

THANK CITIZENSHIP FOR RESOLUTIONS

The following are letters written in response to copies of the resolutions sent out last week as adopted by the citizens of Canyon in mass meeting:

The following communications have been received in response to the resolutions which were passed last week by the citizens of Canyon in mass meeting:

Austin Texas, June 19, 1915.
Mr. C. W. Warwick,
Canyon, Texas.

Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of your favor of the 14th, enclosing resolutions passed by your citizens. I appreciate this expression of confidence from your people, and it will be my purpose at all times to cooperate with all the State Institutions in order that their efficiency may be promoted from time to time.

Yours truly,
Jas. E. Ferguson,

Dear Sir:

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 14th enclosing resolutions passed by your mass meeting, and I congratulate your citizenship upon their method of expressing their appreciation to the proper officials.

The West Texas Normal School has made a record and has set a precedent that I trust will be of value to the present and future generation. When this building shall have been completed and equipped, it will not only be the best school building in Texas, but it will be the first instance that the State of Texas has ever completed and equipped a public building. Much credit is due to your representatives and to the Governor, also to the President of the school and to the citizens of Canyon. The members of the Board of Regents were unanimous in their opinion that this building should be completed, and we all worked earnestly to impress upon the Legislature and the Governor, the importance of a completed building.

I shall be pleased to call the Board's attention to the resolutions adopted.

Yours truly,
Sam Sparks.

June 18, 1915.

Mr. C. W. Warwick,
Secretary of Mass Meeting,
Canyon Texas.

Dear Sir:

I have your communication of June 15 containing very complimentary resolutions concerning myself, passed by the mass meeting of the citizens of Randall county. It is a very great pleasure to have this distinguished mention in a great achievement in which we all share alike. The faculty planned for large things. The State Board of Regents of the Normal Schools took up the splendid ideas and pressed them diligently and vigorously. Patriotic men in the Legislature gathered our enterprise among other educational ideas and carried it successfully to the governor. It is fortunate that the state at this time has a Governor who has much room in his head and in his heart for considering the needs of the people and for properly caring for them. The people of Randall County and our friends throughout West Texas have responded generously and powerfully in our time of need. The splendid bearing of the student body in the dark hour of the institution has a very significant force in our splendid achievement. "There is glory enough in it for us all."

I appreciate very deeply the friendship and help which has been generously afforded by the good people of Canyon.

Sincerely,
R. B. Cousins,
President.

Rogers-Thompson Wedding.

Miss Gladys Rogers and L. E. Thompson were married in Amarillo Monday night at the home of Dr. E. E. Robinson. Only the family of the bride were present at the ceremony. They returned to Canyon that night and will visit here for some time before making arrangements for their future home.

Miss Rogers is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rogers and is well known in this county where she has lived since childhood. She is an accomplished young lady with a charm in personality which has won for her a large circle of friends. She is a graduate of both the high school and the Normal and during the past year was an efficient teacher in the Washburn schools. Mr. Thompson lived for a number of years in this city while his uncle, J. L. Redus, was superintendent of the public schools. He is an energetic young man and by his devotion to truth and upright living has gained the friendship and esteem of all with whom he has associated. He graduated from the university of Arkansas two weeks ago.

The many friends of the young couple are extending congratulations.

Knight-Hicks Wedding.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Knight, Miss Drusilla Knight and Wm Bracey Hicks, of Clarendon were united in marriage, at 6 p. m. June 17. Rev. James T. Hicks, father of the groom officiating. Miss Ruth played the wedding march.

The bride is a beautiful and accomplished young lady, who has been reared and educated in our little city, graduating from the Normal at eighteen years of age. She has also taught school for the past two years with much success.

The groom is the eldest son of Rev. and Mrs. James T. Hicks, Presiding Elder of the Clarendon District. He is a graduate of Seth Ward School at Plainview, also of Clarendon College. He has not yet fully decided what his life work shall be.

Only relatives and a few old friends were present at the marriage, but one and all unite in wishing these fine young people a very happy voyage upon the sea of matrimony, and at last when their journey is ended may they safely land upon the heavenly shore.

