

Randall County Fair, Oct. 4th

Next Thursday, October 4th will be the date of the County Fair in Canyon.

It will also be the day of the regular monthly Trades Day, and all of the special inducements which have hitherto been offered on the Second Monday will be on next Thursday.

It is not the purpose of those interested in the fair to hold a regular fair such as would be found at the Panhandle State Fair.

The object of the fair will be to get together in Canyon on that date samples of garden and farm products which are a credit to the county, from which the best part of the exhibit will be taken and sent to the Panhandle and the Dallas Fairs.

It is understood that all who enter stuff in the fair in Canyon next week will allow the management to select all that is desired from the exhibit to take to these two fairs.

All articles taken from the Canyon fair to these other fairs will bear the name of the contributor and these names will be given full credit for any winnings there may be at these two fairs.

The farmers are taking a great interest in the coming show on next Thursday.

Scores are asking about the fair and are anxious to enter their very best in the show next week.

Suitable premiums will be given on all kinds of farm and garden products whether they are listed on the premium list or not.

The list published is merely suggestive. The business men want a collection of all of the products from the farms and garden of Randall county to be exhibited at the fair next week.

Be sure to come to the fair on Oct. 4th. You will want to see what we are doing in this county in an agricultural way.

The following is a list of premiums offered.

RALPH COUSINS MADE MAJOR IN THE AVIATION CORPS

The following dispatch of Sept. 17 will be of great interest to the many friends of Major Ralph Cousins, of this city:

Austin, Texas, Sept. 17.—The commandant of the aviation school here, Ralph P. Cousins, has just been advised of his promotion from captain to major, his commission having just reached him. Major Cousins, who is a son of R. B. Cousins, president of the West Texas State Normal College at Canyon, is probably one of the youngest majors in the army.

With his commission came orders to report at once at Washington for special work in the office of the chief signal officer. He left last night for Washington. His duties at Washington will only last about two weeks when he is expected to return to Austin and resume his work here at the aviation school at the university.

Reid is First State Bank Director.

J. W. Reid has been elected a director of the First State Bank. Mr. Reid has a large number of friends here, and is held in the highest esteem by all who know him.

In addition to his work in the Normal school, he is an active business man and public spirited citizen, being connected with the Randall County News and the Thompson Hardware Company in addition to his real estate and banking interests.

McClure Buys Foster Residence.

S. B. McClure has bought the Joe Foster residence in the west part of town, and will soon take possession. Mr. Foster will move his family back to his family just southeast of the city.

Miss Mary Morgan Brown was in Amarillo Monday.

TALKING MACHINE TICKETS BEGIN ON OCTOBER 1st

The first tickets to be given on the Talking Machine Contest will be handed out by the business houses on next Monday.

The machine will be given away on the same plan as carried out in the Ford contest. The machine will be given away on the December Trades Day.

Be sure to always ask for your tickets at the business houses.

Missionary Lecture Tuesday.

Mrs. S. L. Lindsay, representative of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions of the southwest, will deliver two lectures at the Presbyterian church on next Tuesday, October 2nd, at 3 o'clock and in the evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Lindsay is a live wire and her talks will be entertaining and instructive.

All the ladies of Canyon are urged to come and hear her. She especially wants to talk to both men and women at night.

Roy Moreland Moving from City.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moreland are moving to Honey Grove today where he has accepted a position with the Pothran & Johnson grocery business. Mr. Moreland has been connected with the Supply company for a number of years and is a fine young business man. The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Moreland regret very much to see them leave Canyon but wish them well in their new home.

Needle Club Meeting.

The 1915 Needle Club met last Wednesday with Mrs. N. E. McIntyre. A number of the members were present with Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Chaplin as guests of the club.

A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all, after which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Joe Steele on Wednesday, Oct. 3rd.

ALL MEN OF QUOTA LIKELY TO BE CALLED WEDNESDAY TO ARMY

It is likely that all of the men in Randall county who are liable for service in the new army will be called out next Wednesday, according to instructions received today by the local exemption board.

Only twenty percent of the men were called for originally, but since the war department want only white men on this draft, it is likely that counties where there are no negroes will have to send all of their men.

The local board has been notified to have in readiness all of the men on the list, except those who have exemption claims with the local or district board which have not been acted upon.

The following is a list of the men who are liable for service and are likely to go next week, excepting a few who have claims for exemptions with the district board:

- Hill Herbert Miller, Canyon
Edward Oscar Williams, Canyon
Clarence Robert Farris, Canyon
John Peter Meyers, Happy
Marion Evans Baker, Amarillo

Bruce Francis Gregg, Happy
Orville Alvis Blankenship, Amarillo

- Leon Devotie Winn, Canyon
Millard Robertson Word, Canyon
John Jackson Boling, Wildorado
Elmer Ross Wilson, Canyon
Elmer John Franklin Bauer, Happy
Fred Henry Albert Bauer, Happy
Walter John Hess, Umbarger
George Baxter Jordan, Canyon
Sidney Edgar Roberts, Jr., Canyon
August Fredreck Menke, Amarillo
Ernest H. Weynand, Canyon
Raleigh Leigh, Canyon
Lloyd Vayne Bentley, Canyon
Curtis E. Brown, Canyon
Miles Ackerman, Canyon
Irwin Wade Wiseman, Canyon
Ernest Henry Haney, Canyon
Pete Hutchison, Canyon
Randall Reed Moreland, Canyon
Glen R. McGahey, Canyon
Clarence Wm. Henry Boehning, Canyon
Charles Taylor, Canyon
Paul Artho, Umbarger

Archambeau & Harter Dissolve

Notice is published in this issue of the News that the firm of Archambeau & Harter will be dissolved on the first of October, Mr. Harter buying the interest of Mr. Archambeau.

Mr. Archambeau states that he is yet undecided as to what he will do, but he will likely remain in Canyon as he likes it here very fine.

Mr. Harter is a rustler and will continue the business as it has been in the past.

Hobby Submits Schools Repeal.

Governor Hobby has submitted to the legislature the proposition to repeal the bill for the repeal of the bill creating the West Texas A. & M. college, the Northeast A. & M. and the North Texas insane asylum. It is stated that he will not submit the proposal for the repeal of the law creating the other new schools.

Will Feed Orphan Children

The Baptist Missionary Society met Tuesday with Mrs. Dunaway. The afternoon was spent at mission study. The ladies will join the B. W. M. W. of the Tierra-Blanca Association in feeding the children of Buckner's Orphan's Home at Dallas on Oct. 15. It takes $225 to feed the children of the home for one day.

Making Red Cross Pillows.

The Methodist Missionary Society met Tuesday at the Red Cross room to work on the red pillows. Over thirty ladies were present. These pillows are made and stuffed with old clean rags, which are cut very fine. The pillows are used in the ambulances on the battle fields to pack around the wounded soldiers while being taken to the hospitals. The Red Cross society of Canyon is making 200 of these pillows.

Mrs. E. H. Ackley had the misfortune to receive a broken arm Thursday while cranking her car.

CANYON CLUB OWNERS VOTE TO SELL GROUNDS TO BAPTISTS

At the called meeting of the Canyon City Club Monday afternoon it was voted unanimously by the seventy three members present or represented, to sell the Canyon City Club grounds to the Baptist Association of Northwest Texas as an Association meeting place.

An offer was made through Rev. B. F. Fronabarger of $7,500 for the club grounds.

There are ten associations in this part of the state interested in the grounds, and seven of the associations have met and signified a willingness to join in the purchase of the grounds. The remaining associations will meet within a very short time and it is expected that these will vote in favor of the purchase.

After all of the associations have voted favorably upon the proposition, it remains then for the Baptists to appoint such directors as are necessary or confer with the directors of the Canyon Club.

It is expected that the deal will be closed, and by the middle of November at least.

If the deal is closed, the Baptists will erect a large tabernacle and otherwise improve the grounds. Many new summer cottages will be placed there to care for the numbers who will come for the summer meetings.

The people of Canyon who were not interested in the club are grateful to the club members for having voted favorably upon the proposition as this Baptist encampment will mean a great thing for the town, as it will bring large numbers of prominent Baptists to this meeting from all sections of the United States.

Cosmos Club Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gamble entertained the Cosmos Club Friday night. The house was decorated with beautiful roses. After the usual games of 500 refreshments were served of Devil's Food cake, fruit ice cream and iced tea.

OCTOBER 4—COUNTY FAIR

To Patriotic Cattlemen

It is patriotism as well as sound sense for cattlemen to intensify stock-raising this year of the Great War. The replenishment of the food supply is not the least of our tasks. The country and its fighting men and their comrades in arms over the sea must be fed.

Officers of the First State Bank cordially invite cattlemen to call and discuss their financial requirements. Every liberal accommodation consistent with sound banking practice will be extended.

LISTEN We make quality and service important features of our business as well as the matter of price. We aim that our customers will be so well satisfied THROUGHOUT that they will come again and again. Put us to the test, please. BUILD YOU A HOME Rockwell Bros. & Co. (CANYON LUMBER COMPANY)

WHAT WILL YOU DO TOWARD SOLDIERS TOBACCO FUND?

Very few people in Canyon have taken any interest in the Tobacco Fund for our Soldiers who are in France, fighting our battles.

The Tobacco Fund is urged by the leaders of the army as an excellent way to assist the boys in their work. Men who have used tobacco for a number of years find it a great consolation in the hard tasks of the training camps of France, where it is next to impossible to buy tobacco.

Will you not help a little? Only 25c will keep a man in tobacco. Only 25c will keep a man in tobacco. This is possible from the fact that the wholesale tobacco dealers have agreed to furnish the tobacco without profit.

You men who smoke—why not cut out a few cigars and send the money to the boys who are fighting for you across the water. The News will sent all money left at our office directly to the fund, every penny of which goes to the men in France.

More Land Sales.

S. B. McClure reports the following land sales this week:

A section of raw land to E. A. Wells of Wellington for $10,240 cash. 400 acres to Lester Smith of Panhandle of $6400 cash, and the 320 Joe Gamble place southeast of town to Mr. Smith at $26.50 per acre. Mr. Smith is one of the prosperous farmers of Panhandle and will move here to make his home.

H. J. Lee has sold his residence in the west end to John Fry of Lockney who will move here.

Will Build New Houses

Work will soon start on two new houses on West Evelyn street, Carl and Sterling Coffee building five room houses on the lots they recently purchased, located just west of the Lusby Studio. The houses will be thoroughly modern and will be practically alike.

New Study Club Organized.

A local chapter of the National Delphian Society was organized Monday, Sept. 17th, with a membership of 37 charter members.

The Delphian Field Secretary, Mrs. Stella Huntington, presided, giving a brief outline of the progress of the Delphian Clubs in other states. Mrs. Ray Ely acted as secretary pro-term.

The following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. C. R. Burrow
Vice President—Mrs. F. M. Wilson
Secretary-Treasurer—Mrs. C. R. Flesher.

Advisory Board—Mrs. Guenther, Miss Mary Morgan Brown, Miss McMillon. Reporter—Miss Lola Word.

The club will meet in the Ladies Rest Room the first and third Mondays in each month at 3 p. m. The club voted to leave the charter open until the first Monday in November so that others might come in as Charter Members. Miss Susie McGinly was appointed local secretary.

The object of this organization is self-improvement and a general broadening of the mind.

The first meeting will be held on Monday, October 1st.

The Charter Members are: Mesdames C. M. Ackerman, E. H. Ackley, Levi Angel, Chas. Baker, Grayson Bell, C. R. Burrow, Lee Burgess, T. J. Cochran, Mammie Condray, Ray Ely, G. G. Foster, C. R. Flesher, W. J. Flesher, J. B. Gamble, Chas. Harter, C. N. Harrison, Grady Holland, C. O. Keiser, S. B. Lofton, F. P. Luke, Chas. McDade, Robt. McGee, W. D. Morrel, Roy Moreland, E. H. Powell, T. H. Rowan, H. C. Roffey, H. L. Starr, J. E. Walker, F. M. Wilson, Misses Mary Morgan Brown, Agnes Dean, Elsa Guenther, Susie McGinley, Nora McMillon, Ethel Sharpe, Lola Word.

Bank Declares Dividend.

The First State Bank recently paid its stockholders a dividend of 20 per cent.

Awaiting the Crisis

The expectant mother, awaiting the greatest time in a woman's life, should by all means render nature a helping hand. "Mother's Friend" has been used by thousands of women. By regular use the muscles relax naturally and without strain when baby is born. The work which nature is performing is wonderfully aided by this safe, scientifically prepared preparation. The usual stretching pains during the period are avoided and the time before baby arrives is one of quiet repose and joyful anticipation. The expectant mother should not go a single night without applying it herself. Write to The Bradford Regulator Co., Dept. A, 300 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their book, "Motherhood and the Baby". It will be sent at once without charge. "Mother's Friend" is procurable from any drug store. Ask for it today.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES A SLUGGISH LIVER

Crashes into sour bile, making you sick and you lose a day's work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out,—just go to your druggist and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick—and sluggish tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It is harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

Letter From Leon Springs.
W. H. Younger Jr. writes from the Officers Training Camp to his parents in Canyon regarding the work of the camp as follows:
Dear Mamma:

Your most interesting letter received a day or two ago. You seem to think I have world's of time down here since you want me to read my Bible 30 minutes a day, write long letters home and read magazines. In regard to magazines, you need not send any at present, as I haven't time to read them. By the time I half read the day's lesson our study period is gone and there is no other time for reading. We have a four year's course to finish in 3 months. We get up early, hit the ball all day, study at night, go to bed at 9:45 and can't get up until the bugle blows.

