

Vernon, Carthel receive outstanding citizen awards

By Carolyn Redding

As outstanding citizens of the year, Ethelyn Vernon and Chester Carthel were bestowed with the honors Thursday night at the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce. The pair were selected from seven men and five women who were nominated for the awards.

Mrs. Vernon is a teacher of 18 years. The past nine have been devoted to special education children. Currently a teacher in Lockney Junior High School, she voluntarily taught a summer sewing class for the 7th and 8th special ed students last year.

As a member of the First Baptist Church of Lockney, she works with the children's drill team twice a week for competition in April. Last year her team became state winners. She is active in the Rebecca Lodge on local, area, and state level. She works with the 4-H Club and the Band Boosters. She is involved in child welfare work, having attended a state seminar last year for the Floyd County Child Welfare Board. She also serves on the benevolent committee of Buckner Children Homes.

She has been instrumental in senior citizens' Christmas party and an annual Thanksgiving meal sponsored by the Baptist Church for those in the community without family.

Mrs. Vernon has worked with church booths and was chairman of the gospel singing even last year at the county fair. Her husband, Don, who had been named outstanding man of the year in 1975, had been hospitalized in Lubbock General for more than a week and was unable to attend the banquet.

The couple have two daughters, Donna, 13, and Tami, 9. Also living with them are two great-nephews, Robert, 10, and Jeff, 5.

Mrs. Vernon's award was presented by the preceding award winner, Gayle Jackson.

The Vernons are among four couples who have been selected for the prestigious award: R.L. (1955) and Betty (1959) Knox; J.D. (1969) and Arla (1968) Copeland; and C.L. (1974) and Lucy Dean (1969) Record.

The outstanding man of the year was announced by last year's honored citizen, Les Ferguson. B Chester Carthel, a Floyd County native, was recognized for his many unselfish acts of kindness, especially among the elderly. Ferguson pointed out that Carthel, a single man, is particularly admirable because many people do not accomplish the degree of unselfishness he has with the help and encouragement of their families, but that his generosity and giving nature has been long established.

After graduating from LHS in 1935, he attended Lippert's Business College in Plainview. He worked as a court reporter in Kansas City before returning to Lockney in 1941 to farm. He was awarded the Ford Motor Company farm efficiency award in 1972. The company gave $2000 in his name to the Texas Tech University Agriculture Department.

He has served on the board of Lockney Cooperatives, Floyd County Farm Bureau, Lockney Consumers Fuel Association, Floyd County Old Settlers' Association, local and county tax equalization boards, and the county Farmers Home Administration, having served as president of many of these boards. He has been a staunch supporter of the Floyd County Fair, helping in various departments for many years.

Currently he served on the board for the Lockney General Hospital District. He is a leader in the West College and Third Street Church of Christ. He has been instrumental in mission work the congregation has established in Mexico.

Quotes from the nominating letter read: "on boards he is able to identify a problem and is willing to work to find a solution...He is thoughtful of older citizens, sharing his garden produce with them...He is a caring and giving individual and a compassionate friend to many people...He is a staunch supporter of the community."

Carthel's brother, Hershel Carthel of Plainview, was Lockney's outstanding man of the year in 1962. They have a sister, Mrs. Olga Miller, who lives at Kingsland. They are the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis Carthel of Lockney.

H.H. Haws, banquet speaker, gave a humorous and motivating speech. Haws, who has spoken at teachers' in-service sessions in the area, spoke to the audience of about 225 on the power of a positive mental attitude. He said people with negative thoughts program themselves to fail. He suggested, in order to retain a positive mental attitude, to seek out people with a "bounce back" spirit, to accept everything that happens each day as a challenge, demonstrate a real love for people, and be willing and eager to learn in order to be better prepared for the fast changing times.

He demonstrated the power of a positive mental attitude by giving the statistics that 3% of the people control 67% of the world's wealth, goods, and services. His contrasts between people with optimistic attitudes with those of a "redneck" really brought the house down. A "redneck," he identified, are those who are highly negative and defensive, sarcastic and caustic, usually skilled (self appointed if no other way), understand reward and fear the only means of motivation, do not like outsiders, and never leaves anything worthwhile without a struggle. He said some of his family, including himself, were "Recovering Renecks."

He categorized people in three classes: wishbones - sweet people who never said anything when it would help but would always disagree after decisions had been made; jawbones - constant complainers alligator mouths with a hummingbird approach to life; and backbones - people who bear their duties and obligations, the good with the unpleasant, with a positive approach.

Clar Schacht, outgoing Chamber president, presided as master of ceremonies. He expressed a special thanks to June Bybee and Jinna Sue Turner for decorating for the banquet. Art and Fay CHESTER CARTHEL wore an exuberant smile as he accepted his trophy from Les Ferguson, Lockney's Outstanding Man of the Year last year.

Barker for an ivy sent for the occasion, and Molly Huffman for the place mats. The help of Mike Mowery's ag classes in arranging tables and chairs and the cooks at the elementary school under the direction of Jimmie Whitlock and the serving of the meal by Cindy Ford's home economic students were also acknowledged. The president's gavel was given to Raymond Lusk, in-coming chamber president. A welcome to out-of-town guests was given by J.D. Copeland. Margie Ferguson provided the dinner music. B and PW members registered guests. Jinna Turner received a plaque for having sold the most banquet tickets. Cindy Kring did the honors when a winning ticket was drawn for the door price. Donice Casey was the winner of the floral bouquet.

EMOTIONS RAN HIGH as Ethelyn Vernon accepted the traveling trophy presented her by Gayle Jackson, last year's recipient. She said it was a little unfair for her to receive the award without her husband Don present as he was part of it.

City Council discusses low rent housing

The Lockney City Council discussed the proposed sites for the low-rent housing in a regular meeting March 10. The 20-unit project will provide low-rent housing for low income families. The project is part of the Community Development program.

In May of 1980, the city of Lockney submitted an application to HUD for the project. In January of 1981, HUD approved the application.

The proposed sites and floor plans of the project were presented to the council. Once this project is completed, the Lockney Housing Authority will select maintenance personnel and approve tenants' applications. Three councilmen will be appointed to the Housing Authority.

The council was presented with a petition with approximately 200 names protesting the sites of the housing project. Representatives of the petitioners stated their concern that the project would become a rundown area of houses.

Lockney mayor, J.D. Copeland, expressed his appreciation for the interest of those opposed to the project, but the city is bound to the project. He noted the project shouldn't become a rundown area of town as it is maintained by the Lockney Housing Authority and HUD.

A resolution for an easement across the property of Juan Villereal to put in a sewer line was presented to the council.

El Progreso Club hear about textbooks

At the March 9th meeting of the El Progreso Study Club in the lovely home of Dimon Schacht, Linnie Abbott presented a program about how textbooks are selected by the state and local systems.

Texas, one state that furnishes free textbooks to public school children from kindergarten thru 12th grade. Many other states require children to purchase their books. Texas is the largest purchaser of textbooks and therefore pretty well dictate to publishers what to put into them. This year alone the state of Texas has adopted and will send to the schools nearly thirty-seven million dollars worth of books and systems. The Lockney schools receive and use about seventy-six thousand dollars worth of books and systems each year, averaging about one hundred dollars per child.

Arla Copeland conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. Schacht graciously served delicious strawberry shortcake and coffee to twelve members and one visitor, Eunice Wheelchel from Fedville, Arkansas. She is Arla Copeland's sister.

Perspectives

Alexander Solzhenitsyn received the Templeton Prize for Progress in Religion, for 1983. He received the award because he is "a pioneer in the renaissance of religion in atheistic nations."

One can only hope that he will do the same thing here after we complete our journey to the same state as most of the communist world. What? Us in the good ol' U.S. of A. become a bunch of godless atheists? Surely I jest.

