Constitutional amendments

Mountains give six eyes one naye

17 Floyd county voting boxes counted on the seven amendments voted on by a substantial majority of them and a definite one.

Amendment Four, Water development plan, 955 For and 100 Against.

Amendment Five, Farm product tax exemption, 682 For and 236 Against.

Amendment Six, Home owners tax exemption, 529 For and 364 Against.

Amendment Seven, Veterans land program, 504 For and 391 Against.

Amendment Four, designed and sponsored by Texas House Speaker Bill Clayton, which would have set aside half of the state's surplus revenues after budget financing for a fund to develop water projects throughout the state, was an overwhelming favorite of Floyd county voters, as it was expected to be over the entire West Texas area, as the local vote indicated approval by a nine-to-one margin.

The proposal appeared to be losing by a large margin state-wide, however, as the East Texas—and the Houston area vote particularly—was being counted after the polls closed Tuesday night. According to a Texas Election Bureau report, with 233 of 254 counties reporting, 205 complete, showed Amendment Four being defeated by 234,946, or 43%.

Amendment Three, Spending plan, For 197,347, or 37%; Against 330,946, or 63%.

Amendment Four, Water development plan, For 234,946, or 43%; Against 316,279, or 57%.

Amendment Five, Farm product tax exemption, For 373,123, or 68%; Against 176,120, or 32%.

Amendment Six, Home owners tax exemption, For 378,101, or 70%; Against 165,811, or 30%.

Amendment Seven, Veterans land program, For 349,730, or 64%; Against 193,189, or 36%.

See the accompanying chart for a complete rundown of the Floyd county vote by precinct and voting box.

Lady horns exhibit confidence

Lockney High School Lady Horns varsity basketball squad was into shape this week as they practiced in preparation for season opener against Lubbock Coach Sheri Haynes appeared pleased with the progress made by her young squad, even though they have had only a limited amount of work this far. Lockney has been picked for third in District 3-AAA behind Idalou in first and Abernathy in second, by a regional magazine, and the coach expressed strong confidence that they will do at least that good if some of her younger players come along rapidly.

The Lady Horns were second in district last year with a 23-7 win-loss record. They were beat out for the district championship by Abernathy

This Week

Christmas Fund has been started to raise money for presents for several children in foster care in Floyd County by the Floyd County Child Welfare Department.

Amount of contribution to the fund would help brighten Christmas for children who otherwise would receive no gifts.

Lockney call Jerry Klein at 652-3803 and in Floydada call Tom Powell at 2406.

Reception honoring Helene Holt, Lockney branch librarian, will be held at the library at 224 S. Main, Sunday, November 8 from 2 to 3 p.m. The program is being sponsored by the Lockney Friends of the Library and the library is cordially invited to attend.

Holt served as librarian for twelve years prior to her retirement this summer.

UIL announces new region 1 district alignments

The new district alignments for UIL Class 5A announced by the Interscholastic League early this week, the Lockney Longhorns met two new foes on the gridiron to add to two old ones. Post will enter District 3-AAA and Idalou will move over to District 2-AAA. Friona, Littlefield, Muleshoe in District 2-AAA. New District 3-AAA alignment consists of the same number of schools in the past and will include Lockney, Floydada, Idalou, Pampa, down from 5A to 4A. Olton, down from 3A to 2A, and Vega, Forsan and Ropes, who all dropped from 2A to 1A.

While announcing the new UIL alignments locally, Lockney Schools Superintendent Dub Hallmark also released the planned 1982 football schedule for the coming 1982 season, which is as follows:

Non-district games—September 3: Tulia; Sept. 10, Petersburg; Sept. 17, Olton; Sept. 24, Ralls and October 1, Abernathy. District games and locations are: Oct. 8, Floydada, there; Oct. 15, Idalou, home; Oct. 22, Slaton, there; Oct. 29, Post, there; Nov. 5, Childress, home and Nov. 12, Bi-district.

Following is the Region 13A lineup by districts:

District 1-AAA -- Amarillo River, Perryton and Spearman.

District 2-AAA -- Abernathy, Dimmitt, Friona, Littlefield, Muleshoe and Tulia.

District 3-AAA -- Childress, Lockney, Floydada, Idalou, Post and Slaton.

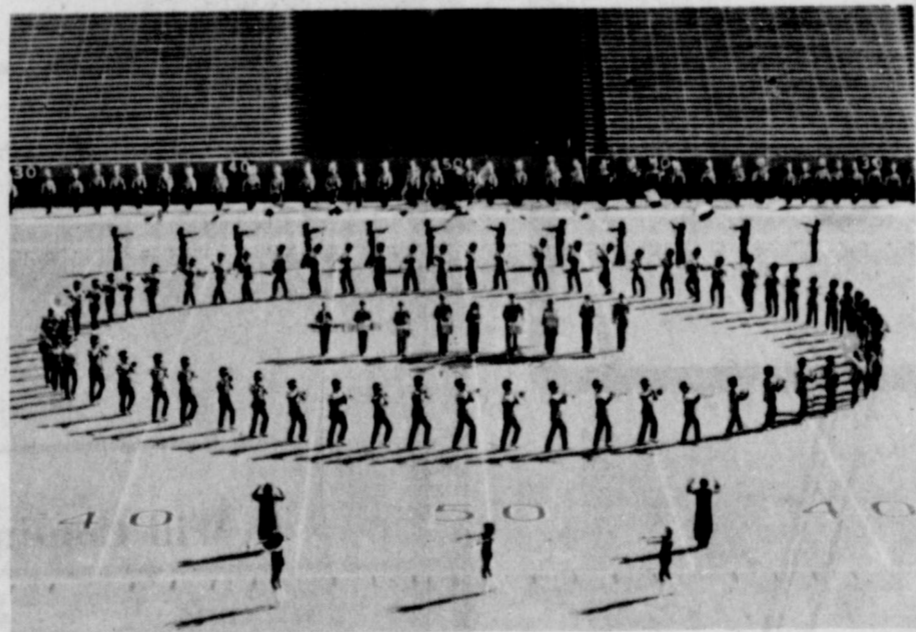

District 4-AAA -- Denver City, Lubbock-Cooper, Lubbock-Roosevelt, Seminole, Tahoka and Frenship.

District 5-AAA -- Alpine, Canutillo, Fabens and Kermit.

District 6-AAA -- Ballinger, Coahoma, Colorado City, Crane, Ozona and Sonora.

District 7-AAA -- Abilene Wylie, Breckenridge, Clyde, Electra, Merkel and Stamford.

District 8-AAA -- Brady, Burnett, Coleman, Marble Falls, Comanche and Llano.

THE LOCKNEY LONGHORN BAND won a II rating at UIL Contest in Lubbock yesterday. There were seventeen bands competing.

'Christmas in November' gives Christmas spirit

Take time now, before the rush of the holiday season, to get a little bit of that Christmas spirit! "Christmas in November" sponsored by the Floyd County Family Living Committee, will be Saturday, November 14, at Duncan Elementary School in Floydada.

This event promises to have something for nearly everyone. The Christmas Bazaar, featuring area arts and crafts exhibitors, will be an excellent place to shop for unique gifts for everyone on your list.

Special demonstrations will be presented every hour, beginning at 9:30 a.m. and concluding at 6:30 p.m. Programs planned include:

"Crafts for Christmas" — ideas for home decorating and gift-giving with crafts you can make, presented at 9:30 a.m. by Nell Finney of 'Country Crafts and Ceramics' in Tulia.

"Gifts from Your Kitchen" — program on 'Make or Bake' holiday gift ideas presented at 10:30 a.m. by Linda Pittman, Lubbock County Extension Agent.

