GROWING FAST

Clyde Stapp looked Thursday at grass in front of the Energas-Beacon office and shook his head. "I just mowed this Monday; it's really growing," he observed.

We look for plenty more hot temperatures before summer bows out.

One of the busiest places in the community is the Caprock Industries, Inc., feedlot north of Lockney.

While visiting with Todd Allen, the personable manager, we liked what we saw in the way of activity. Most of us would be surprised at the amount of feed consumed in a year by the feedlot cattle.

Much has been said about farmers moving their commodities one step nearer to the producer. Feeding locally grown products through cattle is one way to accomplish this goal.

INFANT CARE TIP

Henry Wells, Wellington newspaper publisher and new dad for the first time, has received numerous infant care tips.

One of the best suggestions has to be the following:

"If you have tried everything and the baby is still crying late at night, put the baby in the baby carrier and put the baby carrier on top of the clothes dryer and turn it on. Remember, put the baby on top of, not inside, the dryer. The combination of warmth, vibration and noise just can't be resisted and they're asleep in no time. It's more efficient if you have some clothes to dry at the same time, but at 4 a.m. efficiency probably is not at the top of your list."

CHANGE OF OPINION

Two or three weeks ago we suggested that the Cowboys trade an unhappy Tony Dorsett for a premier offensive lineman plus a high draft choice with which to choose another prime offensive line candidate.

We've changed our minds a bit.

Still favoring the trade, we now believe the Cowboys needed a star linebacker to go along with the offensive lineman.

But Tex and Tom had better hurry and make their move because every time Tony D. opens his mouth, his value decreases.

SHE FOUND OUT

"Grandma," the little girl said, "How old are you?"

"Now, dear," the grandmother said, "you shouldn't ask people that question. Most grownups don't like to tell their age."

The following day, the girl had another question, "Grandma," she said, "how much do you weigh?"

"Oh, honey," the grandmother replied, "you shouldn't ask grownups how much they weigh. It isn't polite."

The next day the little girl was back with a big smile on her face. "I know how old you are, Grandma," she said. "You're 62. And you weigh 140 pounds."

"My goodness," the grandmother said. "How do you know?"

"You left your driver's license on the table," the girl said, "and I read it."

"So that's how you found out," the grandmother responded.

"That's right," the little girl said.

"And I also found out you flunked sex."

Dear Longhorn Fans,

This is an exciting week for the Longhorns! It is a week we have all been anxiously awaiting! For the past three weeks the Longhorns have been working out in two-a-days. We feel that this season will be a prosperous one for the Longhorns.

We would like for everyone to come out Friday night and support the guys. The game is here, and it starts at 8:00. We would like everyone to be here early, so we can make a BIG victory line.

Thanks for being such a supportive community to your youth! We appreciate you! Thanks, also, to Mr. Poole who is the most awesome cheerleader sponsor.

We hope ya'll all come out Friday night because we know this year will be

THE BEST EVER!!!

See ya Friday,

DPS advises truckers of recently enacted law

DPS License and Weight Service officers report they are encountering truckers who say they are unaware of a recently enacted Texas law.

S.B. 332, which became effective on January 1, 1986, requires that the name of the owner, operator or lessee of commercial vehicles with three or more axles be displayed on both sides of the vehicles. All truck-tractors also are included. The statute mandates lettering with a minimum height of two inches.

Cash prizes, Cowboy tickets offered in grid contest

Twenty dollars in cash prizes are being offered weekly in The Beacon's football contest and Longhorn booster page, which debuts in this issue and continues throughout the grid season.

First place winner each week earns $10. $6 goes to the second place finisher and the person placing third receives $4. Prizes will be split in the event of ties.

COWBOY TICKETS

A special feature of this year's contest will be two tickets to the Dallas Cowboys-Seattle Seahawks game on Thanksgiving Day to the season winner. This game will be played in Texas Stadium, near Dallas.

