Lockney General Hospital clinic expansion to begin 'immediately' on the new clinic building at Lockney General Hospital is scheduled to begin immediately. The hospital board of directors signed the construction contract Monday night, and architect L. James Robison delivered the work order to local contractor Robert McDonald Wednesday morning. Plans call for the addition of 4,124 square feet to the north and west of the present clinic building, including expansion of the present clinic, laboratory, minor surgery/emergency room, and administrative offices, and a 326-square-foot addition to the south side of the present hospital waiting room area for a library/meeting room. The expansion at the hospital was made possible by a gift from the Martha Ann Cogdell Hospital Trust. The $150,000 gift was announced last March, and the money has been invested since then. Total amount of the contract is $194,842. Estimated time of completion is 280 days.

History books arrive at county museum load of the long-awaited book of Floyd County's history arrived at the county museum's front door Wednesday. The book is essentially a collection of family and community histories, Mrs. Marble said. Individual family members gathered and wrote their portions and submitted them to the museum for inclusion. The first material began to come in to the museum in November, 1977. In addition to a photohistory of the county, sketches by the late Ted Bell and the late Felicia Louise Applewhite illustrate the history book. The county museum will return to normal operating hours, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, on Monday. The museum is closed Saturdays and Sundays, except for this Saturday.

books ahead of time. But, Mrs. Marble noted, there are a limited number of books available for over-the-counter sales at the museum. The staff will sell the books for $37.50 each, tax included, at the Floyd County museum on the north side of Courthouse Square. The books will go on sale immediately, Mrs. Marble said. The museum will open early Thursday, Friday and Saturday so persons who pre-ordered may pick up their books. Special hours for the museum on those days will be from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Mrs. Virginia Taylor, of Lockney, suggested that residents of outlying areas who come into Floydada Saturday for the Lions Club art show could also use that opportunity to pick up their books. The history of Floyd County took two years to compile and print, according to Mrs. Marble. And even then, the book was not complete, she said. Some contributors turned in their family stories after the book was sent to press, leaving open the possibility for a revised edition in a few years.

Plainview man DOA at Caprock Sunday
A Plainview man was dead on arrival at Caprock Hospital Sunday after his small car collided with a recreational vehicle. Floydada police this week said that about 2:30 p.m. Sunday John Thomas, of Plainview, was traveling south on Highway 207 (Twelfth Street) when he apparently failed to stop at a stop sign at the intersection of Twelfth and Houston Streets. The tow car struck a westbound recreational vehicle driven by Mitchell Johnson, of Las Cruces, N.M. Johnson and his two passengers were unhurt in the accident. According to witnesses, the automobile went almost completely under the RV, trapping Tow inside. The dead man reportedly suffered massive injuries in the wreck.