Keiser Cattle Break All Records

C. O. Keiser had four cars of fat steers on the Kansas City market Monday and four Tuesday which broke all records for Texas cattle on that market. On Monday 24 steers averaged 1314 and sold at $9.25 per hundred, while 46 averaged 1405 and sold at $9.10. On Tuesday 34 averaged 1358 and sold at $9.25, with 38 averaging 1255 and selling at $9.15

This makes four distinctive records Mr. Keiser has registered with his cattle since October, 1912, when he broke the world's record with range Hereford heifers on the Kansas City market. In June, 1913, he had on that market three car loads of baby beef which sold at $9.00, this price being the highest ever paid for Texas cattle on that market. It remained the record price until Monday when the first two cars were sold, both of which excelled the old price, and established a new record for Texas cattle 25 cents above the previous record made by Mr. Keiser. The other record Mr. Keiser has made was in the sale of 100 range cows two weeks ago at $125 per head, being the highest price ever paid in the southwest. The cattle which establishes the new record were not put into the feed lot until March of this year. They were fed exclusively upon grains and hay raised in Randall county, which again establishes the highly nutritive values of Panhandle feed crops.

Record On Texas Cattle

From Monday's Kansas City Drivers Telegram:

New honors were accorded Texas on the Kansas City market Monday when a shipment of four loads of steers from C. O. Keiser of Canyon, in the Panhandle district, sold at $9.25 and $9.10, the highest prices ever paid here for Lone Star state cattle. The sale, in fact, establishes a new record for Texas-fed cattle on any open market in the Middle West. The Keiser shipment consisted of 70 head of Hereford steers between 2 and 3 years old, mostly 2 year-olds. Twenty-four head averaging 1,314 lbs. sold at $9.25. Eighteen head averaging 1,346 and 28 head averaging 1,444 lbs. brought $9.10. The $9.25 bunch averaged $121.54 a head.

The cattle were fed kafir corn and sorghum silage, ground kafir corn and milo maize and kafir corn fodder. In addition, they received two lbs each of cottonseed meal a day the last two weeks of the feeding period of about 90 days. They were on dry feed exclusively during the last two weeks of the feeding period, Mr. Keiser doing this partly because of a desire to have them in excellent condition for shipping. The cattle were placed on full feed March 20.

On June 18, 1915, just two years ago, Mr. Keiser made a record on the Kansas City market when he sold a consignment of 965 pound long yearling steers at $9. He has been following the feeding business in the Panhandle district for four years, having settled in that district after moving from Iowa. Mr. Keiser produces kafir corn, milo maize, feterita, sorghum and other drought resistant on his farms around Canyon. He also breeds cattle, owning a herd of registered Herefords. His cattle holdings include 4,000 head. Recently he sold a string of 100 3-year-old range cows to a Texas buyer at $125 a head.

Mr. Keiser started to market with eight loads of cattle, but stopped the others at Emporia for feed and rest. These will be marketed here tomorrow.

Tuesday's Sale.

From Drivers Telegram:
C. O. Keiser of Canyon, Texas, sold today 2 carloads of 1,358 pound steers at $9.25, also two carloads averaging 1,255 lbs, that brought $9.15. Yesterday Mr. Keiser marketed the same number of steers, 2 carloads of which brought $9.25 and 2 loads sold at $9.10. These are record prices on fed cattle from that state.

Texas Steers Hit Record.

From Kansas City Star:
Texas, which less than a decade ago was considered only a breeding and grazing section, is showing great advancement in beef making and now capable of being the greatest maker of prime beef in the United States. Today prime beef steers from that state sold in Kansas City at $9.10 and $9.25, or as high as the choicest native steers offered on the market. In quality, finish and blood they were equal of the best in the corn belt, and were the result of years of upbreeding from the native cattle.

These steers came from the ranch of C. O. Keiser, Canyon. Twenty-four steers averaged 1,250 pounds, and brought $9.25, and forty-six steers averaged 1,350 pounds and brought $9.10. These are the highest prices ever paid for Texas fed cattle on the local market.

Foster-Prichard Wedding.

Miss Tommie Emma Foster and Ewing L. Prichard were married Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. J. W. Mayne. They left immediately for a trip to the exposition at San Francisco where they will spend two weeks.

Both of these young people are well known in Canyon having made their home here for years. Miss Tommie has been saleslady in a number of the business houses and is a very accomplished young lady. Mr. Prichard became freight agent of the Santa Fe at this station five years ago and has been eminently successful in his work.

Redfearn-Johnson Wedding.

