Haynes tapped as girls' varsity coach

School superintendent W.H. [unclear] has recommended to the Education that junior varsity basketball coach Sheri Haynes be succeeded by Marsha Sharp as coach.

Haynes will vote on the recommendation at its regular monthly meeting May 12.

SHERI HAYNES

Sharp resigned earlier this year after seven years to look for a position. Sharp led the Lady Horns to two district titles and two second place finishes during her tenure.

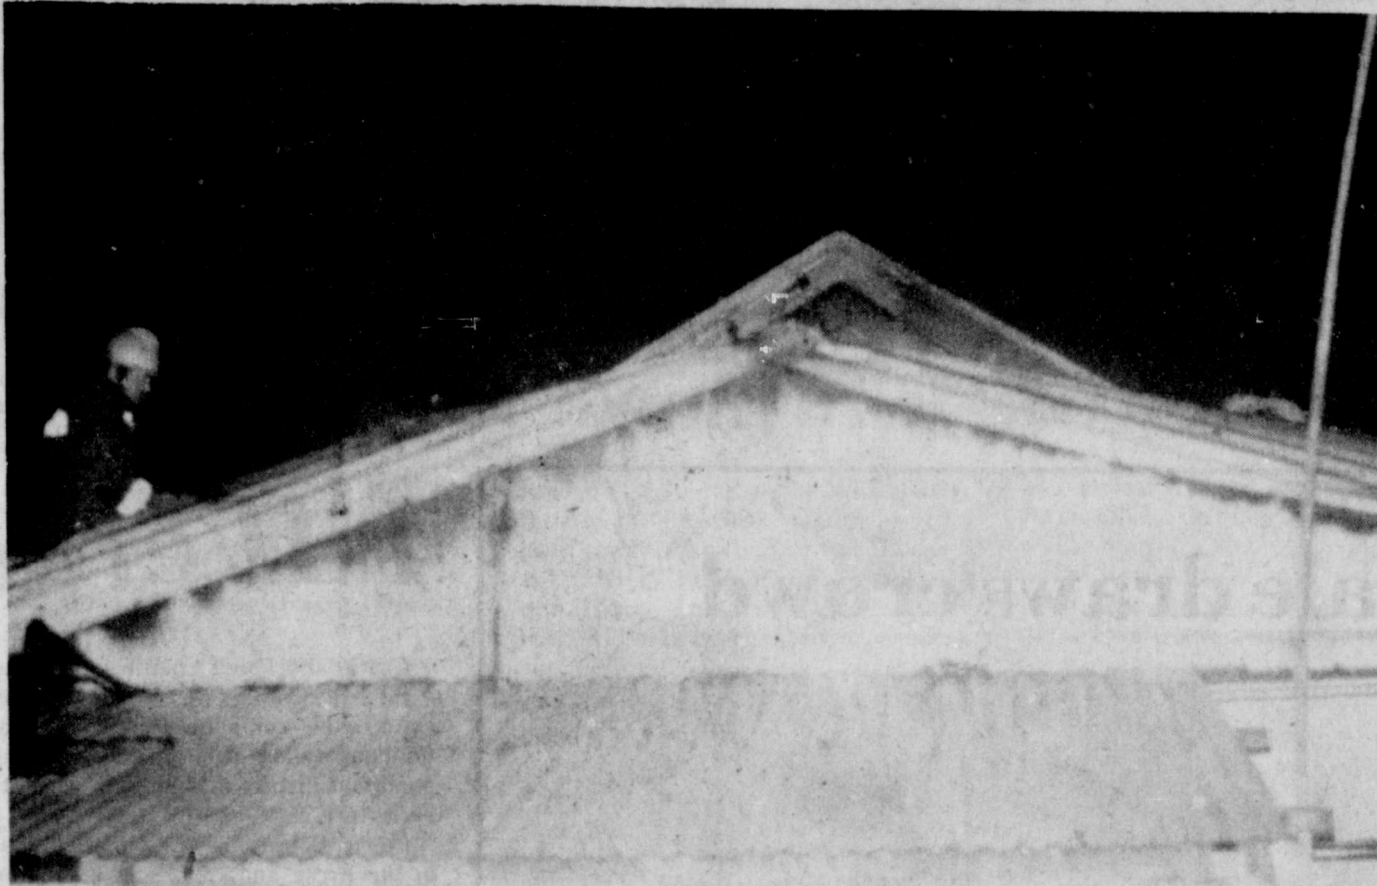

Haynes, who has been with the Lockney school system for two years, led the girls junior varsity to a 9-10 record during the 1980-81 season.

She also coached the girls eighth and ninth grade basketball teams and she teaches sixth and seventh grade physical education.

Haynes is a native of McLean and has a bachelor of science degree from Wayland Baptist College in physical education.

The girls' varsity loses seven graduating seniors this year and will have only two returning lettermen next fall, Connie Coffman, who will be a junior and Shawnda Brock, who will be a sophomore.

"We've got a lot to do ahead of us," Haynes said. "We're going to have to work real hard but I think we'll be all right. I'm excited about it."

Ramirez, Ferguson get honors

High school principal James Poole has announced valedictorian and salutatorian of the 1981 graduating class of Lockney High School.

Adrian Ramirez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alejandrino Ramirez, had a four-year grade point average of 96.19 to win valedictorian.

The salutatorian is Julie Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ferguson, whose average was 95.93.

Ramirez's classmates voted him "most studious" all four years of high school. He joined the Future Farmers of America his sophomore and junior years and participated in district, area and state contests on the FFA Quiz Team.

He also was alternate on the meat judging team that participated in district, area and state contests. Adrian is a two-year member of National Honor Society and served on the yearbook staff the past two years.

He placed third in district University Interscholastic League news writing last year and this year was chosen as outstanding journalism student for inclusion in LHS' Who's Who.

Miss Ferguson was a twirler and member of the Longhorn Band for four years. She was active in cross-country running, basketball and track.

