Just a few plays later, the Longhorns blocked and Idalou punt, and Byron Brock scooped up the ball and ran into the end zone. The Longhorns lined up to kick on the conversion play, but the holder, Jeffrey McCormick, ran with the ball. He was stopped short of the goal, leaving the 'Cats up by one.

The district champs upped their lead to seven points just two and a half minutes later. They drove 69 yards in seven plays, with Reyes gaining the last 28 steps. The passing conversion try was no good. McCormick picked off an Idalou pass 46 seconds before halftime, and ran it back to the Idalou 45. Tailback Curtis Ford immediately reeled off a 20-yard run, and Steve Warren tossed to Mark Vincent for 12 more yards, putting the 'Horns on the Wildcat 13. Three passes fell incomplete, and Warren stepped to the tee and booted a 30-yard field goal.

THE WINNERS — An emotional moment in the Longhorn dressing room following the 'Horns' big victory over district champion Idalou Friday night.

From Jim Warren

To fans and former players:
For the past six years it has been my privilege and opportunity to coach at Lockney High School. I can honestly say that it has been an enriching and satisfying time of my life.
There have been some great victories and some heart-breaking losses; however, through all of these times it has been a heart-warming experience to work with and coach some great young men whose enthusiasm and "never-say-die" attitude carried our program forward.
I know many of these young men are already successful in their chosen profession, and others are now involved in continuing their education. Regardless of what lies ahead for each of them, I wish them luck and hope they will continue to work as hard at life as they did for us.
I would like to say a very special thanks to all the assistant coaches who have spent countless hours not only in practice and game preparation, but for working at all the other endless tasks involved in having a first-class athletic program. Without these men it would have been impossible.
Another big thanks to the school administration, school board, faculty and booster clubs, for your undying loyalty and support.
Last but certainly not least I would like to thank my wife and family for their love and support during the ups and downs, and for constantly being beside me through thick and thin.
Thanks again.
Sincerely,
Jim Warren

Commissioners agree to act to obtain depot building for library

Floyd County commissioners today took the first official step toward ending with the county's custodianship of the current depot building.

David Kirk, speaking for the library, met with the commissioners to request the county's purchase of the depot building as a new library. The court will communicate with the railroad to see what could be done.

Commissioners authorized county clerk Smith to correspond with the Railroad to inquire if the railroad would be willing to donate the depot building to the county for use as a library.

Judge Thursday said that if the county is successful in obtaining the depot building, the Federal grant would likely be available for the purchase of the depot. The county predicted that the depot would help with some funding for work and maintenance.

The commissioners also agreed to purchase for vinyl asbestos tile for several rooms in the agriculture building, at a cost of $450 to the county. The Department of Human Resources will put tile in one room in the building.

bear the cost of connecting restroom plumbing in the agriculture building to the sewer line.

The court authorized county auditor Olin Watson to act as special commissioner for the sale of a parcel of land deeded to the county in 1975 by M.S. and Ora Pauline Robertson. The site, located at 215 S. Eighth St., is the former county Noxious Weed Building.

Bidding on the land and building was ordered to start at no less than $9,500. Watson said he had not yet decided on a date for the sale.

The commissioners unanimously voted to accept the recommendation of Mrs. Crawford, the district home agent, that Marilyn Tate be employed as the Floyd County home demonstration agent. Mrs. Tate's employment will be effective Jan. 1, 1980.

The court also officially accepted the resignation of county agent Steve Herber. Herber's resignation took effect Nov. 15. No prospective applicants for the county agent position were discussed at Monday's meeting.

a request for a new heating and air conditioning unit for the county attorney's office. Kenneth Bain requested the new unit, at a proposed cost of approximately $3,000.

The court also deferred action on a proposal by Ray Tobias, representing the Lien Service, to clean the courthouse restrooms at a cost of $195 a month. The commissioners put off a decision on the matter until after the first of the year.

The commissioners agreed to accept a $10,000 bid by Kendis Julian to supply the county with a 1974-model Case 1070 tractor to be used by Precinct Three.

The commissioners declined to act on a request for a new heating and air conditioning unit for the county attorney's office.

The court also deferred action on a proposal by Ray Tobias, representing the Lien Service, to clean the courthouse restrooms at a cost of $195 a month.

FARM & RANCH NEWS

Bergland urges intensified oil conservation

American farmers must decide soon whether to keep their soil tied down on the land or to allow an additional 60 million tons of it to wash or blow away this season according to Bob Bergland, Secretary of Agriculture.