"Toys for Little Tykes" — tips for toy selection and ideas for making them yourself, given by Pearle Wheeler of Synder at 11:30 a.m.

"The Story of Christmas" — entertainment provided by Virginia Taylor of Tulia at 12:30 p.m.

"Christmas All Sewin Up" — ideas for everyone on the seamstress gift-giving list, presented by Betty's Fashion Fabrics of Plainview at 1:30 p.m.

"Christmas Treats with the Blender" — ideas for holiday treats, presented at 2:30 p.m. by Betty's Fashion Fabrics of Plainview.

Deer season outlook is promising

The upcoming deer season promises to be everything that last year wasn't.

Good forage and better than normal weather conditions should result in better quality deer than a year ago and more of them, according to a Texas Agricultural Extension Service wildlife specialist.

Hunters can even expect better antlered deer from the improved nutrition which is a major contributing factor to their condition.

"Last year's drought effectively reduced the deer numbers in over-populated areas," explains Dr. Dwight Guynn. "This year there is more food for each animal which translates into good antler growth for bucks and higher fawn crops for does."

Higher fawn crops generally means the deer herds are immediately beginning a population increase. Hence, Guynn stresses that landowners and hunters can work toward a larger female harvest this year in order to keep down the increasing deer population where desired.

"Failure to harvest more does in the past seasons led to over-populated conditions in many parts of the state that results in large die-offs similar to what happened when the drought hit last year," Guynn says. "Historically, deer harvests in the Hill Country have been about 10% of the population per year. However, we recommend that 20-25% of the deer population be harvested annually just to compensate for reproduction and keep the population from increasing beyond the food supply."

Guynn, a certified wildlife biologist, says it's getting harder each year to predict the type hunting season that hunters can expect. Weather conditions and food availability are major considerations. With a good acorn crop and lush green forage available, deer will feed mostly at night and bed down during the day, making hunting more difficult.

He says an early frost or scarce food conditions during the season usually cause deer to roam more during daylight hours to seek food. Deer would then be more visible and available to hunters. They could also be more easily drawn to baited stands.

Guynn reminds landowners that deer census techniques and spotlight counts can be used to better determine deer populations and evaluate proper harvest levels. More can be learned about these techniques along with aging methods, harvest record systems and harvest recommendations through local county Extension agents or Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife officials.

Deer season opens in most Texas counties at sunrise on November 14.

Pioneer Corporation honors employees

Residents to be presented awards

Pioneer Corporation (NYSE) will honor 222 of its employees for periods of service ranging from five to 45 years during the corporation's annual series of award dinners which begin Monday (November 2) in Amarillo and will continue the following week on consecutive evenings in Midland (November 10) and Lubbock (November 11).

A fifteen-year award will be presented to William C. Mercer Jr., of Lockney. Five-year awards will be presented to Wilma L. Gowens and Joe S. Martinez, both of Floydada.

K. Bert Watson, president and chief executive officer of the corporation, will present each of the 222 honorees with his or her respective service award.

In addition to corporate personnel the employees represent five of the corporation's eight principal companies including Pioneer Production Corporation, Pioneer Gas Products Company, Pioneer Nuclear, Inc., Energas Company and Westar Transmission Company. Employees being honored are employed in 30 cities and towns and at eight remote facility locations in three states. The corporation recognizes each employee's service anniversary at five year intervals.

Christmas fund begun for children

A Christmas Fund has been started to raise money for presents for several children in foster care in Floyd County by the Floyd County Child Welfare Board.

Any amount of contribution to the fund would help brighten Christmas for a child who otherwise would receive no gifts.

In Lockney call Jerry Klein at 652-3803 and in Floydada call Tom Powell at 983-2406.

A group of 131 Amarillo area employees with between five to 45 years on the job were honored at the first of the three dinners Monday evening at the Country Squire Dinner Theatre. The Amarillo area includes all of the Panhandle north of a line extending between Hereford and Dimmitt. Also attending the Amarillo dinner will be employees from operations in Oklahoma and Louisiana.

The following week on November 10, Watson will recognize 27 Midland area employees whose Pioneer careers span from five to 40 years. The Midland area includes the cities of Midland, Odessa and Big Spring. Ranchland Hills Country Club will serve as the site for the gathering.

On November 11, 64 employees with between five to 40 years of service will be honored at the final awards dinner to be held at the Lubbock Country Club.

Pioneer Corporation is a diversified energy-oriented corporation headquartered in Amarillo with operations or interests in 18 states.

Rev. Michael O'Connor's Perspectives

BY MICHAEL O'CONNOR

"The American Family is under attack," the conservatives cry. "Pish," the liberals reply. Who is right? Judging from the reports being released on the Census, it would seem that the conservatives are right. Statistics were released last week which are appropriate for making a point. First, it was reported that the number of couples living together is significantly from 1970. By the way, the government, in its infinite wisdom, has solved the dilemma of what to call these people. They are "opposite-sex persons of opposite sex sharing living quarters. And to think, we call it living in sin.

Another number of note is that the number of children born out of wedlock is also up. The reason cited in both the AP articles reporting the statistics is basically that both phenomena are "more acceptable."

Things are more acceptable these days. Used to be that no one would put his folks in a rest home; we didn't even say the word "retard" and "ma'am", and never used their first name: kids tended to call their parents "Dad" and "Mom."

Some of these changes are valid - rest homes provide care that sometimes cannot, and travel and economics have forced people to look out in search of a job. But the fact remains that families are not the same as they were even fifty years ago.

It seems to me that we accept things too easily. I suppose that trait is part of the result of sin in the world. The time has arrived, however, when we need to quit accepting the situation and begin trying to change it. The first step in that process is to quit saying, "Well, that's the way it is, and we'll just have to live with it."

The next step will be to examine changes that come to us as progress and determine whether the change reflects proper biblical values. Finally, we will live our convictions in spite of charges of being old fogies, retrogressive, and any other term of disparagement which might be directed against us.

As the family is under assault, we must recognize that we are part of the assault, and become less accepting. Then we shall see a renaissance of the family.

Farm production costs to rise

The cost of producing 11 major U.S. crops (excluding land costs) is projected to rise about 15.4 percent per acre in 1981, the same as the estimated rise in 1980, the department states.

In a summary of a report on the cost of producing selected crops in the United States, the agency said it will cost an average of $2.38 per bushel to grow corn in 1981, excluding land costs, compared to an estimated $2.36 in 1980. Wheat will cost $4.13 per bushel to produce, excluding land, compared to an estimate of $3.62 in 1980, it said. USDA forecast soybeans will cost $4.97 per bushel to raise in 1981, a slight decrease from an estimated $5.02 in 1980.

Sorghum production costs will also fall slightly to $2.87 per bushel, excluding land, compared to $3.19 in 1980.

The report said that per bushel costs for more crops rose sharply in 1980, as there was less production over which to spread costs, due to drought conditions.

During 1980, USDA said per unit nonland costs rose by an average of more than 40 percent for all crops.

ranging from 30 percent for oats to 89 percent for peanuts, USDA said.

USDA said per acre costs, however, were little affected by the drought, rising about 15.4 percent in 1980.

The report said the increases were due to a 38 percent fuel price increase, a 28 percent fertilizer cost increase and a 20 percent interest rate cost increase.

Following are the USDA estimates of 1980 and 1981 production costs, in dollars, given first excluding land costs, then including land costs. Costs per unit are in bushels, except rice and sunflowers in hundredweights and peanuts and cotton in pounds.

COMMODITY	COST PER ACRE		COST PER UNIT

which went on to become AAA state champions.

