Floyd bank deposits increase $1.9 million

"A better than expected crop" is attributed by a Lockney bank official as the "main reason" for an increase in deposits. The two county banks reported deposits totaling $1.9 million greater on the final day of 1986 than 12 months

First National Bank in Lockney and First National Bank in Floydada had combined deposits of $71,282,303.81 at the latest call, which was Dec. 31. This is a healthy increase of $1,930,590.03 over the $69,351,713.78 on deposit in the two county financial institutions at the close of 1985.

Both banks showed increased depo-Loans changed little during the last year, dipping $123,367.03. Figures from the two banks placed loans at $25,487,963.05 at the close of 1986 business. This compares with combined loans of $25,611,330.08 as 1985 faded into history.

The Floydada bank reported deposits of $46,354,870.40 on the final day of

$1,181,939.98 over the $45,172,930.42 on deposit at the fourth quarter call in

Loans in the Floydada financial institution were $14,334,810.71 on Dec. 31, 1986, an increase of $455,371.63 over the previous year. At the end of 1985, loans stood at $13,879,439.08.

Lockney's bank reported $748,650.05 more on deposit at the latest call than 12 months earlier. Deposits were $24,927,433.41 at the end of 1986 and $24,178,783.36 when business concluded the previous year.

Loans decreased slightly over one-half million dollars at First National Bank, Lockney. On the final day of 1985, loans were reported at $11,731,891.00

Blood drive set Friday

This Friday Lockney General Hospital and the Lockney Beacon are having a blood drive, one of five scheduled in Lockney for 1987. The drive will be held in the Beacon office from 3:00 to 6:00 p.m. The drive is being undertaken to replace the 93 units of blood used during 1986 at Lockney General Hospital. That is an average of almost eight units per month which directly affected Lockney and area patients who used

Lockney General Hospital in 1986. These 93 units of blood, from United Blood Services in Lubbock, were just for those who used the Lockney hospital. It does not include those from Lockney who had to have blood while they were in Lubbock and Plainview hospitals.

Now the citizens of Lockney will have a regular opportunity to help those who may need blood during 1987 through regular blood drives to be held in

This blood drive also comes at one of the most needy times of the year for United Blood Services of Lubbock. Holiday times and January are the most needy times for the blood supplier. They report that in January many people are scheduled for surgery and at times when the blood supply runs low

A.W. Auld knew no one was at home at the Charlie Boedeker residence...but he found an unwanted visitor!

TWO MAKE A TEAM

Dr. Floyd C. Bradley of Plainview, area Baptist mission and longtime pastor at Floydada, shared the following story while conducting a Bible study in Lockney last week.

It seems that two fellows arrived at the golf course about the same time. One was a strong man with a mighty swing, but his sight was failing and he was unable to see his tee shots.

The other golfer, an older man, was not physically capable of driving the ball far. His eyesight, however, was still

After visiting briefly, the pair decided they would make a good team. Golfer number one could give the golf ball a mighty ride, and the other could watch its flight.

The ball was teed up and the golfer's mighty swing carried it far. The second man carefully observed its flights.

"Where did it go?" the stronger golfer anxiously asked.

A slight pause resulted before the older fellow replied, "I forgot!"

TEN COMMANDMENTS OF HUMAN RELATIONS

1. Speak to people. There is nothing so nice as a cheerful word of greeting. 2. Smile at people. It takes 72 muscles to frown, only 14 to smile.

3. Call people by name. The sweetest music to anyone's ears is the sound of his own name.

4. Be friendly and helpful. If you want friends, you must be one.

5. Be cordial. Speak and act as if everything you do is a joy to you.

Auld was caring for his neighbor's dog while the neighbor, Charlie Boedeker, received medical attention in a Lubbock hospital. When he went Friday afternoon to feed the dog, Auld noticed that the back door of the Boedeker residence was open

He walked to the door and called. A man appeared, then hastily slammed the door in Auld's face.

Auld drove to his home, about a mile to the south, and armed himself with a gun before returning to the Boedeker residence. This time he was unable to find the "visitor."

Auld told law officers that he never saw a vehicle at the residence, which is 6½ miles north and 3 miles west of Sheriff Fred Cardinal says the call was received by his office about 4:30 p.m. The entire sheriff's department was among six officers who responded to the burglary call.