Miss Sue Redfearn and John Johnson of Plainview were married Sunday at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. Fronabarger. Miss Redfearn has been clerking in the Leader for the past few months. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rich Redfearn of Plainview and came here during the past year. Mr. Johnson is a salesman in the Donohue Hardware Co. at Plainview.

The annual meeting of the board of regents which was postponed from May 10 has been called for next Wednesday at Austin. Pres. Cousins will leave the first of next week in order to meet with the board.

Besides the annual business, consisting of reports from the four normal presidents and the election of the faculty for each school, the board will investigate the plans of the architect for the heating plant. NEAR DEATH BY SMOTHERING

Est Husband, With Aid of Cardui, Effects Her Deliverance.

Draper, N. C.—Mrs. Helen Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death.

Medicines patched me up for awhile but then I would get worse again. Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, so he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken.

I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefited by its use. There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles."

For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings and building weak women up to health and strength. If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It should surely help you, as it has a million others.

Get a bottle of Cardui to-day.

D. 1915, the same being the 30th day of August A. D. 1915, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 30th day of March A. D. 1915 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 784, wherein C. O. Keiser of said Randall county is Plaintiff, and W. G. Mathieu, Arthur Ainsworth and J. P. Lomax, all alleged by plaintiff to be non-residents of Texas, are Defendants, and said petition alleging cause of action in TWO COUNTS which are in substance as follows, to-wit:

FIRST COUNT That on or about January 1st 1914, plaintiff was lawfully seized and possessed of the following described tract of land in Randall county, Texas, claiming the same in fee simple, to-wit: The west half of section No. 67, Block K-14, Certificate No. 279, T. T. R. R. Co., grantee, and containing 320 acres, more or less; that on the day and year aforesaid the defendants unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom, and unlawfully withholds from him the possession thereof to his damage Four thousand dollars; that the reasonable annual rental value of said land and premises is $100.00. That defendants are asserting some claim to said land under deeds or instruments in writing to be found of record in Vol. 16 on page 575; in Vol. 22 on page 81 and in Vol. 23, page 360. Deed records of said Randall county, which said deeds are alleged to be a cloud on plaintiff's title. Under this count plaintiff prays judgment for the title and possession of said land, free and clear of all rights and claims of said defendants, or either of them, for cancellation of said deeds and removal of cloud; that writ of restitution issue, for his damages and for rents, for costs and general and special relief.

SECOND COUNT Plaintiff alleges that about the 11th day of July, A. Mathieu, the west one half of Survey No. 67 Block K-14, Certificate No. 279, T. T. R. R. Co., land, containing 320 acres more or less, situated in Randall county Texas, and that as part consideration therefor said W. G. Mathieu executed and delivered to plaintiff his two certain Vendor Lien notes, each for the principal sum of Two thousand dollars, payable to order of plaintiff and due one of said notes "on or before 8th 1911, and the other note "on or before five years" after its date of making, December 8th 1909, both notes bearing interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from December 8th 1908, said interest payable annually; said notes also provide for seven per cent interest on all past due interest and for ten per cent additional as attorney's fees if placed in hands of an attorney for collection or collected by suit. That about April 14, 1911, said W. G. Mathieu, by his deed which is of record in Vol. 22, page 81, deed records of said Randall county, conveyed said land to defendant Arthur Ainsworth, he said Arthur Ainsworth assuming the payment of said two notes, as part consideration. thur Ainsworth, by his deed which is of record in Vol. 23, page 360, Deed records of said Randall county, conveyed said land, the west half of said survey No. 67, to the defendant, J. P. Lomax, subject to payment of and lien of said notes.

Plaintiff avers in his petition that by the execution and delivery to him of said two notes and said deeds, each and all of them expressing and acknowledging his lien upon said land for the payment of said notes, that defendant W. G. Mathieu and those holding under him, said defendants Ainsworth and Lomax, became bound to plaintiff and promised to pay him the amount of said notes that he, plaintiff is the owner, of said notes; that said notes are past due and unpaid, except for certain interest payments shown on the reverse side of each note; that he retained an express lien on said land to secure the payment of said notes; that defendants, each and all of them, tho' often requested, have failed and refused to pay said notes to plaintiff's damage the principal interest interest on interest and his attorney fees which at date of filing his petition amounted to about Four thousand dollars.