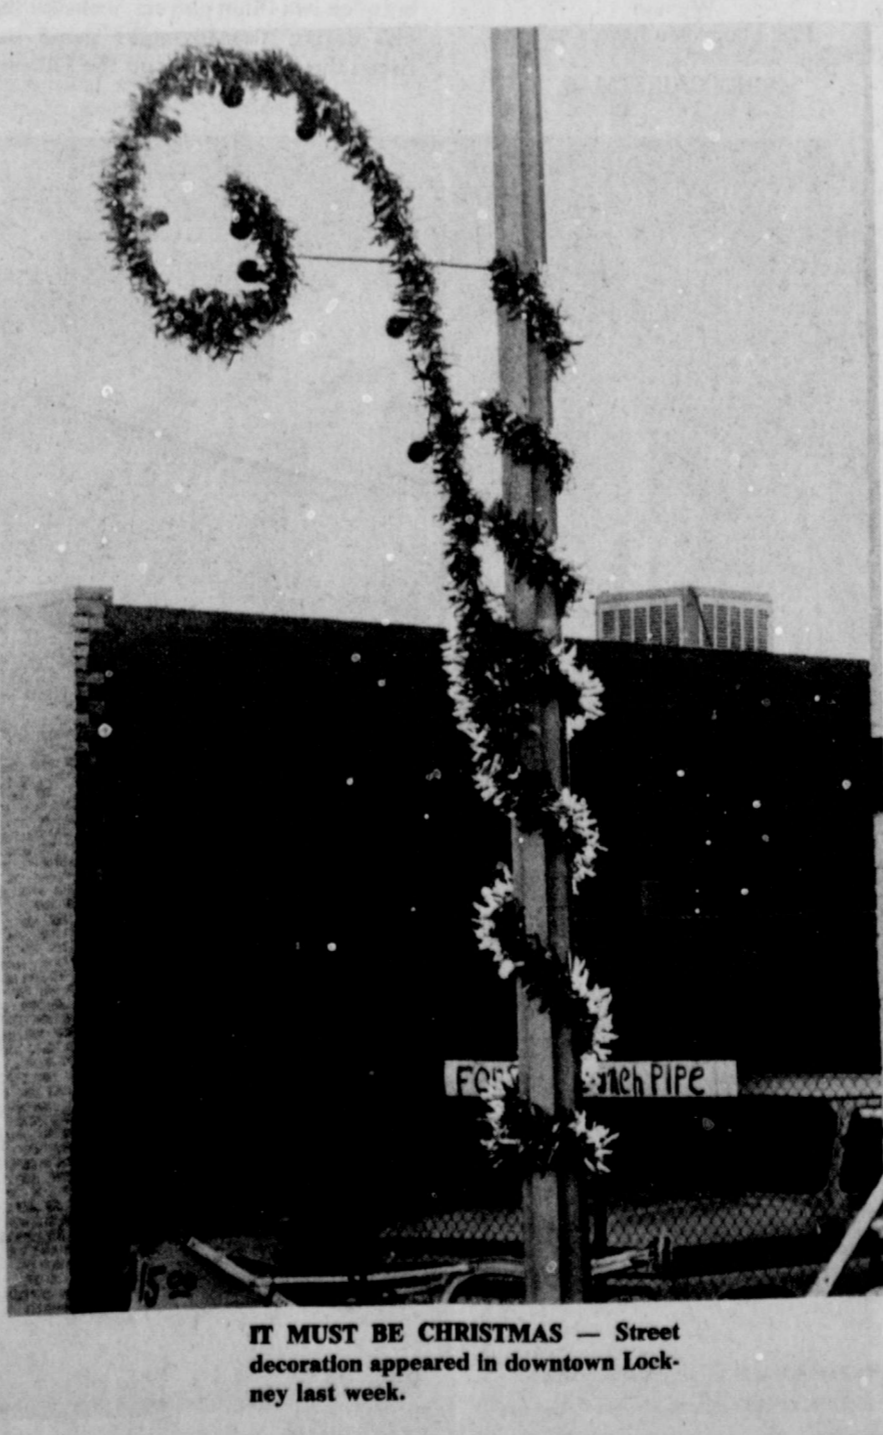

Local doctor diplomate of ABFP
KANSAS CITY, MO. — Dr. Gary B. Mangold, Lockney, TX has been named a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP) as a result of passing a certification examination offered by the ABFP. He is now certified in the medical specialty of family practice. The intensive 2-day written examination is designed to prove the candidate's ability in the areas of internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics, gynecology, pediatrics, psychiatry and community medicine. To qualify for the examination a physician must have successfully completed three years of residency training in family practice. There are some 375 such training programs in teaching hospitals and university medical centers across the United States. ABFP diplomates also continue to show proof of competence in the field of comprehensive, continuing care of the family by being recertified every six years. No other medical specialty requires diplomates to prove competence on a continuing basis. The latest group of diplomates brings the total number to more than 22,000. Most are members of the Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy was the first national M.D. group to require members to take continuing medical study, and was chiefly responsible for securing specialty status for family practice. This year is the tenth anniversary of the specialty.

Santa Claus says 'Hi' to young friends

Dear Jim:
I look at my calendar and see that Christmas is less than a month away. My workers and Mrs. Claus are helping me get the toys and games ready for delivering to my many little friends Christmas Eve night. We have been working extra hard, but it seems that everything will be ready for Christmas. Rudolph and the other reindeer are healthy and ready for our quick trip. Express my love to the boys and girls around Lockney. Remind them to send their Christmas letters to The Beacon [Box 187, Lockney, Texas 79241] and I will get them. I look forward to being in Lockney to hear gift wishes Saturday. Be good, boys and girls, and I'll see you soon.

Love,
Santa Claus

IT MUST BE CHRISTMAS — Street decoration appeared in downtown Lockney last week.

One million Texans try to quit smoking

An estimated 18,200,000 Americans, including 1,050,000 Texans tried to quit smoking on November 15th, the date of the 3rd Annual Great American Smoke-out. The results were compiled through a nationwide survey of 2224 households. The number of adults living in those households totaled 4907 and 1641 (33.4 percent) were cigarette smokers. Of those, 575, or 35 percent, were reported "trying to quit" on the morning of the 15th.

Volunteers numbered 445 and included 26 Texans making the survey calls and reporting the results to the National ACS Headquarters before noon on Wednesday. In the thirteen Texas cities (Amarillo, Austin, Bryan, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, Lufkin, McAllen, San Antonio, and Waco) 137 households were surveyed. The survey actually indicated that there were 1,200,000 smokers but the sample was not an accurate projection.

The 1979 Mint Set album contains all the 30 commemorative and special stamps issued by the U.S. Postal Service during 1979 (including the 1979 Christmas Stamps and a description of each). The 1979 Commemorative Mint Set is the latest in a series of annual sets of commemorative stamps released by the Post Office each year just before Christmas. The cover of the $5.25 Mint Set features a montage of artwork related to the commemorative stamps. Inside the album are clear strips of acetate in which to mount and protect the collection.

The new full-color Sixth Edition of Stamps & Stories — The U.S. Postal Service Encyclopedia of U.S. Stamps, is on sale and is priced at $3.50. The 256-page book relates more than 100 stories about U.S. stamps and is designed to introduce non-collectors to stamp collecting. The book also provides interesting philatelic information such as 1980 market values for the novice and experienced collector. Many of the stories in this new edition are new or have been changed substantially to illustrate a different aspect of an individual's life or of a significant historical event.

Stamps & Stories also contains information on price trends of selected stamp issues, catalogue numbers and current prices for souvenir pages and commemorative panels, and an index listing every U.S. postage stamp ever issued. Postmaster Meriwether also noted that a number of popular topical stamp collecting kits priced at $200 each are available for beginning collectors. The kits feature topics ranging from "The World of Sports" to "Birds and Butterflies" and "Flowers." Each kit also includes a 20 page album, mounting hinges, insert sheets for additional stamps, and a 32-page booklet entitled "The ABC's of Stamp Collecting."

