ALWAYS RIGHT
 A sign in the Floydada office states: "Our boss is always right. Misinformed perhaps, sloppy, crude, bullheaded, fickle and even stupid but never wrong?"

CARNIVAL RIDES MADE IN PLAINVIEW
 A Plainview firm — operating out on the Dimmitt highway — is producing "super loop" rides which are popular with carnivals. Maybe they made other rides also.

IMAGINATIVE
 Recently I read where a Georgia woman, failing to find a certain type of light fixture, designed her own and hired a blacksmith to make it. Sure enough, orders came in and she opened her own place of business. Later, after a fire, all that was left of her business was charred wrought iron. After viewing the scarred remains, she began making something out of nothing — "weathered" iron fixtures. They sold like the proverbial hotcakes and she is in business again. Attitude, ideas and hard work put her on top again. —Patty Adams, Paducah Post

LHS Homecoming dates chosen

Big event slated September 30-October 1

Presidential elections roll around every fourth year...and so do Lockney High School Homecomings. And this is the year! Meeting March 14, the LHS Ex-Students Association chose Friday, Sept. 30, and Saturday, Oct. 1, as dates for homecoming.

Serving as officers for the gala event are: D.K. Jackson, president; W.E. Whitfill, vice president, Mary Louise McCarter, secretary-treasurer; and Cindy Smith, historian. Any ex-student who is willing to serve as his/her class representative and be responsible for contacting fellow class members is asked to contact Mrs. McCarter about the cards needed. She asks that the number be given to her by the April 18 ex-students meeting in order that the cards may be printed and mailed. Further homecoming plans will be discussed during the April 18 session in the high school home economics lab. All interested persons are invited to attend the 8 p.m. meeting. Springlake-Earth will be the football opponent for the homecoming game.

Incumbents alone in school and city elections

Barring a filing after The Beacon went to press on Tuesday, there will be no school or city contested races in '88. Wednesday was the filing deadline.

Incumbents Jim Bob Martin and Eddie Teeter were the lone candidates for two school board seats which are to be filled this spring for three-year terms.

For city council, present officeholders Ronnie Aston, J.D. Copeland and Gary Marr are the lone candidate. Municipal positions are filled for two-year terms. City, school and hospital district balloting will be conducted Saturday,

May 7. Les Ferguson and incumbent Chester

Carthel are candidates for two seats on the Lockney General Hospital board.

Tandi Gant places in regional twirling meet

Tandi Gant, 14-year-old student at Lockney High School and the daughter of Ray and Lynda Gant, participated in the 1988 NBTA Southwest Regional twirling championships and Miss Majorette Pageant in Denton on March 19 and 20. She came home with three first place wins, two seconds and one third, as well as placing ninth overall in the pageant.

She also placed ninth in the advanced (13 to 15) Miss Majorette of the Southwest Pageant. Tandis is the feature twirler for the Lockney Longhorn Band.

This meet includes Texas, Colorado, Oklahoma, Kansas, and New Mexico. Miss Gant placed first in regional

Sharing is caring

Second Time Store operating

"Sharing is caring" is printed on a card in the recently-opened Salvation Army Second Time Store.

Purpose of the non-profit store is to help local people in need with used clothing, furniture, household and other items. Clothing heads the list.

Another sign states: "The clothes are for sale. Their value is the low price."

The Salvation Army charges a nominal fee for items purchased by underprivileged persons. The original intent of giving away clothing and other items - unless there is a dire need - is impossible because of utility payments for the store, located two doors south of Jackson Tire Co., and other incidental expenditures.

Richard Wiley of Jackson Tire Co. is making the store space available at no cost to the Salvation Army. Elmo Savage, Alicia Luna and other individuals are donating their time to operate the store.

"We intend to provide a community service," says Art Barker, treasurer of the local Salvation Army unit.