No, as a matter of fact I don't, and neither does Solzhenitsyn. Listen to him: "The West has finally achieved the rights of man, and even to excess, but man's sense of responsibility to God and society has grown dimmer and dimmer." He sees that we in the US are on a trend toward "Worshipping man and his material needs." Man has become the measure of all things on earth and "We have lost the concept of a Supreme Complete Entity which used to restrain our passions and our irresponsibility."

In other words we are rapidly on our way to becoming a nation full of atheists. While I am sure that most people reading that would violently disagree, they would do so from their own perspective of belonging to a church, along with most of the people they know. It is documented that large sections of the nation are not churched. Yet, Gallup claims in one of his polls that some 95% of the American people believe in a Supreme Being.

What would account for such a disparity? I think it lies in Solzhenitsyn's statement about losing the concept of a being which restrains. Sure, most people say they believe in God, but there are not so many who live as though that belief has any validity to their daily actions, except as they are able to use their belief as justification for what they are doing. In such cases, we have practical atheism.

Practical atheism is much more insidious than the real kind. Mrs. O'Hair and her group are not nearly so dangerous as those who have lost their responsibility to anyone other than themselves, yet claim fervently to believe in God.

It is good that someone like Solzhenitsyn is able to bring other nations to an awareness of the necessity of belief. May we as well listen seriously to what he is saying, applying it to our own situation.

STEVE STANSELL is being prepared to give blood during the blood drive held Monday, March 14, for Elaine Hardy. He is being assisted by Debra Riley, who is with United Blood Services. Karen Merry, right, is also with the blood services.

I am grateful to each and every one of you for making it such a big success.

Thank you,
Dottie Stansell

P.S. My special thanks to Barbara King, Debra Riley, Karen Merry and Dianna Truett, for the first aid treatment and taking me to the hospital after I fell and hurt my arm. You all were just great.

Athena Study Club sponsors Label Drive

By Pam Armstrong

In a label drive sponsored by the Athena Study Club from November to February 18, the elementary school students collected 6100 Campbells soup labels. The labels will be used toward the purchase of softball and other athletic equipment for the P.E. Dept. at the elementary school.

All grades at the elementary school participated in the drive and Mrs. Poole's third grade class collected the most labels with 1324 to their credit. The Athena Study Club gave the class a party in which they played games, had cookies and punch, and received name tags made by Sandra Turley. Club members Laura Wilson, Judy Schacht, Kathy Hunter, Charlotte Mitchell, and Martha Sue Lusk made and served the refreshments for the party.

The members of the Athena Club collected 1200 labels among themselves and these labels bought two basketballs for the elementary school.

Other members of the Athena Study Club are: Tanya Covington, Jill Golden, Vida Hrbaceh, Mary Ann Kring, Barbara Mathis, Donnie Meriweather (vice president), Virginia Owens who is reporter, Cindy Smith who is secretary, D'Lynn Morgan, and Barbara Cawley. Charlotte Mitchell is president and Martha Sue Lusk is the treasurer.

The club members urge everyone to start saving their Campbells labels now, because there will be more drives in the future.

In an assembly held in the high school gym Tuesday, master Magician Max Armstrong performed magic tricks and illusions for the high school and junior high students. The program included making two doves appear and then disappear.

In an illusion with solid rings, he put them together and then took them apart at will. In doing this illusion he enlisted the help of Shawnda Brock and Crissy Carthel and tried to teach them how to take the rings apart and put them together but to no avail. He also tore a newspaper into strips and then restored it to its original form. He also had a "vegetable chopper" into which he inserted Libby Williams' arm, passed the blade through the chopper and Libby's arm came out still attached.

Mr. Armstrong also performed the "Zig Zag" in which he put his assistant Leigh Martin into a box, then inserted two steel blades into the box which cut Miss Martin into three parts and then restored her back to normal. For his final illusion he performed "the Metamorphosis" made famous by Houdini. In this illusion Miss Martin is put into a wooden crate, with handcuffs on, then the lid of the crate was chained to the bottom. A curtain is placed around the bottom of the crate and Mr. Armstrong got on top of the crate and pulled the curtain up over himself and the curtain was dropped and Miss Martin appeared on top of the crate. When the crate was opened Mr. Armstrong was inside with the handcuffs on.

Max Armstrong has performed on numerous T.V. programs and has been the featured magician at resorts, state and national conventions, trade shows, colleges, clubs and magic conventions. He has made over 150 T.V. appearances, including two weekly series. In addition to magic Mr. Armstrong's interests include Judo, in which he holds a coveted black belt, he collects oriental art and he owns Aloha restaurant and Magic Dragon Club in Wichita, Kansas. He has toured throughout the United States and Puerto Rico.

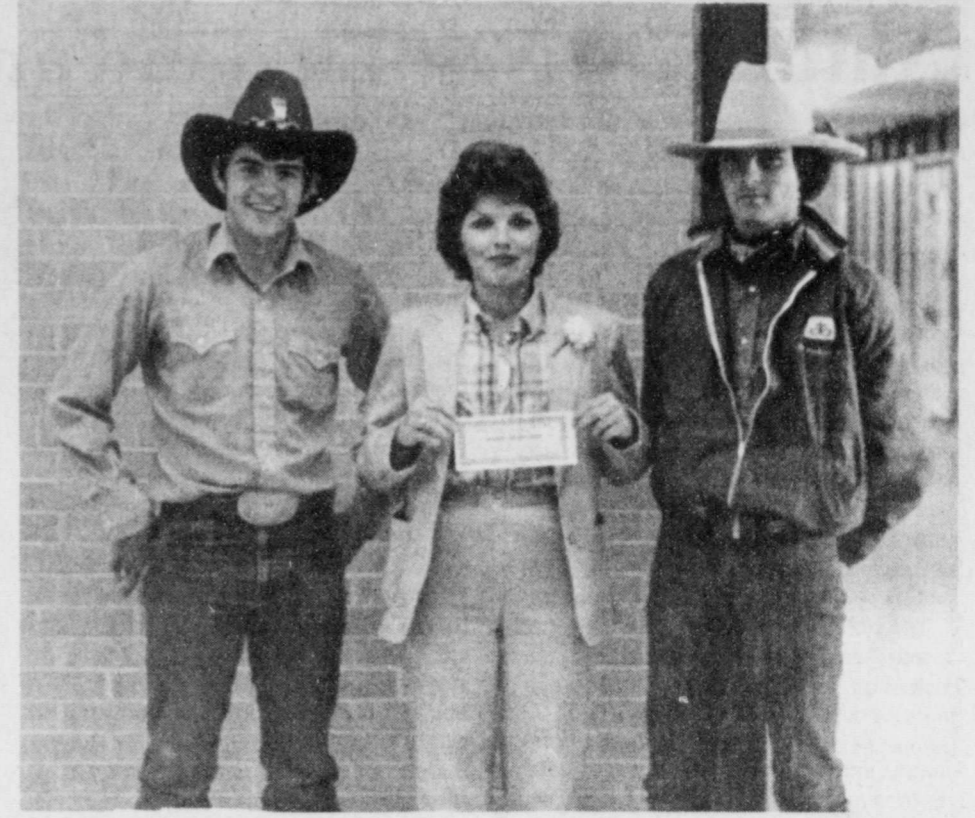

Baptist to see "Focus on the Family" series

The film series featuring Dr. James C. Dobson, one of the nation's leading psychologists and an expert in family counseling, will be shown at First Baptist Church, Lockney, Texas on Sunday evenings at 6:00 o'clock, March 20-May 1.

Entitled "Focus on the Family," the series has been viewed by over 4 million individuals since its release two years ago, and over 15,000 churches have presented the seven-part series.

Dobson's most popular presentations were filmed live during his family life seminars. The films include: "The Strong-Willed Child," "Shaping the Will Without Breaking the Spirit," "Christian Fathering," "Preparing for Adolescence," and "What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew About Women." "This series offers churches and schools one of the nation's most popular authorities on family life in a format that combines information, entertainment and inspiration," says Francis W. Heatherley, senior vice president of Word, Inc.'s book and educational products division.

