

COMMENCEMENT WEEK HIGH SCHOOL-NORMAL

$3,500.00 FOR RED CROSS FUND MUST RAISE $300.00 BY SATURDAY FOR QUOTA

Normal Commencement

The Commencement of the West Texas State Normal commenced on Friday night with the class play, the class presenting in a highly pleasing manner Romeo and Juliet.

Saturday was class day. The program in the auditorium in the morning was very pleasing and all of the class representatives accredited themselves well.

Saturday afternoon the faculty and the training school boys had a base ball game, the boys winning by a score of 5 to 6.

Saturday evening at seven o'clock the band gave its last concert at the front of the building.

The band concert was followed by the annual alumni program. The banquet feature was done away with this year in keeping with the spirit of the war.

Sunday morning the Commencement Sermon was preached by Dr. R. Thomsen of Amarillo. Mr. Thomsen is one of the ablest preachers in this part of the country and his message Sunday morning was filled with great things for the class and the remainder of the audience.

Monday morning at nine o'clock the Commencement Exercises were held at the auditorium. The address was made by President S. L. Hornbeck of Trinity University.

The following were the students to whom diplomas were issued: Avinger, Alma Lois, Loraine Avinger, Ava Vada, Lorine Berry, Margaret Irene, Canyon Branson, Millie Elizabeth, Claude Buckner, Edith E., Canadian Cage, Mary, Canyon Charless, Frances, Amarillo Charlton, Agness Adaline, Dalhart Davis, Jessie, Melissa Gooch, Fay Ellen, O'Donnell Gustavis, May, Amarillo Hall, Marcialete, Amarillo Hazlewood, Wallace Temple, Silver-ton Hood, Ruth, Canyon Impson, Ina Irl, Beeville James, Laura Ellen, Hereford Johnson, Ida Orah, Floyd, N. MISTRIAL IN MRS. REYNOLDS CASE IN AMARILLO COURT Mrs. Florence M. Reynolds was tried in the district court of Potter county this week on an indictment from the grand jury of Randall county, in which she was charged with killing her husband. The case went to the jury Tuesday night and yesterday afternoon the jury reported that the division was such that there was no chance for agreement, and were discharged by Judge Umphres.

Earl Lust Wins in Army. Earl Lust, a former student in the Normal and well known on the Plains as an athlete, won second place in the discus throw of his regiment in France and now goes to a Division field meet. Mr. Lust was always a winner with the weight events in the Panhandle Track meet. He stated he was going to win first place in the Division meet.

Engine Goes off Track. A freight engine hit an open switch Monday south of town and turned over. The fireman was scalded, but will recover. No other damage in particular was done.

Public School Program.

The Commencement Exercises of the Canyon High School were held on Friday night at the Methodist church when diplomas were issued to eight students who had completed the prescribed course of study of the school.

The exercises closes a very successful term of school for both the pupils and faculty. The work has gone well in all departments and marked attainments have been made, not only by the graduating class, but also all of the classes of the school.

If the present plans are carried out this class will be the last to receive diplomas as to having graduated from the accredited Canyon High School. On account of financial conditions, the board of trustees think it wise to discontinue the work of the tenth and eleventh grades, which work is carried by the freshman and sophomore classes of the Normal. With the discontinuance of these grades, Canyon will have a first class junior high school, and from the ninth grade the graduates may enter the freshmen class of the Normal.

The program Friday night was highly pleasing to the audience which filled the church to extend to the young people their congratulations and best wishes for having completed the work so creditably.

All of the numbers of the program were highly complimented.

The following are graduates of the class of 1918:

- Thelma Reid
Thelma McGee
Hazel Park
Helen Croson
Newton Harrell
Otis Hale
Bernie Slack
Hugh Shotwell

MAJOR COUSINS HOME FROM SPECIAL MISSION TO FRANCE

President and Mrs. R. B. Cousins received a telegram Saturday from an American port that their son Major Ralph P. Cousins had just arrived from France.

Major Cousins was recently commissioned on a special mission to the Western Front to investigate certain phases of the airplane's part in the war. He has completed this work and is now back to report to the war college of which he is a member, representing the aviation department.

Three Fires Tuesday.

There were three fires in Canyon Tuesday, the first time the department has been called out for several weeks.

Just before noon the department was called to the White home in the west end where the barn burned.

At a quarter to six o'clock the alarm sounded when the roof of the boiler room at the electric light plant was found to be on fire. This was caused by having up an extra fire in the boilers so that the water supply at the city station might be caught up after the morning's fire. No particular damage was done at the plant as the chemical engine was used in putting the fire out.

That night at a quarter to twelve the department was again called out, this time to the Hallie Rusk house in the southeast part of town, which burned to the ground. The house was not occupied.

Died in Amarillo Home.

Mrs. Eva McIntire died Monday at her home in Amarillo after a very short illness. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Thomas, formerly of Canyon, and is a sister of C. M. Thomas of this city.

The funeral will be held today. Mrs. McIntire is survived by her parents, a sister and a brother and four children. Her husband died very suddenly a year ago January.

Mrs. McIntire was well known in Canyon has had many friends who were grieved to hear of her death.

Two Boys to Navy.

Paul Foster and Burr Meyers left Monday for Dallas where they will join the navy. Both of the boys are good fellows and will make good in this branch of the service.

Visit by the Stork.

A ten pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hicks Friday.

WAR SAVINGS CAMPAIGN TO BE MADE IN RANDALL COUNTY

The director of the War Savings Stamps Campaign in Texas has issued a list of statistics upon the progress of the W. S. S. campaign in Texas.

Randall county stands third in the list of counties as the number of established agencies for the population. But the next set of figures show most of our agencies are doing no business with the Stamps, for we are 31st county in the state up to May 8. Then we had sold $3.98 per capita or a total of $20,045.63. At that time we should have sold nearly $9.00 per capita.

The standing of Randall county is not bad in comparison with other counties, but the whole state is far behind, and no county has any legal excuse to offer for being in this situation.

E. H. Powell, chairman of the sales committee states that an organized campaign will be organized within a short time to bring Randall County's quota up to its rightful place.

Each man, woman and child in the United States is expected to have $20 worth of these stamps before January 1st, 1919.

MORE WORKERS NEEDED AT THE RED CROSS ROOM

For the past several days there has been a shortage of help in the Red Cross work and the ladies in charge are calling for more help. True our own work is often burdensome, but our boys in the trenches must stay by the colors whether it be hot or cold, wet or dry. And each day the call for this work of our hands becomes more urgent.

Greater quantities of surgical dressings, hospital garments and knitted garments will be needed this year than before. So let us rally with our personal assistance as has so nobly been done in the financial way and thus prove that our hearts are really in winning this war and in saving our noble boys.

LESLIE NOBLES GRANTED NEW TRIAL AND GRANTED BAIL, $7,500

Judge Hugh L. Umphres yesterday granted the motion for a new trial in the case of the state against Leslie Nobles who was held under an indictment by the Randall county grand jury for a statutory offense.

The ground for the new trial was in the action of the jury when it freely discussed the character of the defendant and the reasons for him not testifying.

The case has been set for hearing in Donley county June 15.