Our day's work is outlined for us and any extra time is taken up in review, Sunday being the busiest day.

If you can find 30 minutes time for meditation of any kind during the day, you can beat anybody here.

We are on the run and as far as study is concerned, I never studied in my life before like we have to do here. We are getting all we can stand and more than a good many are able to pull through, so don't worry if I don't write as often as I might.

We bunk in a building 200 feet by 25 feet. 90 men to each building. Have plenty of well cooked food and keep in tip top shape.

We are learning horsemanship, pistol shooting and how to handle 3 inch field guns at present and how to handle them with speed.

With love to the home folks, I am
WILLIAM H. YOUNGER, Jr.

How Long Must I Suffer From the Pangs of Rheumatism?

Is there no real relief in sight?

Doubtless like other sufferers, you have often asked yourself this question, which continues to remain unanswered. Science has proven that your Rheumatism is caused by a germ in your blood, and the only way to reach it is by a remedy which eliminates and removes these little pain demons from your blood. This explains why liniments and lotions can do no permanent good, for they cannot possibly reach these germs which infest your blood by the millions. S. S. S. has been successfully used for Rheumatism for more than fifty years. Try it to-day, and you will find yourself at last on the right track to get rid of your Rheumatism. You can get valuable advice about the treatment of your individual case by writing to the Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., Dept. D Atlanta, Ga.

Rats.

If we'd conserve the food supply and have enough of corn and rye, of wheat and oats and graham bread, to keep the fighting peoples fed, we'll have to arm ourselves with slates, or other tools, and bat the rats. We tell the housewives, in our haste, how they must shun the sin of waste; we hand out language stern and wise, about our vital food supplies; and busy rats beneath the barn for eloquence don't care a darn. They spoil more grain, each passing day than many ships could bear away. Let's buy a million Maltese cats, and sic them on the wasteful rats. We're talking now of eating less—a fine decision I confess; but all economies are fakes, and give a wise man inward aches, so long as rodents are allowed to swarm around, a nasty crowd and chew the grain and gnaw the meat, and spoil whatever they can't eat. Oh, let us start a big campaign against these wasters of the grain. While they survive, the vermin punk, our talk of conservation is bunk. While cribs and bins are full of rats, we're merely talking through our hats.

It has been figured that farmers' excess profits on 1916 crops compared with before the war prices would be about $1.10 a bushel for wheat or $704,000,000 for the entire crop; corn excess over $1,500,000,000; oats excess, $312,000,000; cotton, $554,000,000.

Bois d'arc wood, which grows in abundance in Southern Oklahoma, will be utilized in making dyestuffs for coloring khaki cloth and other purposes. A manufacturing company, with $100,000 capital, is now installing a plant at Wapanucka, Johnston County, for the purpose of making these dyes.

The Mule.

The mule, he is a funny sight;
He's made of ears and dynamite.
His heels are full of bricks and springs,
Tornadoes, battering rams and things.
He's fat as any poisoned pup;
It's just his meanness swells him up;
He's always scheming 'round to do
The thing you most don't want him to.
The mule, he lives on anything;
He's got a lovely voice to sing,
And when he lets it loose at noon
It sounds like buzz saws out of tune.
He stands around with sleepy eye
And looks as if he'd like to die
But when there's any dying done,
It ain't the mule, I'll bet a bun.
Some folks don't treat mules with respect;
They say they ain't got no intellect,
That may be so, but if you've got
To go to heaven on the spot,
And want a way that doesn't fail,
Just pull the tassel on his tail.
The mule he tends to his own biz;
He don't look loaded—but he is.

Reservation for showing more than a hundred head of high-grade Holstein cattle at the State Fair of Texas, October 13 to 18, have been made. Three barns will be necessary to accommodate the herd, making the largest single reservation yet made in the livestock department. Mr. Waller representing the Farmers' Union of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas is in charge of the work of selecting and placing Holstein cattle throughout these states. He has established headquarters at Ft. Worth, with branch stations in San Antonio and Oklahoma City. The object of the organization is to place better dairy cattle, pigs and chickens on the farms of the South.

Rogers Sells Two Tracts.

J. E. Rogers has sold two of his tracts of land during the past few days, a raw half section eight miles south of Canyon going to S. F. Ward of Mitchell county at $20 per acre. Mr. Mitchell has already moved to Canyon and will be improving his land at once.

The 960 acre Stoddard farm south-east of town was sold to W. T. Jones of Memphis. The price was $26 per acre. Mr. Jones will move here by the first of January to take possession of the land.

Believes in Deep Plowing.

In a letter addressed to Mr. W. H. Bush, at Amarillo, Mr. G. T. Greeley, of Souix City, who is very much interested in the Panhandle country, says among other things:

"I have watched with a great deal of interest the rainfall (in the Panhandle) and, of course, was much discouraged but now that August has had so much, and if people will only plow 12 to 16 inches deep and hold the moisture, next year ought to produce bumper crops.

I have a store tenant who has farmed most of his life in Hungary, (good land $1,000 per acre.) He tells me they always plow 21 inches deep for sugar beets, the next year 8 inches for other crops, 8 or 10 inches the next year and then 14 inches deep until rotation brings the beet year round again, then 21 inches. They expect 40 bushels, always, of wheat; 22 tons of sugar beets per acre. They plow with two steam stationary engines and cable, the 21 inch plowing—after that oxen. They give as high as $20 rent per acre, on the best land. This method they have followed for years. The climate and rainfall is about as it is here in South Dakota where they are still plowing 4 to 5 inches.

I saw several hundred feet of movie films of the plow and attachment (made by the Scientific Machinery Co.) and nothing I have seen approaches it. It is really quite wonderful. I am going, I think, to have one made to cut 12 inches deep, maybe 14. This "once over" plow as it is called is in great demand."

Weary Willies.

I sympathize with the wonderers, with the vagrants out of work, with the sad and weary men who are seeking for work. When I see one of these men, poor and friendless—no matter how bad he is, I think that somebody loved him once—that he was once held in the arms of a mother—that he slept beneath her loving eyes and awakened in the light of her smile. I see him in the cradle listening to lullabies sung soft and low, and his little face is dimpled as though touched with the rosy fingers of joy. And then I think of the strange and winding paths—the weary roads he has traveled from that mother's arms to vagrancy and want.—Ingersoll.

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. No alcohol in Scott's.

Ferguson was impeached on ten of the twenty-one counts that were preferred against him by the house. In the light of the testimony presented in the trial, the senate could not do otherwise. To all thinking people Ferguson has been handling the affairs of state in a very loose manner. In other words, after served a very successful first term and elected over opposition for the second term, he conceived the idea that he was bigger than the state of Texas and all the people in the state. Ferguson could have been the greatest governor the state ever had, making the phenomenal rise that he did, but he mixed too freely with the wrong bunch.

Ex-Governor Ferguson resigned as Governor Monday night before the sentence of impeachment was passed upon him, and announced that he would run for governor next year, in spite of the fact that he was barred by the sentence. He claims that since he resigned, the sentence was not passed upon him as governor, and therefore did not apply to him as governor. A good many defrauders would gladly give back the money after found guilty by the jury and awaiting sentence by the judge.

Ferguson is not quite as apt in interpreting the scriptures as he is in other lines. He likened himself to Daniel in the lion's den, fighting for his life. If Daniel had started a rumpus in the lion's den, he would have been devoured in three seconds. Ferguson was a little tough, but the so-called lions eventually got him.

Those who thought that our diplomatic corps was on the bum can now change their minds, in the light of the numerous exposures in Washington during the past few weeks. Our secret service men and diplomats are strictly on the job, and have in hand all of the crooked and dirty work that the Germans have attempted to pull off in our country.

Under the state constitution, James E. Ferguson is forever barred from holding office in the state of Texas. Perhaps his experience and gains of office was sufficient for one life-time anyway.

Governor Hobby goes into office under the most favorable conditions. Men who know Hobby say that he is big enough man to hold the office and be elected next year without opposition.

$50,000 was asked by the German diplomats to buy up the American congress. Germans must think we are a cheap bunch. It took $156,000 to get even a mere governor.

WOMEN MAN ARMORED MOTOR BATTERY

These two young women, Miss I. L. Hill and Miss Dean Barnes, are among many who have volunteered for war service with Uncle Sam. AMERICA FIRST

There are places I know where I'd love to go.
There are things that I long to do.
There are times when my heart, with a longing to start,
Will ache, but I fight it through.
On the distant shores, where the cannon roars,
Perchance I may long to be,
But I'll take my stand in freedom's land—
America first for me.

There are deeds untold in the world of old,
There are rumors and dark events,
And the facts unfold till my blood runs cold
And my very soul reverts;
And I bow my head for the countless dead,
As I pray upon bended knee,
To bless each grave by him who gave
America first to me.

Through the darkest night it was freedom's light
That showed me the way to go;
I followed near and it led me here
To the fairest land I know,
So I leave behind all ties that bind
To those beyond the sea,
And I'll take my stand in Liberty's land,
America first for me.

Martyrs of Japan.

Despite the thousands of missionaries sent to Japan, and the sums spent in Christian propaganda there, Christianity has made but little headway. The pagan faiths retain their hold on the masses of the people. Among the educated and the "intellectuals" agnosticism and atheism are almost universal. It is not generally known that Japan has a Christian festival all of its own; but such is the case. February 5 having been set apart by the Catholic church in honor of the martyrs of Japan. These were the converts at St. Francis Xavier, who introduced Christianity into Nippon in the sixteenth century, and made a number of converts. The native Christians were subjected to a relentless persecution, and many of them put to death.

Spring Foods.
The importance of teaching children to eat and enjoy vegetable food is a most important one for all mothers to consider. Vegetables add bulk to the food, holding foods in such manner that the digestive juices have free access. Vegetables contain valuable mineral matters which are inestimably valuable to the growing child, in fact indispensable to a good body structure of bones and muscles. The mineral matter keeps the blood in good balance, supply elasticity to the blood vessels and do many other things to the functioning of the body.

The combination of spinach, carrots, an onion or two with a little celery all cooked together is a most satisfactory mixture containing the valuable mineral salts essential to the young, growing child. This may be given as a puree, or finely chopped, seasoned with butter or in a chicken or mutton broth as a vegetable soup.

To remember that the mineral salts are soluble in water is a most vital thing, as many cooks throw away the water in which vegetables are cooked, losing the very elements that make vegetable food valuable. A little care and thought should be given to the cooking of young, tender, succulent vegetables, allowing them to cook in just water enough to keep them from burning, and that water should then be added to the seasonings in the form of a sauce. If that method is not desired, the liquid may be saved and put into the soup pot, thus saving all the mineral elements.

The cooking of vegetables in a large amount of water and throwing it away is a most reprehensible waste, and one that should be most soundly condemned. One of the most important beginnings in teaching children to eat and like all kinds of vegetables is that the parents should always partake of them. Children as a rule cannot be forced into eating things that are objectionable, and they have a right to object if the head of the family does not eat them, for he is the pattern and example which all children love to follow. If daddy eats carrots and spinach it is comparatively easy to overcome any prejudice on the part of the children if they are taught early enough.

The early greens that come first in the spring are rich in iron and should be eaten frequently. Spinach should be cooked in as little water as possible, not to waste any of the precious minerals.

From Beaumont, Texas, comes an announcement to the effect that lumber mills in the Beaumont territory will finish one-third of the 300,000,000 feet of lumber purchased by the government for the construction of army cantonments.

Samples of soya four and oil have been received by the Texas Industrial Congress from the largest oil extracting mill in England. The samples come through consular service, and information regarding them will be turned to the Texas oil crushers in the hope that it will aid in developing the industry in the state. China has been the principal source of production of the bean, which has been exported in its raw state to the mills of England and America. In the Asiatic trade it is called the "soja" or "soya" bean, but in the United States it is known as the "soy" bean. One of its valuable characteristics is that it is a leguminous plant, drawing nitrogen from the air and depositing beneficial accretions in the soil, thus acting as a soil builder.

The wealth of America is increasing beyond all precedent or parallel. In the last seven years our national income has increased almost 33 1-3 per cent; in the last 17 years it has grown nearly 117 per cent. Our foreign trade for the calendar year 1916 reached the enormous sum of nearly eight billion dollars. This surpasses the combined totals of 1911 and 1912 and is more than two and one-half billions greater than the returns for 1915. In the-trade figures of nations, there are no records comparable to these. America has prospered greatly since August 1, 1914. In the 36 months that have elapsed since then, our foreign trade balance has attained the huge total of five and three-quarter billion dollars. This amount of money is almost six times the national debt of the United States as of April 1, 1917. The government's outstanding interest-bearing public debt on the above date was less than one billion dollars principal,—only one fortieth of the nation's present annual income. This nation possesses one-third of the world's stock of gold—nearly three billion dollars. The national assets of the United States equal the combined wealth of Great Britain, Russia, France and Italy. America today has two and a quarter times as much wealth as Great Britain; four times as much as France and eight times as much as Italy. It is the richest nation in all history.—Banber and Investor.

