What are we going to do about Lebanon? Should we bring the Marines home? Should they stay and be re-deployed to a more secure position? Should we wash our hands of the whole region and hand it over to the Soviets?

These are questions I hear every day, and almost to a man, those who ask the questions have the answers. Yes, we should bring them home. Yes, they should be moved to more secure positions, but remain until peace is assured. Yes, we should wash our hands of the whole matter and let them fight it out among themselves.

For myself, I don't rightly know. I am no longer privy to daily briefings from our intelligence community, as was the case for seven long years, and consequently I no longer know who is on first or who is on second as far as Mideast is concerned. So I don't know what we should do. We will do nothing the Israeli government wants us not to do, in the final analysis. The reason is fairly simple. The Israelis, through their lobby in this country, have far more influence over the American Congress than an American President has, and in the end it will be Congress that determines what we do there.

It was Congress, after all, that told Reagan it was okay to send in the Marines for eighteen months, because the Israelis, after having invaded Lebanon and adding to the chaos there, were departing the scene and posing the possibility of a terrible blood bath in their wake.

The tipoff on what the government of Israel wants has come to us in circuitous ways. Allan Cranston, always a spokesman for the Israelis, had made his position known. And now Walter Mondale, jousting with Cranston for the vote of Israel's friends in this country, has joined him. Even John Glenn is out front on the issue. Now Tip O'Neill, joining the chorus after having put his stamp of approval on the venture originally, is sounding notes of alarm. Would any of them be speaking this way if Shamir had passed the word that he wanted the Marines to stay? I think not.

But regardless of all that, the question comes back to us. What is in America's best interests? The Marines were sent there originally as part of a multi-national force, designed to prevent chaos from consuming the country, and to give the new government of Lebanon time to get its house in order. And despite the terrible casualties we have taken there at the hands of the terrorists, I cannot help believing that that part of their mission has been successful. It is true of course that bloodshed still goes on there as various factions contend for power and territory, but it is nothing on the scale that would have occurred had the multi-national force not gone in when it did.

The second part of the equation is more difficult to assess. But here again I believe the mission has been successful. The various factions are talking among themselves. There is hope that some sort of agreement on broadening the base of government, to take into account the interests of the Syrians, as well as the Israelis, will be forthcoming.

So all in all, perhaps it is not time to consider bringing the boys home. At the very least they should be redeployed in Lebanon, but for myself it seems we could do about as much good now by taking up positions offshore. The threat would still be there, if we need it, and the presence would still be felt. Until and unless we are willing to sit on the Israelis, and force them to return to their own boundaries, the Syrians are not going to go home. And while both the Syrians and Israelis are in Lebanon, egging on their supporters, there is going to be no peace in that unhappy land.

Neither the Lebanese nor the Americans deserve this. A few years ago I had to travel to Lebanon frequently. Our government had extensive interests there, and at the time it was an oasis in a troubled region. The Christians and Moslems, after years of contention, had worked out their differences, and shared positions in the government. The people were essentially happy and peaceful. The Lebanese, left to their own devices, are not a warlike people. They are merchants, traders, farmers. It was only when the troubles of the surrounding countries spilled over onto them that they saw their country rent asunder.

I doubt we will ever again see a Lebanon as it was then. If Reagan can pull it off he will have achieved a success in foreign policy to parallel his achievements at home. But that will take some doing, considering the realities in Israel, and in Syria, and in Lebanon, and in America, and finally in the Soviet Union.

City Council accepts bids from Oden for new truck

During the regular monthly meeting of the Lockney City Council held Thursday, January 5, the council accepted a bid from Oden Chevrolet Olds of Floydada for $8272.00, for a new pickup for the Lockney water and street department. Acceptance of the bid by the council was based on the condition that Oden also add tinted glass and a trailer hitch, at competitive prices, to the vehicle. Bids submitted included those from Gene Messer Ford of Lubbock for $9929.83, Jack Morris Ford of Plainview for $8575.40, City Auto of Floydada for a GMC at a price of $8465.49. Wilkerson Ford of Tulia submitted two bids: one for a 1984 Ford at a price of $8396 and one for a 1984 Dodge for $8229. Other bids were Bob Garner Chevrolet of Plainview for $8774; Maggard-Nall of Plainview for $8538.25; and Reed Ford of Floydada for a 1984 Ford at $8499.39 and for a 1983 Ford for $9310.

In other business the council passed a motion for Parkhill, Smith and Cooper, Inc. to be placed on retainer to administer the 1983 TCDP block grant project.

