Reward offered for information in assault of Lockney woman

Crime Line is offering a $200.00 reward leading to the arrest and conviction of the man responsible for the sexual assault of a 54 year-old southeast Lockney woman on Saturday morning, January 21.

According to Police Chief Leonard Gilroy, "The victim has told us that she was awakened in her bedroom at approximately 2:00 a.m. by a Spanish man armed with a knife."

The man apparently forced open the rear door of the residence and entered the home. The suspect also robbed the victim of $21.00 before he fled the scene on foot.

If you have any information about this crime, please contact the Lockney Police Department or the Floyd County Sheriff's Office; at 652-3548, 652-2416, 983-3232, or Crime Call at 983-5200.

Police are currently investigating another violent crime which occurred Thursday morning, January 19. At approximately 3:20 a.m. a vehicle was stopped on Hwy. 70 by Lockney Police. A 20 year-old Plainview man exited the passenger side of the vehicle and reported to the officer that he had been stabbed.

The victim was transported by ambulance to the Lockney hospital where he remained under doctor's care for three days. The driver of the vehicle, a 26-year old Plainview man, was arrested and charged with D.W.I.

Investigation into the stabbing resulted in the arrest of another Plainview man on a charge of aggravated assault. The man remains in the Hale County Jail under $50,000.00 bond at this time.

On January 22, at approximately 8:30 a.m. someone burglarized a 1971

Volkswagon on N.E. 4th. Taken was a ladies purse with contents valued at $50.50. The vehicle was unlocked at the time of the theft.

Sometime between January 16 and January 19 someone stole a spare tire from the bed of a 1972 Chevrolet pickup parked in the area of S.E. 6th Street. The tire was valued at approximately $100.00.

A 1974 GMC pickup was vandalized late Saturday, January 14 when two rear tires were cut. One tire was also cut on a 1979 Chevrolet pickup truck at the Lockney Community Center.

CRIME LINE NEEDS DONATIONS

Floyd County Crime Line is in need of donations, according to area authorities. Tax deductible donations go toward helping law enforcement officers solve crimes by offering rewards for information and tips. The more money available, the more effective Crime Line can be as a positive law enforcement tool.

"It is very important that we have money available to compensate individuals willing to provide information which will help solve crimes," stated Police Chief Leonard Gilroy.

Anyone interested in making a donation to Crime Line is urged to contact Lawson Rowell at 652-2282, or go by the First National Bank of Lockney and deposit your donation in the Crime Line account.

Whose grandchild is cutest?

Beacon readers can determine the cutest grandchild from pictures that will be appearing on the "Grandparents' Brag Pages".

These pictures will be published in the February 9 issue of this newspaper. This will be the last publication before Valentine's Day.

Hearts will bear grandchildren's photos, along with the names of the youngsters, their parents, grandparents, and great-grandparents.

Reservations are now being placed by parents, grandparents, and great-grandparents. Cost is $10.00 per heart, which helps defray photo reproductions and space expenses.

Photos for "Grandparents' Brag Pages" will be accepted until 4:00 p.m. Thursday, February 2.

Lockney livestock show judging begins Saturday

Saturday, January 28, steers, swine and lambs will parade before the judge at the annual Lockney Livestock Show. The show will be held in the livestock barn located at the Floyd County Fairgrounds.

Judge for the event will be Chris Miller, vocational agriculture teacher at Dimmitt High School. He will open the event at 8:00 by singling out the top lambs, followed by the barrows and then the steers.

The show barn will be open at 4:00 p.m. on Friday, January 27 and the weigh-in for barrows, sheep and steers will begin at 5:00 p.m. according to Zane Bauer, vocational agriculture teacher at Lockney High School.

Scheduled to serve as division superintendents are: Kenneth Holt, lambs, Herb Dudley, swine, David Foster, steers.

The Lockney Chamber of Commerce annually furnishes the prize money, ribbons and rosettes and the judge's fee for the local show. The chamber also assists with the Floyd County Junior Livestock Show and Sale which is to be held February 3, 4, 5.

FFA and 4-H students who attend Lockney schools are eligible to exhibit animals Saturday.

Cash premiums and ribbons will be handed to owners of the winning stock in each class. Grand and reserve champions will receive rosettes.

FAILING STUDENTS MAY NOT EXHIBIT

The Beacon reporter checked with Superintendent W.H. (Dub) Hallmark to determine whether students who have failing grades - or who had failing grades last six weeks - will be eligible to exhibit animals.

Superintendent Hallmark says neither FFA or 4-H students attending Lockney schools who have failing grades will be eligible to exhibit their animals in either the local or county livestock shows. This policy was established by the school board in 1986.

