KING AND QUEEN—Jackie Cunyas and Libby Williams were elected Prom King and Queen at Saturday's banquet.

Up, Up, and Away theme set the stage for banquet

The Up, Up, and Away theme set the stage for the Junior, Senior Banquet and Prom held last Saturday night. The theme was a carefully guarded secret from the senior class while the junior class members and parents worked at planning and making decisions.

The Lockney Elementary Cafeteria was transformed into a hot air balloon playground as balloon murals and white cotton clouds decorated the walls. Decorating the floor were large wooden balloon gondolas decorated in purple and white filled with purple balloons. Streamers from the gondolas were held aloft with bunches of purple balloons. The ceiling was covered with white paper and hundreds of purple balloons floated in the "sky" over the banquet.

Tables were covered with white. Each table was centered with woen balloon gondolas decorated by mothers of the juniors with purple flowers and ivy, topped off with pink striped balloons, made by the mothers. Centerpieces, snifter glasses with the theme printed on them, and wooden plaques which marked each of the placings were given to the senior girls as keepsakes.

Sophomores, dressed in white knickers, purple shirts, and white cabbie hats, served guests bar-b-que brisket, cooked by James Poole, beans, baked potatoes, salad, fresh rolls, cobbler, and tea. The salad and dessert were served buffet style from two of the balloon gondolas.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Redin of Munday, Texas.

Following the meal, Brent Hallmark and Nicki Race announced the senior class personalities.

Those named included Moses Blanco and Shawnda Brock as the Best All-Round, Paul Castro and Shawnda Brock as the Most Likely to Succeed, Moses Blanco and Libby Williams Most Popular, and Gary Bigham and Stephanie Bybee Most Friendly and Most Courteous.

Poole then announced the senior class Who's Who. In academic subjects the following were recognized: Paul Castro in math, journalism, and track; Shawnda Brock in science, track and basketball; Libby Williams in English; Kim Carthel in computers; Aurora Garcia in business; Mike Ford in library; Earl Broseh in ag; Moses Blanco in football; Stephanie Bybee in tennis, and selected as the Most Representative were Shawnda Brock and Paul Castro. All of the above were selected by the teachers and the coaches.

Sophomore servers for the banquet included Tammy Ballejo, Shandra Bybee, Elizabeth Guerrero, Heather Holt, Teresa Perez, Jessie Castro, Trent Gant, Jerry Mathis, Randy Race, and David Sutterfield.

Junior class sponsors who helped with decorations and preparations include Nancy Ray, Malcom Moerbe, Mickey Crowe, Randy Josey and Raul Vera. Also helping with the decorating were many of the junior class parents.

Music for the prom which immediately followed was by Clyde Shannon of Lubbock.

After the dance the juniors and seniors were feted with an early morning breakfast. The junior breakfast was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sherman and the senior breakfast was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Owens.

Officers for the junior class include Sarah Fitzgerald, Ritchie Thornton, Nicki Race, and Brent Hallmark.

Monday the seniors honored the junior class with a surprise "come as you are" breakfast. Members of the senior class picked up the juniors very early that morning.

MYRTLE GIBSON stands near the pictures of her children and foster children which are grouped together on the wall of her home.

Myrtle Gibson remembers

As Mother's Day approaches many mothers remember past special days, but Myrtle Gibson, Myrtle as she is affectionately known, remembers all Mother's Days as special. Those when she and husband Jack enjoyed with children they were fostering in addition to raising their four are especially fond in her memory.

The couple's four children are: Carl of Pampa, Sidney and Dale of Plainview, and Inez, a freshman at Lockney High School.

The Gibsons as a family had discussed many times the possibility of being a foster family. In 1973, after discussing the situation with social worker Diane Yandell, decided to take that first step. They had decided to foster sibling groups because they felt that even if children could not be with their parents the children should be kept together as a family.

The first set of children to be brought to the Gibson house were four brothers and sisters. These children lived with the Gibsons for three years. When brought to the house, they had very few clothes that fit. So Myrtle got busy and made clothes for them as she did many of the children who stayed at their home. She remembers one Christmas during their stay while Dale and Inez were still at home and they were keeping another foster child Carl, their oldest son, walked in the house. He found the den area full of Christmas presents and the tree.