Because of an excellent demand for American grain in the year ahead, there is no set-aside or diversion for wheat and feed grains, and each farmer will decide for himself how much cropland to plant, Bergland said.

"In the 1973-74 crop year," he said, "farmers plowed up an additional 9 million acres of marginal land — land nearly impossible to protect from soil erosion."

"The result was 60 million tons more soil lost on those 9 million acres alone," Bergland said.

"That was the bitter result of plowing from fence to fence." He pointed out that the most serious soil erosion occurs on a fraction of the cropland, usually sloping land with highly erodible soils. Soybeans planted on marginal lands in one part of Iowa, he said, resulted in "the sickening loss of 26 tons of soil for each ton of soybeans harvested."

Bergland warned that switching to crop production on hard-to-protect acres can undo years of work and hundreds of million of dollars invested in soil conservation practices.

"Whenever farm prices are high, we see thousands of acres of cropland that should have never been plowed and the destruction of a lot of good conservation systems," he said. "Each farmer should ask himself if the chance in the short run is worth the risk of long-range damage to his farm."

Bergland added that marginal lands are not the only source of soil erosion. "Even in a so-called 'normal' year, about 2 billion tons of soil wash away from America's cropland," he said.

"Millions of acres of cropland in current use need more conservation applied — especially in places like west Tennessee, where erosion runs as high as 30 tons of soil an acre each year." These farms need more contouring, more terraces, more conservation tillage," Bergland said.

He urged farmers to plant only the best, protected land to crops, and save the rest for future generations.

Technical and financial assistance in controlling erosion is available from several Department of Agriculture agencies, including the Soil Conservation Service and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

US exports hit new high in 1979

U.S. agricultural exports reached a record high of $32.0 billion during fiscal year 1979, according to a Department of Agriculture report released recently.

The export total for the fiscal year which ended Sept. 30 was up $4.7 billion, or 17 percent, from fiscal year 1978 and record high for the tenth straight year. At the same time, substantial gains in export volume for such key items as feed grains and soybeans and products.

The value of agricultural imports for the year rose by about $2.3 billion to $16.2 billion, which means that U.S. agricultural exports were $15.8 billion greater than imports.

"That represents a $15.8 billion positive contribution to this nation's total balance of trade, which is vital to the strength of the dollar," Bob Bergland, secretary of agriculture, said. "It's a record high, but this contribution by agricultural trade has exceeded $10 billion for the past six fiscal years."

The figures show export values increased for all commodity categories except dairy. Leading value gainers were grain and feeds, valued at $13.6 billion, $1.9 billion more than last year, and oilseeds and products at $8.7 billion, up $1.2 billion.

The volume of feed grain exports rose by 4 million tons, reaching 59.5 million, and soybeans and products shipments increased by 1.2 million tons to 27.3 million. Wheat and flour exports declined slightly to 32.2 million tons, off 600,000 from fiscal 1978.

Texas Farmers Union asks changes in Cotton Inc. selection

Elected leaders of the Texas Farmers Union meeting in Abilene last week called for congressional action to bring about changes in the selection of the Cotton Board and the Board of Directors of Cotton Incorporated.

Following the release of a critical report by the Office of the Inspector General of the USDA in late summer, much dialogue has surfaced concerning a reported lack of accountability to producers who fund the $18 million plus research and promotion program.

The report centers on what critics of the cotton organization call a lack of oversight by the two boards that are charged to administer Cotton, Inc. and questions the use and accounting of funds that have doubtful impact in relation to the goals of the program.

TFU supported passage of the uniform collection of fees from producers for cotton research and promotion when the law went before Congress and later to a producer referendum vote in 1967. The near-10,000 member TFU group withdrew as a certified producer organization in 1973 when it felt that administrative control of Cotton, Inc.

had fallen to a few hands and that producers had no way of democratically choosing directors or controlling the program.

A formal resolution of the Board of Directors of the Texas Farmers Union has been directed to members of Congress and officials of the USDA calling for legislative action to amend the federal program, preferably to a one-man, one-vote system of election of cotton farmers to administer the program.

A spokesman for Texas Farmers Union stated that the organization felt that efforts were being made to "sweep the problems under the rug."

