JAKE F. WOLTERS VISITS OUR CITY

MAKES EXCELLENT SPEECH HERE LAST SATURDAY.

Receives Big Welcome from the Citizens.—Speaks at the Normal in the Morning.

Hon. Jake F. Wolters, candidate for United States senator, was Canyon's distinguished visitor last Saturday. The citizens had made great preparations for the reception of Mr. Wolters and the program was carried out to the fullest extent. Early Saturday morning a committee was sent on the way to Happy to meet Mr. Wolters and another car left the city a short time before his arrival to welcome him just south of town. He was conducted to the Normal building where he spoke before the students and the ladies of the city. Prof. F. P. Guenther introduced him to the audience.

Mr. Wolters talked along educational lines and made but brief mention of politics. His talk was greatly enjoyed by those present.

Mr. Wolters was entertained at luncheon by Mr. Guenther, they being boyhood friends during their school days.

At one thirty, the principal address of Mr. Wolters was delivered at the court house before a large audience. His address was clear cut and to the point. Mr. Wolters does not attempt to gain the sympathy and prejudice of the audience through oratorical flights, but deals in facts and figures. He was given the closest possible hearing and did not fail to please all who were in the audience. At the close of the address, he was heartily congratulated by a large part of the men present.

Mr. Wolters expressed himself as having enjoyed his visit in Canyon and paid a glowing compliment to the Normal college and to the city as a whole. The citizens of Canyon showed themselves excellent entertainers and the compliment was highly appreciated by Mr. Wolters.

Consolidation Complete.

The final vote on the sale of the Canyon National bank to the First National bank was taken Friday by the Canyon National stockholders and the books were then removed to the First National building. Since that time I. L. Hunt, vice president, D. A. Park, cashier, and S. C. Whitman, assistant cashier, have been rushed from morning to night getting the business of the two banks consolidated.

Proper notice of the liquidation of the Canyon National will appear in the Randall County News and in some New York paper during the next two months according to law. This will be the final steps of consolidation.

Sold Fine Horse.

C. O. Keiser shipped a fine $1500 Percheron stallion this week to Illinois, right into the community of one of the biggest importers in the state. This horse was raised on Mr. Keiser's ranch northwest of the city and was considered to be one of the best ever seen in this section. Mr. Keiser was formerly one of the big importers of Iowa, but raises only a few stallions now.

BAPTIST CHURCH CALLS PASTOR.

Rev. J. Holmes Nichols, of Clarksville, Receives Unanimous Election of the Church.

After having heard a number of ministers with the view of extending a call, the local Baptist church cast a unanimous ballot Sunday to call Rev. J. Holmes Nichols, of Clarksville. Rev. Nichols was in the city a few weeks ago and preached two excellent sermons to the congregation. He is well known by a number of Canyon people and comes with the very highest recommendations.

In speaking of the election, one of the leading members of the church said: "We are indeed fortunate in getting such a fine man as Mr. Nichols. His sermons here proved to be the most scholarly we have listened to for some time. I am mighty glad to see Brother Nichols chosen as our pastor."

Auto Tourists Here.

Harry C. Drum, chairman of tours of the Transcontinental Touring club with headquarters in Chicago, accompanied by O. M. Unger and E. H. Perry, of Plainview, were in the city yesterday morning, on their way from Dodge City, Kansas, to San Diego. They were logging this portion of the route with the view of establishing this as a portion of the great National Auto Highway. They met a number of the business men at the First National bank and briefly stated the aim of their trip.

Mr. Drum stated that the Transcontinental club was already operating lines all over the United States and wanted to establish this route through the south in order to take advantage of the much beautiful scenery in our section of the country and in the country they will travel later in the trip. He stated that thousands of dollars were spent annually by Americans in touring Europe, where there was no better scenery than right here in this country. The object of the club is therefore to lay out and improve roads all over the United States where there is scenery of especial interest, to advertise this scenery and thus get the people to touring our own country. The route across the United States is of special importance with the coming of the Panama exposition at San Francisco.

Mr. Drum was especially well pleased with the roads found in our section of the country. He is collecting material for advertising the Great Palo Duro canyon and other places of interest along the way.

In order to keep posted upon progress of road building and improvements along the way, D. A. Park was appointed county superintendent for Randall county. Mr. Park will use his influence with the county officials whenever road building is necessary and report progress along these lines to the district superintendent, U. M. Unger, of Plainview.

When the route is completed and signs posted, large numbers of cars will tour our country annually and will thus mean great means of advertising.

TO HEAR HER SING

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY

To hear her sing—to hear her sing—
It is to hear the birds of Spring
In dewey groves on blossoming sprays
Pour out their blithest roundelay.