Best-selling author of seven books including his latest Straight Talk To Men and Their Wives, Dobson is associate clinical professor of Pediatrics at the University of Southern California School of Medicine and a member of the attending staff of Children's Hospital of Los Angeles in the division of medical genetics. His radio program, also entitled "Focus on the Family," is heard in almost every part of the United States through syndication to 200 stations.

KEITH HIGHT AND DARON WIDENER present Joyce Marks with a gift certificate she won in the drawing held March 7. The certificate is for a pair of boots. The proceeds from ticket sales will go towards the purchase of jackets for the members of the Silver Spurs Rodeo Club.

VA News

Veterans should review their insurance policies at least annually to insure that the coverage amount is adequate to meet current needs, advises the director, Waco Veterans Administration Regional Office.

For example, if a veteran purchased a WWII $10,000 GI term insurance policy when he was 25 years old, the premium probably ran around $79 annually. However, if that veteran now is 60 years old, the annual premium probably has increased to about $308 - which is quite an increase. Due to that veteran's age, he may need only enough coverage to take care of burial expenses. Therefore, that veteran may want to consider converting his $10,000 term insurance to a $4,000 ordinary life insurance policy. That would result in a reduced annual premium of about $240, which wouldn't increase later.

For further information and assistance, write, visit or telephone the Waco VA Regional Office toll-free number listed in your telephone directory under "U.S. Government" or "Veterans Administration."

Autumn of New England and Canada

By Mrs. Bonnie Julian

Friday, September 24, 1982, was an exciting day for me, as Letha Mulder and I came to the Holiday Inn in Amarillo early that morning. We had spent the night with Kathy Taylor, and were really ready to go. Bill Weigand, our driver and a most excellent one, and our escort for the tour, A.D. McDonald, met the passengers, gathered the luggage aboard the brand new bus, and we started out across Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri. That first day on a tour that was practically perfect, as we had no accidents, no illnesses, and such beauty as I never before had seen.

The bus never takes more than 39 on a tour, and we went by McLain and picked up 3 passengers, and at Indianapolis we were to gain two more, making us our 39 on tour. Mr. Mac gave us all maps, and we were off. Bill had taken us through all of Oklahoma City, Tulsa and through the country side, where Mr. Mac explained interesting sights, cows by the hundred, fields of new mown hay, and leaves here have not turned as we come into Missouri, and near Springfield, where we spent the night. We are in beautiful Ozark mountains. Bill drove clear through the main cities, and he and Mr. Mac explained the special sights.

Second morning, September 25. We went through St. Louis, in Missouri, after a restful night in Springfield. Such wonderful people on the bus—all full of fun, and each morning besides the devotionals, Mary Webb led us in singing, of course she wasn't on board yet. In St. Louis again we were shown around the city, drove past Busch Stadium, saw people going to the ball game. The Ozark Mountains were particularly lovely and then across the plains of Illinois we relaxed and went into Indiana, where we spent the night at Howard Johnson's in Indianapolis. It was here that Mary and J.D. Webb joined their folks on the tour. They once lived in South Plains, and are now in Arizona. They made us 39 aboard.

Third Day--September 26. We sped across the plains of Illinois, entering industrial areas. We left Indianapolis at 9 a.m., and soon time changed, and it was 10:00 o'clock. At Troy, Ohio, we went to a Holiday Inn, and enjoyed a brunch, a very delicious meal, and as we went on, it began to rain a little. It was cool as we went through Toledo, and across Ohio. That Sunday morning on the bus, after we had the devotional each one present gave his or her name, and told something of themselves.

Our next stop was Detroit, Michigan, and as we entered this large city, we took the grand tour, and by this time, it was raining heavily, with gray skies. We went by Tiger Stadium with many people lined up to see the ball game. We stayed Sunday night at Michigan Inn, 8 stories high and quite lovely. We awoke to more rain, falling steadily, as if planned to never stop, and the skies were a leaden gray.

That day we were to get to the Canadian Niagara Falls. We left by Lake Erie, and on to Windsor. Detroit is a city of cars--we found food quite high here.

Fourth Day, September 27. We were on Highway 401. They call mile posts "kilometers" in Canada. Beautiful farms lined the roads, and nothing seemed out of place with all kinds of fruit orchards. We saw just hundreds of bright red apples lying under trees, and in the yards in Ontario. We ate lunch that day in Brantford, and quaint names marked the farms, like Nellie's Farm, Avery's Farm, Mama's Farms, etc.

Fields, like Texas farms, had quite short soy beans, so brown, and the beans were all gone, and the maize was quite short. We went through Paris and London this morning, also we crossed the Grand River. What a waste of beautiful fruit we saw everywhere. We bought some nice fruit of all kinds in Ontario, and we went into Niagara Falls. Between oh's and ah's, and exclamations of happiness we tried to describe the beautiful beyond description, the great and wonder piece of magic, the Niagara Falls. It still was rainy, but not cold. We spent the night at Brock Sheraton Hotel, and the bus took us all to the Panasonic Tower. We went to the top to view the Falls, but even though the lights were turned on, the fog and mists were so heavy they did not show up. We all had supper on top of the Panasonic Building and it was a delicious buffet with every kind of food imaginable. Later we bought souvenirs, and we went back to see the Falls again.

September 28, Tuesday. We swung back toward Canada, crossed the Bay Bridge at Burlington, saw many ships, and soon were in Toronto. Oh, the foliage there had turned, and the farther we went, the more brilliant and beautiful it got, because there were more trees and bushes. Now that we may never go back, I must tell you a funny story about the Brock Sheraton Hotel in Niagara Falls. Where Letha and I were, everything in the bath room, leaked, ran, oozed, dripped and smelled! We walked there very gingerly!

We came to Montreal, and spent five days in Canada. There we had a most wonderful tour upon the mountain with the cross to St. Joseph's Shrine and a big cemetery there.

There are many industries there, clothing, meat slaughtering, tobacco industry, petroleum and a great many others. The highest building in Montreal is 47 stories, and the Notre Dame Church has the most wonderful and colorful stained glass and sanctuary in the whole world. There are golden stairs there, and a very large pipe organ.

Montreal's harbor is 1,000 miles from the ocean. Ships must be lifted 602 feet to go into Lake Superior. It is a beautiful city, and did you know it is on an island? It's 32 miles long, and 11 wide. Many hospitals and lovely apartment buildings are there. It was so clear and bright and we had run out of the rain and gray weather.

There was shopping in the afternoon there, and we hunted for a nice place to eat, as we left the Holiday Inn where we stayed in Montreal. We found "Au Poulet Dore", and took a chance on it. It was the most delicious chicken I ever tasted, and everything on menu was of chicken. I did learn some French words while there, such as Oeuf, which is egg, and learned what chicken is!

We left for Quebec on Saturday, September 30, and drove directly to Loews Le Concorde, a most beautiful hotel. Then we went to top floor for the revolving buffet, which was given by the Trailways Bus. After a most wonderful meal, we came down and went to shop. We saw hansom cabs with drivers, and they asked $30 an hour for a 45 minute drive. We bought souvenirs there, and all then left for "Cyclomama", out near St. Anne's Church.

This was the great story of the Crucifixion, a world famous panorama recognized to be the most realistic in the world. In 1895 it was made a permanent exhibition at St. Anne De Baupre. The perspective is so realistic you can easily imagine that miles separate the objects. You climb stairs and find yourself in the Holy Land. It is truly magnificent.

The Basilica is inspiring in its majesty. A few steps from the beautiful church is the Scala Santa, "Holy Stair" which has 28 steps. The stairs which Jesus Christ was made to mount when he was mocked and buffeted. As in the court of the high priests, and as he went before Pontius Pilate. All just life-like.

