Lisa Terrell wins State record book contest

Lisa Terrell, 16 year old daughter of Buster and Linda Terrell of Lockney, was recently notified that she had won the State record book competition and would be going on to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Illinois later this year.

Lisa was the only senior Floyd County 4-H'er to submit a record book to the State competition this year. She had also competed at the state level last year but did not win. Last year three other senior 4-H'ers did win state and went to the National Congress. Those included Earl Brose, Heather Holt and Matt Mitchell.

Lisa has been a 4-H member for the past seven years and has been compiling a recordbook for six of those years. Her recordbook is entered under the achievement awards program. Under this program the 4-H'er has two or three major projects and several other projects in which they are active. Lisa's main projects have been Foods, Nutrition and Recreation. Some of her other projects have included beef and sheep, home environment, citizenship, family life, public speaking, leadership, food preservation, clothing, creative art, clothing, and child development.

Lisa has been heavily involved in 4-H and in addition to the above projects, she has also participated in "Share the Fun" skits, has won at both the county and district levels in the food shows, and has helped organize the local fund raising auction that 4-H has each year.

In an interview last summer with Lisa, she commented "I like doing the achievement record book because you can include several projects in it." She also said "I like doing a record book because it allows me to keep a complete record of all my 4-H projects. Also, record books are kind of like a scrap book, they are a good way to look back at what you have done and how you have grown and progressed through the years."

Lisa also said in an earlier interview that she was inspired to do the record book by her father, Buster, who had won with his record book and in 1957 he also attended the National 4-H Congress.

Lisa, among with about fifty other 4-H'ers and leaders from Texas, will attend the 64th annual National 4-H Congress which will be held at the Conrad Hilton in Chicago, Illinois December 1-6. Lisa will start her expense-paid week of fun on November 29 when the Texas delegation will meet in Dallas for orientation and a chance to meet everyone.

While in the "Windy City" Lisa will have the opportunity to meet people from all across the United States as well as Puerto Rico. Tours of the Sears Tower, Museum of Science and Industry, and other well known buildings and places will be available. Lisa will have a banquet where she will meet representatives from the Ford Motor Company who are the sponsors of the 4-H Achievement program. A chance to taste different types of food will come her way as hard bread is served at almost every meal and baked Alaskan is traditionally served as is the stuffed baked potato which are served at the Firestone Breakfast.

State 4-H recordbook winners who have the opportunity to attend National Congress are selected on the basis of their accomplishments, leadership, citizenship and community service in their project area. There are 36 project areas from which a 4-H'er has to choose.

Awards and recognition programs provide inspiration and motivation to the 4-H "learning by doing" process. As was mentioned earlier, the Ford Motor Company supports the Achievement program. Lisa will have a chance to receive one of nine $1,000 scholarships which will be awarded to the National winners.

Basaldua love fund established

A love fund has been established at the First National Bank of Lockney in the name of George Basaldua, Sr.

Basaldua had a quadruple bypass operation on September 20 at Lubbock General Hospital where he remains in critical condition.

Basaldua is a 45 year old farm laborer and has lived in Lockney for most of his life. He and wife, Ofelia; sons, George, Lupe and Ricky and daughters, Melinda and Almadena, will need help with the huge medical expenses that will be incurred during his hospital stay and recuperation. At the present time he has been medically disabled for over one year and has been turned down for social security.

Anyone wishing to make a donation to this love fund may do so at the First National Bank of Lockney through any of the tellers.

