RULES FOR GIVING AWAY THE FORD

Every ticket holder should have in mind the following regulations: The ticket drawing the car must be presented by the holder—in other words, if you leave your tickets at home that day, you won't stand a chance at the car. You should have your tickets listed on a piece of paper and then put up in packages of numerical order so you can get at them readily and see if you hold the ticket drawn. The business firms will give away tickets on the Ford up to FOUR O'CLOCK on Sept. 10th. All ticket giving stops promptly at four o'clock and the car will be given away at 4:30 o'clock. The crowd will assemble on the north side of the square where a platform will be used or a flat top wagon.

C. W. Warwick will preside at the drawing, but he will have nothing to do with the drawing. He only represents the Canyon Business Men's Association in the matter.

Since all of the tickets belong to the people and the Ford belongs to some one in the crowd, the people will be asked to send five men to the platform to do the drawing. These men will do all of the stirring of the tickets, and will mix them until the people are fully satisfied that the bunch has been thoroughly stirred up. These men will then call for some little girl in the crowd to come forward to do the drawing. The little girl will be blind-folded and asked to draw a number, which will be the number to get the car, provided it is presented to the committee of five men within one hour.

Realizing that there is a possibility of the first number having been lost, the Business Men's Association has decided that there shall be five number drawn does not show up at number drawn dies not show up at the end of the hour, the second number drawn, will then get the car. By drawing five numbers to begin with, much time will be saved as one of the first five drawn will likely show up within the hour.

To illustrate: Suppose No. 79 was the first one drawn, 111,444 the second, 325 the third, 1,275 the fourth, and 37,897 the fifth number. These numbers being drawn by the committee from the crowd and the little girl, No. 79 will get the car, if the number is presented before the end of the hour. But if at the end of the hour 79 has not shown up, then No. 111,444 gets the car if that No. is presented. However if that number is not presented, then No. 325 would be the lucky one. And if that number should not be there, then No. 1,275.

If none of the first five numbers drawn show up within the hour's time then there will be another five drawn. The above numbers are used only for illustration, and have absolutely no meaning except in making plain the plan to be used.

True Success.
"I have often been asked to define the true secret of success. It is thrift in all its phases, and principally thrift as applied to saving. A young man may have many friends, but he will find none so steadfast, so constant, so ready to respond to his wants, so capable of pushing him ahead, as a little leather-covered book with the name of a bank on its cover. Saving is the first great principal of all successes. It creates independence, it gives a young man standing, it fills him with vigor, it stimulates him with the proper energy, in fact it brings to him the better part of any success. If it were possible to inject the quality of saving into every boy, we would have a great many more real men."—Sir Thomas Lipton.

The Inner Reality.
The mind which is immortal makes itself
Requital for its good or evil thoughts
Is its own origin of ill and end—
And its own place and time: its innate sense,
When stripp'd of this mortality, derives
No color from the fleeting things without,
But is absorb'd in sufferance or in joy,
Born from the knowledge of its own desert.
—Byron.

Siftings.
George E. Kessler, landscape architect of St. Louis, has been employed by the board of regents of the College of Industrial Arts of Denton, Texas, to supervise the preparation of a plan for beautification of grounds and campus of the college. Appropriations made by the recent special session of the Texas Legislature for the College of Industrial Arts amounted to $710,955 for the next two years, and a large part of this will be spent in beautification of grounds and erection of new buildings.

It looks as if nobody in the world need lack for something to eat next year, if the crop promise of the United States for the coming harvest is fulfilled. According to the forecast of the department of agriculture, just issued, food crops this season will be greater by a billion bushels than last year. This does not take into account the thousands of home gardens that will produce their millions of bushels of potatoes and other vegetables. The government's crop report is probably the severest blow that has been struck at Prussianism in several days, at least.

Lightning Takes Another Victim.

"This flag which we honor and under which we serve is an emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than that which we give it from generation to generation. The choices are ours. It floats in majestic silence above the hosts that execute those choices whether in peace or in war."—Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States.

