FERGUSON STATES A. & M. LOCATION PLAN

GOVERNOR EXPLAINS HOW PROPOSITION SHOULD BE MADE

Specifies Land Must be Offered at low Price and Advantages to be Derived From Institution

Austin, Texas, March 29.—Governor James E. Ferguson, as chairman of the commission to locate the West Texas A. & M. College, today issued the following rules pertaining to the location of the college:

The Governor, Commissioner of Agriculture, Lieutenant Governor, Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Speaker of the House of Representatives are designated by the recent act of the Legislature as a commission to locate said West Texas A. & M. College, west of the ninety-eighth meridian and north of the twenty-ninth parallel.

Said commission has ordered that all cities, towns or communities desiring to have said West Texas A. & M. College located in their midst shall forward, in writing, their propositions to the chairman of the commission at Austin, Texas, not later than June 1, 1917. Said proposition shall contain a complete description of the 2,000 acres of land offered, accompanied with five copies of a comprehensive map of said 2,000 acres of land, showing:

Its exact location.

The price at which it is offered.

A written contract from the owners agreeing to convey within ninety days after inspection by said commission said land under the terms of said act, upon demand of the proper authorities.

The location of the nearest railroad to said 2,000 acres of land. The commission suggests that a complete abstract of title be prepared and forwarded with each proposition, so that there will be no delay in accepting any of the propositions offered.

While the act provides $50,000 for the purchase of a site, the commission desires it distinctly understood that it will look with favor on land offered at a very low price. As this school soon will bring to any town where it is located an annual expenditure of approximately $500,000, the commission is of the opinion that the towns and communities interested in the location should see that the land is offered to the State at a very low price.

PEACE!

SOUTHERN CULVER IN WEST TEXAS SUGGESTS W. A. MILLER

Amarillo Man Would Have new A. & M. College Turned into Great Cavalry School

Worth Record:

Recommence at Clarendon on the east and extending westward to the New Mexico boundary line and beginning on the south just above the Texas & Pacific railroad and extending north to the Oklahoma boundary there lies what is said to be the greatest body of level productive land in the world.

the past score of years. Nearly a quarter of a million people have come to this plateau to add to the wealth and fame of the great staked plains of Texas. It is capable of supporting 5,000,000 people.

A Democratic legislature two months ago appropriated half million dollars to be spent in the beginning of a branch of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College. A Democratic governor signed the bill which provided that this new institution shall be established west of the ninetieth parallel and north of the twenty-ninth meridian.

Fringing the llano estacado on the south is a strip of jagged rocks which mark the beginning of the plains country. Plainsman call this line of silent sentinels "the cap rock." Northward from the "cap rocks" lie the staked plains; southward lies a vast stretch of rolling country rich with

ANURIC!
The Newest Discovery in Chemistry.

This is a recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, who is head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Dr. Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that there is no other eliminator of uric acid that can be compared to it. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation—as backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, lumbago, it's simply wonderful how surely "Anuric" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism in the joints, in gravel and gout, and invariably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear.

Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a 50-cent package of "Anuric," which is 37 times more potent than lithia to eradicate uric acid, or even write Dr. Pierce for a large trial package (10c).

cattle and agricultural products. When the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college location board has concluded its itinerary of West Texas it will award the half million dollar institution to some vity above the "cap rocks". The new West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college will become the West Point of the Southward and the Culver of the South. It will become the greatest feeding and breeding station in the world and will furnish to the United States army mounts for the cavalry and will train expert cavalrymen. West Texas will become famous in the training of cavalry horses as Kentucky has become noted in the world as the breeding state of the finest horses on the turf. It will produce a cross-breed between the Arabian horse and the Texas cow pony which will be a marvel of endurance.

All of this is according to William A. Miller. He is a member of the board of directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and one of the best known ranchmen in West Texas. He lives in Amarillo and he hopes to see that city become the home of the new institution. He was in Fort Worth Monday and discussed plans he has in mind for the upbuilding of the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college.

