

THE NEW CONSUMERS FUEL building that will hold its grand opening Friday, March 19, has been completed.

Consumer's plans grand opening

The grand opening of Consumers Fuel Association is planned for Friday, March 19, so that the public may tour their newly completed building and facilities.

Free coffee and donuts will be served. There will be a drawing for prizes every hour on Friday. Merchandise specials will begin on Thursday.

The 5600 sq. ft. building has an added waiting area and a total of three bays; one wash bay and two service bays. Tusha Builders, Lubbock, did the construction.

"The older building was outdated and was inconvenient," Larry Barbee, manager, said. "The directors felt that with the new facility we could better serve our customers."

Consumers Fuel is a cooperative owned by its members. Founded approximately 50 years ago they have conducted business from the original building since that time.

Construction of the building began last August. After the first of the year the moving process began. "We're still moving-in," Barbee said.

One of the large warehouses is yet to be moved on to the new property.

Among the services offered by Consumers are: key pump, farm tire, full service, and farm delivery of gas and propane fuels.

It is not necessary to be a member to use any of the Consumer products and services.

In the near future the association will be installing a propane pump for filling bottles and vehicles.

"We invite everyone to stop by and inspect our new facility," Barbee said.

RESIDENTS AND EMPLOYEES of the Lockney Care Center are shown with cookbooks of their favorite recipes which are available for $6.00. Proceeds will go into the Resident's Activity Fund.

BY VICKIE HUTTON

This is one week we won't soon forget. Monday we traveled to Palo Duro Canyon for a picnic. The weather was quite nice and the scenery was breathtaking. We all enjoyed ourselves tremendously. Those going on the trip were Donnie Hester, Mable Griffin, Euna Bradshaw, Myrtle Payne, Richard Lanham, Sam Lide, Mary Jo Fielding, Alma McDonald, Albert Poole, Myrtle Gibson, Linda Martinez and myself. Even though the trip was very enjoyable we were all pretty tired when we returned. Our delicious picnic lunch was prepared by our excellent dietary department. Our next picnic is planned for Monday, March 22, at the Plainview Park.

Besides having our regular bingo games on Tuesday and Fridays, we started a new activity, Current Events Class. Each week one resident will bring an interesting article he or she finds in a newspaper or magazine and read it to us and then we will discuss it. This week Mary McCracken brought an article about the first man electrified in the electric chair from Floyd County.

In discussing capitol punishment, we all had many different opinions. The residents came to the conclusion that it was what makes the world go round.

Thursday, we saw a slide presentation on "Let's Grow Together." This slide presentation was made available to us and all nursing homes in the state of Texas through a grant by the Levi Straus Foundation. This is a very well done and sensitive portrayal of life in a nursing home. We would be happy to show this presentation to any group or church organization who would like to see it. You can contact Laverne Christian or myself at the Care Center.

We lost a very special member of our family this week, Oma Cummings. Mrs. Cummings was a very lovely lady and we loved her very much. She will truly be missed. Our sympathy goes to the family.

We have two residents in the hospital. Bill Holt is in Methodist Hospital and Belva Gibson is in Lockney General. We hope they are feeling better and will be able to come home soon. We really miss them.

Until next time, be happy!

The Rev. Michael O'Connor's

Perspectives

That the government is telling religious groups what they may believe is not exactly new. Government, through the laws it enacts has always told the people what they may or may not do in the moral arena, which is also a province of religious groups.

A case in point is that of the Mormons who were told they could not practice bigamy. Some were arrested because they followed what they believed was a revelation from a prophet which superceded any government dictates. Fortunately, a new revelation was given, and later that whole part of LDS history was denied, and the situation was defused.

Why then are so many religious groups lining up to support Bob Jones University and other groups that practice racial discrimination, even though these supporters find discrimination abhorrent? It is the climate of the times.

