Neighborhood Watch program started by Lockney residents

The Neighborhood Watch program is a neighborhood awareness program. It consists of two running blocks with houses facing each other. One family is designated a "Block Captain" and it is their responsibility to know of everything that happens within the neighborhood block.

Mimeographed sheets are passed to each member of the system and residents are requested to list everyone who resides in their immediate household and also to list people who may have access to the home or property such as yard men, cleaning people, etc. The residents are also asked to inventory all vehicles regularly parked at the home. The place of business, hours employed and business and home phone numbers are also catalogued. This information is given to each member of the Neighborhood Watch and the block captain is responsible for making any changes known to the entire system. The purpose of this is to make citizens aware of anything unusual that could occur within the neighborhood.

Citizens are urged to report to the police any strange vehicles or people that are lingering in the neighborhood. The license number of the vehicle, color, and if possible, the make and model of the auto should be written down. Also, the number of occupants and a description of the occupants should be observed.

If strangers come to the door asking to use the phone, make the call for them while they wait outside. When a salesman comes to the door, ask for his city permit and identification--if he does not comply notify the police.

Tim Thompson of the Lockney police department is willing to cooperate with the program fully and will notify block captains of any criminal activity in the area.

Neighborhood watch areas have been designated on a city map and as soon as all the decals are received, they will be passed out to interested citizens. Residents who wish to be included in the program should contact Cindy Smith at 652-2170 or Gary Marr at 652-3607.

The program faced a setback when it was discovered that the signs could not be posted on the wooden poles of the city. In Lubbock, Floydada, and Lorenzo, the poles were used to cut down on the expense of mounting the signs. However, Friday, June 29, Leroy Harrison donated 14 metal poles to the program. Additional funds are needed to buy the cement and at least seven more poles.

Polly Higgins named activity director at Lockney Care Center

Polly Higgins has joined the staff of the Lockney Care Center as the new activity director. Polly had originally applied to the Care Center as a nurses aide, but director Laverne Christian asked her if she would give the activity director's job a chance.

Polly is no stranger to the work of care centers as she had worked for the past 14 years as a nurses aide at the Plainview Care Center.

Polly said she enjoys her work at the Care Center and especially enjoys interacting with all of the residents and keeping them busy and active. Polly especially enjoys working with the residents who are despondent or seem to have "given up". Polly holds daily orientations with these residents. She talks to the residents and works at opening communication between she and the residents.

Polly is enjoying her new post at the Lockney Care Center, and we hope she will be working with our senior citizens for a long time in the future.

Polly is married and has three children. Billy, her husband, works in Arlington and her children are: William, age 9, Christina, age 8, and Bobby Joe, age 3. In her spare time Polly likes to fish and ride horses.

Terrell prepares 4-H book

Lisa Terrell is another of Lockney's 4-H members who will be turning in a record book in July.

Lisa has been a 4-H member for the past 6 years and has prepared a record book for 5 of those years.

Her record book is done under the achievement category, and projects in her book include foods and nutrition, public speaking, sheep, beef cattle, home environment, clothing, citizenship, child development, creative art, leadership, recreation, and YES-Yought Environment Society.

Lisa stated "I like to do the achievement record book, because you can have several projects in the book. Lisa was influenced to do a record book by her father, Buster Terrell, and chose to do the achievement book with all of its projects because her father had won the state contest with his achievement book when he was in school.

Lisa said she also liked doing record books because they "keep my 4-H projects straight. Record books are kind of like a scrap book; they are a good way to look back at what you have done and how you have grown".

Lisa said the main projects in her record book are public speaking, foods, and nutrition. In public speaking Lisa has done method demonstrations in district contests, has participated in the share-the-fun skits, and has spoken to various civic groups three times a year.

In the food and nutrition section Lisa was a junior leader to the beginner food students this year, won the best of show in the Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock, and has been to the district food show five times since becoming a 4-H member. Lisa also organized the 4-H food auction this year. Money raised from the auction was donated to the Lockney Care Center to help with the expenses for their patio.

Masons install new officers

An open installation was conducted Friday night by the Lockney Masonic Lodge, A.F. and A.M., No. 867. New worshipful master is Grady "Buddy" Wiley.

Installing officer was Buddy's dad, Richard Wiley, a past worshipful master. Installing marshal was Reed Lawson, also a past worshipful master.