In his endeavor to further his plans to make of the new Agricultural and Mechanical a military and cavalry school of rank equal to any in the United States, Miller has spent months. He obtained from the late General Fredrick Funston that leader's enthusiastic approval. He has interested other army officers and cavalry officers are enthusiastic. Miller went to Washington and laid his plans before high officials there and declares at the proper time that men high in the service will aid Texas in building up a school in West Texas equal to Culver as a training place for cavalrymen and cavalry steeds.

There is not in the United States a cavalry school which is supported by a land grant endowment. Infantry schools are numerous and the lack of material for the building of an infantry army is not as appalling as the lack of cavalry trained men and army trained horses. When Pershing first started to cross into the alkali deserts of Mexico the lack of horses with endurance to stand the strain was one of the menaces to the success of the expedition.

Panhandle Pony Sturdy

Endurance is the supreme test of cavalry horses. The plains country produces one of the sturdiest breeds of horses in the world. The endurance of the Panhandle pony is equal to that of the Arabian horse. The cow-pony is indigenous to the Plains and nowhere are found conditions so conducive to the breeding of horses as in this country.

The Arabian horse has remarkable intelligence. It is all muscle and camel-like in endurance. Mares have been known to give foal to a colt while on desert drives and continue the journey

Only in an altitude 3,000 feet or over the sea-level can horses be found with healthy livers and spotless lungs. Extensive experiments conducted by Colonel Chaires Goodnight and Miller prove that horses bred and raised on the plains have lungs without a blotch. According to Miller the plains cow-pony never suffer with the heaves.

Feterita, milo maize, sweet sorghum and kaffir corn abound there. Kaffir corn, feterita and milo maza are supreme as horse feed and are superior to Indian corn. Miller declares that either of these three grains within themselves constitute a balanced ration and produce no heat.

"If the plans I have in mind are successful," he said, "we will ask the United States government to furnish us 1,000 carefully selected plains mares. The Agricultural and Mechanical college at College Station has had for years some of the finest Arabian stallions in the world. These will be crossed with the western plains cow-pony. We can breed either to size or color and probably will breed to both. Experiments which already have been made produce from the cross-breed a horse of splendid appearance, around fifteen hands high and weighing 1,000 pounds. For a cavalry horse the cross-breed will be superb.

"After we have raised this new breed in the Panhandle, fed them on the balanced ration grown in that territory and trained them for army purposes they will prove invaluable to the American army. A healthier horse would be impossible. They could withstand the torrid ray of an alkali desert or the frigid blasts of an Alaskan outpost."

General Frederick Funston was authority for the statement that one of the serious defects of the American cavalry horse is that it is too highly bred. American cavalry stables house some of the finest bred horses in the world. In maneuver or review they are proud and pretty, but it is said they cannot stand the strenuous labors of a military campaign. "General Funston was more than en-enthusiastic over the breeding station plan," declares Miller. "He volunteered to go to Washington with us to get the department's co-operation. We are certain that this can be obtained. It was his opinion that the cavalry was the weak spot in the American army, not because of lack of military genius or men of brave deeds but because the steed equipage could not withstand a gruelling campaign.

Charles M. Spradley of Collin county was author of a bill in the last legislature which would have given state aid to the breeding of fine horses. Spradley's bill was defeated because it contained provisions for the return of racing under state supervision. Many votes were cast for the bill because it did provide means for the rehabilitation of the state's stock of horses. The feeding and breeding station in connection with the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical as proposed by Miller would not only furnish the state with a new breed, the army with steeds but would lend an incentive to the breeding of horses all over the state.

Miller "we have a superb military institution. In the cadet corps are found some of the best trained cadets in the United States. Most of them are wonderful specimens of manhood and when volunteers are called to the colors the infantry trained Texans from Agricultural and Mechanical will be certain to distinguish themselves in America's service.

As director of that institution I have observed that large numbers of these young men are ignorant of horses. Some would not know on which side to approach a horse to mount him.

Increased Crop Production

"The farmers and live stock growers in this part of the Southwest never had such a golden opportunity to make money as at present," says Clarence Bell, cashier of the First National Bank of Carlsbad. Mr. Bell is familiar with conditions in this section as he has for many years been closely connected with large banking and merchandising interests.

