County commissioners vote for industrial development corporation

Hail suppression drive is halted

The PWIA made the request to withdraw the application in a letter to the TWC.

The letter, signed by association president Royce Carthel and attorney Gene Owen, said the reason for withdrawing the application, made March 5, 1980, was because, "the applicant does not have the financial resources to further prosecute its application."

In the letter, Carthel, from Plainview, claimed that Green's findings following the hearing contained what PWIA officials feel are incorrect conclusions. The letter asks that no action be taken towards either approving or denying the PWIA application.

PWIA operated its hail suppression program from 1970-77, but in 1978 members of Citizens for Natural Weather were successful in a series of elections throughout the area in voting down PWIA's request for an operating permit for that year.

A second series of elections in portions of Floyd, Hale, Lamb and Castro counties were held last summer and the proposition was approved by an overall vote of 2,260-1,873.

Green concluded in his report following the hearing that the PWIA project would reduce the overall rainfall in both the target area and downwind of the target area.

PWIA officials said that if the TWC had accepted Green's recommendation and denied the application it could have had an adverse affect on any future weather modification projects throughout the state.

Carthel said the PWIA has no current plans to seek another hail suppression permit in the future and probably will have no future plans until the state legislature makes some revisions in the law on application procedures.

BY PATRICK CLARK

The Floyd County Commissioners, meeting in special session yesterday, approved a resolution creating a Floyd County Industrial Development Corporation.

The vote was unanimous.

The proposal to create the corporation was presented to the commissioners jointly by the Lockney and Floydada Chambers of Commerce.

The Lockney Chamber was represented by president Gail Kring and the Floydada Chamber by manager Susan Garms.

The members of the corporation, who will serve six year terms are:

- Kring
- Garms
- Lawson Rowell of Lockney
- Fred Thayer of Floydada
- Herman Graham of Muncy.

The five will meet in about two weeks to officially sign the petition creating the corporation. The meeting was delayed because Rowell is out of town.

At the end of the six year terms, the county commissioners may either reappoint the members of the corporation or name new members.

The corporation will work with new and existing businesses on locating in Floyd County or expanding existing operations in the county.

The corporation will issue bonds on behalf of the business. The bonds will be bought by private financial institutions which will lend money to the businesses at a lower rate of interest than the current prime lending rate which is now around 20 percent.

The private financial institutions lend money under the bonds at a rate of between 10 and 13 percent. The money is available at a lower rate of interest because the interest paid the financial institutions by the business is tax free.

There is a limit of $10 million on each bond sale per business.

Once the corporation approves a bond sale for a business it must then be approved by the county commissioners and the Texas as Industrial Commission.

Neither the corporation nor the county have any liability should the business fail. Once the bonds are sold, the financial arrangements are solely between the lending institutions and the business.

The bonds can be used only for manufacturing companies and not for retail businesses.

The commissioners' vote followed a presentation by Sylvia Clark of the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) on the state's laws on industrial development corporations.

Clark said the reason the state had set up the industrial development corporation program, "with the intent of stimulating capital investment and create jobs."

The program, Clark went on, "makes smaller communities more competitive with the more wealthy areas."

Clark said that while Lockney has been in the forefront in the current push for creating an industrial development corporation it made more sense to create one county-wide corporation than one for Lockney, another for the City of Floydada and a third for the county.

Kring told the commissioners that Lockney was particularly interested in seeing the corporation formed at this time because "we have an industry that wants to locate in Lockney and we'd like to attract this industry to come on in."

In addition, Kring said the Tye Company and Ansley and Son in Lockney might want to use the industrial development corporation in the future for expansion purposes.

County attorney Kenneth Bain, who looked over the state's industrial development corporation laws while the commissioners were considering the proposal said, "I think it's a good idea and I recommend that the court go ahead and sign," the resolution creating the corporation.

After the resolution was approved, Judge Choise Smith told the commissioners and audience, "I'm proud to see the whole county go into this rather than have Lockney or Floydada do it alone. I think it's going to be a real good thing."

After the members of the corporation sign the petition creating the corporation in about two weeks, Clark, Garms and possibly Kring and others will take the paperwork to Austin to personally walk it through the Texas Secretary of State's office and the Texas Industrial Commission to speed up the final approval process. The corporation will then be in the position to begin business.

It seems likely that the first issue the new corporation will deal with is a proposal by cousins Nelson and Jake Wofford of Lubbock to build a $6 million steel sucker rod plant at Lockney.

The cousins, who are Lockney natives, presently operate a wooden sucker rod plant in Lockney. The wooden rods are used on windmills while the steel rods are used on oil wells.

The two hope to build their steel rod plant on a tract of land just west of the Lockney city limits and south of highway 70.

The two Woffords hope to use the new industrial development corporation to build their plant which they said would employ 45-60 people. They'd like to be in production by the first of the year.

Kring and Clark planned to meet with the Woffords yesterday to discuss the next steps in the plant project in view of the formation of the industrial development corporation.

Garms also said there is already a lot of interest in the industrial development corporation.

"We have four different industries thinking about expansion," Garms said, "and they're looking at the industrial development corporation."

Garms said she could not disclose the identities of the four industries.

An editorial

Good work!