To hear the robin trill
At morning, or the whippoorwill
At dusk, when stars are blossoming
To hear her sing—to hear her sing!

To hear her sing—it is to hear
The laugh of childhood ringing clear
In woody path or grassy lane
Our feet may never fare again.

O' happy joy it is to hear her sing,
We fall in love with every thing—
The simple things of every day
Grow lovelier than words can say.

To hear the bulbul's voice that shook
The throat that thrilled for Lalla Rookh:
What wonder we in homage bring
Our hearts to her—to hear her sing.

Side-lights on the Panhandle Press Association

The News man left Canyon Friday night for a little trip over to McLean to attend the meeting of the Panhandle Press association. No matter how tired or discouraged a man may become of his duties at home in telling of the personal affairs of his neighbors and boosting for the interests of the town and community, a meeting with his fellow editors will always inspire him and from such meeting he will gain more ideas about running a newspaper than reading a dozen books on "How to Run a Newspaper."

We have often wished that the members of every profession and trade were compelled to attend meetings of their fellow craftsmen. For instance, every merchant ought to be compelled to attend some kind of a convention at least once a year. He will get more ideas than by reading a dozen magazines. It would do him good to get out and mingle with men engaged in the same line of business as himself.

THE ROCK ISLAND

Arriving at Amarillo, we took a cab to the Rock Island depot, and after being chucked out into a fierce wind storm discovered that the aforesaid depot was tightly locked up and "the agent wouldn't be here for an hour" according to a drayman. That is enough to make rise the ire of a methodist preacher, much less that of only a poor member of said church. It is indeed a pity that in a town of Amarillo's size, the waiting room of a depot cannot be opened at only train time. There was nothing left for us but pike it down town and spend a short time with our old printer friends, Russell & Cockrell. Mighty fine boys they are and are making good in Amarillo.

At 7:45 we found ourselves on the Wreck Island bound for McLean. Before starting we had taken the precaution of taking out a liberal accident policy, but Friday night was our unlucky night and the wreck occurred on the train just ahead. We always did want to get some good out of that policy, but utterly failed that time. Well, after fooling about on the prairies six miles east of Amarillo for two hours, the track was cleared and we went joyfully on eastward. We had been on the lookout for editor friends, but being our first appearance at the association knew but one or two. When about half way there, we noticed a fellow getting mighty nervous, just as the boss does when it's time to go to press and there is yet matter enough for two hours' composition. We spotted him for a newspaper man and challenged him. It proved to be J. M. Smith, of Pampa. It was easy matter to keep awake when there was a newspaper man around to entertain you. Smith is a live wire and is doing good work in Pampa. He said Bowen Pope had given Pampa an excellent school during the past year. Mr. Pope was formerly in the Canyon schools and graduated from the Normal.

PALMER IS O. K.

Down at Allenreed, a tall distinguished looking man came into the car and we immediately recognized our old friend, W. A. Palmer, of Canadian. Palmer was in the city last year and spoke at the dedication of the Normal. Palmer has a legislative microbe working in his system and without a doubt is going to be elected from the 124th district. Palmer is an old school man and a good lawyer and will be just the man the Plains needs. If we had a vote in that district, Palmer would sure get it. Mr. Palmer was going down to McLean to visit with the newspaper boys and to look over the political situation. Being a full house at the hotel, we bunked together for the night. Palmer asked about Canyon and the Normal and sent his regards to Mr. Cousins, D. A. Park, yes, and some young ladies, but we dare not mention their names. We insisted upon him making Canyon a visit and he promised to come in the near future.

NORMAL LOSES DEBATE.

Denton Wins Decision by Vote of 2 to 1.—Initiative and Referendum was Discussed.

The Normal debaters lost the decision in their debate Saturday night at Denton by a vote of 2 to 1. The debate was very close and the audience was very much in doubt of the outcome until the judges read their decision. R. A. Stuart and L. N. George represented the Normal in the debate.

The question discussed was the initiative and referendum, and the Normal had the affirmative side of the question. Prof. J. A. Hill, who accompanied the team, reports that one of the judges, who was personally opposed to the question and who voted against the boys, said afterwards that the team put up the best arguments for the question he had ever heard.

Mr. Stuart was by far the best speaker on the platform. He was highly praised by the Denton faculty.

The Denton team will debate in Canyon one year from now.

PRESS ASSOCIATION COMES TO CANYON

ANNUAL MEETING HELD SATURDAY AT McLEAN.

Editor Richardson Shows Members Excellent Time.—Time of Meeting Next April.

The Panhandle Press association has chosen Canyon as its meeting place for the second Saturday in April, 1913. This was the action of the association which held its meeting last Saturday at McLean, on invitation of Editor A. G. Richardson. The meeting was won from Amarillo by a bare majority of one vote.

