JUDY DAVIS has had some lonely practice sessions, but her willpower and determination is paying off. She qualified at Regionals last week and will compete at state this Saturday.

Davis goes to state

Judy Davis competed in the Regional I UIL Cross Country Meet at the Mae Simmons Park Saturday, November 6.

She placed second in the 2 mile race with a time of 12:36. She was edged out of first place by Ester Martinez of Dalhart with a time of 12:34.5. Third place winner was right on her heels with a time of 12:36.5. She was Darla Gram of Iraan.

140 runners competed individually. Schools having five members competed as teams. The first top five spots were taken by Abernathy, Dalhart, Lubbock Cooper, Junction, and Roosevelt, respectively.

Lockney boys competing in the UIL Regional Meet were:

Name	Time	Place
Hector Molina	17:34	19th

Timmie Winters	22:57	79th

There were approximately 125 boys running in that race.

Davis goes to state Saturday

Judy Davis qualified for the state meet by placing second in the Regionals. The slight, five-foot, 83-pounder competed in the state meet last year, placing 14th. This year's meet will be held in Georgetown Saturday, November 13.

She runs the 2-mile practice run everyday except the day prior to a race, with additional practice in sprints and running bleachers when appropriate. Sometimes it has been very lonely, but through sheer dedication and perseverance this Lockney girl has shown her stuff. Judy's classmates have really been an encouragement. Coach Kathy Grissom has devoted many long hours in helping her.

Judy is active in basketball and will be in track and field in the Spring.

A junior, Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Davis. Best of luck, Judy!

City awards paving bid

At the Lockney City Council meeting held Thursday, November 4, A.C. Bowden, consulting engineer of Lubbock, opened bids for the paving to be done in the CDBG program. The paving is to be done next spring after the weather clears, to be complete after May 1, 1983. Some curb and gutter may be done prior to winter.

Five bids were received and the bid for the total job was awarded to Lipham Construction Co., Inc. of Aspermont, Texas. Theirs was the lowest bid for a total of $171,272.

Councilman Gail Kring made a motion, seconded by Councilman Paul Reecer, to accept the bid. All were in favor.

George Sparkman, board member on the Mackenzie Water Authority, met with the council to discuss a change since the bids had been received. The change involved transferring the pumps from the water supply phase which is funded through general obligation bonds to the pipeline and distribution phase which will be paid for with revenue bonds. Sparkman said the matter had been approved by the engineer and FmHA. The council agreed to make the appropriate amendment.

Several inquiries had been received in regard to an older fire truck presently not being used. It was agreed mutually between the council and the Volunteer Fire Department that it was not needed. Councilman Kenneth Wofford made a motion, and Councilman Kring seconded the motion to accept bids for the sale of the truck.

A livestock ordinance was tabled for further consideration.

Engineer Bowden reported all of the CDBG water and sewer project complete. He said the lift station had been checked out and only lacked a warning signal light that would be installed in a matter of days. The council approved the contract and were going to submit a request for the final payment.

The council had received word that Lockney had been approved for 20 new

Auctioneers Jack Dul'in and Mervin Evans, both of Plainview donated their time and services for the benefit of the Local and Yocal revealed

Since July 29 Floyd County has been anxious to know the identity of those famous football forecasters, Local and Yocal. The time has come for the unveiling of their identity.

As the rules stated whoever guessed both identities first would win $10. Vickie Rainer got the first correct guess in October 28. Darlenda Marquis, Mrs. Bob Alldredge, and Judy Allen all had correct guesses, but their guesses came in after the first winning guess. Floyd Counties fearless forecasters are Local was David Cates and Yocal was Roger Garms.

Several people attempted to guess, but didn't quite get them right. Darlenda Marquis guessed three times before she got both forecasters right. Initially she guessed Local as David Cates and Yocal as Wes Brown. Her next guess was David Cates as Local and Bill Gray as Yocal. Her third guess was her correct one.

Junior Martinez guessed Local as Wes Brown and Yocal as David Cates. Stacy Smith guessed Local as Roger Garms and Yocal as Gary Brown.

Billy Joe Turner guessed Local as David Cates and Yocal as Dewayne Wilson. Kenneth Holt guessed David Cates as Local and Harvey Allen as Yocal. And W.L. Carthel guessed Local as David Cates and Yocal as another Cates whose name he couldn't remember.

The first guess turned in was from Hector Zavala who guessed Local as Coach Bob Purser and Yocal as the Longhorns.

Local and Yocal will be back next year with two new secret identities. Get ready to match wits with Floyd County's best fearless football forecasters.

Horns finish victorious with a 33-25 victory

By Carolyn Redding

The Childress Bobcats came on strong with a drive of 70 yards in 15 plays during its first possession of the ball Friday night to take a 7-0 lead in the first quarter.

A fumble by Lockney in the second quarter on its own 25 yard line allowed the Bobcats to capitalize on a 23-yard field goal attempt.

Childress had taken a 10-0 halftime lead and then increased its margin to 17-6 in the third quarter before Lockney's Mario Arellano sprinted by for a 64-yard touchdown.

Lockney's Jackie Cunyus cut the lead to four points when he scampered in from eight yards out.

Childress came right back, scoring 7 points on a 50-yard drive and a PAT.

Arellano gained 247 yards in rushing on 17 carries. In the third quarter he was instrumental in trimming the Bobcat lead to 17-12 which took them up to the final 12 minutes of the game.

He put the Longhorns into the lead for sure with a 15-yard scoring run when Childress fumbled at its own 35.

All-stater Kyle Brock intercepted a Bobcat pass and returned it to the 30. Arellano took it in for a 17-yard touchdown.

Brock put the Horns on top 33-17 late in the fourth quarter with a one-yard run after a 52-yard sprint by Arellano.

Moses Blanco kicked the final three PAT's for Lockney.

The Lockney Longhorns fought back and fought back hard to overcome an 11-point deficit to claim a 33-25 victory over Childress for the finale of the 1982 season on their own field.

The victory gave Lockney a 5-4-1 record for the year. It is a winning record too long in coming.

How sweet it is!

TEXAS CRIME STOPPERS

The Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council wants you to know some facts about drunk driving in Texas.

- One half of all traffic accidents involve a driver who has been drinking.
- It is estimated that on any weekday in Texas, 1 out of 50 drivers has been drinking or is drunk. On weekends, this ratio climbs to 1 in 10.
- Last year there were 36,774 reported accidents in Texas that were the result of DWI — more than 100 per day.
- 23% of all traffic deaths in 1981 involved drunk driving. The ten year total of DWI related deaths in Texas is 19,000 — more than the population of many Texas cities.

Texans should be outraged at this senseless destruction by drunk drivers. For too long, society has permitted innocent persons to be killed on our highways, because it is easier to ignore the DWI problem than to face it.

People have been led to believe that DWI is not really a crime, and the drunken driver is not really a criminal, but this is not true.

For the month of November, the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council is focusing its statewide "Crime of the Month" on DWI. No reward is offered. Instead, the Council urges you to support local and statewide efforts to reduce the number of drunk drivers on Texas highways.

Every Texan must make a personal commitment to help put an end to this tragedy. Together we can prevent the drunk driver from spreading further death and destruction on our highways.

C.A. WILKINS, executive director of the Texas Aeronautics Commission recently spoke to the Floydada Rotary Club after examining the airport. At this point the TAC is not sure exactly what needs to be done to the airport. Further testing will need to be done before any decisions are made. The TAC is able to help with the cost of renovating the airport on a 75-25 basis. If the extent of the repairs is great enough the cost can be shared on a 90-10 basis with the FAA. Half of the 10 percent can be supplied by the TAC.

Two men walk out

Two men in Floyd County decided to take a walk Saturday. This was not so wrong. What was wrong was the fact that they were inmates in the county jail at the time. They barely got to enjoy their new-found freedom before they were back in jail.

Robert and Joe Quilimaco were performing cleaning duties and were out of their cell when they decided to leave Saturday afternoon.

They were recaptured within an hour and a half by Floyd County law enforcement officials.

SHEILA POOLE

They say that the pen is mightier than the sword, and if you don't believe it, just ask Sheila Poole. She is at her busiest, what with preparing for the 3rd Annual Arts and Crafts Festival at Abernathy, orders for Christmas and other occasions and the extra activities brought on by the holidays. The Festival is scheduled to be held in Abernathy's Community Complex Saturday, November 20. She teaches a class of third graders in the Lockney School system. Her husband, James, is the high school principal. They have two children Scott 15, and Mary Lindsey 5.