According to this policy, if a student is scholastically ineligible, his or her animals are considered "ineligible" for either show.

Youngsters were informed of this standard prior to purchasing animals to prepare for the show.

Drug and substance abuse seminar slated Wednesday, Feb. 1

The San Jose Catholic Church will be holding a drug and substance seminar on Wednesday, February 1 at 7:00 p.m.

This seminar will be presented by Porfirio DeLeon and Floyd Price, detectives with the Lubbock Police Department.

Everyone is invited to come, young and old.

BALES, BALES AND MORE BALES — This impressive aerial view of the Lockney compress facility operated by West Texas Industries clearly shows the numerous bales of cotton yet awaiting transportation to various locales, both domestic and foreign. Many of the yellow clad bales have already been removed on their journey to becoming assorted useful cotton articles. About 40,000 bales were handled through the facility this season, all of which were the product of Lockney area independent ginners who processed the cotton of many Lockney area growers. The aerial photography was accomplished on a recent windy day (Is there any other kind in West Texas?) through the efforts of Lockney Beacon owner Ken Towery with the assistance of local pilot Mitch Probasco and the use of a small plane owned by other flying enthusiasts.

Benefit celebrity auction for ACS set January 28th

The Crosby County Unit of the American Cancer Society announced its Celebrity Auction to be held January 28th, from 6-9 p.m. at the Pioneer Memorial Museum in Crosbyton.

As January 28, the date set for its Celebrity Auction by Crosby County's unit of the American Cancer Society draws near, interesting and sometimes "awesome" items continue to flow into Crosby County from across the nation.

Celebrities from New York, Hollywood, Nashville and other meccas for the rich and famous, are sending their moments along with their wishes that their gifts help raise needed funds to provide research and services to cancer patients or possibly put us closer to a cure for the awful disease of cancer.

Peggy Robertson of Lorenzo serves as treasurer for the newly organized Crosby County Unit. Peggy's husband, Jackie, died of lung cancer in March of 1988. The Crosby County unit was not organized during the time of Jackie's illness, and the Robertsons were not able to utilize equipment provided by the American Cancer Society such as hospital beds, wheelchairs, walkers and shower seats.

Had they known that such gift items as "eggcrate" mattresses, ostomy supplies and dressings were available, it would have been most helpful, reported Mrs. Robertson. Peggy works as a volunteer for the American Cancer Society so that other cancer patients can benefit from services and research her efforts help to provide.

Another Crosby County resident who is volunteering his time and talents to help with the celebrity auction fundraiser is Ralls auctioneer, Dwayne Moses. Dwayne and his wife, Carolyn, were longtime friends of Deane Rodgers of Ralls who died of lung cancer in February of 1988. Deane's wife, Fran, serves as secretary of the Crosby Unit of the American Cancer Society and, like Peggy Robertson, is volunteering in order to help provide local and statewide services to other cancer patients and their families.

A relatively new service that Fran has expressed much pleasure in is the "Guestroom" program. This program provides temporary housing for patients who must travel for cancer related treatment and check-ups. A cancer patient could travel to Lubbock and stay over night in a Lubbock hotel following treatment or check-ups and return home after the effects of the treatment had subsided. Fran can recall many instances when she and her late husband could have utilized this service had it been available at that time.

Chris Edwards and Margie Rhoades, both of Crosbyton, who serve as vice-president and president of the Crosby Unit, have been busy for more than a month receiving and cataloging celebrity items.

Some interesting items include a gold bracelet from Cheryl Tiegs, a scarf from Betty Ford, a bandana (signed) from Willie Nelson, a tour jacket and photo album from Kenny Rogers, many signed photos from rock stars, soap stars and even the Dallas Cowboy Cheerleaders. Also received so far are record albums, signed scripts from M*A*S*H, McGyver and other shows, T-shirts and even a Texas Flag which flew over the capital!

Please come and support the auction. It's for a good cause and will be lots of fun. The Pioneer Museum Auditorium in Crosbyton, January 28th, from 6-9 p.m. Call Margie Rhoades at 675-2657 or Peggy Robertson at 634-5521 for more information.

SCHOLARSHIP--Ruth Elaine Wilson, 1987-88 salutatorian of Lockney High School, receives her scholarship check from Dr. Bill Dean, executive director of the Ex-Students Association. Ruth Elaine is majoring in Psychology and Spanish. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Wilson of Lockney. The Texas Tech Ex-Students Association annually provides scholarships to high school valedictorians and salutatorians who enroll as freshmen at Texas Tech.

