64 students effected by no pass, no play regulation

The end of the first six weeks of school there are some 64 Lockney High School and Junior High students who are directly affected by the "no pass, no play" rule.

According to the State new no pass, no play rule these 64 students will be ineligible for extra-curricular activities for the next six weeks. They will also be barred from any practice sessions and will only be able to resume extra-curricular activities if, after the end of the next six weeks they are making a 70 or above in all classes.

Of the total enrollment of Lockney Junior High, 36 students are failing or have below 70 in one or more classes. The total enrollment of the junior high is 138 and approximately 26% of the students are below average in one or more classes.

Of the 36 affected by the no pass, no play, three sixth graders are ineligible for band. The seventh grade has lost two football players and two managers, and the eighth grade has lost seven football players. It was not known at press time how many of the other extra-curricular activities involving junior high students were affected by the failures.

Lockney High School has dropped its number of first six weeks failures this year. The first six weeks of this year has a total of 28 students failing one or more classes at the high school. For the same period last year there were 45 students failing one or more classes. The percentage of high school students failing is about 15.5%.

Of the total high school enrollment of 190, there are 137 students involved in extra-curricular activities. These include cross county, track, football, band and FFA, and FHA.

Of the high school failures, the cross country team has lost five members, the junior varsity team has lost three players, the band and the FFA each lost at least one of their members. This would tend to indicate that those students in extra-curricular activities, 137 in all are trying harder to keep their grades up, since of the total high school enrollment of 190 only 53 students are not involved in one or more after school activities.

Coach Bob Purser said, "The young kids are the ones that are hit the hardest by this. They have now been told they have to stay out of the extra-curricular activities for six weeks because they didn't keep their grades up. These young kids need more help than anyone and now they are going to suffer. It's possible that some of these kids will decide that if they couldn't do it right the first time they can't ever do it right and that's a shame."

Overall the Lockney schools did well in the first six weeks with most of the failures being noted in the students that are not in any extra-curricular activities. Superintendent Hallmark commented, "Both the teachers and the students are working harder this year and that has a lot to do with the number of failing students dropping."

Next week we will have a more complete report on the no pass no play that will include the elementary school. However on Monday, elementary school principal, R.L. Knox said, "I don't expect many if any failures here. We evaluate the students at each three weeks and if they are having problems we change them at study group so that they are working at their level. We have a different system in elementary school and we shouldn't have any failures this six weeks."

We will also try to ascertain exactly how many of the extra-curricular students are affected by the first six weeks failures.

Lockney Cub Scouts plan carnival for Saturday

The Lockney Cub Scout troop is planning a Halloween Carnival for Saturday, October 26 at the Lockney Elementary Cafeteria.

Several booths are planned for the night and they include a spook house by the Lions Club, a fishing pond and caramel apples by the Il Penseroso Study Club, a dart throw by the Lockney High School junior class, and fortune telling and a marriage booth by the Gifted and Talented class.

Also Rosa Gonzales of Rosa's Hair Chateau will have hair painting, the Lockney P.T.A. will have a cake walk, the Lockney Chamber of Commerce will have a bandaging booth, and the Athena Study Club will have a candle and water gun booth.

The Lockney Boy Scout troop will be having a food booth during the night featuring hot dogs, nachos, drinks and brownies.

There will be a costume contest for five different age groups including one to three years judged at 7:00 p.m., four and five years old judged at 7:30, six and seven year olds judged at 8:00, eight and nine year olds judged at 8:30, and the 10 and 11 year olds will be judged at 9:00 p.m.

Admission will be 50 cents per person and the doors will open at 6:00 p.m. Everyone is invited and this will be a safe, fun evening for all the youngsters in Lockney.

Annual harvest festival set for Saturday

Members of the First United Methodist Church are gearing up for the 7th Annual Harvest Festival which will be held October 26 from 10:00 a.m. to mid-afternoon.

The Harvest Festival will kickoff with the opening of the country store at 10:00 a.m. The store will feature small handmade items and many baked goods furnished by church members. Cakes, pies, jellies, hot sauce and many other food items will be featured at the store. Charlotte Brock and Carolyn Jackson are in charge of the country store this year.