She was a Student Council representative for three years, and has been president of both the National Honor Society and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. This year she was selected as homecoming queen and Miss Lockney High School.

Other members of the 66-student class who have a four-year average of 90 and above are Jill Whitfill, John Cummings, Sharon Spencer, Dwight Jackson, Dawn Clark, Cindy Michelson, Rosalind Hill and Tonya Nance.

High school students receive awards

Faculty-selected recipients of awards made annually to members of the Lockney High School graduating class were presented recently during a school assembly.

"Who's Who" honorees included Lane Turner, vocational agriculture; Adrian Ramirez, journalism; Julie Ferguson, English; Christi Poole, speech; Monty Smith, business; Dawn Clark, math; Jill Whitfill, band and science; Dwight Jackson, social studies; Rhonda Hooten and Janette Stephen, library; Rebecca Evans, track; Tammie Hayes, basketball; John Cummings, track and basketball; and John Fortenberry, football.

In addition, best all-around honors went to Dwight Jackson and Sharon Spencer.

Cheerleaders chosen for next year

Cheerleaders at Lockney High School for the 1981-82 school year were recently selected.

Chosen through a combination of popular vote, outside judge's and teacher evaluations were seniors Patricia Torrez (head cheerleader) and Elma Molina; juniors Julie Keeceer and Kay Reay, and sophomores Shawnda Brock and Libby Williams.

Chosen by Popular vote was mascot Karen Mathis and junior varsity leaders Latona Belt, Sarah Fitzgerald, Irene Cantu and Tammy Holyfield. The JV cheerleaders all will be freshmen.

Cable cutting set for Lockney cable

Cable cutting ceremony will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 16 to mark the beginning of service by Cable Television.

Cable cutting will take place at the transmitter site on just off Street a block north of Main.

Cable will be cut by Mayor J.D. [unclear].

Cable system actually began operation in most of the city about [unclear].

Owner Jerry Ford said the system is now in nearly all the city south of highway 70 and in the east part of town. Ford said he is providing service to those [unclear].

Several hundred people in [unclear] have signed up for the cable.

The sign up, Ford said, is better than he had anticipated.

Because so many people have signed up for the cable service, "we'll get to you as soon as we can."

"Be patient," Ford said of those waiting for the cable service, "we'll get to you as soon as we can."

Ford said he will begin sending out bills for the cable service tomorrow. He said there will be no charge for the service provided during April.

In addition to the four Lubbock stations, Ford's cable system is also offering WTBS from Atlanta, WGN from Chicago, the Christian Broadcasting Network, the Entertainment and Sports Network, plus, at additional charge, Home Box Office, and a local weather channel.

Lockney bank deposits up by 22 percent

Deposits in First National Bank of Lockney increased 22.2 percent over the [unclear].

As of March 31 of this year deposits were $24,412,456.50, up from $19,979,977 on March 31, 1980.

"Very pleased," First National Bank president Carroll Anderson said. "Of [unclear] the increase was due to [unclear] because there's just more [unclear] period. But the growth rate [unclear] the inflation rate so we [unclear] real growth."

Anderson said, was due to a good crop year.

"Last year," Anderson said, "the irrigated farmers made a pretty decent crop and crop prices were generally higher. The dry-land farmers didn't do as well because of the drought. "What saved us in this area was the irrigated land."

Last year was much better than the 1979 agricultural season, Anderson said, when rain, hail and cold weather wiped out much of the areas crops.

A list of about three dozen Panhandle banks shows the average increase in deposits was 11.8 percent, about half the increase in Lockney deposits.

Lea Clark's It's Not Easy

How to make beds at my [unclear]. I guess, although I can't [unclear]. What I never really [unclear] was the reason why.

I was growing up it seemed if [unclear] woman in my children's [unclear] believed that there was some [unclear] in making one's bed [unclear]. I always expected that I [unclear] that magic moment I reached [unclear], understand why and believe [unclear] that beds must always be made. [unclear] I haven't grown up yet. At [unclear] haven't internalized the innate [unclear] bed making. I do understand [unclear] beds look nicer when they are [unclear] and the sheets feel nicer when [unclear] bed at night if they are not [unclear] of lying in a little heap [unclear] of the bed all day. So I do try, [unclear] however, there are just [unclear] important things to do in the [unclear] like sleep for five more minutes, or find two shoes that match.

My real problem is that my little daughter is reaching that tender age when she is ready to learn things at her mother's knee. I have this guilty feeling whenever I think of her learning that it is okay not to make her bed in the morning. I could try to teach her to do what I say, not what I do. Or I could reform.

I could start diligently making my bed every morning. Then she might never guess that I don't really believe deep down it is really necessary.

I'm afraid that even if I manage to keep up the act for the next sixteen or so years until she goes away to college, she will sense somehow that my heart really isn't in making beds.

I've never been very good at reforming.

Fire damages Keeter's

Damage is estimated at over $100,000 in a fire that heavily damaged Keeter's grocery store on the Lone Star Highway at Lockney.

No one was injured. The fire, according to Lockney Fire Chief Jerry Johnson, apparently started in the rear of the store where the electricity comes into the building.

"It was hard to get to it," Johnson said of the fire. "It's an old building with double roofs. We'd get into one attic and then find out the fire was in the next attic. We finally had to chop a hole in the roof to get to it. It was more involved than we thought at first."

The first fire call came in about 11 p.m. Sunday night. Johnson said it was about four o'clock Monday morning by the time they were back at the fire station.

It was only a short respite. At six o'clock Monday morning the fire flared again and the fire department was back on the scene until after 8 a.m.

Johnson said the firemen were hampered in fighting the fire because of the long distance to the nearest fire hydrant.

"We had to lay nearly 1,500 feet of hose," Johnson said, to reach the nearest hydrant. "We had to lay nearly every piece of hose we've got."

The city is seeking an $812,000 federal Block Grant, and part of the money will be used to put water lines out to the northern portion of town.

