PIK program explained to farmers

Monday morning shortly before 10:00 a.m. farmers began to pour into the parking area around the American Legion building at Lockney for a PIK meeting to be presented. Lockney

Cooperatives sponsored the meeting, furnishing coffee and doughnuts to 98 farmers.

Richie Crow, newly appointed county agent, and Benny Butler, assistant county agent attended. Speakers at the meeting were Tom Moore, Floyd County ASCS executive director, and Dr. Gary Condra, area economist for Texas A&M Extension Service of Lubbock.

Dr. Condra presented the use of a partial budget as a tool for which each farmer could best figure how PIK fit his individual operation. He said the partial budget could be used to calculate the expected change in profit associated with a proposed change in the farm business. It should include only income and expense items which will change if the proposed modification is implemented. New or additional costs incurred and current income lost or reduced would be contrast against new or additional income received along with current costs reduced or eliminated.

A copy of the workform Dr. Condra used was handed out to each person attending the meeting and he said that copies would be available in the County Agent's office in the next few days. A copy of this form has been reproduced on page 2 of this paper.

The reduction of surplus farm commodities was described as "the only game in town". With PIK price being the big question by far, another important factor pointed out was the increase of production on acres left in production because of the added care provided.

The two fundamental guidelines of the PIK program for the farmers to keep in mind when they are figuring their situation is that there is no cross compliance between farms or crops. A producer operating several farms is eligible to enter each farm on whatever basis he chooses, assuming they all have established ASCS bases for the commodity on which the producer chooses to enter the program.

Secondly, each crop may be handled on an individual basis, making it possible for the farmer to enroll each of the five crops, cotton, grain sorghum, wheat, corn and rice, at different percentage levels. The one exception to this rule is that corn and grain sorghum can be interchanged.

Producers will be issued their own commodity (cotton for cotton, milo for milo) from what they have in the loan until that is used up. ASCS offices, according to Moore, may cause the producer to put his 1983 production in the loan before he will be paid PIK. If the producer does not have any of the commodity in the loan, CCC will issue a certificate and ASCS will help to locate some.

Producers are to receive 80 percent of his normal yield (except for wheat) with a commodity certificate for each acre held out of production. Wheat producers are to receive 95 percent of their normal yield in wheat. Additionally, wheat that was planted before January 12 that is kept grazed until May 15 so as not to make a crop may then continue to be grazed. Oats, too, can be planted without effecting a producer's wheat base. When a producer has raised irrigated and dryland wheat, payment will be made at a blended payment rate.

Mechanical harvesting of any crop on land designated for the PIK program is strictly prohibited.

CCC will pay storage costs for payment-in-kind commodities for up to five months after availability dates for the crops. These dates are based on normal harvestings for each area. When the farmer is in charge of the commodity, he may dispose of it by immediate sale, forward contracting or collateral for loans.

Farm yield for 1983 will be figured on the existing best-four-of-five year action. That figure will be compared against 90% of the 1982 yield. The higher of the two figures will be used. With some of the local farmers looking at 2 of the five years a loss due to hail, the sentiment was expressed that their averages would all suffer.

Signup for the PIK program was begun Monday, January 24, and will continue through March 11 at the local ASCS office. Four options will be available to those who participate in the program. They may participate in the regular program plus the 10-30 percent PIK, they may reduce 20% and be eligible for deficiency payment and loan, they may participate on a whole farm base, or not participate at all and plant whatever they want to.

Bids are to be opened March 18, one week after the signing deadline. For each county authorized to accept bids, the bids with the lowest payback percentage will be accepted first. The number of whole base bids accepted will depend on the level of signup in the 10 to 30 percent program, the supply-demand situation for each commodity, conditions in the local community and other factors. Total diverted acreage may not exceed 50 percent of the total base acreage in any county for one commodity.

One encouraging note to larger producers is that $50,000 limitation on the present program will not apply on the PIK program due to farmers receiving commodities and not money. If the producer should exceed the $50,000 limitation, he could take 50% of PIK rather than take reduction in leave out.

The PIK program has been set up for the 1983 year, but it could be reinstated in 1984 if excess commodities are not reduced sufficiently.

It was stressed at the meeting that each producer should examine his individual circumstances, but a general rule of thumb was given: The lower yield and the higher PIK price, the more apt a producer should be to participate.

For 30 days from the onset of the program continuing through February 11, a "comment session" is being entertained. Comments should be directed to the county agent.

This Week

4-H

There will be a 4-H meeting in the Ag Building in Lockney Monday night at 7:00 p.m. Garry Burson will be in charge of the program.

Adult Education

Adult education classes are being held at the Lockney Jr. High School. GED classes are being held on Monday and Thursday nights from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. Learning English classes are being held on Tuesday and Thursday nights at the same hour. Students may register at any time. If enough interest is shown, classes will continue through May. For further information, please call 652-2236.

Exam

The Licensed Vocational Nursing (L.V.N.) Aptitude Exam will be given at 8:30 a.m. on Thursday, January 27, 1983. It will be held in Room 101 of the Wheeler Building located at the International Occupational Center on 8th and Yonkers in Plainview. The fee will be $4.00 payable at the time of registration. Anyone wishing to take the exam must be present by 8:15 a.m. and have a completed Application for Admission. An application can be obtained at the International Occupational Center from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. For more information, call the International Occupational Center at (806) 293-3605.

Aerobics

An aerobic class will begin January 31 on Mondays and Thursdays at 4:00 to 5:00 p.m. in the Beacon office. For more information call 652-2456.

Locals

We are so pleased to have Dottie Stansell writing Lockney Locals again. Her column will be entitled "Dottie's Doodlings." She will be happy to take your local news. You may call her by phoning 652-3122 mornings and 652-3622 afternoons. Deadline for reporting local news will be 3:00 p.m. each Monday.

Love Fund

A love fund has been started at the First National Bank, Lockney, for Diana Garcia, 6-month old daughter of Nino and Rosa Garcia. The infant has been in the hospital for 2 weeks in Lubbock. Heart surgery which had been indicated was hoped to be postponed until she was older, but had to be scheduled this week. The family left for Dallas early Tuesday morning. Anyone interested in contributing to the fund may do so at the bank.

Meeting

Tuesday, February 1, the High Plains Genealogical Association will meet. Something good is in store at the meeting since the group is celebrating a birthday. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Tator Bake

The Floydada 1956 Junior Study Club will be sponsoring a "Tator Bake" Feb. 1 at the Floydada Junior High cafeteria. They will start serving about 5 p.m. There will be a choice of three different meat toppings. Sour cream, butter, and the works will be included. Also cobbler, tea and coffee will be served. Prices are $3 for adults and $1 for children. The proceeds will go to a scholarship fund for one of the Floydada students.

Volleyball

A short planning meeting will be held at Southwestern Public Service Friday, January 28 at 5:30 p.m. for anyone interested in signing up for men's or women's volleyball. For more information call 652-2191 (or 652-2561 after 5:00).

Elaine Cooper Hardy scholarships set up

Mrs. Cliff (Elaine) Hardy of Lockney remains in Sealy Hospital in Galveston after surgery Monday to replace a hip joint. Because of infection in the hip joint the surgery was not completed and Mrs. Hardy will have to recover from that infection before the joint can be replaced. A lengthy stay in the hospital is expected.

Cards and letters to Mrs. Hardy would be a help to her. The address is: Elaine Hardy, John Sealy Hospital, Towers Bldg., Room J-8A-5, Galveston, Texas 77550.

Establishment of scholarships to honor Elaine Cooper Hardy of Lockney has been announced by parents of her piano students in both Floydada and Lockney.

A scholarship will be presented to a graduating student from both Lockney and Floydada high schools this spring. Selection committees will function in each town to choose the scholarship recipients.

Graduating students of both towns should make written application for the scholarship by April 1 to their own high school principal. Further details as to the information needed in the application will be available at the principal's office by March 1.

Funding for the scholarships will be from donations made to the Elaine Cooper Hardy bank accounts in Floydada and Lockney. Residents of both towns are invited to give to the scholarship fund for memorials to deceased friends and relatives. Acknowledgement cards will be sent to families of persons honored by contributions to the fund.

Donations to the funds may be made in Lockney to Mrs. Buck (Glenda) Ford and in Floydada to Mrs. Delmas (Pauline) McCormick.

First donations to the fund came from parents of Mrs. Hardy's music students in lieu of Christmas gifts to Mrs. Hardy. It is hoped that this tradition will continue and that even now anyone in Lockney and Floydada might want to contribute to the scholarship fund rather than send flowers and other gifts to Mrs. Hardy who is currently in Sealy Hospital in Galveston.

Floyd County Fair set for September 8, 9, 10

The Floyd County Fair Board had its organizational meeting Monday, January 24th in the home of Gary and Linda Marr. President John Quebe led discussion on events to be held at this year's fair which will be held Thursday September 8 through Saturday, September 10. Final decisions on the schedule of events will be made at next month's meeting.

In order to help meet growing expenses and pay for utility bills throughout the year, the board voted to include a donor page in this year's fair catalogue. Any individual donating $5.00 or more will have their family's name listed in this year's catalogue. This money will help defray the costs which the income from last year's fair will not cover.

The future of our county fair will depend on the support we receive in this endeavor. If you would like to see the fair continue, please send your name and donation to Bernie Ford, Rt. 1, Lockney. Your donation is tax deductible and will help show your interest in the future of the fair.

Also, anyone who might be interested in helping on a committee for the fair may contact John Quebe at 293-5788.