Contestants receive one point for each game in which they correctly predict the winner. The Cowboys tickets recipient will be the individual who compiles the greatest number of points. In order to remain in contention, it is important for persons to enter each week.

Every Beacon subscriber or individual buying a copy from the newsstand is eligible to compete. He/She should complete the official entry form and

Athena to host teacher tea Sunday

Members of the Athena Study Club of Lockney will host their annual meet the teachers tea on Sunday, September 7 from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. in the Lockney Junior High Library. Members of the community are invited to come by and meet the faculty of the Lockney school system.

A special guest at the tea will be Edythe Clark, a first grade teacher at Lockney Elementary School for the past 31 years, who recently announced her retirement.

Club members have stressed "we hold this tea each year so that members of the community have a chance to meet the teachers who will be working with their children throughout the year. We always have plenty of punch and cookies for every one who attends and this is a perfect opportunity for those in the community to meet the faculty of the Lockney school system. We have several new teachers this year and parents and residents of the Lockney area will have a chance to get to know these new teachers as well as those who have been teaching in Lockney in the past."

Among the new teachers to meet this year are Linda Kidd, Charlynn Burson, Nancy Henderson, Sandra Watson, Susan Crider, Shelley Brock, and Naomi Jones who are all new to the Lockney

Elementary School this year. Kidd, Burson, and Henderson have all worked in the Lockney school system in the past and are returning this year.

Virginia Fillinggin and Violet Cooper are new to the junior high building. Violet Cooper has been transferred to junior high from the elementary school and will be an aide in junior high.

New high school teachers include Cindy Belt, Nancy Ratcliff, and Tonda Jolly.

"This tea is open to the entire community and we would like to have everyone stop by and greet the teachers as they prepare for the upcoming school year," sponsors said.

1986 Lockney Longhorns

In times like these... By Mary Jo Fielding

It is the stalemate that matters. As Warsaw and Washington exchange unacceptable conditions for more normal ties, Poland sinks deeper into what one Warsaw-based diplomat calls "the Soviet morass."

Yet Poles continue to cope in historic fashion. Despite some 300 dissidents in prison, Poland still is the most politically active country in the Soviet bloc. Solidarity leader Lech Walesa remains free, he even takes press queries by phone. More than 500 underground papers are published, including the 30,000-circulation Fighting Solidarity. Some 3,000 persons turned out in June to dedicate a memorial to Father Jerzy Popieluszko, the radical priest murdered by police in 1984. The spirit of Solidarity is not only alive, it is not even hiding.

Poles generally are pro-American and even pro-Reagan. Trans-Atlantic ties are strong. Some 40,000 Poles visited relatives in America last year, and an equal number of Polish Americans traveled to Poland.

The Poles sense of humor endures. After the Soviet nuclear accident at Chernobyl the Polish government testily responded to a U.S. offer of powdered milk with a counter offer of 5,000 sleeping bags for New York's homeless. Whereupon Poles claimed to have found an ad in a Warsaw newspaper: "Have luxury four-room flat in Warsaw. Will trade for sleeping bag in New York."

Care Center Capers

Hello Everyone,

Well, it looks like fall has fell. This rainy weather has made us a bit sleepy. Mrs. Edna Hunter has tried to sleep through exercises, but we just keep nudging her!

E.M. Pyle brought us a movie about a baby dinosaur. We all thought it was so cute! Mrs. McDonald said she thought it looked just like a big ole dog. We all agreed we definitely would want it house broken before we would want one!

Next time you all visit take a look at the candy we've got. Its chocolate bars with almonds. Just a dollar a bar and its even got a Wendy's coupon on the wrapper. Most of all its delicious! Also we've got to be rid of it because, the more it sits around here, the more blimps appear! So please help us make it disappear, before it all goes to our rear!

We really appreciate Bessie Jackson being a super-saleslady if you don't believe ask the hospital staff!

The proceeds from the candy will go to the Care Center's activity fund!