"The questions raised cannot be overlooked by producers," he said. "This is not a minor matter. Cotton Incorporated is supposed to be a producer-funded producer-controlled program. We're greatly disappointed by the conduct and administration of the program and are convinced that this mess will only repeat itself unless some system is put in place to assure accountability of the program and use of funds to producers."

Authorization to remove sorghum from grain reserve withdrawn

Sorghum may no longer be withdrawn from the farmer-owned grain reserve without penalty since the national average market price is $4.03 per hundredweight, 21 cents below the $4.24 reserve release level, according to Ray Fitzgerald, executive vice president of Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC).

Fitzgerald said reserve barley remains in call status and release will continue through Nov. 30 for wheat, corn, oats and rice. On Nov. 30 the national average market prices of these commodities will again be reviewed to determine their reserve status.

The national average market prices for the commodities remaining in release status (with the reserve release levels in parentheses) are: Oats $1.30 per bushel ($1.29); rice $10.20 per hundredweight ($8.96); wheat $3.90 per bushel ($3.29), Fitzgerald said. Corn was released in October and therefore is not subject to review until November 30.

Storage earnings will continue uninterrupted for sorghum. No storage payments will be made for barley, rice or wheat.

Data used by CCC in determining the release and call levels include five-day average prices as reported by the department's Agricultural Marketing Service

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

A few producers and processors of agricultural commodities on the High Plains already have been investigated and cited for violations of a law most of them had never heard of. And unless something is done, more of the same will follow, says Ed Dean, Field Service Director of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, and also a director and executive committee member of the National Council of Agricultural Employers (NCAE).

The law, the Farm Labor Contractor Registration Act, known as FLCRA, was passed in 1963 with a worthy objective — to curb the exploitation of migrant farm workers by unscrupulous "crew leaders."

But the law was amended in 1974 and under subsequent interpretations now requires the registration of farmers, ginners and others who in their wildest dreams never imagined themselves a "farm labor contractor."

The language of the Act itself defines a farm labor contractor as "any person who, for a fee, either for himself or on behalf of another person, recruits, solicits, hires, furnishes, or transports migrant workers for agricultural employment." Specific exemptions are granted for "any farmer, processor, canner, ginner, packing shed operator or nurseryman who personally engages in any such activity for the purpose of supplying migrant workers solely for his own operation," and "any fulltime or regular employee of an entity . . . who engages in such activity solely for his employer on no more than an incidental basis."

The word "personally" in the stated exemption was added to the law in the 1974 amendment and the U.S. Department of Labor (USDL) is using that word to bring all incorporated farmers and agricultural product processors under its jurisdiction.

Growers do not agree with the USDL interpretation and it is being tested in a number of Federal court challenges. But until the courts decide, or until Congress amends the law, a high percentage of the farmers, ginners and others in agricultural processing who use anything other than year-round labor will be subject to citation if they fail to register, fail to comply with all the requirements that follow registration, or if they employ a farm labor contractor who isn't properly registered.

At the urging of PCG, NCAE, the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association, the National Cotton Council and others, some 52 senators have signed and sent to Secretary of Labor Ray Marshall a letter expressing their dissatisfaction with the broad powers he has assumed under the law.

In addition a move is afoot to get an amendment to the law that will force the Secretary of Labor to conform to the intent of Congress instead of his own labor-biased inclinations.

It is generally agreed, according to Dean, that the USDL is using this law, among other things, as a backdoor approach to curbing the use of illegal aliens. "The FLCRA is the only Federal law on the books directly dealing with the employment of illegal aliens," he says, "and unless the Secretary of Labor is curbed, many in agriculture will be shocked to find themselves the target of a massive Federal law enforcement campaign."

Dean invites anyone concerned with liability under FLCRA to contact him at the PCG office in Lubbock.

GASOLINE DEVELOPMENTS

On October 17, 1979, Midwest Solvents, Incorporated, of Atchinson, Kansas, publicly announced their decision not to proceed with construction of a plant in Santa Rosa, Texas, to convert milo and sugarcane molasses into alcohol for fuel use. Previously, the Secretary of Agriculture had approved a $15 million loan guarantee for the benefit of the corporation.

Also, the corporation had indicated that in order to invest approximately $25 million in the construction of the Santa Rosa plant it would need all possible marketing channels, and would require permission to produce both drinking and fuel use alcohol.