The Establishment clause of the Constitution is being used against religion, something it was never intended to do. The original framers of the amendment freely admitted that government support of organized religion was beneficial to the state. But the government was to give equal support to all religions rather than special support to one particular group or creed.

The way things stand now, it is not inconceivable that religious groups could be asked to do things which are not now required, such as establishing affirmative action programs or quotas to bring their staffs or preachers into alignment with government standards on the number of women and minorities they should have; forcing churches to grant homosexuals full status in the church; or any other such whim as some group feels the government should take action on. The club would be loss of IRS tax exemptions on the basis that such exemptions constitute establishment of religion.

What can we do about it? We need to educate people first of all as to the meaning of the Constitution. Then we must exert influence on both the legislators and the courts to apply the intent of the Constitutional amendment rather than the twisted view of the ACLU or any other group which seeks to interfere with religion. Remember the amendment also says "Nor shall prohibit the free exercise thereof."

Then religious groups need to get their act together and make sure that they are really acting on religious principle rather than unreasoning prejudice. Then if they find they are in violation of the law, they must be willing to pay the penalty or conform, preferably the former.

It is a complex issue only because we have made it so. But it is a problem that will not go away quickly. Perhaps through our diligence, we may stem the tide.

Col. Joe Rigby commands "All Infantry" in Korea

By Maj. Michael V. Sullivan

Colonel Joe W. Rigby assumed command of the "All Infantry" Brigade, 2nd Division of the U.S. Army in Camp Hovey, South Korea, during a colors ceremony held in the Camp Hovey Gymnasium January 18.

MRS. GERRY MAX NORRELL

Wedding vows unite Johnson-Norrell

Vickie Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Autry Lee Johnson of Tulia, became the bride of Gerry Max Norrell, March 6, in the First Baptist Church in Tulia. Norrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Norrell of Floydada.

The Rev. Charles Davenport, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tulia, officiated the double ring ceremony. Traditional pre-nuptial music and selections of the bride and groom were presented by Mrs. Thomas Davenport of Tulia.

Guests were registered by Latonya Shelton, cousin of the bride, at a table adorned with silk flowers of the bride's chosen colors, and a candle made with the wedding invitation made into it.

Vows were exchanged before a twenty-one branch spiral candelabra entwined with fern, lemon leaf and apricot satin bows. Twin seven-branch candelabra with greenery and satin bows completed the setting. Pews were marked with fern and apricot bows, mother's pews were marked with a candle.

As each mother was escorted to her seat, they stopped and lit a candle to be used by their children in lighting the unity candle.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of organza, English net, and chiffon trimmed with silk Venise lace. The gown featured a scalloped Queen Anne neckline outlined with pearl sprinkled Venise lace. Lace appliques centered with pearls were scattered over the shoulders and bodice of English net. Shadow sleeves of chiffon over net were highlighted with lace appliques and gathered onto petal point cuffs. The A-line skirt of organza, fell from an empire waistline, and was bordered with appliques and crystal pleated flounce which flowed into a chapel length train. The bride wore a picture hat covered in organza and trimmed with Venise lace appliques and a finger-tip length veil of illusion.

Her bouquet was fashioned in a cascade of fresh apricot roses, white carnations, and baby's breath with apricot and white satin streamers.

For something old, in the bride's bouquet was a handkerchief which belonged to her late grandmother Mrs. Eula Shelton, and a ring belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Willie Johnson. Also in the bouquet was a ring which belonged to the groom's late grandmother Mrs. Georgia Norrell and a handkerchief belonging to his grandmother Mrs. Willie McCormick. For something new, the bride wore her gold watch, a gift from the groom. Something borrowed was a diamond pendant belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Edd Shelton. Completing the tradition was a blue garter, and in her shoe two pennies minted in her birth year and that of the bridegroom.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Michelle Durham of Kress. Bridesmaids were Pattie Johnson of Tulia, sister of the bride, and Christi Norrell of Floydada, sister of the groom. They wore identical floor length dresses of apricot qiana jersey and chiffonette, a symmetrically draped bodice and flowing skirt of sunburst pleats. A sheer elbow length caplet of chiffonette was caught on one shoulder with a cluster of silk flowers. They carried a peasant-type bouquet of carnations with apricot tint and baby's breath. They wore matching flowers in their hair.

