Grant contract approved

Lockney City Council has approved a $500,000 contract with Parkhill, Cooper Inc., of Lubbock, an architectural and planning firm to administer the city's recently approved Block Grant.

The grant will come from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for the first year of the Block Grant. An additional $455,000 for the second year is contingent on the completion of the Block Grant for the first year.

Block Grant funds will be used to fund the north area bounded on the north by the tracks, on the east by the intersection of Locust and Guest streets, on the south by Locust Street and Eighth Streets and on the west by Eighth Street.

Expenditures include: construction of new sewer lines and a north of Guest Street and Locust Street; rehabilitation of 17 units; replacement of three existing units with modular units; demolition of 20 buildings; contingencies; and general administration, including code enforcement.

Delayed action on hiring a program coordinator to work in the areas of the Block Grant

Coordinator's position requires knowledge of construction. Candidates are under review. The position will be about $700 per month for Council approved a resolution Mayor J.D. Copeland to have seven member neighborhood committee to oversee the program. Committee appointments are expected to be made in two weeks.

Council also approved a resolution for creation of a public utility.

Council cracks down on junk, livestock

The Lockney City Council is starting a crack-down on livestock and junk kept within the city limits.

The Council has instructed city attorney Paul Lyle to prepare the necessary legal papers to compel compliance with city ordinances dealing with debris and livestock in the city.

Mayor J.D. Copeland said there is one instance where one property owner has 30 head of cattle in a pasture within the city limits.

Other councilmen cited numerous complaints they have received about hogs, cows, chickens and horses kept within the city limits.

"There's a little bit of everything and seven members, will oversee the development of the assisted housing. Appointment of the housing authority members will take place over the next several weeks but the assisted housing is not expected to be available for two or three years.

within the city limits," according to councilman Roy Holly.

Lyle said, "Persons who have wrecked cars and other junk and waste or livestock on their property and who do not remove the same within two weeks will be officially notified of their violations of city ordinances and actions will be taken against them."

In addition, Lyle said residents may make complaints against those keeping junk or livestock on their property by swearing out a complaint before the municipal judge.

Those wishing to make a complaint, Lyle said, may also call the Lockney Police Department and citations will be issued for violations of litter and livestock ordinances.

Hale Center coach tapped for Lockney

Lockney School Superintendent W.H. Hallmark will recommend to the Board of Education at its meeting next Tuesday that Mike Martin of Hale Center be hired as the new Lockney High School boys varsity basketball coach.

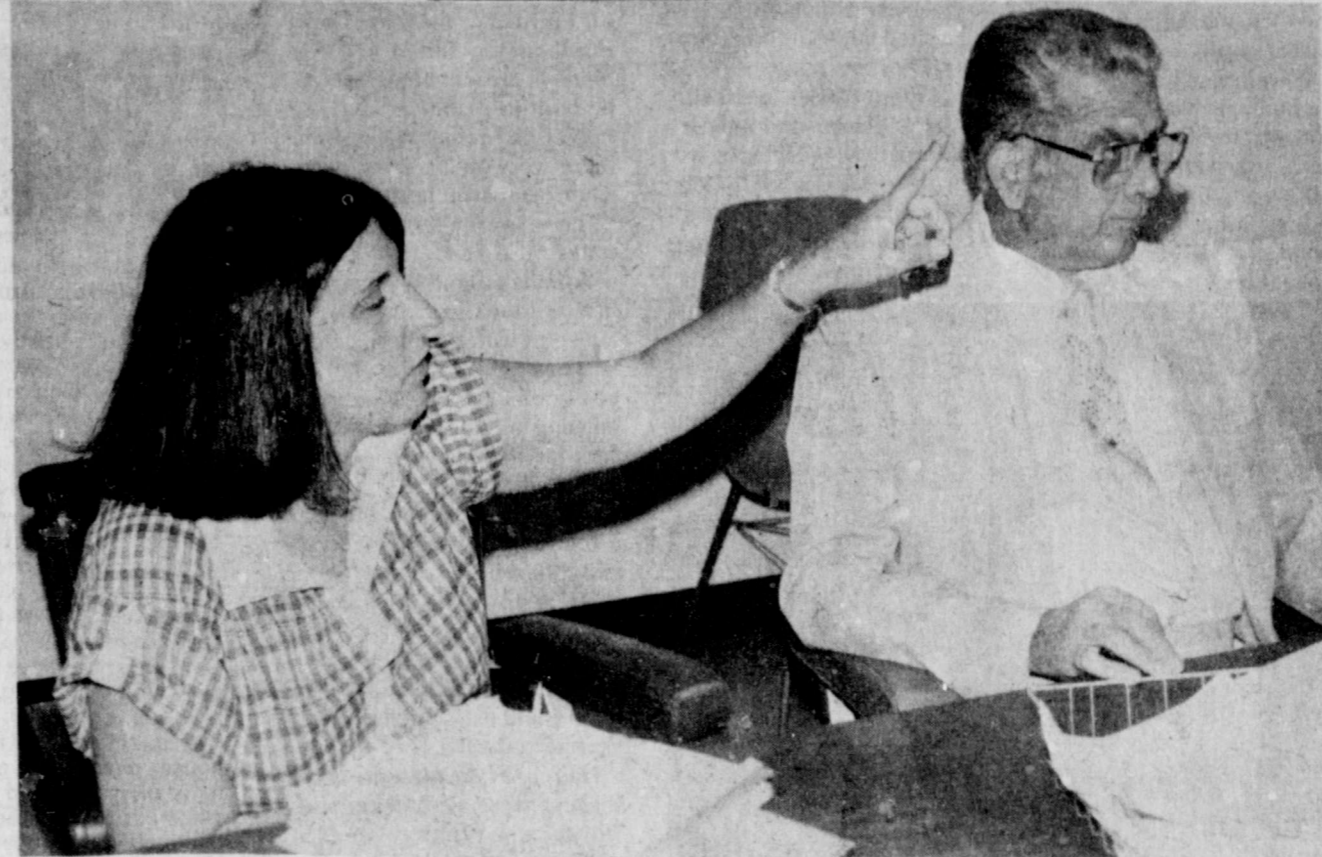

Lebby resigned last month to take the head coaching job at Sweetwater High School. Lebby had only been with the Lockney school system for one year.

Martin, who has been at Hale Center for just one year, led the varsity to a 19-10 overall mark last season and a 9-5 record and a third place finish in district competition.

Martin has also coached at Spade, Hart and Frenship and has a 106-55 career record. His team won a district title at Spade and another team tied for the district title and lost in a play-off at Frenship.

"Everybody I talked to spoke real highly of him," Hallmark said. "I feel real good about it."

CONSULTANT BARBARA ELLIS explains aspects of the Lockney Block Grant to the City Council at its meeting Tuesday. The Council approved a contract with Ellis' company to assist with the Block Grant program.

Drawing tomorrow for afghan

A drawing will be held at 2:30 tomorrow at First National Bank in Lockney for an afghan to raise funds for Lockney High School senior Kara Carthel, who has been selected to perform with the Continental Singers on their overseas tour.