Judge Umphres granted bond to young Nobles, setting the amount at $7,500.

Men to Register June 5

June 5th all men who have become 21 years of age since last registration day, June 5th, will be required to register. The registration will be in the hands of the local board, and the plans will be ready probably by next week. All men in Randall county who have become 21 years of age during this period should watch for announcements of registration day.

There will probably be about thirty men in Randall county to register, should the proportion be carried out as to the number of last June 5. However a number have enlisted who have become 21, so the number may not be so large.

Reid Has New Ford Stolen.

J. W. Reid bought a new Ford last week and Monday night it was stolen. Suspicion points to a stranger who was in town for a short while, but so far he has not been located. The car has been driven only about 100 miles. The loss will be a severe one to Mr. Reid if the car is not recovered. The officers state that every day they receive cards telling of stolen cars in every section of the country.

Fighting In Europe Farming In America

Self-Preservation as well as patriotism demands that our farmers shall plentifully feed our fighters.

When Germany proclaimed the seas closed to American vessels and entered upon her program of wholesale ocean tonnage destruction, she was aiming a blow directly at the American farmer.

For lack of proper marketing and shipping facilities Australia today has three crops unsold and millions of tons of grain spoiled or destroyed either by weather or rodents.

Upon our success in this war depends not only life and liberty but livelihood.

MUST RAISE $300.00 BY SATURDAY FOR QUOTA

"RANDALL COUNTY WILL GO OVER THE TOP IN THE RED CROSS CAMPAIGN IF ALL THE SOLICITORS TURN IN AS GOOD REPORTS AS WE EXPECT," STATED MANAGER C. R. BURROW YESTERDAY.

Manager C. R. Burrow had $3490.80 in cash yesterday on the Second Red Cross Drive. This was an average of $30 for the 115 men who had reported to Mr. Burrow. Ten men had not reported.

The county was nearly $300 behind with the quota yesterday. The campaign closes Saturday night. Between now and Saturday night that $300 must be raised.

Mr. Burrow urges all the solicitors to report as soon as possible and to the full amount of $30 as this amount is needed.

Randall county has never fallen down on her quota, and this is no time to get the name of a slacker.

The Red Cross Drive started Sunday night with a rally at the Normal auditorium. Hon. Thos. Turner of Amarillo delivered a fine address upon the Red Cross and what it was doing in this war.

Monday was Red Cross day all over the United States. In Randall county only the afternoon was devoted to the campaign as the Normal Commencement Exercises occupied the time of the morning.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the east and west enders met in a baseball game on the Normal field. The west bunch was too much for the east enders, as indicated by the score of 8 to 0. However the east bunch put up a fine game and the boys are confident that if their star pitcher, Hugh McNeil had been able to pitch the whole game the results would have been different. But the game was a good one, and netted the Red Cross $78.60.

After the ball game President R. B. Cousins made a great war address at the Normal Auditorium. A large number of people from the town and county heard Mr. Cousins in this address.

A large number of Panhandle counties have more than gone over in this campaign. Down at Colorado, where it hasn't rained in two years, the quota was $1800 and the first day $5000 was raised.

Randall county now has two men wounded in France and in charge of the Red Cross nurses. Many more Randall county boys can reasonably expected to be wounded before the war is over. Are the men of Randall county going to refuse or fail to raise our $3760 to take care of these boys?

The campaign closes Saturday night. Every man, woman or child in Randall county who has not given all that he should give, ought to see Mr. Burrow at once.

MORE MEN GO TO THE ARMY AT CALL OF LOCAL BOARD

W. P. Murchison left yesterday morning for the army. He returned Tuesday from Gainsville where he visited his mother before going.

The following men have been called to go Saturday, May 25: Walter Osborne Bayett.

J. C. Gibbs James Donehey Ficke Carl John Anderson James Chester Gordon

Two men will go on next Wednesday, May 29: Jim Peterson and Clovis Dempsey

Morton have been called by the local board for that date.

Miss Mary Cage—President Miss Emma McClesky—1st Vice President.

Miss Golda Gruver—2nd Vice Pres Miss Ernee Conner—Secretary Mrs. C. R. Flesher—Treasurer Miss Lola Word—Auditor Mrs. C. W. Warwick—Annual Representative.

Rev. D. V. York of Eldorado, Okla., is doing the preaching.

MAY 30 PROCLAIMED BY THE PRESIDENT FOR PRAYER

Next Thursday, May 30, has been proclaimed by President Wilson as "a day of public humiliation, prayer and fasting, and do exhort my fellow-citizens of all faiths and creeds to assemble on that day in their several places of worship and there, as well as in their homes, to pray Almighty God that He may forgive our sins and shortcomings as a people and purify our hearts to see and love the truth, to accept and defend all things that are just and right, and to purpose only those righteous acts and judgments which are in conformity with His will; beseeching Him that He will give victory to our armies as they fight for freedom, wisdom to those who take counsel on our behalf in these days of dark struggle and perplexity, and steadfastness to our people to make sacrifice to the utmost of what is just and true, bringing us at last the peace in which men's hearts can be at rest because of its founded upon mercy, justice, and good-will."

Rev. R. A. Stewart announces that one service of the revival meeting will be devoted to such a service. A definite announcement will be made in the churches Sunday as to the nature of this service.

Reid Not in New Guard.

E. W. Reid who was recently appointed First Lieutenant in the new National Guard failed to qualify in the physical examination held last Thursday in Amarillo. He was not heavy enough and was therefore rejected.

He states that the officers were subjected to a severe physical examination and the question of a few pounds disqualified a number of the appointees.

The big task, but the sure task, is to change farm life from one of drudgery to that of a profession. Naturally the farming industry is a profession, and some day, by the use of modern methods and machinery, it will become one. It is a far cry from the field to the factory, while from the factory to the profession of banking, commerce and political power it is but a short step. Yet the source of all this wealth and power is the farm.

It will be of interest to note that the number of livestock estimated on January 1, 1918, shows the following increases over January 1, 1914, the year before the beginning of the European war: Horses, 601,000, or 2.9 per cent; mules, $75,000, or 0.3 or 1 per cent; milch cows, 2,547,000, or 12.3 per cent; other cattle, 7,691,000, or 21.5 per cent; swine, 12,441,000, or 21.1 per cent. It is especially noteworthy that within the last year, for the first time in many years, the number of sheep has shown a tendency to increase.

The women patients in a government hospital for the insane at Washington are very much interested in knitting socks, sweaters, and mufflers for the soldiers. This affords them a light hand work which holds their interest and does not fatigue them, it keeps them interested in the outside world and makes them feel that they too are having some share in the fight for democracy. The wool they use has been donated or is furnished by different societies and they turn the finish articles in to the Red Cross.

Flying from the barn of David Hampden, in the Malibu section, is a service banner on which there are three red stars. Hampden, who is a widower 70 years of age, has no sons in the army or navy, but a short time ago he shipped three well-bred horses to his nephew in Kansas City, and in a letter Hampden was told the horses had been sold to the government for cavalry service. That is why the banner with the red stars on it is flying from the barn in which the horses were born.—Los Angeles Examiner.

