

Moisture floods area

According to an old adage, West Texas has an annual rainfall of 20 inches and "Boy you should have been there the day it fell."

That was never more true than last week in Floyd County.

Moisture totals ranged from four and three tenths inches up to eleven inches over the middle portion of Floyd County.

Herman Graham at Muncy Elevator reported only 4 and three tenths inches at his location, however water ran from north of Muncy to the lake which spans Highway 70 and as of early this week Highway 70 remains closed to through traffic from Lockney to Muncy. Traffic is being detoured south of town and comes out at the elevator.

Graham reported that he does not remember the water ever being on the highway since he has lived at Muncy. He moved there in 1959.

He commented, "The water has quit running across the road and is now just standing on the highway. I would guess that it is probably about two feet deep in the road."

Both northwest and southwest of Lockney rainfall totals reported to the Beacon are between six and seven just over seven inches of rain fell last week in his area. Farmers are now trying to find ways of removing water standing on maize and cotton crops. One farmer was going to try opening an abandoned well Monday afternoon to drain standing water off of his maize crop to try to save at least a portion of the crop.

SHEEP LOST

One of the hardest hit Lockney area farmers was Bruce Williams, who in addition to having much of his farm land flooded by rain water, lost his entire herd of sheep. "I spent all day Thursday trying to move the sheep but there was so much water that I could not get the sheep out and all but one of them drowned," commented Williams. Williams also went out in a boat to the area and found his sheep dog, a Great Pyerenes, literally hanging by her head in one of the trees under which the sheep had gathered. Mrs. Williams said, "We took the dog to the vet and got her shots and she seems to be doing farm equipment. On Monday morning the two tractors which were near the diesel tank at the bottom of the lake were almost totally covered by water. By Friday afternoon the cabs of both tractors were visible but the bodies of the vehicles were still under water. Williams said Monday that the shoreline of the lake had receded about two feet.

Williams said, "I have seen seven to nine inches of rainfall and the lake has never had this much water in it. Then we did not even have good lake water."

One of the hardest hit areas in general was the community of South Plains. Many farmers and residents of the area have reported over 11 inches of rain and Beacon staff members can personally report that Friday afternoon South Plains looked like a "giant lake with a very small town in the middle."

Many homes at South Plains were hard hit by the storm which reported. knocked out windows, and many were standing in water that was nearly inside homes. Friday afternoon the home of Nathan Johnson had water lapping the porch, especially when cars drove by on the highway.

Other homeowners and vehicle own ers reported that hailstones, about four inches across, hit and knocked out windows and caused considerable damage to crops.

The South Plains office of the Lockney Cooperatives reported that Friday morning there were about 18 inches of water standing inside the gin building and the 22 foot deep press pit below the gin was also full. Monday morning Lon Colvin reported that they had managed to pump all but about four inches of water out of the gin building.

Friday afternoon one South Plains area resident was reportedly looking for a pair of hip wading boots so that he could walk in to his house which was standing in water.

Reports from most of the residents and farmers in the south portion of the South Plains community blamed the railroad for the standing water. There are no bridges under the railway that runs through the community, there are only two small culverts and they were not carrying the water fast enough to drain the flood waters off of the saturated land.

SOME PEOPLE THRIVE ON MISERIES OF OTHERS

What ever happened to the old West Texas tradition of helping a neighbor in need? Most people still practice that unwritten law as loyally as ever, but a few others seem to help themselves at the expense of others.

How many times have we read and heard of looters working overtime during a disaster such as a tornado? It happened in Lubbock, but I never figured to see it happen in Floyd County.

According to people who witnessed the situation, theft of this nature -- on a smaller scale -- did occur here.

Pumpkins which were being grown -and sold -- south of Lockney were floating in a lake following the Thursday "flood." We're told that certain persons were helping themselves to the pumpkins.

From this viewpoint, the folks who grew the commodity had enough misfortune without persons stealing from them. If they ever needed to sell a pumpkin, this would appear to be the time.

In times like these... By Mary Jo Fielding

When the U.S. began installing missiles in Western Europe in late 1983, the Soviets stomped out of the Geneva arms negotiations for 16 months. Nonetheless the Soviet SS-20s and the U.S. Pershings I'ls and cruise missiles in Europe do not play a central part in either superpower's nuclear strategy. They are important less as weapons than as political symbols and in that role they have largely outlived their usefulness.

