GOOD PRIZES FOR KAFFIR CLUB BOYS

$675 TO RANDALL AND POTTER COUNTY BOYS.

Every Boy in the two Counties Wanted to Join this Kaffir and Maize Growing Contest.

Six hundred and seventy-five dollars in gold to the farmer boys of Randall and Potter counties!

How rostrate is the horizon of youthful agriculturists of today as compared to that of their fathers, whose chief recompense for long days of toil was an annual sight of the circus parade and an occasional jubilation at an all-day singing!

This small fortune in good, hard coin of the realm is offered by the banks, business concerns and individuals of Randall and Potter counties to the boys of these two counties who produce the best yield of kaffir and maize in 1913 on an acre of land.

This movement to include the farm boys of the Panhandle in the scheme of larger development was inaugurated several months ago by H. M. Bainer, agricultural demonstrator of the Santa Fe system, and has crystallized into what will be known as the "Boys Acre Kaffir and Milo Club Contest." A bulletin, which is now in press, will be sent out by Mr. Bainer to the boys of the two counties within the near future with a prefatory letter insisting that every youngster get into the contest. The bulletin contains full rules and regulations, with the following tempting list of cash premiums:

- $75 for best acre of Kaffir.
- $75 for best acre of Milo Maize.
- $60 for second best acre of Kaffir.
- $60 for second best acre of Maize.
- $50 for third best acre of Kaffir.
- $50 for third best acre of Maize.
- $40 for fourth best acre of Kaffir.
- $40 for fourth best acre Maize.
- $30 for fifth best acre Kaffir.
- $30 for fifth best acre Maize.
- $25 for sixth best acre Kaffir.
- $25 for sixth best acre Maize.
- $20 for seventh best acre of Kaffir.
- $20 for seventh best acre of Maize.
- $15 for eighth best acre Kaffir.
- $15 for eighth best acre Maize.
- $12.50 for ninth best acre of Kaffir.
- $12.50 for ninth best acre of Maize.
- $10 for tenth best acre Kaffir.
- $10 for tenth best acre Maize.

The regulations governing entry are liberal and easily observed. They provide that any boy in the two counties may enter the contest, who is between the ages of eight and twenty years, counting nearest birthday, January 1, 1913; that he may compete for one or two prizes entering both the kaffir and maize contests, if he so desires, although it is not required that he work with both crops; that he must send in his name, age, postoffice address, with distance and direction of home from postoffice, not later than March 1, 1913, to H. M. Bainer, agricultural demonstrator, Santa Fe System, Amarillo, Texas.

Boys cannot become members of the club unless they enter the contests. Each boy entering the contest must select an acre plot, or two acres if working for two prizes, and must do all the work of plowing, harrowing, planting, cultivating and harvesting, ex-

TULIA 17, CANYON 5.

Canyon High School Basketball Team Badly Defeated by Visitors Last Saturday.

The Tulia basketball team was winner Saturday over the girls of the Canyon high school in a comparatively slow game. For the first five minutes the Canyon forwards had the ball in their own territory but were unable to cope with the Tulia fast guards. The ball was finally landed into the Tulia territory where the forwards succeeded in making 11 points during the first half to 0 for the home team.

During the second half the Canyon team played better ball but missed many opportunities for an easy goal. During the second half Tulia made 6 points while Canyon registered 5.

The Tulia team had a much greater knowledge of the game. The Canyon girls had not organized their playing into efficient team work. The following was the line up of the teams:

Tulia—Center, Tola Reed; Forwards, Minnie Potter, Mary Pearson; Guards, Mable Yearwood, Ruby McSpadden.

Canyon—Center, Mattie Gentry; Forwards, Edythe Eakman, Renna Craig; Guards, Ruby Ballard, Ethel Crowley.

cept in the case of an extremely young member who will be allowed to have his plowing and discing done, but not the planting and cultivating. Each member will be required to keep a record in a notebook telling when and how the ground was prepared, time of planting, when cultivated and etc. He will also be required to keep an exact record of the number of hours work done on each crop by himself or with team, and all of dates connected with the work. Each member will be required to attend all meetings of the club for instruction, and will also follow the instructions sent or given him by the director of the club.

The results of the contest will be decided on the following basis: First, yield per acre, based on dry weight of heads, 80 points. Second, quality and display, as shown by exhibit of ten heads, selected from the acre crop, ten points.