"The present condition warrant the farmers to grow much more feed than usual and the stockmen may safely increase their herds and flocks.

"The price of all meat animals increased greatly in 1916. The average price of beef cattle per hundred pounds in 1916 was $6.48, an increase of 47 cents over 1915. Hogs averaged ed $6.31, an increase of $1.03 over 1915. Lambs averaged $8.19, an increase of $1.34 over 1915. It is safe to say that prices in 1917 will not fall below those of 1916 for finished meat animals.

"The statistics of the Agricultural Department for 1916 show only a slight increase in milch and beef cattle and a decrease in the number of hogs and sheep on January 1, 1917. The strong demand and the high prices for meats sent more than eleven million cattle to market in 1916, thirty million hogs, and fourteen million sheep; a record total for American markets. Since the first of the year there has been a heavy marketing of calves which will still further affect meat supply. This condition necessarily interest the farmers and stockmen of this part of the Southwest.

"A large increase in grain and forage production this season is a most important consideration. More feed is needed to prevent winter shrinkage, which was of no especial importance in the day of free grass and cheap cattle, but is inexcusable in these days of high prices. And more feed will also make possible the finishing of cattle, sheep, and hogs at home and thereby obtain the full value when ready for market.

"In fact 1917 may be the most prosperous season in the history of the Southwest, in case the farmers and stockmen take advantage of the high prices prevailing for the very things that are raised to the best advantage in this section. A. M. Howe.

ands of robust West Texas youths, reared on horseback on the range and trained for cavalry service. And in the cavalry training of these boys the United States would have thousands of the most durable ponies in the world familiar with army maneuvers and accustomed to army service.

"Another thing which will make the cavalry feature appealing is that a cavalry school in West Texas will give an impetus to the new institution. Youths all over West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma will rush to the feeding and breeding station. It will appeal to the romantic and will advertise Texas all over the world as Culver has advertised Indiana.

"Extension Department Agents Youngblood of the Agricultural and Mechanical college has given the plan his endorsement. So has Adjutant General Hutchings of the Texas National Guard."

The development of the cavalry horses will not detract from the institution as an agricultural school, Miller believes. He declares that the plains country offers the most wonderful possibilities as an agricultural region. Its level land is tillable and already is productive.

He also expects to see the cattle become a standard utility breed when the new school is established. He paid a splendid tribute to Colonel Goodnight who owns the largest herd of buffalo in the world and who has for years conducted experiments looking to the development of the cattle industry.

Only in the plains country can land be found upon which is bred simultaneously the steed and the hog. The eyes of the world are upon the Panhandle of Texas for the production of a large quantity of the world's meat supply and Miller believes the establishment of the largest breeding and feeding station in the world "above the cap rocks" will make Texas the wealthiest state in the American union.

Miller believes that Amarillo should be given the location of the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college. He gives unstinted praise to other Panhandle cities who are seeking the school. He insists that the cavalry school plan is the most feasible. Healthy horses can be best produced in an altitude over 3,000 feet above sea level. This altitude cannot be found in Texas except above the "cap rocks" and Miller believes that some plains city will be warded the new institution.

SUBSCRIPTION, $1.50 PER YEAR

J. L. Pope of the Ozark Trail called the News after last week's edition was published and stated that we were under the wrong impression regarding the action of Potter county in the issuance of only $50,000 in road warrants instead of calling an election for the $250,000 in bonds. Mr. Pope states that the commissioners will use the money for road, building the prescribed Ozark Trail and then issue more warrants as wanted. The issuance of warrants is a quicker way than to await the action of the voters in an election.

Champ Clark predicted the exact time that would be necessary for his election—one hour and forty minutes. Champ is some better on prophecy now than he was four years ago in the presidential nomination.

