

Property owners, council discuss dilapidated structures in Lockney

Lockney City Council rarely has guests for its sessions. The reverse was true last Tuesday night when dozens of individuals filed into the Community Center for a public hearing to "consider whether or not certain buildings/structures are vacant and dangerous as defined in the City of Lockney's Ordinance No. 213, 'Model Dilapidated Structure Removal Ordinance.'"

Forty-eight parcels were originally listed for discussion during the hearing, but some owners made arrangements with the city governing body to clear away dilapidated structures prior to Tuesday night.

Tempers occasionally flared in verbal exchanges between property owners and city officials.

Owners or representatives of 23 properties due discussion appeared before the council. No representative was present for the remaining nine plots in question.

Mayor Dan Smith, Aldermen Ronnie Aston, J.D. Copeland, Jerry Johnson, Gary Marr and Kenneth Wofford, Attorney Paul Lyle and City Secretary Erma Lee Duckworth represented the city at the 7 p.m. hearing.

Following are situations reviewed and decisions developed during the lengthy session about the 22 properties which had owners or representatives present:

*Raymond Ortegon, owner of the east 45 feet of Lot 1, Block 4, Original Town, said he was using the structure in question for storage and agreed to make some necessary repair. Johnson made a motion to accept this condition as compliance with the ordinance and Marr seconded. Votes in this and all other motions during the evening were unanimous.

*Lionel Gonzales, owner of lots 18-20, Block 2, Hadley Addition, told the council that members of his family had come from Denver City to make repairs to their house and to clean up the property. He said the family planned to live in the house at a future date. The council accepted this plan.

*Joe Cavazos Jr., owner of Lot 2, Block C, N.B. Davis, was represented by his parents, who asked for time to remodel the house and make it suitable for human habitation. The council voted to allow three months for the remodeling.

*L.J. Griffith, owner of the east one-half of Lot 2, Block 3, W.E. Brogdon, stated that he had already torn down the garage and was in the process of tearing down the house. The governing body allowed him 30 days to finish the project.

*Jose Moncivais said that he would like to repair his building — located on Lot 6, Block E, N.B. Davis — and use it for storage. He was allotted three months to complete the repairs.

*Mrs. Guinn Bailey and two sons requested time to tear down the structures in question. They own 72.5 feet of Lot 12 and the east 37.5 feet of Lot 11, Block A, N.B. Davis. They will be allowed three months.

*Mrs. Frank Amador, owner of .2 acres in the W.M. Johnson Survey, was represented by Pete Gonzales. He agreed that the old structure would be torn down, and was given three months.

*Anatalio Sales, owner of Lot 5, Block 1, Tuttle Addition, was told that his violation came under the building code. He was advised to contact building inspector Richard McCarty to find what he should do to bring his property under compliance.

*Mariana Arevalo, owner of Lots 1-4 and part of Lot 5, Block C, D.F. Davis Addition, was represented by Ramon Arevalo, who told the council that he would repair the barn and sheds. Two months will be allowed for the repairs.

*Noe Blanco Sr., owner of Lot 13 and the north one-half of Lot 12, Block 7, Moore Addition, was represented by Noe Blanco Jr. He stated that the 'Country Jubilee' selected as theme for fair

Members of local clubs and organizations should start making plans for the 1988 Floyd County Fair. In the regular monthly meeting of the board, members approved "Country Jubilee" as the theme for the 1988 event, which is planned for August 18, 19, and 20.

Local residents should also note that the official name of the fair has been changed back to The Floyd County Fair. Though the name has changed, surrounding county residents are still welcome as entrants in any of the fair events.

DONATIONS REQUESTED

The fair board would like to ask the help of the public with a necessary project. The entertainment building is "in desperate need" of a new sound system. Cost of a new system has been estimated at $2,500 and any local business or individual who would like to help fund the purchase of a new system should contact one of the officers.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other action, board members approved booth space for United Blood Services of Lubbock to conduct a blood drive on Saturday, August 20, during the fair. Blood Services has agreed to bring its air conditioned mobile unit for the drive, and the fair board will donate the space needed for the motor home to set up.

Blood Services official Cheryl Keefer has informed The Beacon that they are planning to give free T-shirts to those who donate at the fair drive.

They will set up on the fairgrounds about 10:00 a.m. and will be ready to begin taking donations just as soon as the parade is over that Saturday morning. At the present time, they are planning to stay until about 4:30 p.m., however the time will be lengthened if necessary.

