KISS - threat or menace?

The music concert scheduled to be put on Halloween night in Lubbock by the rock group KISS has stirred a controversy between teenagers and their parents that has reached even into the homes of many Floydadans.

The colorful (let's be generous) group scares the daylight out of many of the "over 30" generation. They've been called everything from devil-worshippers with actual Satanic powers over their listeners to a bunch of mindless maniacs.

But most of the kids don't seem to find anything dangerous about them. Personally, I'm going to withhold judgement until I've heard more than two points of view. In fact, I'm rather curious to see them for myself but (being of strong Scottish background) I balk at shelling out nine dollars for an hour and a half of music.

As a journalist, I'm in favor of the freedom of speech and expression for whomever wishes to listen and for the freedom of assembly so that those that want can come and go as they wish. Those freedoms extend to KISS' opponents, too.

But as a person, I feel, judging from the evidence that I've seen, the whole thing is a tempest in a teapot. My parents got uptight when John Lennon announced that the Beatles "were more popular than Jesus Christ." My grandmother forbade my mother to bring Benny Goodman records into the house and my great grandmother almost had a heart attack when her daughter strolled in with bobbed hair.

My father's family were ranchers and didn't get out much.

One of the musicians does a fire-breathing act that some people are afraid youngsters will try to copy. I have a very sharp recollection of being ten years old (long before KISS ever happened) and sneaking off with a can of lighter fluid and matches to practice the same stunt.

It was lots of fun until the day I came home with burned lips and a foul taste in my mouth. Not only did I heal, I also learned a valuable lesson about fire-breathing.

The young are young only once. I suspect that if we give them their head to judge what is right for themselves we may be pleasantly surprised.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White Attorney General

Are you tired of exorbitant utility bills? Although we may not be able to amount, there are several things we can do to reduce the amount of energy we use to heat and cool our homes.

Many Texas houses are constructed in such a way that they lose two to four times the total volume of their interior air in one hour's time. This leakage, called "air infiltration", occurs anytime there is an uncontrolled movement of air into or out of a home. Recent studies have shown that the major sources of air infiltration are the sole plate (the bottom 2x4 or 2x6 in the homes' wall construction), electrical outlets, exterior windows, fireplaces, vents for bathrooms, dryers and ovens, and recessed lighting fixtures.

The cost of stopping air infiltration depends on the source of the problem and how accessible it is. In most cases, however, caulking and weatherstripping will reduce air infiltration dramatically.

Insulation is another way to greatly reduce the amount of energy used to heat and cool our homes. I also is one of the most cost-efficient in that a properly insulated attic often will pay for itself in energy savings in one year's time. Insulation also is easy to install; an easy do-it-yourself project.

When air infiltration is reduced and a home is insulated, then the air cooling/heating system will not be forced to work as hard and a substantial savings can be achieved.

Perhaps the quickest way to same money is by controlling the air conditioning thermostat. A savings of 4% or more will be gained on monthly air conditioning bills for each degree up in the summer or down in the winter. Further adjustments to the thermostat when the house is unoccupied or when people are sleeping will add even more to the savings. Fans that circulated air enable the thermostat to be set higher in the summer and lower in the winter by boosting the movement of cool air through a house and circulating downward the warmer air that collects at the ceiling.

Next to air conditioning, a hot water heater is the biggest single user of energy in the home. Savings can be had by adjusting the water heater's thermostat down to 120 degrees (Fahrenheit). Also, the efficiency of the water heater can be increased by checking for leaking pipes and faucets, proper insulation and by draining several gallons of water each month to remove rust and sediment.

Many of us love to sit in front of the fireplace on a winter's evening. Unfortunately, while we are sitting there, many fireplaces draw out of the house nearly as much warm air as they put into the house. If your fireplace does not have an outside air intake for combustion, then the fire will draw upon air from the living area. A glass front can be installed to shut off air escaping from the living area and will actually help radiate heat into the home. Finally, dampers should be tight fitting and should always be closed when the fireplace is not in use.