The afghan was made and donated by Georgia Ford. Chances, which cost $2 each, are being sold at the bank, the Lockney Co-op, the office of the justice of the peace, J.D. Copeland's office, and by Lockney High School band director Larry Williams.

The Continental Singers are an interdenominational religious musical organization with headquarters in metropolitan Los Angeles.

Each year 280 vocalist and 190 musicians are chosen for the group, from high schools and colleges around the country.

After a week of rehearsal in California, the vocalists and musicians are divided into 15 groups which travel around the U.S. and overseas as the Continental Singers.

Kara's group leaves Monday for a tour of Holland, West Germany, Switzerland, Holland and Spain and the southeastern United States. She will return home August 27.

It's Not Easy

I'd look foolish sitting in a green wading pool shaped like a turtle if it weren't for my two-year-old daughter splashing beside me.

It's the only sensible place to be on a hot and humid summer day, but as an adult-type person I wouldn't let anybody see me relaxing in the turtle, without my daughter as an excuse. I might get hauled away to the funny farm.

Having a small child gives me an excuse to do a lot of things I would like to do anyway but would feel funny doing just for myself.

For years I have wanted to go down one of those huge water slides that are mainly patronized by little people below the legal working age. Now I have my excuse. I can take my daughter. I can always claim that she is too young to go by herself.

Now I can buy animal crackers. All my life I have had a secret fondness for animal crackers, but I have been buying them on the sly for years. Now I can openly walk into the grocery, buy the animal crackers, and hand them to my daughter to carry. Of course, when we get home I make her divide them with me. They're great to dunk in coffee.

I have returned to all those foods I loved as a child, bologna sandwiches, peanut butter and banana sandwiches, frozen bananas, chocolate milk, corn on the cob, macaroni and cheese. I don't know why I ever gave them up.

Funding for each student is paid half by the student and half by the organization.

So far, about $1,000 has been raised for Kara and $1,500 is needed.

A special account for Kara has been set up at First National Bank and anyone wishing to make a contribution may do so at the bank.

Sometimes a bologna sandwich and an ice-cold grape soda taste better than any gourmet's delight.

In recent months I have acquired a great fondness for feeding ducks at the lake and for visiting every playground that we pass. Unfortunately, many of those playgrounds are really made for children. I have to choose my swing carefully or I end up swinging with my knees up under my chin.

I have been waiting impatiently for over two years now for my daughter to be old enough so that I can take her to Walt Disney movies. I have grand visions of Saturday afternoons watching "The Lady and the Tramp" or "Herbie Goes to Hollywood." Now, however, my daughter will only sit still through the cartoon and then she wants to go out in the lobby and play the "Star Wars" video game.

I know that my daughter will be old enough someday so that she would rather go to the movies or play in her turtle with her friends instead of old Mom. That's to be expected. Maybe they'll let me tag along as chauffeur as long as I promise to sit in the back of the theater and promise not to play in the turtle until they have moved on to making mud pies in the sandbox.

At least I can sneak a few peanut butter and banana sandwiches now and then.

Floydada Rodeo set for July 24-26

Cowboys from four states will be competing in the 24th annual Floydada Rodeo, July 24-25-26.

Livestock from the Lubbock-based C-B-T Rodeo Company will be ridden by entrants from Texas, Colorado, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Don McCandles, of the Floydada Rodeo Association, said, "This year's show will be pretty much the same as last year except the Rough Rider Rodeo Band from Nazareth will play both Friday and Saturday nights."

Rodeo Queen entrants will be selling tickets for a hand made saddle by Alvin Durham.

Pride of Texas Shows carnival will be set up at the Rodeo grounds again this year.

Workers are grading onions in the Debruyne Produce Shed in Floydada.

County onion crop is down

Onion crop in Floyd County describe this season so far as being slow. It is usually light around the middle of July when New Mexico and Idaho onions move into production.

Debruyne's crop is down about 20 percent from last year according to Chuck Holmes, who is on the sales staff at Debruyne Vegetable and Pepper Co. He estimated that there were about 10,000 acres in the county.

The crop has been described as "light" and the average depending on conditions in the area.

Hail along with other severe weather conditions has cut down on yield. Prigmore said that the prices run between $5 and $8 depending on quality, size and color.

He expects most of their early crop to be shipped by July 25.

Chuck Holmes, Debruyne Produce Co., estimates that they will finish the early crop about July 15.

Debruyne has 400 acres this year with 200 early Granos and 200 early Spanish. They have clipped about 50 acres. Holmes said.

Weather has also adversely affected the cucumber crop. Jr. Simpson, Floydada Vegetable and Pepper, estimates that one third of the crop was lost to weather.

The fall cucumber crop is being planted now and is expected to have a heavier yield.

Simpson also said that the pepper crop will "be a couple of weeks late this year."

Holmes estimates that they will begin shipping peppers about September 15. He said that half of the crop is in "real good shape". The other half of the crop is late re-plants.

"It will be touch and go whether it makes it or not," Holmes said.

Hilton is oldest citizen at Floyd County Reunion

BY DON STRASNER

Warnie Hilton was Floyd County's oldest citizen attending the Floyd County Reunion this year.

Born in Jacksboro, in Jacks Co., Texas in 1882, Warnie will be 100 on January 16, 1982.

After finishing the ninth grade in Jacksboro, Warnie went to work for his father, J.P. Hilton, a German immigrant from Coblenz who came to Texas, met and married Laura Owens Honey and then started farming and raising cattle.

Warnie got his first farming and ranching experience working for his father, but more importantly, learned a skill during those early years on his father's farm which would provide him a lifetime occupation.

Every Sunday morning he cut the hired hands' hair, a job he was to take up in New Mexico, and later in Floydada, where he barbered for 56 years.

Warnie left home and quit farming for his father in 1905, when he was 24. He left the farm 50 miles northwest of Fort Worth that his father farmed and started his own farming operation three miles from Jacksboro. That year he met and married Lola Scoby from Hillsboro, after she visited her sister in Jacksboro.

In 1908, Warnie and Lola left Jacksboro and moved to a farm 3 1/4 miles east of Lolar, New Mexico (48 miles west of Clovis), raising horses and cattle and farming corn and maize.

Plowing with a team of three mules and a horse, Warnie worked "from daylight until dark" on his own farm of 50 acres, and in addition farmed a half-section for some railroad hands.

"Corn was selling for 50 cents a bushel then," Warnie recalled. "I sold my crop to a local rancher to feed his cows. A good crop was anywhere from 20 to 40 bushels an acre."

In 1915, Warnie and Lola left New Mexico and moved to Floydada, locating their residence on the street behind his present home, which he built in 1918.

Warnie remembers that there were about 600 people when he arrived in Floydada. "There weren't any sidewalks," he said, "just a few windmills around town and a mill and tank near the courthouse to water horses."

Warnie said the courthouse was a frame building, housing all the county officers for the county seat and surrounding county.