Talk is cheaper than you think.

How to save up to 60% on Long Distance.

If you're one of those who thinks a Long Distance call is a luxury, read on. The trick to saving money while keeping in touch with family or friends is knowing when to call, and calling One-Plus.

Call between 11pm and 8am.

Before you groan about how you can't stay up late or see straight in the morning, think about it. You'll be saving up to 60%! If you're a night person, you probably don't start counting sheep until after 11 pm anyway. And if you've got friends and family to call out west, it'll be a perfectly civilized 9 or 10 pm when their phone rings. If you like to see the sun rise, and you know folks back east, it'll be an hour later on their end.

Call out of state anytime before 8 am and you can talk all day if you want and still save 60%. In-state calls are also greatly reduced. Just remember to dial One-Plus.

Reach out on the weekend and save up to 60%.

Now this is a stroke of good luck: a really cheap Long Distance phone call just when you may want it most. Call any time between 11 pm Friday and 5 pm Sunday and really save. For instance, dial One-Plus and you can make a ten-minute call to Atlanta for only $1.55. That's almost worth making a new friend in Atlanta for.

Even on weeknights, save up to 35%.

Sometimes you can't wait for the weekend. Or you don't want to. But you can still save plenty Sunday through Friday from 5 pm to 11 pm. Think about what a bargain it is to call someone 1900 miles away, talk it up for ten minutes, and only run a tab of about $2.00. There's just no other way to get close to a faraway friend or relative so quickly, so cheaply.

On weekdays it's still a bargain.

Here's a surprise. From 8 am to 5 pm, a Long Distance chat still doesn't cost very much. A five minute call out of state, to anywhere in the continental U.S. is only about $2.50 when you dial One-Plus. Think of how good the sound of your voice would be to a friend (not to mention your mother!) right in the middle of the day.

Reach out and touch someone.

Facts about fabric types

Every fabric type displays certain characteristics — both good and bad, says a clothing specialist, Becky Culp.

The combination of the fabric type, fiber content and finishes applied combine for the fabric's total characteristics, she explains.

Fabrics are most often made by knitting or weaving but can also be netted, braided, bonded, fused or felted.

WOVENS
Woven fabrics are made by interlacing yarns one over the other, the specialist points out.

The pattern of interlacing is varied to result in different fabrics such as twills or satins.

When woven interlacings are compact, fabrics are durable, firm, water and wind repellent, strong, stable and have increased fire retardance.

Correspondingly, fewer interlacings result in fabrics that are more open, flexible, permeable to water and wind, drapable, raveling and flammable.

Woven fabrics with loose threads on the surface have greater luster, smoothness, flexibility, resiliency and tendency to ravel and snag.

KNITS
Knits are made by looping yarns together, Ms. Culp continues.

This looped structure generally results in elasticity, stretch, wrinkle resistance, instability and snagging. The smaller the loop, the greater the durability.

Tri-cots are one major knit variety. They have lengthwise ribs on the right side and crosswise ribs on the wrong side.

Tri-cots are smooth, flowing, resist bagging and sagging and do not run or ravel. Single knits are smooth on the right side and textured on the wrong side. They stretch equally in the crosswise and lengthwise direction and edges curl.

Double knits have lengthwise ribs on both sides of the fabric. They do not curl but lie flat, stretch more in the crosswise than lengthwise direction and snag.

Lockney Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baughman, Scott, Teri and Jami of Canyon visited during Thanksgiving with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Reynolds and Mrs. Frank Baughman.

Education and Marriage
Girls finishing high school are not as likely as female dropouts to enter into early marriages, and they stand a better chance for the survival of the marriage and for a later start on parenting responsibilities, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Buckle Up
Don't be afraid to wear your car safety belt, even if you're pregnant, advises Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

One study shows that 47 percent of unborn babies died when their mother was thrown from a vehicle, but 89 percent of the women who stayed in their vehicles saved both their lives and their babies' lives, Mrs. Piernot reports.

Diamond Anniversary

This year marks the 75th anniversary of iced tea.

Food stamp allotments to increase January

Low-income families will get a 2.5 percent cost-of-food increase in food stamps starting January 1, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman has announced.

"The January increase will be the smallest in two years because the rise in food prices has slowed in recent months," Foreman said.

The increase reflects the rise in food costs between March and September 1979. By law, the U.S. Department of Agriculture adjusts food stamp allotments twice a year, on January 1 and July 1. The adjustment varies with changes in the cost of economical foods used in the thrifty food plan.

On January 1, the maximum monthly allotment for a family of four with no net income will increase from $204 to $209 in the District of Columbia and all states except Alaska and Hawaii. Nearly all food stamp households will get less than this amount, though, because allotments are reduced if families have income. Currently, food stamp benefits average 37 cents per person per meal.

The maximum food stamp allotments for households of various sizes, effective January 1, are as follows:

One-person household...	$115
Two-person household...	$165
Three-person household...	$215
Four-person household...	$265
Five-person household...	$315
Six-person household...	$365
Seven-person household...	$415
Eight-person household...	$465
Nine-person household...	$515
Ten-person household...	$565

What does the Bible really mean to you? Is it an old leather volume gathering dust on the shelf, or a beloved, faithful companion?

The answer depends partly on your childhood. If your family read the Bible daily, then its Books have long since become part of your way of life.

But to many of us, the Bible remains a mystery and even the "modern" versions seem complicated. We may want, almost desperately, to understand, but it isn't that easy.

