Caution urged during Memorial Day trips

Major V. J. Cawthon, regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reminds us that Memorial Day is the start of the summertime vacation travel.

Major Cawthon urges all drivers to exercise caution during the upcoming holiday weekend, because traffic will be on the increase with school being out. He also encourages all motorists to use extra caution in and around recreational areas. If you will be traveling this Memorial holiday, remember the largest cause of traffic deaths is a result of speeding and drinking and driving.

Major Cawthon said, "If all drivers obey all traffic laws this could be a Memorial Day that we could remember for years to come." He also stated, "The Department of Public Safety will be using all available troopers in an effort to reduce traffic accidents and assist motorists in order to make this a safe and enjoyable holiday."

Harrington Cancer Center offers free skin clinic

The Harrington Cencere Center will co-sponsor a free skin cancer screening clinic Saturday, May 20 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in the downstairs clinic area at the Center. The American Academy of Dermatologists, the Texas Dermatological Society and the American Cancer Society will also participate as co-sponsors in the clinic.

Amarillo and hte High Plains region lie in the area of the country where skin cancer is prevalent. Being aware of the effects of sun on human skin makes it possible for a person to learn to control skin cancer by the use fo sun screens, covering the exposed parts of the body and staying out of direct sunlight whenever possible.

Specific populations are more at risk for being skin cancer patients. Heavy sun tanners, farmers and construction workers who spend their days in the sun and those who use tanning booths often show signs of skin cancer. Sun exposure can happen even when the body is covered when the rays of the sun penetrate light-weight or light-colored clothing or the rays are reflected from clothing onto the face even though a person is wearing a hat for protection.

The skin cancer screening, done in a private exam room, covers mole checks in exposed and unexposed areas. Physicians will check any part of the skin for abnormalities. If an abnormality is found, the participant is referred to his or her doctor for additional examination.

The physicians will ask for a family history of skin cancer when they examine a person who participates in the free clinic. They will also check on a history of x-ray treatments for acne or other skin conditions. And they will look for any pigmented spots which have changed size recently, and they wil determine each participant's skin type in its ability to tan or burn.

Information on skin cancer will be provided, and registered nurses will be available to teach skin self-examination. Dermatologists will also be present to answer any questions.

For information, call The Harrington Cancer Center at (806) 359-HOPE, or The American Cancer Society at (806) 353-4306.
