Bumper 1988 crop lifts spirits

Floyd County citizens ended 1988 on an upbeat note and headed into 1989 in a spirit of optimism, according to a survey by these newspapers.

In fact, that spirit of optimism, anchored on one of the best cotton crops in recent years, was so pervasive throughout the County that it was rated one of the top stories of the year ending. Near perfect growing conditions for the cotton crop was crowned with even better harvest weather as area gins reported being far ahead of last year, which itself was an exceptionally good year. And the quality of the crop, having escaped late season storms, was uniformly reported as good. One area farmer told us "I've been farming for 31 years, and this year was the best I have ever had."

A review of the pages of the Floyd County Newspapers indicates the mood spilled over into various community events held during the year. The Old Settlers Reunion was generally rated as one the "best ever" by participants and onlookers alike. Crowds lined the streets and parking was at a premium as residents and visitors applauded the parade and took part in the festivities.

It was the year of the quadrennial homecoming for both Floydada and Lockney High Schools. Floydada alumni outdid themselves as upwards of 1,000 former students returned to their Alma Mater to renew old friendships and swap stories.

And of course the now annual "Punkin Days" celebration would have to be listed as one of the top stories covered by these papers during the year. Starting as merely an idea nurtured by lots of hard work, the occasion blossomed with loads of community involvement. It garnered recognition far and wide as state and area newspapers and television stations noted the uniqueness of the occasion. Even the far off village of Morton, Illinois, heretofore the "world's pumpkin capitol" took note of the affair and wondered what to do about it.

The improving agriculture picture locally, coming as it did off a generally good 1987 agricultural year, (for those who escaped the hails) was reflected among County businesses as well. In the face of bank failures all across the state, the local banks stood out as solid, safe havens, indeed. County businesses were almost unanimous in reporting a good year. And, perhaps because of the year just ending, or perhaps because optimism is a trademark of West Texans, almost all reported optimism for the new year as well.

Fred Byrd, of Byrd's Pharmacy in Lockney told us he was looking forward to 1989 and only "hoped it is as good as '88."

Tommy Perry at Floyd County Implement in Floydada said, "We had a real good year. We hope 89 is as good as '88." And Steve Brown at Brown's Implement in Floydada echoed her statement. They also "had a good year." He said he too was "optimistic" about

'89. All three Floydada automobile dealers reported a good year. Floydada Ford said "Yes, definitely." They reported "Good Christmas sales." City Auto reported "As good a year as we've ever had." On second thought they reported "One of the best years we've ever had" with a good Christmas "rush." Oden Chevrolet also reported a good year and speculated that the cotton crop will be a help for next year's sales.

Claude Brown, Lockney, owner of Brown's Department Store, and always the master of the understatement, noted that he was "pleased with the Christmas business."

Lane Kirk, of Kirk and Son's Furniture and Hardware, reported that the "rebound at the end of the year due to the cotton harvest was great. "In November and December we did a lot of catch-up."

Jerry Thompson, of Thompson's Pharmacy in Floydada, reported "In general, yes, business was good." He said he too thought "1989 will be a good year."

Nancy Willson at Willson and Son, reported that "1988 was better than 1987. Things appear to be picking up so we're looking forward to 1989."

Davis Lumber also reported business "holding up and looking forward to it being better in '89."

In Lockney, Schacht's Flowers and Gifts also reported "A pretty good year overall, and looking forward to 1989."

All in all, and considering all the alternatives, it was a good year for the folks in Floyd County.

Floydada review shows busy year of activity

January:

January started off with freezing rain and hazardous streets. It continued that way with a week of sub-freezing temperatures. Heavy ice falling on lines created problems for Lighthouse Electric. Vandals turning on fire hydrants caused water main breaks, paving damage, and loss of water to residents with repair expense costing up to $7,236 and 315,400 gallons of lost water.

The first baby of the year, Marla Noel, was born Jan. 21, to the proud parents of Mike and Stacy Reeves. She weighed 7 pounds 8 ounces, and has an older brother, Justin, who is 3 1/2.

The first week, more hats were thrown into the political ring. Randy Hollums announced he was seeking the democratic nomination for the 13th Congressional District. Ray Macha announced his candidacy for Sheriff, and D.R. Sanders filed for the position of Precinct Three Commissioner. Warren Chisum announced his candidacy for 84th District Texas Representative.

City Council declined to tax vehicles, travel trailers, boats and airplanes, and the school board extended the contract of Superintendent Jerry Cannon, giving him a raise of $1,100 per year, bringing the salary to $49,332.00.

Work continued on a wildcat well being drilled seven miles southeast of Floydada. Ernest Smitherman posted a hole-in-one at the Floydada Country Club golf course. The ace was posted on the 136-yard, par 3, two hole, using a five iron.

Whirlwind boys captured first in JV tournament and Whirlwind girls came in second.

Wannie Hilton turned 106 on January 16.

Entering the sixth bidding period 13% of the county's cropland was subscribed to the Conservation Reserved Program, representing 60,182 acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Butler, Mr. and Mrs. W.O. Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Patton, and Mr. and Mrs. Silas Wheeler, celebrated their 50th anniversaries in January.

February:

A school bus, specially equipped for handicapped transportation overturned on icy roads, on FM 207, the first week in February. The driver sustained bruises and abrasions and the two children on the bus were uninjured.

Floyd County banks closed 1987 with a $2.6 million increase in deposits over the previous year. On the first day of

Hilton, Floydada's oldest resident dies at age 106

Floydada's oldest resident, Wannie Hilton, passed away Tuesday, December 20, at 9:00 p.m. in the Floydada Nursing Home. He was 106, just shy of his 107th birthday on January 16.

He was born January 16, 1882 in Jacksboro. In an interview with The Floyd County Hesperian on January 15, 1987, he attributed his longevity to, "never smoking, chewing tobacco or drinking coffee."

He told The Hesperian that he had seen numerous changes occur in this county since arriving here in 1906. He and his late wife, Lola, traveled in a covered wagon pulled by four mules from Jacksboro. "It was a hard trip."

He was the son of a rancher, J.P. Hilton and Laura Owens. He was the oldest of a family of four and outlived his one brother and two sisters.

Mr. Hilton married the former Lola Scoby in 1905 in Jacksboro. They were married 57 years prior to her death in 1962. A daughter, Gladys Johnson, also preceded her father in death.

He was reputed to be Floyd County's first barber. He barbered from 1915 to 1972, retiring on his 90th birthday. He farmed prior to that.

Mr. Hilton maintained his own residence and drove his car prior to breaking his hip at 103. He then took up residency at the Floydada Nursing Home on Feb. 20, 1986.

