

LISD board approves hiring new basketball coach

Meeting in regular session on July 20, Lockney School Board voted unanimously, on a motion by Gary Mangold and seconded by Eddie Teeter, to hire Floyd Evans as the new boys, 7th-12th grade, basketball coach. He will be replacing Coach Phil Cotham who has been reassigned as assistant principal of -12 grades and as a teacher and coach. Floyd Evans, a Lockney resident, is the former Wayland Baptist Flying Queens head coach. He resigned May 2 after 3-1/2 years with Wayland. He is married to Joyce, who is the principal for the Lockney Elementary School. According to Lockney High School Principal James Poole, "Evans will head up the boys basketball 7th-12th grades and will also be working with track. He will also teach 6th grade P.E. and high school health. "Cotham (who was the head basketball coach) will be the assistant principal for grades K-12, and a teacher in special programs. He will also teach junior high math, high school health, and will be the assistant football coach. "This works out real well for us. Not only do we now get help in the areas that we need it, but we will get another good coach. We also get to keep Evan's wife, Joyce, as our principal. We would have hated to lose her." The school board also approved lunchroom prices for 1989-90. The prices have not changed in several years and will increase this year. The new costs will be as follows: Elementary Lunch, .75¢; Elementary Breakfast, .40¢; Reduced Lunch, .40¢; Reduced Breakfast, .30¢; High School Lunch, .85¢; Adult Lunch, $1.25; Visitor Lunch, $1.65.

A policy concerning accumulated sick leave reimbursement upon retirement was passed unanimously, after a motion by D.K. Jackson and seconded by Dickie Lambert. The policy states that upon retirement a certified employee of the Lockney Independent School District shall be paid for accrued sick leave earned while employed with the Lockney system up to a maximum of 60 days at the rate of $15.00 per day. Also, upon retirement a non certified employee will be paid in a lump sum for accrued sick leave earned while employed with Lockney ISD at a rate of $10.00 per day up to a maximum of 20 days. On a motion by Gary Mangold and seconded by Jackson the board voted unanimously to call for bids to replace the cooling and heating system at the elementary school. The bids are to be opened on August 10, 1989 and all bids must be accompanied by a cashier check in the amount of 10% of bid. Lambert made the motion and Glasson seconded to call for bids for milk, to be opened at the August 10 board meeting.

J.Q. Long's bid for repair of all Lockney school's roofs was accepted in a unanimous vote from the board. The total cost for the repair is $121,568.00. The roofs were damaged during the hail storms. The substitute teachers salary was approved at $30.00 per day on a motion by Jackson and seconded by Glasson. Board members voted unanimously to adopt the budget for the 1989-90 year on July 31 at 7:00 a.m. All those wishing to attend the budget hearing should come to the Lockney Independent School District offices at that time. The meeting adjourned at 11:20 p.m.

Evans to assume roundball leadership

Floyd Evans, former Wayland Baptist Flying Queens head coach, has been named as the new head boys basketball coach at Lockney High School. Evans was named basketball coach at the July meeting of the Lockney Independent School District board of trustees after a unanimous vote by the board members. Evans home is in Lockney. His wife Joyce is the principal at Lockney elementary school and is the main reason that Evans accepted the job with the school district. He stated that she has been the one to give up her job several times and move with him when he made job changes and that this time he felt that accepting this job was the right thing for him to do.

FLOYD EVANS

It also kept them closer to their son Marc who is the assistant basketball coach for the men's team at Southeastern Oklahoma in Durant.

Marc is married and has two children. They are 6 and 4 years in age. In addition to their son, they have a daughter Marcia. She is a probation officer in Riverside, California and has just recently married.

Evans was born in upstate New York. He grew up on a dairy farm with 10 brothers and sisters. They raised their own food, put up hay and oats for the livestock and milked a herd of 90 cows. In 1953 Evans joined the Marine Corps. He said that he really didn't have any choice, "All my brother were marines."

After his stint in the marine he met and married a Tennessee girl, also a member of a family of ten. They moved to Texas and he started to Odessa Junior College. Later he transferred to Wayland. After graduating from Wayland he did his graduate work at Texas Tech. Evans has majors in Journalism and P.E. and is qualified to teach health. His first two years were spent teaching P.E. and Health.

His first coaching job was at Union Terry High School at Brownfield where he coached boys basketball. Later he coached in Lorenzo and Shallowater.

Evans served as athletic director, men's basketball coach and head of the

P.E. department at California Baptist College in Riverside, California and before coming to Wayland he was girls head coach at Riverside Poly High School.

He came to Wayland Baptist to take the head coaching job for the Flying Queens and stayed there for three and one half years. His Queens team ran up a 106-21 win-loss record. In that time he took the Queens to the Kansas City NAIA National Tournament four times. They were national runners-up in 1985-86. "I have been fortunate to have some really great basketball players, more than my share really," Evans related.

Evans will be replacing Phil Cotham as basketball coach and in addition to those duties he will work with the off-season weight program, serve as an assistant track coach and scout for the football team. In the classroom he will teach health and P.E.

Four starters are expected back from last years Longhorn squad and Evans is looking down the road to the state championships. "With a good deal of determination and hard work we can get there," he stated.

He has set a goal for himself, "I would like to win a thousand games before I quit coaching," Evans stated. With his years of experience he is well on his way to winning a thousand games.

PUBLIC MEETING

All property owners who are living on dirt streets in Lockney and are interested in street and drainage improvements are asked to meet on Monday, August 7 at 8:00 p.m. at the Community Center.

Lockney Cooperatives elect directors during 32nd annual membership meet

Stockholder members of the Lockney Cooperatives met Thursday night July 20 for their 32nd annual meeting. Dividend checks were presented to members.

Paul Schacht served as master of ceremonies. He introduced Hal Sandefur, representing Sandefur and Swindle, an accounting firm in Lubbock. Sandefur reviewed the condensed balance sheet with stockholder members present for the meeting. The cooperative showed a profit for the 1988-89 year which ended March 31, 1989. He reported that he was very pleased with the condition of the Lockney Cooperative. "Your business is in a stable financial condition," he stated.

Delton Stone, manager of the cooperative was called on to give his report. He stated "The patrons have made Lockney Cooperatives what it is today and our employees are a good dedicated group of people."

Stone introduced the board of directors; Paul Schacht, president; Charles Huffman, vice-president; Bill Bigham, secretary; and directors, John Lee Carthel and Sterling Cummings. He also recognized board members wives, and his wife.

Before asking all the employees to stand, so they could be recognized, Stone introduced the new employees, Fern Hartsell, Patricia Richardson and Herbert Dudley.

Stone related that this was the second best year ever in number of bales of cotton ginned. An average of 21,057 bales have been ginned in the last five years. "For the rest of this fiscal year ginning will be down. After all the cotton losses it is to be expected."

He commented, "This years wheat crop was a dud, but the elevator department ended the year in the black and with all the milo and soybeans planted we are looking forward to a very good season for the elevator department this year." The total wheat crop amounted to 1,600,000 pounds, and according to Stone, "The best seed was kept for planting seed." He advised stockholders present to buy their wheat seed as early as possible. He stated that "Good planting seed will be scarce and as high as the hair on a cats back."

This was the first year in several years that the fertilizer department had ended the year in the black. Stone related that one of the reasons that the department was in the black was that the cooperative had sold all its anhydrous rigs to customers and no longer had the upkeep of the equipment. "No one east of Edmondson can sell anhydrous as cheap as we can," he commented.

Stone ended his report by saying that "1988 was a good year and I am expecting 1989 to be as good a year also."

MANAGER RESIGNS

Paul Schacht, board president, then took the floor and stated "I guess if Delton did not tell you that he is leaving that I will have to do so." Stone had tendered his resignation to the board, effective August 1, and he and his wife Lanell will be moving to Abernathy. Schacht stated that the board has had several very good applications for the position and that they have narrowed the field to two individuals.

Schacht then presented Stone with a plaque of appreciation for the five years that he has been manager of the cooperative.

NEW DIRECTORS ELECTED

Danny Lambert, member of the nominating committee, reported that board members Paul Schacht and Sterling Cummings have served their terms of office and will be going off the board.

The nominating committee, composed of Danny Lambert, Ira Henderson and Bud Taylor, selected James Morris to oppose Paul Schacht for Place one and Ira Henderson to oppose Sterling

Border patrol agent loses life in plane crash while on duty

By Alice Gilroy

David Roberson, a 1959 Lockney High School graduate and Border Patrolman, lost his life July 14, 1989 when the plane he was tracking in crashed and burned in the Yuma Desert.

Roberson was born in Comanche, Texas, January 9, 1941. He moved to Lockney in his junior year, and graduated from Lockney in 1959. He is the son of Versie and Roach Perry, who still reside in Lockney. Roberson began serving his country immediately out of high school when he joined the army. While in the army he became a paratrooper and served as a foot soldier in Korea and also as a military policeman. He also served as an Honor Guard to President Eisenhower during a ground breaking ceremony for the Eisenhower Memorial Library in Abilene, Kansas.

After being discharged from the army, Roberson hired on with the Odessa Police force. Quitting the force to come back to Lockney and help his family with the farm, Roberson obtained his pilot's license in Plainview. In 1966 he went to work for the Border Patrol. His first stop in the Border Patrol was Marfa Sector. It was in this country that Roberson first learned sign-cutting on foot.

After Marfa, Roberson moved on to Ft. Stockton Station where he studied for his commercial and instrument rating in a VA approved flight school. Twelve years later, he transferred to the McAllen Sector's Kingsville Station. Two and one half years later, Roberson finally had his ticket to sign-cutting from the sky: 1,500 hours of flight time that would secure him the Supervisory Pilot position in Arizona's Yuma Sector.

