ELIZABETH RILEY AND TRUDY HAZLETT

SWPS honors Elizabeth Riley

Elizabeth Riley will be honored with a retirement reception Friday, October 29 from 2:30 to 4:00 p.m. in the Garden Room of the First Baptist Church by Southwestern Public Service.

Office manager Kenneth Tate said, "Elizabeth has been around so long that some adjusting will be expected before everything becomes routine again."

Despite almost 24 years of service, Mrs. Riley has had only two office managers. Joe Parrish served as manager of the Lockney office since its opening in 1957 in the building where J&M Upholstery headquarters now. The office was moved into its present location in 1962. When Mr. Parrish retired in 1972, Kenneth Tate transferred as manager from Silvertown.

Among the three employees in the Lockney office, they have 77 years of combined service. Tate has 36 and Robert Webb, service manager, has 17.

Mrs. Riley has been receptionist-cashier, handles trouble calls and computer transactions, and operates the radio to their mobile units and other areas such as Silvertown, Floydada, Plainview and Lubbock.

The Lockney office services South Plains, Aiken and Lockney for a total of 1450 meters. Mrs. Riley said the biggest change in her duties since she began was going from manual to computer meter readings. She originally figured kilowatt hours manually, which was then sent to the Amarillo office where the billings were made.

The Rileys have two daughters, Martha Wynn Riley teaches Eskimos and coaches them in basketball in Anchorage, Alaska. Sandy Riley, a second daughter, also teaches. She teaches the second grade in Seminole, Texas.

Mrs. Riley was raised in a family with three sisters and one brother. Her brother passed away in 1948. Her sisters reside in Waco, San Angelo and Natalia near San Antonio. Two of her sisters plan to attend the reception.

Mrs. Riley's father was a general practitioner, practicing medicine in Kerr County for more than 50 years. Her mother served as his nurse.

Mrs. Riley assisted him in nursing duties many times, with her goal set on becoming a surgical nurse. But when she graduated, she attended a business course in Kerrville instead.

Mrs. Riley's husband John is retired from farming. They have a retirement home at Ingram near Kerrville close to where she was raised. They have a creek that runs into Johnson Creek, which is a tributary of the Guadalupe River.

"WHEELS FOR LIFE" Bike-a-thon Winners—Joe Guerrero, Donna Vernon and Clint Carthel. Not pictured is Wesley Teeter.

Locals ride in bike-a-thon

Riders for the St. Jude Children's Hospital "Wheels for Life Bike-a-thon" gathered Saturday at the Lockney track field.

The following winners received the three top prizes: 1st place, 24" bicycle, Donna Vernon, who collected $156.25; 2nd place, AM/FM stereo headPHONE, Clint Carthel, $114.00; and 3rd place, $15.00 gift certificate, Wesley Teeter, $60.00.

Six riders will receive St. Jude's T-shirts for collecting $25.00 or more. They are Donna Vernon, Clint Carthel, Wesley Teeter, Kelly Bush, Joe Louis Guerrero, and Susie Nuncio. Donna and

Their retirement plans include having enough time to enjoy their retirement home more than they have been able to manage so far. "Up to this time," Mrs. Riley says, "I have not had time for hobbies. I love to cook, fish, and garden. Maybe there will be time for some or all of those."

Trudy Hazlett To Assume Duties
Trudy Hazlett will assume the duties as cashier and receptionist in the SWPS office Monday morning. She has been working in the office for several weeks prior to Mrs. Riley's retirement.

She is the wife of Guy Hazlett, administrator at Lockney General. The couple have two sons, Patrick, 13, and Curtis, 8, a third grader in Mrs. Poole's room.

Mrs. Hazlett comes to SWPS with several years' experience as an executive secretary and an administrative assistant.

Her experience includes being working for an electric company in Andrews, an assistant corporate secretary-treasurer for a clothing manufacturing company in El Paso, and eight years in cosmetology.

"I love Lockney," Mrs. Hazlett commented. One reason the Hazlett family chose to move to Lockney was the smaller school. "I am convinced a teacher can make or break their students. I believe Lockney has some of the finest teachers anywhere around," she added. Patrick is involved in football.

The family is active in church activities at the First Baptist Church. They also enjoy almost all outside sports so long as they can be together. They particularly like to fish and swim.

Mrs. Hazlett was raised near San Saba where she graduated from high school. Her parents reside on a ranch 22 miles from there presently. She has an older sister who is a teacher, and a younger brother who lives in Austin.

She was raised in an agriculture atmosphere, raising horses from an early age. She was very active in 4-H as a child. She raised livestock and participated in barrel racing, being named Outstanding 4-H Girl in San Saba High School. She was also active in sports.

In addition to the duties previously performed by Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Hazlett is looking forward to the challenge of integrating a new terminal system in their office soon.

"I enjoy staying busy," Mrs. Hazlett commented. She said she was going to enjoy meeting the people at her work. "It will help me to familiarize myself with the Lockney people."

You Are Invited

We would like to announce the soon-to-come marriage of Lester G. Frankenstein to the most gracious and beautiful daughter of the well-known ghouls, Mr. and Mrs. Standoffish, Eloise P. Standoffish.

Lester G. is at present in Show Biz hoping to make a "scream" in the movies, while Eloise P. is planning to be strictly a society beauty and brain.

Lester's parents are from Creepy Corners USA and are in the graveyard business????!! Eloise's parents are well-known for their teeth we weren't real sure if it was because of dentistry, or "other-wise"????!!

Lester and Eloise cordially invite each and everyone to come to the Cub Scout House across from the Dairy Queen to help celebrate their wedding from 10:30 till midnight.

The Spook House and other activities will be open from 6:00 to 10:00 that evening for all ghouls and brave people.

Please come and win a prize from any of our booths. Proceeds go to Tiger Cubs and Cub Scouts.

FRANKENSTEIN AND BRIDE

Lewis holds Baptist revival

Bro. Murl Rogers, Pastor, and the members of First Baptist Church, Lockney, extend a public invitation to Revival services Sunday, October 31 through Sunday, November 7.

The Rev. Derral Lewis, Pastor of Bykota Baptist Church in Amarillo, will be preaching, beginning with the evening service at 7 o'clock Sunday.

Bro. Lewis was born in Fisher Co., Texas; graduated from Union High School (valedictorian) near Brownfield; has a number of fully accredited degrees from various colleges and Universities, and is currently preparing to present a thesis for a Doctor of Theology Degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. The subject of the thesis is, "The Plan of Redemption Through the Bible."

Bro. Lewis surrendered to preach and was licensed at the age of 17; but pursued business interests for a time before making a new and real commitment to preach in 1962. Since this time, Bro. Lewis has continued to pastor growing churches in the West Texas area.

He has preached 55 revivals in West Texas, Eastern New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas in the past 19 years; and has served on committees of several associations and the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Bro. Lewis and his wife, Betty, have one daughter, Kathy Terrell of Shallowater; and two sons, Rick Lewis of Lubbock and Derral Jay Lewis of Perryton.

Richard Campbell, a native of Matador, will be leading the music beginning with the evening service on Monday. Richard is a graduate of Matador High School and Texas Tech University. He was selected to the All-Southwest Conference team twice, and Second Team All-America in 1969. In 1970 he was invited to play in two post season bowl games; the Hula Bowl and the Coaches All-America game, both nationally televised.

It was the Coaches All-America game that brought Richard's football career to its apex. He became the first athlete in history to sing the National Anthem on television before a game in which he was also competing.

Letter to the Editor

I would like to express my appreciation to the following Lockney merchants who donated their merchandise or money for the bicycle, AM/FM radio headphone and tennis shoes that were given as prizes in the recent St. Jude's Bike-a-thon: Brown's Dept. Store, Byrd Pharmacy, Lockney Cable TV, Mize Pharmacy, Pay-N-Save, Rowell This R That, Schacht's, The Tye Co. and White's Auto.

I know that these merchants are asked many times throughout the year to donate for various community activities, and they are always willing to give — even in a year when the economy is so bad.

We are truly blessed to live in a town like Lockney where the doors are open, not only to our merchant's businesses, but also to their hearts!

Many thanks for your generous giving!

Sincerely,
Lisa Mosley, Chairman
St. Jude's Bike-a-Thon

Wofford wins again

Retha Wofford, winner of the Football Contest for the second time in two weeks, won this week's contest. She won her previous contest October 14.

The ladies really did themselves proud this week. 25% of our entries were from the female gender. If we had been giving first, second, and third places, they would have won all three top places. Reeda Cay Smith came right in there for second, and Irma Saucedo was third. Incidentally, all of these ladies have been previous winners.

Let's get out there and support our boys Friday night. They have done their part this fall and have really exemplified what it takes. Injuries have taken their toll, but you never can tell what can happen with enough support and encouragement.

Our sponsors for the Football Contest have been pace setters for showing support for our football team and our new coaching staff. The Beacon would like to say a great big thanks to them for their support.

Davis Lumber Company, Schacht's Flowers, Jewelry & Gifts, Byrd Pharmacy, Lockney Meat Company, Floyd County Farm Bureau, Las Maracas Cafe, and Strickland's Restaurant have all backed our boys throughout the season.

Mrs. Wofford you have done the trick, so come by our office and The Beacon will treat you to a check for $10.00.

"A Man Called Luther"

Martin Luther will come alive on Sunday, October 31, 7:00 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran Church (Providence Community) through the showing of a movie of his life. "A Man Called Luther" is being released in time to celebrate the 500th anniversary of the theologian's birth, approaching in 1983.

Portraying Luther in the movie is Dr. Lee Roy Brandes, a Lutheran pastor and formerly of the Providence Community. "A Man Called Luther" covers 41 years of Luther's life, from the time he entered the monastery until his death.

Dr. Brandes has put all of his time into studying the character, personality, struggles, and teachings of Martin Luther in order to present a realistic view of the man.

Most recently Brandes has traveled to various churches and colleges across the country presenting a three-part dramatic monologue of Luther to live audiences.

Brandes has revised the monologue for movie use so that many more people could share in the experiences of Martin Luther including filming on location the places Luther actually lived and worked.

The movie is of interest to all denominations, according to Brandes, and not merely to Lutherans.

The public is invited to attend the showing of this movie.

KING MIDAS is horrified as he accidentally touches his daughter, Princess Dorothea and turns her into a gold statue in one of the suspenseful scenes from the National Children's Theatre production of the Greek fable, King Midas and the Golden Touch. This captivating play will be presented by Il Penseroso at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. on Monday, November 1, in the Elementary Cafetorium.

Il Penseroso to present play

The Il Penseroso Jr. Study Club will present the famous story, "King Midas and the Golden Touch" at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. on November 1 in the Elementary Cafetorium in Lockney.

Dramatized by Marian DePew Ostrander, "King Midas" featured a cast of professional adult actors of the original touring company of the National Children's Theatre Association of Dallas and New York. The play will be performed with beautifully painted scenery and with authentic colorful costumes and music.

Once upon a time, there lived a very rich King whose name was Midas. There were two things he loved more than anything else — GOLD and one little maiden who played so merrily around her father's footstool. But the more Midas loved his little Dorothea, the more was his desire for wealth and gifts to lavish upon her.