LOOKS INTO STOMACH

"Periscope" Is Latest Aid to the Surgeon.

Ingenious Contrivance by Which Man's Interior May Be Viewed Without the Risk and Delay of a Serious Operation.

Nowadays when the physician is called to examine a person who has something seriously wrong with the stomach he takes a look at the inside of that organ before deciding whether it is necessary to perform an operation or not. To see the inside of the stomach he makes use of a miniature periscope, similar in everything but size to that through which the commander of a submarine gets his bearings.

This instrument in its perfected form is described and illustrated by the Electrical Experimenter. It is a metal tube of small caliber containing an arrangement of mirrors and lenses and having a small electric light at the end. This is pushed down the throat of the patient. The light is turned on and the instrument is moved about until every part of the inner surface has been examined.

The mirrors and lighting arrangement leave enough space in the tube for fine scalpels and forceps and scissors to be passed down through it. Thus the surgeon is able sometimes to perform delicate operations through the tube and without cutting into the patient's abdomen. To the outer end of the instrument rubber bulbs are attached, and these are used for various purposes according to the needs of the case.

Notice of Application for Letters Guardianship.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Randall County, greetings:

You are hereby commanded to publish by publishing this notice once each week for ten days in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been published continuously and regularly in Randall County, Texas, for a period of one year to this date, to answer an application filed by A. S. Lawrence in the County Court of Randall County, Texas, on the 26th of September, 1917, asking for letters of guardianship of William H. Wagner a person of unsound mind.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To all persons interested in the welfare and guardianship of William H. Wagner, a person of unsound mind, A. S. Lawrence has filed in the County Court of Randall County, Texas, an application for letters of guardianship of the person and estate of William H. Wagner, which will be heard at the next term of said Court commencing the Second Monday in October, 1917, at the Court House thereof in the City of Canyon, Texas, at which time all persons interested in the welfare of such person of unsound mind may appear and contest such application, should they desire to do so.

Herein Fail Not, but have you then and there before said Court this writ, with your return thereon endorsed, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court this 26th day of September, 1917.

T. V. REEVES,
 Clerk of the County Court Randall County, Texas

I hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of the original writ now in my hands.

WORTH A. JENNINGS,
 Sheriff of Randall County, Texas

Didn't Think Quick Enough

Before introducing Lieutenant de Tesson, aid to General Joffre, and Colonel Fabry, the "Blue Devil of France," Chairman Spencer, of St. Louis entertainment committee at the M. A. A. breakfast told this anecdote.

"In Washington Lieutenant de Tesson was approached by a pretty American girl who said: 'And did you kill a German soldier?'"

"Yes," he replied.

"With what hand did you do it?" she inquired.

"With this right hand," he said.

"And then the pretty American girl seized his right hand and kissed it, Colonel Fabry stood near by. He strolled over and said to Lieutenant de Tesson: 'Heavens, man, why didn't you tell her that you bit him to death?'"

First Frost Last Night.

There was a light frost last night which will do no particular harm, unless it be in the lowlands. The weather yesterday was cool, with a sharp north wind. Prospects are good this morning for more moderate weather.

PERUNA Household Helper

Peruna eases the burden of the housekeeper by keeping away the danger of illness resulting from colds, coughs, and indigestion due to catarrhal condition. It speedily relieves and overcomes these.

Its tonic properties build up the strength of the physically weak and run down, and its use in convalescence, especially after grip, is remarkably beneficial.

KEEP IT ON HAND

The wise housekeeper has Peruna on hand for instant use even if catarrhal troubles do not call for its regular administration. A dose or two in time often prevents a long illness.

Liquid or tablet form.

Manila Tablets are a splendid laxative for home use.

WONDERFUL STUFF!
LIFT OUT YOUR CORNS

Apply a few drops then lift corns or calluses off with fingers—no pain.

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin. Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezone have him order it for you.

Secrets and Unravelers.

During the last few months the submarine cables have been particularly busy carrying secret messages between the various governments. Every government has its own particular forms of cipher specially composed for it by experts. The cipher is, however, only a defective method of securing secrecy, none having yet been connected to baffle the cipher unraveller. During the Spanish-American war the Americans appeared to the Spanish to be peculiarly lax in allowing a certain cable used by them to remain unchecked. They poured cipher messages through, and they were duly received and acknowledged by their agents. The senders and recipients little dreamt that every message sent to the cable passed first through American hands and was read by them. The supposed secret messages led to operations that, to the surprise of the Spanish, were foiled in a disastrous manner.

To Translate Old Book on Texas.

The only existing copy of "Texas in the Year of 1848," written in German, by Victor Bracht, one of the early German settlers, who came to Texas in 1845, was loaned to R. P. Bracht, son of the author of the book, by the state library. Mr. Bracht, says the San Antonio Light, wishes to have a translation made.

Victor Bracht came to Texas in 1845 with the Prince Solms-Braunfels colony to New Braunfels, and it is of this early period that the book is written. It tells of the life among the colonists and the opinion of the new land. Mr. Bracht was living in Mexico when Maximilian was emperor and knew that unfortunate ruler and his unhappy wife.

Potash in the Philippines.

It has been found that the ash of the seaweed collected on the shore of Manila bay in Tondo yields 15 per cent of potash. This discovery has aroused considerable interest, owing to the war time scarcity of seaweed available, but it is known in a general way that it is abundant. Explorations and further experimentation will be conducted by the government.

Naturally.

"So the catch of the season has gone off and got married."

"Yes."

"I darsay there was a sound of mourning when all the belles were told."

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadorsville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before. I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape.

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Thedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects; it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it. NC-131

Mother's Cook Book

Genius is talent set on fire by courage. Fidelity is simply daring to be true in small things as well as great. Courage is the standing army of the soul which keeps it from conquest, pillage and slavery.—Henry Van Dyke

Cornmeal Dishes.

Cornmeal is coming into its own. Because of the high price of flour, all housewives are looking for a substitute that can be used, occasionally, at least, for the more expensive wheat. One of the commonest and at the same time one of the best of foods is mush and milk, providing you use good, rich milk. This makes a good meal for Sunday night, but is not sufficiently sustaining for a man at hard work. The mush should be cooked long and well to have it wholesome. This same mush, put into a bread tin to mold, may be cut in slices and fried for breakfast and served with sirup, this makes a most sustaining dish. The hot mush may be mixed with any leftover chopped meat, well seasoned and molded. That may be fried as much, and is called scrapple. A little cornmeal added to a mixture of wheat or buckwheat flour for griddle cakes, improves them. Cornmeal may be used in place of flour to dip oysters before frying, or for rolling fish or sliced pork before frying.

Corn Gems.

Blend together two cupsful of sweet milk with one egg, a pinch of salt, a tablespoonful of brown sugar, a tablespoonful of maple sirup, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one cupful of Indian meal and one cupful of wheat flour sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. When very light stir in a half cupful of finely chopped dates. Fill hot buttered gem pans three-quarters full and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

New England Bannocks.

Scald eight heaping tablespoonfuls of meal (a cupful) with two cupfuls of boiling water, add four tablespoonfuls of flour, a fourth of a teaspoonful of soda, two well beaten eggs and sufficient cold milk to form a batter thick enough to drop by spoonfuls into hot fat. Fry to a golden brown and serve with maple sirup.

Fruit Cake.

Cream a half cupful of butter and a cupful of brown sugar, moistened with half a pint of strong coffee; add one cupful of molasses, a teaspoonful of allspice, one grated nutmeg, a teaspoonful of cinnamon, one well-beaten egg, three cupfuls of flour, sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a cupful of cornmeal. Add any desired fruit and bake in a slow oven three-quarters of an hour.

Nellie Maxwell
Woman's Clever Work.

One of the many patent attorneys at Washington was recently the recipient of a most unusual model of a device for which a client sought protection. It was a crocheted reproduction in miniature of a motor-driven lawn mower invented by a California woman. Being proficient in needlework, but not drafting, she crocheted a model of the mower and its propulsion attachment. Every part of the machine was reproduced in her extremely novel piece of needlework, which was subsequently starched—so that it would have shape as well as the strength to stand alone—and dispatched to the capital. Her work was so well executed that a draftsman experienced no trouble in making detailed drawings of the invention.—Popular Mechanics.

Growing Old.

Margaret Deland in the Woman's Home Companion discusses the problem of growing old. Among other things, she says: "To hold on to our appreciation of nature, we must spur our dull and lagging memory of beauty; to keep our appreciation of human nature, we must refuse to be laid on the shelf; we must keep up with the procession of human thought. Only so can we see the sweat, the tears and smiles of our fellow creatures. These are the two tasks of middle age; if we perform them worthily, our souls will never grow old."

The Bell in the Tower.

In the old church tower
Hangs the bell—
And above it on the vane,
In the sunshine and the rain,
Cut in gold St. Peter stands
With the keys in his two hands,
And all is well!

In the old church tower
Hangs the bell:
You can hear its great heart beat,
Ah, loud, and mild, and sweet!
As the parson says his prayer
Over happy lovers there,
While all is well.

In the old church tower
Hangs the bell,
Deep and solemn. Hark! Again!
Ah, what passion and what pain!
With her hands upon her breast
Some poor soul has gone to rest
Where all is well!

In the old church tower
Hangs the bell—
A quaint friend that seems to know
All our joy and all our woe;
It is glad when we are wed,
It is sad when we are dead,
And all is well!

—Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

The open season on doves began in Texas September 1st. Many citizens already are planning hunting trips. According to the reports of farmers living near Dallas there is a plentiful supply of doves this season. The construction of 14 oil barges has been started at the ship yard in Harrisburg, a suburb of Houston, entirely of yellow pine, and will vary from 125 to 175 feet in length, with a capacity of 3,500 to 6,000 barrels.

COVERS 5,000 SQUARE FEET

Included in the Exhibit Will Be Models of the Forest Service, Weather Bureau, Bureau of Animal and Plant Industry, Etc.

Many branches of work under the direction of the Agricultural Department of the United States Government will be shown in the big exhibit which the Agricultural Department will place at the State Fair of Texas, October 13-26.

This exhibit will be located in the Agricultural Building and will be open to visitors of the State Fair. The exhibit will occupy not less than five thousand square feet of floor space, and will be accompanied by four representatives of the Department of Agriculture, who will explain the details thereof. Included in the branches to be treated by the exhibit will be:

Forest Service—Willow basket exhibit; model of dry kiln, two models showing the proper way to pile lumber for seasoning; erosion model, showing the results of deforestation, transparencies showing the work in various national forests; two stereomicrographs for automatically showing stereoscopic views; miniature fire tower; iron telephone box; fire fighting equipment tools; fire ladder; twenty-four colored glass transparencies and fifty bromides and charts.

Weather Bureau—Large glass map, size 36 feet; lightning rod house, snow gauge, storm warning lantern, barograph, river stage transmitter and dial, ordinary rain gauge, single register, triple register, anemometer, electric rain gauge, wind vane, maximum and minimum thermometers, series of photographs and charts.

Bureau of Animal Industry—Sheep and cattle dips, diseased meat spiced, incense showing results obtained by meat inspector service; story of clean milk; comprising forty-eight photographs and charts, showing the process through which the milk passes from the farm to the consumer; display of various kinds of eggs, including chicken, turkey, guinea, hens and geese; poultry-house model, showing construction of inexpensive and sanitary poultry house; trap nest, colony house and brood coop models; egg tester and incubator showing the fertility and infertility of eggs and telling why the public should produce infertile eggs for food; model dairy barn, model of milk house, model of silo construction; numbers of farm pictures, including animal and poultry life.

Bureau of Plant Industry—Specimens of various grains such as oats, rye, wheat and cereals; series of farm views, showing fields of wheat, rye, oats, wheat and cereals.

Office of Public Roads—Twelve models showing construction of various types of highways.

Bureau of Chemistry—Baby food and charts and drug exhibits and cans and drying fruits and vegetables.

POULTRY DIVISION AT STATE FAIR LARGER

Five Thousand Birds From Many States Will Be Entered in Show.

Five thousand birds will be entered in the Poultry Show to be held in connection with the State Fair of Texas, October 13-23.

Superintendent Walter Burton is expecting a more representative list of exhibitors than in former years, and he is authority for the statement that the number of birds entered will be greater. Louisiana fanciers will enter the State Fair Poultry Show for the first time, this year, reservations having been made by a number of fanciers from that State.

The Tri-State Silver Wyandotte Club will hold its first annual show at the State Fair. This organization limits its membership to Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, and each of the three states will have a large representation in the show.

In addition to the premiums offered by the State Fair, the Tri-State Club has posted a number of attractive specials for members of the organization.

The Texas Barred-Rock Club will also hold its show in connection with the State Fair Poultry Show, and is offering liberal specials supplementing the premiums offered by the State Fair.

Silk Making Plant Shown.