"The liberty loan should be first in the mind of every citizen now as the most pressing step toward victory and the establishment of a lasting peace. The obligation to subscribe rests especially upon the members of the League to Enforce Peace. Victory means in their view something more than even the success of the United States and our allies. Service to the league is inseparable from service to our country, and the way to serve our country best just at this time is to buy her bonds."—William H. Taft, ex-President of the United States.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES A SLUGGISH LIVER
Crashes into sour bile, making you sick and you lose a day's work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It is harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmistakable earnestness: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood. It changes weakness to strength; it makes them sturdy and strong. No alcohol.

Governor Ferguson is being tried in the Texas senate on the charge of impeachment, presented Thursday by the house. The charge came now as a surprise to those who had closely read the records of the trial. Ferguson has not been counted out yet as guilty, but the record shows that he has missed the greatest opportunity any Texas governor has ever had to make good. Almost unknown in the state three years ago he jumped into the race for governor, determined to win. He won and pitted against Ex-Senator Bailey wrote the platform for his party at the El Paso convention. The first year of his term was seemingly business like in every respect. The legislature was harmonious with him, and everything was running smoothly, until the campaign managers of Charlie Morris began to find things which did not look good, and got the old man to draw the attention of the people to the facts. Things began to grow warm. Ferguson more and more began to dominate state institutions and departments until he had things just about where he wanted them. Whether found guilty or not the fact of his factions are to be greatly regretted. He had a great opportunity and failed to live up to it. Whether found guilty, or acquitted, he can never regain the confidence which he once held of practically all of the people after he had the great campaign against Thos. Ball and promised the state a real business administration.

The man who said three years ago that the war would end in six months, is still making the same statement. Perhaps, but what six months?

Right now is the best time in the world to cut weeds—if you haven't already cut them.

The meanest thing you can say about a man is to call him an I. W. W.

Get ready for the Panhandle State Fair.

Governor Ferguson, by vote of the house, was removed from office during his trial of impeachment in the senate. Governor Hobby now has in charge the affairs of the state. A resolution is before him to submit to the legislature the question of repealing the bill creating the new schools. There are a number of Ferguson appointees before the senate who will no doubt be rejected. There are some regents for the university to be appointed. Hobby will have his hands full during his tenure of office even should it be brief.

The idea of the camping ground for tourists is of such great importance that concerted action should be taken at once. Canyon business men are letting thousands of dollars slip away from them, which an investment of a few hundred dollars would bring. Auto traffic is just commencing. It is a growing thing. Hundreds of cars more each year will be added to the tourist traffic, and Canyon should now prepare to get the money they will leave along the way.

The row crop is sure growing. Everybody is planting wheat. Some cool weather!

Two Deaths in Cheney Family.

The J. W. Cheney home in Amarillo is in sorrow over the death of two loved ones within a period of twenty four hours. Mr. and Mrs. Cheney are publishers of the Southwest Plainsman, which is printed in the Randall County News office.

Monday they received the sad news that their oldest daughter had died in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Mrs. Cheney left at once to attend the funeral services. Tuesday night when Mr. Cheney returned to Amarillo he found a telegram telling of the death of his mother in Los Angeles, California. Death under any condition brings sadness to the hearts of loved ones, but two deaths within so short a period is a terrible test upon the strongest, and a test which very few are called upon to withstand.

WONDERFUL STUFF! LIFT OUT YOUR CORNS

Apply a few drops then lift corns or calluses off with fingers—no pain.

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezone have him order it for you.

Calling cards printed or engraved at News office.

Armstrong Drops Demonstrator.

The News reported last week that Armstrong county would be a part of the Randall-Potter-Oldham county agricultural district again this year, but this is a mistake, the county commissioners having decided to dispense with the services of the agricultural demonstrator. The matter has been taken up with Casson county and that county will likely join the other three in the work.

The agricultural work is of so great importance that every county should enter into the work. The work the coming year will be of great benefit in view of the fact that a lady demonstrator has been employed to assist in the district.

Randall county's commissioners are to be congratulated in having employed the demonstrator for the coming year.

As yet no man has been assigned to this district to take the place of Harmon Benton who goes to College

Life Wisdom
The wisdom of the wise and the experience of ages may be preserved by quotation.—Benjamin Disraeli.
Let no one delay to study philosophy while he is young, and when he is old let him not become weary of the study. He who asserts either that it is not yet time to philosophize, or that the hour is passed, is like a man who should say that the time is not yet come to be happy, or that it is too late.—Epicurus.
To be ambitious of true honor and of the real glory and perfection of our nature is the very principal and incentive of virtue; but to be ambitious of titles, place, ceremonial respects, and civil pageantry, is as vain and little as the things are which we court.—Sir Philip Sidney.
How can that be an evil, that does not make me worse?—Marcus Aurelius.