There were seven seniors last year, all of whom graduated, leaving the first year head coach with a young and inexperienced squad. "We have only two girls on the squad with any varsity experience. They are Connie Coffman, a Junior Forward and two-year letterman with an 18 point average last year, and Sophomore Point Guard Shawnda Brock, a one year letterman.

Over all the squad contains one senior, Patricia Torrez, Forward; five juniors, Irene Medina, Forward; Robin Hardy, Point Guard; Karen Mathis, Post; Connie Coffman, Forward; and Kay Reay, Forward; and four sophomores, Shawnda Brock, Point Guard; Karyn Foster, Forward; Kim Carthel, Post and Jerri Ann McCormick, Post. The squad's average height is 5 feet 7 inches.

The season begins for the Lady Horns when they meet Lubbock Cooper on November 17 and District 3-AAA play begins January 15 when they meet the Abernathy Lady 'Lopes.

Gas heating saves $226 per year!

Compared to the heat pump, gas heating can save you $226 per year on your utility bills. So if you hear that a heat pump is "more economical", remember, that is comparing it to other electric heating... not to gas! No other heating system even comes close to gas for economy. At Energas, we are committed to help you get the most for your heating dollar. Gas heating, combined with good conservation practices, saves energy, too.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

BY DOROTHY NEFF
Mrs. Willie Mae Russell is home from the hospital and doing fine.
Mrs. Ella Finley is still in the hospital. I visited with Mrs. Finley Wednesday and she was in good spirits and ready to come home.
We would like to thank Stewart and Sharon Smith for the bell peppers and tomatoes. The residents have enjoyed the tomatoes sliced and stuffed peppers this week.

We want to thank the Sunshine Sunday School class for the bananas, and cookies. Mrs. Ruth Duncan visited with the residents as we gave each a banana. The cookies were given to each resident Friday during the movie.

The residents who ride the Senior Citizens bus and myself would like to wish Grady Freeman a quick recovery. We really miss taking that outing each Wednesday.
We didn't have a big winner in bingo this week, however, Mrs. Vera Duke won two games. Mrs. Una Clark, Geneda Roberts, Olie Miranda, Emmitt Lawrence, A.G. Eubanks and Mr. W.C. Cates all won one game each.

I would like to thank the nurses aids for decorating the home for Halloween and giving a party for the residents Halloween night. Everyone enjoyed the little spooks. Employees were dressed in their costumes and served pumpkin pie to the residents.
We want to thank Bama Coward and her G.A. girls of the First Baptist Church for treating of residents with candy Thursday afternoon. The twelve girls came in Halloween costumes and visited with the residents as they treated them.
We want to thank Mrs. Ham Smith for the pink and red geranium plants and Worth Howard for the pots to put them in. They look so nice in our lobby.
We have a new resident in our home, Mrs. Florence Simpson, lives in room six, down the west wing. Mrs. Simpson will need your visits.

Greetings From Friends

To Helen and R.G. Dunlap, who on Wed., Oct. 28 became members of the worldwide "Grandparents Club."
Sometimes this club is known as the "spoilers" because of the tendency to let grandchildren do as they please.
Just give this little fellow a bit of your time
And he will repay you by making your lives sublime

You can teach him to wink and to clap his hands
You will feel great pride,
when on two feet he stands
Helen will love him dearly, he'll do her good.
She'll quickly adapt to grand-motherhood.
She'll warn his bottle, he'll be a great feaster
She can tell him all about her girlhood in Peaster.

R.G. will encourage him, to rub his bald head
And he'll whistle a tune as he puts him to bed
He'll start early in his life to explain soil conservation
Of what soybeans and farm products mean to our nation
They have waited so for this dream to come true
We join you in thanking the Good Lord for Roger Mathew.

Alpha Mu Delta enjoy social

Members of Alpha Sigma Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and their families enjoyed a Halloween social Saturday, October 31 at Lighthouse Electric.
Costume judging was held and Chip Daniel won best boys costume for his scarecrow. Shonda Guthrie won the girls contest as an elf. Chad Guthrie won the dunkin' for apples for not getting one. Cody Nichols won the pin the nose on the witch game.

Big and little spooks alike enjoyed refreshments of cola, popcorn balls, cookies, celery and carrot sticks, crackers, dip, sausage balls and beef stick.
Those attending were Danny and Lynn Daniel, Ronnie,

Chip, Hollie and Ashely, Weldon and Mary Emert, Brad and Carrie, Max and Vikki Yeary, Charla and Mandy and O. Bryan Barker, Bud and Barbara Edwards, Rusty and Tyson, Larry and Rhonda Guthrie, Shonda and Chad, Jan Nichols and Cody, Jimmy and June McLaugh, and Wayne and Janice Poette.

Studio South honors students

Open house was held last Sunday afternoon in the Studio and home of Sara and Don Probasco, 129 E. Ollie St., for students of Studio South's recently completed Beginner's Stained Glass classes.

It was a time of sharing between members of the three classes. Each guest brought some of their completed work to show to the others. Although this event marked the end of the Beginner's classes, many of the students have enrolled in classes for more advanced instruction in "Leaded Glass Design" and in "Free-form Ornament Construction."

Those attending were: Mildred Shurbet of Petersburg; Betty Edwards of McCoy; Carol and Don Williamson of Abernathy; Dartha and Paul Westbrook, Nancy Graham, Peggy Colston, Sharron Vickers, Joy and Dale Lawson, and Jana Lawson, all of Floydada. Five class members were unable to attend.

Brewer honored with shower

Mrs. Terry Brewer, nee Susie Probasco, was guest of honor at a shower given to her in the home of Mrs. J.M. Ratliff on October 24.

Among guests were Mrs. Vera Rogers and Mrs. Velma Hammond, grandmothers of the couple and Oddie Probasco, mother of the honoree, and Mrs. Dowell Brewer, the groom's mother.
Cassie Probasco, sister of the bride, registered arriving guests.
Refreshments were served by Mrs. A.M. Hanks, Peggy Nance, and Barbara Ellison, from a party table covered in blue and over-laid with an ecru lace cloth and centered by a blue silk floral arrangement. Silver and crystal appointments complimented the setting.

Paula Edwards and Diane Brewer presided in the gift room.
A vacuum cleaner was presented to Mrs. Brewer by hostesses, Mrs. J.M. Ratliff, Mrs. Judy Griffith, June Bybee, Peggy Nance, Dorothy Thomas, Viki Green, Mrs. June Hanks, Paula Edwards, Barbara Ellison, Nina Teuton, Marvis Reecer, Peggy Roberts, Margaret Kitchens, Georgia Galloway, Eddie Douglas, Dorothy Stapp, Delinda Glasson, Doyleene Dipprey and LaDora Auliff.

Appreciation dinner given by Rebekahs

An appreciation dinner was given for several guests at Floydada Rebekah lodge on Tuesday night, October 27.

After lodge closed the guests were invited in for a bountiful dinner of fried chicken and all the trimmings.

The hall was decorated in a Halloween motif and the tables were decorated with Halloween lanterns.

After the meal, Halloween games were played by the group.

The invited guests were Mr. John Farris, Bob Gilliland and boys, Michael, and Brandon, Mrs. Ruth Gilliland and Fay Hart.

Everyone enjoyed the evening festivities.

dinners are disappointing in terms of taste and some are quite expensive! Solution — make your own.

The aluminum TV dinner trays can be purchased in most grocery stores. When you have leftovers, fix up a TV dinner. Cover with heavy duty aluminum foil or slip the tray into a freezer bag. Be sure to label your dinner. Freeze it for future use.

Homemade TV dinners should be reheated at 350 degrees until the food is hot. The length to heat will depend on what you have — a casserole will take longer than fried chicken.