"It got dark too quick," Sheriff Cardinal says. He and fellow officers searched well after dark near the Boedeker residence and in the immediate area but were unable to locate the

"Some" items were taken from the residence, but the exact loss was not available early this week.

Auld's appearance undoubtedly caused a premature departure by the would-be burglar(s). Officers found "five or six rifles and shotguns" stacked on the Boedeker's kitchen cabinet, jewelry which had been placed inside "a pretty good sized bag" and silverware which had been "laid out"

Auld, who caught a fleeting glance of the suspect, was able to give officers a partial description" of the man.

City takes first step to correct drainage

In the regular monthly meeting of the Lockney city council on January 8, the city council voted unanimously to call for bids on replacement culverts for southwest Lockney. This is the first step in correcting the drainage problem which has been discussed at great length by the council and by citizens which live in the problem area. The council voted to call for bids on joints of culvert which will fit the intended area rather than call for bids on long joints which would have to be cut to fit. It is hoped that this will alleviate excess short pieces of culvert which would result if they were not ordered to fit the specific areas.

In all, 39 total joints are called for in the bid specifications, amounting to 1088 feet of culvert, which will be replaced during the project. When the project begins, the city will bear the cost of all work. Homeowners in the area will only be out the cost of the culverts for culverts when they are ordered. Homeowners will be billed, in monthly installments for the cost of the culverts. In addition to bearing all the labor and equipment operation costs for the project, the city has an agreement with the county for the use of some of their equipment for completion of the project.

In other action the city voted to rent the city farm to Jimmy Kemp. Kemp will take on the farm on a one fourth rent agreement with the city. The city will receive one fourth rent on all crops, and grazing. Also the city will pay for one fourth of the chemicals with the exception of chemicals for noxious weeds for which they will pay 100% of the cost. Kemp will bear the cost of applying all chemicals. Mayor J.D. Copeland explained to the council about a problem at the city dumpgrounds. The health department is upset at the pile up of old appliances at the dumpgrounds which has presented a problem in rodent control. Copeland told the council that a man from Plainview was due Tuesday of this week to bale and haul away the old applian-

The council approved a bid from McDonald Construction to repaint and do some renovation work on the meeting rooms of the Lockney Volunteer Fire Department. The work will cost $1003.80.

In other action the city council approved a police policy which will be used by the Lockney Police Department. The policy, discussed at the meeting with police chief Tim Thompson, outlines what procedures will be used by the local police department in handling certain problems and in general how the police department will be run.

The council also approved the payment of bills and the minutes of the last meeting. Following an executive session in which personnel was discussed with Tim Thompson and W.L. Carthel the meeting was adjourned.

Attending the January meeting were Mayor J.D. Copeland, Aldermen Jerry Johnson, Dan Smith, Ronnie Aston, Kenneth Wofford, City Attorney Paul Lyle and City Secretary Erma Lee

In times like these... By Mary Jo Fielding

To the American Special Forces troops who soldiered in the Vietnam highlands in the 1960's and 1970's, the Montagnards primitive tribes who loved a good fight as much as they hated Communists, were one of the few aspects of a dirty war worth remembering. They were so fiercely loyal recalls one ex-Green Beret that it was not uncommon in an ambush for Montagnards to "cluster around and shield Americans with their bodies."

Recently 201 Montaguards, a pitiful remnant of the tens of thousands wno had fought alongside U.S. troops two decades ago, flew to Greensboro, N.C. to settle among some of the Americans they had befriended. "As far as I'm concerned, these people are POW's just returning from the war," said John Amundson, a former Green Beret who was among the 200 Americans on hand to welcome the Montagnards.

The Montagnards for centuries lived reclusive and seminomadic life as hunters and slash-and-burn farmers in the Vietnam highlands. "It's going to be traumatic," says James Turner, founder of Project Concern, one of the groups helping with the relocation. But another volunteer predicted success. "These people are the survivors of much worse. They will make it."

Most of the volunteers feel that a huge debt is owed the Montagnards. Even after the U.S. pulled out of Vietnam in 1975, thousands of them kept battling the Communists, certain the Americans would return. Many were killed or captured. Finally in 1980, the Montaguards gave up the fight, and some 4,000 survivors began a perilous trek across Cambodia to refugee camps in Thailand. Most were killed or captured by the Khmer Rouge. Only 220 made it to the Thai border.