The military situation demands the curtailment of the parcels post privilege, according to a cable received from General Pershing and, therefore, no packages will be accepted in the post offices unless an order from the soldier is shown, and even then the merchandise cannot weigh more than seven pounds. This is a source of sorrow to many loving families who have swamped the mails with packages of goodies for their boys. Because of this the Post Office Department is having a poster made which will soon be distributed, showing the prices at which these same goodies can be purchased by the boys themselves, thus saving not only on the original cost, but the transportation and the amount of labor in the postal service.

General Pershing's men, when on leave from the front, are planting vegetables in French gardens behind the lines. They are even, in their spare time, digging up the beautiful and famous park at Versailles, with a view to laying it out to the plebeian potato, under the direction of the French authorities. Such work is good for the soldier, and of real and practical help to the people of France. Also, the man who is interested in making things grow may be a good warrior, and the chances are that he will fight from a high sense of duty and right, not from a false sense of hate or revenge. The war gardens everywhere are doing their part to "make all the world akin," through a common interest, and at the same time to keep men serene and level-headed.

Besides conforming to the qualifications set by the United States Signal Corps for membership in the telephone unit, which is a part of the United States Army, the operators are now required to pass a psychological examination to determine their motives for wanting to go abroad. "Out of 7,500 applications for membership in the unit of telephone girls which has been sent to France 250 have been selected," is the statement of Capt. Wesson Signal Corps officer in charge of the unit. One hundred women, in the official olive-drab uniform of the Signal Corps, have been sent abroad, and 150 are awaiting orders in this country. These girls are stationed in groups of 10 in American bases of supplies and points of embarkation, according to Capt. Wesson. They will not be nearer than 23 miles from the front. New York State, sent the greatest number of telephone operators, and California and Massachusetts tied for second place. An officer of the Signal Corps, who is experienced in the employment of telephone operators, is in charge of the housing and general welfare of the operators in France.

WONDERFUL STUFF! LIFT OUT YOUR CORNS

Apply a few drops then lift corns or calluses off with fingers—no pain.

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness. This drug is called freezeone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezeone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers. This drug freezeone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin. Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezeone have him order it for you.

After The Rain

(Whitney Montgomery)
 The rain has come at last, an' the crick is overflowed,
 An' the grass that looked so dead—land o' goodness! how it's growed!
 An' them same old pesky cows that et up my crib o' hay,
 When they see me comin' now, hist their tails, an' run away.

The oats—I tell you what, they was purty nigh all in,
 But since the rain has come they are lookin' up ag'in,
 An' the corn, I love to watch it jest a-wavin' to and fro;
 It may be imagination, but I b'leave I see it grow.

An' the garden—sakes o' lives! it's jest gittin' down to biz;
 The cabbage is a humpin' an' the beans is on a whiz.
 You can look jest any way, an' it's pod an' vine an' bloom,
 An' the tater under-ground—I can hear 'em scorge for room.

An' still the clouds come on, an' it rains to beat the Dutch,
 An' I hear some folks complain that it's goin' to rain too much,
 But I'm jest a-sawin' wood, for I've learned beyond a doubt
 That it's rain that skeers the farmer, but it's drouth that knocks him out!

To Keep Flour and Meal.

Hot weather frequently produces spoilage in certain flours and meals if they are not properly cared for, especially those which contain a high percentage of fats, moisture or the outer coatings of the grain. To prevent such losses, particularly at the time when bread stuffs are so essential to the Allies and ourselves, the following instructions for the storing of these flours and meals are given:

1. Buy in small quantities.
2. See that flours and meals are in good condition when purchased.
3. Keep in a dry, cool place. (a) Use tins or covered jars for containers, scalded and perfectly dried. (b) It is well to use two covered containers alternately, always putting fresh purchases in a clean container, and never mixing the residue from the previous purchase with the fresh purchase.
4. Sterilize before putting away by placing in shallow pans (or clean cotton containers) in an oven and heating slowly, being careful not to burn, or even brown. The flour or meal must be in thin layers and stirred frequently so that every part may be equally heated. After cooling, place in clean covered containers.

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly. . . Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Making A Soldier.

The newly drafted men now being received into the National Army at Camp Travis certainly ought to be the pick of the land if they pass all the examinations and inspections to which they are subjected. It doesn't make much difference whether the rookie has a prolapsed transverse arch in his foot or decadent molar in his head, there's a specialist waiting for him to find it out and give directions for setting it right.

The first thing that happens to him after he gets here is the preliminary physical examination. This is more or less hurried, but in times past local boards have been known to send men minus a foot or one lung—though these oversights are less common now that the draft machinery has been in operation for some time—and the purpose of this examination is to cull out those who are hopelessly defective or contagiously ill.

Next comes the rigid examination at the infirmaries. By the time he has been thumped over and stethoscoped and poked into and inoculated for typhoid and paratyphoid and vaccinated, even the healthiest specimen feels like a confirmed invalid. But it must be worth while, for as a result fevers of the type sought to be prevented are as rare in an army camp as leprosy or cholera infantum.

The new soldier is then taken in hand by the personnel office and quizzed about everything imaginable, so it seems to him. He tells his birthplace and age, of course, that sounds simple, but when he happens to have a foreign name with about five consonants where vowels ought to be, it takes a patient soldier to make the clerk understand aright. Down on the records he goes, whether he is a steamfitter or a minister of the gospel, whether he is married or single, whether he can do a song-and-dance act in the "local talent" entertainments that soldiers are encouraged to stage at the "Y" buildings, whether he prefers artillery to the quartermaster corps and why—in short, a pretty fair wood picture of the man gets onto the cards the personnel force prepares for each soldier in the army. And he gets his army name, thus, "Hiram J. Harrison, No. 33245321," and the name goes with him through all his army life. It must always be Hiram J.—H. Junius went go.

There's a special tuberculosis board. When a man gets by these keen eared gentlemen he is pretty likely to have a sound chest. If they are suspicious of any soldier, that soldier gets special care and observation with only such work as is suited to his physical condition. The dental board looks after the army's mouth, and the army has clean and capable mouths as a result. Each soldier gets a toothbrush along with other toilet articles, and he is expected to use it.

The psychiatric and psychological boards have their inning too, on the theory that a prospective "shell shocker" or malingering, discovered before the terrific strain of trench warfare proves too much for him, is just that much man-power saved to the nation. Such men are placed where their work is suited to their capabilities.

Feet are looked over and after by the orthopedists. It has been found that not all cases of flat foot are disqualified by any means. The foot specialists decide upon individual cases and prescribe exercises or appliances where such measures seem to be necessary. Then there are the hook worm specialists—but why continue with the list? If you have a soldier in the army he is being looked after as he never was before in all his life, and if there is anything wrong with him that will be looked after too. You may be sure of that, for it pays the government to keep its fighters able to fight.

Slatonite Editor Still Seeing Things.
J. N. Schone found four small perch or sunfish on the ground in front of his residence in South Slaton just after the rain last Friday morning. They were about three inches long and were fresh just as if they had only recently been in the water. They were the same kind of fish that inhabit the waters of Brazos Creek, about four miles north of Slaton, and the supposition is that they went up into a rain-cloud while it was raining heavily over the creek, and were carried in the cloud until they were over Slaton when they were dropped out.—Slaton Slatonite.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you lose a day's work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

The German War Manual.