Sheila is a decorative calligrapher and her talents have earned her a reputation for high quality work. She first became interested in calligraphy (the art of beautiful writing) when she returned to college to earn local credit for school. Her decision to take a course in calligraphy opened up a wonderful and rewarding hobby and business.

She has studied under Jerry Darby Carper and Susie Melissa Cherry of Dallas, and has studied the Ralph Douglas Method. From there, she developed her own unique style and alphabet.

Sheila has participated in the well-known Running Water Draw Arts and Crafts Show in Plainview for several years. Many of her items are in area shops and in Louisiana and Oklahoma. She also does advertisements for various businesses.

Specializing in personalized orders to go in homes, she incorporates the use of acrylic paintings to blend in with color schemes to enhance any decor.

At the Abernathy Arts and Crafts Festival, she will have a special item that is very popular with the teenage clientele in Abernathy's school colors.

Sheila's trademark is: Designs Personal With Calligraphy by Sheila Poole. All of Sheila's designs have the "personal touch" and are individually hand-lettered. None are duplicated from a printer. Don't miss this opportunity to view Sheila's unique work, as she is the only one in the area that specializes in the decorative calligraphy.

Finance aid available

If you or your child is in need of assistance in applying for college or financial aid or if you desire a General Educational Development (G.E.D.) study or adult education, LEARN Educational Talent Search can help you.

A counselor, Eddie Anaya, has been calling on the Lockney and Floydada schools and will return sometime in December. Centrally located at its offices in Lubbock, the five counselors for LEARN Educational Talent Search call on forty-nine high schools in a 10-county area within a sixty-mile radius of Lubbock.

LEARN Educational Talent Search is a non-profit, federally funded organization whose primary purpose is to assist individuals in furthering and pursuing their education into post secondary programs. The services provided by LEARN are free to anyone interested in them.

Counselors at LEARN Educational Talent Search offer a wide range of services including:

1. academic counseling with students about vocational, academic, and career choices on an individual basis
2. career and vocational guidance and testing to help in making decisions
3. obtaining information on post secondary educational institutions and educational programs chosen by the individual student
4. helping in the application process for admissions and enrollment, testing, housing, and student financial aid
5. do follow-up to make sure student is actually enrolled and has received financial aid, if eligible
6. assisting with enrollment or re-enrollment in high school, GED, or adult education programs
7. referring students to other community agencies and resources

The Lubbock offices are located at 1203 University Avenue in Suite 200, Lubbock.

Anaya said the purpose of the organization sending counselors to the various schools is to bring their assistance and counseling as close as the schoolhouse. Parents are more than welcome to visit with the counselor during his visits.

Understandably, more time is spent at the schools which do not have counselors.

"The program is for anybody and everybody up to the age of 27," Anaya said. "We try to make the transition from high school to college as easy as possible."

The passage of the Middle Income Student Assistance Act has made many middle income families eligible for financial aid.

The United States Office of Education (USOE) requires that this program verify and document the family income. In order to do this a copy of one of the following is required:

- (a) Copy of most recent 1040 or 1040A
- (b) Copy of W-2 forms
- (c) Documentation to verify social security, welfare, or other non-taxable income
- (d) LEARN Talent Search income verification form

How better energy decisions make the difference

You and Southwestern Public Service Company are partners, making energy decisions that make the difference.

How you manage electricity in your home helps us make our decisions about generating power to meet the electrical requirements of the Southwest. For when you install a High-Efficiency Add-On Heat Pump, you can manage the electricity used for your home's heating and cooling — which helps SPS determine how much power you, and the Southwest, will need. So that economical power will always be available, SPS is developing better ways to generate electricity. One way is with coal.

Construction is now completed on the first unit of our second coal-fired power plant, Talk Station, which is now on-line and generating electricity. Harrington Station, SPS's first coal-fired power plant, has been operating since the early 1970's.

As partners we have made energy decisions which have built Talk Station. We're proud of the new power plant as you will be too. You're invited to the Open House of Talk Station between Muleshoe and Earth, Texas. Just follow the map and join us Saturday 10 to 4 p.m., November 20, or Sunday 1 to 4 p.m., November 21. Come as you are, dress casually. There will be refreshments and guided tours for the whole family.

Q: How long should I wait before washing the bug residue off my car after a long trip?

A: Bug residue forms an acid that starts to eat at a car's finish immediately. Bugs (and bird droppings) should be washed off as soon as possible, especially if the car is brand new!

Rebekah's host district school

Floydada Rebekah Lodge #77 met last Tuesday night for a regular meeting and to host a District school for District #0. Supper was served before lodge opened to guests from Abernathy, Plainview and Lockney lodges of this district.

The tables were decorated with a red rose from Pauline Pierce rose bush, you might say the last roses of summer.

Ethlyn Vernon, District Deputy President of District #9, gave a very interesting and informative school.

She called it the "Pot Luck School" she drew questions out of the pot and the group was to answer them.

As this was her last school for the district in her term, she thanked all the lodges for their cooperation through her term of office.

She will go out as our District Deputy President of this district #9 in March of 1983 and a new district President will be out of Plainview Rebekah Lodge #309.

Everyone enjoyed the meeting very much.

Pauline Pierce presided for Valree Turner as Noble Grand, in her absence.

Holcomb art to be displayed at Quitaque

Well-known artist, Genella Holcomb, Tulsa, has a number of paintings on display at Roye's Shoppe in Quitaque. The art, depicting scenes of the Caprock area, will be available for viewing from November 12 until December 12. The artist will be in the store in person on Sunday, November 14 to meet the public.

Born in Silvertown, the daughter of the late Roscoe Fort, Genella has always liked to draw pictures of any subject. The family moved to Lubbock when she was 6 years old; then, they lived in Floydada, Matador, and Spur. She married Calvin D. Holcomb, a county agent; and they lived in counties from the bluebonnet country to the cactus country. From every area, she drew inspiration; and, following her husband's death in 1975, Genella began painting full-time.

The artist has a son, Bill, who lives in Detroit, Michigan and two grandchildren. She has taught art in Seminole and the area, had numerous showings including the First National Bank in Floydada. She paints in pastels, water colors, oils, acrylic, and tempera.

Instructors under whom Holcomb has studied include Mac Carrow and Paul Wylie, Lubbock, Ronald Thomason of Weatherford, Jon Birdsong, Ben Konis and Stephen Kramer of Amarillo, Foster Coddell of Connecticut, Tony Van Hasselt, Tulsa Oklahoma.

Following her exhibit in Quitaque, Genella Holcomb will pay a return visit to Floydada where her paintings will be on display in the lobby of the First National Bank from December 13 through the month of January.

Alpha Sigma Upsilon plans Christmas caroling

The regular meeting of Alpha Sigma Upsilon met on November 2, 1982 at 7:00 p.m. in the home of June McGaugh. President Vikki Yeary called the meeting to order with Opening Rituals. Recording Secretary Jan Nichols called the roll.

It was suggested that instead of having an October Social that they meet in December for a Christmas Caroling with the whole family participating. All members closed with Closing Rituals.

Hostess June McGaugh then served homemade stew and cornbread.

Janice Poteet was to have the program on Art. She invited her mother, Mrs. H.C. McElyea to give a demonstration on china painting. Mrs. McElyea had a hand painted stick-pin that she gave away by drawing a name and Rhonda Guthrie was the winner.

Those attending were guest Debbie Guffee and members Vikki Yeary, Janice Poteet, Nancy Jarnagin, Jan Nichols, Vicky Ware, Rhonda Guthrie, Sheryl Derryberry, Gail DuBois, Gail Noland and June McGaugh.

Study Club meet in Latta's home

The 1934 Study Club met last Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Anthony Latta, with Mrs. Walton Wilson as co-hostess.

Mrs. Alan Benson presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. W.H. Bunch. After roll call was answered, Mrs. Benson conducted a short business session, and Christmas names were drawn.

"America the Beautiful" was the theme introduced by Mrs. Allen Bingham, the program coordinator. A trio of very talented women were presented by Mrs. Bingham: the pianist, Mrs. L.D. Simpson, is an accomplished musician as well as a reviewer of books. She adds a spark to any program. The soloist, Mrs. Roy Kinard of Lockney, trained for twelve years as a pianist, discovered she possessed a singing voice and now uses this talent at many local functions. In giving a dramatic reading, Mrs. Al Galloway would be displaying her gift for the dramatic. Her son, Dana Scott Galloway, is in the acting profession and appeared in a recent television episode of "CHiPs". The program began with Mrs. Simpson playing a patriotic medley of "America", "This Is My Country", and "This Land Is Your Land".