Try to use as many of these energy saving tips as you can. You may be pleasantly surprised at the money you will save.

Bullock calls tax proposal

'An invitation to an income tax'

In a statement released to a House Ways and Means Subcommittee and read by assistant comptroller Walt Lilie, Bullock said "increasing the one percent city sales tax is nothing short of greed."

Bullock said the Governor's Mayors Advisory Committee is advocating a ridiculous proposal.

He said the 20 mayors who supported the idea and put it forward this week should first have their heads examined and then be given the "bad idea of the year" award.

Bullock warned that "opening the barn door to a mass raid on the sales tax will lead to an income tax, something I am convinced Texans want to avoid at all costs."

Bullock pointed out that Texas would be on the "same sad slide as New York City" with an eight percent sales tax if Texas had to pay a four percent state, three percent city and one percent transit tax as advocated by these mayors.

"And, it won't stop there, whatq we'll end up with is a sales tax for the mosquito control district, the drainage district, the navigation district, each city council member and so forth and so forth," he said.

He said by the time the dust has settled it won't be a question whether a person can afford a pair of shoes but rather pay the sales taxes on them.

Bullock said the state has reduced the ad valorem tax to next to nothing so state government won't be competing with property taxing efforts at local levels and that cities shouldn't be lusting after the state's chief tax resource.

State sales taxes last year produced about $2.5 billion in income — or nearly 42 percent of the taxes collected to pay for state government.

"I imagine that the counties and the school districts will want a sales tax too if the cities are going to continually grab every sales tax dollar they can to meet their budgets," he said.

"It's a rotten idea. Shame on these mayors for even suggesting it."

Congressional Comment:

Rep. Charles Stenholm

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In response to the rapid rise in hospital costs, the House Ways and Means Committee recently reported the Hospital Cost Containment Act. This legislation would place mandatory controls on hospital bills if price increases go above a certain rate.

The bill, as proposed, establishes a cumbersome method for reducing the cost of health care by placing a lid on revenues, but does nothing to decrease the expenses that hospitals must pay.

No one can dispute the fact that rapid cost escalations have occurred in the health services industry because of a combination of factors. The cost of malpractice insurance has risen from $100 million in 1972 to $1 billion a year. The hospital industry is subjected to an extraordinary amount of regulation by government agencies. A recent study found that over $1.1 billion was spent in New York alone to comply with regulations. This amount represents 25 percent of hospital costs in New York state. Also Medicare and Medicaid reimbursements have greatly increased the demand for services by the poor and the elderly. From the inception of Medicare in 1965 to 1977, admissions of persons over 65 increased 62 percent and the number of inpatient days increased 39 percent.

In recent years we have seen a dramatic expansion and improvement in medical care. We have been paying higher prices for what we receive, but people are receiving more and better services. If hospital revenues are curtailed, then the quality and amount of care will be diminished. The implementation of technological innovations would be hampered because their introduction might increase costs. If a revenue shortage became severe then services would have to be rationed and could even be canceled. There is an alternative that is worse than high priced service and that is no service at all. We should give high priority to our health and not take actions that will prevent the delivery of health care.

Hospital Cost Containment could be particularly detrimental to our rural areas where medical services are scarce. The construction of new hospitals and the improvement of treatment has to be paid for. These necessary services cannot be provided if the money is not there.

The rapid rise in hospital costs must be confronted in the true spirit of free enterprise. Measures need to be taken to help lower the expenses that hospitals must pay. A more responsive and consistent regulatory policy that recognizes the needs of the patients and the health care industry would be a step in the right direction. Better utilization of existing services and the prevention of needless care must be addressed.

Legislation that confronts the results of high costs instead of the causes is doomed to failure. Hospital Cost Containment will not be effective and would provide an entirely inappropriate mechanism for attempting to reduce the rate of increase in hospital costs.

Rep. Foster Whaley to scrutinize grain marketing procedures

State Rep. Foster Whaley will join a group of Texas legislators taking a hard look at problems concerning the sale and marketing of grain when a House agriculture and livestock subcommittee meets in the Commissioners' Courtroom at Gray County Courthouse at 2 p.m. Saturday (Oct. 27).