Lockney Beacon: Germany is the only nation in the world that fires on the Red Cross flag. They do not respect humanity in any form. They do not respect the laws of God or civilization. Accounts come to this country where they have fired on Red Cross stretcher bearers, ambulances, have sunk ships carrying the Red Cross flag, etc. They are a bunch of beasts, and should be wiped off the face of the earth.

Dallas News: The distinguishing characteristic of German frightfulness, and the feature that will forever render it odious and horrible to civilized peoples, is that it was premeditated and carried through coldbloodedly in accordance with the plans of the Government at Berlin. Perhaps in all history there has never been an army whose record was totally spotless, for in the excitement of the conflict some condemnable actions on the part of individual soldiers are inevitable and unavoidable. Then, too, there are in every army, as in every group in civilian life, a certain percentage of men who are possessed of criminal tendencies; and whose conduct naturally is in accord with their predisposition. But, except in the case of the German armies, these crimes were isolated and sporadic. They involved no indictment of the soldiery as a whole, and their occurrence was deplored as greatly by the majority of the men under arms as by the civilian onlookers. With the Germans it is different. The Teutonic soldiers are trained and taught to be merciless and terrible. The German manual of military instructions expressly declares that the "laws and customs of war must yield to the law of military necessity whenever the observance of the law would prevent or hinder the attainment of the object of the war." This manual of military instruction, or Kriegsbrauch, under the cloak of military necessity, justifies the murder of prisoners of war whenever the presence of these prisoners is a menace to their captors. It justifies the destruction of private property, the devastation of occupied enemy territory, the terrorization and murder of the civilian population "in order to destroy the spiritual power of the enemy country," the deportation of enemy civilians into Germany so that the men can be released for military service, and the use of soft-nosed bullets, poison gas, and the like. All these things had been expressly condemned by The Hague treaties, to which Germany was signatory, so that in committing these crimes the Germans add faithfulness and treachery to butchery and robbery. Germany thus signed The Hague treaties without ever having the intention of living up to them. It is this which makes the thought of peace with the present German Government an impossible one. So long as the German armies are intact, so long as they are spurred on to further horrors by the Kaiser and his fellow-murderers, just so long will we have to fight. Peace can only come when the German armies are smashed and disorganized, when the bloody-hauled Hohenzollern family is dragged from the throne, and when the German people thoroughly defeated and disillusioned, are brought to the realization that a national policy of falsehood, assassination and treachery can never prevail.

With forty train-loads of wounded Germans passing through Belgium daily, it would seem that a considerable part of Hindenburg's army is again engaged in "strategic retirement."—New York World.

Mr. Crudgington looks backward instead of forward in his campaign. He looks back at the mistakes Marvin Jones has made in the past. He would throw him into the trash-pile because his judgment played him foul in these stirring times when conditions of one minute are reversed the next minute. If Jones is to be "junked" for mistakes, why not Secretary Baker who admitted that he had made mistakes. Baker is working under the direction of President Wilson there fore the President must have made a mistake or two. Then too, General Pershing thought he had discovered a machine that would greatly aid in winning the war, and he shipped samples at great expense to Washington to have tests made. Before it arrived Pershing cabled to ditch the machine as it was now obsolete. Therefore Pershing should also be "junked" for his mistake. Crudgington seems to be the only infallible in the whole government. The deduction of Crudgington's train of thought leads us to believe that he alone is the one and only individual who could go to Washington and sit through these events when a machine is practical one minutes and antiquated the next, and will keep his head clean and make no mistakes.

Mr. Crudgington likes to look back. He is always looking backward, in order to discover some fault in Marvin Jones which he can magnify from a grain of dust into a Pike's Peak. Good enough. In 1907 when Marvin Jones was campaigning in Amarillo for prohibition, J. W. Crudgington was the attorney of the brewers in this district and made one of the biggest anti-prohibition speeches ever heard in Amarillo. His great plea was that it was an inopportune time to force prohibition upon Amarillo. The inopportune cry has always been the star performance of the anti's, and Crudgington was their mouth-piece. The pros won the election in votes, but — Ask the pros of Amarillo the rest of the story. Its too long. Again turning back. Mr. Crudgington was elected county judge of Stephens county on the Populist ticket. More turning back later—if you are not yet convinced. There is some more coming.

The man or woman of German descent who is not loyal to this country to which he has come in order to better his conditions, has no sympathy from any of our people and in most places they are given a coat of yellow paint. Well and good. But when the loyal Germans are supporting this government to the fullest extent and are backing our boys at the front with their time and money, what are we going to do with the native born Americans who proudly boast of their loyalty to the boys and then give only a few pennies of their abundance. If yellow paint is to be used, let a little of it be used on the financial slackers. Randall county has some of them. The Red Cross canvassers tell of a few men—only a few—who have their thousands and thousands and some who refused, while others gave just as little as possible in order to escape public scorn. These are the people in America who are hindering the war work and as slackers they should so be handled.

If all of the 125 men appointed on the Red Cross Drive had reported in full Randall county would have been firmly over the top by Monday. But some have not reported. They may have the money, but have not yet said so. Randall county must not fail in this drive. Every person who has not given as he is able, should see County Manager C. R. Burrow at once.

Congressman Marvin Jones has been designated by the Democratic leaders to campaign in the doubtful districts in order to insure a democratic victory this fall. That sounds as if the National Administration looked upon Mr. Jones as such a menace to the nation as Crudgington tries to make out.

President Wilson has appointed Charles E. Hughes to investigate and prosecute the airplane graft which has been so much discussed in the public press. The President gives Mr. Hughes full power to act. If there is graft, the firing line is the thing. Graft is inexcusable at any time but in war time it is high treason and as such should be treated.

Randall county will go over the top on the Second Red Cross drive if the lagging solicitors will bring up their part. The county lacks only $300 of being over the top. Ten men have not yet reported their quota. Let's finish up before Saturday night.

President Wilson stated in New York last Friday that five million men would be sent to France if necessary. The war is to a finish. If the kaiser has not prepared his last will and testament, he better do it while he has time.

Few young ladies would rush right into their friend's home and steal their money, yet the same young ladies will rush into their friends flowers and pick great handfuls and say it is not stealing!

Of course the fellow who thinks more of buying a new car than of the importance of winning the war is not expected to support the Red Cross.

England states that she is ready to talk peace—provided it is the right kind. So is America, but not the Made in Germany brand.

Alumni Honor Roll.

The following was read by Miss Golda Gruver Saturday night at the Normal Alumni meeting in honor of the twenty-six alumni members who are now in the service of their country

Who are our boys in khaki,
 Our boys in the soldier's blue,—
 The brave twenty-six of our number
 That have shown themselves so true?

There are Easton and Ira Allen,
 Of the class of 'Seventeen,
 Brothers in naught but service,
 Who now in France are seen.

Ernest Archambeau is another
 Striving hard his duty to do;
 And Hollis Childress quite ready
 To capture a German or two.

Ralph and Wayne Cousins are flying;
 Their planes circle fast through the air,
 They will soon cross the broad Atlantic
 And some stormy combats try.

