Harris has been named the publisher and part-owner of the Lockney Beacon and the Floyd County Hesperian and the Lockney Beacon. Mrs. Harris, who has been serving as advertising director of the Burnet Bulletin, is moving to Floydada with her son, Bill, a seventh grader. Carolyn Fuqua moved into the position as editor of the Floyd County Hesperian. The remainder of the staff of the two newspapers will continue as it has been with Jim Huggins serving as editor of the Lockney Beacon.

A veteran of 15 years in the newspaper business, Shelly has held key positions of responsibility in five other newspapers.

She has been advertising director of the Del Rio News-Herald, the Pearsall Leader, the Dilly Herald, the Cotulla Record and the Burnet Bulletin.

In addition, she wrote and published her own tourist magazine for two years in Southwest Texas called "The Vinegarron." She also has worked for an Austin advertising agency and has raised five children.

A native of Colorado, she has a strong background in agriculture through her family.

"I am very happy to be in Floydada," she said, "and I am most impressed with the friendliness of the people and the vitality of this county."

SHELLY HARRIS

CAROLYN SELLARS FUQUA has assumed duties as editor of the Floyd County Hesperian. She first became employed at the newspaper in 1966. Carolyn has been advertising director for both the Lockney Beacon and the Hesperian since 1978. Ms. Fuqua is a 1963 graduate of Floydada High School.

THE PUBLIC is invited to attend the March meeting of The American Red Cross Thursday, March 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the Floyd County Courtroom.

C-C Banquet Tickets Go On Sale

Lockney Chamber of Commerce directors are now selling tickets for the March 27 Chamber Banquet. Tickets cost $6 each.

A.D. "Dean" Rippetoe, often called "The Will Rogers of Texas," will be the featured speaker at the banquet this year. Rippetoe, division safety representative for Shell Oil Company's Western E&P Region, has spoken to civic groups in West Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma for the past 16 years, appearing before some 15,000 people each year.

A selection committee headed by Boyce Mosley will choose the outstanding citizens just before the banquet. Letters of nomination may be sent to Mosley at Route 1, Lockney, before March 24.

Although every name will be considered by the committee, letters are more effective if reasons for nomination are listed.

The committee will be asking organizations and churches for nominations, but any individual may submit names for the honor.

KAREN AND L.T. COOPER with some of the collection of grey granite.

'Because I Like Grey Granite' — Karen Cooper

by Felicia Applewhite
Mrs. Karen Cooper was given to people who have the greatest variety in antiques of any town in Texas. L.T. and Karen Cooper of Lockney would be among the winners, whose house at 416 South Main holds a collection of almost everything in our West, particularly grey granite.

They began with, they have an old egg thermometer used when people had incubators for hatching chickens. Near the thermometer are some egg scales used before eggs were sold by the dozen. The scales measure eggs to the ounce in "extra large," "medium," or "small" sizes. To make the eggs story complete, egg baskets — all different shapes and sizes — are in the Cooper collection.

On their wall is an arrow pointing to no particular place. Once the arrow had a usefulness. Its place was atop somebody's house as a part of a lightning rod for decoration and for indicating wind direction.

Another source of advertising is cake pans that were used with Swansdown cake flour as the flour that "makes better cake." Too, Dr. Pepper drinkers went by a clock that advertised drinking Dr. Pepper at 10-2-4 o'clock. Near the clock hangs a bottle opener again advertising the drinking of Dr. Pepper at 10-2-4.

Also, a tour through the house shows an unusual array of "anything that has advertisement on it." Such a tour is a refresher course in forgotten names of grocery and household items. An old biscuit cutter is labeled "Rumford," advertising Rumford baking powder.

Another group of thermometers advertising Pepsi Cola is L.T.'s individual collection. Hanging with the thermometers he has a 1943 calendar from the Aiken gin.

used to wind thread in weaving are now made into candle holders. Razor straps hand side by side with curling irons that were heated in the chimney of kerosene lamps.

Even though everything in the house symbolizes age, there are some objects that date farther back than others. Still in use in the house is a church pew designed for beauty and comfort once used at Goodnight. Also, there is an ancient wooden churn shaped like a barrel, to be used by a crank attached to the side and not on top as dasher churns were made.