During the meeting, Laura Johnson, partner in Floydada Ford-Mercury, presented a new idea to board members. She will try to arrange with several new car dealers to have a new car show during the fair. This will be further discussed at the next meeting.

Board members also approved a new by-law during the meeting whereby no one may keep livestock on the fairgrounds without prior approval of the board.

RODEO ARENA

Board members also discussed the condition of the wooden structures and walkways at the rodeo arena.

"All of the wood is rotten and is a serious safety hazard, especially with so many children on the grounds during the fair," stated one board member.

Directors agreed to ask for public assistance. "If there is anyone who would like to fix up the wooden structures, they are free to do so. However if no one is interested in fixing these areas, they will be torn down. We have a responsibility to the children who visit the grounds during the fair. These wooden structures could cause serious injury if they are not fixed up or removed," stated the board member.

Anyone who is interested in repairing fences, gates, and elevated walkways should contact Reeda Cay Smith before the next board meeting set for Monday, May 9.

ADVERTISING DEADLINE

In order to have the catalogs ready for the printer, a May 9 deadline has been set for all advertising to be turned in. Local businesses will be contacted before the deadline.

Present for the monthly meeting included Reeda Cay Smith, president; Johnny Arjona, vice president; Nellie Webb, secretary; and Betty Hayes, treasurer.

Also, Frankie Armstrong, Frankie Graves, Karen Wilson, Karen Elliott, Lawson Rowell, Sandra Cummings, Kyle Smith, Laura Johnson, Laquita

Fraze, DarLee Foster, Ethelyn Vernon, Kay Martin, Cindy Cotham, Roy Henderson, Jane Archer and Carol Huggins were on hand for the meeting.

Several more plans are yet to be made for the fair and anyone who would like to help or who might have a suggestion for an activity or event should contact one of the officers or be at the next meeting on Monday, May 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lockney High School Home Ec. Lab.

OWNERS NOT PRESENT

Owners of nine other parcels on which the city deemed removal or renovation of structures was necessary did not attend the hearing.

Disposition of those properties includes:

*Thirty days were given for Angel B. Araujo to tear down a garage and shed on the north 70 feet of Lot 2, Block 3, Moore Addition.

(Editor's note: A typed article concerning the hearing was placed in The Beacon mail box. It stated that "All quotes taken directly from taped recording." Perhaps some of this material should have appeared in the above article, however The Beacon was unable to learn the origin. Also, no one with whom this newspaper talked was aware of a tape recorder being used at the hearing. For these reasons, The Beacon has decided not to use portions of the contributed article. It will be kept on file, however.)

The annual art show will be held May 25-28 at the museum in conjunction with Old Settlers. Art pieces will be entered the 25th, judged the 26th, open to the public the 27th and 28th and the awards presentation will be May 28. Anyone wishing more information on the art show should contact Penny Golightly.

The semiannual Members' Meeting will be a "Tour of Yards" to be held June 24 in Lockney and June 25 in Floydada. A central location will be selected for each town, there will be pastries and coffee at 9:00. This will be followed by a brief discussion by the owner of each yard to be toured beginning around 10:00. Then, the public will be free to tour the yards they wish to see at their leisure until 12:00.

"The Night Before Christmas" by Penguin Productions was approved to be the group's children's play again this December. It will be presented at Floydada and Lockney elementary schools if approved by the school systems.

Athena members also made final plans for the pre-school clinic and registration for students who will begin kindergarten next fall. The clinic was held the next day (April 14).

Answering roll call "How media attention has changed my diet" were Betty Jackson, Donnie Meriwether, Ann Anderson, Virginia Owens, Barbara Mathis, Gayle Jackson, Shelley Brock, Laura Wilson, Leslie Patterson, Shirley Hardin, Kathy Hunter, Vera Jo Bybee and LaNell Stone.

Seniors feted with night at 21 Club

Lockney Elementary School Cafeteria was transformed into the Club 21 as the Senior Class was treated to a night "Down on Broadway" by the juniors at the annual Junior-Senior Prom on Saturday night.

Those attending entered the cafeteria through the southwest back door and were greeted by posters highlighting the featured entertainers, Mary Lindsey Poole and Jennifer Fortenberry.

Continuing through to the door, juniors, seniors, and their escorts entered through a purple archway proclaiming "Club 21" and from there they walked down "Broadway" to their tables.

Walls of the room were covered with silver mylar and featured silhouettes of "Roaring 20's" dancers. Hanging from the ceiling were silver metallic chandeliers and purple and silver streamers.