Johnson said it's a good thing. "We need it (the water lines) badly in that direction, especially with as many houses that have been built out there."

In addition to the structural damage, there was extensive smoke and water damage inside the store, but Joe Keeter is planning on re-opening the store.

It was the second time Keeter was the victim of a major fire.

About ten years ago, a fire heavily damaged his store which was then located on Main Street, but Keeter re-built and went back into business.

Clinic turnout is good

More than two dozen dogs were inoculated against rabies in the city sponsored dog vaccination clinic last weekend.

The turnout was more than twice at a similar clinic a year ago.

After veterinarian Paul Glasson inoculated the dogs, owners were able to buy city dog tags from city employee W.L. Carthel for $2.

Mayor J.D. Copeland pointed out that dog owners can get city tags at any time by having their dogs vaccinated against rabies and then bringing the vaccination papers from the veterinarian to city hall. The tags are good for one year.

Mayor Copeland said he plans to meet soon with city attorney Paul Lyle to study the feasibility of offering a bounty on unlicensed stray dogs that are brought in.

A similar program in Abernathy reportedly produced good results in reducing the number of stray dogs running loose in that town.

Mayor Copeland said, however, that he hopes citizen cooperation will alleviate the problem.

"Please be kind to your neighbor," Copeland said, "and keep your dogs and cats on your own property."

Farm sale draws crowd

ONE-HUNDRED PERCENT OF THE FIFTY YEARS accumulation of farm equipment was sold at the Massie residence

Fifty-years accumulation of farm equipment was auctioned off in 9 hours Tuesday at the Bert Massie Farm Estate Sale.

Auctioneer James Cruce, Plainview, said that, "There was real good attendance and everything sold well."

The most interest was the windmills and windmill parts. Cruce said that with the new interest in wind power these items drew buyers from "a long way off."

Several antique items sold well and sold as antiques.

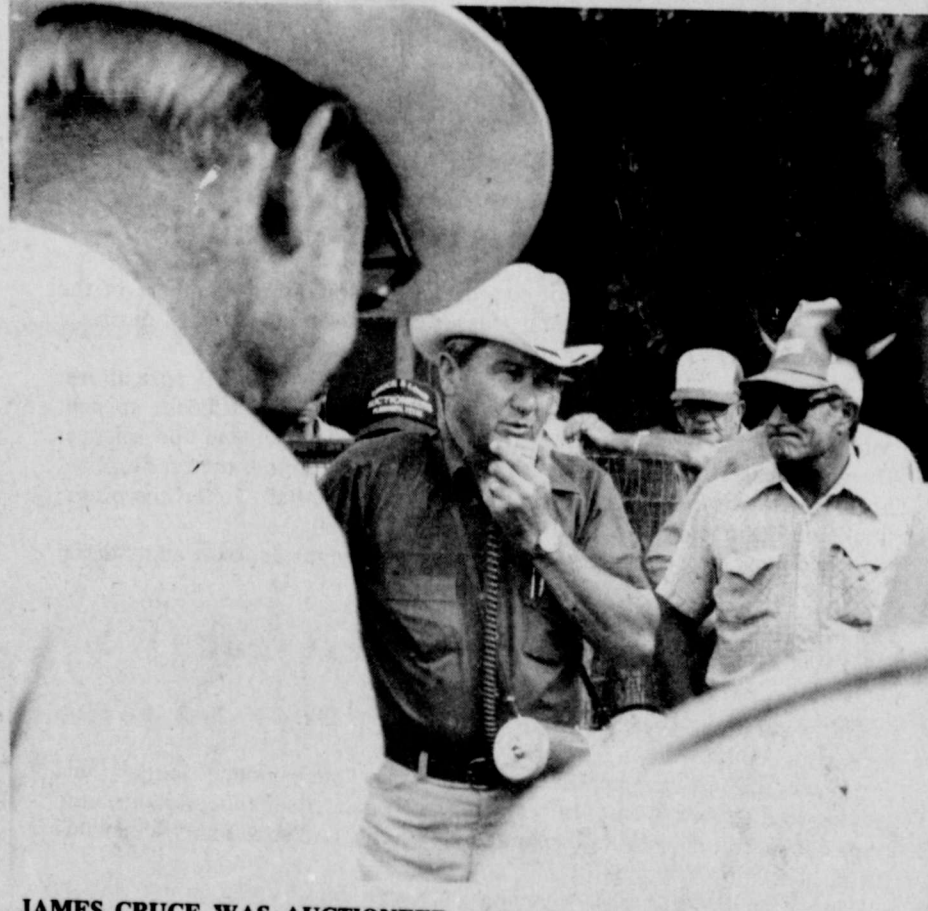

The auctioneer firm was Cruce and Long. Mike Long and Jim Summers worked as ringmen.

They brought a crew of seven with them. This included the winch truck driver. They provided the winch service.

Smoky's Bar-B-Que from Plainview provided the noon meal. "They often follow our sales when there is none other available," Cruce said.

One of the local women's clubs served homemade ice cream. "that was a real treat for the people."

Cruce has been auctioneering for 14 years. He handles about 100 sales a year.

Students gets scholarship

The University of Dallas has announced that Evan Kramer of Lockney, Texas, has been awarded a full tuition Texas Scholarship to UD. Kramer, a senior at Lockney High School, was one of eight students who received full-tuition scholarships worth $2,500 and $2,000 grants. Kramer and seven other students from around the state compete for these scholarships, which are decided on the basis of class rank, ACT and SAT test scores, recommendations from high school principals or counselors, and nominations from UD faculty and administrators. The Texas Scholars Program is conducted annually and is open only to students attending public or private high schools in Texas.

Merchants elect officers

The Lockney Merchants Association met at Strickland's Restaurant on Thursday night. Officers were elected, they are Don B. Vernon, president; Sylvester Strickland, vice-president and Beverly Hayes, secretary-treasurer. The officers discussed and made plans for upcoming promotions in the next few months. The next meeting will be held on May 14.