Coming all the way from England is a platter dated 1851. A cake stand is dated 1880. Resting comfortably on a table to itself is an 1886 Bible that contains family records.

Another 100-year-old is a wash bowl with pitcher, both painted in pastel colors. A puddin' mould is dated 1865. An egg beater that works up and down is not dated. Some wooden forks date themselves by having three tines instead of the conventional four tines to the fork.

Even though the Cooper collections impress the average person with size and variety, it is far from complete according to L.T. and Karen's standards. To them, there is still room for another piece of grey granite or any other "primitive country stuff."

Farabee Blasts High Interest Rates

Thirtieth District State Senator Ray Farabee today blasted the federal government's policy of fighting inflation by the use of high interest rates.

In letters sent to President Carter and Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul A. Volcker, Farabee called for the use of other approaches such as reduced federal spending, a balanced budget and credit controls in lieu of high interest rates. "Since early 1977 the prime rate has increased from less than 7 1/2 percent to 17 1/2 percent — the highest level in history — with no noticeable accompanying dent in the inflation rate," Farabee stated. Farabee called the high interest rate policy cruel and ineffective. Not only has it priced low and middle income people out of the housing market, he noted, but it has actually increased the inflation rate as business costs are passed on to consumers. Farabee pointed out that while financial policy is largely a federal concern, a high inflation rate has a drastic effect on state government. "In Texas," Farabee said, "we are finding it increasingly difficult to provide quality education, good highways, and human ser-VICES as our costs skyrocket." In concluding his call for a broader-based anti-inflation program, Farabee said, "It is my hope that the federal government will see fit to grasp the negative impact of its restrictive policies on all of our citizens. The people of the Thirtieth Senatorial District and every other segment of the population will suffer from the continuation of high interest rates."

Congressman Returns Funds To Treasury

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm today announced that he has returned a total of over $30,000 in unused 1979 operating funds to the U.S. Treasury and after one year in office is streamlining other operations in his Congressional offices.

"While I realize that $30,000 is merely a drop in the $500 billion-plus Federal budget bucket, if every Congressman in Washington had made the same expense cuts, we could have saved a total of over $13 million last year," Stenholm said. He also pointed out that he plans other operational changes, including the elimination of a number of standard constituent congratulations, such as weddings, anniversaries, birthdays for those under 90 years of age, sending new parents copies of the publication "Infant Care" and other congratulatory mail. "I'll be very honest," Stenholm said, "and tell you that these forms of constituent communication are very helpful to incumbent Congressmen. At the same time, they keep a Congressman in touch with the people he serves and are appreciated by those who receive them. But, the fact is that they also cost money. "It is very easy for Congress to talk about cutting the budget and quite another thing to actually make those cuts personally," he continued. "In all good conscience, I cannot ask others to make economic cuts before I have done all that is possible to cut my own operational expenses." Stenholm said he was not "minimizing the importance of constituent communications," but felt he needed to streamline his operations in order to offer "offer more services at less cost." He said he would be relying more heavily on the District radio, television and newspapers to keep constituents informed of his work in Congress. "I'm pleased to say that the news media has been very cooperative in what I feel is a joint responsibility—to keep people informed. It is important that every person in the District has access to my voting record in Congress, as well as a clear understanding of the reasons behind that vote." Stenholm also said he would be reorganizing staff responsibilities to place more emphasis on his Abilene and Stamford District offices as the initial contact for assistance with any personal problems constituents might be having with various government programs or agencies. "We receive untold numbers of requests to help the elderly with Social Security benefits, for instance," he explained, "or Veterans' Affairs or Medicare-Medicaid problems or any problem dealing with the government. We answer each and every one of these requests. Having our District offices prepared to work with these cases will improve the speed of this service and give the people more personal contact with my office." "Some of the problems our Country faces require legislative action," Stenholm emphasized, "and this reorganization will free some of my Washington staff to work more extensively on those legislative changes that we need to implement—or prevent," he said.

