

SPECIAL ELECTION ON NEXT SATURDAY

THREE AMENDMENTS TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION.

Bond Issue, Salary for County Officers and Increasing Salaries and Terms of District Judges.

The special election on the three amendments to the state constitution will be held in Texas Saturday. The vote promises to be light as there seems to be little interest in the propositions before the people, notwithstanding the publicity given to one of the amendments. The elections will be held at the regular voting places in Randall county.

The amendment increasing the salary and term of the district judges has been little discussed in the state. It is generally favored and will undoubtedly pass with little opposition.

The amendment placing county officers on a salary basis is being fought quietly by the different county officers associations. Little publicity has been given to amendment pro or con. It is hard to say what the outcome will be, although the chances are that it will carry.

The amendment regarding the issuance of bonds for the state schools, the penitentiary, roads and warehouses is being fought hard by several organizations, backed principally by the A. & M. college which considers that the university will simply devour the other state schools should the amendment pass. The best argument against the amendment is that it throws down the bars for the legislature to issue bonds to an unlimited sum. The opposition is afraid to trust the legislature with such powers. The forces lined up for the amendment have enlisted the support of every prominent educator in the state, of leading daily newspapers of the state, and of several prominent associations. The university must have assistance soon if it is to develop as it should. The penitentiary is a hole and running behind financially. If the amendment carries, these institutions will be relieved and provision made to help the good road movement and build warehouses where needed. The country newspapers are largely opposed to the amendment although some of the best weeklies in the state are supporting it. The amendment has two good sides for discussion and there is likelihood that it will be defeated.

Every Randall county voter should study these amendments with an unbiased mind and go to the polls Saturday to express his opinion.

W. M. Gamble Dead.

Mrs. J. D. Gamble received a message Tuesday that W. M. Gamble died in Tennessee Tuesday morning. The three sons, J. D., Oscar and Henry, reached the bedside of their father before he passed away. Mr. Gamble was eighty years old last October. He had been in good health until a few weeks ago. His wife and nine children remain to mourn his death. With the exception of one son all were at his bedside. A daughter lives at Chillicothe, Texas, and was with her father at death.

The Gamble brothers are expected to be home the first of next week.

SILO BULLETIN COMPLETED

H. M. Bainer Distributing Free Valuable Silo Booklet—Keiser Silos are Shown.

H. M. Bainer, agricultural demonstrator for the Santa Fe, has just completed a most valuable booklet on the various phases of the silo which he is distributing free to any person interested. Mr. Bainer discusses the silo from every possible viewpoint, showing the practicability, the uses of ensilage for the different animals, cutting and filling the silo, the methods of preservation, the costs and methods of construction of the various types and many other interesting features.

The silos on the C. O. Keiser ranch near Canyon are shown in pictures, and also the Herefords that broke the Texas record in Kansas City. In discussing the cost of the ensilage, Mr. Keiser is quoted as follows: "The cost of silage, bounting interest on the land, cost of raising and gathering the silage crop, silo depreciation, also on the filling and farm machinery, is about $1.30 per ton, according to records." Mr. Bainer states that on the average the cost for any man will probably be about $2.00.

Persons interested may obtain copies of this booklet from H. M. Bainer, Amarillo, Texas, or the Colonization Department of the A. T. & S. F. Ry., Chicago.

Society Notes.

Mrs. C. R. Burrow entertained the members of her Sunday School class Friday afternoon. Games were played on the lawn after which ice cream and cake were served. The following little folks were present: Margaret Griffin, Frances Croson, Audra Winkelman, Esther and Lila Fogarty, Dorothy Burrow, Tom and Drew Ridgeway, Hastings and John Ackley, Chessie Croson, Wayne Reid, Roy Tate and John Reid.

Leans Win Again.

The leans won in the baseball game Monday afternoon by a score of 18 to 14. Five innings were played. C. R. Flesher and H. Prichard were the batteries for the fats and Stewart, Allen and Shotwell for the leans. The exhibition was about on the same order as that played a week previously.

C. O. D. Business Slow.

Postmaster Oscar Hunt reports that the C. O. D. parcel post business has started off mighty slow. Only two packages have been received C. O. D. and none have been sent. The general parcel post business is good. The C. O. D. business has started off slow in practically every town where reports have been published.

J. M. Burkhalter was in the Monday from his farm southwest from town. Mr. Burkhalter is the raiser of fine gardens and does so by winter irrigation. He says he has studied the proposition for a number of years and that the only way to raise a fine garden is by winter irrigation.

In the article regarding R. G. Oldham's alfalfa last week, it should have stated that this was the second cutting instead of the first. The first cutting was made a few weeks ago and was practically as good as the second.

Come to Canyon to live.

LET'S HELP THE NEEDY

"The educational and charitable institutions of Texas are pleading for help. The Texas voters can give them relief July 19 by voting for the proposed amendment to sections 49 and 52, article 3, of the state constitution. A vote for the amendment is a vote for progress. Surely the patriotic citizens of Texas will come to the aid of the rising generation."—Conference for Education in Texas.

