TED ALEXANDER'S 'KNOT NO. 1' SCULPTURE
... Foam rubber, fiberglass, 48 coats of paint

Alexanders have 'knotty' display

Look at it from one direction and it seems to be striving to go somewhere, as if it were a piece of bright-orange, frozen energy.

FROM another angle, it appears to be a beautiful, metallic slave of its own entanglement — and seems to be saying something about our time and way of life.

It's an award-winning piece of modern sculpture entitled "Knot No. 1," by Ted R. Alexander of Dimmitt, a graduate student at Indiana University.

"Knot No. 1" is now on display at the home of Alexander's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Alexander, 217 NW Twelfth St.

THE WORK recently won a first place award for the young sculptor in an exhibit that featured works of plastic by artists from 13 art schools and colleges in the East and Midwest.

"Knot No. 1" is basically a strip of foam rubber covered with an adhesive fiberglass. Over the fiberglass, Alexander applied 48 coats of a plastic paint. The basic coat was a very bright orange, then each succeeding coat was diluted a little more until the final coat was almost translucent.

"Knot No. 1" is three feet long, 1½ feet high and 2½ feet wide — depending on how you look at it.

And the message it portrays is — well, that depends on how you look at it, too.

'Milepost' job already okayed

Remember that "Face of Dimmitt" picture editorial two weeks ago, in which the News urged the county commissioners' court to have the milepost monument on the courthouse square repainted?

AS IT turns out, the commissioners' court already had approved the repainting of the milepost in its meeting earlier that week. The commissioners' action was in response to a letter from the Chamber of Commerce.

The court has called for bids on the job, and is now negotiating with two painting contractors to renew the directional monument.

Latest score: Dimmitt 4,270, county 10,292

Unofficial census figures still to be confirmed place Dimmitt's population at 4,270, Hart's at 852, Nazareth's at 240 and the county's at 10,292.

MRS. MARY JO BIRDWELL, chief census enumerator for the county, explained that these totals are still subject to revision after the current recount procedure by mailmen is completed.

For instance, the original canvass indicated a population total of 10,250 for the county, but the figure now being reported by the Census Bureau is 42 higher than that original total, Mrs. Birdwell said.

The Census Bureau's county-by-county totals indicated that most Texas counties — including most of those in this area, except for Castro, Deaf Smith, Randall and Farmer — lost population during the past decade. The county also showed that seven Texas counties now contain almost half of the state's population.

These preliminary figures produced reactions ranging from disappointment to disbelief in many cities and counties, where utility meters, homes and auto registrations had led to more optimistic population estimates.

The Census Bureau's preliminary totals so far include only cities of 10,000 or more and counties. Official population totals for Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth are still to come.

Mailmen checking for those missed

One of the final steps in the 1970 census in rural and small city areas — a check by mailmen — is now underway, according to the Bureau of the Census.

THE '70 CENSUS was taken by two methods: by mail-out and mail-back of questionnaires in most major metropolitan areas, and by census takers in the rest of the United States. The latter procedure entailed the mailing out of questionnaires and subsequent visits by census takers who would pick up filled-in forms or, lacking this, interview families while following a house-to-house route.

Canvassing in the metropolitan areas required checking of addresses by postal employees before the mailout. A similar step is now being taken by mailmen following the visits by census takers.

This is the procedure: When census district offices completed their preliminary counts, they turned over to the post office a set of white cards listing every address canvassed. The mailmen, in turn, check these addresses against the households on their routes. If the mailman discovers what he considers a "missed" address, he

Hart youth drowns Monday

PLANE CRASH — This Piper Cherokee-D private plane was demolished Saturday night when its pilot, R. W. Hammock of Clovis, misjudged his approach to the Dimmitt Airport and set the plane down in a field north of the north-south runway. The plane bounced over a road and hit a four-wire fence, shearing off its left wing, then cartwheeled in the air before coming to rest on its wheels. Hammock, 52, escaped with a head laceration and rib-cage injuries. The plane was one of three being shuttled to Clovis Saturday night. Unable to fly around a large storm system, Hammock and his two fellow pilots decided to land here at 10 p.m. to wait out the storm. The other two planes landed safely. The demolished Cherokee sold for approximately 317,000 new, and was equipped with many electronic extras.

A leisurely swim turned into tragedy Monday evening when a 17-year-old Hart boy drowned in a tailwater pond northeast of Hart.

DAVID WARREN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndall Warren, drowned while he and a friend, Dirk Rambo, 15, were swimming in a tailwater pond on the J. D. Myrick farm four miles north and two east of Hart.

The tragedy occurred about 6:15 p.m., after the two boys had finished their day's work at the Prairie Cattle & Grain Co. feed-lots in Swisher County. Warren apparently suffered a muscle cramp while swimming in the pond's cold water, and all attempts to save him failed.

The youth would have been a senior in Hart High School this fall.

RAMBO TOLD Deputy Sheriff Granville Martin, who investigated the accident, that he and Warren pushed a raft into the water and swam for a few minutes, then climbed onto the raft to rest.

Rambo said he was still aboard the raft when Warren dived back into the water, and that Warren suddenly started fighting the water and calling for help.

Rambo said he attempted to pull Warren from the water but was pulled under and almost drowned himself. He then tried to extend his trousers to the other boy to grasp, but they wouldn't reach.

WHEN WARREN sank from sight, Rambo rushed to the Perry Barham home two miles away to get help. Barham and his son, Ronnie, returned to the tailwater pit with Rambo while Mrs. Barham phoned for Deputy Sheriff Martin.

David Smith, who operates the Myrick farm where the tailwater pond is located, also came to help — and it was he who finally located the Warren boy underwater and pulled him out.

FOUR PERSONS trained in first aid tried unsuccessfully to revive Warren with artificial respiration. They were Mrs. Bud Steiert, a registered nurse; her husband; Claude Ray of the Hart Fire Dept.; and Martin.

Warren was taken by a Dennis Funeral Home ambulance to Plains Memorial Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Martin said the water in the pond was "very cold" under the surface, and was 15 feet deep in the middle. He said Warren apparently suffered a cramp while swimming.

FUNERAL services for David Anthony Warren were conducted at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church of Hart. Officiating were the pastor, Rev. C. T. Cunningham, and Rev. Fred Brown of Lubbock, former pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Hart.

'Texas' musical to open Friday

A cast of 78 will sweep across the stage of the Pioneer Amphitheatre in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park Friday night for the opening performance of the "Texas" musical drama in its fifth season.

THESE ACTORS, singers and dancers were trained in professional and civic theatres and in 35 colleges and universities in 12 states. They bring many talents to the stage, and a great interest in telling Paul Green's story about the early days in the Texas Panhandle.

Their most concerned listener will be Paul Green himself, who is driving in to attend Friday's opening performance. He has been working in Dover, Ohio, with the cast of "Trumpet in the Land," a new musical outdoor drama about the Moravians who settled in that area, which is opening for the first time on July 3.

For tickets to "Texas" and information about it, write to PO Box 268, Canyon, 79015, or call 806-655-2182.

Hospital chief resigns Monday

Billy Hackleman, who has been administrator of Plains Memorial Hospital since Dec. 1, resigned Monday.