Plaintiff alleges that he has placed said notes in the hands of an attorney and has instructed him to bring this suit and has contracted to pay him therefore $100.00. Plaintiff prays for judgment for amount of said notes, interest, interest on interest and for his attorney fees; for the establishment of his Vendor's Lien on said land as against each and all said defendants; for the foreclosure of his lien on said land; for an order of sale and writ of possession, and for special and general relief, in law and in equity.

The MAID of the FOREST A Romance of St. Clair's Defeat By RANDALL PARRISH ILLUSTRATED by D. J. LAVIN

COPYRIGHT A. C. McCLURG & CO., 1915

We made a detour to the right, plunging straight forward into the unbroken woods. Brady led at a fast gait, his trained iron muscles tireless, while I urged the breathless soldier to new exertions, frightening him by constant reference to the raiders so close at hand. The perspiration rolled down his face, yet he kept close at Brady's heels, falling flat on the ground during our brief halts, but determined not to be left behind. There was certainly good stuff in the fellow, although he swore stiffly, and had a tread like an elephant. Just before dark, the forest about us already in gloom, we suddenly emerged from out the shadow of great trees, and stood on the shore of a lake girded with woods. A few hundred feet from where we stood a small rocky island, dense with trees, rose above the mirrored surface. After one swift glance about the line of shore Brady's eyes rested on this haven, as though questioning its feasibility as a night camp. There was a yellow tinge to the intervening water, suggestive of shallowness, and I spoke first.

"It will be dark in a few minutes more; isn't that a sand-ridge leading out yonder?"

"It looks so to me," he replied quietly, "but the only sure way to tell is to test the passage. In my judgment we better get out there if we can, for there's no knowin' where these injuns may be."

He led the way, and we followed in single file, our packs and rifles held high overhead. The water deepened until it reached Schultz's armpits, but there was no perceptible current, and the sand underfoot was firm as rock. Deep purple shadows seemed to shut us in, as we clambered up the steep bank of the island, our clothes dripping. Brady with outstretched hand helped me to climb, clinging with his other to a sapling. Then he pointed across the darkened surface toward the lower end of the lake. In the distance there was the red glow of a fire, barely visible.

The island was wider than I had supposed, and must have contained fully five acres, densely wooded, with no sign of a trail anywhere. Apparently we were the first explorers to penetrate its thickets. Suddenly we came to the edge of a small opening, sloping down like a saucer, grass covered and treeless, open to the sky, but with a dark irregular something at its center. So shapeless was this black blotch that I took it at first to be a clump of brush, but the scout gripped my arm.

"Hayward! there's a log house!" he whispered, pointing. "Do you see? Keep the Dutchman back."

I dropped to my knees, and studied the dim outline, which the night rendered so indistinct. Little by little it assumed more definite shape—a one-story log hut, with an extension at the rear, and an outside chimney forking up beside the roof. It was a gloomy looking place, with no glimmer of light showing anywhere.

"What do you make of it?" asked Brady in a whisper, as though doubting his own eyes.

"It's a house, all right," I answered. "Some French hunter's shack."

He shook his head negatively. "They don't build like that. It beats me, but whoever built that house put it up to live in. Howsoever I don't see no sign o' anybody thar now, an' I'm goin' ter find out what the shebang looks like. Dutchy, you stay yere, an' watch these things, while the two o' us scouts 'round a bit."

Stooping low, so as not to be so easily perceived in the darkness, the two of us, grasping our rifles in readiness, stole across the open space toward the house. There was no sign of life so far as could be seen or heard, yet if the place was deserted it could not have been for long, as there were no appearances of decay or abandonment of the premises. The log walls were firm, the clay between resisting the pressure of our fingers in an attempt to dislodge it, and the only door noticed was tightly closed. We hesitated to open this, uncertain what mystery might await us within, and listening anxiously for any sound. The stillness was so profound as to be painful, and, whispering to me to stand back, with rifle poised Brady silently lifted the stiff wooden latch. The door slid back in grooves, the sound of movement barely perceptible, and we stared into the black interior, seeing nothing except a little section of dirt floor, dimly revealed by the stars overhead.

"We'll feel it out, boy," muttered the scout, his hand gripping my arm. "Nobody at home, I reckon, but it won't do to risk a light. You take that side, an' I'll take this, an' see what we find." I moved forward slowly, foot by foot, feeling blindly with one hand, the other grasping my rifle. I came to a rude bench, home-made without nails, touched a small table with crossed legs, holding nothing but an empty pewter bowl, felt the shaggy skin of some animal fastened against the log wall, and then a few articles of worn clothing dangling from wooden pins. These were rough garments, made of skins, with a single coarse shirt. Beyond them my fingers came in contact with the latch of a door. As I touched this the menacing growl of some animal broke the intense stillness. I stepped back, startled, unnerved, and in my recoil, came into contact with a man. A hand like iron gripped me, but it was Brady's voice that spoke: "From the other room," he said shortly, "a dog."