"Bill Brown came up to me a few days after I got here and offered me a barber's chair at his shop," Warnie said. "I told him that I didn't have any barber's tools, but he told me it didn't matter, that I could use some of his."

Warnie reflected, "Haircuts were 50 cents and shaves were 25 cents in Floydada in 1915."

There were five brick buildings in downtown Floydada when Warnie moved to Floydada in 1915. He said that in all the 66 years that he has resided in Floydada, he can never recall a tornado striking within the city limits, although he can recall some damage in the immediate vicinity around Floydada, over the years.

When the Great Depression of the 30s came to Floyd County, Warnie said people in the county "were just like everybody else," working for the WPA or doing anything possible to survive. "The farmers here had no money," he said, "but they came out of it."

Warnie retired from barbering in Floydada at the age of 90, and told his regular customers, many of whom were customers of different generations (father, son and grandson), that he was hanging up his clippers because there was "too much long hair and too many beards."

His daughter, Blanche, is his sole surviving member of his immediate family, his wife and another daughter having preceded him in death.

Warnie has two grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren, but no great-great-grandchildren. Blanche and Billy's three grandchildren are all married, one of whom has been married two years, but none of them have had children yet.

Warnie's fondest dream is that he live to the ripe age of 100, so that "my children will have something to talk about." May God grant Warnie that dream!

Although patio doors were designed for summer use, they don't keep the inside very cool in the light of direct sun. To remedy the situation, consider building an attractive wind and sun shelter. First, construct a 2 x 4 frame outside the door consisting of two walls and a roof of four feet in width. Follow the slant of the roof of the house through to your door shelter. Once the frame is built and secured to the exterior wall by nailing additional 2 x 4s to the wall, cover the sides inside and out with five-eighths inch plywood paneling. The roof can be shingled to match the house over three-eighths exterior plywood. Add 1 x 6 trim strips cut to fit. Stain or paint to match your house trim. Add a hanging planter inside the shelter for effect and enjoy the shade.

Three-day seminar, which was held in Dallas, is offered to career insurance salesmen and features special sessions in individual and family life insurance programming.

The course is associated with the southwest division office in Dallas, which is headquarters for the Companies' operations in Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

A partnership was formed with Jim S. McLain and his cousin, John R. McLain, both of Seymour, to put the town on the map. The town was named in honor of Jim McLain's daughter, Della.

The twenty acres that made up Della Plain town site were plowed up and planted in cotton in 1900.

The Smith-Mickey annual family reunion was June 12, 13 and 14 at the Ceta Glenn Church camp. Over 100 descendants of C.W. and Annie Mickey Smith were present.

Of the original 12 children, five are still living, one brother, Milton Smith of Mountair, New Mexico was unable to attend. The four daughters were present: Mrs. Irene Pope of Friona, Mrs. Maggie Tinnin of Flagstaff, Arizona, Miss Alice Smith, Amarillo and Mrs. Alma N. Holmes of Duncanville, Texas and one living daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Smith, Canyon.

C.W. and Annie Mickey Smith were early day settlers of Floyd County. They settled at Della Plain. Many members of the Mickey family are buried at the old Della Plain Cemetery.

A collection was taken to place a historical marker at the Della Plain Cemetery. Some $200 was raised. More funds are needed before the marker can be put up.

Lockney Care Center news

BY VICKIE HUTTON
We have really been gababouts the past month.

We enjoyed picnics at Mackenzie Lake, 7th Street Park in Plainview, and Monday we journeyed to Roaring Springs where we enjoyed a lovely picnic lunch prepared by our excellent dietary department.

Those enjoying the trip were Alma McDonald, Julia Garrett, Richard Lanham, Donnie Hester, Mary Jo Fielding, Bertie Bradley, Myrtle Payne, Joe and Estella Castro, and myself.

The scenery was beautiful. On our way to Roaring Springs we took the long way around and went to McAdoo and on the way back Richard Lanham pointed out points of interests and shared with us some of his experiences when he lived around the Matador community. Overall the trip was very enjoyable and I had plenty of help driving. I guess everyone has a back seat driver once in their lifetime.

We had three blackout winners this week. Myrtle Payne, Richard Lanham, and Albert Poole. It was really something watching those three divide the blackout prize, a bag of orange slices. We look forward more and more to our games, it becomes more and more enjoyable as the weeks go by.

The ladies of the Main Street Church of Christ gave another lovely birthday party. Those lovely ladies are truly gems. Our birthday honorees are Richard Lanham, 84 years young and Rosella Trowbridge, 82 years young.

We were sure glad to have Chuck Shockley back for ceramics. We truly missed him during his absence. We have really made some beautiful things.

Friday we celebrated the 4th of July by having a picnic on the front lawn. We enjoyed hot dogs, chips, and many different covered dishes brought by the families and the employees. The best part of the picnic was the watermelon we had. It really hit the spot.

We welcome new resident, L.A. Jones from Crosbyton. We are looking forward to having Mr. Jones join in our activities.

We have Sally Carpenter, Belva Gibson, and Mattie Readhimer in the hospital. We hope their health improves so they can return home to us. We miss their lovely smiles and sweet personalities.

A special thanks goes to Charlie Starker of Flomot for bringing us some delicious peaches. They were a very special treat.

Interest on checking and the strings attached.

In banking circles, it's almost revolutionary. All that hard-earned money in your checking account actually working for you. Collecting interest just like a savings account. Terrific, right? Absolutely. But behind the silver lining there are just a few pint-sized clouds. Minimum balance. Average balance. Limits on check writing. In other words, you can't treat your balance like a seesaw. Or sign checks like there's no tomorrow. Now, keeping track of it all doesn't take an Einstein, but it does take someone pretty smart. A Full Service Bank. The folks there invented modern checking, so you can count on getting good advice. Advice that can help you squeeze the most out of every cent you've got. Advice that's free, incidentally. ...Russia will continue to be U.S. cotton's strongest competitor in West Europe," said Paul Lewis, CCI European director headquartered in Brussels. "But Soviet domestic consumption is rising while its cotton production holds steady, leaving a supply void that U.S. cotton could fill."

...The real point of concern," he continued, "is that European man-made fiber companies have geared to a much stronger push in direct trade, industry servicing, and advertising."

...Lewis added that, although European consumers have a preference for natural fibers, cotton/synthetic blends are making inroads into traditional cotton strongholds such as bed linens and towels, and men's underwear and workwear.

...However, he said that U.S. cotton exports to Europe have risen steadily from 250,000 bales in 1975, representing about 3 percent of the market, to almost 1.3 million bales this year, or almost 14 percent of Europe's cotton imports.

...Also on the program were David C. Hull, CCI executive director, who reported on the latest developments in export credit; Glenn Samson, director of Tobacco, Cotton & Seeds Division, Foreign Agricultural Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, who spoke on USDA/FAS funding for foreign cotton market development projects; and Pete Brown, associate director of Field Service, National Cotton Council, who outlined the structure of CCI, the overseas arm of the National Cotton Council, and its objectives.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White Attorney General

AUSTIN—Vacation time is here again and many people will be leaving their homes in search of fun in distant places. There is always the possibility that you may find serious problems when you return if you fail to take certain precautions before you leave on your trip this summer.

