Hightower gets Floyd County

Governor William Clements is expected to sign a bill tomorrow that will change Floyd County's congressional district for the second time in less than

The bill, approved by the Texas House Sunday on an 86-14 vote and by the senate Monday on an 18-13 vote, moves Floyd County from the 17th Congressional District of Charles Stenholm (D-Stamford) into the 13th Congressional District of Jack Hightower (D-Vernon).

A spokesman for the Governor, who had supported the bill, said there was no chance the bill would be vetoed. Hightower, who represented Floyd

Senate, said he was pleased the redistricting issue was settled at last. "I'm sure glad this is settled and Floyd County is back in my district,"

County for eight years in the Texas

Hightower said. "I'm delighted. I represented Floyd County for eight years in the state senate and I've got a lot of good friends in Floyd County."

Some Floyd County residents felt that if the county's district was going to be changed, it should have been moved into the 19th congressional district of Kent Hance (D-Lubbock) because Floyd County has more identification with Lubbock than it does with Amarillo, which is also in Hightower's

But Congressman Hightower doesn't "I think the economic interests of Floyd County are very similar to that of surrounding counties in my district," Hightower said.

The Congressman said each county in his district faces similar problems. "The problems facing Floyd County are the same as the problems facing the country. First we have to lick inflation and interest rates have to level off and begin going down," Hightower said.

"Floyd County is a great agricultural producing county and farmers all over are facing inadequate prices for their commodities," Hightower said.

'The farmer has to pay high costs for energy and everything he buys," Hightower said. With the low prices he gets for his commodities the high costs are devastating for the farmer.'

Hightower's nearest office to Floyd County is in Amarillo in the old Post Office building. He also has offices in his hometown of Vernon and in Wichita Congressman Hightower will speak to a combined meeting of the Floydada Lions and Rotary Clubs on Wednesday August 19 at noon. He will also be at the Floydada National Bank at 1:00 p.m.

Mackenzie ahead of schedule

Water from the Mackenzie Reservoir will be coming to Lockney, Floydada, Tulia and Silverton sooner than expected.

The manager of the Mackenzie Water Authority, Neil Taylor, said the reservoir may be able to provide water to the four towns by late 1983. It had been forecast earlier that water would not be available from the reservoir until Taylor said the Farmers Home Administration loan of $7,363,000 approved last month came just in time to keep the water project moving ahead.

The reservoir was built without federal or state funds after the voters of Floyd, Swisher and Briscoe Counties approved a bond issue in 1969.

killed the project.

Silverton nearly dropped out of the project when it almost ran out of water. However, Silverton drilled five new wells to provide water until the reservoir begins functioning.

Since 1970, because of the water shortage, Silverton's population has dropped 10.5 percent while Tulia's has declined 4.9 percent.

However, the combination of water in the future plus lake recreation has pushed Lockney's population up 11.5 percent and rioydada's up two percent.

Taylor said he believes completion of the project will mean population increases in all four towns.

Each weekend, Taylor said, large crowds are coming to the reservoir for recreational purposes.

With the reservoir drawing people from Lubbock and Amarillo, a new park and campground are being built and Taylor said the two boat ramps and the beach are being given thorough maintenance to keep the area safe and

As agreed in the November, 1980 bond election for Mackenzie, residents of the four towns will not receive a tax increase until after they begin receiving water from Mackenzie.

When service begins, a tax increase will be needed to pay for the $3,405,000 in general obligation bonds for the raw water pump station and lines to bring the water from behind the earth dam to Water contracts with the four cities will pay the $11,326,000 in revenue bonds for the construction of high rise pumps, the one-million-gallon storage reservoir near Rock Creek, and the treatment plant and transmission lines to the four towns.

Taylor said that engineering contracts should be awarded by March of next year and work should begin by June of next year.

One of the first problems that will face the engineers will be the purchase of right-of-way for transmission lines near highway 86 and farm road 378.

Taylor said all four towns should begin receiving water at about the same time, depending on the engineering contracts awarded next year.

President Reagan is on vacation for a month at his ranch in California. In a way it's comforting that the President thinks the country won't fall apart while he rides his horses and cuts wood.

I'm sure the change from pin-striped suits to blue jeans as well as the exercise will be good for his mental attitude as well.

Still, I can't keep from wondering who's minding the store. Oh, I know that the White House staff has been installed in several temporary buildings on the ranch, all at taxpayers ex-

Outer Somalia only has an infant fruit industry of 100 orange trees in 10 orchards. They may all be wiped out by the especially nasty American fruit flies that not only eat the fruit but also consume the trees.

The Prime Minister was really mad, "I want an answer right now. What can we do to stop this imperialist exploitation of our major industry."

The clerk receiving the call responded uneasily, "I'll see what I can do but everybody important is on vacation.'

"Well, who's in charge." "I guess the President's cook is in charge. He didn't go because he can't cook barbecue or Mexican food, and

Tax rate set: no increase

For the 20th consecutive year, there beginning next Monday will be no increase in the real or personal property tax rate in the City of Lockney.

The City Council has set the tax rate at 19-cents per hundred collars assessed valuation. Property in Lockney is currently assessed at a total of $22,294,020. Taxes are levied on 100 percent of the assessed valuation.

Of the 19-cents, 13-cents will go into the general fund for operating expenses producing $28,982.23 in revenue. The remaining six-cents will go for bond retirement, producing $13,376.41 in revenue.