Focal point of the room was the stage area which featured silhouettes of the New York skyline, purple and silver decorations, and a large sign over the stage which proclaimed "Broadway."

The front of the stage was covered with a piano key mural.

Those attending enjoyed a delicious Mexican food meal, prepared by the parents of the Junior Class. It featured enchiladas, salad, beans, rice, tostadas and hot sauce, and fruit sherbert for dessert. Servers for the evening were freshmen and sophomores who were dressed in purple "Cats" costumes.

During the meal, five musical selections were performed and those named as class personalities were announced. Scott Armstrong and Raetta Starnes served as the toastmaster and toastmistress for the night.

ENTERTAINMENT
Mary Lindsey Poole lead off the entertainment by performing a tap dance routine to "Fabulous Feet" from "The Tap Dance Kid." A scene from Grease was next pantomimed by Danny (Coach Jim Clark) and Sandy (Trenea Aston).

"Anything Goes" from "Thoroughly Modern Millie" was a duet routine performed by Poole and Jennifer Fortenberry, and Fortenberry closed the night with "Far From Over" from "Staying Alive."

CLASS PERSONALITIES
Voted by their peers, several seniors were awarded banners proclaiming them as the leading personalities of the 1988 graduating class.

Voted Most Courteous were Veronica Blanco and Troy Bigham, Most Representative were Gwen Lane and Todd Hallmark, Most Friendly were Mary Lou Gonzales and Aaron Kidd.

Most Likely to Succeed were Joel Mitchell and Kathy Davis, and Connie Vasquez and Matt Williams were voted Most Popular.

Later during the evening Linda Cruz and Javier Bernal were crowned Prom King and Queen.

Wording the welcome for the evening was Sonia Garcia, Loretta Turner worded the invocation, Laurie Perez gave the benediction, and Melinda Basaldua read the poem to the seniors.

In the program, Junior Class members extended special thanks to all the parents for their help with prom preparations and for their support through the years, also to members of the faculty for their patience and guidance through the years and special thanks to the Senior Class, to whom the prom was dedicated.

Music for the prom was provided by Clyde Shannon of the Music Machine in Lubbock.

Senior advisor is Malcom Moerbe and sponsors of the Junior Class, who helped make the prom possible include Dovie Davis, Eddie Fortenberry, Tommy Kelly, Cindy Smith and Raul Vera.

The poem to the seniors:
On winged feet,
the four years pass.
And now we honor
our Senior Class.
Beyond these walls,
this town, this state,
A whole new world
now lies in wait.
You've much to learn,
we're often told.
Wisdom to gain
before you're old.
But tonight
before you turn to go,
Your separate ways,
as well we know,
Enjoy this place,
these hours, this school.
In memory,
they'll return to you.

"This year, I'm planting NEW SG 8333 hybrid corn, a yellow hybrid for food products with excellent standability and fast dry down. Along with dependable SG 8215, Garrison has the corn you should be planting. Both hybrids are bred specifically for Texas' High Plains.