It is this time of year, with the migration away from the home in full force, that law-enforcement experts say is the prime time for burglaries in residential areas.

To offset this flight from the suburbs, they suggest that you burglar-proof your home before leaving, so the odds of your being burglarized while you are away will be reduced and you will not return to find yourself the victim of a burglary.

The following check-list is suggested as a vacation crime-prevention measure:

1. Check with your local police if you plan an extended vacation trip; many police forces offer a "close patrol" of homes where persons are known to be away on vacation. You will need to tell them what cars or persons, if any, will be making authorized visits to your home.
2. Avoid mentioning to casual acquaintances or strangers that you will be on vacation. Also, avoid telling your newspaper society editor of your trip until you have returned.
3. Stop mail, newspaper and other delivery services.
4. Have someone come by every few days and pick up any circulars that might accumulate.
5. Leave a few lights on or buy an automatic timer that will turn certain lights on and off after dark. The newest timers on the market can switch on and off at different times each night.
6. Cut your lawn before you leave, and if you will be gone for a long time, make arrangements with someone to have it cut periodically during the course of your vacation.
7. Lock all windows and doors securely. A sliding glass patio door can be more securely fastened by wedging a stick or metal instrument at the top or bottom of the door.
8. Leave blinds, shutters or curtains open or partially open. Windows that are tightly covered all day, every day, are an indication no one is home.
9. Tell a neighbor or your apartment manager that you will be gone and ask them to keep an eye on your place for you.
10. Before leaving, engrave all valuables in your home and those you will be taking with you in the car with your driver's license or social security number. Some police forces will lend you an engraver to mark your belongings, so register your number on their master list and they will give you a bright sticker for a window or door which shows that you are protected. This may discourage burglars from taking your goods, and it will make identification of recovered items much easier.
11. Keep a list of all items of value with an estimate of their cost. Many insurance companies suggest this be done and that photographs be taken of the valuables as well. This can be of major importance if you have to file a claim for loss with an insurance carrier. Your insurance agent can provide you with information on how frequently such lists should be updated.

If you'll take the time to follow the above check-list, you can at least have the benefit of knowing that you have done everything in your power to insure a burglar-free home upon your return from your vacation. Don't do criminals a favor by making their task easier for them.

Social Security News

BY RAY PURCELL

The heat wave that we have been experiencing for almost a month now has served to slow many activities. Especially affected is the urge to get out of an air conditioned building to conduct necessary business in the heat of the afternoon. At Social Security we are trying to help this situation by providing as many services as possible by phone.

We have specialized our services to a large extent and as a result we have three numbers with which to serve you.

Our local number, 293-4371 can be used to apply for social security or supplemental security income. We can also help you apply for Medicare or complete the Medicare claim forms. Of course, if you have recently filed an application for benefits and have not received any type of award letter this is the number to call. We will gladly follow-up on your claim.

The best time to call Social Security is after the middle of the month. This is because the first week or so is usually very busy and we might have to return your call. Of course, if a person has urgent business, he should call at any time.

If you have a general question or need to report a change that would affect a check you are already receiving, call our toll-free number, 1-800-392-1603. The operators who answer these calls are specifically trained to help you change a name or address on social security records, process reports of changes in marital status, and change of address. You may also report lost or stolen checks or delayed payment in addition to changes in your work status. For the most part, if you are already receiving a check or need general information, this toll-free number will provide the most efficient service.

Our other toll-free number deals strictly with Medicare. 1-800-442-2620 provides information concerning Medicare claims that have already been filed. It usually takes the insurance company 4 to 6 weeks to process claims for Medicare. However, if you have not received any word after 6 weeks, this number provides the fastest follow-up service.

The local office is located at 1401-B West 5th, Plainview. Our staff will be glad to assist you in every way possible, by phone or in person.

Lloyd Bentsen

If you work as a truck driver, you know all about a Department of Transportation form called the "Driver's Daily Log." On it, a driver must record the amount of time he spends on the job. If you wonder why DOT needs this, you're not the only one — the General Accounting Office also would like to know.

Recently the GAO examined the paperwork burden imposed on the trucking industry by DOT and the Interstate Commerce Commission. Its report is one of a series of paperwork studies prepared at my request for the Joint Economic Committee.

In the report, GAO pointed out that DOT supposedly uses the information collected from the Logs to help enforce trucking safety regulations. Transportation inspectors must ferret out cases involving fatigued drivers and then take action against their particular company.

But when GAO looked into the matter, they found that DOT doesn't bother to show the Logs to its inspectors, who instead rely on their memory of earlier incidents to track down carriers in need of safety checks.

The Transportation Department rule requiring the Log has stayed on the books, virtually unchanged for the past 40 years. Meanwhile, American truck drivers continue to spend about 32 billion hours annually completing these forms. And each year they use 1.2 billion sheets of paper in the process.

In other cases, the GAO found that the ICC had illegally required trucking firms to complete certain forms which the Office of Management and Budget had not approved. (The Federal Reports Act requires OMB to clear all government forms before the various agencies and departments can issue them.)

The trucking industry devoted some 362,000 hours and $5.4 million to complete these "bootleg" forms. On top of that, the accounting office learned that the data gathered in two instances was totally useless.

According to GAO investigations, the ICC isn't the only federal agency dodging the Federal Reports Act. In another study commissioned at my request for the Joint Economic Committee, the GAO revealed that the Environmental Protection Agency ignored the act when setting 126 business reporting requirements.

Like their colleagues at Transportation and the Commerce Commission, EPA officials don't seem to mind printing one form after another, whether they're repetitive or superfluous. The officials have grossly misjudged how much time a firm must take to fill out EPA forms. The GAO found that large firms devote as much as five hours to one form which EPA insists is only a 10-minute chore.

Granted, much of the information which federal agencies gather is crucial for the welfare of both American workers and industry. But the American people have every right to be fed up with the cavalier methods employed by regulatory agencies to accomplish their ends.

In the 97th Congress I again have introduced legislation that would further clamp down on excessive government paperwork.

Excessive government paperwork and excessive government regulation demand too many scarce resources that could be put to far better uses by our economy.

BY FRANK DUCKWORTH
Pastor Church of Christ

THE LAW OF THE LORD IS PERFECT, CONVERTING THE SOUL Psalm 19:7

WE HOPE TO CONVERT PEOPLE BY:

1. Personal example of faithful lives dedicated to Christ! This is perhaps the most compelling and first influence most of us have on others. It is certainly most often the difference in the long run of converting or failing to convert one to Christ. If we ourselves do not believe in nor love Christ enough to be faithful, dedicated and enthusiastic for this cause, we can not win others.
2. Public declaration of his word! This is useful, vital and influential when we can get a group together to consider the truths, instructions, leadership and examples found in the scriptures. No other effort can do what this can do when there are open hearts and interested minds.
3. Personal-private teaching in homes and private situations! This one on one teaching also has a unique means of influence that no other way can provide. All Christians can engage in this effort according to the ability of each.
4. The Written language with studies, sermons, outlines, tracts etc.
5. The spoken language by cassettes in sermons, discussions etc.
6. Public communications as T.V., Radio etc. All of these to be effective depend on the dedication, character, generosity, understanding and involvement of the disciples of Christ.

