LOCKNEY MAN FINDS OUT AFTER ANSWERING AD

BBB frowns on 'homework schemes'

Those advertisements promising a lot of money for very little work (several have appeared recently in this newspaper) sound too good to be true and very often are, as at least one Lockney resident found out recently after sending in $15 to a "firm" in San Antonio.

Lawson Rowell of Lockney said he answered two classified advertisements in this newspaper which promised "$356.00 weekly guaranteed" for two hours work per day at home. He received an application form from "Financial Advisor Services" with instructions to send in a $15 "application fee" to pay for the cost of "processing your application and shipping your Membership Packet."

The Lockney man sent in the $15 payment in December 8. He became suspicious several days ago when he had not received anything for his money. He tried to call the Financial Advisor Service office in San Antonio, and he attempted to phone an A.L. Chavis, represented in the literature he received as a director of FAS; neither was in the telephone company's list of subscribers. Tuesday morning, he called the Better Business Bureau in Lubbock. They advised him that the operation was not a legitimate business but a hoax, he said, which is under investigation by the state attorney general's office and the U.S. Postal Service. Now he figures he's just lost the $15, but he's going to try to get it back.

In a telephone conversation Tuesday afternoon, the Lubbock Better Business Bureau confirmed the report that the Financial Advisor Services operation, and several others like it, are being investigated by the attorney general and the postal service. The BBB representative described the operations as "homework schemes" and said many times they involve envelope stuffing or answering phone messages. According to the BBB, such schemes are "running rampant" both locally and nationwide. "There has been a 300-percent increase in these ads nationwide since August 1," the BBB representative told this newspaper.

The persons who answer the ads can become unwitting "partners" in the illegal schemes. Even if they don't realize what they are doing, they are breaking the law if they participate. The persons who answer the advertisements are often instructed on how to place more advertisements which will lure still more consumers to the promoters, according to a recent report from the state attorney general. When they become a part of the scheme, they are breaking the law too, even though the "big guy" gets the money.

BBB reports several schemes in South Plains area

The Better Business Bureau of the South Plains is experiencing a great number of inquiries on several types of schemes in this area.

The first involves the increase in newspaper and magazine ads dealing with "work at home" schemes. Typical of such an ad is: "Earn $200 per week stuffing and addressing envelopes."

Although most local newspapers in the South Plains do not run these ads, some are inadvertently printed. Sometimes the ad is hard to identify as a work-at-home scheme. Such is the case with American Switchboard Association which promises dollars for using your phone as an answering service. If a person is in doubt, they should contact the BBB for assistance. Work-at-home schemes are usually illegal and are under the investigation of the Postal Authorities and the States Attorney General. We advise extreme caution in dealing with these offers for extra income.

The second problem involves the increased solicitations for charities. Usually, the ones to watch out for are those that come by mail or are being handled by itinerant solicitors. A potential donor should call the BBB office to check. The Bureau keeps records of some 10,000 charities and rates them as complying or not complying to the standards of the Council of Better Business Bureaus.

A third problem involves salespersons representing a company by the name of International Tool Co., out of Greenville, South Carolina. This company has been in the South Plains area selling tools at a "discount" with a retail price fixed to the tools. They also reportedly have been selling their tools as "bankruptcy" items.

The BBB does not approve of a company using a distress-type sales pitch and too, a seller has to be able to prove 51% of the marketplace is selling at a certain price before he can claim a discount.

Your Better Business Bureau suggests before buying anything, that you shop around first and compare prices, quality, etc. Also, check with the BBB before doing business with an unknown.

South Plains consumers and businesses may contact the Bureau through the toll-free phone number — 1/800/692-4466.

Floydada soldier to be sent to San Antonio following accident in Germany

A young Floydada soldier stationed in Germany will be returning to the United States soon after suffering serious injuries in a training exercise. Jimmy Dale Gollihar, son of Floyd County Sheriff's deputy Jim Gollihar, reportedly broke a bone in his neck while running a practice obstacle course on his base in Wildflicker, Germany, recently.

Several reports concerning the younger Gollihar's injuries circulated around town, but the soldier's father told the Hesperian this week that his son was currently paralyzed in both legs following the incident.

Deputy Gollihar, after returning from an emergency visit to Germany, said his son was in excellent spirits after receiving treatment.