Greg Pruitt served as best man. Groomsmen were Bill Moore and Kody Carson, all of Canyon. Russell Johnson of Tulia, brother of the bride, Robert Posey, Chuck Taylor, and Jim Fish, all of Canyon, were ushers.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with a white ruffled shirt, complimented with an apricot rose. All the groomsmen and ushers were attired in brown tuxedos with white ruffled shirts trimmed in apricot and a brown bow tie, complimented with a white carnation with apricot tint.

The bride presented each mother with a long stem rose.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor.

The four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with apricot and white roses topped with fresh flowers, was placed on a white linen cloth covered table. Silk assorted flowers formed the central arrangement. Banana punch, mixed nuts, and homemade mints were served by Latonya Shelton and Meredith Hadley, both of Canyon.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Alvis Miller, Mrs. Richard Cagle, Mrs. J. Thornton, Mrs. Edd Shelton, all of Tulia, and Mrs. Paul Shelton of Amarillo.

The bride chose a three piece natural linen pantsuit complimented with apricot roses for traveling.

Special guests were a host of family and friends.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Thornton of Tulia, aunt and uncle of the bride.

A 1979 graduate of Tulia High School, the bride attended West Texas State University. Her husband is a 1979 graduate of Floydada High School, and attended West Texas State University.

After a short trip to Red River, New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Floydada, where he is engaged in farming.

Texas begins season in June in Palo Duro

"TEXAS," the musical drama of the Panhandle Plains and the Palo Duro Canyon, will open June 16, 1982 and run through August 21, Mondays through Saturdays, and Sunday, July 4th.

For the seventeenth summer season, travelers will drive across the flat plains near Amarillo and Canyon, Texas till the great gash of the Palo Duro Canyon opens at their feet.

For the seventeenth season, they will follow the paved road down into the great abyss as it leads to the theatre nestled in the curve of the cliff.

For the seventeenth summer they will prepare for the show by exploring the Canyon which is 1000 feet deep and a hundred miles long, by riding horses, seeing the formations up close from the Sad Monkey Railroad and by eating barbecue dinner at the theatre.

For the seventeenth summer they will see the story of the Panhandle start in daylight with the festive overture of singing and dancing. Then as the shadows lengthen and the colors change on the magnificent cliffs surrounding the theatre, they will see the lights begin to glow and finally see the great Indian Chief, Quanah Parker, revealed on a rock high above the stage, bathed in radiance, the unexpected guest at a party.

The scenes of the conflicts and struggles between man and man and man and weather, mixed with their hopes and joys, play out against the tall background. Finally the massive lights bring it to blazing color at the end and six horses race by with the flags which have flown over Texas.

When he wrote the script of "TEXAS" in the early 1960's, the author, Paul Green, gave the Canyon a voice, and it has welcomed audiences with this voice ever since.

For tickets and information write "TEXAS," Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015. Prices range from $4 through $7 and there are half price tickets for children in most sections. It is well to make reservations in advance by writing or calling 806-655-2181. Show time is 8:30 p.m.

THE BUDWEISER CLYDESDALES, eight tons of champions, have been an American institution for nearly 50 years.

ABC Rodeo kicks off Wednesday

As a special salute to Lubbock's American Business Club (ABC) Rodeo, the world famous Clydesdales will visit Lubbock March 22-27.

The gentle giants, as the mammoth horses are often called, will join the rodeo parade at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Kiowa dances to be performed at TTU

Traditional ceremonial dances of the Kiowa people will be performed by a nationally-known Kiowa dance troupe during a symposium on the Kiowa at Texas Tech University, March 25-26.