Serving of the complete turkey dinner will begin at 11:30 in the fellowship hall. Included in the meal will be turkey, cornbread dressing, sweet potatoes, giblet gravy, rolls, green beans, cranberry sauce, tea and coffee and for dessert there will be pumpkin pie cake. All the food items will be cooked by ladies of the church.

Food chairman Cheryl Teeter has ordered 22 large turkeys, 30 gallons of sweet potatoes, 30 gallons of green beans, 44 pans of dressing, six gallons of cranberry sauce and 840 rolls have been ordered from the Lockney school cafeteria. It is expected that 700 plates will be served on the day of the festival.

Tickets for the meal are priced at $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children. The tickets have been the same price for all seven years of the festival, however, this year there will be an additional 50 cents added to the price of tickets sold at the door. Tickets are available from any church member or they may be purchased at Barker Insurance or at the First National Bank in Lockney. Brett and Judy Gill are in charge of ticket sales this year.

Take-out lunches will be available again this year and deliveries of lunches to those who are shut-in, in the hospital or the nursing home. Charles and Molly Huffman are in charge of take-out and shut-in orders again this year. Those who wish to place orders from this service may do so by calling Molly Huffman at 652-3570 between now and the day of the festival. On weekday mornings or on Saturday morning of the festival you may call 652-2193. Shut-in deliveries will be made at 11:00 a.m. so orders should be placed early.

At about 1:00 p.m. the auction will begin. This year's auction will be conducted by Mervin Evans and Bennie Reagan. Just a few of the items to be included in the auction will be a quilt made by the ladies of the church. It is king size and is edged in blue Wedgewood fabric. It was quilted by Linda Smith of Plainview.

One of the many items included in the auction will be a birdhouse, fashioned by Art Barker.

Again this year Molly Huffman has handpainted a mailbox that she has donated for the door prize. The mailbox will be drawn from the tickets turned in for the meal. Be sure to write your name on the back of the tickets when they are taken at the door. The winner must be present to win.

CONNIE SANDERS is baking white chocolate cakes as her contribution to the Lockney UMC Harvest Festival's "country store," which opens the event Oct. 26. Baked and canned goods and small craft items will be available in the country store section.

Parent Advisory Council to meet on October 28th

The Parent Advisory Council will hold a meeting on Monday, October 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the Lockney Elementary Cafeteria.

Parents of students in our federal programs such as Migrant, Chapter I Reading, Compensatory Math, and E.S.L. are urged to attend. At this meeting an election of officers will be held for the local P.A.C. group. You, the parents will vote for these members. The council helps in advising the school district on the planning, operating, and evaluating the federal programs.

We urge all parents to be present at this important meeting, to get involved in education. Our school superintendent W.H. Hallmark, school principals, several teachers and aides will be present to visit with parents and help in any way possible. Please Come!

A door prize will be given to a lucky winner. Refreshments will be served.

Concilio Consejero De Padres
El Concilio Consejero de Padres

Cordialmente invitamos a todos los padres de los estudiantes que estan en los programas federales, como migrante, Capitulo I lectura, y matematica compensatoria, e ingles como la segunda idioma. Les urgimos que asistan a esta junta tan importante, ya que estaremos teniendo elecciones para la mesa directiva del concilio consejero de padres. Ustedes los padres elejiran los nuevos miembros. Este concilio ayuda en consejar al distrito escolar en la planificacion, funcionamiento, y evaluacion de los programas federales.

Les urgimos una vez mas que asistan a esta junta tan importante, y que se envuelvan en la educacion de sus hijos. Tendremos a los principales de las escuelas, el superintendente, varias maestras, y ayudantas presentes para visitar con los padres y ayudarles en cualquier manera posible.

Tendremos un premio para la persona agraciada, y refrescos. Favor de estar con nosotros!

Annual bazaar slated

The annual Christmas in November Bazaar, sponsored by the Floyd County Home Extension Service Family Living Committee and the Texas Extension Service, has been set for Saturday, November 2 at Duncan Elementary School. Doors will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The bazaar will feature over twenty-five booths of crafts and various art, needle and wood working items. There will be something of interest to everyone that attends. Exhibitors will include people from Floyd County as well as exhibitors from around the South Plains.