Barker and Savage point out that "any excess (money) from the store goes right back into the Salvation Army fund" to assist persons with immediate needs. The local Salvation Army unit receives calls for food, gasoline, medicine and assistance with utilities. "We render services and no profit whatsoever is realized."

COMMUNITY SERVICE

"We want to thank the people of this community for their wonderful support and cooperation," says Savage, who has renovated the store's interior, repaired the roof and made other improvements.

Residents are asked to continue to donate unneeded clothing, furniture, food, dishes "or anything you don't need."

These contributions may be left at the store, Barker Real Estate, First Baptist Church or at Savage's residence. Savage will be glad to "pick up donations if people will give me a call."

Although a definite schedule has not been developed, the store is now open "two or three days a week for starters." If it is closed and individuals wish to "shop," they can phone Barker at 652-2642 or Savage at 652-2460.

TRAILER HOUSE DESTROYED — This trailer house on Southwest Seventh Street in Lockney was totally gutted by fire Friday afternoon. Firemen received the call at about 1:00 p.m. and they remained on the scene for well over one hour to completely extinguish the blaze. Nona Thomas had been living in the trailer and was moving out on the day of the fire. No one was home then blaze began and firemen were not sure what caused the fire to erupt in the all-electric home.

MOST LABELS COLLECTED — Mandy Hunter was presented a basketball by Lockney Elementary School physical education instructor Joyce Marks for collecting the most product labels in the Campbell's Labels for Education drive held this year in Lockney. The basketball is autographed by all the team members and Coach Floyd Evans of the Wayland Flying Queens basketball team. Mandy collected 519 of the 8,500 labels collected by students in the drive. Marks will be using the collected labels to purchase 12 jump ropes, two large utility balls, two basketballs, and a softball and bat for the P.E. department at the elementary school. For those who are interested in helping with this project next year, start now by saving labels from Campbell's soup products and Campbell's cousin products. Labels are used each year to purchase, at no charge to schools, equipment for the physical education departments. — Staff photo

Griffith, Glenn wed in evening rites

The sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church in Plainview was the setting for the Saturday evening ceremony that united Lori Ann Griffith and Danny Curtis Glenn in marriage. The Reverend Wesley Daniels, pastor, officiated at the 7:30 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Griffith of Plainview, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Glenn of Kress. Grandmothers of the bride are Mrs. Milton Ashton and Mrs. Harold Griffith, both of Plainview.

The altar area of the church was decorated with three arched brass candelabras that held arrangements of greenery and white twinkling lights. On the altar table were green bouquets and a pair of seven-branch candelabras flanking the setting. Large white bows accented pews on the center aisle.

Wedding music was provided by Mr. Bill Webb, organist, and Mrs. Gary Henderson, pianist. Vocal solos were presented by Stephanie Miller and Tami Hindman. Candelighters were Brad and Dustin Glenn, and ring bearers were Devin and Doug Glenn, all nephews of the groom.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore an elegant white satin gown. The front of the bodice was fashioned with a modified sweetheart neckline accented by pearl roping and loose pearl sways. The bodice back featured a keyhole cutout outlined in pearls. Epaulets on the shoulders were formed by fabric and pearl flowers and the long tapered sleeves were accented with appliques and pearls. The full-length ball gown skirt was caught at the slightly tapered basque waist and accented with fabric and pearl flowers. The front of the skirt and the full length cathedral train was richly applied with embroidered silk flowers, encrusted with pearls. The hemline of the skirt and train were finished with wide scalloped applique silk. To complete her ensemble, the bride wore an imported headband of pearls with a cascading side spray of flowers and pearls. The headband held a pouf and tiered veil of silk illusion.

The bride's bouquet, a crescent of gardenias, white roses, and plumosia tied with lace and ribbons, topped the bible her mother carried in her wedding. For "something old" the bride carried her maternal great-grandmother's wedding gloves, and tied in the bouquet was a wedding ring belonging to her paternal great-grandmother. "Something new" was a lace handkerchief, "something borrowed" was a strand of pearls borrowed from her aunt, Annell Campbell, and "something blue" was a wedding garter, a gift from her cousins Brian and David Campbell and Jason Kidd.