Third, written story, telling how the acre crop was produced, 10 points. Fuller details of this contest may be procured by all boys who desire it by writing to H. M. Bainer, agricultural demonstrator, Santa Fe System, Amarillo, Texas.

Survey Changes Road.

A recent survey of 64 sections north of the city will change the Amarillo road a few feet to the west. A number of the land owners have suggested that those on the west side of the road buy the land they now have belonging to those on the east side and thus leave the road as it now is. This would be an excellent plan as several miles of fence would have to be re-set, the roads worked over and a new bridge built if the change is made.

Campaign Contributions.

In addition to the $23 reported in last week's edition of the News for the democratic national campaign fund, R. B. Cousins has added his dollar to the list. Contributions are still acceptable and should be handed to Geo. A. Brandon or left at the News office at once so that they can be forwarded to the national committee.

SECOND MONTH OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

WORK IS PROGRESSING IN VERY BEST MANNER.

Some Interesting Facts Concerning the Public School System of This City.

The second month of the Canyon public schools closed Friday afternoon and from all reports the work is progressing in a very satisfactory manner and the general conditions and outlook are indeed very flattering.

If any of the News readers haven't had time to go to the public school building and spend half a day going from room to room and visiting the various classes they are missing a great treat. No person can go into the Canyon public schools without finding many interesting things and methods very much different and superior to the ones they were accustomed to when they were "kids at school."

Most of the rooms now have a library of it's own with books fitted for the age of the children. Mr. Yoe reports that he notices in the high school a lack of knowledge of the old books such as Arabian Knights, which are generally so familiar to young people. Reading is being encouraged in the lower grades and each room is given a reading period so that the children will become acquainted with these old standard books. No child has yet found all the joys of life who is not thoroughly acquainted with all those good old fairy tales.

This is the first year that a teacher has been especially employed to teach writing and drawing. Miss Connor has charge of this work and the exhibits made in the various rooms show that the pupils are highly interested in their work and are progressing rapidly. Mr. Yoe plans to make an exhibit of this work in the near future.

The departmental work inaugurated this year for the 5th, 6th and 7th grades is meeting with great success. The pupils are highly pleased with the change and each teacher is allowed to present those subject for which he is best fitted instead of trying to pose as an authority upon seven or eight subjects as is the case where one teacher is assigned to one room or grade.

The high school work is progressing nicely. All of the teachers' report that the interest is good and since none of the grades are overcrowded the year's work is expected to be the best in the history of the public schools.

Saving Money.

The News is presenting to its readers an excellent opportunity to save money on newspapers and magazines. For instance, if you take the Dallas News and the Randall County News you are paying $9.00 a year for them while if you club with us you get them for $7.95. The Ft. Worth Record and News will cost $6.50 separately but only $5.30 together. The Amarillo News and this paper costs $6.50 separately but only $5.30 together. DO YOU WANT TO SAVE SOME MONEY?

R. H. Caler, commissioner from precinct three, was a business caller in the city Monday and paid the News office a business call.

RANDALL CO. CROP AMOUNTS $567,000

FIGURES COMPILED FROM VARIOUS STATISTICS.

Average of $2,528 for Each Farmer in the County—Good Record for Dry Year.

With the assistance of Mr. T. C. Thompson, of the Thompson Hardware Company, the News has compiled figures which we believe are accurate and which show that the total crop valuation for Randall county this year will be $567,000 or an average of $2,528 for each of the 225 farmers in the county.

The figures compiled are from various sources but for the row crop they are based principally upon the number of pounds of twine sold. One pound of twine will bind one ton of kaffir or maize and 17,000 pounds have been sold in this city, 8,000 in Happy to Randall county farmers and 10,000 in Amarillo to Randall county farmers. This means that a total of 35,000 tons of maize and kaffir have been cut and will sell at least for $6 per ton, or for $215,000.

There are 30,000 acres of row crop in the county and it is conservatively estimated that about one-half will be headed instead of bound and that it will go not less than one-half ton to the acre. This would make 15,000 tons of headed stuff which will sell at the very lowest for $10 per ton, or $150,000.

The row crop, headed and bound, can then conservatively be put at $365,000.

These prices and estimate per acre are considered to be much lower than the county will actually make as heads are now selling on the market for $12 to $15 per ton and several reports have come in where heads are running one ton to the acre. Bundle stuff has never sold for less than $10 per ton and is now selling for $12 to $14.