Roberson day after day searched a 3,500 square mile of southwestern Arizona - the Yuma desert. This area is known as the "American Killing Fields," where historians believe that during the 1800's alone, some 400 gold seekers died of thirst in this desert.

Roberson would fly his Supercub right on the deck looking for clues for groups or individuals desperate or foolhardy enough to try and cross the desert.

A feature story on Roberson and his partner Joe McCraw (who worked the ground) appeared in the March 1988 Police - The Law Officer's Magazine. Describing Roberson's flying the article stated, Roberson is a "methodical sign cutter at 50-60 mph., the slowest speed for successfully cutting sign by air. He flies - leap frogging line of tracks into the horizon or sweeping back and forth in a grid search because there is so much ground to cover in so little time, before someone goes down. Any track ends in one of three ways - apprehension, rescue, or body recovery."

Lockney boys moving up in professional music business

By Alice Gilroy

Every country-western star has a hometown. The Panhandle has always had its share of home grown stars, and if things keep going well for the Slow Motion Band, then Earl Brosch and Keith Owens will make Lockney a household word.

Both Brosch and Owens were raised in Lockney. Brosch is the 23-year-old son of Kenneth and Juanita Brosch. He has one sister, Darlene. Owens is the 23-year-old son of Gene and Virginia Owens of Lockney.

Owens and Brosch started the Slow Motion Band while attending Clarendon College. Along with Daron Brown, Becky Webb and Don Bode the group has been together for five years. They all met while attending Clarendon.

Those living in this area have been hearing about the Slow Motion Band for some time. They were always available to play at dances, weddings, rodeos, nightclubs and private parties. Well they are still playing at those places, but now they are not always available. "We stay booked up five or six months ahead now," said Brosch.

The pair have been friends all of their lives. "We grew up together," said Owens. "I've been playing drums since I was in the fifth grade. I was in a band in Floydada High School called the Westwinds and quit playing when I went to college. I met up with Earl again in Clarendon and we started playing together." "We wanted to keep the music going," said Brosch.

Brosch started playing the guitar in 1982 and has been playing ever since. In high school he played in a 4-H band. "It consisted of members from all over the 4-H district (20 counties)," said Brosch. "I quit that and went to Clarendon and Keith and I started the Slow Motion Band." Brosch plays the lead and rhythm guitar and is the lead vocal.

Hard work and dedication have kept the group together and on the move. "We have met a lot of people who are now big in Nashville," said Brosch. "It gives you a lot of inspiration to see the same people you played with making it. When we play at shows and stars come up and pat us on the back and tell us we are doing a good job, it really keeps us going. They'll tell you to hang in there and keep on going. People really give us a lot of support. There is a group called 'Canyon' that has given us all kinds of encouragement and advice. They are inspiration for us because it wasn't too long ago they were like us and now they are breaking into it big and have their second album being released nationally. They keep telling us to 'Look up, the big one is coming!' Meeting these kind of people and making connections every time we have a show helps us all the time."

Those are the type of things that stand out in the minds of Owens and Brosch as now for a contractor out of Plainview. They are carpenters and remodelers on the side, trying to make music their careers.

Obviously everywhere they play people are satisfied, because they keep busy and are asked to come back. Last they continue their work. It's what keeps them going. "We definitely want to make a career out of this," the pair said. "We can't afford to quit our jobs and hit the road now. We would starve. So we'll have to keep on doing what we are doing now." They are both working year a big achievement for them was being asked to be the opening number for the XIT Rodeo and Reunion. They went - and this year they are returning.

This rodeo and reunion honors the men and families that used to be a part of the famous XIT ranch. In 1874 the XIT ranch was the largest range in the world under fence and all of it was in the Texas Panhandle, covering portions of 10 counties. At that time, the Texas Constitutional Convention set aside 3,000,000 Panhandle acres with which to get a new State Capitol. After a fire in 1881, a bargain was made with the Farwell Brothers of Chicago that they would build a new $3,000,000 red granite Texas Capitol building and accept the 3,000,000 Panhandle acres as payment. In 1885 the first longhorn cattle rolled onto the XIT and to the #1 division headquarters at Buffalo Springs, 32 miles north of Dalhart. Once the ranch ran 150,000 head of cattle. The corrals, foreman's house and bunkhouse still stand at Buffalo Springs, the oldest structures in Dallam County. Now Dalhart celebrates with the world's largest amateur rodeo and free barbeque, and the Slow Motion Band kicks off the show.

The rodeo and reunion start August 3 and continue until August 5. August 3, the Slow Motion Band will open for Mel McDaniel. He is known for his songs, "Louisiana Saturday Night," "Stand Up," and "Baby's Got Her Blue Jeans On."

August 4, Patty Loveless follows the Slow Motion Band. Her hit singles include, "Don't Toss It Away" and "Timber I'm Falling In Love."

August 5, Dukes of Hazzard's former Luke Duke, Tom Wopat, will perform after Slow Motion.

"We like to keep our shows energetic and get the people involved," said Brosch. "We want people to have a good time and come out and see us."

Asked whether they get nervous playing to a crowd, Brosch answered, "What makes me nervous is when there are only a few people there. We really like the crowds."

"We enjoy it when they are enjoying it and having a good time," said Owens. "That's what it is all about. If one person leaves the show with a smile on their face, it makes it all worthwhile."

If the optimism and attitude of these two representatives of the Slow Motion band are any indication, the panhandle should be ready for some more stars. "Watch for our name," said Brosch. "We have a lot of good things coming up!"

Border patrol agent loses life in accident...

1980, 222 aliens had been rescued in the Tacna "corridor" by Roberson, McCraw, his men, and a group of volunteer Yuma Sector Border Patrol officers who comprise the newly formed Desert Area Rescue Team. On July 13 and 14, 1987, in the neighboring San Cristobal Valley, Roberson and McCraw, supported by the Tacna station, three Marine airmen and 18 D.A.R.T. members, spearheaded the Yuma Sector's largest rescue effort to date. The rescue spared 22 aliens the brutal death by dehydration that three members had already suffered.

Sixty-one known people have died attempting to cross the Tacna corridor since April 4, 1980, but the Border Patrol know the figures have to be much higher. Some base the figure as high as 300 because of the sheer scope of the area which makes it difficult to locate many of the bodies which decompose rapidly and are scattered by animals over wide-areas.

That is what Roberson was dedicated to prevent. Year after year Roberson worked at this hardship post that most agents rotated out of after their mandatory two years. He didn't just want to "catch 'em - and throw 'em back." He wanted to save people. The "Police" article quoted Roberson as saying, "The greatest rewards of my work are the search and rescue efforts out there when we actually save people in the desert."

Facing mandatory retirement at the age of 55, Roberson had planned to retire early in 1-1/2 years at the age of 50.

On July 14 Roberson was flying low to the ground - tracking. He lost the sight of the tracks for a few feet and as he was turning around to pick up the tracks, he flew into his own air space - known as dead air space - which gave him no lift. The plane nose dived into the desert and burned. Roberson, who was 48 years old, was burned beyond recognition. The body was cremated and his ashes were scattered over the desert that he loved so much.

Over 700 lawmen attended the funeral services held at St Francis Catholic Church at 10:00 a.m., Tuesday, July 18, 1989, in Yuma. Father Frank Carr officiated. The private cremation ceremony followed at Sunset Vista Cemetery and Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, Juanita of the home; mother, Versie Perry and stepfather, Roach Perry of Lockney; sons, Chris of Yuma and Robbie of San Antonio; daughter Becky of Enid, Okla.; brother, Joe Dean of Plainview; sister, Gay Lynn of Austin; grandmother, Sue Arrick of Plainview; and one grandchild.

Vernon and Autry exchange vows

Donna Lyn Vernon and Loyd Gerald Autry Jr. exchanged wedding vows Friday night in the chapel of First Baptist Church with the Rev. Murle Rogers, retired Baptist minister officiating.

Parents of the couple are Ethelyn Vernon of Lockney and the late Don Vernon. Autry is the son of Gerald and Jane Autry of Plainview.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Alvin Vernon, the bride wore a white gown of satin crepe featuring a pleated skirt and sleeveless bodice adorned with a V neckline over which she wore a corded lace jacket edged with scalloped lace. The lace chapel train also was edged in scallops. The jacket and train were worn by her mother in her wedding.

Her tiered bouffant illusion veil trimmed with seed pearls, was secured to a headband of illusion roses.

Maid of honor was Julia Segovia of Lockney. Bridesmaids were: Tami Vernon of Arlington, Kim Vernon of Lockney, sister and cousin of the bride; Kathy Davis and Michelle Griffith of Lockney.

They wore satin crepe burgundy tea length dresses with short puffed sleeves and lace bodices. The straight skirts were accented with lace and satin penguins. Each carried roses with gypsophilia.

Scott Buchanan and Brian Wilder were candlelighters. Kelly Vernon registered guests.

Best man was Leslie Gattis of Lubbock. Groomsmen were Stacy Miller and Toby Rackley of Lubbock, Tory Thrasher and Greg Swim of Plainview. Ushers were Robert Vernon of Lockney, the bride's brother; Lanney Bennett of Lubbock, Brian Wilder and Scott Buchanan.

A reception was held in the parlor after the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to Dallas, the couple will reside in Plainview. The bride is a graduate of Lockney High School and is employed at Wal-Mart. Autry is a graduate of Plainview High School and is employed at JMS Equipment.

The groom's parents were hosts for a rehearsal dinner in their home. Other bridal courtesies included showers given by Mrs. Joe Nance, in the Garden Room of First Baptist Church of Lockney and in the Plainview home of Mrs. T.C. Gattis, and a rice and lingerie party in Jane Autry's home.

MRS. LOYD GERALD AUTRY JR.