Today is the day for every citizen of Floyd County to stand and give a rousing round of applause to our county commissioners for their far-sightedness in approving creation of the Floyd County Industrial Development Corporation.

There should be applause, too, for Lockney Mayor J.D. Copeland, Floydada Chamber of Commerce manager Susan Garms and Lockney Chamber president and councilman Gail Kring who saw the need and took the necessary action.

We were particularly impressed with Mayor Copeland who, hearing the voices of his constituency for this forward-moving action, convened a special session of the Lockney City Council to act immediately in an effort to secure a new and important business.

With the creation of the Floyd County Industrial Development Corporation, we have taken the first step towards a better future for Floyd County.

We have the chance now to build a Floyd County with employment opportunities, housing, new support businesses.

We have the chance to offer people a reason to come to Floyd County.

More importantly, perhaps, we have a chance to offer people a reason to stay in Floyd County.

Allsup's stores planning MD fund raising drive

Allsup's Convenience Stores, Inc., participants in the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon, will conduct pre-telethon activities during the month of August, according to Kurt Verlei, director of public relations.

The company will display collection canisters in all 207 Allsup's Convenience Stores throughout New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma, including Lockney and Floydada.

"This is a very important part of fund raising prior to the telethon," said Verlei. "The Association receives no tax supported grants nor does it seek or receive fees from patients or their families." Verlei added, "Their programs are funded almost entirely by private contributors and corporations and, of course, through the Labor Day Telethon."

Allsup's will also be conducting the Allsup's Doorbell Brigade. Area youngsters are encouraged, on August 29 and 30, to visit their local Allsup's store and pick up a collection packet.

After collecting donations for Jerry's kids and returning them to the store, Allsup's will give them a free fountain drink of their choice.

Liquidation sale underway at Thomasons

Thomasons goes out of business

Thomason's Grocery closed its doors in March. Thomason's celebrated a year's anniversary at the Main Street location.

At that time Mary Thomason said that she would like to see other small businesses move into that area of Lockney where there are so many empty stores.

She said, "I know that it's hard for small businesses these days, but we want to see Lockney grow."

Now there will be another empty store, at least for the present.

Mary Thomason said, "Now we're just going to rest for awhile. We are going to stay in Lockney, that we are sure of. I've already had one job offer, but I've got to decide what kind of work I want to do now."

"We love and appreciate the people of Lockney," she said. "We want them to know that."

It's Not Easy

I was 18 the first time I flew in an airplane.

I talked my parents into paying for the trip to see a college boyfriend several hundred miles away by saying that I might never have the chance to fly again.

After all, they hadn't been on airplanes at that time. It just wasn't something that people did everyday.

Now I have lost count of the times I have flown, though I'm sure it is no more than average these days.

My daughter is only two and she has flown across that country three or four times, the first when she was less than six months old. She takes it for granted that flying is the way you go to see people.

So much of her vocabulary is of things that didn't exist when I was her age.

Photocopies, are an everyday occurrence.

She wants "copez" of the artwork she brings home from nursery school.

She easily works the tape player in the car, playing her favorite tapes. Only occasionally does she decide to take apart the tape or the player to see how it works.

I suppose by the time she is a teenager she will have a home computer that will hold her school work and a complete collection of 1990's equivalent of the Beatles.

I fully expect that when she is 18, she will plead that she needs to take the space shuttle to see her college boyfriend who is studying at Space Station University.

She'll probably tell me that it may be her only chance to go into space.

World cotton producers have one-upped the U.S.D.A. by bringing in an estimated 65.5 million bales for the 1980-81 period, 300,000 bales over the most recent U.S.D.A. estimate. U.S. production remained at its previous of 11.1 million bales. The significant increase in the world and foreign figure is due, in large part, to Chinese production of 12.4 million bales well over the U.S.D.A.'s original estimate. Total foreign production is now figured at 54.3 million bales - an all-time high. China also claims credit for the cotton consumption figures, also revised upward to record levels of an estimated 66.2 million bales, slightly over the 65.6 million bales consumed during 1979-80. Total foreign consumption is pegged at 60.4 million bales, of which China is responsible for 15.5 million with the U.S. credited with consuming 6 million bales plus.

Methodists to view 'Reflections of His Love'

REFLECTIONS OF HIS LOVE, a new film highlighting the life and ministry of Joni Eareckson, will be shown on Sunday, August 2, at the First United Methodist Church, 203 West Kentucky. The color feature, produced by World Wide Pictures, the film ministry of the Billy Graham Association, will be shown once, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

Miss Eareckson is the star of a recent theatrical motion picture, JONI, which relates the story of her diving accident, as a young girl, which left her paralyzed from the neck down. It chronicles her struggles to piece together her life and her faith in God, in spite of the devastating circumstances.

In REFLECTIONS OF HIS LOVE, Miss Eareckson, who is also the author of two best-selling books, JONI and A STEP FURTHER, tells of the great transformations that have taken place in her life because of her willingness to accept all of the things that have happened to her.

A remarkably talented young woman, Miss Eareckson is an artist of great merit, as well as an author, actress, and singer. She has learned to draw and paint with a brush held in her mouth. Her works have been displayed in exhibitions, as well as on a number of network television programs. More recently, her illustrations and paintings have become the basis for a major line of greeting cards, plaques, and framed prints.