Since the grain crop has been marketed it is found that about $100,000 worth of wheat was put on the market and that the oats crop yielded $12,000.

There are about 3,000 acres of alfalfa in the county which will easily bring on an average of $30 per acre. Many fields brought much more but on the whole $30 is considered a fair average. This makes $90,000 for alfalfa.

The News has been unable to get definite figures on sorghum, millet, rye, barley, peanuts, fruit and garden produce but there have been several thousand dollars worth of these raised this year. In addition to this there has been over $20,000 worth of poultry raised.

The field crops on which figures are reasonably correct are as follows:

Wheat.....	$100,000.
Oats.....	12,000.
Alfalfa.....	90,000.
Maize and Kaffir.....	365,000.
Total.....	$567,000.

According to the last poll tax roll there are about 225 farmers in Randall county who directly share the benefits of this crop. Equally divided there would be for each one $2,528. In addition to this there would be a few hundred dollars for each one from the crops the News has been unable to estimate.

The crop this year is phenomenal in that it was raised and matured on only 60 per cent of normal rainfall. The row crop is the best for several years, which

FT. WORTH BOOSTERS HERE.

Came Seventy-five Strong Wednesday Morning and Remained for One Hour.

Seventy-five of the prominent business men of Ft. Worth were in the city Wednesday morning from eight to nine o'clock on a trade excursion extending over 1000 miles into the Plains country. They had a special train of ten sleepers.

The train was met by a large number of autos and the tally-ho but the boosters preferred to march down to the business section. The machines were used to take those to the Normal who wished to make the trip. About a third of the company visited the building and were greatly impressed with everything they found. They pronounced it one of the best educational institutions they had ever witnessed.

The boosters were accompanied by a fine band which furnished music while the business men visited the different stores.

fact is alone due to scientific methods of farming. There is hardly a farmer in Randall county who is not using the scientific methods and the crops this year show conclusively that this method will win when rainfall fails.

Normal Notes.

The Sesame and Barrett-Browning literary societies gave a joint program Saturday night in open session. These two societies are the largest girls' organizations in the school.

Within the next two weeks a set line of work will be presented to each of the societies in the college so that uniform programs may be carried out. The committee who is preparing the basis of work consists of members of the faculty and the presidents of each organization.

Several alterations in the different rooms have been made the past two weeks for the convenience of the teachers and students. A partition has been torn out of the president's office in order to give more room. In the chemistry laboratory the large wall cases have been moved into a more convenient and better lighted room.

President Cousins attended the meeting of the committee of the Hogg movement last week in Houston. It is the effort of the committee to get the legislature to set aside a permanent income by some good means for the institution of higher learning in Texas.

Rev. Weary gave a very interesting talk in chapel Friday on "Character." Prof. Stafford also has been giving a series of interesting talks during the absence of President Cousins.

Prof. Reid spent a couple of days last week in Dallas.

The art department has received its full equipment, the new drawing tables having been received last week.

Many new reference books for the library have been received the past few days and more shipments are expected daily.

On Nov. 11, the football team will play Clarendon College at Clarendon and on Thanksgiving day will play the same team on the local field. The boys are expecting a very hard fought game at both times.

Duck hunters are busy every day. Prof. H. W. Morelock is the chief of hunters since he makes trips two or three times a week. Week ago Saturday he killed 25.

Randall County Crops.

The following item concerning Randall county crops was published last Friday in the Amarillo News:

Randall county has a great feed crop this year, both milo maize and kafir corn being largely represented.

The Eagle flouring and feed mills here are figuring on marketing this fall 100 cars of ground maize mixed with bran, while the feed mill of the Canyon Grain & Coal Company expects to market 100 cars of chopped maize and kafir. Owing to deeper plowing and more than usual generally intensified cultivation heavy wheat yields in many instances, were returned this season, some of the yields exceeding 30 bushels per acre.

The Eagle Milling Company will grind this season a total of between 35,000 and 40,000 bushels of wheat, the excellence of Randall county wheat commanding an extended shipping flour market.

Randall county cattle sales this season are alike active and market topping. Some of the net figures bring calves at $35; yearlings at $50 and beef steers at $65.

Between fifteen hundred and two thousand head of beef cattle are being home fed around Canyon for, the holiday and New Year export block market.