Kristi Griffith, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Tami Hindman and Sindy Stanford of Lubbock, Scarlet Landry of Dallas, and Shana Fife of Arlington. Lisa Glenn, the groom's niece, was flower girl.

The attendants wore tea length dresses of candy-pink morie taffeta. The bodice featured a Sabrina neckline that scooped to a keyhole cutout at the back of the dress. A soft skirt was caught at the waist by a shirred cummerbund with a candy box bow at the back. They carried arm bouquets of gardenias, freesia, tulips, fuji mums and plumosia. Serving their brother as best men were Mike Glenn, Plainview, and David Glenn of Kress. Groomsmen were Mike Clark and Mark Jolley of Lubbock, Tom Eck of Tucson, Arizona, and King Kelly of Guymon, Oklahoma. Seating guests were ushers Steve Foster, Plainview; Max Jones, Kress, and Tye and Guy Blankemeyer of Dallas.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given by the parents of the bride and groom in the church parlor. Guests were registered by Michele Tye of Kress.

The bride's table was covered with a white satin table draped with pearl ropes. Lucite columns, sitting on mirrors, held votive candles and flower bouquets. A Lady Windemere style wedding was decorated with hand molded roses and topped with an arrangement of verine lilies, gerber and astromeria. A crystal punch bowl and crystal serving pieces completed the table setting. Assisting at the bride's table were Karen Kidd, Annell and Cori Campbell, aunts and cousin of the bride; also Shelly McDonough, Denece Payne and Terri Moore.

The groom's table, covered with an ecru cutwork tablecloth, held an arrangement of flowers matching those on the bride's table. Hor d'oeuvres and coffee were served from silver appointments by Vicki Glenn, Tonya Glenn, Kristi Brown and Sandra Cecchine.

Other members of the houseparty included Mmes. Phil Mayberry, Larry Wilson, Royce Blankenship, James Alvis, Roy Kiser, Gene Dalton, Jerry George, Jerry Gilleland, Billy Street, Dale Street and Wyatt Collins.

After a wedding trip to Maui, Hawaii, the couple will be at home in Lubbock. The bride, a graduate of Plainview High School and a senior at Texas Tech, is employed by Tom Cunniss Insurance Agency. The groom is a graduate of Kress High School and a 1983 graduate of Texas Tech with a bachelor's degree in agricultural education. He is employed by Farmers Home Administration in Tahoka.

The wedding rehearsal dinner was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Glenn.

Pre-nuptial courtesies for the couple included miscellaneous showers in the homes of Mrs. Larry Wilson, Plainview, and Mrs. Dale Street, Kress. A lingerie shower given by Tami Hindman, Sindy Stanford, Sandi Hughes and Terri Moore; a tool party given by Mrs. Jerry Gilleland and Mrs. Jerry George; and a bridesmaid's luncheon held at the bridal house.

Baughman selected 'Miss Canyon'

Jami Baughman, 18-year-old Canyon High School senior, was "surprised" when her name was called Saturday night, Feb. 5, as Miss Canyon for 1988. She was a first-time contestant in the event entered by 14 CHS students. Miss Baughman said she prepared herself for competition by "practicing my walk." The five foot, 10 inches tall daughter of Charles and Janie Baughman was dressed in a black taffeta gown.

She is a granddaughter of Willis and Bernice Reynolds, Grace Baughman and the late Frank Baughman, all of Lockney.

Miss Baughman is senior class president, is a student council member and works on the yearbook and newspaper staffs. She plans to enter Texas Tech University this fall and major in communications.

Sweetheart of Canyon Lions Club, she also is a modeling student with Diane Dick Agency of Amarillo.