Dixon Palmer of Anadarko, Oklahoma, and The Kiowa Plains Indian Dancers, will perform at noon Thursday (March 25) in the University Center Courtyard and at 10:15 a.m. Friday at The Museum of Texas Tech.

The dances and all events of the two-day symposium, including talks and demonstrations by non-Kiowa scholars and Kiowa politicians, lawyers, writer and artists, are open free to the public. The symposium formally opens at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at The Museum.

Palmer and other dancers, Kiowa artist Ernie Keahbone and Kiowa beadworker Belle Keyviah will demonstrate their arts and crafts during the symposium.

March 24. The parade begins at Broadway and Avenue D, proceeds west to Avenue X, then turns north to Sixth Street. The Clydesdales will then promenade to the Coliseum. The Clydesdales will also make featured appearances every night of the rodeo, March 24-27. The rodeo begins nightly at 8 p.m.

In addition, the public is invited to visit the Clydesdales at the Texas Tech University Livestock Pavilion on the West Campus grounds from 3 p.m. through 7 p.m., Tuesday, March 23.

Visitors are welcome to bring cameras to photograph the magnificent animals at the parade, rodeo and/or the Livestock Pavilion.

Appearing with the Clydesdales during their Lubbock appearances will be the Budweiser Texas Rolling Store, a shop on wheels loaded with Texans' favorite beer-branded merchandise. The store stocks an entire line of merchandise, emblazoned with a special "Budweiser in Texas" logo, which is not available outside Texas. Many of the most popular Budweiser and Clydesdales items from Anheuser-Busch's standard line of merchandise will also be for sale.

The Clydesdales' appearance, and that of the Rolling Store, will be made possible through the efforts of Standard Sales Co., wholesalers of Budweiser, Michelob, Michelob Light, Budweiser Light and Natural Light beers.

Visitors to the Clydesdales' stables March 23 may watch as the spectacular horses are meticulously groomed by expert housemen. Their coats are brushed to a sheen, their manes and tails are braided with ribbons, and their black and brass hardware is polished daily.

However, all this preparation, which requires five hours of strenuous work daily, does not go unnoticed. The Clydesdales meet millions of people at their 300 annual public appearances, which range from state events to national festivities such as the Cotton Bowl Parade.

A Budweiser tradition since 1933, the Clydesdales are bred at Grant's Farm in St. Louis County, Missouri, where between 20 and 30 foals are born each year. Descendants of the huge horses bred centuries ago to carry knights into battle during the Crusades, the Clydesdales stand just over six feet at the shoulders and weight between 1,000 and 2,000 pounds. They are characterized by their bay color, four fleecy white stockings and feet, a blaze of white on their face, and a black mane and tail.

For public appearances, each horse wears a custom-made black and brass harness and custom-forged shoes, which weigh four pounds each.

Lakeview News

Lakeview Community receives 3/4 inch of rain

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

A good slow 3/4 inch rain Saturday night has made the Lakeview fields perk up. Cattle have been removed from wheat and the growing season is on.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrison ate Sunday dinner with their son and family. Mr. and Mrs. Max Harrison.

Dr. Dilford Carter of Texas Tech University and Mike Bishop were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop. Mrs. Mike Bishop, who teaches art in the Ralls schools, was enjoying spring break with a visit to her parents and other relatives in Oklahoma.

Marlis McGaugh and other students presented the melodrama, "The True Heart Boarding House," for the U.I.L. contest at high school Tuesday.

Guests at the Joe Thurston farm this week included their daughter, Johnny and her husband, Jack Ward. They arrived Saturday afternoon to help Joe and Alta prune trees and stayed for supper. The Lubbock school where Johnny teaches is out for spring break.