The meeting this year was very interesting and instructive, but was greatly hampered by bad weather which caused a very small attendance. McLean is also badly located for a large number of the newspaper boys and consequently a number did not plan to come.

After the program in the morning, the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—A. G. Richardson, McLean.

Vice President—C. W. Warwick, Canyon.

Secretary—J. M. Smith, Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson entertained the guests at a very fine dinner at the noon hour.

The citizens of McLean joined in welcoming the pen pushers in a musical program at the school building at night, which program was followed by a number of campaign speeches by visiting candidates.

Canyon will make great preparations to entertain the editors in 1913, and will urge every newspaper man and woman on the Plains to be present.

C. C. Miller Leaves.

Agent C. C. Miller, of the Santa Fe, has been transferred to Lockney, his business here being closed yesterday. He has been granted a ten day's vacation and will go to Chicago to visit with relatives and friends. The people of Canyon are very sorry to see Mr. Miller and his family leave. They have lived here four years and have a host of friends. In his work at the depot, Mr. Miller has always had the interest of the people at heart and has been exceedingly accommodating. He will leave here with the realization that he has a host of friends in Canyon who wish him well. The family will not leave until after school closes.

R. McGee, of Plainview, has been moved here. Mr. McGee has been with the Santa Fe for a number of years, formerly being at Amarillo for a short time. His family will receive a hearty welcome in Canyon.

New Grader Received.

The new Elevator Road Grader which Randall county bought last fall has been received and will be tried out in the south part of the county about May 1. It will first be tested in a lake, where it is guaranteed to work perfectly. Judge Scott and the commissioners intend to do a large amount of work on Randall county roads during the coming year.

Editor A. G. Richardson, of the McLean News, met us at the depot but being so bad a night, we wouldn't have blamed him for staying at home.

WE MAKE A SPEECH

The program on Saturday was greatly chopped up as a number of the boys could not be present. Mayor Rice gave us a very fine welcome and J. L. Pope, of the Amarillo News, responded. Pope makes it a point to always get to the newspaper meeting and is always one of the "good fellows" of the bunch. He has had wide newspaper experience and is doing excellent work on the News. A. M. Hilburn, of the Wheeler County Texan, told of his experiences "down in Texas" in the "Jack Oak" county as he termed it. Hilburn got it into his noodle last year that he would like to go to the city and run a job office. He made good money at the business, but the longing for the Plains was too great and he had to come back. And that's the way they all do. They all find out there is no place like the Plains. J. M. Smith discussed very forcefully, the "Power of the Press." The program was brought to a climax (or anti-climax, as you prefer) by a short talk by Warwick on "Experiences and Suggestions." This speech had such a great effect that the association decided to come to Canyon next year. (We have since learned that the boys thought if they came here Warwick would not be on the program again, and hence voted for Canyon to save themselves another half hour of agony.)

CANYON SELECTED

Next came the selection of the next meeting place. Judge J. M. Pressler, of the Court of Civil Appeals, placed Amarillo before the association. Warwick nominated Canyon. Pope boosted Amarillo, but Miss Ida M. Farrell, of the Grazer Review, came back with a strong argument for Canyon and on the vote Canyon won. Miss Farrell is a native of Iowa and is the only lady owner of a newspaper on the Plains. She is getting out a fine little paper at Glazier and deserves a loyal support of the town.

Attending the meeting were a number of politicians. That is just the place for the politician to "get in his hooks" and many of them availed themselves of the opportunity. However, every candidate who was at McLean was a good man and deserves election.

BIG EDITORIAL DINNER

The best part of the story comes now! Editor Richardson announced at noon that his wife was planning for the bunch to take dinner at their home. And such a dinner. Pope said he knew what was coming and hadn't eaten anything for a week. There are various reasons why newspaper men do not have anything to eat, but we take it for granted that Pope was saving for this feast. And feast it was! We will not try to tell our readers all about it. Mrs. Richardson is a fine cook and every person at the table greatly enjoyed the dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson have a fine new home and every visitor greatly enjoyed their kind invitation. A number of the boys came into McLean on the afternoon train and missed the good dinner.

COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS

As the main part of the program was completed before dinner and we had gotten the association for 1913 and as it is mighty hard for a three month's married man to stay away from home for more than one day, we took the 2 o'clock train for Amarillo. Judge Pressler and Smith came up at that time. Mr. Pressler told us something of the work of the Amarillo Civil Court of Appeals. After visiting with him for two hours, we are confident that Governor Colquitt made a very successful appointment in Judge Pressler and the judge should receive the unanimous vote of Randall county in the July primaries. Judge Hendricks wants the job, but we believe in Judge Pressler and are for him. Most of the readers know that Judge Graham, chief of the court, is being opposed by Judge Huff, of Vernon, simply because Graham is an anti. We asked Pressler, a strong pro, how Graham's record on the court had been. He responded that he had never worked with a better or more honest man and that he had in no way been effected by the liquor question. Since the court is just getting started in its work and since these men are doing so well, we would like to see them returned. Judge Hall, the other member, has no opponent.