John Crudgington, too, is among them,
 You'd scarcely expect otherwise,
 Andrew-Floyd felt he was needed,
 And now hunts a Hun of his size.

Did you know Wayland Floyd was in training,
 That Marion Foote answered the call?
 You can guess there will be some commotion
 When they see "Big Foote" make a haul.

Guy Harp is an old, old student,
 Not in age, but when he was here;
 Marcellus Hawkins, a sniper
 And a soldier devoid of fear.

Fred Heysler retains his humor
 In spite of the trials of camp;
 But to Archie Key 'tis quite serious
 When he thinks of the trenches so damp.

No, that in't all of our number,
 Ohmer Kirk is still to name,
 Down goes the Tuscania!—
 Earl Lust is saved for fame.

Then there is Marvin McLaughlin,
 Another boy that will scale the top;
 And Fremont Mead, once a critic,
 Is a leader that won't soon stop.

You are sure to know Ted Reid;
 A favorite from Tullia town,
 And the brilliant Guy Rogers of old,
 Whose deeds will be written down.

Earl Scott and Elmer Shotwell
 Have gone where the bullets fly,
 They want but a chance with the others
 To prove they are men, bye and bye

Alvis Stafford, in hospital service,
 Has the thanks of hundreds of sick;
 And Ben Terrill, the same old steady,
 Is, we know, of his squad the pick

We must still record the Youngers,
 John and William, before we stop,
 Officers who are quite eager
 To see what's over the top.

These are our boys in khaki,
 Our boys in the sailor's blue,—
 The ones that will spread the glory
 Of their college in all they do.

So here's to our boys in service,—
 The twenty-six, trusted and tried;
 May the gas and the shells of the Germans
 Pass them by on the other side.

May they fight with undaunted courage;
 May their skill bring grief to the foe
 When he finds his cunning outwitted
 By the force of some well-aimed blow.

And when the enemy's conquered,
 When the last great battle is o'er,
 May our boys return but the nobler,
 Loving home—loving liberty—more.
 —Golda Gruver.

at a great big saving. At 9:30 Friday morning the doors will swing back with an onrush to the greatest bargain event you ever attended. Goods will be sold cheaper than you ever bought them before. Don't hold back. Plan to come the first day—and be here every day during the sale. Read this advertisement. It's money in your pocket. The entire stock will be on sale. Here's something to be happy over; When everybody else is raising prices on everything, due to the high costs nowadays, here is one firm that is putting merchandise on sale. There are several reasons for our being able to do this:— First, we were foresighted enough to make the majority of our purchases before the increased prices took effect; secondly, we are going to consolidate our stores; third, we are satisfied with little profit on those goods that we have had to pay a little more for. But in making less profit, we not only keep our old patrons well satisfied, but add new ones as well. Sale starts May 24.

Sequel To Love For Doll

Maternal Instinct Greatly Developed by Teaching Children to Love their Dolls.

The little child's doll is mother to the most romantic fairy. And in the years that pass, the doll fades into the petals of a June rose, to evolve the most wondrous of all transformations.

And now comes a more serious period when the joy of real motherhood should be as tranquil as best efforts can provide. This is accomplished with a wonderful remedy known as Mother's Friend. An external application so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate the myriad network of cords, tendons, nerves and muscles just beneath the skin of the abdomen.

It relieves the tension, prevents tenderness and pain at the crisis and enables the abdomen to expand gently. The muscles contract naturally after baby arrives and the form is thus preserved.

It should be applied daily, night and morning, during the period of expectancy. By regular use it enables the abdomen to expand without the usual strain when baby is born. Naturally, pain and danger at the crisis is less.

You will find Mother's Friend on sale at every drug store. It is prepared only by the Bradford Regular Co., Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. They will send you an instructive "Motherhood Book" without charge. Write them to mail it to you. Do not neglect for a single morning or night to use Mother's Friend. Obtain a bottle from your druggist today by all means, and thus fortify yourself against pain and discomfort.

Corn Sirup and Cane Sugar.

Relation between commercial corn sirup and cane sugar.

Composition of corn sirup.
78 per cent commercial glucose
32 per cent dextrose
9 per cent sucrose
37 per cent dextrin, etc.
22 per cent water
Density of a 78 per cent sugar; solution—1.4.

Weight of one cup of sirup—237x1.4—332 grams.

Substitution on basis of total solids (commercial glucose)

332 grams x 78 per cent—260 grams commercial glucose in one cup of sirup.

200-260—0.77 or approximately 3-4 cup of sirup—1 cup of cane sugar (200 grams)

Equivalents of Other Measures

1. Containing same amount of total solids (commercial glucose)

1 cup sugar is equal to 3-4 cup sirup

3-4 cup sugar is equal to 9-16 cup sirup

1-2 cup sugar is equal to 3-8 cup sirup

1-4 cup sugar is equal to 3-16 cup sirup

2-3 cup sugar is equal to 1-2 cup sirup

1-3 cup sugar is equal to 1-4 cup sirup

1 tbs sugar is equal to 3-4 tbs sirup

Substituting sirup for sugar on the above basis does not give a very sweet product, therefore, the following equivalents on the basis of the sugar in the sirup has been used in the cake recipes given.

With either basis, it has not been found satisfactory to use all sirup. Half sugar and half sirup has given the best results in our experience.

Owing to the amount of water in the sirup, the liquid in the basis recipe must be reduced according to the amount of sirup used. With one cup of sirup use 1-4 cup less liquid.

2. Containing same amount sugar.

1 cup sugar equals 1 3-5 cup sirup

3-4 cup sugar equals 1 1-5 cup sirup

1-2 cup sugar equals 4-5 cup sirup

1-4 cup sugar equals 2-5 cup sirup

2-3 cup sugar equals 1 1-15 cup sirup

1-3 cup sugar equals 8-15 cup sirup

1 tbs. sugar equals 1 3-15 tbs. sirup

To Resist the Attack

of the germs of many diseases such as Grip, Malaria, means for all of us—fight or die. These germs are everywhere in the air we breathe. The odds are in favor of the germs, if the liver is inactive and the blood impure.

What is needed most is an increase in the germ-fighting strength. To do this successfully you need to put on healthy flesh, rouse the liver to vigorous action, so it will throw off these germs, and purify the blood so that there will be no "weak spots," or soil for germ-growth.

We claim for Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery that it does all this in a way peculiar to itself. It cures troubles caused by torpid liver or impure blood. Liquid or tablets. All druggists. Tablets, 60 cents. Send Dr. V. M. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., 10 cents for trial package.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS.—"It is with pleasure I write saying, over 40 years ago I was in business in Cayuga Co., New York, and sold Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines and always found they gave my customers entire satisfaction. I think every household should have these remedies on hand. By using them and following the directions many doctor bills will be saved. I most certainly recommend them to one and all. I came to Texas a number of years ago. I still keep Dr. Pierce's medicines in mind, and the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I can honestly say has no equal. I always keep a bottle on hand to take when I feel a little out of sorts, and especially as a spring tonic."—H. L. Downs, O. L. V. College.

The Panhandle Plan.