The remainder of the city's $326,562 budget for the fiscal year ending next March 31 will come from various sources including the water department, sales taxes, franchises taxes, fines and the city farm.

The tax bills will go out October 1 and will become delinquent next February 1. The Lockney bounty program on stray dogs and cats will be re-instated

Mayor J.D. Copeland said the bounty program will continue indefinitely.

Copeland said people have been getting lax and careless about letting their pets run loose since the bounty program was suspended several weeks

During the initial phase of the bounty program some 60 dogs and cats were turned in for the $5 per animal bounty.

"People must keep their animals penned up or on a leash," Copeland said. "We intend to enforce the law."

Under the bounty program, stray dogs or cats may be taken to veterinarian Paul Glasson where they will be placed in city pens. Glasson will issue a receipt for the animal and the receipt may be taken to city hall for payment of the $5 bounty.

Copeland said the bounty will be limited to full-grown animals since there had been some abuses of the program previously when un-weaned kittens were brought in for the bounty.

The Lockney City Council has approved an ordinance that will allow the city to remove dilapidated, vacant buildings that pose a safety hazard, through due process. Although the new ordinance covers the entire city, it will initially be used to remove dilapidated buildings in the southwest portion of the city which is the target area of the recently approved $357,000 Block Grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The Block Grant includes $11,000 for the demolition of 20 buildings in the target area.

In a related action at its regular monthly meeting, the council approved the hiring of a city judge Ernest Fowler as housing program coordinator for the Block Grant program.

Fowler will receive a salary of $700 a month which will be paid from Block Grant Funds.

Fowler will be in charge of determining which buildings will be demolished, which housing units will be rehabilitated, which housing should be replaced and identification of substandard hous

Prediction: It'll be Childress again

BY BILL GRAY

Once again, District 3-AAA will be one of the better balanced districts in Region I for the 1981 season of Texas High School football. It will be difficult for a team to go undefeated in District play, a feat accomplished by newcomer Childress in the 1980 campaign.

Tulia appears to have the best overall material, with Abernathy, Floydada, and Childress about evenly matched. Idalou and Lockney could be real spoilers, and a co-championship, or even a tri-championship seems very possible. The Tulia-Floydada contest on November 13 could well be for "all the marbles."

Here is a team-by-team breakdown, and (this writer's opinion) what may be in store for our "Friday Night Heroes" this Fall. (Teams rated in order of predicted finish)

1. TULIA: Veteran team with experience at skill positions, especially at fullback and receivers. Strong at defensive ends - weak at linebackers and defensive

Summary: Mediocre defense could allow lots of points, but with potent offense, Hornets could be involved in several high-scoring games. (Predicted season record: 8-2)

2 (Tie) ABERNATHY: Well-balanced attack, featuring potential All-State tackle, Rick Houston. Unproven quarterback, but good depth at running backs. Solid, but not outstanding defense.

Summary: Could challange for title if QB and receivers come around. (Predicted season record( 6-4)

2. (Tie) FLOYDADA: Strong nucleus of Seniors for leadership. Could have outstanding QB in district in Todd Beedy, who has good size plus experience. Several talented underclassmen, including Mike Salazar and Donnell Weeks, should step in and contribute a lot. Offense is questionable, due to lack of depth, but could have the premier defense in the district. Once again opens district play against Summary: The Bobcats are tough to beat at home. Winning tradition and Coach Charley Johnston could make the difference. (Predicted. season record: 7-3)

5. LOCKNEY: Several outstanding players at skill positions (running back and linebacker), but lack of depth and experience will hurt. Lots of enthusiasm, plus playing arch-rival Floydada at home could contribute to

Living Desert State Park, a new dimension in native wildlife

Visitors to the Sonoran desert walk-through aviary at Living Desert State Park in Carlsbad are enjoying the experience of walking among the birds, says Park Manager Dean Ricer.

The new aviary is less than a year old and Ricer says the facility is already "very popular with visitors."

The $160,000 aviary features plants and birds native to the warm Sonoran desert, located in southern Arizona and northern Mexico.

Living Desert State Park itself opened in 1971 and contains exhibits of over 1,000 cacti and perhaps the most complete collection of southwestern desert and mountain animals in the nation.

Among the birds flying over and around visitors are mocking birds, curved-bill thrashers, cardinals, cactus wrens and Gambel's quail.

The five-sided Sonoran exhibit, built in Spanish-style architecture, has 19-foot walls that support a screened roof and leaves the display open to the elements. Heat cables buried in the ground give plants all the warmth they need during Carlsbad's mild winters.

A walkway curves through the middle of the exhibit, allowing visitors to see such cacti as Saguaro, organ pipe and barrel, jojoba plants, Washington palms and acacia and palo verde trees.

The entire park has large interpretive signs for both plant and animal exhibits. They are written in English and Spanish.

Visitors to the park leave the entry building and wind their way along paved paths bordered with rare and common cacti to animal exhibits containing American bison, antelope, bear, otter, and prairie dogs, to name a few.

In another building, visitors see something that gives most people goosebumps: it's a collection of reptiles including several varieties of rattlesnakes, lizards and Gila monsters.

Living Desert State Park is one of three parks in the area.

Carlsbad Caverns National Park is open every day of the year and offers 800,000 people from over the world each year a safe and easy peek at one of the largest and most beautiful caves in the world.

Improvements at the Caverns include new high-speed elevators that whisk visitors from the surface to the lunchroom underground.