Roberson and Braack wed

Julie Anne Roberson and William Dale Braack were married in a candlelight ceremony Saturday, July 22. The wedding was held in the sanctuary of First United Methodist Church in Lubbock. Dr. Sam Nader, senior minister, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Roberson, former Lockney residents, and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Record, of Lockney. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Braack of Longview, Washington.

The bride was attired in a white satin formal wedding gown. The gown featured a sabrina neckline leading to long tapered sleeves with cut-out alencon lace and illusion netting at forearm and wrist. An ornate lace motif covered the fitted bodice and antebellum waistline. Iridescent sequins and pearls adorned the lace on the sleeves and bodice. A full ballroom skirt with scalloped, beaded edging led to a cathedral length train, with matching beaded edging. A low V back was accented with beaded lace, leading to a bustle of overlapping tiers of satin.

The headpiece was fashioned of schiffle crystal flowers, beaded with pearls and iridescent sequins. The full cathedral length veiling was scattered with iridescent sequins.

The bride carried a traditional cascading bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, Casa Blanca lilies and dendrobium orchids, accented with runners of English ivy.

For good luck, she wore a penny from the year of her birth in one shoe, and an English sixpence in the other. Something old was the penny, something new was her dress, something borrowed was a Belgian lace handkerchief given to her mother by her great-grandmother, and something blue was her garter.

Maid of honor was Amy Roberson, sister of the bride, of Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Jennifer Brady of Dallas, Jennifer Ellis of Houston, and Stephanie Braack of Longview, Washington, sister of the bridegroom. They wore floor length gowns of emerald green satin, which featured a sweetheart neckline and elbow length puff sleeves. The waistline was accented with a diagonal overskirt caught on one side with a self-fabric bow and rhinestone clasp. The bridesmaids carried tied garden bouquets of rubrum lilies, gerberas, alstromeria and dendrobium orchids.

Best man was William Smith of Longview, Washington. Groomsmen were David King of Burbank, California, Zoltan Kocis of Lubbock, and Charles Roberson, brother of bride. They were attired in black formal tailcoats, with black and white waffle-weave vests.

A matching pair of all white floral arrangements adorned the altar. The arrangements, loosely designed in garden style, were composed of agapanthus, lilies, freesia and dendrobium orchids. White satin bows with cascading English ivy decorated the pews for the mothers.

Music was provided by Gordon McMillan, organist, and Emily Meinecke, soloist. Vocal selections included "And on This Day", by Tina English, "Thou Art My Joy", by Bach, and "Wedding Prayer", by David Williams. The wedding party entered to "Trumpet Voluntary", by Jeremiah Clarke, and receded to the strains of "Toccato" from the Fifth Symphony by Widor.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Lubbock Club. The bride's table was draped in white chiffon with re-embroidered lace and embellishments of seed pearls. The cake was a traditional white cake with apricot filling. The top tier was on a pedestal. Nestled on the second layer were a ceramic bride and groom. Covering the cake were summer flowers of frosting, in pink, green lilac, yellow and deep rose.

The groom's cake was dark chocolate with a light chocolate icing. Panels around the cake featured the initial "B", and the cake was topped with mounds of dark chocolate curls.

The hors d'oeuvres table featured a floral arrangement freely designed in a crystal vase. Flowers included liatris, rubrum lilies, alstromeria, gerberas, and sprays of dendrobium orchids. Finger sandwiches, fruit, cheese, and crackers were offered. Fruit punch and champagne completed the selections.

Serving the cakes and punch were Mrs. Tom Conley of Houston, sister of the bride, Miss Darin Braack of Longview, Washington, sister of the groom, and Miss Leslie Frith of Amarillo.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Breck Record and Erika of San Antonio, Dr. and Mrs. Joel Gist of Tulsa, uncles and aunts of the bride. Also attending were Mr. Shannon Roberson, Rod and Kim of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brady of Dallas.

Following a trip to Little Rock, Memphis, and Nashville, the couple will live in Fayetteville, North Carolina.

Mr. Braack is a flight engineer in the U.S. Air Force, and a student at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University. The bride was a student at Texas Tech University, and will continue her studies at the University of North Carolina.

Friday, a bridesmaids luncheon was held at Green Oaks Tea Room, hosted by Mrs. Guy Roberson.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Braack. The dinner was held at The County Line Restaurant in Escondido Canyon.

by Inez Gibson

Monday, the residents and myself went on a bus ride to Plainview. We drove through Westridge and looked at the nice homes and had ice cream at McDonalds.

Tuesday, John and Maebelle Francis came and sang for us. Everyone enjoyed it. Thursday, we had an ice cream party.

We have had a busy week but had lots of fun.

I would like to take this opportunity to tell each one of our readers that we now have our volunteer book brought up to date. I would appreciate it when you volunteer your time that you sign the book or make a note of it for me and I will see that it gets recorded. Come see us soon.

Vacation Bible School set for next week

The First United Methodist Church in Lockney has an exciting Vacation Bible School planned July 31 - August 2, 9:00 a.m. to 3 p.m. The church grounds will be transformed into a marketplace similar to what Jesus might have experienced in Jerusalem around the year 29 A.D. All of the village activities will be outdoors, centered around a well. Children will relive Bibletime events, exploring and experiencing Bibletime occupations and relationships. Each worker and child will have a costume similar to what they wore in olden times. The shops in the marketplace will include: A stonemason, carpenter, weaver, rope maker, jeweler, mosaic maker, potter, brick maker, and a storyteller who will make Bible stories really come alive to the children.

Dramas will be presented daily near

Drug Awareness Seminar slated for 7:00 p.m. Sunday

First Baptist Church in Lockney will be hosting a drug awareness seminar this Sunday evening, July 24, at 7:00 p.m. This seminar is designed to heighten community awareness as to the drug problem and some things that Lockney can do to combat this problem.

The seminar will be led by Philip A. Kappler, a representative of T.A.N.E. (Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education). Philip has been a radio disk jockey and a sports caster. He is now the sales manager for Mel Tillis' radio station. He at one time was a drug addict himself.

Garry Higgs, pastor of First Baptist Church, had this to say about the seminar:

"One of the hardest problems in fighting substance abuse is admitting that you, your children, or your community has a problem. We as parents, friends, and citizens of Lockney have a responsibility to our family and our community to fight our drug problem."

"One way to fight this problem is by becoming better informed about what is going on. That is the reason for this seminar. I hope that you will take the time to get involved. Ask your children if they know who is dealing drugs. Make yourself aware of what your child is confronted with in his or her life.

"A second way to get involved is to clean up your own act. Are you as a parent using drugs? Someone has said "what parents do in moderation, children will do to excess". Don't expect your children to deal with their drug problems if you are not serious about your own."

"I hope that you will attend and become informed. Then involve yourself in doing something about the drug problem in our community."

TRY BUYING IT HERE FIRST!

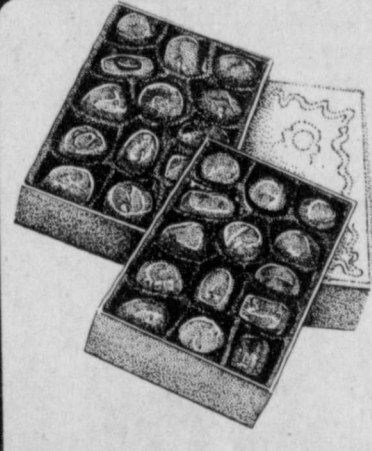

There will also be animals around the market place. A daily fun event will be a donkey caravan out into the Sierra Desert (the back of the church) to visit the great storyteller - sorry, we couldn't find a camel.

Children ages 3 years old to those children entering the 6th grade are welcome. Children will be divided up in to small family units (the 12 tribes of Israel). Small tents will be scattered around the back lot of the church and these will be home for the family tribes. There will be very specialized activities for the pre-schoolers. They will have their own special Nazareth Village and they will also take part in the Marketplace shops.

Children need to come for registration at 8:30 on Monday, July 3. They need to bring a sack lunch each day. Drinks and snacks will be provided.

The three day experience will be climaxed by a Celebration Festival on the evening of August 2. The whole family is invited for a picnic supper at their children's tribal tent. Parents will need to bring enough food to feed their own families and also need to bring a blanket for seating. The parents will then be taken on a grand tour of the marketplace, and there will be a Banner procession from the tents into the Sanctuary where there will be a final celebration.

Lane part of "Texas" staff

Each summer evening at 8:30 a bugle summons two horsemen with flags to the top of a 600 foot cliff overlooking the audience, and the musical drama "TEXAS" begins.

With another burst of sound, the cast leaps on to the stage and soon the strains of "We Invite You all to Come to Texas" reach out towards the patrons.

People with roots in your community are in this company of actors, singers, dancers, horsemen, technicians, ushers, box office attendants, salesmen, and concession workers. Gwen Lane is a newcomer to the "Texas" hospitality staff. She is a 1988 graduate of Lockney High School and is now attending Kilgore College where she is active in the theatre department. She has appeared in several college productions, appearing as Tansy in THE NERD and Barbara Allen in DARK OF THE MOON. She enjoys riding, snow skiing, reading, and spending time with her family and friends. Gwen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lane.

This story of the 1880's in the Texas Panhandle was written by Pulitzer prizewinner Paul Green and has been playing in the magnificent Palo Duro Canyon near Amarillo and Canyon since 1966. For twenty-four years people have been flocking to see the story of the settlers, the railroad, the Indians, the storms and the droughts. The two millionth person came on the fourth of July.

A cast of 80 supported by 60 others backstage tells the story using music and dance, speech and sound, light and dynamite.