In singing "That's America To Me", Mrs. Kinard was answering the question one sometimes asks, "What does American mean to me?"

Katherine Lee Bates, a professor of English at Wellesley College in Massachusetts, visited Pikes Peak in the summer of 1893. The view from the top provided an incredible feast for her New England eyes: the russet and purple mountains and the golden green valleys below, and the arch of the infinite sky above. It was then and there that the opening line of a poem floated into her mind, "O Beautiful for spacious skies". A filmstrip was shown depicting scenes of each verse of "America the Beautiful", and the title song was sung by Mrs. Kinard.

Della Plains Community host luncheon for Washingtons

Members of the Della Plains Community presented Elisa Garrett Washington with a set of stainless steel cooking utensils.

The luncheon honoring the bride and groom was really a soulful holiday dinner: black eyed peas, corn pepper relish, pickled beets, fresh vegetable salad, with buttermilk dressing, hot macaroni salad; baked ham, down-

"We have witnessed with a sense of pride America's willingness and ability to aid our allies in their struggles for freedom from oppression from those enemies who would strike at the very heart of free men," said Mrs. Bingham. "Great personal sacrifices have been made throughout the centuries. Women have given up their loved ones, made sacrifices far and above the call of duty."

Mrs. Galloway told of such a sacrifice in a dramatic reading of "The White Cliffs", from the book authored by Alice Duer Miller. It is the story of an American lady who marries an Englishman, who had to face the loss of her beloved husband in World War One, and as the story progressed to the days just before World War Two she again had to face indescribable pain of seeing her only child prepare to tread the same path that his father trod.

"My child, my child, why should you die for England, too?" And he answered, "Is she not worth it, if I must?"

"John would have answered yes, but John was dead. Were they not English, our forefathers, never more English than when they shook the dust of her sod from their feet forever, seeking a shore where in his own way a man might worship his God.

"I am American bred. I have seen much to hate, much to forgive, but in a world where England is finished and dead, I do not wish to live."

Recorded voices were heard of Adolph Hitler asking the Reichstag for declaration of war against Poland, four hours after German armies had crossed the Polish border; Neville Chamberlain resigning as Great Britain's prime minister; Winston Churchill becoming prime minister and speaking of Britain's "finest hour"; and Franklin Roosevelt telling of the American ideology.

In the dark days of 1941, the high white chalk cliffs of Dover on the English Channel coast were guideposts for German planes that flew in a seemingly endless stream to bomb London and other inland targets. At the height of the Battle of Britain, the skies above the cliffs held only terror for the British and their allies. But two American songwriters looked ahead to better days, when the bombers would be replaced by bluebirds, and created one of the most touching of the "stiff upper lip" songs to come out of World War Two. "The White Cliffs of Dover" was sung by Mrs. Kinard.

Irving Berlin came to America as an immigrant from Russia and he said whatever success he had as a songwriter he owed to this country. His "God Bless America" has frequently been proposed as a new national anthem. Mrs. Kinard sang this beautiful song and the members joined in as a finale.

Refreshments of finger sandwiches, frozen fruit salad squares, chips, tea and coffee were served to the following: Mmes. Alan Benson, Dennis Dempsey, Milton Ashton, Garland Foster, George Springer, Vernon Parker, J.R. Turner, M.J. McNeill, Floyd Lawson, A.L. Wylie, Jr., J.P. Moss, W.L. Davis, L.B. Stewart, Jr., Kyle Glover, W.O. Newberry, J.S. Hale, Jr., L.D. Simpson, Allen Bingham, Al Galloway, and Roy Kinard.

The next meeting will be November 16 in the home of Mrs. J.P. Moss.

MEMBERS OF THE SENIOR CLASS came from their places in last Friday's pep rally and assembled on the floor in the gym to link arms and sing the school song, joined by the faculty and student body. The words of the alma mater took on new meaning with emotions rising at the last pep rally of the season.

MARIO ARELLANO #33 was stopped after another good gain. Victor Rodriguez #64 and an unidentified Longhorn supplied some of the great blocking. Mario was chosen player of the week for the Panhandle.

Quarterback Club elects new officers

The Lockney Quarterback Club met for their final meeting of the 1982 season Monday night, November 8 at 6:00 p.m. President Eddie Teeter introduced special guests, the school board.

Each coach reported on their games. In the business session the minutes were read and approved.

A financial report was given and approved. Motion was made by Ronnie Thornton and seconded by Mario Arellano to pay the $3 charge per person for each of the Varsity football boys for the dance Saturday night.

Coach Pursler will take up the signs from each player. Their accomplishments will be listed on the back of each sign, and that will be handed down to next year's player in that position.

Charlotte Brock has had the pictures in windows downtown.

Officers for 1983-84 were elected: President-Eddie and Cheryl Teeter Vice President-Mr. and Mrs. Torivic Rodriguez Secretary-Treasurer-David and Pat Frizzell

Coaches Comments

By Bob Pursler

The Longhorns waited until the fourth quarter to explode for 21 points and post a come-from-behind victory over Childress.

Childress opened the scoring in the first quarter on a 70 yard drive to make the score 7-0. Then late in the second quarter they scored again on a 23 yard field goal after a Lockney fumble to make the score 10-0 at the half.

The Longhorns took the second half kick off against the wind and went 65 yards for the first touchdown. Jackie Cunyus scored from 8 yards out to make the score 10-6. Childress came right back however and scored late in the 3rd quarter to make the score 17-6 but with two minutes left in the third quarter, Mario Arellano broke on the option and went 62 yards for another Longhorn score to make the score 17-12 going into the fourth quarter.

At this point the Longhorns busted loose for three more touchdowns, two more by Mario Arellano and one by Kyle Brock, all three extra points were kicked by Moses Blanco.

The Longhorns led 33-17 with two seconds left in the game. When the Bobcats scored to make the final Lockney 33, Childress 25.

In the games totals Mario Arellano wound up scoring three touchdowns and rushing for 247 yards for his biggest night in a Longhorn uniform.

It was a very big win for us and our seniors who go out as winners. I think the pride and effort that our seniors carried throughout the season will carry over as Longhorn tradition in the future.

JV lose to Bobcats

The junior varsity ended the year on a sad note in Childress with a 47-6 loss. The team played hard the whole game, but fumbles, interceptions and key defensive mistakes were costly.

The Bobcats scored first to make it 7-0. The Longhorns came back on fourth and seven from the 34 yard line. Monty Teeter hit Kelly Hayes to make the score 7-6.

The Childress JV scored before half to make it 14-6 at half.

Lockney moved the ball all over the field but couldn't get it into the end zone. The score continued to mount against the Longhorns but they kept trying.

The Horn of the week was Andy Murdock, who played well both on offensive and defensive.

The JV ended the year with a 2-6-1 record.

Well the Thanksgiving season is upon us again. We have decorated the home and are making plans for our Thanksgiving dinner for our families. This has really generated a lot of excitement and anticipation.

Bingo and dominoes continue to be the most competitive games we play. Our domino champs are Esker Pyle, William Holt, Mary McCracken, Lewis Roberts and William Poole. They really know their dominoes.

William Holt and Richard Lanham were our big winners in bingo.

We would like to send a special thanks to Clara McCain for her kindness and generosity in donating money for fruit for bingo.

Our ceramic class is going stronger than ever. The residents are now starting on Christmas presents for families and friends. Our teacher has really brought some beautiful pieces to paint.

Mamie Wofford, Marie Leach and Melvin Thacker were well enough to return home from the hospital this week. We were sure happy to see them; they were truly missed.

Mavis Barton is in Lubbock General Hospital and Bertha Gregg is in Lockney General Hospital. We are saying special prayers that they are well enough to return home soon.

Until next time, enjoy.

Pac-Man-mascot to Great American Smokeout

Pac-Man will be chomping cigarette packs instead of wafers in Texas this fall as the state prepares for the sixth annual Great American Smokeout sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

The insatiable almost-circle will serve as the official mascot for the event in Texas through an exclusive authorization agreement by the Bally-Midway Company, owner of the Pac-Man copyright.

"This is a big state and we asked for Pac-Man's help," said Penny Reeves of Austin, volunteer chairman for the Smokeout in Texas. "We felt that busy mouth of his could chomp a lot of temptation from our smokers as the big day approaches."

The Great American Smokeout is sponsored by the ACS nationwide to encourage smokers to give up their cigarettes for just one day—November 18—if only to prove to themselves they can.

A survey conducted by the Gallup organization last year indicated over 16 million Americans attempted to give up cigarettes on Smokeout day. Nearly five million made it the full 24 hours. One to 11 days later, just under three million cigarette smokers were still not smoking.