REFLECTIONS OF HIS LOVE introduces the viewer to "the real Joni Eareckson. We meet her parents, her sisters, and her friends. We gain insight into the thoughts of the actors who played major roles in the movie, JONI, and we learn of her new personal ministry, Joni and Friends."

The determination and the depth of trust and faith that this young lady has developed can serve as an inspiration to us all. Although she is a quadriplegic, and does not have the use of her legs or arms, we actually witness her drive a van in this film. It's much more than a great physical and technical feat — it's a credit to her inner spirit.

The members of First United Methodist Church extend an open invitation to the community at large to attend this special screening. There is no admission charge. We feel everyone who attends will be touched by the remarkable life and witness of Joni Eareckson. It's really an unforgettable experience.

Lockney Care Center news

BY VICKIE HUTTON

This has been a week we won't forget! We had inspectors Wednesday and Thursday, even though there were some problem areas, the home was in good shape.

The inspections were hard on everyone but the inspectors have only one thing on their minds, the welfare of the residents and that is the most important thing.

Have you ever heard the old expression, "You can't teach old dogs new tricks," don't you believe it. I have learned more in the 10 months I've been here than in the 12 years of school. The residents have more knowledge and wisdom than in all the books you could read. Visit an older person, you will leave much richer.

I am really having trouble remembering who our bingo winners are, the competitiveness grows and grows. Bill Holt and Albert Poole were the lucky winners. Thanks goes to Linda Holly for baking cookies for us after the game.

We had an old fashioned bean snapping party Thursday. Armine Tarpley brought us some beautiful blue lake green beans. It was fun snapping them and most of all eating them.

A Lockney Care Center Auxiliary Service Club is being organized to help support the Care Center and the residents. There will be a get acquainted tea Thursday at 2:00 p.m. August 6 at the Care Center. Please come! We have many volunteers who share their time and talent with us in ways that we are so thankful for. This is a chance for all of us to work together for the betterment of the home.

We were saddened at the loss of one of our family members, J.D. Blankenship. We will miss him. Our sympathy to the family.

Bureau wants Medfly quarantine

WACO — The Texas Farm Bureau has asked the federal government to strengthen the quarantine on fruits and vegetables from the Mediterranean fruit fly-infested quarantine area of northern California.

"The spray area should be expanded to include a one-and-a-half mile buffer zone around all areas in which medflies have been found," TFB President Carol Chaloupka said in a telegram to President Reagan.

The Texas Farm leader also told the President: "We are in complete agreement with your decision to deny the request of California Governor Jerry Brown Jr. to declare fruit fly-infested areas a federal disaster area.

"We believe that the California governor has contributed to the spread of the fruit fly. We feel his actions have jeopardized an important part of the nation's food supply. In our opinion, he and the misguided so-called environmentalists of his state have permitted the spread of the infestation through their inaction.

"Governor Brown was told by competent authorities a year ago that the then small outbreak could be eliminated through three simple steps: stripping of trees and ground spraying, introducing sterile flies, and most important, permitting aerial spraying of the common garden pesticide, malathion. This is how we quickly and successfully rid the Rio Grande Valley of Texas of the dreaded pest in 1967.

"Yet, the Governor refused to use the safe aerial spraying, electing instead to mobilize an army of workers on the ground in a futile, $23 million effort to eliminate the pest. According to officials of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the medfly could have been eradicated in 1980 with an effective spray program at a cost of only $128,000."

MRS. LESLIE CHARLES BROADHURST

Candlelight wedding unites Allen, Broadhurst

A lacy arch of 96 candles, two candle arches of 15 candles each, all decorated with palms of greenery and two large candle trees decorated with palms of greenery formed the scene for the 7 p.m. July 25 wedding ceremony uniting Miss Donna Jo Allen, of Lubbock, and Mr. Leslie Charles Broadhurst of Littlefield, at the First Baptist Church in Lubbock. Performing the ceremony was the Rev. Charles Broadhurst, father of the groom, of the First Baptist Church, Littlefield.

Also accenting the church was two memory candle arrangements on columns, a profile kneeling bench and the unity candle stand. The double aisle was decorated with single hurricane candle globes, greenery and pew bows. The memory candles were in memory of the brides grandmother, Mrs. Winnie Mac Patterson and the grooms grandfather, Mr. James F. Cator.

The couple is the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Allen, Lubbock, and the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Broadhurst, Littlefield.

Musical selections, "My Tribute," "God, A Woman and a Man," "He Has Chosen You For Me," "Wedding Prayer," and "Sweet, Sweet Spirit," were performed by Mrs. Gary London, organist; Mrs. A.C. Nystel, pianist; and Miss Jan Sisson, vocalist.

Presented in marriage by her father, Mr. Don Allen, the bride wore a white satin princess line wedding gown with a Queen Anne neckline and keyhole back edged in Alencon lace. It featured long tapered sleeves trimmed in Alencon lace and an attached chapel length train also edged in Alencon lace. She wore a small brim hat up on the left side and trimmed in lace with white silk roses on the side. Her cascade bouquet was of silk white phalaenopsis orchids, roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and lilac lily of the valley. Her grandmothers wedding band was tied in the bouquet.