Advertising.

No more than you can eat enough in one day to last you a week, can a business man advertise enough in one week to last a year.—Crawford Advance.

Right as a rat tail. The only time to stop advertising is after the store burns down. Even then some sort of advertising should be kept going in case the proprietor means to open up again. No little store can become a big store without advertising any more than a baby can grow up without milk. Perhaps there was a time in the Middle Ages, when a storekeeper could build a retail business to a satisfactory size without printed advertising, but it was possible even then only to the few individuals who possessed highly developed business acumen and personal magnetism. In an populous community where personal acquaintanceship is productive of steady customers it sometimes happens that a merchant of unusual personal popularity commands considerable trade on account of his personality. But the merchant who must appeal to the entire community upon the merit of his prices cannot hope to win success by standing on the sidewalk and buttonholing the passing public. A store must have dignity no less than the merchant must, and good advertising lends dignity to the advertiser. Whatever may have been true of the nineteenth or eighteenth or seventeenth century, the truth about the twentieth century is that all the big stores are advertising stores. Business men who hate advertising do not remain in business. They, in regular course, use out and many of them grow disgruntled and join "the army of unemployed." In these numerous instances where the merchant himself doesn't know how to advertise he ought to hire an assistant who does know how. Postscript—This is an advertisement of Advertising.—State Press, in Dallas News.

Had an Exciting Experience.

W. G. Childers, a mail carrier out of Hooker, Okla., recently had a very exciting experience with a determined young man and a gun. When about to go to the moving picture show after some members of his family, a young man with a revolver in his hand stepped up to him and, at the point of the weapon, forced Mr. Childers to get in the waiting car and drive him out of the country. When the pair reached a gate near the Kansas line south of Rolla, Mr. Childers was ordered to get out and open it and in doing so passed behind the car and succeeded in reaching a house not far away, though the young man, whose name was J. W. Stonebrow, gave chase and fired a shot or two. Mr. Childers made his way to Guymon and later his car was found abandoned in the north part of that town. Authorities who ran down Stonebrow discovered among his papers evidence to show that he was a deserter from the army.

Peas by the Yard.

Mr. Cozby proprietor of the Cozy Restaurant, brought in a sample from his garden Tuesday in the form of a pea which measurer 34 inches in length. It is a specimen of the "yard pea" and Mr. Cozby says they are excellent for cooking green, as snap peas. He has only about three vines of this kind, but they furnish them all they want. He says the rest of his garden is fine.—Silverton Star.

SPITBALL STICKS DESPITE EFFORTS MADE TO BAR IT

Foes of the Moist Delivery, Led by Percy Haughton of Boston Braves, Unable to Get Action.

The spitball will be hurled at the batters again this season by pitchers all over the country.

It will continue on its moist and foggy way despite the efforts of some baseball reformers to legislate it out of the pastime, for the spitter has become just as much a part of the pitcher's art as the curve.

Before opening the present season the spitter came in for its annual paning. Baseball men in various parts of the country talked against it. Chief among the pansters was Percy D. Haughton of the Boston Braves, who believes the elimination of the spitter would be a long step toward increasing hitting.

Haughton put the spitter on the pan every time he got a chance, and he is honest in his convictions against it.

Percy C. Haughton.

But the members of the rules committee did not even discuss the spitter in a casual way.

In discussing the spitball at one of the National league sessions, Jimmy Callahan of the Pirates advanced the opinion that it would be unfair to legislate against it now. Callahan believes that the moist delivery has been in vogue too long. He pointed out that it has been in use at least ten years, and that if it had been particularly undesirable it should have been eliminated before hundreds of pitchers had studied it and mastered its use. The emery ball was short-lived in the major leagues. Action against it was quick and when it was made illegal there was no great hardship worked on the pitchers.

With the spitter it is different. Hundreds of young pitchers who are coming up have adopted the spitter for use in the tight places. It is used by at least 40 per cent of the pitchers of the country today and it has become an institution. So the spitter will live on for some time to come and may never be barred.