Merchants plan prayer meeting

A Lockney merchants prayer meeting will be held every Monday morning starting next week. The prayer meetings will be held at 7:30 a.m. each Monday at Rowell This R That at the corner of Main and Locust Streets in Lockney. The prayer meetings are open to anyone who is interested.

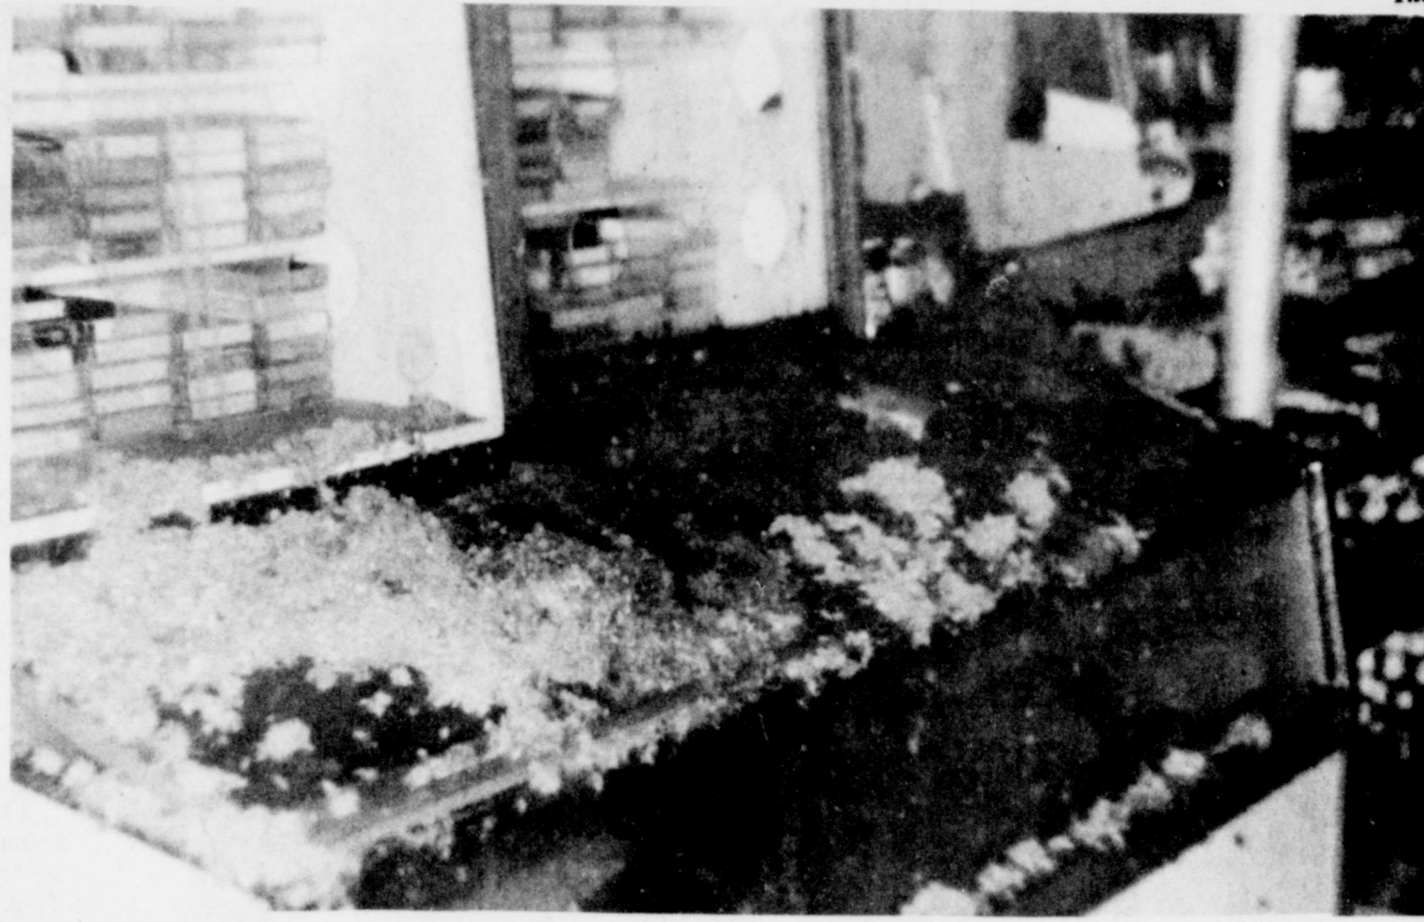

SHEILA MARLEY [left] receives her diploma from Gary Whittington, instructor, for successfully completing the Allsup's Assistant Store Manager Training Course. Held at the company's home offices in Clovis, New Mexico, the class is a requirement for all Allsup's assistant managers. According to Whittington, "The training prepares individuals for future advancement by teaching them proper food handling, cooked food procedures, store cleanliness and maintenance as well as public relations."

Students run week-long nursery

Students in the two Lockney home and family life classes and also students in the homemaking education cooperative program recently conducted a week-long pre-school nursery at Lockney High School.

Twenty-four youngsters of pre-school age visited at the homemaking cottage each morning of the week as the high school students served as the nursery school staff.

Learning centers were set up for mental, physical, art and math development of the children.

Field trips were taken to the fire station for a ride on the fire truck and also to hunt rocks to decorate for an Easter egg hunt.

The high school students brought rabbits, a lamb, a goat and puppies to school one day for the little children to enjoy. One farm-raised youngster said the lamb couldn't be a lamb because it had a tail.