Thus, he gave all his thoughts and all his time to this one purpose. As he acquired more and more gold, he spent more time counting it and wishing it were easier to obtain. During one of these times, a "stranger" appeared and promised to give the King his wish - The Golden Touch - so that everything he touched would turn to gold. The next day when he awoke, everything turned out just as the "stranger" had predicted. Each time he touched something - curtains, chairs, clothes, flowers, food, even people - all became solid gold. The final blow came when Dorothea ran into his arms before he could stop her and...she turned to gold also. By this time, poor Midas was a miserable man and heartbroken, although everything about him was pure gold.

Suddenly, the "stranger" appeared again and Midas begged him to take back the golden touch. The "stranger" took back the power he had given Midas only after he promised to return everything back to its original condition. The King promised he would never love gold more than his fellowmen. All were happy and more considerate of each other following such an experience.

Tickets will be on sale at the door on the day of the performance for 75 cents or may be purchased in advance by contacting any of the members of the club.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

The program was given by Donna Anderson on "Finding Our Place."

Hostesses were Donna Anderson and Holly Hendrix. They served refreshments of fresh vegetables, dip and crackers.

President Duffy Hinkle led all members in the Closing Ritual and Mizpah.

Alpha Sigma Upsilon has photo certificates available

Alpha Sigma Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi still has certificates available for beautiful 11x14 color family portraits. These portraits will be made by The Golden Spread Portrait Shoppe of Amarillo. They are of excellent quality and make great Christmas gifts.

The portraits will be made Saturday, October 30 during the hours of 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. in the Community

Room of the First National Bank of Floydada. The cost of each certificate is $5.95 and may be purchased at the door or by calling 983-3289.

Other poses will be made upon request and pre-paid certificate pictures will be made by appointment. This is a fund raising project with proceeds going to community services.

Be on the "lookout" for Miniature Monsters

On Sunday, October 31, miniature monsters will invade the neighborhoods and the cry, "trick or treat," can be heard throughout the land.

Major C.W. Bell, Region 5 commander for the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today, "Motorists and parents need to take precautions to protect children and prevent disasters this Halloween."

He suggests that small children be accompanied by older children or adults and tricks or treating be confined to their own neighborhoods.

Major Bell also stated, "Costumes should be light in color, short enough to prevent tripping and also be non-flammable. Facial makeup should be used instead of masks or hoods that restrict vision." Parents should not permit youngsters to carry jack-o-lanterns with lighted candles.

Children should be told to look in all directions before crossing streets and to walk, never run. A flashlight carried by the child can serve as a warning to motorists, and children should be instructed to use sidewalks when possible. Motorists should use extra caution in residential areas and look for children crossing streets in a haphazard manner. Parents should remind older children not to vandalize residences, businesses or vehicles. Drivers should take caution on this night and not permit passengers to throw objects such as water balloons, paper, etc. from the vehicle.

Major Bell reminds Texans that there were 752 pedestrians killed and 6,300 pedestrians injured in Texas during 1981. A pedestrian's chance of getting killed or injured are increased by 800 per cent at night. There were 83 youngsters under the age of 11 years killed as pedestrians last year. There were seven pedestrians killed on October 31, 1981. Major Bell stated, "If parents and motorists join together and think of children's safety, Halloween 1982 can be a safe and enjoyable evening for everyone."

Mrs. J.C. Odam visits daughter in Hale Center

Saturday afternoon Mrs. J.C. Odam accompanied Mrs. Bill Rushing and Mrs. Tony Rastetter to Hale Center where she visited in the home of a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Waits and Jeff and Mrs. Waits. Supper guests in the Waits home were Mrs. Bill Rushing, Christy, Angie and Michael of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rastetter, San Angelo, and Mrs. J.C. Odam, Floydada.

On Sunday this group was joined by Mr. and Mrs. Orville Poore, Springfield, Missouri; Mrs. Odessa Cage and Clay, Lubbock; Bill Rushing, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hill and Jeremy, Lockney, and Mr. and Mrs. Kerry

Siewert, Hart. All enjoyed a bountiful noon meal and alot of visiting. The occasion was helping Mrs. Kerry (Elaïne) Siewert and Jeff Waits celebrate their birthdays.

John Waits, Corpus Christi, and Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Hollomon, Lubbock, were unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Poore spent Sunday night in Floydada in the home of his sister, Mrs. J.C. Odam.

They had visited relatives in Lubbock Thursday night through Sunday morning, except for a visit with Mrs. B.L. Breed in Floydada Friday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Orville Poore returned to Springfield, Missouri on Monday.

Kelley chosen outstanding citizen

Virgil Kelley, son of Dollie Cardinal of Lockney, was selected the outstanding citizen at Denver City last week.

The Monday night Chamber of Commerce drew a sellout crowd, and Bum Phillips, head coach of the New Orleans Saints football team, was guest speaker.

Kelley is superintendent of the Denver City Independent School District. He was honored for his work with the youth of the community, as well as for his participation in civic activities.

Kelley has been in education 36 years, 35 of those years in Denver City. He was a junior high coach and teacher from 1947 to 1953. The final year he coached the Denver City basketball team to a state championship.

He became a high school coach and teacher at that time before becoming an intermediate principal for 10 years.

In 1970 he was named assistant school superintendent, and became superintendent of schools in 1977.

In 1981, Kelley was cited as Texas honorary farmer of the year by the Future Farmers of America.

DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN BOB SLAGLE met with Democrats from Floydada and Lockney Monday, October 18, as part of a 75 county campaign tour. He used the election of 1978 as an example saying that the registered Democratic voters neglected to vote. He urged the citizens at the meeting to contact other Democrats and get a good turnout. He also said that with a good turnout, the Democrats could win. Pictured are Slagle, Alton Higginbotham, B.A. Robertson, C.L. Henderson, Ben Ayres, Wayne Collins and Jack Stansell.

Morehead's book released Oct. 1st

Editor's note: Mr. Morehead is the son of Mrs. E.J. Moorehead and its brother of Dorothy Hetchkiss of Floydada.

Richard Morehead's Fifty Years in Texas Politics, by the dean of Texas's political writers, will be must reading for all interested in politics and modern history.

The book published by Eakin Press will be released October 1. Fifty Years in Texas Politics begins with the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt as President and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson as Governor in 1933 and covers the political history that followed into the administrations of Ronald Reagan as President and William P. Clements as Governor in 1982.

Morehead has known every President and been well-acquainted with each Governor during the period. When the writer returned as chief of The Dallas Morning News Austin Bureau at the end of 1978, every living governor except one who was out of the state attended the reception and praised Morehead's contribution to the living history of his time.

"You always asked the right questions. You asked them the right way, and you wrote the answers you got and the analysis of those answers with understanding, with professionalism, with objectivity and as much compassion as you could afford to those less knowledgeable than you," said former Governor John Connally.

"All of us that pass this way in an official or unofficial capacity will miss your talents your words, and your wisdom."

Now this respected journalist has compiled this background into a book.

and added in typical Morehead fashion a look ahead for the remainder of this century based on the report of the Texas 2000 Commission.

Fifty Years in Texas Politics is straightforward reporting, plus numerous anecdotes from Morehead's experiences with politics, politicians and lobbyists.

The author strongly believes the nation's representative system will work well if the public can be made to understand the problems and alternatives.

Morehead tells what he thinks is right and wrong with government.

Most of the illustrations for the book come from Dallas News and library files, and bring back such memories as W.Lee O'Daniel's inauguration in the University of Texas stadium in 1939, President Johnson's rise to the presidency and his heavy imprint on both state and national politics, as well as fifty years of philosophical conflict from FDR's New Deal, through LBJ's Great Society, into Reaganomics.

Earlier in 1982, Eakin Press published Richard Morehead's Texas, a different style book which shows the author's versatility. It compiles true Texas tales written by Morehead, mostly first published in The Dallas Morning News, about armadillos, wild turkeys, writers, lawmakers, and other diverse and interesting creatures.

Richard Morehead and his wife, Judith, earlier wrote the Texas Wild Game Cook Book which is considered

A DETAILED HOME INVENTORY COULD SAVE THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS

Most people cannot remember all of their home's contents following a major fire. The result is a potential loss that could amount to thousands of dollars.

The full amount of the 'contents' insurance you carry as part of your homeowners or tenants policy is not automatically paid. You, the homeowner or tenant, must provide a detailed list of all items stolen or destroyed.

To prove to yourself how important a list can be, just take 10 minutes for a simple exercise. Sit down and itemize from memory everything in one room. Then compare your list against what's actually there. Most people find they've forgotten several things.

I suggest systematically going through every room listing each piece of furniture and clothing. In addition to the name of each item, you should also indicate, as accurately as possible, the date of purchase and the price. Then don't forget to keep your home inventory current by adding all new purchases and gifts.

An excellent method of describing the items listed in the inventory is to take color photos of everything, including inside closets, drawers, etc.

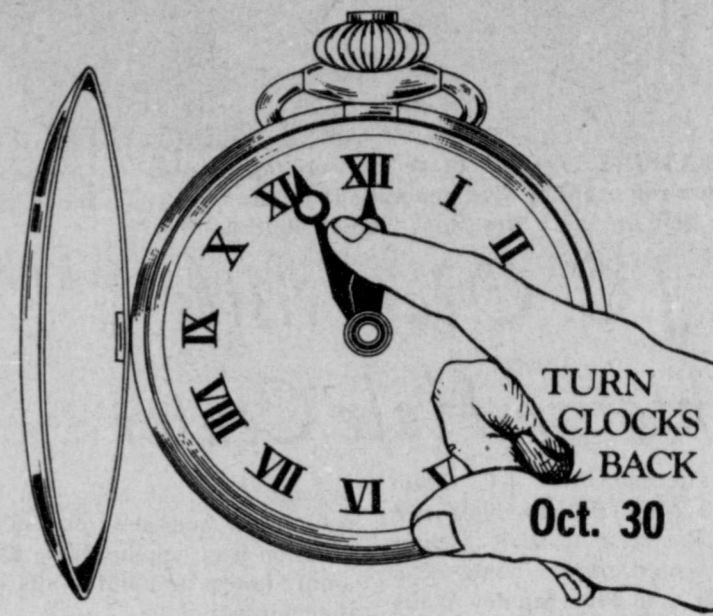

You should NOT keep the inventory list and photographs in your home. They will simply be destroyed along with everything else in the event of a fire, or possibly stolen if burglarized. Make a copy of the inventory for your use, but keep the originals in your safe deposit box.

Many insurance agents and companies have inventory forms you can request to help you organize your list.

After you have completed the inventory, discuss it with your insurance agent to make certain you have adequate coverage. Also, some times — such as jewelry and furs — might not be covered and will require a separate rider on your homeowners policy.

The few hours it takes to complete your inventory could save thousands of dollars, and will definitely save you time and aggravation, in the event of a major fire or theft.

Fortenberry registers at Lubbock Christian College

John Fortenberry is among the 989 students registered at Lubbock Christian College for the fall 1982 semester.

John is a 1981 graduate of Lockney High School and is a sophomore ag-business major. He is a member of the LCC football team.