Sunday afternoon Sandy and Rob Core of Lubbock brought their two daughters, Alyssa and Ashley, to stay until Thursday with Sandy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thurston. The Cores and another couple flew to San Francisco, California for a spring vacation during the school break. The little girls, who look exactly like their mother, enjoy watching the cotton tail rabbits nibble grass on the front lawn these warm days.

Mrs. Q.D. Williams went to Truscott Tuesday for a birthday dinner honoring her father, Edgar Jones, on his 78th birthday. She took a car load of pot plants started from her own house plants and gave them to her sisters. Oil leasing and production has that area excited. Part of the area is in the Palo Duro Basin. Over one county, in Hardvan Basin, a well blew on Wednesday, going for oil and hitting natural gas, too.

On Monday it was still blowing 6000 barrels a day and burning. Fire fighters from Houston were on the way as soon as they finished up a fire there. An oil land man from Vernon said his company is getting their maps together and preparing to start leasing on the South Plains including Floyd County. He said his company pays a standard three-sixteenths and five dollars a year rental. I believe land owners will be ready for an offer. Salmon Brothers, Inc., of Wall Street, report in the March issue of "Oil and Gas Investor," magazine, the drop-in oil rig activity the past few weeks is not entirely due to the world oil glut; they say it is because of severe weather and the problems of moving rigs at this time of year, operators just getting their budgets together for the year, and the drilling fund business - shallow drilling is in for hard times. If interest rates decline, drilling companies can borrow more and drill more, the investment firm predicts.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pyle and children attended funeral services for Paula's grandmother, Mrs. Zach Cummings, held Sunday in the First Baptist Church in Lockney. Paula and the children are recovering from colds during Jason's spring break from his first grade classes.

Holt Bishop ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop Saturday. Nancy looked in on her father, Sid Brown, while Geraldine and Pete Calloway were in San Angelo for a few days visiting Kay and Speck Brian.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bertrand attended the Community Concert series program in Plainview Monday evening. Guest artists were Keith and Rusty McNeil, who presented a history of America in folk songs. Sunday before last, William attended a Methodist Church choir practice in Matador. While he was gone, Faye accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Orville Newberry to Tahoka. There she visited her daughter, Jill Warren, and family. The Newberrys went on to Lamesa to visit their son, Dale Newberry, and family.

Mrs. Buell Neff and other Neff relatives are staying close to the rest home these days to be near Mrs. Annie Neff. Mr. and Mrs. Ira Capshaw (Lelia Fay Neff) of Arkansas are here to be near her mother, and brought their granddaughter, Debbie. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Woody of Lubbock are also here. Another daughter, Mrs. Pauline Eatherly, was flying in from Arizona. All the relatives took their dinner to the Shorty Neff home Sunday and ate together.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bertrand were Sunday dinner hosts to Mr. and Mrs. William Bertrand.

Fruit trees have bloomed all over the community. Grass is greening in pastures. Those snows and rains last month are paying off now. A terrible sandstorm Monday took lots of roofing shingles off of buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy McGaugh and Marlis took a picnic lunch to Roaring Springs Ranch Saturday. On Sunday the McGaugh's attended the wedding of Phyllis Johnson and Randy Fry at South Park Inn in Lubbock. Marlis and other local students who are attending tap and jazz dance lessons at Plainview are preparing for their spring recital.

Union setting is going on during these warm days.

Mrs. Q.D. Williams visited her niece, Mrs. Ed Mobley and little son, in the Hale Center Hospital last Thursday. The baby has allergies and respiratory problems, but is home this week.

Miss Lacy Golightly celebrated her fourth birthday March 6, with her cousins from Levelland, Amy and Brian Guess, helping share the cake, ice cream and cokes. Other guests were Tiffany and Teresa Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. Duane McClintock, her brother, Rance, and parents Mr. and Mrs. Dayne Golightly. Mrs. Dean Watson dropped in with gifts and greetings from her children.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayne Golightly and children and Mr. and Mrs. Duane McClintock were in Tahoka Monday to attend funeral services for Mike Reid, husband of their cousin. This young man was injured in a car wreck and lay in a coma for three weeks. He is survived by his wife and two children. Dayne and Penny were in Ft. Worth visiting her grandmother, Mrs. C.W. McClintock when Cheryl Guess called them about Mike, and they returned home for the funeral.