JAMES HORTON, chairman of the Castro County Hospital Board, is serving as the managing director of the hospital until a new administrator can be hired. Horton said the board is now calling for applications for the post.

DAVID WARREN
... Drowning victim

Burial was in the Hart Cemetery, directed by Dennis Funeral Home.

Born Dec. 3, 1953, in Olton, Warren attended Hart Public Schools most of his life. He would have been a senior this fall.

HE IS survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyndall Warren; a sister, Cathie; two brothers, James and Bill; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Warren and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bauman, all of Hart.

Active pallbearers at his funeral were Rex Crosby, Vic Nelson, Donnie Shive, Landra Bruntington, James Jackson, Ricky Farris, Kim Hill and Steve Hankins. Honorary pallbearers were Ralph Bell, Lonnie Davis, Donnie Burris, Don Follis, Pancho Diaz, Carlos Martinez and Gary Six. All the active and honorary pallbearers were his classmates.

Farm Coalition to meet tonight on new farm bill

The Castro County Farm Coalition will meet tonight (Thursday) to discuss how the controversial 1970 Farm Bill would affect the local farmer.

THE COALITION is composed of all of the county's major farm organizations and commodity groups — the Farm Bureau, Farmers Union, National Farmers Organization, Grain Sorghum Producers Association, Sugar Beet Growers Association, Plains Cotton Growers and Soybean Growers Association.

Nationally, the Coalition also includes the American Grange and virtually all other commodity organizations in the US.

Tonight's meeting will be at 8 o'clock in the First State Bank community room, and will be open to business men as well as farm owners and operators.

Carl King will preside at the meeting.

THOSE attending will discuss the provisions of the substitute farm bill approved recently by the House Agriculture Committee. The substitute bill altered many provisions which commodity groups and farm organizations had worked to have included in the original bill. Whether the current bill can survive another session of the House Agriculture Committee, or a vote on the floor of Congress, remains to be seen.

The Castro County Farm Coalition, formed at the urging of Congressman Bob Price, was one of the first efforts in the US to bring the diverse interests of agriculture together in a unified voice.

Lions to install officers Friday at Ladies' Night

Dimmitt's Lions Club will install new officers at its annual Ladies' Night Banquet at 7 p.m. Friday, to be followed by a President's Ball at the County Club.

A FILET mignon dinner will be served. Price of the banquet is $2.35 per person.

E. B. Noble will be installed as the new Boss Lion, succeeding Lynn Polson. Conducting the installation of new officers and directors will be Joe Cowen.

The banquet will carry out a Hawaiian luau theme, and Mrs. Pat Morrison and Mrs. Arm Touchstone will present a musical program mainly of Hawaiian songs.

The Ladies' Night Banquet and President's Ball are open to all Lions, their wives and guests.

Polio outbreak brings warning

Three confirmed cases of polio in the Rio Grande Valley prompted County Health Officer J. D. Blackburn, M.D., to urge all parents this week to make sure their children are immunized.

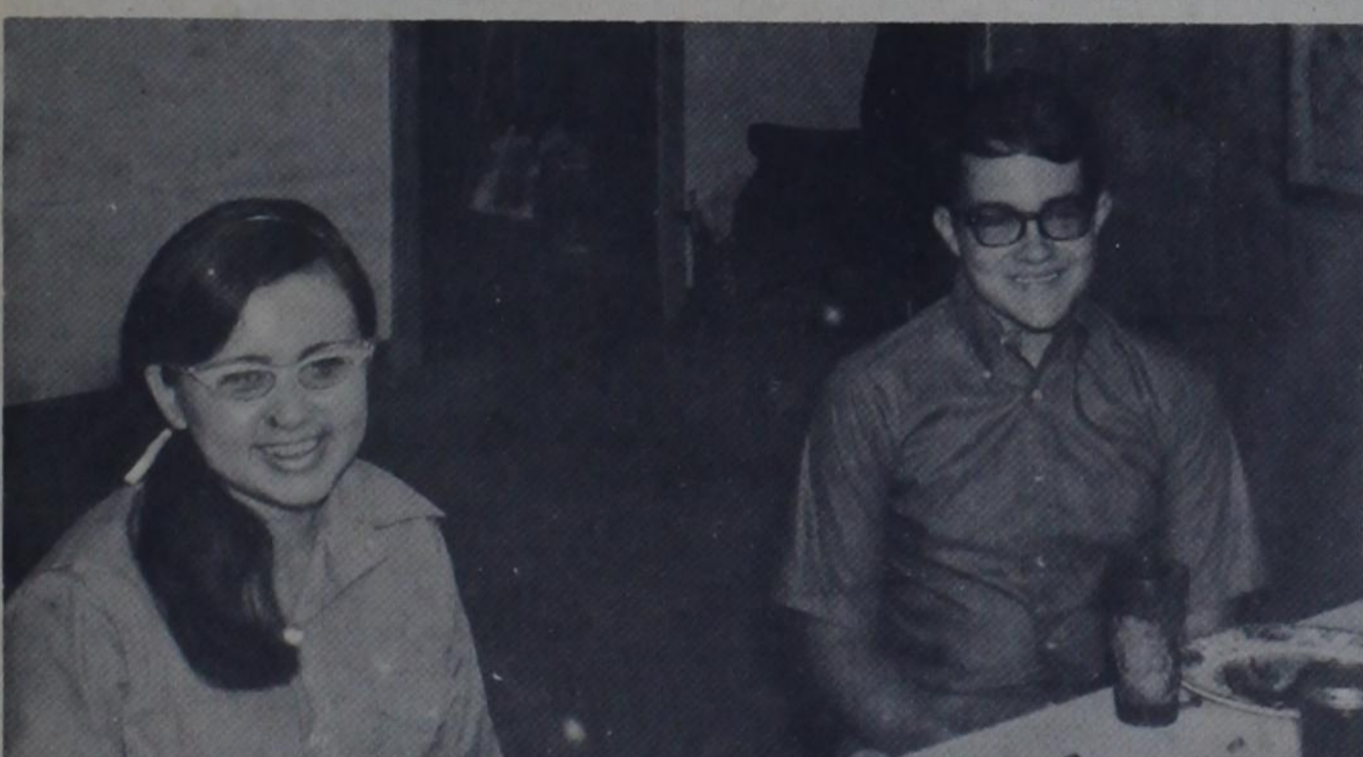

"IT'S possible the disease could spread northward during the harvest season with the heavy migration of farm workers," Dr. Blackburn said.

To date this year, 11 suspected cases of polio in the Valley have been reported to the Texas State Dept. of Health, and three have been confirmed. All the reported cases occurred in non-immunized children, most of whom were under a year old.

"Those who have not immunized their children should start the series immediately," the county health officer said.

THE recommended timing for polio immunization via the Sabin oral vaccine series is for the first dose to be taken at the age of two months, the second dose at the age of four months, and a third "booster" dose approximately a year later.

"If you aren't sure whether your child has had the vaccine, it does no harm to take it again," Dr. Blackburn said.