Miss Canyon received gift certificates from two clothing stores, savings bonds from both Canyon banks and the $200 Sherry Linn Welch Memorial Scholarship from the Canyon Study Club.

JAMI BAUGHMAN...MISS CANYON

Lockney Care Center

By Lanita Cantwell

Last week I received a church bulletin with the following poem which I think could have been written by many of the residents and staff here at Lockney Care Center.

Let Me Give

I do not know how long I'll live
But while I live, Lord, let me give
Some comfort to someone in need
By smile or nod-kind word or deed
And let me do what e're I can
To ease things for my fellow man
I want naught but to do my part
To "lift" a tired or weary heart.
To change folks frowns to smiles again
Then I will not have lived in vain
And I'll not care how long I'll live
If I can give-and give-and give.

We have so many giving people who live here, work here, and volunteer here. One of our employees we want you to get acquainted with this week is La Shonda Jackson, a nurse aide who works 3-11 p.m. Her cheerful smile seems contagious and charms residents and visitors. Two friends of hers who were already here at Lockney Care Center talked her into moving to Lockney so that she could work here. That was nine months ago and she says she is enjoying the job and the love the residents show her. When a resident smiles, puts her hand out, and says "thank you" - that is a special bonus of this job.

La Shonda's parents, Johnny and Ann Love, and her two sisters live in Plainview where she was born and raised. She attended Plainview schools. At present she is studying for her G.E.D. so that she can enroll in L.V.N. school.

She has three children: Toran who is 1, Shwanna who is 4, and Alecia who is 5. Her hobbies are dancing to soul music and sewing. On her days off she does volunteer work for us. Come in and meet LaShonda and all our staff.

We had an afternoon of special music last week when John and Maebelle Francis came to play and sing for us. We also had a St. Patrick's Day party on Thursday. We had green punch and Girl Scout cookies. Tina made the delicious punch and Bobbie Kellison donated the cookies. Everyone seemed to enjoy the refreshments and some stayed to see "Finnigan's Rainbow" which Teresa and Brandy Pitchford brought and showed the residents. They also helped serve the refreshments.

Our special resident this week is really special because she is 101 years old! Bertie Hunt Bradley was born Oct. 18, 1886. She was one of 12 children born to Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Hunt of Patito, Texas. She grew up in the small community helping her parents in the mercantile store they owned and operated. She met J.T. Bradley and they were married by the Justice of the Peace on Oct. 18, 1907. Four girls and two boys were born to this union while they were living in Erath County. They moved to the vicinity of Sherman, Texas, in 1918, making the trip in a covered wagon. They farmed and raised livestock. Two daughters, Retha and Leslie, were married in Grayson county before the Bradleys got the urge to move to West Texas. J.T. drove the truck loaded with furniture and two of his sons and the family started on the journey to Quitaque, Texas. Bertie drove a model T Ford and the 2 daughters, Opal and Ruby, rode with her. Late in the evening, Bertie was blinded by the sun shining in her eyes and the car slipped off the shoulder of the freshly graded road flipping it over on its side. No one was injured, but there was some broken glass. Bertie drove the car on to Quitaque after it was righted. The family arrived at their new home on January 1, 1928.

J.T. and Bertie celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1957. J.T. passed away on June 15, 1962. Bertie lived alone until October of 1977 when she came to live at Lockney Care Center. She enjoys visits from her family and friends.

Now that Spring has officially arrived we will be looking forward to even more of these wonderful, gorgeous days. Before we know it, Easter will be here. We want to invite the children to come join our Easter Parade on Saturday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. Come dressed in your Easter frocks. See you here!

BABY CONTEST WINNER — Jennifer Diane Reyes, daughter of Juan and Anna Reyes of Lockney, was a third place winner in the South Plains Area Baby Pageant which is held each year to benefit the Lubbock General Hospital Children's Pavilion. Jennifer placed third in the beauty division and also received a 100% in the health division. The event was held at the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium on February 29. Jennifer's parents would like to thank everyone who helped her by buying tickets. — Staff photo

Rolling apologizes for past misdeeds

There are success stories!