God, Christ and the Holy Spirit will do their part! No worry about that! God's Word is alive, pure, powerful and able to convert! May we not fail in "our" part of this great work!

The next big meet on the horizon is the South Central Regional Championships Sunday, July 5, or three years. He has won meets in Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Vouklizas is not only his top competition, but one of his top teammates, along with Jack Sutton, who will be Aubrey's 2-man relay partner. The speed racing division of the regionals will kick off the event at noon Sunday.

Guthrie sees hope for a strong regional effort and another berth at nationals because he recently won a pre-regional competition at Big Wheel Skateland in Arlington in the Senior Man Division.

His biggest competition at Fort Worth should come from his teammate Mike Vouklizas of Irving. "Mike has a good chance to win first at nationals," said Barbara Guthrie, Aubrey's mother. "Even though he would like to beat Mike, is top concern is to place."

Guthrie's is at his best in the long-distance speed skating events, although he will be competing in five events during the weeklong tournament.

He is in the senior man division, senior 4-man relay, senior 2-man relay, senior division 4-mixed relay and senior 2-mixed relay.

He qualified for nationals last August in Lincoln, Neb. by placing second in the senior 4-man relay last summer at the South Central Regionals, which was also at Will Rogers.

Aubrey has been competing since he was 10 years old although most of his 50 odd trophies have come during the past two

The one thing no cattle herd is immune to is fly problems. But, there are some steps you can take to significantly reduce the problems and now, early in the fly season, is the time to take those steps. Most effective control, of course, is through mist-blown, water based insecticide, especially in protection of pastured cattle. Entomologists say the effectiveness is due to the exposure of insects resting on grass, fences, in and around trees, as well as on the herd. Impregnated ear tags will help to control hornflies and face flies, although not effective against stable flies. Insecticide dust bags and back oilers are also popular in some areas, and provide protection against some pests. Whatever particular fly problem you have, now is the time to take steps effective into the fall.

Museum of Texas Tech University. Young women and one young man gathered at the Center to show their hand-sewn garments ranging from ski-wear to high fashion wool suits, which were cho-

Joel Harrison writes about the baseball strike

Joe Harrison in The Texas Spur: The man on the street interviews I have seen concerning the baseball strike, puts the blame square at the feet of the players.

I don't see it this way. The Supreme Court and Congress have granted baseball exemption from antitrust laws, etc., but to my way of thinking, it is the owners who are asking too much.

Looking at it from the players stand point, if I'm a player and some owner offers to pay me six million dollars to play ball for his team for six years, I'm just fool enough to take it. But, after six years, the player achieves free agent status. This means for the first six years of his career he can be traded at the owners' whim. After those six years, he can deal with any club on the open market; but...and here's the rub...the owners say if the player signs with another team that team must reimburse the owner with another major league player!

Can you imagine private industry working in this manner. For example: Say the Amarillo paper hires the sports editor of the Lubbock paper. Then the Lubbock paper says you have to send them a society editor, a general reporter and one copy boy as compensation. And this is fair? The baseball owners say yes...I say no.

Post Office changes operations

The Post Office has made changes since moving to its new building. The most significant is the re-routing of mail. Ed Wester, manager of a nation-wide energy company, says the Post Office has lost the use of a jeep. This caused a new system which was implemented last Thursday. A new method of organizing and sorting the mail is now in use. Mail will not be delivered within the time frame of the old schedule. Wester estimates that it will be several days before the deliveries are back on a set schedule. In the mean time, mail will probably be later than usual. Wester said some mail has been as much as an hour late, but that the delay will soon be corrected.

BY DOTTIE STANSELL

Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Cooper of Lubbock and Mrs. Edith Cooper, left Lubbock June 16 and flew to Dallas where they flew on a direct flight to London. They flew over Little Rock, Detroit, Newfoundland and then up the St. Lawrence River over Shannon Island. They arrived in London June 17, and took a bus tour of the city.

On Wednesday they left London by boat and crossed the English Channel landing at Calis, near the North Sea. From there they went by train to Aimen, France, that is where they have Flounders Field and the poppies.

Sunday they left Aimen, going to Germany, but decided to go by train and stop in Brussels, Belgium, which is a beautiful city, founded about 580 A.D. At the beginning of the 11th century, Brussels was encircled with walls and towers were built, forming a pentagonal shape, which remains that way today.

While in Brussels they visited the lace and china shops and saw the beautiful Gothic style buildings with gilded bronze busts.

Traveling by train they went to Germany, where they spent sometime in Aachen, which is a very busy and prosperous city, then went on to Kalon, Germany.

They left Tuesday, June 23 for Holland, where they visited the cities of Rotterdam, Deft and Haarlam. Dr. Cooper attended a "Echo cardiography" medical meeting in Rotterdam.

Leaving Rotterdam they traveled by boat to Hook, and then by train to Harwich, England, and then on to London for 3 days before returning home June 29.

Edith said, "We found London and all the countries of Europe that we visited to have courteous and friendly people, even though they were in a rush and there seemed to be large crowds, they always took time to be helpful and always so courteous. It seemed that all of the ground space is in use, either in vegetable gardens or beautiful flowers. The cool rainy weather seems to be what the vegetation needs."

"When arrived in London the temperature was 54 degrees. I had not expected that, my mesh shoes were "out of season."

"It was such an enjoyable trip, and we enjoyed the Cathedrals, and all the sightseeing. Everything seems so old and well kept, even the rural scenes looked like picture post cards, but Dallas and Lockney sure looked good to me."

Visiting with Mrs. Belle Shankle Thursday and Friday of last week, were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smallwood and John of Austin.

Mrs. Irene Lee, returned from Ruidoso, Thursday of last week.

Dwight and Lonita (Rose) Cox and children Kent, Catii Kimberly and new 4 month old son Cory moved the middle of April to Lutie, Texas. Dwight is manager of the gin there, and Lonita is the bookkeeper. Their address is Rt. 3, Shamrock, Texas.

Both Dwight and Lonita are former Lockneyites, graduating from Lockney High School. Dwight is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Cox and Lonita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Rose.

Visiting with Pat and Dottie Stansell Thursday night were their son and granddaughter Tim and Julie Ann Stansell, of Lubbock.

Pat and Dottie Stansell, spent from Friday thru Sunday at Snyder attending an annual family reunion.

Raz and Georgia Ford, spent from Friday thru Monday of last week in Dell City visiting their daughter Kitty and Roger Owens and children.

Flooding hampers Cross efforts

in a series of four articles written by S.W. Ross)

Secretary of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce depression period of 1928-1931. The activities of the Red Cross seemed to fall naturally into the Chamber of Commerce which was the only active organization in Floyd County at that time that was capable of handling situations which had developed. In many instances, unfavorable weather conditions caused financial disaster for many Floyd County residents.