FRIDAY JULY 25 ALL CANYON BUSINESS HOUSES TO CLOSE DAY WILL BE SPEND CLEANING UP THE CITY NO IDLE PERSON IS EXPECTED AMONG CANYON'S CITIZENSHIP

Every business house in Canyon, with the exception of the hotels and restaurants, will be closed Friday, July 25, for a general clean up day. Plans will be formulated during the next week and published in next week's issue of the News telling exactly the procedure of the day. The main facts are that no business house in town will open its doors in the morning and they will all stay closed all day unless the town is so thoroughly cleaned up before night that there will be no need of staying open.

The slogan for the day will be—Clean up every weed and every dirty place in the city. Wagons will be provided to haul all rubbish to the dumping grounds.

Every piece of old machinery standing on vacant lots will be hauled away. Everything laying loose on vacant lots will be hauled to the dumping grounds.

Mayor Wilson stated yesterday that he hoped every person in Canyon would make a special effort to get all the weeds cut on and adjoining his premises so that the clean up day would be made more easy. This coming week will be the last one before the first of August when the inspections for Holland's magazine contest begins and Canyon MUST be clean.

Every man in town is expected to get a hoe and work that day. A fellow who shirks his duty ought to be arrested and have to work a week on the streets with bread and water rations.

Mayor Wilson suggests that it would be a fine thing if the ladies would volunteer to provide a big basket dinner at the court house at noon and turn the day into a regular working picnic.

The petition circulated yesterday afternoon was signed by 52 business men, and all are most heartily in favor of the movement.

Canyon will win in the Cleanest town contest if every person in town does his part.

Food Inspection Today.

The Ladies of the Pure Food Campaign are inspecting the stores of Canyon today. Mrs. D. M. Stewart, Mrs. C. R. Burrow and Mrs. C. E. Coss constitute the inspection committee. Mrs. Stewart, president of the association, announces that the results of the first inspection will not be published. This morning the ladies are conferring with the stores that handle foods, telling them more particularly what is expected of them and giving suggestions as how to handle the situation. The regular classification of the stores and eating houses will be made, but the results not published. Each merchant will be notified as to the standing he makes in the inspection, and should he be delinquent, he will be given a chance to clean up.

Beginning next week regular weekly inspections will be made and the results published in the News.

County Court.

The following business has been tried in county court this week.

The Butterick Publishing Co. vs. The Leader, passed.

F. J. Carpenter vs. R. E. Prewitt was dismissed.

First National Bank vs. G. N. Yates was continued.

L. A. Pierce vs. Will A. Miller et al, dismissed.

L. A. Pierce vs. G. L. Abbott et al, judgment for plaintiff to sum of $620.95.

Jury cases will be tried next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will A. Miller Jr. and family were in the city Wednesday morning. They are camping on their land northwest of the city where the prospecting oil well is being put down. Mr. Miller is very enthusiastic over the proposition and says the work will be pushed to completion.

EXAMINATIONS THIS WEEK.

About 100 of the Normal Students will Leave this Week—Four Days of Examinations.

The state examinations are in progress at the Normal this week. They extend over four days, after which about 100 of the summer normal students will leave for their homes. Nearly 100 more are taking examinations this year than took them last year. In the first series there is one trying for a permanent certificate, 18 for permanent primary, 81 for first grade and 161 for second grade. Over half of these will remain three weeks longer and take the second series of examinations also.

Billboard Fakers.

Two or three billboard fakers have been working the town the past week. The billboard in the cities have been outlawed so these fakers are turning their attention to the smaller towns and in many cases the local merchants bite. The money spent in billboard advertising is absolutely thrown away, according to the experiences of the merchants in the large towns and in the large theaters. No large merchant ever thinks of using billboards now. The large theaters and show troupes have found that it is money thrown away.

Experience has shown that people will pass a billboard every day for a year and when asked how the ads read, or who have ads there, they cannot tell you. In the first place, the reading matter put in these ads tell the people nothing that would draw trade. In the second place, people are in a hurry while passing down the street and don't care a rap what is displayed on either side of them. In the third place it is a cheap form of advertising and people know it and in this day and age, the cheaper the advertising the more expensive it is in the long run. In the fourth place, the newspaper is universally known to be the only legitimate advertising medium. People expect advertising in the newspaper and the stores who do not advertise are soon known and treated by the people to be back numbers.

Don't get stung by these billboard artists. You will be sorry some day.

Work Complete on Annual.

The editorial work on the Normal annual, "Le Mirage", will be completed this week and will be turned to the printer. The book will be completed in about thirty days. The book will be larger than last year's and the features much stronger than any book yet ever published.

Panhandle Medical Association.

The Panhandle Medical association is in session at Amarillo. Drs. Wilson, Griffin, Stewart and Parsons are in attendance. Dr. Griffin appears on the program.

Started City Well.

Edward Hyatt has started drilling on the new city well. The tower was completed last week and the machine started to drilling this week.