WOLTERS PRAISES CANYON

We had not more than gotten to the hotel in Amarillo than we noticed a little scrubby fellow jump out of an auto, and turning around we were face to face with Charley McAfee, who had accompanied Hon. Jake Wolters and his party to Amarillo. Charley introduced us to Mr. Wolters who informed us that he had a fine time in Canyon and was very cordially received. We knew the boys would show him a good time in our absence and were prouder than ever of Canyon. We straightened up about a foot or so, stuck out our chest and informed Mr. Wolters that Canyon was about the only place worth while in Texas and he could always depend on receiving a most hearty welcome to our city. He said he could almost agree with our first statement, and was certain of the second.

WHERE WAS RECEPTION COMMITTEE

Bless my soul if Amarillo isn't a slow place! There wasn't a man at the hotel to welcome Wolters. We stood around there with Charley Mc until Wolters had made all his arrangements, and in about fifteen minutes he was ready to go to his room with never a hand shake from an Amarillo man. Great snakes! but Amarillo must have had an energetic reception committee. Not a man even at the hotel, while Canyon had men go even as far as Happy to meet him.

We ran across Eugene Thompson, of Dallas, one of the salesmen for a paper house with which we do business, and added the price of another supper to his expense bill. After supper we found Elliott, of the Hereford Brand, in the hotel lobby. Elliott is one of the best boosters on the Plains and has a mighty nice paper. Together with Elliott, Thompson and McAfee, we

WOLTERS SPEAKS IN AMARILLO

Here again was displayed another sample of Amarillo courtesy! When Wolters came on the stage with a few of the reception committee, the audience looked at him as if he was a day laborer out in the street. There was no applause. After the introductory remarks, Mr. Wolters stepped to the front to begin his address and created a little applause, scattered widely over the house. He reviewed his long trip to this country, paid a very fine tribute to Amarillo, (still no applause) and finally stated to the audience, least they they had not heard it through the papers, that Mr. Johnson had withdrawn from the race and Mr. Sheppard had announced. As Mr. Sheppard's name was mentioned, great applause came from all over the rear of the house! We have heard men hissed in convention halls, but for the first time in our lives did we ever see one of the great men of any state insulted at a town where he was visiting. The good citizens of Amarillo did not approve this, we are certain. Come to Canyon and see us entertain visitors!

We heard but little of the speech as the train left early. Between McAfee arguments and Wolters' excellent stand on the prohibition and tariff question, we almost believe that Elliott was convicted into becoming a Wolters man, although he has always been strong for Sheppard.

A HEART TO HEART TALK.

A large number of people, merchants in particular, look upon a newspaper office as a sort of curio shop wherein the editor and his "devils" live and subsist upon the charities of the good people. The newspaper man, in their minds, has two missions: to forever and everlastingly boost the home town, and to fight the mail order houses. In the first place, these gentlemen expect the newspaper man to come around about ever so often and run off a column or so of hot air about Mr. So and So being an enterprising merchant and business man and being one of the biggest boosters in the city. (Possibly he hasn't had an ad in the paper for two months and his subscription is over a year in arrears, and as for business stationery, he uses axle grease printed ones or sends to the government.) In the second place, this same merchant considers the editor an outlaw and a parasite if he does not weekly or monthly attack the mail order houses.

LISTEN

We asked a man the other day why he sent away for a certain bill of merchandise. His answer was: "Because I can get them CHEAPER."

A day or so later we were figuring with a certain firm on a bill of printing. We will not use the language of the gentleman, but here was his line of reasoning. "Warwick, we would like to give you that order alright. We believe in patronizing home industry, and think the News is a splendid booster for Canyon, but you know WE CAN BUY THESE CHEAPER THAN WE CAN FROM YOU."

We ask you to listen a little further. Suppose the editor of this paper or any man connected with it would go to Amarillo or Dallas, or send to these places to buy a pair of shoes, or a hat, or a stove, or a bill of drugs, or lay in a month's bill of groceries, or send money to an out of town bank for deposit, WHAT WOULD YOU SAY, MR. MERCHANT? There would be an awful roar go up and it wouldn't be fifteen minutes until you had spread the news to every other merchant in town, and you would add additional advice: "We had better quit that bunch."