We went by the lovely Montmorency Falls, and from there we had hot bread at an Old Fashioned hot bread place. It was served with honey maple butter. Then we went to the Gillis Copper Place where many bought copper things to bring home. What a beautiful city Quebec is, and the 450 rooms here are the most beautiful we have had anywhere. Food is very expensive, and the most beautiful building I have ever seen is the Le Chateau Frontenac. Stairways lead to the entrances, and you see the gorgeous copper roofs, which have turned to green, with a beautiful patina. I will never forget the Notre Dame Church with its bright blue paintings, and Christ on the Cross. Prebbles had supper with us tonight.

As we left Quebec we had a coffee break at Beauceville, and then went into United States and Maine. I will never see such beautiful colors, again, as I saw in Canada. I thought, Bill stopped on the Kennebec River then for us to take pictures, then we all enjoyed a great fish dinner in Jackman, Maine. All the hills and valleys looked red and glorious with color. We went to Augusta, the capitol of Maine, for overnight lodging at the Holiday Inn.

Our travel book told us this was to be the most beautiful drive and day in the entire world of travel, and I believe them. Maple and birch trees with vibrant colors and little white chapels, little brooks, covered bridges, and besides all the gorgeous colors, drives, and places to take pictures. We stopped at a place where they make maple syrup and everything good. They told us how they make the syrup and nearly everyone bought some. We loved Bath and took pictures of covered bridge over the Ammonoosuc River.

We were at the Gorham Inn in New Hampshire, and this was my favorite day of all of them, and the most beautiful state--New Hampshire.

October 2nd, and 10th day found us in Vermont, seeing more and more beauty at smallest of the capitol of state, Montpelier. It has a gilded dome. We traveled through the White Mountains, and then went to Barre, to the Rock of Ages Quarry, which we all enjoyed. We traveled through New Hampshire again, and arrived in Boston, where we spent two nights at the Sheraton Commander Hotel. It is really Cambridge, Massachusetts, where on the 11th day we had a big time seeing all historical things of which we have heard so much: Bunker Hill, then we saw Harvard University, and went in the Glass Museum there, went inside Old North Church and had service in pew there. The oldest clock in U.S. is there and the bells still ring in the church built in 1723.

Great stores are there, Lord and Taylor, Saks Fifth Avenue, and others. Boston is the home of the bean, and a tradition on Saturday night is beans and brown bread. We all had an overview of Boston at the Panorama of Prudential Center, a huge building, so very lovely, is the Christian Science Building in downtown Boston. We all saw so much more, and then all of us went through the great ship Constitution, lots of walking.

12th day. We toured Rhode Island and Providence, took pictures and we came to New York through Connecticut. We stayed two nights, in New York at the Sheraton Centre. Next day a grand tour over that city really was awesome, as we took a boat out to Staton Island to see the Statue of Liberty. We then rode up the 86 floors to the Empire State Building, then on up to 102! That was Great. A sight seeing bus and tour of island of Manhattan was fun. We left New York and traveled through Lincoln Tunnel into New Jersey, Philadelphia where we saw the Liberty Bell, Betsy Ross's home, and oh so much history, with William Penn statue in the park. We saw the Delaware River and Susquehanna River, and passed Philadelphia Eagles Stadium, and finally on to Washington, D.C.

15th day. We stayed at the Rosslyn West Park Hotel. This was a memorable day, as we walked miles going through The White House, where we stood in line so long, but this was a lovely city. We were so glad we got to see the White House with some rooms being redecorated, and the Blue and Green Rooms. We saw the Capitol and had our group pictures taken there. We went through Arlington Cemetery and walked miles everywhere. We enjoyed seeing changing of the guards at Arlington Cemetery. Also, we enjoyed the Washington Monument, and the Lincoln Memorial, which I will never forget as I walked up and down the steps there, to take a picture of my favorite president.

Last of all we went to the home of George Washington on the Potomac, Mt. Vernon, and we saw everything, I believe. Washington is the most beautiful city of all, to my feelings. A wonderful experience was mine there, as my nephew came to the hotel and took me to their home for supper and to see relatives, some I had never seen.

Up early October 8, the 16th day. We had the most beautiful drive as we left Washington D.C. and started across Virginia by the Blue Ridge Parkway. Even though it was foggy, we enjoyed the beautiful leaves and glimpses every so often of the Shenandoah Valley to the right of the Parkway. We visited Monticello, home of President Thomas Jefferson at Charlottesville, and later on we drove to Natural Bridge and had an over night stay there. What a beautiful bridge and surroundings. What a surprise I had at Monticello to see my niece from Lubbock, each of us so far from home. Also she stayed at Natural Bridge where we did. Isn't that nearly a miracle!

October 9th, 17th day. We left Natural Bridge for Knoxville, Tennessee, where we attended the Worlds Fair. "Energy Turns the World" was the theme of the Fair. We were disappointed that we did not get to see the Chinese Exhibit we wanted to attend because of long lines. To top it off, that afternoon a regular cloud burst came and we were caught out in it. We were so glad we did get to say we saw it, and got to be part of the huge crowds. We stayed at the Holiday Inn there, and just wanted to say that New York had the highest prices of anywhere we were, especially the food, with coffee .90 a cup.

18th Day, October 10. We traveled across Tennessee, and it was very pretty, but so far the leaves have not turned here, in the Cumberland Mountains. We had lunch at Nashville, and then went on to Memphis for the night, stayed at the Holiday Hotel on the banks of the Mississippi.

On the 19th day, we crossed the mighty Mississippi and went into Arkansas, and saw lots of rice fields there. We had lunchtime in lovely Russellville. Later we crossed the Arkansas River and went into Oklahoma.

We have so enjoyed and loved everyone on the tour, and I never will forget them. I feel I made friends. I remember Spinx, as I called her, as she always sat close to me--everyone was so nice, and I'll never forget them. J.D. Webb was so nice to me, fixing my watch band, helping me down the bus, and I love Mary with her beautiful voice.

We drove to beautiful Fountainhead Lodge this October 11, for a most delicious "Farewell Dinner" by the Trailways Bus. The program was super, with Don Ayecock, master of ceremonies, and good speeches by members of the tour.

Day 20--The weather was superb, all the way, and my grateful thanks to Mr. Mac and to Bill, both fine gentlemen, and I thank them for all the special things they did to help us enjoy the trip.

I can't think of one thing that could have been made nicer than it was. This USA of ours is a wonderful place, and I am proud to be an American.

We arrived back home in Amarillo on October 14, and it is 40 degrees and quite chilly. I loved every minute of the tour.

We were in 28 states, I believe, and thank you, Hallie Kelly, for your goodness. I just wish the whole world could sometime see the beautiful things we did, and have such a tour. I love all 38 of you!

Books needed for 1st Texas Book Month

March 1983 is the first annual Texas Book Month, a program to add 100,000 books about and by Texans to libraries across the state. Each library has the list "Texas Books Every Library Should Have", and citizens are urged to contact their libraries to see which books are needed most.

Texas Book Month is sponsored by "Book for Texans", the Texas Heritage Project, and seven major library support groups statewide. The Texas Heritage Project has a special goal of emphasizing their Texas Heritage Resource Centers, which are collections of Texana items within a library. Resource Centers are set up to insure that every Texan has a place to learn about or renew faith in The Texas Story, and has reliable access for identifying and establishing roots, so necessary in a free society. There is a Resource Center in Floydada at the Floyd County Library and there are over 160 statewide.

It is important to our future that we preserve our past. Every citizen who cares about the Texas legacy is requested to give one or more books, or the money for books, to their local library.

SPS to patrol against crime

Employees of Southwestern Public Service Company under a new program being developed at SPS will help local and area law enforcement officers stop crime.

The program, called "Partners on Patrol," will unleash almost 750 "extra pairs of eyes and ears" against prowlers, burglars, vandals, and other criminals, said Larry Milner, SPS vice president, communication and public affairs.

"Southwestern Public Service employees who work outdoors in our communities—such as meter readers, servicemen, line department personnel—will be on the lookout for crime, and be ready to report it," Milner said.