'LOLI' ORTIZ-RECLAT WITH AMERICAN 'BROTHER', LEE COLE
... At the dinner table

'Loli' to leave Sunday; hopes to return someday

By MIKE ELDER

"My last wish is that it will rain a lot here for the farmers, especially daddy, and that it won't be so hot like it was."

THIS IS the sentiment of Loli Ortiz-Reclat, the American Field Service foreign exchange student who has lived with the L. V. Coles for the past year.

Loli will leave Dimmitt and the Cole family Sunday to meet with other AFS students bound for home. After a cross-country bus tour, Loli will return to her native Ecuador July 19. Concerning her return to Ecuador, she commented, "I feel really sad at first — I've been crying all the week, you know, I know I must go back to my family in Ecuador. But I will be looking forward to coming back, because I know this is my home because I love them."

"I don't feel I'm leaving the Coles," she added. "I'm bringing them back with me. I will always remember them all."

LOLI apparently holds high esteem for her classmates and the people of Dimmitt. She described the people here as "friendly, helpful, and generous," and said her classmates were "just good kids."

But life for Loli was not always easy here. There were many changes which she had to accept. Speaking of the differences between Dimmitt High School and her Ecuadorian school, she said, "No uniforms, first. Here there are closer relationships between the students and teachers. No cafeteria at home, you know. More sports, trips, meetings. Everyone here has cars; we use buses."

Loli's future plans include "starting to work somewhere where I can use English. Perhaps I can help my father. If I don't have to go back to high school I may go to college starting next May. I'd like to study economics — but I may change my mind, you know."

MRS. COLE said she feels that the American Field Service is a "very good" program.

"It is very rewarding both to the parent and the student," Mrs. Cole said.

When asked what life with her new daughter was like, Mrs. Cole replied, "Great! We've had a lot of experiences." She said that patience was the main thing which she and her family had learned this year, living with Loli.

LOLI ASKED that the following be her last message, as one Dimmittite to another:

"Don't forget me; I will never forget you because I am grateful for everything you have done for me. I am glad I came to Texas because I learned that all Americans aren't too busy for another person. I hope that the next AFS student will have a good time. I know he will because the people will be the same — like the Cole family because they made me happy all year long. And I wish to all the senior kids — you know — the best luck. And God bless everybody here."

County adopts free-food plan

Castro County started the distribution of free food to the needy under the USDA Commodities Program Friday, with three local families receiving food the first day.

FRANK LATIMER is in charge of administering the commodities distribution program here. The county has rented office space for the program at 107 NW Second St., in the Rawlings Hotel Building.

The county also furnishes the trucking of staple foods from the district USDA warehouse at Lubbock needed for the food program.

Office hours of the commodities office here are 8 to 5 Monday through Friday, with the office closed during the noon hour.

FOODS available to local families under the commodities program are dry beans, corn meal, flour, lard, shortening, canned pork, nonfat dry milk, rolled oats and wheat, peanut butter, dehydrated potatoes, rice, dried prunes, canned turkey, evaporated milk, green beans, dried split peas, macaroni and grits.

The foods are purchased by the US Department of Agriculture with funds received through tariffs on imported foreign foods. All foods distributed through the program are domestic commodities.

"All who receive monthly check from the State of Texas should be certified for commodities by Mrs. Leona Glenn of Here-

Accident victims now 'much better'

Although he is still listed in serious condition in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital, Lonnie Boothe is doing "much better" now, according to his physician.

HIS MOTHER, Mrs. Betty Boothe, is doing "quite well" and her condition was upgraded this week from serious to fair, the physician said.

Mrs. Boothe and Lonnie, 8, were both critically injured in a two-car accident at Flagg June 1. The wreck claimed the lives of Mrs. Boothe's husband, Lon, and their 15-year-old daughter, Janie. The Boothes' physician said Lonnie "has regained consciousness and is beginning to talk a little now. I think at this point that he has a good chance of coming out of this in good shape. Only time will tell, but he's definitely making progress."

Former resident named Hereford's 'Father of Year'

Joe Schumacher, a former Dimmitt resident, was announced Sunday as Hereford's "Father of the Year."

SCHUMACHER operated the Joe Thompson farm south of Dimmitt for seven years before moving to Hereford 3½ years ago. He farms 1,300 acres in the Hereford area.

The USDA Commodities Program was the second choice of the county commissioners' court, which sought to establish the Food Stamp Program in conjunction with Bailey and Farmer Counties, as recommended by the State Department of Public Welfare. However, Bailey and Farmer commissioners voted against the Food Stamp Program proposal.

BORN in Erath County on Sept. 14, 1879, Mrs. Odom moved to Castro County with her family in 1941. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

She is survived by four sons, Herbert of Ada, Okla.; and Hiram, M. B. and Raymond, all of Dimmitt; four daughters, Mrs. Lena Thompson and Mrs. Pearl Fisher, both of Hereford, and Mrs. Mildred Billings and Mrs. Gladys Richardson, both of Barksfield, Calif.; 36 grandchildren; 87 great grandchildren and 24 great great grandchildren.

Selection of the "Father of the Year" is based on letters from youngsters who nominated their fathers for the honor. Schumacher's nomination letter was written by his daughter, Rita, 18, and engraved by his seven other children.

The program is sponsored by Radio Station KPAN.

IN ADDITION to being an outstanding father in the eyes of his children, Schumacher, 43, is a member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church, the Knights of Columbus and the National Farmers Organization.

LIFE'S OBSTACLES
We can easily see physical obstacles such as logs, boulders, and many other things that may be too difficult for our children to handle, but things that are not physical are not always so obvious. A young child needs help from his parents in spiritual matters too. The church can be an influence on children's lives, but when you, a parent, are taking part in church worship, you can be an even greater influence. Give your children, the leaders of the future, a hand now when they need it most. Take them to church regularly... and you too, will have a fuller and better life.
ATTEND CHURCH
EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The Face of Dimmitt

HAZARDOUS—Dimmitt has many vacant lots such as this one, and all are potentially dangerous at this time of year. In addition to being unsightly, they provide havens for mosquitoes and their dried weeds pose a fire hazard to neighbors' fences and homes. The Dimmitt Garden Club sponsored a clean-up drive recently to reduce hazards such as this, but response was poor. The City of Dimmitt has no ordinance requiring property owners to maintain their vacant lots—it's a matter of individual responsibility, and respect for your neighbor's property. If you are a vacant-lot owner, won't you keep your property from being a scar on the face of Dimmitt? If you don't have the time, there are plenty of youths looking for work this time of year. The face of Dimmitt will be prettier for it, and your neighbors in the community will appreciate it.

State Capitol Highlights

Courts may force state to reform election laws

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Pressure from the courts may move the Legislature to massive election law reforms next year. AT LEAST two major Texas cases which could have far-reaching consequences for the state election processes and political system are pending in three-judge federal courts.

In one, Corpus Christi, San Antonio and San Marcos plaintiffs challenge the constitutionality of the annual voter registration requirement and the Jan. 31 registration deadline. They ask reopening of registration after the June runoff primaries to allow voters until October to qualify for the November general election. More than 30 states already have a general election sign-up extension, and no state requires as early a close-off of registrations as does Texas.