Growing Plains Tomatoes

(By Will M. Midkiff, County Agent) We often hear farmers say they can raise large tomato vines in the Panhandle country but it is often impossible to get them to fruit. This is because you allow too much vine to grow. You can control the amount and size of your tomatoes by observing a few common sense rules. First: You must have good rich soil, where tomatoes were not grown last year unless you wish to invite wilt or other disease. Second: When your plants are usually about a foot high the first fruit buds appear. If you want extra large tomatoes clip off all clusters of fruit buds but one. If you want a heavier crop leave more clusters. This will correspondingly reduce the size of your tomatoes. Third: Top the plant one joint above each fruitbud. You will note a shoot or "sucker" starting out at the joints below your fruit buds. Remove these or they will get the sap so necessary for the growth of your tomatoes. You may have to repeat this part of the operation but it will pay you well for the time spent. Let the shoot nearest the ground grow in order to produce your second crop. When this shoot puts forth its fruit buds prune it just as you did your original stalk.

With a little care and watching you can raise as many tomatoes as you want and can also control their size. Plants treated in this manner will be strong and will require no trellis for support. You will also find that by sacrificing quantity for quality you will have tomatoes much earlier than you would otherwise.

Do not neglect frequent and thorough cultivation. Keep your plot perfectly clean and the ground well stirred to conserve the moisture. Remember the tomatoes require a great deal of moisture and the presence of weeds and grass will rob plants of this much needed moisture. Allowing the ground to bake and harden will produce the same results.

The tomato plant is frequently attacked by the common potato bug or "blister bug," as it is sometimes called. You can get rid of this pest by applying a spray of arsenate of lead. In making this spray use 2 1-2 pounds, powdered arsenate of lead to 50 gallons of water. This is poisonous and should be handled with care. If cut worms attack the plants take a quart of wheat bran mash, mix with molasses and add one teaspoonful Paris Green, then put about a teaspoonful of the mixture around each plant.

Countess Dentice Del Fracco, who was Miss Georgiana Wilde of St. Louis recently received $2,000 for acting for moving pictures and immediately turned it over to the Italian Red Cross.

Sixteen years ago Mrs. Clarke W. Keeley was broken in health and in debt. Today she is worth over $100,000. all of which she has made from her 1,000 acre farm in North Dakota.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Starts your liver without making you sick and can not salivate.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous. All people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel.

Citation by Publication

The State of Texas,

To the sheriff or any constable of Randall County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon J. W. Liggett by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the County Court of Randall County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in the city of Canyon, on the 2nd Monday in April, A. D. 1917, the same being the 9th day of April A. D. 1917, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 3rd day of November A. D. 1916 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 496, wherein E. H. Lehr is plaintiff, and J. W. Liggett is Defendant, and said petition alleging that plaintiff, on or about the 12th day of January A. D. 1916, instituted suit against the defendant on a promissory note for sum of $666.66 principal and for interest and for Attorneys fees and costs, in the District Court in and for the City and County of Denver, Colorado, the number of said suit in said Court being 61453, said Court having jurisdiction of the person of the defendant, and the subject matter of said suit.

That the Defendant, by and through his Attorney, F. D. Taggart, an Attorney at Law, duly authorized to practice in all Courts of Record in the State of Colorado, and duly authorized to represent Defendant, entered his appearance in said Court and waived the issuance and service of summons, and filed a confession of judgment therein, which answer and confession was filed on January 13th 1916. That afterwards on the same day to wit: Jnury 13, 1916, when the said cause was called for trial, judgment was rendered for Plaintiff in the sum of $808.50, together with all costs amounted to the sum of $8.45.

That no part of said judgment has ever been paid. That a transcript of said judgment and proceedings, duly authenticated as is required by law in such matters, is herein filed, marked Exhibit "A" and made a part hereof. That said judgment still remains in full force and effect, is now reversed of otherwise vacated, and by reason of the premises, the defendant is justly indebted to this plaintiff in the sum of $816.95, with interest thereon from January 13th 1916, at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, and that defendant though often requested he hitherto failed and refused and still refuses to pay the same or any part thereof, to plaintiff's damage.

Plaintiff would further show to the Court that upon filing of this petition, he has applied for a writ of attachment and proposes to have it levied on certain real property in Randall County, Texas, the property of defendant, J. W. Liggett, to wit: Lots Numbered one, two, three and four, in Block Number Fifty One (51) in the original town of Canyon City, Randall County, Texas.

