

INFORMATION ON THE INCOME TAX

REPORTS FOR YEAR 1913 MUST BE MADE BY MARCH 1, 1914

Tax Will Be Payable June 30, 1914—Collector A. S. Walker, Austin, Makes Statement.

The following is a communication from Internal Tax Collector A. S. Walker of Austin, regarding the income tax:

Under the Act of congress approved October 3, 1913 every individual having an annual income in excess of $3000 is required to render to the Collector of Internal Revenue on or before March 1st of each year a report giving a statement of his income received from all sources during the calendar year preceeding.

The Collector has a list of all corporations subject to this tax, and they will be supplied with blank forms for report as soon as possible after December 31st.

Special attention is called to the fact that the failure to secure Income tax blanks will not relieve the taxpayer from the penalties imposed for delinquency in filing return.

Black for Assessor.

In this issue of the News will be found the announcement of J. C. Black for the office of county assessor.

Taxes Coming Good.

Tax Collector W. A. Jennings reports that the taxes are coming in good this month and December promises to break the record of last year.

Marshall for Senator.

Childress Index—Judge J. C. Marshall of Quanah is considering the matter of entering the senatorial race against Senator W. A. Johnson of Memphis.

Quanah Tribune—If Judge Marshall goes after the senatorial toga he will make Senator Johnson hit the ground in high places keeping his fences up, because John is not only a hustling campaigner but he is also a "go-getter".

Harrison Announces for Clerk.

In this issue of the News, C. N. Harrison announces as a candidate for the office of County and District clerk.

Webber Fortune of Local Interest.

The announcement a few days ago that a fortune of several million dollars left by a Holland merchant was to be divided and that an attorney was hunting for all the heirs is of local importance since H. J. Webber believes that he is one of the heirs.

W. W. Trimble is spending the holidays with his parents in Lubbock.

ENSILAGE PROVES TO BE BEST FEED

GOVERNMENT TEST BEING MADE AT NEELY FARM.

Steers Made 105 Pound Gain in 30 Days Compared With 22 Pounds for Grass Fed Cattle.

Daily Panhandle—Those who have been skeptical with reference to results that may be attained from feeding of ensilage to cattle are now given an opportunity to become thoroughly convinced on the subject.

T. P. Metcalf, a government feeding expert, has been carrying on an experiment with fifty-four steers fed on ensilage and six pounds of cotton seed meal per day on the farm of J. M. Neely, near this city.

Owing to the limited supply of the ensilage at hand the feeding test will be continued only twenty days longer. At the expiration of that time the steers will be shipped to the Kansas City market, where Mr. Metcalf will conclude his records on the sale and slaughtering process for final results.

The whole Panhandle country is vitally interested in this important test, and its results will have great bearing on the future of the live stock industry of this country.

Mrs. Wray Resign.

Mrs. Ada Wray has resigned her position as principal of the Canyon high school. She will leave soon to join her husband who has a position in the Oak Cliff high school.

The board will probably elect her successor within the next week.

Reeves for Clerk.

In this week's issue will be found the announcement of T. V. (Vince) Reeves, as a candidate for County and District Clerk.

Petit Jurors.

The following is the list of jurors for the County court which begins the second week in January:

Here's wishing you The Merriest Christmas you have ever had and The best of all that's good the whole year 'round Randall County News

WHITE CHRISTMAS EIGHT INCH SNOW

FLEECY STUFF FALLS FOR TEN HOURS SUNDAY.

Coldest Weather of the Winter Follows—Fine Christmas Weather for Canyon.

Christmas in Canyon is white and plenty white. Old Santa will have no trouble getting around in his sleigh this year although he has had to use an auto or airship during the past few years.

Snow started to fall at nine o'clock Sunday morning and continued all day. There was no wind and Monday morning there was found eight inches of the white fleecy stuff spread evenly over the ground.

The cattlemen have their hands full caring for the stock but all were prepared for storms. They are hopeful that the snow will soon melt.