Help is as near as your closest church. For centuries the Church has made a business of studying and interpreting the Bible. Despite the passing of time, they proclaim its message with remarkable clarity. Try it and see.

Foreign holiday food suggestions

"Old Country" flavors add a special Christmas magic to New World holiday foods — especially those with the unique touch of Germany, Austria or Czechoslovakia, says Dr. Rose Tindall, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. In fact, holiday foods and traditions throughout the United States owe much to those countries for the rich heritage of celebration they've influenced, she says.

FROM GERMANY...

German homemakers pride themselves on their baked-goods creations. Specialties include springerle, lebkuchen, pfeffernusse and Christollen. Springerle are "picture" cookies. Carved rolling pins (usually with animal patterns) press over rolled-out dough to make the pictures. Then they're cut into separate rectangles and baked. Anise is the traditional licorice-flavored spice for this German treat.

Lebkuchen are gingersnaps — or gingerbread cookies — trimmed in white frosting.

Pfeffernusse (pepper nuts) are baked as little balls of dough. They're spicy with cloves and cinnamon and hot with black pepper.

Christollen is a real artist's delight, since it's an oblong, yeast-raised cake filled with raisins, currants, candied fruits, and nuts. A glaze of fruit sauce or a sprinkling of white sugar tops this festive delicacy.

In addition to sharing its foods, Germany also gave us our legendary Santa Claus — from their Kriss Kringle inspired by Saint Nicholas, who lived in Asia Minor during the 4th century and was known as the bestower of gifts to children on Christmas Eve.

PFEFFERNUSSE

Shortening or margarine
4 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon double-action baking powder
1 teaspoon ground cloves
1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
3/4 cup honey
1 cup medium or dark corn syrup
3/4 cup granulated sugar
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. Lightly grease a baking sheet with shortening or margarine. Bring honey, corn syrup and sugar to a boil over moderate heat in a heavy 4-to 6-quart saucepan.

Stir until sugar dissolves. Reduce heat to low; simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat and add butter or margarine and mix well. Combine flour, baking powder, cloves, allspice, pepper and cinnamon in a bowl. Add flour mixture to syrup mixture approximately 1 cup at a time and blend until smooth. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto baking sheet (1" apart). Bake until they touch (approximately 15 minutes) on a cake rack. Makes approximately a dozen.

CHRISTOLLEN

1/2 cup raisins
1 cup dried currants
1 cup mixed candied fruit peel
3/4 cup candied cherries (both sides green)
1/2 cup rum
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour

Combine above ingredients and mix well. Drain fruit (save rum) and sprinkle fruit with 2 tablespoons rum. Toss with a fork until fruit is coated. 1/2 cup lukewarm water
2 packages dry yeast
1/2 teaspoon sugar

Combine water, yeast and sugar. Blend, set in warm area for 10 to 15 minutes.

5 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
2 eggs
3/4 cup butter (cut into 1/2" bits)
8 tablespoons melted butter
1 cup slivered almonds
1/4 cup confectioners sugar

Combine milk, 1/4 cup sugar and salt in a heavy 2-quart saucepan. Add to lukewarm, stirring constantly, until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat and add rum, almond extract, lemon peel and the yeast mixture.

In a large bowl, place 3 cups flour and stir in the yeast mixture, one cup at a time. Stir in beaten eggs. Beat in the bits of softened butter. Knead the dough on a lightly floured surface for approximately 10 minutes until dough is smooth and elastic. Divide the combined fruit and almonds into 3 portions and press each portion into the dough, being careful to seal over-knead.

Place the dough in a deep bowl that has been coated with 1 teaspoon butter. Brush the surface of the dough with 2 teaspoons melted butter, wrap with a towel and set in a warm area to rise until double in bulk (approximately 2 hours).

Punch down and divide the dough into 2 loaves. Each loaf should be 4" wide and 12" long. Place the loaves on a greased jelly roll pan, brush the loaves with the remaining 1/2 cup spoons melted butter.

Let rise until double in bulk. Bake in an oven preheated to 350 degrees F. (approximately 45 minutes).

After cooling, sprinkle with confectioners sugar.

FROM AUSTRIA

Austria gave us ausgenossen (spiced out) strudel dough, which they adapted from the Hungarians.

Ausgenossen features fruit (usually apples) laced with cinnamon, sugar, and butter all wrapped in numerous thin layers of dough and baked to a moist, flaky, delicate dessert.

Austria also gave us the Christmas carol, "Silent Night," composed by a priest and the choirmaster of a church at Oberndorf as a service of music for a Christmas Eve service.

traditions for Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

For the Christmas Eve meal a perfectly fresh carp (fish) is a necessity.

It's such a necessity that the menu includes carp soup in carp sauce, along with another "family favorite" dish containing carp.

Stewed or fresh fruits served with spicy cookies complete the menu.

Dinner on Christmas Day is a festive meal of soup, roast goose, bread dumplings, braised red or green cabbage and hard, spiced cookies.

In addition, a folk custom on Christmas Eve sets the stage for the upcoming New Year, since it involves "Christmas fortune telling." Each person slices an apple in half horizontally. If the exposed seeds form the outline of a star, good luck will be in store for that person all year.

Good eating is in store for New World families who add a touch of the Old World to their holiday festivities.