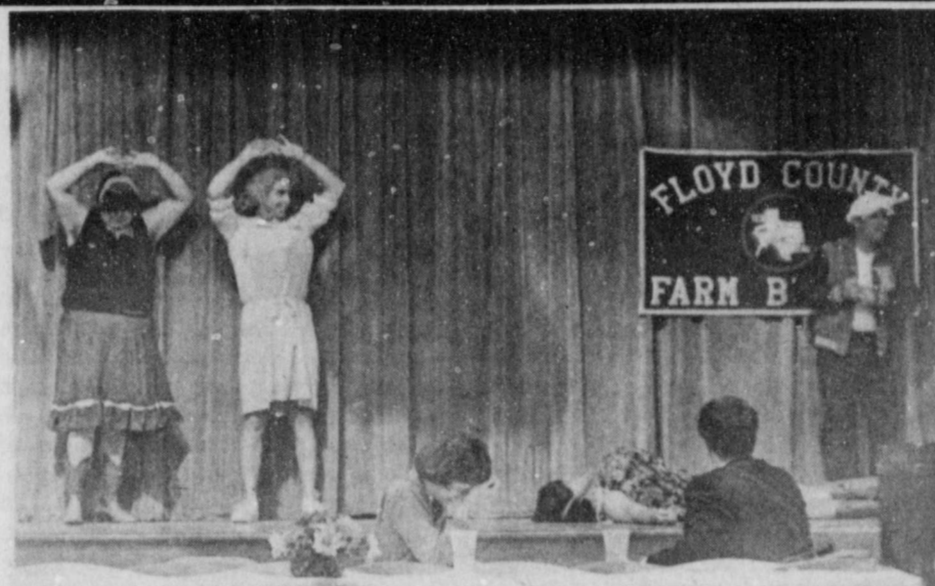

Lockney FFA members attend district meeting

On Wednesday, September 25, four Lockney FFA members attended a meeting of the district FFA representatives. Attending were Rusty Carthel, Terri Bailey, Robert Wofford and Lori Smith.

District officers divided into two teams and presented two different programs for those attending. The first group addressed leadership in FFA. The second group asked those present to answer questions pertaining to FFA. The question asked of Lockney representatives Terri Bailey and Rusty Carthel was how can one involve the community in FFA programs? The answer was to become more involved in the community.

Lockney FFA members are becoming more involved in the community. At the present time they are building a press box which will be installed on the top of the existing press box and will be used to protect those who are filming the games in Lockney from the weather. It will also protect the coaches who assist in calling and recording the plays of the game. At the present time there is only a railing at the top of the press box. By adding this additional protection those who must be on the top of the building will be better protected, as will the camera equipment that is used.

Lockney FFA members attending the meeting found it to be very informative.

THE "WONDER SISTERS" took time from their duties as Farm Bureau agents, to entertain members and guests at the annual Farm Bureau convention last Saturday.

Farm Bureau meets

The Floyd County Farm Bureau held its annual county convention Saturday, September 28 at the Lockney Elementary Cafeteria. Over 124 Farm Bureau members, their families, and guests attended the meeting.

Highlighting the event was the presentation of the financial report which showed that the local Farm Bureau has increased its total income over the past year. This year Farm Bureau showed a total income of $83,231.60 which is up $25,900.98 over the 1984 total income of $57,330.62. Agency manager James Race reported that most of this increase is due to the reimbursement from Universal Life Insurance Company. He also reported that this increase would not be there in two years. Another part of the increase comes from the increases of dues paid by members of Farm Bureau. Floyd County was one of the first counties to go to the $35.00 membership fee and as a result the local organization is in good shape financially. Most of the other counties that have not gone to the increased membership fee are not in as good of shape as Floyd County.

Floyd County Farm Bureau president Warren Mitchell presented the president's report. He commented on the good financial standing of the organization. He also addressed the problems that farmers are facing and what the Farm Bureau organization is trying to do to help. "We are making contact with the Senators and Legislators that are trying to better the farmers situation. We are in close contact with many of the men in Washington that understand the needs of the farmers. Beau Boulter, Phil Gramm, Larry Combest, and Charles Stenholm are there to help us and they have the interests of the farmers uppermost in their minds," said Mitchell.

Mitchell also discussed some of the local items that Farm Bureau supports. They include holding the stock show banquet after the county stock show is held, sponsoring two defensive driving courses in the year, sending at least three local students to the citizenship seminar held in Waco each summer, sending local firemen to the fire school at College Station each year, sponsoring Farm Safety Week, aiding in sponsoring the Old Settlers Reunion each summer, helping in the drug abuse programs, and doing all that they can do to continue the Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair.