America's First Traitor, Banished to West Indies, Meets Death While at Sea.

Benjamin Church, a graduate of Harvard and a member of a distinguished New England family, was the first American traitor. Church became eminent as a surgeon and as a writer of verse and was one of the leading Whigs in the years just preceding the Revolution. At one time he was a member of the Massachusetts provincial congress and became a member of the famous Boston committee of safety.

The committee's plans were consistently revealed to General Gage, governor of the province, but the source of the leak was not discovered until after the Revolution was fairly under way. At the time of the actual break between the colonies and England, Church was assigned to an important colonial hospital. In September, 1775, a letter from Church to a British army officer, containing secrets of the colonist army, was intercepted. Church had intrusted the letter, written in code, to a woman, to be conveyed to one of General Gage's staff officers. The woman confessed her share of the treasonable move and implicated Church.

The traitor was taken before a council presided over by Washington and he there practically admitted his guilt. Congress, acting on the suggestion of the trial council, ordered Church kept in close confinement in the Cambridge jail "without the use of pen or paper, and that no person be allowed to converse with him, except in the presence and hearing of colonial officers until further orders from this or a future congress."

Church's health failed rapidly and he was permitted to undergo banishment to the West Indies. He sailed in a merchant vessel in May, 1776, and neither the ship nor Church ever was heard of again.

Bidding for Base in Kimono.

Soldier games are the most preferred by young Japan; fencing with bamboo swords, "Jiu-Jitsu," or wrestling, and drilling. But baseball, transplanted to this far-away land by American teachers in the universities, has made a great hit and is played everywhere. It is a strange sight to see a shave-headed youngster sliding for first in blue and white cotton kimono. It certainly doesn't do the kimono any good.

Admire Babies?

Every normal woman's heart thrills with the thought of possessing a baby. What man can fully perceive the sympathetic understanding and the love-light that glows in a woman's eyes at the sight of her flesh and blood represented in the tiny infant. Every woman in the joy of coming motherhood should prepare her system for the crisis and the unusual strain. Three generations have found the tried and reliable external application, "Mother's Friend" of the greatest help at such a time. By its daily use throughout the period, the skin of the abdomen is made soft and elastic, the expanding muscles relax naturally and, with ease, when baby arrives, and the inflammation of breast glands is soothed.

By no chance neglect to obtain this great preparation which science has offered for so many years to expectant mothers. Write the Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. L, 209 Lamar Building, Atlanta, Ga., for their helpful and interesting book, "Motherhood and the Baby". It is free and is well worth writing for. No woman should fail to help nature in the severest strain ever put upon her. "Mother's Friend" is procurable from any druggist and is a real help to nature in her glorious work. "Mother's Friend" is absolutely and entirely safe.

BURROUGHS & JARRETT

Crushed By a Separator.

Andy Taylor, age 19 years, was fatally crushed by being run over by a grain separator, pulled by a tractor, one mile north of Kress Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and died four hours later. He was with a gang of workmen, and they were engaged in moving the separator, his foot caught in the wheel and he slipped and fell under the machine, which ran across his back, crushing him internally.

The funeral was held at the home of his brother, a mile and a half east of Kress, Saturday afternoon, conducted by Elder Henry Hagemeier of Plainview, and interment followed in the Kress cemetery.

He lived with his mother, east of Kress and leaves four brothers and three sisters. His father was murdered about fifteen years ago, it is said.—Plainview News.

Signed Up for Next Year.

Closing with the Kilties last Thursday night the fourth annual chautauqua to appear in Canadian came to a close with everybody in good spirits and a feeling that the affair had been a great success from every angle of view. The program was decidedly superior to that given a year ago and far over one hundred signors were procured for a future attraction.—Canadian Record.

Santa Fe Enlarging Yard.

The Santa Fe railroad has a force of workmen enlarging the trackage in the Plainview yards, laying almost a mile of additional track. The Lake Plainview park fence has been moved back about twenty feet and two tracks from about in front of the Texas Utilities Co. plant to the stock yards will be laid.

The Floydada trains will come in over one of these tracks, and discharge its passengers and baggage on a platform across from the depot.—Plainview News.