Lockney youth sentenced in pool break-in

On Sunday night, July 23, at approximately 10:00 p.m. the Lockney Police were dispatched to the Lockney swimming pool. It had been reported that someone was inside the pool. When police arrived they found six juveniles and one adult inside the pool. The juveniles were taken into custody and will be turned over to the juvenile court and charged with criminal trespass. The 17 year old adult was arrested and placed in the Floyd County jail, he was also charged with criminal trespass.

"Sentenced for Life" video offered by police

The Lockney Police Department now has a new program to offer to any interested club, organization or individual. It is a 40 minute video about drinking and driving and is given out free of charge for community education.

The video is entitled, "Sentenced For Life", and was made for every teenager who gets behind the wheel of a car...for all the parents of those teenagers...for anyone who is tempted to drink and drive. Through candid discussions with young survivors of alcohol-related accidents, the program provides a frank, firsthand look at the devastating effects of drunk driving.

The program reminds everyone to consider that before giving young drivers the keys to a car, parents should remember that one out of every three teenagers admit they've been in a car driven by an intoxicated teenager. Also, no parent should ignore that drunk driving is America's leading killer of 16-24 year olds.

The video is designed to give teenagers an important edge - the facts about drinking and driving. It was the 1988 winner of the Best Classroom Production Award at the National Educational Film and Video Festival and is presented by Volkswagen United States.

"I highly recommend parents who have kids that may someday be forced with the decision to drink and drive, or for anyone who may be faced with that decision, to watch this film," said Lockney Police Chief Lennie Gilroy.

If you wish to use the film, contact Gilroy or Jerry Edwards at the Lockney Police Department. The video will be loaned out on a first come first serve basis.

Criminal trespass is a class B misdemeanor. A person adjudged guilty of a class B misdemeanor shall be punished by:

- (1) A fine not to exceed $1,000.
  - (2) Confinement in jail for a term not to exceed 180 days; or
  - (3) both such fine and imprisonment.
- Ignacio Ascencio pled guilty to breaking into the swimming pool on Sunday night. He was sentenced to two days in jail, fined $50.00 and charged $88.00 for court costs.

On Sunday, July 9, at approximately midnight, a Lockney police officer, Jerry Edwards, was dispatched to the Lockney General Hospital in reference to a suspicious vehicle. Officer Edwards observed the vehicle, a 1974 Chevrolet pickup truck traveling north on Main street and stopped the vehicle for no tail lights. When Officer Edwards ran a check on the vehicle he found the truck registered to Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home. Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home was contacted and they reported that the truck should be at the funeral home in Floydada. The two suspects, both of Floydada, were taken into custody by officer Edwards and charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. One of the suspects is a 15 year old juvenile, he was transported to the Lubbock Youth Center. The other suspect, an adult was transported to the Floyd County Jail.

Cummings for Place Two on the board. Nomination from the floor were then called for and after receiving none the members cast their ballots. After a tabulation of the ballots Schacht and Cummings were both returned to their seats on the board.

The membership voted to expand the number of members on the nominating committee to five. Nathan Johnson, Randy Calahan, Randy Henderson, Warren Mitchell and Larry Elam were appointed for the 1990 meeting.

Bill Bigham reported on the Plains Co-op Oil Mill. He stated that in 1989 the oil mill had the largest receipts in cottonseed that they had ever had.

Charles Huffman reported that the Plains Co-op Compress at Plainview will be paying dividends of $106,500 to the patrons of the Lockney Cooperative and that money will be coming into the Lockney trade area.

John Lee Carthel is a member of the of PCA board and reported that "the pool cotton is selling quite well". There were 759,595 bales of 1988 cotton in the pool and of those only 189,594 bales were left to sell.

A.L. Bigham was presented with the outstanding co-op award. He was presented with a plaque commemorating the Ninth Million Dollar Award. Bigham is a charter member of the Lockney Cooperative.

There was no old or new business to be taken care of so door prizes were awarded.

Stacy Bigham drew the winning numbers and Michelle and Tikka Smith

delivered the gifts to the winners.

Several lucky members received 100 percent cotton towel sets, an air impact socket set, shop vac, mantel clock, a Tappan microwave oven, and a trip to Raleigh, North Carolina for a tour of the Cotton Incorporated Offices and a textile mill.

A representative of Cotton, Incorporated explained how the money that goes into Cotton, Inc. is being spent in the research and marketing of cotton items. He related that Cotton Inc. and DuPont have gone together and developed a fabric that contains 90 percent cotton and 10 percent Spandex. This fabric will be used for activewear. He had a sample to show the audience.

All those attending enjoyed a catered chicken and steak finger dinner prepared by Danny's Hens and Fins.

LWSA completes ninth season

Despite a slow start due to rained out games and inclement weather in June, another Lockney Women's Softball Association season came to an exciting close on Thursday, July 20. This summer 112 women from Lockney, Floydada, Plainview and Lubbock represented their home towns well as they completed their 57 games of softball.

The Mavericks of Plainview proved themselves league champions over seven other teams by compiling a perfect record of 14 wins, no losses. Thompson's Pharmacy of Floydada defeated the Knights in a tie-breaker by a score of 10-9 to claim 2nd place with a 10-5 record. The Knights, also from Floydada, took 3rd place with a record of 9-6. Bad Company from Plainview, with a 7-7 record, captured 4th place. Special sportsmanship trophies were awarded to members of Elite for their outstanding league support and spirit.

Other teams finished as follows:

5th - California Coolers	6-8
6th - Cargill	5-9
6th - Providence	5-9
7th - Elite	1-13

Serving as umpire for the league were Coach Eddie Fortenberry, Coach David Norwood, Jim Clark, Jr., Chad Frizzell and David Sutterfield. We greatly appreciate their help and professionalism in officiating our games.

Two players from each team were selected by the coaches for their outstanding performances. These players comprise the 1989 L.W.S.A. All Star team:

Toni Ibarra and Sandra Hinojosa - Bad Company

Donna Gomez and Ronda Garcia - California Coolers

Lynda McCarver and Susy Smith - Cargill

Nicole McDonald and Ron Thomas - Elite

Mary Molinar and Sara Riojas - Knights

Shelley Tue and Kerry Evans - Mavericks

Robin Bowden and Amelia Gonzales - Providence

Dixie Smith and Sarah Hinsley - Thompson's Pharmacy

The team will be coached by Leon Phillips and Emilio Gonzales as they compete in the Lorenzo tournament in mid-August.

LWSA members sold $1 chances on

100 gallons of gasoline from Webster's Service and Supply. We thank R.V. for his help and Arcenio for his time and trouble fixing our Coke trailer flat. Pam Armstrong of Lockney was the winner in the drawing for the gas. LWSA president Susy Smith sold the most tickets, 32.

Bobby Pinner served as this year's Field Chairman and did an incomparable job. Our league would not have been possible without his tremendous efforts. Our sincerest thanks and appreciation to Bobby for all his work.

LWSA will host the 1989 Summer Challenge Tournament for women July 28-29. Teams from Lockney, Plainview, Lubbock and Tulia are entered. "We invite everyone to come and enjoy the games."

Dietary intake of elderly can affect blood pressure

Hypertension is common medical problem in elderly people. Elevated blood pressure results in increased susceptibility to the development of coronary heart disease and stroke.

To verify the effect of dietary intake on blood pressure in older people, a study was conducted recently by scientists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES).

Information on dietary intake, health, weight and blood pressure of more than 400 people between the ages of 58 and 100 years was collected and studied by Drs. K.S. Kubena; nutritionist, W.A. McIntosh; rural sociologist; and W.A. Landmann, nutritionist. Individuals in the study were interviewed in their homes.

In previous medical research, sodium was the first nutrient to be implicated as a possible cause of hypertension. During the past few years, results of research studies have suggested that many other dietary components also may be involved in increasing blood pressure, according to Kubena.

Some of the substances are potassium, chloride, calcium, magnesium and fat, as well as the ratios of sodium to potassium and of calcium to magnesium. Excess energy (calories) and obesity have been reported to cause high blood pressure, as have caffeine and alcohol.

In the TAES study, adding the people who had high blood pressure to those who said they had hypertension resulted in about 40 percent of the combined groups being categorized as hypertensive.

Kubena said dietary intake was analyzed for its relationship to blood pressure. Caloric intake was associated with blood pressure. As energy intake increased so did blood pressure in both men and women.

Caffeine was related to blood pressure in men. The amount of caffeine that both men and women with high diastolic pressure had in their diets was more than was ingested by people with normal diastolic pressure.

Kubena said diastolic pressure is the pressure in the vessel when the heart is relaxed, whole systolic pressure measures the pressure when the heart contracts. Caffeine stimulates the nervous system to release substances that can increase blood pressure.

Intake of other nutrients, such as calcium, magnesium and fat, also was associated with blood pressure in some groups within this population, including those taking particular types of antihypertensive medications.

Kubena said, however, most of the nutrients suggested as causing hypertension in previous studies were not clearly related to blood pressure in all these subjects.

Sodium was not associated with blood pressure. But since salt added to food by an individual, or discretionary use of salt, could not be measured in this study this finding is not surprising, Kubena said. She said discretionary use of salt accounts for a significant amount of total sodium intake of most people.

When body weights were compared to weights that people of a given height should weigh (called desirable weight,) those people who weighed more than they should according to this method also had higher blood pressures.

The reason why obesity results in high blood pressure is controversial, Kubena said. Excess body weight may raise blood pressure simply because a bigger body contains more blood that must be circulated.

People who eat more food that results in weight gain also would ingest more sodium and salt and other substances that may increase blood pressure. Lack of physical activity, which also results in weight gain certainly may play a part in blood pressure elevation.

"Results from this study show," Kubena said, "that even though aging can cause changes in the cardiovascular system which may result in elevated blood pressure, dietary intake and body weight also are important. More information is needed on the relationship between dietary intake and blood pressure in people of this age group before recommendations to increase a nutrient, such as calcium, are made."