A second case tests the validity of the candidates' filing system. An El Paso candidate for county commissioner and a Tarrant County candidate for county judge won places on the May primary ballot through court action when they pleaded they could not afford to pay the stiff filing fee.

A THIRD case attacks the constitutionality of the statute denying aid to illiterate voters in marking ballots.

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. acknowledges that a great many changes are needed in the state election code. He is compiling a list of needs with an eye on court decisions, and plans to contact legislators about them soon. Dies indicates he is inclined to favor the recommendation that May-June primary dates be shoved back until August and September (as some 14 states now provide).

He also tentatively likes the idea of making voter registrations good for four years.

And the state, believes Dies, "is going to have to reach the conclusion that candidates cannot continue to completely finance primaries."

LEGISLATIVE DECORUM EYED

A house committee studying ways to improve the legislature's decorum and public image indicated it wants curbs on the familiar practice of lawmakers' voting for absentees on an electronic machine.

Committee members couldn't bring themselves to condemn "proxy" voting for members absent from the floor for a few minutes to take telephone calls from constituents. But they frowned on votes cast for legislators who are truants from the capitol.

The committee, headed by Rep. John E. (Ned) Blain of El Paso, discussed a variety of proposals to make the House of Representatives look and act better.

Among other major suggestions: a glassed-in spectators' gallery, desk-to-desk floor telephone communications and overhead projectors to display hasty floor amendments to legislation.

DRUG MEMO SIGNED

High-ranking state officials signed a "memorandum of understanding" with the US Department of Justice Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

The memorandum formalizes the present working agreement and outlines areas of responsibility for state agencies and the federal bureau in which mutual efforts and cooperation will be necessary or desirable.

Overall purpose of the memorandum is to establish and maintain effective working arrangements between the state and the federal bureau to hold to a minimum the diversion of narcotics and dangerous drugs from legal channels to illicit traffic. Most of the stimulants and depressants sold illegally originated from legitimate foreign or domestic channels.

COURTS SPEAK

Texas Supreme Court heard arguments as to whether it should uphold a district court decision that the Texas obscenity control law is unconstitutional.

By a 6-3 decision, the high court held that a man could not recover damages although an Arlington hospital nurse fed him solid food soon after a colon operation.

A suit for $43,600 against a life insurance company that issued a policy on a quarter horse was refused by the Supreme Court because the company was not notified immediately when the animal became ill.

The high court ruled for Grand Prairie in a 3,000-acre annexation dispute with Arlington.

The court refused to hear the appeal of an Austin teenager dismissed from school after he was caught with marijuana in his pockets.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

Raza Unida Party in Hidalgo County cannot get its local candidates on the November ballot unless it gathers new petitions from non-participants in other party primaries, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

—Teacher Retirement System Board of Trustees has authority to invest its trust funds in home office facilities, land and equipment used for administering the system, to manage and control facilities and pay expenses for operating, maintaining, repairing and improving them.

—Election officers named to hold must hold a regular election for county school trustees and are to be compensated by the school district, which also pays for election supplies out of the maintenance fund.

HOSPITAL FUNDS DISTRIBUTED

State Board of Health allocated $1,477,880 to 12 applicants for federal Hill-Burton health facilities construction funds. Projects and amount allocated are South-west Texas Methodist Hospital, San Antonio, $400,000; McAllen General Hospital, $315,000; Spohn Hospital, Corpus Christi, $225,000; Torbett-Hutchings-Smith Hospital, Marlin, $150,000; Fort Worth Radiation Center, $60,000; Teague Hospital Authority, $99,715; West Coke County Hospital, Robert Lee, $38,285; Over-all-Morris Memorial Hospital, Coleman, $19,010; Sterling County Hospital, $38,900; Morningside Manor, San Antonio, $41,960; Space Center Memorial Hospital, Nassau Bay $50,000; and St. Mary's-Gate Memorial Hospital, Port Arthur, $40,000.

The Hill-Burton program pays up to 50 percent of cost of construction or modernization of hospitals and other health facilities in areas of critical need.

THREE CITIES HONORED

Gov. Smith presented the Governor's Community Achievement Awards to Lockhart, Atlanta and Graham.

The awards were for cities of up to 12,000 population in tribute to progress made toward improving the quality of living.

Smith cited Atlanta for such school, a 65-bed hospital, city-wide beautification and a new sewage treatment plant.

Lockhart was honored for improved housing, health services and general beautification projects.

Graham drew its citation for broad-based citizen participation to improve medical-health services, beautification and economic and property use.

SHORT SNORTS

Gov. Smith directed a $1.2 million highway fund transfer to reinforce the Department of Public Safety Budget.

Texas Committee on State and Local Tax Policy invites suggestions on revenue sources and making tax laws more efficient and equitable.

The Federal Office of Emergency Preparedness turned down Gov. Smith's request to declare San Marcos a disaster area for flood damage aid.

Parks and Wildlife Department authorized $127,509 in spending for beach cleaning and maintenance in Galveston, Brazoria County and Nueces County.

Amarillo AFB to be dedicated as technical institute tonight

The mid-continent campus of the Texas State Technical Institute will begin the fall trimester in September with 10 courses of study.

THE FACILITY will be located at what was formerly the Amarillo Air Force Base. The base is being purchased by the state at a cost of three million dollars.

The property will be conveyed to TSTI tonight (Thursday) in Amarillo at a banquet at the Amarillo Civic Center, sponsored by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce. Honorees for the evening are Gov. Preston Smith, Congressman Bob Price, TSTI officials, and others responsible for making the purchase possible.

Officials expect approximately 250 students to enroll at the technical school in September.

COURSES to be offered, which will be one year in duration, are air-frame mechanics, building construction crafts, farm machinery mechanics, industrial equipment mechanics, and livestock and ranch management (with emphasis on feedlot operation).

Two-year courses include building construction technology, commercial art and advertising, and graphics and design (with aeronautical and mechanical options).

Technical communications will be offered with both one year and two year courses. The one-year course emphasizes technical secretarial work.

A course in aircraft powerplant mechanics will be added to the course offerings in the fall of 1971.

TWELVE instructors will make up the faculty for the fall classes.

The first courses will get underway June 22 and are being offered under the auspices of the Manpower Training Act. They will be coordinated with the Amarillo office of the Texas Employment Commission.

The state's first technical school was conceived by the 59th Texas Legislature in April 1965. It has grown since that time from a one-campus operation in Waco to a multi-campus facility with locations in Waco, Harlingen, Amarillo and Sweetwater.

DR. J. N. BAKER, vice-president of TSTI in charge of the mid-continent campus, said, "We are looking forward to serving the Panhandle area with technical courses for those persons who are interested in learning to earn a better living in the technological world of today."

Those interested in enrolling in TSTI in Amarillo are asked to write to J. W. Sollis, Manager of Student Affairs, Box 4228, Amarillo, or call 335-1673 in Amarillo.