Opened to the public in 1972, Guadalupe Mountains National Park is a breath-taking combination of mountain, canyon and forest jammed into 77,500 acres of desert 45 minutes south of Carlsbad on the road to El Paso.

Guadalupe Peak, at 8,751 feet the highest point in Texas, is located in the park. McKittrick Canyon contains a rushing stream and is home to both broad-leafed and conifer trees, cactus and succulents.

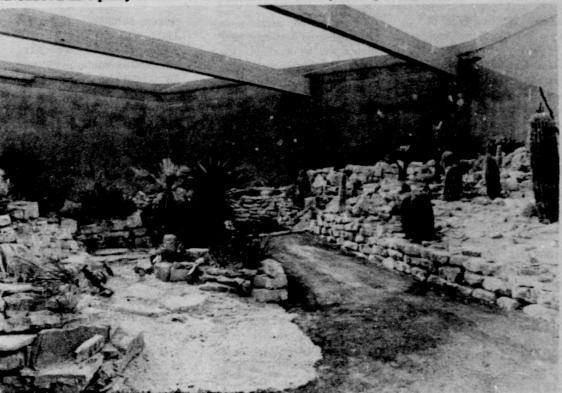

Carlsbad itself is famous for its hospitality and its modern hotels, motels and restaurants.

Frank Sinatra once called Ray Charles "the only genius in our business." Named Ray Charles Robinson, this music genius became blind at age 6. He learned to read braille, to play the piano, and clarinet, and to memorize music. When his parents died while he was still in his teens, he traveled through the South playing piano, clarinet, and saxophone in small bands. Charles was quoted once as saying "I realized I had a choice of getting a cane, a cup and picking out a street corner, or striding out as a musician." And stride out he does. Some 1.7 million American soldiers who served in Vietnam did not have high school diplomas. That's about a fifth of all our servicemen who fought in

A decade later, sadly, a lot of these veterans still haven't completed their high school education. Only 35 percent of the Vietnam veterans who are not high school graduates have taken advantage of their education benefits under the G.I. Bill.

Nowhere does the reality of this problem hit harder than in the job market. During June, for example, the overall unemployment rate nationwide was 7.3 percent. For non-veterans who are 25 to 29 years old, the rate was 6.9 percent; but for Vietnam veterans of the same age, the rate was 9.9 percent. That means that non-veterans are doing better than the national unemployment average, while those who served their country in Vietnam are The fact of the matter is, the rate of unemployment for Vietnam veterans is getting higher and higher all the time. In April, for example, the unemployment rate among Vietnam veterans was 10.4 percent higher than it was a year earlier. We're talking about thousands of young men who have been out of the military for more than a decade and still lack a high school diploma or the skills necessary to get a decent job. Recently the Senate approved legislation which I co-sponsored that would provide Vietnam veterans who don't have a high school dipioma with an extra two years in which to apply for GI benefits. Without this measure, thousands of veterans would soon lose their eligibility for benefits.

It's important to note that this is not a general extension for all veterans. Instead, it's a "one-shot" opportunity for reaching a group of veterans who well deserve this help. What's more, this can be done entirely within the current budget limits on federal spending. I don't think this country can afford, economically or morally, to write off these young people who have fought in defense of our freedoms. By providing a one-time extension to those veterans who haven't graduated from high school and who have never used their GI benefits, we're offering concrete, positive assistance that will benefit all of us as well as them.

We're offering them an extension of an education assistance program that will help them to compete for productive, fulfilling jobs. And we're helping ourselves by providing the skilled, educated workers that our high technology economy demands.

We have an obligation to those who have served our nation in its time of need. We did not place any limits on the danger to which they were exposed. I am pleased that the Senate is extending the limits on their ability to take advantage of the education benefits they have earned.

By a vote of 78 to 66 the House recommitted the Congressional Redistricting bill to the Regions, Compacts, and Districts Committee. The bill had already passed the second reading and had come up for the third and final reading. The bill was originally passed out of committee on a 10-9 split vote after three days of tough negotiating. The bill paired conservative Republican Ron Paul with liberal Democrat Bill Patman. One amendment approved on the floor of the House separated these Congressmen. In the Dallas area the Blacks and the Mexican Americans were compressed into one district in order to create one or more Republican Districts. This part of the bill was much like the bill as passed out of the Senate. The bill, as passed out of the Senate, was labeled the conservative plan. There was little doubt, however, that the bill had been through the Republican computer. The 38 Republicans on the floor of the House sat quietly and took little or no part in the debate. They voted a solid and unanimous 38 votes against the motion to recommit. The strict discipline as shown by Republican House members to the signals as sent in by quarterback Governor Bill Clements reminds one of the response of Roger Stauback and the Dallas Cowboys to the signal from Tom Landry in a Super Bowl game. Conservative Democrats voting favorably to Govenor Clements signals should not feel immune from Republican opposition in 1982. Republicans target only conservative areas. In only The Associated Republicans of Texas targeted ultra -conservative Democrat Dick Slack of Pecos and contributed $1500 to Slack's Republican opponent A.R.T. targeted conservative Democrat Tip Hall's district in Denton and contributed $2750 to Hall's opponent. A.R.T. targeted conservative Democrat Jimmy Mankin's district in Longview and contributed $1500 to Mankin's opponent. A.R.T. targeted Democrat Bill Caraway's district and gave his Republican opponent $11,000. A.R.T. targeted conservative Democrat Al Brown's district in San Antonio and contributed $5000 to his Republican opponent.