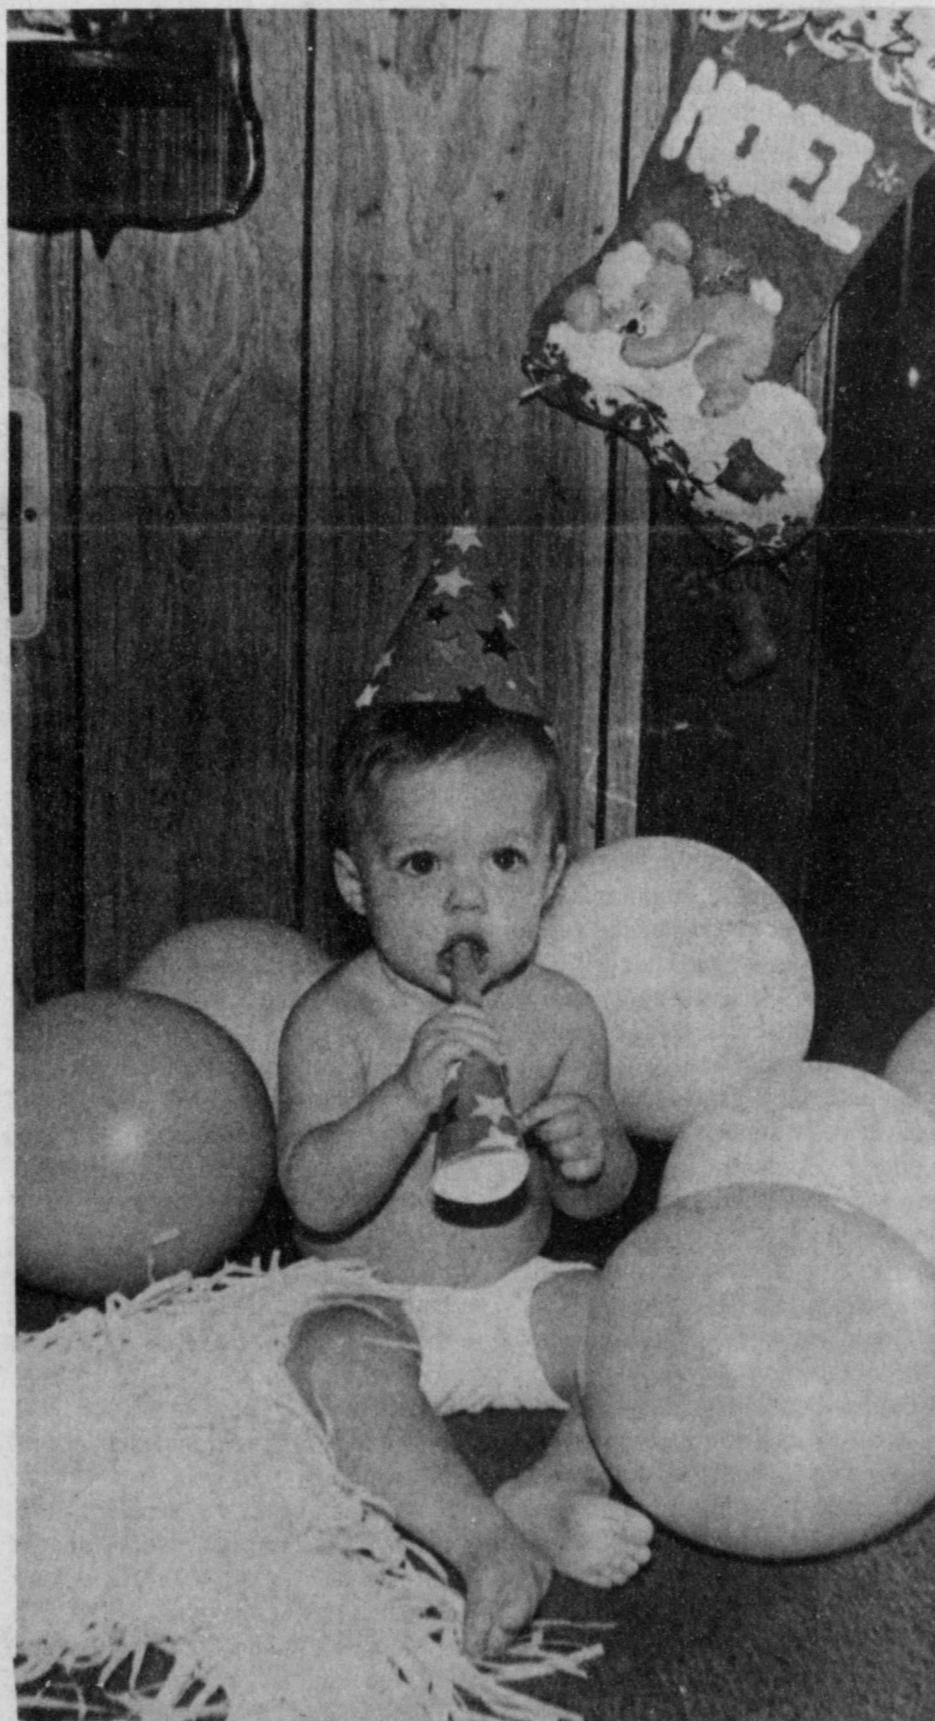

He was a Methodist. He was also a Mason for over 65 years.

Funeral services were December 22, in the chapel of Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home with the Rev. Bill Wright, pastor of First United Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in the Floyd County Memorial Park by Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were: Doyle Walls, Bill Gray, Jimmy Willson, Allen Bingham, Bob Kendricks, and Roger Poage.

Survivors include a daughter, Blanche Grundy of Port Aransas; two grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; and five great-great-grandchildren.

Happy New Year?

MARLA NOEL, Floydada's first new citizen of 1988, rings out the old year and welcomes the new, perhaps a little apprehensively, at the home of her parents, Mike and Stacy Reeves of Floydada. Marla seems to reflect what many Floyd County residents think: It's been a good year, and I'm hopeful, but not real sure, about 1989. Marla is approaching her first birthday, having been born in January 1988 in Floydada Hospital. Staff Photo

New fitness center to open in Floydada January 3rd

A new fitness center will open in Floydada on January 3. The business, located at 109 S. 5th, will be owned and operated by Sharkey and Sheryl LeCroy, of Floydada. The center has been named, Floydada Boxing Club, Aaction Kenpo Karate and Family Fitness Center.

It will feature one large room for men and women to work out with weights, treadmills, bicycles, and universal machines. Two private suntanning beds are also available.

In another large room there will be a floor level practice ring for boxing. It will also be equipped for karate and kick boxing lessons and workouts.

"I have just received my certification from the USA Amateur Boxing Federation," said LeCroy. "This certifies me as a national coach enabling me to teach boxing. I will also teach karate and kick boxing."

"The hours may change," said LeCroy, "depending on the needs of the people using the facility. At this time the hours are set at Monday-Friday 12 noon - 8:30 p.m. We will be open on Saturdays, but are not sure what hours at this time."

The doors will open to the public January 3 and everyone is encouraged to stop in and see the new facilities.

Lockney's top stories seen in 1988 review

January

Matthew Lee Barrientos became the first Floyd County baby of 1988. He was born in the Lockney Hospital. His parents are Janie and Joe Angel Barrientos of Floydada.

Stetsons were tossed into the political ring. Ray Macha joined Fred Cardinal in the race for sheriff. Richard Sanders filed along with Thomas Warren and George Taylor for commissioner of Precinct three. Randy Hollums threw his hat into the ring as a candidate for U.S. Representative of the 13th Congressional District. Penny Golightly and Carolyn Redding were both seeking to become county tax assessor-collector. Connie Bearden, Hulon Carthel, Bill Hopper, Delmas McCormick, and Sam Spence were vying for the position of commissioner of Precinct One. Candidates with no opposition were Bill Hardin, county judge, Kenneth Bain, county attorney, and Kay Crabtree, commissioner, Precinct Four.

Schools were let out early because of the weather. ACP sign up at the ASCS office was set for January 11-15. Dan and Reeda Cay Smith, 1987 recipients of the Farm Bureau Outstanding Young Farmer/Rancher Award attended the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in New Orleans.

Twenty seven building permits were issued in 1987 amounting to $252,245. Il Penseroso and Athena Study Clubs plan a facelift for the lobby of the Lockney General Hospital-Cogdell Clinic. The Justice Department approved single balloting site for the city of Floydada, and the Floydada Development Company met with a Director of the South Plains Association of Governments to discuss a "feasibility study" concerning a proposal by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad to sell the "Lubbock Cluster", which includes the 27-mile spur between Floydada and Plainview.

There were several contested local races in the March 8 primary, on the democratic party ballot. District Attorney Randy Hollums, sought the position of District 13 U.S. Representative. Other democratic candidates for that position were Bill Sarpalus and Ed Lehman. Local contested races were: County Tax Assessor-Collector being sought by Penny Golightly and Carolyn Redding; Precinct 1 Commissioner being sought by Connie D. Bearden, Hulon Carthel, Bill Hopper, Sam Spence and Delmas McCormick; and Precinct 3 Commissioner contested by D.R. Sanders, George Taylor, and Thomas Warren. Another hotly contested race, but not in the primary, was that of incumbent Sheriff Fred Cardinal, democratic, and republican contender Ray Macha.

Two county races were decided on Super Tuesday. In the race for County Tax Assessor, Penny Golightly polled 1,492 votes to Carolyn Redding's 391. George Taylor became the new Precinct 3 commissioner with 199 votes. Thomas Warren polled 95 and D.R. Sanders 24.

A run off was required in the Precinct 1 Commissioner's race. Hulon Carthel and Connie Bearden survived among the five vying for the position.

Candidates filing for municipal positions were Nancy Willson, Don Green, Amado Morales, and at-large positions of Frank Breed and Wayne Russell.

Candidates for school board were Cyndi Williams, Clar Schacht, and Jerry Livingston for precinct Two; Freddie Morren and Andy Hale for Precinct One.

Fred Thayer, Melba Vickers, and Aldine Williams filed as candidates for hospital board.

Connie Bearden won the democratic primary runoff election for county commissioner place one, edging out Hulon Carthel. Floydada Independent School District trustees approved $47,950 in new construction for Duncan Elementary School, and named John Odam as band director.

Good rains fell across the county, practically assuring ample crop moisture, and county banks reported a healthy rise in deposits. The Floydada Chamber of Commerce reported that the first "Punkin Day" celebration was such a success that it will be expanded to two days this year, and the Care Link helicopter operated by Methodist and Lubbock General Hospital began patient flights from Floydada.

Floyd County Sheriff Fred Cardinal and Deputy David Hart were named as defendants in a suit filed April 20 on behalf of C.L. Henderson and Marie Henderson.

May
Seventy-seven received diplomas in high school commencement exercises, and the Old Settlers Day brought in the largest crowd remembered by anyone.