"Texas traditionally goes all out for this event," said Reeves. "In planning our activities, we have tried to take advantage of that good 'Texas spirit, and I think it shows. We want to make this a holiday for the smoker."

Cities and towns throughout the state are planning rallies, parades and other celebrations to remind smokers of the day.

Pac-Man himself will appear at rallies in Fort Worth, San Antonio, El Paso, and Houston to chomp as many volunteered cigarette packs as he can.

In Dallas, Muse Air, the airline which does not allow smoking on its flights, is offering an all-expenses-paid round trip for two to Disneyland in a drawing of pledge cards signed by the city's smokers.

Other communities throughout the state are planning similar rallies and events with involvement of Youth Against Cancer (YAC) groups, pledge booths at shopping centers and malls and support programs termed "Fresh-Start" for smokers who want to quit.

All Texas smokers are invited to join in the fun. They may contact their local ACS volunteers or office for a pledge card, tips on quitting or information on locally planned Smokeout events.

Bits of Humor, Trivia, and an occasional Word of Wisdom

Drivers often ask directions at service stations when they're lost. Does that make service station attendants roads scholars?

Upon hearing that a rather lazy employee had been fired by the service station manager, a customer commented, "Hear you fired old Joe last week." "Yep," was the reply. "Have you filled the vacancy yet?" "Nope," answered the manager. "He didn't Leave no vacancy."

Lady to the banker, "What do you mean, I'm overdrawn? That's not possible. I still have 10 checks left in my check book."

Why is it that what you hear is never as interesting as what you overhear?

There's no wholly satisfactory substitute for brains, but silence does pretty well, sometimes.

There are two kinds of people who don't say much: those who are quiet, and those who talk all of the time.

There's an old Japanese proverb that says, "Give a hungry man a fish and you will satisfy his hunger for a day; teach a hungry man how to fish, and he will never be hungry again."

Child Abuse Hotline 1-800-252-5400

"Child Abuse" an increasing problem

The following article is a public service by The Floyd County Hesperian and The Lockney Beacon through the cooperation of John R. Hollums, District Attorney and The Prosecutor Council. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of this County and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

CHILD ABUSE The Problem

The most serious threat to children in America is not disease or accidental injury but is injury intentionally inflicted upon children by their parents. Each year more children die at the hands of their parents than die from infectious disease, leukemia, or automobile accidents. Our children are being beaten with belts and clothes hangers, stabbed with knives, cut with razors, burned with cigarettes, scalded with water, bludgeoned with fists, struck with clubs and slammed against walls and floors. Children under three are the most severely injured and infants under one are the most often killed.

The Cause

Child abuse can be physical, sexual or mental. Reported cases involving the sexual abuse of a child are on the increase in the United States. But many more cases go unreported. Department of Human Resources officials note: "In almost every case, we can relate some prior sexual experience with a parent to present sexual abuse of a child. A person with that in his past who feels rejected by society and yet feels accepted by his children will turn to his children for sex."

Child battery is usually the act of one parent and is passively accepted by the other. The experts in child abuse teach that abusing parents generally are not mentally ill or alcoholic, but are unable to cope with the problems and stress of life. Abusing parents do not have the mental energy to meet the needs of the child. They are too busy trying to meet their own needs. In order to eliminate the demands of the child, abusing parents impulsively batter the child often striking out in rage. When the natural needs of a child are answered with a punch or a slap or verbal abuse, the child soon learns to make few demands on his parents. The child learns that he is unloved and unaccepted and avoids confrontation with his parents as far as possible often living in solitude. The very young, however, cannot withdraw because they depend upon their parents to satisfy their biological needs. They must simply endure.

Reporting Suspected Child Abuse

In Texas, it is against the law not to report suspected abuse or neglect of children. The first step in solving the child battery problems is to identify the abused child. It is not necessary to identify oneself in making a report; it is helpful to do so, however, and the identity of the person making the report is never revealed. Usually it is observant and concerned teachers, neighbors, relatives, and often, strangers, who provide information which helps to uncover instances of abuse.

To make a report of suspected child abuse, call one of the local offices of the Texas Department of Human Resources in the county directory or call the toll-free, 24-hour state-wide Child Abuse Hotline: 1-800-252-5400. Life or death emergency situations should be reported to the local Law Enforcement Agency.

Combating the Problem

A child welfare worker with the Department of Human Resources will investigate the report, and if necessary, work with the family to correct the problem. If the child is in danger, he may be removed temporarily from the home. The parents are offered assistance through social service counseling, parental effectiveness training and psychotherapy while the welfare of any child remaining in the home is monitored. In extreme cases, the parental rights are terminated.

In appropriate cases, criminal charges are brought by the local Law Enforcement Agency. The prosecution of such cases serves to inform the public of the child abuse problem, to protect the abused child, to punish the abusing parent, to encourage abusing parents to seek help, and to inform abusing parents who do not seek help that child abuse will not be tolerated.

Once a case of child abuse is detected, or even suspected, the swift gathering of physical and medical evidence is the key to effective prosecution.

This article was developed in part from materials prepared by the office of Arthur "Cappy" Eads, District Attorney of the 27th Judicial District, and is provided by the Prosecutor Council in cooperation with your local prosecutor. The abused child will grow up someday. Maybe.

Each year, over one million American children suffer from child abuse. Over 2,000 children die from it. But what about those who survive? An abused childhood can affect a person's entire life. Yet child abuse can be prevented.

The National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse is a private charitable organization that knows how to do it. But we need your help. We need money. We need volunteers. Send us your check today. Or write for our booklet.

Help us get to the heart of the problem.

Lakeview News

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

Neighbors who have visited the Dee Adamses since Nig's funeral include Dayne Golightly, Lanny Glascock, Frank and Max Breed and many others.

The Carl Moosbergs recently had as their houseguests, Mrs. Donny Winslow (Carla) and son Zade, and Carla's friend, Mrs. Kevin Hamman and son, Nathan of Duncan, Oklahoma. The ladies' husbands were gone on a company sponsored deer hunt. While Carla was visiting her parents, her sister June Sherman, and son, Rolf, of Lockney came and spent the night here. The three little boys were all between the ages of one year and eighteen months old, and kept the adults on their toes.

Mr. Holt Bishop was out gathering tomatoes Saturday morning to take to Lubbock to his sister, Mrs. Betty Howard, along with a nice mess of quail. A freeze every night last week after Tuesday, nipped the gardens, but there is still a lot of vegetables either in the ground or under vines.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Womack attended the football game at Slaton last Friday. They ate supper with Joe's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James Fenton. Juli has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Lena Moore, age one hundred and one years, who recently underwent surgery at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock. She is doing fine.

Pete Calloway and Speck Brian of Lubbock came out to hunt at the T Bar Saturday.

The Carl Moosbergs were at Lone Star Community last Saturday to sit with their grandson, Rolf Sherman, while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sherman, attended the wedding of Mark Sherman and Leslee Wofford next door at the Bill Sherman home. The Moosbergs accompanied the Shermans to church at Rock Creek Church of Christ on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Bertrand and daughters, Misty and Angie, spent the week-end in Panhandle visiting Connie Lou's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Connie Reed. On Saturday they all went to Amarillo and shopped at the new Westgate Mall.

Mrs. Charlyn Snider and two children, Timmy and Jennifer of Amarillo, visited her sister, Mrs. Rex Harrison, and stayed Tuesday night with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Thurston returned home Saturday from a week's visit to Cleburne, where they visited Alta's mother in the Colonial rest home. The dear lady, who has suffered a stroke as well as a fall a year ago, was in a deep depression. She thought her son had been killed in a car wreck and had cried unconsolably for days when Alta arrived. The sight of her son and other children cheered her immensely and she was in good spirits by the week-end.

Mrs. Roy Fawver and Mrs. Q.D. Williams attended the 1929 Study Club meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Smith. After a brief business session, members were served a refreshment plate of pumpkin squares, ribbon sandwiches and other tea time dainties, along with coffee and hot punch. The club then traveled to Vivian's Ceramic Shop for a tour of the studio. Vivian showed how slip is poured into molds and greenware emerged. Methods of painting and firing were discussed. Members enjoyed looking at the rooms of finished and to-be-finished ceramic ware. The club purchased a set of ceramic mugs for Mrs. Clay Henry, who was to undergo hand surgery in West Texas Hospital that same day. Mrs. Williams, took the gift to her on Friday afternoon. Members brought many items to be given to the State Hospital at Vernon. Mrs. Williams will take them down during the Thanksgiving holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Strickland of Lubbock spent Saturday night visiting her brother, Bob Alldredge.