An old timer stated Monday morning that this fall and winter was the best he had seen in 22 years, and he believes that there can be no possible doubt of a bumper crop in 1914 with the conditions we now have.

Tuesday afternoon was warm and the snow melted considerably, but the wind changed to the north during the night. This (Wednesday) morning as we go to press the indications are for more snow and a little is falling.

Umberger Notes.

A program was given Friday evening by the pupils of Mary Dale.

Miss Bader came over from Happy Saturday to spend the holidays at the parental home.

What a beautiful white world we have.

With eight inches of snow on the ground to protect the winter wheat, our farmers should be very happy folks.

A club dance was given in the Rehker hall Friday evening.

Our mail carrier, Mr. Miller greatly resembled "Kris Kringle" last week, with his many boxes and bundles, merry tune and smiling "Good Morning".

We wish you "A. Happy New Year".

Dr. S. L. Ingham and George were in Amarillo Saturday.

Budding Womanhood.

By Jake H. Harrison.

Like the rosy dawn of morn That breaks the day, Like the torch that Progress brings To light the way;

Like the balmy breath of spring That wakes the wood, Like the rose before it blooms, Buds womanhood.

Pure as scintillating dew When morning glows, Rich in loveliness and blushes As the rose;

Like the honey-suckle's breath When spring is here, Fair as blooming lilies are, And doubly dear.

Hold its purity intract, And angels then Bring the balm of benediction Unto men; Foul its source, and malediction Dire and fell, Opens wide the lurid gates Of social hell.

Guard its budding into bloom With tender care, Of each bee that seeks its sweets Be well aware. If not guarded it may lose Its innocence; Lack of care in its behalf Gives God offense.

Christmas Trees.

All of the churches of the city will have Christmas trees Wednesday night. The programs will be very interesting.

TEAM CONTINUES WINNING GAMES

WRECKERS DEFEAT GRANFIELD FRIDAY NIGHT 30 TO 25.

Stamford Booked for Next Game—Cavet Out of Game Friday and Gamble Substitutes for Hunt.

The Wreckers added another victory to their long string by defeating the Granfield, Okla., bunch Friday night in a fast game, by a score of 30 to 25.

The score at the end of the first half was 18 to 6. During the second half the locals went to pieces and lost much of their old time team organization.

Tom Lair was again the big score man, landing 12 points, while Pritchard made 6, Thad Lair 4, Hunt 4 and Reeves 4 points on fouls.

In the game Wednesday which resulted in a score 57 to 15 in favor of the locals, Tom Lair made 84 points, Thad 21, Cavet 2.

The next games on the schedule will be played with Stamford College Jan. 22 and 23.

Daily For Plainview.

The Evening Herald is the name of a daily newspaper which will commence publication in Plainview January first. It is understood that the paper is well backed financially and that it will be conducted by newspaper men who have made notable success in newspaper publishing circles in other cities.

Plainview's daily will have a complete telegraphic service, furnished by the two largest news associations in the country. Its pictorial matter will be up-to-the-minute. It will have the best features that money can buy.

The Evening Herald will have one of the most up-to-date and time-saving newspaper plants in the west. In every way The Evening Herald promises to be a splendid, live-wire daily newspaper.

Its territory will comprise all of the South Plains and Panhandle.

Had Good Hunt.

C. R. McAfee, C. N. Harrison, M. P. Garner and Geo. Reynolds returned Friday night from Whiteflat where they spent five days at the M. E. Slover home hunting quail. They bagged 175 and brought home 120. They report a very fine hunt.

New Member Board of Regents.

Gov. O. B. Colquitt has appointed Joseph S. Kendall of Dallas a member of the board of regents for state normal schools to succeed F. M. Bralley. Mr. Kendall is a young business man and will make a strong member of the board.

Wayne Cousins, W. J. Rattikin and C. E. Fleisher are home from Austin where they are students in the state university.

BAGPIPES, SWEET OR SOUR

Many People Will Acquiesce in the Opinion Expressed by One New York Policeman.

