LISD tax increase hearing is set

A hearing for a proposed increase in taxes for Lockney Independent School District is set for Thursday, August 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the board room located at the superintendent's office.

If passed by the board as it has been proposed, the tax increase would mean a $3.38 increase per average household in taxes owed to the district.

The following is an explanation of why the tax increase is necessary as written by superintendent W.H. Hallmark, at the request of the board.

With the school district considering the possibility of a slight increase in the tax rate, it is important that the public be informed.

For the year 1987 the district tax base - after exemptions - was $72,620,122. The tax rate was $.70 which generated in dollars $508,340.

The 1988 tax base is 76,212,786. This is an increase of 3,592,786. The district must find a tax rate - when multiplied by the base rate - that will generate the same amount of money received in 1987. This rate is called the effective tax rate. Because of the increase in district values, the effective tax rate is $.66801. When multiplied by the tax base for 1988 the amount received would be $509,109.

If the district has a tax rate 3% above the effective tax rate of $.66, it must inform the public. If the district stays at the present rate ($.70), that would be 4.78% above the effective rate even though the majority of the tax payers would have no change in the amount they would be paying for 1988.

If the district chose to increase taxes to a $.72 rate, this would be 2.86% above the present rate. However, this must be reported as 7.78% above the effective tax rate.

Lockney ISD has been very fortunate over the last several years. State funding increased, therefore, a lower tax rate was afforded the district. In 1985 the school board lowered the rate from $.77 to $.67. The School Board felt that lowering the tax rate would benefit the tax payer for a period of time.

In 1985 House Bill 72 and educational reforms were enacted. Along with these reforms came increased funding and increased responsibility. Over a period of time each district would be requested to increase its share of the funding. This district is at that point.

This past year, local taxes paid for Across the state, school districts our size and with comparable wealth paid 25% of the budget from local taxes. The state average for all schools was 45% from local taxes. 19% of our budget. The state paid 64%. Federal funds paid 12% and 4% came from other sources.

It is noteworthy to state that based on the above figures, the Lockney School Board has shown responsibility to the taxpayer. If the board deems it necessary to increase the rate $.02 or 2.86% above the present rate, it is still $.05 below what it was in 1985.

A public notice of the hearing may be found inside this issue of the Lockney Beacon.

TDA requests information

The Texas Department of Agriculture would like to know who would be willing to donate hay from CRP acres if they were able to recover their baling costs of up to $30.00 per ton. Secretary Lyng has made this allowance in Minnesota and we expect Texas farmers will be allowed to help their neighbors. So that we may know how much acreage would be available, please call the 1-800-DIAL-HAY program.

According to the spokesman, items stolen include photographic equipment, a 13 inch TV, a VCR, a small amount of petty cash, and a small sum of money from the vending machines. Applewhite returns from year in China Lockney athletes to have physicals this Friday

"The people are exceptionally polite and receptive and I plan to go back and visit my students in one year," commented Myra Applewhite of her one year teaching assignment in Wu-Han China.

Myra, the daughter of Felicia and the late Goree Applewhite of Lockney, recently returned to Plainview following a year of furthering English skills of 21 selected students in a masters program at Wu-Han University in China.

"All 21 of my students were hand-picked and I was there to further their English skills. They already knew English, however my job was to prepare them to be able to take notes in English. Next year they (Wu-Han University) will have teachers there from Oklahoma City and I was to prepare the students to be able to take notes in class and generally further their skills with our language."

There were seven girls and 14 boys in Applewhite's class, from all over China. "They were exceptional students and very polite," she said.

Applewhite prepared the students to take a TOPEL test, a universal standardized test which measures a student's aptitude in foreign languages. The test is prepared by Princeton University and the students are required to make at least a 500 to be considered to master the test. Applewhite said that all but four of her students mastered the test. "The four that did not score well over 400 and by the time the Oklahoma teachers arrive they will have mastered it."

In addition to holding classroom instruction, Myra also had open house in her home in China three days a week.

Chili cookoff again on fair events slate

One of the most popular events at the Floyd County Fair, the chili cookoff, is again being planned for the upcoming August festivities. The cookoff will be held Saturday, August 20.

All cookers must pay their entry fees, $15, by 11:00 a.m. that day. Each cooker will be required to start off with 10 pounds of meat and their own heat source. All ingredients will be prepared on the spot and judging will take place at 5:00 p.m. that evening.

Entrants will be judged on chili and showmanship. Awards will be given.

Two Floydada teams representing Pay-n-Save and Shop Rite grocery stores have already committed to participate in the cookoff. Make your plans now and get a team together and compete.

Following the judging, spectators will be able to have a bowl of chili at a cost of $2.50 per person.

In addition to the chili cookoff, there will be several other fun "games" throughout the day which will include horseshoe and washer pitching, a jalapeno pepper eating contest and much more.