State Rep. Susan G. McBee, chairman of the Agriculture Commodities subcommittee, said the newly appointed panel will organize and hear testimony on all phases of the grain marketing procedure. The Del Rio lawmaker encouraged all area farmers and agri-businessmen to attend and participate in the hearing.

Committee member Whaley said he will ask the subcommittee to launch a study of the feasibility of a state grain insurance corporation similar to the FDIC program for lending institutions.

"Instead of guaranteeing one's money, the SGIC would insure the value of farmers' grain. The present cost of adequately bonding any size grain elevator is prohibitive," he explained.

Whaley said he has several ideas about establishing the program, but at this point he is "wide open for suggestions from farmers."

Other subcommittee members are Betty Denton, D-Waco; Bill Keese, D-Somerville; Pete Patterson, D-Brookston; and ex-officio member Forrest Green, D-Corsicana, Agriculture and Livestock Committee chairman.

Art Festival spaces sold

All the spaces for the Floydada Lions Club Arts and Crafts Festival have been sold, according to Olin Watson, one of the show organizers.

The annual show and sale will be held Dec. 1 at the Massie Activity Center, Watson said. Thirty six artists from the South Plains area will set up booth to display hundreds of art items.

Approximately two thirds of the artists are from Floyd County, with a good representation from other counties, Watson said.

County library included in grant

Floyd County had qualified for membership, according to head librarian Jackie Walls.

"We've been qualified for a long time," she said.

To carry out the programs, the 29-county system will receive a $246,607 grant from the Texas State Library appropriated funds.

"We'll get approximately $2,200 worth of Federally-funded nonfiction books," Mrs. Walls said. "We're also on the film circuit and get paperbacks from the system."

The head librarian explained that she receives films every 30 days which she uses and then passes on to the next library in the system, "a round-robin sort of thing."

"We will be adding a juvenile nonfiction section this year," Mrs. Walls noted, "which is something we haven't had before."

Much of the earlier grant money was used for reference books and encyclopedias, she said.

Under the new grant, system services in the area will focus on providing technical assistance to libraries and on increasing the range of print and audiovisual materials available to them.

Emphasis will be placed on sound filmstrips in children's literature and on guidance for pre-school-aged children.

The 16-millimeter film collection will be expanded for the system, in addition to new rotation packets for the filmstrips.

Floyd Philosopher comes up with an idea for still one more department in Washington

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on White River comes up with some more ideas this week, perhaps.

Dear editor:

I was just thinking, if interest rates, already at 14 1/2 percent, keep going up, the time may come when if you borrow money at one desk in a bank; you'd better then race to the nearest teller's window and pay it back before the interest eats you up.

In the face of the rising costs of everything you touch, financial leaders and government officials have been telling us the only way to handle inflation is to tighten our belts. "We're in for a period of austerity and we've all got to clamp down," they say.

This probably is sound advice but they ought to get somebody else to tell us. A Congressman making $57,300 a year with all utilities paid, coming out on the steps of the capitol after just voting himself a $3,000 raise, is just not

AUSTIN — The curtain opened last week on the second act of a political drama that has promised for weeks to put the Governor of Texas and the Texas Attorney General on a collision course in the courtroom.

Attorney General Mark White filed suit in Houston federal court last week seeking $10 million in damages from SEDCO, the oil drilling firm founded by Gov. Bill Clements, and a Mexican drilling firm, Permargo.

White told reporters he will seek to prove negligence on the part of both drilling firms in connection with the Ixtoc I oil well blowout, the largest in history, which washed millions of barrels of crude up onto Texas beaches this summer.

Although the well is still flowing, engineers last week managed to slow the flow with a giant metal cap placed over the wellhole on the Gulf floor.

White told reporters he declined to sue PEMEX, the Mexican government-owned oil company, because he did not want to interfere with U.S.-Mexico negotiations for damages in regard to the oil spill.