Total A.R.T. contributions to Republican House members was $44,550 in the 1980 campaign. Their contribution to opponents of elected Conservative Democrats should be interesting.

Conservative versus Liberals is a transparent smoke screen in the Redistricting battle. General Patton was a master using this decoy. He laid one down on the Rhine River in preparation to making a crossing with his fourth armored division. He continuously bombarded the opposite side with the artillery and bombs for three hours. When darkness fell engineers quickly constructed their pontoon bridge six miles down the river. The fourth armored division crossed without resistance or the loss of man. The German's got hit from the rear.

Committee chairman Tim Von Dohlen said in his final remarks before the vote was taken that his plan was not cherished by conservatives or liberals. Ultra conservative Democrat Carlyle Smith of Grand Prairie made the final and emotional appeal to recommit the bill to committee for revisions. His talk brought the House to its feet in an emotional applause.

The state redistricting map had all the resemblance of being drawn by a drunk person. The computer can quickly gerrymander Blacks out of one district and place them in another; pull Republican vote out of one District and place them in another. Compactness is one factor left out of the computer. This is why you come up with a map that has all kinds of odd and elongated configurations. I voted for the motion to recommit. Surely, we can

In the Capitol there seems to be general approval of the hard stance President Reagan is taking against the striking air controllers. During the regular session last spring a bill was passed and signed by the Governor to prohibit union dues from being deducted from the payroll of state workers.

Social Security News

BY RAY PURCELL

If you are receiving social security benefits because you are a full time student between ages 18 and 22, I have important information for you today. Returning to school after a summer of work, vacation, or just loafing can be a harrowing experience for both you and your parents. There are so many details to take care of such as clothes, moving from home back to school, getting acquainted with new roommates, buying books, paying fees, and even arranging your schedule so that you don't have too many early morning classes, that it is easy to overlook one of the most important things that you

Let me remind you that the checks you receive from social security based on a parent's earnings do carry with them some responsibility on your part. For example, your benefits are based on full-time attendance in some type educational institution, therefore, if you are not a full-time student or if you change schools, you should notify your social security office.

Your earnings also could effect your checks, so if you have made, or if you expect to earn over $4,080 this year, you should let us know to keep from being overpaid. The fact that you have earned, or expect to earn over this amount doesn't mean that you will lose all your checks, because you lose only $1 in benefits for each $2 of earnings over the allotted limit.

Just in case some of you may have gotten married during the summer, or if you should plan to do so this fall, remember that as a student you are drawing as a dependent of the parent on whose record the benefits are paid, and that if you do marry, you would no longer have that status. Your student benefits would stop with the check you receive on the third of the month in which you marry. It is your responsibility to notify the social security office of your marriage, and if necessary, to return any checks which you receive after