"A dog! Then why hasn't he barked?"

"Because he is not that kind, I reckon; a big brute from his growl! Did you find anything?" I told him briefly.

"Fireplace on my side, w' chairs and an ax in the corner," he added shortly. "Nobody home but the dog, I reckon, but we will have to fight it out with him, before we take possession. Stand where you are until I feel out the door. Leather hinges, and opens this way. Here, Hayward, take hold of the latch; we'll have to brain the brute. Don't open until I say so, and then only about a foot. Brace yourself to hold it firm, and keep your gun ready; I've got the ax."

I took my position, but with heart beating rapidly, and waited. The dog, as though realizing danger, flung himself with full force against the door, and gave one deep bark of savage ferocity. Brady touched my hand, locating the opening. Then there was an instant of silence.

"Now!" he said.

I lifted the wooden latch, gripping with both hands, my shoulders and feet braced. There was a fierce leap of the brute, so sudden as to cause me to give back, the thud of descending ax, a howl of pain and rage, the ugly snap of jaws. Coarse hair swept my hands; there was another blow, the sound of a falling body; then the heave of the ax struck my foot. Back and forth on the dirt floor man and brute struggled, crashing into the table, and overturning it. Brady uttered one oath; then the dog snarled, and lay still, while I stood with the ax poised, unable to tell which was which in the darkness. Something moved, and I took a step forward.

"Brady!" "All right," he said breathlessly. "I had to knife the brute—he was as big as a calf, and—and he got my shoulder. Did you find a window on your side?"

"No." "There was none on mine. We'll have to risk a light, I reckon, for I'm bleedin' considerable. Try the fire-place yonder."

I felt my way along the wall, discovered some tinder, and, with flint and steel from my pocket, coaxed a blaze. There were a few pieces of wood piled up on the hearth, and a moment later, the curling red flames revealed the entire interior. Brady reeled against the bench, the sleeve of his blouse ripped into shreds, blood dripping from his fingers, and sinking into the earth floor. A few feet away, a great mass of shaggy hair, lay the dog in a heap, his lips still drawn back in a snarl, revealing the cruel white teeth, the shaft of a knife protruding from the throat. He was a massive animal, terrifying to look upon even in death. Yet I barely glanced that way, assured that he was dead, and all my ghtly centered on Brady, his face ghastly under the brown tan. There was a water bucket half filled on a low bench, and I tore down the shirt from the peg, and swabbed out the wound. It was a jagged, ugly gash, the print of each tooth

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

Many people suffer the tortures of lame muscles and stiffened joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system. To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood-maker, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and rebuild your strength. Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief. Refuse the alcoholic substitutes.

Harvest is on in Randall county. On practically every farm there is a great demand for harvest hands. Binders and headers are making rapid progress all over the county. The crops this year are much better than last, with a higher grade of grain and the market is much better than the opening price of last season. The farmers of Randall county have no cause to worry over politics or the war in Europe.

"Ex Presidents arraigned in Bryan speech" says a headline. What about the ex-perpetual-candidates?

Frank R. Jameson of the Canadian Record was hauled into police court the other day in his home town and forced to pay a fine for driving his car without red tail lights. Frank yelled like the dickens about it—some dozen other prominent men suffered the same penalty. What we want to know is what a country newspaper man is doing with auto.

Marvin Jones of Amarillo has announced his purpose to run for congress from this district. This makes at least three men in the race against Stephens—which means the Panhandle will continue to have the same representative.

Mrs. Lucy E. Yoakum, of 2322 Clinton Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas, says:
"I was in such bad health and so dependent at times that I couldn't do my work. Tried everything I could hear of. Doctors treated me but I only got relief for a short time until I tried Dr. Pierce's wonderful medicine. Have been in much better health since using 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I weighed 107 at that time now I am, well and hearty and weigh 130 pounds."

A. & M. COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY DIVORCEMENT.

PERTINENT REASONS WHY RESOLUTION 34 SHOULD BE ADOPTED AT THE ELECTION JULY 24TH.