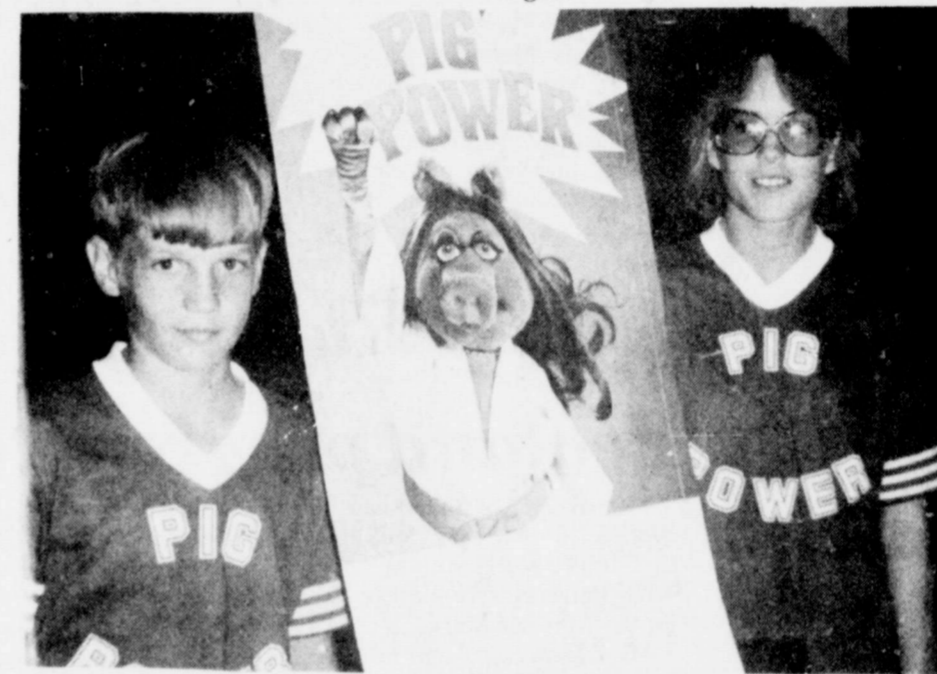

In preparation for the nursery, the students made a field trip to Plainview to the College Hill Day Care Center where owner Mrs. Frances Sams discussed the care of small children and told the students what to expect from them. Mrs. Sams also loaned some learning equipment which she and her husband developed.

As the pre-schoolers spent each morning of the week at the school, they were observed by the high school students who learned not to push the little ones too hard or too fast to learn. They learned that repetition is necessary when teaching little ones. The bigger kids also learned about patience and how to handle children better.

Many of the little ones really got close to the teenagers. One little boy's family was in the home of one of the teenagers the next week and the little boy climbed into the older boy's lap to visit. One mother says her little boy loved the pre-school nursery but because he liked the older kids so much he probably will be disappointed when he goes to kindergarten and doesn't find teenagers. "And he learned so much that week," the mom believes.

The high schoolers ran the nursery under the supervision of teacher Anna Anderson.

Among the children who attended all or part of the preschool nursery were David Turner, Mark Todd Terrell, Jared Mosley, Randi Jo Henderson, Mandy Hunter, Mary Lindsey Poole, Melissa Gonzales, Steven Gomez, Melinda Rodriguez, Mikeal Paul Durham, Scott Turbeville, Rance Barnett, Justin Marble, Allen Martin, Coby Marr, Allison Mangold, Kaci Mathis, Tikka Smith, Kay Lynn Lusk, Amanda Watson, Amy Suerrero, Max Green and Misty Henagan.

THE IMAGE OF PIGS has certainly been enhanced by Miss Piggy, according to Wyman Rexrode and Sherre Kinard, Lockney High School Juniors, who practiced their speech "Pig Power" Monday at the 4-H Club meeting which they will perform in district 4-H Club competition at Texas Tech in Lubbock May 9.

Perspectives

Most of the time we hear of sports personalities demanding more money for whatever it is they do. Often times this is irritating, since it is doubtful anyone is really worth a million dollars to society, much less people whose chosen vocation is the very thing many of us would like to do for fun.

Thus it was rather a bit of fresh air to find an athlete who did not put a large sum of money ahead of other priorities in his life.

Lee Trevino decided not to play in the New Orleans Open, in spite of a possible $100,000 bonus if he should win the tournament. He had a previous commitment, he said. The tournament promoter sniffed, "I just hope whatever he is doing is worth more than $163,000." The promoter also had the gall to say that Trevino owed an enormous debt to golf, and his refusal to play at New Orleans flew in the face of that debt.

Trevino, it seems, will be playing in a charity tournament which will raise money for heart research. People have paid good money to play with him. Surely this qualifies as being worth more than the prize offered in New Orleans, and quite adequately pays on the debt Trevino owes to the game.

I fear the promoter of the New Orleans open was not all that concerned about anything other than his gate receipts, which will suffer since the excitement of seeing a player go for the big loot is now past. That a person should become so upset in such a situation, that money and its lure should be so important in our society is a sad commentary indeed.

"What shall it profit a man if he should gain the world and lose his own soul?" The Biblical question is very valid here. I have no idea of the state of Mr. Trevino's soul, but he at least has a better perspective on this life than the promoter of the New Orleans Open.

South Plains News

Mrs. Murray Julian

BY MRS. MURRAY JULIAN
South Plains, April 27:
Pleasant, sunny weather with cool nights and warm days have been with us this past week, and April comes to a close as farmers are getting fields ready for spring planting. Lawns, too, are having to be cut and trimmed, as summer is just around the corner.
Mr. and Mrs. Grigsby

Milton Jr. returned Sunday morning from a Flying Farmers Convention which took them to Tulsa, Oklahoma, and when arriving home, they found a message from Otis Milton in Amarillo that he was very ill, and they flew there, and found he was improved.
We were glad to hear that Mrs. Ursel Taylor (Garnie) was able to come home from the hospital on Thursday of last week, and is recuperating at home.