The doctors said that he would be paralyzed in both legs and might be able to walk eventually with the use of crutches," Gollihar said. "But he (Jimmy Dale) told me that he'd be on his feet with no crutches by January 1, 1981."

The younger Gollihar was being treated at a private German hospital before being transferred to American military facilities for rotation back to the U.S.

Upon his return to the U.S., Gollihar will be hospitalized at the Brooks Medical Center in San Antonio. Gollihar married a young German woman less than a month before the accident.

Lockney student wins WTSU livestock Marcia Fortenberry, a West Texas State University senior from Lockney, placed first in the recent WTSU intramural livestock judging contest. Miss Fortenberry, a pre-veterinary medicine major, won the senior division. Jim Covington of Floydada, a freshman majoring in agricultural business and economics, was second in the junior division. Contestants judged 11 categories of livestock, including four classes of beef, three classes of sheep, three classes of hogs and one class of horses. The contest was sponsored by the WTSU Block and Bridle Club.

More than 400 persons, it was estimated, viewed the newly remodeled facilities at the First National Bank in Lockney.

Lockney man wounded in chest

Hale County man is free this week on $10,000 bond in connection with a shooting outside an eastside lounge that sent one man to the Regional Hospital.

The incident apparently began when Naranjo, 44, on Monday and asked her to dance. The woman told deputies that she refused the offer because she was dancing with her husband.

An argument developed between Zubia and the other man. The shooting occurred shortly after both men left the club. Hale County deputies are also holding a 25-year-old Lockney man who received a six-day sentence for resisting arrest.

City tax rebates up for month

The city of Floydada received a slightly larger one percent local option rebate check this December than for the same period last year to cut one percentage point off the city's two percent drop for the year overall.

The city sales tax is collected by merchants and other sales tax holders along with the four-percent state sales tax and is rebated monthly to cities in which it is collected by the comptroller.

Floydada received $13,422.99 in rebates this month, compared to $13,071 in December, 1978.

The city of Floydada received a slightly larger one percent local option rebate check this December than for the same period last year to cut one percentage point off the city's two percent drop for the year overall.

Lockney's 1979 payments to date totaled $36,458.78, for a one percent increase over the $36,056.35 figure stated during 1978.

There was reasonable, but not recession-proof growth in city sales tax rates," according to Bob Bullock, the comptroller of public accounts.

Johnny Cash youth TV special scheduled January 7

One of the bright moments of this year's drab television fare will be the three and one-half hour special "Where Have All The Children Gone?" to be aired Monday, January 7, 1980, from 6:30 to 10 p.m. on KAMC-TV, Channel 28, Lubbock.

But the real stars of "Where Have All

The Children Gone?" are a group of teenagers, who not only tell their struggles with the major problems confronting American young people, but share refreshing solutions they have found to deal with their problems.

Documentary footage, guest appearances, music and personal interviews are interspersed with dramatizations of four major problem areas that affect young people: crime, alcohol, runaways and suicide. Highlights of the program include the contrast between the young who are in trouble and those who have come under the influence of the Youth Guidance programs.

Sponsored locally by Youth for Christ, costs of production and television time already have been paid for by concerned individuals, business organizations, and churches.

The program will be a strong encouragement to interested adults to begin to really care about young people. Support raised as a result of the special, as well as time volunteered by interested individuals, will be used to expand the work of YFC with teenagers here in this area, on the high school campuses, and in the juvenile probation system.

1980 census to be confidential, important

DALLAS, Texas — President Jimmy Carter strongly affirmed the confidentiality of the upcoming 1980 Census in a proclamation from the White House.

Carter assured every person in the United States "that there will be no improper use of information given in the census. Answers cannot be released in any way which will harm the individual."

By law, the presidential proclamation states, individual information will not be used for purposes of taxation, investigation, the regulation of immigration or in connection with the enforcement of any national, state or local law or ordinance.

Carter also declared that "under the law it is the duty of every person to participate in the census by answering all questions" in the questionnaire.

Census results determine the apportionment of seats in the House of Representatives and distribution of federal funds to States and local communities.

Census forms will be delivered nationwide on March 28, 1980.

The 1980 census will provide a statistical snapshot of this nation at a time of unprecedented demographic change. Census statistics determine the apportionment of seats in the House of Representatives and are the basis for drawing political boundaries for state legislatures as well as local election districts.