Andy Hale and Cyndiann Williams were elected to the school board. Amado Morales beat incumbent Don Green and became the new councilman from District 1. Nancy Willson running unopposed in District 4, received 41 votes. Also unopposed were Frank Breed and Wayne Russell who once again became the councilmen at large. The new hospital directors elected were Fred Thayer and Melba Vickers.

Angie Bertrand and Daniel Medrano established new school records in 800 meter run.

Becky Bybee McPherson announced her candidacy as a write-in candidate for district attorney of the 110th district.

County commissioners presented a proposed yearly budget of $1.4 million. Judge Arthur B. Duncan was inducted as the first Hall of Famer in Floyd County's Hall of Fame.

June
While parts of the United States were suffering from drought, Floyd County crops were in excellent condition after 3-4 inches of rain was received throughout the county.

Dr. Andrew McCulley retired after 34 years of local dental practice.

Don Green Auto Parts Store was burglarized with stolen merchandise loss estimated close to $10,000.

The Chamber of Commerce chose the official Floydada logo created by Bill Standiforth which reads, "Floydada Pumpkin Capital, USA".

July
Continuing rains benefit some crops, such as corn, but was too much and too late for the onion crop. Lightning struck the Ford home, north of Aiken, knocking out electricity and sending a fire ball through the living room. Dean Stewart's home, of South Plains, also suffered lightning damage.

Floydada City Council approved a signed purchase agreement with Helen Hammonds, bringing to an end the ongoing land dispute between the two parties. The agreement stated that Hammonds agreed to sell to the city 48,999 acres plus a 1.8 acre roadway easement needed for expansion of the city landfill operation. In exchange, the city agreed to pay Hammonds $24,499.95 for the acres and $4,500 for the easement.

Deposits at the First National Bank were up slightly at mid-year compared to deposits the same time last year.

Departing Hesperian editor, Jim Reynolds, received a certificate from Mayor Parnell Powell naming him "Honorary Floydada Citizen."

Tom West, Briscoe County attorney, announced his write-in candidacy for 110th district attorney.

Summit Savings opened under the new name of Sunbelt Savings, after the Federal Home Loan Bank Board merged Summit with seven other troubled institutions. The new thrift, with 143 branch offices in 89 Texas cities will be operated by federal regulators.

Frank and Paulie Webb celebrated their 50th anniversary.

September
Homecoming for FHS exes began September 16 with registration at the high school library. Approximately 1,000 former students of Floydada High School showed up to celebrate the occasion and see Blanca Medrano named Homecoming queen for 1988, and a capacity crowd of some 5,000 watched the Floydada Whirlwinds shut out the Lockney Longhorns 35-0.

The Floydada City Council set the tax rate for 1988 at 40 cents per $100 valuation, representing no increase over the previous year. The County Commissioners, on the motion of Commissioner Sam Spence, voted to join neighboring counties in the Rural Rail Transportation District in an effort to preserve railway services.

Johnny Summers, manager of Floydada Pay-N-Save, joined with owner Roger Lowe and Mayor Parnell Powell to break ground for the store's expansion.

October
"Punkin Day" plans were finalized with publicity received from all types of media, including T.V., radio, magazines, and newspapers throughout the state. The weather was breezy and cool in the morning but turned into a perfect day for the celebration, held Oct. 29 on the courthouse square. Oct. 28th was also cold and windy, but did not hamper the spirits of downtown merchants who dressed themselves and their windows in pumpkin and Halloween motif.

The school bus barn, located at the junior high was burglarized. An '88 Suburban belonging to the school was taken and set on fire. Andrews Ward was also burglarized and several rooms were ransacked. Three people were later arrested in connection with these burglaries.

Mr. G.W. Smith was presented the annual bonus check for bringing in the first bale of cotton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tardy celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Russell celebrated a 50th wedding anniversary.

November

Community responds to pleas of Child Welfare

"It is a wonderful thing when a community joins together to help those who are less fortunate," said Shalane Wesley, of the Floyd County Child Welfare Board. "The response to our request for fall clothing for the children maintained in foster care by Floyd County was overwhelming. In fact it was such a success, we will probably have a spring clothing drive in April or May."

In keeping with the spirit of the season, local churches, civic organizations and individuals donated money to be used for Christmas gifts for the foster children. Wesley expressed her gratitude to all involved in making 1988 a memorable Christmas for the seven children.

Wesley reminds readers that anyone wishing to donate money to assist with the care of the children in need of foster care may do so by contacting her at the Texas Department of Human Services in Floydada or by contacting any member of the child welfare board.

Happy New Year!

THANK YOU THANK YOU THANK YOU The Salvation Army

Friends, with your help we were able to deliver sacks of canned food, chicken and a gift for young children to 96 people in this area. The Texas Department of the Salvation Army included boxes of toilet accessories for several adults.

The store will be open except in very cold weather. Please think of us when you no longer need used clothing, furniture or utensils.

We miss Elmo Savage who worked very hard for this store.
Thank you Elmo!

Thank you to the following people who helped deliver -

Volunteers! Volunteers! Volunteers! We have been blessed with many volunteers during this Christmas season here at the nursing home. Volunteers bearing gifts, fruits and joyous spirits!

We have received lots of beautiful poinsettias from Mr. Jimmy Dietrich who gifted one to each of the residents and which were delivered by his mother, Sue Dietrich. Poinsettias for the residents and staff were also given by Lambert Spraying Service, Mrs. Joe Burrell, Eleanor and Margaret Schacht and by the family of Mrs. Sylvia Yeary.

The residents have also received many gifts of fruit, homemade bread, cookies and lots more by various groups and individuals.

The ladies of the West Side Church of Christ arrived on the 15th to deliver Christmas cheer boxes. Those making the deliveries were Barbara Cunyus, Claudia Belt, Latona Davis, Joanna Carthel and Glenna Miller.

Elmo Savage, Alicia Luna and Jerry Reyna passed out fruit and gifts to each resident a week later compliments of the Salvation Army.

Tomas Galvan, Dona Browning and Pearl Rattan prepared special treats for everyone.

Soila Reyes and grandson, Anthony Galvan delivered fruits and gifts on Christmas Day given by the Primera Iglesia Bautista. Mrs. Nina Teuton made four batches of peanut brittle for the staff, which was found to be quite delicious.

Among some of our gift givers were the children's choir of the First Baptist Church who gave lotion, powder, houseshoes, socks and handkerchiefs. Lanita Cantwell gave to each of the gentlemen a red handkerchief and to each of the ladies a necklace and for our Christmas party she baked several batches of cookies.

Christmas carolers have been frequent visitors to our home. We have had groups from Turkey Church of Christ, West Side Church of Christ, the 4-H Club and our local Girl Scouts with their leaders Pauline Monroe, Bertha Hooten and Debbie Galloway. Mrs. Lanita Cantwell also donated hair combs and socks for the needy residents and the kind ladies from Schacht's gifted Mrs. Maria Lopez with some pretty items.

Our Christmas party on the 22nd went quite well. We had an excellent turnout and everyone seemed to have had a nice time. Mr. Terry Westbrook, brother of our administrator, Steve, entertained us all with his beautiful singing. Mrs. Larue Garvin of Silverton played the piano for us while we all joined together to sing Christmas carols.

To each and everyone of our volunteers we would like to express our sincerest gratitude for all that each of you do for us, not only at Christmastime, but throughout the entire year. We love and appreciate you and wish you all a very joyous holiday season. May God richly bless you today and always!

Texas unemployment rate down

"Unemployment rates are down again in Texas and both business and labor are beginning to breathe a little easier," said Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers of the Texas Employment Commission.

Statistics just released show that the statewide unemployment rate is 6.6% - down from 6.8% last month. "While statewide statistics show only a small decline," Nabers said, "at least we are headed in the right direction. This is the third consecutive month of a declining statewide rate and the figures even look better when we remember that the rate was 7.9% this time last year," Nabers concluded.

In mid-November 1988 there were 551,000 jobless Texans. That compares with the 650,000 plus that were out of work a year ago.

Almost all of the 27 Metropolitan Statistical Areas for which data are currently available mirrored the statewide trend in unemployment, with rates falling slightly in November. Rates in two MSA's were unchanged over the month, and one (Wichita Falls) rose slightly from October to November.

Bryan-College Station continued to record the lowest rate in November, with a 4.1% rate which was its lowest since April of this year. Lubbock had the second-lowest rate, at 4.5%. Three MSA's had a rate of 5.3% - Austin, Dallas and Midland.

Highest rates continued to be along the border, with McAllen-Edinburg-Mission leading, at 15.9% in mid-November. Laredo's rate was 11.6%; Brownsville-Harlingen had a rate of 11.1%; and El Paso's rate was 10.2%. These were the only MSA's with rates above 10% in November.