Last Saturday night Bill Ramseur had the misfortune to lose fifteen head of good cows. It is thought someone left a gate open on their way to an entertainment that was held in the neighborhood Saturday night and let the cows into a maize field, as that is where they were found dead Sunday morning.—Ralls Banner.

HOW AMERICA CAN FEED ITS ALLIES

Important Message to People From Herbert C. Hoover, Administrator.

WORLD SUPPLIES ESTIMATED

Increased Production, Elimination of Waste and Careful Control of Food Exports Form the Solution of This War Problem.

Washington, Aug. 29.—What the people of the United States not only can but must do in the matter of food production and use in order to help win the war is set forth in detail in a statement issued today by Food Administrator Herbert C. Hoover. If we fail to do our part in this respect he says, the people of the allies cannot be maintained at war, for their soldiers cannot fight without food.

The normal imports of wheat and other cereals from France, Italy, the United Kingdom and Belgium, and the estimates of the 1917 crop in those countries compared to the normal production are given by Mr. Hoover in tabulated form, and the conclusion is drawn that in order to provide normal consumption it will be necessary for them to import in the next 12 months 577,000,000 bushels of wheat and 674,000,000 bushels of other cereals. If the crops of the United States and Canada all mature safely, North America will have an apparent surplus of 208,000,000 bushels of wheat and 950,000,000 bushels of other cereals. The allies, therefore, must use other cereals than wheat for mixing in their war bread, and the people of America must reduce their consumption of wheat flour from five to four pounds per week per person.

Decrease in Food Animals.
A careful estimate of the world's food animal position shows a total net decrease of 115,000,000, and this will be greater as the war goes on. As the increase of herds and flocks takes years, we must reduce the consumption, eliminate waste and carefully control meat exports.

Our home dairy products supplies are decreasing, while our population is increasing, and we must ship increasing amounts of such products to our allies. Consequently this industry must be stimulated, and home users must save the wastes in milk and butter. Much the same may be said in the case of sugar.

Mr. Hoover urges a greater consumption of fish and sea foods, in which our coasts and lakes are enormously rich. The products of the land, he reminds us, are conserved by the eating of those of the sea.

Our Duty.
In conclusion the food administrator says:

I have endeavored to show in previous articles that the world is short of food; that Europe is confronted with the grim specter of starvation unless from our abundance and our waste we keep the wolf from the door. Not only must we have a proper use of our food supply in order that we may furnish our allies with the sinews with which they may fight our battles, but it is an act of humanity towards fellow men, women and children.

By the diversion of millions of men from production to war, by the occupation of land by armies, by the isolation of markets, by belligerent lines, and by the destruction of shipping by submarines, not only has the home production of our allies fallen by over 500,000,000 bushels of grain, but they are thrown upon us for a much larger proportion of their normal supplies formerly obtained from other markets.

They have reduced consumption at every point, but men in the trenches, men in the shops, and the millions of women placed at physical labor require more food than during peace times, and the incidence of their saving and any shortage which they may suffer, falls first upon women and children. If this privation becomes too great, their peoples cannot be maintained constant in the war, and we will be left alone to fight the battle of democracy with Germany.

The problem of food conservation is one of many complexions. We cannot, and we do not wish, with our free institutions and our large resources of food, to imitate Europe in its policed rationing, but we must voluntarily and intelligently assume the responsibility before us as one in which everyone has a direct and inescapable interest. We must increase our export of foods to the allies, and in the circumstances of our shipping situation, these exports must be of the most concentrated foods. These are wheat, flour, beef, pork and dairy products. We have other foods in great abundance which we can use instead of these commodities, and we can prevent wastes in a thousand directions. We must guard the drainage of exports from the United States, that we retain a proper supply for our own country, and we must adopt such measures as will ameliorate, so far as may be, the price conditions of our less fortunate. We must so drain the supplies from the country to Europe as by the high prices that would follow to force our people to shorten their consumption. This operation of "normal economic forces" would starve that element of the community to whom we owe the most protection. We must try to impose the burden equally upon all.