Mitchell also commented that Floyd County is "lucky in that we have the chairmen of two committees that reside in our county. Dan Smith is the chairman of the Young Farmers and Ranchers Committee and Delmas McCormick is the chairman of the Soybean Committee in the State of Texas."

He also discussed the new program which Farm Bureau has become involved. "We now have AT&T computers in our office. We are part of a new pilot program and these computers are available for lease or purchase and can be hooked up, by phone to get all the current market information at any time of the day or night." Mitchell also said that enrollment in this program must be done by October 15 and for more information those interested should contact the Farm Bureau office.

James Race then presented his manager's report. He said again that the county organization is in good shape financially. He also attributed this to the increase in the membership fee as well as the income from Universal Life. He also commented that there had been an additional 246 life insurance policies written in the past year. "This represents $252,000 in premiums and now there is a total of $10,500,000 in life insurance coverage in the county. He also reported $50,000 in fire insurance protection, $26,000 in IRA type coverage, and $5,100 in auto coverage.

Doug Galloway reported on the membership in the county. He said "We had a renewal rate of 83.29% and we have 66 more members than we had last year. Our total membership is now at 924 families."

Craig Gilly presented the TASCOS sales report. "Local dealers have sold $81,221.80 in Safemark products. Richard Wiley at Jackson Tire in Lockney has sold over $48,000 and Tipton Oil in Floydada has sold over $33,000 in products."

Following his presentation on the TASCOS sales report Gilly was presented with a plaque for his six years as a board member of the Floyd County Farm Bureau by president Warren Mitchell.

Kirk Wheeler of the Cotton Board then had a slide presentation for those attending. The presentation dealt with the two boards that make up the organization. Both the Cotton Board and Cotton Incorporated are there for the purpose of research and promotion of cotton and cotton products. No politicking is involved, they are there only for promotion and research of cotton and cotton products.

He did report that consumer demand for cotton has risen about 6% in the past 10 years and that now there are more clothing items being made from 60% cotton blend fabrics.

Also addressing the gathering were Ricky Key and Sandy Carr, two of the students that attended the citizenship seminar in Waco this summer. Both said the camp was beneficial and informative. Both commented that they learned what a great country we live in. They heard speeches from people who had been POW's, and those who had come to our country to escape the oppression and problems in their own countries.

The election of directors was also held. Martin Stoerner and Doug Galloway were up for reelection and Bud Taylor and Max Yeary were running to fill the seat for the South Plains-Cedar Hill district. Stoerner, Galloway, and Taylor were elected to the board.

Closing out the evening was the awarding of door prizes and entertainment by the "Wonder Sisters." The "Wonder Sisters" are the four Floyd County Farm Bureau agents, James Race, Clar Schacht, Kenneth Holt, and Danny Colston. They danced and mimed to "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy" and "Teen Angel."

Those attending the event enjoyed a fried chicken and barbecue dinner catered by Danny's Fins and Hens of Lubbock. Door prizes of two $50.00 gift certificates for Safemark Products and three floral arrangements were awarded

Paul Dunn addresses Lockney PTA group

By Cindy Smith

Dr. Paul Dunn, District 15 representative on the State Board of Education, told the Lockney Parent Teachers Association Tuesday night that the recently enacted education reform bill will revolutionize Texas education.

Dunn, of Levelland, addressed PTA members in Lockney's elementary cafeteria. The new State Board of Education has been in operation for a year. It is appointed by the Governor, and replaced a State Board that was previously elected by Texas voters.

It has been an innovative year, according to Dunn; however, it has been a little unsettling to teachers, parents and students.

Earlier recommendations of House Bill 72, the education reform bill, have been modified, and, according to Dunn, approximately three years will be needed to determine whether further modifications or revisions should be made.

Dunn's District 15 includes 153 schools, from Crane in the South, north to the Oklahoma border. Size of the Districts are determined by population.