Mrs. Steve Allen, sister-in-law of the bride, Lubbock, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Keny Blackwell, Miss Nancy Scott, Miss LaDonna Broadhurst, sister of the groom, Miss Gina Barrier, and Miss Rhonda Collic, cousin of the bride, all of Lubbock and Miss Kim Marshall of Denver, Colorado.

Miss Stephanie Allen, niece of the bride, was flower girl, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Allen of Lubbock. Attendants were dressed in formal length semi-fitted tuck dresses of lilac georgette. The maid of honor carried two white silk roses, baby's breath and violets. The bridesmaids carried arm bouquets of silk white roses, lilac babies breath and purple violets.

They wore halos of silk, white and lavender baby's breath and purple violets.

Groomsmen were Mr. David Walden, Mr. Bill Patterson, Mr. Steve Allen, brother of the bride, Mr. Greg Iseral and Mr. Ron Reeves, all of Lubbock and Mr. Tim Cleveland of Amarillo.

Daniel, Henderson wed in double-ring ceremony

In a formal ceremony solemnized at 7:00 p.m., Saturday, July 18, Miss Dawn Sharon Kaylene Daniel and Mr. Daryl Hardin Henderson exchanged wedding vows at the First United Methodist Church in Quanah, Texas. Officiating the double-ring ceremony was the Rev. Hugh B. Daniel, father of the bride, and the Rev. Wesley Daniel, uncle of the bride of Littlefield.

The unity candle and brass candleholder were placed in the center of the altar, outlined by votive candles interwoven with garland. Slant candelabra and spiral candelabras flanked each side of the altar. Behind the cross a large candelabra arched over the altar and groom which provided a soft glow for the recital setting.

Roady Spoonmore of Dallas and Joan Vestal of Quanah presented traditional pre-nuptial music and selections of the bride. The vocalists, Donna Swearingen of Lubbock, sang "Surely The Presence of The Lord Is In This Place", "Dave's Prayer," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The processional was "Trumpet Tune in D Major" and "Bridal Chorus." "The Wedding March" served as the recessional.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a Victorian gown of white silk organza and jeweled peu d'ange lace. The high rise bodice was applied in the jeweled lace and featured an Elizabethan ruffle at the neckline. The long lattern sleeves gathered to narrow cuffs.

The controlled skirt softly shimmered and encircled at the hemline with a wide border of jeweled lace.

A detachable train flared from the shoulder yoke to chapel length. A veil of long petal tiers of illusion were worked throughout with tear drops of seed pearls and fell from a lace covered camelot headpiece. The soft veiling drifted atop the entire length of the train.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white jetted orchids and stephanotis, entwined with lemon leaves.

Miss Kim Hickcox of Atlanta, Georgia was the maid of honor for the wedding ceremony. Her handkerchief cut pink gown was fashioned with a blouson bodice with flowing sleeves and skirt, completed by matching pink ballet slippers laced at the ankles. She carried a single votive candle encircled with fern accented with baby's breath. She also wore baby's breath in her hair.

The other bridal attendants were Miss Carol Lance and Milinda Chambers of Quanah, Miss Cheryl Coker of Brownwood, and Mrs. Kim Cooper of Ralls.

The attendants were attired identically to the maid of honor in gowns and shoes of pink. Each wore baby's breath in their hair, long seed pearls adorned their dresses, a brides gift as votive candles were carried.

Lighting the candles before the ceremony were Jennifer and Amy, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McNabb of Quanah. They were attired in floor length pink gowns off the shoulders and pink wrist corsages. Pearls, a brides gift completed their wedding attire.

The groom was attired in a light gray tuxedo, trimmed in dark gray with a pink sweetheart rose and stephanotis boutonniere. Bud Henderson, father of the groom serving as best man, was in a matching grey tuxedo. Groomsmen were Ted Young of Pecos, New Mexico, Church Drake of Quanah, Mike Melton of Vernon, and Buzz Cooper of Ralls.

Performing duties as ushers were Dane Daniel, brother of the bride, Andy Attaway and Dink Wilson of Quanah, Carl Foley of Grobeck.

For her daughters wedding day, Mrs. Daniel selected a formal length gown of champagne lace, crystal pleated skirt with a matching tunic. She carried a purse adorned with a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Henderson was attired in a formal candlelight gown of silk chiffon boarded of hand screened floral design, with long sleeves and a softly gathered skirt. She carried a gardenia on her purse.

The mothers were escorted down the aisle by their sons, Dane and Daniel and the groom Daryl Henderson and before they were seated each mother lit a candle on each side of the unity candle.

The guests were registered by Mrs. Keith Melton of Quanah.

Pampa, Mrs. Julie Rigsby of Lubbock and Delores Kenon of Quanah.

The grooms table featured brown and ecru, using brass and copper, a chocolate cake decorated with wheat to coordinate with wheat as a center arrangement.

Serving at the grooms table were Sonya Dickerson and Becky Gollerher of Quanah, Mrs. Bobby White of Dallas, Suzan Miller of Lubbock and Christi Jack of Lockney.

Bird seed bags were distributed to each guest by Missy Wilson of Washington, D.C., Amy and Jennifer McNabb of Quanah.

Following the honeymoon to South Texas, the couple will reside in Quanah, where Mr. Henderson is employed by Henderson and Reynolds Insurance Agency, Inc.

A backyard rehearsal dinner in honor of the wedding party was held at the Henderson residence on Friday evening.