There is no royal road to food conservation. We can only accomplish this by the voluntary action of our whole people, each element in proportion to its means. It is a matter of equality of burden; a matter of minute saving and substitution at every point in the 20,000,000 kitchens, on the 20,000,000 dinner tables and in the 2,000,000 manufacturing, wholesale and retail establishments of the country. The task is thus in its essence the daily individual service of all the people. Every group can substitute and even the great majority of thrifty people can save a little—and the more luxurious elements of the population can by reduction to simple living save much. The final result of substituting other products and saving one pound of wheat flour, two ounces of fats, seven ounces of sugar and seven ounces of meat weekly, by each person, will, when we have multiplied this by one hundred million, have increased our exports to the amounts absolutely required by our allies. This means no more than that we should eat plenty, but eat wisely and without waste.

Food conservation has other aspects of utmost importance. Wars must be paid for by savings. We must save in the consumption in commodities and the consumption of unproductive labor in order that we may divert our manhood to the army and to the shops. If by the reduction in consumption of labor and the commodities that it produces and the diversion of this saving to that labor and those commodities demanded by the war, we shall be able to fight to eternity. We can mortgage our future savings for a little while, but a piling up of mortgages is but a short step toward bankruptcy. Every atom that we save is available for subscription to Liberty bonds.

The whole of Europe has been engaged ever since the war began in the elimination of waste, the simplification of life, and the increase of its industrial capacity. When the war is over the consuming power of the world will be reduced by the loss of prosperity and man power, and we shall enter a period of competition without parallel in ferocity. After the war, we must maintain our foreign markets if our working people are to be employed. We shall be in no position to compete if we continue to live on the same basis of waste and extravagance on which we have lived hitherto. Simple, temperate living is a moral issue of the first order at any time, and any other basis of conduct during the war becomes a wrong against the interest of the country and the interest of democracy.

The impact of the food shortage of Europe has knocked at every door of the United States during the past three years. The prices of foodstuffs have nearly doubled, and the reverberations of Europe's increasing shortage would have thundered twice as loudly during the coming year even had we not entered the war, and it can now only be mitigated if we can exert a strong control and this in many directions.

We are today in an era of high prices. We must maintain prices at such a level as will stimulate production, for we are faced by a starving world and the value of a commodity to the hungry is greater than its price.

As a result of the world shortage of supplies, our consumers have suffered from speculation and extortion. While wages for some kinds of labor have increased with the rise in food prices, in others, it has been difficult to maintain our high standard of nutrition.

By the elimination of waste in all classes, by the reduction in the consumption of foodstuffs by the more fortunate, we shall increase our supplies not only for export but for home, and by increased supplies we can help in the amelioration of prices.

For Better Distribution.

Beyond this the duty has been laid upon the food administration to cooperate with the patriotic men in trades and commerce, that we may eliminate the evils which have grown into our system of distribution, that the burden may fall equitably upon all by restoration, so far as may be, of the normal course of trade. It is the purpose of the food administration to use its utmost power and the utmost ability that patriotism can assemble to ameliorate this situation to such a degree as may be possible.

The food administration is assembling the best expert advice in the country on home economics, on food utilization, on trade practices and trade wastes, and on the conduct of public eating places, and we shall outline from time to time detailed suggestions, which if honestly carried out by such individuals in the country, we believe will effect the result which we must attain. We are asking every home, every public eating place and many trades, to sign a pledge card to accept these directions, so far as their circumstances permit, and we are organizing various instrumentalities to ameliorate speculation. We are asking the men of the country who are not actually engaged in the handling of food to sign similar pledges that they shall see to it, so far as they are able, that these directions are followed, and this is the essence of democracy itself.

Autocracy finds its strength in its ability to impose organization by force from the top. The essence of democracy consists in the application of the initiative in its own people. If individualism cannot be so organized as to defend itself, then democracy is a faith which cannot stand. We are seeking to impose no organization from the top. We are asking the American people to organize from the bottom up.

The call of patriotism, of humanity and of duty rings clear and insistent. We must heed it if we are to defend our ideals, maintain our form of government, and safeguard our future welfare.