Some foods are not suitable for reheating in a home-made TV dinner. Broccoli that is completely cooked is a good example. Cabbage and other leafy greens will develop stronger flavors. Usually, corn on the cob will become hard if fully cooked and frozen. Do not try to freeze tossed salad. You can make a fresh one while your home-made TV dinner is cooking.

Breads freeze well. It is better to package biscuits, rolls, muffins and other quick breads separately. Sprinkle the bread lightly with water and wrap tightly in aluminum foil. Reheat at 350 degrees and serve.

Make your own entrees. Small aluminum pans can be purchased. When you have one or two servings of your main dish left — freeze it. You will find it is a real time saver when you need a quick meal for your husband while you go to a meeting or for the children when you enjoy a night on the town.

Home-made TV dinners or frozen entrees usually taste better and are liked better because "Mama made it!"

Willis hosts Homebuilders

The Homebuilder's Extension Club met October 27 in the Kenneth Willis home.

The meeting was opened with Mrs. Willis reading the devotional, Isaiah 3:18-23.

Blanche Williams gave the program "Energize Your Wardrobe." Some suggestions for keeping comfortable in the winter were to wear dark colors, and wear sweaters, full length slips, pant liners, high necklines, close fitting hats or caps, gloves, and shoes with enclosed heel and toe.

For summer weather, wear light colors, loose fitting garments, short sleeves, and sandals.

A refreshment plate with the Halloween theme was served to one new member, Doris Tinsley, and Lela Mae Burns, Eunice Hong, Evelyn Latta, Muri Mayfield, Ruth Trapp, Blanche Williams, Wilma Colston, Gladys Widenner, and the hostess Barbara Willis.

Bradley elected to board

Floyd C. Bradley, pastor of First Baptist Church in Floydada, was elected to the Executive Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas (BGCT) during the BGCT annual meeting in Waco October 27-29.

The Executive Board, composed of laymen and ordained church leaders, conducts the business of the 2.2 million-member BGCT between annual sessions.

The BGCT owns and operates eight colleges and universities, an academy, eight hospitals and four children's homes.

This work is supported by the Convention's 4,400 churches and missions, which will give more than $45.4 million this year through the Cooperative Program to help share Christ's love throughout the world.

Besides the institutions, the Convention helps support the work of more than 5,000 missionaries in the United States and almost 100 foreign countries.

Harmony Comm. wants to strip cotton

The men in the Harmony Community are looking for cotton to strip as a money making project for the Center.

If you have cotton ready to strip, or know someone that does, please contact Ronnie Hopper 983-3004, James Hale 983-3840, Jerry Bartlett 983-2053 or Phil Dunavant 983-3650.

They would like to have 100-150 acres within a 15 mile radius. They will have about nine strippers and four modules ready to go.

The Center has its regular meeting and elected officers for the coming year. Everett Miller was elected president, Phil Dunavant, vice-president, Martha Williams, Secretary, and Novice Bartlett, reporter. Elmer Dean Williams was elected to serve as a trustee.

Oil searching continues at Lakeview

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

Seven geo-science trucks were thumping along the edge of Blanco Canyon this week next to land belonging to Edmund Brown, Norman Muncy, Judge Choise Smith and Q.D. Williams. A former Lakeview resident, now in the oil business, said a look at our oil company's map showed proposed drill sites solid from Blanco Canyon to South Plains for Floyd County. Most leases in this community will expire in early 1982.

Holt Bishop supplied the fish for a big fry Saturday at the home of his son, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop. His daughter, Shirley, and husband, Jim Peggram of Dimmitt and their daughter, Kimberly, were also guests. Kimberly's roommate from Wayland University was present. Other diners included Miss Roseanne Ford, Mike Bishop and Greg Bishop.

Mrs. Lucille Custer attended a formal dinner and reunion at Slaton last weekend at the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. J.C. Custer.

Mrs. Q.D. Williams was in Lawton, Oklahoma for the weekend with her sons, James and Monte, and their families. All enjoyed a steak barbecue supper at Mr. and Mrs. James Williams Saturday night, honoring Monte on his twenty-fourth birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Monte Williams had them all over to their house after church for Sunday dinner. She also visited her father, Edgar Jones, in Truscott before returning to Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Appling visited Mr. and Mrs. Olin Watson Thursday evening.

Mrs. Viola Brown ate lunch Tuesday in Floydada with Mr. and Mrs. A.M. Dorsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Hammonds visited in Vernon last Friday and Saturday with her sister, Mrs. George Davis. They also visited in Thalia and Crowell with Mr. and Mrs. Meryl Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamonds, and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hammonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gofford and Otis Gofford visited the men's sister, Mrs. Weldon Hammonds last week.

The Mt. Blanco Club met with Mrs. S.G. Appling last Thursday for Achievement Day. All reported home improvements, food preserved by canning or freezing, sewing and handwork accomplished during the year. Those present included Mesdames Viola Brown, Glenna Watson, Iva McCurdy, Gladys Wheeler, Jane Latta and children, Georgia Mae Erickson, Donna Fields, and baby and the hostess. Refreshments were pumpkin pie and whipped cream, popcorn, pickles, coffee and tea.

Tentative County Redistricting Lines

In order for all resident of the county to fully understand the changes and how it will effect them personally, there have been two public hearing scheduled in the county on November 5.

There will be a public hearing in Floydada in the county court room at 5 p.m.

There will be a public hearing that same day, November 5, at the City Hall in Lockney at 6:30 p.m.

The meeting will be conducted by Turnbough and his partner, Bob Bass. Bass is an attorney, formerly Hale

Illegal immigrants to receive benefits U.S. and welfare programs

States and local communities may soon have to give illegal immigrants all the benefits and welfare programs they give to U.S. citizens, if two cases currently before the Supreme Court are not overturned.

FAIR, the Federation for American Immigration Reform, has entered these cases by filing an amicus curiae (friend of the court) brief supporting the State of Texas in the cases of Plyler vs. Doe and In Re Alien Children, to try to prevent such a conclusion. The cases of Plyler vs. Doe and In Re Alien Children were brought by lawyers representing children who are illegal aliens. The lawyers contended that illegal aliens were Constitutionally entitled to receive free public education in the United States. The United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit has upheld their contention, and the State of Texas is appealing to the Supreme Court.

The importance of these cases have not yet been fully understood by much of the public. FAIR argues in its brief that free public education is the wedge which could open all public services and welfare to illegal immigrants whose very presence in the United States is against the law. It also argues that offering public services such as free education will entice even more people to come illegally to the United States in the future.

The lawyers for the appellees have said that the case involves a narrow issue, that it applies only to education at public expense for illegal immigrants. But in their arguments they claim that illegal are protected under the "equal protection" clause of the Constitution. This clause has been used to prevent states from excluding some groups of American citizens from social welfare programs unless there is what the Supreme Court has called a "rational basis" for their exclusion.

American minority groups have achieved equal access to education, welfare, health services, public housing, and so on, through the "Equal protection" clause of the Constitution. If illegal immigrants are also covered, they too cannot be denied these programs unless the states have a "rational basis" for such a denial. And the fact that illegals are in the U.S. against the law, that they have no right at all to be here, or that including them in social programs would mean that some American citizens would not be able to receive the programs, would not be considered a "rational basis" for exclusion.

Joseph Zengerle and Marc Rearrdon, FAIR's lawyers, wrote in the brief filed before the Supreme Court: "The dilemma presented by the cases now before this Court is symptomatic of the quandary in which current circumstances place the entire country. No one wishes to deny these claimants an education for their children. But lines must be drawn to secure respect for the law, because otherwise the opportunity for the country to respond effectively to (illegal immigrants) can be critically handicapped at precisely the moment when national lead-fashion policies appropriate to the times.

