Family film series starts Monday

Over 50 million parents have been inspired by Dr. James Dodson's "Focus on the Family" film series. Now, building on that nationwide groundswell of interest, Word Publishing and Focus on the Family, Inc., have released "Turn Your Heart Toward Home."

In this bold new film series, one of America's most trusted family life experts brings his vast experience to bear on one of society's most pressing challenges, the protecting and strengthening of family relationships.

The first discussion-provoking film of this six-part series, "A Father Looks Back," will be shown at Main Street Church of Christ at 7:30 p.m. next Monday, Feb. 1.

The remaining five films are to be shown at local churches on a rotating basis at 7:30 each Monday evening.

The host church is to provide a nursery.

FAMILY VALUES

Citing example after familiar example, Dr. Dodson portrays the pressures today's parents are susceptible to. He reminds them of society's slide toward humanism and the undermining influences of radio, television, films and the press, which can only be counterbalanced by a loving home where Christian values are instilled from an early age.

A swelling majority of Americans sense the vulnerability of their own families and are willing to make all commitments necessary to preserve them. Dr. James and Shirley Dodson urge these individuals to "get involved and return to the traditional values upon which families are best created and

SCHEDULE REVEALED

Following are the dates, host churches and film title and description for the six weeks:

Feb. 1, Main Street Church of Christ — "A Father Looks Back" emphasizes how swiftly time passes and appeals to all parents to "turn their hearts toward home" during the all-important child-rearing years. (60 minutes)

Feb. 8, First Baptist Church — "Power in Parenting: The Young

Child" begins by exploring the inherent nature of power, and offers many practical helps for facing the battlegrounds in child-rearing — bedtime, mealtime and other confrontations so familiar to parents. Dr. Dodson also takes a look at areas of conflict in marriage and other adult relationships. (60 minutes)

Feb. 15, Church of Christ, West College and Third — "Power in Parenting: The Adolescent" discusses father/daughter and mother/son relationships, and the importance of allowing children to grow and develop as individuals. Dr. Dodson also encourages parents to free themselves of undeserved guilt when their teenagers choose to rebel. (45 minutes)

Feb. 22, First United Methodist Church — "The Family Under Fire" views the family in the context of today's society, where a "civil war of values" is being waged. Dr. Dodson urges parents to look at the effects of governmental interference, abortion and pornography, and to get involved. To preserve what they care about most

Who has cutest grandchild? 'Brag Pages' February 11

Who has the cutest grandchild? Beacon readers can determine that from pictures appearing on "Grandparents' Brag Pages." These will be published in the Feb. 11 issue of this newspaper, the last publication before Valentine's Day. Hearts will bear grandchildren's photos, along with names of youngsters, their parents and grandparents. Reservations are now being placed by parents, grandparents and great-grandparents. Cost is $10 per heart, which helps defray photo reproduction and space expenses. Photos for "Grandparents' Brag Pages" will be accepted until 3 p.m. Friday, Feb. 5.

Performance report series starts

Editor's Note: The Lockney Beacon begins a three-part series of articles focusing on the annual performance report of the Lockney Independent School District. The first in the series will contain general information which includes faculty, finance, and facility information. The second series will deal with student course offerings, test scores, and disciplinary and dropout information. In the third article we will compare Lockney to district and state averages in several areas. Information contained in this article was taken from the annual performance report approved by the LISD board of directors in its January 14 meeting and details the performances of the school system in several areas for the 1986-87 academic school year.

TEACHING STAFF

The Lockney school system employed a total of 53 teachers for the 1986-87 school year. Among these teachers were 41 teachers with bachelor degrees and 12 with master's degrees.

These 53 teachers have a combined 492 years of teaching experience with an average of 8.6 years each. Actual teaching experience ranged from first-year teachers to those with 30 years.

Quoting from the report, "Lockney schools can look with pride at the quality and professional attitudes of its staff."