The Gibsons fostered a total of 13 children in 7½ years. They had five boys and eight girls. The oldest child they had was a girl that was eight years old and the youngest was a baby girl that was seven months old. When asked how she coped with all the children and family too, Myrtle said "The Lord gave me the time and energy to do what seemed like endless washing and cooking, but I adjusted and enjoyed each and every one of the children."

The Gibsons only had one girl who was a problem. The small girl lived with them for six months before they found out she had a sister. The sister had lived in another foster home since she was small and when the foster mother became ill, the little girl was placed in the Gibson home. She was never able to adjust to the new environment. When the other foster mother recovered her health, the little girl was returned to her original home.

None of the foster children brought to the Gibson home had major health problems or handicaps; however, some had problems that had to be overcome. One little girl had been abused by the male members of her family and it was not known how she would react to the men in the Gibson family. After being around Jack for a few days, she hugged his neck and drank in all of his love and affection. She was however, a little shy around the boys when they returned home for visits. One small youngster became so attached to Jack that he made himself ill crying for Jack while he was away attending a ginners' convention.

Myrtle recalled when the children made coupon books at school and presented them to her on Mother's Day. The coupons were for chores around the house. She said it sure did help.

The Gibsons had their last foster child in 1981. Myrtle said they miss the children. They still see the four brothers and sisters that spent three years in their home. The children were adopted by a family in Arizona, and in the summer when they are on vacation, they bring the children to Lockney and spend the night with the Gibsons.

Myrtle said that one thing she most appreciates is that in the time they had foster children, they were warmly accepted by the community as a part of the family. Myrtle remembers all occasions as special, much like Christmas, because there were "always children around the house." She said, "I was somewhat prepared for the foster children, because I had been babysitting local children for a number of years."

Myrtle is now a nurse at the Lockney Care Center. She began nursing courses when she had two foster children that had to attend school in Plainview, and she had to find something to do with the morning hours while the children were in school. She had always wanted to be a nurse, and began the classes part time. Later, given the opportunity, she took full time courses.

She began working at the Care Center two days before finishing her nursing training. In August she will have worked there three years. She enjoys her work at the Care Center and says "working with children and older people is much the same, though older people have different problems." She enjoys helping the people and working with them.

Hospital Week proclaimed

Lockney General Hospital joins with hospitals across the state in celebrating TEXAS HOSPITAL WEEK, May 6-12. This observance is built around the theme slogan, "Texans--We're the Caring Kind."

"Since our hospital motto is 'Our Family Caring For Your Family,' we think that the 1984 TEXAS HOSPITAL WEEK theme reflects the role of our hospital and its staff as professionals who have dedicated their lives to caring for others," said Guy Hazlett, hospital administrator. "These professionals work to promote the best possible care in necessary and critical times. Our hospital family works closer together than any hospital I've ever worked with."

Some of the ways Lockney General Hospital is caring for the residents of the Lockney area are by providing quality assurance monitoring of patient services, a vigorous cost containment program, and active continuing medical and technical educational programs for all employees and departments.

During the week, the hospital also is encouraging people to adopt healthy behaviors and learn how to use the hospital wisely to stay well. The specific activities planned for Texas Hospital Week are as follows:

Sunday, May 6 - National Nurses Day, flowers to the nurses' station, on-duty nurses eat free (breakfast, lunch and supper).

Monday, May 7 - Doctors Appreciation Day, noon luncheon for the doctors and their families.

Tuesday, May 8 - Employees Appreciation Day, noon barbeque, list of employees' names and departments in the Beacon.

Wednesday, May 9 - Board of Directors Appreciation Day, noon luncheon.

Thursday, May 10 - Non-Smoking Campaign, all Lockney citizens are challenged to stop smoking during this day. If you can stop smoking for one day, we challenge you to kick the habit permanently.

Friday, May 11 - Blood Pressure Campaign, FREE, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. screening for the public.

Texas Hospital Week coincides with the National Hospital Week celebration of the American Hospital Association.