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Charges and counter-charges regarding the management of Cotton, Inc., the research and promotion program financed by some 90,000 U.S. cotton farmers, have been bouncing around for months. The entire issue was given a thorough airing during recent oversight hearings held by the House Agriculture Subcommittee on Cotton, of which I am a member. Following some 15 hours of testimony, I feel a great deal of the misunderstandings and misconceptions which clouded the issue were cleared up and steps were reviewed that I believe will ease tensions and tempers and put Cotton, Inc. back on the right track: solving problems facing the cotton industry and effectively promoting cotton products.

Cotton, Inc. has been a unique program since its inception. Since 1976, when the last government funds were appropriated for the program, it has been totally financed by the per-acre check-off program. Since farmers have the option to request a refund of that hard-earned money, producer confidence is essential. While many of the charges have, in my opinion, stemmed from personality conflicts among some national figures, it was the complaints by the producers themselves that I noted most of all.

Keeping in mind the fact that the producer is, in effect, a shareholder in Cotton, Inc. the same as in any large corporation, I could not help but agree with many of their proposals. Basically, the most common request involved increased accountability for the financial actions and directions of the program. Other recommendations included the direct election of members of the program's boards by producers themselves and possible reduction of the Cotton Board's duplication, division of the necessary expense. The program's budget and all other matters of the program's personality differences were on with the job at hand. That job is by no means small one. Despite the contributions made by Cotton, Inc. in past years, much more work than demanded immediate attention. The critical area is the need for continuing cotton industry research. Lack of such research, with particular emphasis on the pricing of cotton, could cripple the entire industry's efforts to solve the complex problem must come from the cotton producers themselves. After months and months of letters, innuendoes, allegations and generally the "trial by press" of Cotton, Inc., I was pleased to reach the point where I feel we have every confidence in the producer leadership of Cotton, Inc. to make the right decisions. Now it is time to move ahead and time to be measured in terms of "100 percent cotton" again.

Lady Horns Sixth In Tough Plainview Meet

The Lady Horns placed sixth out of 20 girls' track teams competing in Division II of the Lady Bulldog Relays at Plainview last weekend. The Plainview meet had some of the toughest competition in the area, coach Marsha Sharp told The Beacon, and some of the Lockney team members' third- and fourth-place times and distances would have been good for first-place finishes in other area meets.

Here are the Lockney results:
800-meter relay — 5. Lockney (Rebecca Evans, Connie Coffman, Patricia Torrez and Doreen Alaniz), 1:54.9.

1600-meter relay — 5. Lockney (Penny Sterling, Torrez, Antonia Luna and Julie Ferguson), 4:27.6.
800 meters — 4. Julie Ferguson,

1:39.4.
100 meters — 3. Doreen Alaniz, 13.4.
Long Jump — 6. Alaniz, 15'9".
Shot put — 3. Marina Tjerina, 32'10".

LHS Fifth In Antelope Relays

Longhorn track team scored 50 points and placed fifth at the Antelope Relays Saturday. Arnold Alaniz was the Longhorn "athlete of the week" and Karl Race earned "competitor of the week" honors.

Steve Culwell said the Longhorns performed well in the first 1980 meet, and almost every team member improved his times or distances. He noted individual improvement by Eddie Kinard and Steven Galvan.

Curtis Ford got Lockney's only first-place points, winning the 400-meter dash in 50.7 seconds.

The Longhorn 1600-meter relay team came in 3:30.4. The Lockney team won its heat by several meters, but they were running in the slower of two heats in the finals. Culwell said they probably could have done better if they had been in the faster heat. Individual split times for the Lockney relayers: Junior McDonald 53.2; Roy Moody 52.9; Chris Hennagan 54.4; Curtis Ford 49.7.

Alaniz finished second in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles with a time of 40.7 seconds. McDonald was sixth in the intermediates in 43.3 seconds. (He had a 42.8 time in the preliminaries.) In the 110-meter high hurdles, Alaniz placed third in 15.7, and Steve Warren was seventh in 16.5.

Ford was second in the 200-meter dash with a 23.0 clocking. Fred Alaniz ran a 2:10 race in the 800, good for sixth place. And the Lockney sprint relay team (Arellano, Hannagan, Hernandez and Gonzales) finished sixth in 46.8.