Midwest Solvents lists two specific reasons why they are not going to build their alcohol plant in the Valley. Both reasons are based on interpretations by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission of HB 1986, signed into law by the Governor on June 7, 1979, and intended to create a new "local industrial alcohol manufacturer's permit" for the production of alcohol:

(1) The statute allows only the production of alcohol "not fit for human consumption," but the words of a statute are always interpreted by its administrators. Midwest Solvents feels that they merely prohibit corporations with a local industrial alcohol manufacturer's permit from making alcoholic beverages. However, proposed Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission regulations would also forbid Midwest Solvents from producing ethyl alcohol for human consumption that does not involve alcoholic beverages. Ethyl alcohol is extensively used in the processing of many soft drinks, and this is another of the major marketing channels upon which Midwest Solvents had previously indicated that it must rely in order to make the Santa Rosa plant economically feasible.

(2) Although the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission staff had formerly considered interpreting Texas state law to allow a corporation possessing a local industrial alcohol manufacturer's permit to produce alcohol for any industrial purposes, whether or not they were owned by a majority of Texas shareholders, the proposed Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission regulations would not allow an out-of-state corporation owned by less than a majority of Texas shareholders to produce industrial alcohol unless that alcohol was intended exclusively for blending with petroleum distillates and for subsequent sale or use as a motor fuel. Again, this would greatly diminish the potential business done by Midwest Solvents, since they indicated on October 17 that they could not succeed in Santa Rosa by producing alcohol for gasohol alone. But they have also stated their belief that, whether or not gasohol becomes a successful product, there will be high demand for alcohol produced from agricultural commodities in the 1980's, specifically in the petrochemical industry and the industrial non-beverage industry.

APPRAISAL DISTRICT FUNDS
The state legislature, in 1979, appropriated $2,887,000 for each of the fiscal years ending on October 31, 1980 and 1981, for the purpose of assisting local appraisal districts.

The School Tax Assessment Practices Board has issued the following proposed new rules to be effective on January 1, 1980, designed to implement the program.

001. Distribution of Funds to Appraisal Districts.
(a) Each year the State Property Tax Board shall distribute money from funds appropriated by law to each appraisal district to assist the districts in preparing to implement the Property Tax Code.
(b) Each appraisal district shall be entitled during 1980 and 1981 to an equal portion of one-fourth of the total amount appropriated each year. During the 1980 and 1981 calendar year, each district's equal portion shall be $2,841.53.

(c) In addition to the entitlement provided in subsection (b), each appraisal district shall be entitled to a portion of the balance of the annual appropriation according to the ratio the number of parcels of taxable real property in the district bears to the number of parcels of taxable real property in all appraisal districts.

(d) For the purposes of subsection (c), the number of parcels of taxable real estate shall be the number of real property parcels (exclusive of mineral properties) as indicated on the preceding year's tax roll of the county in which the district is located, as reported by the county tax assessor, plus the number of producing oil and gas wells in the county in the preceding year, as reported by the Texas Railroad Commission.

Bentsen calls for severing of relations with Iran

Senator Lloyd Bentsen this week said the United States should sever diplomatic relations with Iran, embargo all arms sales to that country and send home those Iranian students who demonstrate illegally in this country.

In Tehran on Tuesday students backing Iranian religious leader Ayatollah Khomeini continued to hold some 60 Americans hostage in the U.S. embassy, demanding that the U.S. extradite the Shah of Iran. The exiled Shah is in New York undergoing medical treatment.

In New York on Sunday seven persons who identified themselves as Iranian students took over the Statue of Liberty for almost four hours. They displayed a 20 foot banner proclaiming, "The Shah must be tried and punished."

"It's an outrage," Bentsen said in response to the two incidents.

"It's an outrage when Iranian students in this country invade the Statue of Liberty while Iranian students in Tehran invade our embassy and deny liberty to American diplomats."

"We ought to sever relations, notify the Iranian Charge d'Affairs in Washington that diplomats at their embassy here are persona non grata and close down the embassy. We ought to refuse to sell Iran any further military equipment or spare parts. And we ought to quickly send home any Iranian students who take part in illegal demonstrations in this country."

"There is no way we can send back the Shah," Bentsen said.

"We cannot bow to this kind of blackmail. Americans would be hostage around the world," Senator Bentsen said.

REPUBLICANS

 cency. And a consensus of almost half a traditionally Democratic county like Floyd indicating support for Republican candidates cannot but give those same organizers pause for thought.

While the local Democrats may rely on the weight of established voting patterns this year, the Republicans apparently plan to make a fight of it, at least in the presidential race.