LISD board approves hiring new basketball coach

Meeting in regular session on July 20, Lockney School Board voted unanimously, on a motion by Gary Mangold and seconded by Eddie Teeter, to hire Floyd Evans as the new boys, 7th-12th grade, basketball coach. He will be replacing Coach Phil Cotham who has been reassigned as assistant principal of K-12 grades and as a teacher and coach. Floyd Evans, a Lockney resident, is the former Wayland Baptist Flying Queens head coach. He resigned May 2 after 3-1/2 years with Wayland. He is married to Joyce, who is the principal for the Lockney Elementary School. According to Lockney High School Principal James Poole, "Evans will head up the boys basketball 7th-12th grades and will also be working with track. He will also teach 6th grade P.E. and high school health. "Cotham (who was the head basketball coach) will be the assistant principal for grades K-12, and a teacher in special programs. He will also teach junior high math, high school health, and will be the assistant football coach. "This works out real well for us. Not only do we now get help in the areas that we need it, but we will get another good coach. We also get to keep Evan's wife, Joyce, as our principal. We would have hated to lose her." The school board also approved lunchroom prices for 1989-90. The prices have not changed in several years and will increase this year. The new costs will be as follows: Elementary Lunch, .75¢; Elementary Breakfast, .40¢; Reduced Lunch, .40¢; Reduced Breakfast, .30¢; High School Lunch, .85¢; Adult Lunch, $1.25; Visitor Lunch, $1.65. A policy concerning accumulated sick leave reimbursement upon retirement was passed unanimously, after a motion by D.K. Jackson and seconded by Dickie Lambert. The policy states that upon retirement a certified employee of the Lockney Independent School District shall be paid for accrued sick leave earned while employed with the Lockney system up to a maximum of 60 days at the rate of $15.00 per day. Also, upon retirement a non certified employee will be paid in a lump sum for accrued sick leave earned while employed with Lockney ISD at a rate of $10.00 per day up to a maximum of 20 days. On a motion by Gary Mangold and seconded by Jackson the board voted unanimously to call for bids to replace the cooling and heating system at the elementary school. The bids are to be opened on August 10, 1989 and all bids must be accompanied by a cashier check in the amount of 10% of bid. Lambert made the motion and Glasson seconded to call for bids for milk, to be opened at the August 10 board meeting.

J.Q. Long's bid for repair of all Lockney school's roofs was accepted in a unanimous vote from the board. The total cost for the repair is $121,568.00. The roofs were damaged during the hail storms. The substitute teachers salary was approved at $30.00 per day on a motion by Jackson and seconded by Glasson. Board members voted unanimously to adopt the budget for the 1989-90 year on July 31 at 7:00 a.m. All those wishing to attend the budget hearing should come to the Lockney Independent School District offices at that time. The meeting adjourned at 11:20 p.m.

Evans to assume roundball leadership

Floyd Evans, former Wayland Baptist Flying Queens head coach, has been named as the new head boys basketball coach at Lockney High School. Evans was named basketball coach at the July meeting of the Lockney Independent School District board of trustees after a unanimous vote by the board members. Evans home is in Lockney. His wife Joyce is the principal at Lockney elementary school and is the main reason that Evans accepted the job with the school district. He stated that she has been the one to give up her job several times and move with him when he made job changes and that this time he felt that accepting this job was the right thing for him to do.

FLOYD EVANS

It also kept them closer to their son Marc who is the assistant basketball coach for the men's team at Southeastern Oklahoma in Durant.

Marc is married and has two children. They are 6 and 4 years in age. In addition to their son, they have a daughter Marcia. She is a probation officer in Riverside, California and has just recently married.

Evans was born in upstate New York. He grew up on a dairy farm with 10 brothers and sisters. They raised their own food, put up hay and oats for the livestock and milked a herd of 90 cows. In 1953 Evans joined the Marine Corps. He said that he really didn't have any choice, "All my brother were marines."

After his stint in the marine he met and married a Tennessee girl, also a member of a family of ten. They moved to Texas and he started to Odessa Junior College. Later he transferred to Wayland. After graduating from Wayland he did his graduate work at Texas Tech. Evans has majors in Journalism and P.E. and is qualified to teach health. His first two years were spent teaching P.E. and Health.

His first coaching job was at Union Terry High School at Brownfield where he coached boys basketball. Later he coached in Lorenzo and Shallowater.

Evans served as athletic director, men's basketball coach and head of the

P.E. department at California Baptist College in Riverside, California and before coming to Wayland he was girls head coach at Riverside Poly High School.

He came to Wayland Baptist to take the head coaching job for the Flying Queens and stayed there for three and one half years. His Queens team ran up a 106-21 win-loss record. In that time he took the Queens to the Kansas City NAIA National Tournament four times. They were national runners-up in 1985-86. "I have been fortunate to have some really great basketball players, more than my share really," Evans related.

Evans will be replacing Phil Cotham as basketball coach and in addition to those duties he will work with the off-season weight program, serve as an assistant track coach and scout for the football team. In the classroom he will teach health and P.E.

Four starters are expected back from last years Longhorn squad and Evans is looking down the road to the state championships. "With a good deal of determination and hard work we can get there," he stated.

He has set a goal for himself, "I would like to win a thousand games before I quit coaching," Evans stated. With his years of experience he is well on his way to winning a thousand games.

PUBLIC MEETING

Lockney Cooperatives elect directors during 32nd annual membership meet

Stockholder members of the Lockney Cooperatives met Thursday night July 20 for their 32nd annual meeting. Dividend checks were presented to members.

Paul Schacht served as master of ceremonies. He introduced Hal Sandefur, representing Sandefur and Swindle, an accounting firm in Lubbock. Sandefur reviewed the condensed balance sheet with stockholder members present for the meeting. The cooperative showed a profit for the 1988-89 year which ended March 31, 1989. He reported that he was very pleased with the condition of the Lockney Cooperative. "Your business is in a stable financial condition," he stated.

Delton Stone, manager of the cooperative was called on to give his report. He stated "The patrons have made Lockney Cooperatives what it is today and our employees are a good dedicated group of people."

Stone introduced the board of directors; Paul Schacht, president; Charles Huffman, vice-president; Bill Bigham, secretary; and directors, John Lee Carthel and Sterling Cummings. He also recognized board members wives, and his wife.

Before asking all the employees to stand, so they could be recognized, Stone introduced the new employees, Fern Hartsell, Patricia Richardson and Herbert Dudley.

Stone related that this was the second best year ever in number of bales of cotton ginned. An average of 21,057 bales have been ginned in the last five years. "For the rest of this fiscal year ginning will be down. After all the cotton losses it is to be expected."

He commented, "This years wheat crop was a dud, but the elevator department ended the year in the black and with all the milo and soybeans planted we are looking forward to a very good season for the elevator department this year." The total wheat crop amounted to 1,600,000 pounds, and according to Stone, "The best seed was kept for planting seed." He advised stockholders present to buy their wheat seed as early as possible. He stated that "Good planting seed will be scarce and as high as the hair on a cats back."

This was the first year in several years that the fertilizer department had ended the year in the black. Stone related that one of the reasons that the department was in the black was that the cooperative had sold all its anhydrous rigs to customers and no longer had the upkeep of the equipment. "No one east of Edmondson can sell anhydrous as cheap as we can," he commented.

Stone ended his report by saying that "1988 was a good year and I am expecting 1989 to be as good a year also."

MANAGER RESIGNS

Paul Schacht, board president, then took the floor and stated "I guess if Delton did not tell you that he is leaving that I will have to do so." Stone had tendered his resignation to the board, effective August 1, and he and his wife Lanell will be moving to Abemathy. Schacht stated that the board has had several very good applications for the position and that they have narrowed the field to two individuals.

Schacht then presented Stone with a plaque of appreciation for the five years that he has been manager of the cooperative.

NEW DIRECTORS ELECTED

Danny Lambert, member of the nominating committee, reported that board members Paul Schacht and Sterling Cummings have served their terms of office and will be going off the board.

The nominating committee, composed of Danny Lambert, Ira Henderson and Bud Taylor, selected James Morris to oppose Paul Schacht for Place one and Ira Henderson to oppose Sterling Cummings for Place two.

Border patrol agent loses life in plane crash while on duty

By Alice Gilroy

David Roberson, a 1959 Lockney High School graduate and Border Patrolman, lost his life July 14, 1989 when the plane he was tracking in crashed and burned in the Yuma desert.

Roberson was born in Comanche, Texas, January 9, 1941. He moved to Lockney in his junior year, and graduated from Lockney in 1959. He is the son of Versie and Roach Perry, who still reside in Lockney. Roberson began serving his country immediately out of high school when he joined the army. While in the army he became a paratrooper and served as a foot soldier in Korea and also as a military policeman. He also served as an Honor Guard to President Eisenhower during a ground breaking ceremony for the Eisenhower Memorial Library in Abilene, Kansas.

After being discharged from the army, Roberson hired on with the Odessa Police force. Quitting the force to come back to Lockney and help his family with the farm, Roberson obtained his pilot's license in Plainview. In 1966 he went to work for the Border Patrol. His first stop in the Border Patrol was Marfa Sector. It was in this country that Roberson first learned sign-cutting on foot.

After Marfa, Roberson moved on to Ft. Stockton Station where he studied for his commercial and instrument rating in a VA approved flight school. Twelve years later, he transferred to the McAllen Sector's Kingsville Station. Two and one half years later, Roberson finally had his ticket to sign-cutting from the sky: 1,500 hours of flight time that would secure him the Supervisory Pilot position in Arizona's Yuma Sector.