During the department reports Alderman Wofford thanked Police Chief Ken Farrow for making out monthly reports on the local police calls. Alderman Frizzell brought before the council that Mrs. W.J. Mangold had asked if her group of square dancers could rent the American Legion Hall for about 20 consecutive weeks. The council agreed to this and set a price for the group at $12.50 per night for use of the building.

The council received notification that if nothing unforeseen interferes, the city will begin receiving water from the Mackezie Water Project on February 1.

Attending the meeting were Mayor J.D. Copeland, Alderman Kring, Reece, Frizzell, Wofford, and Dipprey. Also attending were city attorney Paul Lyle, city secretary Erma Lee Duckworth and Police Chief Ken Farrow.

The council upon adjournment from the regular meeting, met in executive session.

GRANNY SELF puts out bread crumbs for the birds around the Lockney Care Center.

Granny Self enjoys birds at the Lockney Care Center

By Mary Baker Phillips

"Granny" Self, 91, of Matador, as she is affectionately known to the residents of Lockney Care Center, started the New Year with her morning ritual of feeding the birds.

Wearing her sunbonnet and her apron filled with bread crumbs, she was oblivious to the 28 degree temperature and the traces of snow as she called to the birds while scattering their food.

"The days from December 18-30 "Granny" considered time lost, since she could not feed the birds," Gloria Shoemaker, director of nurses, explained Tuesday. "With that interval termed the coldest December this century, we could not risk her falling on the frozen snow. She has priority on bread crumbs and other residue foods suitable for the birds from the dining room."

"Active as a wren, happy as a lark. 'Granny' is our Man Friday for wheelchair residents, dispensing her services and sharing her happiness as she attends to their wants," Mrs. Shoemaker continued. "She loves everybody, and her interests are not limited to the Center. She is an avid newspaper and magazines reader and is attentive to the other news media."

"Her feeding the birds is a two-way street for us. She enjoys feeding them and we enjoy her."

Mrs. John William Self was admitted to the Center June 8, 1982, to recover from hip surgery which resulted from a fall in her Matador garden. She has been home only once since. Learning of her plans to return New Years Day, 1983, her friends had an immaculate home and an abundance of food waiting.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John W. Miller, she was born March 16, 1891, in Pickens, Georgia.

James Bean of Portland, Oregon, an architect, whom she has raised as a son, is the only other surviving member of her family.

PERSPECTIVES

By the Rev. Michael O'Connor

The world of the early Christians was one in which some form of civil disobedience was bound to happen. We read in Acts that some of the apostles were told by the authorities that they had to quit preaching. The reply was one of civil disobedience, "Judge for yourself whether it is right in God's sight to obey you rather than God. For we cannot help speaking about what we have seen and heard." That attitude eventually got them killed.

Another problem in New Testament times was the oath of allegiance required by the Roman government. In taking the oath, one would have to acknowledge the deity of Caesar, something most Christians were unwilling to do. That also brought on quite a few deaths. Among the early controversies of the church was what to do with people who, for various reasons (mostly fear of death, but also some theological hocus-pocus), decided to go along with the oath, and recanted later.

The prime problem in Biblical terms comes from the thirteenth chapter of Romans. There Paul exhorts his readers to submit to the governing authorities because their authority comes from God and to rebel against the authorities is to rebel against God. Included in that injunction is to pay taxes, revenues, respect and honor to those who should receive them.

Most of the argument I have heard supporting Christian civil disobedience says simply we are to obey the authorities, except where they call upon us to violate the express will of God as contained in the scriptures. Note that that exception is not part of Paul's exhortation. Nevertheless, we do have a couple of examples of Christian disobedience.

My problem with the current civil disobedience movement is with their exception clause. While I am sure that these people sincerely believe the government to be violating their personal beliefs, I have not seen that the government is asking them to either quit talking about God or to directly deny God's existence, or affirm the deity of the state. The exception clause allows people to use any issue as a means of being disobedient. That exception is not found in the scriptures.

I think, then, that even though I disapprove of many government policies, I am not free to refuse to pay taxes. I have worked on the board of directors of a day care center, and the state regulations are not particularly intrusive. The argument that governments may not tell churches how to run day care centers or other institutions is based not so much on biblical principles, as it is on the doctrine of the separation of church and state, a constitutional question.

As I remember the original concept of civil disobedience it was the court of last resort, after every avenue had been exhausted to effect change. It seems to me we need to see if there aren't some avenues we have overlooked in a rush to be rebellious.