"These cases thus come to the Court as the President and the Congress are on the brink of devising new federal policies to deal with illegal immigration. A decision that illegal aliens who establish residence in this country are constitutionally entitled to an education at public expense could handicap these efforts for two reasons.

"First, it could increase illegal immigration directly. Migration results from the complex interaction of 'push' and 'pull' factors. If overpopulation and underdevelopment are the 'push,' job opportunities, high wages, and available government benefits are the 'pull.' A guarantee of a free education in the United States for their children would not only be added incentive to millions of parents throughout the world but would also encourage illegal aliens who might otherwise return home after a temporary period of employment to bring their families and settle.

"Second, such a decision could, at the very least, open to legal challenge state and local government efforts to prevent illegal aliens from utilizing various government programs other than education. A likely consequence of such challenges would be...a resultant increase in the utilization of state and locally provided benefits by illegal aliens already here, at the very time governments at those levels are cutting back in response to taxpayers initiatives and shrinking federal assistance.

"The decisions of the lower courts, if sustained, would validate for the first time the claim of illegal aliens to important public services. It would increase the pull factors which draw illegal aliens to this country and almost surely increase the incidence of their use of government services even if their numbers do not grow. At stake in expected, McCormick QB quarterback Max Riley coming out with 180 yards and one interception through the air for 183 yards and two touchdowns on the ground to lead the team to a 36-14 victory over the Longhorns.

McCormick's performance was a key factor in the team's success. He completed 12 of 22 passes for 220 yards and two touchdowns. His accuracy and ability to find the open field were crucial in the team's offensive strategy.

Longhorns fight the finish

Lockney Longhorns mounted their stalwart defense against Abernathy Antelope tonight but it was as they went down to defeat at the hands of giant adversaries. Locked and outsized by the margin both in the backfield, the Horns did not overcome the advantage of their legs.

The Longhorns left the game with an 0-2 record in district play and 2-6 on the season with two games remaining. They probably have an excellent chance of winning their first district game Friday night as they close the season at Idalou on Friday.

As expected, Rick Abernathy's manful defensive tackle, successful all-out as Lockney quarterback McCormick to the tune of totalling minus 79

Imported Porcelain

For centuries, fine Oriental Imari ware has been prized for its exquisite enamel overglaze and complex, jewel-like coloring. But like any work of art, the Imari style required great amounts of skill and time. Until recently this renowned porcelain style was the preserve of serious collectors.

Now, through a unique modern technique, the brocade beauty of Imari ware is available to you. This exclusive Imari Goshoguruma design includes pieces in all appropriate premium price ranges to delight you. Goshoguruma (Ricksha) is authentically patterned in 22 Karat gold of intricate Nishi-kide brocade designs intermixed with floral designs. The Goshoguruma design depicts the Ricksha Cart used by the Emperor and Empress at the Imperial Palace in Kyoto, dating back nearly 1500 years.

Cowboy wives donate proceeds to children

When volunteering stressed as at the national social solution to the wives of the cowboy football team third year in a row with a unique idea to help special children.

The direction of the "middle line" players' and wives have come up with a unique idea to help special children.

The Dallas Cowboy Family Fitness Guide and Nutritional Cookbook, proceeds from the book go directly to benefit the special learning handicapped children of Happy Hill Farm Children's Home. In its six years of operation, the Farm has never taken state or Federal funding. Bob Breunig serves on the Farm's Board of Directors.

"The past two seasons we've produced a very successful cookbook, featuring favorite Cowboy recipes and candid snapshots of players and their families," said Mary Breunig. "This year we've put together an entirely new kind of book called a 'family fitness guide.'" The Dallas Cowboy Wives' Family Fitness Guide contains helpful hints on how the Cowboy families maintain maximum health year-round. It features exercise routines, calorie-counting charts, a guide for measuring the effectiveness of various sports and exercises, and a variety of health tips. The book also contains information about the Cowboy families' exercise and sports activities, and candid pictures of the Cowboys and their wives and children.

"This year the cookbook section contains more salad and vegetable recipes, as well as some special health drinks and whole-grain bread ideas," says Mary Breunig.

Their cookbook idea was quite successful, and more than 36,000 copies of the first two editions have been distributed to every state in the country.

Bob and Mary Breunig have worked with the Farm almost from its beginning, assisting the founder and director, C. Edward Shipman, and his wife, Gloria, in providing a home and vocational training center for a group of learning handicapped boys and girls.

Happy Hill is a 266-acre working farm on the edge of the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex. Their program contains a heavy emphasis on vocational training. The children may obtain a high school diploma, if they qualify, but all of them are learning practical job skills, such as auto mechanics, furniture building, and farming.

Happy Hill Farm Children's Home and the Academy are licensed by the appropriate state agencies.