A complete silk manufacturing plant, showing the making of silk cloth from the culture of the silk worm to the completed fabric, will be in operation at the State Fair of Texas, October 13-23.

The Austin Silk Plantation & Manufacturing Co. has reserved a large space for the installation of this plant and representatives of the company will be in charge to explain the various steps in manufacture. Dr. V. K. Ostigan will be in charge of the exhibit.

Preventing Staleness of Middle Age

By C. F. THWING, President of Western Reserve University

Every age of man has its peculiar temptations. The temptation of youth is, in the case of men, appetite; in the case of women, self-consciousness.

The temptation of both men and women of middle age is the temptation of staleness. This temptation belongs especially to college-bred men. The college man who has developed, in his four academic years, a vigorous body of large and hard muscles is peculiarly open to the danger of physical staleness.

The peril of staleness belongs also to the intellect and the imagination. The inspirations of the cloister, the visions of highest purposes, the atmosphere of idealism, the sense of yonder-mindedness, are in peril of fading away in the light of common day.

The defense, however, against such staleness is not far to seek. The defense against physical staleness for the athlete is the continuance of his athletic sports. He is to keep up the fun of daily exercise in gymnasium, on the river, on the tennis court, on the links. If this be not easy, as it probably will not be, he must at least make it an actual endeavor.

The peril of intellectual staleness may be removed by great reading and noble thinking for at least a brief period every day. The imperative of immediate duty should yield to the more imperial imperativeness of the distant duty. Poetry, great prose, should be a daily portion. The portion may be small, brief in time, limited to paragraphs, yet, nevertheless, to it should be given heed.

"Give me a great thought, that I may lift myself with it," is the counsel of Jean Paul.

The danger, too, of moral and human staleness may be met by the inspiration of leadership. Every man should seek to be a leader. He may be in humanity's army simply a sergeant—let him lead his small squad. He may be a captain—let him lead his hundred. He may be a colonel—let him lead his regiment. But every man of educated power may, in the trying mid-period of his life, lift himself out of his moral temptations by feeling the duty and by appreciating the privilege of being an inspiring guide. The duties he owes others help him to perform the duties he owes himself.

HELP

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

This is one of the biggest little words in any language—Help. No human being ever gets so big that he doesn't need Help from somewhere. Most successful men, as well as most unsuccessful men, at some time or other need Help, and the greatest service that anybody can render to anyone else is to give them Help.

Hardly an individual lives that is not appealed to daily for Help, and the man or woman who is growing and storing up usefulness to his or her credit is acquiring the happiest of rewards when he or she answers a sincere call for Help.

No appeal is quite so nonpartisan, no appeal is quite so bereft of selfishness as the fair, open appeal for Help. Help squeezes its way into every fiber of the makeup of every human being and every organization of every nation.

If you want to be happy, and if you want to be healthy, and if you want to be glad that you can breathe, Help somebody.

Help those who Help you. Help out in the crowd—Help where courage and character, privation and self-sacrifice make no outward demand for Help. Help others and others will instinctively want to Help you, although, as a matter of the plainest truth, every time you Help somebody else you are Helped.

Help is the unvarnished human feeling that touches every live being. It's the principle which enables the world to run smooth. Help.

Around the World.

- Chile is twice as large as California.
- Italy is buying American hardware.
- Italy's army eats 90,000 cattle every month.
- Portugal is to have a steamship line to Brazil.
- Japan is to advertise products in the United States.
- Texas will shortly make paper pulp from cotton stalks.
- Spain is unable to supply the Greek demand for lumber.
- Papermakers have recently planted 750,000 trees on cutover lands in Maine.

Ad Astra.

An unstable patron of Broadway's gay places was tacking his way northward the other night when he came upon the telescope man at Columbus circle, who lets you look at the stars for a nickel. The bibulous one looked at the telescope in amazement.

"Sh-a-gun!" he said, thickly. He put his fingers to his ears, and watched. Presently a shooting star fell from the sky. The happy one smiled broadly, took his fingers from his ears and patted the telescope man. "Sha good shot, old boy!" he said, and wobbled out into the park.—New York Evening Post.

POULTRY

It pays better to feed well, house well and keep strong, healthy hens than to be careless about these things and have to doctor the flock to keep it in condition.

There is no reason why standard-bred poultry with attractive shape and beautiful color cannot be more profitable for eggs and meat than mongrels or poorly bred pure-breds.

If the mash for ducks is mixed with milk or buttermilk, it will help them to lay earlier, if early eggs are wanted to raise the early and most profitable ducklings.

Be sure that the turkeys and geese have dry, well-bedded floors in their houses, for dampness will soon cause trouble and trouble will cause loss of profit.

Be sure that the turkey shed is kept clean and is disinfected frequently, because turkeys will not stand filthy quarters and are easily affected by disease germs.

Be sure that the fowls exercise vigorously every day scratching for grain in a litter, and while they are scratching be sure that they have plenty of fresh, pure air to breathe.

There are very few flocks of fowls on which there are not some lice, unless the owners are constantly using preventive measures; and lice will not only torment the fowls but spoil the profits.

Be sure that there is a deep litter of clean hay, straw or something of that kind on the floor of the henhouse, out of which the fowls must scratch the whole or cracked grain of their ration to obtain exercise.

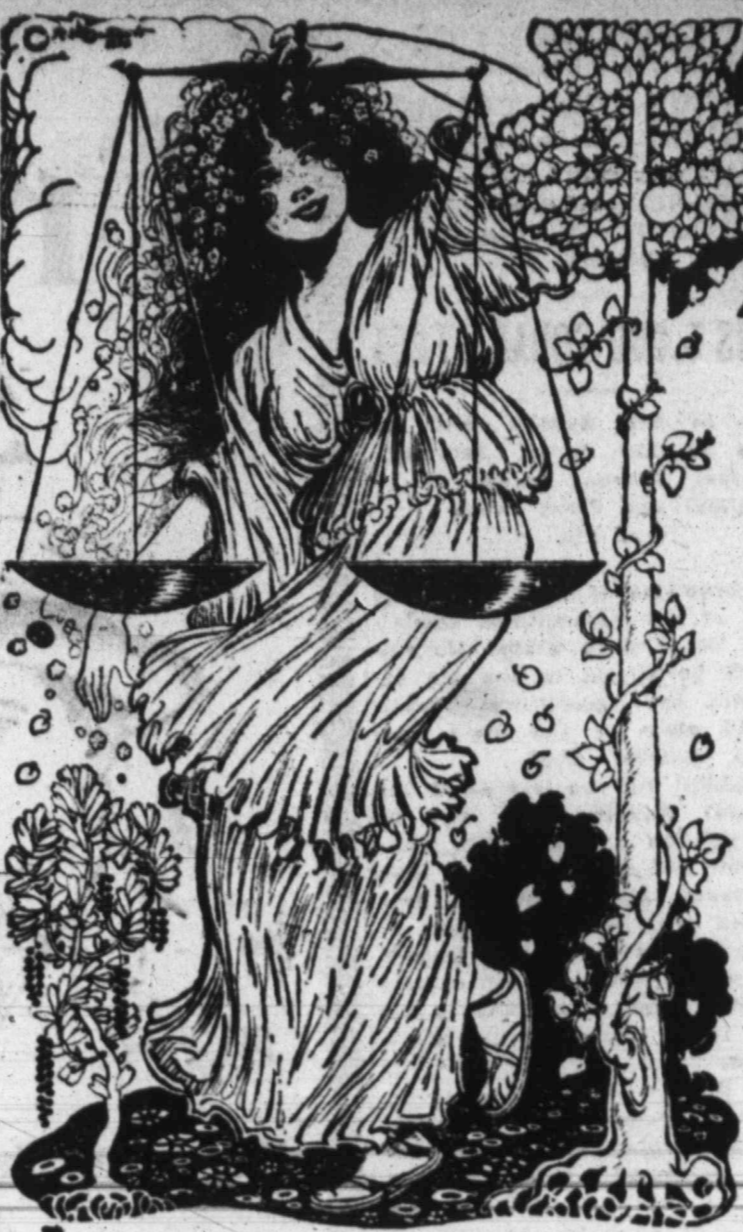

Chicken pox starts with little eruptions on the face and comb which develop into scabby sores. It is very contagious and the comb and face should be frequently treated with carbolic vaseline or some other germ-killing ointment.

Many Havens for Birds.

The bird reservations of the United States, fostered by the National Association of Audubon Societies, now number 70. They include refuges for gulls and terns on the Maine coast, asylums for egrets in Florida, a line of reservations along the Mississippi river migration route, and a reservation larger than Connecticut in the Yukon delta of Alaska. An important one exists in the Hawaiian islands, with a new one in the Canal zone. Dr. T. G. Pearson of the conservation commission of Canada, urges the need of reservations in the northern part of the hemisphere, and especially in Labrador, where the waste of bird life is enormous.

First Eight-Hour Law.

The first law fixing the hours of labor at eight was enacted in New York 50 years ago, in 1857, to be exact. A joker in the law, however, prevented its being much more than a dead letter, for it was also provided that the law should apply only "where there is no contract or agreement to the contrary."

The government is to use 35,000 picked volunteers to make nationwide surveys to determine the approximate amount of the important products on farms that are convertible into food. One survey has now started and another will be made about the first of November to cover the fall harvests. This is a part of the work provides for in the food production bill passed recently by congress. The farmer will not be left to his own sweet will as much in the future as in the past; he will be asked to answer many questions, some of which he may object to.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

The Thoroughbred

Paige cars are the ideal combination of rare beauty and mechanical excellence. A Paige looks the part—and acts the part.

It is a thoroughbred no matter whether you judge it from the standpoint of artistic design or the grueling tests of the road.

In your own community—perhaps in your own neighborhood—there is a family that owns a Paige car.

Make it a point to meet these people and discover just what their experience has been. Do this, and unless we are greatly mistaken, a new Paige will be standing in front of your home very shortly thereafter.

CATTLE AND SHEEP RANCHES IN NEW MEXICO

New Mexico, the ideal range country for cattle or sheep, now offers to stockgrowers the final opportunity to buy desirable grazing lands at reasonable prices.

I offer exceptionally good grazing propositions in New Mexico at attractive prices to stockmen who are ready to do business now. These propositions come in deeded land, leased land, open range and in combinations, stocked or clear. They are well located and possess all the essentials of first-class stock ranches. They are both large and small and include a few very large properties.

Generosity

Clearing his throat a little conscientiously, Mr. Hyne looked askance at Caleb Peaslee.

"This is a queer question, Kellup," he ventured at last, "and I d'know's I ought to ask it 'bout a neighbor, but who is the most selfish man you know of, right in his own family, and to'rds his own children?"

Mr. Peaslee glanced about him cautiously, and then replied with a grin that had in it a touch of self-consciousness.

"I wouldn't tell you if I didn't know we're both thinkin' of the same man," he said. "Ben Safford's the pusson. I saw you stop when you came by his place. What's he been dop' now?"

"Nothin' special," replied Mr. Hyne. "What I saw him do is of a piece with all his doin's, only he done it without any color of shame, fur's I could see."

"What was it?" persisted Mr. Peaslee.

"Well," Mr. Hyne deposed slowly, "I had a pocketful of walnuts, and when I got 'long by Stafford's he was standin' out by the gate with the boy of his. I don't care what Ben Safford is—that boy is bright and smart as they make. Mebbe he takes it from his mother. I didn't want the walnuts myself, and I did want to give 'em to the boy. I don't suppose Safford ever brings any bought truck home to that youngster. So I started to give 'em to the kid, but Safford held out his hand.

"'Til shell 'em," he says, and like a fool I put 'em all in his hand—and what do you think he done?"

"Eat the heft of 'em himself," conjectured Mr. Peaslee without a moment's hesitation. Mr. Hyne smote his leg savagely with his hard palm.

"He eat the last solitary one of 'em himself and gin the boy the empty shells to play with," he asserted stoutly. "Yes, sir, he eat 'em all, with that kid watchin' him, and hopin' to the last that mebbe one of 'em would fall to his share. And then his father gin him the empty shells and told him he could make boats of 'em, and the boy went off looking pretty sober."

Mr. Peaslee pursed his lip and emitted a low whistle of surprise.

"I d'know's I ever heard of anything to beat that, I d'know jest how a man could go to work to beat it," he said.

"But I ought not to be s'prised at anything Ben Safford does in the way of stinginess. You know what he did when he was courtin' his wife, don't you?"

Mr. Hyne shook his head sourly. "He was married long 'fore I moved into town," he replied, "but I'm willin' and able to b'lieve anything after what I saw this mornin'."

"Well," began Mr. Peaslee, "they say that he took her to a fair one time, bein' as he had some cattle on exhibition and could get into the fair grounds for nothin'. They took their own food with 'em—she put it up for both of 'em—and Ben was havin' a dreftful good time, seein' nothin' was costin' him a cent.

"There was side shows and things like that, but of course the girl knew that Ben wouldn't fool away any money on such things. But there was heaps of things to eat—candy and pears and oranges, and I s'pose she had a kind of a sweet tooth. Anyway, after they'd wandered round and Ben'd seen 'bout all he could see for nothin', she sort of plucked up her courage. She is a quiet, patient little pusson, you know, and she had a kind of wistful look even in them days.