Now's the time for jams, jelly

Jelly, jam, conserve, marmalade and preserves can all add zest to meals. Most of them also provide a good way to use fruit not at its best for canning or freezing, such as the largest or smallest fruits and berries and those that are irregularly shaped. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, notes:

"YOU CAN make good use of fresh fruits now available and others coming to the market soon," Mrs. Clyatt said.

Jams, jellies and preserves are much alike; all of them are fruit preserved by means of sugar, and usually all are jellied to some extent. Mrs. Clyatt said. Their individual characteristics depend on the kind of fruit used and the way it is prepared, the proportions of different ingredients in the mixture and the method of cooking, she noted.

Many have asked what the differences are among preserved fruit products.

"Jelly is made from fruit juice; the product is clear and firm enough to hold its shape when turned out of the container," she said. "Jam, made from crushed or ground fruit, tends to hold its shape but generally is less firm than jelly."

"CONSERVES are jams made from a mixture of fruits, usually including citrus fruit; often raisins and nuts are added.

"Marmalade is a tender jelly with small pieces of fruit distributed evenly throughout; a marmalade commonly contains citrus fruit.

"Preserves are whole fruits or large pieces of fruit in a thick syrup, often lightly jellied."

Pectin, acid and sugar form the jelly trio.

"PECTIN is the natural substance found in fruits which makes the jelly firm," Mrs. Clyatt said. "The amount varies in different kinds of fruits, and to take the guesswork out of present-day jelly making, natural pectin is carefully extracted from apples or the skins of citrus fruits, refined, concentrated and standardized to specific jelling strength."

"The two commercial forms are liquid fruit pectin and powdered fruit pectin. These differ slightly in composition and can't be used interchangeably. Powdered fruit pectin won't dissolve in high sugar concentration and must be added to the fruit before the sugar."

Acid is needed for flavor and for gel formation. Mrs. Clyatt said. The acid contents varies in different fruits and is higher in underripe than in fully ripe fruits, she noted. With fruits that are low in acid, lemon juice or citric acid is commonly added in making jellied products, Mrs. Clyatt explained.

"SUGAR helps to gel formation, serves as a preserving agent, and contributes to the flavor of the jellied products," she said. "It also has a firming effect on fruit, a property that is useful in making preserves."

"Because we can't calculate accurately the fruit's content of sugar and pectin, standardized recipes are essential. Guesswork is foolhardy and can be costly; it's best to select recipes from reliable sources and follow instructions to the letter."

Experiment a bit by adding flavorful herbs and spices to jams and jellies or substitute flaked coconut in conserves for the nuts called for in the recipe, but never change the specified amounts of sugar, prepared fruit, and fruit pectin, Mrs. Clyatt warned.

Fresh produce top value now

Fresh produce is flooding the markets as items are hauled from Texas truck farms.

TO INSURE best value in buying fresh fruits and vegetables, here are suggestions from Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Now is the time for enjoying cantaloupe, and due to modern transportation facilities, the cantaloupe season is a long one. Cantaloupe prices have compared favorably with the cost of other fruits for several weeks, but it is during the harvest season for nearby growing areas that prices are lowest. Quality melons, full of flavor, will be available in the weeks ahead.

Ripe cantaloupes should be placed in a plastic bag or other covered container before storing in the refrigerator, since the odor can be picked up by other foods, Mrs. Clyatt reminds.

ORANGES, apples, pineapples, bananas and strawberries are other fruits worthy of consideration, and stocks of canned vegetables and tomato products are still heavy and budget buys are abundant in grocery departments.

Fresh vegetables from nearby truck farms are coming to market and quality is very good considering weather conditions of recent weeks. Corn, squash, collards, mustard greens, blackeye and purple hull peas, carrots, head lettuce, cucumbers, potatoes, green onions and radishes are among the more economical choices.

Retail beef levels are about the same as last week with special features on chuck cuts, steaks, hamburger and corned beef. Special emphasis is also being placed on standing rib roast — fourth and fifth cuts — and liver.

CANNED and smoked hams offer the conscientious shopper excellent food buys in the pork family and Boston butt roasts, shoulder steaks and chops are featured in several market areas. Bacon is also being featured in some stores.

June is Dairy Month and production levels should be at their peaks. Prices for milk and dairy products will be more favorable during June than later in the year because of plentiful supplies that exist during this period.

June egg production is also expected to be three percent above a year ago. Egg size should not be confused with quality; however, retail sales are lower this week with large sizes generally the best value by weight. A few markets are also featuring whole fryers and chicken hens, Mrs. Clyatt reports. Only the smaller sizes of turkeys are being featured in a few markets, she notes.

POSITIVE identification of new screwworm cases in far West Texas, hundreds of miles west of previously identified cases, emphasizes the importance for stockmen over the entire state to be on the alert for this livestock pest. Screwworm Eradication Program officials urge all livestock producers to do the best possible job of checking their animals for wounds of any kind and to treat them with recommended materials. If worms are found in a wound, a sample should be collected and sent to the Mission Lab for identification.

YOUNG ARTISTS

Students in the Dimmitt Day Care Center for Mentally Retarded (Satellite School) entered their artwork and handicrafts in an Amarillo art show Friday. Mrs. Norma Conard, teacher, said this was the first attempt in this area to exhibit the surprising skills which mentally retarded children usually possess. In front row are Jesse Olvera and Alma Silva. In second row, from left, are Mary Grace

Jeminez, Jean Santillano and Daniel Renaud. In third row, from left, are Monica Anderle of Nazareth, teacher's aide; Mrs. Conard; and Mrs. Matilda Anderle of Nazareth, teacher's aide. A good number of dedicated and concerned residents of the county, including high school students, are working with the children so they may someday support themselves in a sheltered-work situation. Dilemma on the campus

By SEN. JOHN G. TOWER
(R-Texas)

We have reached the end of another school year. Once again, it was difficult. From our college campuses have come turmoil and unrest in the form of demonstrations, confrontations, and sometimes violence and even death.

RADICAL voices have stirred radical action. Irrational and unreasonable voices have urged irrational and unreasonable actions. Many of these voices have been those of students. Some have been those of faculty members.

A position which has no place at a college or university is that which suggests that there is ever an unalterable single stand which may be held on the multifarious and complex problems which beset our society. For success in meeting our problems, a spirit of tolerance together with the of reasonable questioning is required.

This season, chants and slogans would seem to have been the mode. Scholarship and reasonable argumentation seemed no longer popular.

Fortunately, this was not the whole story.

THERE WERE youth on disrupted campuses who were concerned whether the education they had received was of good quality. There were youth who were concerned whether they had been deprived of a part of their education by others who had succeeded in closing their university.

There were youth who were concerned whether the college degree they had obtained would be meaningful to them as they sought employment, and whether it would serve them well as they pursued their chosen careers.

There were youth who stood up and clearly enunciated that those who were leading campus disorders and those who were following those leaders, were not speaking for them.

THE YOUTH of America embraces as broad a spectrum of philosophical attitudes as does the American society as a whole. No young person speaks for or fairly represents all of our youth.

Most of our young people have been unwilling to forsake the American system, its principles and ideals, in order to improve it. They have actively sought ways, and are finding ways, to work within the American system in an effort to achieve improvement. Simultaneously, they have realized that they should not expect change overnight. The average age of American voters is still not below 44, and even should we grant the vote to everyone 18 years or older, that average voter age would not drop more than a few years.