Mrs. Sylvin Kinnibrugh (Bobbie) went for a doctors checkup last Friday and the doctor put her back in the Nichols Clinic for a few days to have a chest condition checked. We hope she will soon be home to stay.
Mr. and Mrs. Mark Morris from Plainview were visitors at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning, and they went home with Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Osborne to have dinner, and returned for the evening service with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Dunham of Amarillo spent Saturday and part of Sunday here with her sister, Mrs. Mamie Wood. This was the first time Mrs. Ruth Dunham had been away from home since the disastrous wreck in which she was badly hurt last Christmas Eve. They had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Springer of Hale Center visited Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Louzila Nichols. They are cousins of Mrs. Nichols.
Mrs. Letha Mulder spent Saturday in Floydada at the home of Mrs. Ernest Smith-erman, enjoying lunch and the afternoon with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Shari and Brad Smith and Ryon spent their Easter in Lubbock with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith.
Miss Janette Reeves, bride-elect of Daryl LeBoeuf, will be honored at a bridal shower in Silverton, at the Pioneer Room at the First State Bank 11:00 a.m. through the meetings where the Ron Somers. There will be the Plains from 10:00 until after the dinner.

Brock, Alaniz qualify

Lockney took fifth place out of six teams in the district 3-3A boys track meet at Abernathy, with two Longhorns qualifying for the regional track meet tomorrow and Saturday in Lubbock.

The two qualifiers for the regional meet are Byron Brock, who took second place in the discus, with a toss of 129 feet, seven inches, and Freddie Alaniz who finished second in the 3,200 meter run with a time of 10:33.15.

Only the first and second place finishers in the district meet qualified for the regional competition.

Alaniz also finished third in the 1,600 meter run with a time of 4:50.6.

The Horns John Cummings took third in the high jump with a leap of six feet even.

Tulia took the district title with 133½ points, Abernathy was second with 122, Floydada third with 104, Childress fourth with 90½, Lockney fifth with 36 points and Idalou finished sixth and last with 33 points.

Golfers finish seventh

Lockney finished seventh out of ten teams in the district 3-3A golf match at the Pine Hills Country Club in Lubbock.

Tulia took the title with a score of 315. Lockney finished with a score of 420.

Each school had teams of five golfers with the four best scores for one round used to determine the final score.

Lockney's Mike Stennett turned in the best round for the Longhorns, shooting 100 for the round. Tyke Dipprey shot a 106, Joe Reay, 108, Jeff McCormick 115 and Karl Race 122.

Other golfers from Lockney competing in the district match were Keith Hight, Monty Smith, Scott McCarty and Jeff Reecer.

A barrel of bread?

BY MARGIE SAVAGE

"Hello, Mother, your granddaughter and I are coming to visit you," I chirped into the phone.

"That's fine. Would you please stop at the bakery and get me a barrel of day-old bread." My mother requested.

That was not an unusual request and I would go right by the bakery anyway, if I chose to go smack through the city of Abilene. It didn't matter if I got torn limb-from-limb in the big city.

The bread was truly in a barrel, but since we weren't allowed to take the container, we had to put the bread in the back of my little Datsun. There was no room in the trunk. It was filled with luggage, cats (stuffed), and my Knit Wit Kit (that's another story). The back seat was literally filled to the ceiling. White bread, dark bread, hamburger buns.

Bread all over the place. I never smelled so much bread in all my life.

As we pulled away from the bakery, I began to get a "heady" feeling—a high brought on by the smell of yeast. If a policeman had stopped me, he could have easily arrested me for being intoxicated. I light-headedly weaved in and out of traffic for the next 50 miles.

My mother was glad to see us. But, mostly she was glad to see the bread. Some of the bread was a bit smashed. I was a bit smashed. She immediately began sorting it into categories: smushed, good white, good dark, and good hamburger buns. Some of the buns were smaller than the others so she dubbed them "hot rolls." We had "hot rolls" at every meal from then on.

She began her personification by referring to the loaves as "he" and "him." "He" was too smushed; "he" would have to be toasted. Let's put "him" in the freezer.

The freezer was filled to overflowing. Every time the door was opened, the opener was in danger of becoming an amputee as the frozen bread leaped out. What she couldn't freeze, my mother toasted in the oven and crushed into crumbs. We had bread crumb hamburgers on "hot rolls," we had bread crumb pudding, we had bread crumb meat loaf, and we had bread crumb steak.

I never ate so much bread in all my life.

When we got ready to go

Busy! Busy! is the only way to describe the last week. We were non-stop all week. Monday, we enjoyed a lovely bus trip to Quitaque where we saw Richard Lanham's old stomping ground. On the way back we went through Flomot and Old Gasoline (I didn't even know there was such a town). Much reminiscence went on between the residents. Those enjoying the trip were Myrtle Burke, Richard Lanham, Sally Carpenter, J.T. Strickland, Euna Bradshaw, Donnie Hester, Alma McDonald, Mattie Poole, and Mary Jo Fielding. We had a very special passenger, Wilbur Miller. We are looking forward more and more to our bus trips. It's so nice to get out and see all the different sights.

While the residents played bingo Friday afternoon, the Easter Bunny paid us a visit. You should have seen the wild hunt we had. Although there was some crushed eggs we had the time of our lives. We enjoyed lime punch and oatmeal cookies after the hunt. Helping serve refreshments were Almeda Phillips and DeLinda Glasson. The Easter party doubled as a birthday party for Amber Mason granddaughter of Laverne Christian. She didn't know what to think of all the sour notes when we sang Happy Birthday to her.

We are really going to town making our craft dogs. When we start we don't want to quit. We are taking orders now and are presently filling orders.

Our bingo game gets more competitive every week. This weeks blackout winners were Lavell Edwards and Sally Carpenter. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Taylor of Quitaque donated our fruit for our bingo prizes this week. We send our thanks to them.

Sam Lide enjoyed his visit with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Gearhart of Fritch and granddaughter, Melissa Webb, and great grandson.

We were saddened at the loss of one of our residents, Murry Myers. We will miss him very much. Our sympathy goes to the family.

Our thanks to all the family and friends who came to see us for Easter. Also, thank you to all the overhauling racks. It's our Easter.