"Sonlighters"

THE SONLIGHTERS, a Christian gospel group, will be in concert at the First United Methodist Church in Lockney on Sunday, January 30, at 5:30 p.m. the group is from Idalou and is composed of men from various denominations and walks of life. They have banded together to share the gospel in music form. The public is welcome to attend. Members of the group [left to right] are: [seated] Lee Everitt and Ray Everitt, [standing] Ray Lashaway, George Woodward and Eugene Culpepper.

The Rev. Michael O'Connor's

Perspectives

Ten years ago, the debate began in earnest, and has not stopped since. Now, apparently in observation of the Supreme Court decision to allow legal abortion, the media is full of coverage about how the decision was made and the impact of the decision.

But consider that on the same day that an article is run about a major abortion clinic in the U.S., there were also articles about the discovery of an infant found hidden inside a shoe box in a trash receptacle, and a report on the condition of Barney Clark, the world's first artificial heart recipient. Doctors are battling to save the lives of both these individuals. Seems kind of strange that the same society which can do such marvelous acts of healing would also be busy aborting 1 million potential lives every year, doesn't it?

The abortion issue is a loaded one, and one that will probably not be solved in the next decade, any better than it has been in this first decade of the legal abortion. One of the main obstacles in solving the problem is that the issue has become so emotionally laden that people will not talk rationally with each other if they are on opposing sides.

The "pro-life" forces have been at times quite abusive. The justice who wrote the Supreme Court's decision has been called all sorts of vile things, and his life has even been threatened. Threats of murder have also been directed at doctors who perform abortion, as well. This kind of activity is hardly the norm for "pro-lifers", but it is also highly inappropriate behaviour for those who are supposedly concerned with the preservation of human life.

On the other side, the "pro-choice" advocates have dealt out their share of abuse on their detractors. Many times their invective has been more worthy of drunks in a barroom, than advocates of freedom and the rights of others. Incidentally, it seems amazing that a group should talk about rights, especially to freedom of expression, and then tell another group they are wrong and should therefore keep quiet.

Life will always be a loaded issue, I suppose. But couldn't we begin to act more like the rational beings we claim to be?

Chamber Clips

By Susan Garms

In case you missed last week's front page, we are so proud to have Western artist and humorist Kenneth Wyatt to speak at our Annual Banquet March 5th. Tickets will be mailed to Chamber members the second week in February.

Others wishing tickets may purchase them on a first-come-first-served basis at the Chamber offices at 105 W. California or by phone request at 983-3434.

Members Attention!!! Committees and task forces are being set up now. Call and volunteer your time and talents! Or tell us what you're interested in and we'll find a place for you! Count on it!

Areas of interest include: (Surely you're in here somewhere!)

Public Relations, Dinner Theater, Chuck Wagon Gang, Community Development (including beautification, Santaland and Library), Athletic Events, Agriculture and Stock Show, Saving Stamp Campaign, Governmental Affairs, Industrial Development, Beauty Pageant, Welcome Wagon, Economic Education - Free Enterprise, Transportation

According to the National Retail Merchants Association's Calendar of "What's on Sale and When" -- February's items include: cars, furniture and floor coverings, mattresses, major appliances.

TAXPAYERS' PREFERENCE: Given a choice, U.S. taxpayers favor reductions in government spending as the preferred method of bringing down the size of federal budget deficits, according to a Gallup Organization survey for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. Based on interviews with a nationwide sample of 510 adults, Gallup reported these results:

	All Respondents
Raising taxes	4%
Reducing spending	50%
Both	22%
Neither; leaving deficit as it is	15%
Don't know	9%

We have had a request from a man in Denver, Colorado, trying to locate a former Denver resident whose maiden name was Katherine Sanderson. She married a man from Floydada and is expected to be currently living here. Anyone with information - please call the Chamber office.

And speaking of calling the Chamber office, if you try and either don't get an answer or get the answering machine, don't give up, call back soon or leave a message. We try to keep the office open as much as possible, but there are many things to attend to, and errands to run, and members to see, etc., and with no secretary any longer...anyway, keep dialing.

The 1956 Study Club will be having a "TATER BAKE" with all the trimmings and including cobbler, to supplement their scholarship fund, at the Junior High School beginning at 5:00 on February 1. This meal will be served before the Floydada - Lockney basketball game, so come eat, enjoy, and support our team.

Why higher premiums

For those teen-age drivers always complaining about their high insurance rates, here are a few statistics to help explain the situation.

According to the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, a recent study reveals that not only are teen-age male drivers involved in fatal crashes to an unusual degree, but they are also responsible for a large share of those crashes.

Data from the Department of Transportation indicates that teen-age drivers are responsible for more deaths per license holder than drivers of all other ages; they are responsible for about five times as many crash deaths per license holder as drivers 35 to 65. Among teen-age drivers, male teen-age drivers kill more than four times as many people as female teen-age drivers.

No one is quite sure why there is such a dramatic difference between the sexes, although researchers speculate that male teen-agers are more aggressive drivers than females, and they are also more likely to drive after drinking or ingesting drugs.

The study also revealed that among the young drivers up to age 25, 16 and 17 year olds are the worst.

Another interesting statistic revealed that teen drivers kill other people--their own passengers as well as other drivers and passengers of other cars -- more often than they kill themselves. Drivers age 21 or older more often are victims of their own accidents.

Pack 259 competes in Plainview

Susan Patridge presided in the absence of Cub Master Charles Smith. The program was the annual Pine Wood Derby Race.

Winners in the best paint job category were Bryan Griffith, Matt Workman and Domingo Luna.

Joe Sustaita, Coy Davis, and Matt Workman had the best designs. Scouts displaying the "cubiest" cars were Jason Lusk, Coy Davis, and John Mark

CRIME CALL

Floydada Crime Call is offering a $200 reward for information leading to the arrest of the person or persons responsible for the theft of a tractor stolen from the property farmed by Hulon Carthel. The red International tractor was last seen Jan. 11. It was 2 miles east of Muncy on Hwy. 97. The serial number is 16548 and the engine number is 69015.

Anyone having information regarding these crimes is urged to call Crime Call at 983-5200 in Floydada. In Lockney the number to call is 652-2416. Or, informants may call the Texas Crime Busters toll free number: 1-800-252-8477. Informants may remain anonymous, but if they are willing to testify in the trial of the case additional rewards will be paid for this testimony.

Crime Call is supported entirely by private donations. Tax deductible contributions may be mailed to Crime Call of Floyd County Inc., 122 E. California, Floydada, Texas 79235.

Citizens are also advised Crime Call offers rewards for information received on all unsolved felony crimes occurring in Floyd County.

PIK worksheet may be helpful

The following is a worksheet designed to help make the decision whether or not to participate in the Payment In Kind (PIK) program. This is only a guide. It should be tailored to fit the individual farm operation.

Everything on the left has a negative effect on net income; everything on the right has a positive effect on net income.

The decision to participate should be based on whether the increase cost or reduced returns is outweighed by returns gained and costs reduced.

Under the 'additional costs' column, the conservation cost is the costs incurred for the acres devoted to the PIK program. 'Other' is other cost incurred if the decision had been to not participate in the program.

'Actual yield times loan price' is the returns given up if the decision is made to go with the program. A reasonable estimate should be used in the estimate of the long term actual yields. This is a sensitive figure in this whole process. If this figure is too low one may be participating when one shouldn't have. If the figure is too high, one may not be participating when one should have.

'Deferred payments' is the difference between the target and loan prices. Note that it is deficiency payments times payment yield not times actual yield.

'PIK commodity' is going to be calculated as 80 or 95 percent of the payment yield, depending on whether wheat or another crop is planted. It was suggested to use a figure between 75 and 90 percent of the loan as a representative market price for the PIK commodity. If any additional returns are anticipated that are not on this sheet, they should be included.

The "remaining pre-harvest cash costs" are those costs that it would take to put in a crop if the decision is made not to participate. (What costs would be avoided if one decides to participate in the PIK program.) Harvest cost should agree with actual yield figure in col. one.

If the decision is made not to participate in the program the actual yield figure is going to be uncertain. If the decision is made to participate in the program, it is known how much commodity one would get, but, it is not known how much the commodity is worth.

Do you know where your tractor is today?

To inform rural residents of practical steps to prevent crime against their families and property, a meeting to discuss farm security will be held Thursday, February 3, 1983, at 7:30 p.m. at Lighthouse Electric Coop, according to Richie Crow, Floyd County Extension agent. There will be a presentation on making rural property less susceptible as a target for criminals.

Some rural residents are inviting rural crime against their property and don't even know it, says Crow. This meeting will show them what they can do to protect themselves.

Rural crime is increasing faster than city crime. Rural residents of Floyd County are being forced to confront this problem.

Because crime is changing, farmers, ranchers and other rural residents must also change to protect themselves.

Rural residents must assume an increasing responsibility for property management that will protect individuals, equipment, livestock and other property.

It was suggested that an insurance premium be added (in production costs that one would avoid) that would insure the yield that the decision is based on. If another figure is desired, it may be used. If no figure is desired, it is not needed.

The most critical factor is the relationship between actual yield expected and the program payment yield that calculates the PIK commodity.

Again this worksheet is only a guide. It may be recycled to suit one's own individual needs.

1040EZ simplified form

This is part two of a four part series of tips and information from the IRS. For additional information call the IRS office toll free 1-800-492-4830.

IRS INTRODUCES A NEW FORM --1040EZ

The Internal Revenue Service has developed a new simplified tax form for single taxpayers, called Form 1040EZ. The IRS says that, as the name implies, the 1040EZ is a brief, simple-to-complete tax form.

The IRS estimates that over 20 million taxpayers will be eligible to use the new form. For example, most college students who file federal individual income tax returns will be eligible to use the 1040EZ even if they are claimed as dependents on another taxpayer's return.