If I Had Known Before I Was 21. Recently three leading men spoke at the men's meeting in Cleveland on the subject, "Things I wish I had known before I was twenty-one." — G. Leonard Fels, the first speaker, gave answers, sent in by twenty-two men. Here they are. Every word is worth reading:

1. What I was going to do for a living, what my lifework would be.
2. That my health after thirty depended in a large degree on what I put into my stomach before I was twenty-one.
3. How to take care of money.
4. The commercial asset of being neatly and sensibly dressed.
5. That a man's habits are mighty hard to change after he is twenty-one.
6. That a harvest depends upon the seeds that are sown; what produces wheat, thistles bring forth thistles, ragweeds spoil good pasture, and wild oats sown will surely produce all kinds of misery and unhappiness.
7. That things worth while require time, patience and work.
8. That you can't get something for nothing.
9. That the world would give me just about what I deserved.
10. That by the sweat of my brow would I earn my bread.
11. That a thorough education not only pays better wages than hard labor, but it brings the best of everything else—namely, more enjoyable work, better food, more of the wholesome luxuries and pleasures of life, better folks to live and deal with, and best of all, the genuine satisfaction that you are somebody worthy of respect, confidence and the priceless gift of friendship.
12. That honesty is the best policy, not only in dealing with my neighbors but also in dealing with myself and God.
13. The value of absolute truthfulness in everything.
14. The folly of not taking older people's advice.
15. That everything my mother wanted me to do was right.
16. That "dad" wasn't an old fogey after all. If I had done as he wished me to do, I would be much better off mentally and morally.
17. What it really meant to father and mother, to raise their son.
18. What hardships and disappointments would be entailed by my leaving home against my parents' wishes.
19. More of the helpful and inspiring parts of the Bible, particularly the four books dealing with the life of Christ.
20. The greatness of the opportunity and joy of serving a fellow-man.
21. That Jesus Christ was with me as an Elder Brother and Friend in every activity and relationship of life.
22. That God's relationship to me was just as helpful and delightful at that of a good shepherd toward his sheep or of a father toward his son.

 23. A faithful friend is a strong defense. He that hath found a friend hath found a treasure. A poor man may be said to be rich in the midst of his poverty so long as he enjoys the interior sunshine of a devoted friend.

24. Friendship cheers like a sunbeam, charms like a good story, inspires like a brave leader, binds like a golden chain, guides like a heavenly star.—The Industrial Enterprise.

INVENTORY OF FOOD STOCKS BEGINS FRIDAY

Washington, Aug. 26.—Food stocks held in retail stores of city and rural portions of fifty-three counties in various parts of the country will be inventoried on Aug. 31 to furnish the basis for an estimate by the Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Markets of the amount of food products in the hands of retail dealers. A detailed survey also will be made in New York City, which is to be handled as a separate problem. The survey of retail stocks, the plan for which was made public tonight, is one of four branches of the great task of estimating the country's entire stock of food as of Aug. 31, which has been undertaken by the Bureau of Markets for the Department of Agriculture and the food administration. Other surveys will cover stocks on farms, in wholesale commercial establishments and storages and in the homes of consumers. Aside from New York, the largest city selected is Cleveland, Ohio. The second group includes Dallas, Texas, and Altoona, Pa., with its outlying towns of Tyrone and Juanita. These three are thought to represent conditions as they exist in a city which depends on manufacturing, in one which has a big agricultural back country and in one which depends on the mining industry. In the third group are Montgomery, Ala., and Topeka, Kans.; the fourth includes Jackson, Tenn., and Iowa City, Iowa; the fifth, Americus, Ga., and Dekalb, Ill. Group six includes ten counties with cities of from 2,500 to 5,000, and the index cities include Canton, Miss., and Stillwater, Okla. The final group, in counties having no towns as large as 2,500 population, includes Eatonton, Ga.; Carthage, N. C.; Lawrence, Tenn.; Enterprise, Ala.; Fair Hope, Ala.; Rector, Ark.; Mansfield, La.; and La Grange, Texas.

CONTRACT IS CLOSED FOR CITY PUMPING

(Continued from page 1) only profitable way to handle the water was through pumping by the power company.

The following is the copy of the contract as signed between the two parties:

Contract Between the City of Canyon and the Canyon Power Company Concerning the Pumping of Water.