Having the desire to attract and keep top quality personnel, the board has attempted to keep the district competitive with schools this size by paying $1,100 above state base salary for teachers with master's degrees and $900 above state base for those with bachelor's degrees. Also each employee has a portion of his/her health insurance paid by the school system.

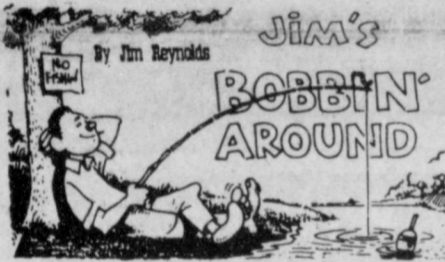

Community support of the teaching staff has been exhibited by selecting, over the years, the Man, Woman, and Family of the Year from among members of the faculty. Also because of the contribution made to the young people of Lockney, some of the staff have been recognized by the South Plains of Texas.

In addition to highly qualified teachers, Lockney can also take pride in the administrative staff which consists of three building principals and the superintendent, who all have master's degrees.

FINANCES

The Lockney school board has been conscious of its position to keep the LISD in the best possible financial condition to provide the young people of this community with the best education

WHERE ARE THE IDIOTS?

Mother and father alternated in taking their son to a day care center enroute to work each morning.

Mom and the little fellow chatted as they drove in heavy traffic. Upon reaching the day care center, the youngster asked his mother, "Where are all the idiots today? Yesterday morning when Daddy took me to school, he saw six idiot drivers!"

INJUSTICE

Why is a gall bladder worth more in Dallas than it is in Perryton?

And why is a gall bladder worth more in the large cities of Texas than in any small hospital in the rural area?

The Medicare people in Washington apparently are convinced that there is a difference because Medicare allows payment of 15 to 60 percent less for procedures performed in rural hospitals than in city hospitals.

Medicare has yet to explain why. They say that the payment differential is justified because rural hospitals have lower costs than the big city hospitals.

Nobody seriously believes this, of course. The Medicare people have put in a discriminatory payment schedule because they are dominated by big city specialist thinkers who know very little about rural hospitals or rural doctors.

Medicare allows a doctor in Perryton less for an office visit than a doctor in Amarillo, and presumably on the same basis that the local doctor has lower costs of operation.

The much publicized case involving Medicare sanctions against Perryton's Dr. Claude Betty reveals glaring inequities against rural doctors. Because of his fight against such discrimination, the attacks upon other rural doctors has been slowed. It should be a matter of concern that only rural doctors have been sanctioned and that rural hospitals are the only ones to close under Medicare restrictions.

Texas rural hospitals serve three million people and should not be dismissed by the Medicare organization as entities not worth saving.

The Cubans in federal prison in Louisiana and Georgia destroyed $300 million worth of government property and nobody thinks much about it. Yet we can let rural hospitals close and rural doctors be put out of business and government bureaucrats seem to think that is the mark of doing a good job. Something is out of balance in this country. —Harold Hudson, Perryton Herald.

Seniors making lap robes for residents of local care center

The project of making lap robes for the residents of the care center is really progressing well. Last week there were 25 ladies who worked on the robes.

Ladies of Lockney need your help. The ladies of the center are in need of panty hose and regular hose for another project. If you have old hose that are no longer of use to you please call 652-2745 and leave your name or bring them by the center.

Tonight there is a potluck supper at the center and the "42" tournament will also begin tonight. This will also be the monthly birthday party. Plan to attend.

Sixty people attended last week's supper and following the meal we had seven tables of games and everyone sure had a good time.

Remember that we are trying out the Meals on Wheels program for those who are unable to come to the center. Be sure to tell Nina when you call that your meal needs to be delivered.

ions are to receive rosettes.

FAILING STUDENTS MAY NOT EXHIBIT

The Beacon checked with Superintendent W.H. (Dub) Hallmark to determine whether students who have failing grades — or who had failing grades last six weeks — will be eligible to exhibit animals.