In addition, they are used to allocate more than $50 billion each year from the federal government to state and local governments. These allocations affect the level of services to people and, therefore, the local and state taxes they must pay.

New Year's Eve lock-in planned

The youth department of the First Baptist Church of Aiken is sponsoring a "New Year's Eve Lock-in" on Monday night, December 31. Beginning at 9, the "Lock-in" will include a skating party, a horror movie, a hot dog supper, and games all night long.

The event is open to all junior high and high school students and will cost two dollars a person to cover costs of skating and movie.

Starting at the Plainview skating rink at 9 p.m., the party will proceed to the Aiken Church around 11 for the movie, food, and games. Those attending are responsible for their own transportation to the skating rink, the church, and back home the next morning.

"We give the kids the option to go elsewhere after the skating party," explained Dennis Noblett, Aiken youth minister. "However, if they return to the church, they must stay for the rest of the night. After the skating party, we will be responsible only for those who return with us to the church."

Those going to the church for all-night festivities are advised to bring a sleeping bag, "just in case."

Charity drive set at LHS

The Lockney High School Student Council is sponsoring a drive to collect canned food and other supplies for Girls Town at Whiteface. Students who wish to contribute to the drive may deposit items in boxes at school.

Others who wish to contribute may take items to the high school. Some of the things needed are canned food, school supplies, and girls' lingerie.

The student council will sponsor a movie for students on December 21 (the day school dismisses for the holidays), with the proceeds to go to Girls Town.

Floyd Philosopher thinks scientists ought to keep some of their ideas to themselves

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on White River throws a small monkey wrench in Dear editor:

It didn't bother me but for a while the other day some people were excited because a scientist said a large strip of California was bulging. Said his measurements showed that a section of the earth's surface has pushed up and it was a matter of great interest if not profound concern.

Later it was reported his measurements were based on some original measurements which were themselves incorrect.

This got me to thinking. What if the guy who first measured a minute and then measured an hour and found it contained 60 minutes, was wrong? And that later calculations have found a minute has only 50 seconds and an hour therefore only 50 minutes?

Have you calculated what would happen when the Washington Office of Equal Opportunity, Minimum Wages For Congressmen and Universal Fairness From Coast To Coast And All Nearby Islands, got hold of these revised figures?

I don't know if these new measurements are accurate or not, but I know that if they are, it would be a rough estimate of the actual length of a minute. When you figure that out, you'll find that the work force is actually something like 10 percent shorter. But it's not the makers to report to the Christmas season. The hours late season are because people are driving 55 mph. And on top of that, the factories who produce the goods for the new year are actually producing less than they should. There are times when you keep their measurements...

The Consumer Alert

Attorney General

Many consumers are looking for ways to earn extra cash for the holidays. One money earning scheme being promoted throughout Texas for the past few months should be avoided according to the experiences of many consumers who have complained to our offices: envelope stuffing "business opportunities." In recent months, the Texas Department of Consumer Protection and Attorney General Mark White have filed a number of lawsuits against companies advertising envelope stuffing as a money earning business opportunity. In many instances, the companies have been found to be engaged in a scheme to defraud consumers. The companies are not only defrauding consumers, but they are also defrauding the state of Texas. The companies are also defrauding the federal government. The companies are also defrauding the state of Texas. The companies are also defrauding the federal government.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texas' two top-ranking Democrats last week warned the top-ranking Republican not to call a special session simply to play high-pressure politics because that game plan could self-destruct.

In Waco, House Speaker Bill Clayton told a Democratic party meeting that Gov. Bill Clements could seriously jeopardize his "real good working relationship" with the Legislature if he tries to strong-arm pet issues through a special session promised for March or September. A few days later Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby echoed those sentiments.

Clements wants the special session to pass three issues: use of writs in narcotics cases, initiative and referendum, and tax reform.

But Democrats also strongly suspect the Republican governor wants to use the special session to disrupt their reelection campaigns back home — and they don't take that thought lightly.

Nor have they taken kindly to two Republican legislators whom they believe to be traveling the state rounding up opponents for their Democrat colleagues.

Clements has never been one to back away from a political fight and his party delights in their new muscle. The next election, round two in the state's new two-party ring, may be a big one for the history books.