Lockney Care Center Capers

by Dianne Reyes

Monday's bus ride found us at our local Dairy Queen, where we were treated to ice cream cones by Myrtle Gibson. The remainder of the ride was spent riding through various neighborhoods, discussing who lived where,

John and Maebelle Francis were our special guests on Tuesday afternoon. They entertained everyone with their talented singing and keyboard playing.

On Wednesday the residents joined forces for an afternoon of popcorn popping. Everyone pitched in to help make several batches.

Crafts were the focus of fun on Thursday. Mrs. Yolanda Luna pieced together beautiful throw pillows and ducks for the residents to stuff with cotton given to us by West Texas Industries. Mrs. Luna is donating the material and the work to make these items for a bake and craft sale being planned for February.

Our weekly bingo game was held on Friday. We had Adolfo Burrell as our big winner.

We are pleased to announce that Elmo Savage is back with us after a brief hospital stay.

We wish to thank the ladies from the First Baptist Church for the cookies that were given to us. They will be enjoyed with our coffee at coffee time.

MIRACULOUS SURVIVAL—This small Chevrolet Sprint sustained only a damaged left rear fender when it hit the side of the back trailer of this UPS truck tractor. According to DPS Trooper Bill Fulton of Hale County, the truck tractor was traveling east on U.S. 70 on Wednesday, January 18. The Chevrolet Sprint, driven by a Lockney woman, was coming off the service road adjacent to the Tye Company and crossing north across Hwy. 70 onto FM 378 when it failed to yield to the truck. In an effort to avoid the collision, the car cut back to the right, and the truck cut to the left. The side of the rear trailer struck the car on the left rear fender. The trailer turned over as a result of the collision and the driver's maneuvering to avoid a more serious incident. The Lockney woman was transported to the hospital, checked out, and released. The driver of the truck was not injured. —Staff photo

State Capital Highlights

Texans heard a double-barrel blast of pleasing noise last week when crude oil pierced the $18.00 price range and lawmakers convened saying, "no new taxes."

The Big Four Leadership - Gov. Bill Clements, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Speaker Gib Lewis and Comptroller Bob Bullock - all agreed new taxes were off the menu.

Lawmakers accepted it, since no faction between Austin and the White House can out muscle that quartet, at least not on state capitol turf.

This unity against taxes is new and wasn't forged until just before the session began.

Credit Bullock with quietly drawing the line with his sword. And politics played a part.

In December, Speaker Lewis hinted no new taxes, but hedged on a firm stand. After all, he still faced an opening-day vote on his fourth term, and there are many House members who will raise taxes in a heartbeat.

Statements by some of the speaker's lieutenants rode the grapevine all the way to the governor's office.

Spectre of Collision
Clements, the tax thater, vowed to veto any new taxes, period, and the spectre of a collision again raised its ugly head.

The veto threat made some budget shapers nervous, since lawmakers must trim $1 billion this session.

Hobby, the top budget architect, went so far as to call Clements' veto threat "irresponsible." Like any smart businessman, the lieutenant governor doesn't give away options.

This spectre lingered for a couple of days until Bullock emerged with a way $1 billion could be had by shifting funds on a one-time-only basis.

Breath of Fresh Air
Bullock also advised that no new taxes would be a breath of fresh air to the Texas economy and help spur diversification.

Bullock's budget advice is always respected, and besides, it made the Big four score two to two on taxes, if anyone cared to count.

Bullock is running for higher office. Bullock is smart. He just helped a lot of Democrats get re-elected in 1990.

Tax Issue Closed
While the comptroller was helping solve the tax issue, Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower said he wouldn't run against Sen. Phil Gramm next year, and Democrats, looking for a new challenger, thought of Bill Hobby.

Two years ago, Hobby declared himself out in 1990, but who else could take on Gramm? A new tax bill surely would remove that option.

Bullock has apparently found the $1 billion for lawmakers to spend. The tax issue, barring a catastrophe, is closed for now.

Warren Chisum appointed to House Committees on Corrections, County Affairs

Texas House Speaker Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, has appointed State Representative Warren Chisum to the House Committees on Corrections and County Affairs.

Chisum, a first term Democratic lawmaker from Pampa will serve on the committees for the 71st session of the Texas Legislature.

In making the announcement, Lewis cited Chisum's knowledge of the legislation likely to be considered by the two panels.

Lewis said, "Representative Chisum has demonstrated a real concern for the issues facing the correctional process in our state. He has also expressed a genuine interest in those matters involving county governments."

"Representative Chisum's insight into the legislative process, as well as his strong commitment to building a better Texas will make him an effective member of these committees," Lewis stated.