ANNOUNCING The Opening Of the studio

709 5th - Lorenzo, Texas

I would like to invite you to a coffee at my new studio on Saturday, December 1, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. It's small but full of unique gifts for Christmas and the year around. There will be oil paintings (small and large), my wooden silhouette birds, hand thrown pottery, wind chimes, bells, silk flower arrangements, (I also custom arranging), Carolina scented candles and soap balls, unusual baskets, antique candle holders and much more. I'm located directly west of the bank. Usual hours will be 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

There will be a door prize on Saturday.

It's easy to see where many of our priorities are.

The children of today are looking to us for ways they can prepare for their own style of life... families... and job opportunities.

To help, we'll need more electricity. True, electricity will play a big role toward helping expand the job market to include these adults of tomorrow.

The modern use of electricity has contributed to a better educational system to prepare our young people for the new experiences yet to come.

Almost 10 years ago, the folks at Southwestern Public Service wanted to make sure there was enough electricity to keep today's wage earner working. They decided that the fuel used in their power plants should be coal because, coal would be more abundant and cheaper to use than the conventional fuel... natural gas.

Now, Southwestern Public Service has a new coal plant in operation and more on the way. Yes, coal plants will help stabilize fuel costs while providing a long-term, reliable, energy source to provide electricity.

It's good to be able to tell someone what they can depend on.

SHOULDER PADS

Shoulder pads emphasize fashionable width in the shoulder area.

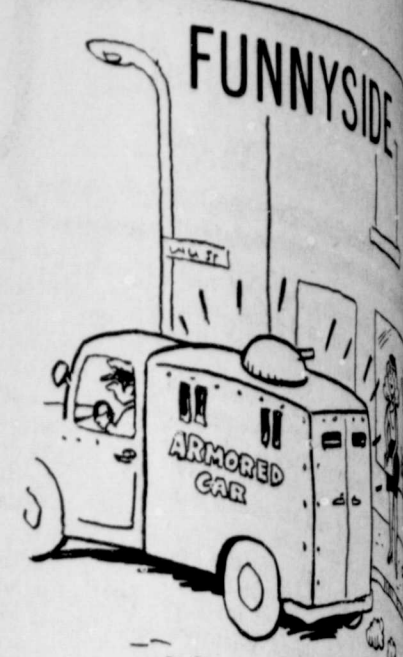

Make or buy shoulder pads in different sizes and thickness. The trick comes in adjusting pads to the proper size and thickness for the figure type (sloping or square shoulders) and the amount allowed by the pattern or garment designer.

More thickness is needed at the end of the shoulder at the armhole if extra diagonal folds form along the underarm area above the bustline toward the neckline. Sleeves will not hang properly.

Correct this problem by raising the garment at the end of the shoulder until the garment lies smoothly. A thicker shoulder pad is needed.

Experiment with existing loose-fitting garments to see if shoulder pads can be successfully added.

When sewing patterns that do not allow for shoulder pads, alter the pattern for square shoulder to add pads. Add length at the outside of the shoulder for both front and back pattern pieces.

"Besides that, what would you like to do?"

Eye examinations more important than you think

Eye exams are more important than some people think, says a health education specialist.

Almost half of the nation's entire population needs visual correction, Carla Shearer explains.

Ms. Shearer is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Also, one of every 20 children ages three to five has an eye problem, she says.

Have your child's eyes examined by age three, the specialist advises.

After that, you and the doctor should decide how often to return for eye exams.

Most children should have eye exams every year — or every other year — until they reach age 20, the specialist adds.

Between the early 20's to ages 35-40, you may need an eye exam every three or five years, since visual acuity (seeing ability) doesn't change very rapidly during this time.

After ages 40-45, it's a good idea to have an eye exam every two years to test for glaucoma and other diseases, along with visual acuity.

NINE-POINT EXAM

A thorough eye examination generally includes nine points:

1) Taking of a general health history.

2) A thorough examination of the eye — including the eyelid and any scars or inflammation around the eye.

3) An internal examination of the eye with an ophthalmoscope, which illuminates the interior portion of the eye.

4) A check for coordination of eye movement.

5) Close examination of the cornea.

6) A test for glaucoma — usually done for persons over age 30.

Concealed tax on horizon

The Board of Directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, during its fall board meeting held recently in Amarillo, went on record as strongly opposing proposed legislation that would create a value added tax.

Basically, VAT would be a tax on value added to a product at each production step on its way to market. As each manufacturer increases the value of a product, the difference between the buying and selling price would be taxed. The retail price paid by the ultimate consumer would include that total of all value added taxes paid along the manufacturing chain. Some exemptions might be allowed such as food.

Ed Coltharp, WTCC Executive Vice President, reported that Chairman of Congress' two tax-writing committees, Al Ullman of House Ways and Means and Russell Long of Senate Finance, had indicated support for a 10 percent value added tax, predicting that such a tax may come as early as 1980 or 1981.

The WTCC National Affairs Committee points out that most of the information presently available concerning VAT proposals is still speculative. Rumors about a value added tax indicate that it supposedly would be enacted as a dollar for dollar replacement tax aimed at reducing Social Security taxes and allowing a cut in personal income taxes.

The committee voiced strong opposition to the value added tax proposal, labeling it as a concealed tax that, if enacted, will end up as another source of citizen funding for increases in burgeoning federal spending programs.

Ullman estimated VAT would bring in between 120 and 150 billion dollars annually. Both senators stressed it would not increase the overall tax burden and could result in elimination of double taxation of corporate earnings and accelerated depreciation of plant and equipment.