Dunn stated that members of the Board realize some students have been hurt by the new reform measures; however, he believes academics should be stressed in public schools. More is expected of students today, he said, and they, in turn, are performing better in classrooms. Texas taxpayers are spending $9 billion on Texas students, and the Board and school districts should be held accountable for that money, he said.

Dunn said Texas' 3 1/2 million school children should have an equal education and that the present Board intends to guarantee that right.

One of the most significant changes in the reform bill occurs with exit level testing for Juniors. Satisfactory performance on the exit level test is required for students to receive a high school diploma. The test consists of three parts: math, reading and writing skills.

According to Dunn, "this test will evaluate whether students have mastered the basics and gives educators feedback on their performance. It will help determine whether Texans are preparing their children for life after graduation."

"Vocational education has changed because of the essential elements that must be taught. It can no longer be a warehouse for kids who cannot compete academically," stated Dunn. "Vocational education has not kept up with the needs of the kids. Vocational programs must receive more funding to produce the proper results."

"There are problems in the bilingual field. It has been discussed among Board members that bilingual education should be taught through grade eight. Students need to be taught the basics in a language they can comprehend. The problem we are faced with is the lack of qualified bilingual teachers who can teach the subject matter in a second language."

Dunn discussed the competency test for teachers which will debut in March. The Legislature has allotted $6.9 million for the teacher testing, Dunn admitted. "It is a watered-down version of the original test that was intended to determine teacher competency. The test teachers will be taking is a simple literacy test comparable to the SAT or GRE, and we expect Texas teachers to knock the top off it!"

Dunn emphasized that he enjoyed traveling to different school districts and speaking to local groups such as the Lockney PTA. He requested that anyone with advice or complaints write to him in Levelland and voice their opinions.

The PTA adjourned following a brief business meeting. The Halloween Carnival was discussed and plans implemented for the open house to be held in November at the three schools in Lockney.

Means wins football contest

This weeks second and third place winners both missed only two games in the contest. Joe Copeland garnered second place in the contest by guessing the total score in the tie breaker to be 25 points. He will receive the second place check of $6.00.

Steve Stansell also missed only two games but guessed the tie breaker score to be 28 so he will receive the third place money of $4.00.

Horns play to 0-0 tie with Owls

The Lockney Longhorns traveled to Hale Center and met the Owls for the third time in a year and for the second time in a year played the Owls to a tie score.

Last year the Hale Center Owls were in Lockney for the 1984 homecoming game. At that game the Horns emerged victorious with the final score being 21 to 8. The second meeting of the two teams was in Plainview during bi-district play. At this game the Horns again emerged victorious after the teams played to a 6 to 6 tie. The Horns won on penetrations. This past Friday night the Horns and Owls met for the third time and the score of this game was 0 to 0.

In Friday's game both teams played a hard hitting game, but both made several offensive mistakes. Both Lockney and Hale Center were in scoring position more than once but mistakes and penalties thwarted scoring attempts. Each time one or the other of the teams had made several first downs and was in scoring position the team would lose the ball or have a penalty called and be forced to back up, sometimes out of scoring range.

Even passing caused both teams problems. In the case of both teams, when a receiver was wide open and the pass was coming his way the pass would either fall incomplete or would fall just out of reach of the receiver.

Hale Center was the first to make what would have seemed at the time to be the score that would win the game. Early in the fourth quarter the Owls took a punt inside their own 10 yard line and seemingly ran it back for the touchdown, however a clipping penalty forced the return of the ball to the Owl's 30 yard line.

The Horns also had their chance for a touchdown or field goal. With just four minutes left in the game, quarterback Steven Cates attempted three separate passes into the end zone but all three failed to connect. Hale Center took the ball back on their own 26 yard line and after three incomplete pass attempts the ball came back to the Horns.