John Cummings earned the only field-events points for the Longhorns, high-jumping six feet for a fifth-place finish.

Culwell said he thinks the 'Horns can challenge for some meet titles if they can get more points in the field events.

The Longhorns go to Floydada this weekend.

According to Mr. Allsup, "This is part of our commitment to our customers. Country-wide shortages that cost 8 billion dollars a year are due to theft and is reflected in the price of all products. Ultimately these costs are borne by the consumer. Allsup's are doing our best to make these unnecessary costs go away by making our people aware of solutions."

Professional Comment

Other recommendations included the direct election members of the governing boards by producers themselves and possible merger of the Cotton Board and Cotton, Inc. Board to avoid duplication, division and necessary expense. They asked for more detailed reporting to producers of the program's budget and expenditures.

None of these requests is unreasonable and all, I believe, will now be seriously reviewed by the Cotton Board, the Cotton, Inc. Board and U.S.D.A. Then it is time to put aside personality differences and work with the job at hand.

That job is by no means small one. Despite the many contributions made by Cotton, Inc. in past years, there is much work that demands immediate attention. Just as critical an area is the need for continuing cotton dust/byproduct research. Lack of such research, with particular emphasis on the ginning level, cripple the entire industry. Initial efforts to solve this complex problem must come from the cotton producers themselves.

After months and years of letters, innuendoes, allegations and generally the "trial by press" of Cotton, Inc., I am pleased to reach the point where I feel we have been "the rest of the story." I have every confidence in the producer leadership of Cotton, Inc. to make the right decisions.

Now it is time to move ahead and time to begin thinking in terms of "100 percent cotton" again.

There's a reason why Hollywood is no longer making Mediterranean mare nostrum movies. Families can no longer afford to go.

MRS. JACKIE LYNN CARTHTEL

Miss Assiter, Carthel Pledge Wedding Vows In Floyd

Miss Darla Jo Assiter and Jackie Lynn Carthel exchanged wedding vows Saturday, March 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church in Floydada. Reverend Jim Smith, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Assiter of Floydada; and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gene Carthel, also of Floydada.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length wedding gown of sheer organza and chantilly lace. The dress featured a lace covered empire bodice fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline and full bishop sleeves. The full A-line skirt was accented with a deep lace ruffled flounce in front, which formed the bustle back. Tiers of lace and organza swept into a cathedral-length train. She also wore a waltz length veil of imported English illusion edged with chantilly lace. The veil attached to a lace covered boudeau headpiece.

She carried a cascade bouquet of miniature white carnations with baby's breath. In the bouquet was a pin which belonged to Mr. C.O. Spence's mother. The pin, which was over a hundred years old, served as the bride's "something old and borrowed." "Something new" was her wedding attire. She also wore the traditional blue garter.

Matron of honor for the occasion was Roni Summer-ville of Canyon. Serving as bridesmaids were Tana Tyler, Dara Carthel and Jonna West. Bridal attendants wore floor-length pink silk organza dresses with embossed flowers and ruffle accented necklines. They carried brass lamps with pink candles and flowers around the base.

Best man was Ricky Carthel, brother of the groom, of Floydada. Groomsmen were Shannon Norris of Canyon; Monty Smitherman, Lubbock; and Calvin Dick. Tim Assiter and Tom Assiter, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

The church was decorated with brass candelabra with globes, pink and burgandy flowers and green palms. White rope marked the altar area.

Wedding music was provided by organist Terry Willson of Dallas and vocalist Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gregory. The Gregory's selections were "This Is The Day," "Love Will Make Us One," and "Evans Song," accompanied by Darrell Goodall of Amarillo.

Reception
Terry Willson provided organ music at the reception held in the fellowship hall of the church following the wedding ceremony. At the reception, Beverly Vickers registered guests.

Angie Turner and Traci Tyler presided at the bride's serving table; and Rhonda Cozby and Nancy Moss served at the groom's table.

Rehearsal Dinner
A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Friday evening before the wedding. The event was held at the First United Methodist Church hall.