Roberson day after day searched a 3,500 square mile of southwestern Arizona - the Yuma desert. This area is known as the "American Killing Fields," where historians believe that during the 1800's alone, some 400 gold seekers died of thirst in this desert.

Roberson would fly his Supercub right on the deck looking for clues for groups or individuals desperate or foolhardy enough to try and cross the desert.

A feature story on Roberson and his partner Joe McCraw (who worked the ground) appeared in the March 1988 Police - The Law Officer's Magazine. Describing Roberson's flying the article stated, Roberson is a "methodical sign cutter at 50-60 mph, the slowest speed for successfully cutting sign by air. He flies - leap frogging line of tracks into the horizon or sweeping back and forth in a grid search because there is so much ground to cover in so little time, before someone goes down. Any track ends in one of three ways - apprehension, rescue, or body recovery."

Lockney boys moving up in professional music business

By Alice Gilroy

Every country-western star has a hometown. The Panhandle has always had its share of home grown stars, and if things keep going well for the Slow Motion Band, then Earl Broseh and Keith Owens will make Lockney a household word.

Both Broseh and Owens were raised in Lockney. Broseh is the 23-year-old son of Kenneth and Juanita Broseh. He has one sister, Darlene. Owens is the 23-year-old son of Gene and Virginia Owens of Lockney.

Owens and Broseh started the Slow Motion Band while attending Clarendon College. Along with Daron Brown, Becky Webb and Don Bode the group has been together for five years. They all met while attending Clarendon.

Those living in this area have been hearing about the Slow Motion Band for some time. They were always available to play at dances, weddings, rodeos, nightclubs and private parties. Well they are still playing at those places, but now they are not always available. "We stay booked up five or six months ahead now," said Broseh.

The pair have been friends all of their lives. "We grew up together," said Owens. "I've been playing drums since I was in the fifth grade. I was in a band in Floydada High School called the Westwinds and quit playing when I went to college. I met up with Earl again in Clarendon and we started playing together." "We wanted to keep the music going," said Broseh.

Broseh started playing the guitar in 1982 and has been playing ever since. In high school he played in a 4-H band. "It consisted of members from all over the 4-H district (20 counties)," said Broseh. "I quit that and went to Clarendon and Keith and I started the Slow Motion Band." Broseh plays the lead and rhythm guitar and is the lead vocal.

Hard work and dedication have kept the group together and on the move. "We have met a lot of people who are now big in Nashville," said Broseh. "It gives you a lot of inspiration to see the same people you played with making it. When we play at shows and stars come up and pat us on the back and tell us we are doing a good job, it really keeps us going. They'll tell you to hang in there and keep on going. People really give us a lot of support. There is a group called 'Canyon' that has given us all kinds of encouragement and advice. They are inspiration for us because it wasn't too long ago they were like us and now they are breaking into it big and have their second album being released nationally. They keep telling us to 'Look up, the big one is coming!' Meeting these kind of people and making connections every time we have a show helps us all the time."

Those are the type of things that stand out in the minds of Owens and Broseh as now for a contractor out of Plainview. They are carpenters and remodelers on the side, trying to make music their careers.

Obviously everywhere they play people are satisfied, because they keep busy and are asked to come back. Last they continue their work. It's what keeps them going. "We definitely want to make a career out of this," the pair said. "We can't afford to quit our jobs and hit the road now. We would starve. So we'll have to keep on doing what we are doing now." They are both working year a big achievement for them was being asked to be the opening number for the XIT Rodeo and Reunion. They went - and this year they are returning.

This rodeo and reunion honors the men and families that used to be a part of the famous XIT ranch. In 1874 the XIT ranch was the largest range in the world under fence and all of it was in the Texas Panhandle, covering portions of 10 counties. At that time, the Texas Constitutional Convention set aside 3,000,000 Panhandle acres with which to get a new State Capitol. After a fire in 1881, a bargain was made with the Farwell Brothers of Chicago that they would build a new $3,000,000 red granite Texas Capitol building and accept the 3,000,000 Panhandle acres as payment. In 1885 the first longhorn cattle rolled onto the XIT and to the #1 division headquarters at Buffalo Springs, 32 miles north of Dalhart. Once the ranch ran 150,000 head of cattle. The corrals, foreman's house and bunkhouse still stand at Buffalo Springs, the oldest structures in Dallam County. Now Dalhart celebrates with the world's largest amateur rodeo and free barbeque, and the Slow Motion Band kicks off the show.

The rodeo and reunion start August 3 and continue until August 5. August 3, the Slow Motion Band will open for Mel McDaniel. He is known for his songs, "Louisiana Saturday Night," "Stand Up," and "Baby's Got Her Blue Jeans On."

August 4, Patty Loveless follows the Slow Motion Band. Her hit singles include, "Don't Toss It Away" and "Timber I'm Falling In Love."

August 5, Dukes of Hazzard's former Luke Duke, Tom Wopat, will perform after Slow Motion.

"We like to keep our shows energetic and get the people involved," said Broseh. "We want people to have a good time and come out and see us."

Asked whether they get nervous playing to a crowd, Broseh answered, "What makes me nervous is when there are only a few people there. We really like the crowds."

"We enjoy it when they are enjoying it and having a good time," said Owens. "That's what it is all about. If one person leaves the show with a smile on their face, it makes it all worthwhile."

If the optimism and attitude of these two representatives of the Slow Motion band are any indication, the panhandle should be ready for some more stars. "Watch for our name," said Broseh. "We have a lot of good things coming up!"

Border patrol agent loses life in accident...

1980, 222 aliens had been rescued in the Tacna "corridor" by Roberson, McCraw, his men, and a group of volunteer Yuma Sector Border Patrol officers who comprise the newly formed Desert Area Rescue Team. On July 13 and 14, 1987, in the neighboring San Cristobal Valley, Roberson and McCraw, supported by the Tacna station, three Marine airmen and 18 D.A.R.T. members, spearheaded the Yuma Sector's largest rescue effort to date. The rescue spared 22 aliens the brutal death by dehydration that three members had already suffered.

Sixty-one known people have died attempting to cross the Tacna corridor since April 4, 1980, but the Border Patrol know the figures have to be much higher. Some base the figure as high as 300 because of the sheer scope of the area which makes it difficult to locate many of the bodies which decompose rapidly and are scattered by animals over wide-areas.

That is what Roberson was dedicated to prevent. Year after year Roberson worked at this hardship post that most agents rotated out of after their mandatory two years. He didn't just want to "catch 'em - and throw 'em back." He wanted to save people. The "Police" article quoted Roberson as saying, "The greatest rewards of my work are the search and rescue efforts out there when we actually save people in the desert."

Facing mandatory retirement at the age of 55, Roberson had planned to retire early in 1-1/2 years at the age of 50.

On July 14 Roberson was flying low to the ground - tracking. He lost the sight of the tracks for a few feet and as he was turning around to pick up the tracks, he flew into his own air space - known as dead air space - which gave him no lift. The plane nose dove into the desert and burned. Roberson, who was 48 years old, was burned beyond recognition. The body was cremated and his ashes were scattered over the desert that he loved so much.

Over 700 lawmen attended the funeral services held at St. Francis Catholic Church at 10:00 a.m., Tuesday, July 18, 1989, in Yuma. Father Frank Carr officiated. The private cremation ceremony followed at Sunset Vista Cemetery and Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, Juanita of the home; mother, Versie Perry and stepfather, Roach Perry of Lockney; sons, Chris of Yuma and Robbie of San Antonio; daughter Becky of Enid, Okla.; brother, Joe Dean of Plainview; sister, Gay Lynn of Austin; grandmother, Sue Arrick of Plainview; and one grandchild.

Vernon and Autry exchange vows

Donna Lyn Vernon and Loyd Gerald Autry Jr. exchanged wedding vows Friday night in the chapel of First Baptist Church with the Rev. Murle Rogers, retired Baptist minister officiating. Parents of the couple are Ethelyn Vernon of Lockney and the late Don

Vernon. Autry is the son of Gerald and Jane Autry of Plainview. Given in marriage by her uncle, Alvin Vernon, the bride wore a white gown of satin crepe featuring a pleated skirt and sleeveless bodice adorned with a V neckline over which she wore a corded lace jacket edged with scalloped lace. The lace chapel train also was edged in scallops. The jacket and train were worn by her mother in her wedding. Her tiered bouffant illusion veil trimmed with seed pearls, was secured to a headband of illusion roses.

Maid of honor was Julia Segovia of Lockney. Bridesmaids were: Tami Vernon of Arlington, Kim Vernon of Lockney, sister and cousin of the bride; Kathy Davis and Michelle Griffith of Lockney. They wore satin crepe burgundy tea length dresses with short puffed sleeves and lace bodices. The straight skirts were accented with lace and satin peplums. Each carried roses with gypsophilia.

Scott Buchanan and Brian Wilder were candlelighters. Kelly Vernon registered guests.

Best man was Leslie Gattis of Lubbock. Groomsman were Stacy Miller and Toby Rackley of Lubbock, Tory Thrasher and Greg Swim of Plainview. Ushers were Robert Vernon of Lockney, the bride's brother; Lanney Bennett of Lubbock, Brian Wilder and Scott Buchanan.

A reception was held in the parlor after the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to Dallas, the couple will reside in Plainview. The bride is a graduate of Lockney High School and is employed at Wal-Mart. Autry is a graduate of Plainview High School and is employed at JMS Equipment.

The groom's parents were hosts for a rehearsal dinner in their home. Other bridal courtesies included showers given by Mrs. Joe Nance, in the Garden Room of First Baptist Church of Lockney and in the Plainview home of Mrs. T.C. Gattis, and a rice and lingerie party in Jane Autry's home.

MRS. LOYD GERALD AUTRY JR.