TRUCK FIRE—The Lockney Volunteer Fire Department was called to the scene of a truck fire on the Sterley highway on Monday morning. The fire had apparently started in the engine compartment of the truck and had just about burned itself out by the time firemen arrived. However the fire department made sure the blaze was completely extinguished and then moved the truck off the highway and out of the

Dianne's Diary

By Dianne Galvan

Jan. 12: Hello Neighbors,

It is a beautiful day out here at the care center. We are all in good health and good spirits. We've had an eventful week starting with Monday. We went on our bus trip to Plainview. We would like to send out a big thanks to Mrs. Wilma Payne, from the Caprock Community Action Center in Floydada, who comes after us every Monday to take us out. This week we were treated to ice cream and soft drinks by Wendy's. They sure were good. Afterwards, we rode around town for a while before heading home. On Wednesday the ladies from the Main Street Church of Christ held our monthly birthday party for us. We certainly appreciate these ladies for giving their time to us. The residents that are celebrating birthdays this month are Sylvia Yeary, George Setliff, Daisy Burson, Betha Cunyus, Chaford Tipton, Bessie Hunt and Maria Lopez. Happy Birthday to you all!

Thursday came and found us roasting marshmallows over the fireplace. They sure were delicious even though they were ooey and gooey. We all had sticky faces and fingers after that but we didn't mind. Friday's are a big day for us. That's when we play our all time favorite game, Bingo. We always have big winners, lots of fun, and lots of fruit.

We would all like to give a big thank vou to all of our friends that come faithfully to bring our daily worship service. We love and appreciate each and everyone of you. These kind folks include the John Frances Singers, Main Street Church of Christ, Methodist Church, First Baptist Church, Flomot Baptist, and Silverton Baptist Church. Thank you all very much.

Until next week, stop by and see us

By Terry J. Clements Most people think of Social Security

as something for the future. For some 37 million people receiving social security benefits, the future is now. For other, social security provides current protection against the loss of income because of disability and for one's family if the worker should die. This is why we say that Social Security touches everybody in one way or another.

Since this is the time of year when it's customary to make promises about changing future behavior in one's best interest, I am going to make some suggestions to change the way you view your Social Security and insure that you get the most out of the program.

The new year resolutions you should consider are as follows.

* Check your Social Security number at work. To protect your social security earnings record, you should compare the name and number on your social security card with the name and number on your pay stubs, or the Form W-2 you receive in January. If the name and number are not exactly the same, you should notify your employer.

* Check on your earnings record once every three years. A free form can be obtained from any Social Security office for this purpose. The lifetime earnings record is the basis on which benefits are paid. Generally, the higher the average annual earnings, the higher the bene-

Woman's Missionary Union holds monthly meeting at church

Emphasis was placed on "Gifted to Serve; Called to Act" during the first 1987 meeting of the WMU of First Baptist Church. It was held Monday afternoon, Jan. 5.

Scripture readings were Acts 16:14-15 and Romans 16:1-5.

Led by Ann Handley, the program was on the vision women had from the early ages of churches "to help in serving God."

Present were Melba Atkins, Helen McLeod, Ruth Mitchell, Neva Smith, Ann Handley, Eva Whitfill, Emma Thomas, Elvira Stewart, Agnes Frizzell, Dorothy Shipp, Jewel Fortenberry, Pauline Sams and Faye Ferguson.

compare with your prior earnings, how other pensions will affect your social security benefits? All of these facts are important if you are to use social security protection in your financial security planning for a growing family or for retirement. Call your nearest social security office and ask for the booklet, Your Social Security, which provides a general explanation on how the program works. * Know the five times you should

there are five instances you should get in touch with your social security office. These include: when someone in household (1) retires, (2) becomes disabled, (3) dies, (4) needs a social security number, or (5) has a question about social security.

* Start retirement planning NOW. Most experts agree that, with people generally living longer and staying in better health, the earlier you start planning for retirement, the better. Social Security benefits are designed to be a base for retirement, not your total retirement income. You need to start building on that base now, through private insurance, savings and investment, and similar means.