The menace of the Soviet SS-20s failed to scare West European nations out of their alliance with the U.S. On the contrary they prompted NATO allies to face down hysterical opposition from domestic peace movements and allow U.S. missiles to be placed on their soil as a counterweight to the Soviet launchers. By carrying through the deployment, the U.S. made its point: it would defend it's allies.

Now it can sacrifice most of the missiles without loss, particularly since the original purpose of installing them was to persuade the Soviets to scrap most of the SS-20s. Ironically, West European leaders no longer embrace the "zero option" once favored by both Reagan and Gorbachev. Having incurred great political risks to get the cruises and Pershings deployed, European governments want to keep at least some as a sign of American determination to protect their countries from attack.

community, the northern half of Floyd County escaped extensive crop hail damage suffered in the southern half of the county and in several other South Plains locations.

Hailstones measuring 31/2 to 4 inches in length fell last Wednesday on the Sterling Cummings place, west of South Plains. The Cummings placed several of the larger stones in a deep freeze.

The large hail "didn't last very long."

Other producers in that area also suffered crop damage.

Apparently the "worst of the storm" started 21/2 to 3 miles east of Sterley.

Windows reportedly were knocked from homes around South Plains.

Hailstones fell in Lockney both Monday and Wednesday of last week, but damage to either crops of residences was not believed to be severe.

However, the lack of hail was small consolation for producers who saw several inches of "untimely" rain fall on their crops. The effects in both yield and quality loss may never be fully known.

Hail inflicted damage to crops in the southern half of Floyd County last Wednesday. Harmony community was particularly hard hit, according to reports. Losses also were noted at other sites west, south and east of Floydada. One report from Petersburg told of hailstones "four inches in diameter."

Faces grew longer by the hour last week as residents helplessly watched rain continue to fall. It was triggered by 'remnants from a "tropical disturbance" or hurricane and the simultaneous passing of a "front."

With cotton and grain both needing maturity time and some corn yet unharvested, farmers are desperately hoping for several weeks of "open weather.'

Rain measures in this area amounted to several inches, although reports varied.

Another week has come and gone, taking with it the month of September.

Monday the 29th. Today we went on a bus trip. First we went to McDonald's in Plainview to get some ice cream cones and cokes. They sure were delicious. Then we headed to Providence to the farm of Virgil and Ester Brashers to pick up some pumpkins. There were so many to choose from. We had to hurry though because it started to pour. We got some really big ones and darling little ones. Thank you Mr. and Mrs. for our first taste of Fall.

Tuesday was "Cookie Day." The residents got a chance to go into the dining room and fix some cookie dough from their favorite recipes. They came out tasting so good. We knew they would because even the raw dough was divine.

Wednesday our first day of October brought with it more sweets in the form of a resident birthday party. We had cake and punch. I believe that with all of this eating we've been doing we are going to be roly-poly's pretty soon. Friday we played Bingo and had so much fun. That evening the Caprock Pickers came and played for us. They didn't let all that rain scare them off. Just about all of the residents attended. Our lobby was full and some of us were lined up in the halls. There was such a high attendance. The music and singing was so grand, they brought back so many memories to all. There was lots of hand clapping and foot stomping. It was

Horns of the Week

JOHNNY SILVA, a senior at Lockney High, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Silva. Johnny plays the positions of tackle and defensive end for the 1986-87 Longhorns. He wears the number 74 and is 5'9" in height, weighs 180 pounds. Johnny is one tough guy and through his years, he has made outstanding tackles for the Longhorn team. We wish him the best of luck in his last year. Go Get 'Em Johnny "Sly" Silva!

I thought Friday night's win against Muleshoe was probably our best effort of the year. I was extremely proud of the way all of our young men played and the level of intensity with which they played.

It has always been difficult to get back up after playing Floydada in the past. Considering that and the fact that Muleshoe was undefeated, gave us good reason for concern as a coaching staff.

There were many key plays in the game and I really thought the kicking game made the difference. Joe Torrez and Ben Schuster did an excellent job of kicking the ball and our coverage was the best it has been to this point.