BTUs WATTS = EER

The energy efficiency ratio (EER) of an air conditioner or a refrigerator tells you how efficiently electricity is converted into cooling. The EER is determined by dividing the BTUs by the Watts. The higher the EER the more efficiently the operates.

A 24,000 BTU air conditioner using 3,900 watts would have an EER of 7.3 (24,000 ÷ 3,900 = 7.3). If you could get the same cooling capacity for 2,400 watts the EER would be higher (24,000 ÷ 2,400 = 10 EER).

Before you buy ask about EER! Nine or higher is recommended.

PHOTOS AND STORY BY SHELLY HARRIS

It would be like to have 15,000 people descend on Turkey or Floydada for the how would you feel about it? much the same as the Turkey do when the Bob celebrators hit town the last each year...with mixed emo-

The enthusiasm of the fans for Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys style music draws crowds from West Texas as well as bordering states. We even saw a New York license plate. That's right, we packed a tent and took off for Turkey to see for ourselves what can draw that many people to a small town for the weekend.

Of course, it was the music. More than 15 former Texas Playboys were there along with Johnny Lee Wills, Owassa, Oklahoma, and Luke Wills, Las Vegas, New Mexico, both brothers of the famous Bob Wills. The weekend started with dancing to the music and memories of Wills Friday night in the old Turkey High School auditorium. A parade kicked off Saturday morning events. The bar-b-que was held at noon and the old fiddlers contest that afternoon. The afternoon program was held outdoors in the football stadium. A crowd of thousands listened to the former Playboys and personalities as they paid tribute to Bob Wills. The emcee was Dr. Charles Townsend, history professor at WTSU in Canyon, who is Wills' noted biographer. Another dance Saturday packed in an estimated 3000. After the Saturday night dance, breakfast was served. The day officially ended. However, the camp grounds were still full of revelers. Cars and pick-ups drove the dirt streets, kicking up dust, most of the night. There was a time, in years past, the crowds got too much for the residents of the town. The revenue from the four events: the two dances, the bar-b-que and the breakfast, stays in Turkey in the Bob Wills Foundation and is used for community projects. A new fire engine was purchased with the funds, also a new school building. So the citizens appreciate the financing made possible by the celebration. But the event has gotten a reputation for the place to "have a party." If seeing someone with a beer can in their hand offends you, Turkey is not the place to be on that particular weekend. About three years ago the residents appealed to the State Department of Public Safety and asked for help in handling the crowds. This year there was a force of 20 peace officers, brought in from the counties throughout the state, to patrol the grounds. The law officers were much in evidence, stopping speeders and generally keeping the peace. I was personally amazed that there was as little trouble (within my viewing) as there was, with that many people and that much "partying" going on. They are to be commended. Jack Moore from Floydada was one of the staff. Except for being noisy most of the night everyone was pretty well behaved. I did see some things that I considered in poor taste, but it's hard these days to be in that size a crowd anywhere and not see some of that. Most of the campers we saw were Tech students. There were a lot from South Plains College. A lot of motorcycles were in evidence. I didn't see any colors of the "outlaw clubs." I talked to one biker and he said that he hadn't seen any either. "And don't want to," he added. All ages seemed to be equally represented. I talked to more people from Amarillo than any other place. So my personal survey would give the attendance prize to that town. If the townspeople had special ordered the weather it couldn't have been better.

IT WAS A LOT OF FUN!!!

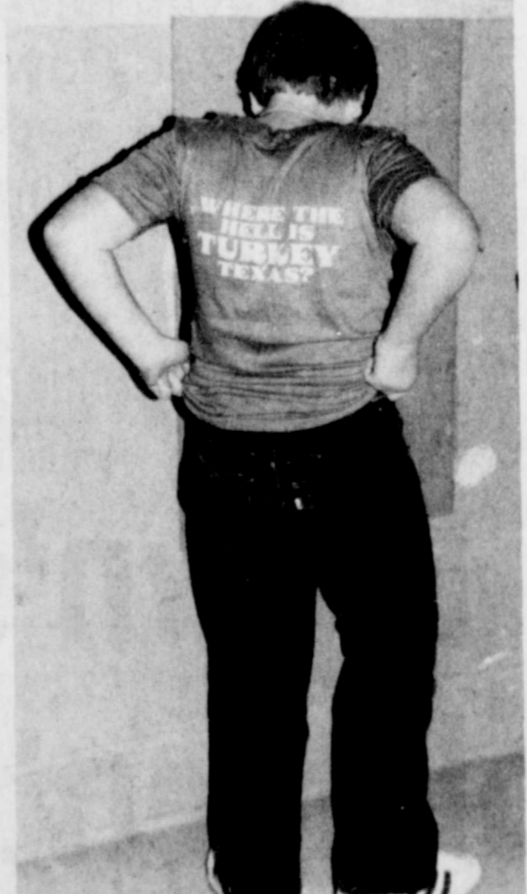

THESE MULES were brought in by trailer from Dallas as was the camp wagon. The wagon is actually used on a ranch.

ARTIST from Matador has a charming subject for her portrait.

THE HAYES said they almost sold out of western hats. They own and operate the Shadow Box in Lockney. Betty set up their booth outside the school building.

THESE T-SHIRTS were being sold in one of the booths.

EDITH COOPER dodged me all through the arts and crafts show. This shot was taken upstairs in the High School

Floyd County escapes average April tornado

The average tornado in Floyd County would occur in April between the hours of 6 p.m. with windspeed between 70-100 mph. Statistics have been compiled for Floyd as well as other counties on the basis of weather scientist Larry Eblen, who is with the National Weather Service at Lubbock.

In Floyd County this past week giving lectures to the hospitals in both Floydada. He also conducted a workshop for the tornado spotters held at courthouse Thursday evening.

The average tornado for the whole of the Texas South Plains would occur in May between the hours of 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. with wind speed of 70-100 mph. That would classify it as a weak system.