There are probably other actions you need to take, but they will probably occur to you if you make an act on these five resolutions. HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Longhorn varsity earned its sixth Longhorn varsity outings: victory on Friday, a 61-36 decision over Silverton. Lockney owned quarter leads of 19-8, 27-17 and 33-24.

Managing income fluctuations with new tax reform laws

The new tax law may have a significant impact on business and individual income tax liability from year to year, particularly where income varies widely due to uncertain and uncontrollable revenues and expenses, as in the case of farming and ranching.

Elimination of income averaging and capital gains tax treatment will definitely have an impact in these situations, points out Dr. Ashley Lovell, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension

With elimination of the capital gains provision, what was previously considered long-term capital gains income will be taxed as ordinary income beginning Jan. 1, 1987. Individuals or businesses currently receiving payments under installment sales provisions may want to consider electing out of the installment method in 1986, notes Lovell.

It may be more favorable to report the entire remaining capital gains in 1986 while the 1986 capital gains rate treatment is still available rather than to continue to report a portion of each year's proceeds from the installment note on a year-to-year basis. This means that payments from installment sales prior to the time of the enactment of his law are not grandfathered in future years from the capital gains standpoint.

Under prior tax law farmers and ranchers using the cash method of accounting were usually able to deduct prepaid amounts for feed, fertilizer and other supplies. That still holds true except that the deductibility of these items will be limited if they exceed 50 percent of the business' other deductible farming expenses for that tax year. Prepaid expenses over that amount will have to be carried forward and are deductible in the tax year in which actually consumed. This provision is effective for amounts paid or incurred after March 1, 1986, for tax years beginning after that date, Lovell points

As to whether cash accounting or the accrual method of accounting is used, the new law specifies that the accrual method must be used by corporations. partnerships which have a corporation as a partner, tax shelters and other specified business entities.

Those who can continue to use the cash method of accounting include small businesses (defined to be taxpayers, including farmers, with average annual gross receipts of $5 million or less), farming and timber businesses unless disallowed to use the cash method under previous law, and certain other entities, including sole proprietorships, S-corporations, qualified personal-service corporations and qualifying partnerships.

Lovell recommends that all business owners consult their tax advisers to get a better understanding of the impact of the 1986 Tax Reform Act.

RESPONSIBILITIES

BY A COACH
Clipped from the Leaguer-Publication

Michigan High School Activities

Norris recently retired as executive director of the Michigan High School Athletic Association. This article is reprinted from the October, 1986 issue of National Federal News.

There are numerous individuals in non-education vocations who would give their right arms to be called "coach." We who have coached, and especially those who are currently coaching, have been privileged to wear the label of "coach". It is a unique position and a label every coach wears with pride and distinction.

It is possible, however, that if coaches fully understood the responsibility and impact they have on young athletes, they would pause for a moment of silence before they ever showed up at a practice of game site.

Every young athlete is influenced by the coach's presence. The impact is never neutral. It is either positive or negative, influenced by the coach's attire, conduct, language, personality and knowledge of his/her particular sport.

To compound the magnitude of impact is the fact that every coach displays the philosophy of the total school system, including that of the athletic director, principal, superintendent and board of education. If a coach uses vulgarity, rants and raves during an athletic contest, it must be assumed that the behavior is supported by the total school community. If the coach's conduct is one of respect for the opponent, positive instruction to the athletes, proper attire and decorum, that too represents the philosophy of that school system. One might ask, why would any principal want a coach who does not represent the school in a positive way!

The coach's attitude toward rules is significant. Seldom is the coach's knowledge of the rules directly translated to the athletes, but it certainly is a factor when he/she interviews with the media, booster clubs, fan, etc.

Friday.

Satur her cat a dead complement of the coach's satur her cat a dead complement.

Rules are to the game what team rules are to the school. In other words, the rules are not always appreciated by everyone on the squad, but for the good of the team, they are followed by all team members.

team members.

Rules of a sport are to be respected and followed to the letter, even though individually a coach might not agree with all of the rules published for his/her sport. Fragmentation in observance of rules generally leads to misunderstanding, penalties and overall disrespect for rules and the sport concerned.

Coaching careers, in most cases, slip by rather quickly. Therefore, the impact each coach makes on young athletes is tremendously significant. I don't know of one coach who would want to leave the coaching field without feeling good about the impact he/she made on young athletes. Over the years, the number of games won and lost is insignificant when compared to the impact coaches make on athletes.