Grady "Buddy" Wiley, 23, is the youngest worshipful master installed in the Lockney Lodge. Previously Herman Huffman held that distinction.

Other new officers are Joe Huffman and Ray Starnes, senior and junior warder, respectively; Robert Webb, treasurer; Dave Sechrist, secretary; Kelvin Cummings, tiler; Rudy Zachary and Bob Purser, senior and junior deacon, respectively; Roach Perry and Keith Jackson, senior and junior steward, respectively.

Outgoing worshipful master is Kelvin Cummings.

Special guests at the barbecue dinner and installation were Buddy's grandmother, Mrs. Ozella Whitaker of Plainview; his brother, Donnie Wiley of Coahoma and fiancée Donna Myers of Big Spring; and his aunt, Mrs. Edna Smith, Tracy and Stacy, of Plainview.

WILBUR MIZE has owned and operated Mize Pharmacy since 1961.

Mize Pharmacy featured as Business of the Week

Mize Pharmacy, operating in Lockney since 1961, offers customers a variety of services. Wilbur Mize chose Lockney because he is from this part of the country and wanted to come back home. Another attractive bonus in that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Mize, live 36 miles from here. However, since his move here in 1961, he has become a part of the community and treasures the friendships that have grown through the years.

Mize has two children, Monty, who will be attending West Texas State University in the fall, and Amy, sixteen, who attends high school in Crowley, Texas.

Mize Pharmacy will fill prescription needs at competitive prices. A unique array of housewares is available for gift ideas. A wide selection of office supplies and cosmetics is on hand for the customer.

Mize also installs antennas and sells and services RCA televisions and Litton microwave ovens. Satellite disks are available and can be installed.

Mize Pharmacy is open from 8:00 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 8:00 until 1:00 p.m. on Saturdays.

Wilbur appreciates his long-time customers and invites new customers to come in, visit, and compare prices.

Extravaganza slated

The plans for the Chamber of Commerce "Entertainment Extravaganza Main Street USA" planned for August 18 are "coming along very well." Many groups have agreed to provide entertainment for the day. Some of those performing will include Chuck Wilson and a brass ensemble. Joyce Wilson playing the piano and accordion, Lisa Mosley playing the guitar and singing. Also asked to perform are the West Wind Band featuring Keith Owens, Tim Burns, Brian Sanders, Roger Alldredge, and Rob Pratt. At press time West Wind had tentatively accepted the invitation.

Many more performers have been asked to participate in the festivities, and we will report more on those as confirmations are received in upcoming editions of the Beacon.

Entertainment festivities will begin at 5:00 p.m. that Saturday and will wind down with a square dance sponsored by the Whirlers from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. Sid Perkins of Plainview will be calling the dance.

In addition to the planned entertainment local merchants will be having sidewalk sales during the day with bargains on all types of merchandise. Drawings for prizes will start at 5:00 p.m. To enter the drawings residents may register at the local merchants on the day of the extravaganza. You must be present to win.

Also during the day several churches and clubs will sponsor concession stands and booths on the street featuring crafts and various kinds of food including homemade tamales, lemonade, and cookies.

Any club, church, or individual interested in performing, sponsoring a booth, or helping to make this extravaganza a success is asked to call Gary Marr at 652-3706 or Vera Jo Bybee at 652-2357.

Hank Blanchard to head Reagan-Bush campaign

Robert L. Monaghan, regional chairman for the Reagan-Bush '84 campaign, has named Hank Blanchard of Lockney, as co-chairman of the President's re-election campaign in Floyd County.

Hank Blanchard is a farmer-rancher who has been involved in many political activities including working on the H.J. Blanchard for State Senate campaign in '74 and on the Jim Bob Darnell for District Attorney campaign in '82. Blanchard, a graduate of Texas Tech University is a member of various Co-ops and is a member of the Floyd County Fair Board.

U.S. Senator John Tower, the President's campaign chairman in Texas, said, "I am delighted Hank Blanchard has agreed to help organize our campaign in Floyd county and I am confident he will help us tell the tremendous success story of this Administration."

"Because of President Reagan's strong leadership, our national defenses are being strengthened and our economy is growing again," Tower said. "The dramatic drop in inflation and lower taxes mean today, a Texas family earning $25,000 a year has $1,100 more in purchasing power."