To use the 1040EZ, a taxpayer must be single, claim only one personal exemption, and claim no exemptions for children or other dependents. All income must come from wages, salaries, tips, and no more than $400 in interest. Taxable income must be less than $50,000.

The form contains only 11 items, the IRS says, which is half the lines on the Form 1040A for 1982. The 1040EZ is divided into steps that guide the taxpayers through the form.

Most of the instructions needed to complete Form 1040EZ are on the back of the form. However, the IRS advises that this year's 1040EZ filers will need to use the 1040A instructions for the tax table and for the special worksheet used to figure the allowable deduction for charitable contributions on the new form.

The 1040EZ has been included in the 1982 Form 1040A tax package. It is also available separately at many local IRS offices and through form distribution centers in many banks and post offices.

Bernard memorial

Selection of a special memorial to honor Mrs. Audrey Bernard is the first order of business at 5 p.m., Tuesday, February 1, at a special meeting of the Friends of the Library.

Mrs. Bernard was a staunch supporter of the Floyd County Library and was instrumental in the establishment and growth of library services in Floyd County. Upon her death in 1981, many county residents, including her family, made substantial donations to the building fund in her memory.

The Friends also want to recognize in a tangible way the energy, leadership and knowledgeable assistance given by Mrs. Bernard to the Floyd County Library. The public is invited to attend and assist in a decision about the type of memorial that would be most appropriate. The meeting will be in the Floyd County Library.

Mahaney to counsel Wednesdays in Floydada

MICAH MAHANEY

Floydada Counseling Center would like to introduce to the Floydada and Floyd County area, Micah Mahaney, M.S. Mr. Mahaney is now taking appointments on Wednesday mornings from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. He will be offering individual counseling, group therapy, family therapy, and marriage counseling. Mary Ann Juarez, case worker is in the office daily and appointments can be scheduled by phoning her at 983-2584.

Mr. Mahaney received his B.A. in 1976 from Austin College and holds a Master's degree from Texas A&M University. He is a member of the Biofeedback Society of America, Texas Psychological Association, American Psychological Association, International Association of Applied Psychology, and International Council of Psychologists to only name a few organizations.

While on staff last year at R.N. Dedman Medical Center in Farmers Branch, Texas, he organized social and recreational activities, led patient workshops and group therapy sessions. He also has experience working with juvenile delinquents, the terminally ill, and the developmentally disabled.

Floydada Counseling Center is a branch of Central Plains Mental Health and Mental Retardation Center in Plainview, Texas. The local center is located in Room 200 of Floyd County Courthouse, being funded through local donations and through fees collected for the services. The fees are based on a sliding scale depending on the client's income. Mrs. Juarez would like to encourage our community to come by and meet Mr. Mahaney and get to know the many services that the center provides. He will also be available to speak to Civic and Social agencies as well as provide preventative work within the community and school system.

HEAT HELP to be administered through Crosbyton Community Action office

Energas Company announced Monday that agreements have been made with seven non-profit organizations to manage the company's HEAT HELP program, which is designed to aid residential customers who need assistance with their heating bills this winter.

At news conferences conducted at Midland Regional Air Terminal and in Lubbock by Energas president Charles K. Vaughan, and in Amarillo by Harry E. Neel, vice president and Amarillo division manager, the organization serving Floyd County is:

--Caprock Community Action, Inc., 224 South Berkshire, Crosbyton, Texas 79322, serving Hale, Floyd and Crosby counties, which is part of seven non-profit organizations administering funds.

Representatives of the cooperating organizations attended Monday's news conferences.

"Energas has donated to each of the seven non-profit organizations, based on the number of customers the company has in the regions served by them," Vaughan said. "Each organization has agreed to distribute HEAT HELP funds on a case-by-case basis to assist persons living in Energas Company's service area who otherwise would be unable to pay their heating bills this winter," he said.

Energas had announced on January 12 it would start such a program.

"Energas has offered in the past, and will continue to make available, an individualized deferred payment arrangement to customers who need help," Vaughan said.

"We at Energas realize our donations to these seven non-profit organizations are only a beginning," Vaughan said. "We are actively encouraging our employees, customers and the general public to join Energas in making contributions," he said.

An enclosure giving detailed information regarding the operation of the HEAT HELP program and soliciting additional contributions to it will be included in all customer billings mailed during February's billing cycle.

The non-profit organizations will, under terms of their agreements with Energas, distribute all contributions received, based upon their own previously established criteria of need. All donations will be tax deductible.

"Inquiries seeking further information, as well as all applications for assistance, should be made to the appropriate non-profit organization," Vaughan said.

"However," Vaughan said, "Energas will accept checks made payable to HEAT HELP from individuals wishing to contribute to the program and will forward all such checks received to the non-profit organization designated by the donor's check."

Energas provides natural gas service to a 30,000-square-mile area of West Texas extending from the Panhandle to south of Odessa. The gas utility company is a division of Pioneer Corporation, an energy resources corporation headquartered in Amarillo.

PIK program

ted to: Dr. Howard Williams, Director of the Analysis Division ASCS, Room 3741 South Building, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013. After that date, a final draft will be entered in the Federal Register.

Questions about the PIK program may be placed to a tollfree number which the USDA has set up to answer producers' inquiries. The number, 800/368-5942, is open for calls between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. CST.

Moore, in his closing statements to the meeting apologized as a representative of the government, for having done this to the farmer. In 1933, he said he attended the organizational meeting of Triple A program. "There weren't any prosperous-looking ones there because they had already tightened their belt as much as possible but they were in a better shape than we are now because of the huge debts and huge operating expenses."

KEETER'S GROCERY suffered extensive damage to the front of the store when the weight of the snow that had collected on the awning tore several layers of brick away, exposing the roof of the building to the elements. The damage was not covered by insurance. It is feared more moisture will cause further damage.

Mrs. Gordon Bond feted with bridal shower in Turner's home

A bridal shower, given in honor of Francine Bond, bride of Gordon Bond, was held Saturday, January 15, 1983 in the home of Mrs. J.R. Turner, 901 W. California, Floydada.

The couple, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bond of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Jon Lippens of Ft. Worth, were married on December 11, 1983. Greeting arriving guests were Mrs. J.R. Turner, Mrs. Wilson Bond and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bond. The honoree and the groom's mother wore corsages of white and pale pink silk roses.

The registration table featured a beautiful bride's book and a feathered plume pen. Mrs. Greg Bond, sister-in-law, presided.

Special guests attending the occasion were Mrs. Al Reynolds, Mrs. Melva Fowler of Amarillo and Mrs. C.H. Oglesby of Hereford, aunts of the groom, and Mrs. Fred Joachim, cousin of the groom.

A lace tablecloth covered the serving table. A silver service was used for coffee and almond tea. Cherry nut bread, cheese and sausage balls, pumpkin bread and banana nut bread were served on crystal plates and cups. Mrs. Allen Bingham and Mrs. Harold Reese served.

Mrs. Bill Daniel and Mrs. Thomas Warren were in the gift room. A 12-cup Faberware coffeemaker and a microwave browning skillet were presented as a gift from the hostesses.

Hostesses were Mmes. J.R. Turner, Bill Daniel, Thomas Warren, Glenn White, Harold Reese, Leon Ferguson, Edell Moore, Bill Hardin, Bob Kendrick, A.C. Pratt, Bob Alldredge, Oval Newberry, Jack Jordan, Willie Bradshaw and Allen Bingham.

Mrs. Steven Wilson honored with bridal shower

By Dottie Stansell

Mrs. Steven Wilson, nee Kay Sherman, was honored Saturday afternoon, January 15, with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. N.H. Gammage.

Greeting guest were the hostess Mrs. Gammage, the honoree Mrs. Wilson, her mother Mrs. Bill Sherman of Lockney and her mother-in-law Mrs. Allen Wilson of Lubbock.

Special guest were the honoree's grandmother Mrs. E.A. Bonner and Mrs. Elfie Sherman, both of Lockney; the honoree's sister Karla Prater of Lockney and her sister-in-law Debbie Wilson of Lubbock.

The serving table was covered with a green linen cloth. The centerpiece was of pastel silk flowers in a milk glass compote and a silver coffee service was used.

Serving the refreshments of coffee, hot punch and assorted cookies were the honoree's sister-in-law, Mrs. Mark Sherman, Julie Reece, and Mrs. Alton Russell. At the register was Amy Francis of Silverton.

The hostess gift to the couple, who were married December 17, was a set of cookware. Hostesses were: Mmes. Jerry Cawley, David Frizzell, Francis Montandon, Donald Reece, Don Sutterfield, Red Archer, Bryan Smith, N.H. Gammage, Charles Huffman, Bill McCarter, Roy Kidd, Eddie Foster, Laura Manning, Bill Evans, Byron Ford, Lloyd Wofford, Bill Turner, Robert Lee Smith, Audie Noland and Pat Frizzell.

Bonds guests of honor at bridal shower January 15th

Mrs. Francine Bond of Ft. Worth, bride of Gordon Bond, was honored with a bridal shower on January 15 in the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson G. Bond, 905 W. Virginia, Floydada.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Wilson Bond and Francine and Gordon Bond. The honoree wore a silk pink carnation.

Mrs. Gregory Bond registered arriving guests.

Twenty-one guests were served by Mrs. Dean Watson and Mrs. Maybelle Enriquez. The serving table was draped with a white lace tablecloth and featured a hand painted coffee service. Refreshments of pineapple shurbet, ginger ale punch, served from a crystal punch bowl, thumbprint cookies with pink frosting, forgotten cookies, nuts and mints were served.