In addition to the booths of items there will be four programs slated for the day.

The first of four programs of the day, will be at 10:15 and entitled, "Full of Stitches." It will be presented by Mildred McGuire, a member of the South Plains Quilting Guild. She will present ideas for new and innovative quilting techniques as well as suggestions to improve on old techniques.

The second program will feature Eleanor Schacht of Lockney. Schacht is the owner of Schacht Flowers, Jewelry and Gifts in Lockney and her program will detail the tying and arranging of bows in decorations.

Kathy Becker will present the third program of the day at 1:30. Her program will feature "Holiday Beverages from the Kitchen." She will demonstrate the various beverages suitable for holiday serving. She will also have recipes of the beverages she will demonstrate.

The final program of the afternoon will feature holiday fashions and accessories from Kristi's of Plainview.

Local and area artists that have already reserved booth space include Juanita Brosech and Tina Rexrode of Lockney and they will feature dolls, pillows and crochet items. Also from Lockney are Anita Bigham who will have craft items that include wood worked items, paintings and baskets. Pearl Wood of Canyon will have crochet and handmade items.

Glewa Smith will have paintings; Brenda Perryman of Matador will feature hand crafted items, Princess Gruben of Tulia will have dolls, wood worked items and quilts; and Inez Kiser will have dolls and handmade items. Other exhibitors include Ronda McCain of Lockney and she will have soft sculpture and ceramics. Anne Carthel of Floydada will have candles, needlework items and needle working supplies. Also exhibiting will be Janet Lloyd and Terri Nelson of Floydada.

There are still about 20 booths available for those who would like to exhibit items for sale at the bazaar. The booths are all six by eight feet and the cost is $15.00 for a wall booth and $10.00 for a booth in the middle of the room.

Kinard and Holt compete in Miss Mackenzie Pageant

This past weekend the twelfth annual Miss Mackenzie Pageant was held in Silverton and Lockney had two girls entered in the pageant. Heather Holt and Sherre Kinard of Lockney entered and though they were not selected as winners both girls were selected for the top five finalists.

"Nights on Broadway" was the theme for the pageant and in the opening sequence all the contestants dressed in white shirts, black pants, bow ties, and top hats. They carried canes and sang, with Mrs. Anne Davidson of Silverton providing the accompaniment.

Heather and Sherre, along with all the other contestants were judged in sportswear, a formal outfit, and also on appearance, poise, and personality.

The top five contestants were each asked a question. Heather's question dealt with her biggest concern in world problems. She answered that nuclear war and the anomosity between world countries were her largest concern.

Sherre answered a question that asked what the advantages and disadvantages were to living in a small community. She said that being able to know everyone and have many friends was the advantage and when asked about a disadvantage she answered that there was not much opportunity to meet people from other countries in small towns.

Heather is the 18 year old daughter of Kenneth and Jackie Lou Holt of Lockney, and attends Lockney High School. Besides being a cheerleader, she is also a member of the National Honor Society, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the FFA, and student council, and is active in her church, and the 4-H. She is planning to major in pharmacy after graduating from high school.

Sherre is the 16 year old daughter of Sharon and Roy Kinard of Lockney. She is the high school twirler, a member of FFA, and 4-H. She is planning to attend Texas Tech for four years and then apply to law school.

This Week

QUARTERBACK CLUB

The Lockney Quarterback Club will meet Tuesday night, October 29 at 7:00 p.m. in the ag building.

PTA MEMBERS

The PTA will be having a cake walk at the cub scout Halloween carnival and all parents are asked to bring your goodies to the cafeteria about 6:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 26. Any questions may be directed to Virginia Stapp at 652-2637.

JUNIOR CLASS

Members of the Lockney High School junior class are selling chances to win a handmade wooden bench, made by Joe Nance. Tickets are $1.00 each and may be purchased from any junior class member. The drawing for the bench will be at halftime of the Lockney-Ralls football game on November 8. Funds raised from the selling of tickets will go toward the 1986 junior-senior banquet and prom.