J. W. Copeland, of Dayton, Ohio, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for his boy, who had a cold, and before the bottle was all used the boy's cold was gone. Is that not better than to pay a five dollar doctor's bill? For sale by all dealers.

TIMELY WARNING TO CALOMEL USERS.

Calomel is a Form of Mercury, and if it stays in the Human System, its Effect is Terrible. Ask Your Doctor.

Any physician will tell you that mercury, if it remains in the body, will soften and rot the bones, a disease doctors call necrosis of the bones. Calomel is a form of mercury, and to keep clear of danger it's a safe plan to take no calomel at all, especially as there is a better remedy.

Both children and grown people will find a perfect substitute for calomel in Dodson's Liver Tonic, a pleasant, vegetable tonic that induces the liver to act and which never has any bad after-effects. In fact Dodson's Liver Tonic will do every thing that calomel does without any of the dangers of calomel. A large bottle costs only fifty cents, and the City Pharmacy will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

The republicans are again using their old boogaboo "to a frazzle"—the panic of 1893. They recall the low prices of those years and relate how a democratic tariff had knocked the bottom out of business. They proclaim that the same conditions will maintain when Wilson is elected. It is indeed a shame and disgrace that in this enlightened age such false statements are allowed to scare so many people. There is not a student of finance and political economy in the United States that blames the democratic tariff. There is absolutely no grounds for assuming such a statement. The Silver Purchase Act of 1890 was the cause of this panic and the only cause, and this act was passed by a republican congress and signed by a republican president.

In this issue of the News will be found the announcement of the contest for the boys of Randall and Potter counties. Here is the chance of your life boys. Get into this contest at once. Write to Mr. Bainer at Amarillo and he will give you definite information as to what you shall do. The News trusts that there will not be a boy in Randall county who fails to get into this contest.

Some boy is going to make $75 from one acre of land next year. Will it be your boy? Tell him about the contest that will be conducted for Randall and Potter counties and let him enter at once. It will make a good farmer out of him in addition to making good money from that acre of land he is to farm.

President Ripley, of the Santa Fe, predicts the election of Wilson and says he is going to vote for him. Does that look as if legitimate business was afraid of a democratic administration?

A medicine that has cured thousands is Doan's Kidney Pills.

Thousands of people rely upon it.

Here is one case:

S. F. Adams, railroad man, 700 Lincoln St., Amarillo, Texas, says: "Ever since I have been railroading, I have had kidney trouble of a serious nature. My back pained me constantly as well as pains in my side. My bladder was weak and I had to get up often at night. Frequently there was a burning sensation when passing the kidney secretions. As I knew many railroad men who had used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results, I got some and took them as directed. They quickly cured me. It gives me pleasure to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they are just as advertised."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, Sole Agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A vote for Wilson is a vote for good government. A vote for Taft is a vote for high tariff and special interests. A vote for Roosevelt is a vote for the Steel and Harvester trusts and eventually monarchy. Whom do YOU want?

Two wars, a national political campaign, a senatorial investigation of campaign funds and several sensational trials keep the average American pretty busy keeping up with the details of each.

The commission form of government is meeting with success in other cities. Why not try it in Canyon?

Get out that poll tax receipt and vote for Wilson next Tuesday.

That Diaz family seem to have difficulties of its own.

Boys, get into the kaffir and maize contest.

Go to the polls next Tuesday.

VOTE FOR THE AMENDMENT.

To The Randall County News:

The Constitutional amendment now pending concerning longer terms for the trustees of the state institutions, penal, eleemosynary and educational, should be adopted because this would be a step in the line of progress in the development of all these institutions. There is an intelligent and insistent demand that all these institutions be removed as far as possible from the sphere of partisan politics. There is scarcely any division of judgment or sentiment on this point.

The state has a high purpose in its heart concerning all these institutions, but this high purpose cannot materialize so long as the governing boards are changed or subject to change after every hotly contested state election. The fervor and furor of hot partisan victory will always sweep into the political vortex everything in its reach, while the waves of partisan passion leap into the air.

Every man who is successful in his race for Governor will be sorely pressed for every office of honor or trust by his friends and supporters. These friends will more or less honestly believe that the millenium is near when they get into place and power. They easily believe that those who have gone before are more or less incapable or dishonest or both, but now "old things have passed away and all things have become new," and will remain so. This seems to be human nature, especially that part of it that holds office. Everybody else knows that these things go round the circle every four years, "for better or for worse." No officer nor set of officers are alone responsible for these conditions.