Strange to tell, coarse, critical neighbors objected strenuously to the music of a restaurant in 39th street which had a bagpipe for its central figure. Words failed them when they tried to describe the sounds to Magistrate Nolan. The best suggestion of the awful truth was given by Police Sergeant Jopson, musical censor of the department. "I have been in South Africa," said he, "and have heard the music of a Kaffir band. This band has the Kaffir aggregation lashed to the mast."

Some such lack of appreciation befell the great Angus McLean, hero of the Gilbert ballad. He piped for years without melting the heart of his beloved. Then, in the words of the ballad, he succeeded in piping something "distinctly resembling an air." The results were instantaneous. The lady flung herself on his breast, and all Scotland cheered.

There is, of course, a large poetical license in this denouement. The real truth is, we suppose, that by listening to any sound long enough you can get to like it, and sigh for it, and imagine all manner of beauty in it. Some day soon, for example, we shall undoubtedly see an orchestra composed exclusively of the instrument of the hour, the electric automobile horn—and perhaps have an automobile opera written by the great Strauss with a choir of these seasick elephants in the band. Why not?

And where will the bagpipe be then?

BABIES INJURED BY ROCKING

English Mothers Are Being Told That They Should Stop This Time-Honored Practice.

The hand that rocks the cradle and, incidentally and metaphorically, rules the world, is no longer to enjoy undisturbed these notable functions. The anti-rocking movement has begun vigorously in London, the opening declaration of hostilities having been made in a leaflet addressed to mothers by the public health department of the city of London. This document most solemnly adjures mothers never to rock the baby. It is here set forth that rocking the baby to sleep, far from being the wholesome and altogether admirable performance we have been taught through centuries to believe, is one that is rankly diabolic in possibilities. Rocking the baby to sleep, it is declared, is likely to set up various digestive disorders, it stupefies the child and may breed in him or her various bad habits. A healthy child, it is averred, requires no rocking to sleep, the rocking being after all merely a kind of mechanical narcotic, scarcely less dangerous than the poppy juice of the so-called soothing sirup. The baby should be put to bed in the dark and allowed to go to sleep naturally. Cradle rocking, say the concoctors of the anti-rocking decree, may cause a child to grow up unhealthy, exacting and petulant. A bas le berceau!

Their Calculations Upset.

Sir George Biddell Airy, British astronomer royal, told the pioneers of the first Atlantic cable that it was a mathematical impossibility to submerge the cable to the necessary depth, and if it were possible no signals could travel through so great a distance. Sir George was also asked about the possibility of making Big Ben, the great clock in the tower above the houses of parliament, so trustworthy that it would not lose five seconds a day on the average. He replied that no clock exposed to the weather could run with so small an error. The late Lord Grimthorpe, however, said he would guarantee that degree of exactness, and by designing his gravity escapement he produced a timepiece that is never five seconds out with the observatory at Greenwich, to which it signals its time each day, and on most days is dead true.

Juryman's Disqualification.

A novel question as to the qualification of a juror arose in Turner vs. State before the supreme court of Tennessee, which was a prosecution for the sale of liquor outside a city within four miles of a school. One of the veniremen stated that he was in favor of enforcing the law outside the city, but thought that saloons should be permitted to run in the city. The court held that he was not qualified as a "good and lawful man" to sit on the jury. The court said: "He believes, according to his replies, that as to the special crime charged in the indictment the law should be enforced in Shelby county outside of Memphis, but not in Memphis, which is saying, in other words, that he believes in an unequal and partial enforcement of the law, favoring one portion of the people of his county and discriminating against another portion."

Three Congenial Musicians.

Robert Schumann, the great composer, the centenary of whose birth was recently celebrated, tried to become a lawyer to please his mother, and failed after two years of wearisome study. At Heidelberg university he made the acquaintance of Wilhelm Alexis, who had already trodden the path Schumann was destined to follow—that through the law to music. And the eminent jurist whose classes he attended, A. F. J. Thibaut, was an amateur musician of high attainments and the author of a work on precisely that aspect of music to which Schumann was peculiarly sensitive, namely, purity in musical art.