Texas campaign co-chairman Martha Weisend added, "Our job in the Reagan-Bush '84 campaign is now to tell that success story in homes and schools and offices throughout this great state. Brassrotts organization in all 254 Texas counties will allow us to do that," Weisend said.

"I am confident Hank Blanchard will help us meet our goal of identifying every potential voter for President Reagan and getting those voters to the polls in November."

Bill Gray of Floydada, will serve with Blanchard as co-chairman of the Reagan-Bush '84 campaign in Floyd county.

Oliver celebrates birthday

F.N. Oliver, who started the Beacon in 1902, employed his son, Clifton, at a very early age to assist with mailing the Lockney Beacon.

Clifton Oliver has written numerous interesting letters to his friends in Lockney. He always addressed his letters to the newspaper office as "The Light of the Plains."

Clifton Oliver celebrated his 95th birthday June 20, 1984. Mrs. Marie Kelley of Spur and her sister, Pauline Moyers, accompanied by Mary Lou Bollman, daughters of the retired newspaper man, visited in Lockney and Floydada the early part of June in quest of copies of some of the earliest editions.

Mrs. Kelley sent the following sketch of family history in a letter this week which we would like to share with our readers.

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Clifton Oliver, Jr. of Gainesville, Florida was host by remote control from the Olympics in Los Angeles for a celebration held in Amarillo, Texas at 2215 South Bonham St., June 20th, 1984, to honor his father, Clifton Oliver, Sr. on his 95th birthday.

Mr. Oliver was born June 20th, 1889 in Oak Cliff, Dallas, County, Texas to F.N. Oliver (First elected Mayor of Oak Cliff (1892) and Mary Elizabeth Coghburn. Both parents were born in Oak Cliff after it was incorporated as a part of Dallas and thus was named "Cliff" or Clifton Oliver.

Mrs. Pauline Oliver Moyers of Ferris Texas, and Mrs. Marie Oliver Kelley of Spur, Texas, sisters of the patriarch, were also present to assist Mrs. Margaret Oliver, daughter-in-law with local arrangements.

Guests called in person, sent cards and telephoned their greetings.

The family birthday dinner arranged by Clifton Oliver, Jr., Professor of Economics at the University of Florida and an Official Time-Keeper at the 1984 Olympics, climaxed the day's activities.

Mr. Oliver's roots are "Deep in the Heart of Texas." He was born in the first two story house built in Oak Cliff at 10th and Marsallis which is now Jefferson and Lancaster.

Cliff started to school in Oak Cliff when he was 7 and he and his brother, the late Coke Oliver remembered that they lived on Highland St. and he was 11 years old when the year 1900 was ushered in the fireworks and fan-fare.

Clifton came with his father and mother and brother Coke to Lockney, Texas in 1901.

In 1902, his father, F.N. Oliver, started the "Lockney Beacon" (which is still telling Lockney's story) and Clifton was the "printer's devil" who printed the paper on the old Washington Hand-press.

His mother died in 1903 and in 1906 his father sold the "Beacon" and filed on a section of land fifteen miles north of Lamesa, Texas. Clifton and his father dug a "dug-out" for a kitchen and lived in it until they got a one-room and loft built in front of it. Clifton tells an interesting story about my mother, Emily Jane Scarborough coming to the "dug-out" for dinner. Miss Scarborough came to visit her brother who lived down the lane from the Olivers. When his dad announced, "Miss Emma is coming for dinner," Clifton opened the dug-out window and caught quail in a trap for dinner.

Cliff has always been so warm and kind and thoughtful of his younger sisters and the great regard he has always shown for our Mother, Emma Scarborough Oliver will not soon be forgotten.

In 1906 Cliff went to Lamesa and took up playing the drums. He joined a popular group of musicians which he enjoyed playing with after his day's work at the printing office.

Later he went to Clovis, New Mexico and Mr. Mandell Duckworth, who later became the Governor of New Mexico, gave him his first job in the Santa Fe Railroad office at Clovis.

From Clovis he came to Amarillo and for 46 years he was Chief Clerk at the Santa Fe office in Amarillo.

He married the late Laura Pearl Hudson in 1915 and to this union were born two sons, Clifton Oliver, Jr. and John T. Oliver.

Clifton Oliver is a warm, caring, compassionate human being, who always "accented the positive" in people, and "eliminated the negative". He loves people and especially is he lovable to those of his family.