New Party Policy

The State Democratic Executive Committee balked again at arranging a presidential primary on May 3. Chairman Billy Goldberg said the committee will schedule a primary if the Democratic presidential race appears close by the March 10 SDEC meeting.

The Democrats also added a rule to permit removal of party officers who publicly support opposing candidates or parties, a gambit aimed at Dallas Democrats who backed Clements in 1978.

Unfazed, a group of Dallas County precinct chairmen announced the next day they were switching to the Republican party. Their numbers were estimated between 11 and 20.

50-Cent Gas Tax

Clements took a strong stand last week against a proposed 50-cent federal gasoline tax hike aimed at reducing fuel consumption in the U.S.

The governor proposed a state fuels hike of five cents a few weeks ago, but he isn't ready to up the ante that high.

He said he was studying ways to voluntarily reduce consumption.

Last week Clements appointed his chief counsel, David Dean, as head of the new Governor's Criminal Justice Division.

Odds and Ends

House Parliamentarian Bob Johnson, who has been a ditch-digger, truck driver, football player and legislator, announced he will leave government and join the law-lobby firm of former Speaker Rayford Price and former legislator Bob Hutchinson.

In stepping into a new career, Johnson drew high praise from all factions of the House of Representatives for his service as parliamentarian.

El Paso Representative Luthor Jones has also said he will not seek reelection, but indicated he might be available for state Democratic Party chairman. Jones was a member of the "Gang of Four," four representatives who played loyal opposition to Speaker Clayton.

Jones announcement brings to 12 the number of representatives who have said they won't come back for one reason or another. Others are Jim Clark, D-Pasadena; Bob Close, R-Perry; Danny Hill, D-Amarillo; Lance Lalor, D-Houston; Tom Martin, D-George West; Ed Mayes, D-Granbury; Bill Sullivan, D-Gainesville; Buddy Temple, D-Diboll; and Tom Massey, D-San Angelo.

"Flat-Out Asking"

State Sen. E.L. Short, D-Tahoka, has "flat-out asked" Clements to rescind priority status for gasoline consumers in Dallas, Tarrant and Harris counties because he fears the South Plains won't have enough fuel for the winter.

Clements wrote back to Short saying he can't agree with the senator's assessment and he will keep the priorities for the urban areas.

AG Opinions

In two legal opinions issued last week Attorney General Mark White ruled: —Chief appraisers and other employees of an appraisal district who assess and appraise property for ad valorem tax purposes are required to register with the Board of Tax Assessor Examiners whether or not the district has become fully implemented.

—A Fort Worth I.S.D. policy which permits teachers to work for professional organizations while being paid salaries by the school district constitutes an unconditional grant of public funds to a private organization and is unconstitutional.

Longhorns get win No. 1

Lockney Longhorns notched their first victory of the 1979-80 season Friday afternoon in the Tournament. The 55-53 win "long overdue," according to coach Ed Koester) came at the expense of Post, Lockney's second opponent in the tourney.

Lockney made some mistakes but were overcome them and win the title. Koester told The Beacon, Longhorn scoring was balanced. McCormick was high with 15 points, Steve Warren had 13, Kevin putting in not just 40 hours but actually a little over 45.

When you figure up the numbers, you'll find the work force has been doing something like 3 trillion dollars a year. Take something or other out of the error.

But it's not just women who are making it. Consider what it's doing to the new Christmas. Trains that are late because people who thought they were going 55 miles an hour are actually getting only 50 miles an hour.

And on top of all this, the scientist has announced that the universe is only half as old as we thought it was. There are times when scientists keep their mouths shut.

in the consolation finals Saturday. "We played well in the first half, but they 'blew us out' in the second half," Koester said. It was a cold-shooting night for the 'Horns, who averaged only 20 percent. Evans scored 18 points and McCormick netted 16 for Lockney. Friona's Lewis had 20.

Littlefield wins JV game

Littlefield defeated Lockney 46-32 Tuesday in a junior varsity basketball game. The visiting Longhorns experienced an off night, hitting only 33 percent of their field-goal attempts and 40 percent from the free-throwline.

The Wildcat JV led 14-6 after one quarter, 37-24 after two, and 59-35 after three. Phillip Kidd led Lockney scorers with 22 points. Tyke Dipprey had seven, Alex Vasquez and Jeff Aull six each, Mike Arellano two, and Junior McDonald one for the 'Horns.