Mrs. B. T. Johnson and Mrs. G. S. Ballard left this morning for Plainview to attend the meeting of the ladies of the Baptist church. They were joined in this city by Mesdames Arthur Lile of Stratford, J. A. Garrison of Hereford, J. E. Nunn of Amarillo and David B. Hill of Childress.

FARMERS GO TO COLLEGE STATION

STATE FARMERS CONGRESS JULY 28 OF GREAT INTEREST.

J. M. Craig, R. A. Campbell and Welton Winn Chosen by Randall County Farmer's Institute.

More than 100 farmers from the Panhandle countries will attend the Farmer's Congress at College Station beginning July 28. Practically every county on the Plains has organized a strong Farmers Institute and will send delegates to the congress. The program for the congress will be the strongest ever made up in the state and farming will be discussed from every possible angle.

The Randall County Farmers Institute has been very active for the past few weeks in getting members and 66 names are now enrolled. Major J. W. Duffel was in the city Friday working for the institute and the organizations promises to do excellent work in the future. Delegates have been elected to the congress. G. G. Foster was first elected but being county surveyor he cannot ride on a pass so that J. M. Craig was substituted. R. A. Campbell and Welton Winn are the other members of the delegation.

Secretary W. J. Flesher received a message from Commissioner of Agriculture Kone on Saturday stating that Lubbock county had appropriated unto itself two of Randall county delegates. Mr. Flesher wired back that they were imposters and will consequently be kicked out of the congress if they go to College Station.

Ralph Cousins Home.

Ralph Cousins has arrived home from West Point where he has been in school for the past two years. He is looking fine and shows that two years in Uncle Sam's school has been beneficial to him. He likes the work there, although it is very hard and the officers are not very particular about making life pleasant for the men. A man must either do work prescribed or get out, and the officials are not much particular which course he takes.

This will be the last long vacation he will get until he graduates. During the next two years there will be several important trips made by the members of his class. They will go to Gettysburg to study the old battle grounds and spend considerable time at that place. Other battle grounds will be visited.

Mr. Cousins will report at West Point August 29, and will leave Canyon about the middle of the month. It is the first vacation he has had in two years.

Will Build New House.

Newt Reeves has moved the house just west of Keiser's office to the north side of the lot and will remodel it and build a new two story house where the old house stood. The new house will be modern throughout.

Enjoyed Trip East.

Mrs. V. Edna Henson returned Friday from the east where she enjoyed a three weeks vacation trip. She took in all the places of interest about Boston and spent considerable time at the Niagara Falls.

Silage for Horses.

Kansas Farmer:—We recently wrote our subscriber C. A. D. of Jewell County, concerning his experiences in feeding silage to horses. In his reply he states that during the first year he used silage he experienced a shortage of hay early in June and from that time on until the middle of July fed silage to his work horses. We quote directly from his reply. "Some higher-ups have told us that silage was not good for horses and we refrained from feeding it to them until compelled to do so by the reason of our supply of hay becoming exhausted. We fed it to our work horses right through harvest and never had horses to do better. We had been told that it would kill horses and were afraid to use, but we had no hay and were almost compelled to. The results have been so good, that in order to convince us that it is not good for horses, we will have to be shown. We think it better for horses than alfalfa hay. In fact, were we to have only one kind of feed, we would take silage in preference to any other feed known to us. We feed it to our horses just like we do grain, giving them only what they will eat up clean. We have had colts running with young cattle eat all they could hold, go off and rest a while, and come back and fill up again and we never could see any ill results. We have never allowed any moldy silage to be fed to our horses, therefore do not know what ill effects might result from its use as a horse feed."

There are now two sections in the central office of 100 and 150 drops each. The new section will make a capacity of 400 for this city. The old board has grown too small for the business of the town. A new main frame is being installed in the local office.

The Southwestern Company is making improvements all over the system and making preparations for the steady increase in business that will come as the country develops.

684 Students.

The final number of students registered in the Normal is 684, five have registered since the last report in the News. The net attendance last year was 420 or 264 less than the attendance this summer. A few weeks before the quarter opened, it was estimated that there would be at least 600 in attendance. This number was reached the first week and the total attendance surpassed the best estimate of the most hopeful.

D. A. Park has organized a weed cutting brigade of the men of his district and they are cutting weeds every morning from six to seven. There are about 20 regular hoemen every morning busy cleaning up the streets and alleys and vacant lots.

Every druggist in the state has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place. "Calomel is often dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," says the City Pharmacy.

Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by the City Pharmacy who sell it. A large bottle sells for 50c, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of sluggishness, you have only to ask for your money back. It will be promptly returned.

When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mrs. G. Stengle, Plainfield, N. I have taken nearly three-fourths of a package of them and can now eat almost everything that I want." For sale by all dealers.

For Melon Wilt.