Miss Mary Lou Quilantan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smoky Quilantan was named one of the finalists in the Floydada Band Sweetheart contest last week at the final home football game. Mary Lou is a senior this year at Floydada High School.

Monday will be Veterans Day so lets take a look back over the years and wars with veterans from our community.

Earl Edwards was a young man of twenty-one years in 1917 when he boarded a troop train in Floydada, along with other Floyd County youths. Their friends and relatives saw them off to Army training camp for World War I. He went from Floydada to do his basic training at Camp Travis at San Antonio. He was at camp in Jacksonville, Florida when the Armistice was declared.

Dee Adams went to Fort Worth to volunteer for the Merchant Marine in World War II. He did his basic training at St. Petersburg, Florida, then was sent to Panama. From there he sailed to the South Pacific where he served for the rest of the war.

William Bertrand was a handsome young C 24 pilot, just graduated from pilots training in the Valley when he and Faye Battey got married the same day as graduation in January, 1943 William was sent to Italy for the war in Europe. He received his discharge in 1945. His brother, Harold Bertrand, enlisted in the Marines, and survived Iwo Jima and other battles in the South Pacific. Faye's brother, Thurman Battey, served in the Army. "Everybody our age was gone off to the war," Faye said. Billy Joe Hambricht served in the Engineer's attached to the Air Force during the Korean War. He was a student at Texas Tech when he was drafted in 1950. He was stationed in California and Alaska.

Norman Muncy married and went off to the Army during the Korean Conflict and took Edith with him. He returned to ranching in Floyd and Crosby Counties.

When Randy Bertrand enlisted in the Army at age eighteen, he'd just graduated from Floydada High School and the war was going strong in Vietnam in 1966. He was in the Army two years, one spent in battle after battle in Vietnam.

Dakto, Pleiku and Natrung were the names of battles his parents, Faye and William Bertrand, strained to hear over the evening news, knowing their son was in the thick of it. His girlfriend, Connie Lou Reed, was an airline stewardess, who came home from work one day and saw an army duffel bag thrown down on her doorstep and knew her soldier was home safely. And so they were married. In spite of all he saw, Randy still recommends military service for all young men.

Today, Lakeview boys who are serving their country include Billy Nichols, who has been in the U.S. Army since 1977. He's now stationed in San Diego. Lt. Thomas Montgomery Williams enlisted in the Army less than a month after graduation from Texas Tech University, December 1979. While stationed at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, he has earned his master's degree in Business Administration, bought a farm through the Texas GI land bill, nearly got his wife, Kellie, through college, and acquired a baby daughter, who is as pretty as her mama. His brother, James, also served several hitches in the Army. Their father, Q.D. Williams, had left the Matador ranch to enlist in the Marines at age seventeen in World War II. His sons were raised up on the idea of military duty to one's country, as are most sons whose fathers have served in the military, in war or peacetime.

And Thank God for their sense of duty, our fine American veterans. America has been good to us all. We thank our men who served to keep our freedom, from the farmers who stood at Lexington in the American Revolution to the country boys from Lakeview who have ever responded when their nation needed them.

CONTROL OF FIREWOOD

As the winter months approach, we are going to see more and more firewood being cut and hauled into our area as a source of fuel. This wood can be a means by which fungi can be introduced into an otherwise healthy area. If the wood is coming off of healthy trees then there is no problem. It can be brought and stored with no problem. If the wood is from a tree that is dead or weak then there is a potential problem.

If diseased wood is to be used then there are two things that can be done. First, keep the wood away from healthy trees until the weather is sufficiently cold to keep the insects in a dormant condition. Another method would be to cover the wood pile with clear plastic film. This will prevent the insects and the diseased organisms from being spread beyond the wood pile to surrounding trees. The plastic should be tucked around the edge of the pile of wood so that the insects can't migrate out.

There is always a question from homeowners as to the smoke that is emitted when diseased wood is burned, and the answer is that there is no problem. When a log burns, the insects and fungi that might be present will also be destroyed. Firewood is too valuable to destroy just because it is infected with a fungus. It can be used but certain precautions must be followed to help insure that diseases are not transferred to other plants.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serves people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

More than 840 students at Texas Tech University received degrees in commencement exercises at the conclusion of the 1982 summer season.

Degree recipients included Margarito Arellano, Jr. and Anna Araujo, both of Lockney.

Arellano is the son of Margarito, Sr. and Maria Elena Arellano. He earned his degree in business administration with a minor in accounting.

He moved to Austin three weeks ago where his wife Thelma is an LVN. He has interviews set up in that area for the middle of this month.

Prior to his move he was employed by Porter's Manufacturing as a bookkeeper.

FLOYD DATA

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Guffee had as their dinner guests Friday their niece and nephew Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Morton of San Marcos, Nettie Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Boone Adams, their son Corkie Guffee and wife and granddaughter; Mr. and Mrs. Olen Watson, her niece and nephew, Mrs. Morton is also Nettie Adams's niece. They had a real Thanksgiving dinner and reminisced of times past.

Safety Corner

Woodcutting Safety

Firewood can offer an economical heat source. However, an accident can be costly if it causes you to lose worktime. When working with firewood—

- Wear a hard hat, goggles, sturdy gloves and safety shoes.
- Respect a chainsaw. Grip it firmly with both hands. Watch for knots and nails that could cause the saw to kick.
- Before felling a tree, be sure it will fall safely and that you have a safe spot to get to quickly.

VETERANS' DAY

THE VIETNAM VETERANS CHAPEL stands on a knoll overlooking New Mexico's Moreno Valley and the majestic Sangre de Cristo mountains. The structure has been enlarged recently.

Chapel monument to vets

When U.S. Marine Corps platoon leader David Westphall, along with twelve of his companions, died during an enemy ambush in Vietnam, Dr. Victor Westphall was determined to erect a visible reminder of the most tragic consequence of war—the loss of loved ones and the snuffing out of human potential.

His message to the entire world is symbolized in the Vietnam Veterans Chapel, nestled against a hillside in northern New Mexico overlooking the peaceful Moreno Valley and the towering Sangre de Cristo peaks beyond—just 25 miles northeast of Taos near Eagle Nest. The chapel is dedicated not only to his eldest son, "but to all veterans of the fighting in that Asian nation, particularly the maimed in body and spirit, and most especially to those who gave the most precious gift of all—life itself."

The vast, gull-like structure rises above the brow of the hill to a height of nearly 50 feet. The gracefully curving walls flow down from their commanding height so that the tip of each recedes into nothing as it is buried in the hillside. A third inward curving wall completes the chapel exterior. On the rear wall inside the small, quiet chapel are frames for the color photographs of veterans killed in Vietnam—with David Westphall's picture permanently displayed in the middle.

"I pray to God their sacrifices will give each of us the firm resolve to prevent future wars and to establish lasting world peace and brotherhood," says Dr. Westphall.

Looking down into the chapel from the photographs, a visitor sees four descending concentric rows of curved seats. Above, the ceiling soars to the top of a narrow window 28 feet high and one foot in width. To the left of the window at the apex of the curving walls is a tall, simple cross bearing an eternal flame.

Hillside paths surrounding the chapel are bordered with small markers, each inscribed with the name and state of U.S. military personnel killed in the Vietnam action.

The chapel design—which has suggested to many the wings of a fallen angel—was conceived by Santa Fe architect Ted Luna after sitting for an entire afternoon on the knoll overlooking the peaceful mountain valley. According to Luna, his concept "evolved into a timeless statement, void of all traditional connotations of materials and their use...."

Many visitors say that the Vietnam Veterans Chapel qualifies as one of the most beautiful and inspiring buildings in the world.

"When we started construction, we realized that it would take far more money than we could provide personally but we also thought surely money would be available from such sources as a foundation," says Dr. Westphall. "After making a heartbreaking number of applications, we were forced to admit failure in this approach."