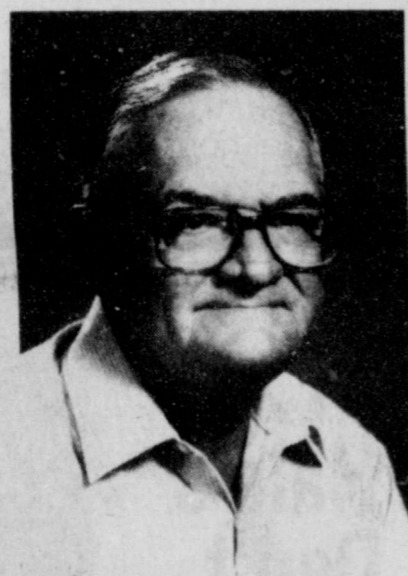

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eddie J. Fortenberry of Lockney.

The purpose of Lubbock Christian College is to provide relevant academic educational opportunities in a Christian environment. The Bible is accepted as God's revealed will and taught as an academic subject.

In addition to its Bible Department, LCC is well known for its Teacher Education Department; Business Administration Department, which is rapidly advancing into the area of computer technology; the sciences, especially Pre-Medical, Pre-Dental and Pre-Engineering; and Social Work. Also, students in Free Enterprise have won numerous awards the past two years for spreading the knowledge of free enterprise to public-school age students.

Newly-appointed (July 31, 1982) President Dr. Steven Lemley has initiated a four-point approach whereby he wants students to find themselves, find their futures, find life-long friends and God.

Michael Hooks presents slide show and lecture

Michael Hooks, associate archivist with the Southwest Collection at Texas Tech University presented a slide show and a short lecture on the Southwest Collection.

The Southwest Collection is an archive of the American Southwest. The area of interest for the Collection is mostly West Texas although it is beginning to include parts of eastern New Mexico as the program broadens.

The Collection includes over 15 million leaves of manuscripts, 500,000 feet of microfilm and 3,000 taped individual interviews. Hooks said that the Collection has an active microfilm program because of the lack of space in the present facility.

Several documents from past U.S. Congressman George Mahon and various items from past Texas governor Preston Smith. Items from Floyd County include 35-40 taped interviews, 10-12 maps, five books, theses, and dissertations and a number of photos.

The Collection has microfilm copies of documents from A. Duncan, J.M. Willson, Sr., Floydada Chamber of Commerce (from 1909-1962), The Floyd County Hesperian (from 1937-1965) and The Lockney Beacon (from 1908-1976).

The Collection also has briefs and maps from Floydada seeking the location of Texas Technological College, now Texas Tech University.

Hook said that the Southwest Collection is not a museum. Museums collect artifacts. The Collection gathers documents.

The Collection is mainly used for sources for various research projects. The Collection is open for anyone to use, for almost any type of research about the southwest. Almost all of the materials are open to the public. The materials that are not open to the public are closed by the owner's or donors request and not the Collection's ruling.

"We are here for the people of the state of Texas and not solely for the students and faculty of Texas Tech," Hooks said.

Presently a folder by folder listing of the collection is being prepared.

If anyone has or knows of a collection of non-current records or personal papers or are interested in using the Collection for research are urged to write Southwest Collection, P.O. Box 4090, Lubbock, TX 79409 or call (806) 742-3749.

MICHAEL HOOKS

Letter to the Editor

Editor,

On November 2 Texas voters are going to have a clear choice for the U.S. Senate between a man who has worked hard and effectively for Texas farmers in Washington and one who has been both ineffective and unconcerned about agriculture during his 14 years in Congress.

U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen needs and has earned our support. More importantly, we need him, because agriculture is the heart of our economy.

Lloyd Bentsen fights for Texas. He was one of the only four Senators who crossed party lines and consistently voted to end the Russian embargo in spite of opposition from both President Carter and President Reagan. He saved Texas farmers millions of dollars by fighting attempts to increase the loan discounts on our cotton. He has supported vital programs like agricultural research and rural electrification. His opponent has consistently voted against funding for agricultural research and was the only Texas Congressman to vote against restoring the REA program when President Nixon killed it in 1972.

Senator Bentsen has been a leader in the effort to cut wasteful spending, to reduce budget deficits and to lower interest rates. Agriculture is going through some tough times right now, and we need Lloyd Bentsen in the U.S. Senate.

Coaches Comments

Slaton has a very physical football team because of their size. Because of this it was very difficult to move the ball against them.

Slaton didn't score until late in the 2nd quarter on a deflected pass that went 40 yards for the first score. The extra point was blocked by Terry Mathis.

On the proceeding kick-off we fumbled and Slaton scored again from the 8 yard line. The extra point was good to make the score 13-0.

With 2 minutes left in the half Slaton's tailback Geryle Lacey ran 60 yards on a sweep. The extra point was good to make the score 20-0 at the half.

Lockney came back to play extremely hard in the second half.

Slaton scored in the fourth quarter after another Lockney fumble to make the final score 27-0.

Slaton had the leading offense in the district going into the game. Our defense held them to less yardage than anyone, but our inability to move the ball and critical mistakes led to the 27-0 win for Slaton.

Biffo Rodriguez, Robert Rendon, Kyle Brock, Terry Mathis, Refugio Vasquez, Steven Johnson, and Moses Blanco all played well defensively.

Robert Rendon dislocated a shoulder in the game and will be lost for the remainder of the season.

Of the 105 points scored by Lockney this year 92 have been scored by Tony Rodriguez or Robert Rendon; both have been lost for the season.

Longhorn JV upends Tigers 16-6

The Lockney junior varsity played its best game of the year against Slaton this past Thursday. The Longhorns started off quick with them moving the ball on runs off tackle. The touchdown came on a sweep around left end by Ritchie Thornton. The extra point was also scored by Thornton on an option play.

The Tigers scored a touchdown in the second quarter on a drive by the tailback who slipped a few tackles to make the score at half Lockney 8. Slaton 6.

In the third quarter the Longhorns tackled the Slaton punter before he could get the ball off on the 16 yard line. The Longhorns scored 2 plays later when Thornton again scored on an option as he cut back across the field. Brent Hallmark passed to Gary Kent for the extra point to move the score to 16-6.

The Horns of the Week were Thornton and Tony Saucedo who played outstanding defense.

The junior varsity host Post JV after the freshman game tonight.

7th grade Shorthorns lose close one to Slaton

The 7th grade Shorthorns lost a tough game to the Slaton 7th grade by a score of 26-14.

Slaton scored three touchdowns before Lockney got on the scoreboard, and went into the fourth quarter with a 20-0 lead.

Lockney then came alive with a 50-yard run by Javier Bernal. With 1:30 left in the game, Slaton scored on a 30 yard pass.

The Horns did not give up as Jimmy Ballejo collected a pass from Todd Hallmark and went 60 yards for the score as time ran out. The "Horn of the Week" was Pat Briggs, who caught two passes, one for a two point conversion.

8th grade involved in defensive struggle

The 8th grade Shorthorns fought hard against Slaton, but fell short 8-0. Slaton had a powerful running attack, but Lockney played well on defense.

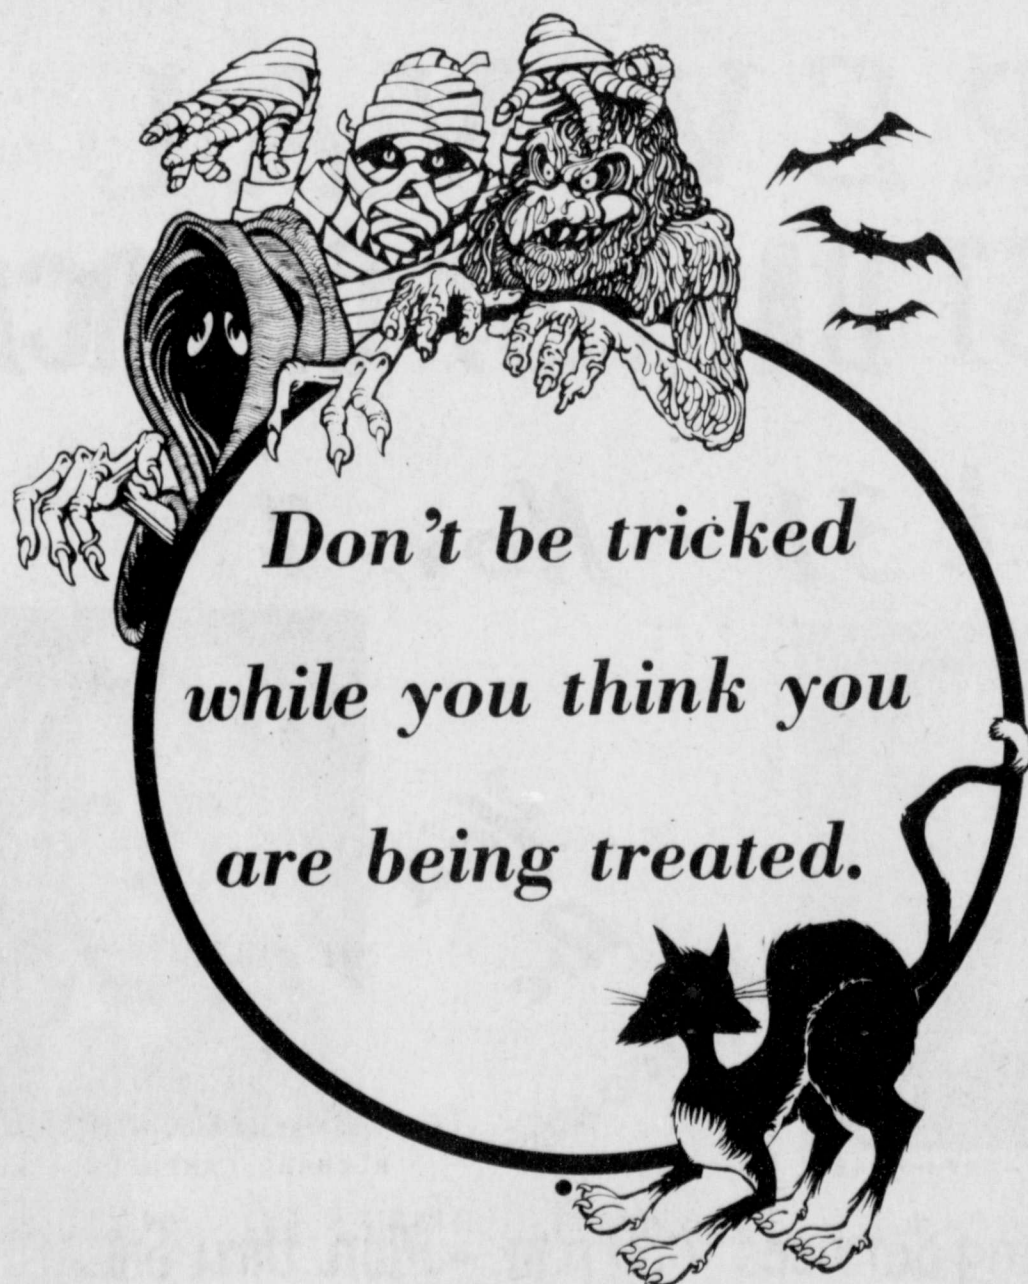

Slaton drove the ball straight down the field for a score in the first quarter.