The bride is a student at State University. Carthel is a graduate of the school. Following a honeymoon in Alaska, the couple will be home in Canyon.

If you want to slow down your fuel costs, step up your personal conservatory program. These tips, suggested by the Colonial Pen Insurance Company, can help you get more miles from each gallon of gas.

Regular maintenance can increase mileage by 14 percent - that's 40 to 50 extra miles per tank.

Sudden movements of the gas pedal increase gas consumption. Anticipate situations that might require you to reduce speed so you can slow down gently. Maintaining speeds just under the speed limit helps stretch your time between fill-ups and you'll hardly notice the increase in travel time.

Regular car maintenance enhances gas mileage. Keep your engine tuned, replace worn-out plugs, regular Correct ignition tuning essential - rapid idling wastes gas.

FACTS & FIGURES

According to energy experts, our "energy crisis" is really a "fuels crisis" caused by increased consumption, rising prices and uncertain availability of imported oil.

Thus increased use of electricity in our homes and industries actually saves oil. And using electricity for home heating, through heat pumps or zoned resistance heating, will make our finite supplies of natural gas last longer, and make gas available to replace imported oil in industrial processes.

GOLD! BUYERS, SELLERS BEWARE

Only karat gold jewelry is real gold -- no matter how bright the glitter, so know what you are doing before buying or selling gold jewelry. Understanding certain words and other points about gold is a must. Karat refers to the percentage of gold in an item. Always look for the karat stamp. An item marked 24K (24 karats), or 999, is 100 percent pure gold. Each karat represents 1/24 part of pure gold. The finest gold jewelry is usually 18K (eighteen parts pure gold and six parts of another metal), since 24K generally is considered too soft to use for jewelry.

recently their purpose was to keep the child confined and elevated for a better view rather than for protection. Today, however, many crash-tested restraining devices, both seats and harnesses, are available. Basically, there are three types: the child safety seat, the shield restraint, and the simple harness.

The child safety seat has a five-point harness that cinches the child across the waist, between the legs and over the shoulder. The automobile safety belt secures the seat in place. Some models have anchoring straps at the top to keep the seat from toppling forward or sideways in an accident. Parents should follow the manufacturer's instructions for anchoring them to the car.

"The shield restraint is a simpler device," explains Murphy. "But a determined youngster may eventually work his way out of it. The child is protected in the front by the padded shield, and this is secured to the car by the seat belt."

A child harness is a restraint that holds a youthful passenger to the car's seat without a special child seat. This allows more freedom of movement, but provides less side protection.

All child restraints offer the best protection when they are placed in the middle of the rear seat.

Generally, the safety seat, the child restraint, and the simple harness should be used when the baby reaches 20 pounds, or can sit up alone. For infants up to nine months, it's best to use a rearward facing infant carrier especially designed for automobiles. The carriers contain a safety harness in them and are held firmly in place by the seat belt.

At the age of five, most children are ready to use an adult safety belt. "Shoulder belts should never be used if they cut across the child's neck or face," emphasized Murphy.

"Safety restraints should be used every time the child is in the car, not merely on long trips. Statistics show that the majority of accidents happen close to home. All passengers must be belted in, both for their own protection and for the sake of others in the car. Unbelted passengers can injure children," he said.

Unfortunately, it is not possible to tell how safe a device is by merely examining it. Devices that have been crash-tested at 30 mph afford the greatest measure of safety. For a list of these restraints, write the National Safety Council, 444 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

FIX-IT FACTS

THURMAN DAVIS

If you work with wood you probably use plywood much of the time. Splintering often presents problems. Here are a few tips to avoid splintering.

Sawing - Use a fine toothed saw. Before sawing prescore both sides of the sheet at the cutoff point with a sharp chisel or sh-knife. Scoring should be deep enough to separate the top layer of veneer. Another way is to press a layer of cellophane tape along the cutoff line on the bottom side of stock.

Boring - Clamp a piece of scrap wood behind stock where the bit will com-through. The scrap accept-the tip of the bit and help pull it through.