However, he left open the door on such legal action, should the negotiations fail to satisfy Texas interests. "We are refraining (from suing PEMEX) until it is certain that all negotiations by the U.S. Department of State for damages from Mexico have been exhausted," he said.

Clements says "Politics" White said several weeks ago, after he discovered SEDCO had scuttled the damaged drilling rig in deep international waters, that he would include SEDCO in the negligence lawsuit.

The Dallas-based drilling firm was founded by Republican Gov. Bill Clements, who turned it over to his son in a blind trust when he took office. Clements has charged that the suit is "politically motivated."

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Bill Clayton are two leaders whom Democrats are considering running against Clements in 1982. Several Clements supporters think White is maneuvering to have himself become a third choice, but so far White has mentioned only lawsuits, not gubernatorial races.

Meanwhile, SEDCO filed suit early last month to have all liability limited in a suit against SEDCO.

Regarding tax issues, Clements last week said he will propose that the next Legislature increase the state gasoline tax, the lowest in the nation.

In concurrence with Hobby, Clements said the drop in gasoline sales has caused a shortage of revenues for highway construction. The toll tax is levied on every pump, and most are driving because of the toll. The blame for the toll is on the state.

Earlier, Clements told Texas mayors he would be replacing all or part of the revenues. Currently, there is a one-cent sales tax in a four-cent state sales tax.

The mayors would be lower property taxes with the sales tax increase said he had no opinion on this time.

'Little Lame Prince' to be presented at Lockney Elementary School

This is the story of little Prince Dolor who was dropped on his Christening Day by his Nurse, injuring his spine so he will have to walk with a crutch when he grows up. Both of his parents, the King and the Queen, are dead, and when his uncle the acting King learned of his injury, he announces to the Kingdom that the Little Prince was killed in the fall and he secretly banishes the Nurse with the young Prince. The uncle then becomes King and rules the land with wickedness while young Prince Dolor is growing up in a tower in the middle of the desert. The Nurse and Amile, a Palace Guard who had his tongue cut out by the wicked uncle, raise Prince Dolor to be a fine young lad. All this time the only other companion the young Prince has is a beautiful singing lark, who later turns out to be his Fairy Godmother watching over him in one of her many disguises. When the Prince is almost fourteen years old his Fairy Godmother appears as herself and tells him about the outside world and the wonderful places he read about in his books. She gives him a magic cape and with the saying of the magic words the young Prince can fly through the air and visit many strange lands. One day Prince Dolor lands on a street in his own country and meets up with some Gypsies. They tell him how wicked the King is and that the King is dying, but there is no one to take his place on the throne. On his return to the tower Prince Dolor makes the Nurse tell him who he really is. Then the Nurse, Amile, and Sir Harry ride through the country to tell the people that Prince Dolor lives and as soon as the wicked King dies he will return to his people and claim the throne. Not long after, the King dies and Prince Dolor rides in triumph into the city followed by his loyal friends. In the Palace the Fairy Godmother again appears and crowns the young Prince, King Dolor. Tickets for "Little Lame Prince" will be on sale at the door.

Monty Bybee, a former Lockneyite who now lives in Levelland, won first prize in the Beacon football contest last week. Bybee missed only three games - Abilene-Midland, Washington-Philadelphia, and Happy-Motley County - and won the $10 cash award. Second place and $6 went to another former Lockneyite, Sheree Cannon, who lists 902 West Houston, Floydada, as her home address. Mrs. Cannon missed four and might possibly have done better if she'd circled a winner in the Arkansas-Texas game. Her other misses came on Morton-Olton, Roosevelt-Frenship, and Happy-Motley County. There was a four-way tie for third place, as Aaron Wilson, Junior Lee, W.L. Carthel and Cindy Means missed six games. Wilson was judged third-place money winner on the basis of his tiebreaker guess (Floydada to win, 24 points total score), just three points away from the actual 21-point total in the Floydada-Lockney contest. Carthel and Means picked Floydada and indicated 31 and 38 points, respectively, in the tiebreaker total blank. Lee liked the Longhorns and entered "26" in the tiebreaker total section.