Plaintiff prays for judgment for the sum of $816.95 and interests and costs, and for issuance and levy of said attachment and for execution and general and special relief.

Herein Fail Not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Canyon, Tex., this the 14th day of March A. D. 1917.

T. V. Reeves, Clerk,

Gov. Ferguson Signs Redistricting Bill

Austin, Texas, March 30.—Governor Ferguson today signed several bills of State-Wide importance, among them the mothers' pension measure, congressional redistricting and free kindergarten bills.

It is the first time in fifteen years that the State will have been reapportioned into congressional districts. The two Congressmen-at-Large, Messrs McLemore and Garrett, will automatically retire from office at the end of their current terms. There will be eighteen districts, two of which now have no Congressmen residing therein. They are the El Paso and Gainesville districts.

The mothers' pension bill provides for granting of small pensions by County Commissioners' Court to indigent widowed mothers for the care of the children. Such mothers must have resided in Texas five years preceding the pension application and two years in the county in which she applies. The pension for one child shall not exceed $12 per month; $18 for two children and $4 per month for each additional charge, no child to be over 16 years of age. The pensions are to be allowed only to prevent the children from becoming public charges and if they are not properly clothed and fed action will be taken. There is no appeal from a refusal by the Commissioners to award pensions.

The Crop Outlook

(From Southwestern Plainsman)

Notwithstanding the fact that it always rains on the last day in the afternoon on the Plains, when we read of the cyclones to the south of us and blizzards to the north of us, we are disposed to be very well content with climatic conditions as they obtain here. To be sure the wind has been rather annoying this spring and has done a good deal of blowing that we would have been quite willing to dispense with but we have all survived so far and probably will make it through the season. Even sand is better than cyclones and blizzards.

The fruit crop received its annual death blow last week when a cold wave struck this territory sending the mercury down below freezing but as we usually have fruit in spite of early predictions to the contrary, we refuse to worry about it.

Many Western Oklahoma farmers are through planting their corn and others are waiting for a rain. Reports from Texas county say that a considerable acreage of the winter wheat will be plowed up and planted to spring crops, the cold, dry winter having been too much for the wheat.

The oats and barley have come up to a good stand where farmers put them in and alfalfa is looking fine in the greater part of our territory, wheat is in excellent condition, though it has not grown much on account of the continued cold weather. Over in New Mexico, the green bug seems to be doing some damage and farmers are advised that this little insect will continue to infest wheat fields until they take to plowing under the volunteer wheat as soon as possible after harvest.

Sheep and goat raisers have begun shearing their flocks and the price of wool and mohair is making them as happy as the cotton farmer was over 20 cent cotton.

Hog raisers are becoming more snobbish every day with pork going plumb out of sight and raising it a picnic on the Plains.

Now is the time to plan for building that silo as soon as the spring rush is over. We are going to have a lot of silos to take care of those fine dairy cows we are getting. There will probably be a lot of tenderfeet among them that won't know what to do with our short grass range. Of course they will soon find out that they have come to "cattle paradise" but in order to keep them from getting homesick, we want to provide them with the things that they are accustomed to in-so-far as possible. And any way, we need the silos.

Yesterday was Good Friday, the day to plant Irish potatoes. At the present price of that vegetable, most folks will cut the eyes as closely as possible and will doubtless make the discovery that a lot of potato has been wasted in that process in the past. Oh yes, we're learning!

Twice Proven

If you suffer backache, sleepless nights, tired, dull days and distressing urinary disorders, don't experiment. Read this twice-told testimony. It's Canyon evidence—doubly proven.

J. D. Bailey, carpenter, Arkansasaw Hotel, Canyon, says: "I had pains across the small of my back and in my sides, which bothered me a great deal. I used Doan's Kidney Pills as directed and they did me much good."

Some Years Later, Mr. Bailey said: "I have the same faith in Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I gave my former recommendation of them. They have never failed to relieve me when I have used them."