Mrs. Don Harrison was in Lubbock Tuesday. Several families are visiting out of town during the school vacation.

Waddington Family to appear in Floydada

The Waddington Family of Harrah, Washington will be appearing at the First Assembly of God Church, Floydada, for a special musical concert at six o'clock, on March 21, Sunday.

Members of the team are: team leader, Tim Waddington; his brothers and sister, Aaron, Simeon, Caleb, and Miriam; and Tammi Fauth.

The Waddington Family have appeared throughout the United States and Canada. They have ministered at youth rallies, camp meetings, crusades, conventions, state fairs, and rodeos for the last seven years.

They have recorded three long-play albums, which are available in eight-track and cassette, also. Their music is modern contemporary country which they believe appeals to the young and old alike. Their main goal as musicians is to uplift the name of Jesus.

Tim Waddington also preaches a straight forward message with a desire to challenge and stir hearts. His messages deal much with everyday living and the homes of this great nation. Tim, his brothers and sister are five of a large family numbering nineteen children. Tim says that they credit a lot of their ministry to the Godly morals and standards they were raised with.

Pastor Jim Guess invites the public to hear this inspiring young family of musicians. You may call the Pastor at 983-2887 or 983-3319. Admission is free.

Fruit trees begin blooming in Center Comm.

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN

Monday, March 15: I was surprised to find on Saturday that spring was arriving. For I found fruit trees blooming. And the dead weeds and grass - when I started cleaning my yard - that underneath were green grass, even weeds in bloom. Time flies. I hope not all the fruit gets killed by a late freeze. The shower Saturday nite was welcome. It has been dry so long.

Brother Payne has surgery the first of last week at Caprock Hospital, and we are glad to report he seems convalescing as well as can be expected.

His place in the Calvary pulpit was taken Sunday by a Wayland ministerial student from Calvary Church, Kelly Warren.

Mrs. Clarence Ashton is reported some better.

Mrs. Hartline is home again.

Mrs. Anthony Latta drove four of us to Crosbyton last Tuesday afternoon to the "worker's conference." Mrs. Mayfield, Mrs. Bradley and myself and Mrs. Latta. It was wonderful. Years since I had attended one. Since it is near my youth feel stomping ground (Mt. Blanco). I saw several old friends. One always enjoys the good dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Latta had all their children and families home for dinner Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Latta and three children of Mt. Blanco, Mr. and Mrs. David Latta and sons of Floydada and daughter, Carol, of Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Green and Annie of Peralta, New Mexico, arrived at the Green home Saturday evening and left early Sunday to be on their way to Dallas for a reunion of the wife's relatives by noon, Clyde's daughter, Gretchen. Shore had already arrived from Karachi, Pakistan.

Mrs. Fred McDougale and son of Crosbyton visited Friday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brewer.

John Warren and family of near Lubbock came Sunday to visit his mother, Mrs. Elmer Warren. They left

Mrs. C.M. Meredith expects her daughter, Mrs. Nancy Vertrees and girls of Dallas, to come soon for a visit.

Mrs. Donna Gooch and daughter of Lubbock came Sunday to visit her mother, Mrs. J.D. Welborn. She left the daughter, Clarisa, to visit her grandmother for the week.

The wind is blowing a gale this P.M.

Grazing cattle - is it profitable?

Grazing irrigated wheat in 1982 until April, may or may not be profitable. Profitability of grazing depends on expected grain yield, wheat price, and the value of cattle gains. Owing cattle or leasing out the pasture also makes a big difference. If expected wheat yield is around 45 bushels per acre and wheat price is $4.05 a bushel, grazing should be terminated by April 10, if farmers own cattle.