W.J. MANGOLD, Guy Hazlett and Gary Mangold, look on as Mayor J.D. Copeland signed the hospital week proclamation.

The following proclamation was signed Monday by Lockney's Mayor J.D. Copeland:

WHEREAS, May 6-12, 1984, has been designated TEXAS HOSPITAL WEEK by Mark White, Governor of Texas, and
WHEREAS, The theme for the celebration during this special week is "Texans--We're the Caring Kind," and
WHEREAS, The National Hospital Week coincides with the state celebration, and
WHEREAS, The city of Lockney joins other communities throughout Texas and the nation in paying tribute to the dedicated hospital professionals who provide skilled, compassionate health care to our citizens,
NOW, THEREFORE, I, J.D. Copeland, as Mayor of the city of Lockney, do hereby proclaim May 6-12, 1984, as HOSPITAL WEEK in Lockney, and urge its members to take cognizance of this event and to participate fittingly in its observance.
Given this 7th day of May in the year one thousand nine hundred and eighty four.

Mayor, City of Lockney

This Week

- CLEANUP CAMPAIGN WEEK
The Lockney City Council has set the week of May 9 for its annual cleanup campaign week.
During this week the city will be picking up excess yard trash, removing dead and trimmed tree limbs, and pulling up dead trees and removing them. They will remove all kinds of trash but they request that the trash be put in alleys near trash cans. This will prevent the removal of items people wish to keep.
The city will also remove old cars IF citizens have no means to remove them themselves.
Anyone wishing to have trees pulled up or large items hauled off should call the city office at 652-2355 and make an appointment.
- BAKE SALE
The Care Center is planning its annual bake sale for May 15 at the Care Center. The sale will be from 1-4:00. Funds from the bake sale and proceeds from the enchilada dinner will go towards the purchase and installation of a covered patio for the residents.
- TEA FOR ABBOTT
The Athena Study Club will be holding a tea to honor retiring kindergarten teacher Linnie Abbott on Friday, May 11 from 1 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. in the Elementary School Library. The public is invited to attend the tea.
Mrs. Abbott has been teaching in Lockney for the past 27 years.
- WOMEN'S SOFTBALL ASSN.
A meeting of the Lockney Women's Softball Association will be held May 14 at 7:30 p.m. in the Lockney High School Homemaking building. It is very important that coaches and players attend this meeting.
- CEMETERY ASSOCIATION
The Lockney Cemetery Association will hold a meeting May 28 at 10:00 a.m. at the Community Center. A memorial service will be held and a financial report will be given.
- ENCHILADA LUNCH
The Lockney Care Center will have its annual enchilada lunch May 16. Tickets will be $3.00 each. The meal will be served beginning at 12:00 noon. Take out orders will be prepared and you are asked to call ahead so that orders will be ready when you need them. Call 652-2502 for take outs.

PERSPECTIVES

By The Rev. Michael O'Connor

I have been reading the proceedings of a meeting currently in progress, one that relates to my denomination. In one of the debates, a woman was recognized by the chair, who called her a "lady". Up to this point, I had never thought of lady as being a pejorative term to women, but the woman in question told the Bishop she was a woman, not a lady. Later in her argument, she referred to God as a she, and as the debate continued, the Bishop found himself not knowing whether to call women ladies, women or what.

Of course the problem here is that referred to as exclusive language. In feminist circles, there is a feeling that language has been dominated by male language, and that has been a cause of discrimination against women. This is perhaps true. One instance I can think of is the term layman. While many would consider the term to be generic, there was a time in my denomination when it was a specific term, meaning men only. Other instances surely exist, although the real impact of this kind of language discrimination is debatable.

I, too, am a member of a minority group which has seen the most blatant kinds of discrimination. I refer to my state as a left-handed individual. All my life, I have been forced to adapt to a right-handed world. I have even been told, in all seriousness, that I did things with the wrong hand, on the basis that the right hand is so-called because it is right.

It behooves us therefore to examine the prejudices of right oriented language. For instance, we say we are on the side of the right, that people are righteous, we even drive on the right side of the road and thus believe that is superior to the English system.