AGAIN

You argue with your customer and want us to argue that since the mail order concerns do not pay any taxes here or assist in any way to support our town, churches, schools and community, that the citizens of Canyon and Randall county ought not patronize these big gigantic firms which are bleeding the country. We ask you: HOW MUCH MORE DOES YOUR PET

MAIL ORDER PRINTING ESTABLISHMENT PAY TO CANYON? They pay their hotel bills of their representatives and that is all. How do you justify the mail order business so far as you are concerned, and condemn it so far as the people generally are concerned?

It is the general principal of democracy as we understand it, to fight trusts and combinations which are fostered under government protection. Among merchants it is thought that the Parcels Post will do them great harm, and last year petitions were circulated all over the land condemning the proposed Post. The newspapers were asked to publish extended letters (written by express company employes) urging the people to rise up against the coming evil which would so greatly harm the rural merchants. The result--most of the country newspapers "fell easy marks," and the merchants continued to send to the government for their envelopes WHICH ARE PRINTED BY A MONOPOLY UNDER GOVERNMENT PROTECTION. When a bill was in congress last year to stamp out this monopoly the MERCHANTS AND BUSINESS MEN all over the land arose in arms and sent strong petitions to the members of congress asking them not to destroy this pet monopoly because it could furnish envelopes CHEAPER than could the home printer. Practically every business house in town sends to this pet monopoly for their envelopes, but it would never do for the dear people to send a penny of their money away from home.

SUPPOSE

Suppose any merchant in Canyon was offered $50 worth of business from an outsider at higher prices than he got from home people and he refused it, what would you say? A fool, of course. Yet not very long ago the Randall County News turned down a contract with a mail order concern at almost double the rate charged the home customer. Why did we do it? We stand for home institutions and are trying to protect them. We believe that the home merchant is entitled to the home trade and always refrain from setting before the people anything that would draw the trade from you, Mr. Merchant. Please answer candidly: You who always preach home industry, are you always so loyal to it?

FINALLY

We do not wish our readers to think we have a case of the dyspepsia, or are naturally inclined to kick at the treatment we have received by the merchants. The merchants of Canyon are a mighty fine lot of fellows, but we have been solicited to talk on the mail order business a few times and today wanted to give our side of the question. There is two sides to this question and we trust that the merchant and business man who has thrown all his printing money to the mail order concerns will see our point of view.

The Randall County News is in Canyon for the benefit of Canyon and Randall county. We are opposed to anything that would in any way injure our fine town. We are going to stand fearlessly upon the principals which we believe to be for the future benefit of Canyon, but we do expect to have the cooperation of the merchants and business man of the city. The newspaper is not a charity institution—it is a business proposition just as much as a dry goods or grocery store. We intend to run the newspaper in a business like method and expect to have the business that is to be done in the town. There is no more difference in the value of the dollar the editor would spend for grocers or clothing with some mail order concern than in the value of the dollar the merchant is sending out of town for mail order printing. We do not send any money out of town for these things, so why should you send your money out for printing?

Let's get together on this proposition of town boosting and town building.

Some Fine Wheat.

W. O. Bennett brought to the News office Tuesday some wheat from east of Happy. The samples were on an average 14 inches high and looked mighty fine. Prewitt & Walker are farming the place. Mr. Bennett says that they plowed the land 8 inches deep in July and planted in September. This sample was the best brought to the city so far this year. Messrs. Prewitt & Walker are among the best farmers in the county. They are hustlers and have in this year 525 acres of wheat and oats and will plant about 250 acres of kaffir and maize.

Will Morris Sheppard come to the Plains during the campaign? A large majority of his followers say he will. How will he explain to the cattle raisers of this section why they get exactly $1 less for every cow hide they have sold since hides were placed on the free list and why they are paying from 50 cents to $1.00 more for every pair of shoes? We believe Mr. Sheppard will have a mighty hard time explaining to the cow men of this country the "why" of his free raw material doctrine when it is costing these men many dollars per year. But Mr. Sheppard "is a most eloquent orator" and we suppose he will have a very fluent speech should he see fit to take our section of the country into consideration.

There seems to be a disposition among a few voters in Randall county to oppose Judge Graham, of the Civil Court of Appeals, simply because he is an anti. There are two pros on the court and as these gentlemen are getting the machinery of the court thoroughly organized, the News does not believe any one of three men ought to be opposed. Judge Graham and Judge Pressler have opponents while Judge Hall has none, but we believe the first two men will receive the solid vote from Randall county.

With a little cleaning up from a number of our good citizens, Canyon would be one of the prettiest towns on the Plains. Why not have a general crusade against filth and dirt and make the fellow who won't clean up eat the rubbish on his place. The weeds will soon be here, so let's get ready to "swat" them.

BROOM CORN---EMMER

The following is the seventh of a series of articles on farming on the Plains of Texas, written by H. M. Bainer, Agricultural Demonstrator for the Santa Fe:

BROOM CORN

Broom corn is a crop that can stand a great deal of dry weather and still make a crop. It often makes a good yield when other crops fail. It requires a short season in which to mature, often making a crop in from two and one half to three months of good warm growing weather.