Until next time,
Cinde Clark

Social Security News

By Terry J. Clements

Self-employed farmers have been earning Social Security credit since 1955. Under the law, a farm operator is a person who farms for profit, whether an owner-operator, partner, renter, or share farmer.

Although all members of a farm family may contribute to the operation of the farm, the person principally responsible for the farm operation is considered to be self-employed, and all income realized from the operation of the farm is credited to that person. In some cases, however, where members of a family operate the farm as a partnership, all can earn social security credits based on the farm income. The actual arrangement for Social Security purposes is determined by the facts in each case.

Farmers with net earnings of at least $400 a year receive Social Security credit for all net earnings up to $42,000 for 1986; this is the maximum amount on which Social Security taxes are paid. The tax rate for self-employed persons for 1986 is 14.3 percent; a 2 percent credit makes the effective tax rate 12.3 percent.

If a farmer earns wages from a job in addition to self-employment income, the wages are considered first in determining payment of Social Security taxes. For example, if he or she has income of $42,000 or more, there would be no tax payable on earnings from self-employment.

However, if the total wages are less than the maximum, the farmer is liable for the self-employment Social Security tax on the difference between the total wages and net earnings, up to the Social Security maximum.

Farmers with net earnings of $400 or more during a year must submit Form 1040 (U.S. Individual Income Tax Return), Schedule F (Farm Income and Expenses), and Schedule SE (Computation of Social Security Self-Employment Tax) to the Internal Revenue Service.

Additional information about Social Security and farm work can be obtained at the office at 1401-B West 5th street or call us at 293-9623.

DPS advises truckers

Failure to comply with the law is a Class C misdemeanor offense which is punishable by a maximum fine of $200.

Public utility vehicles, farm vehicles and trucks hauling timber in its natural state on the first movement are exempt from the statute.

DPS officials indicate that most tractor-trailer trucks were in compliance with the law before the effective date.

The statute should help persons identify trucks which leave the scene of an accident or illegally dump waste.

First National begins new feature

The First National Bank of Lockney will be beginning a new feature during the month of September. They will be having an artist of the month whose art works will be displayed in the bank lobby.