Lockney Care Center Capers

By Mavis Barton & Mary Jo Fielding

Last week was a very busy week for the office here. Not only was Laverne doing end of the month reports, but end of the year as well. Thank goodness that's over!

We have been having some very good morning church services here during the week. Everyone enjoys the singing as well as the pastor's who come to share with us. Last week the church service on Friday was held by First Baptist in Silverton. Bro. Jerry Miller, the pastor, was unable to be here, but Les Bice, the youth Minister, held the services. He did a good job, too. As a matter of fact Edna Thomas said she liked him so well, if Bro. Jerry was not as good Les would just be the pastor from now on! Ha! I guess we'll just have to wait and see!

We are expecting a couple to come into residence here this week. We seem to be gaining new residents by leaps and bounds. We enjoy our residents and their families so much. They are really a joy.

Laverne will be going to an administrators meeting the last of January. We are all looking forward to hearing how her meetings go. It's hard to believe they get much work done! Wish we could go too!

All our residents are doing well this week and at present no one is in the hospital. Everyone seems to be feeling well now. Grannie Self is still feeding the birds; Mary Jo Fielding is still our resident mail person; Mavis Barton will still be writing our news; and everyone is enjoying the nice weather of the last few days! Hope it keeps up!

In times like these..... By Mary Jo Fielding

Hungary is the most Westernized nation in Eastern Europe but still there are economic planners who are taking the initiatives to blend Communism and capitalism in what is known as "goulash Communism." One such economic planner, Ferne Vissi, has an office where he can overlook not only the Danube but the economic revolution that is being encouraged by the Soviets. The economist said the economic revolution had been going on for almost thirty years, that the Hungarian people are different and need some change to create economic activities. Pierre Cardin, opened a clothing shop in Budapest one day and was sold out the next day. An enthusiastic American tourist on his first visit to Communist Hungary said, "I could move here tomorrow."

Hungarians are able to travel privately to the West every three years and every year on group tours. Hungary is indeed the crossroad between East and West. Restaurants and service industries are privately operated. A determined couple even opened a private zoo in the heart of Budapest.

Hungary has been barely tolerated by Moscow, but since they have been so willing to experiment economically they are now welcomed by Andropov, who once served as the Soviet ambassador to Hungary. James Kadar, the moderate whom Andropov helped to install as head of the Communist Party after the 1956 Hungarian revolution, is widely known for building an oasis in the dreary world of Eastern Europe.

Outreach Program offered for low income

IRS OUTREACH PROGRAM
 The Internal Revenue Service has a special program called Outreach. It provides free income tax help for low to middle income groups interested in preparing their own returns or learning about recent tax law changes.

Outreach sessions are conducted by IRS employees at community sites and at times convenient to taxpayers during or after normal work hours and on weekends.

KINDS OF OUTREACH ASSISTANCE

1. Group Income Tax Return Preparation—consists of IRS employees going line-by-line over federal tax forms to enable taxpayers to prepare their tax returns accurately. This assistance is similar to that provided for taxpayers in IRS offices.

2. Tax Information Seminars—bringing together groups sharing a common interest for the purpose of clarifying provisions of the tax law as it relates to their individual tax returns. Discussion, films, and questions and answers on topics such as new tax law and specific aspects of the individual tax return are provided by IRS employees. Some examples of seminar groups nad topics served by Outreach are:

- a. a group of individuals anticipating retirement on pension and estimated tax information;
- b. a group of sole proprietors or farm income individuals on Form 1040, Schedule C and Schedule F information; or c. a group of W-2 recipients on tax law changes affecting income tax returns.

WHERE OUTREACH IS AVAILABLE

Outreach sites are frequently set up in areas where individuals need taxpayer assistance during other than regular IRS business hours or where taxpayers are not served by the VITA (Volunteer Income Tax Assistance) and Tax Counseling for Elderly activities. Popular Outreach sites include community centers, libraries, banks, colleges, social action agencies, church halls, shopping malls, cultural centers and places of employment.

Varsity boys defeated in Caprock Tournament

The Longhorns Varsity boys played in the Caprock Tournament in Lubbock, December 29 and 30. The first game played the Horns against Levelland. The boys were defeated by a score of 70-33 in this game. Coach Randy Josey stated that the boys "gave a lot of effort, but were outsize by the Levelland team." One of Levelland's players, standing 6 feet 7 inches controlled the boards and started several fast breaks for his team. Josey said that the boys played the best in the first and third quarters, but were still outscored by Levelland.