The rhetoric of the campus revolutionaries serves as an obstacle to true communication. There is a faction of students and some faculty members as well, who would have the university become an instrument of social activism. The university has always been in the advance of social change, as it probably should be; but it has also been the keeping radical action on our nation's campuses.

To a certain degree, our young people tend to act as our conscience. They tell us when they believe that we are not living up to the ideals which we have taught them.

At the same time, our young people need to understand that we have a degree of experience in practical application of those ideals which they do not enjoy.

MUTUAL communication is vital. We cannot have communication if we close our ears. We cannot have communication if we ignore those pathways built within our system.

We must listen and consider. They must avoid the tendency to believe that they have all the answers.

Davis earns US Air Medal

Sp-4 Earl D. Davis Jr., formerly of Dimmitt, recently received the Air Medal in Vietnam, where he is serving with the US Army.

DAVIS, son of Mrs. Johnnie M. Guthrie of Sunray and Earl Davis Sr. of Chickasha, Okla., earned the award for meritorious service while participating in aerial support for ground operations in Vietnam. At the time of presentation, Sp-4 Davis was a helicopter mechanic in the 68th Aviation Co. near Bien Hoa, Vietnam.

Davis lived in Dimmitt until his enlistment in the Army. He is now stationed near the Cambodian border.

fills out a blue card noting this fact. The blue cards are referred to the Census Bureau, which will check them against the census records.

THE CENSUS Bureau has found from experience that many households for which such cards are filled out have already been enumerated. This can happen for a number of reasons. For instance, some people get mail at two or more addresses, or there may be differences in the way a rural address is described.

The Census Bureau will check the blue cards turned in by mailmen and then take appropriate steps to provide a complete census count.

Lions install new officers

By MYRT LOMAN

New officers of the Hart Lions Club were installed at the noon luncheon meeting Monday in the Farmers State Bank community room.

BILL RICH was installed as the new president of the club. He succeeds Richard Franks as the Boss Lion.

Other new officers installed were W. T. King, first-vice-president; Joe Bailey, second vice-president; Bob Reed, third vice-president; Jerry Cotton, secretary-treasurer; Elmer Six, Lion tamer; Clinton Billingsley, tall twister; and Richard Franks, Ted Averitt, Wamon Foster and Wade Mills, new directors.

Conducting the installation service was Lee Welch, superintendent of schools at Kress.

Also during the meeting, Franks presented a check for $200 from the Lions Club to Supt. Ted Averitt to help finance the new Hart School Band, which will be formed next school term. The check brought to $550 the amount of money donated to the band fund through Lions Club projects.

MRS. GLEN GLEGHORN announced this week that the Kiddie Kollege Kindergarten of Hart will open its doors Aug. 24 at 8:30 a.m.

Material to be used includes a series of educational exercises that will help the children develop the techniques of learning, she said.

Interested parents with children who will be 5 years of age or before Sept. 1 should contact Mrs. Gleghorn at 938-2524 as soon as possible.

THE BROTHERHOOD of the First Baptist Church sponsored Family Night in fellowship hall of the church Monday at 8 p.m. The program opened by group singing, followed by the serving of homemade ice cream, cake and cookies.

The pastor, Rev. C. T. Cunningham, introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Thurman Upshaw, a Baptist missionary at Stamford, who showed slides and told of his recent trip to India and the Holy Land.

Ray Jones of Plainview, a former Hart resident, is in the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo for tests and observation. He is the father of Cecil Ray Jones of Hart.

THE Women's Society of Christian Service of the United Methodist Church met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Leonard Griswald for a get acquainted tea honoring the wife of the new pastor, Mrs. Thomas Taylor.

Mrs. Taylor was introduced by Mrs. W. A. Hawkins Sr. and Mrs. Griswald.

Members of the society were served cake and punch from a table covered with an ecru lace cloth, centered by an arrangement of flowers made from plastic egg cartons.

SME 20 young people of the community met Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith for games and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Edwards, youth director of the First Baptist Church, were sponsors of the entertainment.

Games of badminton, basketball and ping-pong were enjoyed, followed by the serving of hamburgers and soft drinks.

Edwards was surprised with a birthday cake and individual gifts from the young people.

ANOTHER instance of why the town of Hart could be easily spelled "HEART" was proven recently, when neighbors of H. H. Parker took their combines and cut his wheat crop. Parker was in the hospital suffering from a heart attack.

Participating in the work were Jack George, Claude Ray, Warren Lemons, Clifford Ray and Jerry Parker.

RAINDROPS FALLIN' made a pleasant sound in the area Saturday afternoon and night. This photo shows the drops and bubbles along the already-wet driveways and streets along Northwest Fifth Street. Howard Cook, US Weather observer here, said Dimmitt received an official .30 of an inch from the gentle rain.

Financial Facts

By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr.

Did you know that at no time has our country ever recalled any of its paper money?

American currency enjoys a unique and exalted position in the annals of world finance. It is, first of all the most stable money ever printed by any nation. Also, it's doubtful that any country, past or present, can claim such a long unbroken series of currency issues, the integrity of which has so soundly and confidently been maintained.

There has been one time in our country's history that currency was ever ordered exchanged for another type of money. In 1933, the Gold Reserve Act required all holders of Gold Certificates to surrender them for ordinary currency.

Even today, every existing piece of currency ever issued by the United States is still valid.

Be prepared while boating

Going boating without the proper equipment isn't just foolish, it's against the law, according to the Water Safety Services Division of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

CRAFT UP to 16 feet operated on federal waters must carry proper lights and a fire extinguisher if of closed construction; craft from 16 to 26 feet long must carry in addition a hand whistle or horn audible for at least one-half mile.

Larger pleasure craft up to 65 feet long require a hand or power operated whistle.

Most states have similar equipment requirements.

Other items of equipment aren't mentioned in the regulations, but common sense dictates carrying them — anchor, line, paddle, first aid kit, flashlight, tool kit, extra can of fuel, compass and distress flares.

New graze-to-ground technique promises much more production

A system that amounts to a complete turn-about in grazing management thinking is being tested by Texas A&M University researchers.

THERE is promise that the project will point the way to rangeland production five to six times higher than it is now.

The new technique appears at first to go along with the biggest taboo of all — overgrazing of native pastures. Large numbers of livestock are deliberately allowed to graze forage close to the ground.

"But before anyone gets upset, let me say right quick that the stock is not kept on the pasture any longer than it takes to get most of the forage," said Dr. C. L. Leinweber, head of the A&M Range Science Department. "When the best grazing is gone, the animals are moved to another pasture in a multi-pasture system, and they don't return until about five months later."

"THIS IS why we call the project the high intensity-low frequency grazing system. We are calling it HILF for short."

No matter what the title, the new system has produced some startling grazing figures. At the A&M Agricultural Research Station near Sonora, small scale HILF work has been underway for 22 years under the guidance of Dr. Leo Merrill. Proper grazing under ordinary conditions is considered to be the about 32 animal units per section of land at this location. But with the new method, researchers have grazed 110 animal units per section with improvement in range condition.