West reunion held in Alabama

Mrs. Paul Murff and Mrs. Lucile Lynch of Lamesa flew to Tuscaloosa, Ala. to attend the West Family Reunion held Oct. 15, 16 and 17 at the Stafford Inn.

A chartered bus tour was made of the ancestral homes, the churches and various cemeteries where the Wests' ancestors were buried. The Wests' ancestors settled in the area in the 1830's.

A highlight of the reunion was meeting descendants of two West families who were lost to relatives after the men were killed in the Civil War. The younger relative had made contact last summer and were invited to the reunion. They are working on their family "lines" to be added to the West family records.

There were 68 relatives from 8 states present. 20 first cousins attended.

The next reunion will be in 2 years, with the locale, time of year and arrangements to be set by an elected committee.

Alpha Sigma Upsilon scrapbook wins at area convention

Four members of Alpha Sigma Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi — Lynn Daniel, Rhonda Guthrie, Gaya Hale and June McLaugh — attended the Northwest Texas Area Convention in Wichita Falls on October 20 and 21.

Upon arrival, members registered at the Trade Winds Motel, where they received 'tote bags' containing various items, including a charm by which to remember the convention. The many scrapbooks and yearbooks that had been entered in the competition were on display, and a flea market was held in the Clipper Room.

The theme of the convention was Red River Roundup, and some 350 members arrived at the activities center wearing western attire. Convention chairman Barbara Cagle presented the welcome for the evening's activities and introduced special guest Marge Thomas of the International Office in Kansas City, Missouri. The program included a style show by Wichita Western World. Among the models were the cow chip throwing champion and the barrel racing champion of Wichita. Members of Red River Square Dance Association danced several popular musical numbers. A "chili pow wow" of chili, beans, crackers, saucy bars, coffee and iced tea was served by the Muleskinners of Iowa Park.

Sunday morning, members enjoyed a continental breakfast in the Bounty Room. After returning to the activities center, a program was presented by members of the Wichita Falls High School acappella choir. A "Hollywood Squares" program was presented by several Wichita members. In the process, many questions about the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority were answered. Members enjoyed a chuck wagon barbecue consisting of ham, beef, sausage, beans, potato salad, cole slaw, relish tray, pudding, iced tea and coffee.

Pam Bursey presented awards for the yearbook and scrapbook entries. Alpha Sigma Upsilon won a third place ribbon and a $10 check for their "under one hundred dollar" scrapbook entry. Lynn Daniel was committee chairman of the scrapbook that won the award.

Pat Walker's presents: the Splendor of being Slender

IRENE E. GETTYS WEARS BRIDAL GOWN AGAIN AFTER LOSING 35 POUNDS

(She looked great on her 30th wedding anniversary!)

It was a day of genuine triumph for Irene E. Gettys. With help from Pat Walker's, she had lost 35 pounds, thus becoming slim enough to meet the difficult challenge she had set for herself. She describes her experience:

"I wanted to lose enough weight so I could wear my wedding dress on our 30th wedding anniversary. My husband liked this idea and urged me to begin treatments at Pat Walker's. So, weighing 153 pounds, I began the treatments—and easily and comfortably lost weight and inches and was able to wear my size 10 wedding dress on our 30th anniversary. We were both pleased."

"I have my old pep and energy back, and shopping for smaller sized clothes is indeed a joy. Also, I have enjoyed the many compliments I get from my friends on how nice I look now. Life is a pleasure, thanks to Pat Walker's."

Halloween Costumes For Safety

When using make-up on the face rather than a mask which obscures vision, apply cold cream before putting on make-up for easy removal.

(2) Sew or glue reflective tape to both front and back of the costume. Be creative and incorporate the tape into the costume design.

(3) When possible, choose light-colored costumes — they will be more visible to motorists.

(4) Check labels or packaging on bought costumes for flame-retardant finishes. Children may be exposed to many direct sources of fire such as lighted pumpkins, colorful candles or open fires for toasting marshmallows.

(5) For home-sewn costumes, select fabrics with a flame-retardant finish.