Decorating the yard were individual tables with centerpieces of pink and white balloons in the brides colors. A western band entertained as the guests enjoyed the evening.

place. That means lost income for everyone ranging from the mortgage-holder, property renter, the grocer, the utility companies, the service stations, the clothing store, the variety store and so on down the line.
 In a small community the loss is felt immediately. The chances are if we lose four jobs in Lockney this week, we won't have four new jobs next week to take their place.
 And we have another vacant building on Main Street in Lockney, certainly something we don't need.
 One wonders if perhaps we are all a little guilty of killing off a locally-owned business for the sake of saving a few cents somewhere else.
 But have we really saved anything when we reduce competition and lose the economic input that the failed business provided the community? We doubt it.

Michael O'Connor's Perspectives having been forced to leave another gathering in tears?

 Because of our "need" to know, we have developed an attitude which says we have a right to know. From that has come the concept that certain people are public people and therefore whatever happens to them is to be published for all the world to see.
 I suppose there is a certain amount of truth or merit to that position, but it is more likely that our natural inclination towards being busybodies is more involved than our right to know. If we think we have the right to know what is going on in some people's lives, then it is only a short step to thinking we have some sort of right to know what is going on in anybody's life.
 When there is a genuine concern for the welfare of others, then gaining information about them is useful, though that still does not give us a "right" to that information. Any other motive needs to be examined. Perhaps some things we think we need to know would be better left unknown.

Viewpoints

Margie Savage's My Savage World

One day I was cleaning the kitchen sink with ammonia. The household hints book said it would work very well. The stains were disappearing and so were the fumes—right up my nose. I was breathlessly gagging, coughing, and whizzing.
 My husband, who was in the living room watching the "Galloping Gourmet" on TV, yelled, "Honey, something sure smells good. Are you making pear soup for supper?"
 Not daring to answer for fear my voice would squeak through my rusting vocal cords, I ignored this remark. I quickly turned on the faucet, washing the foul liquid away. I hoped it would clear the drain's pipes as well as it had mine.
 Sure enough, I heard a gurgling, gargling, coughing sound as the liquid reached the throat of the drain.
 The book contained other useful hints for using ammonia. But I thought it best to wait for a gas mask before I tried them.
 However, I noticed that my skin felt loose and saggy and my pores were enlarged. I looked in the book.
 There in chapter five, under "Loose and Saggy Skin," it said, "If your skin feels loose and saggy and your pores are enlarged from ammonia exposure, the white of an egg will tighten it and make you beautiful."
 I got the egg. First, I tied a red bandana, Aunt Jemima-fashion, around my hair to keep the egg out. Then I dapped the cold slimy goop all over my face. I accidentally got a little of the yolk in with the white giving my skin a tawny glow.
 I could feel my skin tightening—tighter and tighter.
 The next experiment would be with lemons. What could be safer? Besides, they matched my face, both in color and texture. I also needed a fish so I could take away its natural smell.
 "Do you know the best way to keep a fish from smelling?" my daughter quipped.
 "Yes, rub it with lemon juice," I said as I massaged the fish.
 "Cut off its nose," She giggled as she ran out the door, letting the cat in.
 Cut off his nose, indeed. I'd cut off his whole face. I never could stand a staring fish. As I gave it a whack decapitating it, I felt needles of pain climbing my leg.
 The cat grabbed the fish and ran. I ran and grabbed the cat. I let him keep the fish. I wasn't about to argue with a grizzly beast named Bear. I tossed the cat and the fish out the door.
 The book said if I would grind the lemon in my garbage disposal, it would give the kitchen a fresh smell. Then I remembered I didn't have a garbage disposal. I tossed the lemon into the sink anyway. It would probably clean as well as the ammonia. I reasoned.
 By now, I was feeling quite weary. Not even consulting the book. I took a cucumber from the fridge, chopped off a couple of slices, ran my husband out of his easy chair, sat down, propped up my feet, and placed the cucumber on my tired eyes.
 My husband sniffed around a little and went into the kitchen. There he saw the fish head, the chopped cucumber, and the mashed lemon. With a worried voice he asked, "Honey, would you like to eat out tonight?"
 My goodness, I was beautiful already! I began untying the bandana. "Sure, just let me wash the egg off my face." I said as I took the cucumbers from my eyes.

Foster Whaley's Capitol Comments

The House passed a constitutional amendment removing the state property tax and was acted on in the Senate this week. The Senate left the tax on the bill and created a permanent building fund for the seventeen colleges and universities.
 Governor Clements is considering expanding the call in this area to include the seventeen colleges and the restructuring of the Permanent University Fund for the University of Texas and Texas A&M. The Governor is for total removal of the state property tax.
 Speaker Clayton's Water Trust Fund bill passed the House and is now pending in the Senate.
 The Medical Practice Act has passed in the Senate and was passed on Friday, July 24, in the House. A compromise was worked out between Speaker Clayton and the medical doctors. After a short conference between the House and Senate versions, the bill will be approved and sent to the Governor this week.
 The Congressional redistricting plan has passed the Senate and is being debated in the House presently. There is no problem with the Hightower, Hance, and Stenholm districts. The problem has been in the Dallas and the Southeast Texas area.
 I am totally convinced the legislature is the last place that should be doing the redistricting of either the Texas House, Senate, or Congressional Districts. Little consideration is given to making a district compact and homogeneous from an economic standpoint.
 Instead, the emphasis is on how this will affect individual legislators. Other considerations: let's compress all the Blacks and the Mexican-Americans in one district so that we can have a minority legislature. Let's cull out the Democrats so that we can elect Republicans, or vice-versa. Let's cut a plan to kick out the liberal incumbents.
 The plan that is finally voted out by the legislators and signed by the Governor will be strongly influenced by these latter factors. Few of the present legislators will be around in ten years when redistricting will be considered for the nineties. Now would be a good time to set up a better system of redistricting.
 My idea would be to disregard all the political factors and program a computer to consider compactness and economic homogeneous areas. Feed in data of this nature and you form a district without regard to incumbents.