I was also very proud of the way Jimmy Ballejo handled the guarterbacking responsibilities. Steven Cates has a deep thigh bruise and is doing much better, but Jimmy really did a fine job for his first complete game at quarterback. For this he was chosen back of the week. Joining him with recognition were Lupe Basaldua as offensive lineman of the week, David Rodriguez as forcing unit player of the week, and Joe Torrez, who had two big interceptions and a fumble recovery, as the secondary player of the week.

Special teams player of the week was Glen Hardin, who did a great job of ## covering kicks and the big hit of the week went to Dickie Hernandez and Joe Torrez. The MOE of the week went to three players, David Rodriguez, Joe Torrez, and Jimmy Ballejo. Again I thought it was a great team effort with all the Longhorns contributing greatly to the win.

This week we begin that time of the year when things become a little more intense and a little more serious, as we begin district play against Springlake-Earth. They have shown to be very talented with one of the leading rushers on the South Plains in Jerry Spenser, an excellent running back.

I think last Friday was another example of how important a role our fans and cheerleaders can play in a ball game. I want you to know that in successful programs around the state there is always a group of people who get greatly involved in the game.

I would like for us to be known for that. When you attend a game, get involved and play hard and I'll promise you, you can make a difference. Many thanks for all your support to this point, let's keep it up and all contribute to making '86 something special.

The Horns were in a fourth down situation and were 33 yards from the goal line. # Horns post third win of '86 season

Friday night in Lockney the Horns the handoff from Ballejo and traveled against undefeated Muleshoe by a score of 21 to 6.

This week Lockney will open district play against the Springlake-Earth Wolverines, in Earth, and this week game times change to 7:30 p.m.

The Horns came out in top form Friday night and did not let up the whole game.

In the first quarter Lockney's Steven Cates intercepted the first of three passes the Mules lost to Lockney. Lockney's first scoring drive also came in the first quater of the game.

With about six minutes left in the first quarter Lockney's Jimmy Ballejo returned a punt to the Horns 41 yard line motion. Clay Harrison took the handoff on the first play and quickly yellow flags covered the field as a facemask penalty was called on the Mules. Matt Mitchell took the next handoff and covered three vards and Dickie Hernandez was called

With third-and-one Mitchell was again called on to carry the ball. He scampered to the Mules 46 yard line but a penalty on Lockney brought the ball back to the Horns 40. Three plays later the Horns were forced to punt but the and Lupe Basaldua came up with the ball. Once again the Horns were in Lockney brought the play back. possession and this time on the Mules 29 yard line. A big penalty on the of the third quarter clock. posted their third win of the 1986 season across the goalline for the Horns first touchdown of the game. Ben Schuster booted the extra point and the Horns were up by seven.

The second scoring drive for the Horns came with just about six minutes left in the half. Jimmy Ballejo returned a Mule punt to the Horns 34 yard line.

Matt Mitchell took the first handoff of the series and moved the Horns five yards closer to the goalline. An incomplete pass on the second down play left the Horns with third-and-five. Javier Bernal took the handoff on the next play and ran down the field and put the Horns in a first down situation on the Mules 37 yard line.

Mitchell again took the first handoff and the first scoring drive was in and moved two yards closer to the goalline and Allen Stallings took the second handoff another two yards. An incomplete pass on the third down play, seemly put the Horns in punting position. However, such was not the case. The ball was snapped and handed on to carry on the second down play. off to Todd Hallmark who ran down the sideline and crossed the goalline and scored the Horns second TD of the night. Schuster again booted the extra point and at the half the Horns were in the lead 14 to 0.

In the third quarter a quarterback Mules punt returner dropped the ball keeper by Ballejo was apparently a touchdown until a holding penalty on

This drive began on the 8:15 showing Horns on the Mules 39 yard line. Three plays later Javier Bernal took Mitchell took the first handoff and gained four yards for the Lockney team and Jimmy Ballejo took an option keeper on the second down play and gained a first down for the Horns on the opponents 25 yard line. Mitchell took the handoff and moved the Horns three yards closer to the goalline and the second down play was the keeper by Ballejo which was called back.

After the play was brought back and the penalty stepped off, Lockney was forced with a second-and-14 on the Muleshoe 14 yard line. An incomplete pass to Todd Hallmark seemingly put Lockney with a third down but a penalty on Muleshoe moved the Horns to the Mules 7 yard line and a first down. Two plays later Ballejo again took the option keeper and scampered across the goalline for the Horns third and final touchdown of the game. Schuster booted the extra point and Lockney lead by a score of 21 to 0.