Roberson and Braack wed

Julie Anne Roberson and William Dale Braack were married in a candlelight ceremony Saturday, July 22. The wedding was held in the sanctuary of First United Methodist Church in Lubbock. Dr. Sam Nader, senior minister, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Roberson, former Lockney residents, and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Record, of Lockney. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Braack of Longview, Washington.

The bride was attired in a white satin formal wedding gown. The gown featured a sabrina neckline leading to long tapered sleeves with cut-out alencon lace and illusion netting at forearm and wrist. An ornate lace motif covered the fitted bodice and antebellum waistline. Iridescent sequins and pearls adorned the lace on the sleeves and bodice. A full ballroom skirt with scalloped, beaded edging led to a cathedral length train, with matching beaded edging. A low V back was accented with beaded lace, leading to a bustle of overlapping tiers of satin.

The headpiece was fashioned of schiffle crystal flowers, beaded with pearls and iridescent sequins. The full cathedral length veiling was scattered with iridescent sequins.

The bride carried a traditional cascading bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, Casa Blanca lilies and dendrobium orchids, accented with runners of English ivy.

For good luck, she wore a penny from the year of her birth in one shoe, and an English sixpence in the other. Something old was the penny, something new was her dress, something borrowed was a Belgian lace handkerchief given to her mother by her great-grandmother, and something blue was her garter.

Maid of honor was Amy Roberson, sister of the bride, of Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Jennifer Brady of Dallas, Jennifer Ellis of Houston, and Stephanie Braach of Longview, Washington, sister of the bridegroom. They wore floor length gowns of emerald green satin, which featured a sweetheart neckline and elbow length puff sleeves. The waistline was accented with a diagonal overskirt caught on one side with a self-fabric bow and rhinestone clasp. The bridesmaids carried tied garden bouquets of rubrum lilies, gerberas, alstromeria and dendrobium orchids.

Best man was William Smith of Longview, Washington. Groomsman were David King of Burbank, California, Zoltan Kocis of Lubbock, and Charles Roberson, brother of bride. They were attired in black formal tailcoats, with black and white waffle-weave vests.

A matching pair of all white floral arrangements adorned the altar. The arrangements, loosely designed in garden style, were composed of agapanthus, lilies, freesia and dendrobium orchids. White satin bows with cascading English ivy decorated the pews for the mothers.

Music was provided by Gordon McMillan, organist, and Emily Meinecke, soloist. Vocal selections included "And on This Day", by Tina English, "Thou Art My Joy", by Bach, and "Wedding Prayer", by David Williams. The wedding party entered to "Trumpet Voluntary", by Jeremiah Clarke, and receded to the strains of "Toccato" from the Fifth Symphony by Widor.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Lubbock Club. The bride's table was draped in white chiffon with re-embroidered lace and embellishments of seed pearls. The cake was a traditional white cake with apricot filling. The top tier was on a pedestal. Nestled on the second layer were a ceramic bride and groom. Covering the cake were summer flowers of frosting, in pink, green lilac, yellow and deep rose.

The groom's cake was dark chocolate with a light chocolate icing. Panels around the cake featured the initial "B", and the cake was topped with mounds of dark chocolate curls.

The hors d'oeuvres table featured a floral arrangement freely designed in a crystal vase. Flowers included liatris, rubrum lilies, alstromeria, gerberas, and sprays of dendrobium orchids. Finger sandwiches, fruit, cheese, and crackers were offered. Fruit punch and champagne completed the selections.

Serving the cakes and punch were Mrs. Tom Conley of Houston, sister of the bride, Miss Darin Braack of Longview, Washington, sister of the groom, and Miss Leslie Frith of Amarillo. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Breck Record and Erika of San Antonio, Dr. and Mrs. Joel Gist of Tulsa, uncles and aunts of the bride. Also attending were Mr. Shannon Roberson, Rod and Kim of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brady of Dallas.

Following a trip to Little Rock, Memphis, and Nashville, the couple will live in Fayetteville, North Carolina. Mr. Braack is a flight engineer in the U.S. Air Force, and a student at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University. The bride was a student at Texas Tech University, and will continue her studies at the University of North Carolina.

Friday, a bridesmaids luncheon was held at Green Oaks Tea Room, hosted by Mrs. Guy Roberson.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Braack. The dinner was held at The County Line Restaurant in Escondido Canyon.

Lockney Care Center

by Inez Gibson

Monday, the residents and myself went on a bus ride to Plainview. We drove through Westridge and looked at the nice homes and had ice cream at McDonalds.

Tuesday, John and Maebelle Francis came and sang for us. Everyone enjoyed it. Thursday, we had an ice cream party.

We have had a busy week but had lots of fun.

I would like to take this opportunity to tell each one of our readers that we now have our volunteer book brought up to date. I would appreciate it when you volunteer your time that you sign the book or make a note of it for me and I will see that it gets recorded. Come see us soon.

Vacation Bible School set for next week

The First United Methodist Church in Lockney has an exciting Vacation Bible School planned July 31 - August 2, 9:00 a.m. to 3 p.m. The church grounds will be transformed into a marketplace similar to what Jesus might have experienced in Jerusalem around the year 29 A.D. All of the village activities will be outdoors, centered around a well. Children will relive Bible times events, exploring and experiencing Bible time occupations and relationships. Each worker and child will have a costume similar to what they wore in olden times. The shops in the marketplace will include: A stonecutter, carpenter, weaver, rope maker, jeweler, mosaic maker, potter, brick maker, and a storyteller who will make Bible stories really come alive to the children.

Dramas will be presented daily near the well. There will also be animals around the market place. A daily fun event will be a donkey caravan out into the Sierra Desert (the back of the church) to visit the great storyteller - sorry, we couldn't find a camel.

Children ages 3 years old to those children entering the 6th grade are welcome. Children will be divided up in to small family units (the 12 tribes of Israel). Small tents will be scattered around the back lot of the church and these will be home for the family tribes. There will be very specialized activities for the pre-schoolers. They will have their own special Nazareth Village and they will also take part in the Marketplace shops.

Children need to come for registration at 8:30 on Monday, July 3. They need to bring a sack lunch each day. Drinks and snacks will be provided.

The three day experience will be climaxed by a Celebration Festival on the evening of August 2. The whole family is invited for a picnic supper at their children's tribal tent. Parents will need to bring enough food to feed their own families and also need to bring a blanket for seating. The parents will then be taken on a grand tour of the marketplace, and there will be a Banner procession from the tents into the Sanctuary where there will be a final celebration.

For more information call the First United Methodist Church, 652-2193.

Drug Awareness Seminar slated for 7:00 p.m. Sunday

First Baptist Church in Lockney will be hosting a drug awareness seminar this Sunday evening, July 24, at 7:00 p.m. This seminar is designed to heighten community awareness as to the drug problem and some things that Lockney can do to combat this problem.

The seminar will be led by Philip A. Kappler, a representative of T.A.N.E. (Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education). Philip has been a radio disk jockey and a sports caster. He is now the sales manager for Mel Tillis' radio station. He at one time was a drug addict himself.

Garry Higgs, pastor of First Baptist Church, had this to say about the seminar:

"One of the hardest problems in fighting substance abuse is admitting that you, your children, or your community has a problem. We as parents, friends, and citizens of Lockney have a responsibility to our family and our community to fight our drug problem."

"One way to fight this problem is by becoming better informed about what is going on. That is the reason for this seminar. I hope that you will take the time to get involved. Ask your children if they know who is dealing drugs. Make yourself aware of what your child is confronted with in his or her life."

"A second way to get involved is to clean up your own act. Are you as a parent using drugs? Someone has said "what parents do in moderation, children will do to excess". Don't expect your children to deal with their drug problems if you are not serious about your own."

"I hope that you will attend and become informed. Then involve yourself in doing something about the drug problem in our community."

Lane part of "Texas" staff

Each summer evening at 8:30 a bugle summons two horsemen with flags to the top of a 600 foot cliff overlooking the audience, and the musical drama "TEXAS" begins.

With another burst of sound, the cast leaps on to the stage and soon the strains of "We Invite You all to Come to Texas" reach out towards the patrons.

People with roots in your community are in this company of actors, singers, dancers, horsemen, technicians, ushers, box office attendants, salesmen, and concession workers. Gwen Lane is a newcomer to the "Texas" hospitality staff. She is a 1988 graduate of Lockney High School and is now attending Kilgore College where she is active in the theatre department. She has appeared in several college productions, appearing as Tansy in THE NERD and Barbara Allen in DARK OF THE MOON. She enjoys riding, snow skiing, reading, and spending time with her family and friends. Gwen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lane.

This story of the 1880's in the Texas Panhandle was written by Pulitzer prizewinner Paul Green and has been playing in the magnificent Palo Duro Canyon near Amarillo and Canyon since 1966. For twenty-four years people have been flocking to see the story of the settlers, the railroad, the Indians, the storms and the droughts. The two millionth person came on the fourth of July.

A cast of 80 supported by 60 others backstage tells the story using music and dance, speech and sound, light and dynamite.

Lockney youth sentenced in pool break-in

On Sunday night, July 23, at approximately 10:00 p.m. the Lockney Police were dispatched to the Lockney swimming pool. It had been reported that someone was inside the pool. When police arrived they found six juveniles and one adult inside the pool. The juveniles were taken into custody and will be turned over to the juvenile court and charged with criminal trespass. The 17 year old adult was arrested and placed in the Floyd County jail, he was also charged with criminal trespass.

Criminal trespass is a class B misdemeanor. A person adjudged guilty of a class B misdemeanor shall be punished by:

- (1) A fine not to exceed $1,000.
  - (2) Confinement in jail for a term not to exceed 180 days; or
  - (3) both such fine and imprisonment.
- Ignacio Ascencio pled guilty to breaking into the swimming pool on Sunday night. He was sentenced to two days in jail, fined $50.00 and charged $88.00 for court costs.