All Parties and Industrial Organizations Favor the Separation of the A. & M. College and the University.

Every political party and the Farmers' Congress, the Farmers' Union, Farmers' Institutes, and Bankers' Convention have demanded the divorce of the A. & M. College from the University. On the 24th of July that question for the first time will be before the voters of Texas. The resolution is known as House Joint Resolution No. 34. Below will be seen these strong demands, and we ask a careful reading of the same. Platform Demands.

El Paso Platform—August 11, 1914.
"We demand that the differences between the A. & M. College and the University of Texas be fairly, equitably, carefully and cautiously adjusted, not forgetting that both these great institutions are the property of the State and the source of gratification and pride of all the people."

San Antonio Platform—1912.
"We further favor that the Legislature propose and submit an amendment to Section 11, Article 16, of the Constitution, providing for the complete divorce of the University and the Agricultural and Mechanical College and remove the inhibition against making appropriations out of the general revenue for the erection of buildings for the University, and that a just and equitable division of the permanent University fund be made as between the University and the A. & M. College."

Galveston Platform—Adopted August 10, 1910—Paragraph 7.
"Believing that an educated citizenship is the best assurance of good government, we remind the Legislature that our school system has not kept pace with the educational progress of the times, but has suffered in organization and in maintenance. We demand, therefore, . . . adequate provision for the upbuilding of the University, the A. & M. College, the Normal Schools and other educational institutions controlled by the State. . . . Provision should be made for . . . the separation of the A. & M. College from the State University. Provision for a liberal and independent income for the State institutions of higher learning should be made."

Republican Platform—Waco, Texas, August 11, 1914.

"The Republican party favors laws enabling Texas to keep pace with other States in educational progress becoming the great State of Texas, and for the separation and divorce of the A. & M. College from the University of Texas."

Progressive Platform—San Antonio, Texas, August 11, 1914.

"We favor the separation of the University of Texas and the A. & M. College, and to extend to each the aid necessary to carry out their respective phases in the educational life of Texas."

Resolutions of Farmers' Union—Fort Worth, August 7, 1914.

"We believe that the best interest of the State demands that the A. & M. College be separated from the University of Texas, and constituted an independent college, and that the two institutions be given liberal support by the State. We, therefore, recommend that the Legislature propose and submit to the people a constitutional amendment providing for the complete divorce of the University of Texas and the A. & M. College, and for the removal of the inhibition against making appropriations out of the general revenue for the erection of buildings for the University and the A. & M. College."

Speaking of the above resolution, Hon. W. A. Bowen, editor of Farm and Fireside, says: "There have been similar resolutions passed at nearly all of our State meetings for the past several years."

Texas Bankers' Association—Waco, Texas, May 20, 1915.

"Resolved, That the Texas Bankers' Association earnestly commends to the careful and favorable consideration of the voters of the State, the proposed amendment to the Constitution known as Resolution 34, which provides for a broad and liberal support for all the State institutions of higher education."

Farmers' Congress—August, 1914.

"We again declare ourselves in favor of a legal separation of the A. & M. College from the University of Texas and an equal division of the State's endowment provided by our forefathers for the support of higher education."

Farmers' Congress Resolutions, 1912.
"Asserting, with Thomas Jefferson, that 'A people who mean to be their own governors must arm themselves with the power that knowledge gives,' we demand liberal and independent incomes for the State Normals, College of Industrial Arts, Agricultural and Mechanical College and the State University, and the separation of the Agricultural and Mechanical College from the State University."

Farmers' Congress Resolutions, 1913.
"We therefore beg to remind the dominant political party in power in this State that on two previous occasions the party platform has positively demanded that the Legislature shall submit to the people of this State a constitutional amendment providing for an absolute divorce of the Agricultural and Mechanical College in Brazos County from the State University in Austin."

State Farmers' Institute—College Station, August 1, 1912.

"We believe that the Thirty-fourth Legislature should submit an amendment to the State Constitution in keeping with the demands of the last two Democratic platforms providing for the complete separation of the A. & M. College from the University of Texas, and for proper division of the permanent University funds."

Every candidate for Governor since 1910 has announced in favor of the complete separation of these two schools.

A. & M. COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY DIVORCEMENT.

Pertinent Reasons Why Resolution 34 Should be Adopted at the Election on July 24th.