Local florist accepted into international group

Florists' Transworld Delivery Association (FTD), the worldwide floral delivery, announced today that Williams Florist & Card Shop has been selected as a member florist.

The owners of the new FTD member shop, located at 128 W. California, downtown Floydada, are James and Cyndi Williams.

Florists' Transworld Delivery, founded in 1910, is the world's oldest and largest inter-city retail florist organization. It is composed of more than 18,000 member florists who directly service some 22,000 U.S. and Canadian cities and towns and provide extended delivery service to an additional 80,000 communities, worldwide, through Interflora, the international floral delivery network.

FTD is virtually unique in the American economy. Its business is the delivery -- within hours -- of flowers, plants and other gifts almost anywhere. It is not only a retail cooperative comprised of thousands of independent professional florists but a major business service (advertising, merchandising, research, consumer education etc.).

Baptist ladies hold Bible Study

Tuesday, January 18, was the time of the Bible Baptist ladies' Bible study. The ladies met at the church as they do each month to study the word of God.

The ladies are beginning the new year with a study of prophecy. The book of Revelation is the beginning of their study.

The Bible study was opened with a hymn, "Face to Face," led by Debra Jo Fawver. Margie Sue then led the group in prayer. Before the lesson the ladies took care of present business, and then the lesson was turned over to Debra Jo Fawver.

The ladies listened to a tape recording by J.R. Church of Prophecy In the News. Chapter one of the book of Revelation was read and discussed.

Floydada Nursing Home Happening

By Dartha Westbrook

Last week started off right with ceramics on Monday. Olive was here from Plainview with lots of lovely items for our Residents to paint. We had a good group who participated: Emmit Lawrence, Irene Fuller, Iva Simpson, Una Clark, Travis and Mary Corley, and Vera Duke. Each painted at least one item. Our Residents really enjoy this activity, and it is a real thrill for them to see the finished project two weeks later when it is fired and given to them. We hope to have even more in our next session.

Tuesday is our Bible Study, and we have really been enjoying these lessons in the book of Romans. We have good participation each week.

On Wednesday we enjoyed another Bingo day. Everyone won several games. Our big winner was Emmit Lawrence. Susie Thompson, Una Clark and Irene Fuller were runner-ups.

Thursday we had an old fashioned "Spelling Bee". You might be surprised at how well our Residents spell. In fact, they probably can outspell some of our children. Steve finally got the dictionary to give out words they couldn't spell. Those enjoying this activity were: Marvin Goolsby, Clara McNeely, Irene Fuller, Una Clark, Bennie Wilson, Addie Lindley, and Susie Mooney.

We appreciated all the church groups who came for devotion last week. Visitors are always appreciated, they were: Janis Castleberry, Helen Breed, Frank Breed, Dalores Cannon, Cory Marshall, Hazel Bradley and Kim, Dana and Jo Lee Ellis, Doris Castleton, Merrit Island, Florida; Dixie Harris, Kim and Otis Ellis, Tate Harris, Zacha Harris, Franklin Harris, Lisa Graham, Mindy Matsler, Misty Avila, Susan Avila, Rita Thompson, Ira Sullivan and Helen Breed.

Mrs. Edd Whitfill hosted a Christmas dinner with a gift tree for forty people in her home on Friday the 23rd of December.

Those present were her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren and one great grandchild.

From Silvertown were: Ben and Patricia Whitfill, Rusty, Tish, Dani and Nocolle, Gene, Tisa Michelle, Jonathan and Patrick Whitfill; Charles and Fay Whitfill, Aaron, Mary and Rhett Younger; Gary Whitfill, Cody and Leah from Hereford; Scott, Jim and Christopher Scott from Rockport, Texas;

Bill, Murlene and Jill Whitfill from Lockney; Jim Fitzgerald, Judy, Jamie and Amy from Plainview; Dan, Gale, Elizabeth, Aaron and Rebecca Schaeffer, from Pratt, Kansas; and Bill and Jan Murray and children Melissa, Jami, Shawn and Jeremy from Panhandle, Texas.

There were great regrets that some were not able to come from so far away: Janie and Tibae Nagy with their triplets, Staphen, Tirza and Peter from the Saychelles Island; Jimmy Whitfill and family Helen, Julie Gay, Jeffrey, Chris and Jackie from Santa Fe;

Joe Whitfill from Dallas; Gwen and George Harris from Saudia Arabia; and Marla and Darren Le Blanc from Coldwater, Florida.

Before dinner Dan Shaffer (son-in-law of Ben and Patricia Whitfill), pastor of The First Baptist Church in Pratt, Kansas, led the group in singing Silent Night and gave the blessing for the meal and a special prayer for the members of the family that were not present.

Everyone enjoyed the pictures that Billy Ed brought as he had just returned from the Saychelles Islands, spending 3 weeks with Jane and family and getting the latest news from the 2-year-old triplet grandchildren.

Elaine Hardy underwent surgery on her hip Monday morning (the 24th). She has been in the John Sealy Hospital since January 3rd. Her new address is: Elaine Hardy, John Sealy Hospital, Towers Bldg., Room J-8A-5, Galveston, Texas 77550.

Harold Griffith was able to return home from the Lockney Hospital, last week.

Jeremy Stapp, son of Belinda and Robert Stapp, entered Central Plains Hospital the 17th for surgery. They removed a penny from his esophagus.

John David Turner injured his hand severely on a garage door spring. It took 32 stitches to close the wound.

Melvin and Edith Cooper left Monday afternoon for Galveston to visit with Elaine and Cliff while she is recuperating from surgery.

1934 Study Club views Far East slides in Stewarts' home

The 1934 Study Club met Tuesday, January 18, in the home of Mrs. L.B. Stewart, Jr. with Mrs. Walton Wilson as co-hostess.

Mrs. W.H. Bunch held a short business session, during which three hostess date changes were made. On February 1 the Club will meet with Mrs. A.L. Wylie, Jr.; the March 1 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Floyd Lawson; and the March 15 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. W.L. Davis.

"Are your bags packed? Got your passport? Plenty of money? Then fasten your seat belts, because this is not a trip on a slow boat to China but by a fast jet instead." Thus Mrs. J.R. Turner introduced the program "China" which Mrs. M.J. McNeill, assisted by her husband, was to share through slides and narration some of her exciting experiences on a trip to the Far East which she had just completed.

Of the countries visited, China was the only country Mrs. McNeill said required a briefing prior to entering. The members of the tour were told that they must wear the tags which had been given to them at all times, there would be no talking tolerated on the bus. There would be no joking, no loud or revealing clothing worn. They were told it was not proper to be familiar with the Chinese people, that one must let them lead any conversation. The group was told to keep their eyes and ears open and their mouths closed. Each person was required to carry drinking water with them wherever they went. The tour members were warned that their hotel rooms might be "bugged", so they were never to say anything that would be an embarrassment to the American government.

Among the cities Mrs. McNeill visited were Hong Kong (a buyer's paradise), Peking and Canton. Some of the sites visited was a zoo where they observed the entertaining Pandas, Yihe Yuan (the Garden of Peaceful Easy Life) is better known as the Summer Palace. It was formerly an imperial pleasure Park of the Qing Dynasty. She visited a commune which was built in 1952 to help the farmers. The group had tea here and were taken on a tour of the place. There are eleven factories making parts for cars and trucks. The homes are owned, not rented. Tuition is free at the seven schools, a hospital and more than ten clinics are free. When a young couple marries they live with their families until they can afford to buy their own home. They are allowed to have one child through the hospital, the second child is at their own expense, and with the third child they are heavily fined. The communist have very strict birth control teachings.

Mrs. McNeill said that among the ancient Chinese architecture, the buildings in Tiatan are unique in style. Laid out in such a fascinating way, with its structure so delicately designed, its shapes are exquisitely worked out and painted with gorgeous colors.

Mrs. McNeill also commented on the bicycles. They are everywhere, she said. People do not own many cars, but ride mostly in buses, if not on a bicycle. There do seem to be many trucks and military vehicles on the roads.

One of the most impressive sites Mrs. McNeill enjoyed was the Great Wall of China. It has a history of more than 2,500 years and is considered one of the great wonders of the world.

Among the other places visited were the Ming Tombs and the Palace Museum, which is also named the Forbidden City. The beauty of the art pieces was indescribable. In visiting the place where Mao Tse-tung lies in state the group was given more warnings. No pictures allowed, no talking, whispering, or gum chewing. They were to walk four abreast and divide when they reached the top of the stairs and approached the body of Mao Tse-tung, which is located in Tiananmen Square. This is the largest public square in the world. One million people gathered here when Mao died in 1976.

The tour group was treated to a famed Peking duck dinner, which included about seventeen courses. They had been told that everything about the duck was eaten except the feathers, so it was with trepidation that they ate the meal.

Mrs. McNeill was on a tour with forty-two members of the Order of the Eastern Star, Grand Chapter of Texas.

and as they prepared to depart China, each person in the group was gifted by the Chinese with a handmade tablecloth and twelve dinner size napkins.

As Mrs. McNeill concluded the program, she invited the members to browse around the rooms and see the displays of items which she had brought back with her, which included jewelry, pictures, hand-painted eggshells, hand-carved plates and jars, pillow covers, and a beautiful ultra-suede suit purchased in Hong Kong.

Refreshments of sandwiches, chips, chocolate cake, and hot punch were served by the hostesses to the following: Mmes. Milton Ashton, Allen Bingham, Wilson Bond, Floyd Bradley, W.H. Bunch, Garland Foster, Kyle Glover, Anthony Latta, Floyd Lawson, Vernon Parker, L.D. Simpson, W.W. Trapp, J.R. Turner, Wade Warren, and Mr. and Mrs. M.J. McNeill.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. A.L. Wylie, Jr. on February 1.