The knobs and crooks on umbrella handles are not the result of accidents. They are deliberately grown, mostly in France, where one concern has a 500-acre place which is entirely devoted to their growing. The woods used are mostly ash, poplar, maple and oak. The trees are cut at the ground level so as to provoke at the foot of each trunk the sprouts of a foot of these are nipped off and the bark of these are nipped off and the bark is cut by pinchers and rowels in such a manner as to inscribe varied designs, which remain indelibly engraved on the wood.

In three years on the average these scions are cut, carefully stripped of branches and dried in the sun. They are then subjected to a bath of very hot steam and denuded of bark.

The sticks are then straightened by being placed in an atmosphere of moist heat, and afterward cut into suitable lengths. But often the end of the sapling is carved beforehand, in order to have a handle of any desired shape when it is cut.

The man we are hearing so much about in England, the Prime Minister, Lloyd George, is a Welshman, very short of stature, being only five feet tall. Recently he went to a town in South Wales to make a speech. The chairman of the meeting was a great admirer of Mr. Lloyd George, but this was the first time for them to meet. In introducing him to the audience he said that he was greatly surprised in the orator as he had always supposed that Mr. George was a big man physically.

When the speaker got up he said that he was very sorry that he had disappointed the chairman. "You in South Wales," he said, "seem to measure greatness different from us in North Wales. You measure a man from his chin down, while we measure him from his chin up."

A Dutch merchant in Linen, in Amsterdam, wanted to determine positively that the number of threads in a given area of a piece of linen were all that the manufacturers claimed for them. This called for a very strong magnifying glass, stronger than at that time, 1675, had been invented. So he perfected himself a more powerful lens than was up to that time in the market. One day a drop of water fell on a piece of linen he was looking at, and by accident the lens rested over it. To his amazement he discovered living things in the drop of water. This interested him, and he put his lens over various things. One day he scraped some tartar from his teeth and put the lens over it. Of course he found bacteria. He made his discovery known to the Royal Society of London, which at once took up them after, found the linen-maker's statements to be true, had a duplicate made of the lens, and from this grew the whole study of bacteria. Now the microscope has reached such a degree of perfection that objects smaller than one-hundred-thousands of an inch in diameter can be clearly seen and photographed.

There are nine men who never vote the Justices of the United States Supreme Court. Of course they cannot vote in Washington, but they never go to their home states to vote. The law does not permit their voting; it is simply a tradition of the court: an unwritten law.

Think of a finger nail seven feet long, and yet that is the size a finger nail would grow if it were not pared for thirty years. A man cuts his finger nails, on an average, once a week; at each paring he removes a sixteenth of an inch; a quarter of an inch a month, or three inches a year. So between his twentieth and fiftieth years, thirty years in all, he removes 7 feet 6 inches of nail. The finger nails on the right hand grow more rapidly than those on the left.

When Marshall Field was a small merchant and had a small store he received one day an order for two hundred pairs of overalls. It came from a little town in Iowa, and was signed "P. H. Browne." The order was a large one for Mr. Field. It was shown to him by his clerk and, to please the customer, Mr. Field sent him a pair of the best overalls, with the word:

Wear these yourself, with my personal compliments.

Marshall Field.

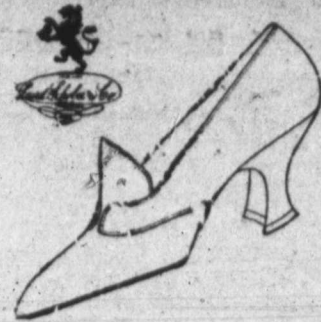

A few days later came this: Gift received and appreciated. I cannot wear them, however, until the styles change. Respectfully, Patricia Helen Browne.

One reason why physicians are so insistent upon nervous people overcoming their disorders and tendencies is in their knowledge of the effect of nervousness in heredity. Nervous disorders in one generation will very often bring about hysteria, epilepsy even insanity in the next generation. Drunkenness is also now accepted, in many cases, as a direct hereditary tendency from pronounced nervous disorders on the part of the parents.