MRS. STACY KEY BRIDGES

Kimble and Bridges pledge marriage promises

Nancy Susan Kimble and Stacy Key Bridges were united in marriage at Saint Luke's United Methodist Church in Lubbock on Saturday, Dec. 17, at 7:00 in the evening. The sanctuary of the church was decorated with red poinsettias wrapped in white paper and adorned with emerald green bows. White satin bows were hung on all of the pews up the center aisle. The couple stood at the top of a flight of stairs in front of a 20-light candelabra arch and two 15-light spirals which were decorated with silk holly greenery and large red satin bows.

At the bottom of the stairs, on each side, were seven-light candelabra arches decorated with silk holly greenery and red satin bows. These candles were lit by Erin Rourke, cousin of the bride, of Shaker Heights, Ohio, and Kelley Crozier, younger brother of the bride, of Monahans, Texas.

The couple are the children of John Kimble II of New Mexico, Mrs. Kenny Crozier of Monahans, Rex Bridges and Mrs. Bill Daniels, both of Lubbock. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson M. Fowler and Mrs. John Kimble, all of Floydada.

Traditional vows for the double ring ceremony were read by the Reverend Earl Blair of the United Methodist Church. Musical selections for the ceremony were presented by JoAnn Hanson of Lubbock on the piano and Beverly Eubanks of Lubbock on the organ.

Music before the ceremony included Silent Night, Holy Night for the lighting of the candles and The Wedding Song which was performed by Mrs. David Battey of Floydada. The bridesmaids entered to the hymn Jesu, Ode of Man's Desiring and the bride followed with the processional of Trumpet Voluntary on the organ and piano. After the couple exchanged rings, Mrs. David Battey performed The Wedding Prayer and then the couple and wedding party exited to the recessional of Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Wilson M. Fowler of Floydada, the bride wore a magnificent gown styled of white crystalline and designed by San Martin of Beverly Hills. It had a bateau neckline edged in lace and pearls, and had short cap sleeves of multi-rows of ruffles with white satin rosebuds at the shoulders. The long-line fitted satin bodice was designed with a basque waistline, overlaid with appliques of lace embroidered in pearls and iridescent sequins. The back of the bodice was cut in a low V neckline, and had a large satin candy box bow with satin roses on it at the waistline. Chantilly lace outlined the low V neckline in the back. The flowing skirt had appliques of embroidered lace and pearls, and two ruffles of the crystalline were at the bottom in front, and topping the ruffles was a row of embroidered lace, coming up to points at the sides where a satin rosebud was featured over a tiny cascade of ruffles. A cascade of ruffles of the crystalline began at the waistline in the back and swept down the full cathedral length train.

The bride wore a tapered illusion veil with seven beaded puffs. The headpiece came down to a point and was adorned with handsewn iridescent sequins and pearls. The left side of the headpiece had three satin rosebuds and long sprays of lily of the valley. The veil was designed especially for the bride by her mother. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white satin roses and lace leaves accented with sprays of red silk babies breath, iridescent pearls and beading, and backed with white bridal satin streamers and narrow strands of red bridal satin. She also wore opera length white satin gloves and two triple-roped pearl bracelets over the left glove.

For something old, the bride had a silk handkerchief pinned to her bouquet which belonged to her great-grandmother and her grandmother, Mrs. John Kimble. Something new was the bride's attire and pearl and diamond earrings given to her as a gift from the groom. Something blue was the bride's garter. She wore two 1966 pennies in her shoe for good luck.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Thomas Rourke, aunt of the bride, of Shaker Heights, Ohio. Bridesmaids were Shannon Phillips of Duncanville and Laura Esquivel of Dallas. They wore emerald green iridescent taffeta floor-length dresses and opera length black satin gloves. They carried white silk iridescent poinsettias accented by glittered red and green tinsel and tied with white bridal lace, red and gold satin.

Acting as flower girl was Carly Rourke, cousin of the bride, of Shaker Heights, Ohio. She wore a tea length dress of emerald iridescent taffeta that fell into a scalloped bubble skirt. Erin Rourke, who acted as a candlelighter, wore an identical dress.

Jason Kimble, younger brother of the bride, served as the ring bearer and wore black tails and white accessories.

Acting as best man was Ken Files of Lubbock. Groomsmen were Keeley Ferguson, cousin of the groom, of Fort Worth and David Bosquez of Lubbock. Seating guests were ushers Jim Kimble, brother of the bride, of Lubbock; Gerald Ward, brother-in-law of the groom, of Lubbock; Tony Rotondo of Houston; and Kevin McCoy of Lubbock. All of the men in the wedding party wore black tails and white accessories.

A reception following the ceremony was held at Hillcrest Country Club in Lubbock and was given by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson M. Fowler, grandparents of the bride. Mrs. Marty Covington of Floydada registered guests names in a white satin wedding album decorated with tiny red satin roses which the bride's mother made for the occasion.

The bride's table was highlighted with a three tiered red velvet cake with cream cheese icing. The cake was adorned with white icing roses and satin string work effect and was topped with fresh white roses accented with red and gold tushes, backed with bridal tulle, babies breath, and Christmas greenery. Also served were red satin punch and white chocolate mints with red or green ornamentation on them. Presiding at the bride's table was Mrs. Jeff Bertrand of Floydada.

The groom's table served a light chocolate double-heart cake decorated with dark and white chocolate roses and monogrammed with an Old English "B" which stood for the groom's initial. Also served was apple bundt cake, mints and coffee. Serving at the groom's table was Leslie McBride of Pampa.

Another table featured assorted finger sandwiches, shrimp cheese ball and crackers, and was decorated with red poinsettias wrapped in gold foil and two single gold and crystal candlesticks with red candles. All of the tables featured gold serving pieces and were decorated with large Christmas arrangements made of gold leaves and holly greenery.

The guests were seated at round tables decorated with Christmas centerpieces that had a red candle in them.

Red and white satin roses filled with rice were displayed in large white baskets handpainted with holly greenery and decorated with red velvet bows and babies breath.

JoAnn Hanson of Lubbock played selections of Christmas music and evening music on the piano throughout the reception.

For their departure on a honeymoon to Cancun, the bride wore an after five dress that was a black silk top which flowed into a white taffeta bubble skirt and was accented with a large black bow trimmed in rhinestones at the waist. The couple will be residing in Lubbock following their return.

PRE-NUPTIAL COURTESIES

The bride was formerly honored with a shower on Sunday, November 13 in the home of Mrs. Garland Hoover of Lubbock. Hostesses for the event were Miss Shannon Phillips and Miss Kathy Means. She was also honored with a shower on Saturday, November 19 in the home of Mrs. C.E. Leatherman of Floydada. Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Fred Marble, Jeff Bertrand, Weldon Pruitt, Louis Lloyd, Jerry Perry, Jerry Battey, Melvin Lloyd, Jim Simpson, W.L. Davis, Connie Bearden, Pete Hickerson, Marty Covington, Jerry Cannon, Howard Gregory and Mrs. Doris McLain.

The bride was honored with a luncheon on Saturday, Dec. 3, at noon at the Plainview Country Club. Mrs. Fred Cardinal, Mrs. William Staniforth and Barbara Barnard hosted the event.

COUPLE MARRIES—Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Perry, Floydada, and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Harrison, Lockney, wish to announce the marriage of their children, Tana Gaye Perry and Clayton Doyle Harrison on December 17, at the home of the bride's parents. The bride is a May '87 graduate of Floydada High School and attended South Plains College in Levelland. Harrison is a 1988 graduate of Lockney High School and also attended South Plains College. The couple will reside in Lockney.

Sorority has ornament and gift exchange

The 240th meeting of Texas Alpha Mu Delta #9314 was called to order by President Brenda Heflin at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 20, in the home of Tami Wofford. Roll was called with two excused absences. Minutes from the previous meeting were read and approved.

The group received their insurance policy from International. Easter Seals has sent a letter wanting them to donate money and time to the Easter Seals Telethon but they have found that the telethon has been cancelled in Lubbock.

The treasurer's report was given with two outstanding bills and one outstanding check that is written to the Floyd County Child Welfare Board in the amount of $250.00.

The group had their annual ornament and gift exchange so there was no designated program. The next meeting will be at Kay Brock's at 6:30 p.m. They will be donating their check to Mrs. Wesley on Thursday at 2:00 p.m.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned with all joining hands for the mizpah. They then proceeded with ornament exchange and then opened gifts. Everyone received gifts from their sisters.

Hostesses for the evening were Tami Wofford and Dora Ross. They served baked potatoes with queso dip and salad, chocolate cake and iced tea. Tammy Wilson also brought some homemade delicious fudge.