PTA MEETING

The Lockney PTA will meet at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday night, October 29 at the Lockney Elementary Cafeteria. Featured speaker at the meeting will be officer Royce Williams of the Lubbock Police Department. His program will be entitled "Child Safety" and all parents and teachers are urged to attend this meeting.

CHECK OUR ADS SHOP AT HOME

HOUSING APPLICATIONS

Applications for the newly constructed Lockney Housing Authority units are being accepted on Wednesdays from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the office of Linda Lemons, 108 North Main Street. She asks that anyone interested in applying for one of the units come by the office at the specified time.

In times like these... By Mary Jo Fielding

Few New Yorkers are neutral about "Tilted Arc," a huge rust-brown wall of steel curving up out of Federal Plaza in lower Manhattan like a sullen fence. Some like it, others find Richard Serra's 77 ton, 120-foot long sculpture intimidating. Many pedestrians who are forced to detour around the $175,000 structure call it a waste of taxpayers' money and want it torn down.

It is the most controversial of more than 250 sculptures, murals and craft-works commissioned for federal buildings by the General Services Administration in the past two decades. Total cost over the years: about 7 million dollars.

Many of the works from Carmen Quinto Plunkett's Indian wood carvings in Haines, Alaska to Alexander Calder's towering sculpture "Flamingo" in Chicago are widely acclaimed. Crowds still line up in the courtyard of the federal building in Charlotte Amalie, Virgin Islands, to see Ned Smyth's "Reverend Grove"—a fountain sculpture symbolic of a tranquil oasis shaded by palms.

New York's "Tilted Arc" has pushed into focus the problem of matching public art with public taste. Its fate will be decided soon by the GSA which is awaiting the possibility of an alternate site.

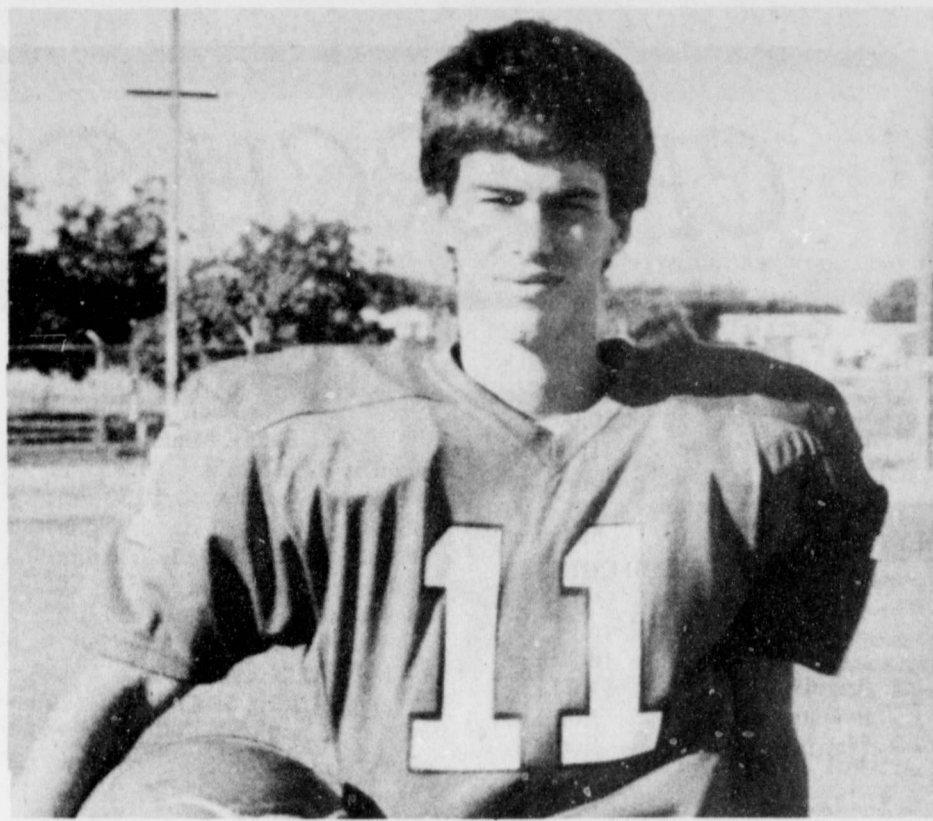

Over all, response has been favorable to the government's attempts to brighten federal buildings.