With just 1:21 left in the game, the Horns managed only five yards on this play and Hale Center got the ball back. However, they too only managed five yards in the series and the Horns got another chance at the goal line. The Horns took the ball on the Hale Center 26 yard line but after two incomplete passes failed to gain the Horns any points, it was decided to try for the field goal with 0:03 left in the game. Ben Schuster took the field and prepared to try for 3 points. The ball, sailed straight up in the air and was recovered by the Owls. The clock ran out and both teams returned to the dressing rooms with the score board looking like it did at the beginning of the game, 0 to 0.

The statistics from the game looked much like the score board, tied. The Horns garnered one more first down than the Owls, gained five more yards rushing, and were only four yards behind the Owls in passing. These two teams looked like mirror images on the field and both put forth a good, hard hitting effort to no avail.

The Horns are now 1-2-1 on the season and will face Abernathy this Friday in Abernathy at 8:00 p.m. Coach Bob Purser said "We expect this to be a typical Abernathy-Lockney game and we will be ready to play."

Of the game against Hale Center Purser said, "This is two weeks in a row that we have played hard hitting games with little or no score. We are just not making the big offensive plays that we need. Offensively we are driving the ball well but when we put the ball up we are just not connecting with it. We are passing the ball just like we did last year, but without connecting. We are not making the big plays we need. Defensively we are doing very well."

Horns of the Week in the Hale Center game included offensive back Dickie Hernandez, offensive lineman George Basaldua and David Rodriguez who was chosen player of the week and defensive back of the week. Special teams player of the week is Joe Torrez. The big hit of the week went to Steven Cates and the defensive forcing unit player and the Horn of the Week was Randy Race.

Cross country represents Lockney well

At the Brownfield cross country meet September 14, the Varsity boys team was paced by Jessie Castro, who won first place with a time of 17:28. "This was a great start for 1985 because we competed against all classifications of schools from 5A to 1A. The team finished in the top 15 teams," said Coach Patti Purser. Boys Varsity team members include Jessie Castro, Eddie Garza, Daniel Rodriguez, Cory Luna and Chris Rodriguez.

The junior varsity boys team also did well at their first meet, even though they did not have enough members to compete as a team. Those competing were Andy Rodriguez, Rusty Teeter, Steven Cates and Albert Martinez.

The Varsity girls team ran in a division that had 101 runners in it and the Lockney team finished in the top 20 teams. Linda Cruz paced the team with a 33rd place finish in a time of 15:42 followed by Melinda Molina, Melissa Castro, Joann Castro, Veronica Blanco, Rosellen Arjona and Soyla Luna. Other girls that competed in the meet included Varie Harris and Linda Coronado.

The second cross country meet for the Lockney teams was held in Hereford on Saturday, September 28. Again all the Lockney teams competed in all classifications.

The Varsity girls finished in 15th place as a team, the Varsity boys 8th place, and the junior varsity boys placed third.

Coach Patti Purser said, "The Varsity division had over 100 runners and our runners all improved on their times from the first meet."

Jessie Castro placed second behind Plainview's M. Garza in a time of 15:30. Eddie Garza placed 12th and he was followed in by Daniel Rodriguez, Cory Luna, Tony Banda, Javier Bernal and Rusty Teeter.

The junior varsity's third place team finish was paced by Albert Martinez who placed sixth with a time of 17:27, followed by George Bernal, Bernado Castereyna, Jimmy Ballejo, and Daniel Rodriguez.