The two point conversion made the score 8-0.

Slaton's 8th grade has not lost a game in two years. The "Horns of the Week" were Chad Frizzell and Ricky Basaldua.

Loyalty to ones team is one thing but I really went overboard last week. I really felt the Winds could beat that stubborn Post into the ground. I thought we could get it done even into the 3rd quarter. Then along came some problems. Our boys really played hard and showed us they really wanted to win.

The Horns at Lockney had a tough night all night long.

The Red Raiders almost cost me any correct guesses last week. They almost pulled off the upset of the year. They did cost Washington the #1 spot in one of the polls.

Now this week all sentimental feelings aside. I predict the following: No more pro football this year! The Post team will win over the Horns by 14 points.

The Winds will come back strong against Idalou and win by 21.

The Raiders will beat the hapless Longhorns of Texas by 7.

The computer user will win this week! Now for Mr. Yocal I am sure your head is swelling with Pride this week after going 5 or 6 the last 2 weeks.

Your poems are fine even though they don't always rhyme I can't tell who you are and don't even know if you drive a car.

This week and one more is all I'm going to give the score Guess who I am and win the scam.

I played round ball in Lockney in the 60's, went to a school whose initials I like, had 1 child and then 2 more.

& Yocal

Well, Local, we were both a little optimistic about last week's gridiron matchups. You going with the Whirlwinds and Longhorns and me with Tech. You know for a fact that I was closest though - 10 to 3 ain't halfway bad when you're up against the #1 team in the nation. Admit it - I was at least right on the money with my point spread. But, how about you? What happened Local, did that new computer blow a diode or are you predicting with your new Intellelevision Video game. The pistol-packing Raiders of the Hub City almost pulled off a major upset. Oh well, some teams have all the luck. However, I'm sticking with Tech by 3 as they meet Texas in Jones Stadium Saturday.

The Floydada Whirlwinds should fare very well Friday night - I'd say by 7 points. What with the best spaghetti in the world being served before the game; the great Whirlwind spirit; and the meanest, greenest, fightingest machine in action; we should idle-ize Idalou hands down.

Now, Local: I'm supposing you've learned your lesson, but tell me for sure you aren't picking the Longhorns over Post. Son, you need to get your average up a bit before joyriding with upsets. I'm not even that light headed - Post goes on top in this clash.

What's this about us being the same person? First you steal my clues and now - oh well. I've got your identity figured out. I was in the Post Office this last week and saw your portrait hanging there and noticed you're wanted for impersonating a football forecaster.

One clue before my famous poem... Your child may have played at Childress but my child will be playing in the spaghetti Friday night.

I have hair on my face, it's called a mustache. I've often played Santa, who threw open the sash. I believe in honor and having some fun, but when it comes to humor, I like the pun. I like my job and it is my belief, with work like mine you need some relief. I know that you're guessing and might be warm. I used to raise livestock and work on a farm.

Letters to the editor...

When our state was formed more than 100 years ago, the men and women of various races and cultures who settled here saw Texas as a land of opportunity where they could make a life that was limited only by their own initiative and personal drive.

Because of Texas' vitality, people across the nation are now moving here with a pioneer spirit renewed by dwindling economies that have crippled other areas. Although the recession is now having its effect felt here as well, Texas still remains the most prosperous state compared to the rest of the nation.

The history of our state is proof that the struggle for prosperity is an ongoing process, and never a final achievement. That is why no office in the land is more important than that of citizen. Election Day 1982 is a proper time to remind ourselves of this. As citizens, we have the power to help our state weather the recession and to continue our prosperity by exercising our right to vote.

Lately, I have discovered a very disturbing trend. With the election two weeks away, the polls are showing most Texans are neither Democrat nor Republican. Instead, they are undecided. Apathy apparently is as dominant as high interest rates.

Voter turnout is likely to be very low on November 2. This during an election year when more than 200 elective offices -- including all top state officials and all Texas House and Senate seats -- are up for grabs.

With Election Day rapidly approaching, it is important that we ask ourselves a searching question: Who will I have to blame if Texas fails to maintain its status as a land of opportunity?

I believe that Texas will continue to be a leader in this country, a leader in whom we all can have a sense of pride, a sense of participation and a sense of mutual progress. We can accomplish this if we exercise our right to vote.

Please vote on November 2.

Sincerely,
Bill Hobby
Lieutenant Governor

LAWRENCE ADAMS
Services for Lawrence Owens Adams, 72, of Floydada were at 4 p.m. Saturday at Moore-Rose Funeral Home Chapel in Floydada with Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor of First Baptist Church of Floydada, officiating.

Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

He died Friday morning October 22, at Caprock Hospital in Floydada after a brief illness.

He was born in Floydada January 16, 1910. He was a farmer.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. T.P. Moore of Amarillo; and two brothers, S.V. and Dee, both of Floydada.

M.C. 'CLIFF' COOK
Services for Maillum Clifton Cook, 84-year-old retired Van Alstyne farmer who died Monday, October 18, at Meadowbrook Nursing Home, were held at 4 p.m. Wednesday, October 20, in Flesher Funeral Home Chapel.

The Rev. Scott Jordan of the First Baptist Church officiated and burial was in Van Alstyne Cemetery.

Born in Tennessee, he was a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Cook and moved to Van Alstyne in 1902. He married Ruth Coats on December 31, 1913, in Howe.

Mr. Cook had been a member of the First Baptist Church of Van Alstyne since 1908.

Surviving are his wife; daughter, Mrs. Della Mae Bledsoe of Van Alstyne; son, M.C. Cook Jr. of Lockney; sisters, Mrs. Ella Arnold of Sherman and Miss Beaula Cook of Anadarko, Oklahoma; eight grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

Grandsons served as pallbearers.

MAMIE LEE DANIEL
Services for Mamie Lee Daniel, 87, of Floydada were at 2 p.m. Saturday at First Baptist Church, Floydada, with Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. David Seay, of First Baptist Church.

Burial was in Floyd County Memorial Park under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

Mrs. Daniel died at 4 p.m. Thursday October 21, at Floydada Nursing Home after a lengthy illness.

She was born December 12, 1894, and married W.F. Daniel Sr. in Temple. They moved from Temple to Floyd County in 1919. He died January 9, 1976.

She was a member of First Baptist Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Corene Stewart of Levelland and Evelyn Crull of Lubbock; two sons, W.R. and Bill, both of Floydada; a sister, Velma Stevens of Amarillo; seven grandchildren; and 16 great-grandchildren.

LEO W. FOSTER
Services for Leo W. Foster, 69, of Kress, who was accidentally electrocuted Tuesday afternoon October 19, while driving a combine three miles southeast of Claytonville, were at 2 p.m. Thursday, October 21, in the Kress Church of Christ with minister Ralph Biste of Lubbock and Gene McCarty, minister, officiating. Burial was in Plainview Memorial Park Cemetery by Wood-Dunning Funeral Home.

Mr. Foster, a lifelong resident of the Kress and Whitfield area, was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace W.C. Weathered. An auger on the combine he was driving struck a highline pole and caused it to break. The pole then struck the combine, officials said.

He moved to Kress from a farm in Whitfield in 1965.

He married Lucille Thompson December 24, 1935, at Lockney.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, a daughter, three brothers and seven grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials may be made to the International Flying Farmers Association, Mid-Continent Airport, Box 9124, Wichita, Kansas 67277.

HAM FULLER
Services for Ham Fuller, 63, of Hereford were at 10 a.m. Monday at Temple Baptist Church with the Rev. H.W. Bartlett officiating.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery under the direction of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

He died at 1:05 p.m. Saturday at his home. A justice of the peace ruled he died of natural causes.

He was born on February 25, 1920, in Holland, Texas, and married Jesse Lee Wilson on May 20, 1939, in Belton. He moved from Amarillo to Deaf Smith County in 1948. He was a member of Temple Baptist Church and formerly has served as a deacon of Dawn Baptist Church for 18 years. He was employed by Oglesby Equipment Co.

Survivors include four sons, H.S. Jr. of Hereford, Glenn of Carlsbad, New Mexico, Doyl Joe of Dimmitt and George Ray of Littlefield; three brothers, Wilburn of Amarillo and Ray and Frank, both of Salado; five sisters, Mrs. Charles Helton of Abernathy, Mrs. A.C. Mara of Fort Worth, Mrs. Bell Marrs of Floydada, Mrs. Bennie Warrick of Abilene and Mrs. R.N. Daniel of Amarillo; and seven grandchildren.

JOHN SMALLEY
Services for John Jefferson Smalley, 93, of Floydada were at 3 p.m. Monday in First Baptist Church of Lockney with the Rev. Murle Rogers, pastor, officiating, assisted by Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor of First Baptist Church in Floydada.

Burial was in Lockney Cemetery under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home of Floydada.

He died at 8 p.m. Saturday in a Floydada residence after a lengthy illness. He had been under a doctor's care.

He was born in Searcy, Arkansas and moved to Floyd County in 1916 where he married Mattie Dalison June 4, 1921. She died August 27, 1977.

Survivors include four daughters, Elnora Wilson of Amarillo, Elouise Rhodes of Fort Worth, Carrie Smalley of Summertown, Arizona, and Dolores Cannon of Floydada; a son, Gerald of Petersburg; two sisters, Sue Thompson of Floydada and Odie West of Loco, Oklahoma; two brothers, Noah of Bowie and Earl of Garland; 11 grandchildren; 17 great-grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

STUDIE THOMAS
Services for Studie Lee Thomas, 85, of Floydada were at 2 p.m. Tuesday in First United Methodist Church, Floydada, with the Rev. James W. Smith, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Floydada Cemetery under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

She died at 9 p.m. Saturday in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock after a lengthy illness.

She was born in Floydada and married Hal Owens Thomas in Floydada August 24, 1944. She was a school teacher here for about 50 years.

She was a member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors include her husband; a daughter, Sue Menisch of Lubbock; a sister, Vannie Scott of Buena Park, California; a grandson; and several nieces and nephews.