Grazing wheat until April 10 will increase profit $16.00 per acre over removing the cattle on March 20. From March 20 to April 10, cattle gain with a 1.5 head per acre stocking rate is $28.00 per acre. Grazing wheat during that time reduces potential grain yield $12.00 per acre according to Dr. Wyatt Harman, Agricultural Economist for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Amarillo. The economist also pointed out that farmers leasing pastures that have a 45 bushel per acre yield potential would profit by taking cattle off by March 20, because lease money is not as much as the $12.00 per acre loss in potential yield.

The economist made his calculations on three years of research done at the Texas A&M Research Field at Etter from 1969 to 1972 by Cecil Regier, Research Association in Charge, and the late Dr. John Shipley. Grazing prior to March 20 did not reduce yield unless an unusually warm spring speeded early growth and wheat started jointing. Grazing from March 20 to April 1 cut three year average wheat yields from 48.3 to 45.9 or 2.4 bushels per acre. Grazing April 1 to April 10 cut yields one more bushel per acre and grazing from April 10 to April 20 as wheat heads developed, cut yields 13.5 bushels per acre. Continuing grazing until April 30 dropped yields another 7.3 bushels per acre to 24.1 bushels per acre or about 50 percent of the yield possible without grazing after March 20.

Harman said dollar losses in wheat yields have to be balanced with the profits from cattle gains. In the study at Etter, Shipley and Regier found that cattle gained 1.7 pounds per day from March 1 to March 20 and 1.8 pounds per day from March 20 until April 10. Then gains jumped to 2.8 pounds per day through May 1 because cattle were eating immature wheat heads and grain.

The economic analysis for 1982 conditions assumed that 400 pound cattle were purchased on November 1 and gain in pounds per day was 1.5 until March 1, 1.7 to March 20, 1.75 to April 1, 1.8 to April 10, and 2.5 to April 20. Cost of owning the cattle included a two percent shrink at sale, 5.8 cents a day care cost, and 15 cents a day interest charges per head. Selling price for feeder cattle was set at $65.00 a hundred.

Three wheat prices of $3.55, $4.05, and $5.00 per bushel were used. This is similar to the 1982 loan rate, target price or price for seed wheat. He also made comparisons with low, medium and high wheat yields of 25, 45, and 75 bushels per acre and stocking rates of 1 or 1.5 cattle per acre. With these variables, the most profitable dates were determined to take cattle off wheat pasture for farmers owning cattle or growers that lease wheat pasture.

In general, when expected wheat yields and prices increase or stocking rates decrease, grazing must be terminated earlier to make maximum profit. Owners of both cattle and pasture can realize more money from grazing and can graze longer than farmers who leased pasture last fall at $2.00 per month per hundred weight of cattle.

Assuming a stocking rate of 1.5 head per acre, 45 bushel per acre wheat and $4.05 per bushel price, farmers owning cattle can continue grazing until about mid-April. High yielding varieties with full irrigation that will produce 75 bushels per acre should not be grazed after April 10. Grazing can be extended to late April if yield expectations are 25 bushels per acre provided cattle gains can be maintained at 2.5 pounds per day.

Farmers expecting 25 bushels per acre and not owning cattle should stop leases by April 10. If higher yields are anticipated, pasture leasing should be stopped by March 20 for maximum profit.

Harman said 1982 prices offer opportunities to make profits from grazing cattle on irrigated wheat. Knowing when to take them off spells the difference between profits or loss. TEXAS AGRICULTURE DAY PROCLAMATION is being signed by County Judge Choise Smith.

Texas Agriculture Day set for March 18th

Our country has a long tradition of agricultural production. Though much of the labor of farmers and ranchers has gone unrecognized, we realize that their contribution to this nation's food and fiber supply is vital to the health of our citizens and of our economy. The farmers and ranchers of Texas have made this state a leader in national agricultural production.