Broom corn is a good sod crop and often makes an excellent crop on sod without cultivation. It does well on old land also. Like other crops, it responds to good tillage. Old ground is best prepared by fall plowing or early spring plowing. This should be furrowed out at planting time with large sweeps, broad cultivator shovels or by use of what is known as a loose ground lister. In these furrows that are 3 or 4 inches deep the seed is planted. The ordinary two-row planter is best for this purpose. It covers the seed uniformly and packs the ground around it, insuring a good stand.

There is no question but that broom corn is adapted to Northwestern Texas conditions and can be made a profitable crop. Considerable experience is required to properly handle this crop and for this reason, the beginner should not try to raise it on too large scale at first. One fourth of a ton per acre is a good crop.

On account of the limited demand for this crop and the small annual production as compared with other crops, the price varies and is not dependable. Because the price is high one year, is no indication that it will be high the following year.

Of the two varieties grown; Dwarf and Standard, Dwarf is best suited to our conditions. It is easier to harvest, costs less to handle and is better adapted to Northwestern Texas conditions. Its short, erect growth makes it easy to pull.

There is perhaps no other crop in the southwest that needs improved seed more than broom corn. When the grower stops to consider that one bushel of seed will plant at least 20 acres, he should not hesitate to pay $1, or even $2 per bushel, if necessary for it.

The same cultivation is required for this crop as for kaffir or maize. On account of a great deal of labor being required to harvest this crop, it is usually advisable to prolong the planting season somewhat, and not plant it all at once.

CORN

On account of the uncertainty of the corn crop, it is not advisable to grow it to any great extent. Corn is not "King of Crops" here. Often this crop will make an extra good yield but it cannot stand long spells of dry weather; hot winds often damage or ruin it; the corn ear worm and other insect pests are fond of it and finally to cap the climax, there are other good crops like kaffir and milo maize, practically sure of making, that are equally as good.

Some of the best varieties for this section are: Hickory King, Bloody Butcher, Squaw, several of the early Yellow Dents and June corn.

EMMER AND SPELTZ

Nearly all of the so-called speltz of this country is nothing more than emmer. There is a very close resemblance between the true speltz and emmer and often one is mistaken for the other. The true emmer has a short pointed pedicel or very short stem attached at the base, while speltz does not have it, but speltz usually has a pedicel or short stem attached at the side. In feeding value there is very little difference between these two crops. Emmer is the best yielding crop and can therefore be recommended as superior.

Farmer's Bulletin No. 466 of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in discussing emmer says: "Emmer grain is somewhat similar to that of speltz, but is usually harder, more compressed at the sides, and redder. Emmer is a more hardy plant than speltz in every way. Almost all varieties of emmer are considerably resistant to drouth and certain varieties are very resistant to rust, moreover, emmer is a crop adapted to general conditions, more so than other cereals. Fall sown varieties are also quite winter hardy. Emmer will produce a fair crop under almost any condition of soil and climate, but thrives best in a dry prairie region with hot summers where it gives excellent yields." Both the winter and spring varieties of emmer are successful. Speltz is a spring crop.

Winter emmer is sowed about the same time as winter wheat. The ground should be prepared as described under "Summer Plowing" in "Better Tillage Methods." Black winter emmer and Improver winter emmer are good winter varieties.

Spring emmer and speltz should be sowed with a press drill immediately after oats sowing time. From 30 to 40 pounds of good well cleaned seed per acre, is enough.

In various feeding experiments emmer and speltz have been found nearly equal to barley and oats for sheep, cattle and horses. They are excellent horse feeds and will take the place of oats.

Emmer will stand more drouth than oats and will also out-yield them. The yield varies from 20 to 60 bushels per acre. The standard weight varies from 40 to 42 pounds per bushel.

One of our co-operators, Mr. H. S. Hatchett, Tahoka, Texas, produced between 20 and 30 bus. of spring emmer in 1911. (The yield is estimated as the thresher was not equipped for threshing it and left a large part of it in the straw.) Mr. Hatchett speaks very highly of its feeding value.

Mr. J. W. Eller, Pampa, Texas states that he considers speltz a very good crop for this section. He has produced an average yield of 40 bushels per acre for several years. He says "I think speltz is a stronger and better horse feed than oats, if properly fed."