Voss speaks to Athena Club

Mary Ann Kring's home was the meeting place of Athena Study Club for the month of January with Barbara Mathis as co-hostess.

Guest speaker was Lanny Voss, Attorney of Law, from Plainview.

Voss is a law partner of Owen, Lyle and Day law firm. He handles numerous divorce cases. He presented an informative program on "Women and the Law."

Voss stated that complaints of domestic problems are up in volume of cases handled by the law. Laws referring to domestic problems and divorces have changed in the last ten years. Laws are simply a mirror of how society thinks.

In 1970 laws concerning marital fidelity, male and female relationships, and that the notion marriage is not forever was brought about by the hippie movement.

Divorce laws have drastically changed about marriages over the years. It used to be necessary to have a good reason to seek a divorce; now divorce can be obtained by a no fault divorce.

Relationships between males and females have escalated the divorce rate. In 1960, one marriage out of three ended in divorce. In 1970 one marriage out of two ended in divorce. Today the average is fifty percent (50%).

Mr. Voss stressed that by the time couples reach a lawyer's office to be counseled, the marriage is over. He stated a renewed effort on the part of the home, church and schools needs to be made to instill the importance of marriage and how to keep it healthy. A divorce effects the whole family and the woman comes out the loser as she has to raise the children alone. E.R.A. has changed the attitudes of the law concerning the rights of parents in a divorce.

Everyone should have a will made out and kept up to date. The laws concerning the handling of community property have been greatly changed since 1976.

If both parents, should die and not leave a will appointing a guardian for the remaining children, the court will appoint one.

It is a matter of right and privilege of the wife to know what she and her husband own and owe.

Members present were: Laura Wilson, Jill Golden, Donnie Meriwether, Martha Sue Lusk, Cathy Hunter, Cindy Smith, Vida Hrbacek, Judy Schacht, Tanya Covington, Sandra Furlley, Barbara Cawley, Barbara Mathis, Virginia Owens, Charlotte Mitchell and Mary Ann Kring. Guests were Patti Purser and Trudi Hazlett.

A short business meeting was conducted by Charlotte Mitchell.

Next meeting will be February 10 at 7:30 p.m. and will be held at Moore-Rose Funeral Home by H.C. McElyea concerning how to prepare for death.

Texas Alpha Sigma Upsilon host luncheon December 18th

On Saturday, December 18, 1982 members of the Texas Home Health Association were honored with a Christmas Luncheon hosted by Texas Alpha Sigma Upsilon Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority. The luncheon was held from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Lighthouse Electric.

Sorority members, directed by Barbara Edwards, Service Chairman, decorated the banquet room in true Christmas style and played holiday music as the guests arrived. A holiday dinner of turkey and dressing with all the trimmings was also served by members.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Payne delivered the Christmas program and invited all guests to join in singing Christmas carols. The Texas Home Health clients played Bingo for prizes furnished by sorority members.

There were 32 in attendance including sorority members who were Janice Poteet, Nancy Jarnagin, Vikki Yeary, June McLaugh, and Barbara Edwards.

Also a word of thanks was extended to Mrs. Norma Whitely who worked very close with Barbara Edwards to make the luncheon possible.

SMITH VISITS TFB WACO OFFICE—Dan Smith, left, of Lockney, President of the Floyd County Farm Bureau, visited the Texas Farm Bureau headquarters in Waco Wednesday, January 19 on a one-day orientation trip with other county presidents from this area. Warren Newberry, TFB Executive Director, explains television production facilities in the organization's six-story state office building. Smith and the other new county presidents were brought to Waco on the TFB company airplane for an orientation session on Farm Bureau programs and services.

Social Security in Floyd County

By Terry J. Clements

The celebrity with a somber tone explained that Medicare pays less than half of one's medical bills. He continued the television commercial by recommending that the viewers call toll-free for information about the medical plan endorsed by him.

It is true that Medicare, like most medical plans, will not cover all costs. However, a person considering additional coverage probably will need more of an explanation about Medicare than provided by the gentlemen in the commercial. First, Medicare consists of two parts. Part A is a hospital insurance plan while part B is designed to help pay for other medical expenses.

Hospital insurance (part A) has a $304.00 deductible for the first 60 days that a beneficiary is a patient in the hospital. This deductible has to be paid for each hospital stay in which more than 2 months have elapsed since the previous stay. Part A covers services for a beneficiary while in the hospital such as semi-private room, meals, special care units, drugs, blood transfusions, lab tests, X-rays and radiology, medical supplies, operating and recovery room, anesthesia and rehabilitation therapy. Medicare will not pay for personal convenience items such as TV or radio. Private rooms are covered if medically necessary. After 60 days in the hospital, Medicare pays all covered services except $65.00 per day. When the hospital stay is over 90 days, Medicare will only pay if the patient draws upon a "life-time reserve" that is available to each beneficiary.

Part B, the medical insurance plan, pays 80% of approved charges. The plan has a yearly deductible of $75.00. Part B of Medicare helps pay for medical and surgical services, diagnostic tests, X-rays, drugs that cannot be self-administered, transfusions, medical supplies and physical therapy. Medicare will not pay for routine physical exams, routine foot care, eye or hearing exams for glasses or hearing aids, immunizations, or cosmetic surgery.

The amount of approved charges is determined by a yearly study. Claims are handled by an organization known as the carrier. Each year, the carrier reviews the actual charges by physicians for the previous year in the respective geographical area. The carrier, from this review, determines the "customary" and "prevailing" charges. The customary charge is the amount most frequently charged by physicians and suppliers for each type of service. The prevailing charge is the amount high enough to cover the customary charges in three out of every four bills submitted in the previous year. When a claim is filed, Medicare will pay 80% of the customary or prevailing charge, whichever is lower.

If you are considering additional medical insurance or just want to know more about Medicare, write or call the Social Security office in Plainview. We will send you, at no charge, "The Medicare Handbook" and "Guide to Health Insurance for People with Medicare". That address is 1401-B West 5th Street, Plainview, zip code 79072 or call 293-4371.

Silverton man creator of "Texas Tycoon"

Before Clayton Fowler had even enrolled in a business college he had banked more than $100,000.

He didn't do it by mowing lawns and tossing newspapers or some other traditional teenage task.

Instead, the 16-year-old Fowler earned his extra coins and reputation as a youthful entrepreneur — creator of the board game "Texas Tycoon."

Fowler, now 22 and a finance junior at Texas Tech University, would like to see the Tycoon success duplicated in his future banking career.

Since 1976, approximately 7,000 Texas Tycoon sets have been sold, Fowler said. Nieman-Marcus and Sakowitz have, in the past, been outlets for the game. Fowler also collected royalties during a time when a friend took over manufacturing operations.

"I went into this blind," Fowler said of his marketing strategy for the game. "The minimizing costs and inventory costs are hardcore business courses I'm learning about now. Back then I didn't know there was a name for it."

Fowler said Texas Tycoon was inspired by a Monopoly tournament at his hometown high school in Silverton.

The board itself took three days to lay out after Fowler researched the success of parlor games at an area library.

"I wanted to see why specific games had been successful," Fowler said. "For instance, Parker Brothers original I turned down Monopoly and listed 52 things that were wrong with the game."

Later, some of the detractors to Monopoly, according to Parker Brothers, were cited as reasons for its success — such as an unlimited playing time.

"When this Texas Tycoon thing started it was like being thrown out in a jungle," Fowler said. "I remember I was roofing the house when the New York Times called. The publicity...it really made things hard."

Publicity on the game and its creator brought a change to the Fowler household. The family living room was converted into a makeshift assembly line and the game pieces — 30 per set — were manufactured by Fowler, his father, J.C., and mother, Thada. The boards were made by a greeting card company in Denver, Colorado.

Today, Fowler only has between 75-100 Texas Tycoon sets left, some of which are being sold by the Lubbock department store Hemphill-Wells. His priorities now are on graduation in December 1983.

But Texas Tycoon hasn't been Fowler's only triumph or his last venture into the world of fun and games.

In 1980, a West Texas dust storm inspired a novelty gift of the same name. A can of air, a jar of area soil and instruction on creating the infamous West Texas dust storm was a regional $6 per kit success for Fowler.

Another idea being tossed around is a game thematically centered around the Civil War. Fowler believes its virtues are "the best of every game."

"I really don't have time to develop and market it, though. My main interest right now is getting out of school," he said.

Girl Scout investiture

By Linda Emert

Girl Scout Troop 318 had their Investiture Monday afternoon. They were invested in being a Junior Girl Scout. They started the meeting by being served refreshments.

We started the investiture with the Girl Scout Promise, then each girl had a part in the law. As she said her part she lit a candle. Then the girls made two friendship circles and did the friendship squeeze and then turned out of the circles.

Then we talked about Girl Scout cookie sales, which start at 4:00 p.m. Friday January 28 thru February 13. Each box of cookies will sell for $2. We would appreciate your response and participation during our cookie sales.

We would like to thank all mothers who came to the investiture.

Valentines will be here soon!

THIS PICTURE SHOWS HOW SANTA, [Tommy Guess] looked as he discovers Mrs. Santa [played by Joni Smith] has saved the day for him in the play "Mrs. Santa Saves Christmas." Santa's helpers are David Watson and Jon Gregory. It was narrated by Jodie Villarreal.

A SCENE FROM "THE UNHAPPY JACK," played by Shane Derryberry. The other Jack-in-the-Box, is Neal Nelson and Santa's elves are Chad Guthrie and Cory Jarnagin.