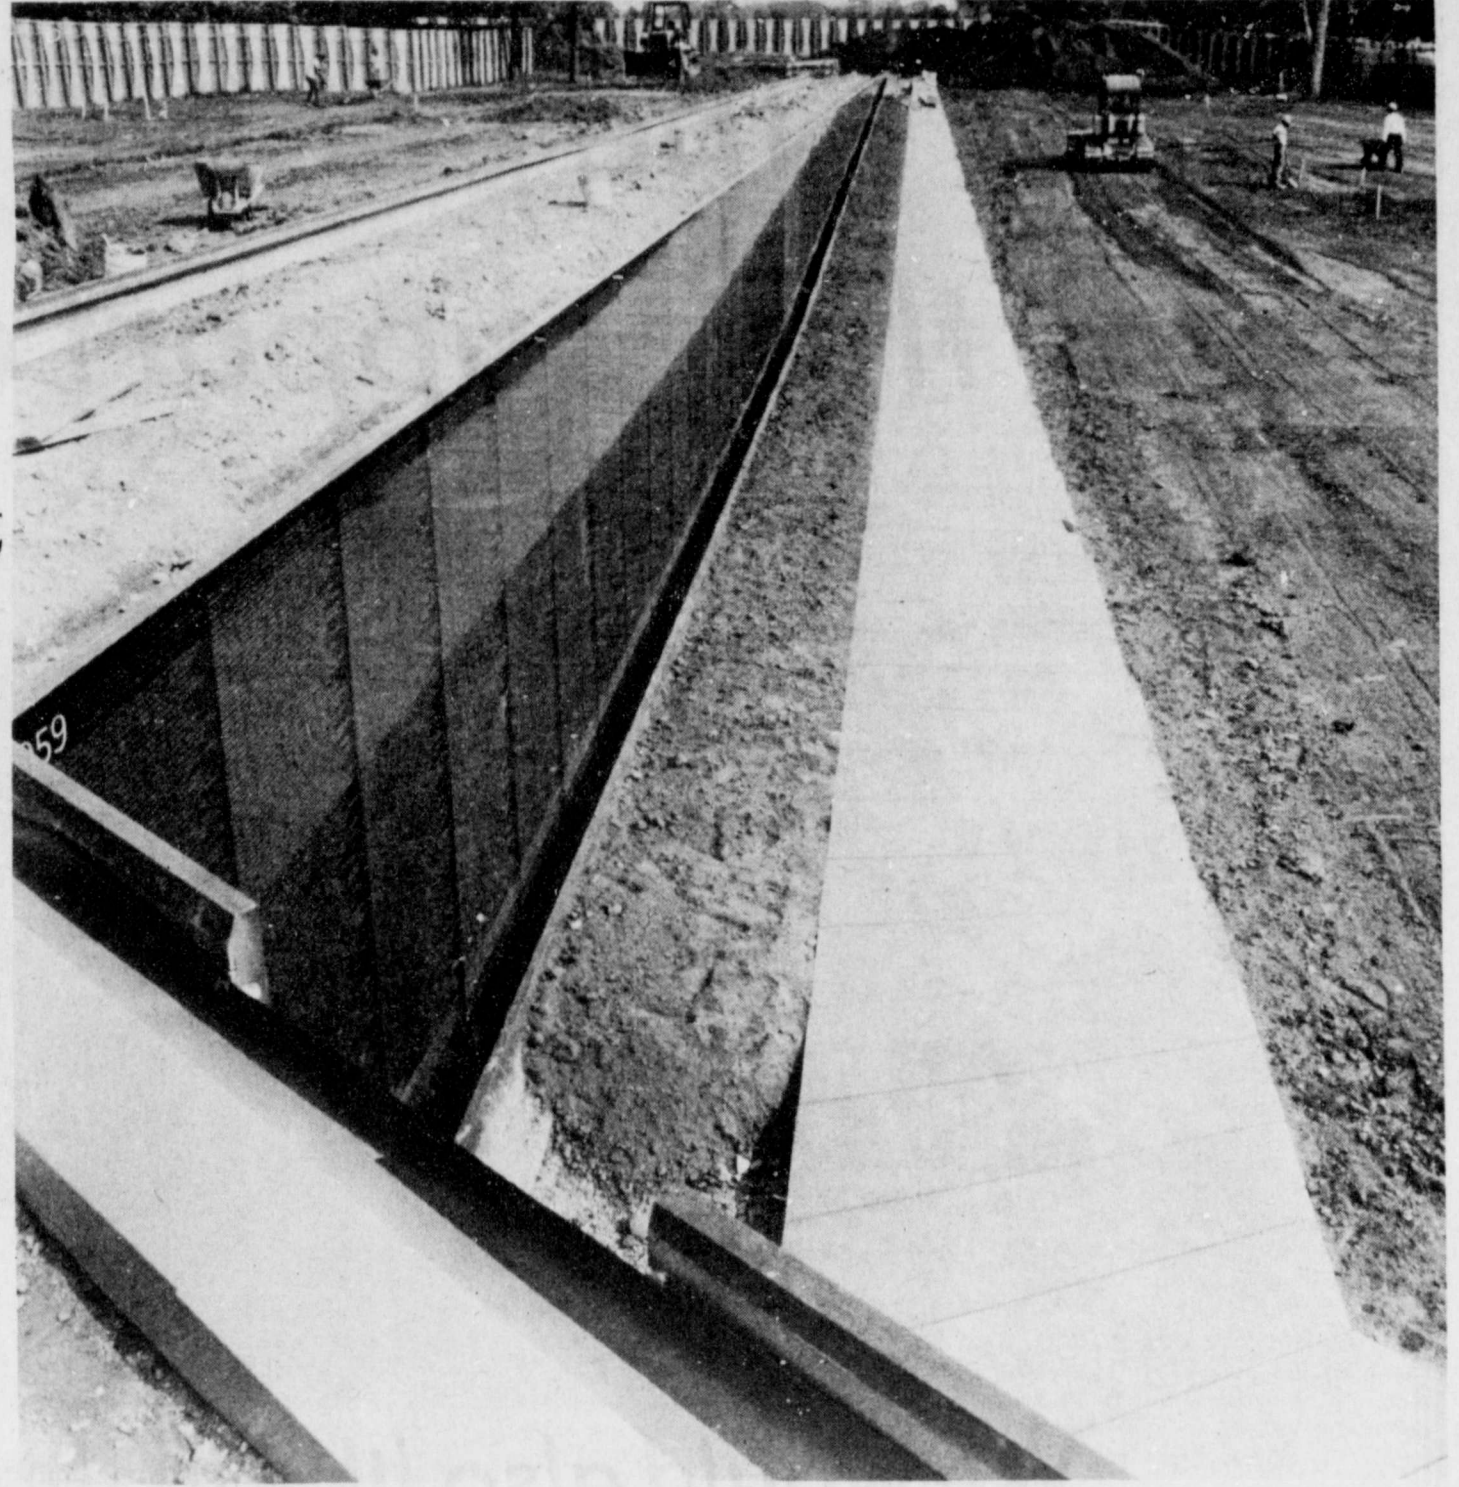

So Dr. Westphall, his wife, and younger son Douglas—who served in Southeast Asia as an Air Force pilot—went in virtually alone. They completed the walls in the summer of 1968, and added the roof the following summer. In the ensuing years, Dr. Westphall has driven more than 200,000 miles between his home in Springer, N.M., and the chapel site to complete the construction, carry out limited maintenance efforts, and open the chapel daily to visitors. Contributions from the public have been meager in comparison to the overall construction costs personally born by Dr. Westphall.

The Vietnam Veterans Chapel is a non-profit organization which Dr. Westphall serves as board secretary. In an effort to stimulate interest and greater financial assistance, the board of directors was recently expanded to include a number of business and civic leaders from the Eagle Nest-Taos-Raton area.

As a footnote to this story, David's mother purchased for him a book entitled, Wings for Per. This book was his favorite childhood possession. It could not have been known then that he would one day serve his country in Vietnam and that his last official address and home would be Val Verde Ranch, Eagle Nest, N.M., in the foothills of the mountains he loved so much. Prior to his departure for Vietnam, David designated a number of his books to the local school library. His last action before taking the bus on his way to Vietnam was to bring Wings for Per to his mother and say, "I can't give this book; it is worth a million other books."

The concluding paragraph of Wings for Per reads: "Then I will fly up into the clear, washed air of spring and soar over the eagle's nest and over my home under the crag. Mother will stand in front of the house and clasp her hands in wonder. She will say: Look, Per has wings."

ALL 57,942 NAMES had to be perfectly engraved and aligned on the new Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington, D.C. A special technique was used to produce the mammoth engraving project.

Vietnam memorial dedicated

More than 250,000 people will gather in Washington, D.C. November 10 through 14 to pay tribute to the 2.7 million Americans who served in Vietnam and to dedicate the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, according to Jan Scruggs, president and founder of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund, the organization sponsoring the National Salute to Vietnam Veterans.

"This is the chance a lot of people have been waiting for," said Scruggs. "Americans are finally going to give Vietnam veterans the welcome home they never received."

The Salute will begin on the morning of Wednesday, November 10 with the reading of the names of the nearly 58,000 Americans who died or are still missing in action. This round-the-clock 56-hour candlelight vigil at Washington's National Cathedral will continue until midnight on Friday, November 12.