With the exception of the month in which most tornadoes occur, Floyd County statistics are much the same as for the entire area.

Of the average tornado in both cases would be from the Southwest at

Tornado Description

It is best described as a "violently rotating column of air in contact with the ground. It is a center of extremely low pressure surrounded by high winds -- rotating in a counter-clockwise direction.

A part of a tornado is composed of small water droplets mixed with dust. A tornado that has not picked up much debris may not appear to touch the ground. However, if damage is occurring, a tornado is in progress. As opposed to a funnel is a violently rotating column of air that does not touch the ground.

Most all but the largest tornadoes are generally smooth, tapered, hold their shape and, above all else, are rotating.

They generally move to the northeast at 30 to 40 mph, but can turn in any direction. They speed up to 70 mph or stop dead still.

Tornadoes last only a few minutes, although some have persisted for three hours. They first appear as funnels hanging below the rain-free bottom of the thunderstorm. They then dip downward, touch the ground, and disappear.

Toward the end of the life cycle they shrink into a rope-shape and disappear. They appear to be weak -- but are still dangerous.

From 1950 to 1975, tornadoes within 150 miles of Lubbock occurred most often in May, followed by June and April. These months accounted for three-quarters of all sightings. Almost 80 percent of the tornadoes occurred between 4 p.m. and 10 p.m. with the greatest concentration between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Three-fourths of the tornadoes were small with winds ranging from 40 to 100 mph. With an average path length of less than 1 mile and path width less than 100 feet, these are difficult to detect. Fortunately, few cause death.

Medium-sized tornadoes were found to occur one-fourth of the time. They are easier to detect than small tornadoes and have winds from 100 to 200 mph. They may have a path length up to 10 miles and a width up to 300 feet. They are less likely to kill than large tornadoes.

Large tornadoes were rare occurring less than 1 percent of the time. Due both to size and intensity (winds up to 300 mph) they are the most destructive and easiest to detect. They have path lengths up to 200 miles and widths up to 1 1/2 miles. Though rare, they cause almost 70 percent of all deaths.

Excellent examples of the large, killer tornadoes are the Lubbock Tornado of May 1970 and the Wichita Falls Tornado of April 1979. It is estimated that some 18,000 persons were in the path of the Wichita Falls Tornado. The survival of 99.8 percent of them was due largely to their knowledge and use of safety rules.

How To Protect Yourself

In the open, the best shelter from a tornado is a ditch, ravine, or culvert. If none is available, move into a field alongside the road. Get down on your knees, as low to the ground as possible, and cover your head with your hands and arms. This is known as the defensive position. Do not remain in a vehicle or try to outrun a tornado. It is difficult to judge either its distance or speed.

In a building, the safest location would be a tornado shelter. Next best would be a basement. Hide under a heavy desk or stairwell. Otherwise, go to a central closet, bathroom, or small hallway on the lowest floor. These rooms are safer when away from chimneys and taller structures that may collapse on them. They have the advantages of greater reinforcement per unit volume and more walls between the occupants inside and flying debris outside. Flying debris causes most tornado deaths. When you reach the shelter, assume the defensive position.

Avoid areas with large span roofs such as cafeterias, auditoriums, and gymnasiums. They are subject to collapse. Also avoid areas with extensive glass. It is likely to be shattered by the extreme winds and flying debris.

Do not waste time opening or closing windows to reduce inside pressure. The pressure change near a tornado (very low pressure) causes little, if any, structural damage. Simply make sure you and the people you are with are safe.

The shelters mentioned above can often be improved, at low cost, by reinforcing the rooms or hallways and replacing hollow-core doors with solid wood doors. Remove heavy objects from shelves above a closet shelter and decorative items from bathroom shelters. Have a blanket handy to throw over your heads for added protection. In bathroom shelters, have some members of your family lie in the bathtub and pull a mattress over it.

To determine the amount of shelter space needed, allow 6 square feet of space per adult and 4 per child (hospital and nursing home patients may need more room). Businesses should consult a knowledgeable architect or engineer to help determine the best shelter locations and then mark them for workers and customers.

With a good location for shelters chosen, only a reliable, timely method of receiving watches and warnings is needed. Keep in mind that a watch is simply a statement that a severe thunderstorm, tornado, or flood is possible in the large area mentioned.

A warning indicates the event is already happening in the one or two county area mentioned.

To receive these, NOAA Weather Radio can be received on several multi-band radios or on special weather radios. These special radios can be found in most electronics or department stores for as little as $15.

Radios with an alarm capability (an alarm sounds when a watch or warning is issued for the central South Plains) sell for as little as $40.

These radios broadcast information from the National Weather Service Office at Lubbock 24 hours a day and can be received from as far away as 50 miles. Hourly weather conditions, a five-day forecast, a general weather summary, and agricultural and recreational information are given. During severe weather this is the earliest and most complete source of information.

Keep in mind also that both severe and non-severe thunderstorms produce lightning and lightning kills twice as many West Texans each year as do tornadoes. To be safe, remain indoors when lightning is occurring.

If outside away from buildings, avoid isolated tall trees and high places. Avoid touching metal objects such as fences or pumps. Away from buildings, the inside of a vehicle offers good lightning protection. Otherwise, assume the defensive position for best protection.

Saturday, Mr. Dale Miller had a pleasant telephone visit with his mother in California. She was okay.

INSUR-MATION
Floyd County
Insurance Agency Jerry Cooper

Q. Like almost everyone, we are up against some budget constraints and, although I would like to purchase a whole life insurance policy to protect our growing family and also accumulate cash value, term policies seem more in line with our financial situation. Is there an option I'm overlooking?
A. Very possibly. Many companies offer policies combining whole life and term insurance which may be your solution. Basically, the decreasing term pays the beneficiary either a lump sum or a fixed income for a specified period, while the proceeds from the whole life section can be taken out in a lump sum or used to augment the term income. Usually, a policy of this kind can be tailor-made to fit your budget.