JUST BEFORE CHRISTMAS, the children from the Texas Migrant Council took a trip to Santa Land and visited Santa Claus in the Mall. Santa Claus gave the children candy canes and made a list of what they wanted for Christmas. The children were assisted by their teachers, Josie Torrez, Nora Solorzano, Sally Martinez, Lorierna Lerma and Maria Gonzales.

Preschool presents program

Preschool class at the Methodist Church with to thank all who were kind enough to come out and watch their program. They presented two plays "Mrs. Santa Saves Christmas" and "The Unhappy Jack-In-The-Box." The children sang "Jingle Bells," "Frosty The Snowman," "Rudolph the Red-Nose Reindeer" and "Away In A Manger." They went over the letters of Christmas and told what each letter stood for and closed the program with "We Wish You A Merry Christmas." Following the program they had refreshments and the children enjoyed opening their presents. Their second semester starts January

Becky D. Via heads Floyd County FmHA

By Nancy Barker
The Farmers Home Administration took on a new look as of August, 1982, with Becky D. Via (Vi) excepting the job of County Supervisor of Floyd County. Raised at Happy, Texas on a farm, Becky has first hand experience and knowledge of farming and ranching plus it's many problems. This knowledge plus being Assistant County Supervisor at Comanche, Texas before arriving in Floydada give her an edge.

Becky has worked with the U.S. Department of Agriculture since 1977. She worked with their Fish and Wildlife Department and lived from Dexter, New Mexico to the Texas Valley. While with this department she helped supervise their youth programs in these areas.

She graduated from high school in Happy, Texas and from there she went on to receive her Degree in Animal Science from West Texas State University.

Becky's deep affection for horses would probably be the deciding factor in picking a major in college. Becky raises registered Quarter Horses for their show and riding ability. In her high school days, her horses were used for rodeo events such as calf and goat roping. Bareback riding, bronco riding, and bull riding were also events Becky entered.

Becky's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Via, live in Abernathy, Texas now, where her father farms and her mother works for the Abernathy School System. Her four brothers live in Tulia, Canyon, New Deal and Plano, Texas.

Emergency loans available from FmHA

Emergency loans for farmers, ranchers, or aquaculture operators are available through county offices of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). Becky Via, FmHA county supervisor, said today.

Becky asked that those who need farm credit as a result of excessive rains, flooding, hail, high winds, or tornados between May 27, 1982 and June 30, 1982, make their needs known at the Farmers Home Administration office at 107 West California, Floydada, Texas.

Applications for assistance in the disaster stricken counties will be accepted by Farmers Home until October 20, 1983, for physical and production losses.

FmHA loans covering actual physical and production losses may be used to replace installation, equipment, or buildings, (including homes) lost through this disaster. Funds may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock, or to meet interest and depreciation payments on current real estate and chattel debts.

"Funds can be used for essential operating and living costs," County supervisor said.

Applicants that certify that other credit is not available may receive loans covering actual losses at an interest rate of eight percent and are scheduled for repayment as rapidly as feasible consistent with the applicant's ability to pay. Applicants who certify that other credit is available may also receive these loans at a higher interest rate.

To be eligible for an emergency loan, an applicant must have suffered losses from the disaster.

FACTS FOR YOU

The following information on the High Plains Ogallala Aquifer Regional Study appeared in the January 6, 1983 issue of the Texas Water Report:

Gov. Bill Clements is to be in Washington to present the Secy of Commerce Malcolm Baldrige a summary and recommendations of the six-state High Plains Ogallala Aquifer Regional Study. Clements served as chairman of the study council in 1982. In announcing the governor's trip, his office noted that the study "presents estimates of the effects of declining supplies of water and energy resources" in those parts of Texas, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico and Oklahoma using the Ogallala, and "offers recommendations of ways in which local, state and Federal governments and the private sector can conserve water." "While water conservation is given top priority," the statement notes, "the studies show that even with the most effective conservation program, more than five million acres currently irrigated will be returned to dryland production or native vegetation by the year 2020 due to declining water supplies. On the other hand, total irrigation is projected to increase by about 3.8 million acres, mainly because of irrigation expansion into heretofore unirrigated areas. The council recommends continuation of importation studies, focusing on cost estimates for four import routes." (TEXAS WATER REPORT, January 6, 1983)

Of the four possible import routes, on which continued feasibility studies and cost estimates were recommended, two mutually exclusive plans would have terminals in Texas:

A. From Clarendon and Camden, Arkansas, and Tatum, Texas, west through Arkansas, north through Texas and Oklahoma, to terminals at Canadian Lake and Lake Meredith, Texas, and Optima Lake, Oklahoma; or

B. From Clarendon and Pine Bluff, Arkansas, west through northeast Texas, with terminal at Blanco Canyon in the Southern High Plains. Under Section 193 of the Federal Water Resources Development Act of 1976 (PL 94-587), and agreements subsequently reached with the six states in the study, the U.S. Secretary of Commerce is authorized and directed to accept the report, and submit either it, or his variation of it, to the U.S. Congress, as information and/or recommendations.

Conservation Program Area Targeted
USDA has announced that they are making available $31.5 million during the fiscal year ending on September 30, 1983, to be used for conservation programs in targeted areas. Of the total, $19 million will be administered through agricultural conservation programs, cost-share assistance. This $19 million assistance will be divided as follows: $13.6 million allocated to erosion control in 305 counties; $4.3 million for water management in 130 counties; and $1.1 million held in reserve at the national level.

Another $12.5 million is dedicated for conservation technical assistance, divided as follows: $10.3 million for erosion control in 339 counties, and $2.2 million for water conservation in 153 counties. The following 27 Texas counties are to receive $720,000 from Agricultural Conservation payments and $175,000 from the conservation technical assistance part of the program:

Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Garza*, Hale, Hansford, Hartley, Hockley, Hutchinson, Lamb, Lipscomb*, Lubbock, Moore, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Sherman, Swisher.

* denotes that the Soil Conservation

Service has targeted the county for additional technical assistance for management type practices and to educate producer on other cost-effective measures but that the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is not currently targeting additional agricultural conservation program funds.

U.S. Pays Poland Debt To U.S.
The December 29, 1982, WALL STREET JOURNAL, reports that in 1982 commercial banks have been reimbursed $344 million by the U.S. government for government-backed loans that have gone unrepaid by Poland.

Commodity Credit Corporation reports that 10 commercial banks and two grain companies which extended Poland 3-year loans to buy U.S. food products, were not paid.

President Reagan has resisted declaring Poland in default, because the U.S. would lose any hope of recouping the funds. Commodity Credit Corporation pays the principal and as much as 6% interest on the U.S.-guaranteed loans.

Poland still has outstanding $495 million in government-backed loans that come due through 1984.

Silverton Young Farmers meet

Silverton Young Farmers held their regular business meeting on Thursday January 13 with Clinton Dickerson presiding.

The annual Young Farmers Awards Banquet was discussed. It will be on Saturday February 5 in the Silverton School Cafeteria. Awards presented will be Outstanding Young Farmer, Outstanding Agri-businessman, Outstanding Associate Member and Gold Star Members.

George Martin reported on the playground equipment purchased by L.O.A. Jr. Study Club for the elementary school playground. The Young Farmers were asked to participate in getting the equipment up and ready for use. The club voted on working on the swings on January 14.

The upcoming Texas Young Farmer State Convention to be held in Abilene was discussed. Voting delegates will be James Jarrett and Clinton Dickerson.

Members attending were George Martin, Tobe Riddell, Brad Ziegler, Fred Brannon, Jerry Baird, G.W. Chappell, Calvin Shelton, Donnie Perkins, James Jarrett, Rick Hester, Clinton Dickerson, and one guest Terry Chappell.

FARM NEWS

WHAT'S UP DOC? Things were really jumping Tuesday out at the property farmed by Mr. C.M. Miller. The snow apparently drove these 250 plus jackrabbits out to seek for food and shelter. Some came by leaps and bounds to look for food, but the ones that were left out were hopping mad.

FLUORESCENT LIGHTS FOR GROWING TRANSPLANTS

Now is the time to assemble a plant-growing setup with fluorescent lights for starting plants. A relatively small unit will allow you to raise all the flower and vegetable plants you need, unless you have an especially large garden. You may purchase a rack with three or four moveable shelves, which is attractive enough to be installed in a family room or enclosed porch. Or, you may hang one or more fixtures over a bench or table in the basement, garage, or tool shed; in fact almost any place in which the temperature can be controlled will do.

The most common unit is a four-foot reflector with 40-watt tubes. The four-foot length is more efficient than those which are two feet long because less light is given off near the ends of the tube.

Good light balance will be secured by using a daylight type and a soft white or natural tube in each fixture. Gro-Lux tubes give excellent light for plant growth and are usually preferred. They give off a pink glow which cause plants leaves to appear darker and pink flowers to look red. The fluorescent tubes should be located about six inches above the top of your plants.

The garage is an ideal place for a fluorescent plant-growing setup. Water is usually available from a nearby outlet. The temperature may be more easily maintained at the level desired by plants than in the parts of the house where we live. The best temperature for most plants is 70 degrees Fahrenheit during the day and 60 degrees during the night.

A timeclock to turn the lights on and off will add to the cost of your installation, but is worth the expense. Your plants need about 16 to 18 hours of light each day. This may be controlled manually, but the job is much easier with a switch operated by a timeclock. Your plants will not grow as satisfactorily if the lights are on for 24 hours.

One very important advantage of having a plant-growing setup is that you can produce some of the new varieties which may not be available from your local garden center. These will allow you to select now high-quality, disease-resistant varieties, which will more than repay you for your expense and effort.