"They was goin' past a booth where there was some oranges and she touched him on the arm and says, 'Don't them oranges look awful nice, Ben?' He halted right square in his tracks, and she hardly dared to b'lieve her own eyes at that.

"But when he grabbed her by the arm and begun to fetch her along to'rds the oranges, elbowin' folks out of the way so he could get closer, she felt that she'd been sort of misjudgin' him all along. He made a way through the crowd and led her right up in front of the booth.

"There!" says he. They look better from here than they did when we was way out there. Now,' he says, 'we'll stay here and you can look at 'em long's you're a mind to!'"—Youth's Companion.

Creamed Radishes.

A way to utilize the pithy and wilted radishes to be found in every garden has been worked out by students in the home economics department of the University of Kansas. It is announced that pithy or wilted radishes make a very desirable dish when creamed. The method of preparing it is explained, is similar to that of creaming other vegetables, such as creamed asparagus or creamed onions.

Lemon Juice in Pie Crust.

When making pie crust or any kind of pastry put in a little lemon juice. This will kill the taste of lard and make the crust exceedingly light and flaky.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A beauty specialist frequently encounters hard lines.

Morality is always ready to monopolize the spotlight.

Most married men grow just to keep from forgetting how.

If a man expects a woman to be reasonable she thinks he is unreasonable.

Some people derive a lot of satisfaction from making themselves miserable.

There may be nothing new under the sun, but there are always a lot of fresh people.

Girls who can't cook should look before they leap into the matrimonial frying pan.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

Burial in dry flour will keep silver bright for a long time?

A lemon will yield almost twice as much juice if slightly warmed before squeezing?

Pie crusts are bound, crimped and trimmed at the same time with a new kitchen utensil?

A patent has been granted for stick candy having a core made of peanut butter?

Cushions filled with dried coffee grounds protect needles and pins from rusting?

A laundry soap which applies bluing while it is being used to lather clothes has been invented by an Englishman?

A coffee pot on the vacuum bottle principle, the lid of which serves as a stopper, has been invented?

One of the new 'laundry machines can be used in a bathroom, being supplied with water through hose from the washstand and emptying into the closet.

A new substitute for butter is being made from the butter fats of coconuts? The coconuts are ground fine, mixed with milk and churned. It makes an article you couldn't tell from butter.

No Chance to Win.

The captain of the Golden Cross listened patiently to his Yankee passenger's account of his shooting abilities, then he quietly remarked: "I don't think you could hit this bottle at twenty yards, placed on the taffrail, while the ship is heaving like this."

"I guess it would be just child's play."

"Well, I'll bet you a guinea you don't hit it three times out of six."

"It's a wager! Come along."

The bottle was placed in position. Crack! The Yankee hit it, and it disappeared in fragments into the sea.

"Trot out another one," said the marksman.

"Not at all. The conditions were that you hit that one three times out of six. Five shots more."—London Tit-Bits.

Beautiful Resignation.

Apropos of the Russian revolution, Oswald Garrison Villard said: "Even the higher classes of Russia seem to accept this revolutionary change with resignation—like Smithson, you know."

"Smithson, clad in deepest black, said resignedly, as he drained a glass of beer:

"The Lord giveth, and the Lord taketh away; blessed be the name of the Lord."

"Smithson seems," said a bystander, "to have sustained a loss."

"Yes," said a bartender, "he's just buried his mother-in-law."

Oilecloth on Shelves.

Oilecloth is more satisfactory than shelf paper for covering the pantry shelves, as it can always be kept clean. Though the outlay is larger, it is cheaper in the end, as it may be washed when soiled instead of having to be replaced.

The new editor of the Clarendon News, who has just come into this section from down in Central Texas, holds up his hands in horror at the thought of dividing Texas into two states. The editor of this paper came from the same congressional district that Editor Braswell did, and when we were a newcomer to these parts we were also against dividing "the imperial state of Texas." But that was six years ago, and since then we have learned many things, and one of them has been that Texas is too large and the interests of the people too varied to be properly governed as one state. Besides, under the old redistricting laws the people of the West and North west do not get their proportional representation in the law-making bodies. There are senatorial districts in East and South Texas with less than one-fourth the people in the jumbo district which extends from Cooke county to Texline, and though the senatorial districts were made twenty-seven years ago, when few people were in

CROP YIELD GOOD THIS YEAR IN RANDALL CO.

The crops condition in Randall County for the year 1917 is very promising, and will prove one of the most prosperous to the farmers in the history of this county since the farming industry began.

The Panhandle country for the past few years has been undergoing a more or less varied experience in regard to the rainfall, but through all of this time the farmers have learned the lesson of dry farming, and even though the dividends were cut short during the first part of the period by the lack of rainfall, the experience was profitable in that a great lesson in proper cultivation was taught.

The wheat acreage this year was the greatest in the history of the Panhandle. The high price of feed caused most of the farmers to put in large crops of wheat for grazing, which in the Panhandle is profitable even if the returns from the grain crop is light as the stock may live on the wheat through the winter and spring months.

The lesson of the drouth of 1909-10 was fresh in the minds of most of the Panhandle farmers and they had plowed the land for the wheat crop deep and were prepared for a drouth at any time. Many farmers claim that the wheat they planted last fall received but little rain during the growing period, many as little as two inches, but the wheat kept on growing and made a good yield.

The Panhandle defies all when it comes to getting a good crop at a minimum of rainfall. There is no other country that will produce ten bushels of wheat on a rainfall of two inches.

Row Crops Good.

While the wheat has been making this good record the row crops have not been idle. Although there was little rain during May and June or even July, the row crops waited during the dry time until the August rain, and then began to make a wonderful growth.

Kafir and Milo Maize never fail in Randall County. These crops will make good feed and grain crops, no matter if the rainfall is light or comes late. In other sections where Indian corn is raised, that crop would burn up and blow away if it had to undergo the severe tests that these crops are often put through.

Sorghum is another favorite crop in Randall county, a majority of the crop being sown broadcast after the wheat has been cut, on the stubble land, and then cut for feed. Since the coming of the silo, sorghum has played a great part in the filling of these great conservators of food.

Peterita is another favorite row crop with Randall county farmers and is largely planted every year. It is of a quick growth and makes a very fine feed.

All of these row crops make excellent ensilage. It is a noteworthy fact that Randall County has more silos than any of its neighbors, and the ensilage has played an important part in bringing to Randall County on two different occasions a record to be proud of—the highest priced Texas cattle ever sold on the Kansas City market.

Much Alfalfa.

In the valleys along the Palo Duro and Tierra Blanca creeks is a large body of land which grows wonderful alfalfa. Alfalfa has become one of the standard crops of the county and the amounts shipped out each year is enormous. There is always a ready market, with a good price. Since the drouth in other sections of central Texas this year, the price has risen greatly. There is a considerable amount of alfalfa raised on the highlands as well as on these creek lowlands.

Some Cattle Records.

The feeders of the middle west are scared. The splendid record made by the C. O. Keiser cattle in topping the market and bringing a record price to Texas has caused some of the western feeders to stop and think. They realize that they cannot feed $2.00 Indian corn raised on $150 and $200 land and make any money on the deal when they have to compete with the native feeds of the Panhandle, which is just as nutritive and which is produced on cheap land in as large a volume as is the Indian corn of the Mississippi valley.

Here are some interviews on the question published in the Kansas City Drovers Telegram:

"Cattle from the range territory topping the fed steer market simply shows that cattle feeding is no longer confined to the corn belt as we supposed it would always be," B. F. Taylor of LaFayette County, Missouri, said. "Steers from Texas which never had any corn good enough to top the fat cattle market, shows that this feeding industry is slipping away from us and breaking over into new territory."

J. F. Logan of DeKalk County, Missouri, is convinced that if corn belt farmers expect to keep on feeding cattle they must raise a greater variety of feed, and not depend on corn exclusively, as some have been doing. Mr. Logan observes that many cattle of the well finished class which have not had any corn at all are now being marked at top prices.

Sudan Grass.

Sudan grass is being raised extensively in Randall County this year. It grows as high as a man's head and may be cut two or three times. If allowed to stand it will make an excellent grain crop. It has been proven, as a dry weather crop and always yields well. Many farmers believe that it will soon be the principal hay crop of the Panhandle and other sections.

Millet is another good hay crop which is largely raised in Randall County.

According to the ruling of Mr. Hoover, food commissioner, not a drop of whiskey will be manufactured in the United States after 11 o'clock Saturday night, September 8. All other distilled spirits for use as beverages will cease to be manufactured at the same time. Probably whiskey will never again be made for a beverage. This ruling is made upon the provision of the food control bill prohibiting the making of whiskey. It is good as far as it goes, but it should apply to beer and wines as well as whiskey. However, the obsequies over beer and wine have merely been postponed to a later date.

THE SOLDIER'S ODE.

We give our services, you shut off our beer, But the slacker can drink till it runs out of his ear. We quit a good job to keep you from harm, The slacker goes by with a girl on each arm, And laughs at the soldier—poor, unlucky cuss— Why go with the slacker and ostracise us? The slacker rides 'round in a Ford all his own, And charges us a dollar to haul us to town, We're doing our duty, his liver is white, Yet we leave the streets at ten every night While he stricks 'round as long as he cares, And laughs at the soldier whenever he dares,

Discipline, we know, is a thing that must be, But honest to goodness we fail to see When the soldier drinks nothing but water and pop, Why the drink of the slacker can't also be stopped, If the slacker can dance, it seems rather hard That at all decent dances the uniform's barred.

We have shouldered our rifles and taken our place, We'll go to our death with a smile on our face, And this is our honest appeal to you— Till we cross over, please give us our due.

Liberty Loan Bonds.

A few serious, interesting, and simply told facts about our country, the war and the liberty loan:

The total yearly income of all the people in this country is estimated at forty billion dollars.

During the first year of the war we must find eighteen and one-half billion dollars, or about forty-seven dollars for every hundred dollars that we care.

These figures are astounding, but we can "get by," and if you will read on you will see how we are going to do it.

There are two ways in which the Government will raise this money—by taxation and by borrowing money from you.

The more the government will allow you to loan to it the less it will have to tax you right now. Therefore, ease your taxation by buying a liberty bond.

Arguments about facts which have been mentioned is useless. We are (Continued on page 4)

KEISER HAS BIG REGISTERED HERD

NO SINGLE OWNER IN U. S. WITH A LARGER HERD

C. O. Keiser Brings to the Southwest Best of the Famous Herds in the Northern States

Fort Worth Record:

The largest herd of registered Hereford cattle owned by a single individual in the United States is to be found in Randall County, and owned by C. O. Keiser of Canyon. There is possibly one larger registered herd of Herefords in the entire country, this being owned by a corporation. Mr. Keiser is by far the largest individual registered Hereford owner.