The Panhandle Food and Feed Production campaign is being vigorously prosecuted under the guidance of Thomas F. Moody, of Canadian, who is chairman. Meetings in the interests of increased production have been held and organizations perfected in all of the 44 counties comprising this district. Each county chairman is in touch with his precinct chairmen and these in turn are expected to personally visit each farmer and ascertain his acreages both for 1917 and 1918.

This data is to be used also by Dr. M. W. Cunningham, who is chairman of the committee on Labor. In addition, the precinct chairmen are asked to see to it that every boy and man between 14 and 70 has an opportunity to sign a card stating the number of days he will work each week, helping to make and gather the 1918 crop and will keep a record of all who refuse to sign. A card is also given to the farmers to be filled out and mailed to the county chairman, indicating the number of men needed on any particular date, the character of the work, etc. This is to save time for the farmer, he being able to remain at work while the mail and the county chairman get his help for him. In the larger towns, there is an automobile squadron whose members are pledged to take laborers to the farms where their help is wanted so that when the county chairman receives a call for labor from a farmer, he calls up his precinct captains until he finds what he is looking for. In case the man or men, have no way of getting to the farm, he then calls the captain of the automobile squadron who calls upon a member to go and get the men and take them to the place.

This arrangement is expected to successfully cope with the labor problem in the Panhandle. In case it is impossible to find necessary labor in the county in which the farmer resides, the entire organization is at his disposal in locating help.

Benton and Foster Visit Orchards.

Harmon Benton, formerly our county agent, but now agronomist at A & M. College and C. J. Foster, horticulturalist of the same institution, have recently visited a number of orchards in the Panhandle holding demonstrations in regard to pruning and spraying of fruit trees.

Farmers in the surrounding territory were invited to be present and were shown the proper methods of trimming the different trees and the remedies to be used for the various diseases and insect pests which are so troublesome. The orchards worked upon will be watched with interest this season by fruit growers but since it requires the united efforts of all who possess fruit trees to rid the orchards of some pests, the results will probably not be as beneficial as they might otherwise. However, it is safe to say that the trees sprayed will produce more sound fruit than would otherwise be the case and if all the trees in the country were sprayed, there would be little wormy or diseased fruit grown.

Mr. Benton is laying special stress upon seed selection as means of greatly increasing the returns the farmers get for their crops. Every farmer knows that seed grain is supposed to be better than the run of the field at harvest time and he also knows that he has to pay a higher price for it. Why not raise that kind and get the higher price instead of paying it? It isn't any more trouble to grow 60 acres of seed grain than it is to grow 60 acres of low grade stuff but if it did it would pay to do it anyway. Farmers who get the best prices for their products are the farmers who are always on the look-out for ways of improving their crops and are willing to take pains in order to be able to put a better product on the market.

Next Farmers' Congress.

The officers and committees of the Texas Farmers' Congress are making preparations for the next meeting of the Congress, which will be held at the A. & M. College of Texas, College Station, July 29, 30 and 31. The week preceding the dates for the meeting of the Congress will be the Short Course week at the College. President Brizzell, Dean Kyle and other College authorities are expecting many short course students and ample preparations are to be made for all who come.

Regiment Mustered In.

The Panhandle Regiment of the National Guard has been mustered into service and are expecting immediate orders to mobilize. The Federal officers arrived in Amarillo the latter part of last week and mustered into service the troop commanders and members of the headquarters company. These in turn, mustered in the men in their commands.

Now that Texans are to be given the privilege of attending to the Mexican situation on our southern border, we shall feel that any emergency will be met with promptness and dispatch. Many of the men who are volunteering for this service are sons of families to whom the memory of San Jacinto and the Alamo are living tragedies and the fact that they are once again forced to guard their homes from the depredations, petty though they have thus far been, of the same foe, will but put greater courage in their hearts and greater strength in their arms.

Texas wives and mothers may rest secure in the assurance that no amount of German influence and instigation on the other side of the Rio Grande will be able to break through the line of loyal Texans who will henceforth defend her borders.

BOATSWAIN IS CITED FOR GREAT HEROISM

HOW JOHN MACKENZIE SAVED THE REMLIK WHEN A DEPTH CHARGE BROKE LOOSE.

HE CAPTURED THE BIG BOMB

Delivery of Locomotives Ordered by Government Starts in July—Germany Limits Spending Money of American Prisoners and Interned Civilians.

(From Committee on Public Information.) Washington.—Many members of the United States army and navy are being commended for bravery in action or in emergencies. A typical case is that of John Mackenzie, chief boatswain's mate, of the naval reserve force, described in a navy department statement.

The case is unique in that it has to do with one of the latest engines of war. As is well known, United States destroyers and other submarine fighters carry depth charges containing a large amount of high explosives which are dropped in the path of enemy submarines and explode under water. These have proved effective weapons in the destruction of U-boats, and they are safe enough when the safety pins are affixed; but when they get beyond control and the safety pin comes out they are a source of serious danger to the vessels carrying them. It will be recalled that the men on the U. S. S. Manley who lost their lives in the collision of that destroyer with a British vessel were killed by the explosion of one of these bombs.

In a heavy gale on the morning of December 17, 1917, a depth charge on the Remlik broke loose from its position on the stern. The box went overboard, but the charge was hurled in the opposite direction and went bouncing about the deck. As it weighs hundreds of pounds it was impossible for anyone to lift the bomb and carry it to safety. It was even dangerous for anyone to go to that part of the ship, as the seas were washing over the stern. As the officers and crew watched the bomb some one shouted: "The pin's come out!" Realizing the danger, Mackenzie, exclaiming, "Watch me; I'll get it," dashed down the deck and flung himself upon the charging cylinder. Three times he almost had his arms about the bomb, but each time it tore from him, once almost crushing him. The fourth time he got a firm grip on it and heaved it upright on one flat end. Then he sat on it and held it down. The charge might have broken loose again and exploded at any moment, blowing Mackenzie to bits, but he held on firmly until lines could be run to him and man and depth bomb safely lashed. Soon afterward the ship was headed up into the sea and the charge carried to a place of safety.

The commanding officer of the Remlik, in his report recommending that the medal of honor be conferred on Mackenzie, says:

"Mackenzie, in acting as he did, exposed his life and prevented a serious accident to the ship and probable loss of the ship and entire crew. Had this depth charge exploded on the quarter-deck with the sea and wind that existed at the time there is no doubt that the ship would have been lost."

Money intended for interned civilians and prisoners of war in Germany should be remitted through the bureau of prisoners' relief, American Red Cross, Washington, D. C. Remittances so made will probably not be delivered to addressees by the German government in cash, but in the form of credit on prison exchanges.

According to the Spanish ambassador at Berlin, the war department states that there are no restrictions in regard to the remittance of money for civilian and military prisoners. Such money is placed to prisoners' credit, and may be spent under the following regulations:

"Military prisoners. Sixty marks weekly may be spent by officers and others of similar rank; 50 marks weekly by non-commissioned officers and men.

"Civilian prisoners. Sixty marks weekly for men of better social position; 50 marks weekly for others."

A study is being made of the formulae and manufacturing processes of medicines requiring glycerin, and plans for the curtailment of the quantity now used in case it becomes necessary will be submitted to the general medical board of the Council of National Defense.