Lester, each for $1356.00 due in 1, 2, 3, 4 & 5 years from date of deed with 7 per cent interest from date and all past due interest to bear 10 per cent interest and providing for 10 per cent attorney's fees on the principal and interest if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection or collected by suit; That each note provided that a failure to pay the same when due or any installment of interest on same when due, the owner might declare all of said notes due; That notes 1 & 2 had been paid and note No. 3 had been paid down to $88.78 on Sept. 30, 1911, and that the interest on notes 4 & 5 had been paid to Dec. 1, 1908, and that L. The greatest need then is Electric Bitters, the glorious tonic, blood purifier and regulator of stomach, liver and kidneys. Thousands have proved that they wonderfully strengthen the nerves, build up the system and restore to health and good spirits after an attack of Grip. If suffering, try them. Only 50 cents. MAN has acquired a hunger for land which he can call his own. The supply is limited---the demand unlimited! Land values have risen to prohibitive prices in older settled states!

The Panhandle Is Ready For The Farmer

Here is a deep, rich soil, ready for the plow. An ample rainfall and a most healthful and splendid climate. Adequate railroad facilities by which to reach the markets of the world.

A return to normal climatic conditions, a greatly increased acreage of winter wheat, spring wheat, oats and barley, an unqualifiedly successful demonstration that Kaffir corn and Milo maize cannot be excelled as material for ensilage, the "better farming" spirit and the results of studying and developing this land assures a prosperous year.

The successful outcome of flax culture, demonstrated last year under conditions much less favorable than can confidently be reckoned on in the future has added another to the list of our resources.

Farms can be bought here now cheaper than they can later on, at prices which are certain of a steady advance as the summer and fall emigration stimulates the demand.

My farms are all favorably located, as regards towns and railroads and give the buyer a wide range in selection. All the improved farms are rented to good farmers and will produce a substantial revenue this year.

I am in position to give terms to suit the purchaser.

KEITH OF THE BORDER A TALE OF THE PLAINS By RANDALL PARDISH

Copyright, A. C. McClurg & Co., 1910.

CHAPTER I

The Plainsman.

The man was riding just below the summit of the ridge, occasionally lifting his head so as to gaze across the crest, shading his eyes with one hand, yet with better concentration his vision.

The rider was a man approaching thirty, somewhat slender and long of limb, but possessing broad, squared shoulders above a deep chest, sitting the saddle easily in plainsman fashion, yet with an erectness of carriage which suggested military training.

Where he rode was the very western extreme of the prairie country, billowed like the sea, and from off the crest of its higher ridges, the wide level sweep of the plains was visible, extending like a vast brown ocean to the foothills of the far-away mountains.

The rising sun reddened the crest of the hills, and the rider, halting his willing horse, sat motionless, gazing steadily into the southwest.

"I reckon we're still alone, old girl," he said quietly, a bit of Southern drawl in the voice.

He swung stiffly out of the saddle, and with reins dangling over his shoulder, began the slower advance on foot, the exhausted horse trailing behind.

Everywhere beyond these lines of patrol wandered roaming war parties, attacking travelers on the trails, raiding exposed settlements, and occasionally venturing to try open battle with the small squads of armed men.

After all, this was indeed the very sort of experience which appealed to him, and always had—this life of peril in the open, under the stars and the sky.

He had honestly endeavored to remain there, to face the future and work it out alone; he persuaded himself to feel that this was his paramount duty to the state, to the memory of the dead.

man's eyes hardened, his lips set firmly, as this truth came crushing home.

The narrow valley along which he was traveling suddenly changed its direction, compelling him to climb the rise of the ridge.

Decidedly puzzled by all this, yet determined to solve the mystery and unwilling to remain hidden there until night, Keith led his horse along the slant of the ridge, until he attained a sharp break through the bluff leading down into the valley.

Slender Spirals of Blue Smoke Were Visible.

He perceived the picture in all its gruesome details—the two mule-drawn wagons moving slowly along the trail in the early morning.

Whatever might be the nature of the tragedy it would be over with long before this, and those moving black spots away yonder to the west, that he had discerned from the bluff, were undoubtedly the departing raiders.

transy by the man on horseback; the pounding of the ponies' hoofs, punctuated by the exultant yells of the pursuers.

CHAPTER II

The Scene of Tragedy.

Whatever might be the nature of the tragedy it would be over with long before this, and those moving black spots away yonder to the west, that he had discerned from the bluff, were undoubtedly the departing raiders.

Confident that no hostiles would be left behind to observe his movements, Keith pressed steadily forward, leading his horse.

Death from violence had long since become almost a commonplace occurrence to Keith, yet now he shrank for an instant as his eyes perceived the figure of a man lying motionless across the broken wagon tongue.

Suddenly he halted, staring about over the prairie, obsessed by a new thought, an aroused suspicion.

The knowledge seemed to sear Keith's brain with fire, and he sprang to his feet, hands clinched and eyes blazing.