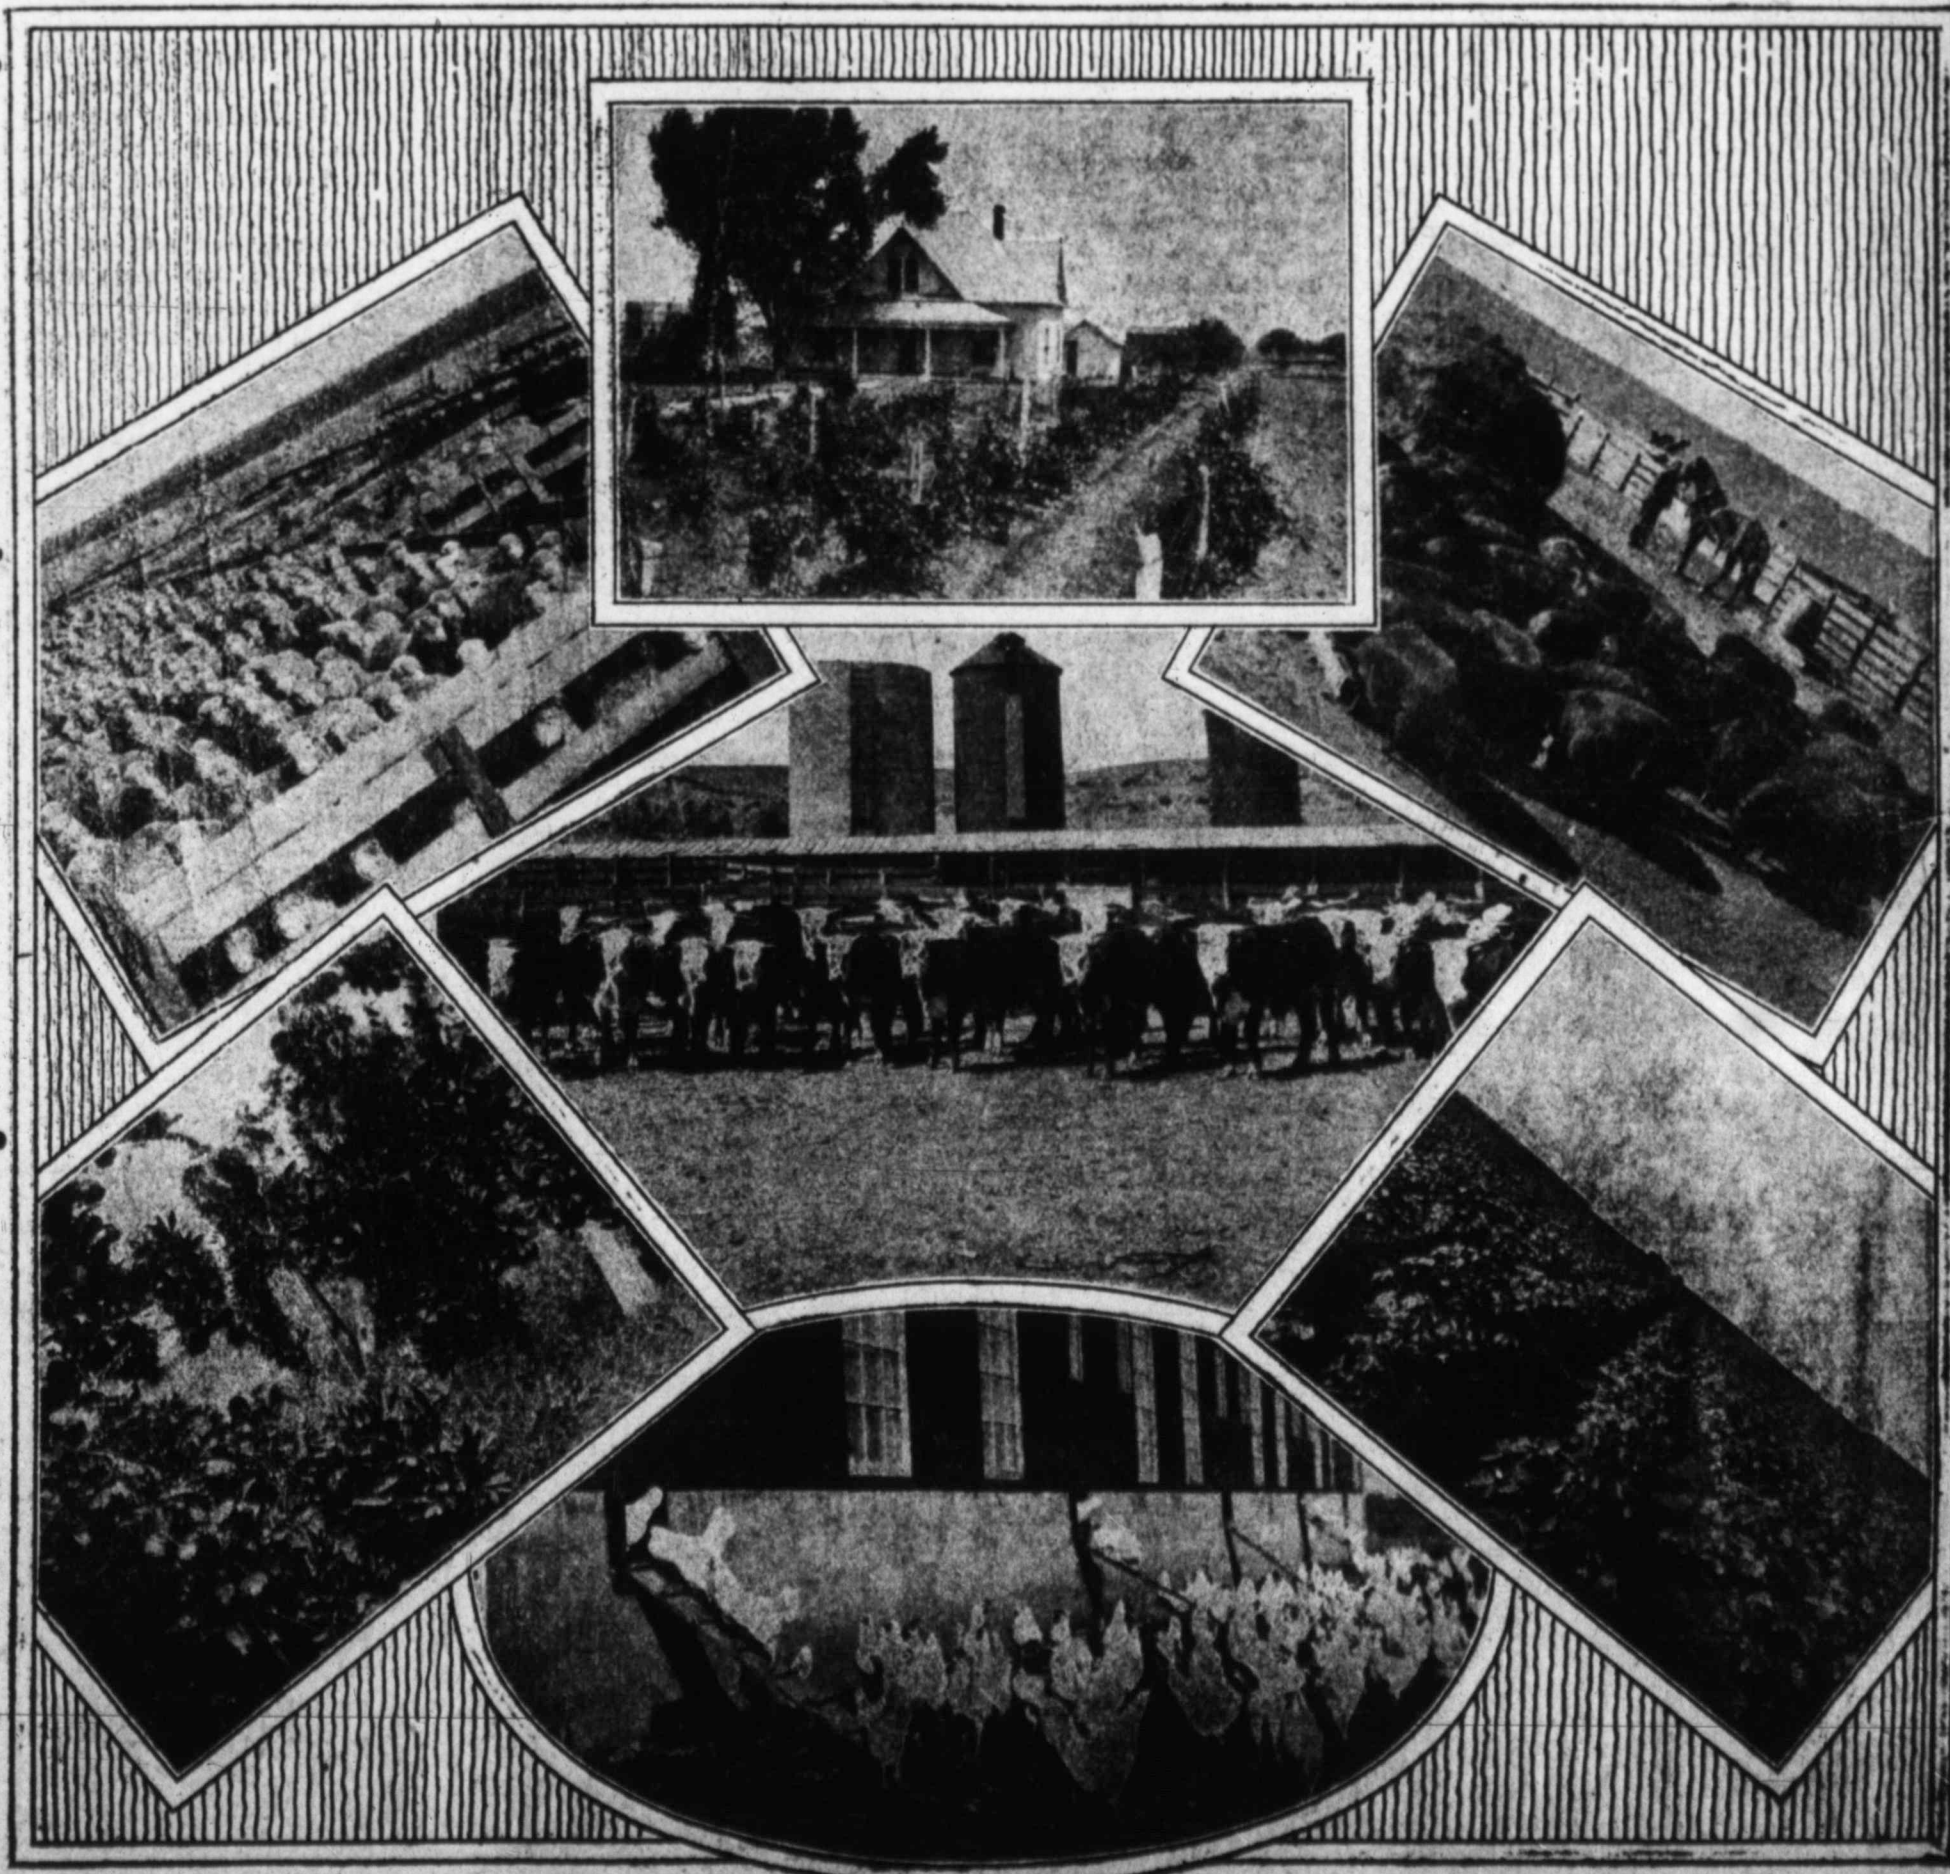

The Keiser herd at this time numbers about nine hundred head. In this herd are to be found descendants of some of the most noted show cattle known to Hereford breeders. Mr. Keiser has made a careful selection from the prize winning herds of Iowa, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and England, shipping this stock to his ranches near Canyon. He has bought only the best from the choice stock and the result of his effort has resulted in bringing to the Southwest one of the greatest aggregations of registered Herefords ever brought together.

Among the great breeding matrons in this herd are Lenton Lily, Shucknall Gaylass 5th, Clive Crocus, Trevithel Bertha, Poply Brown, Bertha 5th, Daisy Dimples, Daisy Procter, which were bred in the famous Herefordshire District of England the birthplace of the Hereford cattle. These cows were purchased and imported about two years ago for the purpose of blending the best blood of English cattle with that of the outstanding individuals of American breeding already contained in this herd.

The Keiser herd has a large number of American bred cows, both raised on his ranch and shipped from the northern states, which compare very favorably with the cows which have

INTERESTING SCENES FROM RANDALL COUNTY FARM HOMES

WEST TEXAS STATE NORMAL

From an architectural standpoint the new building of the West Texas State Normal College is one of the most complete, if not the most complete in the state.

The building stands on a campus of forty acres.

The building is 208 feet east and west and 168 feet north and south, exclusive of the steps.

The style of the building is a combination of Grecian and Roman.

It faces the south with the main entrance on the south, and east and west supplementary entrances.

The building has semi indirect electric light, with local gas plant.

No student or teacher will face the light in the class rooms.

The curtain walls are of brick, stone and terra cotta. The brick are of dark gray, with white stone and terra cotta are used.

It is estimated that the building will carry eight times the weight that would be upon it if every floor was filled with men standing as closely together as possible.

The building is constructed in a T shape, the auditorium, swimming pool and gymnasium occupying the stem portion of the building.

The Basement.

The basement floor contains the swimming pool, gymnasium, boys and girls locker rooms, toilets, shower baths, office of Director of Physical Education, girls lunch room, manual training machinery shop, office of Director of Manual Training and bench woodwork room.

The swimming pool room is 40x100 feet. It is tiled floor. The 28x62 foot pool is tiled, and water stands from 3 1/2 to 8 1/2 feet deep when filled. It is the latest in style, with rings, spring boards and trapeze. Marble steps lead up to the landings. Water may be heated to any required degree.

The shower bath rooms are in marble with nickel plated fixtures, having both hot and cold water at the disposal of the students.

The toilet rooms are finished in marble with numerous wash basins, etc.

The locker rooms contain one thousand and steel lockers, having independent locks for each.

The general gymnasium is 40x100 feet, with a 24 foot ceiling. It has a maple floor and is equipped with all the latest apparatus, including steel lockers for the smaller apparatus.

A corrective gymnasium 22x70 feet for the treatment of special cases among the students and for the use of the training school.

In the basement is also the fan room, containing two suction air cleaners for general use in the building, a large fan and heating apparatus for furnishing pure fresh air to all the class rooms and a smaller fan for a similar service for the auditorium. These fans are sufficiently large for changing the air throughout the building in fifteen minutes.

The electrical switch board room contains three large slate base switch boards from which are controlled all electrical current used in the building.

The manual training machinery shop will contain the principal portion of the machinery for that department which consists of a surface planer, jointer, tool grinder, double ender saw bench, mortiser, tenoner, band saw,

Introducing the Latest Styles in Fall and Winter Ready-to-Wear

COME TO THE PANHANDLE STATE FAIR OCT. 8th to 13th AND COME IN TO SEE US AND THE MANY IMPROVEMENTS WE HAVE MADE IN THE PAST YEAR. MEET YOUR FRIENDS HERE. MAKE THIS YOUR HEADQUARTERS

The new fall styles are so varied and comprehensive that the exclusiveness and individuality as shown in each store depends upon the individual taste of the buyer and her knowledge of the preferences of the well dressed women of the local trade territory. We are indeed very proud of our showing this season.