time out for GOD

They had waited for this real vacation — this long trip — for years. But this time it was different, this time he wouldn't be going back to his job.
 At first, retirement seemed frightening, like being shut off from the mainstream of life. He had seen too many men age beyond their years, after their career ended. He had no wish to be on the sidelines. He and his wife could have moved to a warmer climate and just have taken it easy. He didn't want that. So, before he left home, he had a long talk with his minister.
 He found that there was plenty a man his age could do. Financially secure, he could afford to volunteer for a job. In fact, through the Church there was work he could do that would spread to the farthest corners of the world.
 Right now, he is enjoying this vacation. He is savoring every moment of it. Because, when he gets home, he's going to lead a full and useful life. And that's the way he wants it.

IRS test deadline approaching

Applicants who wish to take the 1981 Internal Revenue Service Special Enrollment Examination must have their applications postmarked no later than August 17, 1981, the IRS said. No extensions of time to file for the examination will be granted.

The examination is scheduled to take two days: Monday and Tuesday, October 5 and 6, 1981. It is given annually in each IRS district to qualify persons other than attorneys or certified public accountants to represent clients before the IRS.

The application fee has been increased to $50 for those taking all four parts of the examination, and $40 for prior year examinees taking fewer than four parts. All checks must be made payable to the "Internal Revenue Service."

Those interested in taking the examination should request a free IRS Special Enrollment Examination application packet. The packet contains Publication 486 which outlines the general requirements for enrollment and identifies sources of tax information which are helpful in preparing for the examination. The examination will include true or false, multiple choice, and problem-type questions. The packet also includes Form 2587, "Application for 1981 Enrollment Examination;" Publication 693; "Special Enrollment Examination Questions and Answers;" Treasury Department Circular No. 230, "Regulations Governing the Practice of Attorneys, Certified Public Accountants, Enrolled Agents, and Enrolled Actuaries Before the Internal Revenue Service;" Publication 1054, "Highlights of Rules for Tax Return Preparers;" Publication 1140, "Special Enrollment Examination Background Material for Applicants;" and a Form 4190A which is a special order form for requesting Special Enrollment Examination Study Materials.

Prior year issues of Form 2587 will not be accepted because of certain revisions made to the form for 1981.

Publication 486 and the Special Enrollment Examination Study Materials packet can be ordered by calling IRS. In Dallas, call 742-2440; in Fort Worth, call 335-1370, and elsewhere in Texas, call 1-800-492-4830.

Few windfall profits tax returns filed

The Internal Revenue Service said that very few Federal excise tax returns for crude oil windfall profit tax have been filed from persons who received income from producing oil wells in 1980.

District Director Richard Voskuil said that IRS had expected to receive several thousand Forms 720 from the northern Texas district. "We were due June 1, and we received less than a thousand," he said. "We suspect that many persons may not recognize the requirement for filing an annual excise tax return."

Essentially, taxpayers who did not have enough windfall profit tax withheld during 1980 should file Form 720, Quarterly Federal Excise Tax Return. He suggests that all royalty owners and oil companies, as well as estates, trusts, and others receiving income from producing wells, should review the requirements for filing the return.

To determine the underwithheld amount, subtract the total of the amounts entered on line 4, Part IV, from the total of the amounts entered on line 3, Part IV, of all Forms 720. The amount should be reported on the line entitled Annual Return under Crude Oil Windfall Profit Tax.

Taxpayers with questions about the filing requirement may contact IRS, in Dallas call 742-2440; in Fort Worth 335-1370; elsewhere in Texas 1-800-492-4830.

EDNA PHILLIPS

Phillips gives endowment to Wayland Baptist University

(Editor's Note) Edna Phillips has been a Floyd County resident since 1907. She has taught school all around the area. She retired from teaching in 1972. Mrs. Phillips has provided an endowment for Wayland Baptist University for a student interested in Christian education and teaching. She has written a brief autobiography for the Hesperian.)

I began my teaching profession at the age of seventeen years by taking a State Examination which gave me a four year State Certificate, from that I went on teaching winters and attending college in summers with correspondence courses to prepare for the future.

I did all my teaching in the Floydada area my first school was at Campbell in 1915 with a salary of $35 per month; also taught a number of years at Starkey, Sandhill in rural schools.