Horns of the Week

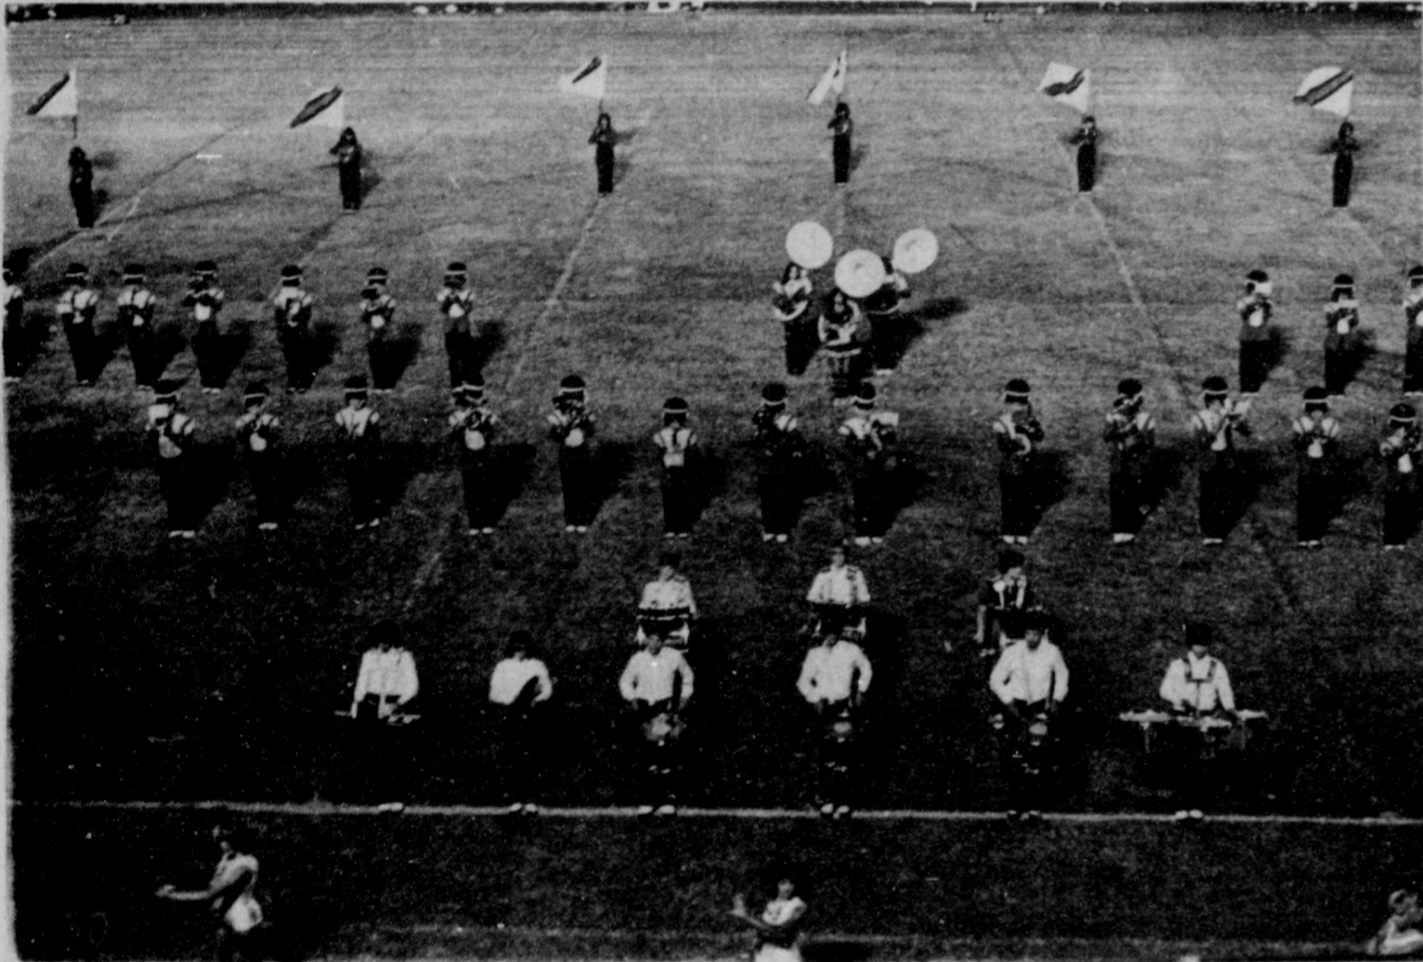

HORNS OF THE WEEK October 15 were [back row] Moses Blanco, Steven Johnson and Michael Carthel; [front row] Jerry Mathis, freshman, and Robert Rendon.

Beat 'em up,
Knock 'em out,
Punch 'em once,
Make 'em shout!
Go Horns!
BEAT POST!

Longhorns are the greatest,
and that's no Bull!

Don't forget the Halloween Carnival Saturday night!

THE LOCKNEY LONGHORN BAND competed with bands in this region and others Saturday at the Texas Tech Marching Festival. It's 85 members have been making a big difference during halftime each Friday night. The seven flags this year are: Maribel Torrez, Georgia Villarreal, Carmen Rodriguez, Rosario Segovia, Hopi Cantu, Jesusa Saucedo, and Cindy Castro.

"Kids Are People Too" presented

"Kids Are People Too" was presented last Thursday by 65 fourth graders in the Lockney Elementary Cafeterium for parents, teachers and students of the elementary school.

Amy Thornton, elementary music teacher, directed the production. She said the fourth grade class had accomplished the program written by Tony Randall, in slightly over three weeks. "It usually takes 4 to 6 weeks to prepare for a program."

Mrs. Thornton, a member of a musical group herself, teaches music to students kindergarten through the fifth grades. Each class receives 45 minutes of training twice a week. Becky Mathis, a high school student, assists Mrs. Thornton 2-3 hours a day. "She helps me any and everywhere I need her. She assisted with the lights, the drapes...you name it, she does it." Today the second grade will present Old McDonald at 2:45 p.m. at the school.

A patriotic program is scheduled for presentation the week before Thanksgiving. The fifth grade will present that program at 2:15 on November 18.

The first graders are slated for a Christmas program shortly before the holidays.

1934 Study Club reviews book

The 1934 Study Club met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Dennis Dempsey with Mrs. Garland Foster as co-hostess.

Mrs. W.H. Bunch held a short business session in which several committee reports were received, and Mrs. J.P. Moss reported that the club had a very successful garage sale.

Mrs. Foster, as the program coordinator, introduced Mrs. Melvin Lloyd. Janet, as she is known to most, was born in Greenville, Texas, moved to Floydada in 1950, graduated in 1962, the year she married Melvin Lloyd. They are the parents of three teenage daughters. The family moved to Friona where they lived for eight years, then returned to Floydada where they are now engaged in farming. Janet is a member of the 1956 Junior Study Club, and she is the TFWC State Public Affairs Chairman.

In keeping with the club program theme "Look for the Beautiful", Mrs. Lloyd reviewed the book "That Certain Something or The Magic of Charm" by Arlene Francis, who has been described as a person who acts as though life were the best party she ever attended.

In her book she reveals the secrets of genuine charm. Counterfeit charm is worse than none at all. One should avoid the sandpaper personality, the infectious yawn, the phony glamour of superciliousness and develop true warmhearted charm. It isn't easy to be one's self, but if one dares to do so, she might be in for a pleasant surprise.

Charm is the most lasting kind of beauty and is available to all women who seek it. A perfect exterior will serve one little purpose if the inner glow is missing.

In her book, the author gives the following short cuts to charm. Get up happy, get organized, be well groomed, face the day without fear, forget past recriminations, do something special for someone else, become an expert in one hobby or interest, and make your home more pleasant. Wipe out one prejudice a day, think about someone you dislike and wish them well, practice looking someone right in the eye while he is speaking, and do not criticize. Read something worthwhile for at least fifteen minutes a day, do something you have been too embarrassed to do, spend five minutes analyzing your fears and guilts, do one job you have been putting off, hold your temper, practice forgetting yourself completely, laugh at your own mistakes, and have faith in a power beyond yourself.

Mrs. Lloyd said that charm might be summed up by the answer given by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt when someone asked her what made her so charming, and she replied, "I just try to be kind."

In conclusion a Charmeter quiz sheet was given to each person so that she could check her own charm points.

The meeting was adjourned by the reading of the club collect led by Mrs. George Springer.

Delicious "halloween" refreshments of cheese soup, cornbread sticks, chocolate cake, tea and coffee were served to the following members and guests: Mmes. Milton Ashton, Allen Bingham, W.H. Bunch, W.L. Davis, Kyle Glover, J.S. Hale, Jr., Anthony Latta, Floyd Lawson, J.P. Moss, W.O. Newberry, Vernon Parker, George Springer, L.B. Stewart, Jr., W.W. Trapp, Walton Wilson, A.L. Wylie, Jr., A.E. Baker, and Melvin Lloyd.

The next meeting will be November 2 in the home of Mrs. Anthony Latta.

Hobby says experience, leadership issues

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said that two of the main issues in his campaign for re-election are legislative experience and proven leadership.

"We have a lean and limited government in Texas, and that's the way I want to keep it," Hobby said. "At the same time, we don't like a negligent government that ignores its responsibilities."

Texas is facing some tough issues such as New Federalism and federal cutbacks, the recession and unemployment, and continued population growth that is severely impacting state services, he said.

"With these issues and others it will be necessary to see that Texas taxpayers are treated fairly, and I will see that we are treated fairly," Hobby said.

"More than ever, we need the experience and management skills of conservative leaders in state government."

Hobby outlined his stand on the other major issues of his campaign:

 The Economy. "I am committed to maintaining a good economic climate that produces jobs and the best way to do this is to maintain our policy of prudent government spending that keeps our taxes low and attracts new business opportunities."

 Education. "I have worked hard to improve the quality of public education during the past nine years, yet there is still room for improvement. Under my direction, the Legislature in 1983 will seek ways to recruit and retain the best teachers available through increased salaries and benefits and improved working conditions. In addition, I want to give local school districts more control over their schools."

 Crime. "I have been at the forefront of the war against crime through efforts to improve law enforcement, expand our court system to speed up trials of accused and relieve prison overcrowding. In 1983, I will ask the Legislature to prepare a comprehensive strategy that attacks crime on all fronts — law enforcement, courts and corrections."

Cosmopolitan Club meet

The Cosmopolitan Club of Plainview met in Floydada at the home of Mrs. Isha Acar.

Business was conducted by president Daisy Senter, after which an auction was held to benefit a worthy cause for Christmas.

Delicious authentic refreshments were served by Mrs. Acar, whose home-country is Turkey.

Enjoying the occasion were: Daisy Senter, England; Dolly Palmer, England; Judy Cranford, England; Pat Rucker, England; Betty Daniels, Germany; Monika Craft, Germany; Elli Anderson, Germany; Kay Ballew, Japan; Mimi Couch, Belgium; Vi Henry, Hawaii; Lisa Howard, Samoa; Denise Baldwin, France; Eunice Hong, Korea; and the hostess. A special guest of Mrs. Acar was Jennifer Walker.

J.P. GUEST, a senior nursing major from Floydada, helped raise $4,000 for the West Texas State University Recreation Club, by phoning friends and alumni of WTSU nationwide during the third annual WTSU Student Foundation Phonathon. Guest is the daughter of Dick and Joy Guest of Floydada.

Plow pans discovered on High Plains

An unusually high incidence of plow pans is being discovered on the High Plains. It is apparently more widespread than expected, and the pans are robbing farmers of valuable opportunities to store moisture. Plow pans are contributing to excessive runoff and soil erosion, extra irrigations and possibly even lower yields.

"It's not obvious, but it's there, a sneak-thief," says Mike Risinger, Soil Conservation Service soil scientist. "The top of the field will usually look pretty soft, fluffy, no weeds, and the trash plowed under. But hard packed just below the surface, about three to six inches down, is the top of a hardpan layer two to four inches thick that defies penetration by water, plant roots, and in some cases even the shovel."

Mike and Shorty Lancaster, High Plains Underground Water District field technician, have found hardpans all too often this year as they randomly cut the dirt across 15 counties to bury tubes and establish neutron moisture monitoring sites for the SCS/HPUWCD cooperative annual soil moisture survey and moisture deficit mapping program. They expected to find some pretty wet soil profiles after the hot, strong spring rains of March through June. Instead they found plow or tillage pans. The data they collected showed that 60 to 80 percent of the heavy rainfall received between March and July was lost to runoff. This was partially due to plowpans which severely decreased infiltration.