WORD IMPRESSED THE JURY

Clever Use of Scientific Term Resulted in Acquittal of Lawyer's Client.

The case was one of assault and battery, and one of the witnesses was a local doctor whom the prosecuting lawyer proceeded to bully, suggesting that he was prejudiced in favor of the defendant, and had wilfully distorted his evidence in his favor.

The doctor denied this, and went on to say that the defendant was suffering from "phalacrois." The word caused a sensation in court, and, asked to define the disease, the doctor described it as "a sort of chronic disease of an inflammatory nature which affects certain cranial tissues."

Asked if it affected the mind, the doctor said he was not posing as an expert, but he had known some persons when suffering from the disease become raving maniacs, and others merely foolish. Some showed destructive and pugilistic tendencies, while many others had suffered for years and had never shown any mental abnormalities.

He refused to say anything further, and the jury promptly acquitted the accused, because, as the foreman explained, "Doc said there was something the matter with his head."

When the case was over the prosecutor sought enlightenment as to the mysterious disease, and found that "phalacrois" meant—baldness.

REBELLION OF KATHERINE

By DOROTHEA NOURSE.

Woodsville, Sept. 16.—Dearest Gertrude: If I had lived a hundred years ago, I should at this moment be locked in my room, white and drooping with despair, and in time would languish away and die of a broken heart.

I have decided to be a governess. One's life must be lived through somehow. Devotedly yours. KATH.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—My Dear Gertrude: You have no idea how your letter comforted and strengthened me. You see by the date that I am at Aunt Cora's.

Finally she announced, in a cold, bargaining tone of voice: "I think you would suit me. You have a pleasing personality and that is quite an important thing with children."

Woodsville, Oct. 10.—Dear Old Gertrude: I must write immediately to tell you the sequel. The day after writing you, I looked pale and subdued enough to teach 50 children.

If Jack had not taken me so unaware, I should have had time to collect my wandering wits and be a little child, but as it was, I simply put my arms around and clung to him, sobbing as if my heart were broken instead of perfectly sound and whole.

It has long been known that the dirty rain of every smoky region is a disastrous thing for vegetation. It now appears probable—or at least possible—that but slightly poisonous rains, such as occur over an ordinarily smoky city, may seriously injure fruits and flowers.

Jack says they are going to have the finest cottillon of the season next week and, of course, I promised to dance it with him.

Notice of Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution issued out of the Honorable District court of Armstrong County, Texas, on the 9th day of October 1913, in the case of T. K. Jones vs J. H. Altizer, et al, No. 290, to me directed and delivered, I did on the 11th day of October, 1913, at 9:45 o'clock a. m. levy upon the following described real estate, situated in Randall County, Texas, as the property of the defendant, J. H. Altizer, to wit:

All of Section No. 30, Block No. 1, Tyler Tap Ry. Co., patented to R. E. Foster. That said land is situated about three (3) miles north of Canyon City, in Randall County, Texas, consisting of about 640 acres of land, and is generally known as the "Foster place."

I will proceed under said levy and execution to sell said real estate at public auction at the court house door of Randall County, Texas, on the first Tuesday in January 1914, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. same being the 6th day of January, 1914, in satisfaction of the judgment upon which said execution was issued and which is described therein to wit:

Being a judgment originally rendered on the 8th day of October 1912, for the sum of $12,986.74, in favor of T. K. Jones vs J. H. Altizer, and W. S. Roberts, hearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, from its date on which judgment a remitter was filed by the plaintiff on the 11th day of October 1912, for the sum of $850.48, and which judgment, less said remitter, remains in full force and effect, wholly unpaid; and the proceeds of said sale will be applied to the payment of said judgment, less said remitter, together with the interest and cost of suit and the further cost of executing said writ of execution.