It is announced in the Bohemian press that experiments made with "paper cloth" have proved so successful that Hungarian state railways are to furnish their employees with summer clothing of this fabric.

In its regulations governing the price of wool the war industries board allows dealers to make a charge of three per cent of the selling price if the wool is not graded, and 3 1/2 per cent if graded. This commission is to cover all storage, cartage and insurance.

An additional credit of $3,250,000 has been extended to Belgium by the United States, making a total of $107,800,000 loaned to that country, and credits to all the allies $5,288,850,000.

Delivery of the first of the 1,025 locomotives ordered by the railroad administration will start in July, and deliveries will continue monthly during the rest of the year. The locomotives are of six standard types, with one heavy and one light style in each type. They vary in weight from 290,000 pounds to 540,000 pounds, and the entire order will cost about $60,000,000.

The six standard types are expected to eventually supersede the many kinds now in service, which embrace engines built according to 500 or more specifications. According to the railroad administration, this is the first real step ever taken toward the wide standardization of locomotives.

An order has also been placed for 100,000 freight cars of standard type to cost between $250,000,000 and $300,000,000. Negotiations for the construction of many thousand additional steel freight cars are still pending. The five types of cars ordered represent the standard forms of freight cars adopted by the railroad administration.

The adoption of these standard types, it is believed, will eventually substitute a few scientifically worked-out designs for the numerous miscellaneous varieties of cars, representing probably more than a thousand different old styles and specifications now in use, the accumulations of the past.

Before an airplane can be put into military service it must be equipped with at least nine delicate aeronautical instruments, some of which are absolutely essential to exact flying, and all contribute to the successful operation of a plane. One gives the pilot his location as to height and direction; others tell his speed through the air, the speed of his propeller, the amount of gasoline carried, water temperature, operation of the oiling system, and guide his "banking" on turns. Another necessary article is the oxygen-supplying apparatus, without which an aviator could not climb to any great height.

For operation of actual combat planes, such as observing, photographing, bombing, and fighting planes, other complicated and expensive instruments and sets of apparatus are necessary. Among them are machine guns, gun mounts, bomb racks, bomb-dropping devices, bomb sights, radio and photographic apparatus, electrically heated clothing, lights and flares. These bring the total cost of equipment for an airplane to several thousand dollars each, depending upon the type of plane.

Nearly 2,000 types and sizes of farm implements which have been gradually developed by manufacturers during peacetime competition have been recommended for elimination during the war by committees of the National Implement and Vehicle association. The subject, according to a statement by the Council of National Defense, is to conserve materials, labor, capital, and manufacturing facilities for war use.

In the report of the committee meetings to the commercial economy board of the Council of National Defense it was stated that no machinery recommended for discard was believed to be necessary to modern economical agriculture. The lines considered by the committees consisted of steel and chilled plows, grain drills, seeders, and other tillage implements and farm cultivators.

Such of the recommendations as the board deems suitable, with others from different sources, are being brought to the attention of all implement manufacturers and jobbers, and as many retail dealers as may be reached, through questionnaires.

A number of high-grade news photographers are urgently needed by the signal corps. These men must have expert experience in the handling of speed cameras, such as Graflex, Graphic, and also understand speeds of lenses and various makes of cameras and operation of same. Only those men who can furnish references as to their actual experience as news photographers will receive consideration.

The men selected for this branch of the service will be sent to a school for military training. Upon completion of the training they will be promoted to grades of sergeant, first class, and will be ordered overseas in a short time. Applicants must be citizens of the United States between the ages of 21 and 31. All communications should be addressed to Air Division, Training Section, Photographic Branch, Washington, D. C.

Advice from Shanghai states that the subscriptions to the third Liberty Loan there amount to over $600,000, and a report from the American embassy in Mexico City states the subscriptions there are more than $350,000.

Regulations for bread-making in Sweden permit only nine kinds, the weight and price being prescribed by law. Only rye, wheat, barley, or oat flour may be used, and for ordinary bread the use of butter, lard or other fat, milk or cream is prohibited.

Recent contracts by the war department authorize the manufacture of 3,500,000 pairs of metallic-fastened field shoes for overseas use. The average price was about $7.75 a pair.

Contracts have also been awarded for the manufacture of 2,000,000 pairs of field welt shoes for United States and overseas service, the average price being $6.50.

Rheumatism Back on the Job With its Old-time Fury

No Let-Up In Its Torture.

Pretty soon you will be reaching for the liniment bottle again, for the millions of little pain demons that cause Rheumatism are on the war-path. Winter weather seems to awaken them to renewed fury.

But your Rheumatism cannot be rubbed away, because liniments and lotions cannot reach the disease. It is in the blood, and only a remedy that goes deep down into the circulation, and roots out the disease germs, can rid you of this disabling disease.

S. S. S. has given some wonderful results in treating Rheumatism. Being a purely vegetable blood remedy, it purifies the blood of every germ, and thus removes the cause of Rheumatism. Get a bottle to-day at your drugstore, and start on the right treatment that will get results. Free advice about your case can be had by writing to Medical Director, 26 Swiss Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

The prevailing cost of hauling over the public roads of the United States is about 23 cents per ton per mile. More than 350,000,000 tons are hauled over these roads each year, and the average haul is about eight miles, from which it can readily be seen that our annual bill for hauling over the public roads is nearly $60,000,000.

I Am the Red Cross

HENRY PAYSON DOWST

(With acknowledgments to Robert H. Davis, author of "I Am the Printing Press.")

I am the Symbol of the pity of God.
 I burgeon upon the flaunting banner of victory and the drooping guidon of defeat.
 I am the token of peace in the midst of battle, of gentleness shining through the sombre mists of hate.
 I am a chevron on the sleeve of mercy, an honor mark set high upon the brow of compassion.
 I am the color of blood spilled for democracy, the form of Christ's tree of agony, and my followers, at need, crucify themselves to make men live.
 I carry the hope of life into the red pits of death, and a dying soldier salutes me and smiles as he goes to touch the hand of God Almighty.
 I stand for the organized love of mankind, the co-ordinated impulses of young and old to do good, the sacred efficiency of human service.
 I mark the flag under which are mobilized the forces of industry and finance, of church and school, of capital, of labor, of genius and of sinew.
 I am Civilization's Godspeed to those who defend her; I am the message from home.
 I am the Symbol of the pity of God.
 I AM THE RED CROSS.

Selecting the Cow That Makes Money.

The cow is a machine to convert, cheaply, feed into milk. Like other machines, a large capacity is usually accompanied by economy in production.

The first consideration in selecting a dairy cow to make money is to get one with a large stomach capacity. A light feeder never makes a good profit. The ability to handle a large amount of food is indicated by great depth and width just in front of the hips. The cow should have long ribs well sprung. The round, short-ribbed, pony built cow soon dries up. The long, flat-ribbed cow has ample depth of body, but lacks the necessary width to be a profitable feeder. The ribs must be both long and well sprung. A broad jaw furnishes grinding surface for a large quantity of feed. The narrow-jawed cow is not profitable.