Floydada Care Center Happenings

Well, here is the middle of October and Halloween is just around the corner. We are planning a spook party at the home October 31 starting at 6:30 p.m. A prize will be awarded to the best dressed spook. So everyone, come out and help make this a fun night for our residents.

Jessie Freeman had several of her friends out to celebrate her 79th birthday this week. Cake and coffee were served. Those attending were Mrs. Amy Harris of Slaton, Mrs. Delma Meachem of Quanah, Mrs. Lillian Thacker, P.M. Cooper, Ruby Miles, Lem Miller, Bess Ferguson and L.A. Mullins, all of Roaring Springs. Jess-ie's husband, Merell, was also present for the occasion.

Steve Westbrook has been helping call bingo. He also plays a game now and then and the residents enjoy having him about the home. Steve is attending Nursing Home Administrator school in Austin.

Top winners in bingo were Mr. Ray Reed, Emmitt Lawrence and W.C. Cates with two games. Clara Williams, Alma Eubanks, Willie Stambough, Victoria Asher, Mamie Gray, Sallie Kreis and Steve won one game each.

We went to Lockney on our bus trip Wednesday. After shopping a few minutes and visiting with friends of Mrs. Myrtle Messimer, we all enjoyed a frosted cake at the Dairy Queen. Others enjoying the trip were Emmitt Lawrence, Docia Manning, Victoria Asher and Verna McSwain. Verna said this was the nicest thing that had happened to her in a long time. She had not been to Lockney in several years.

Susie Mooney, Emmitt Lawrence, W.C. Cates and Mr. Eubanks teamed up and played several games of "42" Monday afternoon.

The City Park Church of Christ ladies honored our birthday ladies and men with a party Thursday afternoon. Cake and punch were served to all residents and employees and several guests.

Our six honorees for the month were Mr. Emmitt Lawrence, Ella Finley, Jessie Freeman, Ellie Hargis, Iris Colston and Verna McSwain.

Mrs. Josie Ross is our new resident. She lives in room eight down the north hall. Mrs. Ross has lived in Floydada for many years and I know she enjoys visits from all her friends. I know we will enjoy having Josie and hope her stay here will be a happy one. Thanks to our visitors for the week:

Mrs. Joyce Lipham and Spring, Dana Ellis, Anna Ruth Care, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lancaster, Mrs. Sherry Colston, Marie Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. M.H. Hartness;

Sherry Colston, Estelle Hinkle, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ross, Mrs. J.D. Hart, Mrs. M.C. Smith, Hubert and Ruby Davis, Amy and Ryan and Rebecca Burns, Mrs. G.L. Fawver, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Roberts, Murry and Corene Stewart;

Sherry Colston, Ross and Zane Colston, Norma Robinson, Thelma Garcia, Isabell Gonzales, Ethel Carmack, Pauline Pierce, Evelyn Crull; Trace Hagler, Chris and Bob Hagler, Rena and Glen Barris, Ollie Mae Dorman, Viola Mangum, Bettie Roberts, Beulah Denison and Dick and Inez Furrow.

BIRTHDAY HONOREES

It's the lovely month, October... All dressed in autumn style... What a time to have a party

And have some fun...and smile!
We welcome Mrs. Hargus... Who counts from '99... May days spent with this "family"....
Be happy ones, and fine!

Our Mrs. Jessie Freeman is a lady we hold dear... And for the birthday party We're mighty glad she's here!
Mrs. Verna McSwain has joined us... Her years are 84.... And you can bet we wish her Many, many more!

Mr. Lawrence is with us... And sure, he still can sing... His bass voice in fine fettle Can make the rafters ring!

Our Mrs. Iris Colston... Who counts from '94.... Still wields the crochet needle Just like in days of yore!

Mrs. Ella Finley... Who looks so "spic and span".... Is a lovely one to visit So drop in when you can.

Let's do the birthday "ditty" To cheer these ones along... So get your "vocals" ready And burst right out in song!