"We're just asking our employees to learn to spot suspicious activity, and to make quick reports to law enforcement agencies," he said. "The law officers will take care of the suspects. We'll help by being alert for problems."

Milner stressed that SPS employees are not to try to handle a crime situation themselves. "We do not want them to tackle a burglar -- just report him."

Milner noted that many SPS employees already are watching out for crimes in progress or for suspicious events, and that in many SPS communities law enforcement officials and SPS employees already work together closely.

The "Partners on Patrol" program will include training for SPS employees, he said, and will establish that one of the SPS employee responsibilities is to help SPS customers fight crime.

Local office managers in SPS communities in four states (Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Kansas) have contacted law officers this week to explain the program, offer more cooperation, and establish reporting procedures, Milner said.

"There may be other emergency conditions, such as accidents or fires, which our people working in the alleys and on the streets will notice first," he said. "We know we can be of help."

The "Partners on Patrol" program reflects Southwestern Public Service Company's theme, "You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference," both in name and intention, Milner said. "We want to work with as well as for the people we serve."

Southwestern Public Service Company primarily provides electrical service to a population of more than one million in a 70,000-square-mile area in the Panhandle and South Plains of Texas, eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the Oklahoma Panhandle, and southwestern Kansas.

Lockney Care Center Capers

By Vickie Hutton

We have had a very enjoyable week. It started off with a bus trip to Floydada by way of Sandhill. It was so nice to see the area farmers plowing fields! It's a sign that the fields will start turning green soon.

Hallie Roberts and Mary Jo Fielding were our blackout winners this week. We send a special thanks to Diana Truitt for calling bingo Tuesday. DeLinda Glasson was unable to come because she was babysitting for her new nephew. We sure did miss her!

Our residents had their monthly Resident Council meeting Wednesday. This is the Resident's meeting and they are able to discuss things and make suggestions. We encourage these meetings and it makes the Residents feel like they have a say in their lives.

We spent Thursday afternoon and every morning weaving our Easter baskets. They will be selling for $3.50 and $5.00 and are available in two sizes and many different colors.

The Residents and staff send a special thanks to Marble Brothers Gin and Juan Perez for the use of their tractor. We are making many improvements at the Care Center and it sure came in handy in preparing the place for our new storage building.

We were saddened by the loss of one of our Residents, Frederick Ayers. He will be missed. Our sympathy is sent to the family.

Until next time, enjoy!

South Plains News

By Mrs. Murray Julian

South Plains, March 14:
This is Spring Break for the South Plains School here, for the high schools and for colleges. All the children have a weeks vacation to spend on trips, visiting relatives, house cleaning, yard work, and the like. Schools closed at 2:30 p.m. Friday, March 11, and they will take up again March 18th. We heard from relatives in Hollywood, Florida today, and while it was 70 degrees here it was 55 there, and very cold!

Mr. and Mrs. David and K. Pipes of Houston arrived here this past Wednesday and are visiting with K's folks. Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Cummings. They plan to return home Sunday.

Melissa Horne, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. S.D. Kinnibrugh, has been visiting her grandparents down at Truscott the past few days, but will come home Tuesday, and she will have a tonsillectomy in Plainview Wednesday morning.

There will be a school Trustee election held at the South Plains School on April 2. There will be several places to fill at this time.

Kristi Julian arrived home Friday evening to spend the coming week of Spring Break from Texas Tech University, here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kendis Julian and family.

Guests here at the home of the boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Kinslow, were their oldest son, Mr. and Mrs. Bary & Betty Kinslow, Jennifer and Grant of Carrolton who came Friday night and then went on to Sante Fe, New Mexico on Saturday where they were going to ski, and the youngest son of the Kinslows, Mr. and Mrs. Steve and Melanie Kinslow, came Saturday evening and spent the night and Sunday they went on to Taos, New Mexico to ski. The younger son and wife are from Austin.

Monday morning Mrs. M.M. Julian went to Floydada where she attended the Week of Prayer for Home Missions meeting that was held at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. J.R. Turner. The theme of the Easter Mission Work is "God's Challenge for Our Land." Young women of the First Baptist Church had the program for the day, and it was very much enjoyed. Meeting with friends there for the study at Mrs. Turner's home was such a time of enjoyment.

Mrs. Teddy Horne and Melissa of Plainview spent part of last week-end here with Mrs. Horne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie and Sylvin Kinnibrugh.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. John and Valerie Kinnibrugh spent Tuesday thru Friday out at Ruidoso, New Mexico with John's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvin Kinnibrugh. It was Spring Break for Valerie, as schools were out there, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Early and Nell Pritchett went to Ruidoso, New Mexico and spent the week-end of March 5th and 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. Don and Sara Probasco spent Saturday and Sunday March 5th and 6th at Carlsbad, New Mexico where they attended the High Plains Locksmiths Association, with the meeting being held Saturday afternoon. The Association covers five different states. The meeting was held at Paul's Lock Service, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kahley.

Howard Staples has filed for re-election and Carlton Johnson has filed for the other open position for school trustee, while Rogene Bethel filed for the unexpired term of Oliver Clarke, who moved from this vicinity.

The Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Osborne went to Floydada Tuesday to the First Baptist Church for an Evangelistic Meeting with Adolphus Cleveland, and Carlos McLeod bringing the messages for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Brad and Shari Smith were at the Baptist Church services here Sunday morning with Ryon and Desha, their baby girl, for her first church visit. She was very good! Others who have not been here for a few weeks were Mr. and Mrs. E.P. Pritchett, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Wilson and Renee Sanders. We are so glad to have them all.

John Cummings from Austin and his friend Miss Cammy Budge of Athens, Texas, were Baptist Church visitors, and we welcome them. John is attending Texas University at Austin this term, and they are here spending Spring Break with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings.

Keith Marricle of Floydada was a visitor at the South Plains Baptist Church services with Miss Deneen Johnson Sunday morning.

Word has come that Mrs. Lenton Lanham is in a hospital in Denver, and she is very ill, having suffered a stroke. She is with relatives there in Denver.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Carlton Johnson (Diane) is doing well again after being ill for three weeks suffering with the flu, and then with pneumonia. It was good to have her back in church Sunday.

We are very sad to see the closing of Parks Oil Company, which closed on Saturday, March 12, at noon, here at South Plains. We feel as if an old friend were gone. Sparky and Maurine Parks and Dean Stewart are old friends, and the closing of the shop and the gas station, makes us feel very bad. We wish good luck and good health for all connected with the Parks Oil Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Teeple went to Fort Worth week-end before last to see the Farm Show and Tractor Pull. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Rex Davey and Kandy of Plainview, on this trip.

This past week-end the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leighton and Juanita Teeple enjoyed a visit from their daughter, Mrs. Sheylene Reddout and Tonya and Ricky from Springfield, Missouri. They were here from Wednesday through Friday.

The South Plains Hobby Club met at the home of Mrs. Navolia Kinslow Wednesday March 9th, at 2:00 p.m. for the third meeting of this new year with Mrs. Ann Ford bringing the story of "My Trip to Brazil." Roll Call was given by members telling of, A Trip I Have Taken. Thought For the Day, was an interesting thought from Mrs. Sara Probasco.

Mrs. Ford went with a group of the Texas Batists to portions of Brazil, and their group was at Recife, Brazil. Where they spent 2 weeks. They lived and worked among the people of Brazil. Mrs. Ford gave such a wonderful report of their work there, and brought back interesting and beautiful things from Brazil which she showed. It was such a good and such a warm story about the people, and who knows what wonderful results will come from the crusade of last year.

Mrs. Kinslow served a refreshment plate of delicious coconut cake with coffee and tea. The next club meeting will be April 13, on Wednesday at 2:00 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Fred Marble. Bring an antique to show and tell about for Roll Call. Mrs. Kinslow will have Thought For the Day.