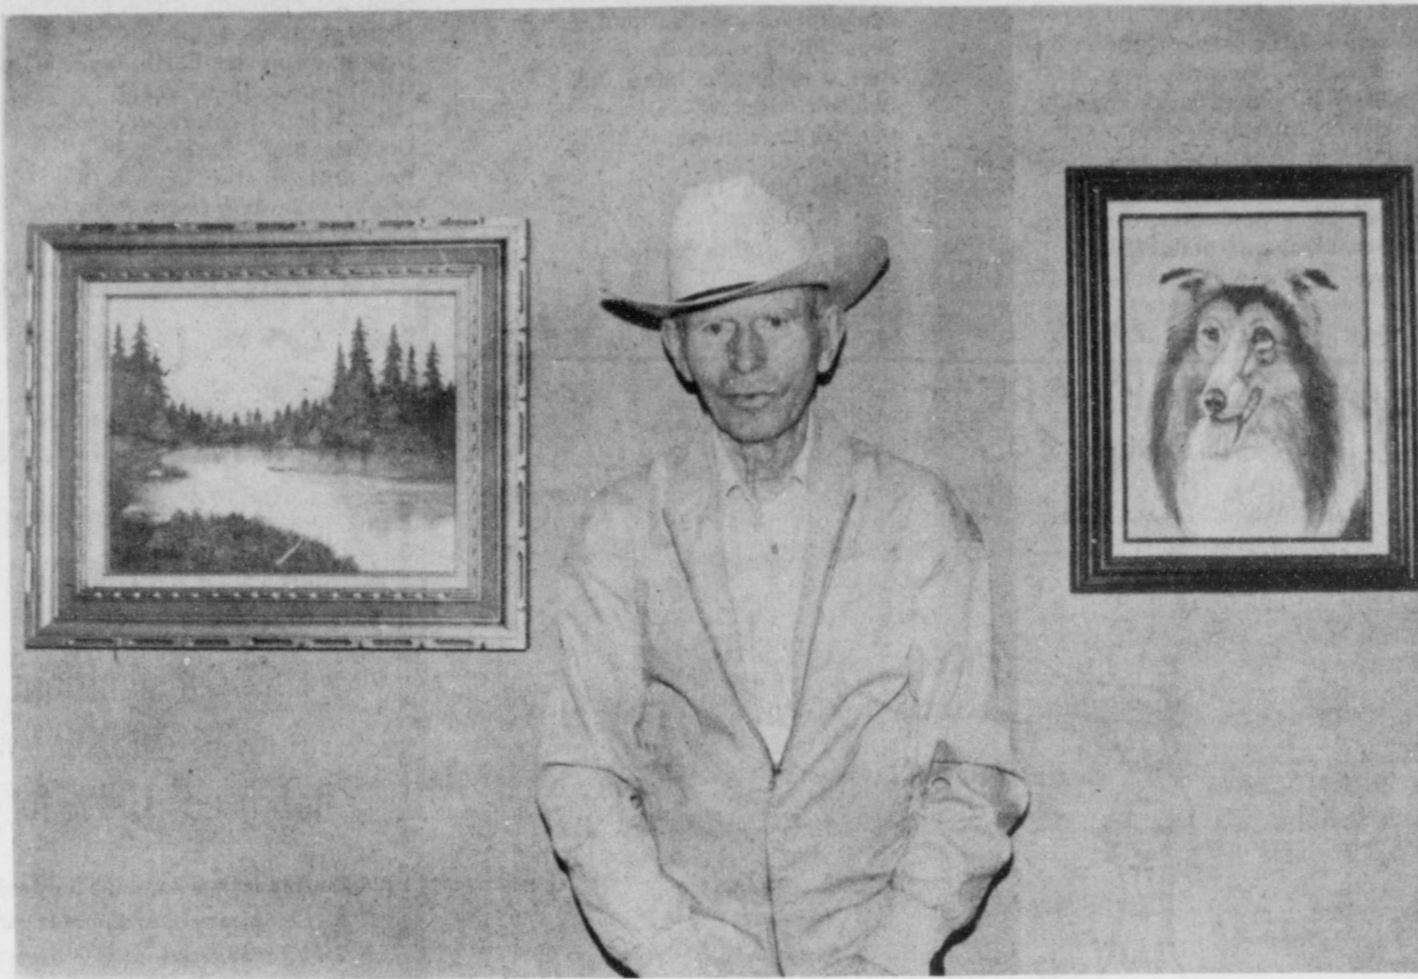

The first artist will be Lockneyite Frank Brown. Brown's paintings include western scenes, animals and various scenery. His paintings are in the bank and ready for viewing any day this month.

Brown said, "I paint just for the pleasure of it. I have never sold a painting and don't intend to. I find it hard to put a price on my work so I either keep the paintings or I give them to friends."

Brown, who is almost 76 years old has been painting for the past three years. He began taking lessons from Mrs. Elfie Sherman after his daughter and sister-in-law encouraged him. "After I retired I had to find something to do. I don't really like T.V. so I took up painting. I like to paint and it takes about 10 to 20 hours to complete a painting."

Brown commented he is especially drawn to western art. "My father and grandfather were in the farming and livestock business and I followed in their footsteps and am really interested in western art, but I like to paint everything."

In addition to painting, Brown has another hobby. He makes wire puzzles for friends and neighbors. "These puzzles are really therapeutic for those who are having health problems or who truly remark, "Only 3 1/2 months until freedom." That of course, would allude to the Christmas holidays.

Short as it seemed, summer vacation is gone.

LEARNING EARLY

"Kids say the darndest things," Art Linkletter said. He could have added that they learn early.