Those in attendance were: Dara Ware, Brenda Heflin, Sherese Covington, Sidney Jackson, Dora Ross, Melanie and Taylor Beedy, Tammy Wilson, Tami Wofford, Kay Brock, Dana Pyle, Julie James, Sandra Schwertner, Cindy Fortenberry and Jan Beedy.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi, must say that we really enjoyed all the people who came and shared some of the holiday joys with us.

Monday, Irene Wexler came and played some Christmas hymns for us. Bro. Bill Wright shared from Luke the birth of Jesus, he talked about the sign, being of love. At 2:30, the residents shared and had popcorn.

Tuesday, Bro. Neeley and Zelma came and brought some bananas and shared the word of the birth of Jesus. At 2 p.m. the third grade class came and sang some carols for the residents. Thanks children.

Wednesday Bro. Sammy came and we sang some songs, and he shared the birth of Jesus taken from Matt. At 2 p.m. the residents played bingo, Otis Johnson had the first bingo. Mary Alice came and helped and brought the residents some cookies.

Thursday, Helen Lipham came and played the banjo for us. At 2 p.m. the residents listened to some carols and talked about how they used to spend Christmas, as a kid, or child, and in their early years. Thanks go out to the Bible Baptist Church for the bags of fruit for the residents.

Friday the ladies of the First Baptist Church came and shared. Mrs. Nettie Adams came and told the Christmas story from memory. She and Letha Mulder also brought some cookies. Letha opened with a prayer. Evelyn played the piano.

We want to thank Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home for the huge apples and oranges.

Tuesday we had our annual staff party. We had a delicious meal of ham and all the trimmings, exchange of gifts and played Bingo. Thanks Jim and Sandra Crawford for the ham.

This week's visitors were: Frank Breed, H.C. and Marge McElyea, David and Jan Campbell, Delwin and Winona Brooks, Paducah; Frances and Peck Badgett, Tina Verona, Doug Wolford, Michael, Angela Verona, Angelita Reynolds, Mel and Marjorie Holcomb, Ray Holcomb, Tommy, Carol and Chelsey Holcomb, Chris Holcomb, Myria Dade, Morris Keele and Holly and Tammy Holcomb, Travis and Gladys Jones, Joe, Anne, Juradee and Tate Jones, Emily, Kathy, Lychells, Don, Shelia Troy, Misty Faulkenberry, Shirley Kirkland, Nancy and Dwayne Myrick, Grand Prairie; Mr. and Mrs. Glen White, Sally and Jessica Arnold, Willie Galloway and Betty, Dwayla Myrick, Phillip Wilson, Rudolph and Iva McCurdy, Opal Kratzer, Willie Mae Smith, May Sue, Dana Scott Galloway, Rev. Sammy Rodriguez, Paula Bryant, Brainerd, Minnesota; Nila and Jack Ball and sons, Cody, Johnathan and Brian, Plainview.

COUPLE MARKS 50 YEARS—Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lawson celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday with a dinner prepared by their grandchildren at the home of their son. They were also honored guests at a party Dec. 3. Lawson and the former Queen Annie Powell were married Dec. 24, 1938 in Crosbyton. Their children are Dale Lawson of Floydada, and a daughter and son-in-law, Carol and Dale Redd of Weatherford and five grandchildren.

Alpha Sigma Upsilon holds Christmas party Dec. 20

By Karen Elliott

Alpha Sigma Upsilon met in the home of Karen Elliott Dec. 20 at 6:30 p.m. President Mitzi Nixon called the meeting to order with all members standing for opening rituals. Roll was called and minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Jodie McGuire gave the treasurer's report. New business was discussed.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned with all members standing for closing rituals and mizpah.

After our meeting we were joined by our husband's for our Christmas party and we all enjoyed a wonderful Christmas meal prepared by all members. After supper Secret Sisters and their husband's exchanged gifts. A spectacular time was had by all during this special time of year.

Those present were the following members and their husband's: Karen Elliott, Rhonda Guthrie, Sheryl LeCroy, Jodie McGuire, Mitzi Nixon, Judy Schacht, Sheri Turnbow, Brenda Ward, Hope Warren, Sara Coursey, Dana Brown and Robbie Odum.

WELFARE BOARD RECEIVES DONATION -- Brenda Heflin, left, president of Alpha Mu Delta Sorority, is pictured with Shalane Wesley of the Floyd County Child Welfare Board as the club's donation to the welfare board was presented. The local club contributed $250 to the community effort to insure that all children in the custody of the board would have a nice Christmas.

Rebekahs meet for regular session

By Artie Webb

On Tuesday night, Dec. 20, Floydada Rebekah Lodge met for a regular session. Kathy Green, Noble Grand, and Ruth Gilliland, vice grand, presided.

The Noble Grand opened lodge and the sick were reported on. Kathy Green's niece in California was improving. Fay Hart has been back in a Lubbock hospital but is better.

A short business session was held. Then Kathy, Noble Grand, presented each member with a beautiful little Christmas stocking she had crocheted herself with a candy cane inside. Everyone thought they were beautiful.

Lodge then closed for a snack supper with all the Christmas goodies.

A program was delited because Kathy had a class to teach at 6:30 Tuesday night.

Everyone enjoyed visiting and recalling old Christmases they had enjoyed in the past. Goodbye was said by everyone wishing them a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor,
This letter is to the people of Floyd County and I'll begin by saying I hope none of you have to transport your sick mother, a sick child or a sick daddy from Methodist Hospital or nursing home by ambulance from Floydada.

On Dec. 19th we had to bring our mother from Lubbock to the nursing home. It fell my lot to ride with her.

It was cold and windy and the wind whistles through the cracks. The person responsible for the patient can't communicate because of the noise the doors rattle and it reminded me of a ride in an iron wheel wagon, when I was a child. This old ambulance is a disgrace to our community. We are a fairly affluent community and we do about what we want to.

I beg all of you, the commissioners, the city, the churches, study clubs and right down the line to individual families to help in a campaign county-wide.

Let's please buy an ambulance before your poor old sick mother has to ride in this one.

Signed
Mac & Marjorie McElyea

Dear Editor,
This writing will be different from my usual writings I have often wanted to write a personal letter to the Editor and this seems to be the time to do just that.
First I want to give credit to the whole Hesperian staff for a remarkable edition in letting the letter writers, Santa Claus writers give their views on the subject and meaning of Christmas. To me it was extra good and very interesting reading, and I am sure it will be inspiring and thought-provoking to many that read the articles.

The Editors and staff have been very good and kind to me over the years I have written pieces about old times. I never had a chance to learn typing and I am sure the ones getting my writings ready for printing have had their patience tried to the limit. I had a stroke in the past that affected my right hand. I hope the Hesperian will permit me to keep writing. Many thanks to all of you for past favors. May I express my sympathy to Mr. Towery for his recent misfortune knowing he will take them with courage and faith as most of us try to do.

May we all have a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Yours sincerely,
Will Martin

FLOYD DATA

Also James and Jana Gage and baby of Lubbock visited briefly Sunday afternoon.

Senior Citizens News

By Thelma Jones

Wishing everyone a happy and prosperous new year in 1989.

The seniors offer their sympathy to the family of Warnie Hilton. He was our oldest senior citizen. He was 106 years old.

We still have a lot of sickness among our group. Kate Crabtree, Rebecca Smith, Myria Dade, Peggy Medley doing very well. Haven't heard from others.

Mrs. Ethel Warren spent Christmas with her son, Johnny Lynn and family in Lubbock.

The Harvey Tardy's had their son, Harvey Dale and Nancy, Larry and family, Joel and family of Lubbock and Todd Tardy and wife of Dallas visiting them during the holidays.

Mattie Wester had a lot of company. Her son and family from Shallowater were here. He also visited his sister, Mrs. Watson Jones and Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Hatley had a lot of company also during the holidays. They visited Rebecca Smith Sunday afternoon.

Mary Smith and Sue Mahon spent Christmas in Petersburg with their sisters and Mary's daughter, Mrs. Paul Willis.

Mrs. Nettie Adams had as her guest her son, Boone Adams and wife and other relatives Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Alldredge had all of their children and grandchildren home for Christmas.

Mrs. Earl Baker spent the Christmas with her daughter in Ralls.

Myrtle Switzer spent Christmas in Plainview with her niece, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hood in Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Henry had their daughter and family with them during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyndell Spears of Dallas are here visiting her mother, Mrs. W.M. Spears.

Mr. Pat Shelby of Ralls came and got his mother, Myria Dade for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Dock Botkin had their son and family and daughter and family home for Christmas.

Mrs. W.J. Wilks' granddaughter from Carlsbad, New Mexico, spent Christmas with her.

Mrs. Snow Drop Gant and Josh of Springfield, Missouri, spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn.

Mrs. Beady Owens has had alot of company during the holidays.

Mrs. Deecota Odam spent Christmas in Hale Center with her daughter, Virginia Waits and family.