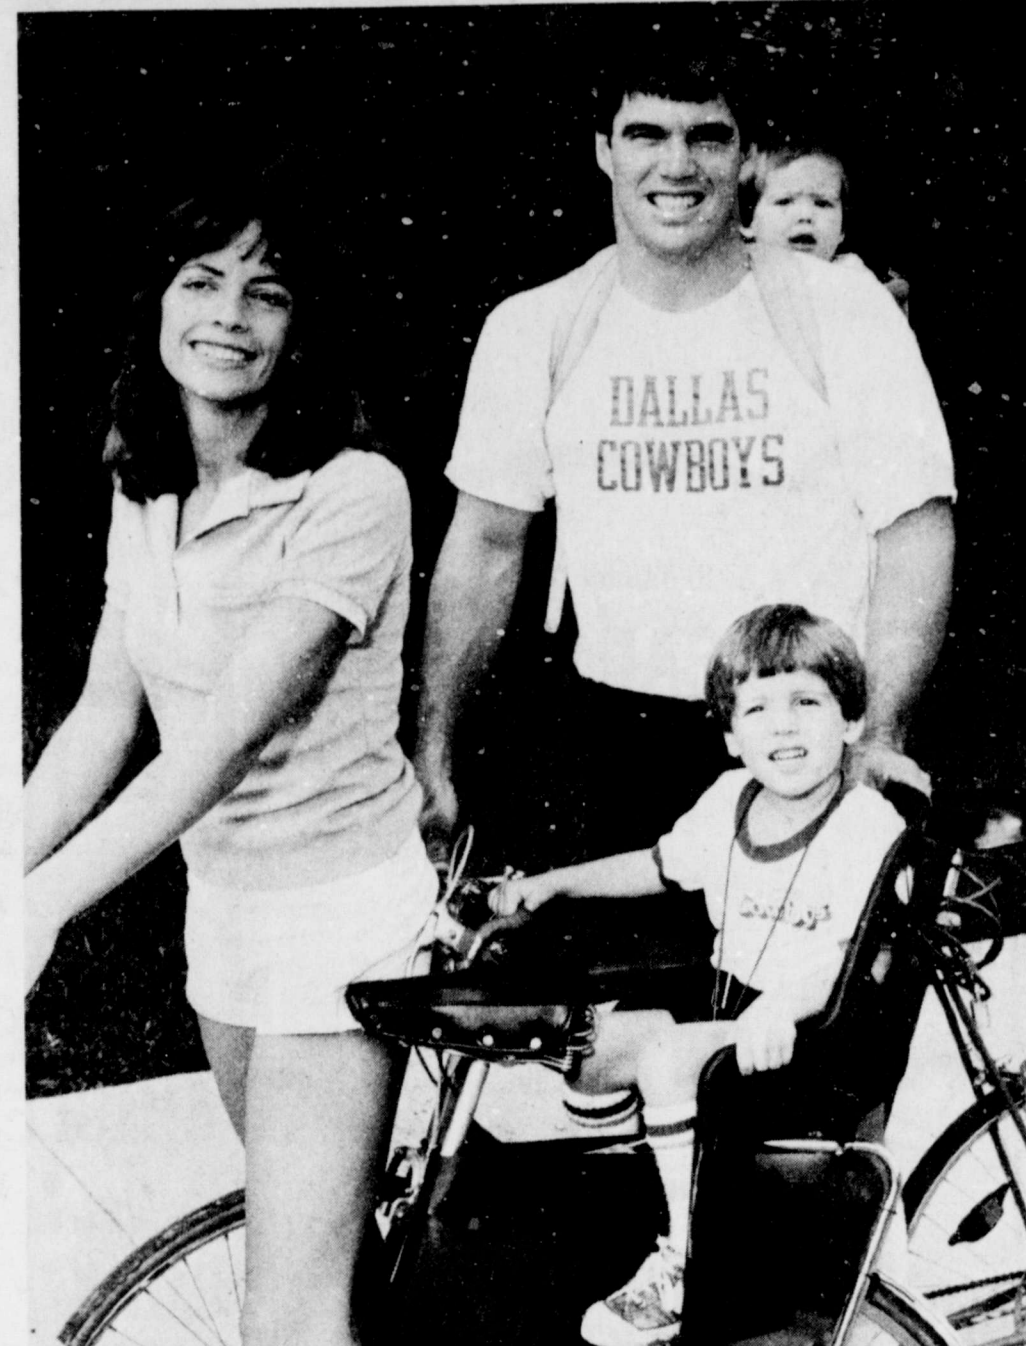

The Farm is multi-denominational and has a strong emphasis on moral and spiritual values. Operating funds come from hundreds of individuals, churches and corporations from throughout the state. Several foundations have assisted the Farm in its capital program. A new living unit for eight more children and a chapel have just been completed.

The Farm's Director, C. Edward Shipman, says that the Family Fitness Guide is certainly in keeping with the Farm's emphasis on a healthy, wholesome lifestyle. "We raise much of what we eat here on the Farm, and our animal herds provide us with our own meat, eggs, and milk," says Shipman. "I hope the book will encourage people to join with us in our campaign for better health and fitness." According to a Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, Americans are eating too much of the wrong kinds of foods. Six of the ten leading causes of death can be linked to diet.

The Dallas Cowboy Wives' Family Fitness Guide and Nutritional Cookbook is attempting to suggest, to those who will listen, some helpful ideas on exercise and nutrition—and while you're helping yourself, you will be helping the Farm's special boys and girls.

To get a copy of The Dallas Cowboy Wives' Family Fitness Guide and Nutritional Cookbook, order it directly from the Farm for $9.95 each. Write: Dallas Cowboy Wives' Family Fitness Guide, Happy Hill Farm, Star Route, Glen Rose, Texas 76043.

BOB BREUNIG—Dallas Cowboys' middle linebacker—his wife, Mary, and sons—Robert Jr., and Bart. The Breunigs participate in a variety of vigorous activities, including bike riding, in their efforts to stay fit as a family.

MRS. J.E. GREEN

Present for the weekend at the Hal Thomas home for the birthday dinner honoring Hal Thomas Sunday were their children, Sue and Milton Mensch and son David of Lubbock. Also present was a nephew of Mrs. Thomas, Kenneth Ellard of California, who arrived Saturday afternoon.

Our friends Mrs. Claud Carpenter and Mrs. Clarence Ashton of the Lockney Rest Home are reported doing fine.

Mrs. Ola Warren's great-grandchildren, those of Joyce and Jimmy Owens, often visit her. She also baby sits.

Mrs. Anthony Latta dropped in at Ma Greens one day last week.

Mrs. C.M. Meredith was in Plainview one day last week.

Wiley Rogers returned yesterday to his hospital room at St. Paul's in Dallas after a siege in intensive care - result of a car wreck weeks ago.

My sister, Mrs. Gertrude Massingill of Phillips, recently discharged from St. Anthony's, Amarillo, after surgery, is convalescing at home.

My son Clyde of Peralta, New Mexico has accepted a position of teaching German in a high school in Albuquerque. He and his wife are retired teachers of Alaska.

Friday is Homecoming at Wayland and the 30th anniversary of my Margaret's graduation there. All our children graduated from there. We are proud of that school - now Wayland University, Plainview.

Thanks to the city for repairing 14th St. in front of my house. After rains it got worse and worse.

Well-Bred Goose For Thanksgiving

Well-bred roast goose is becoming a favorite of the holiday table. Today's well-bred birds are meatier and save time and work since the goose is stuffed.

Simple steps can insure a memorable meal—oven temperature in two stages, use of a meat thermometer (should register 180° F.), and frequent basting.

Follow the following for correct roasting times. If you cook the stuffed, cooking time will be slightly shortened.

Weight (lb.)	Time at 400° F. (Hours)	PLUS Time at 325° F. (Hours)	Total Roasting Time (Hours)
10-12	1 hour	1-1/2 to 2	2-1/2 to 3
12-14	1 hour	2 to 2-1/2	3 to 3-1/2

WILD RICE STUFFING

3 cup wild rice
2 cups water
2 teaspoon salt
6 cups day-old white bread cubes (crusts removed)
2 cup finely chopped onions
1 teaspoon powdered sage
2 teaspoon salt
2 cup melted butter

Rice thoroughly. Bring to boil in saucepan with salt. Reduce heat and simmer 30 minutes or until tender. Combine bread cubes, onion, sage, salt and rice. Add melted butter and toss to mix. Stuff lightly in neck and body cavities. Makes enough to stuff a 10 pound bird.

Tie the neck with a skewer and tie legs together.

"You had a kindness shown? Pass it on."
Henry Burton

LUNG CANCER IN MEN

Lung cancer is the number one cause of cancer deaths among men. In the last thirty years, there has been a 400 percent increase in women's lung cancer deaths. By the late 1980's, lung cancer is expected to be the number one cancer killer in women.

Another element for increased wheat yields is phosphorus. Increased use of nitrogen on fallow winter wheat, eco-fallow wheat and on continuous-cropped areas means growers should be highly attentive to the second most limiting element - phosphorus. Recently completed University of Nebraska research has indicated phosphorus-deficient soils can yield 8 to 12 bushels per acre less wheat than those fertilized, according to the recommendations of soil labs. Strict attention should be paid to the phosphorus content, according to the Nebraska agronomists. Phosphorus can increase tillering, improve winter hardiness by better root system development and generally advance plant maturity. Calculations also indicate higher yields are accompanied by lower production costs and higher net profits per acre.

Plenty of cotton calls for marketing strategies

COLLEGE STATION — Cotton, cotton everywhere—and what to do with it.

That's the dilemma facing Texas cotton farmers.

"Because of this year's bumper cotton crop, cotton supplies are plentiful, the demand is weak and prices are below the cost of production," points out Dr. Carl Anderson, economist in cotton marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Thus farmers are trying to decide what to do with this year's crop—sell now, hold and hope for a higher price, or try to work a delayed pricing strategy.

"Deciding when and at what price to sell is not easy," says Anderson. "However, developing a 'feel' for the market and following a good marketing program can pay off big."

"With a current depressed cotton market, many farmers are trying to decide whether to place cotton under the government loan program or to try a delayed pricing strategy such as the seller's call contract," notes the economist.