My sisters and I have had the little surprises, gifts and mementos, and expressions of love, -the "little things in life" - that others may have missed all because the providence of the good Lord cast Cliff Oliver in the role of "brother" to us.

I'll see you in five more years, "little brother", at your 100th birthday celebration.

With love, your sisters,
Marie Oliver Kelley
Pauline Oliver Moyers

Lockney Care Center Capers

By Mavis Barton

June 25, I did go home yesterday and the wheat harvest was in full swing. There was one field untouched and when we were on our way back home, it looked like it would be all gone before sundown. I could hardly believe my eyes.

We got up Tuesday morning with a few clouds in the sky and as soon as old man sunshine showed his face over the laundry, the cloud disappeared. However, they returned and gave us a shower.

Some of the residents went to Plainview this morning and I heard "Granny", Billie Self said that she got hot. Another busload is waiting outside and it sounds like a bunch of kids going on a picnic -- they cannot wait for the bus to arrive.

These have been two busy weeks. Tomi said that she would be returning for three days to show Polly the ropes and promised to visit us if she ever this way.

Some of the residents are going to Plainview again this Wednesday morning and they have a different bus. It has a wheelchair lift and Polly tried to coax me into going. I was just not ready, it took me by surprise, but I promised to be ready next week.

Egypt is home to one-third of the world's Arabs and its universities have been centers of Islamic learning for centuries. Hosni Mubarak became President after the former president Anwar Sadat was murdered by Moslem extremists in October 1981.

Mubarak is set to speed his drive to regain the leadership of the Arab world for Egypt. This leadership was lost six years ago when other Arab countries ostracized Egypt. President Sadat had signed the Camp David Accords and later a peace agreement with Israel, the Arab's mortal enemy. His situation has created an everpresent peril: that Mubarak could fall to an assassin's bomb or bullet as Sadat did.

Outside Egypt President Mubarak is using his harder line against Israel to please other Arab nations. Egypt's readmission to the Arab League has moved Cairo into the region's political mainstream. Diplomats say that Iraq may revive full diplomatic relations which could bring similar moves by Morocco and Jordan.

Egypt receives 2.3 billion a year in U.S. economic and military aid. Much of this economic assistance goes into construction projects in Cairo and other urban areas. Some travelers proclaim that Cairo's traffic jams, pollution, and poor communication bring it closer to urban collapse than any other metropolitan political center in the world.

For long hours everyday, tempers fly as motorists battle their way through streets jammed not just by other cars, but by beggars, peddlers, and flocks of sheep. The city's ills hit the rich as well as the poor refugees from the countryside. Sabri Abdullah, former Minister of Planning remarks, "Even a wealthy man may have trouble making a phone call or may find sewage spilling out next to his luxury villa."

Regardless of some of its ills, I think Egypt's pyramids and the Sphinx would leave a traveler spellbound.

This plastic box is important to you.

It's your connecting link to the telephone network.

This plastic box is a "network interface." That's where you join the local telephone network, which can also connect you to a long distance network.

It's this box where we terminate a pair of wires from our switching center to your residence. That's technically where our service ends, but not our concern for our customers. We want you to understand the importance of this interface device and the other changes which have taken place with the breakup of the Bell System so that you can relax and continue to enjoy good telephone service.

The network interface is being installed on the outside of most new homes, usually adjacent to the power meter. For others it may be found on the wall of a walk-in closet, a utility room or garage. Southwestern Bell Telephone began installing network interfaces in 1982, therefore, wiring installed prior to 1982 may not have a network interface. Unfortunately, not all of the older network interfaces are exact look-a-likes, but they are similar.

From the network interface, you have at least three options on how to handle installation and repair of inside wiring and jacks to your telephones:

- (1) hire Southwestern Bell Telephone to do it,
- (2) hire another contractor,
- (3) or save the money by doing the work yourself.

(Materials are readily available from numerous retail stores.)

If you choose Southwestern Bell Telephone to do the inside work, you should know about recently approved "Premises Work Charges," which include both time and materials. Premises Work Charges are billed according to the time required to do the job.