Today agriculture is the only industry that is experiencing increased productivity. In the 1930's a farmer fed only ten people; now he grows enough food for seventy-eight others. Two out of every five acres support crops and livestock for export. This great productivity now comes from only three percent of the nation's population, when a half century ago, fifty percent of America's working force was engaged in farming and ranching.

Agriculture truly is the heartbeat of Texas. And farm families sustain that heartbeat.

Therefore, we hereby declare March 18, 1982 as TEXAS AGRICULTURE DAY in Floyd County and encourage all citizens to join in observances of appreciation for our farmers and ranchers, their families, and the many institutions and industries which contribute to the food and fiber production of this county.

Hightower urges U.S.D.A. to use stored commodities

Congressman Jack Hightower has urged the representatives of two key agencies within the agriculture department to be creative in solving the costly problem of surplus commodities stored in the Texas Panhandle. The commodities are technically owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC), an arm of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In hearings before the agriculture subcommittee of the house appropriations committee, Hightower pressed Seeley Lodwick, assistant secretary for Commodity Programs, and Mary Jarrett, assistant secretary for Food and Consumer Services. The two officials were appearing before Hightower's committee representing the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and the Food and Nutrition Service respectively. The congressman argued that their agencies should be making use of stored commodities instead of merely "sitting on them." Hightower said this would save tax dollars and get rid of reserves that are depressing market prices. Under the present system, the federal government must pay storage on these stored commodities such as corn, wheat, cheese, etc.; if they spoil, the losses are total and the government must cover the cost.

"Corn can be used, for example, in both the Food For Peace program and used as corn meal in many of the programs under the jurisdiction of Food and Nutrition Services." Hightower explained to U.S.D.A. officials. "There are some 30 million bushels of #1 to #3-grade corn stored in Texas that could be used for export under Public Law 480. Or, they could be ground into corn meal for use in the Commodity Supplemental Feeding program."

Hightower went on to say that "these huge national stocks are costing the farmers a great deal in terms of depressing market prices for their products. The taxpayers are paying in terms of storage costs. The corn from the last grain embargo has been in storage for over a year and the U.S.D.A.

ought to be doing more than just sitting around waiting for a crop failure that bad weather before moving that excess supply," Hightower commented.

"If you need help from Congress, tell me," Hightower said to Lodwick and Jarrett. "I want to help. I will work with you until we start seeing some results."

Better Business Bureau warns of a certain land promotion

The Better Business Bureau of the South Plains has been receiving many calls on a certain land promotion called Nocona Hills at Sherwood Shores, P.O. Box 339, Clarendon, Texas 79226.

Persons receiving an "official-looking" letter from National Certification Center of Omaha, Nebraska should be aware that this is the firm promoting unimproved land sales in the Sherwood Shores edition of Lake Clarendon. You have not "won" anything other than a chance to have your name drawn in a drawing only if you go to see the land being promoted. The letter that you receive from National Certification Center clearly states "Any gifts not awarded visitors to this project or visitors to other similar sponsors will be awarded by a random drawing on January 15, 1983. Each visitor to this project will be automatically entered in the drawing...."

The Better Business Bureau offers this advice on land promotions. If you are interested in buying unimproved land, it might be worth the trip to go see the lots offered; however, you must decide this before going. Don't be misled into thinking that you are going to get the prize when you go; your name will be put into a drawing. It has been the Bureau's experience by the phone calls received that everyone that has called has been in the First Prize Category. Remember, this land is unimproved; will there be access to sewage, electricity, roads, zoning, etc? Most of all, please be aware that purchasing real estate can be one of the most expensive and complicated transactions for the average consumer, so we suggest that you seek the advice of a reputable attorney.

If you have any questions, call the Bureau at 763-0459, for out-of-towners, 1/800/692-4466.