Under the terms of House joint resolution No. 34, better known as the Sackett resolution, a part of the permanent university fund is to be transferred to the A. & M. College. It has been so long since the college has shared in the proceeds of this fund that some people have received the impression that it has no interest in that fund. What are the facts?

1. Section 11 of article 7 of the constitution sets aside certain lands for "the University of Texas" and creates the permanent university fund. Section 13 makes the A. & M. College a branch of the university. It follows that the college has an equity in the permanent university fund.

2. Again, by section 15 an additional grant of one million acres is made for "the University of Texas," and this land is specifically appropriated for "the endowment, maintenance and support of said university and its branches." The same conclusion follows.

3. What conclusion is to be drawn from contemporaneous construction? Let us see. The Legislature has evidently taken the view that the permanent university fund was intended in part for the A. & M. College. Out of this fund the following amounts have been appropriated to the college:

By the Sixteenth Legislature (1879)	$15,000
By the Seventeenth Legislature (1881)	15,000
By the Eighteenth Legislature (1883)	10,000
By the Nineteenth Legislature (1885)	10,000
By the Twentieth Legislature (1887)	10,000

The constitution was adopted in 1876; the A. & M. College was opened in 1876; the university was opened in 1883. There can be no doubt as to the belief of the public men of that time. The conclusion is inevitable: The Agricultural and Mechanical College has an equity in the permanent university fund.

The Sackett resolution recognizes this equity and proposes an apportionment which was considered just and fair by the Thirty-fourth Legislature. The proposed amendment ought to be adopted.

LET THEM BE DIVORCED.

The Corsicana Sun thus remarks on a pending amendment to the State Constitution:

"The divorce of the A. & M. College and the State University is a question that the people of the State are being called upon to decide. It is being urged by the friends and supporters of divorce that this is 'strictly an educational measure, wholly free from any taint of commercialism and should therefore be properly presented to the voters.' To this end an executive committee with R. T. Milner, manager, has been organized for the purpose of convincing the people that it is to their interest as it is to the cause of education to separate these two great educational institutions. It is a time when the people should take that interest that will enable them to vote with thorough knowledge and perfect understanding of what they think is best."

We rather think that the two schools should be granted a divorce. After that, however, each should be given its own field of work without trespass. The A. & M. College should be that and nothing more, and the U. of T. should touch agriculture and mechanics only theoretically. The State Department of Agriculture should be abolished and its duties given to A. & M. As things now stand, the machinery is too complicated, being added cost at the expense of efficiency.

Sticking Pins in Nutmegs

That is the expert's way of telling the good ones. The natural oil in the nutmeg is what gives it its flavoring qualities—the more oil there is the greater the nutmeg's value for flavoring.

Stick a pin in a nutmeg that is full of this oil and oil will ooze out of the pin hole when the pin is withdrawn—little or no oil will follow the pin if the nutmeg is a poor one. So you see wherein two tins of perfectly pure nutmeg may differ widely in flavoring value—the one kind being ground from oily nutmegs and the other from nutmegs that could not pass the pin sticking test.

You must be certain that besides being pure the ground nutmeg you buy is city nutmeg. Looks tell it in a way—the oily kind is a smooth, rich brown—the other kind looks more grainy and is speckled with black woody particles. Your best assurance is to buy a brand that is packed by a company of integrity and reputation—and so packed that none of the flavor is lost through evaporation. Every bit of White Swan Ground Nutmeg is made from nutmegs that have, in the highest degree, passed the pin-sticking test—that are full of the oil that flavors. That's why White Swan Nutmeg costs a little more but, because it takes so little to give a rich flavor, is so economical to use.

Your grocer sells and recommends White Swan Nutmeg—and other White Swan Goods—ask him.

BETTER CONSTRUCTION AT LOWER COST

STUDY THESE CUTS

Why Interlocking Tile is so Widely Used
For many years the public—you—has needed a building material that would be better than anything heretofore in use, and at the same time be within the reach of all in cost. Interlocking Tile is being used from New England to the Pacific Slope, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, because it is filling this demand. In Texas every section is using this material for every class of building, it being more especially adapted to our climate than any other. Nothing can compare with a material that builds fireproof walls that are cooler in summer, warmer in winter, stronger and more rigid, and at the same time cheaper than brick. Interlocking Tile does this. Just why these apparently impossible, "too-good-to-be-true" things are so is fully explained in our literature, government reports, etc. Write for this data and information now, even if you do not intend to build until later. You will be well repaid.