On the night of November 10, actor Jimmy Stewart will host a special entertainers' salute. On Thursday, November 11, and Friday, November 12, there will be various Veterans Day ceremonies and concerts as well as unit reunions and receptions. On Saturday, November 13, there will be a grand parade down Constitution Avenue beginning at 10 a.m. followed by a 2:30 p.m. dedication of the Memorial at the site of the Mall. On Sunday, November 14, religious services will be held throughout the country.

According to Scruggs, 50,000 participants are expected in the parade to be held November 13. The theme of the parade is "Marching Along Together," and will include participants from the major veterans organizations, service organizations such as the American Red Cross and the USO, and state units. The 25 Grand Marshalls will include Congressional Medal of Honor winners from Vietnam, sports stars such as former Pittsburgh Steeler Rocky Bleier, government officials and officers and enlisted Vietnam veterans still on active duty.

Another important element of the National Salute will be the military unit reunions that will bring together veterans who served in Vietnam, many seeing their friends for the first time since the war. The reunions will be held in a number of hotels around the city. To locate a specific unit, a veteran should go to the registration area that will be divided by service in the following way: Army - Sheraton Washington Exhibit Hall C; Navy and Marines - Hotel Washington Ballroom; and Air Force and Coast Guard - the Mayflower hotel's State Room.

"We are urging all Vietnam veterans to register for the National Salute and the reunions as soon as possible," said SanDie Fauriol, National Director of the Salute. "This will avoid delays at the registration center and will mean that more veterans will be able to find buddies they haven't seen since they served in Vietnam."

"To register, veterans should contact the VVMF, at 1110 Vermont Avenue, NW, #308, Washington, D.C., 20005," Fauriol continued. "They should include information on their Service and Unit, the beginning and ending month and year of their tour, as well as name, address, phone number, and where they will be staying in Washington, D.C. during the Salute."

The Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund is a private, nonprofit group organized to establish a national memorial to honor all Americans who served in Vietnam.

Congress has allocated two acres of land near the Lincoln Memorial for the monument, but all design and construction costs will be financed by private contributions. Construction is now underway.

VETERANS DAY

Floyd County Veterans honored

More than 1.65 million veterans now live in Texas -- and will be among the 30 million nationally who will be honored on Veterans Day next November 11.

There now is an average of nearly 12 veterans in Texas among every 100 residents. Further, about 45 percent of the Texas population is affected directly or indirectly by VA's benefits, including medical programs.

The Texas Veteran population breakdown, based on VA Office of Reports and Statistics totals: 1.41 million war veterans from World War I through the Vietnam era ending May 7, 1975; 529,000 Vietnam era, including 32,000 with Korean conflict service; 307,000 Korean conflict, including 72,000 with World War II service; 662,000 WWII, 21,000 WWI; one Spanish-American War veteran on VA roll; 168,000 with service between the Korean conflict and the Vietnam era, and 75,000 post-Vietnam era.

Although a state breakdown of veteran age averages by service periods isn't available, the national averages (with total veterans in brackets) are: War veterans, 50.2 years old (25.6 million); Vietnam era, 34.8 (9.11 million); Korean conflict, 51.6 (5.75 million); Kenneth G. Stubbs, Wilbert P. Mathews, William A. Doudy, Stewart H. Felton, Donald E. Green, George W.

Vinson Haralson, Billy Jack Darden, Odie Milligan, Lenwood Gaston, Herliyon; WWII, 60.9 (12 million); WWI, 85.7 (416,000); Spanish-American War, 102 (61); between Korean conflict and Vietnam era, 42.7 (3.03 million), and post-Vietnam era, 23.8 (1.34 million).

Eighth grade whomp Childress for the climax of a winning season

The 8th grade Shorthorns ended their season on a winning note as they defeated the Childress Bobcats 20-16 last Thursday.

Lockney opened the scoring as Daniel Rodriguez carried the ball in from the 5-yard line.

In the third quarter Lockney extended the lead to 12-0 as Steven Cates carried the ball in from 20 yards out.

Childress was quick to get on the scoreboard as they drove the ball down the field and cut the margin to 12-8. Lockney then began a 95-yard drive that was capped by a 3-yard plunge into the end zone by Dickie Hernandez. Steven Cates carried the ball in for the extra points.

Childress scored again with about a minute left in the game, but Lockney held on for the victory.

The Shorthorns finished up their season record to 5-3-1, the first winning season in the junior high in several years.

David Rodriguez and Rusty Teeter were chosen as "Horns of the Week."

Freshman wind up season with shutout

The Lockney Freshmen ended their season in Childress by defeating the Bobcat freshmen 28-0.

Lockney scored in the first minute of play when George Basaldua blocked a Childress punt and recovered it in the end zone for a touchdown. Johnny Torres scored the 2 point conversion.

Chris Rodriguez added 6 more points to the Longhorn cause when he ran over from 4 yards out. Following David Sutterfield's 2 point pass to Trent Gant, Lockney had a 16-0 lead.

The Horns tallied one more first-half touchdown as Torres scored on a fumble recovery in the end zone.

Rodriguez capped the Horns scoring when he went 8 yards for a score in the 3rd quarter.

All the Horns played well and it was the best teamwork shown all year.

With the win Lockney closed out its season with a 3-5-1 record.

Shorthorn fall to Childress

The 7th grade Shorthorns dropped their last game of the season to a much bigger and stronger Childress team 21-0.

Childress scored a touchdown in each of the first three quarters.

Lockney had a strong drive going in the 2nd quarter, but time ran out and the Horns remained scoreless.

The "Horn of the Week" was Clay Adrian.

This is the last week of this scenario and boy aren't you folks glad. The confused computer came through this last week with a correctness of 67%. The Horns of Lockney surprised many Friday by blowing away Childress. Super season coach and all your fine players.

Texas Tech pulled off an upset this past week with another last minute field goal. You Tech fans should support the Raiders as they tackle the top rated Mustangs this week in Lubbock.

Whirlwinds keep you heads up this year was just not meant to be. You can and will prevail in the long run. You are a better team than the record book shows.

Mr. Yocal all is well and this the first year of this insanity is over. I have enjoyed poking fun and comparing my computer contacts with your bones and stones. I hope you get your relief.

Next year I'll get to read one of your comments and get to guess who you are.

& Yocal

Mighty Casey has struck out or shouldn't that be Mighty Yocal has struck out? Well, you know it doesn't really matter whether it's baseball or football you're recollecting, the results keep coming out the same. Let's face it, I have, I goofed royally. Now I know why there aren't very many old Indians walking around. Their old bones become brittle, breaking down under the everyday pressures of this awesome, gruesome, drudgery of life during life.

I'm sitting here near regurgitation reflecting back on eleven weeks of promises, guesses, triumphs and defeats. The nausea is near gone after grinding my lucky bones (my so-called Indian friend gave me) to make my bread. It's a hard meal to swallow, but I'm reminded of words of wisdom from my darling wife when she said "you're cute, you're onery, I love your little ears, and when you're good you're real good but when you're bad - you don't even finish. That's a local joke - get it? Ha!

I'm not completely saddened though - if Floydada had beaten Slaton I would still have considered this past week a real success. And you, Local, with another 2 out of 3 - you're on a roll son, keep it up and I hope your farming comes out as well. I've enjoyed the challenge of trying to get under your skin.

For all of you readers who have been following this mess and hilarity for the past few weeks, some words of wisdom: The golden eagle may glide through the sun rays of the early dawn, bringing anxiety and gloom to the trespassers of current events; but the purple duck never comes. See you in the funnies!

BY MRS. MURRAY JULIAN

South Plains, November 8:
Voting in South Plains at the South Plains Elementary was carried on at the polls, Tuesday, November 2, with those presiding there, Mrs. Mamie Wood, Mrs. Joyce Osborne, Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham and Mrs. Mildred Hamm. The polls were set up here in the school auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cypert and Mr. and Mrs. E.D. Guggenheim from Amarillo came Sunday afternoon of last week and were visiting here in South Plains with Warren's sister, and Edith's sister, Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham, until Tuesday morning.

Here in South Plains this past week we have had two happy things occur as two new residents of South Plains made their appearances. We just add our congratulations to the many others to Mr. and Mrs. Rance and Nancy Young who became parents of their first child, a chubby, big baby boy born Wednesday, November 3rd at the Central Plains General Hospital in Plainview. The baby weighed ten pounds and eleven ounces, and was named Tyler Deral Young. They are home here in South Plains and getting along fine.