Thursday, October 18 was birthday party time again at the rest home, with ladies of the City Park church of Christ hosting the occasion. Residents of the home were ushered into the dining room with the honorees being seated at the "honor" table.

where their places were marked with special cards. The table was covered with white cloth and centered with an arrangement of silk flowers in a hand painted bowl. The birthday poem was read and all joined in singing the "birthday" song. A delicious refreshment plate of tangy fruit punch and zucchini cake was served to residents, honorees, guests and employees. An added delight to the refreshment plate was a special birthday cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Charlie Hargus and her sister Ruth Carr of Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Verna McSwain welcomed as her guests, her brother Earl Crawford and grandsons Byron and Larry Kendrick. A special delight to Mrs. Iris Colston was having her granddaughter-in-law Sherry Colston with her, and sharing the festivities with Mrs. Jessie Freeman was her husband Merell and a son and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gene Freeman of Odessa. A guest of the entire group was Vel Darden. We welcome all guests who will join us each time and we hope those of you who have a relative or close friend being honored will make a special effort to be present.

The next party will be Thursday, November 15, at 2:30 p.m.

NEWS & REVIEWS

By Beth Pratt
First Baptist Church
Floydada

Should children be protected from talk about death and dying? Some families believe a child should never attend a funeral. There are young adults who have never had any contact with persons in mourning.

Eda LeShan, educator, writer and family counselor, has written a book for older children entitled LEARNING TO SAY GOOD-BY and subtitled "When a Parent Dies." She answers the questions that a child may have been afraid to ask and explains something about the process of grief and the emotions that can be expected. She says, "It hurts when you grieve for the loss of someone you love. You might think it is better to act strong and brave — that painful experiences that are not discussed will just be forgotten. But people who try to run away from their feelings suffer longer than those who express them."

The child will learn from this book about death and grieving but also about living. If the child is too young to read the book, it would be a good one for someone to read to him.

Love — at least a form of "love" — is the theme of most popular songs. There's a tremendous amount of talk about love...but how much genuine love is there? In JESUS LOVES ME, R. Earl Allen assures you that you can have love in a world of violence and hate. If you are a person who feels, at least for now, "nobody loves me," this book has a message for you. It is a testimony of reassurance from this former pastor.

Catastrophe
The destruction of Pompeii, Italy more than 1,900 years ago still ranks as the world's greatest catastrophe, according to many observers. Mt. Vesuvius, a volcano, woke Pompeii's 25,000 residents on the morning of August 24 in the year 79 A.D. Pompeii and two nearby towns were quickly covered under a layer of black volcanic pumice — killing more than 18,000 people.

GASOHOL

BENEFITS FOR ECONOMY

Our domestic supply of oil is limited. Paying $22 a barrel for imported oil in volume which is creating a huge trade deficit and undermining the dollar. By using gasohol, using alcohol as a new, renewable, domestic source, we can:

- ... reduce costly oil imports
- ... protect against another energy crisis
- ... boost the farm economy
- ... give Department of Energy a valuable tool in its search for "alternative" fuel sources.

BETTER FOR YOUR CAR

Extensive tests, laboratory and "on the road," show that the gasohol blend provides...

- ... a higher octane fuel
- ... increased mileage per gallon
- ... better engine performance, with less "knock" and "ping"
- ... reduced engine deposits
- ... less gas-line freeze-ups
- ... cleaner exhaust emissions

A no-lead product, a gasohol blend will work in your vehicle without engine or carburetor modification...and work better!

BENEFITS FOR FARMERS

Because grain alcohol uses corn and other farm-grown products, its use for automotive fuel offers a new and sizeable market for surplus farm products.

Even limited use of gasohol would provide enough demand for America's corn to utilize the current grain surplus and allow farmers to continue to profitably produce grain at capacity.

GASOHOL

Makes your car run better
Increases M.P.G., cuts pollution
Helps agriculture
Creates jobs
Extends fuel supplies

Deserves Everybody's Support

If gasohol makes sense to you, let us know. We can help make it widely available.

Buy and use gasohol in your car and let your friends know about it. Gasohol is the new fuel. Urge the gas stations you deal with to carry gasohol, and let those gasohol dealers know you appreciate their services.