Monday, Wednesday and Friday. "During the open house evenings, the students and I would play games, work on their studies, and watch television, they translated for me. My home was open to the students at any time but they never infringed on my privacy, they always let me know when they were coming. I provided refreshments on the evening when they were with me and these nights were very enjoyable for all of us."

Myra returned home for the Christmas holiday and while here she was looking for some video tapes to take back. "What I really wanted were Eng-

Pinner, carving produces firewood or fancy

By Lisa R. Head

"If I make a mistake it becomes firewood, and there is no telling how many have turned to flames in my lifetime," said Bobby Pinner about his wood carvings. The pride he feels for his carvings is both obvious and justified.

Pinner won first place in his division at Old Settlers in Floydada this year. He was also awarded second place in his division at the Plains Art Association in Plainview.

"It gives me something to do to relax.

FAVORITE CARVINGS—Bobby Pinner selected these favorite carvings to exhibit. Carving is a hobby of Pinner's and at the present time he is working on a selection of birds which are indigenous to the Caprock Canyon area. He has also done fish and western carvings. Two of his carvings have won recent art shows and two others are in businesses in Plainview. —Staff photo

Even in small towns like this, you've got pressures like in the large cities," said the Lockney native. Pinner began this hobby with a bar of ivory soap at the age of nine. But what started as just a school project has become a source for personal, as well as monetary fulfillment for this "self-taught artist."

A few dollars to a few hundred dollars is what he normally receives for a wood carving. Ranging from fish and ducks to cowboys, Pinner said he will begin carving with "whatever comes to mind—whatever fancy hits me at the time." He has also been commissioned by several individuals to carve a specific figure for them.

"Someday I would like to just work with my carvings," said Pinner, referring to his business. His wife Glenda, who shares Pinner's enthusiasm for the carvings, helps with painting some of the wooden birds whenever possible. "She is my worst critic and my best fan," he said of his wife.

Pinner uses acrylic paint on the figures he carves out of solid logs. The types of wood used most often are cedar, elm, and pecan. "But whitewood is the easiest to work with," he said, "it holds detail better, yet it is soft enough to use a knife." Pinner starts with a block of wood and uses an electric knife to detail lines and indentations.

He explained how his artwork is different from most other forms. "You start out small and add in most art media, but with woodcarving, you start big and carve off. Mistakes can't be pasted back on to the carving. You don't put back wood, it's little bitty slivers on the floor."

Music dreams come true for Broseh, Owens

Dreams came true this summer for two local young men. Keith Owens and Earl Broseh have had dreams of the music business since they were students in Lockney Junior High School. They never expected, in their wildest dreams, of accomplishing three of their goals in one year.

During high school Owens played with the band "Westwind" and Broseh was with "Finger Picking Good", both country-western bands.

After graduation from high school both attended Clarendon Jr. College. With each entering separate fields, Owens, Ranch and Feedlot Operations and Broseh Agriculture Economics, they were instrumental in forming the Clarendon College Cowboy Band, with Broseh having the chores of lead vocals and guitar, Owens on drums. The group played for many college activities and civic organizations while at Clarendon.

After graduation the band needed a new name and selected "Slow Motion." Owens transferred to South Plains College and Broseh to Texas Tech.

Other members of the band are Daron Brown, playing bass and fiddle. He is originally from Plainview and is employed by Ziegler Music Co. in Lubbock. Becky Webb on keyboard and vocals is from Adrian. She is employed in Hereford. Don Bode, guitar and vocals is from Allenreed and is currently attending West Texas State University.

Owens and Broseh had a dream of playing the Clarendon July 4 rodeo, the Bar-None Rodeo and opening for big name bands at XIT Rodeo, the largest amateur rodeo in the world. All three of these happened this summer.

The attendance was high at both the Clarendon rodeo and Bar-None in Plainview. The band was accepted well with many compliments and future appearances resulting.

The biggest test for the group is yet to come with the August 4-6 performances at the 52nd Annual XIT Rodeo and Reunion in Dalhart.

Thursday night, August 4, Slow Motion will open the three day event for the Country Music Associations current new male vocalist of the year, Ricky Van Shelton. Friday night the female vocalist of 1986, Judy Rodman, will be appearing. Saturday night grammy award winning group "Asleep at the Wheel" will occupy the headliner's spotlight. Slow Motion will be performing two shows each night at 9:00 and 10:45. The main acts will perform two shows at 10:00 and 12:00.

Following the XIT, Slow Motion will wrap up their summer with two performances at Vega Round-up in Vega, Texas, with one at 12:00 noon and one at 9:00 p.m. August 13. On Sunday, August 14, the group will be performing at Nazareth with several other area bands and Sixteenth Avenue recording stars, "Canyon." On August 19 and 20 the band will be featured at the Happy Days Celebration in Happy.