We have heard much in Texas about taking the penitentiary out of politics. It seems that most intelligent people can see that this can never be done so long as the successful candidate for Governor shall appoint an entirely new Commission, and that that body in turn shall appoint new superintendents, financial agents and other officers and operatives. Penology is an old science with a voluminous literature of its own. The reformation of criminal prisoners is a science. Men do not know the science intuitively. This knowledge must come to capable men only after years of intelligent study. It can not be mastered in two or four years. Even if it could be mastered in four years, the men who have acquired this knowledge, must give place, at the end of four years, to a new administration by untried men. So our boasted progress is at any time only a different view of the same circle.

The treatment of the unfortunate of the country, other than the criminals, demands even a more technical and scientific knowledge if possible, than does that of the criminal classes. Yet in some states we have the same spectacle of the asylums and other institutions losing the services of trained, experienced and efficient supervisors, sacrificed to blind partisan zeal. Many an unfortunate fellow in an insane asylum has lost the possibility of restoration to sanity, to himself, and to society because the only man who could cure him "must go" to give place to the new administration's "active friend." No one man or set of men is responsible for this condition, but society has been most uneconomical and almost criminal in fostering or allowing the damaging dogman of rotation in office to effect the control of eleemosynary institutions.

It is agreed that all educational institutions of learning, local, state or denominational, accomplish their purposes best when managed with an "eye single" to those purposes. A school that is maintained as a place in which the maimed, the halt, the blind among partisan friends or kinsmen may be made comfortable and "self-sustaining," might serve that purpose well and be a complete failure as a school. These purposes are not inclusive. Any law therefore that looks to confining schools to their original and essential purposes is a good law.

Making the term of office of trustees of all these institutions six years or longer instead of two has a tendency to remove them from the mistakes of partisan zeal and to add to the intelligence and efficiency of the governing boards. The amendment should be adopted by a large majority, and will be if the voters understand the questions involved.

Respectfully,
R. B. COUSINS.

MAN has acquired a hunger for land which he can call his own. The supply is limited---the demand unlimited! Land values have risen to prohibitive prices in older settled states!

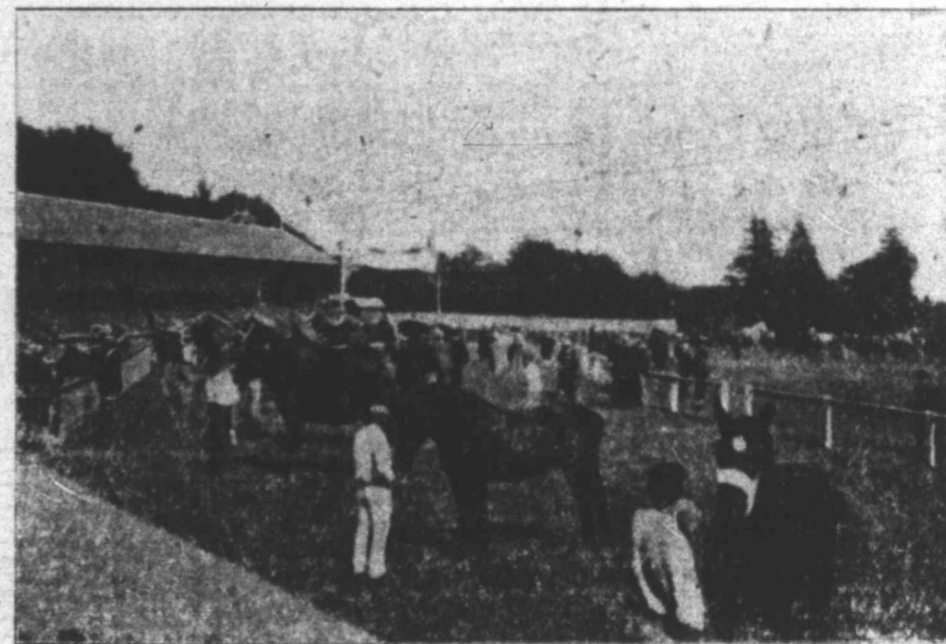

The Panhandle Is Ready For The Farmer

Here is a deep, rich soil, ready for the plow. An ample rainfall and a most healthful and splendid climate. Adequate railroad facilities by which to reach the markets of the world.