Mrs. Valree Turner has had a lot of company during the holidays. Dorman and wife of Hobbs were here.

Alma Smith and Thelma Jones spent Christmas Day with their niece, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Caldwell and family and stopped in Idalou and visited with their nephew, Bobbie George Smith and family. Mrs. Earl Pierce was there also.

I am sure there is a lot more news but haven't been able to get them as the lines were busy or didn't answer.

4th Calvary seeking donations to march in Inaugural Parade

The Calvary is coming! The Calvary is coming!! The Cavalry is coming to Washington, D.C. by special invitation to march in the 1989 Bush Inaugural Parade.

The most pressing need at this time is the large funds needed by January 15, to finance the trip for the 20+ men and their horses. Without sufficient funds this trip will not be possible.

The invitation to participate in the parade commemorating the inauguration of President-elect George Bush, came about through the efforts of Congressman Larry Combest, Texas Railroad Commissioner Kent Hance, and United States Senator Phil Gramm.

Working with members of the Lubbock-based cavalry, Gramm, Combest and Hance contacted Mr. Bush's Inaugural Committee about the unit and secured the invitation.

"The 4th U.S. Cavalry Regiment Memorial is an educational organization which reenacts South Plains history for the benefit of schools, community celebrations, and special events," Hance told the committee. "I believe this non-profit military reenactment organization will certainly enhance the day's activities."

Sergeant Thomas expressed the group's excitement when he said this was the biggest thing which has happened to the unit. "We'll have 10 to 20 mounted troops in the parade," he said. "The major hurdle facing us is funding to get to Washington and back. We also need to know if anyone in the area has some dark colored horses, 14 to 15 hands, which they would loan us for this parade."

The 4th Cavalry was organized in 1985 for the purpose of contributing to the education of the people of this area on the Indian Wars period of our history (1869-1876).

The 4th Cavalry has the support of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and is seeking the financial support of the businesses and individuals in the West Texas region. It would be a shame for the people of this area to miss out on this powerful opportunity to be represented on the national scale by such a unit as the 4th Calvary because of lack of funds, stated Congressman Combest.

"We are a reenactment group that is dedicated specifically to the period of time when Colonel Ranald S. Mackenzie and his 4th Calvary actually operated in this area," said Major Larry Goldston, adjutant/executive officer of the regiment. "All of our uniforms, equipment, weapons and saddle gear are period replicas or authentic antiques. We pride ourselves in recreating the trooper as he actually was and not as he has been portrayed by artists and the movies."

Because the group is registered as a non-profit organization, it relies on membership dues and tax-deductible donations of cash as well as horses and equipment. "We need horses," Major Goldston said. "There may be some people who have horses which they are not using. They might realize more out of their horses by donating them than they could by selling them; with the assurance that the mounts would be well cared for and would be providing a useful service. We will even come get them."

He also stated the 4th Cavalry will accept donations of wagons, horse drawn ambulances, weapons and saddle equipment. The donors will be given a receipt for their tax purposes.

Lieutenant Colonel Robert Marlett, commander of the regiment, said the 4th Cavalry has a place for everyone. "We realize that nothing worthwhile ever gets accomplished by limiting participation to a few," He said. "We welcome all to come join and share in the thrill." LTC Marlett said it is not mandatory to own a horse, and a member will be advised by the board or standards the method of obtaining the correct items.

Hearing Tests Set For Senior Citizens

Floydada - Electronic hearing tests will be given at the Senior Citizen's Center on Tuesday, January 3, from 10:00 a.m. to 12 noon.

A professionally trained Hearing Aid Specialist will be present to perform the tests.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year - even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them. Only a hearing test can determine if you are one of the many a hearing aid can help.

The free hearing tests will be given Tuesday, January 3 from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. at the Senior Citizen Center, 301 East Georgia.

Batteries and service will be available for all makes of hearing aids.

1988 cotton crop tops 1987

Texas High Plains cotton producers in 1987 produced the area's first billion dollar cotton crop. And they've hit that mark again, and probably topped it, in 1988.

So says Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, the organization that represents producers in the 25-county area included in the calculation. While the final 1988 bale count isn't in, virtually all responsible estimates range between 2.9 and 3.1 million bales. In its estimate of crop value, PCG uses the more conservative figure. "I guess you could say we're counting on 2.9 million and hoping for 3.1," says Executive Vice President Donald Johnson.

The crop volume compares to an official 2,668,550 bales reported for 1987 by the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service and would rank as the area's third largest crop, behind 3.5 million in 1981 and 3.2 million in 1977.

Using an estimated 50 cents per pound average price, PCG puts lint value of the 2.9 million bales at $696 million. Seed, at a season average of about $108, is estimated at $125 million. Target price deficiency payments, figured at a minimum 19 cents per pound of program payment yield on planted acres, are expected to add another $249 million. The total, $1.07 billion, is $64 million above the $1,006 billion estimated on the 1987 crop.

Should the more optimistic 3.1 million bale 1988 estimate materialize, the value of the crop would rise to $1.127 billion, PCG figures. "Either way, we're looking at a new record," Johnson states.

Until 1987, the previous, high dollar mark for the High Plains' number one cash crop was reached in 1973. PCG estimated the gross return from that year's 2.9 million bale production at $900 million.

That figure, at the time, meant much more to farmers and to the area economy than the billion dollar plus crops of 1987 and 1988, Johnson points out. He explains that according to Dr. Ron Gilbert, Chairman of the Economics Department at Texas Tech University, it takes about $2.60 in 1988 to equal the buying power of $1 in 1973.

"While back-to-back billion dollar crops are a strong plus for our industry and the overall area economy," Johnson concludes, "our expectations have to be tempered by the fact that it would take a crop worth $2.34 billion to have the same economic impact as the 1973 crop."

Cotton Incorporated works to increase awareness of consumer

Commitment and determination are two key words that have helped direct the efforts of the nation's Upland cotton producers since the beginning of their self-help research and promotion program some 22 years ago.

Even then, that first group of forward-thinking industry leaders realized that adequate funds would be needed if they were going to effectively promote their product and strengthen cotton's competitive position, thereby ensuring the future of this $500 billion industry.

The Cotton Research and Promotion Act, formally creating the producer-funded Cotton Research and Promotion Program, was passed by Congress in 1966. Since then, through various research and promotion activities, Cotton Incorporated has implemented market-building projects designed to strengthen cotton's competitive position in the fiber market; worked to maintain and expand cotton's domestic and foreign markets; aided in the development of new cotton products, and worked to increase consumer awareness of, and demand for, cotton products.

The following list represents only a few of the many ways Cotton Incorporated continues to work for U.S. cotton producers:

...In 1986, barky cotton cost growers in Texas alone, about $22 million. Under the coordination of the Barky Cotton Research Task Force, six current studies are aimed at reducing the problem. Early results point to two things growers can do now to reduce barkiness.

According to Dr. William Lalor, senior director of agricultural research for Cotton Incorporated, the first thing is to ensure an early crop. The second recommendation is to modify harvesters to produce a more gentle stripping action. The Barky Cotton Task Force involves the Plains Cotton Growers, the Texas Extension Service, Texas Experiment Station, Cotton Incorporated and the USDA.

...Cotton producers using the modular system of seed cotton storage, developed jointly by Cotton Incorporated and Texas A&M University, now have a solution to module-marking problems. "Brand-A-Bale™" — a black ink that is durable to weather conditions but cannot withstand textile processing — was developed by Cotton Incorporated to prevent farmers from using spray paint to mark their modules and bales of cotton. Cotton Incorporated has entered into a new licensing agreement with Stern Chemtech Corporation of Monroe, LA, for the right to produce "Brand-A-Bale™."

...Cotton Incorporated and USDA's Agricultural Research Service and Agricultural Marketing Service have entered stage two of their tests on light spotted cottons. The testing is conducted to determine how cotton classed light spotted performs as a finished fabric. Final results of this study are expected early in 1989. The test was called for by producers when the percentage of the crop classed light spotted reached a critical high in 1986, and Preston Sasser, senior director of fiber quality research, has coordinated the work for Cotton Incorporated.

...Cotton Incorporated has announced plans to research the factors contributing to "pepper trash," small rash particles found in cotton fiber that can be difficult to remove during textile processing. The study will be conducted at the USDA Ginning Research Laboratory in Lubbock, TX, under the direction of Roy Baker. The project will be supported by Cotton Incorporated's Agricultural Research Division.

...The Cotton Seal is an integral part of the True Performance identification system available for use on 100% cotton and cotton-rich products. Testing has proven that tags with the Cotton Seal and True Performance fabric qualities work to boost retail sales of cotton products. Round the Clock, a major manufacturer of pantyhose, saw a need for a cotton-top product because of cotton's comfort and soft touch against the skin. The company successfully developed a 60 percent cotton-top pantyhose that became available in November. The new line features the Seal of Cotton.