Comparing soil moisture measurements at 39 sites installed in March and re-measured in July, Mike and Shorty found only five had picked up more than two and a half inches of moisture. The rest showed less than one and a half inches of new moisture. The increase was surprisingly low after the eight to twenty inches of rain received during the monitoring period this spring. Twenty-three of the 39 sites had serious hardpans. The pans were so compact in some of the plots that it was difficult to dig holes to bury the tubes.

The problem is not isolated. SCS soil experts in Lubbock and Amarillo think it is much worse than expected. Fred Pringle, SCS soil scientist in Amarillo believes the plow pans are widespread. He says, "they exist to some degree over 25 to 30 percent of most fields at some time during the year; but in some fields they are present all the time, especially under disc-type operations."

Hardpans or plowpans are caused by compaction. It destroys the natural soil structure and closes off the small pores and channels which normally carry soil water. The most frequent cause is tire traffic from cultivation equipment or by the downward pressure from the cutting edge of a plow or disc. Tillage pans and plowsoles have developed on many of the fine sandy loams and silt loam soils in our area as the result of management systems that destroy the organic matter in the soil. Running tillage equipment over wet ground also causes severe compaction. Tandem and one-way disc plowed fields are most susceptible to plow pans because these operations only plow up the top six inches of the soil. A deep chiseling operation will break up the pan and allow water to enter at a much faster rate.

Fred Pringle has measured infiltration rates and found some of the lowest moisture intake on Acuff soils growing continuous cotton. Another study of infiltration rates on Acuff soil in cotton at Big Spring's Agricultural Experiment Station found that where traffic was confined and maintained to the same rows for three years, the result was a three-fold increase in infiltration rates in the untrafficked rows. An average measure of infiltration rates in four High Plains soils with and without hardpans (including Estacado, Olton, and Pullman clay loams and Acuff loam) showed dramatic decreases in water intake as a result of compaction. Soils with a pan took in one-fourth as much water in 12 hours. At that rate in a 12 hour set, an irrigator could only apply one inch of water instead of four inches in a soil profile without a hardpan. In a tailwater irrigation operation, hardpans increase runoff and erosion and require three or four times more pumping to get the same amount of water into the ground.

"This was a particularly bad year for pans," says Mike Risinger. "We had unusually heavy rains, wet fields, and lots of trips to fight sand. But we are not suggesting everyone go out and deep chisel. The first thing they need to do is to go dig some holes and find out how bad a problem they have. It may not be cost effective or even necessary for an operator to chisel an entire field. Possibly only the traffic rows need to be chiseled."

Mike suggests pushing a thin metal rod or electric fence post at least 18 inches into the soil at random sites over the field. If the rod cannot penetrate this deep, either conditions are extremely dry or a hardpan exists. Where more than half of the rows in a field are affected, the problem is severe.

A deep chisel operation may only be necessary once every few years over most of the field. It may be needed more often in rows traveled by equipment. But a deep chisel operation can pay for itself in increased stored moisture which reduces runoff and erosion and has the potential to increase yields and profits.

Strike Is Over—The 4-month-old strike of the Waco General Tire plant by the United Rubber workers is over. The plant, where most Farm Bureau Safemark tires are built, is now back in operation. TASC Manager Travis McMorrough says it will be some time before things are back to normal. Safemark dealers will be supplied with tires on hand until the inventory from General Tire returns to normal.

A Slam On Beef—Another consumer activist has taken to the airwaves to attack current beef production methods. Armed with a growth implant gun and admittedly flimsy evidence, Diane Broughton, editor of the activist magazine, Thumper, appeared on the nationally syndicated Richard Simmons show. Her main contention was that hormone growth implants used in cattle feeding promoted obesity in humans. TFB Associate Director of Commodity Activities J.D. Jordan says she is wrong about that. The hormones build muscle, not fat. Jordan says, and testing procedure demanded by the Food and Drug Administration is extensive. Broughton had hinted that few tests had been performed before the hormones were approved.

Proposition 3—Proposition 3 is one of six Constitutional Amendments which will be voted on in the November 2, 1982 General Election. It proposes to remove the limitations on the tax exemption for implements of husbandry (agricultural machinery and equipment).

If passed, Proposition 3 will be a significant step in helping hold down the cost of food and fiber production in Texas. This means store prices for these items would no longer reflect additional production costs caused by property taxation. This action is one step we can take to help hold down rising food costs.

The Texas Property Tax Code says, "An individual is entitled to an exemption from taxation of implements of farming or ranching..." Attorney General Mark White ruled that this exemption is limited to $15,000 worth of equipment for an individual and $30,000 for a family. One tractor now may cost $40,000. Passage of this Constitutional Amendment will eliminate the limitation caused by that decision.

Presently, an insignificant one-eighth of one percent of tax revenues are generated by implements taxes, with the present exemption.

School districts will receive increased state aid equal to about one-half of the lost revenues when implements of husbandry are removed from each school district's state aid formula. The amount will vary, and some school districts will actually receive more state dollars than the local dollars lost.

If this amendment fails, tax assessors may take the vote as a message that the public wants taxes levied aggressively against agricultural equipment, no matter what the administrative costs. If the amendment passes, however, there will be an unlimited, permanent constitutional provision exempting agricultural machinery and equipment from all property taxes, which could not be repealed by statute.

Green Thumb program survives budget battle

For almost 1,000 older workers in the Texas Farmer's Union Green Thumb program, the "battle of the budget" came to a happy conclusion with the recent Congressional override of the President's veto of a supplemental appropriations bill.

The bill provides money for a variety of programs and agencies ranging from the defense department to NASA to Title V of the Older Americans Act, which funds TFU Green Thumb and other senior employment programs, according to Green Thumb Assistant State Director, John Willingham.

Speaking to 54 Green Thumb workers at a training session in Ralls on October 20, 1982, Willingham said the Congressional override "was decisive" in saving the jobs of more than 54,000 Title V workers nationwide. The workers are all 55 and over, low income, and provide services for libraries, schools, senior centers, museums and other public service agencies.

"Without the override, the only hope would have been yet another appropriations bill," he said, "and there were no real guarantees that another one would have been passed and signed in time to keep the program going." The new bill funds the program through June 30, 1983.

Green Thumbs had already received letters informing them that their last day on the job was to be September 24. Willingham said the letters had to be sent out because "there was no assurance that both houses would override the veto. What we've seen as a minor miracle." The override vote in the Senate was 60 to 30, exactly the two-thirds majority necessary.

"One more vote against the appropriations bill and the dismal news in your letters would have been all too true," he said. "And I'm afraid we all know that there aren't enough jobs out there in the private sector for 54,000 older workers."

Green Thumbs from Floyd County attending the training session at Ralls were Allen Rendon, Andres Solis, Marcelo Lara, Georgia Finley, June Van Cleve, Mabel Foster, Ethel Cross, Katherine Edwards, Petronilo Ortiz, Santiago Vrutita.

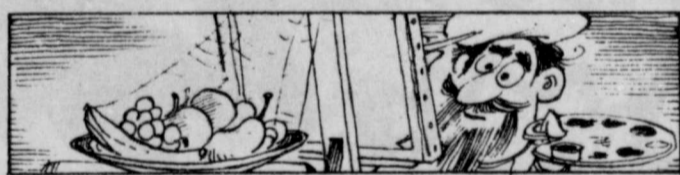

SWCD officers elected for upcoming year

Officers for the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District #104 were recently elected for the upcoming year. Serving as chairman for the board of directors will be Herman R. King. Vice-chairman elected was Les Nixon. Elected as secretary was Weldon Becker, the newly elected director for zone 4. Serving as treasurer for the upcoming year will be Junior Taylor. R.G. Dunlap will serve as second vice-chairman.

The Floyd County Soil and Water

Conservation District is a legal subdivision of state government, it does not have the power of taxation or eminent domain. All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

The purpose of the SWCD is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands and to serve as a voice on conservation matters for farmers and ranchers.

Status of the boll weevil in Crosby and Floyd

BY DALE W. SPURGEON
Extension Agent, Entomology

On September 9, I attended a meeting of the Boll Weevil Technical Advisory Committee in Lubbock. Discussed at this meeting were, among other things, the current status of the boll weevil and boll weevil programs on the High Plains of Texas. Using the information I acquired at this meeting, and from personal communication with Mr. Ed Dean, Director of Field Service, Plains Cotton Growers Inc., I will attempt to inform you of the current situation.

In the past, the boll weevil has attempted on several occasions to establish itself on top of the Caprock. To this point it has not been particularly successful, due to adverse weather conditions, and human efforts to prevent its establishment. A few years ago, I understand, many growers were quite concerned about the boll weevil moving up the cap. Concern seems to have lessened now, possibly due to the relatively low trap catches and low number of weevil infested fields recorded in 1979, '80, and '81. Let us not fall in to a false sense of security, the weevil is still out there, as demonstrated by the 1982 boll weevil survey work.

This year (1982), trap catches and field infestations were at a level comparable to those of our heavier boll weevil years, 1976-8. This resurgence may be due to several factors, some of which we do not fully understand. One factor which does appear to play a prominent role is the pattern of emergence of the overwintering weevils.

The Uniform Delayed Planting Date is a very useful tool for limiting to one degree or another the number of overwintering boll weevils which survive after spring emergence. By planting after a designated date, the grower can deny many overwintering weevils a suitable food source, thus many of the weevils will starve to death. Although I feel safe in saying that strict adherence to the uniform delayed planting date is beneficial in all cases, this tool alone may not be adequate to keep weevil numbers in check. The growing season of 1982 was such an instance.

Scientific data indicates that the first weevils to go into hibernation are the first to emerge in spring. Likewise, the last weevils to hibernate are the last to emerge.

Evidently, last fall a good number of weevils went into hibernation late, and thus emerged late in the spring. Emergence may have been further delayed by the late cold spring we experienced. This allowed a higher rate of survival of overwintered weevils, despite the uniform delayed planting date, than was desirable. Data indiates that in years when boll weevils are particularly numerous, a large portion of emerging weevils are not emerging until late June and early July. Furthermore, when overwintering populations are heavy, a secondary peak in emergence occurs in late June or early July the following season.

In order to combat this pest, the Texas Department of Agriculture, USDA, Boll Weevil Technical Advisory Committee (through Plains Cotton Growers Inc.), Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and Texas Agricultural Extension Service have been cooperating to gain information about the boll weevil and to reduce or deny its efforts to expand into new areas.

One measure to slow the spread of the boll weevil is being actively utilized at this time in Crosby and Floyd counties, namely the diapause spray program. The diapause program is designed to reduce the number of diapause (overwintering) weevils by controlling them before they reach overwintering habitat thus reducing the number of weevils which emerge the following spring.

Which fields are to be treated in this program, and when, is determined by the results of survey efforts. In my conversation with Ed Dean, I learned that the area of concern is divided into two zones, a control zone and a buffer zone. The control zone extends from the New Mexico border to Briscoe Co. in Texas and South down the caprock. The buffer zone extends from the cap to Eastern Motley and Dickens counties. The control zone is where we are trying to prevent establishment of the weevil.