Republican organizers will attempt to change the image of what one Democratic Party leader called "the most apolitical county in Texas."

County Republican party chairman John Farris vowed that his organization would be very active in the primaries and presidential election in 1980. Party workers would conduct a telephone campaign and frequent reminders to voters vote in the Republican primary. And Farris is confident that the county will respond to the Republican appeal.

"Well over half the voters will go for the Republican candidate," he said. "Any of the 10 announced Republicans could beat either Carter or Kennedy in Floyd County."

And judging from The poll, he may be right.

The Lighthouse Principle

Maybe few of us landlubbers ever thought about it, but those graceful old lighthouses were built on a firm and logical principle.

They assumed their light would be seen and understood. In fog ships did not see the light and many foundered on the shoals. Occasionally captains mistook the light for that of another vessel and sailing across its bow or stern they came to grief upon the rocks. Yet despite hazards of nature and blunders of man, lighthouses became the landmarks of our coasts.

Whenever in your travels, work or play, you see a church think of it as a lighthouse. Its gleam may not reach every soul. But it's there for those who see and understand.

It lights our way to port while keeping us off the shoals.

Are Bollworms Eating Your Profits?

Call Palmer.

Palmer can help stop him from eating up your profits. When is the best time to treat your cotton for bollworm? Which chemical should you use and how often should it be applied? For the answers call Palmer and Associates, Independent Entomologist, they can assure you maximum return for each dollar spent, by: FIRST—Regularly scheduled field monitoring procedures by trained entomologist will establish the most economical point to initiate control measures. SECOND—Since Palmer is not connected with any chemical sale organization, they independently analyze each chemical on the market and choose the ones best suited for each job. THIRD—Routine monitoring throughout the season assures good control. For example: This year through careful monitoring, 42% of the acres under Palmer control was judged not to need treatment at all. Average cost per acre treated and untreated was only $7.15. This resulted in an average net return on treated fields of $18.79 per acre. Don't let bollworms damage your cotton again next year. Call Palmer and Associates today and put the bollworm problem behind you. They can show you case histories of how they have helped farmers in your area control bollworms and increase their net income.

Whozit.....

Several persons in Floydada should be able to identify this young bunch of redskins. The photo was taken more than 50 years ago at a no-longer-existing schoolyard for the school Thanksgiving celebration.

Janie Ibarra identified this week's Floydada Whozit as Joyre Williams.

LOCKNEY WHOZIT — The young lady in this week's Lockney mystery picture was not born in Lockney but spent most of her school years here and graduated from Lockney High School. She married a local boy. They still live in Lockney, rearing their family of four children. Call The Beacon, 652-3318, Monday through Thursday, with your guess about her identity.

LAST WEEK — The Whozit kids in last week's Lockney-area mystery photo were Kathy and Martin Stoerner. Barbara Cunyus and Jerry Ulmer identified them.

Convection ovens can save money

Convection ovens can save energy, they cook faster, and they cook at lower temperatures — but shop around before buying one, a home economist says.

Price, performance, capacity and other features vary considerably among models on the market, so consumers should compare models and consider their own needs in shopping for a range, Lillian Chenoweth advises.

Mrs. Chenoweth is a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Unlike the microwave oven, the convection oven is not a new way of cooking. However, it's now more readily available to non-professionals.

Bakers and chefs have long used convection ovens due to evenness of browning. Convection ovens — portable or full-size — use a fan to provide forced circulation of air inside the oven as it is being heated.

Just as a cold winter wind makes one feel colder (the wind-chill factor), the same principle works in the oven as the fan moves hot air.

Hot moving air enables the cook to prepare foods faster — and at lower temperatures than conventional ovens.

Most preparation times are 20-30 percent less for convection ovens than with conventional ovens.

Also, full-size convection ovens generally cook with temperatures 40 degrees lower than conventional ovens.

Manufacturers claim that convection ovens save up to 50 percent energy — compared with conventional ovens, although the portable convection models may not save as much.

What Not To Eat:
Never eat wild mushrooms, cautions Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

They can be poisonous, and people die every year from eating those from unknown sources while on vacation, she says.

WHERE TO PITCH YOUR TENT

Be a safe camper, says Claudia Kerbel, a consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Help eliminate fire hazards by pitching your tent well away from the campfire, and avoid using lighted candles, matches, flammable liquids or other sources of ignition in or near the tent, Ms. Kerbel adds.