Tutorial program offered

Tutorial classes are being offered at Lockney High School on Monday through Thursday mornings from 7:45-8:30 and in Lockney Junior High on Tuesday through Thursday mornings from 7:45-8:30. The purpose of tutorials is to provide additional direct instruction and other assistance for students who are experiencing difficulty succeeding in the regular classroom.

Tutorial services in combination with effective classroom instruction should enable students to be more successful because of the increase in time on task, the provision of intensive student-teacher interaction, and more active student participation in small learning groups.

Any student is encouraged to attend tutorial sessions, but the program shall be targeted at students scoring below 70 or in jeopardy of scoring below 70 in a course or subject.

MONTY MEANS (#11) is the son of Mike and Cindy Means. He has played football and tennis for three years. Monty is 5'9" and weighs 145 lbs. He plays tight end. Monty is presently a senior at LHS.

School District plans adult education class

The Lockney Independent School District would like to start adult education classes which would include G.E.D. certification, and English speaking and writing skills.

Before these classes can be offered at least fourteen people must enroll. Also those conducting the classes need to know the best times and days to hold these classes.

There will be a meeting to determine if there is enough interest, and if so, the days and times for the classes will be set. This meeting is to be held on November 4 at 7:00 p.m. in room 108 at Lockney Junior High. Those interested in taking any of the adult education classes should be at this meeting or should contact Terry Ellison at the junior high at 652-2236.

These classes are open to anyone.

Care Center Capers

The bus ride was cancelled due to Columbus Day being a holiday. Instead we walked down memory lane. Mary Jo Fielding lead the group with playing the records all afternoon. Everyone was somewhat disappointed in the bus trip, but enjoyed the memory lane of the sixties records.

Mr. Henry Merrell has been busy this week helping the activities director, Helen Pigg with wheelchair residents. Thank you Henry for your assistance.

The Christmas in October by the West Side Church of Christ was held October 12. The residents and staff want to thank the church and their members for their generosity and thoughtfulness.

Boss's Day was celebrated October sixteenth with refreshments and flowers for boss Laverne Munoz, along with department heads Alice Leal and Tina Nuncio, who were recognized as boss's at the employee meeting on Wednesday.

Mr. Robert C. Webb of the volunteer fire department, showed fire safety films, talked about fire codes, evacuation procedures and instructed staff on the use of fire extinguishers.

Mrs. Roxie Workman returned home from the hospital on Saturday. It is nice to have her home.

Saturday, October 19, Mrs. Bertie Bradley was guest of honor at her 99th birthday party. Mrs. Bradley's family and friends treated residents and staff to cake, ice cream, and punch. Ninety nine years is something to celebrate. Can you imagine the changes she has lived through, from horse and buggy to flights to the moon. Congratulations and love from all of us to Bertie.

When Lefty Let Fatty Have It

By Pastor Travis Curry

"And Ehud put forth his left hand, and took the dagger from his right thigh, and thrust it into his belly; and the haft also went in after the blade; and the fat closed upon the blade, so that he could not draw the dagger out of his belly; and the dirt came out." —Judges 3:21,22.

This is the story of Ehud, the second of thirteen judges that delivered Israel from the hands of their enemies under the direction of God and because of God's persistent grace. This is the story of when "Lefty Let Fatty Have It."

Judges 3:15 gives us some unusual information about this man called Ehud: "But when the children of Israel cried unto the Lord, the Lord raised them up a deliverer, Ehud the son of Gera, a man left-handed." The only thing that seems to have especially qualified this man as a deliverer was the fact that he was left-handed. Immediately it is brought to our attention that what might have been a curse was the thing that was made into a blessing. Ehud was a southpaw, a man left-handed.

As he grew up no doubt he heard the other kids telling him, "You do it all wrong. You're using the wrong hand."

When Ehud came to Eglon in his summer parlor, it is quite likely that Eglon saw the dagger strapped to his right thigh for it was eighteen inches long. Perhaps he thought, "This poor fool has his weapon hung on the wrong side!" But that was the undoing of Eglon.