Some complaint has come to News office about melon wilt. The leaves of the vines are said to be dying. The state agricultural department offers the following solution as a spray for this wilt:

- Copper sulphate... 4 pounds
- Stone lime..... 4 pounds
- Water..... 40 gallons

In preparing Bordeaux Mixture it is necessary to have three 50 gallon barrels. The copper sulphate, after being crushed, is suspended over night in a barrel containing 25 gallons of water. The lime is slaked in the second barrel, and then enough water is added to it to make 25 gallons. The next day the copper sulphate and lime are poured, bucket by bucket of each, into the third barrel. Then, after being thoroughly stirred, the mixture is tested to see if it contains a sufficient amount of lime. This is done by dropping a small quantity of yellow prussiate of yellow potash into the mixture. If this material turns brown, more lime should be added. After the mixture is thus properly completed, it is sprayed through a fine nozzle onto all portions of the plants. It later becomes dry and acts as an effective shield for protecting the plants. This material is best applied in the spring, after a considerable amount of foliage is on the plant. The application must be repeated every 14 days until three applications have been made. Toward the ripening of the fruit, it is best to abandon the use of the Bordeaux Mixture, for the reason that it burns the fruit to some extent, and also leaves upon it a white residue. Should it be necessary to continue spraying, the following can be used:

- Copper carbonate .6 ounces
- Ammonia..... 3 pints
- Water..... 45 to 50 gallons

Make a paste of copper carbonate with a little water, then dilute the ammonia with 7 to 8 volumes of water and add it to the paste, and after that, allow the solution to settle and use only the clear blue liquid. This material should not be allowed to stand in the open air for any length of time, for it easily loses its strength. When ready for spraying, dilute the above mixture with enough water to make 50 gallons of spray.

In this issue of the News will be found a dispatch from Austin stating that seventy-five members of the state legislature are opposed to amendment relating to the bond issue. If this is true, and it seems to be, one of two things is the matter. About seventy men in legislature don't know what they are doing, or the system of legislation in Texas is radically at fault. If we remember correctly, there were only a few votes against this bill when on its way through the legislature. There are seventy-five of these legislators now opposing the amendment. Can it be possible that such a defective bill as these men now say it can be pushed through both houses with only a few votes against it? If so, there ought to be a house cleaning of legislators and these self announced blunderbusses kicked out. Those kind of legislators are criminally unfit. Or is the trouble in the fact that bills are rushed through the legislature in such a pell mell fashion that defects are not found for several months after the legislature adjourns? The News believes this latter statement to be the state of affairs. We hardly believe that there could be seventy-five men in our legislature that will vote for a bill so radically wrong without being thoroughly familiar with all provisions. As has been pointed out many, many times in the past two years, the methods of the legislature needs straightening out and needs it very badly.

The election on the amendments to the state constitution will be held Saturday. From all appearances the first two will carry, but the one regarding the issuance of bonds will have a hard struggle for life. The News is in favor of the amendment in part, but part of it is objectional. If provision had been made alone for the schools, the amendment would have met with little opposition. The fact that it carries so many riders will probably kill the bill. The legislature is given full power to issue bonds for so many things that it might abuse that power. Of instance, there are seventy-five members now fighting that amendment while only a very few voted against it in the legislature. Suppose that useless bonds were rushed through the legislature in the same manner as this amendment was passed. The legislators who voted for the bonds would be retired, but the damage done must be paid off by the people. However, the people of the state entrust to the legislature all our laws and the spending of our money. The question arises, are we willing to entrust to the legislature so much power. If you are you should vote for the amendment. If you are afraid of the legislature, vote against it. The state schools need help and must have it, but it remains with the voters to decide whether this help will be given now or not.

In the Randall County News we see that C. R. McAfee has sold a tract of alfalfa land near Canyon for $125 per acre. Panhandle land is the most valuable in the world, and the fact is becoming more generally known every year. The only reason the figures are not more than double what they are is that the country is sparsely settled, and that feature is being overcome rapidly. You'd better hurry if you want to own Panhandle dirt without paying a fortune for it.—Clarendon News.

Correct you are, Bro. Warren, and more people are discovering this fact every year and getting hold of land while it is yet cheap. There is no better land on earth than Panhandle land. It will raise anything under favorable conditions and will raise more crops under unfavorable conditions than any other land on earth. It takes more drouth to kill Panhandle crops than any other place under the sun. The crops this year are extraordinary notwithstanding the fact that only 68 per cent of normal rain has fallen. And the Panhandle is not the only place under the sun that is sometimes short on crops. We read of a large section in Illinois that won't make anything on account of the drouth. Old reliable maize and kaffir always makes good in the Panhandle even though the season is unfavorable and given a good year they make tremendous yields. Come to the Panhandle, while land is still cheap. You will some day regret it if you don't.

Hilton R. Greer, managing editor of the Amarillo News, has announced as a candidate for representative to fill the vacancy in that district. Mr. Greer is a live wire and if he goes to the legislature will do some excellent work for the Panhandle country. The election comes Saturday and he has no opponent, so here's to you Hilton, when you get in Austin.

The loyal citizen buys his merchandise at home. The other kind sends away. The loyal citizen is the only man who is a benefit to a town. Either be loyal or get out and give your room to some one who will be worth something to the town.

A little more weed cutting and general cleaning up and we will undoubtedly have the cleanest town in Texas. But there are a whole lot of people who must get busy at once. And keep busy for several days.