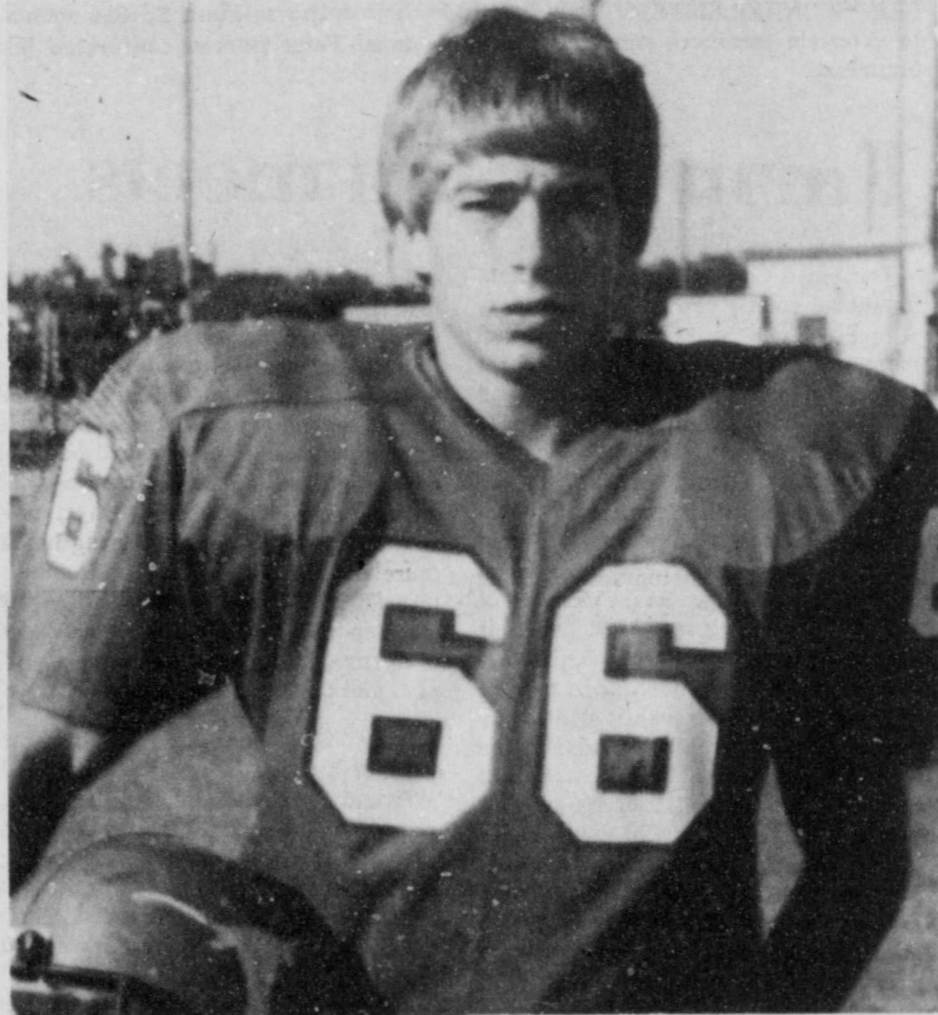

The Varsity girls were again lead by Linda Cruz who finished fifth with a time of 15:24. She was followed by Melinda Molina, Melissa Castro, Rosellen Arjona, Veronica Blanco and Teresa Vasquez.

The junior varsity girls fell short of having a team but they ran as individuals. Varie Harris lead the girls finishing 20th with a time of 16:06. She was followed by Soyla Luna and Linda Coronado.

The next cross country meets will be this Saturday in Big Spring.

GEORGE BASALDUA, son of George and Maria Basaldua, is in his third year of football. Last year he was named second team All-district linebacker. Junior high teams defeat Hale Center Owls

The Shorthorns scored in the first period of play when Michael Monroe ran plays of 65, 49, and 71 yards to put the Horns up 18 to 0 over their opponents.

In the second quarter the Lockney team completed a 62 yard touchdown drive that ended with a 3 yard burst by Phillip Glasson.

The Lockney team gave up 14 points in the second half in which all 45 players on the combined seventh and eighth grade team played.

Care Center Capers

As we cleaned out the activities closet, getting ready for the fall and winter activities, Mr. Lewis Roberts, a patient of 12 years, walked down memory lane with me. We found the chair he made with clothes pins and other memorabilia. He spoke with such fondness and excitement. Making what appeared to be a chore a delight. Thanks to Mr. Roberts, for brightening the chore and adding some excitement to this job.