Supt. Hallmark says neither FFA nor 4-H students attending Lockney schools who have failing grades will be eligible to exhibit their animals in either the local or county livestock shows. This policy was established by the school board in April 1986.

According to this policy, if a student

Lockney Care Center

By Lanita Cantwell

We at Lockney Care Center have been slowly perking up a little since the ice and snow have about disappeared. We had a very pleasant bus ride to Floydada last week where we visited the nursing home. Billy Probasco visited with his mother, Burmah. Myrtle Gibson treated us to the ice cream at our local Dairy Queen. Thanks, Myrtle! Those enjoying the ride were Bonnie Julian, Eva Cresswell, Albert Traweek, Earl Mercer, Adolfo Burrell, Bessie Hunt, and Billy Probasco.

We had special entertainment on Tuesday provided by John and Maebelle Francis. John played his keyboard, and also the piano, as we listened or joined in and sang. The residents enjoyed this so much.

We want to congratulate Jess Browning as he has a new great-grandson. Thor Addison Patton was born on January 18 in Lockney General Hospital. Jess went with his family over to see the new baby before the little fellow went home with his parents, Mark and Derenda.

We were pleased to have so many visitors last week. Among those visiting were Tommy and Ray Cruse of Flomot, Dona Browning of Turkey, Roberta Lewis of Clarendon, Topsy Hall of Amarillo, Sue Proctor of Turkey, Ethelene Brown of Amarillo, Shirley Jackson and Frances McCloud of Lubbock, and Mammie Wood of South Plains. It was so good to have all of you.

We were happy to have our volunteer, Donna Francis, back to help us on craft day. We began making Valentines and decorating our Valentine box. We have decorated some of our bulletin boards with butcher paper and will allow anyone who wishes to do so to draw a valentine or write a special valentine poem or message for any of our residents or staff. We would like for all who send a message in this manner to make a donation to Alzheimer's research. Unicare Health Facilities will again be raising funds for this purpose in 1988. Join in the fun and help Alzheimer's research too!

We want to extend our sympathy to the families of Annie Mae Mercer and Hallie Roberts. Annie Mae has been here only a short time, but she will be missed by all of us and all who loved her. Hallie has been a resident of Lockney Care Center for a very long time, and will be missed by all who work here as well as our regular volunteers. May God comfort all those in time of sorrow.

In search of scholarships: what public needs to know

By Daniel Cassidy, president and founder National Scholarship Research Service (NSRS)

With rising costs for higher education and a decrease in financial aid from the federal government, where can students turn for educational funding? Daniel Cassidy, president and founder of the National Scholarship Research Service says, "Sixty-five percent of the educational funding in the United States is in the private sector."

Cassidy is currently considered one of the world's top authorities on private-sector funding and is author of The Scholarship Book, The Graduate Scholarship Book, and The International Scholarship Book.

He has been a featured guest on many major radio and television stations including CBS Morning News,

Hour Magazine and CNN's Your Money. Articles about the National Scholarship Research Service have appeared in magazines such as "Newsweek," "Time," and "People."

On Monday, February 1, from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. CST (Channel 36), TI-IN Network offers parents, students, and school personnel at sites subscribing to inservice programming, an opportunity to talk with Daniel Cassidy. A study by the National Commission on Student Financial Assistance found that $6.6 billion in financial aid from corporations goes unclaimed each year.

During this program, participants will be given information on how to locate this private-sector funding and how to apply for scholarships as well as learn helpful tips which make this process easier.

and transportation. For that reason they have been of the opinion that it is necessary to maintain a fund balance and with the help of the new state finance bill that has been possible.

State aid to school districts is based on enrollment, and over the past four years state monies to LISD have increased because enrollment has increased. In 1983-84, Lockney had 671 students and received $970,342 in aid. For 1984-85, LISD received $1,698,287 for the 687 students. That figure decreased to $1,676,270 for 682 students, and in 1986-87, increased again due to the 702 students enrolled.