Planing edges - Push plan-in both directions to avoid dragging the plane blade off end of stock. Begin at the end of the stock and run plane half-way across the edge, then reverse and go the other way. If possible first cut a tiny bevel on each end of the stock.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Springtime, to many of us, means new growth—in gardens, in our yards, in the open fields, hills and mountains of our beautiful State. Things start over. To the attorneys in my Consumer Protection Division, springtime often means something else—roads jammed with "gypsies" perpetrating home improvement frauds. That's right: the "gypsies" are back.

Now, by "gypsies" I do not mean those colorful individuals who dress in strange, gay clothing, shake tambourines and travel in painted wagons. Instead, I am referring to modern day, American itinerants who live in new mobile homes, drive luxury automobiles and set up "camp" in trailer parks just outside the reach of municipal law enforcement authorities. These traveling salesmen

"gyp" Texas consumers out of hundreds of thousands of dollars each year by going door-to-door soliciting paving, painting, roofing and other home repair jobs. The essence of the frauds perpetrated by these repairmen is poor quality work for which exorbitant prices are charged.

The itinerants carefully select their victims by driving through low to middle income neighborhoods looking for homes that appear to be occupied by senior citizens who live alone. When the first victim is hooked, the repairmen often ask for the names of additional potential customers, operating on the assumption that people similarly situated tend to associate and become friends. Because of this fact of human nature, "gypsies" know that elderly widows most often will recommend other elderly widows; invalids will recommend other invalids. Being a modern "gypsy" is big business. One raid of a nomadic camp in Arkansas netted the police $50,000 in cash which was found in one of the trailers. The equipment used by the itinerants frequently is brand new—dump trucks, asphalt spreaders, pick-up trucks—all in mint condition. The number of such drifters presently in Texas is estimated by the Division to be in the hundreds, if not thousands.

A special Texas statute is designed to protect consumers against itinerant, door-to-door sellers. This statute, the Home Solicitation Transactions Act, requires a three day "cooling off period" between the time the sales pitch and agreement are made and the work is commenced. During this period, consumers may unilaterally cancel any contract for any reason.

FIX-IT FACTS
THURMAN DAVIS

If you work with wood, you probably use plywood much of the time. Splintering often presents problems. Here are a few tips to avoid splintering.

Sawing - Use a fine-toothed saw. Before sawing, prescore both sides of the sheet at the cutoff point with a sharp chisel or shop knife. Scoring should be deep enough to separate the top layer of veneer. Another way is to press a layer of cellophane tape along the cutoff line on the bottom side of stock.

Boring - Clamp a piece of scrap wood behind stock where the bit will come through. The scrap accepts the tip of the bit and helps pull it through.

Planing edges - Push plane in both directions to avoid dragging the plane blade off end of stock. Begin at the end of the stock and run plane half-way across the edge, then reverse and go the other way. If possible, first cut a tiny bevel on each end of the stock.

Pattie Ruth Stewart Postmaster At South Plains

Sectional Center Manager - Postmaster Elmer J. Reed, Jr., of Lubbock, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Pattie Ruth Stewart as the new Postmaster at South Plains, effective Saturday, March 8.

Mrs. Stewart, 45, a native of Plainview, has served as Postmaster replacement for the past 6 years.

Postmaster selections for offices of this size are made on the basis of merit from a list of qualified candidates submitted to the sectional center manager at Lubbock. He or she selects and recommends to the postmaster general the best qualified person for appointment to each vacancy.

Mrs. Stewart's hobbies include fishing and waterskiing, and she is a member of South Plains Baptist Church. She has two sons and one daughter, one son lives in Quitaque, and the other is a high school freshman at Floydada High School. Her daughter is married to Roby Lutrick. They reside in Floydada.

Mrs. Stewart says she is very happy to be the new Postmaster and says she looks forward to serving South Plains postal customers.

Whirlers To Dance Saturday Night

The Floydada square dance club, The Whirlers, has scheduled their regular monthly dance Saturday, March 15 at 8 p.m. at the Massie Activity Center, Floydada. Eldred Parker, Lubbock, will call. There will be no admission charge. The public is invited to join in the dancing or to come as a spectator.