Canyon is in earnest about being the cleanest town in Texas. All but about half a dozen men are working hard to clean up the town and these we are going to send to the jungles of Africa until they appreciate what a clean town means.

Canyon ought to have a trades day. Practically every town on

To the Public and to Normal School Students in Particular.

The following article printed in the Amarillo Daily News under date of July 15th explains itself:

DR. CRUME LECTURES TO CANYON TEACHERS

At the request of the faculty of the State Normal at Canyon, Dr. J. J. Crume addressed a body of 650 teachers who were present last Thursday. Dr. Crume spoke interestingly and instructively on the following subjects: "Communicable Diseases of the Eye," "How to Recognize and Care for Same," "How to Prevent Further Contagion." He also lectured on the subject "Abnormalities of the Ear, Nose and Throat and Dire Results Following Neglect of Cases."

Dr. Crume is a specialist in this line and his lectures were listened to with rapt attention, and the benefits will be of inestimable value to the auditors who were studying this special line of endeavor.

The action of the Normal school faculty in this instance, whether or not intentional, works as a gross exploitation of a Texas educational institute for the benefit of a firm of Eye-specialists, and a particular school of medical practice.

The commercial exploitation of our public institutions; whether educational or not, is unfair to all concerned and should not be permitted.

A man who knows enough about the currency question to know that the other fellow don't know what he is talking about is entitled to some consideration.

There is no provision in the new currency bill, despite its elastic features, but squares the man who overdraws his account.

THE PANHANDLE FIREMEN MEET

CONVENTION AUGUST 19, 20 AND 21 AT SWEETWATER.

Canyon Has Won in Meet Number of Years and Will Probably Send Another Team.

The Panhandle Fireman's Association will meet this year at Sweetwater. The time has been set for August 19, 20 and 21. Sweetwater is preparing to take care of the visitors in royal style and urges all department to send a full delegation and team to compete in the athletic events.

Canyon has had a winning team at the association meetings for a number of years and this year ought to have a stronger team than ever. Steps will probably be taken at once to put a strong team in competition.

Chiefs of all volunteer fire departments will be furnished free transportation, also all regularly elected delegates, but they must send their names to the secretary of the association, Will H. Jobe, Sweetwater, at once. Low rates will be in effect for all other visitors.

Santa Fe Cut Off.

The Santa Fe railroad is now receiving locomotives for the cut-off, and during the past week several big oil burning passenger engines for use between Sweetwater and Galveston have passed through Slaton on their way south.

It is understood here that these engines are being put into service to give them a thorough trial before the opening of the Texico cut-off for through traffic.

General Manager Fox states that the company hopes to have the road completed by the last of September. It is hardly probably however that heavy traffic will be handled over this division out of Slaton before the first of the year.

The railroad company is unloading and storing 500 car loads of coal here as rapidly as possible to be used when the cut-off is opened.—Slaton Slatonite.

Occupation Tax.

The Attorney General's department at Austin has ruled that C. O. D. shipment of liquors into a dry territory by an express or railroad company makes such companies subject to an occupation tax of $5,000 per year at each office where such deliveries are made. The agent of the railroad or express company in such cases is the bar tender who delivers and collects the liquor.

J. B. Kleinschmidt received a paper from his old home, Elgin, Ill., telling about a $2,500,000 storm the town had just suffered. Several lives were lost and property of all kinds destroyed. Mr. Kleinschmidt says that the Plains look mighty good when he hears of such storms.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16. Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

Mrs. G. P. Lewis Dead.

Mrs. G. P. Lewis died Tuesday near Happy of tuberculosis. She had been ill for more than a three months and her death relieved her of that awful suffering which she had endured for so long. The family came to Randall county about three years ago for Mrs. Lewis' health. She had seemingly done very well until the last few months.

She was born in Lancaster county Neb., Feb. 14, 1873. At 21 years of age she was married to G. P. Lewis, and at 33 years of age she professed faith in Christ and was united with the New Light church, where she was ever a faithful Christian. She was prepared and welcomed death with a sweet smile.

At her bed side were her husband, one sister, two daughters and one son. Soon after her death her married son of Amarillo reached the home.

All that human hands could do for her was done. She was buried at Happy Wednesday at 10 o'clock. The funeral was preached by Rev. Guy Parsons of Happy. The people extend the bereaved family their sympathy in their sadness.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to extend our thanks to the people of Happy, and the Sunny Hill community for their ready help and sympathy in the illness and death of our beloved wife, mother and sister.

- Such special conditions as may directly affect the health and cleanliness of a town.
- All inspections will be made wholly at the expense of Holland's Magazine and will be under the personal supervision of Dr. M. M. Carrick, medical director in charge.

SEVENTY-FIVE MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Denounce the Bond Amendment for the Reason That it Gives Unlimited Power to the Legislature to Issue Bonds Without a Vote of the People.