Here is Southwestern Bell Telephone's schedule of charges:

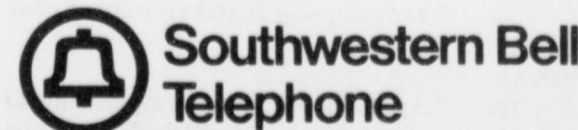

PREMISES WORK CHARGES FOR JACKS AND INSIDE WIRING	Other Times
	8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Mon.-Fri.	Mon.-Fri. and All Day Saturday	Sundays and Holidays
INSTALLATION
Initial 15 min.	$18.50	$22.75	$27.00
Each Addl. 15 Min.	$10.50	$12.50	$14.75
REPAIR
Initial 15 Min.	$28.25	$31.75	$35.25
Each Addl. 15 Min.	$10.50	$12.75	$15.00

These charges are similar to those made by other service personnel for work performed on customers' premises. Remember, too, that while inside wiring and the workmanship required to install or repair it may be obtained from many sources today, we're still in the business, if that's your choice.

When we complete the work, you get a 30-day warranty against defects and malfunctions from the date of installation or repair. For your convenience, keep your Southwestern Bell Telephone warranty handy.

We sincerely hope this information will be helpful to you in the future. We know most of our customers still have a lot of questions about the changes which have taken place since divestiture.

While we are no longer responsible for every facet of your telephone service like we used to be, serving you is still our only business. After all, it's AT&T we separated from... not you. And, in the coming weeks, we will be reviewing other information you'll need to help you understand -- and enjoy -- the benefits of the new Information Age.

ASK ANY ENERGAS EMPLOYEE

PERSPECTIVES

By The Rev. Michael O'Connor

By now you have heard all about the problem in Australia with the frozen embryos. If you haven't, the situation is this. A couple who had wanted children had gone to Australia and had several in vitro fertilizations done. A couple of the eggs were frozen against future tries at pregnancy. The couple died in a plane crash; leaving the frozen, fertilized eggs "orphaned."

The dilemma that faces the folks who are holding the eggs is what to do with them. Can they be used for experimentation? If the eggs were implanted in a surrogate, would the resultant children have any rights to the estate of the dead couple? Is it murder to just unfreeze the eggs and let them die, assuming they were viable after being unfrozen?

The problem, as in abortion and a whole bunch of life issues, centers around the question of when life begins. Most anti-abortion folks say that life begins with conception. Taking that as a standard, any successfully fertilized human egg is therefore alive, and to dispose of it would be the same as abortion, and thus, in the eyes of many, murder. I have to admit that these events have challenged my thinking, though I remain basically in the same position as before.

Perhaps a bigger question is: should we be doing this sort of thing at all? My immediate feeling in the matter is to answer no. Am I then denying the right of childbearing to those who truly desire to have children, children of "their own"? I guess I am.

Why? First, I am distressed that ethical guidelines are not universally in force. Some groups have formulated guidelines, but not all, and the church seems to be conspicuously silent in the matter, at least in the popular press. I don't begin to hope that the church would speak with a unified voice in the matter, but I would like to hear more for them.

Second, I remain unconvinced that having one's "own child" is better than adoption. With the number of "unadoptable" kids there are out there, there should be little excuse for not adopting children if you desire but cannot have your own. Of course I know that most people want perfect little babies when they adopt, but I suspect the Lord looks a bit more favorably on those who are willing to make the sacrifice to love the unlovely.

Last, I fear I am hopelessly old-fashioned in some regards. While I have never been a "If God had wanted people to fly, he would have given them wings," person, I have very grave reservations about man's new found abilities to be a part of the creation of life in ways other than the traditional means. So, I may be an old fuddy duddy. I hope that I will be forced to join the squad of folks who thought Orville and Wilbur, Henry Ford and Louis Pasteur were nuts.

Jones, Alma McDonald, Richard Lanham, Edna Hunter, Clyde Morrison, and Mary Jo Fielding journeyed by bus to Floydada and from there went to Matador to view the damage caused by the May tornado. Our thanks go to the staff at Billy D's Restaurant in Matador for the free ice cream and also to the volunteers, Dixie Johnson and Sylvia Trevino for going with us.

The residents colored pictures to hang on the bulletin board on Wednesday. Stella Wilson arrived at the Center from the hospital and appears to be doing well.

On Thursday, June 28, another madcap game of bingo was played and all the participants had a marvelous time.

Della Willman, Hassie Arnold, Jessie Harris, Euna Bradshaw, Donie Hanson and Laura Wyatt joined in the discussion at the Reality Orientation Class. And the session went quite well.

We want to thank all the church groups for their time and services. You have done a wonderful job in keeping our residents happy. Till next time, Polly Higgins.