Richard Bacon of Abilene, chairman of the WTCC National Affairs Committee, commented that while the promises of reduced taxes and accelerated depreciation for capital investments sounded good and were issues supported by the WTCC, they should be achieved through means other than a value added tax and not used as enticements for passage of Vat legislation.

Scientists have developed and are currently testing nuclear-powered artificial ears — completely implantable organs that could run continuously and automatically for more than the average human life span.

"Besides that, what would you like for Christmas?"

Eye examinations more important than you think

Eye exams are more important than some people think, says a health education specialist.

Almost half of the nation's entire population needs visual correction, Carla Shearer explains.

Ms. Shearer is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Also, one of every two children ages three to five has an eye problem, she says.

Have your child's eyes examined by age three, the specialist advises.

After that, you and the doctor should decide how often to return for eye exams.

Most children should have eye exams every year — or every other year — until they reach age 20, the specialist adds.

Between the early 20's to ages 35-40, you may need an eye exam every three or five years, since visual acuity (seeing ability) doesn't change very rapidly during this time.

After ages 40-45, it's a good idea to have an eye exam every two years to test for glaucoma and other diseases, along with visual acuity.

NINE-POINT EXAM
A thorough eye examination generally includes nine points:

1) Taking of a general health history.

2) A thorough examination of the eye — including the eyelid and any scars or inflammation around the eye.

3) An internal examination of the eye with an ophthalmoscope, which illuminates the interior portion of the eye.

4) A check for coordination of eye movement.

5) Close examination of the cornea.

6) A test for glaucoma — usually done for persons over age 30.

Are Bollworms Eating Your Profits?

Call Palmer.
Palmer can help stop him from eating up your profits. When is the best time to treat your cotton for bollworm? Which chemical should you use and how often should it be applied? For the answers call Palmer and Associates, Independent Entomologist. They can assure you maximum return for each dollar spent, by:
FIRST—Regularly scheduled field monitoring procedures by trained entomologist will establish the most economical point to initiate control measures.
SECOND—Since Palmer is not connected with any chemical sale organization, they independently analyze each chemical on the market and choose the ones best suited for each job.
THIRD—Routine monitoring throughout the season assures good control. For example: This year through careful monitoring, 42% of the acres under Palmer control was judged not to need treatment at all. Average cost per acre treated and untreated was only $7.15. This resulted in an average net return on treated fields of $18.79 per acre. Don't let bollworms damage your cotton again next year. Call Palmer and Associates today and put the bollworm problem behind you. They can show you case histories of how they have helped farmers in your area control bollworms and increase their net income.

Get what you pay for by mail

Learn to get what you pay for by mail, advises Claudia Kerbel, a consumer information specialist.

Be your own mail order bookkeeper — take notes and learn your rights, she emphasizes.

Ms. Kerbel is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Mail order firms must forward merchandise within 30 days of the stated time, and they must notify the customer of any delay, according to a Federal Trade Commission ruling.

If the delivery cannot be made as originally promised, the customer may demand a refund.

However, it is the customer's responsibility to cancel and to state the exact amount of expected refund, the specialist explains.

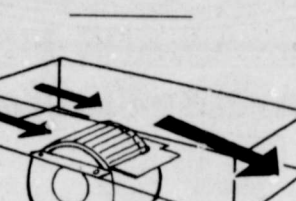

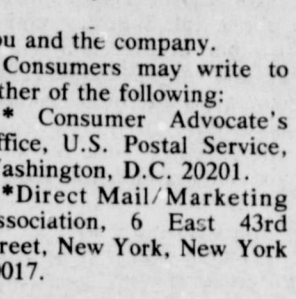

When ordering by mail, write the address of the company on the payment check, as well as description and any identifying number of the purchase. Then the cancelled check is a permanent record and proof of payment.

If the order does not arrive within a reasonable length of time, write to the company to make sure they received the order.

If they do not answer within 30 days, write to the U.S. Post Office or the Direct Mail Marketing Association.

To begin a trace, include date of the order, amount of money involved and a copy of any correspondence between you and the company.

Consumers may write to either of the following:
* Consumer Advocate's Office, U.S. Postal Service, Washington, D.C. 20201.
* Direct Mail Marketing Association, 6 East 43rd Street, New York, New York 10017.

Better Circulation

Making the move... SENIOR CITIZEN'S CORNER

Making moving as smooth a transition as possible for every member of the family, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

DISCUSS DECISION
Give family members an opportunity to discuss the decision. Talk about why a move is important and the factors which are involved.

Consider family needs as well as those of individual members, she suggests.

ANTICIPATE REACTIONS
Anticipate differing reactions from family members and make allowances for normal stress that will come as a part of the change. New job responsibilities, new living environments and new friends all bring adjustments for family members.

Talk about exciting aspects of the move as well as apprehensions and anxieties.

LEARN ABOUT NEW PLACES
Learn as much about the new place of residence as possible before the move.

As a family, talk about what to expect—the climate, schools, neighborhoods, cultural and recreational activities, churches and the business community.

If materials and maps are available from the Chamber of Commerce or tourist bureau, secure them and review them as a family unit.

If there are friends, acquaintances or business associates in the area to which the move is being made, write letters for information about specific questions.

LOCATE HELP
Locate sources of help.

Many communities have newcomers' social groups, "Welcome Wagons" and other service aids to new residents.