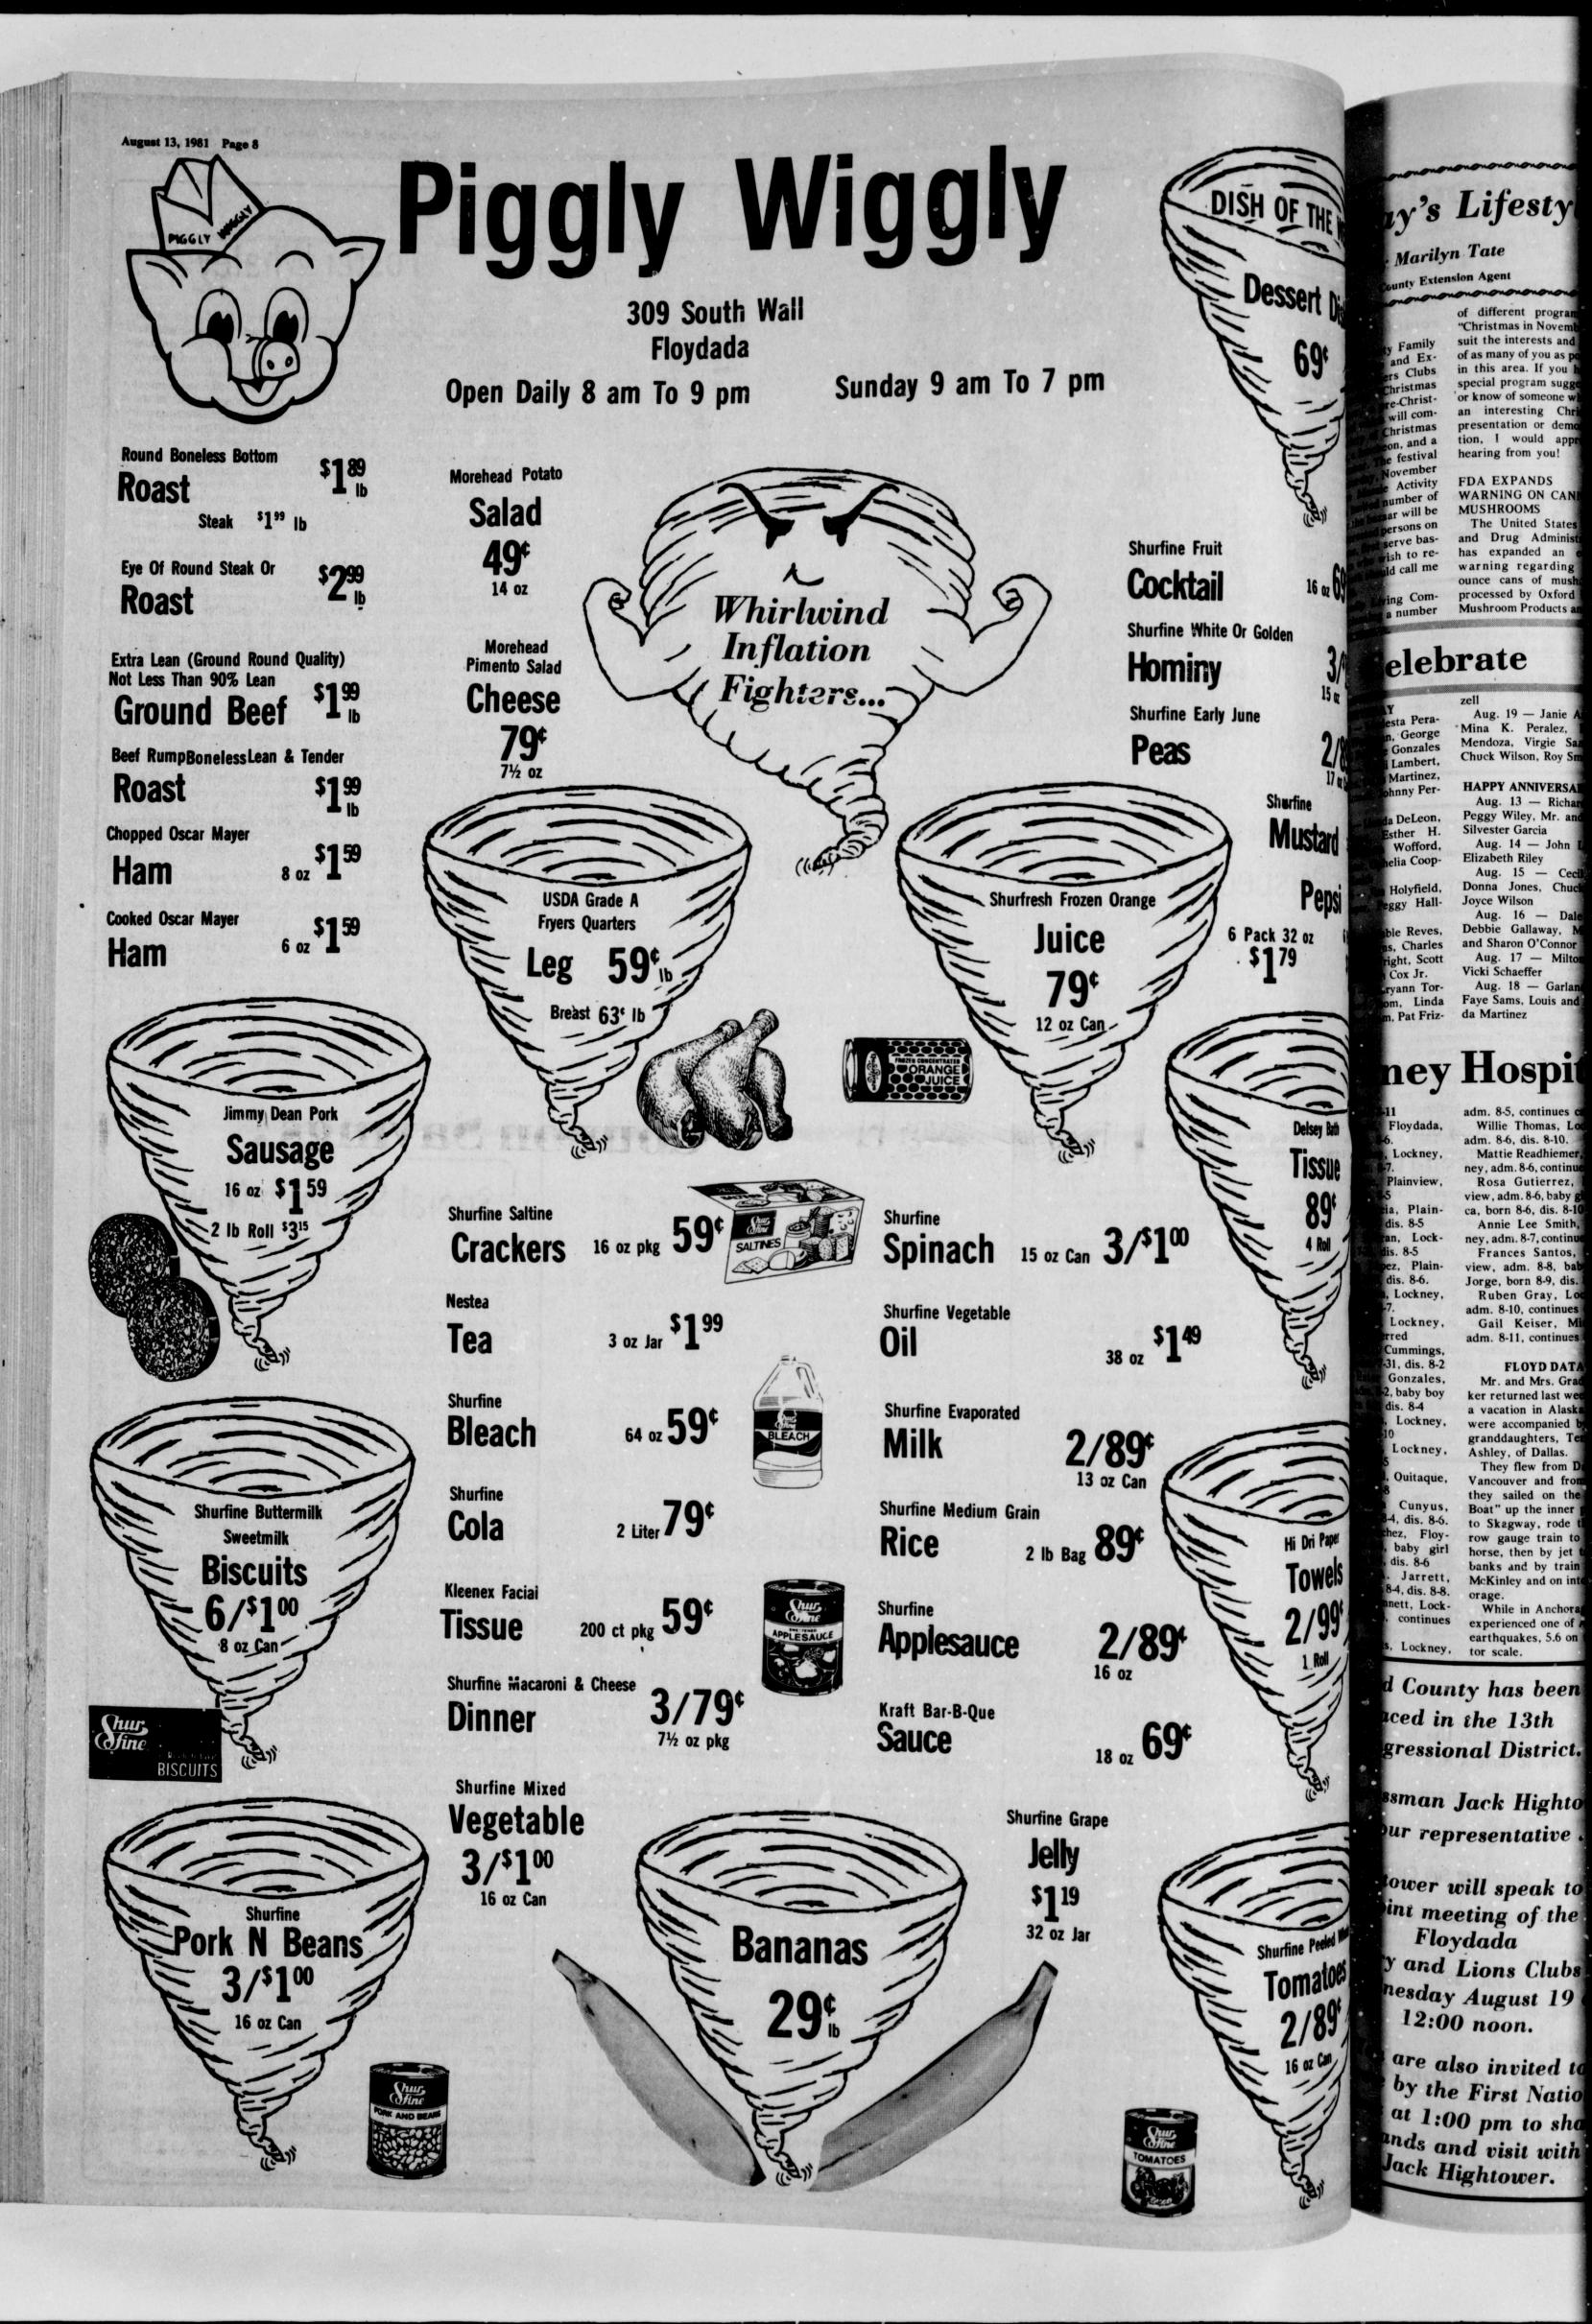

Even if you haven't earned too much money, or if you didn't get married, you still may need to contact your social security office. One of the most frequent reasons is for a change of address. This is important, because if we don't have your current address, we will not know where to send your checks, and you probably need them on time just to keep up with your bills. So, if you should have an address change, notify your social security office, as well as the post office, so that there will be no delay in getting your benefits. Even if your checks go to your bank accout, as may often be the case nowadays, you should still let us know where you actually live so that we can send you any notices that would require your personal attention.

There are a couple of technical items which I might mention regarding these student benefits that might apply to you. First, you are not eligible for benefits if you are being paid by your employer to attend school. If you do have a job where your employer asked you to, or required you to attend school then you should notify your social security office of this, and return any social security checks you may get after your employer starts paying you

Second, although almost all colleges, trade and vocational schools are considered educational institutions, and would qualify you for checks by attendance, there may be some that do not qualify. Your social security office could tell you if the school you attend or plan to attend meets the requirements. Also, the course you attend must be one that lasts at least 13 weeks, and you should be attending or enrolled for at least 20 hours per week. If the school considers you to be a full time student you will probably qualify, however, if you should drop some course which makes you less than a full time student you should notify social security.

These requirements may sound a little like a time consuming task for you, but really, it only takes a few minutes to call your social security office and tell them that you have moved, earned too much money, gotten married, changed schools, or even just quit. This would be a lot easier than having to try to repay checks to which you were not entitled at a time which you may

Tips for veterans on school

BY D.G. AYRES

If you're a veteran planning to enroll in or return to school this fall under the GI Bill, the Veterans Administration has a useful check list to help keep those VA education benefits coming regularly:

*Double check your choice courses to be certain they will count toward your education objective.