An animal unit is a cow and calf or five mature sheep or seven goats.

LEINWEBER emphasized that HILF is for native ranges and would have to be modified for use on tame pastures. The system should have wide application throughout Texas.

He said a more extensive program on larger pastures is underway at the Sonora station. This is in addition to work near Barnhart farther west, and proposed work at Throckmorton in North Central Texas.

"We feel that HILF is a logical system. Ranchers in Rhodesia in Africa have been using it successfully for a number of years, and A&M people have gone there to study its operation," Leinweber explained.

LENGTH of time animals are allowed to stay on one pasture in a HILF system is determined by forage availability. The period is usually two to four weeks. By the time the stock is rotated through the other pastures, the first pasture will have rested 4½ to 5 months.

Leinweber says animal performance so far has been good. What HILF can mean is calf production per acre about three times higher than with continuous grazing, and increased income due to lower per-animal unit overhead cost.

In conjunction with the project, A&M animal scientists are working on twinning traits and other calf production techniques which are expected to boost cow-calf ratios and increase efficiency of each mother cow.

"With these methods and HILF, we can think in terms of five to six times the current production on Texas rangeland," the scientist added.

SUMMING UP, Leinweber listed the following advantages of high intensity-low frequency grazing:

1. Concentration of animals in one or two herds, with resulting saving in labor, death loss reduction, and better breeding efficiency.
2. More harvestable forage is produced per acre due to range improvement.
3. Lower overhead costs per animal unit.
4. Fewer internal parasite troubles.
5. Possibility of hiking pounds of animal product per acre as much as three times current figures.
6. Brush control efforts should be helped because pastures will receive longer rest periods for better grass re-growth.

DISADVANTAGES include:
1. HILF might require re-fencing and more stock water development.
2. More stock handling facilities may be necessary.
3. Animals would probably be obliged to graze mature forage, which could require special management.

FOR THE 28th straight year, additions are being made to the membership of the exclusive 4-H Talent Club. This year 22 outstanding 4-H Club members are being added to the number to bring the membership to nearly 900. Inductees have shown excellence in 4-H project work, leadership, citizenship and all-round development. Producers Grain Corporation of Amarillo sponsors the program and will again sponsor a Texas tour for the new members.

The members of the library board met last week with seven members present — Mrs. Little, Mrs. Carver, Mrs. Acker, Mrs. Riley, Hazel Merritt, Jack Miller and yours truly. Hazel Merritt resigned as chairman of the board due to ill health and Jack Miller was appointed to replace her. Other officers are vice chairman, Edna Riley and secretary, Mary Acker.

MRS. Hartman and Mrs. Womack went to the library book sale in Amarillo last week and bought approximately 150 books for the Castro County Library. We are glad to get these books at this time because of the great number of books that are being checked out each day through the Summer Reading Program. We are still having children register for this program and I am still surprised at the number of boys and girls who are reading so many books.

We are fortunate to have Sylvia Martinez to help us in the library for a few days. Her sister, Irma Martinez is our assistant librarian and Sylvia was the assistant librarian for four years.

V.F.W. NEWS

By GERALD BROADSTREET
Greetings, Comrades,
At our last meeting we selected our honor guard and burial detail. Those who were appointed have been contacted in regard to their respective roles in the event we are called upon.

H. K. "RED" Hill, who has been appointed chairman of the practice sessions, said that practice will begin immediately and will continue regularly until a certain degree of perfection attained. After that we will meet maybe once a month just to maintain our proficiency.

All of our practice sessions will begin at 8 p.m., and this Friday we have one scheduled. Everyone should make a big effort to be there. Even if you're not on the detail, you should be there to observe and familiarize yourself with the routine should you ever be called upon to fill in for someone else.

CONTRARY to popular belief, the VFW is not closed every Monday night for a meeting. We are closed only on the first and second Monday of each month for our regular meetings. Prior to each meeting we are open up to meeting time at 8:30, then we reopen as soon as the meeting is over, usually at 10:30.

The Texas VFW News has been delivered and if you have any questions about the 50th annual convention to be held in Amarillo, you will find the answers by reading the program on Page 1. Remember, if you plan to attend the state convention, please let Commander Howard Cook know as soon as possible. If you need transportation, get in touch with one of the delegates and we'll help you all we can.

Keep in mind that one week after the state convention we will have our regular meeting, July 6. There will be a complete report on the business meeting and other activities of the convention. Be sure and mark July 6 on your calendar so you won't miss that meeting — it will be very interesting and informative.

WE HAD a real nice crowd at our Game Night last Wednesday. I'm glad that so many of you will come out and participate in your continued patronage. Don't forget, the activities get underway at 8:30, so come early and get a good seat. See you then.

JUNE IS Dairy Month and an appropriate time to pay tribute to an animal that contributes so much to American agriculture and the well being of the nation's population. The dairy cow, says A. M. Meekna, Extension dairy specialist, is a marvelous animal. She has the ability to convert grass and other feeds into nature's most nearly perfect food — milk, a product which is the foundation of the nation's great dairy industry.

Letters To The Editor:

Reader praises Harris' letter

Dear Editor:
After reading the article in the May 21 issue by Bob Bradford, I determined to write expressing an opinion of one of the "silent majority" of which he spoke.

HAVING second thoughts for fear I might sound as though I would denounce his right to express his feelings and thoughts, I once again became one of the "silent ones."

However, the letter to the editor by Charles F. Harris last week voiced so well my feelings on the matter that I wish to commend him on a fine presentation of what I feel is the attitude of most of the people of our nation.

What's right about America?

Today, the surest means of a book becoming a best seller is for the author to highlight and denounce bitterly the faults of this country. The same can be said of television and the movies, which prefer in these modern days to depict the seamy side of life in America.

But there's hope. As I have moved across this state, I have sensed that our people are growing weary of gloom. It's becoming easier to strike up a conversation on what's right about America.

I always suggest that there are a lot more level heads in this country than we are sometimes led to believe. There are a lot more decent, law-abiding citizens than there are criminals and cheats and sharks. There are a lot more young people in the "now" generation who want to improve America than the handful of radicals who want to burn it to ashes and start all over.

I can understand why the "majority" has broken its "silence." There's a growing impatience with agitation and controversy. But I feel we should continue to approach our nation's problems with a cool head and an open mind.

I've listened to the voices of dissent. I think I know what they're asking of their government.

One thing they want is confidence. They want the assurance that their public officials have the courage to meet the issues of the 1970s with imagination and integrity and not with some form of "old politics" that thrashes around with problems but never quite locates the workable solutions.

It was my desire to answer this urgent need that prompted me in January to seek the office of United States Senator.

House Ag Committee okays bills on FHA loan limit, meat sales

The House Agriculture Committee last Thursday approved two bills affecting Panhandle residents.

ONE, sponsored by Congressman Bob Price, would allow the Farmers Home Administration to make maximum farm and ranch purchase loans of $100,000. The present limit is $60,000.

In testimony on his bill, Price pointed out that few economical farm or ranch units can be purchased for less than $60,000.

