Accidental gunshot fatal to Lockney youth

By Alice Gilroy parents.

Two weeks before his graduation, Kelly Lane Edwards, 18, of Lockney was killed at his home by an accidental discharge of a 12 gauge shotgun. Edwards was known throughout the Lockney community for his love of art, his pleasant smile, his polite demeanor and hard work.

According to police, the accident occurred at approximately 11 p.m. Tuesday, May 15, at the Edwards home, 616 S. Main. Kelly, while studying his school lessons, was visiting with two of his fellow schoolmates. One of the friends noticed a 12 gauge shotgun under the bed and pulled it out, asking Edwards if it was loaded.

Kelly replied that it was not loaded, took the gun from his friend and apparently hit the trigger with his thumb while showing the weapon. The weapon discharged striking Kelly in the face.

Kelly's mother, Linda Edwards was asleep in her room at the time of the accident. His father, Jerry Edwards, who is a Sergeant with the Lockney Police Department, was on duty at the The death was ruled an accident by Justice of the Peace, Lowell Bilbrey. Kelly, who worked part-time at Allsups, had been involved in scouting since he was eight years old. As a Cub Scout he had achieved the rank of Arrow Of Light. He was a Life Rank Boy Scout at the time of his death.

He was voted Most Courteous and Most Polite at Lockney High School this year. He was involved in the journalism department at school and had participated in Journalism UIL, placing fifth in feature writing and fourth in newswriting.

According to his father, Jerry Edwards, "Kelly loved art. He loved to draw and always wanted to be a cartoonist. People all over this town, have samples of his work, because he loved to give them away.

"He was baptized in the Bethany Baptist Church in Lubbock, when he was eight years old. He was very active working in the church and singing songs."

Kelly was born in Lubbock, April 20, 1972. He moved to Lockney in 1987. He was a charter member of Grace Fellowship Church.

report on school funding. According to Hallmark the legislature in Austin is still at work on the school bill and it is not known where they stand on funding. He told the board about funding along the lines of the Lockney budget.

Revenue estimated for the school year amounts to $2,699,598 and $2,834,430 is projected for this year. The difference is a $134,832 increase. The major reason for the increase is the increased average daily attendance. According to Hallmark, "We have more kids in school. More than are anticipated."

The amount budgeted for this year was $3.028,723. The projected amount spent is estimated at $3,006,499, and the estimated carry over will be $22,253.

The original fund balance was $163,367 and $140,000 of this was spent on heating and air conditioning a portion of the buildings before school started this year along with other buildng repairs.

Maintenance was discussed for the summer months and tabled until the next meeting. A section of the bleachers on the visitors side of the stadium needs to be repaired and dressing rooms for the students need to be repaired. They also need to be enlarged due to the larger number of students using them.

Phil Cotham gave the board a report on the school's TEAMS test results (as reported in The Beacon May 17).

Long range plans for the Gifted and Talented program were presented by Terry Ellison, principal of Lockney Junior High. The plan was updated and approved by the board.

Summertime in Texas is a time for family reunions and like clockwork each June since 1904, the grandchildren and great-grandchildren of Hill Country Confederate veterans meet at Camp Ben McCulloch for a week of feasting and fun to renew old bonds. Camp Ben McCulloch is located 12 miles from Manchaca just outside Austin. Peacefulness and serenity are the feelings one gets from visiting the camp because of its Hill Country charm and beauty. Scenic Onion Creek, shaded by great Cypress trees flows through Camp Ben McCulloch and creates as pleasant a place to swim as it did 100 years ago.

Cargill celebrates 125th anniversary

Cargill Inc. spent the past 125 years expanding from a grain warehouse in Iowa to a major international marketer, transporter and processor of agricultural commodities, with some of its rootsfirmly planted in the Texas Panhandle. The company, headquartered in Minneapolis, will celebrate its 125th anniversary with 53,700 employees in 800 offices and facilities in 55 nations. About 3,750 of those employees work in 22 offices throughout the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles and southeast Kansas, said Greg Lauser, public affairs director.

Cargill first entered the Panhandle in the late 1950s, when it purchased an elevator in Plainview. It made its move into Amarillo with the purchase of the Burris Milling Co. elevator in 1972, said Brannon Darnell, Commodity Marketing Division area manager in Amarillo. Darnell is formerly of Lockney.

The company no longer owns that Plainview facility, but the Commodity Marketing Division has spread to offices in Amarillo, Hart, Plainview, Hooker, Okla., Elkhart and Liberal, Kan.

Through its seven elevators - two in Plainview - Cargill's Commodity Marketing Division has the capacity to create and market approximately 25 million bushels of corn, milo and wheat annually in the Panhandle.

Trading activites, headquarterd in Amarillo, add another 25 million bushels a year to the grain handling and trading total for the area, Darnell said. It employs about 90 in its division.

By far the largest Cargill employer in the Panhandle area is Cargill's two Excel Corp. packing plants, Lauser said. Total employment of 3,330 people and a evenly divided between the two beef slaughter and boxed-beef processing facilities in Plainview and Friona.

Each year the plants provide markets for 1.6 million Panhandle cattle worth approximately $1.3 billion, he said. Excel serves markets from California to Florida and the East Coast from its Texas facilities.

The plants were built in the late 1960s and early 1970s and have been constantly modernized to improve efficiencies, Lauser said.