Information about your changing telephone service from Jim West, Community Relations Manager

Taking aim on fraudulent calls

In recent months, you may have read that Southwestern Bell is beginning to take steps to cut down on the number of fraudulent long distance calls placed from public telephones and charged to an unauthorized third number.

Effective April 1, the company will begin a new procedure that is designed to eliminate fraudulent calls.

On that date, all Southwestern Bell operators (as well as operators from independent phone companies) will start requiring approval from an individual at the third number before the call is put through.

While this new procedure may cause a slight inconvenience for customers desiring to place legitimate bill-to-third-number calls from public telephones, it will benefit everyone in the long run.

First, this will greatly reduce the burden on customers, who help shoulder the cost of fraudulent third-number calls through higher rates. And secondly, there will be less expense of having to investigate those types of calls, which also drives up rates.

Actually, the new third-number verification will cause a delay of less than one minute. If the operator is unable to verify the charges, the caller will be asked to provide alternate billing (such as charging the call to his or her Southwestern Bell Calling Card or placing the call collect).

A convenient billing alternative

The Calling Card may represent the most attractive alternative to third-number billing.

Not only are direct-dialed Calling Card calls faster and more convenient than third-number and collect calls, they cost less. Depending on the distance of the call, a Calling Card can save you up to 50 cents on interstate calls and 75 cents on intrastate calls.

To apply for a Calling Card, call your Southwestern Bell business office (listed in the Customer Guide section of your local directory). There's no charge to obtain a Calling Card, and having one can eliminate the need for carrying change to place phone calls.

Watch for phone cables when digging in your yard

Now that spring is just around the corner, you may be planning gardens, lawn landscaping, putting up a fence, or other outdoor activities.

If so, you'll want to be on the lookout for buried telephone lines and cables when you dig.

We started moving our cable and wire from overhead to underground a few years ago to help protect phone service from ice, wind and rain. But, it also increases the chance that you might cut off your own service, with nothing more than a shovel or ditch-digging machine.

If you think there may be a cable or phone line underground in the area where you want to dig, but you don't know for sure, just dial "0" and ask for "Enterprise 9800." We'll tell you what to do, and if necessary, send a telephone person out at no cost to show you where a cable runs in your area.

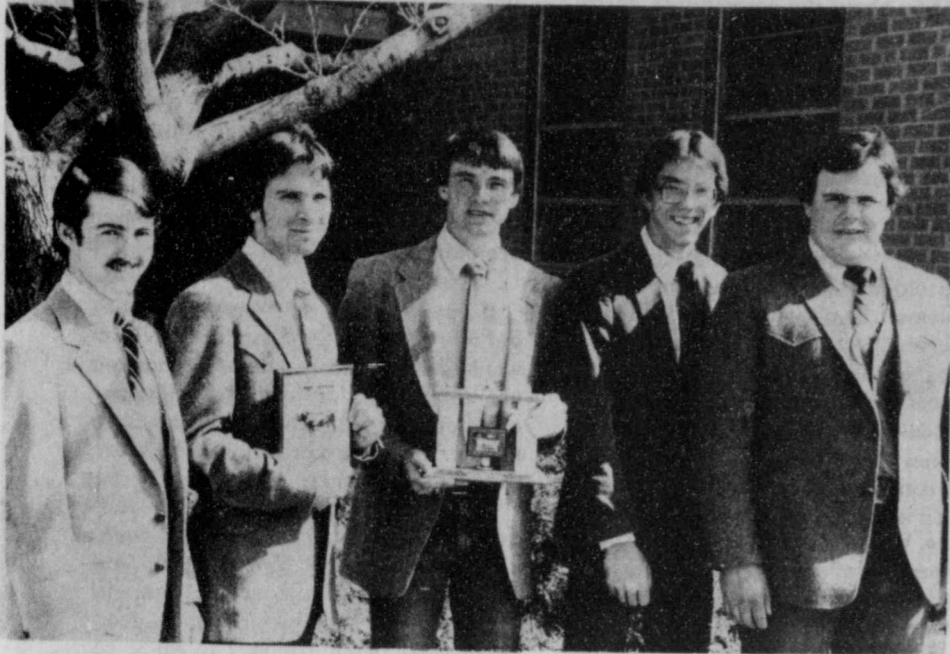

Remember, if you have something to talk about, don't hesitate to drop me a line.

Vying for top honors at the world-renowned Houston Livestock Show this weekend, the South Plains College livestock judging team brought home first high point team honors in beef cattle judging, and team member Mark Thomas of Lubbock County was high point individual in beef cattle judging.

"Mark did an excellent job; he had to judge four classes of steers and heifers, give oral reasons on two classes and answer questions on one class," explained team coach, Jim Jenkins, SPC assistant professor of agriculture.

"In fact, the SPC team easily beat out the other top contenders in beef competition. Second place went to Connors State College, Oklahoma; third place went to Seward County College, Kansas; fourth to the University of Southern Colorado, and fifth to Hawkeye Institute, Iowa," said Jenkins. Thirty-five teams, with 175 individual competitors from 15 states were represented," he said.

SPC team members helping to win high honors were Thomas, David Lust of Lazbuddie, Tim Addison of Plains, Lance Dunn of Post and Benton Easter of Floydada.

KEITH HANCOCK was the proud exhibitor of the champion chester white barrow in the Houston Junior Market Barrow Show.

Local boy shows breed champ

Keith Hancock, 13-year-old Floydada FFA member, is the proud owner of the Chester White barrow that captured the breed championship at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Jr. Market Barrow Show. Keith is the son of Tommy and Stacy Hancock of Floydada.

Keith, surrounded by celebrating friends and relatives, said he was feeling "high" about the championship of his 240-pound barrow.

"I love winning," Keith said with a grin. His father added that the premiums the barrow wins will go into a savings account toward college "whether Keith likes it or not."

The barrow, bred by Danny Ivy, was the first place animal in the heavy-weight class.

Allen A. Keppy, judge for the barrow show, said that the champion Chester White barrow was "very loose, level, meaty and has a good top."

Reserve champion Chester White barrow was shown by nine-year-old Hockley County 4-H'er Cody Kauffman, son of Bobby and Jeana Kauffman of Levelland. Cody said that this is the first year for him to show livestock. His 236-pound barrow placed first in the middleweight class.

In the lightweight class, the first barrow owned by Clifford Gibbons of Hidalgo County 4-H. Second placed in the lightweight class was a barrow shown by Leslie Johanson, Llano County 4-H.

The second place mediumweight barrow is owned by Scotty Short of the Pottsboro FFA.

The second placed heavyweight barrow was shown by Tody Floyd of the Gaines County 4-H.

GARDEN CHECK LIST FOR MARCH

1. Select caladium tubers as soon as they appear in the nursery and garden centers so you can obtain the colors or varieties you want. Delay planting out-of-doors until soil temperatures reaches 70°F, the tubers may rot in the cold wet soil.

2. You can dig and divide summer and fall flowering perennials, just before they initiate their spring growth spurt.

Livestock seminar to be held in Lubbock

A seminar entitled "Farmers: Improve Your Odds with Livestock" will be held in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center Tuesday, March 29.

Registration begins at 8:00 a.m. General session, which will last until noon consists of programs on "Sizing Up Your Options, Opportunities and Resources for Adding Livestock to Your Farm," "What Are My Options and How Do They Fit in with PIK?," "How Do I Make It Work on My Farm?," and "How Do I Finance a Livestock Enterprise?"

A barbecue lunch will be catered by "Jug" Little from 12:00 until 1:30 with exhibits available.

Concurrent sessions to be held from 1:30-4:00 in the afternoon will be sessions on sheep and swine.

3. Excellent time to purchase and plant new perennials. Selections now available at garden centers and nurseries include phlox, thrift, Shasta Daisy, hollyhock, iris and daylilies.

4. Be careful about moving plants from indoors to outdoor conditions without first acclimating them to the increased light conditions. Unless properly conditioned plants can sunburn more easily than fair skinned people.