High pointers for the game were Johnny Torrez with 8, Scott Poole with 7, Buffo Rodriguez with 6, Brent Hallmark with 4, Ritchie Thornton and Jackie Cunyas with 3 each, and Paul Moats with 2.

The second game of the tournament

JACKIE CUNYAS shot for a point after he was fouled in Friday's game against Dimmitt.

Coaches Comments

By Nancy Ray

Varsity ended pre-district with an 11 and 7 record with two wins last week back to back over Tulia and Dimmitt. We concentrated on our defense again and played great games to help prepare us for district play. In our victory over Tulia we worked on our Zone defense and on our passing offense. We really did a great job on blocking out inside and getting the rebounds. Our offense worked well with beating them to the basket and then taking quick inside shots. Shawnda Brock came along with 20 points while Foster and Holt each put in 14 points.

In our victory over Dimmitt, we came back to win it by one point when we were down by 10 with two minutes left to go. The girls showed that they could still play good aggressive basketball while under such pressure and that they could work well together as a team. I am very proud of them in this victory especially. Brock was high scorer with 21 while Foster put in 15, McCormick 5; Holt and Carthel with 4 each.

District starts Tuesday night against Childress in a home game. We go into district play averaging 48.8 points a game; Foster is averaging 13.9 a game; Brock 13.5; McCormick 6.7, Holt 5.7, Cantu 3.6, Carthel 2.8, Fitzgerald 1.7, Bybee 1.6, Elam and Salinas 1 point a game. Our next district match will be with Floydada there. We hope everyone will come out and support us in our district match!

Boys lose to state champs

The Longhorn Varsity boys basketball team had to admit defeat to the defending State Champion Dimmitt boys in Friday's game in Lockney. Coach Randy Josey said that the boys "played a very good first quarter, coming out ahead of Dimmitt 12 to 10. However, as the game progressed, fouls hurt the Horns." He commented that he was "proud of all the boys in that they never quit trying, no matter how much they are down."

The boys opened district against Childress Tuesday; however no details were available at press time. Friday the game will be against Floydada there.

High pointers for the game were Paul Moats with 9, Buffo Rodriguez and Ritchie Thornton with eight each, Jackie Cunyas and Brent Hallmark with five each, Abel Salas with three, and David Sutterfield and Johnny Torrez with two each.

The weather has been warmer and there is still some harvesting going on. Mark Profett of Texas City filled the pulpit at the Assembly of God Church Sunday in view of a call. The church called him as their pastor and he will soon be moving in the community to serve the people. He has a wife, Mary and a 15-month-old baby. We extend our welcome to the family and wish them happiness and success in their service here.

The Profitt family spent the week end in the home of Edna Gilly, Craig and Trudi Gilly, Amy and Tara and Mark and Lori and Emory joined them for dinner Sunday.

W.M. and Ruthie Clark of Plainview had dinner with Edna Gilly Thursday. Edna Beth and Billie Tye and Harvey and Judy Allen had dinner in the home of Clara and Albert Mize Sunday. Albert is not feeling so well this week. We trust that he will gain his strength rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bradley visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mize this week. We regret the Bradleys moving to Plainview and leaving Floydada where they have served a long time and are loved by so many people. We extend our cooperation in his new field as he will still serve us as missionary of this district.

Patsy and Lafayette Boone of Lubbock and Trevor Hayhurst of Amarillo and Danita and Paul Clark of Fort Worth had New Years dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fortenberry.

We received good news for Grace Lemons' brother, J.E. Anderson this week when he went in remission and was able to return to his home in Abilene. He had been in the Lackland Military Hospital in San Antonio for a series of chemotherapy treatments for the past six weeks.

Kay and Royce Bethel and Shelly and Jaime had New Years dinner with Royce's mother, Fern Bethel in Floydada last Sunday.

Mary Coats, Martha Taylor's sister, went home to Houston Saturday after spending a week with Junior and Martha Taylor.

We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing, while others judge us by what we have already done.

Households may apply Jones Office to open in Plainview for energy assistance

According to the head of the Texas Department of Human Resources some low-income Texas households may be eligible for help in paying their heating bills through the Home Energy Assistance Program.

Commissioner Marlin Johnston said the one-time payment is available to many low-income households who this month received food stamps. Aid to Families with Dependent Children, Supplemental Security Income, or needs-tested Veterans Administration benefits.

Potentially eligible veterans are those who receive payments under Section 415, 521, 541, or 542 of Title 38 of the U.S. Code or under Section 306 of the Veterans and Survivors pension Improvement Act of 1978.