A return to normal climatic conditions, a greatly increased acreage of winter wheat, spring wheat, oats and barley, an unqualifiedly successful demonstration that Kaffir corn and Milo maize cannot be excelled as material for ensilage, the "better farming" spirit and the results of studying and developing this land assures a prosperous year.

The successful outcome of flax culture, demonstrated last year under conditions much less favorable than can confidently be reckoned on in the future has added another to the list of our resources.

Farms can be bought here now cheaper than they can later on, at prices which are certain of a steady advance as the summer and fall emigration stimulates the demand.

My farms are all favorably located; as regards towns and railroads and give the buyer a wide range in selection. All the improved farms are rented to good farmers and will produce a substantial revenue this year.

EXCUSE ME!

BY RUPERT HUGHES
NOVELIZED FROM THE COMEDY OF THE SAME NAME. Y Y Y

ILLUSTRATED FROM PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE PLAY AS PRODUCED BY HENRY W. SAVAGE.
COPYRIGHT BY G. H. K. FLY CO.

"It's outrageous," said Marjorie, "the way women violate women's rights."

Mrs. Whitcomb saw an opportunity to insert a stiletto. She observed to Marjorie, with an innocent air: "Why, Mrs. Mallory, I've even known women to lock themselves in there and smoke!"

While Mrs. Wellington was rummaging her brain for a fitting retort, the door opened, and out stepped Miss Gattie, as was.

She blushed furiously at sight of the committee waiting to greet her, but they repented their criticisms and tried to make up for them by the excessive warmth with which they all exclaimed at once: "Good morning, Mrs. Lathrop!"

"Good morning, who?" said Anne, then blushed yet redder: "Oh, I can't seem to get used to that name! I hope I haven't kept you waiting?"

"Oh, not at all!" the women insisted, and Anne fled to number six, remembering that this was no longer her home, and moved on to number one. Here the porter was just finishing his restoring tasks, and laying aside with some diffidence two garments which Anne hastily stuffed into her own valise.

Meanwhile Marjorie was pushing Mrs. Wellington ahead:

"You go in first, Mrs. Wellington." "You go first. I have no husband waiting for me," said Mrs. Wellington.

"Oh, I insist," said Marjorie.

"I couldn't think of it," persisted Mrs. Wellington. "I won't allow you." And then Mrs. Whitcomb pushed them both aside: "Pardon me, won't you? I'm getting off at Reno."

"So am I," gasped Mrs. Wellington, rushing forward, only to be faced by the slam of the door and the click of the key. She whirled back to demand of Marjorie: "Did you ever hear of such impudence?"

"I never did."

"I'll never be ready for Reno," Mrs. Wellington wailed, "and I haven't had my breakfast."

"You'd better order it in advance," said Marjorie. "It takes that chef an hour to boil an egg three minutes."

"I will, if I can ever get my face washed," sighed Mrs. Wellington.

And now Mrs. Anne Lathrop, after much hesitation, called timidly, "Porter—porter—please!"

"Yes—miss—missus!" he amended. "Will you call my—" she gulped—"my husband?"

"Yes, ma'am," the porter chuckled, and putting his grinning head in at the men's door, he bowed to Ira and said: "Excuse me, but you are sent for by the lady in number one."

Ashton slapped him on the back and roared: "Oh, you married man!"

"Well," said Ira, in self-defense, "I don't hear anybody sending for you." Wedgewood grinned at Ashton. "I rather fancy he had you there, on top, eh, what?"

Ira appeared at number one, and bending over his treasure-trove, spoke in a voice that was pure saccharine: "Are you ready for breakfast, dear?"

"Yes, Ira."

"Come along to the dining-car." "It's costlier here," she said. "Couldn't we have it served here?"

"But it'll get all cold, and I'm hungry," pouted the old bachelor, to whom breakfast was a sacred institution.

"All right, Ira," said Anne, glad to be meek; "come along," and she rose. Ira hesitated. "Still, if you'd rather, we'll eat here." He sat down.

"Oh, not at all," said Anne; "we'll go where you want to go."

"But I want to do what you want to do."

"So do I—we'll go," said Anne.

"We'll stay."

"No, I insist on the dining-car."

"Oh, all right, have your own way," said Ira, as if he were being bullied, and liked it. Anne smiled at the contrariness of men, and Ira smiled at the contrariness of women, and when they reached the vestibule they kissed each other in mutual forgiveness.