Do not start your plants too early. Most flowers and vegetable seedlings will develop to an appropriate size in about six weeks. Rapidly growing species like cucumber, melons, pumpkin and squash will be large enough in about three weeks from planting date.

Determine the time of planting by the average date of the last spring frost and the hardness of the flowers or vegetables you are planting. Seedlings of hardy plants may be set out about two weeks before the average last frost. Tender species should be set out about two weeks after the average last frost date.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serves people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Views on DMSO vary widely

Dimethyl sulfoxide (DMSO) has been called everything from a miracle drug to a hoax since its introduction into medicine in the 1960s.

Supporters say DMSO is effective against such conditions as arthritis, gout and various infections--and some add herpes, spinal damage and sexual problems. Its only federally approved use as a drug, however, is with a doctor's prescription in 50 percent strength to treat interstitial cystitis, a painful bladder disorder.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration warns that most DMSO sold over the counter without a prescription is 99.9 percent strength and can cause burns and rashes. Tests with animals showed long-term use of DMSO caused eye damage, the FDA says. Additional testing continues.

A byproduct of the paper industry, DMSO has been used legally since the 1940s as an industrial solvent for non-medical use. In this form, it carries no guarantee of being free of impurities or toxic materials.

Confusion over the substance's legal standing has resulted from laws enacted recently by states to allow the manufacture and use of DMSO in forms not approved by the FDA. The Texas Medical Association says this state's law stipulates that a person can legally buy DMSO for medical use, but only with a licensed physician's prescription. Passed in 1981, the law also says a physician can prescribe DMSO in a form not approved by the FDA if the doctor notifies the patient of this in writing and informs the person of other available treatments.

To protect the consumer, the law also allows the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners to revoke the medical license of any doctor who prescribes DMSO "in a manner...harmful to the patient." Physicians also must keep records of DMSO prescriptions that do not conform to FDA regulations.

A person who sells the drug commits a misdemeanor offense if he promotes or advertises DMSO as a cure for any human disorder, according to the law. If the DMSO sold or distributed is not sterile and approved for human use, it must carry a label saying this and a warning to avoid contact with skin.

Neighborhood Watch

On March 13, 1964, Katherine "Kitty" Genovese said good-bye to her friends at the bar where she worked in New York City around 3 a.m. An hour later she said good-bye to her life.

When Genovese left the bar, she noticed a small white car following her to her apartment. She never arrived there.

Genovese was slashed on her back and chest. The wounds on her chest and stomach punctured her lungs and caused them to fill with blood. Then, she was raped.

Genovese was not involved in a normal stabbing incident that is so common on the streets of New York.

Her panicked cries of "Help me!... Help me! Oh God, he's stabbed me!" fell on the ears of 38 of her friends and neighbors. No one came to help her.

Neighborhood watch programs are springing up in communities all over the nation.

According to the December 1981 Reader's Digest, Fairfax County, Virginia, a suburb of Washington D.C., has 10 trained watch groups including citizen patrols.

The Hayfield neighborhood alone sends out four cars every night. Each car has two people and a two-way radio allowing them to communicate with other patrols and the base station. Information provided by these groups has helped the local police solve cases of armed robbery, arson, burglary, theft and vandalism.

Also, in New London, Connecticut, a neighborhood watch group formed in mid-1979 decreased burglaries by approximately 25 percent during the following year.

Sheriff Tom Pervis of Mobile County, Alabama, has trained 17,000 school children in law enforcement awareness. One 11-year-old girl reported two men robbing a supermarket near her home. She gave the police a description of each man as well as the license plate number of the get-away car. Both men were caught, according to the Reader's Digest article.

Conceived originally as a program for discouraging crime in neighborhoods, watch programs have shown spectacular results in many areas.

Watch programs are not asking that one should take a personal risk to prevent crime. The programs leave the risks to the police who are trained to deal with crime.

Watch programs are not vigilante groups. No one is asked to act as a "hero." Neighbors are asked only to be alert and observant.

"Neighborhood watch is more neighborhood awareness," said Amarillo Police Department Corporal Diane Bosch.

"It is acquainting people with what the problem is in their area, how burglars work in their area, and how they can prevent each step."

Burglary is the most common, yet the most preventable crime. However, it remains one of the most difficult crimes to solve. Half of police time is spent investigating burglaries.

Nationally, statistics show that one burglary is committed every 15 seconds. Up to 90 percent of all burglaries are committed by amateurs.

Amazingly, 50 percent of all burglaries are non-forced and take place in broad daylight.

Most burglars survey their victim's surroundings doing seemingly innocent activities. "After all, if a burglar looked like a burglar, he wouldn't be in business very long," Bosch said.

"People need to know what is normal before they know what is abnormal," Bosch said.

"A burglar does not usually pick a certain house they want to burglarize, but they do pick a certain area," Bosch said.

The prospective burglar usually goes door-to-door in the neighborhood asking questions like, "Does John Doe live here?" or "Could you tell me where Oak Street is?"

When the burglar finds an unoccupied house, he usually goes to the alley and jumps over the fence, Bosch said. He then breaks in a door or window. Taking jewelry and small appliances, the burglar usually puts them in a pillow case and goes back out through the alley.

To forestall a burglar from going through the back gate, Bosch suggested putting a padlock on the gate. The lock may not prevent the burglar from jumping over the fence, but it will make his job harder.

"It is a little difficult to carry a console TV over a 6-foot fence," Bosch said.

"A burglar is like the law of the jungle. He picks on the weak. If you make it a little bit difficult for him, he will go where it is easier," said Bosch.

When people do notice something suspicious happening in their neighborhood, they tend to overlook it so they will not seem like "nosy neighbors." Any suspicious activity in the area should be reported to the police.

Dead-bolt locks should be used on all outside doors. If the door is near a window, a double key dead-bolt should be used. Secondary locks should be used on windows, Bosch said.

A dowel rod placed in the runners of a sliding door can reinforce the lock. Burglars would rather not break any glass, because the noise could attract attention.

Another vital protection measure is engraving or marking the valuables in the home, Bosch said.

"Only two percent of all burglaries are in homes that are marked," Bosch said. "It makes the merchandise hard to get rid of. It is too easy to prove that it is not theirs."

When engraving, it is important to use one's driver's license number instead of Social Security number. The Privacy Act prohibits the police from finding the owner of the number, but the driver's license numbers are readily available.

Other protective measures include copying serial numbers of all appliances and guns and taking pictures of jewelry.

"It is very hard for someone who has had a ring for 20 years to describe it," Bosch said.

Details, such as carat weight and other distinguishing characteristics, become so familiar that owners forget them.

Antiques can be marked with an invisible pen so that the face is not marred.

Serial numbers to identify an article, such as a bicycle, stolen from Amarillo, can be registered in computers that reach all areas of the country.

"In bicycles last year, we had over $75,000 stolen in Amarillo. It might go over $100,000 this year," Bosch said.

"We (the police) recover about five percent, but return only two percent. One bike looks like another, so you need to have the serial number to identify it. You need to engrave it also.

Besides taking precautions to protect property, reasonable precautions need to be taken to protect the person.

"Too many people trust and feel safe in knowing, 'Well, my dog will warn me,' or 'I have mace,' or 'I know karate,'" said Bosch.

"There is nothing wrong with self-defense, but there have been karate experts raped," Bosch said. "Self-defense is not the total answer."

In Rape Crisis seminars, the lecturers give a three-hour lecture before teaching self-defense.

Women are more often putting their trust in mace. Mace is a repellent that supposedly promotes blinding pain, when sprayed in an attacker's face.

A homemade product equivalent of mace can be made from two-parts ammonia and one-part ink contained in a used lotion bottle, Bosch said. The substance is not illegal and can be carried in the car or placed near the bed.

"There is no weapon that is going to do any good unless you can get to it. In an attack situation, you do not have time to dig into your purse.

"The greatest weapon in any situation is going to be your brain," she said.

"That is going to help you more than anything, being able to think, to know what to do in a situation.

"The message we want to get across is you do not have to be a victim. There are things you can do. If you work with the police, we will be happy to tell you what you need to do. We need the citizens' help."

PEOPLE HELPING EACH OTHER

'TAKE A BITE OUT OF CRIME'

By Karl Fluegel

Staff Member of AC Current

"Kitty" Genovese's murder was a sad chapter in human history. The fact that 38 neighbors heard her cries of distress and no one called for help shocked and terrified millions of people across the United States, including citizens of Amarillo.

Incidents like the Genovese case are not common in the streets of Amarillo, but occurrences do happen. Inhabitants of smaller towns are no longer immune to such assaults. For years stories of similar instances made the front page of almost every newspaper in the country, but recently a move toward the other side of the spectrum is being made.

Goen Crop Insurance Agency certified

Dale Goen and LaVerne McCarty of the Goen Crop Insurance Agency in Floydada have achieved Certification from the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation to sell and service insurance coverage on local crops.

According to F.W. Crouch, director of FCIC, Dale and LaVerne earned the Certification by participating in an intensive training program recently conducted in Lubbock and successfully passing examinations that required a knowledge of all aspects of the Federally-backed insurance program as well as of the coverage available for individual crops produced in Floyd and adjoining counties. The training and testing program was initiated in the fall of 1982 to assure a high level of professional competency among private insurance agents who offer Federal Crop Insurance to farmers in their communities.

Federal Crop Insurance policies, which provide coverage against all unavoidable causes of loss, are designed to offer farmers an affordable way to protect the substantial sums of money which must be invested and risked to produce a crop. The insurance can also assure a source of income to repay outstanding production loans and to meet fixed expenses such as taxes and mortgage payments. To make the coverage as economical as possible, the Federal Government currently pays up to 30 percent of the premium cost.

