selecting for, or genetically improving, virus strains, the genetics and the nature of biological specificity of the baculoviruses are being studied.

The improved viruses, when found or developed, will be added to the Experiment Station's array of methods used to combat insect pests.

No compatible control method including chemicals is overlooked for use in integrated pest management strategies. But integrated use of all methods makes life extremely hazardous for pest insects. Instead of total reliance on chemicals, this system permits their minimum usage, and in some cases, their exclusion.

An interesting sidelight on such careful use of chemicals is that it often prevents insects from becoming resis-

"Viral pesticides have great potential for efficient, low-cost, non-polluting control of some of our most troublesome insects," concludes Dr. Max Summers, who is in charge of this area of research for the Agricultural Experiment Station.

ENERGY FACTS

The energy crisis of 1973 was a planned operation. The PHILADELPH. IA ENQUIRER, July 22, 1973 reported a study by reporters Donald Bartlett and James D. Steele that charged the following:

(1) American multi-national oil firms made deliberate, long-term decisions to expand operations in foreign countries to meet demands for oil products in Europe and Asia;

(2) The Nixon Administration failed to lift oil import restrictions in 1969 and said that there were no oil supply

(3) Simultaneously, American oil companies were telling U.S. customers to cut back on consumption, while urging their customers in Europe and Asia to buy more oil products;

(4) The American taxpayer is subsidizing the sale of petroleum abroad through tax allowances and benefits granted to American oil companies: (5) The gasoline shortage of 1973 was created through default and bungling by oil companies and the federal government

(6) In 1973, the oil industry launched an advertising campaign to make the American consumer feel responsible for the nation's gasoline shortage. Yet for every barrel (42 gallons) of oil products sold in the United States, the five largest companies (Exxon, Mobil, Texaco, Gulf and Standard Oil of california) sold nearly two barrels abroad; (7) The percentage of crude oil refined in the United States has steadily declined and has steadily increased in foreign countries: (8) The demand for crude oil has increased 110 percent in the United States during the past 20 years; in Japan the demand increased 2,567 percent; in West Germany, 1,597 percent and in Italy, 1,079 percent.

The Economist, September 22-28, 1979 reported that Great Britain is to make a net transfer to the rest of the European Economic Community members of $2.188 to $2.625 billion during 1980(converted from English pounds at $2.1880). The publication explains that

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.

He sold very good hot dogs. He put up signs along the highway and advertised in the newspaper telling how good they were.

He stood on the side of the road and cried:

"Buy a hot dog, Mister?" And people bought.

He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. He finally got his son home from college to help him out.

But then something happened. His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio and watching TV?

There's a big depression. The foreign situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse.'

Whereupon the father thought,

"Well, my son's been to college, he listens to the radio and watches TV and he ought to know.'

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his signs and cancelled his newspaper ads and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight. "You're right, son" the father said to the boy.

"We certainly are in the middle of a great depression.'

THE STEEPLEJACK

Look closely . . . in this picture a man is risking his life!

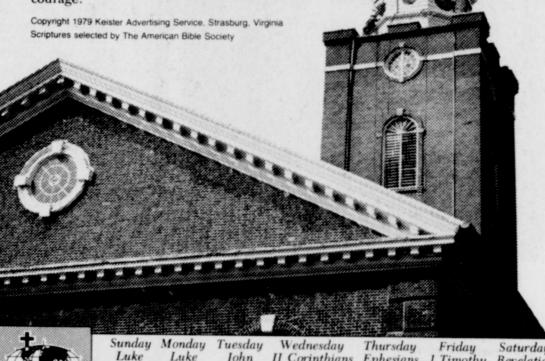

An old and respected trade is his. It had its beginning centuries ago when Christianity first began to express its devotion in unique forms of architecture. How could Christians proclaim constantly their faith in Christ? How could they lift the eyes of others to behold the Lord of Life?

Soon, over gabled village roofs rose gleaming spires. And men who tilled the fields, and men who trod the lanes, rejoiced to behold the symbol

Then one day cities replaced villages . . skyscrapers dwarfed the spires of God. And so, on the day this picture was taken, ten thousand people passed by and never raised their eyes. Only a few looked upward and thought in mild surprise, "Why, isn't that a man way up there on the steeple?"

Yes. A MAN. One of hundreds of millions whose skill and courage continue to be needed as the Church fulfills its mission

Maybe your church doesn't have a steeple. But it has a task to challenge your skills . . . your courage.