Lockney freshmen evened their basketball record at 2-2 Monday when they edged Abernathy in a game played on the Antelopes' home court.

Texas wild turkey harvest above average

Wild turkey hunters may have their best years in years to bag a wild turkey for a holiday feast this hunting season.

The fall turkey season coincides with the deer hunting season in most Texas counties, and so far the turkey harvest has been well above average, according to Horace Gore, upland game program leader for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

"There are two main reasons for this," Gore said. "One is an exceptional hatch last spring, which means there are plenty of young gobblers. The other is that conditions have been dry enough this fall to cause the birds to have to move around quite a bit to find food."

The birds are in good body condition because of generally good acorn crops in most areas, Gore said. Gore advised that the use of supplemental feed such as maize in key areas will attract the birds into shotgun range.

"Some people don't like the idea of baiting, but sometimes it's about the only way to get a turkey within range of a shotgun." He pointed out that some deer hunters harvest turkeys from stands with rifles, but often the birds are either missed, wounded or the meat is ruined by the rifle shot.

"A good method of harvesting a turkey is to scatter some feed close to a ground-level blind several days in succession, then keep a shotgun handy along with your rifle while deer hunting in case the turkeys show up," Gore said. A head shot at close range with a shotgun will leave an unspoiled turkey for the table, he said.

Gore said while turkey populations are up in virtually all of their traditional range, the Permian Basin (San Angelo area) and the Possum Kingdom area of North Central Texas experienced the largest increases. Summer hen/poult counts were exceptionally high, with four poult per hen recorded in the Permian Basin/Possum Kingdom areas and 3.5 poult per hen in the Edwards Plateau.

Gore reminded hunters that barring severe winter weather conditions, an outstanding spring turkey gobbler season is expected for the 62 counties offering a spring season in April 1980.

Wildcats too quick for Longhorns

The Lockney Longhorns found the Littlefield Wildcats to be very quick Tuesday night in Littlefield — quick enough to win the high-school varsity basketball game by a score of 69-61.

The Longhorns, even though they lost, accomplished several of the things they set out to do, coach Ed Koester said Wednesday. "I thought the kids showed some improvement," Koester said. "We're doing correctly about 85 percent of the things we need to do to win."

came down with 10 rebounds, although he played only three quarters because he was in foul trouble.

"Littlefield caught us in a lull the first and third quarters and got a little too far ahead," the Longhorn coach said after the game. The Wildcats led 10-7 at the end of the first period but were up by just one point, 31-30 at the halfway mark. They upped their lead to 50-36 at the end of the third quarter. Lockney cut the margin to three points once in the final period before the 'Cats sank four straight free throws to pull away late in the contest.

Bobbies beat Lady Horns

The Dimmitt Bobbies defeated the Lockney Lady Horns 51-39 last Friday night in a high-school girls' basketball game played in the Dimmitt gym.

Lockney coach Marsha Sharp said after the game she was really disappointed because "...we played well enough to win, but we didn't shoot the basketball well enough...." The Lockney girls made only 24 percent of their field-goal attempts Friday night.

Bagwells remembered on 60th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell were married 60 years ago on December 18, 1919 at the parsonage of the Floydada First Baptist Church with Brother W.A. Darden officiating. Sixty years later on Tuesday December 18, 1979, their pastor, Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, called at their home to wish them a happy anniversary. Mrs. Bagwell's Sunday

School teacher and class also made a surprise visit to the Bagwell home. The Bagwells were not expecting the lovely poinsettia they received from the SS class; the beautiful cake ordered by their niece, Vivian Pierce, of Everett, Washington; or the visits from their friends and neighbors in the afternoon, so instead of being there to greet their guests, they were at the grocery store. Still, the thoughts were appreciated and made the day extra special. Mr. Bagwell is a retired farmer, and Mrs. Bagwell is a homemaker. She also worked for several years at the Floydada and Lockney hospitals. She is currently correspondent for The Hesperian, having written the Fairview News for about 40 years.

Dessert consisted of Pralines and Mexican Chocolate.