The control zone and buffer zone are divided into blocks, and approximately 60 survey teams survey 50 to 60 fields each, on a regular basis. All areas of the buffer zone are mapped and surveyed. In the control zone, areas with potential for boll weevil problems are mapped and surveyed. Treatments are then applied to diapause weevils on the basis of the survey results.

According to Mr. Dean, weevil populations are several times as heavy as they have been in the last 3 years, and about 5 times the acreage has been treated in the control zone as was treated in each of the past 3 years.

As of October 18, 1982 acres (base acres, some of this acreage has been treated more than once) have been treated in Crosby Co., and 107 acres (base acres) have been treated in Floyd Co. Treatment is still continuing, and the total acreage will not be known for some time.

Lakeview News

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS
Nig Adams was buried Saturday afternoon in the Lakeview Cemetery beside his parents and other family members. He had died about ten o'clock Friday morning, after stating to his family that he was ready to go. The land where the cemetery is located was donated by his parents to the community many years ago, as well as the land where the Lakeview School is situated.

Adams relatives from Amarillo who were present for Nig's funeral included his sister, Rachel Moore and her husband, T.T. Moore; a nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Poy Adams, whose father was Charley Adams; also nieces, Geneva Brown, Cheryl Hart, Martha Rogers and Teresa Moore, as well as Roland Adams of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. R.B. McCravery of Ralls former Lakeview residents, were here for the funeral Saturday.

Miss Lacy Golightly is looking forward to the Day Care's Halloween party on Thursday. Rance Golightly is ready for the parties at Duncan school on Friday, as is Brandon Harrison.
Mr. and Mrs. Monte Williams of Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, were here last weekend. Little Amand stayed with her grandparents, the Q.D. Williams, while her parents were in Lubbock Saturday for the wedding of Kellie's cousin, Tammy.

Mrs. Linda Wise and daughter, Joanna, of Wichita, Kansas, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thurston this week. Linda's husband has moved to New Jersey where he is studying to be a commercial pilot. Linda and Joanna will join him in a few weeks. She wanted to take advantage of the nearness to Texas for a visit home before moving to the east coast.

Jeff Andrews of Lubbock visited his grandparents, the Joe Thurstons, Sunday. His mother is the former Anella Thurston.

Miss Amanda Watson was honored on her eighth birthday with a family dinner Sunday at the home of her great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brewer. Her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Tom Moore, entertained thirteen of Amanda's friends from the second grade for Amanda's party on Thursday, October 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Adams and daughter, Misty, were in Hawaii recently with other pharmacists.

Mrs. Byron Kendrick and daughter, Nicole, of Collinsville were here Saturday for the funeral of Eileen's grandmother, Mrs. W.R. Daniels, Sr. Eileen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Daniels, Jr. were in Collinsville visiting her and her brother, Danny, who lives in a town nearby, when they received word of his mother's death. Danny and W.R. left immediately for Floydada. Eileen, her mother, Margaret, and daughter, Nicole, left shortly thereafter. Eileen and Danny returned to Collinsville Saturday afternoon after the funeral.

Mrs. Louise Pyle had surgery on her hand last week at Nichols Hospital in Plainview. Louis' sister, Mrs. Houston Adkins of Crowell, came up to stay with Louis and David while Virginia was in the hospital. Virginia's sister and husband, Mona and Merl Moore of Thalia, came to see her during her recovery. She had a knot removed from her hand and is recuperating and visited relatives in Thalia over the week-end.

Carl Moosberg, cotton breeder with Gro Agri Seed Company of Lubbock recently attended a cotton breeders and geneticists meeting which began at Memphis, Tennessee. They meeting of genetics research sponsored by Cotton Inc., was followed by a four state Greyhound bus tour. They began at Portageville, Missouri, where they toured the University of Missouri and the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture Research Station. Next, they toured the University of Arkansas Cotton Branch and Experimental Station at Marianna for cotton breeding and genetic and research tests.

The Moosbergs were associated with the Experimental Station and lived there for twenty-four years before moving to Floydada. They also toured Helena, Arkansas; testing at Scott and Stonville, Mississippi. After spending the night at Greenville, Mississippi, they lunched at Vicksburg. In Louisiana they visited the Red River Experimental Station at Bassier City, Louisiana, ending the four day tour at Shreveport.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Watson are helping teach square dance lessons at the Monday night classes in Floydada in the building west of Kirk's Hardware.

Miss Amanda Watson is delighted to be in the recently organized Brownie Troop at Duncan school for first and second graders. Mrs. Elizabeth Sims, (Mary Elizabeth Wright) is troop leader. Mrs. Rilla Sue Woody, who grew up in Scouting, helped organize the troop which will meet at Duncan each Tuesday after school. Blessings on all you mothers who spend time with your daughters in Scouting. Wonderful memories are in the making.

Louis Pyle was in Dallas last week with fellow members of the State Soybean Board to study the import situation and future of the soybean industry.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moosberg were in Duncan, Oklahoma, last week visiting their daughter, Mrs. Carla Winslow and family. While Carl attended the Gro Agri seed salesman meeting at Altus, Oklahoma, Mrs. Moosberg and Carla and Zade went to the museum in Altus, and shopped the antique stores.

Leaves are turning gold in Blanco Canyon, and over the community. Pheasant are more evident than quail. No word on the oil well to the west yet.

Mr. and Mrs. James Williams were Sunday dinner hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Monte Williams and Amanda; Ford Miller of Texas Tech, who spent the week-end with the Q.D. Williams, who also attended the dinner. Austin and Ashleigh Williams and little cousin, Amanda, enjoyed Friday and Saturday at Lakeview.

Miss Lou Lee visited her aunt, Mrs. Q.D. Williams, Sunday afternoon, with her roommate, Kayla Johnson, of Lubbock Christian College, and two friends from the school. All went horseback riding over the ranch and took pictures.

Mrs. Bill Smith helped with the Christmas in October Arts and Crafts show at Duncan School Saturday.

South Plains News

BY MRS. MURRAY JULIAN
South Plains, October 25th:
October is almost past, and with it, the beautiful blue days, the gathering of crops, the magnificent panorama of trees with every color from gold to reds, browns and shades of every color. Time changes back this week-end to regular time from Daylight Saving Time, and it will be good to get up at six and to feel like it's morning, instead of the middle of the night. DST starts Saturday night or early Sunday morning, October 31st, so remember to turn back your clocks that day.

South Plains Baptist Church visitors Sunday morning included Gideon representative, Grover Little of Odessa, with his wife. Little gave reports of some of the great good that the Gideons do, with their Bibles placed in hotels and motels over the world. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Jones with Mrs. Peggy Roberts (Jim), and Keith Marris of Floydada.

Mrs. Mamie Wood was home from Lubbock Sunday night in time for church services. She had been with her daughter and family, Juanell and James Teague in Lubbock part of the week, and had also spent part of the week with her ill sister, Mrs. Ruth (Buster) Dunham in Amarillo.

Mrs. Hal Thomas (Sudie) of Floydada, sister-in-law of Bill Thomas of Lockney, passed away Saturday night. Her services are to be held this Tuesday, at 2:00 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Floydada. We send our sincere sympathy to Bill and his family in their sorrow.

The seasons first northern came in, Wednesday, October 20th, with hard, driving winds, blowing dust and dropped temperatures. Many turned their heaters on in the cold as it got down in the thirties here, with frost. Here at South Plains we registered 32 degrees.

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Horne of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma came Tuesday night October 19th, to stay until Friday visiting here with cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan and Bobbie Kinnibrugh.

Remember that the Hobby Club of South Plains will meet on November 10th, at 2:00 in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Connie Sanders, who lives southwest of South Plains. The program will be on candy making, coming just in time for Thanksgiving and the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan and Bobbie Kinnibrugh went to Vera on Friday to stay with his father, J.A. Kinnibrugh, who is a semi-invalid. They stayed until Sunday evening looking after him. All the Kinnibrugh family take turns caring for their father.

The pink and blue baby shower for Mrs. Nancy Young (Mrs. Rance) was held on Saturday morning, October 2 from 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. in the home of Mrs. E.J. Kinslow (Navolia) who lives on the Silverton Highway north of South Plains. The centerpiece was an ivy arrangement, which was given the honoree. Many friends and relatives attended the shower, and Nancy's grandmothers attending were Mrs. Frances Puckett of Ruidoso, New Mexico and Mrs. La Faun Young of South Plains. Great grandmothers present were Mrs. Vernola Hanna of Floydada and Mrs. Bea Puckett of Plainview.

Hostesses for the baby shower were Navolia Kinslow, Carolyn Marble, Janis Julian, Kathy Mulder, Connie Johnson, Lora Bethel, Helen Teeple and Linda

Clark. An interesting note about the baby shower was that Mrs. E.J. Kinslow was hostess for Mrs. La Faun Young's baby shower when Rance, Nancy's husband was born.

Mrs. Mildred Hamm (Harold) and Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham of South Plains went to Slaton Saturday afternoon where they attended the wedding of Miss Sally Dunn of Lubbock to C.V. Blake, which took place at the First Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. The Rev. and Mrs. Fred Blake, parents of C.V. Blake, a former pastor and wife at the South Plains Baptist Church, and they came from Winslow, Arkansas to attend their only son's wedding. All of the girls and their families were able to be in the attendance, too, for their only brother's wedding. We extend a cordial wish for every happiness to C.V. and bride. The young couple will make their home in Slaton where C.V. is youth director and music leader.

Remember the Halloween Carnival which is to be held at the South Plains School house on Thursday evening, October 28, at 7:00 o'clock. Come for supper too and enjoy supper at the carnival, along with all the ghosts and goblins.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry and Leona Julian of Roscoe came Friday and Saturday to visit here with his relatives, Mrs. M.M. Julian, and Mr. and Mrs. Kendis and Janis Julian and children. They are getting ready to strip cotton in that area.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton spent the past week-end down in Lubbock with their daughter and family, Bonnie and Karl Craig with grandchildren and great-grandchild enjoyed while they were there.

Center News

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN
October 24-25th:

Sunday was a beautiful day. Bro. and Mrs. Payne were having a weekend in Fort Worth. Our pulpit was filled by Charles Bradford, a Wayland student.

We were glad to have with him and his family—wife and baby daughter, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Bradford, also his sisters who are ours. We are proud of these young preachers who were once a part of our church and the rest. The Revival at First Baptist closed Thursday night.

Mrs. J.C. Odam, our teacher of the Senior Women's Sunday School Class was away Sunday. In a family Reunion at Hale Center where a daughter and family live. We know she had a good time.

Mrs. Ava Jackson is back in our city. She has been with Mrs. Leo Frizzell much of the last few days.

The Senior Citizens met Thursday at the Seniors' building. A nice group, program and good dinner. A good place to visit with contemporary friends.

I missed the Brewers last week. This close family doesn't miss many weekends some or all getting together. That is fine.

The October 17th weekend came the Dewayne Brewer family of Dallas, from Friday to Saturday p.m. The Brewers' great-grands, De Anne, Amanda and David Watson (who live near by) came over to visit with their city cousin and had such a good time they stayed all night. Sunday Glenna and Millard Watson-Mt. Blanco, Fred and Dorothy McDougle and daughter Karen of Crosbyton, the Ken Robisons of Lubbock and children came.