Under the government loan, cotton comes off the market and provides some cash flow for farmers. But it costs about a cent a pound per month to hold cotton in the loan program. Eventually, it has to move to market, so the loan program may not help market prices that much.

Under the seller's call contract, the farmer's price for cotton is tied to the futures market price, explains Anderson. This gives the farmer an opportunity to actually establish a price for his cotton after delivery. However, the farmer must be sure to understand contract terms and conditions.

Here's how it works. The farmer agrees with a broker or buyer to deliver his cotton and to transfer ownership at that time. In Texas, terms of most seller's call contracts call for a cash advance to the farmer of an amount equal to the loan value at delivery time. Also, most contracts specify the loan value as a price floor.

"Once he delivers the cotton, the farmer has no further storage costs but he can participate in a market upswing," explains the economist. "The seller's call contract specifies that the farmer's price will be a certain number of points off a given futures month. The farmer decides the date for the price relationship to the futures contract month."

Anderson gives this example. Assume a farmer selects the March 1982 futures for his contract. If cotton in the March Strict Low Middling 1-1/16-inch futures contract is trading at 68 cents a pound and the farmer's current spot price is 58 cents for the same quality, his spot price is fixed 10 cents under the March futures contract if he signs a call contract. Thereafter, if the March futures goes up or down, the farmer's price will be 10 cents a pound less.

"A seller's call contract should allow for changing to a new contract month for a small fee," notes Anderson. "This allows the farmer to watch the market and sign the call contract when the difference between the futures price and spot price is relatively small. In other words, the smaller the difference between the two market prices, the better off the farmer is."

To use the seller's call contract wisely, a farmer must follow changes and reasons for changes in both the futures and spot markets, emphasizes the economist.

"The key point to remember is that the farmer benefits from the call contract when prices increase," notes Anderson. "However, the spot price must have been fixed under the call contract or there would be no price protection in a falling market."

While both the loan program and the call contract can benefit a farmer if market prices increase, carrying costs tied to the loan can be excessive, depending on the length of storage. On the other hand, the call contract offers immediate transfer of cotton and gives farmers more flexibility in a changing market, believes Anderson.

FALL FRUIT TREE SPRAYING CONTROLS DISEASES

Fall is often the time when fruit tree care is forgotten or neglected, but it's a critical time for controlling many peach and plum tree diseases to insure a good crop next year. Applying fungicide now can stop or reduce three of the six diseases that attack peach and plum trees in Texas. These are peach leaf curl, bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker.

Puckered and distorted peach tree leaves that were either bright red or light green in diseased areas last spring were due to peach leaf curl fungus. The only time to effectively control this disease is in the fall with a copper-containing fungicide such as Kocide 101.

Timing of the fall spray is critical for effective control and for avoiding tree damage. Copper is a metal and may cause severe defoliation unless applied correctly.

Spraying should be initiated when 70 percent of the leaves fall off the tree. Spraying too early will cause leaf shed or cause the spray to be ineffective later.

Bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker can be partially controlled by fall spraying with a copper fungicide, but again it's important to spray at the right time to prevent foliar burn.

Bacterial leaf spot affects both fruit and foliage. The infection causes fruit to crack and leaves develop angular spots drop out. Bacterial canker will kill trees slowly. Infected trees will have gum or wax forming on the trunk and main limbs.

Fall spray in the Panhandle-South Plains area of Texas is most often applied from late October to November 15.

Fall spraying is important to the health and production of fruit trees, because there's no other time when 50 percent of peach and plum tree disease can be controlled with one spray.

Judges named to Fort Worth Stock Show

Judges for the variety of events scheduled during the 86th annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show January 27 through February 7 have been announced by show president-manager W.R. Watt Jr.

Watt also reminded exhibitors of cattle, horses, sheep, swine, donkeys and mules that entry deadline is December 10, while exhibitors of poultry, pigeons and rabbits have until January 15 to enter.

Information on exposition entries as well as mail orders for Stock Show Rodeo tickets should be requested at P.O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101. Tickets for all night and weekend rodeos are $7 each, and Monday through Friday 2 p.m. matinees are $5 each. When ordering by mail, include an extra $1 per order for postage and handling.

Watt reported the livestock breeds and their judges include Hereford, Dr. Robert Kropp of Stillwater, Oklahoma; Polled Hereford, Dr. Stan Coley of Grovetown, Georgia; Shorthorn, Dr. Glenn L. Richardson of Longview, Texas; Angus, Jim Gillooly of Washington, Indiana; Brahman, Dr. Hollis Chapman of Baton Rouge, Louisiana; Santa Gertrudis, John Kiker of Rockport, Texas; Brangus, W.F. Wackman Jr. of Brenham, Texas; Charolais, Clarence H. Marek of New Ulm, Texas; Chianina, Dan Hoge of Kewanee, Illinois; Devon, Dr. Randall Grooms of Overton, Texas; Maine-Anjou and Simmental, Dr. Miles McKee of Manhattan, Kansas.

Judging open dairy will be Richard Keene of Gilbertsville, New York; junior dairy, B.J. Shepherd of Bridgeport, Texas; open sheep, Rex Stultz of Del Rio, Texas; junior breeding sheep, Jack Groff of Kerrville, Texas; junior lambs, Fred T. Wilkinson of Crane, Texas.

Judging open breeding swine will be Lauren Christian of Ames, Iowa; open barrows, Dr. Donald Orr of Lubbock, Texas; junior barrows and champions, Dr. T.D. Tanksley of College Station, Texas; junior steers, Bill Able of Manhattan, Kansas.

Junior heifer judges will be Hereford, Dr. Kropp; Polled Hereford, Dr. Coley; Shorthorn and Charolais, Dr. Richardson; Angus, Gillooly; Brahman and Santa Gertrudis, Dr. T.D. Rich of Kansas City, Missouri; Brangus, Dr. L.D. Wythe of College Station, Texas; Simmental, Dr. Grooms, and Limousin, Charles Rollins of Crowley, Texas.

Other judges include Poultry, John S. Garrett, Haynesville, Louisiana, Harold F. Halback, Waterford, Wisconsin, and J.B. Harrell, Jr. of El Dorado, Arkansas; Rabbits, Joe Frizzle, Johnstown, Ohio, and Gary Grimm, Marion, Iowa; Pigeons, Walker Graham, Dr. Jack Horn and A.J. Stratton, Fort Worth, Texas, and Fred Langridge, Dallas, Texas; Birmingham Roller pigeons, Merl Ed Emerson of Muskogee, Oklahoma, and Floyd L. Mayberry, Marlow, Oklahoma.

Owning and grazing stocker calves not automatic profit

There's little good news about stocker cattle enterprises for this fall and winter.

"High costs relative to livestock prices offer a dim outlook for owning and grazing stocker calves," says Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Such operations have experenced substantial losses the past two years.

"When venturing into the stocker cattle business, accurate cost and return estimates are crucial," notes Lovell. "Valid decisions in choosing the most profitable combination of calves and grass are dependent upon accurate production cost estimates and correct expectations of the future cash market

Don Marble selected to lead Target 2000

Dr. Don Marble of South Plains has been selected to help lead The Texas A&M University System into the 21st century as a member of the TAMUS Target 2000 Project Committee.

The Target 2000 Project brings together more than 250 prominent Texans and other friends of the university from around the nation to undertake a comprehensive study of the goals and objectives to be attained by the system by the turn of the century.

The Texas A&M University System, with an annual budget of $528.6 million, includes four academic units — Texas A&M University, Prairie View A&M University, Tarleton State University and Texas A&M University at Galveston; four agricultural agencies and services — the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Forest Service and the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory; and three engineering services and agencies — the Texas Engineering Experiment Station, the Texas Engineering Extension Service and the Texas Transportation Institute.