CHAPTER III

An Arrest

The Santa Fe trail was far too exposed to be safely traveled alone and in broad daylight, but Keith considered it better to put sufficient space between himself and those whom he felt confident were still watching his movements from across the river.

vaguely across toward the opposite shore. Even as he stood there, realizing the futility of further pursuit and the maze of sand dunes opposite, the sharp reports of two rifles reached him, spurts of smoke rose from the farther bank, and a bullet chugged into the ground at his feet.

These shots, although neither came sufficiently near to be alarming, served to send Keith to cover. Cool-headed and alert now, his first mad rage dissipated, he scanned the opposite bank cautiously, but could nowhere discover any evidence of life.

Secure in this conception of the situation, yet still keeping a wary eye about to guard against any treachery, the plainsman, discovering a spade in the nearest wagon, hastily dug a hole in the sand, wrapped the dead bodies in blankets, and deposited them therein, piling above the mound the charred remains of boxes as some slight protection against prowling wolves.

It was noon by this time, the sun high overhead, and his horse, with dangling rein, still nibbling daintily at the short grass.

way. He had no anticipation of open attack, but must guard against treachery. As he rode, his eyes never left those far-away sand dunes, although he perceived no movement, no black dot even which he could conceive to be a possible enemy.

The trail, continually skirting the high bluff and bearing farther away from the river, turned sharply into a narrow ravine.

to permit sleeping. Finally he drew the letters from out his pocket, and began examining them. They yielded very little information, those taken from the older man having no envelopes to show to whom they had been addressed.

Proclamation.

April 25 has been set aside in Texas for a general clean up day for the cities. During this day special effort will be made to clean every town and city in order to improve not only the health conditions, but also, to insure the beauty of each town. Seeing the need of much more sanitary conditions in our city and seeing the need of a general crusade in order to clear the alleys of all rubbish so that the weeds may be more easily kept down during the summer.

Therefore, I, J. D. Gamble, Mayor of Canyon, Texas, do hereby proclaim that April 25, 1912, shall be designated in Canyon as Clean-Up Day, and most cordially solicit and request the most earnest cooperation of every citizen of our city. Especially do I solicit the cooperation of the Woman's Improvement League, the members of which have been so untiring in their efforts to make Canyon a clean and sanitary town. Let every citizen do his utmost on the 25th, and throughout the remainder of the year, to clean up his premises in order to insure the health and beauty of our city.

J. D. GAMBLE, Mayor,

Words of Praise.

Mr. M. S. Lusby,
Canyon, Texas.

Dear Sir: We thank you very much for your excellent work in photographic developing and printing for us and we shall take pleasure, whenever we can send you any business, to do so.

Yours very truly,

Sprained Back.

Sprained back and sore muscles throw off their soreness when Hunt's Lightning Oil is applied. For relieving pain of any kind there is nothing better, and those people who have tried it for Neuralgia and rheumatism are loud in its praise. For wire cuts Hunt's Lightning Oil is especially fine as it takes away the inflammation and causes rapid healing. 25c and 50c bottles.

We're Opposed to Mail Order Concerns Because—

They have never contributed a cent to furthering the interests of our town—

Every cent received by them from this community is a direct loss to our merchants—

In almost every case their prices can be met right here, without delay in receiving goods and the possibility of mistakes in filling orders.

But—

The natural human trait is to buy where goods are cheapest. Local pride is usually secondary in the game of life as played today.

Therefore

Mr. Merchant and Business Man, meet your competitors with their own weapons—advertising.

Advertise!

The local field is yours. All you need do is to avail yourself of the opportunities offered. An advertisement in this paper will carry your message into hundreds of homes in this community. It is the surest medium of killing your greatest competitor. A space this size won't cost much. Come in and see us about it.

The ground was well mulched with wheat straw and in places only straw, no earth covering potatoes. This spring he opened a deep furrow in sod, put in potatoes and covered only with straw, the entire patch.

Pears are in full bloom, beautiful to look upon; peaches and plums not blooming so well and apples are backward. Garden truck are growing nicely.

DICTION OF CAMERA MAN

Three o'clock was the hour of the busy woman's appointment with the photographer, but early in the day he telephoned for her to come at two o'clock. She went, and found him busy with another subject.

"I wanted you to come ahead of time," he said, "so you could lie down and rest for an hour. It is the hardest kind of work to get you busy people into a proper condition to be photographed. You rush around up to the last minute, then come here nervous wrecks and expect me to take good pictures. I can't do it. Nobody can. Tightly drawn lips, sunken eyes, and a generally tense expression don't look well in a photograph. You are a good looking woman and deserve good looking pictures, but you won't get them unless you rest an hour before facing the camera."

The woman appreciated the wisdom of his remarks, but she was so angry because she had been cheated out of a valuable hour, that it was doubtful if the rest improved her appearance.