One game was played at tables after everyone had eaten. Each was given a list of Spanish Christmas terms to unscramble. A creative game was played with three groups — the "Nacamacoles," the "Frijoles," and the "Frijoles." Groups went scavenger hunting for little red bows in various places throughout the party area. However, only the captain of the group could pick up a bow. When team members

South Plains News

South Plains, December 18 — Weather still continues cold, with a 22 degree temperature on Tuesday morning, but we had 10 degrees during the cold spell over the weekend. Winter begins Saturday, December 22, at 6:10 Eastern time, and we have already started winter, since South Plains and surrounding community had a heavy snow of four or five inches. Some of the snow still covers the ground, and farming operations are at a standstill this week.

At the Lockney Cooperatives Gin in South Plains most of the cotton strippers are out of the fields while they are wet with snow, and about 95 percent of the cotton picking is over-with for the 1979 season.

The South Plains Elementary School program was held Tuesday, December 18, beginning at 2 p.m. with a program in which all the rooms and the children participated. Old Santa with his sack of candy and fruit was scheduled to make his appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marble, Kelly and Cindy, will be hosts at the Marble home in South Plains on Christmas eve for their annual get together. All the family is expected to be able to attend.

The South Plains Hobby Club met Thursday evening, December 13, at 7 p.m. for their Christmas party at the spacious and lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Teeple.

A Christmas tree and decorations in red and green throughout the home added to the old-fashioned Christmas setting with heavy snow on the ground, and soft flakes falling throughout the night.

A delicious buffet supper, with ham for the entree, was served to guests from a table laid with Christmas dishes. Games of forty-two were played during the evening.

Those who were guests with Mr. and Mrs. Teeple were Messrs. and Mrs. Fred Fortenberry of Lockney, Fred Marble, Kendall Cummings, Fred Blake, Harold Hamm, E.J. Kinslow, Grigsby Milton Jr., Tillman Powell, and Mmes. Letha Mulder, Ruby Higginbotham, J.P. Taylor and M.M. Julian. The guests drove home through falling flakes, and snow covered roads.

Mrs. Mamie Wood spent part of last week in Lubbock with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Teague and boys. She was working on the rally with Dr. Peale, Zig Zigar and Cavett Robert, which is coming up February 28 at the Civic Center in Lubbock. Mrs. Wood arrived home Saturday night.

Mrs. Frank McClure will enter the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock on Wednesday afternoon, and will have eye surgery Thursday morning. We wish the best for her during the time she is in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Shipley with their 12-year-old son, Tony, are newcomers to South Plains, and we welcome them to our community. Shipley is the bookkeeper for the Marble Bros. in South Plains. The Shipley family have moved from Roswell, New Mexico. They unloaded their van Sunday, and are living in the former George Weast home on the Silverton Highway, south of South Plains. The Shipleys have two other sons, Mark and Brian, who are away at college. Billy is the son of Mrs. John Shipley of Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Teeple went to Amarillo Saturday where they visited his sisters, Mrs. Wanda Teeple and Mrs. Thelma Nelson. They were accompanied by Mrs. Sybil Teeple of Lone Star. While in Amarillo they also spent some time with Mrs. Teeple's sister, Mrs. Virgie Flowers.

Mrs. Gary Gilbreath (Wanda) and her three boys left early Sunday morning for their home in Perryton. They had been spending the past two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Powell and family. When she returned home, she called her parents to say she was home safe, and that it was 6 degrees in Perryton, with no snow on the ground.

Mrs. Sylvie Kinnibrugh and her granddaughter, Melissa Horne of Plainview, returned home Sunday evening from Truscott where they had spent the weekend with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Simmons. They also visited in the home of Sylvie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Kinnibrugh, with Mrs. Kinnibrugh home a week from the Seymour Hospital where she had been the past three weeks. She is getting along very well. Mrs. Kinnibrugh and Melissa had gone on Friday while Sylvie was away on a hunting trip with L.N. Johnson, Raymond Reeves and others who went to Ozona to hunt. They got five deer while they were there.

We extend sympathy to members of the family of Mrs. Viola Moody, who died Friday at the Lockney Hospital after several weeks of illness. Services were held at 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon at the West College Street Church of Christ in Lockney. Several from our area attended the services and coming from Amarillo for the services were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Taylor and children.