Austin, Tex., July 14.—An address in opposition to the bond amendment has been issued by the following members of the legislature who represent over seventy-five members, senators and representatives, who oppose the amendment:

- Representatives T. D. Rowell of Marion County, R. R. Williams of Hopkins County, R. B. Humphrey of Throckmorton County, W. O. Duffie of Red River County, S. S. Baker of Panola County, D. W. Dickson of Lamar County, Sam J. Hunter of Tarrant County, Geo. F. Oliver of Shelby County, T. J. Barrett of Jones County, J. H. Morris of Coryell County, M. C. Fields of Falls County, D. C. Dove of Leon County, O. B. Robertson of Gonzales County, Sam Gates of Karnes County, W. W. King of Sabine County, J. E. Simpson of Young County, G. O. Craven of Cook County, G. N. Gentry of Reeves County, E. L. Bruce of Orange County, J. J. Stephens of Upshur County, A. C. Robbins of Henderson County, Jos. O. Boehmer of Maverick County, R. S. Griggs of Rusk County, Leopold Morris of Victoria County, E. A. McDaniel of Coleman County, H. P. Taylor of Brown County, Clifford L. Stone of Rusk County, R. T. Burns of Hill County, Z. Broughton of Anderson County, A. R. Watson of Mills County, John G. Hughes of Williamson County, James Greenwood of Guadalupe County, A. M. Kennedy of Kerr County, J. W. Ussery of Wood County.
- Senator V. A. Collins of Jefferson, Senator J. R. Astin of Brazos, Senator H. B. Terrell of McLennan, Senator J. C. McNealus of Dallas.

Summed up, the gist of the address is that they feel it their duty, after mature consideration and a thorough investigation, to advise the citizens and the taxpayers of the State that, in their judgment, the best interests of the State demand the defeat of the bond amendment for the reason that it gives unlimited power to the legislature to issue bonds for many purposes without a vote of the taxpayers; that it is a departure from the long settled policy of the State; that the proposition is a fragment which offers an opportunity for trading and combinations against the best interests of the people; that every bond issue should be submitted to a vote of the people; that it is unfair to the voter to require him to vote on several different propositions in one ballot, and is undemocratic and against the progressive spirit of the times; that it is unnecessary and will increase the burdens of the people.

The address winds up with a pledge of the membership opposing the bond amendment to lend their best efforts for the advancement of all the State educational institutions from the common schools to the Agricultural and Mechanical College and the University, but declares that the amendment is not necessary at this time, and that the interest of all these institutions will be properly safeguarded, and that all of the State institutions can be and will be taken care of without the amendment.

C. P. Hutchings of Amarillo, was a business caller in the city Monday.

Mrs. Fred Perryman of Greenfield, who is visiting at the home of her brother, G. G. Foster left Saturday for Vaughn where she will make a short visit.

Dr. Rouse Preaches.

Dr. W. T. Rouse preached Sunday at the Baptist church and spent two days in the city looking over the local field with a view of accepting the call recently extended him by the members of the congregation. Mr. Rouse will wire his decision the later part of this week.

The sermon of Dr. Rouse Sunday were exceedingly pleasing to the local church. He is a highly educated gentleman and an eminently able preacher. He expressed himself as being highly pleased with Canyon and it is to be hoped that he will accept the call of the church.

If you are not doing good work find the cause. One of the most frequent causes of dullness is school work or other mental labor is eye strain. If your nerves give you trouble it is probably due to unconscious eye strain. Your eyes may be under strain without you realizing the fact. ### Printer's Ink.

Printer's ink is a great salesman, and it is the cheapest drummer a merchant can employ. It carries the message of the bargain counter to the people, brings the show window to the home and teaches all our citizens important lessons in economy.

The local paper is the best salesman a merchant can engage. Its services are always available, and through it opportunity continually knocks at the merchant's door.

No merchant can become a power in business unless he advertises. He cannot hope to draw trade unless he illuminates the pathway to his store with the shining light of publicity. Success does not search for men in dark places.

I do not believe that an arbitrary rule could be laid down for expenditures that would fit every case, but no yearly budget is well balanced that does not contain a heavy item for advertising. Many successful merchants set aside 3-1-2 per cent of their annual sales for advertising, and the results prove it to be their best investment.

Some merchants depend upon their personality, business influence and their acquaintance in the community to draw trade, and these are desirable factors that every merchant needs, but the price and quality of the merchandise set fourth in the local paper in convincing language and attractive style is far more overpowering and far reaching, and is the greatest asset a store can possess.

The merchant should make his local paper the right arm of his business and he who fails to do so neglects a great opportunity.

Some Wool in the Panhandle.

If you are a stranger and should ask a resident what the products of the Panhandle are, it is hardly probable that the answer would include "sheep," yet the following data taken from the Amarillo Daily News, would justify including this animal. "Approximately 3,000,000 pounds of wool will be marketed in the Panhandle this season," said W. F. Neighbors of the Texas Hide & Wool Company yesterday afternoon. "The total will far exceed predictions made by me several months ago. Much of the spring clip is being marketed at the time, and my company has been fortunate in securing the greater quantity of it. The heaviest sales have been made at Hereford and Friona, but a liberal quantity will go out from other points. "This production will be surprising to many residents of this section, who have considered this something other than a wool-producing country. I look for an animal increase in the output, and freely predict that the Panhandle will become within comparatively few years the most important sheep and wool country in the southwest."