One is Clark (David) Rolling. Local persons who remember him well probably will not have fond memories. But he has changed.

Following is a letter he submitted to The Beacon, along with an article about his life which appeared in The Orange Leader in his home town of Orange, Tex.:

Dear Sir:

I'm sure you don't know my name, but you may or may not remember after you read this article.

I hurt quite a few people in Floyd County as a whole. My uncle, Roy Rolling, died recently, and my aunt, Bertha Rolling, still lives in Lockney. They are just a part of the family I hurt for 28 years.

I would like to ask a favor of The Lockney Beacon, if that is still the newspaper name. Would you please re-print this story or a similar one so I can inform the people who know me that I have finally changed my life.

This is the only way I know of to right the wrongs I've done in my life. Or you may print this letter as a letter to the editor and just say that I publicly apologize to anyone that I may have harmed or caused harm to.

I am thanking you in advance for your time and I am asking that you respond to this letter so I will be assured my effort has succeeded.

Thanking you much,
Clark (David) Rolling

By Betty Martin
The Orange Leader

To look at him — the slightly built, unassuming, gentle man sitting quietly at his desk in the Programs for Human Services offices — you'd never imagine him sticking a knife in a guard's throat.

But that was one of the highlights in Clark Rolling's criminal career that spanned 27 of his 33 years, 14 of them in jails and the state penitentiary.

Rolling talks openly and publicly about his life now — the alcohol, drugs, armed robberies, assaults with deadly weapons and, ultimately, his beginning as a respected family man — for a good reason: "I want to help young people — some kid who might be on the edge now — from ending up like I did...I hurt a lot of people and I've got a lot of black marks on the book. I need to get as many white marks as I can."

He works hard for those white marks now, helping the elderly get adequate roofing and insulation, often on his own time, out of his own pocket. He also volunteers his time at elementary schools, talking to students about where alcohol-drug abuse can lead.

It's a path with which Rolling is well acquainted.

Raised in Lockney, he quickly became a loner. After his parents divorced, he lived first with one, then the other. At 6, he sneaked beer and tried to avoid a physically abusive stepfather. At 8, he was smoking cigarettes and drinking a lot, and by the age of 10, he had his own gang.

From there, he progressed to first a boys' ranch, then two jail sentences marked by escape attempts. Finally making the big time — the Eastham Unit of the Texas Department of Corrections — he served five years of a 17-year sentence for yet another attempted escape before being paroled to Land Manor in Beaumont.

By then, Rolling had spent half his life — 14 of 28 years — in jail or prison.

With counseling, he found a job as an intake clerk in Orange at PHS. "I was taking applications for people who needed assistance — working people, street people, the same kind of people I used to rob — and God got into me. I snapped."

Within 30 days, he was promoted to PHS programs supervisor, in charge of four programs to provide necessities — house "weatherization," utility bill payments, home repair for the elderly and temporary emergency relief for those who qualify.

Sometimes in his job, he meets people for whom the programs alone are not enough. "I put 2,800 volunteer hours in on one house. But the couple that owned it, they were in their 80s, living there with their grandchildren, and they didn't even have hot water."

Rolling is married now, and he and his wife, Vickie, are parents of a 2-year-old child and her 17-year-old twins. He is attending classes at Lamar University in Beaumont to obtain his certification as an alcohol-drug counselor.

Under the terms of his parole, Rolling will be under supervision until 1995. But he wants to be more — and contribute more to his family, his church and his community — than most, even exemplary, ex-convicts. And, "one day at a time," according to Rolling, he's succeeding.

"Life is so good, but I have so much to pay back. I just don't want to expire before I've finished."

"Who knows?" he said, and grinned. "I might be a congressman one of these days."