As Wedgewood stropped an old-fashioned razor, he said to Ashton, who was putting up his safety equipment: "I say, old party, are those safety razors safe? Can't you really cut yourself?"

"Cut everything but hair," said Ashton, pointing to his wounded chin.

Mallory put out his hand: "Would you be kind enough to lend me your razor again this morning?"

"Sure thing," said Ashton. "You'll find your blade in the box there."

survive somehow till evening brought them to San Francisco, where there were hundreds of ministers. And then the conductor must ruin his early morning optimism, though he made his appearance in the washroom with genial good mornings for all.

Mallory acknowledged the greeting, and asked offhandedly: "By the way, how's she running?"

The conductor answered even more offhandedly: "About two hours late—and losin'."

Mallory was transfixed with a new fear: "Good Lord, my transport sails at sunrise."

"Oh, we ought to make Frisco by midnight, anyway."

"Midnight, and sail at daylight!" "Unless we lose a little more time."

Mallory realized that every new day managed to create its own anxieties. With the regularity of a milkman, each morning left a fresh crisis on his doorstep.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

The Complete Divorcer.

The other passengers were growing nervous with their own troubles. The next stop was Reno, and in spite of all the wit that is heaped upon the town, it is a solemn place to those who must go there in purgatorial penance for matrimonial error.

Some honest souls regard such divorce-emporiums as dens of evil, where the wicked make a mockery of the sacrament and assail the foundations of society, by undermining the home. Other equally honest souls, believing that marriage is a human institution whose mishaps and mistakes should be rectified as far as possible, regard the divorce courts as cities of refuge for ill-treated or ill-mated women and men whose lives may be saved from utter ruin by the intervention of high-minded judges.

But, whichever view is right, the ordeal by divorce is terrifying enough to the poor sinners or martyrs who must undergo it.

Little Jimmie Wellington turned pale, and stammered, as he tried to ask the conductor casually:

"What kind of a place is that Reno?"

The conductor, somewhat cynical from close association with the divorce-mill and its grist, grinned: "That depends on what you're leaving behind. Most folks seem to get enough of it in about six months."

Then he went his way, leaving Wellington red, agape and perplexed: The trouble with Wellington was that he had brought along what he was leaving behind. Or, as Ashton impudently observed: "You ought to enjoy your residence there, Wellington, with your wife on hand."

The only repartee that Wellington could think of was a rather uninspired: "You go to —"

"So long as it isn't Reno," Ashton laughed, and walked away.

Wedgewood laid a sympathetic hand on Little Jimmie's shoulder, and said: "That Ashton is no end of a bounder, what?"

Wellington wrote his epitaph in these words:

"Well, the worst I can say of him is, he's the kind of man that doesn't lift the plug out when he's through with the basin."

He liked this so well that he wished he had thought of it in time to crack it over Ashton's head. He decided to hand it to him anyway. He forgot that the cardinal rule for repartee, is "Better never than late."

As he swung out of the men's room he was buttonholed by an individual new to the little Trans-American colony. One of the camp-followers and sutlers who prosper round the edges of all great enterprises had waylaid him on the way to the battleground of marital freedom.

The stranger had got on at an earlier stop and worked his way through the train to the car named "Snowdrop." Wellington was his first victim here. His pushing manner, the almost vulture-like rapacity of his gleaming eyes, and the very vulture contour of his profile, his palmy gestures, his thick lip, and everything about him gave Wellington his immediate pedigree.

It ill behoves Christendom to need reminding that the Jewish race has adorned and still adorns humanity with some of its noblest specimens; but this interloper was of the type that must have irritated Voltaire into answering the platitudes that the Jews are God's chosen people with that other platitude, "Tastes differ."

Little Jimmie Wellington, hot in pursuit of Ashton, found himself checked in spite of himself; in spite of himself deposited somehow into a seat, and in spite of himself confront-

EXCUSE ME!

Novelized from the Comedy of the Same Name. By Rupert Hughes. ILLUSTRATED From Photographs of the Play as Produced By Henry W. Savage.

"Excuse, please! but are you getting off at Reno?" "I am," Wellington answered, curtly, essaying to rise, only to be delicately restored to his place with a gesture and a phrase: "Then you need me."

Baumann & Blumen. Real Estate Agents. Register Transfer. Divorce Outfitters. 212 Alamo Avenue, Reno, Nevada.