The project includes task forces on academic institutions, agricultural agencies and services, and engineering services.

Cotton industry tours planned by EOC

The development of the cotton industry on the South Plains will be explored through a series of tours planned by the Enrichment Opportunities Committee of the Women's Council of the West Texas Museum Association.

The first tour day, Wednesday, Nov. 11, will begin with a 9 a.m. coffee and a film on the cotton industry presented by the National Cotton Council at The Museum of Texas Tech University. After the film, the tour bus will leave for the fully automated Friendship Cooperative Gin in Wolforth. Cost of the tour is $6 and reservations must be made by Friday, November 6.

Other tours will be January 20 to the Littlefield Denim Factory, where the local cotton is converted into cloth, and February 17 to the Texas Tech University Textile Research Center.

Tours are limited so early reservations should be made by sending a check for $6 for each tour to the Women's Council of the West Texas Museum Association, P.O. Box 4499, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79409.

For additional information, contact the WTMA office at 742-2443.

Government to plan set-aside program

With a lot of cotton being produced this year, prices are down. This dilemma may lead the government back into agriculture to create a cotton set-aside program—a program in which farmers would be paid not to grow cotton on a certain amount of their land.

"Interest in set-aside programs always increases when production is up and prices are down," says Dr. Ron Knutson, economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Since Secretary of Agriculture Block recently announced a 15 percent wheat set-aside, interest has grown regarding a similar program for cotton."

Such a program would be optional for cotton farmers, explains Knutson. If they opted to participate, they could not plant cotton or any other crop for harvest on the deferred acres. Failure to set aside the acreage specified once in the program would result in the farmer losing any benefits from farm programs, including target prices and loans.

How much would a set-aside program help cotton prices?

"Based on past experiences with set-aside programs, a 15 percent set-aside would result in only a 3 to 5 percent decrease in production," points out

Knutson. "This reduced production would roughly increase cotton prices by 5 percent."

One reason why production would not be reduced more with such a set-aside program is that only one-half to two-thirds of the farmers normally participate. Also, those who do put their poorest land into the program and increase inputs on the remainder of their land to boost production.

So, cotton farmers and their organizations need to ponder the possible effects of a set-aside program as they study the issue, suggests Knutson.

IT'S A FACT

Animal engineering is working to help improve the quality and quantity of mohair garments while boosting producer profits. Selective breeding demonstrations conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and ranchers are providing convincing evidence of the economic value of selecting breeding. Getting high producing, high quality Angora goats together through selective breeding systems increased last year's profits $6.25 per head for at least 20 West Texas goat producers. This is another example of "The Extension Way—People Helping People."

Requirements set for food stamps recipient

The U.S. Department of Agriculture issued new rules requiring food stamp recipients in large metropolitan areas to show photographic identification when receiving their food stamps.

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block said the new photo ID system "will play an important role in joint efforts by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Justice to crack down on abuse of the food stamp program."

Under the new rules, USDA will no longer replace food stamps reported lost or stolen. Block said these and other major anti-fraud measures are part of the Reagan administration's overall effort to eliminate fraud and abuse in the federal food stamp program.

State welfare agencies will be required to institute photo ID systems within a year in food stamp project areas with 100,000 or more recipients, unless they get an exemption from USDA's Food and Nutrition Service. Smaller food stamp project areas may also be required to install photo ID systems if the FNS and USDA Inspector General's office finds it useful to protect program integrity.

"The new photo ID system is principally designed to prevent the issuing of duplicate benefits," Block said. "For example, if a food stamp authorization card is stolen from the mail, the photo ID requirement can prevent an ineligible person from using the authorization card to obtain food stamps illegally. By recording and cross-checking ID numbers, the new system will discourage individuals from attempting to get a double allotment of food stamps by reporting their first authorization card lost or stolen and requesting a second."

"Individuals caught defrauding the government in this program are subject to both criminal and civil penalties. Further, under new legislation recently passed, individuals would be required to pay back any fraudulent benefits received by having future benefits reduced," Block said.

The City of New York, which has had a significant problem with duplicate food stamp issuance, will be the first to implement the new photo ID system. New York plans to begin using the ID system November 1, in conjunction with other new controls which have already cut the rate of authorization card replacements by two-thirds.

In New York and other areas where the photo ID card is mandated, all food stamp households will be required to have a member or an authorized representative of the household get and use the ID card as a condition of eligibility. Exceptions can be made for such cases as an elderly or disabled person who is unable to come to the food stamp application office.

Other new rules will tighten procedures for replacing food stamp coupons and authorization cards which recipients report lost, stolen or destroyed.

Under the new rules, coupons reported lost by or stolen from recipients will no longer be replaced. However, in certain disaster situations such as floods or fires, destroyed coupons may be replaced once in a six-month period. In the past, any food stamp recipient could receive a replacement for their food stamps if they were reported lost or stolen. Such a policy has led to widespread abuse in some areas.

Limits will be placed on the frequency and condition under which local welfare agencies can replace authorization cards lost in the mails or destroyed in a fire or similar disaster.

Block said these new rules represent only the start of a number of new procedures the Food and Nutrition Service will be issuing in the food stamp program designed to reduce fraud, improve program management and assure that benefits go to those actually in need.

The new rules are published in today's Federal Register.

A NEW COOK IN THE KITCHEN

There's a new cook in the kitchen... a cook who's preparing food for fewer people (often only himself or herself), has less time to spend over the stove and who can select from a multitude of food options other than "home-cooked" to get dinner on the table. This new cook is a reflection of the changing structure of the American household.

Since the beginning of the century, the average household size has declined from 4.76 to 2.81 and is expected to drop to 2.6 by 1985. While the female member of the family is still likely to do most of the cooking, she now has less time to spend in the kitchen. Today, 60% of women, ages 20 to 64, work outside the home. And 53% of these women also have children.

Today's consumer has the option of selecting from an increasing variety of convenience foods. In 1900, all bread was homemade. Frozen food made an entrance in 1929. And, the first cake mix was introduced only 30 years ago.

These changes mean families do less home cooking and, therefore, purchase staples, such as flour, in smaller packages. In 1930, the 25-pound sack of flour was the best selling size. Today, it's the 5-pound sack. Many consumers prefer even smaller sizes, such as the 2-pound sack and 13.5-ounce shaker of Gold Medal Wondra* flour.

While home cooking hasn't ceased, recipes must be quick and easy. Here's one that makes good use of leftover turkey or chicken. A real time-saver comes from using Wondra flour, which lets you mix the creamy sauce in seconds because it dissolves instantly and lump-free in cold water.

TURKEY TETRAZZINI

- 1 package (7 ounces) thin spaghetti
- 2 cups turkey or chicken broth (cool)*
- 2 cups half-and-half or milk
- 1/2 cup Gold Medal Wondra* flour
- 1/4 cup margarine or butter
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups cut-up cooked turkey or chicken
- 1 cup sliced pitted ripe olives
- 1/2 cup slivered almonds
- 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese (about 4 ounces)

Cook spaghetti as directed on package; rinse under running cold water and drain. Heat oven to 350°. Mix broth, half-and-half, flour, margarine, salt and pepper in 3-quart saucepan. Heat to boiling over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute. Stir in spaghetti, turkey, olives and almonds. Spread in ungreased rectangular baking dish, 12x7 1/2 x 2 inches. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake uncovered until hot and bubbly, 25 to 30 minutes. 6 servings.

*Chicken broth can be made by dissolving 2 chicken bouillon cubes in 2 cups boiling water. Or use canned broth or broth from cooked chicken breast meat.