*Register early. VA and your school need time to process your registration so that GI Bill checks can be started your way promptly.

*Avoid dropping classes after registration. *File for your GI Bill benefits as early as possible. *If you have to interrupt your education, notify VA promptly and advise the date you expect to return to classes.

*If you change addresses, notify VA promptly. Of course, you'll want to notify the school and the post office, also.

> *Submit transcripts to the college admissions and records office immediately af. ter application is made. This will speed up the school's certification to the Veterans Administration.

> *If you have any questions about the GI Bill or eligibility for it, contact the nearest VA regional office, veterans county service officer, or a

time out for 600

More than nineteen hundred years ago St. Paul wrote to a young man named Timothy: "From a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus" (II Tim. 3:15).

Timothy was a fortunate young man. His father was not a believer in God, but his godly mother made up for the lack, and her mother helped, as day after day from his earliest childhood, they taught him the Word of God. As a result he came to know Christ as his Savior at an early age, and later became Paul's faithful co-worker and closest associate in making known the won-derful "gospel of the grace of God." In his very last letter, the great apostle recalls Timothy's "unfeigned faith ... which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice" (II Tim. 1:5).

If only we had more such grandmothers today, with husbands to help them! If only our children were not set adrift on a tossing sea of human speculation, but were taught the eternal truths of that old Book, Certainly the rebellion of so much of our youth against law and authority and morality is directly related to the disappearance of the Bible from the American home. It is not the young people who have been raised in Bible-reading homes and in (Acts 16:31).

THE BIBLE AND THE AMERICAN HOME church and Sunday school who are making us ashamed today, it is those from backgrounds both rich and poor who have been brought up without Bible teaching.

We all need to "know the holy Scriptures," not only because they teach reverence for God and build moral character, but most of all because they "are able to make (us) wise unto salvation through faith in Christ Jesus."

The theme of the Bible, Old Testament as well as New, is the Lord Jesus Christ, the riches of whose saving grace are unfolded to us in the epistles of Paul, the chief of sinners saved by grace. It was to Paul that God first committed "the preaching of the cross." It is he who tells us of the riches that flow from Calvary. It is he who declared by divine inspiration:

"...WE HAVE REDEMPTION THROUGH HIS (CHRIST'S) BLOOD, THE FORGIVENESS OF ES OF HIS GRACE" (Eph. 1:7).

"THAT IN THE AGES TO COME GOD MIGHT SHOW THE EX-CEEDING RICHES OF HIS GRACE IN HIS KINDNESS TO-WARD US, THROUGH CHRIST JESUS" (Eph. 2:7).

God loves you, Christ died for "Believe on the Lord Jesus you. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved"

Landscape & Gardening

FALL GARDENS'

The Texas mid-summer heat can be threatening to early fall vegetable gardeners. However, for a successful fall garden, many vegetables must be planted during high temperature conditions in order to mature during late or early winter.

To avoid this problem, set out your own transplants. Finding a good healthy transplant can be done by purchasing your fall vegetable seeds and growing your own plant. Vegetable seed may be planted in flats, coffee cans, milk cartons, peat pots or peat pellets in areas that can protect them from the heat. However, to avoid transplanting, most gardeners prefer seeding vegetables directly in the garden.

The biggest problem with this is poor seed germination due to summer heat. This can be cured simply by modifying the garden seeding area. In Texas, bedding the soil prior to seeding or planting is important. After bedding the garden and marking off rows, take a hoe or stick and make seed furrows. Apply water directly in the seed furrow and allow it to soak in, then scatter the seed evenly along the furrow.

After the seed are sown, cover them with a material such as compost, potting soil, peat moss or vermiculite. These materials will provide a better environment to help the seed germinate and grow. Light colored material will help keep the seeding area cooler. It is very important during germination not to allow the soil around the young seedlings to dry out.

Once the plants have emerged, a protective shade or cover made of board, cardboard or shade cloth, on the west side of a row, can help protect the plants from the afternoon summer sun. When the plants reach one to two inches tall, they should be thinned to the

NUT SPRAY PRACTICES Insects and diseases reduce the quality and quantity of fruits and nuts harvested each year by homeowners. A few carefully timed applications of fungicides and insecticides used in combination with certain cultural practices can reduce insects and diseases.

Cuitural Practices—Healthy plants are less susceptible to insect and disease attack. Follow a well-balanced fertility program; select well-adapted varieties and practice proper pruning and other cultural practices conductive to optimum tree growth.

Proper clean-up around trees is extremely important in reducing plum curculio, hickory shuckworm, brown rot of peach and pecan scab.

Pesticide Safety-Before using any pesticide, carefully read its entire label. Note any special precautions, such as the need to wear special protective clothing when applying the chemical. Take necessary precautions in pesticide applications to avoid any unnecessary

Mix pesticides in a well-ventilated area or out of doors. Avoid chemical contact with skin and do not breather chemical vapors.