On Sunday, July 9, at approximately midnight, a Lockney police officer, Jerry Edwards, was dispatched to the Lockney General Hospital in reference to a suspicious vehicle. Officer Edwards observed the vehicle, a 1974 Chevrolet pickup truck traveling north on Main street and stopped the vehicle for no tail lights. When Officer Edwards ran a check on the vehicle he found the truck registered to Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home. Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home was contacted and they reported that the truck should be at the funeral home in Floydada. The two suspects, both of Floydada, were taken into custody by officer Edwards and charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. One of the suspects is a 15 year old juvenile, he was transported to the Lubbock Youth Center. The other suspect, an adult was transported to the Floyd County Jail.

"Sentenced for Life" video offered by police

The Lockney Police Department now has a new program to offer to any interested club, organization or individual. It is a 40 minute video about drinking and driving and is given out free of charge for community education.

The video is entitled, "Sentenced For Life", and was made for every teenager who gets behind the wheel of a car...for all the parents of those teenagers...for anyone who is tempted to drink and drive. Through candid discussions with young survivors of alcohol-related accidents, the program provides a frank, firsthand look at the devastating effects of drunk driving.

The program reminds everyone to consider that before giving young drivers the keys to a car, parents should remember that one out of every three teenagers admit they've been in a car driven by an intoxicated teenager. Also, no parent should ignore that drunk driving is America's leading killer of 16-24 year olds.

The video is designed to give teenagers an important edge - the facts about drinking and driving. It was the 1988 winner of the Best Classroom Production Award at the National Educational Film and Video Festival and is presented by Volkswagen United States.

"I highly recommend parents who have kids that may someday be forced with the decision to drink and drive, or for anyone who may be faced with that decision, to watch this film," said Lockney Police Chief Lennie Gilroy.

If you wish to use the film, contact Gilroy or Jerry Edwards at the Lockney Police Department. The video will be loaned out on a first come first serve basis.

LOCKNEY COOPERATIVE BOARD OF DIRECTORS— Serving as the board of directors for the Lockney Cooperatives are (L-R) Sterling Cummings, Bill Bigham, Paul Schacht, Charles Huffman and John Lee Carthel. Two directors, Sterling Cummings and Paul Schacht were returned to the board in an election held at the 32nd annual stockholders meeting Saturday, July 22. Staff Photo

Cummings for Place Two on the board. Nomination from the floor were then called for and after receiving none the members cast their ballots. After a tabulation of the ballots Schacht and Cummings were both returned to their seats on the board.

The membership voted to expand the number of members on the nominating committee to five. Nathan Johnson, Randy Calahan, Randy Henderson, Warren Mitchell and Larry Elam were appointed for the 1990 meeting.

Bill Bigham reported on the Plains Co-op Oil Mill. He stated that in 1989 the oil mill had the largest receipts in cottonseed that they had ever had.

Charles Huffman reported that the Plains Co-op Compress at Plainview will be paying dividends of $106,500 to the patrons of the Lockney Cooperative and that money will be coming into the Lockney trade area.

John Lee Carthel is a member of the of PCA board and reported that "the pool cotton is selling quite well". There were 759,595 bales of 1988 cotton in the pool and of those only 189,594 bales were left to sell.

A.L. Bigham was presented with the outstanding co-op award. He was presented with a plaque commemorating the Ninth Million Dollar Award. Bigham is a charter member of the Lockney Cooperative.

There was no old or new business to be taken care of so door prizes were awarded.

Stacy Bigham drew the winning numbers and Michelle and Tikka Smith

delivered the gifts to the winners.

Several lucky members received 100 percent cotton towel sets, an air impact socket set, shop vac, mantel clock, a Tappan microwave oven, and a trip to Raleigh, North Carolina for a tour of the Cotton Incorporated Offices and a textile mill.

A representative of Cotton, Incorporated explained how the money that goes into Cotton, Inc. is being spent in the research and marketing of cotton items. He related that Cotton Inc. and DuPont have gone together and developed a fabric that contains 90 percent cotton and 10 percent Spandex. This fabric will be used for activewear. He had a sample to show the audience.

All those attending enjoyed a catered chicken and steak finger dinner prepared by Danny's Hens and Pans.

LWSA completes ninth season

Despite a slow start due to rained out games and inclement weather in June, another Lockney Women's Softball Association season came to an exciting close on Thursday, July 20. This summer 112 women from Lockney, Floydada, Plainview and Lubbock represented their home towns well as they completed in 57 games of softball.

The Mavericks of Plainview proved themselves league champions over seven other teams by compiling a perfect record of 14 wins, no losses. Thompson's Pharmacy of Floydada defeated the Knights in a tie-breaker by a score of 10-9 to claim 2nd place with a 10-5 record. The Knights, also from Floydada, took 3rd place with a record of 9-6. Bad Company from Plainview, with a 7-7 record, captured 4th place. Special sportsmanship trophies were awarded to members of Elite for their outstanding league support and spirit.

Other teams finished as follows:

- 5th - California Coolers 6-8
- 6th - Cargill 5-9
- 6th - Providence 5-9
- 7th - Elite 1-13

Serving as umpire for the league were Coach Eddie Fortenberry, Coach David Norwood, Jim Clark, Jr., Chad Frizzell and David Sutterfield. We greatly appreciate their help and professionalism in officiating our games.

Two players from each team were selected by the coaches for their outstanding performances. These players comprise the 1989 L.W.S.A. All Star team:

- Toni Ibarra and Sandra Hinojosa - Bad Company
- Donna Gomez and Ronda Garcia - California Coolers
- Lynda McCarver and Susy Smith - Cargill
- Nicole McDonald and Ron Thomas - Elite
- Mary Molinar and Sara Riojas - Knights
- Shelley Tue and Kerry Evans - Mavericks
- Robin Bowden and Amelia Gonzales - Providence
- Dixie Smith and Sarah Hinsley - Thompson's Pharmacy

The team will be coached by Leon Phillips and Emilio Gonzales as they compete in the Lorenzo tournament in mid-August.

LWSA members sold $1 chances on

100 gallons of gasoline from Webster's Service and Supply. We thank R.V. for his help and Arcenio for his time and trouble fixing our Coke trailer flat. Pam Armstrong of Lockney was the winner in the drawing for the gas. LWSA president Susy Smith sold the most tickets, 32.

Bobby Pinner served as this year's Field Chairman and did an incomparable job. Our league would not have been possible without his tremendous efforts. Our sincerest thanks and appreciation to Bobby for all his work.

LWSA will host the 1989 Summer Challenge Tournament for women July 28-29. Teams from Lockney, Plainview, Lubbock and Tulia are entered. "We invite everyone to come and enjoy the games."

Dietary intake of elderly can affect blood pressure

Hypertension is common medical problem in elderly people. Elevated blood pressure results in increased susceptibility to the development of coronary heart disease and stroke.

To verify the effect of dietary intake on blood pressure in older people, a study was conducted recently by scientists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES).

Information on dietary intake, health, weight and blood pressure of more than 400 people between the ages of 58 and 100 years was collected and studied by Drs. K.S. Kubena; nutritionist, W.A. McIntosh; rural sociologist; and W.A. Landmann, nutritionist. Individuals in the study were interviewed in their homes.

In previous medical research, sodium was the first nutrient to be implicated as a possible cause of hypertension. During the past few years, results of research studies have suggested that many other dietary components also may be involved in increasing blood pressure, according to Kubena.

Some of the substances are potassium, choline, calcium, magnesium and fat, as well as the ratios of sodium to potassium and of calcium to magnesium. Excess energy (calories) and obesity have been reported to cause high blood pressure, as have caffeine and alcohol.

In the TAES study, adding the people who had high blood pressure to those who said they had hypertension resulted in about 40 percent of the combined groups being categorized as hypertensive.

Kubena said dietary intake was analyzed for its relationship to blood pressure. Caloric intake was associated with blood pressure. As energy intake increased so did blood pressure in both men and women.

Caffeine was related to blood pressure in men. The amount of caffeine that both men and women with high diastolic pressure had in their diets was more than was ingested by people with normal diastolic pressure.

Kubena said diastolic pressure is the pressure in the vessel when the heart is relaxed, whole systolic pressure measures the pressure when the heart contracts. Caffeine stimulates the nervous system to release substances that can increase blood pressure.

Intake of other nutrients, such as calcium, magnesium and fat, also was associated with blood pressure in some groups within this population, including those taking particular types of anti-hypertensive medications.

Kubena said, however, most of the nutrients suggested as causing hypertension in previous studies were not clearly related to blood pressure in all these subjects.

Sodium was not associated with blood pressure. But since salt added to food by an individual, or discretionary use of salt, could not be measured in this study this finding is not surprising, Kubena said. She said discretionary use of salt accounts for a significant amount of total sodium intake of most people.

When body weights were compared to weights that people of a given height should weigh (called desirable weight,) those people who weighed more than they should according to this method also had higher blood pressures.

The reason why obesity results in high blood pressure is controversial, Kubena said. Excess body weight may raise blood pressure simply because a bigger body contains more blood that must be circulated.

People who eat more food that results in weight gain also would ingest more sodium and salt and other substances that may increase blood pressure. Lack of physical activity, which also results in weight gain certainly may play a part in blood pressure elevation.

"Results from this study show," Kubena said, "that even though aging can cause changes in the cardiovascular system which may result in elevated blood pressure, dietary intake and body weight also are important. More information is needed on the relationship between dietary intake and blood pressure in people of this age group before recommendations to increase a nutrient, such as calcium, are made."