In some larger cities, real estate firms offer a referral relocation service to assist clients.

EXPECT PROBLEMS
Finally, recognize that even at best a move is unsettling and usually is accompanied by some emotional wear and tear.

Being informed, prepared and organized as a family for the move reduces psychological adjustment and makes relocation easier for all concerned, she adds.

Perhaps surprisingly, a recently released study indicates that 90 percent of Americans in nursing homes are satisfied with their environment.

The survey, conducted by the Census Bureau, measured the reaction of residents and their families to such factors as lodging, food, social relationships and activities to determine the quality of care provided.

Next of kin were also asked to evaluate the level of care provided to their relatives. A total of 91.5 per cent believed that the care met the resident's needs and only 1.6 per cent reported that there was a lack of personal attention to the nursing home resident. Approximately 3.5 per cent contended there was inadequate treatment, 0.2 per cent, inadequate facilities, and 3 per cent pointed out other reasons for dissatisfaction.

The survey is available from the Government Printing Office for $6.00 and the Superintendent of Documents number is C 3-186-23/69.

Christmas Facts And Fancies Around The World

• The Christmas Seal originated in Denmark in 1903 when a Danish postal clerk decided to ask people to buy a special Christmas stamp to help raise money for sick and needy children.

• The world's largest Christmas wrapping, 42 feet long and seven feet in diameter, was constructed as a showroom display at a garage in Essex, England, according to the Guinness Book of Records. It took two weeks to build and concealed a Ford Escort car.

• Flowers are among the most popular Christmas gifts throughout the world, ranging from the traditional evergreen wreath in northern Europe to the gay floral tributes used to decorate for South America's Christmas Fiestas. With Interflora, the international affiliate of FTD, it is possible to send a floral holiday greeting to almost any country in the world in less time than it takes to send a Christmas card!

• Jolly old Santa Claus is not the only one delivering gifts at Christmastime. In Scandinavia, they are brought by little gnomelike creatures called "Yule Men," who are said to live hidden in the attic all year long. In Italy, they are left on Epiphany Eve (January 6th) by a wrinkled old woman called Befana, whose arrival is announced by a bell. The Magi, the three wise men, bring gifts to Mexican children who, instead of hanging stockings, place their shoes on the windowsill.

• One of the longest Christmas celebrations in the world takes place in Sweden, where the holiday lasts an entire month. It begins on December 13th with Saint Lucia's feast day.

 To Make Custom Pleats The Easy Way

EASY - If you've always wanted pleated but were hesitant to tackle the job, the new pleated tape developed by the drapery hardware experts at Kirsch is the perfect answer for reluctant do-it-yourselfers.

The pretty lines of draperies, there lurks a perplexing problem. It's frustrating by-guess-and-check method of measuring, hanging and stitching each pleat. And that's why some homemakers take heart. Kirsch specialists, have developed a nifty pre-printed tape that shows you exactly how to fold, tack and sew the tape to the drapery fabric and then as indicated on the tape to form evenly spaced pleats. Called "Custom Pleats" the tape serves both as a printed pattern and as a drapery heading stiffener.

Because the draperies hang with standard drapery hooks, there are no special pleater hooks to buy. "Custom Pleats" even costs much less than other pleating tapes. It's polyester, so it's washable; although washability of the draperies will depend upon the fabric used. "Custom Pleats" is available at most fabric shops and department stores, where it's sold by the yard.

So, if you haven't been willing to tackle draperies, take heart. Let "Custom Pleats" take the problem out of pinch-pleats.

Learning To Cope

Learn to accept your feelings when you suddenly realize your parents are old by facing the issue, coming to terms with it, and hopefully resolving any problems.

It's natural to avoid thinking about the inevitable deaths of those who are close, particularly parents.

FACE THE ISSUE

Face the issue by thinking about it. Parents do not remain invulnerable forever.

COME TO TERMS

Come to terms with your feelings.

You may feel a desire to be close to your parents — wanting to protect and do things for them.

You feel this way because you love them, because it would be a nice thing to do.

near each other — often in the same house.

RESOLVE PROBLEMS

Remember, you are not alone in your confusion of feelings confronting the idea of a parent's aging and death.

If love, not resentment or guilt, is what you feel, you will help your parents as much as you are able.

But, if the demands are too great, you may find that resentment blocks out the love.

When complaining to a store or manufacturer doesn't work, you should send a copy of your letter to the Better Business Bureau, which will get in touch with the firm.

You Ask ?

OVENS

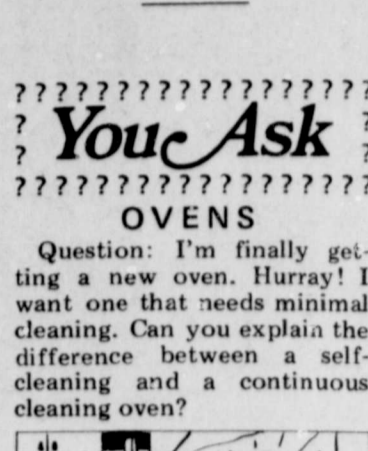

Question: I'm finally getting a new oven. Hurray! I want one that needs minimal cleaning. Can you explain the difference between a self-cleaning and a continuous cleaning oven?