Justin Reeves is a prime example.

The two-year-old was "driving" his toy truck (about the size of a tricycle) around in his backyard as his mom, Stacy, kept a watchful eye through the window.

She observed that Justin "drove up to" a window in the garage and said, as if ordering at a drive-in, "I'll have a hamburger, fries and a Coke."

HOW MANY GRANDCHILDREN

Who in Floyd County has the greatest number of grandchildren? How about great-grandchildren?

If you think you're in the running for this honor — or know of someone who is — please give us a call at The Hesperian. Better yet, come in and tell us personally.

DIFFERENT CHEESE

A man just finished a meal in an Italian restaurant. On his way out he told the manager that the veal parmigians was better than he had eaten on a recent trip to Italy.

"Of course," said the manager, "Over there they use domestic cheese. Here we use imported!"

Back-to-school trek means greater caution

Vacation is almost over for the children. This means "back to school." For the motoring public this means "we should prepare ourselves for the back to school traffic," according to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Major V. J. Cawthon, regional commander of the DPS in Lubbock, says, "Every year as school starts we have a rash of accidents caused by drivers not watching out for children on their way to and from school."

"When you see children walking on the side of the road or waiting for a school bus, reduce your speed in case a child darts into the street in front of you. When children get together they tend to get excited and even though they know better, will run into the street without looking," Major Cawthon explains.

Whether meeting or following a school bus, state law requires all drivers to stop and remain stopped when the bus has activated its alternating flashing red lights while loading or unloading children. A motorist cannot start again until the flashing red lights are no longer activated or the bus driver signals you to proceed.

"Be especially watchful in school zones as this is where students will be congregated," advises Cawthon. "Extra effort on a driver's part will pay off in preventing traffic accidents in these areas."

Coach's Corner

By Bob Purser

As we prepare to begin the 86 season against Ralls this Friday night, many things stand out from the two weeks of scrimmages. We have had good leadership from the senior class, in both scrimmages we made many mistakes but the New Deal scrimmage showed us that we could come back from adversity and play with reckless abandon as the Longhorns of the past have.

We have been saddled with many key injuries, most of those have come at the fullbacks and linebacker positions. We believe we can overcome these in the next week if everyone works at rehabilitation.

It seems as if it was only last week when we played our last home game of 85. We begin 86 as we ended 85 at home against Ralls. The Jackrabbits have shown well in their first two scrimmages and we will certainly have our hands full Friday night. Please be there and support the Horns Friday night. There will be no J.V. game the first two weeks of the season because neither Ralls or Petersburg have J.V. teams.

The Horns of 86

Junior varsity scrimmage shows strong defense

The Lockney Longhorn J.V. scrimmaged New Deal last Thursday. Although the scored ended 0-0, it was an exciting tussle with several big plays by the Longhorn defense. Neither team came close to scoring as the defenses are ahead of the offenses at this time.

With time and extra practice the makings are there for another stalwart J.V. eleven as the Horns try to accomplish the unprecedented feat of a trio of consecutive J.V. championships. As of this writing the initial contest for the young Horns will be September 18th at Seagraves. Coach Mickey Crowe stated, "The two weeks off will give us time to work on some things we need to improve on. Defensively we need to work on pass coverage and offensively our passing game needs some polish. But in time these Horns will be a very competitive crew."

Any local residents above the age of 7 except employees of the Beacon may enter. Three cash prizes are given each week - ties will split prize money. Members of the sports department are sole judges of the contest and their decision is final.

It is not necessary to indicate scores on all the games...But total score (scores of both teams) of the tie breaker must be indicated at right.

Simply circle the team you choose to win in each of the footballs. Deadline for submitting entries is 5 p.m. Friday - winners will be announced the following week. Enter one entry per person per week, print name and address plainly on blank below and mail or bring entire page to the Beacon office.

Tie breaker game will be considered only in case of ties.

Thanks, Lockney!