The Chamber of Commerce had few activities then so we devoted to the programs which the Red Cross was conducting. The Chamber of Commerce office was the busiest because people were coming in constantly for help with food, clothing, and other needs. The Red Cross provided in Floyd County.

The American Red Cross received many thousands of dollars from the Floyd County Society for help to the needy of this area. I remember one check for $2,500.00 which was a lot of money at that time.

Many times that I was fortunate in having Floyd County people who generously devoted their time, and their money to help the needy. A few of these friends were Ed Brown, Sr., Lon Davis, Sr., Fred Zimmerman Sr., and Mark Martin and others, all of whom have been given the highest award.

Many other friends gave freely and anonymously to the Floyd County Red Cross for the various needs of the county. This, of course, was an otherwise almost unbearable task bearable many, many times. The American Red Cross is a great organization. God bless the American Red

World War II the American Red Cross filled many Floyd County by providing essential food and clothing for families and individuals who otherwise would have been in need. One sad duty of the Floyd County Red Sicily, 1943—Pfc. Harvey White, Minneapolis, administers Red Cross blood plasma to a wounded American soldier while natives of the town look on.

Cross worker was to notify Floyd County families that their son had been killed or wounded in the war. Service to families with men in the armed forces became most important during those years.

The women volunteer Red Cross workers throughout the United States were as energetic and as enthusiastic as were the men volunteers during this war period. They knitted 140,089,000 garments for the Army and Navy, and in addition they made 253,196,000 surgical dressings, 22,255,000 hospital garments and 1,464,000 refugee garments. The work was done under the direction of 3870 chapters of the Red Cross with more than 8,000,000 workers. Floyd County women contributed hundreds of hours of volunteer work to the war effort.

Entertainment

Only seven hours from Floyd County

Inks Lake is great vacation site

BY SHELLY HARRIS

I spent a mini vacation at Inks Lake State Park a week ago and recommend the lake to anyone who enjoys woodlands, wildflowers and wildlife.

Even the rocks in that area are pink granite and beautiful.

The park, a 1,200-acre panorama, is located in the Central Texas Hill Country between Burnet and Llano in Burnet County.

The park borders Inks Lake created by the Roy Inks Dam on the Colorado River.

Lake is second in a chain of lakes that were created by a series of dams built in the 1930's.

A little over 300 miles from Floyd County, the Inks Lake area is considered one of the most beautiful in Texas because of its scenic diversity and wealth of minerals, water and wildlife.

Archeological evidence around Inks Lake indicates Indians used the area as a hunting ground.

Occasionally stone tools and weapons are found by archeologists, and many still lie beneath the lake waters.

Of particular interest is the park's natural setting. Located in the mineral region, also known as the Llano uplift, the predominant stone exposed in the park is a pink gneiss and granite.

Deer, turkey, quail, numerous songbirds, and other species of wildlife are abundant in the park.

Early morning a herd of five deer visited the cabin areas searching for food left by the campers.

Teal ducks as well as some wild domestic whites swim the lake and came up to our campsite to preen and clean their feathers in the early morning.

Squirrels would often come into the campsite and explore the table and which ever boxes they could.

The lake is good swimming since it is shallow along the bank. One must share the water with large turtles and an occasional water snake, however.

The recreational features at the park include swimming, boating, canoeing, water skiing, sailing, scuba diving and fishing.

The park offers day picnicking facilities. Picnic tables and grills are part of each campsite, with electrical hookups in some areas. Screened shelters are also available.

Many restrooms with showers are readily available.

The park has a nine-hole golf course. Golf cars, pull carts and clubs may be rented.

Concession facilities at the park include a store where picnic supplies and groceries are available. Canoes, fishing boats and paddle boats may be rented, and a public boat ramp also is available.

Prices range from $2 per day for day picnicking to $5 per night for the shelters.

There are many nearby points of interest to visit.

Commission seeks cultural minority arts organizations

The Texas Commission on the Arts is seeking names and addresses of minority arts and cultural organizations in Texas to include in its updated version of the Minority Arts Organization Directory. The directory includes Black, Mexican-American and Native American organizations in Texas and is used as a resource in providing grants writing and technical assistance to minority organizations. The Commission will also provide information on minority performing arts organizations to the Kennedy Center National Committee on Cultural Diversity, which is presently collecting information on minority performing arts organizations in an effort to locate and facilitate private funding sources for them. Questionnaires which will be used to accomplish the update have been sent to local arts councils and minority arts organizations. To obtain a questionnaire contact these sources, or call Pat Jasper or Susi Le Baron toll free at 1-800-252-9415.

Cowboy Gilley to make his debut at 64th annual South Plains Fair

LUBBOCK—Mickey Gilley, who some credit with helping launch the urban cowboy craze, will make his debut at the 64th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here September 28. General Manager Steve L. Lewis said Gilley would be teamed with the famed Urban Cowboy band and singer Johnny Lee for two shows, 5 p.m. and 8 p.m. It's the seventh and last of "big name" entertainment booked for the exposition, scheduled September 26-October 3.

Attractions announced previously include: Charley Pride, September 26; Don Williams, September 29; Marty Robbins and Little David Wilkins, September 30; Slim Whitman and Boxcar Willie, October 1; Mel Tillis and the Maines Brothers, October 2; Jacky Ward and The Kendalls, October 3. Gilley catapulted into stardom in 1974, shortly after he recorded "Roomful of Roses" on the B-side of yet another single for a small label recording company. Months later, as the first country release on the now-defunct Playboy label, it had sold a half million copies and Gilley was a star. Since then, he's spent more time on the road than he has in his club, which was opened in 1970 in the Houston suburb of Pasadena. The huge club, meanwhile, continues to thrive—especially after the "Urban Cowboy" movie was filmed there. The film starred John Travolta. As for Gilley himself, he has seven No. 1 country hits under his belt and his popularity is soaring. He makes many of his recordings in a special studio inside the club. Other stars, including Merle Haggard, Archie Bell and the Drells, also record there. Lee is a perfect companion for Gilley on the stage. When Lee's hit single, "Look-in' for Love", from the Urban Cowboy soundtrack, raced to the top of both the national country and pop charts, it confirmed what a number of country music fans in Texas had been predicting for some time: all he needed was one big hit to make him a national star. Now, Lee is "featured vocalist" at Gilley's Club, he's touring the nation, is working on a new album and is guesting on several television shows. Tickets for all shows are $6, $7 and $8 and all seats are reserved. Mail order requests for tickets are being accepted by the fair association at P.O. Box 208, Lubbock, Texas 79408. Orders are being processed in the order in which received but orders will not be filled until early August. Mail order reservations must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Texas livestock receipts down in 1980

Total cash receipts from Texas livestock in 1980 totaled about $5.2 billion, down some $800 million from 1979, according to preliminary estimates.