HERSHEL D. SMITH
Services for Hershel Don Smith, 30, formerly of Lockney, were at 3 p.m. Tuesday at First United Methodist Church, Anton, with the Rev. Jim Johnson, pastor, officiating.

Burial followed at Anton Cemetery under direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

Smith was pronounced dead on FM 597 between Anton and the County Line community about 7 p.m. Sunday by Justice of the Peace Dardie Williamson. His pickup truck collided with a stalled tractor-trailer rig on the farm-to-market road. Mrs. Williamson made a preliminary ruling of accidental death.

The Tahoka native moved to Anton six years ago. A Texas A&M graduate, Smith was the assistant manager of a feed lot.

He was married to Malva Teague on June 7, 1974.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Therin and Leah, both of the home; a son, Jay of the home; his father, James of Dimmitt; his mother, Roxie of Enid, Oklahoma; a brother, Jack of Austin; and a sister, Sherry of Montgomery.

Partners map progress.

Lewis and Clark were men of destiny who challenged over 2,000 miles of trackless wilderness west of the Mississippi. Captain Meriweather Lewis, army officer and frontiersman, chose the artist and mapmaker Lieutenant William Clark for his partner. From 1803 to 1806 the two young men combined their skills and talents to search for a northwest passage to the Pacific Ocean.

As partners, Lewis and Clark provided detailed maps and valuable scientific journals which later encouraged rapid settlement and development of the West.

Today there is a new frontier to challenge — an energy frontier. You and Southwestern Public Service Company are partners like Lewis and Clark. Partners working together making energy decisions to make a difference. For instance, when you install a High-Efficiency Add-On Heat Pump in your home, you and SPS work together to better manage electricity. And when electricity is efficiently managed, it makes the difference.

Together, Lewis and Clark charted the maps that made the difference which helped win the West. Together, you and SPS can work as partners, charting progress for a new frontier in electricity management.

You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference.

Snowbound again on Monday. Sleet and freezing rain fell last Thursday. On Friday the South Plains was covered with snow, 12 inches officially at Floydada; 16 plus inches at Lubbock. Schools were dismissed and people were urged to stay home. Businesses closed, and over in Lubbock the heavy load of snow collapsed the Texas Tech Ag. Arena, warehouses, porches and carparks at businesses and residences.

Miss Marlis McGaugh was scheduled to go to Lubbock Saturday to try out for the All-Regional band, but the contest was postponed due to the dangerous snow and ice covered roads. It has been re-scheduled to hold the tryouts this Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrison made it in to town Sunday for church and went home with Jo and Milton for dinner.

Mrs. Buell Neff attended the wedding of Sherry Galloway and Gary Vick at the Primitive Baptist Church Saturday afternoon. In spite of the snow and ice, many friends and relatives attended the wedding and started the young couple off with good wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Glasscock traveled to Lockney Saturday to visit Jo Ann and Dart Carthel for lunch and an afternoon of watching the Dallas Cowboys play the Redskins on T.V. On their way home they stopped off at the home of Lanny's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Glasscock.

Mrs. Joe Womack is taking mostly education courses at Tech this semester. Julie is a junior education major.

Miss Ashleigh Williams came out to visit her grandparents, the Q.D. Williams, on Wednesday, and got snowed in until Sunday. She baked cookies, played school and church, and served lunch for many parties among all the dolls and teddy bears. When school was dismissed Friday, Austin Williams and Jessie Barbosa came out to stay at the ranch and help feed cattle.

Rabbits are seen in large herds running down the cleared road tunnels in bunches, from twenty-five to as many as eighty have been counted by people on the country roads.

The Pedro Barbosa boys have had good hunting in catching rabbits by hand. Tastes just like fried chicken, they report.

Lanny Glasscock and Dennis McHam make their way through the snow daily to check on cattle at the Four Sections.

This snow is very wet and is doing great for preparing the ground for spring planting. There is still cotton in the community that has not been gathered, due to wet weather off and on since December. Down around Crowell many wheat fields were never planted due to drought, then too much moisture. Farmers in that area foresee very little wheat to be harvested there in 1983. So they set their farm hopes for recovery in 1984.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Hammonds got away from it all by leaving home when the New Year's Eve snow storm blew in.

They planned to spend a month at McAllen in the Valley. The rains in that area convinced them they might as well be back in Floyd County so they returned Wednesday evening, just in time for the new storm. They enjoyed their vacation; saw many vegetable fields being harvested. Celery, cauliflower, peppers and citrus harvest were going on in the Valley. Northern tourists were arriving to escape the winter weather in their home states. Temperatures at McAllen were much milder than here, even with the rain. Walk and drive carefully, neighbors.

Floyd receives Allsup's diploma

Margaret L. Floyd (left), manager of the Allsup's store at 209 South Main in Lockney receives her diploma from Gary Whittington, instructor, for successfully completing the Allsup's Store Manager Training Course. The class, held at the company's home offices in Clovis, New Mexico, prepares new managers for assuming the responsibilities of operating an Allsup's store. According to Whittington, "The eight day course is intensive, with theory, policy and procedure and practical application covered. It's a demanding class designed to prepare the managers to handle the duties of their challenging positions and better serve our customers."

We are so grateful to the farmers who showed their kindness in bringing their big tractors into town and clearing our driveways and a path to and from our houses. Some of those were Warren Mitchell, M.C. Cook, a Mr. Marks, and Kelton Shaw. There may have been others. We thank them from the depths of our hearts since we were stranded during the last big snow for about 10 days before the snows thawed enough for us to get out.

McCulloch wins certificate

A picture, taken by Dinah McCulloch, Grape Creek, San Angelo, a former resident of Lockney, won a Certificate of Merit in the 1982 Kodak International Newspaper Snapshot Awards (KINSA).

Nearly 1,000 photographs represented winners of local summer contests conducted by 181 newspapers in the United States, Canada and Mexico with more than 385,000 entries.

Mrs. McCulloch, a bookkeeper at McCulloch Water Systems, is represented by a color picture of a rainbow that was outside her home. It was a winner in the San Angelo Standard Times' summer snapshot contest and as such was submitted to the international competition.

Doris Casleton of Merritt Island, Florida is visiting with the Otis Ellis family and her mother, Geneda Roberts.

She attended Jo Lee Ellis surprise eleventh birthday party at Pizza Gold on Friday January 14. Friends attending the party were Libby Anderson, Miki Schneider, Misty Avila, Mindy Matsler, Becky Poole, Teresa Lamb, Melissa Thomas, Kim Perry, La Jauna Turner, Quetha Roberson, and her sister Kim Ellis.

Mrs. Casleton, Kim, Jo Lee, Mindy, Misty, Lisa Graham, and Dana Ellis built a Mickey Mouse snowman for Mrs. Roberts and residents of the nursing home on Saturday, January 22. They played the piano, sang and danced, and a fun time was had by all! Otis Ellis took Mrs. Casleton, Jo Lee, Kim, Jeff Matsler, Grady Anderson sledding in the snow and a great cold time was enjoyed by all but Mrs. Casleton, who is anxious to return to warm weather.

Alpha Sigma Upsilon plan social

President Vikki Yeary called the meeting of Texas Alpha Sigma Upsilon to order on January 18, 1983 at 7:00 p.m. in the home of Nancy Jarnagin.

Recording Secretary Jan Nichols called the roll and read the minutes from the previous meeting.

Vikki Yeary read the chapters correspondence for the next meeting.

Treasurer Nancy Jarnagin gave the financial report.

Vikki Yeary announced the social for the month will be January 30, 1983. Everyone will meet at Nancy Jarnagin's at 12:30 to leave for Lubbock.

Janice Poteet announced that they have a new member, Adeana Campbell. Vicki Ware made some peanut patties to announce that she is an expectant mother-to-be.

Next meeting will be at Vicki Ware's. June McGaugh will give the program.

Meeting was adjourned and all members stood and repeated the closing ritual and joined hands for the mizpah.

Program was given by Barbara Edwards on Wills.

Nancy Jarnagin and Jan Nichols served a green tossed salad, Mexican cookies and tea.

Those who attended were: Adeana Campbell, Barbara Edwards, Rhonda Guthrie, Nancy Jarnagin, Jan Nichols, Gail Noland, Janice Poteet, Vicki Ware, and Vikki Yeary.

Lady Horns still in contention for Number 1 spot in District play

Last week's game for the Lady Horns was another valuable game that kept the Lady Horns in contention for #1 position in district.
Last Tuesday's game with Post was a relief for the team, since Post was new in their district, and knowing from the past what a good team they do have and a super coach to compete with. Lady Horns did however, play good ball and held on to a district win with a final score of 52 to 46.

High pointer for Lady Horns was Connie Coffman with 14, shadowed closely by Karen Mathis with 12 and Crissy Carthel with 11 points.
Lockney was scheduled to play Idalou

Wildcats Friday the 21st, but due to bad weather this game was rescheduled for tonight.
With the rescheduling Coach Haynes says, "It will be a hard week for the Lady Horns to face three top contenders from the district, but I do feel it will be an advantage for us to play all three games at home."

LADY HORNS have really been giving it all they've got and they're holding good their spot in District competition.

3rd quarter disastrous for boys

The Lockney Longhorns played good defense the first half against Post but couldn't get untracked offensively.
The downfall for the Longhorns was the third quarter when they were outscored 26-10.
Steven Johnson and Micheal Carthel both had outstanding games. Johnson was the leading scorer and rebounder with 13 and 14 respectfully.