Answer: The home economists from Whirlpool Corporation explain that the finish of the porcelain enamel on a continuous cleaning oven is porous. When fat splatters hit this surface, they break down into many smaller splatters which gradually burn away at regular oven temperatures used for baking and roasting. This is a continuous process and keeps the oven in a presentable clean condition.

The finish of the porcelain enamel on self-cleaning ovens is smooth. To clean the surface, you heat the oven cavity to a high temperature (around 830 to 875 degrees). This decomposes the soil to a white ash. When the oven is cool, the ash can be wiped out with a damp cloth or paper towel.

MONEY SAVING TIP: Pre-heat your oven only for items like cakes, pies and rolls. It isn't necessary to pre-heat for meats, casseroles or broiling.

Stand-by electric generators important for farms

Emergency stand-by electric generators proved their worth to Texas farms and ranches this year when flooding and tornadoes caused power failures.

"A stand-by electric generator is a good investment on any farm with mechanized facilities, bulk milk handling equipment, mechanical feeding equipment, or facilities requiring continuous heat, such as brooders," said Dr. Gary Nelson, Nelson is an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Nelson noted that stand-by generators are either engine driven or tractor driven; stationary or portable; manual or automatic start; and powered by gasoline, bottled gas or diesel fuel.

"Generators must provide the same type of power at the same voltage and frequency as that supplied by power lines," he explained. "This is usually 120 or 240-volt single phase, 60-cycle alternating current."

For generators up to 15 kilowatts, an air-cooled engine is often used. A liquid-cooled engine is necessary for larger generators. The engine must have about a two-and-one-quarter hp capacity with the proper drive system for each 1,000 watts of generator output.

"A full-load system will handle the entire farmstead load," Nelson said. "Automatic engine-powered full-load systems will begin to furnish power immediately, or up to 30 seconds after power goes off."

Small, less expensive part-load systems may be enough to handle essential equipment during an emergency.

Power-take-off generators are about half as costly as engine-operated units. Under a part-load system, only the most essential equipment is operated at one time. This would be adequate for most farms. However, the generator must be sized to keep certain necessary equipment, such as a milk cooler or ventilation fan, running.

Stand-by electric generators important for farms, ranches

Emergency stand-by electric generators proved their worth to Texas farms and ranches this year when flooding and tornadoes caused power failures.

"A stand-by electric generator is a good investment on any farm with mechanically ventilated production facilities, bulk milk handling equipment, mechanical feeding equipment, or facilities requiring continuous heat, such as brooders," said Dr. Gary Nelson, Nelson is an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Nelson noted that stand-by generators are either engine driven or tractor driven; stationary or portable; manual or automatic start; and powered by gasoline, bottled gas or diesel fuel.

"Generators must provide the same type of power at the same voltage and frequency as that supplied by power lines," he explained. "This is usually 120 or 240-volt single phase, 60-cycle alternating current."

For generators up to 15 kilowatts, an air-cooled engine is often used. A liquid-cooled engine is necessary for larger generators. The engine must have about a two-and-one-quarter hp capacity with the proper drive system for each 1,000 watts of generator output.

"A full-load system will handle the entire farmstead load," Nelson said. "Automatic engine-powered full-load systems will begin to furnish power immediately, or up to 30 seconds after power goes off."

Small, less expensive portable systems may be enough to handle essential equipment during an emergency. Power-take-off generators are about half as costly as engine-operated units. Under a part-load system, only the most essential equipment is operated at one time. This would be adequate for most farms. However, the generator must be sized to keep certain necessary equipment, such as a milk cooler or ventilation fan, running continuously while power is not available.

"Check with your electrician or power supply representative for installation instructions since wiring codes, local codes, and requirements may differ," Nelson advised.

"Locate the generator in a heated, ventilated building, away from flammable materials. An automatic shut-off unit should start when power fails. When using an engine-driven generator with a tractor-driven unit, first disconnect the generator from the first and add other loads, when each is up to speed, explains Dr. Nelson.

As far as expenses, Nelson said, a tractor PTO-driven 15-kilowatt unit may cost about $1,600, whereas a stand-by unit may cost $4,000. Determining the size of stand-by equipment to buy by consulting with the production loss that likely occur during a power failure.

FOCUS ON YOUR EYES

If you're holding this newspaper a little closer than you used to or find close work such as sewing or making arts and crafts more difficult: than it once was, you could be one of the more than 90 million Americans over 35 who are the prime victims of presbyopia. That's the official name of the normal deterioration of close-range focusing ability that often occurs as people grow older.

Fortunately, there may be a way you can correct your sight without crushing your budget.

If you get regular eye examinations, are not suffering from glaucoma, cataracts, eye infections or other eye problems, and have equal vision in both eyes, you may be able to buy your glasses over-the-counter.

Variety stores, drug stores, department stores, discount stores, and others sell these reading glasses for under $10 and have been for many years.

Many physicians have suggested that their patients save the high cost of prescription glasses by getting them ready-to-wear.

It should be reminded that ready-to-wear glasses aren't intended to replace examinations by an eye doctor. Continuous eye check-ups, especially after the age of 40, will maintain the health of your eyes.

The reading glasses are made in varying focus numbers, from 32 (the weakest) to 8 (the strongest). These can be matched to diopeters (diopeters measure lens power) that consumers receive from an eye doctor.

If you would like to learn more about ready-to-wear reading glasses you should: Send for a free booklet, "Focusing in on Presbyopia" available by presbyopia a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Vision Aid Reading Glasses, c/o Grey & Davis, 800 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022.