5. Insects and diseases to watch for include:

- a. Aphids - Use Malathion, Diazinon or Orthene-follow label directions.
- b. Whitefly - Use Malathion, Diazinon or Orthene-follow label directions.
- c. Pillbugs - Sevin Dust as directed on label.

d. Caterpillars - Sevin or Bacillus Thuringensis as directed on label.

e. Blackspot on Roses - Benlate, Folpet or Funginex as directed on label.

f. Scale Insects - Summer Oil and Malathion used as directed on label. Some plants won't tolerate treatment, check label.

g. Azalea petal blight - PCNB as directed on the label.

6. Delay pruning spring flowering shrubs and trees until after they flower.

8. Complete planting annual buds. Pinch back new shoots to encourage branching.

9. Complete gladiolus plantings this month.

10. Start hanging baskets of petunias and other annuals for another dimension in landscape color.

11. Any bare-root nursery stock available at this time should be examined closely before purchasing. Avoid plants with shriveled canes or with excessive new growth. Buds should be soft and plump and roots moist and pliable.

12. If your lawn doesn't respond to fertilizer the way you feel it should, maybe a soil test is in order. It may be high phosphorous or possibly a pH problem.

13. Before cutting any lawn area in the spring, check the area for potentially dangerous objects hidden in the turf. Lost tools, toys or other stray objects can become lethal weapons when thrown by a rotary mower.

14. Renew mulches on existing shrubs and mulch new plantings. Pine bark, cotton burrs, pine straw and similar materials make good mulches.

15. Beware of ads for miracle products, sensational plant ads, and other hard to believe ads. Seldom, if ever, do the results live up to the claims. Better to patronize your local nursery or garden center.

16. Don't be misled into topdressing your lawn with sand or loam. While possible to correct minor low spots in this way, more often you may use too much fill and smother a lawn. It is also an excellent way to bring in weed seeds and disease.

17. Plan on rotate the species in your flower beds to prevent decline in vigor caused by soil diseases, nematodes, soil insects and other soil borne difficulties.

18. If you expect daffodils and other spring flowering bulbs to repeat their show next spring, allow foliage to mature and die down naturally before removing. Unless leaves have an opportunity to store a good supply of carbohydrates and nutrients in the underground bulb, they won't flower next year.

19. Treat sycamores with Kocide to control anthracnose, the disease that causes the leaves to turn brown and drop all summer. Application must be made just as leaves emerge and start to expand. Once leaves and twigs are fully expanded the treatment will do little good.

20. Overgrown groundcover beds of Japanese honeysuckle, Confederate jasmine, Asiatic jasmine and occasionally English ivy should be pruned back severely to remove woody stems and encourage new growth from the base.

21. Remove old seed clusters from crapemyrtle plants before new growth starts.

22. Expaliered plants should be shaped before spring growth emerges.

24. If law has a heavy cover of thatch it should be scalped and raked to remove dead material. This allows soil to warm more rapidly and the grass will green up much faster.