The wealth of LISD increases or decreases due to the agricultural economy, businesses opening and closing, and new construction. For 1986-87, the district wealth per student, based on a tax base of $73,552,808, was $104,776, which is well below the state average. Because Lockney falls well below the state average, the school system qualifies for extra funds called Equalization Aid. These extra funds have enabled Lockney's fund balance to increase over the last three years.

In 1984-85 the balance was $804,625, in 1985-86 it was $1,040,478, and in 1986-87 it was $1,148,813.

A rule of thumb for the board for a number of years has been to maintain a minimum of two months operating funds in hand, and for this reason Lockney has not had to borrow money to start school on for several years.

Due to the increased aid, Lockney has been more than able to maintain its two month operating expense balance with funds left over. These extra funds have been channeled into upgrading facilities and program offerings to students.

Also due to increased state aid, Lockney board members have been able to minimize tax increases for the taxpayers. Taxes owed to LISD are collected by the Floyd County Central Appraisal District.

FACILITIES AND TRANSPORTATION

LISD is fortunate to have more than ample facilities for the students who are enrolled here. School owned facilities include elementary, junior high, and high school buildings in addition to a vocational building and administrative offices.

The two-story high school building was completed in 1929 and can comfortably serve 350 students, even though the enrollment for 1986-87 was only 174. This building has central heat and air conditioning and the building, in the last few years, has undergone a complete facelift.

The facelift included cleaning and sealing the exterior in 1985-86, and during 1986-87 the interior was completed. Work inside included enclosing the windows to save on heating and cooling costs.

The Lockney Junior High building was completed in 1957 and will serve 300 students, though average enrollment is half that figure.

Included in this building are classrooms, a band hall and gym which are used by both high school and junior high, and a cafeteria which is no longer used as such. The cafeteria is used for concession stands and meetings, as well as other purposes. This building also has central heat and cooling and has undergone the same facelift inside and out that was done to high school.

The elementary building was completed in 1964 and will comfortably serve 400 students and enrollment during 1986-87 was at 370, very near capacity. This building has central heat and cooling and consists of classrooms, a cafeteria which serves the entire school system, a gym and music facility which was constructed during the 1985-86 year.

The student transportation system for the school includes seven bus routes and all buses are kept in top condition. The board continues to upgrade transportation by purchasing one or two new buses each year as the need arises. The drivers of the buses drive with safety uppermost in their minds as indicated by the safety record. It has been four years since one of the buses was involved in an accident, and in that one accident there were no major injuries, only bumps and bruises. The driver of the vehicle was not at fault in the accident.

PARENT AND COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

Continuous efforts are made to keep parents and the community involved and informed. Two strong organizations assist in this effort, as does the news media.

McCauley gives Rotary program

Meteorologist Steve McCauley of KCBD, Channel 11, in Lubbock was in Lockney last Friday at noon to present a program on spring weather to members of the Lockney Rotary Club.

McCauley is a student at Texas Tech University and is a native of West Virginia. He began his job with the television station after KCBD representatives approached Tech requesting a meteorologist for their weekend weather forecasts.

McCauley commented, "I chose to come to West Texas to study weather because West Texas has the most unstable atmosphere in the United States." He was asked why South Plains weather was so unstable and he said, "You live in a dry air pocket with dry desert air from the west, moist Gulf air from the south, and Canadian cold air to the north. When they meet, under the varied conditions of West Texas it causes very unstable weather conditions."

McCauley's program centered on spring-like weather, and he discussed tornadoes and the dust storms famous in West Texas. "Lubbock had more than 150 hours of blowing dust last year and this is the most recorded anywhere in the nation," he said.

McCauley's program included graphic slides of tornadoes forming and what to look for as spring approaches and tornado season comes to West Texas. McCauley closed his program by saying that, "I really like West Texas people. They are weather conscious and they understand terms we use in weather forecasting. In many of the metropolitan areas, residents don't care much about the weather and you have to talk to them like children to make them understand. That doesn't happen in West Texas."