I would suggest that we change our language to end such exclusion and strive for inclusiveness. This would, of course, necessitate the revising of the Scriptures, a project I am sure the National Council of Churches would relish. Jesus would sit at the left hand of God; God would be declared to be left-handed; and people who opposed God would now be on the right side, rather than the other way around.

Many years ago, the Latin language became codified and thus static. There is an institute in France which seeks to keep France pure from the vagaries of change, especially Americanizations. My professors always told me that language which don't change die, as in the case of Latin. But maybe the Romans and the French have the right idea. At least it's better than the silliness we are going through right (left?) now.

Ruth Elaine Wilson receives scholarship

Ruth Elaine Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Wilson, Lockney, has received a scholarship to the Suzuki Strings Seminar to be held at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah in July. The eight-day seminar is for advanced Suzuki students and emphasis will be an orchestral and chamber music experience. Ruth Elaine studies violin with Barbara Barber, Texas Tech

Tales from Tomi

What are your summer plans? Time on your hands. Time management consultations. Anyone interested in our part time volunteer program please contact Tomi Banda, activity director, Lockney Care Center, 652-2502.

April is just about over with. We've been getting some pretty dusky days and also some sunshine. But from what I hear, we need some good rain! For the sake of a lot of people in Lockney, I hope my prayers will be answered with some good, needed rain.

On Monday, April 30th, our residents were able to go to Plainview. Some even got to shop at K-mart! Those residents were Bessie Hunt, Nena Loudermilk, Alma McDonald, Johnnie Newman, Ruby Busby, Mary Jo Fielding, Esker Pyle, Richard Lanham, and Clyde Morrison. Thanks to Mable and Janie Palomin for taking our residents on this outing.

We also had Bingo on Tuesday and Friday. Thanks to Simona Blanco for calling out Bingo on Tuesday.

On Wednesday, the ladies of Main St. Church of Christ brought our residents all kinds of goodies for our monthly birthday party. The residents appreciate it very much and by their happy faces, they were enjoying the goodies. Also, we celebrated Mr. and Mrs. Esker Pyle's 70th Wedding Anniversary. Persons present who helped celebrate this special occasion were E.M. Pyle Jr., Eunice Lynn and Argus, La Gay James and Loretha Young, Mary Hatch, and Evelyn Jones.

On Thursday, our residents enjoyed watching a film entitled, "The National Park: America's Legacy." It was a very interesting film. Also some of our nail care volunteers came by. Thanks to Dalia Bernal and San Juanita Bernal for their time.

We are busy planning all kinds of activities for National Nursing Home. They are as follows:

- Sunday, May 13th, Mother's Day Tea, 2:30 p.m.
- Monday, May 14th, Balloon lift-off, 10:00 a.m.; T-shirt day for our staff.
- Tuesday, May 15th, Bake sale, 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.
- Wednesday, May 16th, Enchilada luncheon, 12:00 noon. Plate lunch will be $3.00.
- Thursday, May 17th, This will be crazy day for the staff.
- Friday, May 18th, Family luncheon. Families are asked to bring a covered dish for this luncheon.

Those are the activities that will be taking place from May 13th thru May 18th.

We are hoping that National Nursing

Home Week will be a success, but we can't do it alone. We need your help and support. Remember to come by and visit anytime during this week. Our residents will enjoy it.

Before I close, I would like to thank those people who helped by donating cakes for our Bake Sale, April 28th. Thanks to Linda Clark, Lorene King, Laverne Christian, Nora Martinez, Julie Hickerson, Tammy Zachary, Jean Strickland, Maria Segovia, Almada Phillips, Tina Graves, Myrtle Gibson, Gayle Jackson, and Toni Severa.

Thanks to Mrs. Oscar Golden and the First Church of the Nazarene for Plainview for the wonderful gift they made to our patio fund in memory of Ida Rose. We truly appreciate it very much.

Since summer is just around the corner and a lot of students and teachers will be out of school, I am planning on forming a Volunteer Council this summer. There is a great need for volunteer work and if you are interested and would like more information, contact Tomi Banda, Activity Director.

Till next time...