You see Ehud was no average man; he was an unusual man. He worked and worked until he was like the other Benjaminites of Judges 20:16. "Among all this people there were 700 chosen men left-handed; every one could sling stones at an hair breadth, and not miss."

Left-handed men are unusual men. God uses unusual men. God's people are to be peculiar people; they are to be unusual people. There is a need today as there was a need in that day for:

1. Some Davids who will not be content tending sheep.
2. Some Shamgars who can take a simple ox goad and slay 600 men.
3. Some Daniels who will not defile themselves with the King's meat.
4. Some Isaiahs who will answer God's call saying, "Here am I Lord, send me."
5. Some Johns who will outrun the other disciples to the gravesite of Jesus.

Why was the Apostle Paul so useful to God? He was not an average man; he was an unusual man.

Paul said, "I profited in the Jew's religion above many mine equals in mine own nation, being exceeding zealous of the traditions of my fathers." He was unusual before he was ever saved.

If there is one thing that is needful for today, it is this; it is for our young men and young women to say, "I will not be normal; I will not be average; I will not be plain Jane; I will not be just another Bill Smith."

We need some people to determine that by God's grace, they will be real Christians. Real Christians make the best workers. A Christian carpenter is the best carpenter; a Christian painter is the best painter; a Christian salesman is the best salesman.

There's not a prize worth having that is not worth fighting for. There is not a crown worth wearing that is not worth working for. Christians—left-handed men—to the work. Remember the result: the Moabites were subdued and the land had rest for 80 years.

Public forum slated Oct. 3

A public forum on the water amendment appearing on the November 5 ballot will be held at 8 p.m. October 30 in the Home Economics building auditorium on the Texas Tech University campus.

State Sen. John T. Montford, who sponsored the original legislation, will speak on the bill. Appearing with Montford will be representatives from the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1; the Water Resources Center at Texas Tech; the City of Lubbock; the Chamber of Commerce; the League of Women Voters; and the Audubon Society.

Speakers will give both pros and cons of the amendment.

Dr. Idris R. Traylor Jr., director of the Texas Tech International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Land Studies (ICASALS), said, "We are trying to present a comprehensive and objective evaluation of the water proposition to better inform the public about the strengths and weaknesses of this bill."

The public forum is sponsored by ICASALS, the Water Resources Center and the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1.

The forum is open free to the public. For more information, contact Nancy Hood at (806) 742-2218.

Denim plant toured by coop representatives

On Monday, October 21, fifty-four employees and producers from the Lockney Coop left in a chartered bus for the American Cotton Growers Denim Plant at Littlefield.

The trip began at 9:00 a.m. when the chartered bus and Coop manager Delton Stone, in his van, left the Coop office for the Littlefield facility. The group arrived at the plant and were placed into groups of ten each. Each group was assigned a tour guide.

Just one of the many fascinating things viewed at the plant were the 360 weaving looms. Each of the looms can produce 100 yards of denim fabric in a 12 hour shift.

The group also saw the cotton go from the delivered bales, to the thread making process, through the dyeing, weaving, starching, shrinkage control, and final inspection of the finished product.

Coop manager Delton Stone said, "This is a very educational and fun-filled trip. It is interesting to see just where the cotton grown in this area goes. And the process itself is fascinating."

Tours through the denim plant can only be taken through groups that go through Cooperatives. Stone said, "Next year the Coop is planning to tour the cotton classing office and Plains Coop Oil Mill in Lubbock."

Making the trip to Littlefield were G.L. Hight, Delton and LaNell Stone, Lois and Lon Colvin, Johnny and Julie Dorman and April, Jon Lee and Joann Carthel, Curtis and Frankie Armstrong, Sandra Cummings, Charles and Molly Huffman, Ray and Lynda Gant, Royce and Robbie Latimer, Paul Schacht, Oliver and Linda Clark, J.D. Vincent, Larry Bramlett, and Joe Cunyus.