Tower To Open Lubbock Office

U.S. Sen. John Tower (R-Texas) announced today he will open a regional office in Lubbock to serve the West Texas-Panhandle area.

"The needs of citizens in the vast and vital West Texas area can no longer be adequately served by existing state offices in Dallas, Austin and Houston," Tower explained. "Opening an office in West Texas will give me better insights into the needs and concerns of the area, and will give citizens there faster and easier access to their senator. I hope people will use the new office for help with federal-related problems, to get information and to make their views known."

The senator chose Lubbock as the site for the new regional office because of its central location, Lubbock is within relatively easy driving distance of Amarillo, Abilene, San Angelo and Midland-Odessa. Tower noted.

"I would like to have offices in all of Texas' major cities so that no one would face inconvenience in getting in touch with my staff, but unfortunately we have had to stretch limited resources to fund this fourth office. I believe, however, I will be better able to serve all West Texans when the new office opens," the senator said.

Tower also emphasized that the Lubbock office director will travel throughout the region whenever that seems to be the best way to meet local needs.

The office is scheduled to open in June, with an initial staff of two persons. The West Texas office will serve the Panhandle, South Plains, Permian Basin and El Paso area.

Tower first was elected to the Senate in 1961. He has been re-elected three times and now is the fourth most senior Republican in the Senate. As chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, he is a key member of the Senate GOP leadership. He is ranking Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee and second-ranking member of the Senate Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee. In addition, Tower serves on the Committee on Rules and Administration.

Sports In America Examined In PBS Mini-Series

A penetrating study of athletic participation by blacks, women and children is examined in the three-part mini-series, JAMES MICHENER'S WORLD: SPORTS IN AMERICA, airing this spring on PBS. The first hour-long program will be broadcast on Monday, March 17 at 7 p.m. KTXF-TV/5.

cism, sexism and the exploitation of youth, while noting that sports have become a major force in American life. The series, which is inspired by Michener's comprehensive book of the same title, is produced by Cappy Productions, Inc. Producer/director/writer Bud Green- span also produced the Emmy award-winning series "The Olympiad" for PBS in 1976. Sports In America is presented on PBS by KCET, Los Angeles, and made possible by a grant from Arthur Treacher's Fish & Chips, Inc.

The Pulitzer Prize-winning author feels he owes his very life to sports. When he was a youth, basketball helped him from becoming a juvenile delinquent and led to his entry into college on an athletic scholarship. Later in life, vigorous activity kept him fit after a serious heart attack.

Governor Clements Designates March 1-April 6 Easter Seal Campaign

Governor William P. Clements proclaimed the period of March 1 through April 6, 1980 as Easter Seal Appeal Campaign in Texas.

Jeanette Alvarado, National Easter Seal Child from San Antonio, joined by Walt Garrison, presented Governor Clements with the first sheet of 1980 Easter Seals. The Easter Seals represent the Easter Seal Society's traditional mail campaign.

The Texas Easter Seal Society was founded in 1929 by Abe Goldberg, a prominent rotarian. 1979-80 marks the Society's 50th anniversary in Texas.

The objectives of the organization are to assist disabled persons and their families in finding and making effective use of the resources which will be helpful to them in developing their necessary and appropriate resources for disabled persons; to establish and maintain appropriate and realistic programs in accordance with state and local needs; and to create a climate of acceptance which will permit and encourage their self-fulfillment as individuals and as contributing members of their communities.

The Easter Seal Society provides orthopedic equipment including wheelchairs, walkers, and braces; occupational, physical and speech therapy and transportation to rehabilitation centers. The Society helped nearly 13,000 Texans last year.

MONEY PROBLEMS

There's this small town about 100 miles away from here that's having a lot of financial troubles. One councilman has come up with a brilliant solution to the town's problem: the town will secede from the Union, form a new country and apply to the United States for foreign aid.

Commentary:

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen

Senator Lloyd Bentsen on Tuesday urged President Carter to seek a United Nations investigation of an alleged Soviet-led massacre in Kerala, Afghanistan that resulted in the deaths of from 1,170 to 1,300 men and boys.