These estimates include cash receipts for meat animals, dairy productions, poultry, eggs and livestock products. The $5.2 billion in livestock receipts should have an estimated agribusiness impact of more than $19 billion on the Texas economy.

Dr. Carl Anderson, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, says downward pressure on beef and hog prices and fewer cattle marketings accounted for most of the decline in cash receipts from livestock last year.

Cash receipts from crops totaling about $3.9 billion and $633 million in agriculturally related income pushed the state's estimated agricultural income to the $9.7 billion mark, down somewhat from the $10.4 billion recorded in 1979.

Based on these figures, Texas still ranks third in the nation, behind California and Iowa, in total agricultural production, but leads other states in sales from marketing cattle and calves, sheep, wool, goats and mohair, points out Anderson.

Texas also accounts for 12 percent of the U.S. cattle and calf herd and 15 percent of all beef cows.

Cash receipts from cattle and calves totaled about $4 billion in 1980, representing about 40 percent of the state's total agricultural sales. The South Plains, Panhandle and Southwest Texas led the state in cattle and calf sales.

During 1980, cattle feeding in Texas represented 18 percent of the total fed in major cattle feeding states.

Cash receipts from milk totaled $505 million last year, second to beef in Texas' animal industry. Northeast Texas led the state in milk production with Central and North Central Texas closely behind.

Poultry came in third in cash receipts from animal agriculture in Texas last year with a total of almost $500 million. Cash receipts from broilers totaled $254 million, with East Texas leading sales followed by the Coastal Bend and Northeast Texas. Egg sales totaled $165 million, with the Coastal Bend leading in sales followed by East and South Central Texas. Cash receipts from turkeys totaled $57 million, with Central Texas having highest sales followed by the Coastal Bend and South Central Texas.

Cash receipts from hogs are estimated at $108 million, with the South Plains, South Central and Central Texas the top producing areas.

Texas leads the nation in sheep, wool, goats and mohair production. Cash receipts from sheep and lamb production totaled $70 million in 1980 while wool added another $18 million. Leading the state in sheep production last year were West Central, Far West and Southwest Texas.

Cash receipts from goats totaled $6 million and mohair sales reached $31 million, with the top producing areas being Southwest, West Central and Central Texas.

Honey sales also contributed to cash receipts for animal agriculture in Texas last year to the tune of some $5 million. The Upper Coast, Southwest Texas and the Coastal Bend were the top honey producing regions in the state.

While cash receipts from animal agriculture were down some last year, net income came under even more pressure due to ever-rising production costs, says Anderson. High interest rates and inflation continued to be major factors in the continuous squeeze between costs and receipts.

Prospects are for some improvement in 1981 agricultural income, adds the economist. Yet, high interest rates, rising production costs and sagging farm prices remain a challenge to producers.

Corn sales to be subject of regional meetings

High Plains grain farmers and interested businessmen are preparing to take their case to court. Believing that the Commodity Credit Corporation's sale of imported grain in the High Plains is unjust, damaging and illegal, the farmers elevator managers and bankers are raising the necessary legal fund to block any further sales and collect damages from CCC.

Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA), with headquarters in Abernathy, is ready to file a lawsuit in behalf of area grain farmers and others in the grain-related industry if sufficient funds can be raised. GSPA Executive Director Elbert Harp stated, "We have worked with USDA and our High Plains congressmen for months, seeking a solution to this problem. All political avenues have been exhausted." Harp reports that GSPA has been joined by Texas Corn Growers Association, Texas WIFE, Texa Farmers Union, and members of all area farm organizations. Grain farmers and concerned businessmen have scheduled regional meetings throughout the High Plains to discuss the grain sales and consider the proposed legal action. A spontaneous "kickoff" meeting in Muleshoe on June 29 drew a large audience.

Farmers in the Eastern High Plains area will meet in Plainview on Thursday, July 9, at 8 p.m. in the Hale County State Bank Meeting Room.

July 10 has been set as the deadline for raising the legal fund. It is estimated that the CCC sales will cost a million-pound producer at least $5,000.00 in lost market prices. Farmers are being asked to invest at a rate of $250.00 per million pounds of production to support the legal action. Harp said, "I am now convinced that we will raise the money if the farmers and elevators continue their interest."

Checks are being mailed to GSPA Legal Fund, Box R, Abernathy, Texas, 79311. Harp encourages farmers to call 806 298-2543 or any of the organizations listed above for additional information.

Use rainfall efficiently for top quality hay

COLLEGE STATION — Recent rains over much of Texas have greatly improved pasture and hay conditions. Producers can capitalize on these much needed rains by following a few key steps.

Dr. Neal Pratt, forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, suggests several practices for producers to improve hay and forage production.

First, harvest excess forage as hay while its quality is still good. Spring and early summer normally are times of greatest rainfall. With excess rains, it's important to conserve forage growth and quality. As grasses mature, quality declines rapidly. Unharvested forage becomes almost worthless later in the season.

Next, remove low quality grass and stubble from pastures. Even if the hay will not be harvested, it's best to mow, shred or otherwise remove stemmy, low quality grass to encourage fresh, leafy, good-quality growth into summer months.

Third, forage producers can apply fertilizer to improve quality and grow hay for harvesting later in the season.

It's also important to get hay tested for quality as soon as possible after harvesting. This enables producers to plan supplemental feeding practices.

County Extension agents and program building committees throughout Texas conduct field demonstrations each year to show the advantages of these and other pasture management practices notes Pratt. Information on county studies is available at the county Extension office.

Lynn Futch named FmHA State Director for Texas

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block announced the appointment of J. Lynn Futch, Washington, D.C. as State Director of the Farmers Home Administration for Texas effective July 6, 1981.

Futch, 55, had previously served as FmHA State Director in Temple, Texas from 1969 to 1977. Since then he has served as Program Assistant to the FmHA Administrator at the agency's national office in Washington, D.C.