TRUTH TOLD ABOUT AMENDMENT

Three Great Texas Organizations Urge a Change of the State Constitution at Polls July 19, to Authorize Improvement of Educational Institutions.

On July 19 the people of Texas will vote upon three amendments to the State Constitution. One of these is of particular importance, as it will authorize the legislature to issue bonds for the erection of buildings at state institutions. This amendment will change sections 49 and 52 of article 3. Texas voters have a right to know the truth concerning this amendment, and some effort has been made to keep the truth from them. Therefore, the following addresses to the public from three great organizations will be of interest, inasmuch as they show the growing strength of sentiment in favor of this change in the organic law.

TEXAS CATTLEMEN STRONG FOR STATE BOND ISSUE TO ERECT PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

To the Cattle Raisers of Texas and to all other Citizens:
The officers and members of the executive committee of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, whose names are undersigned, urged every voter to support at the polls the amendment to the state constitution, sections 49 and 52 of article 3.

This amendment will allow the legislature to enact a law permitting the University of Texas and the Agricultural and Mechanical College to erect buildings much needed at this time. Without this amendment, it will be impossible legally to meet this urgent necessity. These bonds will be refunded from the income of the University endowment and will not cost the people a cent.

The amendment further authorizes the legislature to issue bonds for the other state educational, charitable, and penal institutions. These institutions, like the University and the A. & M. College have not sufficient buildings to house inmates safely.

This amendment also gives power to any "political subdivision" of the state to issue bonds, upon a majority vote of the tax payers of the district, for the improvement of navigation, the prevention of overflow, the construction of irrigation enterprises, the building of good roads, and the construction and maintenance of public warehouses.

In our opinion, all of these measures are good ones and will benefit the people of the state.

This amendment will be voted upon at the polls in a special election, called for July 19. We urge your vote in its favor.

TEXAS DOCTORS FAVOR EDUCATIONAL AMENDMENT.

We, the undersigned, constituting a representative committee of the alumni of the Medical Department of the University of Texas, beg to call attention to the fact that the proposed bond amendment was unanimously indorsed by the House of Delegates of the State Medical Association in session at San Antonio on May 8th. Our reasons for urging the adoption of this amendment may be briefly stated as follows:

1. It is a pure business proposition conferring upon the legislature the power to finance the state institutions by the issuance of bonds, thus applying to state affairs the same sound principles of public finance now made use of by counties, cities, and other subdivisions of the state in erecting public buildings, paving streets, building roads, etc.

2. The Medical Department at Galveston, like all the other state institutions, is greatly in need of the aid that this amendment will make possible.

3. We regard the amendment as in no wise dangerous to the A. & M. College, but on the contrary, as very beneficial to that institution.

4. The statement that there is no limitation on the bonds that may be issued under the amendment is not true. The following are definite limitations:

- University bonds are limited to the amount that can be taken care of, both as to the interest and the sinking fund to pay them off at maturity, out of the income from the university's permanent endowment.
- The penitentiary bonds are to be a mortgage on the property of the penitentiary system and are limited by the value of the property.
- The bonds for the other educational and charitable institutions are limited to "necessary buildings."
- The changes made in section 52 are an extension of the principle of local self government. They confer no power whatever on the legislature and only give the taxpayers of the localities a right to build good roads and erect warehouses for agricultural products if they see fit to do so.

WHAT THE HOGG ORGANIZATION THINKS OF THE AMENDMENT.

Whether adopted by a business corporation or by a public institution, the principle of the bond issue is sound. It is the easiest, the least burdensome, and the quickest method of financing any large undertaking. It does not strain the immediate resources of a private business, because it can pay the bonds off from future profits. It does not strain the taxable resources of the people because payment can be made by small tax assessments throughout a period of years.

Thoroughly fireproof buildings and permanent improvements are of such stuff as will last a hundred years or more; yet the nature of our present state institutions demands immediate relief. Why should the taxpayers burden themselves to pay in two years what could easily be borne in part by the citizens and taxpayers of future years?

Biennial appropriations have not been sufficient to house the insane and to segregate the feeble minded. Our county jails are crowded with the insane; our state is a free range for the feeble minded who are marrying and propagating the unfit.

Even now six of the state institutions of higher education—the four state normal schools, the College of Industrial Arts, and the Agricultural and Mechanical College—ask for $1,700,000 for buildings of the Thirty-third Legislature. We are convinced that these requests will not meet the present urgent needs and are totally inadequate for future growth. But if the legislature grants these appropriations, the money will have to come out of the pockets of the taxpayers within the next two years. On the other hand if the people adopt the proposed amendment to the constitution, and the buildings so urgently needed are erected by bond issues, their payment to be their payment to be distributed over a series of years, the total amount to be paid during the next two years would be only $85,000.

Among the organizations indorsing the proposed amendment are: The Conference for Education in Texas, the State Department of Education, the board of regents and the presidents of the four state normal schools, the board of regents and the president of the College of Industrial Arts, the board of regents of the State University, the officers of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, and of the Texas Congress of Mothers.