Bentsen said the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency advises him that press reports about the shooting in the small town, on April 20, 1979, are almost certainly true. The CIA has also advised Bentsen of other atrocities that occurred in Afghanistan during 1979.

"We are almost certain that the alleged Soviet-ordered massacre of Afghan citizens (in Kerala) did occur," CIA Director Stansfield Turner said in a letter to the Senator.

Bentsen had asked the CIA for confirmation of the atrocity last month after the CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR reported that Afghan troops, under orders from Soviet "advisers," shot and killed some 1,170 men and boys in the Kerala incident.

Turner, in his reply, noted that a Pakistani newspaper reported last year that 1,300 residents of an Afghanistan village were massacred and added "We believe this is the same incident described by the MONITOR."

By comparison, 179 people were slain in the infamous atrocity at Lidice, Poland during World War II.

"These allegations, if proven, demonstrate the callous Soviet disregard for the principles of the United Nations Charter and the Nuremberg War Crimes Trials, a disregard that is reminiscent of the Nazi atrocities of World War II. These charges must shock the conscience of citizens everywhere and should be brought before the world," Bentsen said.

"I would suggest the possible investigation under the auspices of the United Nations Security Council of no better forum for this than the Security Council. The Soviet Union were to veto such inquiry, then the veto itself would be a vote of confidence in the debate leading to the veto. That the whole world will evaluate the charges," Bentsen said.

Bentsen suggested the alternatives, might want to be investigated by the full U.S. Assembly or one by the Senate Red Cross.

The CIA letter to Bentsen on other atrocities that reported in Afghanistan in 1979, omitted details "to protect sources."

* In retribution against a village that refused to cooperate with the (capital of Afghanistan) region troops destroyed the village and 20 of its inhabitants. The village was in front of their parents' entire group was slain.

* In another incident, motivated by retribution, Afghan killed 300 villagers.

* There have been reports of incidents of aggravated rape of soldiers, some of which have resulted in the victims' deaths.

Better Business Bureau Offers

Information On Employment

As the time nears for the start of construction on a second Alaska pipeline, this one for gas, advertisements have begun to appear in numerous magazines and newspapers offering employment on the project at high salaries. The Better Business Bureau Of The South Plains, Inc., has learned that many of these offers provide job seekers, for a fee of $10 to $20, useless job applications or only vague information on employment.

While it is true that the new gas pipeline is the largest privately financed project in history and, at its construction peak, may employ over 10,000 persons, anyone interested in pipeline work should be aware that the two companies handling the project are not accepting applications for jobs, and do not expect any significant hiring until at least late next year.

The companies, and the contractors, who are not yet ready to do most of the hiring for the work. When project contracts are awarded, announcements will be in the press and trade organization journals. People to work in the pipeline should apply directly to the selected company according to the Better Business Bureau.

Information about employment economic situations may be obtained from the Better Business Bureau.

AGAINST THE ODDS

Poor, black and uneducated, George V. Smith nevertheless managed to become a millionaire and the owner of the seventh largest black-owned business in America, the largest in Texas. Now, he hopes to help others do likewise.

The 53-year-old Smith heads three companies: Smith Pipe Testing Service Co., Continental Inspection Co. and Smith Pipe and Supply Co. The pipe they deal in is used mainly by the oil industry. In 1978 the companies grossed an impressive $24 million.

Smith has some 100 accounts. One of the major ones is the Sun Company. Smith Pipe is a key supplier in Sun's Minority Vending Program which helps Sun boost its volume of purchases from minority-owned businesses.

Smith points out that about half the Fortune 500 industrial companies have similar programs, and other black entrepreneurs can find them avenues to success.

One hundred million dollars is what Smith hopes his own three companies will gross by 1985, but his ambition is to reap more than mere profits. "My prime motivator is giving people opportunity," he says.

About 70 percent of his employees are black. "We need to quit talking about others hiring blacks and hire ourselves," he suggests. Smith employs high school dropouts and gives them incentives to better themselves. He volunteers his time to talk to troubled youths in poor neighborhoods and points out that he is an example of what can be accomplished against the odds.