60% ANDREWS' BUSINESS GOING OUT OF TOWN

Last year, the total effective buying income of all households in Andrews totaled $181,268,000. That's the amount of money available to families in Andrews after taxes.

Of that amount, $73,270,000 was spent in Andrews on food, eating and drinking, general merchandise, furniture and appliances, drugs and automotive.

In other words, 40 percent or 40 cents out of every dollar stayed in Andrews. But $107,998,000 went out of town.

That hurts!

And it's not just the local merchants that are hurt. Such an outflow hurts the average citizen who is dependent upon fire and police protection, ambulance service, running water, garbage pickup, sewer service, paved streets, lighted streets...all the things that people form cities to collectively obtain.

The worth of your home - and the property tax levied upon it - is directly dependent upon the viability of the tax base.

The fewer homes and businesses to tax, the higher the levy becomes upon you and your property. And the shrinking of the business community lessens the value of your home.

The sixty cents of every dollar going out of town means that the city of Andrews last over a million dollars in revenue last year from retail sales made outside of the county.

And anytime this city or any other city has to forfeit a million dollars it hurts - deeply.

A dollar spent locally turns over eight times. Consequently, for the year 1985, our economy suffered from the loss of $800 million in activity.

A busy, active retail district is vital to every community. Without it, a city is nothing more than a bedroom.

We all have a stake in keeping and maintaining as many local businesses in Andrews as possible because in the long run, it's money in our pockets.

The busiest time of the year is nowand several of our local businesses will sink or swim depending on your committment to buying in Andrews.

The figures need to be reversed from 40 cents locally and 60 cents out of town.

We can ill afford to give up $107 million to our neighbors. Think about it. -James Roberts in Andrews County News

OVERCOME BY GREED

A true story with a touch of humor is possibly the best humor of all.

Doug Manning, Baptist preacher turned newspaper columnist up at Hereford, recently passed on a story that is a real gem.

The daughter said, "Well, at least we don't have to bury the cat."

They walked out into the mall and saw a crowd gathered. They went over to see what the crowd was looking at, and there was a rather large lady who had fainted.

Laying beside the lady was a Neiman-Marcus shopping bag with the head of the cat in plain view. The daughter said, "Look, Mother. Someone's kitty died," and the two walked off. And now the rest of the story.

The scenario? The lady grabs the bag. It is from Neiman's and is heavy. She can hardly wait to see what she has. As soon as she reached the mall area, she reaches into the bag. A fur coat, maybe? She pulls out a dead cat. Shriek! Faint!

The aftermath: When she wakes up, how does she explain a dead cat in a shopping bag? When she gets that explained, how does she explain the dead cat causing her to scream and faint?

Then comes the real question. What do you do with a dead cat in a Dallas shopping mall on Saturday morning?

A newly married couple was looking for a house in the country. After finding one they thought was suitable, they made their way home and upon reaching there, the wife happened to think that they had not noticed a bathroom commode and they decided to write the owner about it.

Being very modest and shy, she hesitated to spell out the words "Bathroom Commode", and so in her letter she referred to it as B.C. The owner, not knowing what she meant, pondered for a while and decided she meant Baptist Church and answered her letter as follows:

Dear Madam,

I regret very much the delay in answering your letter and take pleasure in informing you that the B.C. is located about nine miles from the house and is capable of seating 1250 persons. This is unfortunate if you are in the habit of

IT'S MY TOWN

The following letter was clipped from the Big Lake Wildcat newspaper and handed to us by a Spur businessman. It applies to many small communities and businesses over the country.

Dear Editor:

I am a business person in Big Lake and I feel that I have to reply to some of the statements made recently. First of all, there are many times that we merchants can also go to Angelo and purchase items at a discount store cheaper than we can buy them wholesale from our suppliers for the simple reason that we don't have several stores in different places to which we can divide and send trainloads of the same item.

Also I feel that you need to take into consideration that we employ your husbands and/or wives and children when we can. Our tax dollars are what supply the extras for your kids. We are the ones who donate to community organizations who help you when there has been a tragedy in your life.