Apply recommended pesticide dosages. Using less pesticide than recommended may result in poor control, and using more than recommended may result in excessive residue or plant

Store pesticides in a secure area away from pets and children. Prepare only the amount of pesticide for an application. Properly dispose of any unused duluted sprays or pesticide containers and never store pesticides in unmarked

Spray Equipment-A number of sprayers on the market satisfactorily apply insecticides and fungicides to Pressure-type sprayers range in size from 1 to 10 gallons. Because of cost and handling ease, most homeowners prefer 21/2 to 3-gallon sizes. Hose-on sprayers are least expensive but require a high volume of water, moderate pressure and a convenient water outlet.

Once a sprayer has been used, it becomes a used pesticide container and requires proper handling and storage. Proper cleaning will prolong its life. Applying insecticides and fungicides with a sprayer previously used to apply herbicides may cause plant damage.

"PIX" LOOKS PROMISING

In a wet crop year such as 1981 has been up to now, cotton often makes a lot But use of a growth regulator can provide some relief of that problem.

"Pix, a growth regulator developed several years ago, holds a lot of promise for cotton, particularly in a wet year," points out Dr. Bob Metzer, cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"When applied as the first few white blooms appear, Pix reduces plant height, increases lateral branching, and makes for a more uniform cotton crop," explains the specialist.

This growth regulator has been used in studies involving both picker and stripper variety cottons throughout Texas, notes Metzer. Lint yields were equal or higher than untreated plots when adequate moisture was available during the early bloom period. However, Metzer cautions that using the product when cotton is under moisture stress can reduce yields. In addition to having the potential for improving yields, Pix creates a more uniform crop that enables more effective defoliation as farmers get ready to harvest. Furthermore, harvesting efficiency is increased due to the crop's uniformity, says the specialist.

"Field demonstrations and studies this year with Pix should provide a wealth of information because of the kind of weather conditions we've had." notes Metzer. "We will be able to get some good comparisons between treated and non-treated fields, and this information will help us develop better guidelines for using the product in the

According to Floyd County Extension Agent Jett Major, four Pix field demonstrations have been set up in Floyd County this year. It is too late to apply Pix in most field in Floyd County this year, but those interested in learning more about this cotton growth regulator can call the County Extension Office at 983-2806.

Screwworm watch continues for Texas

Wet weather during the spring and early summer of 1981 has enhanced the screwworm problem in northern Mexico, reports Ken Langley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University Sy-Screwworm program officials in Mexico have noted an incidence of positive screwworm cases in the northern Mexican states of Tramaulipas, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, Chichuahua and Durango. A total of 20 positive worm cases have been identified approximately 35 miles south of the Texas-Mexico border.

"The adult screwworm fly is a very strong flier," says Dr. Cliff Hoelscher, Extension entomologist in College Station. "Research shows that the adult fly can travel distances greater than 200 miles," reports Hoelscher. "Nearness of the Mexican infestations poses a real threat to Texas livestock producers and pet owners." Early detection of possible new screwworm infestations is the first line of defense against this flesh-eating insect

County agent Langley says "We have the technology to eradicate any new infestations, but we must be able to detect the pest before populations spread. Livestock producers and all pet owners are urged to send all larvae samples to the Mission USDA laboratory for identification.

"We appreciate the strong support of Texas producers who have increased their surveillance for this pest during 1981." The Mission Screwworm Lab has reported that 30 percent more samples have been submitted for identification this year than for the corresponding period of 1980.

Collection containers are available from offices of county Extension agents. The Extension Office is located on the Courthouse Square in Floydada.

No screwworm cases have been identified in Texas since May 22. Your help is urgently needed to keep Texas free of screwworms, Langley adds.

Pesticide applicators to be recertified

The more than 9,800 Texans currently certified as private pesticide applicators in the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) Amarillo and Lubbock districts will be receiving recertification forms soon, commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

The forms will help TDA update department files on licensed appli-

The TDA Amarillo district includes the following counties: Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, and Childress.

The TDA Lubbock district includes the following counties: Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, and Jones.

The recertification program, begun in June, terminates with these last two districts. Brown said. All 116,000 private applicators in the state will be

'TDA has been certifying applicators for five years," noted Brown. "We're sending renewal notices to applicators and delete persons that are inactive, deceased or no longer farming. In addition, the current list will enable us to send these applicators timely information and keep them up to date on current laws."

The recertification program resulted in part from Senate Bill 602, introduced by Senator Bill Sarpalius of Hereford. The bill amends the Texas Pest Control Act, which sets procedures for certifying pesticide applicators. The ten-week recertification schedule is on a county by county basis and it may be that applicators in some adjoining counties may not receive their renewals at the same time, Brown said. "In addition," Brown noted, "although many of the applicators have moved and may not have received their forms, they are not relieved of their responsibility to get recertified.

"If they read about the program or hear about it through a neighbor, they should contact the nearest TDA district office or their local county agent for the appropriate forms," Brown said.

"Only private applicators currently certified by TDA are involved in the program," Brown emphasized. "Commercial and non-commercial applicators are not included, as they are required by law to have their licenses renewed annually."

Applicators do not have to be retrained or attend meetings, and there is no fee involved, Brown continued. Even new applicators who have recently received their pink certificates need to fill out the application. The new certificates are blue and will be dated.

"If an applicator charges a fee and sprays for the public, he needs to get a commercial or non-commercial license." Brown said. "Certificates are issued to individuals, not to a farm, ranch or nursery. The certificates are also valid in New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana, Colorado and Nebraska."

Questions on these and/or other areas should be directed to the Texas Department of Agriculture, attention Charlie Rogers, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78751 or any of the twelve TDA district offices.