REDFEARN FALL SUITS AND COATS

The Semi-tailored Suit has come into its own as well as the plain tailored and fur trimmed which are shown in abundance.

The long coat effect is very much in vogue, from the simple tailored to those lavishly trimmed with either Fur, Braided or Buttons, incorporating all the new style themes.

The materials are unusually attractive, such as Bolivia Cloth Burella, Silvertone Gaberdine, PomPom and Wool Velour are the leading favorites.

SIMON DRESSES for STREET and AFTERNOON WEAR

Seldom have we shown such an unusually large assortment of Street and Afternoon Frocks.

Navy Serge is the proper thing for every day wear. Satin also enjoys marked prestige. Styles that are plain, others are embroidered or handsomely-button trimmed are all quite proper.

SUITS	$15.00 to $75.00
COATS	$10.00 to $100.00
SKIRTS	$3.50 to $20.00

sanding machine, besides other smaller machines for cabinet making and wood working.

The bench woodwork room contains seven wood turning lathes and benches for bench wood work and jointery.

The First Floor.

The main or auditorium floor contains the offices of the President, Secretary, Stenographer to the President, the enrolling committee, the faculty room together with offices of some of the faculty and recitation rooms. There is also a small assembly room 22x68 feet, five rooms set apart to the training school, three to the department of mathematics and two to the department of manual training, being the primary and the mechanical drawing rooms.

The Second Floor.

The second floor is largely set apart to the auditorium and class rooms, with offices for the heads of the departments. The history department occupies two rooms, expression one room, Latin one, German and Education one, the library and stack room three, English three, auditorium one, art one, music one.

The Third Floor.

The third floor is largely for the sciences and contains a physics and chemistry lecture room, physics and chemistry laboratories, agriculture and biology lecture rooms and laboratory, commercial room, two laboratories for domestic science, a dining room. On this floor is also located the offices on the floor, and the balcony of the auditorium.

The Library.

The library on the second floor occupies the south east portion of the building and contains two reading rooms, one 28x40 feet, the other 22x50 feet. It also contains the librarian's workroom and office and a stack room for the textbooks, this room being 22 feet square.

The Auditorium.

The auditorium is the show place of the building, being 80x100 feet, with inclined floor, seated with 840 opera chairs on the main floor, with large aisles. There are two dressing rooms, one at each side of the stage. The stage proscenium is 50 feet wide and 25 feet high while the stage itself is 26 feet deep. It has foot lights and concealed overhead lights with dimmer control for the amount of light from either the footlights or overhead for the stage. One hundred and twenty lights. A curtain has been ordered for the stage. One hundred and twenty people can easily be seated on the stage and 200 additional seats could be provided on the main floor easily. The balcony will hold at least 300 people. The lighting is semi direct and has beautiful hanging fixtures for lights. Twelve Cathedral windows provide light during the day. The room has a special ventilating system when the auditorium is in use.

The inside walls of the building are of hollow tile.

Drinking fountains are placed at convenient distances along the walls in all of the halls.

Halls run through the length of the building, 15 feet wide. There are two side halls on each floor with stairs ways, on either side of the auditorium wing of the building.

The walls are finished in white, making a beautiful appearance.

While the building is fire proof, to provide against emergencies the building is equipped with twelve reels of hose, each 75 feet long with nozzles attached and hung in the main halls. In all there are 85 rooms in the building.

The main entrance of the building is 50 feet wide with large promenade at the top of the steps.

The roof is of concrete, with combination on top of it.

The building is heated by a separate plant which stands north of the main building.

The school has its own water plant, standing to the east of the building.

The campus is well lined with concrete walks, and excellent drives have been made over the grounds.

Hundreds of trees are making a good growth on the campus.

Where Are The College Boys?

Ten to fifty per cent. fall is the enrollment of the Eastern and Middle-Western colleges. The New York Evening Sun notes several meanings: "It shows how quickly the flame of patriotism has leapt up among the young men at perhaps the most impressionable period of their lives. It shows that the drain upon the student body is disproportionately greater than upon any other separate set or class of young men. And it should also serve to show clearly the folly and falseness of the unintelligent or insincere charge—not so often heard of late—that the 'laboring classes' are to be exploited in this war, while the well-to-do reap the benefits."

The German Morale

A hint that the morale of the enemy is breaking down and that war-weariness is found in the rank and file of the German Army is given by Dr. Max Osborne, the correspondent of the Berlin Vossische Zeitung:

"The longer the war lasts the nearer do the achievements of the German soldier rise to the legendary heights. I am often asked the condition of the morale at the front. Well, how, by G—, is it possible to be in good spirits in this eternal dirt? Can one, after three years, continue to maintain misery beneath smiles, or the shouting of hurrahs, or with burning enthusiasm play with death and see comrades die and suffer? Nobody can expect that. Our men curse, swear, insult, and use abusive language. They wish the war was at the devil, and hotly and devoutly cry for peace and home. But they fight courageously."

Passing a $11,000,000,000 bill that doesn't provide for the macadamizing of a single Southern creek takes all the joy out of Congressional life.—Boston Transcript.

And, too, Germany needs to be taught the difference between diplomacy and duplicity.—Macon Telegraph.

HON. MARVIN JONES.

Jones Would Join Army

Washington, Sept. 25.—Representative Marvin Jones, who represents a larger territory and a bigger constituency than any man in the Sixty-Fifth Congress, wants to serve his country in the trenches of France and Flanders. It became known today that the young congressman has discussed the matter with his colleagues all of whom have disapproved because of the need for his service in the house at this time, and have dissuaded him from giving up his seat.

When Mr. Jones came to congress he was hopeful that the country would stay out of war. Then the German depredations forced President Wilson and congress to vote a recognition that war was being waged against the United States by Germany. Since that time Mr. Jones has voted and worked for every measure that would assume a vigorous war against Germany.

There is a growing demand for the type of cotton developed in Peru and known as the Peruvian Mittafifi cotton. The lint does not attach to the seed as in other varieties. The lint is very long and exceptionally strong. It is worth in the open market 48 cents gold a pound, and the price continues to rise. Its length and strength of fiber make it peculiarly desirable for the construction of aeroplanes and automobile tires, it is stated. The cotton is ginned by a special gin developed in England, and it is important that these should be sent to Peru in larger numbers or the acreage cannot be materially increased.

During the war the Kharkov Agricultural Society of Russia has greatly increased the volume of its direct trade with the United States, both as regards exports and imports. The chief product imported from the states is binder's twine, the importation of which by the society has increased from half-a-million roubles before the war to 2 1/2 million roubles in last year. This is partly due to the fact that most of the private importers have, since the war, found a more profitable field for their industry, and having engaged in the manufacture of war material, are unable to take an interest in such a small matter as twine.—As to the export it is chiefly represented by various seeds, such as sugar-beets, clover, vetches, lucerne, ect. Before the war most of these seeds went to Germany, whence a considerable part of them was shipped to America, but now, having established agencies in the United States, the society is able to export direct to America in large quantities, their total value exceeding several million roubles. This, notwithstanding the increased cost of the seeds and of the transport, effected by rail to Vladivostok and thence by sea to America.

Keiser Has Big Herd.

been imported from the famous herds of England.

In addition to his registered Herefords, Mr. Keiser has several thousand high grade Herefords that are not registered.

Mr. Keiser has spent years in the stock business and was known in Percheron horse circle as one of the biggest importers of this class. He maintained offices at Keota, Iowa, for a number of years where he gained a national reputation in breeding and importing Percherons.

The great Southwest attracted him a few years ago and he has been engaged in the Hereford business. He has been interested in seeing the herds of this section bred to a higher standard and his importations of registered animals has done much toward this end. He has won the distinction two years ago of shipping to the Kansas City market the highest priced Texas cattle ever sold on that market, and the year previous a bunch of yearling heifers broke the world's record on that market for range cattle. Buyers of high grade and registered cattle have been attracted by these records until the Keiser herd is now looked upon by the cattlemen of the southwest as being the choicest and best in the country, causing them to come to this herd to fill their needs in buying of either cows or bulls.

Mr. Keiser is making shipment of both high grades and registered cattle into every state of the southwest, the purchasers being among the leading ranchmen and breeders of this country.

Liberty Loan Bonds.

in the war; we MUST win, and to do it the money must be found.

This is how we are going to find the money—by economizing and saving. Duty demands it; common sense advises it, and the Government calls upon you to do it.

Waste and extravagance must go, and the money so saved loaned to the Government or given up to them in taxes to carry on the war.

Give up the money you waste on the "unnecessaries" of life, and buy a Liberty Bond with it. You will be putting by for a rainy day and serving your country at the same time.

Many people in the Eleventh Federal District have money that they do not need until spring. They should loan it to the government at good interest. It is good business and good Americanism.

You do not part with your money when you buy a Liberty Bond. The Bond is as good as money. It is yours to borrow on; to sell, or do as you like with. It pays good interest too.

Taxes never come back; they pay no interest; they are dead expense. Again we say, ease out your taxation by buying a liberty bond.

Do not be scared at having to find all this money. Billions of it will be paid back to the farmers and workmen of this country. Billions will be loaned to our Allies at interest and will form the National Bank account, which we can draw upon later. This country is in the position of a man who has to deny himself in order to keep his business going, but who will make a fortune if only he has sense enough to put up the money when it is needed.

The patriotic appeal of the Loan is so clear that it does not need to be hammered at.

Our boys are giving their lives; our friends and allies their money and their lives; the whole civilized world is fighting that Right and not Might, shall rule, that the world shall be made a safe place for honest men, women and little children to live in.

To keep insisting that you, as an American, should support such a cause is quite unnecessary. The answer to the call of the liberty loan is to be found in your common sense and in your heart.

Think over very seriously and very carefully these few serious, interesting and simply told facts about Our Country, The War, and the Liberty Loan. Then do your duty to yourself and to your country—Buy a Liberty Bond.

In Canyon you can buy everything there is to be bought and sell anything there is to be sold.

Save Gasoline!

1. Do not use gasoline for washing or cleaning—use kerosene to cut the grease.

2. Do not spill gasoline or let drip when filling—it is dangerous and wasteful.

3. Do not expose gasoline to air—it evaporates rapidly and is dangerous.

4. Do not allow engine to run when car is standing. Cars are fitted with self-starters and it is good for the battery to be used frequently.

5. Have carburetors adjusted to use leanest mixture possible—a lean mixture avoids carbon deposits.

6. See that piston rings fit tight and cylinders hold compression well. Leakage of compression causes loss.

7. Stop all gasoline leakage. Form the habit of shutting off gasoline at the tank or feedpipe.

8. See that all bearings run freely and are well lubricated—friction consumes power and wastes gas.

9. Protect the radiator in cold weather—a cold engine is hard to start and is short in power.

10. Keep tires fully inflated—soft tires consume power.

11. Do not drive at excessive speed. Power consumption increases at a faster rate than speed. Every car has a definite speed at which it operates with maximum fuel economy.

12. Change gears rather than climb hills with wide open throttle—it saves gas and gas.

13. Do not use cars needlessly or aimlessly. By exercise of forethought a number of errands can be combined so that one trip to town or elsewhere will do as well as two.

14. Reduce the amount of riding for mere pleasure by shortening such trips or cutting down their frequency.

Back Home.

From mountain and from sea resort the tourists are returning, and they have freckles by the quart and sunburn fiercely burning. No doubt you gambled with the rest, where sylvan torrent gushes, where little robins build their nest, and sparrows chase the thrushes. No doubt you're full of thrilling yarns, that you desire to tell us, of ocean waves or mountain tarns—which tales will make us jealous. But have you brought back nothing more than rather idle stories of basking by the briny's shore, or 'mid the forest's glories? Have you brought back a lot of pep for your employer's service, or have you still a lagging step, and are you stale and nervous? Have you brought back new vim and zeal, from all your rural scouting? Unless you have, I surely feel, you've had a useless outing. Have you brought back a glad desire to quit your lazy plodding, and labor like a house afire, and set the boss applauding? If you still hunt the easy chair in which we've oft surveyed you, your tan won't get you anywhere, your freckles will not aid you. —WALT MASON.

The Panhandle Surpasses All

Lying the extreme north-west of the Lone Star State, bounded on the east and north by Oklahoma and on the west by New Mexico, the Panhandle of Texas presents opportunities to the home-seeking colonist and the home-staying investor which cannot be duplicated. Its future is all the more bright because of the fact that the land is being largely bought by actual settlers, who are breaking the sod, building neat and permanent homes and making the fertile acres produce splendid crops, thus adding to the value of their own acres and of adjacent land.

The visitor to the Panhandle of Texas is immediately struck with three things. The first is the adaptability of the soil to diversified farming and the quick returns, which comes from intelligent cultivation. The second is the ideal location for homes, the climate being mild all the year around and the water supply being excellent. The third is the high type of colonist who are peopling the Texas plains.