This memorandum of agreement made and entered into this 28th day of August, A. D. 1917, between the Canyon Power Company, a corporation of Canyon, Texas, (hereinafter designated as the "Company"), party of the first part, and the City of Canyon, in Randall County, Texas, (hereinafter designated as the "City") party of the second part: Witnesseth:

Whereas, the City of Canyon now owns a municipal water system consisting of two wells and a gasoline engine pumping plant together with ground reservoir, stand pipe and a distributing system; and

Whereas, the Canyon Power Company has satisfactorily demonstrated its ability to electrically pump the water from said wells for the said City of Canyon; and

Whereas, it is the opinion of the City Council of the City of Canyon that, upon the grounds of efficiency and economy and dependability of service, it is desirable that the said Canyon Power Company permanently continue to pump all of the said water required by the said City of Canyon.

Now therefore, it is agreed between the Canyon Power Company, its successors and assigns and said City of Canyon, as follows, to-wit:

1. The Company shall continue in possession of the two wells now owned by the City together with the premises on which same are now located, also the present pumping plant and all equipment incident thereto together with the electrical apparatus thereto connected and pump from said two wells to the capacity thereof all water needed for municipal, domestic, mechanical and manufacturing purposes for a period of 15 years from the date hereof.

2. It is understood that the City shall have purchased and shall own the two motors and the electrical apparatus contained in said City pumping plant and it is further understood that, at the time of the execution of this contract, the wells taken over by the Company are deemed to be of a capacity sufficient to furnish water for the City of Canyon and its inhabitants as the same now is, and if, at any future time during the life of this contract, it should be found that the particular working capacity of said two wells is not sufficient to furnish water in such quantities as demanded, the City agrees to supply additional wells at its expense, cased and equipped with the necessary machinery and motors to lift the water from the wells, it being understood that said additional pumping equipment which may hereafter be installed shall be of an efficiency of at least fifty per cent.

3. It is mutually understood that the Company shall during the life of this contract furnish day electrical service, maintain all pumps, motors and all equipment used in the actual lifting of the water and that the City shall maintain wells and casings therein and that the Company shall not be responsible, in any manner for the maintenance of the wells or the casings therein or the stand pipe or any part of the municipal water system; nor the quantity or quality of the water which comes from the City wells; nor the damage from fire originating from any cause whatsoever or from tornadoes or other acts of God or accidents over which said Company has no control; nor shall the Company have any interest whatsoever in said municipal water works except that of pumping the water from the city wells into the surface reservoir and standpipe and the maintenance of said pumping equipment.

4. During the term of this contract the City shall pay the Company for pumping water as aforesaid the net cash sum of fifteen cents (15c) per thousand gallons of water pumped as aforesaid, said water so pumped to be measured through and by means of a practical meter, to be installed and maintained at the expense of the City, said meter to be at all times subject to the inspection of both the City and the Company through their proper designated agents or employees. The amount to become due and payable to the Company from the City for pumping water, under the provisions of this contract, shall be due and payable on or before the tenth day of the calendar month following the month during which said service is rendered and that the City will pass a resolution establishing and creating a fund to be known and maintained as the "Canyon Water Fund", and sufficient receipts from

Says Hisson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists. NO-132

the city water system now owned and operated by the City of Canyon shall be placed in said fund together with such other sums as the City may, from time to time, place in said fund, out of the proceeds of general taxation or otherwise and such fund is hereby irrevocably pledged for the payment of the pumping charges herein set forth.

5. The gasoline engines and all accessories thereto belonging now located in the city pumping plant are to remain there and in the possession of the Company for use by the Company in cases of emergency and in case of a breakdown of any of the equipment whereby the pumping operations are temporarily suspended and the Company shall, at any or all times, diligently prosecute the necessary repairing of said equipment to the end that the city water supply shall not be exhausted; but when the Company has thus diligently and promptly prosecuted such repairs, it shall not be responsible for any damages whatever due to shortage of water.

6. It is mutually understood that the Company will purchase and the City will sell to it, all water used by it during the life of this contract, to be measured through a practical meter at the following rates, namely:

For the first two thousand gallons used per month fifty cents (50c) per thousand gallons.

For the next eight thousand gallons used per month thirty five cents (35c) per thousand gallons.

For the next ten thousand gallons used per month thirty cents (30c) per thousand gallons.

For all over twenty thousand gallons used per month twenty five cents (25c) per thousand gallons.

Said payments to be made on or before the tenth day of the month following the month during which said water is used by the Company.

7. There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