A METHICAL GIRL

By MARY P. WILLARD

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Miss Virginia Stubbs was a very practical young woman. When she was barely fourteen she laid out a course for herself and pursued it to the letter. She proposed to marry by the time she was twenty and to have her own farm. From the time she was seven she had eschewed candy, dolls and toys, putting the money she might have expended for such trifles in an old woolen stocking. When she was sixteen she heard her father say that a farm in the neighborhood was to be sold under foreclosure of mortgage and if he had but $300 he would buy it. Virginia told him she had $150, which she would like to buy a farm with, so he scraped together the balance and bought the farm for $1,500, making the first payment. Within two years Virginia had paid her father the money he had advanced, and she owned the farm.

Virginia's plans, of course, included a husband, and the man she wished to fill that position was Cyrus Barker. Cyrus didn't have a farm or money, but he suited Virginia, and she set her cap for him. Cyrus was rather indifferent at first, but Virginia always continued to make him feel at home, and that's what most young men wish for when they go to other people's houses. Then one evening when they were sitting side by side looking over some pictures their cheeks, being very close together, somehow touched. Cy's arm was resting on the back of the sofa on which they sat, and he let it drop on Virginia's waist. Virginia didn't make any objection to this, and their cheeks remaining contiguous, Cy turned and kissed her.

Virginia, who had planned all this, felt sure that it was the beginning of a courtship that would end in marriage. She was nineteen and a half years old and, having planned to be married and go to live on her farm by the time she was twenty, had six months in which to snare the man for whom she had laid her trap. She was making a little money here and there, with which she was reducing the mortgage on her farm, so that no great sum of interest would stand in the way of her marriage.

While Cyrus Barker continued his calls and his cardesses—the latter only when especially tempted—he got no further in his courtship. A month passed, then another and another, with no progress toward matrimony. Virginia did not worry. She had made up her mind to be married on or before her twentieth birthday, and she never for a moment doubted that the ceremony would be performed.

One afternoon Cy called to take Virginia out to drive in a borrowed wagon. To his astonishment she sent word asking to be excused. She was busy sewing and would be thus employed for some time to come. This was the first time she had ever refused to see him, if even for a few minutes. There was something jarring in the matter. Like other men, he was controlled by habit, and his habit was to see Virginia whenever he liked. A whole afternoon was spoiled. He drove the horse back to the barn, unharnessed and didn't know what to do with himself. He sauntered in at the store to buy a cigar.

"Reckon yer goin' to be married," said the proprietor as Cy lighted his cigar.

"What makes you think that?"

"Waal, the gal 's been keepin' company with 'er in here today to buy her weddin' outfit."

Cy took his cigar out of his mouth and looked at the man aghast. So this was the explanation of the sewing.

"What did she buy?" he asked.

"Waal, she bought twenty yards of white satin."

"Twenty yards! Does it take as much as that to make a dress?"

"Reckon it d's when they have a train to it."

"What else did she buy?"

"Oh, a bit o' lace for the bridal veil, I reckon."

Cy put his cigar back into his mouth, gave a few quick puffs, threw it away and hurried out of the store. Making a bee line for Virginia's home, he sent up word that he must see her immediately, if only for a minute. Virginia came down. Cy endeavored to discern an emotion of some sort in her face, but her features were expressionless. He began to upbraid her for what he called throwing him over for some one else. She asked him to explain. He said that he had loved her a long while and had been waiting only to make some money to enable him to ask her to be his wife. To this she replied that they were rapidly growing old and people who waited to get rich to be married were like many others who waited for the crop to ripen before harvesting the wheat. They usually died unmarried and childless. She would rather marry him than any one else, but—

That was as far as she went—as far as she intended to go. Cy did the rest. He begged her to throw over the other fellow and marry him. She then told him that there was no other fellow and explained that, having considered him an honorable man, she had concluded that he would certainly ask her to marry him. Presuming thus upon his honor, she had begun preparations for the wedding.

They were married on Virginia's twentieth birthday.

Newspaper Best Medium.

Newspapers are the best advertising medium in the world of commerce, in the opinion of Prof. J. V. Breitwiser of Colorado College, who addressed the retail merchants of the Chamber of Commerce of Colorado Springs the other night on the subject, "The Psychology of Advertising." He classed the street car advertising, posters, programs and other sporadic form of publicity as useful only for special purposes and temporary results in some cases.

Attention was called to the immense sums wasted every year in the United States on ineffective advertising and of the tremendous results secured, on the other hand, from skillful newspaper publicity.

"Advertising is being organized in a definite way to prevent waste," he said. "It has been estimated that the waste which could be saved by scientific advertising amounts to from 15 to 19 per cent, which means that $200,000,000 is being spent uselessly. The American people have the advertisement reading habit. You can't simply say things in a dry-bones fashion and expect people to read the ad. You should never display the repelling things; an optimistic tone brings positive reaction. The advertisement poorly written reads just as a dingy, crowded store. Tests have determined what proportions in space bring the best results."