If there exists somewhere a list of elements necessary for a country band to be considered a success it would probably read something like this: 1. Having top of the line equipment, 2. Having jackets and t-shirts with professional logos, 3. Having a roadie or someone other than a band member traveling with the group, 4. Having a following of dedicated fans, 5. Being signed to a recording contract (major or minor) and having a release, 6. Being produced by a well known artist/producer from Nashville or Dallas and having a booking agency set up your gigs.

Slow Motion has amassed all of the above except for number 6 and that, they feel, is only a matter of time.

The group is presently spending a great deal of time in the recording studio in preparation for the release of their first album on Star Records in Lubbock. It will be published by Okie Bill Music.

The first single release "Daydream" is already being played on KKYN Radio in Plainview. Other stations will have this release soon. The album consists of all original material written by Sally Daniels of Plainview.

Broseh is the son of Kenneth and Juanita Broseh and Owens is the son of Gene and Virginia Owens.

lish teaching tapes, but I was unable to find any that they don't already have so I took back a history of films and the MGM history movie."

All 21 of the students were between the ages of 23 and 33 and were graduate students who had been specially selected for the graduate program.

There were seven American teachers on the Wu-Han campus and the school and government officials "treated us very well. We were paid a good salary, for over there, and we were taken on several sightseeing tours. They were just great to all of us," she said.

Myra commented, "The week I left we all cried. The students presented me with several gifts and an album and I am really going to miss them. They will be together for the next two years in the master program and I am planning to return to China to see them in particular."

Myra travels extensively and just a few days after returning from China she left with several doctors and nurses from Plainview who journeyed to Mexico to medically treat natives. She acts as the translator for the group, who go each summer.

MYRA APPLEWHITE

A Gardener From the Other Side of the Pacific Ocean written for Applewhite

(Editor's note: The following is one of two articles which appeared in a Chinese newspaper singing the praises of Myra Applewhite, daughter of Felicia and the late Goree Applewhite of Lone Star. Myra spent one year teaching English to engineering students in a Chinese university and has now returned to Plainview.)

It's said that Westerners are open and active, and American are especially liberal and carefree. But our English teacher, Miss Myra Applewhite, a blonde American, gives me the impression of dignity, serenity, virtue and kindness, just like a sheer Eastern intellectual lady.

Miss Applewhite is fifty-eight this year. Most women at this age in China have already retired. But you can hardly see anything weak or decrepit from her. Every morning she wears a pink dress, carries a polka-dotted white bag, fully revealing her elegance and vitality. Passing through the playground and garden, she is always the first one entering the classroom. When we gradually come to the class, she kindly greets everyone at each time. Her quiet smile and good spirits constantly accompany us and affect every student.

Miss Applewhite is a teacher with years of teaching experience. We still remember the first time when we had her class. Most students were worried about their poor listening and speaking ability. But soon our worries proved to be unnecessary. She started from the simplest conversation. She talked with each student and patiently corrected every mistake. When we met with difficulties, she tried to explain them with various methods through objects, pictures, gestures and etc. At the same time she carefully chose the English materials and tapes for us according to our level. In order to motivate our interest in study, she offered each student an American magazine brought by her from the United States this winter vacation, together with a lot of tapes, books and materials. With this great help, the students can gradually express themselves in English and now the class atmosphere gets more active than before.

Miss Applewhite is a very hospitable American. She keeps an open house to every student. Every time we go to her house, she prepares fruits, refreshments, coffee to entertain us, as if to her own children. Besides discussing problems, we watch TV, play cards, sing songs, practice dance or even Taiji Boxing together. The good time we have like this will never be forgotten by us. That's why many of my classmates are willing to bring their good friends there to enjoy the good time together with us.

Miss Applewhite will soon finish her one-year teaching in China and return to her own motherland. But how we expect her to stay in China longer and longer! We believe that the flowers bred by her industrious sweat will always be in full bloom and we - 21 graduate students in China - U.S. cooperative class, will forever cherish her.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The (Lockney ISD) will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax rolls in (1987) by (7.78% above the effective tax rate). Your individual taxes may increase or decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in the taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on (Aug. 11 - 7:30 p.m.) at (Lockney ISD).

FOR the proposal: Gary Mangold, Jim Bob Martin, Paul Glasson, Eddie Teeter
 AGAINST the proposal: Dickie Lambert, Lisa Mosley, D.K. Jackson
 PRESENT and not voting: None
 ABSENT; None

(Names of all members of the governing body, showing how each voted on the proposal to consider the tax increase and, if one or more were absent, indicating the absences)

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the (effective) tax rate that the unit published on (June 23, 1988). The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again your taxes may be higher or lower depending on the taxable value of your property.

Average home value	LAST YEAR	THIS YEAR
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	16,140	16,300
Average taxable value	5,000	5,000
Tax rate	11,140	11,300
Tax	.70¢	.72¢ (Proposed)
	$77.98	$81.36 (Proposed)

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would (increase) by $ (3.38) or (4.33%) percent compared with last years taxes.
 Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would (increase) by (.02¢) per $100 of taxable value or (2.86%) percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.