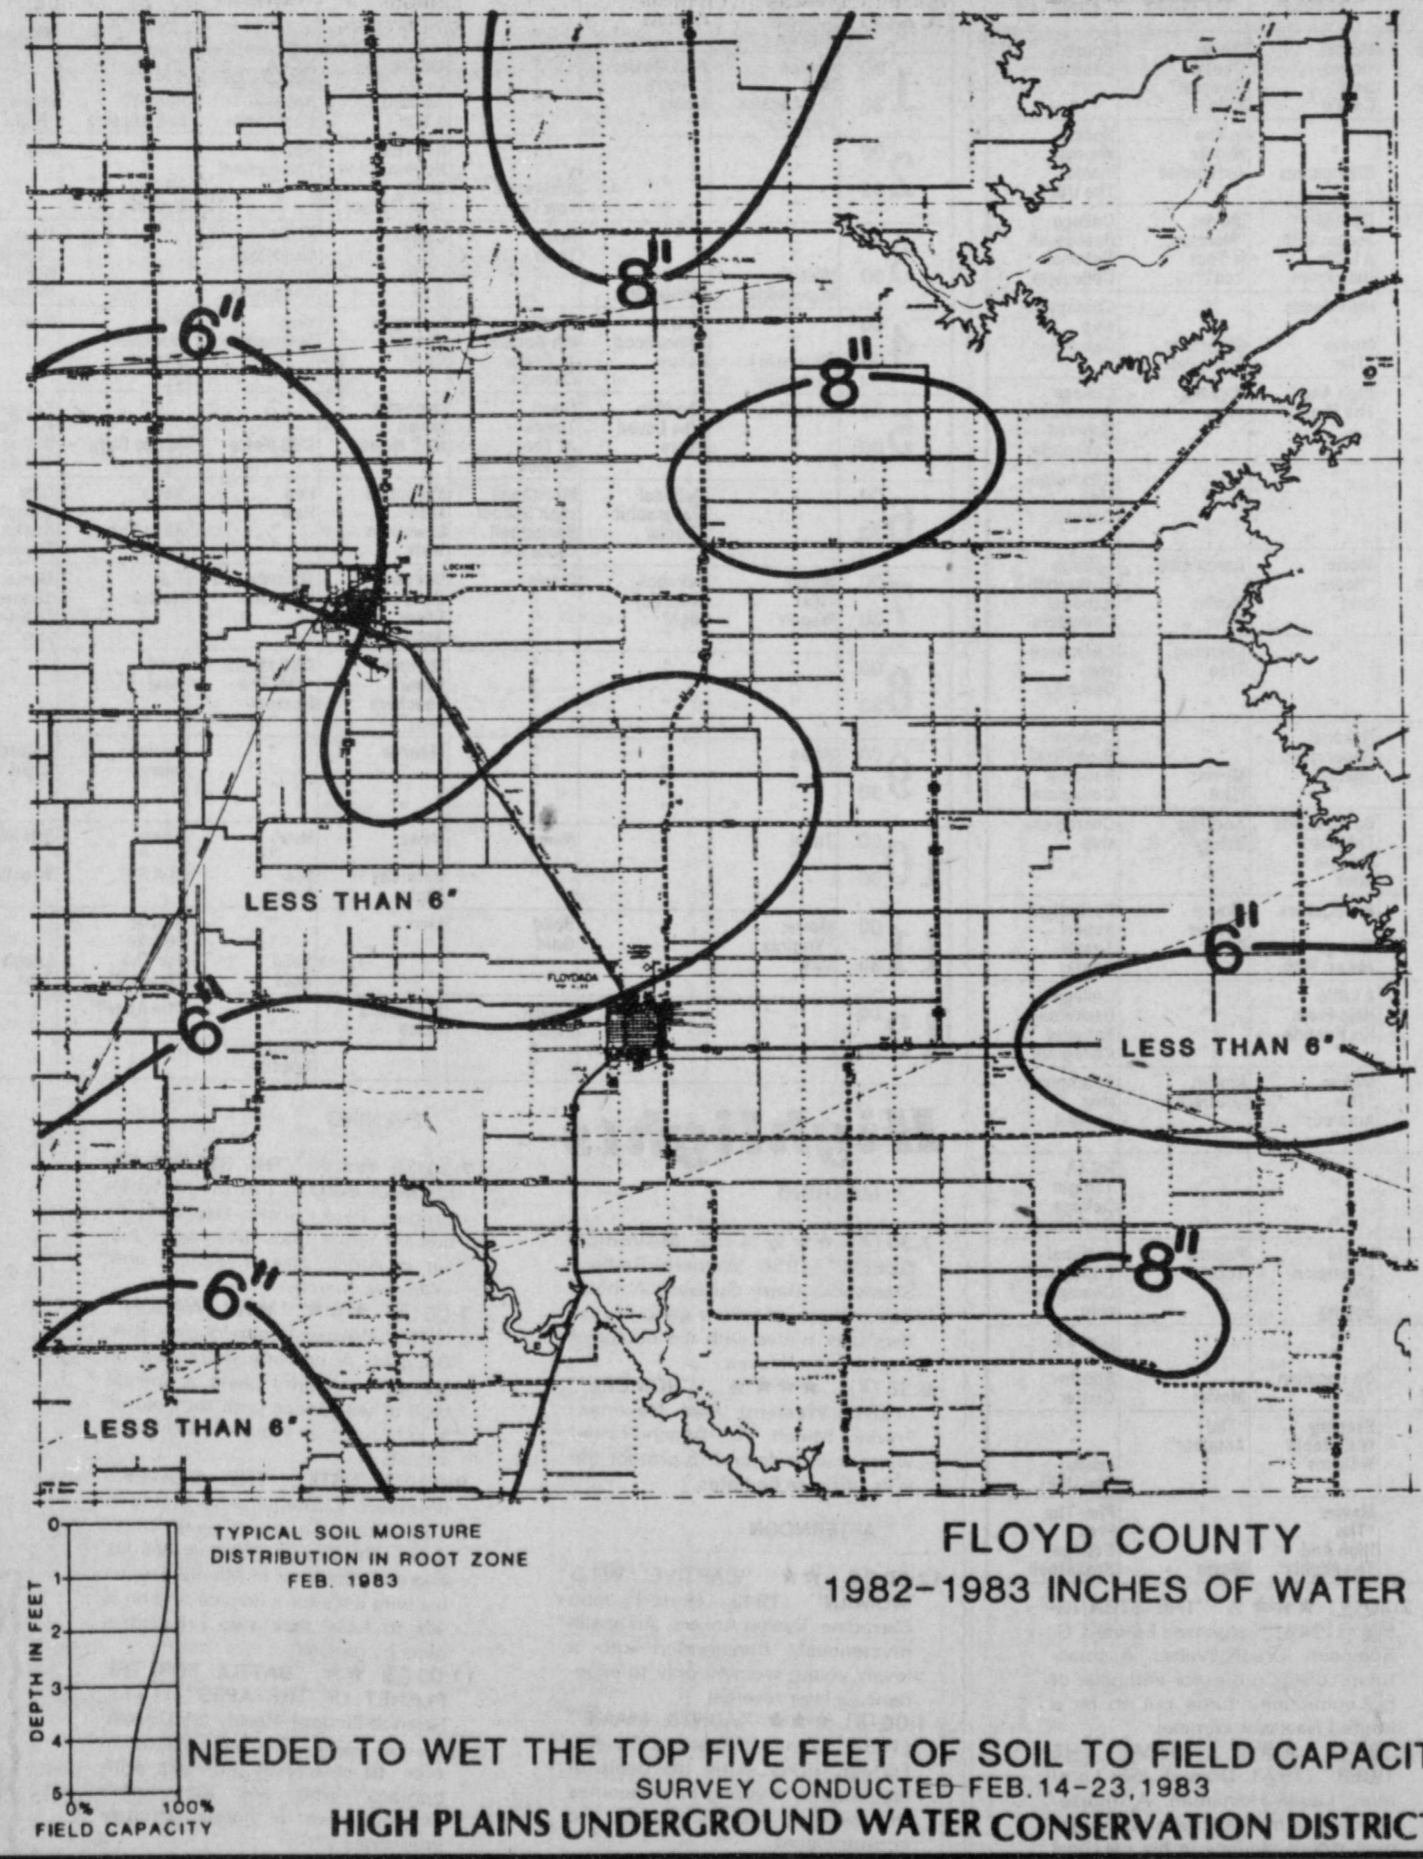

24. Something eating the tender new growth on flower and vegetable transplants but the guilty culprit is too evasive to see? Try checking the area at night with a flashlight for slugs, snails or other night feeding insects. Use Sevin or one of the new slug baits to control.

25. Usually weed in the lawn areas indicate a poor lawn management program. Determine what you are doing wrong rather than depend on weed killers.

26. If a weed killer is necessary use one that won't damage trees and shrubs. Avoid using the combination mixes of fertilizer and weed killers if possible.

27. You will be using more pesticides now that the gardening season is in full swing. Be sure to read the complete label before using any pesticide. The plant you save may be your most prized possession.

28. Time to plant annual flowers in the beds prepared last month.

29. Be prepared to cover tender annuals and vegetables with boxes, milk bottles or other means in case a severe freeze is forecast. Wooden stakes placed in the row will allow the use of poly film, old blankets, or tarps to cover without crushing the plants. Remove cover before the hot sun strikes the bed.

30. Repot overgrown, root-bound pot plants this month. Keep plants in light shade until re-established.

31. Clean, thin out and transplant overcrowded perennial beds. Rework the soil applying organic matter as peat moss or compost before replanting. Includes such perennials as Daylily, Mums, Liriope, Shasta Daisy, etc.

32. Don't forget to fertilize pansy-plants and other flowering annuals or prolong the season.

Wes Side Story by Wes Brown

Have you seen any outer space visitors lately?

I have a theory about the UFO sightings that have been reported in the last several years. They are beings from other solar systems that are searching for intelligent life. You may notice that they haven't contacted earth people. I only know of one person who was contacted by beings from another planet.

J.P. Maloney claims he was visited by such travelers. I believed him, although he once told me he found a cure for wheat germ.

He said he was in his back yard lying in his hammock thinking about moving the lawn like he promised his wife. A strange noise broke his thoughts. A large glowing disk-shaped object landed near his new redwood fence, scorching it.

J.P. was furious. He had spent a lot of time and money on that fence and he was ready to tell whoever was driving that contraption all about it. He stopped short when the door opened and a small pale creature came out and spoke to him.

"Take me to your leader," the creature said with a metallic voice. "She is next door playing bridge," J.P. said.

The creature laughed and said not to be frightened because they were scientists. J.P. invited them in for something to drink. The only thing he had to offer was beer, the creatures accepted.

They said they were looking for intelligent life. J.P. told them they were on the wrong planet. They laughed and had a few more beers.

J.P. and the creatures got serious and the creatures asked J.P. how life was on earth. J.P. said, "Not too good," and told them about the problems on earth.

"We solved those problems years ago," the creature said. He went on to explain how to solve the problems.

It was getting late and the creatures had to leave. They fixed J.P.'s fence because he was so helpful. J.P. was tired, so he went back to his hammock. When he woke up, the sun was setting. He couldn't remember what the creatures told him about solving the world's problems. Besides, no one believed three small creatures explained how to solve the world's problems while drinking beer with a common person like J.P.

I don't think that people like J.P. Maloney are the reason we haven't been contacted by outer space visitors. I think it is because of our organized team sports. We understand and enjoy sports as spectators and players. But, how would our sports appear to visitors from another world?

Baseball would be described by the visitors as a small round object being thrown at a man who must defend himself by hitting the object before it hits him. He then tries to run around a diamond-shaped field before he could be hit again.

If an outer space traveler saw a golf game he probably would describe it as an event where a man hits a small white ball with a club. If it is a good hit the crowd applauds enthusiastically. If the hit is not as good the crowd just applauds politely. The man just hits the ball until he finds a hole in the ground and hits the ball in it.

Few earth people fully understand football. A non-earth dweller would describe football as an event where a leather projectile is moved from one player to another before the opposing players can catch the man with the projectile and beat him up. These men are paid well to do this.

If sports is not the reason we don't get more visitors than we do, television would be the reason. The next time you are watching a dog food or Dr. Pepper commercial, imagine what a visitor from another planet would think if he were watching with you.

If the outer space observers were watching from a distance, they would notice the system we have for providing for ourselves. We study several years in school to get a good job. We get a good job to make enough money to retire so we wouldn't have to work. I hope any inhabitants from another planet have a better system than this.

If any space travelers visit me, I probably wouldn't tell anyone. Everyone would think I had been watching too much TV and not going to enough football games.