Congratulations to the other little baby, a baby girl, who came to grace the home of parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brad and Shari Smith, who live east of South Plains. The baby was born Friday, November 5th, at the Lockney General Hospital in Lockney, and mother and daughter got to come home Sunday. The little miss has been named Desha M'lett, and she weighed 8 lbs. and 6 oz. Desha has an older brother, Ryan about 3, and he with a bunch of relatives will spoil the baby sister.

We extend best wishes to all the relatives of the new babies, Tyler Deral Young with grandmother Mrs. La Faun Young, and all the rest, and to grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L.N. Johnson, with grandbaby Desha M'lett. Both children have many relatives to whom we send congratulations.

This week in South Plains we have the CPR and Heimlich Maneuver on Tuesday afternoon, November 9th at 2:30 p.m. at the schoolhouse which is sponsored by the Boy Scouts and the American Red Cross. On Wednesday Hobby Club will meet at Mrs. Connie Sanders home.

Mrs. Jerry Taylor and daughter Candy came Thursday night from Amarillo to visit with Mrs. Taylor's mother here, Mrs. Letha Mulder. Mrs. Taylor went back Saturday, but Candy spent the week-end, and Sunday afternoon Mrs. Mulder took her home to Amarillo, and she spent Sunday night there.

Students at Texas Tech in Lubbock home with their folks for the week-end were Kristi Julian here with her folks.

the Kendis Julians, and Kelly Marble here with his folks, the Fred Marbles.

Hazle Gatewood from Helena, Montana arrived here by plane last Tuesday and she has been a guest at the parsonage with the Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Osborne part of the week, and with her sisters, spent some time in Plainview. She was a visitor at Wednesday night prayer services, and at Sunday Baptist Church services. Other guests with the Osbornes were their daughter and granddaughters Jennifer and Jamie and Linda Somers from down Dallas way who came Friday and went home Sunday. Hazle Gatewood will be going back to Montana early this week.

Visitors at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday were Hazle Gatewood, Mrs. Linda Somers, Jamie and Jennifer, and Kristi Julian. Remember the Mary Hill Davis missions offering and it will be turned in, in two more weeks.

We are glad to have Mrs. Grigsby Milton (Lillie Maye) home from the Lockney Hospital after she was there from Saturday morning through the week-end.

John Cummings spent the past week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings. Accompanying him home was Tammy Busch from Athens, Texas. On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Mark and Dee Sanders and children, Shea, Dane and Kylon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert and Paula Pyle, Jason and Amber of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Zach Cummings, Courtney and Adam, had dinner with the Cummings. On Saturday Tammy and John attended the Texas Tech and University of Texas football game in Lubbock. They are both sophomores at U.T. They left Sunday after lunch for school and classes there.

Mr. and Mrs. Grigsby Milton went to Floydada Sunday morning to attend First Baptist Church services where their grandson, Rusty Edwards was in baptismal services.

Tuesday, November 16, the Association of Workers Conference will be held at Matador First Baptist. WMU members will be in charge of the program on missions. Mrs. David Jester is speaker for the program. Executive Board will meet at 6:00 p.m. the evening meal will be at 6:30 p.m. and the program will be at 7:15 p.m.

Mrs. Benson tells about mission trip

The Baptist Women II met November 3 in the Senior Citizens building at the Plains Baptist Assembly. Mrs. Allen Benson who recently returned from a trip to Recife Brazil was leader of the Mission program and hostess for the meeting. Mrs. May Garrett voiced the opening prayer.

The serving table was laid with a beautiful cloth brought from Brazil and centered with a fruit arrangement. Several varieties of Brazilian food and fruit were served to the group, as Mrs. Benson explained different ways and customs which it was served in Brazil. Lovely book markers, with the scripture Proverbs 10:19 written in Portuguese added to the beauty of the table and were presented to each one present.

Leaflets were passed out also written in Portuguese telling Mrs. Benson's personal testimony and the plan of salvation, that she used while witnessing.

Many interesting books, pictures, articles and ladies fashions were on display. Another highlight of the meeting were slides shown by Allen Benson, of the churches, missionaries and Brazilians participation in witnessing for Christ.

Those present were Mmes. J.R. Turner, C.W. Denison, Nettie Adams, Glen White, Earl Crawford, Floyd Lawson, T.L. Holland, O.G. Mayfield, Jay Hale, R.A. Garrett, Iva Benson, Lisa Howard, W.B. Parrack and hostess Mrs. Allen Benson. Also Mr. Steve Dean, Salvador Chevaz, and Allen Benson.

Information about your changing telephone service from Jim West, Community Relations Manager.

Industry changes will affect us all

This is a time of significant change for Southwestern Bell and for the entire telecommunications industry. Decisions are being made as to how we are organized; in how we price and market our services; and in the policies that govern our industry.

These changes will touch everyone—customers, shareowners and our employees. They involve new concepts in home and business communications, and new ways of obtaining and using telecommunications products and services.

Keeping Pace with Change and Its Impact on You

As the company restructures itself and adapts to these changes, you will want to know their impact on you and your telephone service. That's part of my job: keeping you informed about our plans. My duties also include recommending areas for service improvements, monitoring service problems and serving as the company's representative to the community.

Naturally, you'll continue to call the Business Office with questions about your bill or our Repair Bureau to get your telephone line fixed. But I'll try to keep you posted about changes that might affect your service.

While I've had the opportunity to visit with some of you about these telephone issues, it's impossible for me to speak personally to everyone. That's why I will be using this column to communicate with you. My address is listed at the end of the column. Please feel free to drop me a note anytime. I'll be glad to hear from you.

I can't guarantee that I will have all the answers or instant solutions. But, I can promise that I will listen and help you in whatever way I can.

Most importantly, I will keep you posted on changes—local and national—that affect your telephone service.

Texas PUC Hearing Company Rate Request

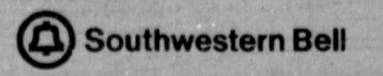

As you're probably aware, our hearings with the Texas Public Utility Commission in Austin to increase rates have begun. We are well aware this is not the way to win a popularity contest. It's unfortunate, but it's necessary.

The $471.5 million we are seeking is more money than I can imagine, but so is the $1.5 billion we've budgeted this year to expand and improve service in Texas. Incidentally, this is the fifth straight year we have committed more than $1 billion in the state.

Almost a third of the total we've asked for is the result of rules the Federal Communications Commission recently adopted, requiring faster recovery of expenses for depreciation and other capital costs. The FCC's action was taken because competitive and technological developments have resulted in shorter service life for telephone equipment. It's a simple, but costly, fact.

Remember, if you have something to talk about, don't hesitate to drop me a line. Here's my address:

The Modern Little Red Hen

we shall have bread to eat. Who will help me plant it?"

"Not I," said the cow.

"Not I," said the duck.

"Not I," said the pig.

"Not I," said the goose.

"Then I will," said the little red hen.

And she did. The wheat grew tall and ripened into golden grain. "Who will help me reap my wheat?" asked the little red hen.

"Not I," said the duck.

"Out of my classification," said the pig.

"I'd lose my seniority," said the cow.

"I'd lose my unemployment compensation," said the goose.

"Then I will," said the little red hen, and she did.

At last it came time to bake the bread. "Who will help me bake the bread?" asked the little red hen.

"That would be overtime for me," said the cow.

"I'd lose my welfare benefits," said the duck.

"I'm a dropout and never learned how," said the pig.

"If I'm to be the only helper, that's discrimination," said the goose.

"Then I will," said the little red hen. She baked five loaves and held them up for her neighbors to see.

They all wanted some and, in fact, demanded a share. But the little red hen said, "No. I can eat the five loaves myself."

"Excess profits!" cried the cow.

"Capitalist leech!" screamed the duck.

"I demand equal rights!" yelled the goose.

And the pig just grunted. And they painted "unfair" picket signs and marched round and round the little red hen, shouting obscenities.

When the government agent came, he said to the little red hen, "You must not be greedy."

"But I earned the bread," said the little red hen.

"Exactly," said the agent. "That is the wonderful free enterprise system. Anyone in the barnyard can earn as much as he wants. But under our modern government regulations, the productive workers must divide their product with the idle."

And they lived happily ever after, including the little red hen, who smiled and clucked. "I am grateful. I am grateful."

But her neighbors wondered why she never again baked any more bread.

This article was handed to us this week from a publication by Milliken & Company. It stated the material was originally prepared by Penwalt Corporation. We have read it before and maybe you have, but it bears repeating.

Once upon a time, there was a little red hen who scratched about the barnyard until she uncovered some grains of wheat. She called her neighbors and said, "If we plant this wheat,