I suggest that you go to San Angelo and ask for donations from your discount stores for the Booster Club, the Band, or to send a child to band camp whose parents can't afford it. Ask them to hold your check until payday or better yet give them a hot check and see how long they hold it before it goes to the county attorney's office. Ask them to carry your charge account because your husband lost his job and you can't feed your kids. Be sure and get angry when you meet the manager on the street and he doesn't smile and say "Good morning, Mrs. Doe, how are you today?" he could be thinking how to meet his next payroll.

I don't live on Plaza or in Reagan View, never have, but I've lived in Big Lake for 20 years and I love this town and it's people. My kids have grown up here and been treated well by these merchants. I shop here and sometimes pay more because I know these folks and I know that they stand by me and the other residents of Big Lake through bad or good and you just can't put a price tag on that. If you could, I am certain that you could find it much cheaper in Big Lake than in San Angelo.

As a result, U.S. market prices have effectively dropped to world levels, they note.

International committee issues list of animal drugs for safety review

An international committee of veterinary drug experts recommends review of several commonly used livestock drugs to establish international agreement on the safety of residues from the drugs in food products, according to a

USDA official. "The Codex Committee on Residues of Veterinary Drugs in Food has established a list of seven animal drugs for which the committee recommends international scientific review in order to reach agreement on allowable levels of residues from the drugs in foods," said Lester M. Crawford, associate administrator of USDA's Food Safety Inspection Service and chairman of the committee. "The list includes growthpromoting hormones, the antibiotic chloramphenicol, sulfa drugs and four other classes of drugs.'

Crawford said that, in compiling the list, the Codex Committee considered any substance administered to agricultural animals, including hormones and externally applied pesticides, that could leave a residue in food products such as meat, milk, eggs or fish. He said the initial list includes the seven substances which the committee believes deserve top priority, and that the committee may recommend other drugs for review at a later date.

> the late 1960's. Pesticides began losing their effectiveness because of the development of resistant insect strains. The costs to producers of these insecticide treatments were becoming extremely high. And most importantly pesticide residues were accumulating in the environment, with resulting adverse effects to fish and wildlife.

In the early 1970's, the concept of Integrated Pest Management (IPM) began to attract attention. IPM seeks maximum use of naturally occurring pest controls, including weather, disease agents, predators, and parasites. In addition, IPM utilizes regulatory and cultural control methods, and, when necessary and appropriate, chemical control.

All of the above methods are used in a damage.

Next, you must understand the biology of the pest. Where is it usually found on the plant? How much damage will each individual pest cause, and in what life stage does it cause the most damage? No producer has ever benefited from treating inch-long bollworms.

After the biology of the insect is known, a monitoring technique can be devised. Knowing when and where to look for an insect on a plant allows us to decide which parts of the plant to sample so that fields can be scouted most efficiently.

Many farmers are currently using many IMP methods without realizing it. But all producers could adopt more of these practices. IPM prevents genetic resistance to insecticides, minimizes damage to the environment, and most importantly, helps producers increase profit margins.

loans for losses caused by drought, hail, high winds, excessive rain, flooding, early frost and freezing weather, are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) office located in Floydada, FmHA County Supervisor Becky D. Via says.

Floyd County is one of 29 in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lyng as eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the drought, hail, high winds, excessive rain, flooding, early frost and freezing weather.

Ms. Via says farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business or $500,000.00, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest is 4.5 percent.

"As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA emergency

"Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until August 31, 1987, but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly over into the new farming season," Ms. Via explains.

FmHA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens and to farming partnerships, corporations or cooperatives in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest.

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

High Plains cotton producers this year are reaping an estimated total of almost $8 million in benefits from an endeavor they launched in the late

The benefits are coming from higher prices on two cotton grades, Strict Good Ordinary Light Spot (62) and Strict Good Ordinary Spot (63). The two qualities were declared eligible for the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program for the first time in 1984, culminating years of producer work through Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Prior to 1984 the two qualities were called Below Grades or BG's, and went into the market without a loan price floor. They were thus subject to whatever discounts market forces dictated at the time of sale.

No great advantage was gained in 1984 by the newly conferred loan eligibility of 62's and 63's because the five percent of the area crop that fell in those grades was readily absorbed in the market at fair prices. And in 1985 only three percent of the High Plains crop was classed 62 and 63.

But it's a different story this year with

Pyramids cheat unwary investors

If you are looking for either a full or part-time job, but want the independence of being your own boss, you may be searching the classifieds in the area called "business opportunities."