"The Agriculture Department has stated that the average investment for 200 to 400 acres of land alone might run from $40,000 to $160,000. This means that the present relatively high acquisition and development costs of land render the $60,000 FHA loan limit obsolete. This increase is really quite modest when viewed in the light of farm sector credit needs," Price said.

A portion of the bill to raise the operating loan limit from $35,000 to $50,000 was deleted by the committee on a 15-9 vote.

THE SECOND bill would permit custom meat processors to sell inspected meat products without using their custom processing exemption.

"At present the law prohibits a custom processor from selling so much as a can of soup made from meat, even though the meat and product has been fully inspected. In many areas, particularly sparsely populated rural areas, the same establishment slaughters animals for their owners and sells groceries and meats. The Federal Meat Inspection Act requires these establishments to give up their retail business or the custom processing," Price added.

He pointed out that the bill approved last Thursday, which has already been adopted by the Senate, would permit the sale of inspected meat by the custom processor, although he could not sell meat from animals he has slaughtered for individuals.

"I hope the House will act quickly on this bill before many small custom processors in our area are forced out of business," Price said.

AS president of the Panhandle Press Association, Nelson is on the board of directors of the statewide association of newspaper editors and publishers.

The convention included tours of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Manned Spacecraft Center, the Astro-dome and Astroworld.

CONVENTION speakers included Associated Press Columnist Hal Boyle of New York City; Col. John Keeler, former chief press liaison officer in Vietnam, who has been called "the most quoted man in the world"; R. Kenneth Towery, assistant director of the US Information Agency in Washington, D.C.; and other representatives of the state and the newspaper and insurance industries.

CAC grant is approved

Con. Bob Price announced this week that effective Oct. 1, the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation of Amarillo will receive $165,000 to provide emergency food and medical services to an estimated 11,428 low income individuals.

THE TEXAS Panhandle Community Action Corporation operates in Castro, Potter, Randall, Dallas, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Collingsworth, Farmer, Swisher, Childress, Donley, Armstrong, Briscoe and Hall Counties.

Neighborhood centers will be designated in each county where low income individuals can receive medical examinations and vouchers with which to purchase food.

A similar emergency food and medical service grant has been made to the Central Plains Community Action Agency in Plainview. The $15,000 grant is for a 22-month program serving 500 persons through one neighborhood center in Hale County.

"I BELIEVE we all agree that no American should go to bed hungry or be without medical services when needed. The purpose of these grants is to make food and medicine available to those who would otherwise have to do without," Price said.

Don't lose those payment records

Producers who earn payments in the voluntary feed grain wheat and cotton programs will receive payment computation statements along with their payment drafts, Jim Elder, chairman of the Castro County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced.

HE SAID it is most important for producers to retain these computation statements along with their other farm records. The computation statements provide these important details:

1. Program for which payment is made. (Feed grain, wheat, or cotton.)
2. Both gross and net payment, for entire farm and for individual producer.
3. Planted acreage and diverted acreage (if any.)
4. Projected yield, used for payment computations.

ELDER suggested that producers verify their computation statements before filing them in a safe place. If they have any questions, they should get in touch with their county ASCS office as soon as possible.

If farm program computation statements are lost or destroyed producers may obtain the information from records in the county ASCS office.

Farm program payments for 1970 will begin July 1 and are expected to be completed by the end of August.

EFFECTIVE July 1, the Texas A&M University Forage Testing Service is making changes in the forage testing procedures in order to give a more accurate analysis of a forage's nutritive value, reports A. C. Novosad, Extension pasture specialist. Local county agents have the details.

Electric Air Conditioning?
NO QUESTION ABOUT IT!!!

OVER 30 YEARS OF PROVEN DEPENDABILITY
 Just like your refrigerator, electric air conditioning uses the same experience-proven method of cooling. A dependable compressor keeps on cooling no matter how high the outside temperature.

LOW OPERATING COST
 Before you buy, be sure you have complete information. Electric air conditioning saves you money when you buy and because it uses only electricity and free air, your operating cost is low... no extra installation costs, either!

CHOICE OF BRANDS
 There are 58 manufacturers of electric air conditioning and all major brands are available in our area. Brands in your area are listed in the Yellow Pages or identified on your neighborhood dealer's store front.

CHOICE OF SIZES
 Only electric air conditioning offers the right size for your cooling job. Too large a unit makes your first cost unnecessarily high; too small runs up operating cost. Electric air conditioning can save you money on both counts.

NO LOSS OF EFFICIENCY BECAUSE OF ALTITUDE
 Our area is several thousand feet above sea level yet electric air conditioning is not adversely affected. It does its cooling job as efficiently as if it were at sea level. An important point to consider when buying.

COMPLETE SERVICE
 The principle of electric air conditioning is so well understood and the parts so easy to change that any air conditioning man can give you service quickly should you ever need it.

'I'm alive today because someone cared,' ex-Boys Rancher tells Jaycees and guests

BILL SARPOLIS SPEAKS TO DIMMITT JAYCEES ... "Give our youth a helping hand"

The weekly Jaycee meeting had a slightly novel twist this last Thursday. Bill Sarpolis served as noon speaker at the Colonial Inn Restaurant.

SARPOLIS was raised at Boys Ranch where many of his opinions were formed. Sarpolis was a student at Clarendon Junior College and last year he served as president of Texas Future Farmers of America and was student body president. He plans to attend West Texas State University at Canyon next fall and plans to major in agriculture.

Sarpolis began his speech with the story of the death of a young boy. From his early life the boy was neglected by parents and friends. As usually happens in this type of situation, the child started associating with a "bad" group of kids. This boy progressed into an even worse "gang." The boy attempts a service station robbery during which the attendant was killed. The boy was prosecuted and executed. The boy's death was caused because some did not "care." Sarpolis said he was that boy; the exception was that someone did care and stopped him at the age of 10.

SARPOLIS urged the people of the community to extend a hand to all the youth. He went on to urge the adults to set examples and not exemplify the old saying "do as I say, not as I do." And to quote Bill Sarpolis near the end of his speech. "Extend your hand of friendship to the youth. They need it."

Girls big help in dress revue

By IRENE KEATING
Tuesday we had our tri-county dress revue training meeting in Frio. We had very clever programs and I want to give very grateful thanks to Agnes and Elaine Acker for helping with them. They cut out 125 fashions for us to use on the programs. They are truly dedicated 4-H girls. I'd still be cutting if I'd done them myself and they did such a neat job! Thank you again girls.

mentioned that another study shows that persons who drink at least two glasses of milk per day get senile at an older age than those who drink no milk. So let's all get busy and drink more milk.
June is dairy month and a good time to start drinking milk. If you don't like to drink your milk you can enjoy it in ice cream. This is the time of year many of us make lots of homemade ice cream. Milk shakes are good to cool you off after being in the sun.

McFarland, dean of Teacher Education at The University of Texas at El Paso, addressed the group.

MY TOMATOES have lots of blooms. I hope I get some fruit (yes, tomatoes are a fruit) this year. Last year all I got was blooms.

ALL OF YOU who are taking trips be careful and enjoy your trip to its fullest. I think we all rush around too much.