Sunday evening, December 16, there was evening worship and a sermon in song at the South Plains Baptist Church, with Christmas music and a program presented by children and youth of the church, and members of the choir. The singers were dressed in church robes for the lovely occasion. Following the Christmas music, there was fellowship in the basement, where sandwiches, cakes, cookies, chips, coffee, and punch were served. There were about 45 in attendance.

We offer our sympathy to the family of Mrs. A.P. Sanders (Inez) who died Monday at the Lockney Convalescent Home, after an illness of several weeks. Services were at the First United Methodist Church in Lockney on Wednesday, December 19, at 2 p.m. Mrs. Sanders and family formerly lived in South Plains, and the Hansel Sanders, her son, and his son, the Mark Sanders, still reside here. We pray for all of them in their loss of their loved one at this Christmas time.

We wish for each and everyone a Blessed and Happy Christmas, and a Happy New Year.

Floydada Care Center Happenings

With Christmas just a few days off, things have been pretty busy in our home, and we have so many people to thank. The Benson Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church visited and gave each resident bananas. Loria Leibfried brought the staff some of his delicious peanut brittle, which we enjoyed very much.

Many thanks to the Floydada High Student Council for their visit and caroling Monday afternoon.

Girl Scout Troop 450 and leader Nancy Wilson sang several beautiful Christmas songs and gave residents stuffed animals they had made.

We had several residents who were under the weather with a virus this week. Hope everyone gets well before Christmas.

We also would like to thank Dona Ellis for the candy she brought to the staff.

1956 Miss Piggy attends 1956 Study Club

The 1956 Study Club met in the home of Paula Pauley for their December meeting and Christmas party. Members arrived at the party dressed as toys — a Jack-in-the-box, rag dolls, Santa Claus, toy soldier, little Miss Piggy, red fire truck, football player, Ronald McDonald, space man, Kiss creature, the Incredible Hulk, colored doll, computer and a baby toy ring. Costumes were judged and awards were given to those placing first, second and third. Miss Piggy (Stacy Smith) won first; The Incredible Hulk (Jan Thompson), second; toy soldier, (Pamela Carroll), third.

Each member brought a homemade Christmas ornament to exchange with someone else. The ornaments were priced and each person paid the club for the ornaments they received. Proceeds will go for club projects. Secret-pal gifts were also exchanged.

Co-hostesses Sandra Rainey, Paula Pauley and Connie Wideman served refreshments.

President Elaine McNeill surprised each club member with a recipe book she had compiled from recipes she had collected from them during the November meeting.

Leora Younger presented a reading of a modern version of "The Night Before Christmas."

Three sons, Robert, Bill and Mike.

The Vance Mitchells are planning to leave Monday for Oklahoma where they will spend Christmas with Mrs. Mitchell's family, Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Barnard.

Linda Lemons, Traca, Twyla, Jeffrey and Mychelle attended a Christmas party Friday in Plainview honoring Jeffrey and Mychelle.

Alton and Nell Love of Hurst visited Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Lackey over the weekend.

Word was received that Pearl Leach's daughter who has been ill for the past two years is seriously ill in a Houston hospital.

Rest home birthday party

The Floydada Rest Home was again the scene of the monthly birthday party, hosted by ladies of the City Park church of Christ, Thursday, December 13. Residents and guests were ushered into the dining room with the honorees (all seven) were able to be present) being seated at the "honor" table. Their places were marked with special cards.

The table was laid with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of red silk roses and peacock feathers. The birthday cake was iced in green and covered with red, sugar coated, candy. The punch was red and had a delightful fruit flavor.

The birthday poem was read and all joined in singing the birthday song after which the delicious refreshment plate was served. Following the refreshment time, honorees were assembled in the living room for pictures by the Hesperian photographer.

Mrs. Daniel had as her special guests W.R. and Margaret Daniel, Bill Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crull and Corene Stewart. We, as well as the honorees, are always most happy to have guests. We hope you will make a special effort to be with us, especially if you have a loved one or friend being honored. The next party will be January 17, 2:30 p.m.

BY MRS. CLYDE BAGWELL

December 17 — Regardless of when the "calendar" says winter begins, it has already begun here. Our weather since Tuesday has proved it. Wednesday we had rain and ice, Thursday more ice and snow and bitter cold. Since Monday the sun was bright but winter cold weather is still with us.