It used to be said, and is said sometimes now, that more farmers' wives can be found in the insane asylums than any other class of women. The statement was really a slander. It seemed true in that a farmer's wife who became insane had nowhere else to go; women in other stations in life, becoming mentally sick, were sent to private sanitariums or, cored ger, is becoming strenuously opposed a student of pathology says that more insane women come from what we call "society" than from any other single walk in life. This is accounted for by the fact that the social game is so strenuous, so nerve-racking, so conductive to late hours, that women cannot stand the strain, and hundreds go insane. It is for this reason that the so-called "coming out" of a young society girl, and her headlong plunge into the ceaseless life at a period when physical system is fraught with danger, is being strenuously opposed by by doctors who have patients in these.

After the Grip What?

Did it leave you weak, low in spirits and vitality? Influenza is a catarrhal disease, and after you recover from the acute stage much of the catarrh is left. This and your weakness invite further attacks.

The Tonic Needed is Peruna.

First, because it will assist in building up your strength, reinvigorating your digestion and quickening all functions. Second, because it aids in overcoming the catarrhal conditions, helping disperse the inflammation, giving the membranes an opportunity to perform their functions.

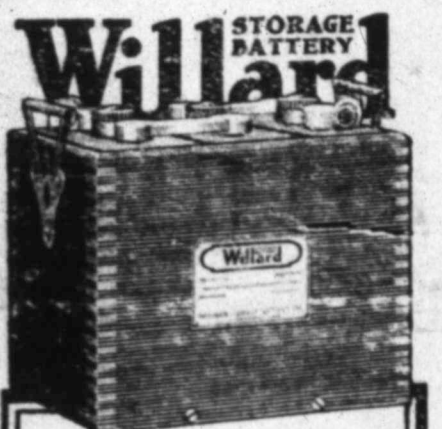

Thousands have answered the question after grip by the proper use of this great tonic treatment. You may profit by their experience.

Liquid or tablet form—both safe and satisfactory.

Not Its Fault

Your battery can't test its own specific gravity.

It can't fill itself with pure water.

It can't tell you to find out if the lights are using too much energy and the generator giving back too little.

So it isn't the battery's fault if these precautions are neglected and battery troubles result.

CLIP THIS AND PIN ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or calluses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch ! ! ! ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone tell him to order a small bottle for you.

True Riches

There were two little girls walking along the street. One was going one way and the other in the opposite direction. They were passing in front of a man's house. The man asked, "Which of you is the richer?" Now Alice was the richest girl in that town, and Lucy was about the poorest.

Alice said, "I have enough money, but I am not happy."

Lucy said, "I am happy all the time, but I have to work for my living. Then the man said, "Happiness is riches."

The P. & O. No. 111 Lister

This lister is known to farmers wherever sold as P. & O. No. 111, but the improved type is called No. 111 on account of important improvements.

There are more of them in the hands of farmers than all other makes combined,—over 2,000 sold by one dealer in one county in West Texas. The special features on this Lister made it deserving of its immense sale. Its use is not confined to preparing for row crops; it is now almost universally used for plowing for small grain crops by listing and re-listing, leaving the ground in oval waves, which not only catches and holds the moisture but prevents the loose soils of the West from blowing away.

The adjusting link on front end of beam is an important exclusive feature on the No. 111, absolutely preventing the point from running below the desired depth. The wheels are provided with dust-proof boxes, an immense help in the sandy loam lands of the West. The feeding device absolutely deposits one seed at a time of any of the row crops, besides can be equipped for both corn and cotton. You will have to see this wonderful improvement to appreciate it. The tilting hoppers allow change of plates without emptying them. Furnished with either disc or shovel coverers. This Lister embodied many other important features that will convince you that it is the best on the market.

The P. & O. No. 123 4-Wheel Lister

This lister has all the advantages of the No. 111 and in addition has rear wheels. This is desired in many localities as it enables the operator to see the seed as planted. The rear wheels have cushion springs to hold them in line with the row and following the unevenness of the ground and conform to the ridge without straining the rear frame, compelling also, the Lister to remain in proper working position at all times. The friction lock disengages automatically, allowing the wheels to castor and turn round in a very small space.