Eligibility is limited by gross income. For instance, aid is available for a one-person household having less than a $355.49 gross income per month. The gross income limit is $581.49 for a two-person household, $798.49 for a three-person household, $985.49 for four persons, $1,162.49 for five, and $1,359.49 for six.

Eligible households must be subject to energy cost increases—because of higher bills or rent due to rising utility costs.

Households in privately owned or rented housing are eligible even if the cost of utilities is included in the rent payment or if the household pays only a portion of its home energy costs.

Johnston said application forms are mailed automatically to households which receive food stamps, AFDC, and SSI. Households receiving needs-tested Veterans benefits must request an application from DHR in January.

Those who have not received an application and think their household may be eligible should contact a local office of the Texas Department of Human Resources.

Mr. John Bachmann, managing partner of Edward D. Jones & Company, has announced the firm's intentions to open an office in Plainview, Texas.

The office will be managed by Kevin N. Flatt, 36, who has been with the firm since July 1983. Kevin Flatt is a graduate of the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa and holds both a bachelors and masters degree in Business Administration. Before joining Edward D. Jones & Company, Mr. Flatt served 12 years in the United States Army and was honorably discharged as a Major. He has served in Vietnam and Germany, is a graduate of the Army's Command and General Staff Officers Course, and has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal, Air Medal and Army Commendation Medal. Mr. Flatt, who previously served at the firm's Gainesville, Texas office, resides at 213 Yucca Terrace, Plainview, with his wife, Anne, and daughters Emily, 6, and Cynthia, 2.

"We are proud to have Kevin Flatt as our representative in Plainview, and we are confident of his ability to serve the conservative investment needs of the people of the Texas High Plains", said John Bachmann.

For more than 110 years the people at Edward D. Jones & Company have built a sound business based upon a conservative investment philosophy. The firm's registered representatives sell decidedly low-risk securities; including federal tax exempt bonds, government bonds and trusts, corporate bonds and trusts, municipal bonds and trusts, and common stock of companies with histories of solid growth and sound management.

The Jones Office will have a state of the art communications system that greatly enhances the speed with which orders, quotations, market news, and research reports can be transmitted to various offices and Exchanges.

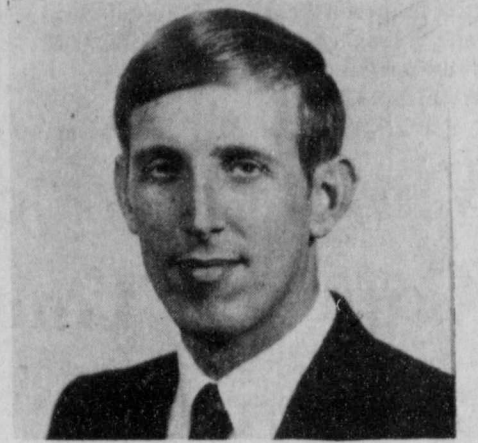

The firm takes pride in having been able to improve the position of many investors, particularly in relation to bond issues. After realizing that bonds are generally designed with the institutional investor in mind, Edward D. Jones & Company persuaded a large number of corporations and municipalities to restructure their issues with the needs of the individual investor as the primary concern. The special features which resulted include an estate benefit whereby if the holder dies, the surviving holder or heir can redeem the bond at full cost plus interest with no penalty. Such bond offerings have also provided monthly or quarterly interest payments, in contrast to the usual semiannual interest payment on most bonds.

In 1871, the same year that Col. Ranald S. MacKenzie established the MacKenzie Trail, the firm began business in St. Louis, Missouri, and the home office today is located in Maryland Heights, Missouri. In the late 1940's the firm evolved the concepts of opening offices in small farm communities, concentrating on those with a population of 10,000 to 25,000. The first branch office was opened in the farming community of Mexico, Missouri. Most of the firm's 670 offices are concentrated in the nation's farm and livestock belt. Included in the number are 76 in Texas, 65 in Illinois, 52 in Iowa, 41 in Missouri, 34 in Kansas, and 30 in Nebraska. Jones also has offices in Oklahoma, North and South Dakota, and Arkansas, and has at least one office in 33 states.

"Edward D. Jones and Company's main mission is to serve people and I know Kevin Flatt will help the people in and around Plainview and Hale County, and the six county area achieve their conservative investment goals," concluded John Bachmann.

Pecans number among hundreds of stalwart Texas traditions which flavor and enhance life for Texans. For any occasion, for family or friends, for appetizers or dessert, Texas pecans are a welcome addition to the menu. These dishes, zesty and traditional, exemplify the pecan's contribution to festive eating.