Others assisting with words of encouragement were Mrs. Bessie Jackson, Betha Cunyus, Floyd Barber, Vivian Morris, Mary Jo Fielding, Earl Mercer and his family (brother, son and their wives). Included in the words of encouragement was Sally Rodriguez. Thanks for the words of encouragement folks. We found lots of fun things to do, this fall.

The residents of the Care Center are an asset to the community; however, many of us fail to recognize this. Before going to work at the Center I was guilty of that myself. This poem expresses it most appropriately.

We want to thank Alice Leal for doing the pumpkin name tags on weekends, also the other staff members who spend extra hours getting ready for the Halloween activities.

"A Crabbit Old Woman"
 What do you see, What do you see?
 What are you thinking when you look at me?
 A crabbit old woman, not very wise,
 Uncertain of habit, with far away eyes,
 Who dribbles her food, and makes not reply,
 When you say in a loud voice, "I do wish you'd try!"
 Who seems not to notice the things that you do,
 And forever is losing a stocking or shoe.
 Who, unresisting or not, lets you do as you will
 With bathing and feeding, the long day to fill.
 Is that what you're thinking, is that what you see?
 Then open your eyes, you're not looking at me.

I'll tell you who I am as I sit here so still,
 As I move at your bidding, as I eat at you will.

I am a small child of ten with a father and mother,
 Brothers and sisters who love one another.

A young girl at sixteen with wings on her feet
 Dreaming that soon now a lover she'll meet.

A bride soon at twenty, my heart gives a leap,
 Remembering the vows that I promised to keep.

At twenty-five now I have young of my own
 Who need me to build a secure happy home.

A woman of thirty, my young now grow fast,
 Bound to each other with ties that should last.

At forty my young now soon will be gone,
 But my man stays beside me to see I don't mourn.

At fifty once more babies play around my knee,
 Again we know children, my loved one and me.

Dark days are upon me, my husband is dead,
 I look at the future, I shudder with dread.

For my young are all busy rearing young of their own
 And I think of the years and the love I have known.

I'm an old lady now and nature is cruel,
 'Tis her jest to make old age look like a fool.

The body it crumbles, grace and vigor depart,
 And now there is a stone where I once had a heart.

But inside this old carcass a young girl still dwells,
 And now and again my battered heart swells.

I remember the joys, I remember the pain,
 And I am loving and living life over again.

I think of the years all too few, gone so fast,
 And accept the stark fact that nothing can last.

So open your eyes, open and see,
 Not a crabbit old woman, look closer, see Me.

SCOTT POOLE, a 6-2, 235 freshman center from Lockney, is a "bonafide" member of the Southwestern Oklahoma State University Bulldog football team and will be ready for action when the squad begins its 1985 season against NCAA power Eastern New Mexico in Weatherford on Saturday, September 14, beginning at 7:00.

Buckle up for safety.

In times like these... By Mary Jo Fielding

Divad, short for division air defense, cost the taxpayers 1.8 billion dollars, yet was destined to be the anti-aircraft gun that couldn't.

It couldn't shoot far enough to hit tank killing helicopters, couldn't keep up with the tanks it was supposed to protect, couldn't track low-flying targets, climb hills or cross ditches, and wouldn't start on cold mornings.

On August 27, the super sophisticated air defense gun became the first major weapons system scrubbed by the Reagan administration. Its cancellation by Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger focused fresh attention on the chronic flaws in both DIVAD and the Pentagon's procurement practices.

There has been mounting pressure on the military to curtail its spending, all of which played a key role in Weinberger's action. DIVAD was worth more to the Pentagon dead than alive. By voiding DIVAD contracts after only 65 of the self-propelled radar-aimed 40 mm cannons had been built and by not building 553 more, Weinberger said that he had saved three billion dollars.

The cancelling of the cannon contracts didn't signify that there was a broad retreat for the President's massive arms buildup. Experts declared that any prolonged freeze on military outlays would cripple the Reagan administration's ambitious defense buildup. Plans for a 600-ship Navy, for example, would have to be dropped, and other big ticket weapons programs could be delayed or cancelled.