In 1933 when I received my Bachelor of Science degree from West Texas University I went to Cone, Texas where I taught twenty years; then to Floydada Elementary school where I taught twenty-six years until retirement in May 1972 by giving fifty-two years to my beloved profession. During this time I attended Texas Tech and received my Masters Degree in Primary Education in 1954 which increased my salary from the early days. I enjoyed the years of school teaching it was my life and what I loved.

In all my teaching I tried to build character and Patriotism in my students.

In the First Baptist Church at Floydada I taught Junior boys and girls for forty years. Then I was drafted to teach an adult ladies class which was a pleasure for there were no discipline problems.

I also did some traveling went to see the Passion Play in Germany in 1970.

Then in 1973 accompanied by my daughter, we toured the Holy Land and stood in the cave where Joseph, Mary and the Christ child stayed while in Egypt.

In 1972 I received a plaque and a gold bell from the state of Texas representing fifty-two years of dedicated teaching service.

When I was converted at eleven years in Martha, Oklahoma, a voice from the Lord said, "loud and clear you are to be a missionary to China." My father rejected so I promised the Lord to give my all to teaching which has been a Blessing in my life; also am thankful that God helped me to leave an Endowment Scholarship Fund to Wayland Baptist University for some worthy person in Christian Education or in teaching.

Soon after retirement I was selected to be Senior Advocate of a new Government Service for Senior Citizens organizations in Floydada which is thriving today with aid of loyal helpers in its difficult infancy it has expanded its service to many with the aid of free transportation on the Mini-Bus.

My aim was to get Senior Citizens together to discuss their problems and lay plans that would make life more enjoyable and helpful to them. I served two years as promoter until my health failed I have had a long and happy life.

Maid of Cotton Contest seeks contestants

Fd Brihan, Chairman of the South Plains Maid of Cotton Committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, announced that this fall's selection for the 1982 South Plains Maid of Cotton will be held October 8-9.

Most of the activities will be held in Lubbock's Memorial Civic Center with the first judging session to begin with the luncheon sponsored by the Lubbock Cotton Auxiliary at noon on Thursday, October 8. The finals will be held in the banquet hall of the Memorial Civic Center, Friday evening directly preceding the Maid of Cotton Ball.

The Lubbock Cotton Auxiliary will furnish the new Maid selection a $500.00 scholarship to be used to further her education. The new Maid will also receive an all-cotton wardrobe and an all-expense paid trip for herself and her chaperone to Memphis, Tennessee, to the national finals to be held in December.

Any young lady with the following qualifications is eligible to enter the South Plains Maid of Cotton selection: never have been married; be between 19 and 23 years of age as of December 27, 1981; be at least 5-foot 5-inches tall without shoes or hairpiece and be a resident of the South Plains area. Specifics on eligibility can be obtained by calling the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Application forms will be available at the chamber beginning August 1 and entry deadline will be 5 p.m., September 18. Enrollment in a college located in the South Plains constitutes residency for any prospective candidate for the event, regardless of where her parents reside.

Melissa Gore, 1981 South Plains Maid of Cotton, who is a junior at Texas Tech, will be the official hostess for this year's selection.

Members of the South Plains Maid of Cotton Committee are busy working to make this year's event the best ever. Several sub-committees have areas of responsibility to conduct the Maid of Cotton Ball, entertainment, contestant coordination, finance and publicity.

CCC grain pricing policy announced

A policy geared toward minimum disruption in market prices was announced recently by Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block for the sale of Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) uncommitted stocks of corn and grain sorghum.

Only a portion of the stocks will be sold at the minimum sales price, under the policy. Bids on additional increments will be accepted at succeeding higher prices, or at later dates.

"I think it is important to note that we will not be selling from these inventories, even at the minimum price, until we are certain that the market will not be greatly disrupted," Block said. "This scale-up pricing strategy will allow the market to determine how much and where grain will be sold, once we decide to sell."

The minimum sales price, which will vary by location, will be calculated as follows: 115 percent times the county loan rate plus carrying charges for interest, storage, and handling -- except for certain inland and port terminal locations which will be shown in the offering. The carrying charges will be 54 cents per bushel for both corn and grain sorghum. The national average minimum sales price will be $3.13 per bushel for corn and $3 per bushel for grain sorghum.

There were 199 million bushels of corn and 13.9 million bushels of grain sorghum in the uncommitted CCC inventory as of July 2. Most of the corn was purchased by the CCC to stabilize markets after the Soviet grain embargo was announced. The grain sorghum was forfeited to CCC under the price support program.

Farmers and livestock feeders will be encouraged to bid on CCC stocks under a new procedure which allows bids to be accepted on quantities as low as 1000 bushels. County ASCS offices will serve farmers as a source of information in regard to these sales.

The offering for sale of corn for unrestricted use at the market price, but not less than 105 percent of 145 percent of the 1980 loan rate for the States of Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee, is deleted effective 8:00 CDT July 27.

Effective 8:00 CDT July 27 a nationwide offering of CCC-owned corn for unrestricted use has been added to the July 1981 Monthly Sales List. The minimum sales price for corn is as follows:

UNRESTRICTED USE SALES: (Storable, Bulk, Basis Instore)

The minimum sales price that CCC will consider for acceptance is the market price, as determined by CCC, but not less than the formula price which is 115 percent of the 1980 county loan rate for U.S. No. 2 yellow corn when stored, plus 54 cents carrying charges, plus transit value, if any.