The Mules only touchdown came in the third quarter with just 2:34 left and their two point conversion try was no good. No one scored in the fourth Lockney quarter and the final score was Lockney 21 and Muleshoe 6.

The Man Who Is Best Worth Talking About

"The Man Christ Jesus" I Tim 2:5

By Ray Starnes

If I were attempting to give you a full exposition of the text, I would have to speak of Him as both God and Man. But I wish to keep your thoughts fixed upon The Man. It is a well-worn subject. It ought to be stale by this time, if such a thing were possible. The world has been discussing Him for over nineteen hundred years, and still the subject is fresh. The world never gets tired of it. For there is surely nothing in the world so well worth thinking of as This Man. And most of us believe that there will be nothing in the future world so well worth looking at as His face. He is the only human form on which the thoughts can dwell and the eyes can gaze forever without growing weary. And if you ever get weary when the preacher is talking about Him, it is not because you have had too much of Him, but because the preacher does not understand his business, and gives you too much of his own, dull, commonplace self.

First, this Man, Christ Jesus is our religion. If you want to find out what Christianity is in its simplest and largest meaning, you have only to find out what this Man Said and did and was. There is no need to commit to memory long creed. No need to puzzle your minds with the discussions and contentions which are going on between churches, denominations and theologians. These matters only touch the fringe of the thing. The substance and essence of Christianity are Christ. Just get Him into your hearts and minds, and you have got all that you need... If you ask me who is a Christian, and what makes a Christian, I know no answer which goes to the heart of the question except this. No use telling me that he has been baptized, confirmed, joined a church, that he holds certain views, opinions, doctrines, that he is marked and certified as orthodox. That no more makes a Christian than the tailor and the hairdresser make a man. A Christian is one who believes thoroughly in the Man Christ Jesus, who makes this Man Christ Jesus the master of his thoughts, the guide of his actions, the judge of his daily life, who loves and obeys and adores This Man above everything else, and who tries in his own poor way to make his own life a little like that of His Master. There is no definition of a Christian which will bear examination except that. Christianity means looking to This Man, and learning of Him, setting your affection Upon Him, and doing as He bids. Christianity is Christ. Hold Him with a firm hand, and then it does not matter much what else you hold. And if you are tired of trying to find God by reasoning and are not even sure of His existence, fix your eyes upon the Man Christ Jesus, then you will see the face of God slowly shaping itself there.

If you are dissatisfied with the church and religious people, if you find them full of imperfections---well! Forget them and look at The Man; you will find no failings in Him. Now, ask yourself this question. "Am I sick of my sins and tired of being defeated?" Turn to this Man, He pities, forgives, and stretches out saving hands to help. If you want to live a better life, there is the better life In Him, and He will lift you up to it. No matter what you are, or where you are, or what you feel and think the sight of This Man will be a strength, comfort, and inspiration, and shining light. All that anyone needs in this life and the next life to come is, "The Man Who Is Best Worth Talking About," "The Man Christ Jesus".

New tax reform measures outlined

For farmers as well as other Americans, the tax reform bill currently will have major impacts. Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, summarizes the significant changes that will result from the legislation.

-The tax reform bill would provide tax rates of 15 and 28 percent beginning in 1988. In 1987, there would be five tax rates-11, 15, 28, 35 and 38.5 percent.

-Standard deduction for a joint return would be increased to $5,000 in 1988, and the personal exemption would be raised to $1,900 in 1987, $1,950 in 1988 and $2,000 in 1989.

-Income averaging and the deduction for a two-earner married couple would be repealed.

-State and local sales taxes would no longer be deductible as itemized deductions.

-Deductions for IRA contributions would be repealed for joint filers with adjusted gross income in excess of $50,000.

-About 80 percent of all farmers would be in the 15 percent bracket.

-For farm corporations, tax reform retains a graduated tax rate structure with a top rate of 34 percent. The tax rate would be 15 percent on the first $50,000 of taxable income, 25 percent on taxable income between $50,000 and $75,000, and 34 percent for taxable income about $75,000.