Lubbock Chamber of Commerce
Announces Livestock
Show Cancellation

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce announced today that the Southwest Junior Livestock Show would not be held in 1980 and subsequent years. It has been deleted from the program of the Chamber and will be replaced by other programs of support of the livestock industry and of youth activities in the West Texas area.

These activities will include "know how" seminars on livestock production, individual work with local 4H and FFA Chapters and a greater participation of the Chamber in local West Texas county stock show activities beginning in January, 1980.

It was the feeling that the Southwest Junior Livestock Show in some respects was a duplication of effort insofar as stock shows are concerned. Funds were difficult to raise to support it and more good could be done for the livestock industry and youth activities programs by realigning the Chamber's emphasis.

Sharpen Knives

When using a stone to sharpen your knife, hold the back of the blade at a 10 to 15 degree angle from the stone and stroke the cutting edge against the stone in one direction (see arrow). Stroke from the heel of the blade to the point, first one side, then the other. Honing oil applied to stone assures smooth strokes, floats loose particles away.

Big day planned at First Baptist

Sunday is going to be a big day at First Baptist Church in Floydada, according to Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor. Several scheduled events promise to make it an exciting day of Bible study, worship and praise.

The church will be participating in the Southern Baptist Convention's annual high attendance day, called "Great Day in the Morning." An attendance goal of 700 in Sunday School has been set by department directors and workers at First Baptist. Members and visitors are invited to help reach the goal.

Sunday is also Picture Day at First Baptist. A group photograph will be taken in every Sunday School department. These photographs will be displayed in the departments at a later date. Children who ride the

Rural poor and elderly from Food Stamp Program

The rural poor and the elderly are the chief beneficiaries of changes in the food stamp program which took effect last January, according to a study soon to be issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Testifying before the House Committee on Agriculture, Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland said dropping the requirement that people must come up with a lump sum of cash to buy their food stamps added 2.9 million people to the program. Nearly half that number, he said, are the rural poor. At the same time, he said, the number of elderly households in the program increased by 32 percent while all others increased by only 14 percent.

Citing the study, which evaluates the effect of 1977 food stamp reform legislation, Bergland said, "the gap between the poor and the rest of the country appears to be widening."

While overall incomes have increased by 31 percent between February 1976 and April 1979, he said preliminary department data suggest incomes of people using food stamps increased at less than one-third that rate. These same data indicate that the majority of food stamp households have gross incomes of less than $300 a month or $3,600 a year.

In addition, the study showed that between 500,000 and 700,000 people were dropped from the program when income eligibility limits were lowered this year. In addition, several million people received cuts in benefits, according to Bergland.

Bergland also said each 1 percent increase in unemployment adds 750,000 people to food stamp rolls. Because of rising unemployment and continued inflation, he said, the cost of the food stamp program could increase from $6.9 billion in fiscal 1979 to $8.3 billion in fiscal 1980.

Bergland said increases in participation as a result of

Library News

November 15 is the day of the White House conference when delegates from every state in the union will meet to promote the needs of libraries and to urge the President and Congress to enact a National Library Act. The act would be based on the principles contained in the Javits/Kennedy study bill (S. 1124) which was filed in May.

To focus attention on the emphasis of that day, November 15 has been designated "Be with a book for a day." Everyone is encouraged to carry his or her favorite book for a day and to explain why, to anyone who will listen.

Nice Things That Have Happened To The Floyd County Library

Some of the nice things that have happened to the Floyd County Library recently are:

The heirs of the late Miss Winnie McLain, a former Floyd County resident, donated a slide projector and numerous slides of trips to Europe, Canada, Puerto Rico and other sites. The Floyd County Library staff say "Thanks to the thoughtfulness of Doris McLain."

Vernon Parker gave a copy of the book "The Eagle Squadron" by Vern Haigland.

Several fine art books have been presented to the library by Mrs. Nell Gilley of Fort Worth, who is a cousin of Olin Watson, Jr.

The library staff is always appreciative of memorial books.