The surface soil of the Panhandle is a rich chocolate loam, of a depth ranging from four to ten feet, underlaid by a white clay subsoil. It is arable for mile after mile, to the very borders of the two famous canyons which cut through the west central part of the Panhandle and give the bustling county seat of Randall county its name Canyon. It is doubtful if there is another tract of land in America, of equal size which has so many tillable acres. Section after section, mile after mile, the Panhandle stretches away with not an inch of waste land. The soil responds to every demand made upon it. Especially adapted to milo maize, alfalfa, kaffir corn, sorghum, broom corn, millet, rye and barley, it yields, in addition, excellent crops of wheat, oats and indian corn and is rapidly coming to be recognized as one of the orchard possibilities of the Southwest. Fruit trees which have been planted for two or three years show a steady, healthy growth, while those of four to six years planting yield lavishly of a delicate flavored fruit which is rapidly coming to be preferred to the coarser grained and not so delicately flavored fruits of California.

The adaptability of the soil is shown by the statements of the numerous Panhandle colonists that they produced good crops the same year as breaking was done in the spring, is by no means unusual. It is not necessary to allow the sod to lie and rot and thus waste a year, for kaffir corn, maize, sorghum and other crops; do as well at once and start the settlers on the royal road to prosperity and plenty. Broom corn is one of the most largely grown and most profitable crops; gross returns of $50 to $75 an acre being the frequent report. Returns aggregating $80 to $90 an acre from alfalfa are reported this year, one farmer receiving $60 an acre from a single cutting for seed purposes, the three other cuttings of the year bringing his total up to the $90 mark.

The home possibilities of the Panhandle are just coming to be realized. Being a level plateau at an elevation of from 3,000 to 3,600 feet above sea level, it stretches 150 miles from east to west and 175 miles from north to south, making about 27,000 square miles of arable land, barring the two canyons (Palo Duro and Tierra Blanco) which add a picturequeness to the district and bid fair soon to make it a popular place for tourists. The scorching summer heat of the grain belt-states is unknown in the Panhandle, while the withering wintry blasts of the North are conspicuous by their absence. Without exception the settlers from the grain-belt states of the Panhandle climate is milder, the Mississippi valley declare that both summer and winter, than in their old home, while the dry air of the latitude is an almost certain cure for bronchial and plummy troubles. Moreover, a remarkably clear and pure water supply is available throughout the entire Panhandle. In the neighborhood of Canyon water is secured by drilling from fifty to 200 feet, the water being entirely free from alkali or other injurious substances, healthful alike to human beings and to live stock.

The people who are flocking in large numbers to the Panhandle for the most part from the north or grain-belt states. They are men who have been driven by the high price of land to look for locations in newer sections; men who are willing to work hard when the reward is inevitable and not long delayed; men who aspire to build up new homes which shall be of the same high standard of excellence and comfort as the old ones. They find in the Panhandle the opportunity which they have long craved. Lumber is available near at hand and cheaper than in the northern states. Homes are quickly put up. Churches and schools promptly follow. Texas has the largest school fund, per capita, of any state in the Union. Its public school system is unexcelled. Moreover, it is building institutions of higher learning which educate the Texas youths at home, so that it is no longer necessary to leave the state either for classical or technical instruction. The churches are sightly and well attended. Every Protestant denomination is represented, while the Roman Catholic churches flourish generally.

If the Panhandle needed to be tried out the opportunity was given this summer. While other sections of the country were finding the stream of plenty dammed by the widespread drouth, the Panhandle went its prosperous way. The United States Weather Bureau at Amarillo reports that the rainfall for the summer of 1917 was less than two-thirds of the normal rainfall, yet the crop yield was far superior to that of other sections where similar conditions prevailed. The soil is adapted to the conservation of the moisture and the rainfall seasons coincide with the growing seasons. The average rainfall for twenty-seven years is 22.55 inches. From this data it can be seen that the reasonable value of this element is: winter, 2.13 inches; spring, 6.48; summer, 8.91; autumn 5.03. In other words, the rainfall comes when it is most needed and the situation is invariably saved. The Panhandle has never yet had a crop complete failure.

Thanks largely to the fact that the Panhandle settlers are experienced farmers from the North and Central Texas diversified farming quickly became the practice. The farmer found that alfalfa, broom corn, sorghum and kafir corn grow better than Indian corn and yield greater returns to the acre, with less cultivation. He was quick to avail himself of the possibilities. "Simply looked around and saw what the other fellows were doing and it didn't take me long to catch on," remarked a transplanted Iowa farmer who had paid for his half-section farm and has a snug balance in the bank, all in a little over two years. "I wouldn't go back; this is home now," he concluded, and the smiling wife and the brood of happy children testified that it was home indeed.

That it will pay to stick by the new land is already well proved. The value is not inflated, for no more fertile soil, with absolutely no waste land can be found anywhere in the country. The ordinary range is from $20 to $40 an acre. There are no free homesteading lands available. All lands must be bought, a fact which makes itself felt in the general values and keep the standard of newcomers up to a high level.

Stock raising is being carried on extensively, with good results. Cattle bred and fattened in this latitude and altitude are healthier and harder and more quickly brought to the beef stage than in other sections. The Panhandle lies north of the quarantine line and ticks and other cattle pests and diseases are unknown. No country has proved healthier and better adapted to raising hogs. Alfalfa and kafir corn are ideal hog fatteners. The Swift Packing Company has published a statement that kafir corn excels all other grains in imparting superior quality to the finished product of the hog. Inasmuch as kafir corn contains approximately 93 per cent of the nutriment of Indian corn and the soil is peculiarly adapted to its generous production, the Panhandle as a hog-raising center is already well known.

The rainfall, even when diminished materially, has invariably been sufficient to produce good crops, even when other sections were being devastated by drouth. Mr. H. W. Campbell, the "father of dry farming," is quoted as declaring, after a careful study of the amount and distribution of the rainfall for the last fifteen years as reported by the United States Weather Bureau Station at Amarillo, and a thorough examination of the soil and other conditions bearing upon the subject, the Panhandle of Texas is destined to become one of the leading wheat-producing sections of the world. Professor Campbell states that with a system of culture that conserves the moisture, conditions are as perfect in the Panhandle for a profitable wheat yield as any extensive region he has ever examined.

Where Nature has scattered her blessings so lavishly, it is inevitable that prosperous towns and cities should spring up. The Panhandle of Texas comprises thirty-two counties. The commercial metropolis is Amarillo, the county seat of Potter county, a bustling city of 20,000 with all modern conveniences, as well as located and as promising a little city as there is anywhere in the Southwest. One of the nearby towns which has made the steadiest and best founded growth is Canyon. While a population of 2,500, boasting three banks (one of which would be a credit to any city of 100,000 population), numerous churches and public schools, Canyon is the home of the new $450,000 state institution, the West Texas State Normal College. The main building is a handsome steel-framed structure of brick, sandstone and reinforced concrete, of Moorish style of architecture. Already many families have moved to Canyon in order to take advantage of the new educational facilities. The house is a handsome building, while the private houses are of a well-sustained type. The bungalow and the cottage prevailing. Canyon is growing at a steady rate, thanks largely to the well-directed efforts and honest work of the men who are devoting themselves to making it take its rightful place among the home possibilities of the nation.

If the farmers of Illinois, Iowa and Missouri knew of the great possibilities of the Panhandle, they would not tarry long on their $100 and $150 per acre lands, but come to these wide and fertile prairies, where land is cheap and as great crops raised as are on the richest lands of the older states.

Climate is one of the most essential qualities of any country. The climate of the Panhandle is exceptionally fine. There are no long cold winters, nor excessive heat in the summer. It is a climate that makes California jealous.

Germany's experience leads the artistic to hope that war-pressure eventually may compel the United States to melt up some of the bronze statues in the Washington parks.—Boston Transcript.

In connection with the search for potash and nitrates in the United States the government receives many reports of supposedly valuable discoveries. A letter recently received by the United States Geological Survey, of the Interior Department, describes a cave in one of the Southern states. This cave is said to contain at least 1,000,000 tons of nitrous earth, which, however, contains only one to two per cent of nitrate. The survey now states that it seems very doubtful whether such material can be profitable used as a source of nitrate salts. Several hundred thousand dollars has recently been expended in one of the Western states in testing the proposition to utilize low grade nitrate. The results have been negative.

strip running up and down a low hill is the line of brigades, each brigade having four barracks and some five, I cannot estimate the numbers of barracks for I look out the upstairs window and see them as far north and over the hill and as far south as I can see. The railroad spits and runs on the east and west sides of the camp to the supply houses—one supply company to each five brigades. Guy Harp is a corporal (royal commander) in the supply company (gents' furnishing store) for the 165th. Away to the east of us extending to the river are the main drill grounds covering about two sections. It is soft black waxy ground which makes it very hard for much drilling.

Each barrack holds 200 men (war strength.) However, there are only about 175 in each at present. They measure about 36 by 100 feet. The dining room and kitchen are in the south end. The north end and upstairs are the sleeping quarters where the bunk fatigue is pulled off after drill periods. Each has its own bath house equipped with hot and cold running water for baths with cement floors. As yet Harp has not given us our fightin' clothes, so our work has been only in the school of a soldier. Ballard and myself are sergeants and Archambeau is a corporal. First call is at 5:45 a. m., drill, 7:30 to 11:30 and 1:30 to 4:30, retreat at 5:45 p. m., taps at 11 p. m.

We sleep on iron beds with hay to protect the hide from the springs. The mess is not so good and if there is any loose cake laying around not in use send it down. We can use it. I would like to describe our arrival here the physical exam. and the many funny things which have happened. It was a banner day when the Oklahoma Indians hit camp, all lit up and in fighting trim, walking all over the street, of course they went to the bull pen (guard house). These things are interesting but this is enough for one spasm.

You ought to look Camp Travis over in case you don't think Uncle Sam believes in putting out a few simoleons for fighting purposes. We are all well and appetites good.

It Pays to Hold On.

That it pays to stay with new country and to develop it through a period of years, is a lesson which the experience of others often teaches. A striking illustration of this fact is in an intensely interesting story of land development in Kansas told the Journal this week by Mr. W. W. Hungate, one of the leading farmers of the Pleasant Hill community.

About a week ago in Summerfield Kansas, occurred the distribution to heirs of the huge Bookwalter estate consisting of about 46,000 acres of rich land in the counties of Pawnee, Gage, Thayer, Valley, Greeley and Washington. Among the legacies were ten quarter sections of land to each of nine children. The total valuation of the land given was more than $1,000,000.

Mr. Hungate who left Summerfield to come to New Mexico a little over eight years ago, was well acquainted with a number of members of this family and farmed land beside the Bookwalter place. He states that the estate was purchased in the early seventies at prices ranging between $2.50 and $12.50 per acre. The usual hardship of pioneer times were encountered and in time surmounted by the hard working ranchers. Corn sold in those days for eleven cents a bushel and was often used for fuel. Mr. Mungate lived in the Summerfield community for fifteen years and saw a good part of the development of the huge estate which has just been divided.

Today the land is worth from $100 to $125 per acre at a conservative estimate, a striking increase, but one entirely proportional to the productiveness of the land and the work done upon it.

The lesson to farmers of this new country in Curry county is one of extreme importance. Mr. Hungate has seen farmers take land here and give up a good thing after only half a trial. He tells this story as a good illustration of what may be done by "holding on"—Clovis (N. M.) Journal.

The Beginning of the End.

It is now a recognized fact that after the railroad reaches Spearman the good old town of Hansford will be no more. The business houses will be moved to the new town on the railroad, and as soon as possible the court house, school house and church will follow. A large number of the buildings can be moved without being torn down, and the distance being short and road good, the moving job will not be so bad after all. It is striking coincidence that the first building to be torn down preparatory to being moved to Spearman should be one of the very oldest

From H. W. Morelock.
Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 22, 1917.

My dear Warwick,
Please send The Randall County News to me at the above address.

The very air here is electrified with the war current. Soldiers parade, bands play, and flags fly day and night. The people of New England seem to realize fully that we are at war, and there is a stern Puritan determination to fight it out to a successful determination. Every soldier is proud of his uniform and of the cause for which he is fighting. Every day I am more and more convinced that we shall win and that the tail (head too) of Kaiserdom will soon trail in the dust of wrecked and ruined imperial palaces.

Regards to all.
Very truly,
H. W. MORELOCK.

A man's character, as well as his intelligence, is largely revealed by what he regards as laughable.

"Peace without victory" is the kind Germany can have.—Boston Transcript.

From Sergeant Ben Terrill
Randall County News.

At last the Canyon and Randall county boys have come into their own. They have found a place where there is a willing ear for any subject, no matter how frivolous nor how deep—the truth can be stretched to the limit and it is easy to get by with it. Our company is made up mostly of farmer boys and cowboys from the Panhandle country. However they are willing workers and eager to learn to be soldiers. As one of them said when I jumped him for saluting me: "I tho't I'd just salute 'em all in order to get the right ones." The "Rabbit twisters" from Coke county are our star performers, especially at mess and on the drill field. It is wonderful how the Randall County bunch picks up the movements in drill in comparison with the others.

The word "immense" does not describe this camp. It is amazing. Down the center north and south is a strip of land probably five hundred yards wide on which is situated the main headquarters, sub-headquarters, hospitals, officers quarters, ect., of the camp and brigade. To the east and west of this