We take this means of wishing every one who reads this news a "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

We wish to express sympathy to the family of Mrs. Jess (Mattie) Jameson who died a week ago today. Her funeral was Wednesday afternoon at the New Salem Primitive Baptist Church, with burial in the Lakeview Cemetery. Mattie was our near neighbor, living just across the street. Her neighbors and friends will miss her very much. At one time the Jameson family lived near the Fairview and Campbell communities.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Reeves of Plainview visited Friday night with her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. T.L. Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Linch and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Watts and family Sunday.

Sunday afternoon December 9 Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hollums and Mrs. Ethel Graham went out for a drive to Matador and Quitaque just looking over the country.

Those visiting the past week with Mrs. Ethel Graham were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gray, San Diego, California, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Huggins.

And I hope we can all have a Happy Christmas season.

YOU ASK
Questions and Answers
TRASH COMPACTORS
Question: Can you explain how a trash compactor works?
Answer: A compactor includes a container for the trash and a ram. The ram is located in the top of the compactor. Whirlpool Corporation, who invented and first introduced the home compactor, explains that when you turn on the compactor, the ram moves down into the container, compacting the trash. The ram then returns back to the top of the compactor. A full cycle takes about a minute.

REDUCING YOUR TRASH IN A FLASH is what compactors are designed to do.
Question: How is the bag of compacted trash removed?
Answer: The side of the container can be tilted out so the full bag slides out easily.

Can you guess the cost of these books?

The stack on the left costs about $100. The same sum could buy the one on the right just ten years ago.

Book budgets don't go very far these days. The average new book a decade ago used to cost $8.47, and now costs $20.10—an increase of over 137%. Bad enough if you're an individual book buyer, but imagine how it would be if you bought books for a public library.

A $1,000 library acquisition budget in 1968 meant 118 new books for library users to borrow and enjoy. Today, that same $1,000 will only purchase 49 library books—less than half as many. Which ones would you cut out?

Magazines, too. The average subscription price for periodicals has jumped from $8.65 ten years ago to $27.58 up 219%. For libraries, this presents a real dilemma: if they give up any magazine subscriptions the missing issues are gone forever. Back issues with gaps in them become less and less useful as a reference and research tool. After a couple of years they might as well be thrown out.

That is only part of the problem facing public libraries today. Libraries are a service business. They require employees and supplies to operate. Wages and costs have gone up everywhere to keep pace with inflation. How does the public library cope? If it reduces staff, it must also reduce operating hours—that means less service, usually at nights and on weekends, the only times when working people can use library facilities.

Then there is the problem of local taxes and local budgets—both under increasing pressures. There just isn't enough money to go around—for police, firemen, hospitals, sanitation, welfare. So who gets the axe first? You guessed it.

That is why a new grass roots movement has sprung up in communities across the country faced with public library service cutbacks. An effort is now under way to meld these local citizens' groups into a national organization to push for better Federal and State funding and support services for public libraries.

You can help, too. The organization is looking for citizen volunteers who are willing to pitch in wherever public libraries are in trouble. Write for more information today to: LIBRARIES, Box 366, Bowling Green Station, New York, N.Y. 10004.

KEEP LIBRARY DOORS OPEN

A Christmas wish from the Floyd County Library: Please bring in the overdue books you have borrowed. The Floyd County Library has a very limited budget. The cost of replacing books that you have carelessly laid aside is prohibitive. It is difficult to maintain a growing collection when you have to replace old volumes.

PIONEER Harvest Hotline

Barry Love reports
Central High Plains Results

Again this year Pioneer brand seeds are delivering outstanding yields in field after field. But we know it takes more than one year's performance to tell the whole story. Look at these results, then ask your Pioneer dealer to show you records from several years. You'll see for yourself why Pioneer brand seeds have become famous for their consistency.

First choice of many area farmers, this corn hybrid proved its excellent grain yield potential again this year by averaging 269 lbs./A. more than competitive hybrids in 38 tests on the central high plains. High seedling vigor with strong vegetative growth gets 3195 off to a good start. It also has outstanding head smut and MDMV tolerance. In the central high plains, 3195 is sure to be a strong performer again next year.

This tall, semi-upright leafed hybrid has proven its consistency on the central high plains by delivering top yields again this year. In 45 comparisons 3360 averaged 10,611 lbs. and produced an average 268 lbs./A. more than competitive hybrids. It also demonstrated better standability than upright leafed hybrids.