In times like these..... By Mary Jo Fielding

President Reagan returned recently from a visit to China. He had seven hours of scheduled talks with China's paramount leader Ding Yaoping, as well as with Communist Party General Secretary Hu Yaobang, Premier Zhao, and other top officials.

They achieved an accord on cooperating in science and technology. There are about 10,000 Chinese exchange students at the present time. By contrast, only about 300 American scholars are in China. There were probably discussions on the possibility of having a Chinese astronaut join Americans on a space shuttle mission. The Chinese astronaut would conduct a pure physics experiment to study space plasmas.

In 1972, President Nixon made an historic visit to China to restore official ties between the U.S. and China. Since then relatives between the two were good until 1980 when there was a near crisis. This crisis was caused by a bitter controversy over continued U.S. arms. Taipei sales to Taiwan, especially a Taipei request for the highly sophisticated F-16 warplane; Chinese disappointment with U.S. failure to deliver the advanced technology that was expected and finally the quarrel touched off by the defection of the Chinese tennis player Hu Na.

What President Reagan hopes will emerge from his Peking visit is a Chinese-American relationship that is without illusions on with received side Washington and Peking received the message loud and clear when the Soviet Union stayed amphibious landings in Vietnam. Moscow was warning on the way of President Reagan's trip to China budding that it will not let budding American-Chinese cooperation go unnoticed.

County Arts Assn. underway

If you have not already heard about the Arts Association that is being formed in Floyd County, you probably will before long. There are some exciting plans being made to bring music, art, and drama to citizens of all ages throughout the county. Anyone who thinks that he must paint in oils to join an Arts Association has not talked

Country and Western music in the park, old-time Saturday afternoon matinee movies at the museum, children's fairy tales and adult comedy-drama, classes in all kinds of art (from leathercraft to ballet)—these are but a few of the projects being proposed. To the people organizing the Floyd County Association.

Membership drive is now under way for the 1984-85 season. If you would like to see something available in our own county along these lines, come to the Lockney area meeting at the First National Bank hospitality room next Tuesday evening, May 15, at 8:00 p.m. and find out what's going on.

There's absolutely no obligation, just a chance to find out more about what the Floyd County Arts Association is all about, so you can decide whether or not you would like to join.

Anyone desiring to be on the roster of Charter Members must join prior to May 20th.

For more information call: Wilson Photography 652-3731 or Lisa Mosley 652-2569.

Four compete in twirling

Four Lockney twirlers recently participated in the Spring Twirling Contest and Miss Llano Estacado Pageant in Plainview. The girls are Sherre Kinard, Tandi Gant, Jolie Diepenhorst, and Jennifer Collins.

Competing with about 125 other girls, the competition was stiff, but Sherre Kinard represented Lockney well. She won the high point overall trophy. She also placed third in the pageant.

Sherre also won first place in the best costume, the beginner military strut, and the T strut, and the beginner basic strut. She placed second in solo performance and modeling, as well as taking third place in the pageant for the 13 to 15 year old division.

Tandi Gant received first place in solo, military strut, and the advanced basic strut in open competition. Tandi competed in the 10-12 year old group.

Jolie Diepenhorst, competing in the 13 to 14 year group, received a fourth place in modeling and a fifth place in basic strut. Both of these were in open competition.

Jennifer Collins competed in the 7 and 8 year old division and placed first in solo. She took a second in basic strut, modeling, and T strut. She also received third in solo and fifth in the T strut and basic strut in the open competition.

Sherre and Tandi will be competing in Ralls on May 26. They will be going to state competition in June. It will be held in Dallas on June 15, 16, and 17.

High school students observe children

Tuesday and Wednesday of last week the Home and Family Living classes at Lockney High School were visited by about 30 five year old children.

This in class observation of the children is in following with the class studies for the past several weeks. The high school students have been studying parenting skills from birth to five years of age.

During the two days the students have guided the children in art work, math games, mental activities, play times, story telling, and physical activities. On Friday Lockney Fire Chief Robert Webb took the children for a ride on the fire truck. The children were also taken for a ride on the school bus, they toured the elementary school, and visited the playground.