DEFY COLD IN MANY WAYS

Men Compelled to Submit to Exposure Have Devised a Number of Ingenious Methods.

Rural mail carriers need never suffer from winter rigors or cold days generally if they follow the example of Homer Slider of Oldtown, Md. Slider makes his daily trip in a buggy mounted on runners in winter, with a complete little stove inside, a small pipe carrying the smoke and gas out at the rear. A bushel of coal carries him through one rural delivery trip nicely. The stove is kept going away into spring on stormy or chilly days.

But this contrivance has been paralleled in the past. According to a Dakota story a tenderfoot inventor sojourning in that region several years ago had a saddle especially made with an asbestos lining. In the pockets of the saddle he was accustomed to place hot bricks when starting on long horseback journeys. The cowboys laughed a great deal at him, asking what was the benefit of toasting at the calves and freezing at the throat. But there were those who would have tried it had the innovation been easily attached.

There is a story of a Minneapolis policeman who puttered a great deal with electricity in his days off, and who was said to have arranged an electric heater in the shape of a belt or strap along the tail of his coat. Booters declared that he had a way of throwing a piece of wire over an electric wire in the street and attaching it for a minute to his patent belt and patent transformer.

This he sought at a police trial, admitting, however, that he had been working on a battery heater that could be carried in the coat and produce a very comfortable amount of warmth. Part of his scheme was to construct a

A Friend Of the Family!

By MOSS.

All things being equal, the newspaper that goes into the home and is read there is the most valuable advertising medium.

A paper like this in a community like this is really one of the best advertising mediums in the country. It goes into the home and is thoroughly read there.

It's a family newspaper. Our merchants can begin to sell their goods at the fireside. They can finish the sales in the stores.

This newspaper acts as a salesman in the home.

Mrs. Crowley Buried in Iowa.

The News was mistaken in the statement of last week that Mrs. L. C. Crowley was to be buried in the Canyon cemetery. When arrangements had been perfected for the funeral here, word was received that her mother, Mrs. E. J. Avery, and her sister, Mrs. Bessie Powell, were on the way here and wished to take the remains to Iowa. They arrived Thursday morning and that afternoon together with Mr. Crowley left for Montour, Iowa, where the funeral was held Saturday afternoon.

Sunday Hot Day.

Sunday was the hottest day the Panhandle has had for several years, the thermometer registering 103. Since that time the weather has been fine.

The farmers are busily cutting the biggest wheat crop the Panhandle has had for a number of years.

The wheat crop in some vicinities will not make as much as anticipated a month ago as the rains have been locally since that time, but there is no section in this county that will not make a better wheat crop than last year and the quality is better than usual. The price of wheat took a tumble last week but has gained some and the farmers believe it will open at harvest time near a dollar.

Mrs. J. R. Cullum entertained the Merry Maids and Matron club Thursday afternoon. The afternoon was spent at the usual game of 42. The house was decorated with roses. Refreshments were served of ice cream and cake. The guests of the club were Mesdames Ealey, Corrol, Goggans, Hanna and Misses Ingham, Robinson, McAfee.

The 19th of June, 1915, will be always a day of the pleasantest associations to Mrs. S. R. Griffin. That day being her 6th wedding anniversary she was the recipient of a charming surprise from several of her friends in the form of a set of hand painted china. A delightful feature of the occasion was the unannounced entertainment that the ladies had provided. Those present were Mesdames Keiser, Cullum, Hanna, Pipkin, Holland, Ingham, Morrel, Ackley, Morelock and Luke.

HIGHER THAN FERRIS WHEEL

Marvelous Aeroscope at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, Raises Amazed Visitors 264 Feet

FOR the sector of amusement there is opportunity a-plenty in the great mechanical achievement, the aeroscope, on the Zone, Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco. The aeroscope is built on the order of a giant crane of a novel and intricate design, with a seating capacity of 100 and standing room for twenty more. The car is perfectly balanced, and perfect safety and a jargon ride of ten minutes are assured to passengers who enjoy this trip of 264 feet into the clouds. This is four feet higher than the Ferris wheel. Two motors control the ascent and descent in conjunction with the counterbalance of this huge car, and when it reaches its extreme height it begins to swing slowly around on the series of wheels at its base, giving the passenger a view of the surrounding country from every point.