While there are many worthwhile businesses recruiting salespeople and investors, there are also a number of scams operating here in Texas. One of the most complicated and deceptive is called the pyramid scheme.

THE PYRAMID SCAM In order to avoid pyramid schemes you need to know a few facts. The pyramid scheme derives its name from the structure of the organization: there are lots of people on the bottom, paying to a smaller group above them, who, in turn, pay a percentage of their earnings to an even smaller group above them in the pyramid.

For example: You are recruited as a "sales trainee", for which you pay $1,000. Five hundred dollars of your money goes to the promoter, who is at the top of the pyramid. The other five hundred dollars goes to a "sales manager," directly above you in the pyramid. If you later recruit another "sales trainee" - which you will have to do in order to get your money back you will get half of what he pays and the other half will go to the promoter.

The essence of the scheme is to continue to recruit more and more suckers. The people on the bottom always lose. Why? Because in any given geographic area there are only a certain number of suckers with $1,000.

IT'S ILLEGAL The pyramid scheme is illegal under the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices/

> A complete set of instructions for the first-time smoker.

> > Don't.

HAVE A GOOD WEEK!

Consumer Protection Act. Specifically, the law forbids the following: "selling or offering to sell, either directly or associated with the sale of goods or services, a right of participation in a multi-level distributorship. As used herein, multi-level distributorship mean a sales plan for the distribution of goods or services in which promises of rebate or payment are made to individuals, conditioned upon those individuals recommending or securing additional individuals to assume positions in the sales operation, and where the rebate or payment is not exclusively conditioned on, or in relation to, proceeds from the retail sales of goods."

In other words, it is O.K. to recruit other salespersons; it is not legal to recruit them for a rebate. You, as a salesperson must derive your income from sales of goods or services, not from recruitment.

FOR MORE HELP

If you have been the victim of a pyramid scheme, call the nearest Consumer Protection Office. They also have a wide variety of free brochures available, including one on Business Opportunities. The Attorney General's Office is the people's law firm. We're here to help you.

The rest home looked bare in spots today as so many of our people have gone home for the weekend, or for Christmas Day.

There was a bad fog last Sunday morning as families readied for Sunday School and church services. You could hardly see a car length in front of the car. It was like this all day Sunday, Dec. 21.

We are so sorry about old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Lurline and Clyde Bagwell who both passed away in the Caprock Hospital after a lengthy illness. They were laid to rest in the Floydada Cemetery under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home. Mrs. Bagwell was 83 and her husband a little older.

On the regular bus trip last Monday from the Lockney Home there were 11 who went to Plainview from Lockney.

Mrs. Mamie Wood visited Mrs. Julian Tuesday Dec. 23, then went on to Plainview on business. She was in Dallas to visit her relatives over Christmas time. Mamie has worked very hard since the flood inundated her home just before the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie and Sylvin Kinnibrugh visited Mrs. B. Julian at the Lockney Rest Home on Tuesday after-

Mrs. Mary Jo Fielding left Tuesday, Dec. 24 for Amarillo, with her husband and where she will visit for sometime during the Christmas holidays.

Sylvia Yeary is ill and has been in the

She has been a resident of the Yeary community for many years. Her folks came Wednesday to take her to their home for the Christmas holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Early and Nell Pritchett have spent the past summer in Ruidoso, N.M., where they have a lovely home. Now with winter coming on, they have returned to South Plains where they have a summer home, and they will spend the winter here. Mrs. Pritchett likes the winter here, as she is healthier Dr. Howard and Mrs. Fred Howard of Plainview come to South Plains Baptist Church each Sunday for him to hold services night and morning.

Mrs. Nina Upton has been ill and in the hospital, but she is recuperating

Christmas Day guests in the home of Kendis and Janis Julian and Tim were Kendis' brother, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Julian and Dickie of Sweetwater, and Mr. and Mrs. Dr. W.M. Barnes, Dee Barnes and Jason and Carson from Commerce, and Mrs. B. Julian of South

Residents of the Lockney Rest Home that wish to go to Plainview or other places around Lockney, each Monday, at 2:00 p.m. for an excursion on the Yellow Excursion Bus. The bus is full nearly every time they go. They are treated to ice cream and drinks, and usually there are ten or eleven residents