...The nonwovens market represents one of the most dynamic areas of projected growth for U.S. Upland cotton usage, which is why Cotton Incorporated is working so hard to strengthen cotton's presence in this area. In November, Cotton Incorporated introduced its prototype all-cotton disposable diaper at IDEA '88, the premier event of the nonwovens industry, and received rave reviews. Surveys of mothers and doctors indicate not only support for an all-cotton diaper but also revealed that some customers believe the product is already made from mostly cotton.

An ongoing commitment and investment by U.S. cotton producers in this program is needed to keep the future bright for cotton.

Marble Brothers Farm Gin receives 1987-88 Distinguished Service Award

The Cotton Board recently presented its Distinguished Service Award to 663 gins that processed 5,071,039 bales of cotton during the 1987-88 crop year. The annual award is given to gins with grower participation levels above 80 percent in the Cotton Research and Promotion Program.

Marble Brothers Farm Gin in Floyd County was one of the recipients.

"This program's objective is to maintain and expand markets for U.S. Upland cotton growers," says Cotton Board chairman Jim Hansen. "With consumer purchases of cotton products at a record level, both in percentage share of fiber and in absolute value, there is no doubt that cotton's self-help program is working.

"These gins, and the growers they serve, have done a tremendous service for the cotton industry with their outstanding support for Cotton Incorporated."

The gins that achieved a support rate about 80 percent represent approximately one-third of all gins across the cotton belt. Of the 663 award-winning gins, 127 were first-time recipients.

"By their own dollars and their own direction, cotton producers established Cotton Incorporated to put the competitive edge back on their product," says Hansen. "Their investment is paying big dividends and every segment of the cotton industry is in their debt for the tremendous support they have shown for a research and promotion program that is achieving solid, verifiable results."

Through the first nine months of 1988, cotton commanded a 51 percent share of the retail apparel and home furnishings market, more than it has at any time since the 1960's when the market development program was created.

"Thanks to the belief that a continuing investment in this program is the most viable way to hold cotton's competitiveness in the fiber industry and the fashion world, these gins are helping make this goal a reality," says Hansen.

Wheat crop off to less than perfect start

By C. Mark Brown
Extension Agent-
Entomology (PM)
Crosby-Floyd Counties

The 1989 Crosby-Floyd wheat crop has gotten off to a much less than perfect start. The lack of moisture throughout the fall has been detrimental of greenbug populations, necessitating a fall insecticide application for several area fields. However, there are also two disease organisms attacking wheat, which are responsible for the general yellow appearance of many fields.

Common dryland root rot has been severe this fall. According to Dr. Harold Kaufman, Extension plant pathologist at Lubbock, this disease caused by the fungus Biopolaris sorokiniana. Being favored by warm temperatures, it is more damaging when wheat is planted very early and we have a late fall. The Biopolaris fungus infects the sub-crown internode of young wheat seedlings. It is most severe if secondary root formation is slowed by drought, etc. Early season infection can kill entire plants. Later season infection turns older leaves yellow, then brown. The recent cold weather should greatly slow the common root rot problem. When planning next year's crop, producers should keep in mind that this disease is controlled by seed treatment and crop rotation.

The other disease that is prevalent in our area is leaf rust. The most probable cause for the current severity of leaf rust is the occurrence of frequent morning dews several weeks ago. Leaf rust is caused by the fungus Puccinia recondita. Leaf rust occurs on either side of the leaf and on the leaf sheath as small, reddish-orange pustules. It can cause a reduction in the number of and size of kernels, and also reduces forage production. Heavy infection now does not necessarily mean we will have bad rust problems in the spring. Rust spore numbers will decrease during the cold winter months as old, infected leaves die and conditions are not favorable for new infection. The major factor that will determine the severity of leaf rust next spring is the amount of spring rainfall. The appropriate control measure at this time is grazing, to reduce the amount of infected foliage and lower the number of spores that can cause new infection.

Accidents and fatalities in rural areas are high during holidays

Accidents and fatalities in Texas during December have been high historically, according to a safety expert with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

This is particularly true of accidents that occur in rural areas as many city dwellers migrate to farms and ranches to spend the holidays with their families, said Thomas D. Valco.

He said a newly-released 1987 farm fatality report supports the December danger trend.

Valco, an agricultural engineer, said 13 deaths occurred on Texas farms last December, representing 18 percent of the year's total.

Other factors also contribute to the December fatalities, the safety expert said. Firearms account for a significant number of the farm fatalities, with hunting-related activities making up about 30 percent of December fatalities, Valco said.

"Another large group includes fatalities that are related to animals, comprising about 15 percent of the total. These result primarily from falls that occur from horseback riding," he said.

Valco said fires, burns and explosions comprise another 15 percent of the total December fatalities.

He said that in Texas, winter does not stop farming activities completely but does slow them somewhat. Thus, accidents and fatalities involving tractors and machinery did not cease during the winter.

"Much of these farm fatalities again can be attributed to the increased traffic in rural areas relating to holiday activities," Valco said.

All of these December statistics can spell danger for Texans if they don't practice good safety habits, Valco said.

"Follow all sporting, tractor and machinery safety rules. Don't allow children to ride on or play with farm equipment. Above all, don't take a holiday from safety," said Valco.

Underground water threatened by improper handling of chemicals

Agricultural chemicals can enter groundwater supplies in many ways. The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 reminds producers to use special care when applying or handling pesticides or insecticides.

Laboratory analyses of composite groundwater samples from 90 irrigation wells within the 15-county water district service area show almost no pesticide residues in the groundwater.

Out of 589 analyses, only 14 showed trace amounts of one of six different chemicals. The small amount of chemical found indicates that no serious problem has developed as a result of the use of large quantities of agricultural chemicals over a long period of time in the water district's service area. Agricultural chemical users are urged to use even more care when handling chemicals in the future.

To reduce the risk of ground water contamination, the water district offers the following safety tips for handling agricultural chemicals:

- * Avoid chemical spills when filling nurse tanks or spray tanks near wells. Check valves should be used in hoses to prevent back-siphoning from the tanks into the well. If check valves are not used, the fill hose should be secured above and out of the tank.

- * Never leave fill tanks unattended since they could overflow and cause chemicals to enter the well. Tanks should be filled at a safe distance from the well and then moved to the field where they will be used before adding any pesticides.

- * Join two or more hoses together to extend the distance from the well when filling the nurse tank.

- * Agricultural chemicals must be stored away from the well site. An inventory of pesticides may invite spills or leakage. Producers should buy as needed to avoid these situations.

- * Follow label directions exactly when applying chemicals, and use the recommended lowest effective rate.

- * Exercise extra care when applying chemicals near ponds, playa basins or streams.

- * Pay close attention to the proper cleaning of sprayers and pesticide containers after use. When cleaning spray equipment, use a minimum amount of water and spray it back on the field.

- * Pressure rinse or triple rinse pesticide containers. Afterward, add the rinse water to the solution that will be used on the field. Pesticide containers must never be used for any purpose other than a refill of the same chemical.

- * Pesticide containers and spray equipment need to be checked often for possible leaks.

- * Pesticide containers must be securely tied down during transport.

- * Pesticide containers should be disposed of only at approved landfill sites.

For additional information on pesticides and groundwater, contact the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas or call (806) 762-0181.

It's the backbone of this nation. We depend on this great industry for many things, from the food we eat to the clothes we wear and much more.

Bishop nominated to West Point by Boulter

Congressman Beau Boulter has announced that Travis Bishop of Floydada has received his primary nomination for appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point.

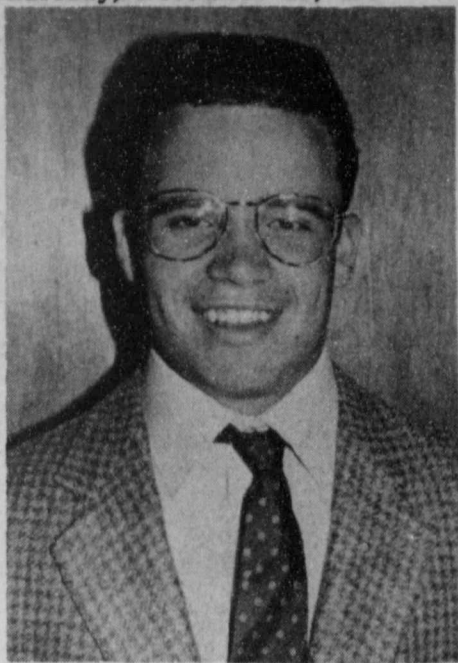

Bishop came in first over 30 other highly qualified candidates in Congressman Boulter's 13th Congressional District. Nationwide, 20,000 apply but only 1,400 are picked.