Loan differentials will be applied in determining the formula price of the corn.

Telephonic offers to buy will be received by the Kansas City Commodity Office, Houston Branch Office or the Portland Branch Office during any business day between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., local time. No collect phone calls will be accepted. Telephonic acceptance, if not immediate, will be made as soon as possible but not later than 9:30 a.m. central time (market opening) of the next business day. A written confirmation of sale will follow.

The minimum quantity CCC will consider for acceptance is 1,000 bushels.

CCC reserves the right to reject any or all offers received.

GENERAL

The Commodity Credit Corporation (hereinafter called CCC) invites offers to purchase yellow corn from CCC for unrestricted use. Offers will be received and sales will be made on a first-come, first-served basis. The order of receipt of offers and sales will be determined by CCC.

SUBMISSION OF OFFERS

The basis of the offer is "storable, bulk, instore." The minimum sales price that CCC will consider for acceptance shall be the higher of the market price, as determined by CCC, or the formula price which is 115 percent of the 1980 county loan rate for U.S. No. 1 yellow corn where stored plus carrying charges for interest, storage and handling. The carrying charges will be 54 cents per bushel. If applicable, premiums, discounts and transit values shall be applied when determining the formula or market price.

An instore sale means that CCC will surrender to a buyer, in return for payment, ownership of grain in a specific warehouse. Since the buyer receives ownership of the grain in the warehouse, the buyer, and not CCC, must pay the warehouseman to load the grain out. Storage and related charges after transfer of title will be at the rate agreed upon between the buyer and the warehouseman and are for the account of the buyer. Title and risk of loss passes to the buyer upon receipt of payment by CCC; therefore, if the buyer requires that the commodity be insured, he must make any necessary arrangements with the warehouseman. Any difference in quality and/or quantity as shown on the warehouse receipt or applicable loading order and that delivered by the warehouseman will be a matter solely between the buyer and the storing warehouseman.

If another basis is desired or required, the basis and terms of the sale must be adjusted accordingly. For example, an f.o.b. buyer's conveyance sale means that CCC will pay the loadout charges and the buyer will furnish the rail cars or trucks at the storage location. If CCC and the buyer agree to an f.o.b. buyer's conveyance, the sales price and terms must be adjusted to reflect the change in the basis of sale.

MINIMUM QUANTITY

The minimum quantity CCC will consider for acceptance is 1,000 bushels.

WHERE AND WHEN TO SUBMIT OFFERS

Telephonic offers will be received during any business day between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. local time. No collect calls will be accepted.

Inquiries and offers to buy corn stored in the States of Alaska, Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Hawaii, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Virginia, Vermont, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming should be directed to: United States Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, P.O. Information needed for the burcellosis program

The Texas Animal Health Commission and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station are seeking information from the state's livestock producers and cattle auction markets to assist in a cost-benefit study for the Texas burcellosis program.

Two thousand cattlemen and 161 livestock auction markets are being contacted by mail in this effort.

"We are seeking information which we can incorporate into the Texas burcellosis program to make it more practical for the cowman." Dr. Jehn Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, explained. Cooperating in this project is Dr. Neville P. Clarke, director, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station.

Of the 2,000 livestock producers, half of them will involve quarantined herds for beef and dairy.

Open Holes Still A Hazard

This article was taken from THE CROSS SECTION, a publication of High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1.

All rescue attempts finally failed. Only a high powered microphone captured the last small whimpers of six-year-old Alfredo Rampi before his death. The boy had stumbled and slithered more than 200 feet down a 16 inch abandoned well hole near his grandparent's home in Frascati, Italy. His body wedged into the well's narrowing mud wall, then slipped another 80 feet beyond the grasp of desperate rescue operations. He died perhaps only hours later while rescuers and the entire nation kept vigil and hoped for a miracle.

Earlier this year the body of 22-month-old Chris Brents was also found at the bottom of a 40 foot open hole with a ten inch casing. It was just a few yards from his Louisiana home.

These tragic losses might have been prevented if those open holes had been adequately covered. Such grim well sites, or to locate them in conjunction with other programs of the district.

The table below lists a record of open hole investigations for each county since 1970. It indicates vigilance is still needed to remind landowners of their responsibility to protect human and animal life. Pollution of the aquifer is also a serious potential threat which can occur through these abandoned well holes.

The staff will continue its surveillance with the help of topographic maps, replacement well permit records and visual clues. They will monitor reminders underscore the importance of the High Plains Water District's program to locate and cap abandoned wells within our 15 county service area.

District rules and state law require landowners or operators to properly cover any well, cistern or hole that is more than ten inches and less than six feet in diameter. The covering must be permanent and withstand a 400 pound weight. The law also requires that any abandoned well or hole ten or more feet deep be completely filled or capped at the ten foot depth with a permanent plug and filled from the plug to the surface.

In the water district service area in excess of 11 hundred abandoned or uncovered wells have been closed since 1951. Over half that number were discovered and closed since 1978. District engineer technician, Obbie Goolsby, was recently commended by the Board of Directors for his lead responsibility and diligence in locating and in getting covered more than 550 open wells in the past three years.

The search intensified in 1970 when the district completed a survey of Parmer County to locate all existing and abandoned wells. It took nine years for district staff to completely drive out the service area of each of the 15 counties to identify abandoned