Monday of last week Mr. and Mrs. Guy Forman of Fort Worth arrived at the Brewers. (He is a brother of Mrs. Brewer) They had been visiting a daughter and family in Denver, then came by Littlefield to visit a brother, Buren who resides in the Rest Home. They visited the Brewers till Wednesday when they left for home.

Mrs. Ethel Warren and son, Elvis Warren, were in Olton Sunday afternoon to attend last rites for a niece's husband, Tom McGill, our sympathy is with the loved ones.

Sunday P.M. we received the sad news that one of our long time ago Center friends (and ever since) passed away Sunday morning in a Lubbock Hospital. Mrs. Maurine Jordan, wife of J.B. Jordan. They had in recent years resided in the Knox Village in Lubbock. We are so glad they were with us at the Center-Fairview Homecoming. She had been in ill health for months. She was one of the best.

Also we are saddened by the passing of another long time friend and teacher of some of our children in Floydada High School, Mrs. Hal (Sudie) Thomas. For many years a resident of Center Community. She was another one of the best. We join the loved ones in mourning their passing.

The Mayfield Reunion was held Saturday, 10-23 at Idalou, Texas in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon McPherson.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Riley Mayfield, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. Barney Mayfield, New Home; Mrs. Otis Mayfield, New Home; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laxson, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mayfield, Floydada; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mayfield, Henrietta, Oklahoma; Paulette, Bill and Kenny Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crausbay, Crosbyton; Mrs. Wayne Flemings, Idalou; Mrs. Jeanette Goodwin, Idalou, and several grandchildren. Bill and Kenny Mayfield visited their sister Paulette at Tech and "checked out" the campus over the weekend.

FLOYD DATA

Kevin Day, a student at Texas Tech. visited his grandmother, Mrs. W.J. Wilks, this past weekend.

Other guests in the home of Mrs. Wilks were her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wilks, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller, all of Tulsa. These two families had been to San Angelo visiting their sons, John David Wilks and Robert Miller, who attended college there. They had stopped by Crosbyton and visited Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. Appling, before arriving in Floydada.

Difficult times demand wise decisions... and strong decision-makers like Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

Texans are facing some difficult times. Now, more than ever, we need experienced, compassionate leaders in our state government.

We need a leader like Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby who has our interests at heart. Here's how Hobby stands on the issues concerning Texans:

EDUCATION.

Hobby will not be satisfied until our education system is the best in the nation. His efforts to improve the quality of public education for your children and grandchildren begin in the classroom. He is for improving teacher salaries and benefits. He is for giving more control to local school districts.

JOBBS.

Hobby is working to create more and better jobs for Texans. He is making sure jobless Texans receive their full unemployment benefits. He is working to increase the efficiency to the Texas Employment Commission. He is stimulating economic growth and new jobs through responsible state spending and one of the lowest tax rates in the nation.

CRIME.

Hobby is for strong laws and certainty of punishment of criminals, backed by better training and pay for our police officers. He is helping upgrade our courts to speed up trials of accused criminals. He is for improving our prison system and parole system.

Re-elect Bill Hobby

The fuel cost adjustment pass-through is fair to our customers. Costs of coal, natural gas, and fuel oil Southwestern Public Service buys to generate electricity change frequently. Sometimes fuel costs go up, and — we're glad to report — sometimes they go down. As set forth by regulatory authorities, the fuel cost adjustment pass-through requires SPS to reflect those changing costs in each customer's monthly bill. The fuel cost adjustment is designed so that each customer is charged only for the fuel that was required to generate the amount of electricity he actually used. There is no profit for SPS figured in the fuel cost adjustment. The customer pays only the current price for that fuel.

Doyle Moore, Amarillo District Manager.

SPS works hard to keep down the cost of fuel. Some people say that because fuel costs are charged directly to the customer, SPS has no incentive to keep fuel costs down. That's just not true. We have a commitment to keep electric bills as low as we can. Our customers are our partners, and we want to help them save money. Too, we always remember that electricity competes with other energy forms for the customer's dollar. So it's simply good business to keep the total cost of electric service as low as possible.

Maurice Johnson, Senior Engineer, System Planning, Amarillo.

Coal-fired generating plants help you and SPS hold down fuel costs. SPS now has two coal-fired generating plants. The newest, Tolk Station near Muleshoe, Texas, has just come on line. Fuel costs at coal-fired plants are significantly lower than fuel costs at the older, natural gas-fired plants. On the average, in fiscal 1982, the fuel cost of a kilowatt-hour generated by natural gas was 3.178 cents. The fuel cost of a kilowatt-hour generated by coal was 1.803 cents. So maximizing use of Tolk and our other coal-fired plant, Harrington Station near Amarillo, will help us, as your partners, hold down fuel costs.

Kurt Shaughnessy, System Accounting Coordinator, Amarillo.

For answers to your questions, call or write your SPS manager.

You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference.

Horns of the Week

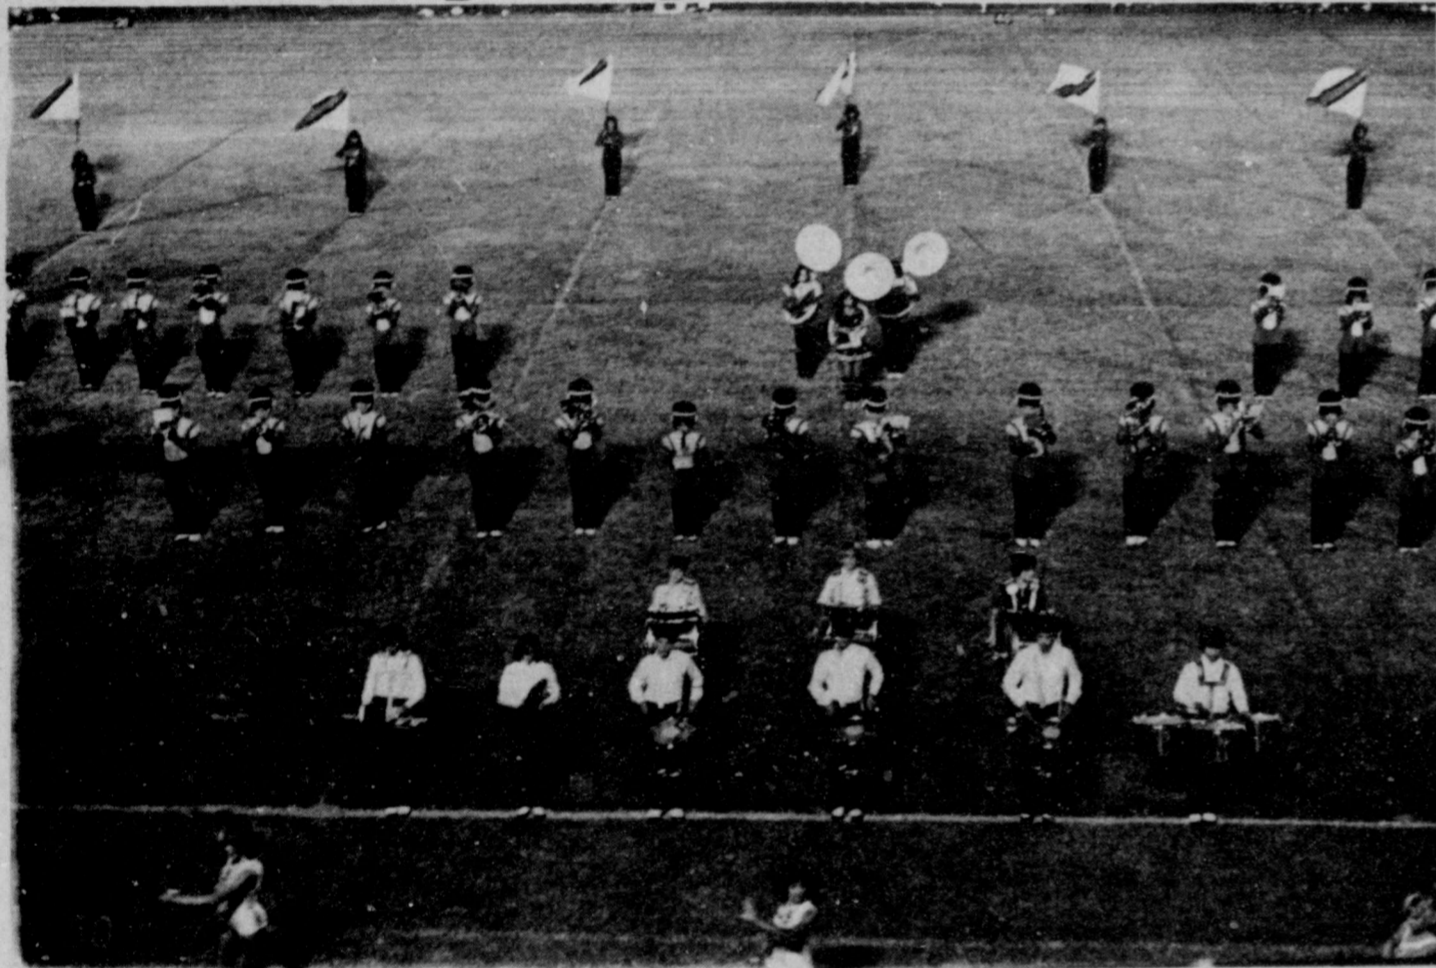

HORNS OF THE WEEK October 15 were [back row] Moses Blanco, Steven Johnson and Michael Carthel; [front row] Jerry Mathis, freshman, and Robert Rendon.

Beat 'em up,
Knock 'em out,
Punch 'em once,
Make 'em shout!
Go Horns!
BEAT POST!

Longhorns are the greatest,
and that's no Bull!

Don't forget the
Halloween Carnival
Saturday night!

THE LOCKNEY LONGHORN BAND competed with bands in this region and others Saturday at the Texas Tech Marching Festival. It's 85 members have been making a big difference during halftime each Friday night. The seven flags this year are: Maribel Torrez, Georgia Villarreal, Carmen Rodriguez, Rosario Segovia, Hopi Cantu, Jesusa Saucedo, and Cindy Castro.

"Kids Are People Too" presented

"Kids Are People Too" was presented last Thursday by 65 fourth graders in the Lockney Elementary Cafetorium for parents, teachers and students of the elementary school.
Amy Thornton, elementary music teacher, directed the production. She said the fourth grade class had accomplished the program written by Tony Randall, in slightly over three weeks. "It usually takes 4 to 6 weeks to prepare for a program."
Mrs. Thornton, a member of a musical group herself, teaches music to students kindergarten through the fifth grades. Each class receives 45 minutes of training twice a week.

Becky Mathis, a high school student, assists Mrs. Thornton 2-3 hours a day. "She helps me any and everywhere I need her. She assisted with the lights, the drapes...you name it, she does it."
Today the second grade will present Old McDonald at 2:45 p.m. at the school.
A patriotic program is scheduled for presentation the week before Thanksgiving. The fifth grade will present that program at 2:15 on November 18.
The first graders are slated for a Christmas program shortly before the holidays.