Also attending were James and Margie Ferguson, Alice Mitchell, Warren Mitchell, Jerry Ford, Ike Johnson, Jack and Myrtle Gibson, James and Nelda Morris, Juan and Frances DeLeon, Robert and Libby Delgado, Jerry and Barbara Cawley, Craig and Trudi Gilley, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Reynoga, Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Raisse, Wayne Bramlett, Edna Gilly, Richard and Yolanda Luna, Charles and Katherine Ball, and Mr. and Mrs. John T. Carthel.

PIONEER FAMILY—Mr. and Mrs. James Bearden of Roaring Springs, Christy Potts of Floydada and Brad Wilson of Floydada represent a pioneer family. The group will be on hand at the annual Ranch Day celebration at the Burleson Ranch Saturday, October 26.

Proper modules provide boon to

cotton farmers, gins

The development and rapid acceptance of the module builder is a vast improvement over the conventional cotton trailer for gathering and storing the harvested crop and provides potential benefits for both producers and ginners, says a cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. But the system has to be used properly, he cautioned.

"Properly used, moduling systems complete the mechanization of seed cotton handling from the stalk to the bale," said Dr. James R. Supak, the Extension specialist. They help maintain the quantity and quality of the seed cotton, increase efficiency of handling and ultimately reduce costs, he explained.

"These factors play an important role in determining the profitability of cotton production and ginning on the Texas High Plains," he said.

Supak stressed several considerations to help producers gain maximum benefit from their moduling systems.

The first is to make sure the plants are properly dried, either by a killing frost or use of desiccants, so that the cotton in the modules has only 8 to 12 percent moisture and less than four percent green leaf.

"Since the harvest season on the Plains is normally characterized by dry weather, many modules aren't covered with tarpaulins," the cotton agronomist said. Snow or rain on uncovered modules can endanger a larger volume of cotton than any given gin can handle before the moisture damages the lint and seed, he warned.

"For this reason, it is now recommended that all modules be tarped," he noted.

"To prevent moisture from rain or snow from penetrating the module, seed cotton has to be compressed uniformly during the moduling," he said. He recommended placing the last dump of cotton in the middle of the module to form a slightly rounded top that will permit better drainage of rain or snow.

ends of the module to reduce losses during transport, the Extension specialist said. "Forming a good module frequently takes more time than the machine operator is allowed when two or more strippers are assigned to a single module builder," he added.

Location and positioning of modules also is important. Modules should be on prepared sites that allow water to drain away from them and which are accessible to the truck-transporter.

Positioning with respect to existing roadways and adjacent modules should be in accordance with insurance requirements.

A north to south orientation of modules is generally preferred, as this reduces the amount of snow accumulations around the modules.

Morocco targeted

for export program

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block announced that a U.S. wheat offer to Morocco will be the sixth initiative under the U.S. Department of Agriculture's $2-billion export enhancement program.

Block said this initiative will give U.S. exporters the opportunity to sell up to 1.5 million tons of wheat, including a Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) bonus of wheat from CCC stocks. This bonus will enable exporters to respond to future wheat tenders at commercial prices in the Moroccan market.

In addition, a credit guarantee line has been authorized to Morocco under the Export Credit Guarantee Program (GSM-102) to help finance up to $150 million in wheat exports. Additional operational details for this credit line will be released by USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service.

The announcement and invitation for offers from exporters for the export enhancement initiative will be issued by the CCC's Kansas City Commodity Office in Kansas City, Missouri.

For further information call (202) 447-3224.

Cattle venereal

disease is a

growing problem

A venereal disease called trichomoniasis may be the cause of 20 to 40 percent reduction in calving rates, says a Texas Agricultural Extension Service livestock specialist. The disease is usually found in southern and western sections of the U.S. Infected bulls carry the disease on the prepuce and penis, so it is likely spread through contaminated semen. Infected bulls generally will not show signs of the disease but cows will show signs of vaginitis, cervicitis and endometritis. Once a cow becomes infected, she will remain infertile. While the disease can be diagnosed by a veterinarian, there is no vaccination program to control it.

I recommended the Heat Pump

...and this is the kind of thanks I get

Air conditioning and heating contractors are making a lot of friends by recommending a heat pump. People who take their advice appreciate the heat pumps economy, comfort, and cleanliness. And, considering the heat pump's long life and low maintenance, the contractor's and the customer's friendship will be a lasting one.