Wellington looked from the crowded card to the zealous face. "Divorce Outfitters, eh? I don't quite get you."

"Well, in the first place—"

"The second place, eh? You're from New York?"

"Yes, originally. How did you know it? By my fashionable clothing?"

"Well, you've got maybe some baggage, some trunks—yes?"

"Yes." "Well, in the first place, I am an expressman. I deliver 'em to your address—yes? Where is it?"

"Also I am an addressman. Do you want it a nice hotel?—or a fine house?—or an apartment?—or maybe a boarding-house?—yes? How long do you make a residence?"

"Six months." "No longer?" "Not a minute."

"Take a fine house, den. I got some beauties just wacated."

"For a year?—no thanks." "All the leases in Reno run for six months only."

—a Christian clergyman—being at the station?"

"Vy do you want it a clergyman? Can't I do it just as good? Or a nice fat alderman I can get you?"

Mallory pondered: "I don't think she'd like anything but a clergyman."

"Vell," Baumann confessed, "a lady is liable to be particular about her foist marriage. Anyway I sell you de license."

"All right." Mr. Baumann whipped out a portfolio full of documents, and as he searched them, philosophized: "A man ought always to carry a good marriage license. It might be he should need it in a hurry."

He took a large iron seal from his side-pocket and stamped the paper and then, with fountain pen poised, pleaded: "Vat is the names, please?"

"Not so loud!" Mallory whispered. Baumann put his finger to his nose, wisely: "I see, it is a confidential marriage. Sit down once."

When he had asked Mallory the necessary questions and taken his fee, he passed over the document by which the sovereign state of Nevada graciously permitted two souls to be made more or less one in the eyes of the law.

"Here you are," said Mr. Baumann. "Vat dat you can get married anywhere in Nevada."

Mallory realized that Nevada would be a thing of the past in a few hours more and he asked: "It's no good in California?"

"Himmel, no. In California you bot gotta go and be examined."

"Examined!" Mallory gasped, in dire alarm.

"Vit questions, personally," Mr. Baumann hastened to explain.

"Oh!" "In Nevada," Baumann insinuated, still hopeful, "I could marry you myself—now, right here."

"Could you marry us in this smoking room?"

A Word to the Borrower

IF you are a borrower of this paper, don't you think it is an injustice to the man who is paying for it? He may be looking for it at this very moment. Make it a regular visitor to your home. The subscription price is an investment that will repay you well.

But this was too much to ask. In the presence of a ruined career and a heroless army, Marjorie felt that her own scruples were too petty to count.

"No!" she said, in a deep, low tone. "No, we'll get married in the smoking room. Go call your drummer!"

This opened the clouds and let in the sun again with such a radiant blaze that Mallory hesitated no longer.

"Fine!" he cried, and leaped to his feet, only to be detained again by Marjorie's clutch:

"But first, what about that bracelet?" "She's got it," Mallory groaned, slumping from the heights again.

"Do you mean to say she's still wearing it?" "How was I to get it?" "Couldn't you have slipped into her car last night and stolen it?"

"Good Lord, I shouldn't think you'd want me to go—why, Marjorie—I'd be arrested!"

But Marjorie set her jaw hard: "Well, you get that bracelet, or you don't get me." And then her smouldering jealousy and grief took a less hateful tone: "Oh, Harry!" she wailed, "I'm so lonely and so helpless and so far from home."

"But I'm here," he urged.

"You're farther away than anybody," she whimpered, huddling close to him.

"Poor little thing," he murmured, soothing her with voice and kiss and caress.

"Put your arm round me," she cooed, like a mourning dove. "I don't care if everybody is looking. Oh, I'm so lonely."

Society Notes.

City Marshal J. H. Jowell was the subject of a pleasant birthday surprise dinner at his Cafe Saturday evening. Mrs. Throgmorton invited in a number of his friends for the surprise and when Mr. Jowell stepped into the dining room and saw over twenty of his friends ready to greet him, he is said to have blushed like a sixteen year old girl.

The Baptist Ladies Aid society was entertained at the Mrs. G. S. Ballard home Thursday afternoon. Two missionary boxes were filled by the ladies, one for home missions and one for Mexico.

Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock, Mrs. C. O. Keiser entertained most delightfully in honor of her sister, Mrs. Harry R. Leech. The rooms were beautifully decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, autumn leaves, black cats and pumpkins.