"Bishop had excellent grades, good scores on his SAT and ACT tests, and had an impressive interview with representatives of the military academies," said Boulter.

Bishop is the son of Kenneth Bishop Jr. who is with the U.S. Army and is currently serving in Germany. Travis resides in Floydada with his grandparents, Kenneth and Joyce Bishop. His great-grandfather was Baird Bishop, a longtime resident and druggist in Floydada.

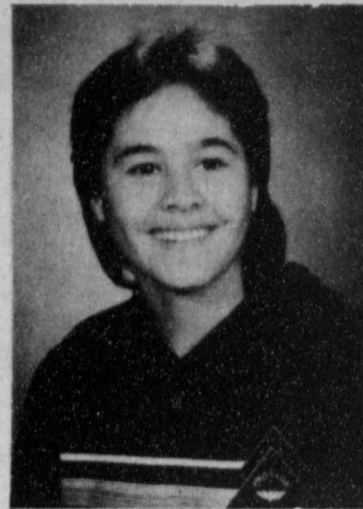

During high school, Bishop has been a member of the National Honor Society and Speech and Drama Club. He has played football and has been active in the First Methodist Church.

He has also been included Who's Who in American High Schools.

TRAVIS BISHOP

By Christy Lopez
The two Floydada High School senior spotlighted this week are Rachel DeLeon and Isidro Sanchez.

RACHEL DELEON

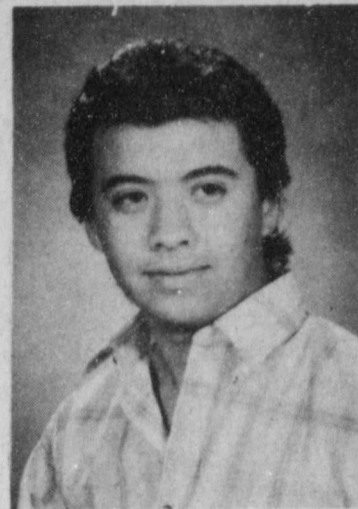

Rachel is the daughter of Domingo and Paula DeLeon. She is one of a family of seven, which includes her twin sister, Rita. She has never attended school anywhere except in Floydada. She has been very active in the high school band all four years, serving as band representative her junior year. She was chosen the outstanding band member last year. This year she is the drum major and band secretary. She has served on the student council for three years and has been a pastor chairman of her class for three years. Rachel attends St. Mary Magdalen Church and is a member of the CYO (Catholic Youth Organization). She plans to attend West

Texas State University and become a social worker. When asked what she likes best about Floydada High School, she replied simply, "It's fun and it's my senior year!"

Isidro Sanchez is the son of Susie and Isidro Sanchez, Sr. He has one brother, Eddie, and one sister named Tammy. He has attended school in Floydada for 12 years. He plays the saxophone in the band and is also in show band, which happens to be his favorite subject. Isidro plans to attend West Texas State University and wants to major in business education. Another future plan that Isidro has is to visit France one day. When asked what specific thing about Floydada High School, he quickly said, "The snack bar." When asked who he admires most, he replied, "My grandfather."

Floydada businesses plagued by burglaries

Police are investigating a rash of burglaries of downtown businesses which occurred sometime between the night of Dec. 26 and the early morning of Dec. 27. All the businesses were located within one block of each other.

"It appears that they were looking for money only," said Sgt. Harold Snell, of the Floydada Police Department. "When they found some money then they quit for the night."

Business broken into and ransacked were: Builders Mart, 111 N. Wall; Resale Shop, 213 E. Missouri; Producers Co-op Elevator, 301 E. Missouri; and Feature Attractions, 211 E. Missouri.

"There was nothing taken in any of the stores, except for money that was taken from Feature Attractions," said Snell. There was a lot of damage done to the inside of Feature Attractions looking for money. Several doors were damaged and also a wall. The safe was also broken open."

An '81 Peterbilt, parked in the 200 block of W. Houston, was also burglarized sometime between Dec. 22 and Dec. 23. The left vent window was broken and stolen out of the truck was a Cobra CB-radio, Realistic CB radio, Colt Radar detector, and a .38 Special pistol.

A man reported to police that a hanging bag was stolen out of his car somewhere between Vernon and Floydada. He left Vernon on Dec. 23 with his hanging bag and stopped twice. It may have been taken in Vernon or the 400 block of W. Lee. The bag contained mens and womens sweaters, jeans, curling iron, shoes, and makeup, all valued at a total of $380.00.

A home in the 400 block of East Grover was burglarized sometime between Dec. 23 and Dec. 25. The home was entered through the back door and a Curtis Mathis VCR and eight tapes were taken. The value of items taken was placed at $870.00.

On Dec. 22 sometime between 4:30 p.m. and 6:45 p.m. a "Team Murry", 20" red and white bike was stolen from the southwest side of Pizza Gold. The bike was parked there while the owner went inside Pizza Gold. When he returned the bike was gone.

Also on Dec. 22 police investigated a criminal mischief call. Sometime between 7:10 and 7:20 p.m., a man and his son were driving down the alley between Jeffie and Hallie when the rear glass in the pickup shattered. It appears to police to have been shot out with a BB gun. No one was injured.

Police also received a call last week of a woman's poodles being attacked by two larger dogs. The big dogs broke through the fence dividing the two homes, located in the 100 block of J.B. Ave., and attacked the poodles. One poodle was killed and the other was severely injured.

Only one accident was reported to police during the week, on Dec. 21. It involved three cars at the intersection of 200 N. 2nd and 400 West Jackson. A 1980 Ford Thunderbird was stopped on North 2nd waiting to make a left turn, a 1980 Pontiac Bonneville was sitting behind the Thunderbird when it was struck from behind by a 1981 Cutlass Supreme. The impact pushed the Bonneville forward striking the rear of the Thunderbird. All vehicles were driven away except for the Cutlass which was towed.

Courtroom Activities

In county court on December 22, Ronald Lance Ragland was charged with pulling a trailer with no license tags on a public road. There was no disposition on this case.

December 27, Mark Edward Griffith, 32, of Floyd County, was charged with DWI. He pled guilty and was fined $400.00 plus court costs of $90.50 and 180 days confinement in the Floyd County Jail, which was probated for two years. His fine and court costs must be paid by Feb. 1, 1989.

Also on Dec. 27, Jose Miguel Ramos, 42, of Floyd County, pled guilty to DWI. He was fined $100.00 plus court costs of $88.50. He was sentenced to 45 days confinement in the county jail, and his drivers license was suspended for 120 days.

Pioneer stereo, two Pioneer speakers and a new Die Hard battery, valued at approximately $555.00.

On December 25, officer Jerry Edwards stopped a vehicle and arrested the driver for D.W.I. There were three intoxicated passengers in the vehicle that were also arrested and charged with public intoxication.

Hinojosa ends Army training for leadership

Spec. Arturo Hinojosa Jr., son of Amada H. Hinojosa of Ralls, has completed a U.S. Army primary leadership course.

Students received training in supervisory skills, leadership principles and small unit training techniques essential to a first-line supervisor in a technical or administrative environment.

Hinojosa is a cavalry scout at Fort Irwin, Calif., with the 63rd Armor.

His wife, Belinda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Vallejo of Floydada.

Motorcycle operator safety courses offered

Texas has over 700,000 persons licensed to ride motorcycles. To sharpen riding skills, the Department of Public Safety (DPS) provides motorcycle operator training courses throughout the state to beginning and experienced riders in major urban areas. In addition, a mobile motorcycle operator training program is available for areas of the state that cannot support a permanent training site.

Since September 1, 1981, young adults age 15 through 17 are required to take a motorcycle operator training course in addition to the classroom portion of a regular driver's education course in order to get a motorcycle license.

If you are a beginner or an old-timer wanting to improve your riding skills, call (512) 465-2021 for information on the course nearest you.

JV girls play in Lockney

Floydada's junior varsity girls basketball team got off to a strong start in the Lockney Classic Tournament on December 15. The JV team met and defeated the Smyer Varsity Girls 28 to 26 in their opening match of the tournament. According to coach Regina Smith, "This was a good win for us, beating a varsity team. We had ten girls suited up and six of them were freshmen."

Scoring for the Floydada JV were Lesha Black, 9; Tonya Powell, 8; Kerrie Pitts, 5; Branda Breed, 4; and Amy Hinsley, 2.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of thanking all our dear friends and relatives for being so kind and thoughtful to us while I was in the hospital and since returning home.

Your comforting words of encouragement by telephone and visitation are appreciated. The cards and flowers have helped so much but your prayers most of all gave us strength to see us through the ordeal and has made each day brighter for us. It's a joy to be home among friends I love the best. The food brought in will tide us over for days to come.

May all of you have a blessed New Year and may peace be with you and yours.