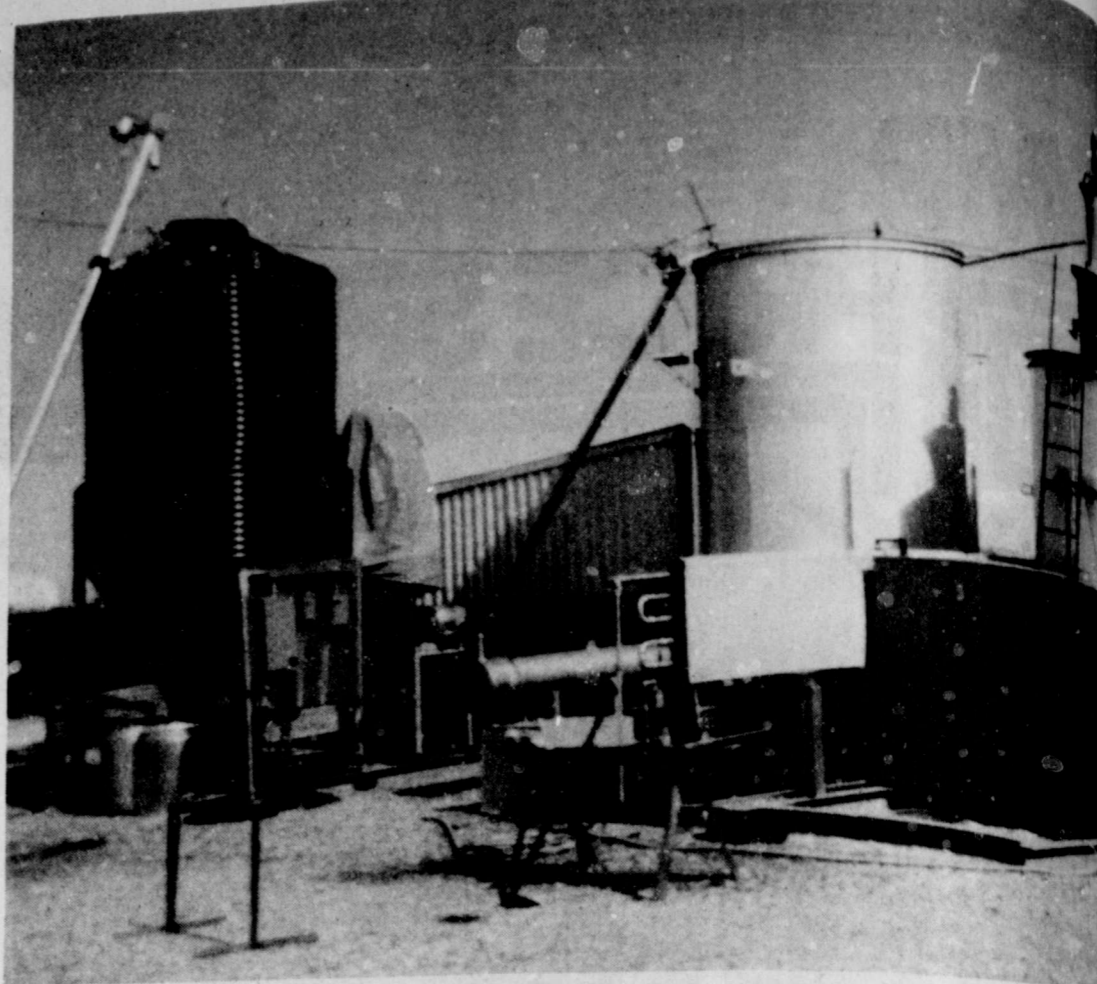

Before joining FmHA, Futch served as Assistant Manager (1954-1960) and Vice President (1960-69) of the Canadian Production Credit Association, Canadian, Texas.

A native of King County, Texas,

Futch was reared on a cotton and livestock farm. He maintained an interest in a cattle feeding operation in the Texas Panhandle area until 1976.

Futch received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Agriculture Education from Texas Technological College, Lubbock in 1949. He served as a pilot in the U.S. Air Force from 1943-45.

The Farmers Home Administration is a credit agency of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. As State Director, Futch will be responsible for the loan and grant activities of 486 employees in 147 county and 20 district offices in Texas. The FmHA State Office is located in Temple.

LUBBOCK'S FIRST FUEL ALCOHOL PLANT goes into production this week and is scheduled to produce 500 gallons of fuel alcohol per day.

First fuel alcohol plant to start production in Lubbock area

Lubbock's first fuel alcohol plant goes into production this week and the new industry carries with it important implications for the South Plains agricultural economy. A.R.D. Inc. composed of area business men and farmers, has spent more than a year building the prototype plant, located at 2715 Slaton Road, Lubbock, Texas.

According to A.R.D. President Bill Casey, the Lubbock pilot plant is capable of producing in excess of 500 gallons of fuel alcohol per day, with one cycle taking about 72 hours. Initial batches of the fuel alcohol will be made from outdated milo and corn planting seed acquired from Hunt Seed Co. of Lubbock. Casey says that long range plans include the using of cotton burrs and gin trash for the alcohol feed stock. A.R.D. and a research task force from Texas Tech University, headed by Dr. L.D. Clements of the Chemical Engineering Department, are participating in a grant of $179,800.00 from the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council (TENRAC) for the development of this new process. Texas Tech researchers have already produced fuel alcohol from gin trash in the laboratory. The A.R.D. prototype plant will be used by the University for refining this new technology.

A.R.D. plans to integrate fuel alcohol production systems at area cattle feedlots, using the Lubbock plant as a model. This phase of A.R.D.'s operation is being coordinated by chairman of the board Durward W. Lewter, who built the large Lubbock feedlot in the 1950's. Lewter has plants integrated into his operation are the "waste" that the time it must have an diagram to operate a A "Media Day" alcohol plant Friday tours of the plant of the near future. Area public officials and other officials and other for the opening

Landscape & Gardening

BY KEN LANGLEY

OKRA
Grown extensively in home gardens in the South, okra is commonly served as a main dish vegetable. It can be used fresh or may be frozen or canned.

HARVEST CAREFULLY

Cut the pods with a knife or shears. In any case, harvest very carefully so as not to give a good yield but before they become fibrous. This is usually when the pods are about four inches long or between the fourth and seventh day from the time the bloom opens, depending on variety and weather conditions. Preference of the harvester as regards pod size is also a consideration.

The okra pod becomes fibrous from the tip down. To be edible a pod should allow a knife blade to pass through it without providing noticeable resistance. Okra pods that get fibrous or tough on the plant will slow down the plant's growth and decrease yield.

Periods between harvest should be short, usually not over two or three days. Even then there will be considerable variation in the length of pods harvested.

The harvested pods should be handled with care, as they bruise easily. The pods will wilt rather quickly when harvested during warm periods. Therefore they should be used or stored at 45 degrees to 50 degrees F and relatively high humidity as soon as possible after harvest. A home refrigerator provides adequate storage conditions.

CUTTING BACK

Sometimes when plants get too large they are cut back and allowed to sprout again near the soil surface. If this is done, apply a top-dressing of a readily available nitrogenous fertilizer.

A 25-foot row of okra should produce 25 to 75 pounds of edible pods, depending on variety, care, weather conditions, and length of harvest season.

You can grow your own seed if you raise only one variety of okra and have no near neighbor growing another variety. Late in the season allow a few plants to develop mature seed. After removing seed from the pod, dry thoroughly and store it in the refrigerator in a closed container until the next spring. Then you can be assured of having seed of the kind wanted as planting time.

Several pests can injure okra, with nematodes probably the most serious. Gardens that have remained in the same location for several years usually are infested with these small round worms. The only remedy is to periodically treat the soil with materials that will kill most of them. Obtain directions for treating soil from your county agent.

With other conditions favorable, a fair crop of okra may be produced despite nematodes. But the harvest season is likely to be shortened.

Wilts may kill or injure okra plants. The organisms that cause wilt are soil-borne and require soil treatment.

Several insects also may cause damage to okra. These include the corn earworm, which eats into the pod, and stinkbugs and ants which are especially troublesome late in the season.

Recommendations for controlling pests vary as new products become available or old ones are taken off the market.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.