Crowd attends open house and views improvements

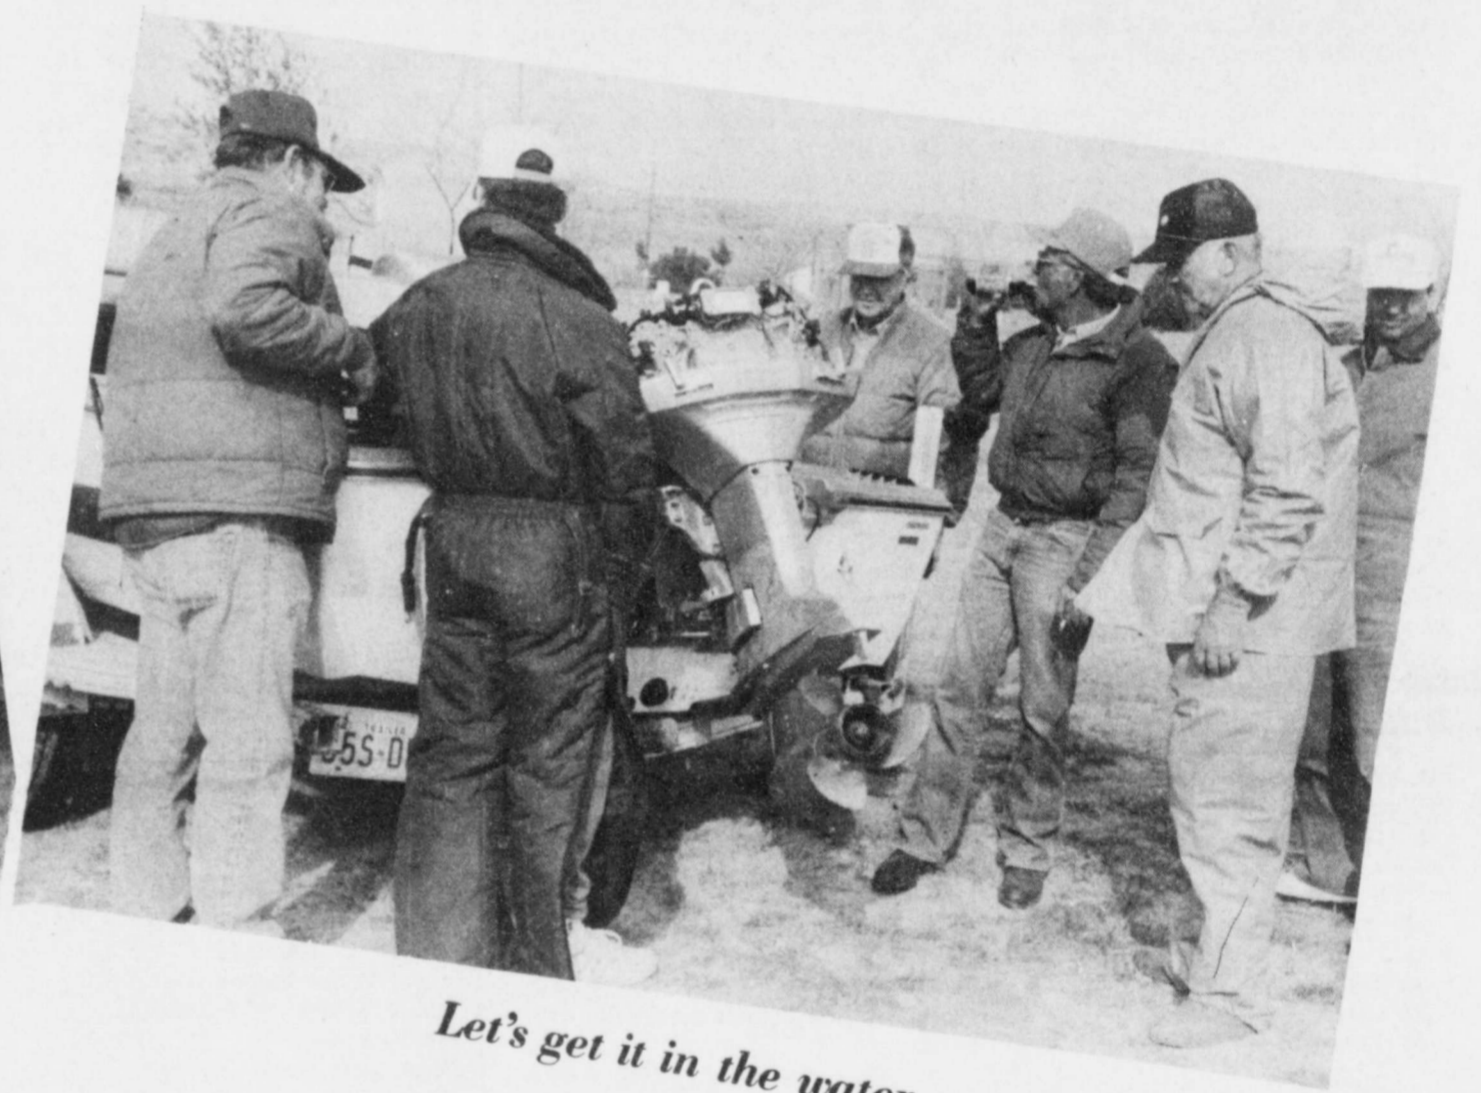

JUST OUR SIZE—Addie Foster and Jennifer McCain take the opportunity to read the new books in the childrens corner of the hospital lobby. The childrens corner was installed during the recent redecorating project. Members of the fireman's auxillary provided the new books, Marlon McDonald designed and built the pint size furniture, and Tami Wofford and Debbie Kirk painted the mural for the wall.

OPEN HOUSE—Dr. W.J. Mangold, Les Ferguson, Fred Byrd, and Faye Ferguson examine the newly redecorated hospital lobby during the open house festivities last Sunday afternoon. The lobby project was co-sponsored by Il Penseroso and Athena Study clubs and members of Athena hosted the open house.