-Investment tax credit would be repealed. Only 65 percent (82.5 percent in 1987) of unused investment tax credits could be carried forward. Farmers earning 50 percent or more of their gross income from farming would be allowed a 15-year carryback of existing investment tax credits. The amount available for refund would be limited to the lower of (1) 50 percent carryovers,

(2) the taxpayer's net tax liability for the past 15 years, or (3) $750.

-The Accelerated Capital Cost Recovery System depreciation would be retained with modifications. Autos, light trucks and most livestock would be depreciable over a seven-year period. Single-purpose agricultural structures would also be written off over a seven-year period. Deductions for most farm assets would be computed using a 200 percent declining balance method. Multi-purpose farm structures would be written off over a 31-1/2-year period at a straight-line rate. The option to expense up to $5,000 would be increased to $10,000 for businesses which invest less than $200,000 per year. Depreciation deductions would not be adjusted for inflation.

-The exclusion for long-term capital gains would be eliminated, and capital gains would be taxed at rates of 15 or 28 percent. Farmers could continue to use the cash method of accounting with some limits. A restriction is that taxpayers could not deduct amounts paid for feed, seed, fertilizer or other supplies prior to the year consumed if they exceed more than 50 percent of expenses for which economic performance has occurred.

-The bill would require the capitalization of preproductive expenditures for assets with a development period of more than two years. However, farmers could elect to continue deducting preproductive period expenditures, including interest. If such an election were made, however, gains from sales of developed assets would be taxed as ordinary income to the extent of prior deductions. Straight-line depreciation also would be required on all depreciable farm property.

-Expensing for soil and water conservation expenditures would be allowed only for conservation activities in connection with a plan approved by the USDA's Soil Conservation Service or a comparable state authority. The provision for expensing land-clearing

Cotton industry can't let up'

Even though the immediate future looks bright, the cotton industry can't become complacent, Cotton Board Chairman Tommy Funk of Harlingen, said in Memphis at the group's 20th annual meeting where the Cotton Board approved Cotton Incorporated's 1987 budget of $18.4 million, down from $18.5 million in 1986.

"The market share numbers and offtake prospects look great for cotton," he added. "But there's no question that this industry faces problems. Each sector must deal with serious financial problems."

For the 1986-87 crop year, Funk stated that domestic mill consumption of U.S. cotton is expected to reach 6.8 million bales. And some market analysts are predicting that exports of U.S. cotton may reach 7 million bales.

Cotton's share of the retail market is also going up. During the first six months of 1986, cotton commanded a 44% market share at the retail counter, is poised on the threshold of an opportunity that didn't exist just a few vears ago.

Funk stressed to the group of more than 100 producers and industry leaders that the Cotton Research and Promotion Program "must move ahead with the single-minded objective of creating and expanding demand for U.S. cotton."

"We can't forget that our competitors (man-made fiber makers) are still working as hard as ever to regain the initiative," Funk pointed out. "They continue to pour millions of dollars into research and promotion in an attempt to stem cotton's advances."

Although part of cotton's recent gains can be attributed to the competitive pricing provision in the Farm Bill, Funk cautioned that over-reliance on the federal government is false economics. "In the future it appears that all of U.S. agriculture, including cotton, will have to rely more on market development programs and less on the government to insure its viability," Funk

'GROWN & MADE' GETS BOOST

The National Cotton Council's campaign to offset the rising tide of textile imports has received a boost as the result of a $40,000 grant to The Cotton Foundation from Union Carbide's Agricultural Products Department.

The grant will enable cotton wives to help expand the campaign throughout the Cotton Belt, and to launch a special promotion of U.S.-made cotton apparel Oct. 23-28 at the Dallas Apparel Mart. To assist their efforts, Cotton Incorporated is compiling a directory of manufacturers offering U.S.-made cotton apparel at the market. These will be distributed to 17,000 buyers from the Mid-South and the Southwest who will be going to market. Cotton wives will operate a Cotton Service Center at the mart.

"Now we can personally ask these manufacturers to make U.S. cotton clothing easily available to buyers," said Mrs. Joy Barret, Belzoni, Miss., cotton wife who has spearheaded an extensive campaign in her home state. "We know people want clothing made here in this country, but it's not always easily found," Mrs. Barret said.

CLINE PRAISES FARM LAW

Speaking to National Cotton Council directors at their fall meeting in Memphis, Tenn., President Lloyd Cline described the 1986 cotton program as "the right move at an extremely critical time." He said the program is working just as the industry designed it to work.