A good feeder, to be a profitable dairy cow, must convert her feed into milk and not change it into flesh that is put on the body. A good indication that the feed will be used to produce milk is a shoulder that is thin and sharp at the top, with little muscle on the sides when the cow is in good condition. (A beef cow's shoulders are thick on top and when she is in good flesh they are thickly covered on the sides.) The brisket should be light and the cow gradually increase in depth and width backwards.

The hip bones of the well-fed dairy cow are prominent; they project enough so one could hang his hat on them. (A good beef animal's hip bones are so well covered with flesh that they hardly show.) The thighs should be thinly covered with flesh.

The udder is the organ that manufactures the milk from the food and there must be a large udder to produce a high yield. Nature never places the bulk of the udder below the underline. To secure a good udder the flank must have a high arch and the body must be cut up between the hind legs almost to the tail, to make room for a large udder. The best udder extends well forward and well up behind. The teats should be placed well apart and should be long. The milk veins running along the belly in front of the udder are large and crooked in a good dairy cow when she is milking well. These veins enter the body through openings in the belly, called milk wells. In a good dairy cow these openings are as large as the end of a man's thumb; usually in a beef animal the milk wells are located just a short distance in front of the udder. In the highest yielding milk cows the milk wells are near the front legs.

The eyes of a high-yielding dairy cow are wide apart, large and set out from the head. The backbone is sharp. These two features indicate the development of the enormous nerve power that is needed to digest large quantities of feed and transform it into milk.

The skin should be soft and thin. The hair should be fine and silky. The bone should be fine. A coarse-boned cow usually produces milk at too high a cost. The head should be lean and long. A coarse or thick-meated jaw does not go with large milk yields. The nostrils should be large and the neck thin.

The best way for a beginner to learn to select cows is to take a course in stock judging at an agricultural college. When he cannot do this he should inspect as many high grade yearling dairy cows as possible and if he will study, their points thoroughly he will soon be able to do fairly good work in selecting cows that will pay at the pail. A dairyman should keep up this study as long as he lives.

The Breed to Choose.

The type of cow is more important than the breed. The dairyman should keep good cows of the breed he likes best. Many grade and scrub cows that have the type of dairy cow are very profitable milkers, but their mixed breeding makes it very uncertain as to what their progeny will do.

Ayrshire. The Ayrshire is a very hardy cow. The breed originated in a cold country, where the pasture was sparse and the cows had frequently to travel 30 to 40 miles in a day to secure sufficient food. The Ayrshire is particularly adapted to mountain sections and the plains. The cows yield a large quantity of moderately rich milk and the milk globules are smaller and more uniform in size than those in the milk of other breeds. For this reason the cream does not separate so completely from the milk as where the globules are larger. This makes the milk specially valuable for children and invalids.

Guernsey. This is a cow that consumes good quantities of food and gives a large quantity of rich milk. The richest colored milk of any breed. The Guernsey is a profitable cow where she has good shelter, care and abundant feed. They are more intelligent than most breeds and quiet. A good cow for an expert dairyman.

Holstein. This breed yields an enormous quantity of rather thin milk, probably produces milk cheaper than any other breed and is an economical producer of butter. A very quiet breed. For 2,000 years the Holstein has been bred in a country of rich, small pastures. The cows are kept all winter in the barns, not being given any exercise, and are heavily fed. The cows, therefore, do best where they have abundant feed and little exercise. The Holstein is the favorite cow with most milkmen in the West.

Jersey. These cows produce good yields of rich milk. A good Jersey is probably the most economical producer of buttered fat. There are many culls in the breed, and a cull Jersey is the poorest kind of a scrub. The Jersey is the favorite for family use and for dairymen who sell high priced milk and cream. She is an economical butter cow, but to be profitable must have plenty of good feed and the best of care.

Red Polled. The Red Polled is a general purpose breed in which it has been tried to combine beef and milk. Some of the cows are profitable milkers, giving large yields economically; others are poor dairy cattle.

Milking Short Horn. This is the dairy breed of England and the breed that supplies most of the enormous quantity of milk used in London. The cows are favorites in many sections of the corn belt, where milk and a marketable steer are wanted from the same breed.

The Scrub. Pure bred cows demand pure bred care. Many farmers do not have the knowledge and experience to give this. Farmers who are not skilled dairymen had better select scrub and grade cows that are of good dairy type. These can be found in most western herds, even among range cattle. They are not high priced and the farmer who is in earnest can learn how to feed and handle dairy cows with them, without the risk he would have if he practiced on high priced pure breeds. A bull should be selected of a favorite breed and the herd can be graded up as fast as the ability of the farmer to handle good dairy stock grows. The farmer, in grading up, should stick to one breed.

Feeding the Cow.

Almost any cow, if she is fresh, will give a good yield of milk on June pasture. June conditions and June pasture furnish the best conditions for milk production and the nearer the dairyman can make conditions and feed the year round like they are in June, the more milk will his cows give.

There are three classes of materials in every dairy feed—protein, carbohydrates and fat. The protein is that material particularly essential for producing growth, flesh, blood and milk. Carbohydrates and fat in the feed produce heat power and fat in the body. June pasture is rich in protein, therefore feeds rich in protein should be supplied all the year. This can be done most cheaply through feeding alfalfa hay, clover hay, cow pea hay, peanut hay and the hay from other legumes. Cotton seed, linseed and gluten meals are rich in protein and in many places are cheap enough to be profitable. Where the dairyman can grow the protein himself, he not only gets a cheap feed, but the legumes that furnish the protein enrich the land. Sweet clover is the surest dry land crop for forage that is rich in protein.

June pasture furnishes a green feed. Where a man can afford to build a silo, silage is the cheapest succulent feed. Roots, in moderate quantities, are good; stock melons furnish succulent feed very cheaply for the dry land farmer. In Arkansas and Louisiana winter oats furnish a cheap, succulent winter feed. If nothing else can be secured, sorghum, cut when the seeds are in the milk and cured as green as possible, makes a fair green feed.

June grass is a laxative feed. The nearer the cows are fed to get the manure to be like that when the cows are on June pasture, he higher will be the milk yield. A great deal of feed is wasted whenever the cows are constipated. When a cow is constipated she does not digest her food well. June pasture is appetizing. It has a good flavor and a pleasant aroma. Both of these in winter feed help to increase the yield and lower the cost. The cow in June pasture is thoroughly comfortable. The temperature is agreeable and she has pure air. The nearer these conditions can be obtained in the winter, the larger the

I. W. W.'s Ruin Hop Fields.

Chicago.—Inside history of the ruin wrought by the I. W. W. in the hop fields and fruit orchards of California by the practice of sabotage several years ago, in an effort to obtain the release from prison of Richard Ford and Herman Suhr, members of the organization convicted on a charge of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment, was revealed at the trial of 112 I. W. W. leaders.

The government attorneys read a number of letters written by Charles L. Lambert, of Sacramento, Calif., who was secretary of the Hop Pickers' Defense Committee in 1914, and later elected a member of the general executive board of the I. W. W. He was one of the leaders who directed the unsuccessful fight conducted by the organization in California in the hope that the governor might be influenced to pardon Ford and Suhr from prison.

According to Lambert the I. W. W. campaign of sabotage resulted in the destruction of property valued at $10,000,000 annually for several years.