A newcomer to Amarillo, but not a newcomer to the Panhandle, is Caprock Industries Inc., which moved its headquarters to the city last year, said president Zay Gilbreath.

Caprock employs 240 people in Texas, with its Amarillo office coordinating the marketing and services of its six Texas Panhandle feedlots in Amarillo, Bovina, two in Gruver, Dalhart and Lockney.

These lots have the ability to feed and market 186,000 cattle at one time, Lauser said. To feed those cattle to a market weight of about 1,100 pounds. Caprock buys 17 million bushels of grain a year. The Texas lots, and one in Leoti, Kan., annually manage about 550,000 cattle, with an average market value of $425 million.

Caprock Cattle Management Services, a Caprock subsidiary with three employees, provides cattle feeding economic analysis and risk analysis services for custom cattle feeders, he said.

ACCO Feeds Inc. also makes its home in Amarillo, with a feed mill that has a production capacity of more than 60,000 tons a year. The feed operations employ 40 people.

The Amarillo feed manufacturing mill produces and markets a complete cated in Amarillo, with terminal operations in Dimmitt and Stratford that provide molasses blends and more complex liquid-protein suspensions to feedlot customers within an 80-mile radius of each terminal.

The division's 15 Panhandle employees, under manager John Hall, furnish about 750,000 head of feedlot cattle in Texas, New Mexico, southeast Colorado and southwest Kansas with molasses liquid products.

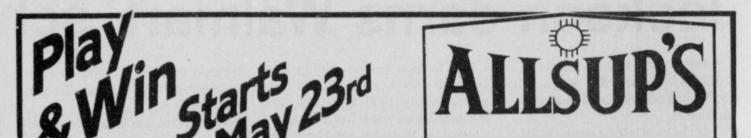

Hall said his department is planning an expansion in the next 90 to 120 days people on staff in a geographic management office that will be decentralized and freestanding from the Minneapolis office.

Through the many divisions, Cargill provides a direct market to the expanding global market for the producers of the area, Darnell said. Agricultural now is a worldwide business and Cargill will have to operate differently than it has in the past 125 years.

"Cargill plays a vital role in agriculture," Darnell said. "It's involved in almost all aspects and we want to be a leader in environmental, safety and all issues of the future. We're here to service customers and we want to do a quality job."

On the 25th day of May the Aposento Alto Church of Lockney had a celebration to celebrate the four years of being here in this location.

Aposento Alto was founded May 22, 1986 by Pastor Chon Sepulveda. Knowing that the only way he was going to hold this church is because he knew that the Lord Jesus Christ had led him in all of this and ever since it has been an experience after an experience.

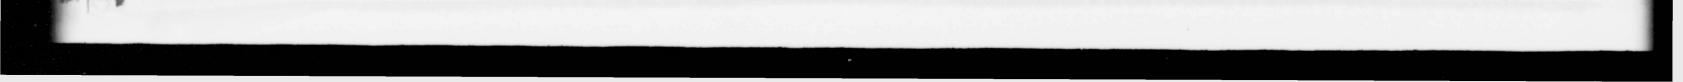

In this year of 1990 we have seen people come to know Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior. We have also seen miracles happen. We know that we owe all of our honor and glory to Our Lord Jesus Christ.

We feel that it is going to be one of the greatest years. We are expecting a lot of great things to happen. We want to give thanks to everybody that helped during these years. We also want to thank all the people that participated in the 25th of May event where Ignacio Soto of the Templo Sinai of Plainview, Texas, preached. All of this we owe to Our Lord Jesus said, "Upon this rock I will build my Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." Matthew 16:18. Pastor Sepulveda would like to remind the young people of the community to "say no to drugs and say yes to Jesus."

Jesus Christ.

NICE DAY FOR A FIELD TRIP -- The students and teachers at Lockney Ele-

Area students on SPC honors list

Three students from Lockney have been named to the President and Dean's Honor Lists for spring 1990 semester at South Plains College.

Charles Jacobs and David Martinez have been named to the President's Honor List. Jessica Marks has been named to the Dean's Honor List at SPC.

To be named to the President's Honor List, students must maintain a straight A 4.0 grade point average while carrying at least 12 semester hours.

Persons named to the Dean's Honor List must maintain a minimum 3.25 GPA while carrying at least 12 semester hours.

"We extend our congratulations to these students, who have maintained the highest of academic standards during their studies at SPC," said Dr. Orlo Sundre, vice president for academic affairs.

By Mary Jane Shanes Self-employed people will find significant changes in computing their 1990 Social Security taxes. Both the social security tax rate and the formula used to compute the taxes changed this year.

The 1990 tax rate for self-employed people is 15.3 percent, up from 1989's 15.02 percent rate. In 1989, a 2 percent credit reduced the effective tax rate to 13.02 percent.

Beginning with the 1990 tax year, the credit has been replaced by two new deductions which reduce the tax liablility for the self-employed. The new deductions are designed to treat the selfemployed in much the same manner as employers and employees are treated for tax purposes. For many self-employed people, the result will be lower taxes than in previous years.

Internal Revenue Service PUBLICA-TION 505, Tax Withholdings and Estimated Tax, provides detailed information on the change in computing 1990 self-employment social security taxes. Contact the Internal Revenue Service for copies of this publication.

Call 1-800-2345-SSA (1-800-234-5772) and ask for Fact sheet Number 4, if you're self employed. The social security office is located at 1401-B West 5th Street, Plainview, Texas.