"It's helping our farmers maintain income while making our cotton pricecompetitive at home and abroad."

Cline said, however, that the program

"Growth implants have proved their value time and time again," points out Dr. L.R. Sprott, beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Why more cattlemen aren't using them is unclear, but they can make a difference in profit and loss, particularly during these tough economic times.

A study on the value of growth implants was conducted by county Extension agents in a 17-county area last year as part of the South Central Texas Beef Herd Improvement Program being conducted by the Extension Service. The study involved 10 trials with almost 1,000 calves.

In the study the average return-cost ratio per calf was 7 to 1 (over about a three-month period-the life of the implant). In three of the trials results were less than expected due to extended drought conditions, Sprott points out. Excluding those three trials, the average return-cost ratio was 10 to 1.

"That's an investment that's hard to beat any time," emphasizes Sprott.

He adds that the results of this study are similar to the outcome of trials 10 to 15 years ago.

"The only time that implants appear not to pay as expected is during extended periods of poor pasture conditions," says Sprott. "Even then the return-cost ratio has been about 2 to 1. "Cattlemen who have not capitalized on this opportunity should definitely consider using growth implants in their calves," emphasizes the specialist. "It is possibly today's best single investment in a cow-calf operation.'

Additional program details and the start of the 1987 cotton program sign up, officials say, are being delayed pending enactment of a spending bill and a determination of the extent of program benefit cuts that may be mandated by the Gramm-Rudman bill.

The PCG-Cotton Incorporated Barky Cotton Research Task Force is offering free use of an eight-and-a-half minute video tape entitled "Strip Cotton - Not Bark." According to Task Force Chairman Don Bell of Wolfforth, 15 copies of the tape, produced by CI and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, are available to gins and others who may have occasion to show it.

The Task Force is a group of farmers, scientists and administrators organized on the initiative of PCG and CI. Those interested in the film may contact PCG. Bell or Dr. James Supak, area extension agronomist at the Lubbock Research and Extension Center.

must be allowed to continue in its current form if it is to maintain its momentum. The Lamesa producer added that retaining the farm program without further changes could be as difficult as the fight to achieve the 1985 bill.

State University, has begun duties on a new project to help development and application of the GOSSYM-COMAX computer cotton crop simulation model. Under the three-year project, Mullendore will work with researchers, state Extension cotton specialists and the National Cotton Council in tests, validation, and follow-up with growers in each Cotton Belt state.

When properly applied, GOSSYM/ COMAX will enable producers to become more efficient managers by allowing them to grow their cotton with the use of a computer. The model uses data on temperature, solar radiation, soil nutrients, plant density, soil type and moisture to help the producer make crucial farm management decisions regarding such inputs as fertilizer, irrigation and timing of harvest-aid chemicals

The project is jointly funded by USDA's Agricultural Research and Extension service, The Cotton Foundation, and the Cooperative Extension Services of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee, Texas, Oklahoma, and Arizona.

Data that will enable researchers to refine the system are being collected from participating producers this season in states across the Cotton Belt. Mullendore says he plans to expose GOSSYM to growers through their state Extension specialists and, over the next three years, provide training for those interested. "Several growers across the Belt have asked to use GOSSYM," Mullen-from growers wanting to get on it." Commenting on the project, Dr. Andrew Jordan, the Council's technical services director, said he was pleased that a person with Mullendore's capabilities will be working with GOSSYM cooperators.

"The GOSSYM/COMAX system has a great deal of potential, but it will require additional refinements for a wide range of applications," Jordan said. "With Mullendore providing a linkage between the researchers and state Extension cotton specialists, the system can be tested and improved for extensive cultural, varietal, and geographic conditions."

Mississippi cotton grower Frank Mitchener Jr. the first cotton producer to use GOSSYM, said it has helped him make three key decisions: (1)when and how much nitrogen to add to the cotton crop, (2)when and how much to irrigate, and (3)when to apply a defoliant or boll-opener to terminate the

"The most important decision a cotton grower can make, in my opinion, is when to harvest the crop," Michener said. "Gossym has taught me that the crop matures much earlier than I ever thought."

The Sumner, Miss., producer says he sees GOSSYM as one of the most cost-effective tools a cotton producer can have.

"In essence, it tells you when you can spend less and still get maximum performance from the cotton plant."
